- Finished his freshman campaign with 58 tackles, fifth on the team overall, and third among all returning players.

The last non-quarterback completed pass was by TB Rodney Stewart to QB Tyler Hansen in 2011 vs. Arizona. The last completed pass by a Colorado receiver was in 2008 when WR Scott McKnight threw a 38-yard pass to TB Darrell Scott (Oct. 4 vs. Texas in Boulder).
- He went 20-of-41 passing for 180 yards and one touchdown in week 7 of 2012, vs. Arizona State. With his performance, he became the 30th player in school history to throw for 1,000 career yards.

defense set up. He decided to run after seeing a lack of defenders up the middle.

- With CU's win over Washington State in 2012, Webb ended a personal 13 game losing streak that stretched back to his days at Kansas.
- Earned Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week for his performance week 4 of 2012, at WSU.

- Officially transferred to Colorado from Kansas on July 5, 2012.
- Hitting The Books: Webb graduated from Kansas in 3 ½ years, with him taking 28 credits from January to June of 2012 in order to graduate. He earned a bachelor's degree in Psychology and a minor in Public Policy from Kansas. He also graduated in 3 ½ years from high school.
- Getting to Boulder: Webb reached out to former CU assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach Rip Scherer about possibly transferring to Colorado. He knew early on he wasn't figuring into KU's future plans after the coaching change from Turner Gill to Charlie Weis, so he took advantage of the NCAA rule that allows a player to transfer anywhere that offered a graduate degree program that KU didn't sponsor. At Colorado, he was interested in and selected Educational Equity and Cultural Diversity. After speaking with Scherer, Jon Embree "vetted" Webb a bit through his son, Connor, who had transferred to KU from UNLV for the 2011 season; the younger Embree gave his dad solid feedback on Webb, from his character to his being a gym rat.
- Has the most game experience among the quarterbacks on the team, as he played in 21 games over two seasons at Kansas and 10 last year. His final stat line at KU included completing 60.6 percent of his passes, throwing for 3,079 yards and 20 touchdowns.

His 141 yards is a freshman record.

Human Interest

- Aside from a three-game stint playing wide receiver during the eighth grade, when O'Neill saw action at Hawai'i in 2011 it was his first experience playing organized football. O'Neill performed well in that game, punting seven times with a 44.9 yard average, dropping four inside-the-20, and had a long of 56 yards.
- O'Neill had never punted in a game before week 1 at Hawai'i, but began working with his father and local kicking coach Matt Thompson in Jan. 2011. He earned a tryout with special teams coach J.D. Brookhart and earned the opportunity to walk-on in spring 2011. O'Neill also worked with Oakland Raiders punter Glenn Pakulak during the summer.
- Attended classes at CU in 2010, but was not on the football team until spring practices.

- Football may be the last sport O'Neill expected to play collegiately while at Boulder's Fairview High School. O'Neill was a star both on the soccer field and the basketball court, where he led the 2010 5A runner-up Fairview team with 25 points per game. He earned all-state honors in both sports.
- Either Foot: O'Neill, who has strong family ties to Gaelic football, is capable of punting with either foot.

- During his sophomore year of high school, O'Neill was diagnosed with a rare blood disease that initially confused doctors and caused him to slip into a coma for five days. O'Neill made a complete recovery.
- O'Neill's name means "oak tree."
- O'Neill's father, Colm, and an uncle, Maurice Fitzgerald, were both accomplished Gaelic footballers (a mix of soccer and rugby) back in Ireland.
