- With top-threat Paul Richardson getting most of the attention from the UCLA secondary, D.D. was able to take advantage of coverage mismatches and become an important target for quarterback Sefo Liufau. He made two third-down receptions from his slot position that both resulted in first downs thereby extending prolonged CU drives early in the game.
- This is D.D.'s first year at receiver and he has adjusted quickly to his new position. He credits his successful transition to the fact that he has had to learn three different positions in three years helping him to become somewhat of a quick learner. "I think the fact that there are so many things I learned as a tailback and defensive back that I think have translated over has made me a better receiver," said Goodson. "At tailback you have to be able to avoid tackles in small spaces and keep your balance and at defensive back you have to have great awareness and I think all of that has helped me at receiver."
- Scored his second touchdown of the season in the first quarter of the team's loss to Oregon on a 75 yard pass from WR Paul Richardson. It was the longest reception of his career.
- Changed his number from #21 to #3 just prior to the Oregon State game because he plays on the same special teams units as safety Jared Bell who also wears #21.
- Scored his first career touchdown in the second quarter of the team's season opening win over Colorado State. He also broke the team's longest run of the game on a 31 yard reserve.
- Goodson moved from running back to wide receiver in the spring.
- He won the program's Fred Casotti Award, given to the most improved offensive back, at the conclusion of spring practices.
- He led the team in receptions during their four spring scrimmages. His 13 catches for 169 yards and three touchdowns signified that he has adapted quickly to his new position.
- He has played three different positions since arriving at CU in 2011. As a freshman, he was solely a defensive back. As a sophomore he played running back before finally moving to receiver for the 2013 season.
- Was named an honorable mention on the 2012 Pac-12 All-Academic Team.
- Goodson burned his redshirt to make his collegiate debut against No. 9 Oregon in week 8 of 2011, starting the game at nickel back. He had four tackles in 44 snaps before leaving the game with an injury. He also returned five kickoffs for 97 yards in the contest.
- The only other school, besides Colorado, to offer D.D. a scholarship was Texas State.

Human Interest

- Is from the same high school program, Lamar Consolidated, that produced former CU defensive back Michael Lewis.
- Goodson's first name is Joseph, but he has been called D.D. since he was little and the name has stuck.
- Was named to the National Honor Society in high school after posting a 3.67 GPA.
- His older brother, Jeramy, was a running back and receiver at Rice.
- Goodson has volunteered his time helping with community service projects, including the Special Olympics.
- D.D. was one of eight CU players who were displaced during the Boulder flooding in mid-September. The athletic department later held a luncheon for flood victims for which he commented: "Personally, I was affected Thursday night when the basement that I live in was flooded," said Goodson. "The water in my room was about waist high. I lost my sofa, my television and some of my shoes and other necessities. It's nice to help these evacuees because I know what they are going through."

- Paul made a 53-yard touchdown reception in the loss at Washington to account for the team's only points of the game. He ended the game with 3 catches for 77 yards thereby topping the 1,000 receiving yardage mark in a season for the first time in his career.

- In his return to his hometown of Los Angeles, Paul overcame a sprained ankle to record seven catches for 70 yards and he also scored the team's first touchdown of the game.
- After his performance against Washington, he is inching even closer way to breaking the school single season records for receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns with three games still to play. He needs 18 more receptions, 88 yards, and two touchdown receptions to break those records.
- His 13 career plays of 50 yards or longer are the most in school history. His seven plays of 50 yards or longer this season is also a school record. Ten of those plays have gone for touchdowns.

- He was also named the Las Vegas Bowl's player of the week for the Pac-12 conference after the CSU game.
- Richardson's chemistry with quarterback Connor Wood early in the season was something the two worked hard to develop throughout the entire offseason. It started in the spring, when Richardson was still rehabbing and Wood was a backup so they would work out together often.
- Career: He is tied for second in touchdown receptions (20) at Colorado, and is tied for 32nd in scoring with 122 points.
- Richardson was one of six players named as a team captain for the 2013 season.
- Richardson is on the wide receiver watch list for a CFPA Performance Award in 2013.

- Set records for most receiving yards and touchdowns for a freshman in CU history in 2010.
- Wide receivers coach, Troy Walters on Richardson: "He has all the tools and abilities to be the best out there. I mean, he can run. Richardson acknowledges that Walters' work ethic and will power as a player and now as a coach are something to strive for in terms of improving his own game.
- As a true freshman, while he was still trying to learn the receiver position, Richardson tried to improve by asking former CU secondary coach Greg Brown to help him understand coverages.
- He was one of eight players who were displaced during the Boulder flooding in mid-September. His apartment building was evacuated due to high water levels but he returned home a few days later.

- First name is pronounced (Darr-uh).
- Darragh averaged 45.0 yards per punt including a season-long 56-yarder in the team's loss at Washington.
- Local papers recently wrote that coach MacIntyre called for Darragh to run a fake punt late in the team's loss to Arizona when in actuality, Darragh called the play himself. In a show of full accountability, he was quick to point out the error and take the blame for the mistake on twitter and in subsequent interviews.
- He was recently named as one of 85 candidates for the 2013 Ray Guy Award.
- Darragh scored his first career points after a two yard run on a two-point conversion in the team's win over Charleston Southern. He is the first CU punter to ever play a role in converting a two point conversion.
- He placed five punts inside the 20 in the team's loss to Oregon. That was the second most in his career bested only by the six punts he placed inside the 20 against Oregon in 2011.
- In three career games vs. Oregon, O'Neill has placed 18 of his 28 punts inside the 20 and has three 50+ yard punts against the Ducks.
- Pinned Colorado State at its own two-yard line with a well-placed punt out of bounds late in the third quarter in his team's season opening win.
- Career: Is ninth all-time at CU in punting average at 42.6. He is second all-time in punts inside-the-20 with 64.
- He is on the CFPA Special Teams Performance Award (best punter) watch list for 2013.
- Was named to the Ray Guy Award (best collegiate punter) preseason watch list for 2013. It marks the second consecutive season he has been named to the award's preseason list.
- O'Neill finished third in the Pac-12 in punting average last season. He finished 18th nationally.
- Was an honorable mention on the All-Pac 12 Team and the Pac-12 All-Academic Team in 2012.
- During his sophomore campaign he broke the school single season record for punts downed inside the 20. He is on pace to break the record again this season.
- A former walk-on, he was placed on scholarship permanently as of the 2012 spring semester.
- Was named to the Freshman All-American second-team by collegefootballnew.com and Phil Steele's College Football and named to the Mid-Season All-Pac 12 third-team by Phil Steele's College Football.
- Also set records in his freshman year for the most punting yards in a season and highest net punting average by a freshman in a season.

Human Interest

- Aside from a three-game stint playing wide receiver during the eighth grade, when O'Neill saw action at Hawai'i in 2011 it was his first experience playing organized football. O'Neill performed well in that game, punting seven times with a 44.9 yard average, dropping four inside-the-20, and had a long of 56 yards.
- O'Neill had never punted in a game before week 1 at Hawai'i, but began working with his father and local kicking coach Matt Thompson in Jan. 2011. He earned a tryout with former special teams coach J.D. Brookhart and earned the opportunity to walk-on in spring 2011. O'Neill also worked with ex-NFL punter Glenn Pakulak during the summer.
- Attended classes at CU in 2010, but was not on the football team until spring practices.
- Football may be the last sport O'Neill expected to play collegiately while at Boulder's Fairview High School. O'Neill was a star both on the soccer field and the basketball court, where he led the 2010 5A runner-up Fairview team with 25 points per game. He earned all-state honors in both sports.
- Either Foot: O'Neill, who has strong family ties to Gaelic football, is capable of punting with either foot.

- O'Neill was born in Cork, Ireland, where he lived until he moved to America when he was three years old, but all of his relatives are still in Ireland and his family visit there every summer.
- During his sophomore year of high school, O'Neill was diagnosed with a rare blood disease that initially confused doctors and caused him to slip into a coma for five days. He was read his last rites by a priest and his father was told he was in God's hands. Hundreds offered prayers and cards, including iconic Irish soccer player Roy Keane. O'Neill made a complete recovery.
- O'Neill's name means "oak tree."
- O'Neill's father, Colm, and an uncle, Maurice Fitzgerald, were both accomplished Gaelic footballers (a mix of soccer and rugby) back in Ireland.
- A younger brother, Shane, was a high school soccer All-American and signed with the Colorado Rapids organization in the summer of 2012.
- O'Neill's father, Colm, owns a traditional Irish pub in Boulder named Conor O'Neill's. Featured on the menu is black and white pudding, a traditional Irish dish with the key ingredient being fresh pig's blood. Darragh worked at the pub during his freshman year at CU.

- Since he has been officially cleared to play, he served his one-game suspension vs. Oregon for his involvement in an off-field incident that occurred last spring.
- Webb suffered a torn ACL on April 9, but may return at some point in the 2013 season. He was cleared to return to the practice field in early September.
- Changed his number from #4 to #8 prior to the season.
- Started nine games at quarterback and led the team in passing last season.
- He played the last couple of games of 2012 with a partial finger dislocation, suffered week 10 vs. Stanford.
- Career: Is 23rd all-time in Colorado history with 1,434 passing yards.
- In the fourth quarter vs. WSU last year, Webb connected with former TE Nick Kasa for a 70 yard touchdown pass. It was the longest TD strike of Webb's career and it was the longest QB-to-TE touchdown connection in CU regular season history.
- Scored the game-tying touchdown on a QB draw with nine seconds left vs. WSU last year (PK Will Oliver won the game on the following PAT). It was a fourth-and-goal from the 4-yard line and he had the option of calling his own number or throwing a pass depending on how the defense set up. He decided to run after seeing a lack of defenders up the middle.
- With CU's win over Washington State in 2012, Webb ended a personal 13 game losing streak that stretched back to his days at Kansas.
- Earned Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week for his performance week 4 of 2012, at WSU.
- Also named the Colorado collegiate player of the week as selected by the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame, and he was nominated for the MAACO Bowl Las Vegas Pac-12 Player of the Week Award for the WSU game.
- Became just the seventh CU quarterback to throw two touchdown passes in his debut for the Buffs (first since Cody Hawkins in 2007). His 187 yards were ninth most in a debut in school history.
- Is one of eight quarterbacks who started games at a Division I school (Kansas 2010-2011) and did so for another one in 2012 (Colorado).
- Became the first player since 1992 to take a snap at CU who also played at another school (Duke Tobin, saw limited action at Illinois in 1990).
- Hitting The Books: Webb graduated from Kansas in 3 ½ years, with him taking 28 credits from January to June of 2012 in order to graduate. He earned a bachelor's degree in Psychology and a minor in Public Policy from Kansas. He also graduated in 3 ½ years from high school.
- Getting to Boulder: Webb reached out to former CU assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach Rip Scherer about possibly transferring to Colorado. He knew early on he wasn't figuring into KU's future plans after the coaching change from Turner Gill to Charlie Weis, so he took advantage of the NCAA rule that allows a player to transfer anywhere that offered a graduate degree program that KU didn't sponsor. At Colorado, he was interested in and selected Educational Equity and Cultural Diversity. After speaking with Scherer, former head coach Jon Embree "vetted" Webb a bit through his son, Connor, who had transferred to KU from UNLV for the 2011 season; the younger Embree gave his dad solid feedback on Webb, from his character to his being a gym rat.
- Has the most game experience among the quarterbacks on the team, as he played in 21 games over two seasons at Kansas and 10 last year. His final stat line at KU included completing 60.6 percent of his passes, throwing for 3,079 yards and 20 touchdowns.

At Kansas

- His top game in 2011 came against Oklahoma State, when he was 25-of-36 for 316 yards and two touchdowns in a 70-28 loss. His other two 200-plus yard games came versus Northern Illinois (281 yards on 21-of-30 passing) and versus Texas Tech (239 yards on 16-of-22).
- He had three touchdowns on three occasions as a sophomore, versus McNeese State, NIU and Texas Tech.

- At Kansas, he never played Colorado as he didn't play in the 2009 and was injured during the 2010 contest.
- In 2010, he started seven games under then-KU coach Turner Gill.
- In his first career start against No. 15 Georgia Tech in week 2 of 2010, Webb completed 18-of-29 passes for 179 yards and three touchdowns, leading the Jayhawks to the 28-25 upset win.
- He redshirted at quarterback during the 2009 season at Kansas under then-coach Mark Mangino.

High School

- His teams at Union High School in Union, Mo. went 30-4 in his four years there. He threw 108 touchdown passes in his high school career.

Human Interest

- Worked out with Lawrence High School (Kan.) coach Dirk Wedd and senior quarterback Brad Strauss in spring of 2012. Brad is the son of former CU student SID and former Oklahoma State and Kansas SID, Mike Strauss.
- Aspires to be a college football coach after his playing days.
- Is often called a Mark Wahlberg look-alike.

Keenan Canty
WIDE RECEIVER
5-9 * 165 * Junior

He then switched to No. 84 because he and ex- Buff Kyle Washington were on the same kick return unit in 2011. In 2012, he began at No. 18 before switching to No. 12 during fall camp a number he has worn ever since.
- New Orleans Love: Canty switched to No. 12 prior to the 2012 season in honor of the 12th Ward in New Orleans where he is from.
- Recorded five catches for 45 yards – a career high – in just his second career start at Washington in 2011 (week 7).
- Canty had his first career start at wide receiver at Stanford in week 6 of his redshirt freshman season and responded with three catches for 23 yards. His first catch came on the game’s first play.
- Redshirted during his true freshman season in 2010.
- Canty also participated in track and field in high school, lettering four times and earning All-4A District 10 honors in the triple jump as a junior.
- Former wide receivers coach Bobby Kennedy on Canty: “The thing I like about Keenan is when he comes off the ball he’s going fast. He can stretch the field.”
- He didn’t become a full-time starter until his senior year at Edna Karr High School in New Orleans.
- Human Interest: Keenan was discovered by Colorado coaches on a recruiting trip in which they were scouting high school teammate and current University of Cincinnati quarterback, Munchie Legaux.
- He and his family were temporarily displaced from their New Orleans home in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. They lived with an aunt for a few months in Texas before returning to New Orleans to find that their home suffered only minor damage.

- As a result of his appearance at Arizona State, he became the Buffs' first true freshman quarterback since Tyler Hansen in 2008 to appear in a game.

- He earned the #2 quarterback spot out of fall camp.
- Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks coach, Brian Lindgren on Liufau: "He's as far along as any true freshman I've ever been around. He's a very mature kid. He has picked up the system. He has adjusted to the speed of the game better than a lot of guys."
- Head Coach Mike MacIntyre compared Liufau to Colts QB Andrew Luck, in that his running ability is not the primary part of his game but is a dangerous part of his repertoire. But, he was not trying to say Liufau is as good as Luck.

- He has a younger brother, Saia (16), and a younger sister, Malia (14) who are both autistic. "I love them a lot," Liufau said. "All you can do is show love and affection for them and treat them as nice as you can." Sefo was always a protector of his siblings from anyone who treated them differently. "I would correct them, like 'don't treat them any differently,'" he said. "They're just regular human beings. They're just a little more energetic. Once my friends got to know them in the community, everything was fine."
- Former Washington State and NFL quarterback, Jack Thompson is an uncle of Liufau's. After an illustrious career at WSU, Thompson, who was nicknamed 'the throwin' samoan', was selected as the third pick in the 1979 NFL Draft.

- He leads the team in defensive snaps and has been in on a total of 98% of all defensive snaps this season. He also leads the team in career starts with 30.
- In the loss at Washington, Henderson played on every defensive snap for the fourth time this season.
- Over the last three seasons Henderson has been the defense's most consistent performer. His 2,090 snaps over that span are easily the most of any defensive player on the team. As a result of abilities to both tackle well in the running game and blanket the opposing team's best receiver week after week he has become an every-down player and has developed into one of the best at his position in the country.
- He is tied for seventh in the FBS and leads the Pac-12 in passes defended. He is also tied for third in the Pac-12 in interceptions.
- He is six third-down stops shy of the school's all-time single season record of 19 set by LB Jordon Dizon in 2007.
- Greg was selected as a midseason second team All Pac-12 performer by Phil Steele's College Football publication.
- His two interceptions in the second half against Oregon gave him four for the season putting him one short of tying the school record for most interceptions in a season by a junior at five. Also, Henderson tied the school record for consecutive games with an interception at three in that game. His interception streak was snapped the following week at Arizona State.
- He returned his first interception of the season 46 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter of the team's win over Central Arkansas. Coupled with his fumble return for a TD in week 1, he is the first CU player to have two return touchdowns in the same season since 2002 (Jeremy Bloom and Medford Moorer).
- He was named a CFPA honorable mention for defensive back of the week as a result of his performance against Central Arkansas.
- He returned a fumble 53 yards for a touchdown vs. Colorado State in week 1. It was the Buffs' first fumble returned for a touchdown since 2011.

- He had made 12 consecutive starts before missing the week 2 contest last season vs. Sac State (He also missed week 3 that year at Fresno State).

- He played a freshman record and defensive high 823 snaps (of 868 on defense) from scrimmage in 2011.
- He was named to the Freshman All-American second-team by collegefootballnews.com, was an All-Pac 12 Conference honorable mention by Pac-12 Coaches and was named to the Freshman All-Pac 12 first-team by Rivals.com in 2011.
- Was given the Lee Willard Award by the team as the outstanding freshman during the 2011 season.
- Henderson started the 2011 season opener at Hawai'i, becoming, at the time, the seventh true freshman to start the season opener in CU history. He was only the second CB to do so (Victor Scott in 1980 at UCLA) and was the first since Jordon Dizon started against Colorado State in 2004. He played in all 65 defensive snaps, recording two tackles and a third down stop.
- Of the seven true freshmen to start a season opener, Henderson is just the second to play every snap in that game, joining OG Clint Moore who did so in 1991 against Wyoming.
- At the time Henderson committed to CU, he also held offers from Air Force and New Mexico.
- Cornerbacks coach, Andy LaRussa on Henderson: "I feel like he's got the chance and the tools to be one of the best, if not, the best corner in the Pac-12."

- Henderson's coach at Norco was Todd Gerhart, father of former Stanford running back and 2009 Heisman Trophy runner-up Toby Gerhart.

- Nelson's sure hands and precise route running have made him CU's most reliable receiving weapon on third-down passing situations. His nose for the first-down marker is a testament to his high football IQ. Remarkably, 63% (51 of 81) of his career receptions have been good enough for first downs.
- Nelson led the team in receptions with five, in the loss at Washington.
- He made two key receptions in the win over Charleston Southern on two third and 10 plays that both resulted in first downs leading eventually to CU touchdowns.
- As a result of his second quarter touchdown reception from quarterback Sefo Liufau in the team's loss at Arizona State, he has now caught five career touchdown passes from four different CU quarterbacks in his career.
- He made a reception on a fourth down and 3 play in the first quarter that kept a drive alive that eventually ended in a Colorado field goal in the game against Oregon.
- He barely missed out on topping the century mark in receiving yards in back to back games. He finished with 99 yards against Colorado State and had 98 yards against Utah in the season finale last year.
- Trends: He has caught at least one pass in 20 games of the 21 games he has played in. Week 12 last year vs. UW was the only game of his career in which he did not have a reception.

- Named to the 2012 Preseason All-Redshirt team by CollegeFootballNews.com.
- He redshirted during the 2011 season.
- Quarterback Connor Wood On Spruce: "I think his route running has improved a lot. He's done a really good job of cleaning up the top of his routes and coming up quicker and understanding his strengths. He knows what his strengths and weaknesses are and he's been working hard to capitalize and make those strengths better."

We do two-minute stuff at practice, and it's funny because I find there to be more pressure in practice than there actually is in the game. The crowd is kind of white noise in a game, whereas in practice everyone in watching you and it is your friends and teammates, and it is all close to you. I think that I would be ready if the situation presents itself. It's just one kick at a time for me."

Human Interest

- He requested a switch from No. 91 he wore as a freshman to No. 28 because he is a devout Los Angeles Kings fan; Luc Robitaille, former player and currently in the Kings' front office, introduced him to Adam Deadmarsh, the one-time Avalanche and former Kings player who wore... No. 28.

- Made his first career start at fullback in the team's win over Central Arkansas.
- He made his CU debut against Colorado State in week 1 at fullback.
- He had to sit out the 2012 season due to NCAA rules after transferring from Colorado State.
- He played at CSU for one season under head coach, Steve Fairchild. After Fairchild was fired and replaced by Jim McElwain, Murphy decided to transfer to CU and play for coach Jon Embree because McElwain's offensive scheme does not utilize the fullback position. After Embree was fired and replaced by new coach Mike MacIntyre, Murphy was worried about his place in MacIntyre's pistol offense that rarely utilizes the fullback but he ultimately decided to stay.
- He played only on special teams during his one season as a walk-on at CSU.
- Coming out of Lutheran High School (Parker) in 2011, Murphy had several scholarship offers from Division II schools, but instead chose to walk at CSU.

Human Interest

- He was in theatre 9 at the Century 16 Cinema in Aurora on July 20, 2012 when a gunman began to fire on a crowd of innocent moviegoers, killing 12 and wounding 70 others. He and his friend were shot at but avoided injury.

- He did not play in the team's loss at Washington as he was still recovering from a neck stinger he suffered in practice during the week.
- In a surprise move, he started at the will-linebacker spot with the Buffs opening up the game in a nickel defense in the loss to Arizona. He had previously played almost all of his snaps on the opposite side (Sam-linebacker spot) coming into the game. He then played a new career-high 62 snaps and made seven tackles.
- He won the weekly Sledgehammer Award as a result of a hit on an opposing player in the team's win over Charleston Southern. The award is given out after every game to the player who dishes out the cleanest, big hit on an opposing player.
- Woodson has seen a significant increase in playing time in recent weeks and has been instrumental in defending the running game from both the strong-side and weak-side linebacker positions. He is ninth on the team in tackles despite the fact that he has played considerably fewer defensive snaps than the eight players ahead of him have played.
- He is fourth on the team in career special teams points trailing only seniors Derrick Webb and Ryan Iverson, and junior Brady Daigh.
- He had a new career-high eight tackles in the team's win over Charleston Southern. He also had a tackle for loss and one for no gain in the game.

Scout.com ranked him as the No. 48 outside linebacker in the nation, the seventh best from California.
- Greer attended Junipero Serra High School, the same high school as former teammate David Bakhtiari.
- Junipero Serra was 42-2 in his final three years, winning a California state title in Greer's junior year.

Human Interest

- He plays the piano and has been able to do so since he was six years old.
- When coach MacIntyre arrived on campus in January of 2013, Woodson was struggling academically and was probably one bad semester away from dropping out of school. In the time since, he has undergone a transformation of sorts. He is doing well in his classes and has seen more time on the field as well. He credits MacIntyre with helping him get back on track. "I would say it was myself holding me back," Greer said. "I didn't have the right mentality. I wasn't fully committed to my academics, so that held me back a little bit more. This year, I buckled down, I got more focused, I grew up a lot."

- Last name is pronounced (Gill-um).
- After recording eight tackles in the loss at Washington, Addison is now the school's all-time leader in tackles by a freshman.
- In nine games, Addison has quickly developed into the prototypical middle linebacker in a conference filled with offenses who often challenge the athleticism of linebackers by forcing them to cover and tackle in space. More often than not, Addison has met those challenges with his physical and instinctive style of play.
- He leads the team in tackles this season.
- Addison was selected as midseason fourth team All-American and a first-team All-Pac-12 performer by Phil Steele's College Football publication.
- He leads the Pac-12 and is third in the FBS in tackles by a freshman.
- He suffered a forearm injury in the second half of the team's loss at Arizona State and did not return.
- He set a CU freshman record for tackles in a game with 18 in the team's loss to Oregon breaking the record of 17 previously set by teammate Terrel Smith in 2010. He also had a special teams tackle in the game to go along with his 18 defensive tackles.
- He has 11 third-down stops this season. The single season school record is 19 set by linebacker Jordon Dizon in 2007.
- His four third down stops vs. Oregon allowed him to tie the single game school record for third down stops for the second time this season. He also had four third down stops in the week 1 win vs. Colorado State.
- He won the team's weekly Sledgehammer Award for the having the biggest, clean hit in the team's loss at Oregon State.
- Has recorded double digit tackles in three of the seven games he has played in in his career.
- He was voted the CU athlete of the week as a result of his performance against Colorado State.
- He became only the second true freshman to start a season opener at middle linebacker in CU history when he started against Colorado State. In 2004, Jordon Dizon became the first Buff to start the season opener at middle linebacker as a true freshman.
- Gilliam wears the same number (44) that Dizon wore during his time at CU.
- UC Davis, Sacramento State and San Jose State were the only three schools to recruit Addison out of high school.
- He originally committed to San Jose State in 2012, but when the coaching staff left for CU he decided to follow suit.
- He underwent arthroscopic shoulder surgery in 2012 and decided to grayshirt at San Jose State during the fall semester. He then transferred to Colorado in January.
- Addison almost passed up the opportunity to play for head coach Mike MacIntyre when he attended a camp while MacIntyre was still coaching at San Jose State. He said he felt that nothing clicked and that there was no one way he'd play for this staff. But as MacIntyre and running backs/tight ends coach Klayton Adams persisted and worked hard to gain the trust of Gilliam and his family, he eventually changed his mind and decided to sign. He remained loyal to the staff when they left for Colorado.
- Defensive coordinator/ linebackers coach, Kent Baer on Gillam: "What I'm impressed about with him is mentally he's really tough. It doesn't seem to faze him no matter who he lines up against. And he's very, very athletic. He can do some things in space for a big man that a lot of people can't."

High School

- He played linebacker, tight end, and returned both punts and kicks during his career at Foothill High School in Palo Cedro, California.

Human Interest

- The Boulder area couldn't be better suited to Gillam's interests off the field. He loves spending time outdoors hiking, bike riding, snowboarding, backpacking and fishing. He tried fly fishing for the first time when he came to CU this summer.

- He leads the team in rushing after nine games.
- Christian's physical, hard-nosed running style is a sharp contrast in a stable of fleet-footed and shifty CU running backs. He gives head coach Mike MacIntyre a solid option in short yardage and goal line situations and serves as a change of pace when a defense begins to concentrate too much on the CU passing game.
- After a lackluster start to the season, Christian is now starting to regain the form he displayed as a freshman when he averaged nearly 4.5 yards per carry. Over the last two weeks he is averaging an impressive 5.0 yards per carry.
- He had his best game of the season in the team's loss at UCLA. His 97 rushing yards and 22 carries were both new season-highs.
- He recently became the 50th player in CU history to record at least 1,000 career rushing yards.
- His fourth quarter rushing touchdown at Arizona State was not only his first of the season, but it was also the team's first rushing touchdown of the year. He scored his second rushing touchdown in as many games in the third quarter of the team's win over Charleston Southern.
- He made a career-long 22 yard reception on a fourth and 1 in the first quarter of the team's loss at Arizona State. The drive eventually ended in a touchdown.
- He is 6-9 in converting on third down short-yardage (two yards or less) rushing situations this season.
- He rushed for a team-high 78 yards on 20 carries in the team's loss to Oregon. At the time, both were personal season highs.
- He was named to the Doak Walker Award (best collegiate running back) preseason watch list for 2013.
- Powell finished last season by leading the team in rushing with 691 yards. He was just the fifth freshman all-time at CU to lead in rushing.
- Won the program's Lee Willard Award as the team's most outstanding freshman in 2012.
- Was an honorable mention to the 2012 All-Pac 12 Team.
- He had seven rushing touchdowns last season, one shy of tying the school freshman record of eight, set by Herchell Troutman in 1994.
- He began the 2012 season at fullback, sharing the top spot on the depth chart with Alex Wood during the first two weeks of the season.
- Last season, he needed only 139 yards in the final game to break Lamont Warren's CU freshman rushing record but he was forced to miss the game due to a concussion. He missed a total of two games last year due to injuries.
- His 147 yards rushing vs. Sac State were the eighth most ever by any running back in his starting debut in CU history. It was the most since TB Marcus Houston's 150 yards on 25 carries at USC on Sept. 9, 2000.
- Running backs coach, Klayton Adams on Powell: "He's a tough runner. He's really smart and humble. He has a lot of different good attributes. He's a bring your lunch pail who shows up and works hard all the time. He's just really steady."

High School

- As a senior at Upland high school, he was one of the top-ranked fullbacks in the country; he was listed as the No. 3 prospect at the position by ESPN.com and No. 4 by Scout.com.
- Played both fullback and defensive end in high school.
- He was high school teammates with fellow CU 2012 signees Donta Abron and Marques Mosley.
- He was CU teammate, Donta Abron's blocking back in the Upland High School backfield when he wasn't carrying the ball himself.
- Also lettered in track (shot put) in high school and was the Baseline League champion as a junior.
- He was a member of the Honor Roll in high school.
- He was given the nickname "Freight Train" in high school. A freight train horn was played over the P.A. system whenever he scored a touchdown during his senior year.

Human Interest

- He says his favorite football player is former Buccaneers fullback, Mike Alstott because he liked the aggressive way he played the position. Christian tries to model his game in the same way.

- He joined the team as an invited walk-on for fall camp in 2011.

- His older brother, Kyle, played football and lacrosse at CSU-Pueblo.

69

Ryan Iverson

SNAPPER

6-0 * 225 * Senior

- Has been the team's starting long snapper for each of the last four seasons.
- After his CU career ends, Iverson plans to train to try to make it into the NFL. He looks at former CU and current New Orleans Saints long snapper Justin Drescher as the model for what he needs to do in order to accomplish that goal. "I need to get a little bigger and obviously consistency is huge in the NFL. One thing that I learned from a guy like (Justin) Drescher is consistency. The guy's got a great attitude and works hard."
- He his second on the team in career special teams points.
- He made his 13th career special teams tackle in the team's loss at Arizona State, tying the school's all-time tackles record by a long snapper (Chris O'Donnell 1987-90)
- He has helped force 24 fair catches on punts during his career.
- In 2012, he was one of 50 players named to the Burlsworth Trophy watch list, given to the top player that used to be a walk-on.
- Has handled all 266 punt team snaps dating back to his freshman year, and has snapped all 124 balls for placement kicks the last three years. Of those 390 combined snaps, there has only been one bad snap.
- Has played in 46 career games, tied for the most, along with Derrick Webb and Chidera Uzo-Diribe, on the current roster.
- He joined the team as an invited walk-on for August 2010 drills and was one of seven true freshmen to play for the Buffs that season. However, he was the only one of the seven who was a walk-on.
- Was just the sixth walk-on to play as a true freshman at CU since 1986.
- Iverson is just the third long snapper since the 2001 season, as he looks to continue in the trend of four-year starters there following in the footsteps of Greg Pace (2002-05) and Justin Drescher (2006-09, currently playing for the New Orleans Saints), who are the only three players to long snap since 2001.
- Iverson lettered three times at Newport Harbor High School (Newport Beach, Calif.) in football. He was the recipient of the Newport Harbor's Scholar-Athlete award as both a junior and senior.
- As an outside linebacker in high school, he was first-team all-Sunset League and Newport Harbor High School's Defensive Player of the Year.

- Harris on his transition from right to left tackle during the off-season: "It's going well. I started over on the left so I really just had to transition to the right side. Going back over to the left, it's a little bit easier over there. So it's going well."

High School

- Other than football, he also lettered in basketball, soccer and volleyball at Montclair High School in Van Nuys, Calif.
- Was a member of his high school’s Honor Roll all eight semesters as a prep, maintaining better than a 3.5 grade point average.

- He has only been in America for about five years. He was discovered by a scout at a basketball camp who told him he might have a future in that sport. His parents then decided to sell part of their house in order to pay for his plane ticket to the U.S.
- Nembot has only been playing football for about four years now, as he started participating in the sport at the end of his junior year at Montclair Prep after he was convinced by the school’s football coach to switch his focus away from basketball. In total, he played 15 games in high school.
- He participated in a program through Montclair Prep to help feed the homeless twice a week.
- He says it is his dream to come to the United States and make enough money to go back to Africa and help the needy.

- He grew up playing soccer and rugby and team handball.
- Nembot’s hobbies include art, kickboxing, martial arts (Tai Chi), watching movies, television sitcoms, and football and basketball games.
- His parents, who still live in Cameroon, have never seen him play football and have no idea what he looks like these days. He collects newspaper clippings, photos and videos of himself in the hope of one day presenting all of them to his parents in person because he says it would cost them too much money to receive any packages from the United States.
- His mother, Esther is a princess in the Bafoussam tribe in the mountainous northwest region of Cameroon and her stepbrother is the tribal king. Therefore, that makes Nembot a prince.
- He once invited a homeless man on Boulder’s Pearl Street Mall to dine with him at IHOP.

- Former wide receivers coach Bobby Kennedy on McCulloch: “A pleasant surprise because for a young guy he’s come in and picked up the offense really well. But the great thing about him is he’s an effort guy.”
- McCulloch was a late signee with CU, sending his letter of intent on Feb. 14, 2011, a week and a half after signing day. He chose CU after his hometown school, New Mexico, only offered an opportunity to walk-on. When CU offered, McCulloch couldn’t pass up the opportunity to play for a big-time school.
- Missed most of his senior season in high school due to a lacerated liver and spleen suffered as a result of vicious hit. As a result, McCulloch was not offered a scholarship until CU offered him one late in the recruit signing period.

Human Interest

- McCulloch was given the No. 87 by former CU head coach Jon Embree because his body frame and playing style reminded Embree of great Denver Broncos WR Ed McCaffrey.
- Like McCulloch, former NFL quarterback Jim Everett attended Albuquerque’s Eldorado High School and, like McCulloch, Everett felt the hometown Lobos did not offer enough recruiting attention so Everett became a star at Purdue.
- Is the first New Mexico product to sign with CU out of high school since Darius Holland (Las Cruces, 1991).
- His uncle is former Denver Nuggets media relations director and current Washington Wizards vice president of basketball operations Tommy Sheppard.

I think that's the biggest key for him, because he gets it, he likes it. It's just about physical maturity with him, that's how he's going to get to the next level."

New head coach Mike MacIntyre has had a similar effect on Wilson.
- Wilson on coach MacIntyre: "I really had to get in tune with myself and my coach got fired so I had to get a feel for [new head] coach Mike MacIntyre and it took me a while," Wilson said. "I sat and talked a lot with him. Everything that comes out of Coach Mac's mouth is great. I finally listened to him and it is like I gained another family with him and the new staff. - Name is pronounced (chee-dera U-zo da-REE-bay).
- He leads the Pac-12 and FBS in forced fumbles. Chidera believes his knack for forcing fumbles is at least partly the result of a coaching staff that uses a portion of every practice to work it on it specifically.
