

2010 COLORADO FOOTBALL

Individual Notes

(as of October 4)

EIGHT QUICK QUESTIONS

We polled the coaches on eight quick questions; here's what they told us:

Coach	Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up?	Who was your favorite sports hero(es) as a youngster?	What is your all-time favorite sports team?	What did you want to be when you were little?	Favorite-Song	Movie	Food	Favorite Thing To Do In Your Spare Time	Potpourri
Dan Hawkins	My Dad	Walter Payton and Johnny Bench	1993 Willamette Univ. Football	A football player	Ventura Highway	The Cowboys	Mongolian	Read	Most Memorable Sporting Event: 1995 Pac. Lutheran vs. Willamette!

Other Tidbits / Did You Know?

- Romeo Bandison lists as the one person he most would most like to meet as American entrepreneur Russell Simmons, the co-founder of the hip-hop label Def Jam among his many accomplishments.
- Brian Cabral was the special teams captain of the Super Bowl champion 1985 Chicago Bears; however, he did not appear in the infamous Super Bowl Shuffle song and video recorded that season. He was on hand to participate, but the session was running two hours late and he had to get to another appointment. He let us in on this secret: "It was pretty prophetic; we filmed it in week seven."
- That while the very low-key Ron Collins loves to golf, he was so frustrated in his first Casotti Classic that he actually tossed his golf bag in a creek.
- Darian Hagan lists the 1991 Orange Bowl (national championship game for CU vs. Notre Dame) as the most memorable sporting event in his life, despite being injured (torn ACL) late in the first half.
- Dan Hawkins said if he hadn't met his wife, Misti, when he did, he says he likely would have been destined to be a "football monk."
- Hawkins' first car is also one he would love to find and buy in original condition: a 1959 Chevy Stepside Slant 6 Automatic Pickup Truck.
- Denver Johnson was already familiar with Ralphie, CU's live mascot, before he came to Boulder. As a graduate assistant on the Oklahoma State coaching staff in 1985, he was wandering on the field, when as he puts it, "I look around and here came a rather large buffalo running toward me with some young people dangling at the end of ropes."
- Eric Kiesau is good friends with Adam Durwitz, the lead singer of the Counting Crows? Durwitz, a Cal-Berkeley grad, always used to go to the Bears' football practices (Eric said he'd miss sound checks to be at some of them).
- Kent Riddle spent six years on the Army staff and some of his greatest memories were the opportunities to hear some of our greatest generals like Norman Schwarzkopf speak in rooms that held less than 100 people.

HEAD COACHING FATHERS AND THEIR PLAYER SONS

There have been 64 known players in Division I-A (FBS) history who have played for their head-coaching fathers in college, including 23 quarterbacks and six active pairings, according to a survey of I-A sports information departments. The count includes CU head coach Dan Hawkins and his oldest son, Cody.

The most famous and perhaps best head coach father (HCF) and quarterback son (QBS) tandem in NCAA history is Jim and Kevin Sweeney at Fresno State. Kevin played for his father from 1982-86, when he became the first player in NCAA history to throw for 10,000 career passing yards (Jim was FSU's head coach for 19 years, retiring No. 17 on the all-time win list with 200 in his 32-year coaching career). The most famous "near-miss" happened at Stanford, where John Elway played quarterback from 1979-82 and his father, Jack, took over as head coach from 1984-88. And at Marshall, when they were a I-AA powerhouse just before moving up to I-A, Todd Donnan started at QB for his father, Jim, in 1993-94.

STARTING FROSH. Cody started the first game of his redshirt frosh year, which made him the ninth known son at the time to start at quarterback for his head coach father in I-A/FBS history, and just the third freshman to do so. Kevin Sweeney started the first two games of his true freshman season at Fresno State in 1982, but was injured in the second game and granted a medical hardship for the season; he came back to start as a redshirt frosh through his senior season. Tim Salem started all 11 games of his true frosh year at Minnesota in 1980; he lettered that year, but played sparingly thereafter. There are two other active HCF-QBS combos, at North Texas where Riley Dodge is starting this season as a redshirt frosh, playing for his father, Todd; and at Arkansas, where Nick Petrino is a reserve for his father, Bobby (upping the count to 11 quarterbacks, four of which were freshmen). The list (#—denotes active):

Colorado State	Harry Hughes	William	1935, 37	%—The elder Brewer moved on to Mississippi in 1983 and son followed.
Florida	Doug Dickey	Don (DB)	1975-76

While this is the first time that CU has had the head coach father-player son active combo, the Buffaloes have seen it against them in the past. Iowa State (Criners), Kansas State (Dickeys, Snyders), Oklahoma State (Simmons) and perhaps one of the most famous father-son duos, Lee and Steve Corso at Indiana. When confirming with Lee, he was pretty proud that Steve caught the game winning TD in a 36-30 win against Kentucky his senior year, and reminded us that he had two pretty good games against Colorado (5 catches for 87 yards in a 17-16 CU win in 1979, and 3-for-38 in a 49-7 Indiana win in 1980).

COLORADO FOOTBALL INDIVIDUAL PLAYER NOTES

- Simmons is listed third at the "X" wide receiver grouping on the latest depth chart.
- Simmons' first career reception was a 44-yard toss from Cody Hawkins on the third play of the second half against Colorado State in the 2009 season opener. That reception was the longest first-career reception since Jeremy Bloom's CU record 94 yard touchdown reception from Robert Hodge against Kansas State on Oct. 5, 2002.
- Simmons had to complete nine college courses from the time he signed with CU in February of 2009 and when he arrived on Campus in August of 2009.
- Simmons has a 4-year-old son, Omarion, who lives in South Carolina with his mother, Thomasann Elmore. Omarion was born premature and weighed just two pounds at birth and spent his first nine months of life in the hospital. Simmons' mother agreed to care for Omarion so Simmons and Omarion's mother could continue their educations.
- Simmons son, Omarion, is a source of motivation for him, "Since day one when he was born, he's always been motivating me. I feel like every time I step on the field I do it for him."
- Nicknamed "Dre" by teammates and coaches, he's also known as "Flo" back home in South Carolina.
- Simmons mother, Thomasann Elmore, said that his friends called him "go getter," because growing up, "if you throw a ball straight, crooked or slanted, he's going to get it."
- Simmons grew up in Blacksville, S.C., a town with a population of less than 3,000 that also produced former New England Patriots' standout Troy Brown.
- Despite leading his team to a 15-0 record and state championship his senior season, Simmons was largely overlooked coming out of high school. After two years at Independence Community College, he drew scholarship offers from five BCS schools, including Kansas, Kansas State and the Buffs from the Big 12.

- Patterson is listed as the starter at the "Z" wide receiver grouping on the latest depth chart. Patterson is also listed atop the depth chart at punt returner and third at kickoff returner.
- Patterson has at least one catch and one rush in each of CU's three games so far this season.
- Patterson's first catch at CU went for an 18-yard touchdown from Tyler Hansen against Colorado State. It marked Patterson's first touchdown reception since his senior season in high school.
- Last week's Cal game was the second time Patterson traveled to Berkeley for a game, also having done so last season with Southern California. He could've had three games there but was injured when the team made the trek there in 2007.
- Patterson also showed his elusiveness as the primary punt returner, as he fielded four punts for 46 yards with a long of 25 and another one of 22 yards, both of which would have been season long punt returns for the Buffaloes in 2009.

- Patterson joined the team just prior to fall camp and began practicing August 9, the same day his transfer to CU from USC was cleared. He was free to transfer without penalty after the NCAA penalized the Trojan program in June. Because the sanctions included a two-year Bowl ban, Trojan upperclassmen were free to transfer without penalty.
- He will take a full load of classes (12 credits) this fall at Colorado, but needs just four credits to graduate. He will transfer credits back to Southern California and receive his degree there. He is poised to become the first member of his family to earn a college degree.
- He was a member of three Pac-10 and Rose Bowl championship teams in 2006, '07 and '08.
- He is a cousin of Stafon Johnson, whom he played alongside at USC. Johnson is currently a member of the Tennessee Titans.
- He is close with DeSean Jackson, the current Philadelphia Eagle wide receiver who played collegiately at Cal. Patterson was one year behind Jackson at Long Beach Poly high school.
- First name is pronounced Tray-vonn. His nickname is "Peanut."
- When Patterson made his first trip to Boulder, he assumed it was a "country town."

- Smith is one of 35 players nationwide named to the Thorpe Award watch list. The award is given to the nation's top defensive back and two Buffs have won the award in the past, Deon Figures in 1992 and Chris Hudson in 1994.
- Smith is listed as the starting right cornerback on the latest depth chart.
- Smith has played in all 232 defensive snaps this season and in 1,033 of 1,036 since the start of the 2009 season for the Buffaloes.
- Against Georgia, Smith had two touchdown saves, one pass breakup and five tackles. He also did not allow a reception.
- Smith led the Buffs compiling a career-high 12 tackles (nine solo) against Colorado State in the 2009 season opener.
- Smith has had three of his best games against Nebraska each season. In 2007, he returned an interception for a touchdown early in the second half, sparking CU in its eventual 65-51 win as the Buffs earned a bowl bid with the win. In 2008, he snatched a pitch out of mid air on a fake field goal attempt and returned it for a touchdown, and in 2009, he was instrumental in holding the Huskers to just 73 passing yards, over 100 yards under the team's average.

- Smith earned his first career start and responded with a break-out game in 2008 against Iowa State, registering nine tackles (eight solo), one for a loss, two third down stops, four pass break-ups and assisted on the game winning tackle on the last play of the game near the goal line, clinching a CU 28-24 victory.
- Less than a week before signing day in 2006, CU coaches were able to lure Smith out of a verbal commitment to Washington State to sign with the Buffs.
- Greg Brown, CU's former secondary coach, who spent 15 years coaching defensive backs in the NFL, has said many times that Smith has the ideal body for his position and has the potential to play in the NFL. Said Brown, "Everybody who's watched us play knows that Jimmy Smith has a world of talent."
- Smith decided to return to Colorado for his senior season despite having the option to declare early for the NFL Draft. "Coming back was the right choice. I had to graduate and I wasn't mature enough to make the jump, even though the money was there. I felt it was the right decision to come back."
- Smith has periodic visits with a life coach. "It's something to relieve stress. It helps a lot. It feels good to get it all off your chest and get an outside opinion."

- Stewart is one of 49 players nationwide on the watch list for the Doak Walker Award, given to the nation's top running back. Rashaan Salaam won the award for CU in 1994.
- Stewart is listed atop the depth chart at tailback.
- Stewart had his 10th career 100-yard rushing performance and his second consecutive against Georgia with 19 rushes for 149 yards and one touchdown. He also had three receptions for 31 yards against the Bulldogs for 180 all-purpose yards. The 149 yards is the second highest total of his career (166 vs. West Virginia). His 10 career 100-yard games are tied for seventh most in CU history. This season he has moved from 30th to 22nd on the career rushing chart with 1,822 yards.
- Stewart's 65-yard scamper in the third quarter against Georgia was his career long rush and the longest rush by a Buff since Hugh Charles went 74-yards for a TD against Oklahoma State on Oct. 1, 2005.
- Stewart had his ninth career 100-yard rushing performance and first of the 2010 season against Hawai'i with 22 rushes for 106 yards and a pair of touchdowns. It was Stewart's fourth career multiple touchdown game.
- Against Hawai'i Stewart teamed with Brian Lockridge to become the first duo to have 100 yards rushing in the same game since 2002 when Chris Brown (25-127) and Bobby Purify (20-174) did it versus Iowa State in Boulder.
- Stewart opened the 2010 season with 16 rushes for 67 yards on the ground and two catches for 41 yards, giving him 108 total yards against Colorado State. His 27-yard reception against Colorado State marked his career long reception and he also had a 14 yard reception, which are two of his longest three career receptions.
- Stewart became the 27th player in CU history to reach the 1,500-yard rushing plateau, doing so with a 29-carry, 80-yard performance at Cal.
- Stewart has 12 touchdowns in the last 14 games after scoring two touchdowns in his first 10 games at CU (spanning his freshman season and the first game of 2009).
- Stewart closed out the 2009 season with five 100-yard rushing games in the last nine games of the season. He has eight career 100-yard rushing games (14th all-time at CU).
- In 2009, Stewart had three games with multiple touchdowns, the most since Hugh Charles accomplished the same feat in 2005. One of Charles' games included a rushing and receiving touchdown, making Stewart's feat the first time since Chris Brown in 2002 that a player scored multiple rushing touchdowns in three or more games. Brown had six such games in 2002 and five in 2001.

- Against Kansas in 2009, Stewart surpassed the 1,000-yard plateau for a career becoming the 49th player in school history to accomplish that feat. He was awarded with co-Big 12 offensive player of the week.
- Stewart is 18-of-20 (90.0 percent) in his career on 3rd-&-1 or 4th-&-1 runs, including 7-of-7 this season.
- Stewart was given the nickname "Speedy" after winning a race as a little kid and the nickname has stuck with him since.
- He has "Googled" his name before, but as he says, "Only that singer guy's name has come up." He has never heard of any of the Scottish singer's songs; of course, Rock and Roll Hall of Famer Rod Stewart hasn't had a No. 1 single since 1993, when Speedy was just 3-years old. (Rod Stewart has had two No. 1 albums in the last five years in his songbook series).
- Colorado coaches discovered Stewart thanks in large part to current CU linebacker Doug Rippey, who told running backs coach Darian Hagan about him when he learned that CU was looking for another running back to add to their 2008 signing class.
- Stewart and Rippey have been good friends for years and learned just before their arrival in Boulder that they are cousins. They are, in fact, first cousins once removed.
- Before Stewart suffered a broken fibula against Texas A&M, he was on pace to break CU's freshman (true or redshirt) rushing record as he recorded 622 yards rushing in just nine games, good for fourth all-time on the freshman rushing chart.
- Stewart and Lamont Warren (1991-92) are the only two players in CU history to lead the team in rushing as a freshman and sophomore. Warren also led the Buffs in rushing in 1993 as a junior before entering the NFL a year early.
- Stewart typically does not wear gloves, citing an instance in high school where he lost a fumble because of the gloves. He also conceded that he was wearing gloves during his three fumbles as a freshman at CU.
- CU coach Dan Hawkins often talks of the chip on his shoulder that Speedy plays with after not being highly recruited out of high school. Stewart received scholarship offers from Toledo and Akron despite participating in the Ted Ginn Bus Tour that included stops at 15 college campuses across the Midwest.
- Texas Coach Mack Brown: "Pound for pound, he's as good as anybody. He's hard to tackle, really strong and has good vision. He's very much like (current San Diego Charger and former K-State RB Darrin Sproles)."

Stewart's Career 100-Yard Rushing Games (10):

- 28-166-0 vs. No. 21 West Virginia, Sept. 18, 2008
- 21-107-0 vs. Florida State (Jacksonville), Sept. 27, 2008

- Hawkins is listed second on the latest depth chart at quarterback.
- In July 2009, Hawkins went back to the National ESPN RISE Magazine Elite 11 Quarterback Camp (he participated as a high school rising senior in 2005) to help coach the soon-to-be high school seniors. Hawkins proceeded to win both the accuracy competition and the overall competition over the likes of Mark Sanchez (New York Jets/USC), Chase Daniel (Washington Redskins/Missouri), Juice Williams (Illinois), Colt McCoy (Texas), Zac Robinson (Oklahoma State), Daryll Clark (Penn State) along with the nation's top 11 rated senior high school quarterbacks.
- In the 2005 Elite 11 camp, Hawkins was named "most accurate" and "best in chalk talks" alongside future first round draft choices Tim Tebow, Matthew Stafford and Josh Freeman. Washington State QB Jake Locker was also in the camp. Tebow said of Hawkins, "He was definitely the lively one, the comedian. He was making everybody laugh, getting guys in a good mood. But he also had the competitive side, he really wanted to win and was always competing with everybody."
- Against Georgia in 2010, Hawkins threw a pass to Ryan Deehan for a 2-point conversion on a trick play of sorts. Deehan lined up at the center but was an eligible receiver.
- Against Toledo in 2009, he completed 30-of-64 passes for 356 yards with four touchdowns. The 64 attempts is a new CU record, surpassing the old record of 54 by Joel Klatt at Kansas on Oct. 11, 2003, and is the most by any player in the Big 12 this season. His 356 yards is a career high and he tied his career high in both touchdowns and interceptions. He also became the fourth Buff to pass for 5,000 career yards against Toledo.
- Hawkins ranks high in several categories on CU's career charts. His career numbers are now 526-of-949 for 5,698 yards with 45 touchdowns. He now ranks first in career touchdown passes, second in career completions, attempts, and touchdowns responsible for, third in passing yards fourth in total offense. (see "Hawkins In The CU Record Book" below for further detail)
- A football "gym rat," he often times in the off season would spend up to 18 hours a day watching film, throwing the ball or picking the brain of one of CU's coaches.
- Hawkins makes very few mistakes in the red zone, as he has a career ratio of 31-to-5 of TDs to interceptions, including 7-to-2 in 2009.
- Hawkins is one of nine CU quarterbacks to have defeated a top-five ranked team, as he helped lead the Buffs to their 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma in 2007.
- On signing day of 2006, Hawkins went to school with a letter of intent for both Boise State and Colorado signed by his mother. Even Dan Hawkins did not know he committed until the letter was faxed to the CU football offices.
- Coach Hawkins believes that former major leaguer Bill Buckner made a real difference when it came to Cody's confidence as a young athlete. He was his baseball coach and the combination of Buckner believing in him (Cody was a pitcher) and the expectations and demands placed on him really had an impact.
- Hawkins received a letter of commendation from athletic director Mike Bohn for his role in assisting an injured biker after a football practice in August of 2009. Hawkins, along with Aric Goodman, Scotty McKnight, Kyle Cefalo and volleyball player Becah Fogle happened upon the accident, where senior geology student Jacob Dana was unconscious still clutching the handlebars with his feet still strapped in his pedals.
- Dan Hawkins' Take: "He brings a heck of a work ethic and a lot of credibility. He can stand out there on any given game day and run our offense without anybody saying a word. He is extremely accurate. Does he have a hose? No, but he has a strong enough arm."

Hawkins In CU's Record Book

- Ranks first in career passing touchdowns (46)
- Ranks second in career touchdowns responsible for (53 –needs two to pass Darian Hagan for the CU record)
- Ranks second in career pass completions (543 – needs 124 to pass Joel Klatt for the CU record)
- Ranks second in career pass attempts (983 – needs 103 to pass Joel Klatt for the CU record)

- Ranks third in career passing yards (5,862 – needs 620 to pass second-place Kordell Stewart and 1,514 to pass Joel Klatt for the CU record)
- Ranks fourth in career total offense (5,745 – needs 64 to pass third-place Darian Hagan; 1,601 to pass second-place Joel Klatt and 2,126 to pass Kordell Stewart for the CU record)

- Hansen the starting quarterback on the latest depth chart, earning the spot after the Buffs' second scrimmage of fall camp.
- Hansen has scored a rushing touchdown in each of CU's first four games in 2010.
- Hansen completed 13-of-20 passes for 158 yards with one touchdown and one interception against Georgia in a 29-27 victory. He ran 10 times for 51 yards and a touchdown. Taking out his two sacks, he ran eight times for 68 yards, including a 39-yard run in the first quarter to set up a touchdown.
- Hansen completed 19-of-26 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns against Hawai'i, including a 73-yard strike to Tony Clemons, the longest play of the Dan Hawkins era at Colorado. He also ran five times for 21 yards and was not sacked.
- After scoring the Buffs only touchdown against Cal on the ground, Hansen was hit on his knee while it was planted well into the end zone and suffered a concussion. He didn't miss any action.
- Hansen opened up the 2010 season by completing 17-of-25 passes for 192 yards and two touchdowns while rushing for another in CU's 24-3 win over Colorado State. He ran eight times for 2 yards, but taking out two sacks that accumulated -29 yards, his rushing totals were six rushes for 31 yards and a touchdown.
- Hansen is the first starting quarterback to wear the No. 9 jersey since Jim Counter in 1934. The most popular QB numbers have been 7 and 10.
- In his first start of 2009, Hansen led CU to a 34-30 win over No. 17 Kansas. He completed 14-of-25 passes for 175 yards and a touchdown. He gained 64 yards on the ground, but lost 30 on three sacks for 34 net rushing yards and also scored on the ground, the first rushing touchdown of his career.
- Hansen led the Buffs to a fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory over No. 17 Kansas in his first start of 2009. After the Buffs led 24-10, Kansas took a 30-27 lead in the fourth. On that drive, Hansen found TE Riar Geer for a 29 yard gain on 3rd-and-15 after eluding pressure. He was 2-for-4 passing for 34 yards and rushed twice for nine yards on the drive.
- Hansen saw his first game experience in 2008 when after six games the CU coaching staff removed his redshirt and he came in the game against Kansas State. He responded, carrying the ball 19 times for 86 yards and also throwing a 21-yard touchdown strike to Scotty McKnight.
- In 2008, Hansen became the 11th true freshman quarterback to take snaps since 1972.
- The son of a coach, Hansen's father, Rick, played quarterback at San Diego State (1978-83) and his mother, Pamela, was an All-American sprinter and hurdler for the Aztecs.
- In 2008, Hansen set the school record for the most season rushing yards by a true freshman quarterback with 261 in just six games; the previous best was 177 by Marc Walters in 1986 in five games; Darian Hagan also had 175 in five games in 1988.

- Hansen is a perfect example of how the so-called recruiting experts are exposed. Colorado was on him from the get-go when he was a 1-star prospect by the services as late as June 23, 2007; CU offers him and then Michigan and Iowa get interested as is often the case when someone is offered; and just six days later he was a 3-star guy without playing as much as a flag football game or likely even backgammon.
- Hansen throws right handed but he writes and is otherwise left handed.
- After his high school career was over, Hansen played in the inaugural Navy Marine Corps All-Star Classic alongside current teammates Ryan Deehan, Ryan Dannewitz and Vince Ewing. He won the offensive MVP award helping his team to a 27-13 win.
- As a junior, he led Chaparral to the CIF-Southern Sectional final. He later discovered he broke his wrist in his non-throwing hand. He initially couldn't take a snap under center, so the team went into the shot gun. That wasn't working, so he toughed it out under center for nearly three quarters.
- Hansen attended the prestigious QB camp, Ask Him Which One, and was quickly moved from the "B group" to one that included Carolina Panthers' QB Jimmy Clausen and current Notre Dame QB Dayne Christ.
- Kansas Coach Mark Mangino: "It's unfortunate they picked this week to take his redshirt off, but I think they found their quarterback, that's for sure. He's a heck of a player. He made the difference tonight in my opinion."

- Last name is pronounced (sih-pill-E).
- Sipili is listed atop the depth chart at the mike (inside) linebacker spot on the latest depth chart.
- Sipili started the last seven games of the 2009 season and has started 11 straight including the first four of 2010.
- Against Georgia, he recorded six tackles, including two for a loss and his first career sack. He added one more tackle for no gain.
- Against Texas A&M in 2009, Sipili recorded eight tackles on just 29 snaps played. He had a tackle for loss, one for zero and a third down stop.
- His reputation for being a hard hitter has turned his last named into a verb. Early in 2007 fall camp, coaches were wincing when some players were getting "Sipili'd," so they told him to let up a little. In a drill without pads, Sipili hit senior running back Byron Ellis so hard, Hawkins said he thought he had broken Ellis' collarbone. Fortunately Ellis was OK. But make no mistake, when players are in pads Sipili has the green light.
- Sipili earned honorable mention Freshman All-America in 2006 after seeing action in 10 games and he was one of four true freshman to see action that season.
- During his senior year at Damien Memorial in Honolulu, Sipili volunteered on the campaign of Hawai'i state representative candidate Guy Ontai.
- Sipili loves to dance and as he states it, "I get down on the dance floor."

- Mahnke's last name is pronounced main-key.
- Mahnke was moved from safety to linebacker during spring practice in 2010.
- Mahnke is listed second on the latest depth chart at the Will (inside) linebacker spot, and started the Georgia game at the nickel back position.
- Mahnke played in all 12 games as a freshman including one start in the season finale against Nebraska, and responded with nine tackles (four solo) with one third down stop and one sack.
- Mahnke appeared to have made the play to push CU into a bowl game when he sacked Nebraska quarterback Joe Ganz for a 15-yard loss on second down with a little over two minutes left, but alas NU trotted out Alex Henery to boot the game-winning 57-yard field goal for the win.
- Mahnke was the first verbal commitment for the Buffs in the 2008 recruiting class and lists the biggest moment of his prep career when he received the scholarship offer from the Buffs.
- Mahnke was born in Milwaukee and grew up watching Big Ten football rooting for the Wisconsin Badgers.

- Goodman earned the starting kicker position for the third straight season based on a solid fall camp.
- Goodman underwent surgery on his hip in April 2010, right before the Spring Game. He went into the operating room not knowing if he needed a minor or more serious procedure. It ended up being a torn labrum and doctors gave him a 15 percent chance of ever getting again. He was kicking again in July and came into fall camp 100 percent, eventually winning the job entering the 2010 season.
- In his career, Goodman is 13-of-17 (77 percent) inside the 39-yardline. Three of those four misses hit the uprights. From 40 on out, he is 3-of-18 and has hit the uprights four times.
- He made good on a 38-yard attempt against Georgia and was roughed up on the play, giving the Buffs a first-down on a critical touchdown drive.
- Against Colorado State, Goodman booted three of his five kickoffs through the end zone. Just four of his 51 kickoffs in his first two seasons at CU went through the end zone.
- Goodman finished the 2009 season 31-of-32 on extra points and 10-of-18 on field goals. If you take out 1-of-4 (West Virginia) and 0-of-2 (Nebraska), he was 9-of-12 in the Buffs other 10 games last season.
- Goodman made good on the longest field goal of his career with a 54-yard boot in the second quarter of the Colorado State game to give the Buffs their first points of the 2009 season.
- Goodman three times won the College Football Performance Awards National Kickoff Specialist of the Week after his performances with kickoff duties against Colorado State in the 2009 season opener and again against Kansas. He also earned honorable mention status against Texas A&M. The CFPA is scientific and weekly winners are calculated, not voted on. The kickoff specialist variables include kickoff distance, touchback performance and return yardage. Goodman is listed as a finalist for the kickoff specialist of the year for the CFPA.

- In 2008, Goodman earned Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week honors after he kicked a 25-yard field goal in overtime to beat No. 21 West Virginia, 17-14. He was awarded a scholarship postgame by coach Dan Hawkins. After that kick to beat West Virginia, he struggled and missed his next eight kicks (unfortunately setting a school record), although two of those misses hit the uprights and the combined distance he missed by was likely less than 20 feet.
- Goodman has a twin sister (Ally) who played soccer at CU, graduating last May. He also has younger sisters (also twins) who are enrolled at CU.
- Goodman's father (Curtis) was a placekicker at the University of Hawai'i from 1975-78.
- Goodman received a letter of commendation from athletic director Mike Bohn for his role in assisting an injured biker after a football practice in August of 2009. Goodman, along with Cody Hawkins, Scotty McKnight, Kyle Cefalo and volleyball player Becah Fogle happened upon the accident, where senior geology student Jacob Dana was unconscious still clutching the handlebars with his feet still strapped in his pedals. Said Goodman, "I feel like that's the standard and any student would follow it. We were put in that situation and it wasn't anything extraordinary that we did."

- Espinoza is listed third on the latest depth chart at the "H" receiver grouping. He is also second on the depth chart at punt returner.
- Espinoza's often goes by the nickname of "Espy."
- Espinoza teamed with Scotty McKnight against Toledo as the duo became just the seventh in CU history to both have 100-plus receiving yards in a game. Espinoza had eight catches for 109 yards and a touchdown while McKnight had 11 grabs for 114 yards and a touchdown. It marked the 12th time in CU history that two receivers have surpassed the 100 yard plateau in the same game. McKnight and Simas combined to accomplish the feat at Kansas State.
- Espinoza reached the 100 yard mark before Scotty McKnight in the Toledo game, officially marking the 100th 100-yard receiving game in CU history. He finished with eight grabs for 109 yards and he recorded his first collegiate touchdown reception.
- As a senior at Alamosa, he set the Colorado high school all-classification record for receiving yards and touchdowns in a season, catching 67 passes for 1,507 yards and 20 scores, leading the Moose to the 2006 3A state championship. In the semifinal against Florence, he caught the game-tying touchdown and then kicked the game-winning extra point.
- Even though he says that he's built more like a wrestler, Espinoza is actually a talented basketball player.

- Grossnickle is listed as the starting punter on the latest depth chart.
- Grossnickle saw his first collegiate action against Colorado State and he responded with seven punts with a 41.4 yard average. He pinned two inside the opponent 20 yard line. He was extremely consistent, with six of the seven punts coming between 41-44 yards.
- He is likely one of the fastest punters in the nation, having been clocked at 4.55 seconds in the 40-yard dash.
- He earned the Bill McCartney Award after spring practice as the most improve special teams player and also won the Iron Buffalo Award among all specialists for work, dedication, toughness and total poundage lifted in the weight room.
- Grossnickle and fellow redshirt freshman TE DaVaughn Thornton were the first Denver East athletes to sign national letters of intent at CU since 1964. Add in RB Quentin Hildreth, and there are three former East players who are redshirt freshmen in 2010.
- Grossnickle was born on Sept. 9, 1990, or 09-09-90.
- Grossnickle kicked a 61-yard field goal while attending the Ray Guy kicking academy in 2009.

- Jefferson is listed as the back-up at the "X" receiver grouping behind junior Toney Clemons on the latest depth chart.
- As a true freshman, he was the last recruit of the 2009 class, signing just two days prior to the start of fall camp. He moved his way up the depth chart and ended up starting four games.
- Jefferson had been planning to attend Chaffey (Calif.) Junior College prior to signing with CU.
- Jefferson started his first collegiate game against No. 17 Kansas and had one catch for 11 yards against the Jayhawks. He became the first true freshman to start for the Buffs in 2009.
- Jefferson was a dual-threat player in high school, playing both running back and wide receiver while earning first-team All-State honors in Moreno Valley, Calif. His senior year he rushed 116 times for 755 yards and four touchdowns while hauling in 83 receptions for 1,146 yards and 12 touchdowns.
- He was relatively unknown by recruiting services because he had to sit out his junior season due to high school transfer rules.
- When asked how he picked up the game plan so quickly (Jefferson signed too late to participate in seven-on-seven drills over the summer), he attributes it to "great coaching, great help and a lack of TV and Xbox in my room. I knew I would be behind, so I came in with the mindset of learning as much as possible."

- After sitting out a season due to NCAA transfer rules, Clemons is listed atop the depth chart along at the "X" receiver grouping.
- Clemons hooked up with Tyler Hansen after Hansen had to scramble for a 73-yard touchdown pass against Hawai'i. That is the longest play in the Dan Hawkins era and Clemons first career collegiate touchdown.
- After nearly two years off, Clemons began his CU career with three catches for 25 yards against Colorado State.
- Clemons was named the Big 12 Preseason Newcomer of the Year.
- The Sporting News tabbed him as one of two wide receivers on its All-Spring Team and he was the publication's number one player who helped himself most during the spring.
- He earned the Iron Buffalo Award for hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage lifted in the weight room among wide receivers.
- Clemons hails from an athletic family. His brother, Wes, played football at California University (Pa.) while his sisters, Mycah and Mycaiah, both ran track at Pittsburgh. He is cousins with Arizona Cardinals receiver Steve Breaston and Swin Cash, who won an Olympic Gold medal in 2004, two NCAA Championships at UConn and was MVP of the WNBA All-Star Game in 2009 while playing for Phoenix.
- Breaston eased Clemons mind about having to redshirt in 2009 claiming that his redshirt season at Michigan was the best season of his life.
- Should CU join the Pac-12 conference before Clemons eligibility is up, he will have the unique distinction of playing in three conferences who earn automatic berths in the BCS. He transferred from Michigan (Big Ten), will see action in the Big 12 this year and could see action in the Pac-12 if Colorado joins the conference in 2011.
- Clemons has two personal mottos. The first is from John Wooden, "Talent is God-given. Be humble. Fame is man-given. Be grateful. Conceit is self-given. Be careful." The other is "there is no such thing as luck, because luck is not needed when you are prepared and are hard-working."
- Clemons only superstition is that his spikes have to be clean and shiny before each game. "I do this because if you look good, you play good."

- Sandersfeld had worked himself up to the starting nickel back and a backup at the strong safety spot before injuring his lower leg against Cal. He replaced Parker Orms at the nickel back position, who got hurt in the first game against Colorado State and is out for the season.
- Sandersfeld played the nickel back after freshman Parker Orms went down early in the Colorado State game and responded with four tackles, two solo and one for a loss, and two third down stops along with an interception. His four tackles were more than he had in his career coming into the game while the third down stops, the tackle for loss and interception were the first of his career.
- Sandersfeld compiled 45 special teams points in 2009, the second highest mark since CU began keeping those numbers in 1987. He also has 58 career special teams points, second most among active players behind Jalil Brown's 61 points and sixth most in CU history.

- Against Texas A&M, Sandersfeld played on 17 defensive snaps and recorded his first three tackles on defense of his career.
- Originally an invited walk-on, Sandersfeld was placed on scholarship prior to the start of fall practices in 2009.
- Sandersfeld was a member of five state championships at Limon, three in football, one in baseball and one in track & field.
- Sandersfeld was steered toward CU by Limon superintendent of schools Harvey Goodman, who played at CU from 1972-74 under coaches Eddie Crowder and Bill Mallory.
- Sandersfeld is following in the footsteps of Tom Hubbard, who began at CU as a walk-on and earned a scholarship, eventually becoming the defensive MVP of the Houston Bowl.

- Lockridge is listed second on the depth chart at running back and atop the depth chart at kick returner. He started at running back against Georgia.
- Lockridge had 16 rushes for 36 yards and a touchdown against Georgia, his first rushing touchdown of the season and third of his career. On the first drive alone, he ran the ball nine times, picking up 19 yards. That drive set the tone for the Buffs, it was an 13-play, 80-yard drive that consumed 7:13 off the clock.
- Lockridge had a breakout game against Hawai'i with his first 100 yard rushing day, carrying 14 times for 109 yards. He had 35 of his 109 yards after contact on six of his 14 rushes. He teamed with Rodney Stewart to become the first duo to have 100 yards rushing in the same game since 2002 when Chris Brown (25-127) and Bobby Purify (20-174) did it versus Iowa State in Boulder.
- Lockridge returned 30 kicks for 699 yards and a touchdown in 2009, the fifth-most kickoff return yardage gained in CU history. He became the fifth Buff to record 600-plus kickoff return yardage.
- Lockridge finished 2009 with 45 touches the combined for 787 yards (17.5 per touch) and two touchdowns.
- Lockridge broke a 98-yard kickoff return for a touchdown at No. 13 Oklahoma State. It was the first touchdown return since Josh Smith returned one against Colorado State in 2008 and it was the longest kick return in a decade, since Jeremy Bloom took one back 98 yards against Washington in 1999. It is tied for the ninth longest return in school history. Lockridge was also named the national kickoff return specialist of the week by the College Football Performance Awards for the week.
- He scored a touchdown on a nine yard run, his only of the game, against Colorado State in the 2009 season opener. It marked his second career rushing touchdown. He also had his first career reception against the Rams in 2009, as well.

- Lockridge missed the 2008 season recovering from surgery to repair a sports hernia he suffered in the Iowa State game in 2007. He didn't initially alert the training staff to his sports hernia, running backs coach Darian Hagan noticed he was a little less explosive than normal.
- In 2007, Lockridge suffered a concussion in practice the Tuesday before the Oklahoma game, but didn't tell trainers until two days later. He was held out of the OU game but played every game the rest of the way.
- Lockridge played high school football at power Mission Viejo in Orange County. NFL players Mark Sanchez (Jets) and Jordan Palmer (Bengals) also played football there.
- Lockridge was a published model prior to his arrival at CU and attended the prestigious John Robert Powers Acting School. He did photo shoots and had some photos published when he was younger in "things like Sears and JC Penny's catalogs." Abercrombie & Fitch was eyeing him for a shoot to promote its 2010 spring line, but he is unable to continue his modeling career at CU due to NCAA regulations. He calls his acting and modeling career more of a "hobby" than a serious career pursuit.
- Lockridge is also an accomplished self-taught musician. He started when he was 5-years old. He can't read music, it just comes to him in his head. At the Independence Bowl, he started playing the piano for teammates and actually got some tips from passers-by (He politely declined to accept the tips). Recently he has taught himself to play the guitar because his dorm room was too small for a piano his freshman year and is looking forward to learning the violin soon.
- Lockridge started his own clothing line in Orange County with friends from school - the clothing line is called S.F.C. (Stay Fresh Crew). He has suspended it while playing in college, but looks to pick it back up after his playing days are over.
- During an internship at a local Boulder real estate firm, Lockridge earned his commercial real estate license. He is also a certified financial planner and his goal after graduation is to own three financial planning firms, one in Colorado and two in California.
- Lockridge only recently began watching sports. More often you will find him tuned into Animal Planet or National Geographic channels, or playing an instrument.
- Until Lockridge was 15, he lived with his mother and three siblings in a rough part of Los Angeles. At that point, he decided to move out, get a job and pay rent to a family in Orange County. He held down three jobs while attending high school.
- Lockridge didn't play football until the ninth grade when he saw a flier for football camp. He went to the store and purchased camping gear and was ready for a trip into the wilderness. He didn't know it wasn't camping out. After a few good laughs from the camp counselors, they told him to bring a pair of gloves the next day, and he brought mittens.
- Fast Food Nation: In high school, Lockridge's body fat index was too low and he would cramp up; he even tore both of his hamstrings because his body was too tense. After one workout, his whole body cramped up and he was given three IVs before he could move again. Doctors told him that he was eating too healthy. He began taking fish oil pills or eating fast food and hasn't had cramps since.

Hawkins' Take:

- "He has a lot of speed, but he also has a different style in that he'll pour it up in there and has no trepidation about that, he'll just throw a rock on the gas pedal and go. He's kind of like an energizer bunny, the guy just has a tremendous spirit about him."

- Hawkins is nicknamed "J-Hawk" by his teammates and coaches.
- Hawkins is the Buffs fourth starting nickel back this season after Parker Orms (knee in the CSU game), Travis Sandersfeld (leg in the Cal game) and Paul Vigo (leg in the Hawai'i game) all went down with injuries.
- After playing for an injured Paul Vigo at the nickel back against Hawai'i, he responded with his first career interception and had three tackles, two of them solo.
- Hawkins' uncle, "Jumpin'" Joe Caldwell, played for the ABA and NBA in the early 1970s. He won an Olympic Gold Medal in 1964. He is perhaps best known as being one of the forefathers of NBA free agency because after he had signed with the Hawks, he got a better offer from the ABA's Carolina Cougars. Rick Barry just a few years earlier had to sit out a season after a similar set of circumstances. Caldwell won a legal battle with the NBA and didn't have to sit out. Said Hawks' teammate Richie Guerin, "him leaving our team for the ABA, that was really the demise of our team in Atlanta, not Pete Maravich leaving."
- Hawkins came to CU, because he "knew it was home" when he took his official visit.
- CU was the first school to offer Hawkins a scholarship out of high school.
- Hawkins was recruited by former CU coach Gary Barnett in 2005. But he gray-shirted after suffering a knee injury and didn't report until January 2006.

- McKnight is one of 50 players on the preseason watch list for the Biletnikoff Award, presented to the nation's top receiver.
- McKnight is listed atop the depth chart at the "H" receiver grouping. He is excited to have his first opportunity to play in the slot this season.
- McKnight has played in 40 career games and started 28.
- McKnight has career numbers of 179 receptions for 2,078 yards and 17 touchdowns. He is CU's career receiving leader and ranks in the top and he ranks seventh in receiving yards and fifth in touchdown receptions. (See McKnight in the CU record book note below).
- McKnight has caught a pass in each of his 40 (41 including the post season) career games, the longest such streak in the nation and it's also a new school record by 13, surpassing Charles E. Johnson's 27 such games between 1991-93.
- McKnight ranks fourth in the NCAA for most active career receptions with 185 through Oct. 4. NOTE: The NCAA counts bowl games in its statistics, which is why it lists McKnight with 185 career receptions compared to 181 for the actual CU mark. He also ranks 10th in career receiving yardage and 13th for career touchdown receptions among active players in the FBS.
- McKnight has had six or more receptions in 13 of the last 16 games.
- McKnight finished with 34 more catches than any player in CU history through their junior season. Michael Westbrook held that record with 131 and McKnight finished with 165. He also surpassed Westbrook (1,859) to hold CU's career yardage mark by a junior with 1,900.

- McKnight opened up the 2010 season with six receptions for 78 yards and a touchdown against Colorado State, becoming the school's all-time leader in receptions with his third catch. In the second quarter, he caught passes on back-to-back plays, the first to tie Michael Westbrook's record and the next to break it, when he also found the end zone. In four career games against the Rams, McKnight scored touchdowns in each of the four contests and he finished those four games with 23 catches for 287 yards and four touchdowns.
- McKnight closed out the 2009 campaign with 7 receptions for 114 yards and a pair of touchdowns, including a career-long 56 yard touchdown on the game's last play. It was his fourth 100-yard game of the season and fifth of his career.
- McKnight recorded career highs with 11 receptions and 114 yards against Toledo in 2009 and also caught a touchdown pass.
- McKnight suffered a concussion against Colorado State in 2009 on an apparent helmet-to-helmet hit in the third quarter. He came back in the game and scored a touchdown late in the contest, the 10th touchdown of his career as he became the 12th player in CU history with 10 or more touchdown receptions. After the replay overturned the incompletion originally called on the play, McKnight
- McKnight was credited with a fumble in the Colorado State game after replay overturned the call on the field. It was McKnight's first fumble (and only to date) of his career on his 98th touch and came on an apparent illegal helmet-to-helmet hit in which he suffered a concussion.
- McKnight earned the John Mack Award in 2008 and '09 as the team's most outstanding offensive player.
- McKnight led the team in receiving in each of his first three seasons in Boulder. He was the first former walk-on to lead the team in receiving in back-to-back seasons and he became the second player in CU history to lead the team in receiving three straight seasons (Monte Huber, 1967-69).
- McKnight has proven to be a man of firsts as he has scored CU's first touchdown of the season in both his freshman and sophomore campaign. If that wasn't enough he was also the recipient of both Cody Hawkins' and Tyler Hansen's first career touchdown passes.
- McKnight took a redshirt season his true freshman season in 2006. That following spring, he broke his ankle and when fall camp opened, he was far down on the depth chart at receiver. He started the season opener against Colorado State with what would be his only 100-yard receiving game until his junior season with 8 catches for 106 yards and a touchdown and also held the game-winning PAT attempt.
- McKnight tried to catch the eye of Eric Kiesau, who was the receivers coach at Cal when McKnight was a senior in high school. Kiesau admittedly never watched McKnight's tape but now acknowledges that "he would take a Scotty McKnight every day of the year for the rest of my career."
- He attended an Elite 11 Quarterback Camp in Mission Viejo before his senior year of high school, where he shagged balls, caught passes and struck up a friendship with future teammate Cody Hawkins.
- McKnight's father, Scott, was a college teammate of Dan Hawkins at UC Davis. McKnight followed Dan Hawkins to Colorado, passing up a scholarship opportunity at Boise State to walk-on with the Buffs. His father is currently a police lieutenant and formerly worked for the DEA breaking up Columbian drug cartels all over the country.
- McKnight's grandfather, Fred, was a Hollywood writer for such shows as Dragnet and MacGyver.
- McKnight is a close friend of New York Jets first-round pick Mark Sanchez, as Sanchez has attended at least one CU game in each of the last three seasons. Sanchez and McKnight were both in McKnight's sister's wedding and played a prank on the groom by stealing her phone and texting him that she was getting cold feet. The groom quickly figured out the prank, however.
- Growing up, McKnight was a football camp "junkie," attending camps at UCLA, Stanford, San Diego State and Oregon among others. He caught passes in those camps from the likes of Jay Cutler, Chase Daniel, Carson Palmer, Tim Tebow, Juice Williams, Jake Locker, Kellen Clemens, Chad Henne and Pat White, along with lifelong friend Mark Sanchez.
- McKnight sent his tape to then Cal WR coach Eric Kiesau, CU's offensive coordinator. Kiesau admittedly never watched it then, but now says "I'd take a Scotty McKnight seven days a week for the rest of my career." McKnight continues to rag Kiesau about it, after he makes a play in practice, he'll tell Kiesau "I bet you would've recruited THAT to Cal!"

Kiesau On McKnight: "He's very smart and understands the game and he understands coverages and what we are trying to do on offense. He pays attention to details and is prepared in every possible way when it comes to the game."

Hanson On McKnight: "He's always in the right spot. He's a smart player and knows in what coverages what spots will be open. He's a guy you can trust, and that's the biggest thing, if you can trust a receiver, you are going to give him the ball no matter what."

Mark Sanchez On McKnight: "I think he's a lot like Wes Welker. He's smart. He studies. He knows football really well. He definitely has a coach's feel for the game."

McKnight On Sanchez After His Appearance on HBO's Hard Knocks: "Mark basically hijacked my personality and brought it to cable television."

McKnight In CU's Record Book:

- Ranks first in career receptions (181 – Michael Westbrook - 167)
- Ranks fifth in career receiving yards (2,079 – needs 97 to pass fourth place Phil Savoy)
- Ranks tied (with Javon Green) for fourth in career receiving touchdowns (17–needs two to tie Michael Westbrook for third place)

McKnight's Career 100-Yard Receiving Games (5):

- 8-106-1 vs. Colorado State (Denver), Sept. 1, 2007
- 11-114-1 at Toledo, Sept. 11, 2009
- 9-104-0 vs. Missouri, Oct. 31, 2009
- 8-107-0 at Iowa State, Nov. 14, 2009
- 7-114-2 vs. Nebraska, Nov. 27, 2009

- Jaffee is a force on special teams for the Buffs and finished second on the team with 28 points last season and leads the team with 13 points this year. He is listed third on the depth chart at the strong safety spot and is second at the kick returner.
- Jaffee recorded six special teams' points against Colorado State in both the 2009 and 2010 season openers.
- Jaffee came to CU as a preferred walk-on out of Boulder's Fairview High School, where he lettered four times in lacrosse and three in football.
- Jaffee's middle name is Pendragon, and there is a story behind his unique middle name. His mother would read to him from King Arthur before he was born...the Jaffee's are primarily Italian, but when Arthur was born he had light skin and red hair. So his mother knew he was a king and gave him the middle name Pendragon.

- Jaffee enjoys both surfing and wakeboarding.

- Brown is atop the depth chart at the left cornerback spot.
- Brown responded to giving up a few plays to Georgia's A.J. Green with a crucial interception in the end zone in the second quarter, stopping a string of two straight possessions in which the Bulldogs had scored touchdowns. He also had a game-high eight tackles (seven solo) and one third down stop. It was his fifth career interception.
- Brown got his fourth career interception and first of the 2010 season in the opener against Colorado State with an athletic catch near midfield.
- He registered his 20th career pass break-up against Hawai'i.
- At No. 13 Oklahoma State last season, Brown had five tackles, all solo, and a game-high four pass break-ups.
- Brown played perhaps his best game in CU's 34-30 win over No. 17 Kansas. He recorded an interception for the second straight game and had a team-best three pass break-ups. He broke up the game's second-to-last pass play setting up teammate Cha'pelle Brown's PBU on the last play of the game to preserve the victory.
- Brown has three career interceptions, two in the last five games, and he has picked off Texas' Colt McCoy twice and Kansas' Todd Reesing once. Both were candidates for the Davey O'Brien Trophy.
- Brown was a special teams' standout in 2007 and '08. He had 10 special teams' points against Missouri alone, and led the team with 31 points on the season; that tied for the third most points since CU began tracking beginning points in 1987.
- In 2008 on special teams, Brown led the Buffs with 25 points. He has seen more limited special teams action in 2009 with his heightened role on defense, but he has 59 career special teams points, which is good for fifth most in CU history.
- Brown made his collegiate debut in 2007 against CSU, playing on special teams. As the season has progressed, he has really improved his ST play (he's one of the gunners). He was named CU's special teams' player of the week for the Texas Tech game.
- The last addition to Hawkins' first recruiting class, he was largely overlooked in the recruiting process because he was home-schooled and it was difficult for coaches to track down all of his necessary academic records.
- Jimmy Smith On Brown: "It's great playing beside Jalil because you know the quarterback has to go either way now, they can't pick on one corner. We are both capable of making big plays."
- Scotty McKnight and Jalil Brown came in together in 2006 as true freshmen and immediately battled each other tough in practice. After one practice, McKnight's dad, Scott, called Jalil over and told him "good job" and "keep pounding on Scotty."

- His name is pronounced day-ghee o-la-toy-ye.
- Olatoye is listed as the third at strong safety in his redshirt freshman season. He made the switch from cornerback to safety during fall camp.
- Olatoye is of Nigerian descent and can understand pieces of the language when his parents, who are native Nigerians, speak it.
- He is an accomplished soccer player, having traveled to Europe, Amsterdam and Spain to play when he was younger.

- Polk is listed as the starting strong safety on the latest depth chart, picking up where he left off last season before suffering some bumps and bruises.
- Polk was one of four Buffs with five or more tackles against Colorado State in the season opener. He played in all 58 defensive snaps.
- In his first two games after being named the starter at strong safety, Polk responded by compiling 24 tackles (14 solo) and one third down stop.
- Polk's 15 tackles at Kansas State in 2009 were the most by a CU player since Jeff Smart had 15 at Nebraska in 2008 and the most by a defensive back since Ryan Walters had 16 tackles against Iowa State in 2008.
- In his first game his redshirt freshman year against Colorado State in 2009, Polk started at safety (for the injured Pat Mahnke) and responded with six tackles (two solo, one for a loss).
- Polk came to CU as the nation's No. 11 running back prospect, but moved to safety after redshirting his true freshman season in 2008. He missed spring practices with surgeries on both shoulders.
- Polk was teammates with CU offensive lineman Blake Behrens in high school, as both attended Brophy Prep in the Phoenix area.
- Polk is no stranger to defense despite. He made the game-winning interception to secure a state championship in 2005 for Brophy Prep.
- Polk is often called "Ray Ray" by his teammates as his full name is Raymond Ray Polk.
- He logged 70 hours of community service at the Upward Foundation, where he helps mentally challenged kids.
- His father (Raymond) played cornerback for Oklahoma State and was drafted by the Los Angeles Raiders in 1985.
- He chose CU over a number of other Division I-A schools, including Oklahoma State where his father's uncle (Curtis Looper) was the running backs coach. Looper is now the running backs coach at Auburn.

- Hildreth is listed fourth on the latest depth chart at tailback.
- Hildreth is one of three redshirt freshmen from Denver East High School on the current roster, he was coached in high school by former CU linebacker Ron Woolfork (1990-93).
- Hildreth had a knack for big plays in high school, scoring from 40 yards or longer a total of 15 times his junior and senior years, including seven scores from 70 yards or more.
- Hildreth is also an accomplished basketball player, and played point guard, lettering four times and along with TE DaVaughn Thornton, helping the team to two state championships.

- Torres is listed third on the depth chart at the tailback position and was singled out by Dan Hawkins as one of a handful of true freshmen who could see the field this season.
- Torres saw his first collegiate action against Colorado State in 2010, coming in during CU's four-minute offense against the Rams. He rushed five times for 26 yards, obtaining two first downs on the last five offensive plays of the game as CU ran out the final 2:30 of the game.
- Torres was coached by former CU quarterback Mike Moschetti (class of '99) at La Mirada.
- A late bloomer in high school, he helped his team improve from 4-7 his junior season to 15-1 as a senior, when he was the CIF Southern Section Offensive Player of the Year.
- The biggest tailback on the depth chart, the only one taller than 5-9 and weighing over 200 pounds, he brings a different dimension to the offense.

- A redshirt freshman, Orms injured his knee in his first collegiate game against Colorado State on CU's punt coverage unit in the first quarter. He is out for the remainder of the season. Prior to the injury, Orms was listed second at free safety and was CU's starting nickel back.
- Both Orms and his brother, Dylan, were named MVP of the Colorado state high school championship game, Dylan in 2006 and Parker in 2008.
- In the 2008 state final, Orms had one of the most memorable plays in Colorado high school football history. On 4th-and-2 and trailing Greeley West 31-28 with 19 seconds left, Orms took a draw 56 yards for his fifth touchdown of the game, securing the 35-31 victory. As a senior at Wheat Ridge, Orms rushed 274 times for 2,813 yards and scored 45 total touchdowns.

- Major is listed atop on the depth chart at the will (inside) linebacker spot on the latest depth chart after finishing last season third behind seniors Jeff Smart and Jeff Mohler.
- Major led the Buffs with eight tackles (four solo) against Georgia in a 29-27 win. He also had an additional tackle for zero, one third down stop and the game-clinching fumble recovery after B.J. Beatty forced it. That happened with 1:55 left in the game and the Buffs were able to run out the clock after Georgia had marched to the CU 27 yardline.
- Major led the Buffs with 10 tackles to open the 2010 season against Colorado State. Two of his tackles were for no gain, two were third down stops and one was a touchdown saving tackle.
- Major played just under half of the defensive snaps against Wyoming in 2009 in his first collegiate defensive action and responded with three tackles, a third down stop, a quarterback pressure and a quarterback chase down.
- Major was considered by most as the top high school senior in the state of Colorado (over 50 scholarship offers from around the nation including Florida, Michigan, UCLA, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee and Louisville) in 2007. He was a Parade All-American and Colorado's Gatorade Player of the Year.
- Major had worked his way into the second-team on the depth chart just a week into his true freshman fall camp before he went down with a torn ACL in a non-contact drill on August 13, 2007, forcing him to miss the entire season.
- Despite what the recruiting rankings said, he was regarded as the nation's top prep linebacker by many college coaches with his combination of size and strength making him more attractive than those few prospects ranked ahead of him.
- As a 13-year-old, he was one of the best youth hockey goalies in Colorado.

- Vigo was listed second on the latest depth chart at the right cornerback spot behind fifth-year senior Jimmy Smith. He started at nickel back against Hawai'i but suffered a leg injury and will be out 4-6 weeks.
- Vigo attended New Brunswick High School in New Jersey, an athletic powerhouse that has produced the likes of Colorado Rockies standout Eric Young, Sr., Carolina Panthers WR Dwayne Jarrett, New Orleans Saints LB Jonathan Casillas and 1974 NBA first round pick Gary Brokaw.
- Vigo was originally a part of the 2008 recruiting class but took a gray shirt and enrolled in the spring of 2009. He stated, "I took advantage of the situation and was able to put on more weight. It made me hungry and more confident, I'm sure it was a great thing for me."
- Vigo completed extensive community service in high school, volunteering at a soup kitchen in New Jersey, the New Jersey Community Food Bank, Rose Mountain Care Center, the Special Olympics, the Institute for Children with Cancer and Blood Disorders and read Across America. He was also an assistant coach for a local Pop Warner team and child care aid for a preschool organization called Catholic Charities.
- In addition to those community outreach programs, he was involved in the Manytown, N.J., Human Relations Youth Leadership Forum and was a New Brunswick Board of Education Student Representative.
- Vigo is an avid boxer for the purposes of sparring and conditioning, but doesn't compete because of his involvement in football.
- Vigo is the first in his family to attend college.

- Deehan is listed atop the depth chart at the tight end.
- Deehan caught a 2-point conversion from Cody Hawkins in the 29-27 win over Georgia on a trick play. Deehan actually snapped the ball to Hawkins but was an eligible receiver.
- Deehan led the Buffs with a career high four receptions for 51 yards at Cal.
- Deehan is one of 35 tight ends nationwide listed on the watch list for the Mackey Award, given to the nation's top tight end. CU's Dan Graham won the award in 2001.
- Deehan recorded his first career touchdown on a seven-yard grab against Eastern Washington (2008); it was his second career game. With that touchdown, Deehan became the first true freshman tight end to record a receiving touchdown in 25 years (Jon Embree, 10/8/83 against Missouri).
- Deehan's family lost their home in Poway in October 2007 to the Witch Creek Fire, one of several massive wildfires spurred by the Santa Ana winds that devastated Southern California. They were able to move many possessions to his father's office ahead of the blaze.
- Deehan comes to Colorado from Poway high school, the same program as former CU LB Drew Wahlroos (1999-2002).
- Riddle On Deehan: "Ryan is a big, physical and well-developed kid. He comes from a great program. He can run really well, he can make plays down field and he can make plays after the catch. Beyond that he is a very strong and physical blocker and knows how to work in the off-season."

- Cefalo is listed second on the latest depth chart at the "H" wide receiver grouping behind fifth year senior and captain Scotty McKnight.
- Cefalo saw his first collegiate football action against Colorado State in 2010, catching a pair of passes for 16 yards backing up Scotty McKnight and in two games has three grabs for 37 yards.
- Cefalo was a high school teammate of Cody Hawkins at Bishop Kelly in Boise, Idaho. Cefalo served as Hawkins' back up for two years and then started as a senior, throwing for 2,300 yards and rushing for 600 more.
- Cefalo attended Oregon State on a baseball scholarship but was sidelined after suffering a season-ending shoulder injury.
- While attending classes at Wenatchee Community College, Cefalo called Cody Hawkins to congratulate him on the team's win over West Virginia in 2007. Hawkins took the opportunity to entice Cefalo to join the team as a walk-on.
- Cody Hawkins refers to Cefalo as the next Scotty McKnight, as Hawkins had a big role in bringing both players to Boulder.
- Cefalo led the team in receiving in the three main spring scrimmages with 16 catches for 173 yards, he and Hawkins connected 12 times for 144 yards in the Spring Game.
- Besides football and baseball, Cefalo was also a standout basketball player in high school.

- Nabors is listed fifth in the tailback grouping on the latest depth chart. Nabors is used on special teams and has four special teams' points so far this season.
- Nabors had a productive spring, leading the team with four rushing touchdowns. He gained 84 yards on 28 carries.
- He won the Iron Buffalo Award among the team's running backs for his hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage lifted in the weight room.
- Nabors has 4.5 speed in the 40, squats 667 pounds and his 323-pound power clean was tops among the running backs.
- He twice led the state of Colorado in rushing as a prep at Rangeview High School in Denver, rushing for 2,586 yards and 30 touchdowns as a junior and 2,786 yards and 32 touchdowns as a senior.
- His cousin, DJ Paul, is a member of the hip hop group Three 6 Mafia.

- Smith is listed as the back-up strong safety on the latest depth chart behind junior Anthony Perkins.
- Smith hails from Patterson, N.J., the same hometown as former middleweight contender Reuben "The Hurricane" Carter.
- Smith was just the fourth player recruited from New Jersey under coach Dan Hawkins at CU, including classmate Tony Jones.
- Colorado was the only Division I school to offer Smith a scholarship out of high school.

- Hawkins compares Smith to NFL Bob Sanders. "He's not very tall or prototypical, but he can hit. He understands the game and puts himself in the right spot."

- One week into fall camp, Bahr moved from the offensive line to a utility back role. He could see action at tight end, fullback, halfback and tailback. He was moved into the utility back along with defensive lineman Scott Fernandez.
- Bahr scored the first touchdown in his football career at any level with a four-yard reception from Tyler Hansen out of CU's jumbo package in the first quarter of the Buffs' 29-27 win over Georgia. It was his second catch of the season.
- Bahr saw action in the Colorado State game at the utility back in the Buffs goal line situation in the third quarter that propelled the Buffs to a 24-0 lead over the Rams. He caught his first collegiate pass at Cal, a three yard reception inside the 5-yard line of the Bears.
- Bahr started games on the offensive line in both 2008 and 2009. He graded out to a season best 87 percent against Kansas State in 2009 and his career best was a 93 percent in the 2008 finale against Nebraska.
- Bahr was heavily recruiting by CU's future conference foes Arizona, Washington and Oregon.
- Bahr was a high school teammate of Brian Lockridge at Mission Viejo, the same school that has produced NFL quarterbacks Mark Sanchez (New York Jets) and Jordan Palmer (Cincinnati Bengals).

- Last name is pronounced (cah-suh).
- Kasa suffered through a couple of injuries last season. He missed the first three games of the season with a knee injury, returned to see action in four games in the middle of the season and then missed the last five weeks due to mononucleosis. Usually players that see action in four games or less due to injury can receive a medical hardship waiver, but because his four games came in the middle of the season, the NCAA denied the request.
- In his four games of action as a true freshman, Kasa played 47 snaps on defense and compiled two tackles (both solo), one of which was for a loss.
- Kasa earned All-American honors as a senior in high school and participated in the U.S. Army All-American all-star game in San Antonio. EA Sports selected him to its All-America second team.
- Kasa originally committed to Florida, but after hearing of a potential switch from the defensive to offensive line, he withdrew his commitment from the national champions and committed to Colorado.
- Kasa was the third straight top-rated Colorado prospect to sign with the Buffaloes, following in the shoes of Ryan Miller in 2007 and Jon Major in 2008.

- Perkins is listed atop on the depth chart at strong safety.
- Perkins leads the Buffs with 33 tackles, 8.3 per game on the season. He also has one tackle for loss, another for no gain, three third-down stops, one fumble recovery and one pass break-up on the season.
- Perkins had six tackles, four solo, including one for no gain, a third down stop and a pass breakup in CU's 29-27 win over Georgia.
- Perkins led the Buffs with seven tackles (five solo) against Hawai'i. One of his tackles was for a 10-yard loss while he also had two third down stops and a fumble recovery. He was also credited with the safety as he tackled Alex Green in the end zone after Bryant Moniz passed him the ball with LB Tyler Ahles pressuring.
- Perkins was second on the team against Colorado State with nine tackles and also had an interception, which he returned nine years before being pushed out of bounds.
- Perkins has been a valuable asset on special teams throughout his career. He finished the 2009 season with 25 special teams points, third most on the team.
- He replaced an injured Ray Polk in the starting lineup at free safety in the last four games of 2009, and responded with 41 tackles, two interceptions and a forced fumble, coming up with a turnover in three of the four games.
- Perkins finished the season third on the team in tackles, averaging 7.8 per game, and is the leading returner from last year's squad in that category.
- Perkins came up huge against Texas A&M, coming up with nine tackles on 43 defensive snaps played. He also had one tackle for zero yards, one third down stop and his first career interception, that helped ice the game as the Buffs took a 35-34 lead on the previous drive with less than 2 minutes left.
- Perkins' grandfather, Don Perkins, was an All-American running back at New Mexico (1956-59) and was later drafted by the Dallas Cowboys. He played for the Cowboys from 1960-68, he was the 1961 NFL Rookie of the Year, a six-time pro bowler and is in the Cowboy's Ring of Fame.
- Perkins earned his first game action in the season opener against Colorado State his redshirt-freshman season in 2008. His first start came during the third game of the season against West Virginia.
- Perkins played athletically for Northglenn High School in the Denver metro area, but attended Community Christian High School, which did not offer sports. He played both offense and defense at Northglenn and as a senior finished third in the state with 1,628 rushing yards.

- Celestine is listed third on the latest depth chart at the "Z" receiver grouping behind Travon Patterson and Paul Richardson.
- Two games into the 2008 season, Celestine left the CU program, citing personal reasons including being an expectant father. He returned to Boulder in the Spring of 2009 and enrolled in summer and fall classes as a full-tuition paying student. On December 24, 2009, Dan Hawkins informed him he would be placed back on scholarship and could rejoin the team for the spring 2010 semester.

- As a freshman in 2007, Celestine was the lone player from the state of Louisiana that traveled to Shreveport, La., for the Independence Bowl against Alabama.
- As a senior at Mamou High School in Louisiana, he had nine receptions for 200 yards and three touchdowns, including one for 99 yards, against Welch High School.
- Celestine's uncle, Myron Guillory, played basketball at Virginia Tech. Guillory is currently an assistant coach at Liberty and was at one time an assistant at Colorado State.
- Celestine worked as a valet drier at a casino his senior year of high school.
- He is one of the faster players on the team with 4.35 speed in the 40.

- Cunningham is listed as the starting defensive tackle on the latest depth chart.
- Cunningham started all 12 games at defensive tackle in 2009, playing 586 total snaps from scrimmage, the most of any defensive lineman. He recorded his first two career sacks the last half of the season.
- He is CU's most experienced defensive lineman, having played in all 24 games in his first two seasons, including 12 starts.
- Cunningham registered his first career sack (for 14 yards) against Kansas in a 34-30 CU win.
- Cunningham earned playing time as a true freshman, adding depth behind three-year starters George Hypolite and Brandon Nicolas (being groomed as a replacement for one or the other). He was the third in the three-man rotation at defensive tackle/nose guard as a true freshman.
- Cunningham played in the Under Armor All-American Game as a high school senior in 2008.
- Cunningham's grandfather, David Welton, played football at Colorado State.
- Cunningham is also an accomplished baseball player, lettering four times at Columbine High School in the Denver area. He was a power-hitting first baseman and was named all-conference three times and won a state championship.

- Rippy is listed second on the depth chart at the mike (inside) linebacker spot along with Derrick Webb behind fifth year senior Michael Sipili.
- Rippy saw action on just over half (35-of-66) the snaps at Toledo in 2009 in his second collegiate game and responded with three tackles and a quarterback hurry on defense, and he blocked two punts on special teams.
- Rippy can be credited with helping the Colorado coaching staff discover standout tailback Rodney Stewart, as he told running backs coach Darian Hagan about Stewart, his friend over the last four to five years.
- Rippy and Stewart learned that they are in fact cousins just before arriving in Boulder (but after they had known each other for several years). They are, in fact, first cousins once removed, and they both showed up to a family barbeque without knowing they are related. The two have roomed together since arriving on campus.
- Rippy has an extremely large family; his paternal grandparents have over 90 grandchildren and several of his cousins are playing or have played college football and basketball. He squared off against a first cousin, James Davis, who was a sophomore running back at Wyoming when the teams met in 2009. A cousin, Chris Wright, is a sophomore basketball player at Dayton while cousin Greg Moore played basketball at Cincinnati.

- He is an accomplished basketball player, he received interest to play basketball from both Toledo and Xavier.

- Hartigan is currently atop the depth chart at defensive end.
- He moved from inside linebacker to defensive end mid-way through the 2009 season to account for more depth and he finished the 2009 season listed second at both defensive end spots.
- Hartigan had a great game in CU's 29-27 win over Georgia, coming up with two sacks, a third down stop and a forced fumble to go along with three tackles. It marked his first two career sacks and forced fumble.
- Hartigan saw action in his second game defensively and made his first career tackle against Missouri in 2009.
- Hartigan practiced his true freshman season (2007) at outside linebacker and then moved inside after that season prior to spring drills.
- An All-Broward County player out of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Hartigan had 100 tackles at linebacker for Northeast High School and also saw action on offense as a wide receiver.
- Hartigan's father, Sterling Palmer, played for the Washington Redskins for three seasons after a career at Florida State.
- Hartigan owns a '95 Mercury Grant Marquis that he has fixed up and enjoys taking to car shows.
- Prior to coming to Boulder in January 2007, Hartigan had never set foot outside the state of Florida.
- Hartigan made his mark on the scout team his first three seasons in Boulder. Last year, he gave the starting offensive line so many fits that OL coach Denver Johnson said of him, "We can't block this guy!"
- Bandison on Hartigan: "He has a non-stop motor. He's always going fast, 100 miles per hour all the time."

- Stevens is listed as the back-up center on the latest depth chart.
- A former walk-on, Stevens was put on scholarship prior to the 2009 season and responded by playing 663 snaps, third most among offensive linemen. He played in 11 of the 12 games and played every snap in eight of the last nine games last season.
- Stevens graded out to 94 percent at Kansas State, the second-highest mark by a CU offensive lineman in 2009. He graded out to 90 percent or better four times, second most on the team, and has hit over 80 percent in all 11 games he played in last season.
- A fifth-year senior, Stevens has truly worked his way into playing time. As a true freshman in 2006, he redshirted and practiced at both guard and center during the fall.
- He enjoys fly fishing, off-roading, hiking, camping and horseback riding. He raises horses when he's home from school.
- He is an Anthropology major and learned how to make stone tools last year. He also won an award in high school for a stone sculpture project.
- Stevens' father, Ed, is an Air Force pilot and played football for the Falcons.

- Webb is currently listed second on the depth chart at the mike (inside) linebacker spot along side Doug Rippey and behind fifth-year senior Mike Sipili.
- Webb saw his first action on defense in a 29-27 win over Georgia and in his two plays, he recorded one tackle for a three-yard loss.
- Webb practiced as a short-yardage fullback in the Spring.
- Webb enjoys rapping and wrote a song entitled "Colorado Swag," produced by defensive end Forrest West, that is played during pregame warm-ups at Folsom Field.
- He redshirted the 2009 season and earned the Special Teams Scout Award for the season and also for the Wyoming game.
- He has won two spelling bees in his lifetime, once in elementary school and another in middle school.
- He is active in the Distributive Educational Club of America, an international association of high school and college students studying marketing, management and entrepreneurship.
- He is active in the community, volunteering for Bridge Builders, a program that seeks to develop future leaders who lay aside individual, social, economic and cultural differences. He volunteered for the Special Olympics through Bridge Builders, serving as a basketball coach.
- He is a cousin of former San Francisco 49er great Roger Craig, who won three Super Bowls and was the NFL Offensive Player of the Year in 1988.
- He has two other family members who played in the NFL. Kenton Keith played collegiate at New Mexico as is a member of the Indianapolis Colts while his uncle, Joe Lowery played running back at Jacksonville State and was drafted by the Buffalo Bills in 1976.

- Last name is pronounced alice.
- Ahles is listed atop on the depth chart at the sam (outside) linebacker position on the latest depth chart and splits time there this season with senior B.J. Beatty.
- Ahles was primarily responsible for the safety in the Hawai'i game, although he didn't get credit on the stat sheet. He basically had QB Bryant Moniz in his grasp, but Moniz completed a pass to Alex Green, who was then promptly tackled before leaving the end zone.
- Ahles is the fastest of all CU's linebackers, running a 4.62 40. He tied for the second best hang clean on the team (445 lbs.) in spring conditioning tests.
- Ahles started his second straight game at Oklahoma State in 2009 and he played all 73 snaps on defense, the only non-defensive back to play every snap on defense in a game in 2009. He responded with six tackles (three solo) with one sack, one third down stop, one quarterback hurry and one forced fumble.
- Ahles has a knack for tackling behind the line of scrimmage, as five of his 26 tackles have been for negative yardage this season.
- Ahles moved to the outside linebacker position prior to spring practice in 2009.
- Ahles redshirted his true freshman season in 2007 and then saw action in the final eight games in 2008 on special teams.
- All-league at both running back and linebacker in high school, he was also an all-league discus and shot put performer on the track team and lettered twice in wrestling, as well.
- Ahles owns a 49cc scooter that he completely customized himself. The only original part on the entire scooter is the frame.

- Last name is pronounced Bock-T-are-E.
- Bakhtiari is currently atop the depth chart at right tackle along with Bryce Givens.
- Bakhtiari has played in 254 of 281 offensive snaps this season and graded out to 80 percent in all four games and over 90 percent twice, earning a grade of 91 against Colorado State and Hawai'i. He has 19 finish or knockdown blocks, third most on the team, and one touchdown block.
- Bakhtiari played 47 offensive snaps against Colorado State in his first game of his true freshman season and was graded out to 91 percent. He had six finish or knockdown blocks.
- Bakhtiari is one of the quickest linemen on the team, boasting 5.0 speed in the 40.
- Bakhtiari has added 55 pounds to his 6-4 frame after reporting at 235 lbs. as a freshman.
- Bakhtiari was a late bloomer, having not started a game until his senior season. He was a better lacrosse prospect. He grew three inches between his junior and senior seasons.
- Bakhtiari knew Colorado was the right fit for him in a unique way. It was when he was being recruited by Washington and couldn't get his mind off of Colorado.
- He enjoys lifting, basketball, swimming water skiing and snow skiing.
- His oldest brother, Eric, played collegiately at San Diego State and is currently on the Tennessee Titans roster. His uncle, Dan Jackson, played quarterback at California.
- He has proud Persian heritage and his paternal grandfather immigrated to the United States from Iran. His middle name is Afrisiab Asad, which translates to Alfred.
- He has picked up quickly on the intricacies of the game and credits his brother, Eric, emulating what his brother has taught him in practice and games.
- Johnson on Bakhtiari: "He's athletic, quick, aggressive and physical. It's a heck of a battle at the right tackle spot (with Bryce Givens) in fall camp."

- Beatty is listed second the depth chart at the sam (outside) linebacker spot and looks to split time there with junior Tyler Ahles.
- Beatty earned Big 12 co-Defensive Player of the Week for his play against Georgia in CU's 29-27 win. He ended the game with five tackles, three solo and one for a loss, and also had a third down stop, quarterback hurry and the game-clinching forced fumble. He forced a fumble on Caleb King with 1:55 left in the game after Georgia was driving into field goal range. Jon Major recovered the fumble.
- Against many of his friends and former high school teammates, Beatty had a solid game against Hawai'i with four tackles, all solo, and one of them a 10-yard sack. He had another tackle for zero.
- Beatty was in on 26 defensive snaps against Colorado State to open the 2010 season and responded with two solo tackles, both behind the line of scrimmage including a 9-yard sack and another for a 2-yard loss. He also had two quarterback pressures.
- Beatty was the Iron Buffalo Award winner among linebackers for hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage lifted in the weight room during the spring.

- Beatty has proud Hawaiian heritage and in the Spring game, led the Gold Team in a Haka dance. Made famous by the All Blacks New Zealand rugby team, it is a posture dance performed by a group with vigorous movements and stamping of the feet with rhythmically shouted accompaniment.
- Beatty's uncle, Chris Naeole, was a former CU All-American offensive guard who has played the last nine years in the NFL with New Orleans and Jacksonville.
- His dad, Byron, played linebacker at BYU in the late 1980s.
- Beatty enjoys longboarding and often uses it as his primary mode of transportation.
- Like his dad, his first name is Byron. B.J. stands for Byron junior.
- Beatty credits former graduate assistant Andy Avalos as helping him turn the corner in his collegiate career as a sophomore in 2008.

- Adkins is listed atop the depth chart at right guard. He has played every snap of CU's last two games, wins over Hawai'i and Georgia.
- Adkins has played 170 snaps on the offensive line this season and has graded out above 80 percent in the three games in which he's played. He has had six finish / knockdown blocks each of the last two games.
- He started nine games as a sophomore in 2009 when his 575 snaps were the fourth-most among linemen for the season.
- Adkins was ranked as the No. 30 offensive guard in the country coming out of Douglas Country High School in 2007.
- Adkins is active in the community and has volunteered with youth football camps for elementary aged kids in the past.
- Adkins has aspirations of becoming a history teacher when his football days are done.
- Johnson's on Adkins: "He's probably been the guy that's been a pleasant surprise. He did some good things in spring, and he's really solidified himself this fall as one of our better players up front."

- Iltis is currently atop on the depth chart at center.
- Iltis played 35 snaps at left guard against Colorado State. After playing the entire game at left guard against California, Iltis was moved to center the last two games and has played every snap there. He has 15 knockdown blocks and two touchdown blocks this season. He has graded out to over 80 percent in three games and over 90 percent twice this season.
- Iltis opened the 2009 season as the starting center, but suffered a sprained ankle in the first quarter of the season opener against Colorado State.
- Iltis can hang clean over 400 pounds and has the second best vertical jump of all linemen at 30 inches.
- He started four games in 2009, the first three at center and the finale against Nebraska at left guard. He went on to earn the Joe Romig award during the spring as the most improve offensive lineman.
- He graded out to 80 percent or better in four games in 2009, including a best 88 percent at Iowa State. In 315 offensive snaps, he recorded 11 finishing/knockdown blocks and one touchdown block.
- Iltis was expected to earn playing time during his redshirt freshman campaign, but tore his ACL on the first day of fall camp in 2008.
- From Florida, he often visited Colorado as a youth several times for skiing trips.

- Johnson on Iltis: "He's just such a conscientious guy - a very smart, very heads up ball player and he helps us a lot there."

- A versatile player, Daniels was listed second on the depth chart at center and has been listed on the depth chart at guard this past season. He suffered a season-ending foot injury.
- Daniels got in on 12 snaps with one finish/knockdown block and graded out to 83 percent against Colorado State. He sustained an ankle injury that kept him out of the California game.
- Daniels is the brother of former CU standout offensive lineman Brian Daniels. He arrived on campus the year after his brother graduated and signed with the Minnesota Vikings.
- Daniels is an avid fisherman and loves just about anything to do with the outdoors including riding his ATV.

- Silipo is listed as the starting short snapper and is second as the long snapper on the latest depth chart.
- Silipo and Ryan Iverson are just the third and fourth snapper to see action since 2001 as the two follow in the footsteps of two four-year starters in Greg Pace (2002-05) and Justin Drescher (2006-09).
- Silipo holds the 10th best squats (639 lbs.) and bench press (361 lbs.) on the team.
- Silipo started 12 games in 2007 at Northern Colorado on the defensive line and compiled three-and-a-half sacks and two forced fumbles.
- His father, Joe Sr., played football at Tulane and had professional stints in the NFL, CFL and USFL, including one season with the Denver Gold in 1983. On the Denver Gold, he was teammates with Andy Poremba, the father of current CU defensive end Tony. While he was with the San Antonio Gunslingers, he was the center for former CU head coach Rick Neuheisel from 1984-85.

- Iverson is listed as the starting long snapper and is second as the short snapper on the latest depth chart.
- Iverson and Joe Silipo are just the third and fourth long snappers since the 2001 season, and Iverson could continue in the trend of four-year starters there following in the footsteps of Greg Pace (2002-05) and Justin Drescher (2006-09), who are the only two players to long or short snap since 2001.
- He has a wide range of hobbies including fishing, golfing, bodysurfing and snowboarding.
- As an outside linebacker in high school, he was first-team all-Sunset League and Newport Harbor High School's Defensive Player of the Year.
- Iverson and freshman punter/kicker Dillian Freiberg are familiar with each other, as Iverson snapped to him for four years in high school.
- Special teams coach Kent Riddle became aware of Iverson during snapping guru Chris Rubio's national long-snapping camps.

- CU's starting right guard, Miller is one of 63 candidates listed on the preseason watch list for the Outland Trophy. He was also ranked the No. 12 guard in the nation by Phil Steele's College Football.
- Over the past two seasons, 16 games, Miller has played in all of CU's offensive snaps, a total of 1,132 plays. He has graded out above 80 percent in three of CU's four games this season, he ranks second with 22 finish or knockdown blocks and has four touchdown blocks.
- Miller started all 12 games in 2009, seven at right guard and five at right tackle, and was the only player who played on all 851 offensive snaps. He had nine games grading out to 80 percent or better including a season best 89 percent against both Kansas State and Nebraska.
- Against Nebraska, he turned heads by holding Ndamukong Suh in check, neutralizing Suh as good if not better than any offensive lineman in the nation. Suh had five tackles, one of which was ruled a sack that replays showed should have been a batted ball. Suh went on to be the No. 2 pick in the 2010 NFL Draft.
- Miller finished second on the team with 66 finish/knockdown blocks last season and also ranked second with six touchdown blocks.
- Miller was more or less 'rolled' in the Florida State game in 2008 and suffered a fractured fibula in the process. He underwent surgery and missed the rest of the 2008 season, later receiving a medical hardship.
- Miller was named a second-team freshman All-American by Scout.com in 2007.
- Hawkins said Miller "dominated" an Oklahoma player on several plays run to his side in a 27-24 win over the third-ranked Sooners in 2007. He graded to 83 percent.
- Miller competed on the indoor track and field squad in 2009, competing in three meets in the shot put. He intends to compete throughout his career as long as it doesn't interfere with football. His toss of 46'-7.25" at Air Force was best throw of the season for a Buff and the second best throw in the last two years. He is mentored by throws coach Casey Malone, a world champion and Olympian.
- Miller enjoys many outdoor sports and activities such as four-wheeling and camping. He enjoys playing the guitar and drums and line dancing. He is also an avid kite flyer, something he's done since he was four years old.
- His maternal grandfather, David Peterson, was an end on Colorado's 1960 freshman team.
- Hawkins' Take: "He is a tremendous athlete and a great football player. I told him if he went to a Division III school he would still be an NFL player. He is totally our kind of guy. He loves Colorado; he is a very humble kid, he's a blue-collar guy and he is a guy that when he is in your football program everybody knows that he is a marquee player and a marquee guy. He is a guy that sets the bar not only for the talent that you want but also your attitude and approach to off the field, school and everything else."
- Johnson's Take: "A big, strong guy. He's not as athletic as Solder, but in offensive lineman parameters, he's certainly a talented guy."

- Givens is listed second on the depth chart at right tackle and could wind up splitting time there with freshman David Bakhtiari. Givens has been hampered with a sprained ankle throughout fall camp.
- Givens saw action in 13 plays against Colorado State and graded out to 92 percent with two finishes/knockdown blocks. He then saw action in 14 plays at Cal and again graded out to 90 percent, the only player on the offensive line to do so.
- In 2009, he saw action in eight games and started seven, missing the other four games for assorted reasons. He played in 524 snaps from scrimmage and graded out to 80 percent or better in six games, including a top mark of 89 percent at Oklahoma State.

- Givens and fellow offensive line starter Ryan Miller were bitter enemies in high school, as the two highly competitive guys had some memorable battles in high school and both admit they did not like each other until they became teammates at CU.
- Givens has traveled to Mexico to build a church and hoses and helped with a bike race to raise money for cancer research.
- Givens' father, Brian, played for the Milwaukee Brewers from 1995-96.

- Last name is pronounced (sold-er).
- CU's starting left tackle, Solder is the most decorated player in the preseason since Mason Crosby in 2006.
- One of 75 players on the official watch list for the Lombardi Award, given to the top interior lineman or linebacker.
- One of 63 players on the official watch list for the Outland Trophy, given to the top interior lineman.
- One of 30 official candidates for the Lowe's Senior Class Award, given to the nation's top senior player both on and off the field.
- Preseason first-team All-American by Playboy, The Kickoff and Consensus Draft Services and second team from Lindy's Big 12 Football and Phil Steele's College Football and third team from Athlon and CFI.
- A unanimous preseason All-Big 12 selection.
- Rivals.com ranked him the No. 72 overall player in the nation while Lindy's rated him the No. 3 offensive tackle and Phil Steele tabbed him No. 7 on that same list.
- ESPN.com ranked him the No. 5 freak in the nation as far as conditioning is concerned. With less than 7 percent body fat at 6-9 and 315 lbs., he power cleans 415 lbs, hang cleans 473 and owns a 4.88 time in the 40 and has a 32-inch vertical leap.
- Solder has played in all 281 offensive snaps from scrimmage in 2010 and has 52 finish or knockdown blocks, 30 more than any other player, and has graded out to 90 percent in three of CU's four games. Against both Colorado State and Hawai'i, he recorded an astounding 18 finish/knockdown blocks. He has four touchdown blocks on the year, as well.
- Solder played all 60 offensive snaps against Colorado State and graded out to 96 percent. His only blemish was a false start on the game's first play.
- Solder was awarded the co-recipient of the Greg Biekert Award for attention to detail and the team's Iron Buffalo Award for offensive linemen.
- Solder earned Academic All-District honors, owning a 3.45 GPA in Biology.
- Solder has played in 36 career games and started 27. His 27 starts and 23 consecutive starts both rank first on the team.
- In 2009, Solder played all but one snap on the offensive line at left tackle, a total of 803 out of 804 plays (99.9 percent).
- Solder graded out to a season best 96 percent at Oklahoma State, the top mark on the team this season, and has a team-best seven games grading out to 90 percent or better and has graded out above 80 percent in all 12 games this season, also most on the team.
- Solder leads the Buffs with 97 finish/knockdown blocks this season and he leads the team with seven touchdown blocks, as well.
- Solder gave up just three sacks in 803 snaps in 2009.
- He had a monster game against Kansas State (2008)—in earning the highest game grade – 99 percent – by a CU offensive lineman since All-American guard Joe Garten scored a perfect 100 versus K-State in 1990, he registered 11 knockdown blocks.
- Solder, the tallest member of the Buffs at 6-foot-9, caught the first three catches of his career against Miami (Ohio) with fellow tight ends Tyson DeVree and Riar Geer on the mend.
- WR Scotty McKnight's Take: "He's the new freak. Jevon Kearse get out of the way, he (Solder) is unbelievable. He's huge, strong and really fast. When he gets on the field people need to watch out."
- Denver Johnson's Take: "Just immense God-given ability, just an enormous talent."

- Last name is pronounced (pre-check).
- Pericak is listed as the starting nose tackle on the latest depth chart.
- Pericak had one tackle for loss and a quarterback hurry against Hawai'i, both coming on third down as he was credited with a pair of third-down stops.
- Despite the loss at Cal, he had a great game with seven tackles (six solo), including two for a loss and one sack. He had two additional tackles for zero yards and three third down stops (one of which came on fourth down). Four of his seven tackles were at or behind the line of scrimmage and he was credited with one touchdown saving tackle, as well.

- Pericak played in 35 snaps against Colorado State defensively and came up with three tackles, including one for zero, and had one field goal block, which came as time ran out in the first half.
- He earned third team Freshman All-American honors from collegefootballnews.com and Phil Steele's College Football when he started all 12 games as a freshman in 2009.
- He added 35 lbs. to his frame between arriving on campus and the start of the 2009 season.
- Pericak recorded his first career sack against Kansas for a 10-yard loss. On the same play, he also recovered a fumble of Todd Reesing's inside the 5-yard line setting up a touchdown.
- Pericak has played in 556 of a possible 804 snaps on the defensive line for the Buffs this season, second most among defensive linemen.
- Pericak became the first freshman, true or redshirt, to start a season opener at defensive tackle in CU history when the Buffs faced Colorado State earlier this season.
- Pericak attended local Boulder High School and played tight end and linebacker for the Panthers. He was recruited as a tight end and made the switch to defensive tackle early in his first fall camp.
- On New Year's Day 2008 while he was verbally committed to the Buffs, he participated in the Polar Bear Plunge into the Boulder Reservoir. Temperatures that day were in the low 20s. He was inspired to do so after Dan Hawkins talked to him about getting out of his comfort zone.
