COLORADO FOOTBALL INDIVIDUAL PLAYER NOTES

2

Logan Gray

WIDE RECEIVER

6-2 * 190 * Senior

- Gray is listed at third on the depth chart at the "Z" wide receiver position.
- Gray had one catch for 23 yards against Ohio State that converted a fourth-and-10 from the Ohio State 42.
- Gray caught his first pass as a Buff against Cal, for three yards.
- Gray is immediately eligible after transferring from Georgia, taking advantage of an NCAA rule allowing players to transfer if they have graduated from their previous school, have eligibility remaining, and are enrolled in a graduate program not offered at the previous school. Notable examples of players using this rule include Russell Wilson at Wisconsin, Jeremiah Masoli at Ole Miss, and Greg Paulus at Syracuse.
- Gray's younger brother, Quinn, is a student at CU and was a factor in Logan deciding to transfer to Boulder.
- Gray returned one punt for one yard while playing against the Buffs for Georgia in CU's 29-27 victory at Folsom Field in 2010.
- Gray was recruited to Georgia as one of the most highly-touted quarterbacks in the country, attending the Elite 11 quarterback camp and ranking as the No. 7 quarterback in the 2007 class by ESPN. Gray switched positions to wide receiver before the 2010 season.
- Gray was twice selected to the Academic All-SEC team.

- Parker saw 15 snaps against Ohio State, recording his first career tackle for a four-yard loss.
- Parker saw his first action as a Buff against Cal, seeing one snap defensively.
- Parker played his senior season at St. Louis School in Honolulu, along with fellow freshman Paulay Asiata. The school has produced several Buffs, most notably current linebackers coach Brian Cabral.

- Parker played in the Army All-American Bowl following his senior season and was a difference maker, recording six tackles, a fumble recovery, a blocked field goal and a sack on a fake kick attempt.
- The Honolulu Advertiser named Parker the state's Defensive Player of the Year. He also earned Defensive Player of the Year honors from the ILH.
- Parker's uncle, Brian Norwood, played football at Hawai'i and is currently the associate head coach and defensive coordinator at Baylor.

3

Douglas Rippy

LINEBACKER

6-3 * 230 * Junior

- Rippy is listed first on the depth chart at the "Mike" inside linebacker spot. With 3 sacks on the season, Rippy ranks 33rd nationally and fourth in the Pac-12.
- Playing in his home of Columbus, Rippy recorded eight tackles (five solo), including a seven-yard quarterback sack.
- Rippy notched five tackles, including a shared sack with Tony Poremba on fourth down of Colorado State's final drive in the Buffs' 28-14 win.
- Rippy led the team in tackles for the second straight game with a career high 14 (nine solo) against Cal. He also had two tackles for loss, including a 7-yard QB sack, and a hurry that forced a pass that was intercepted by Jon Major.
- Rippy led the Buffs with six solo tackles (tied for lead with seven total) at Hawai'i to open the 2011 season. He also was credited with a half-sack, a third down stop, and a quarterback hurry.
- Rippy had a breakout spring, winning the Fred Casotti Award given to the top junior-to-be after leading the Buffs with 24 tackles (18 solo) in three main scrimmages.
- Rippy made his impact felt on special teams during the 2010 season, ranking third on the team with 23 special teams points. He led the Buffs by six times being the first player downfield on a kickoff.
- Rippy saw action on just over half (35-of-66) the snaps at Toledo in 2009 in his second collegiate game and responded with three tackles and a quarterback hurry on defense, and he blocked two punts on special teams.
- Rippy can be credited with helping the Colorado coaching staff discover standout tailback Rodney Stewart, as he told then running backs coach Darian Hagan about Stewart, his friend over the last four to five years.
- Rippy and Stewart learned that they are in fact cousins just before arriving in Boulder (but after they had known each other for several years). They are, in fact, first cousins once removed, and they both showed up to a family barbeque without knowing they are related. The two have roomed together since arriving on campus.
- Rippy has an extremely large family; his paternal grandparents have over 90 grandchildren and several of his cousins are playing or have played college football and basketball. He squared off against a first cousin, James Davis, who was a sophomore running back at Wyoming when the teams met in 2009. A cousin, Chris Wright, played basketball at Dayton where he was regarded as one of the nation's most explosive players. Another cousin, Greg Moore, played basketball at Cincinnati.
- Rippy is an accomplished basketball player; he received interest to play basketball from both Toledo and Xavier.

- CU's starting tailback, Stewart is one of 66 players nationwide on the watch list for the Maxwell Award, given to the nation's most outstanding player, and one of 51 players on the watch list for the Doak Walker Award, given to the nation's top running back. Rashaan Salaam won the Doak Walker for CU in 1994.
- Entering week 5 of his senior season in his native Ohio, Stewart ranks fourth in CU history with 3,022 career rushing yards. He is 36 yards away from passing Rashaan Salaam for second place, and 919 yards from passing his position coach/offensive coordinator Eric Bieniemy to become CU's all-time leading rusher.
- Stewart ranks second in the country in receiving yards by a RB with 304, and is fifth in the country with 582 yards from scrimmage, behind fellow All-America candidates LaMichael James of Oregon, Marcus Lattimore of South Carolina, Ronnie Hillman of San Diego State, and Chris Rainey of Florida.
- Stewart currently leads the Buffs in both rushing (278) and receptions (23); only two Buffs have led the team in both for the season. Tony Reed had 1,210 rushing yards and 19 receptions (for 123 yards) in 1976, while Merwin Hodel twice led the Buffs in both with 748 rushing yards and 14 catches (for 174 yards) in 1949, and 757 rushing yards with 23 catches (for 244 yards) in 1950.
- Playing in front of a hometown crowd in Columbus, Stewart battled a shoulder injury to rush for 55 yards and catch five passes for 27 yards.
- Stewart rushed for 98 yards and had seven catches for 93 yards against CSU; all three were game highs and gave him 191 yards from scrimmage for the contest. He exceeded 150 yards from scrimmage in the first three games this season and currently is first among all running backs nationally in receiving yards (304). He had over 100 yards from scrimmage in seven straight, starting with the Kansas game in Nov. 2010 through the CSU game in 2011.

- Stewart returned two punts for nine yards against CSU; his first career touches not by rush or reception. His 200 all-purpose yards in the game vaulted him from seventh to second on CU's all-time chart.
- Stewart rushed for 73 yards and had 86 receiving (seven catches) against Cal for 159 yards from scrimmage.
- Stewart led CU with both 52 rushing yards and 98 receiving yards against Hawai'i for a total of 150 yards from scrimmage. His 98 receiving yards are a career high, and his 52-yard reception is a career long.
- Stewart had a standout 2010 season, being named second-team All-Big 12 by the AP and various publications in addition to honorable mention All-America by Sports Illustrated. His 1,318 rushing yards were the fifth-highest mark in CU history, and his 1,608 yards from scrimmage were the fourth most. Nationally, he ranked 17th in rushing yards, 12th in rushing yards per game (109.8), and fifth in attempts (290). His 290 attempts were the second most (Rashaan Salaam, 298 in 1994) in CU history.
- Stewart was named Big 12 Offensive Player-of-the-Week after running for a career-high 195 yards on 34 carries against Kansas State in week 11 of 2010. He also had two rushing touchdowns, caught two passes for 49 yards and threw a 23-yard touchdown pass on a halfback option, his first career passing attempt. His 244 all-purpose yards are also a new career high. Stewart was also named Big 12 Co-Offensive Player-of-the-Week against Kansas in 2009 after rushing for 108 yards with two touchdowns and surpassing the 1,000-yard plateau for a career.
- By surpassing 100 yards in a game six times in 2010 and five times in 2009, Stewart joins Eric Bieniemy (1988, 1990) and Chris Brown (2001, 2002) as the only Buffs to have multiple seasons with five or more 100 yard games. Bieniemy is currently Stewart's position coach/offensive coordinator and served as Brown's position coach for the 2001 and 2002 seasons.
- Stewart had four games in 2010 with multiple touchdowns, one more than he did in the 2009 season. He is the first CU player since Chris Brown in 2001 and '02 to have three or more in back-to-back seasons. Brown had five such games in '01 and six in '02.
- Against Hawai'i in 2010, Stewart (22 rushes, 106 yards, two touchdowns) teamed with Brian Lockridge (14-111) to become the first duo to have 100 yards rushing in the same game since 2002 when Chris Brown (25-127) and Bobby Purify (20-174) did it versus Iowa State in Boulder.
- Before Stewart suffered a broken fibula against Texas A&M on a horse-collar tackle by linebacker Von Miller, he was on pace to break CU's freshman (true or redshirt) rushing record as he recorded 622 yards rushing in just nine games, good for fourth all-time on the freshman rushing chart.
- Stewart and Lamont Warren (1991-93) are the only two players in CU history to lead the team in rushing as a freshman, sophomore, and junior. Warren led the Buffs in rushing in 1993 as a junior before entering the NFL a year early.
- Stewart was given the nickname "Speedy" after winning a race as a little kid and the nickname has stuck with him since.
- Stewart spent this past spring training with CU's sprinters on the track team and credits his work with them to making him even faster. CU sprint coach Drew Morano said about Stewart, "He had to work on getting his knees up and getting that lift to pull away from people . . . Obviously he can get through the hole, but getting away from the cornerbacks trying to run him down was kind of our main goal . . . He was a sponge. He would absolutely do anything; he would look me right in the eye as I talked to him and try and take in everything I said. And if he thought he was deficient in anything, he said, 'What can I do to fix it?' He was great; I really enjoyed having him around. He's very humble, a very good young man."
- He has "Googled" his name before, but as he says, "Only that singer guy's name has come up." He has never heard of any of the Scottish singer's songs; of course, Rock and Roll Hall of Famer Rod Stewart hasn't had a No. 1 single since 1993, when Speedy was just 3-years old. (Rod Stewart has had two No. 1 albums in the last six years in his songbook series).
- Colorado coaches discovered Stewart thanks in large part to current CU linebacker Doug Rippy, who told then running backs coach Darian Hagan about him when he learned that CU was looking for another running back to add to their 2008 signing class.
- Stewart and Rippy have been good friends for years and learned just before their arrival in Boulder that they are cousins. They are, in fact, first cousins once removed.

Stewart, cont.

- Stewart typically does not wear gloves, citing an instance in high school where he lost a fumble because of the gloves. He also conceded that he was wearing gloves during his three fumbles as a freshman at CU. He was also wearing gloves against Iowa State in 2010, when he fumbled twice (one lost).

- Richardson is CU's starting wide receiver as the "Z" position. He also tops the depth chart on punt return. He is 18th in the nation in receiving yards (fourth in Pac-12 with 398) and is tied for eighth in reception TDs (4).
- Richardson had four catches for 38 yards in CU's loss at Ohio State.
- Richardson was held without a touchdown for the first time in five games against CSU, finishing with four catches for 27 yards as the Rams focused a lot of attention on bracketing him.
- Richardson had likely the best performance by a CU wide receiver in program history against Cal in week 2. His 11 receptions tied six other performances (including Richardson at Kansas in 2010), while his 284 receiving yards shattered the previous mark of 222 held by Rae Carruth and Walter Stanley. He scored two touchdowns (66 and 78 yards).
- For his efforts against Cal, Richardson was named National Wide Receiver of the Week by College Football Performance Awards and was Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week.
- Richardson's two touchdown receptions against Cal give him his fourth career game with multiple touchdowns (also did so against Hawai'i this season and against Kansas and Texas Tech in 2010). Both his touchdowns were over 50 yards, giving him six plays of 50 or longer in his career.
- Richardson scored in four straight games and over the past ten games (starting with Texas Tech in 2010) has 49 catches for 848 yards and 10 touchdowns. Over this stretch since catching his first career touchdown against Texas Tech on Oct. 23, 2010, Richardson is fourth in the nation with 10 touchdown catches.
- Wide receivers coach Bobby Kennedy on "P-Rich": "He's a special talent. What he's trying to work on and what I'm harping on him about is working on the little things."
- With 34 receptions for 514 yards and six touchdowns, Richardson had the most receiving yards and touchdowns for a freshman in CU history. Only former teammate Scotty McKnight (43 in 2007) and Chris McLemore (39 in 1982) had more receptions as freshmen.
- Richardson had two 100-yard games in 2010 (Kansas and Iowa State in consecutive weeks) with those two representing two of the just five such instances in CU history and two of just three 100-yard receiving games by a true freshman in CU history. His 11 receptions at Kansas tied a CU record for most in a game by players of any class.
- Richardson scored on a 50 yard pass from Cody Hawkins at Nebraska in 2010, giving him his sixth receiving touchdown of his freshman campaign.

The six touchdowns are a freshman record, besting the previous high of five by redshirt freshman Michael Westbrook in 1991.

- Richardson's 50 yard touchdown at Nebraska was his fourth 50-plus yard play of the season, the most a CU player had since Chris Brown had six in 2002.
- Richardson caught five passes for 121 yards against Iowa State in week 10, his second consecutive 100-yard receiving game. He became the first freshman to record more than one 100-yard day in CU history.
- Richardson had a career day at Kansas in week 9 of 2010 with 11 receptions for 141 yards and two touchdowns. He had another apparent touchdown ruled incomplete with just :02 left in the Kansas game. His 11 receptions tied a CU record and are a CU record for receptions by a freshman, true or redshirt, and he tied the mark he set for freshman touchdown receptions he set against Texas Tech. His 141 yards is a freshman record.
- Richardson had a break-out game against Texas Tech in 2010, pulling down four receptions for 79 yards and two touchdowns. He became the first true freshman to record two receiving touchdowns in the same game and just the third freshman (true or redshirt) to do so.
- Richardson caught his first collegiate pass against Colorado State in 2010, an 11-yard strike from Tyler Hansen.
- He joined the team on the second day of fall camp on scholarship after originally signing with UCLA.
- He has twin brothers who are 12-years old.

Anthony Perkins
DEFENSIVE BACK
5-10 * 200 * Senior

- Perkins enters his senior season as the starting strong safety, in addition to being one of four team captains.
- Perkins recorded a career-high 15 tackles (nine solo) in CU's loss at Ohio State. The 15 are the most by a Buff since Terrel Smith had 17 at Nebraska in 2010.
- Perkins has played in all 249 defensive snaps through the first three games of the season, and has recorded 30 tackles.
- Against CSU, Perkins was second on the team with ten tackles including one for a six-yard loss.
- Perkins' leadership and maturity have earned him the nickname "Papa Perk" from his teammates.
- Perkins changed his jersey number to 7 from 46, the number he wore his first four seasons in Boulder. He decided to switch because of all the change within the program with a new coaching staff and new conference.
- Perkins suffered a season-ending knee injury at Missouri in the fifth game of the 2010 season. He played the entire second half with the injury, but missed the remainder of the season in addition to spring ball.
- Perkins' loss to the defensive backfield was big, as he served as the "quarterback" of the defense, directing the defensive backs and linebackers on nearly every play.
- Prior to his injury, Perkins was leading the Buffs with 38 tackles, 7.6 per game on the season through five games. He also had one tackle for loss, another for no gain, three third-down stops, one fumble recovery and one pass break-up on the season.
- Perkins led the Buffs with seven tackles (five solo) against Hawai'i in week 3 of 2010. One of his tackles was for a 10-yard loss while he also had two third down stops and a fumble recovery. He was also credited with the safety as he tackled Alex Green in the end zone after Bryant Moniz passed him the ball with LB Tyler Ahles pressuring.
- Perkins has been a valuable asset on special teams throughout his career. He finished the 2009 season with 25 special teams points, third most on the team.
- Perkins replaced an injured Ray Polk in the starting lineup at free safety in the last four games of 2009, and responded with 41 tackles, two interceptions and a forced fumble, coming up with a turnover in three of the four games.
- Perkins finished the 2009 season third on the team in tackles, averaging 7.8 per game.
- Perkins had a breakout game against Texas A&M in 2009, coming up with nine tackles on 43 defensive snaps played. He also had one tackle for zero yards, one third down stop and his first career interception, that helped ice the game as the Buffs took a 35-34 lead on the previous drive with less than 2 minutes left.
- Perkins' grandfather, Don Perkins, was an All-American running back at New Mexico (1956-59) and was later drafted by the Dallas Cowboys. He played for the Cowboys from 1960-68, he was the 1961 NFL Rookie of the Year, a six-time pro bowler and is in the Cowboy's Ring of Fame.
- Perkins earned his first game action in the season opener against Colorado State his redshirt-freshman season in 2008. His first start came during the third game of the season against West Virginia.

- Hirschman completed 22 of 43 passes for 274 yards and three touchdowns with no interceptions in the three spring scrimmages.
- Hirschman redshirted the 2010 season after enrolling early to participate in spring practices.
- Hirschman was at a camp at USC when he verbally committed to the Buffs. During lunch Hirschman received an e-mail to call former offensive coordinator Eric Kiesau. Kiesau offered Hirschman, who immediately accepted.
- During high school Hirschman worked with quarterback gurus Bob Johnson and his son, former USC and NFL quarterback Rob Johnson, to improve his fundamentals.
- Hirschman's older brother, Max, plays football at Chapman University, while his sister, Ali Dotson, is on the track and field team at Yale.
- Coming out of high school Hirschman received recruiting interest from UCLA and Stanford, in addition to offers from Harvard and Yale.
- Hirschman attended Los Gatos High School in Los Gatos, Calif. Other alumni include Minnesota Vikings defensive end Jared Allen, former Stanford quarterback Trent Edwards, and former CU lettermen Bill Fairband and Darren Fisk.

Darragh O'Neill
PUNTER
6-2 * 180 * Freshman

- First name is pronounced (Dar-uh).
- O'Neill is listed as CU's starting punter.
- O'Neill, who has strong family ties to Gaelic football, is capable of punting with either foot.
- Among qualified punters, O'Neill ranks 19th nationally, and first among all freshmen with a 43.8 yards per punt average.
- For his efforts against CSU (six punts, 49.2 average, two inside 20), O'Neill was Honorable Mention Punter Performer of the Week by College Football Performance Awards.
- Aside from a three-game stint playing wide receiver during the eighth grade, when O'Neill saw action at Hawai'i it was his first experience playing organized football. O'Neill performed well in that game, punting seven times with a 44.9 yard average, dropping four inside the 20 with a long of 56 yards.
- Football may be the last sport O'Neill expected to play collegiately while at Boulder's Fairview High School. O'Neill was a star both on the soccer pitch and the basketball court, where he led the 2010 5A runner-up Fairview team with 25 points per game. He earned all-state honors in both sports.
- O'Neill had never punted in a game before week 1 at Hawai'i, but began working with his father and local kicking coach Matt Thompson this past January. He earned a tryout with special teams coach J.D. Brookhart and earned the opportunity to walk-on this past spring. O'Neill also worked with Oakland Raiders punter Glenn Pakulak during the summer.
- O'Neill attended classes at CU last year, but was not on the football team until spring practices.
- O'Neill was born in Cork, Ireland, where he lived until he moved to America when he was two years old.

O'Neill, cont.

- During his sophomore year of high school, O'Neill was diagnosed with a rare blood disease that initially confused doctors and caused him to slip into a coma for five days. He was read his last rites by a priest and his father was told he was in God's hands. Hundreds offered prayers and cards, including iconic Irish soccer player Roy Keane. O'Neill made a complete recovery.
- O'Neill's name means "oak tree."
- O'Neill's father, Colm, and an uncle, Maurice Fitzgerald, were both accomplished Gaelic footballers (a mix of soccer and rugby) back in Ireland.
- O'Neill's father, Colm, owns a traditional Irish pub in Boulder named Conor O'Neill's. Featured on the menu is black and white pudding, a traditional Irish dish with the key ingredient being fresh pig's blood. Darragh worked at the pub during his freshman year at CU.

PUNTING

Season	G	No.	Yards	Avg.	Long	In20	50+	Blk
2011	4	21	919	43.8	56	6	7	2

- Hansen is the starting quarterback and one of four team captains. He ranks eighth nationally (second among Pac-12 QBs) in passing yards with 1,150, and 11th nationally in total offense with 1,170 yards.
- Hansen has 121 consecutive pass attempts without an interception, the second longest streak in CU history, 19 attempts from surpassing Joel Klatt's record.
- Hansen passed for 238 yards and two touchdowns without throwing an interception (for the third straight game) against Ohio State.
- Hansen surpassed the 4,000-yard mark in total offense against CSU, finishing 17-of-32 passing for 215 yards and two touchdowns, in addition to two rushing touchdowns and 26 yards. He went his second straight game without an interception.
- Hansen had a career game in the loss against Cal, throwing for a CU single game record 474 yards (besting Mike Moschetti's 465 against San Jose State on Sept. 11, 1999), while tying Moschetti's single game total offense mark from the same game at 500. His final line for the game was 28-of-49 for 474 and three touchdowns. He was not intercepted or sacked in the game. His 49 attempts are a CU record for most in a game without throwing a pick.
- For his efforts against Cal, Hansen was Honorable Mention National Quarterback of the Week by College Football Performance Awards.
- Hansen opened the 2011 season at Hawai'i with his fifth career multi-TD game, throwing two to Paul Richardson. He was 16-of-30 for 223 yards with two TDs and one interception. He also was sacked seven times.
- Hansen enters his senior season having played in 20 games with 16 starts. His redshirt was scrapped midseason in both his freshman (2008) and sophomore (2009) years to take over starting quarterback duties.
- In three scrimmages in the spring of 2011 Hansen did not throw an interception and completed nearly 74 percent of his passes for totals of 531 yards and five touchdowns. He was honored with the Joe Romig Award, given to the top senior-to-be at the conclusion of spring ball.
- Hansen's 68.3 completion percentage in the 2010 season was the best in CU history for minimums of both 100 and 150 pass attempts.
- Hansen started seven games in the 2010 season before rupturing his spleen on an option play against Texas Tech.
- Hansen completed 19-of-26 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns against Hawai'i, including a 73-yard strike to Tony Clemons, the longest play of the Dan Hawkins era at Colorado. He also ran five times for 21 yards and was not sacked.
- Hansen opened up the 2010 season by completing 17-of-25 passes for 192 yards and two touchdowns while rushing for another in CU's 24-3 win over Colorado State. He ran eight times for 2 yards, but taking out two sacks that accumulated -29 yards, his rushing totals were six rushes for 31 yards and a touchdown.
- Hansen is the first starting quarterback to wear the No. 9 jersey since Jim Counter in 1934. The most popular QB numbers have been Nos. 7 and 10.

- Hansen led the Buffs to a fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory over No. 17 Kansas in his first start of 2009. After the Buffs led 24-10, Kansas took a 30-27 lead in the fourth. On that drive, Hansen found TE Riar Geer for a 29 yard gain on 3rd-and-15 after eluding pressure. CU later scored and won 34-30. Former Kansas coach Mark Mangino on Hansen's performance: "It's unfortunate they picked this week to take his redshirt off, but I think they found their quarterback, that's for sure. He's a heck of a player. He made the difference tonight in my opinion."
- Hansen saw his first game experience in 2008 when after six games the CU coaching staff removed his redshirt and he came in the game against Kansas State. He responded, carrying the ball 19 times for 86 yards and also throwing a 21-yard touchdown strike to Scotty McKnight.
- In 2008, Hansen became the 11th true freshman quarterback to take snaps since 1972.
- The son of a coach, Hansen's father, Rick, played quarterback at San Diego State (1978-83) and his mother, Pamela, was an All-American sprinter and hurdler for the Aztecs.
- In 2008, Hansen set the school record for the most season rushing yards by a true freshman quarterback with 261 in just six games; the previous best was 177 by Marc Walters in 1986 in five games; Darian Hagan also had 175 in five games in 1988.
- Hansen is a perfect example of how the so-called recruiting experts are exposed. Colorado was on him from the get-go when he was a 1-star prospect by the services as late as June 23, 2007; CU offers him and then Michigan and Iowa get interested as is often the case when someone is offered; and just six days later he was a 3-star guy without playing as much as a flag football game.
- Hansen throws right handed but he writes and is otherwise left handed.
- After his high school career was over, Hansen played in the inaugural Navy Marine Corps All-Star Classic alongside current teammates Ryan Deehan, Ryan Dannewitz, and Vince Ewing. He won the offensive MVP award helping his team to a 27-13 win.
- As a junior, he led Chaparral to the CIF-Southern Sectional final. He later discovered he broke his wrist in his non-throwing hand. He initially couldn't take a snap under center, so the team went into the shot gun. That wasn't working, so he toughed it out under center for nearly three quarters, playing with a broken wrist.
- As a senior at Chaparral, Hansen led his team to five late comeback victories throughout the season before falling in the CIF Division III semifinals.

Espinoza had eight catches for 109 yards and a touchdown while McKnight had 11 grabs for 114 yards and a touchdown. It marked the 12th time in CU history that two receivers have surpassed the 100 yard plateau in the same game. McKnight and Markques Simas combined to accomplish the feat at Kansas State later that season.
- Espinoza reached the 100 yard mark before Scotty McKnight in the Toledo game, officially marking the 100th 100-yard receiving game in CU history. He finished with eight grabs for 109 yards and he recorded his first collegiate touchdown reception.
- As a senior at Alamosa, he set the Colorado high school all-classification record for receiving yards and touchdowns in a season, catching 67 passes for 1,507 yards and 20 scores, leading the Moose to the 2006 3A state championship. - Even though he says that he's built more like a wrestler, Espinoza is actually a talented basketball player.

- Clemons recorded his first catch of 2011, a nine-yarder, in the Cal game.
- Clemons was CU's second leading receiver (in terms of receptions) with 43 catches for 482 yards and three touchdowns during the 2010 season.
- Clemons hooked up with both Tyler Hansen and Cody Hawkins for a career-high eight receptions and career-high 98 yards receiving against Texas Tech during the 2010 season.
- Clemson hooked up with Tyler Hansen after Hansen had to scramble for a 73-yard touchdown pass against Hawai'i. The score marked the longest play in the Dan Hawkins era and Clemons' first career collegiate touchdown.
- With CU joining the Pac-12 conference, Clemons has the unique distinction of playing in three BCS conferences. He transferred from Michigan (Big Ten), played with CU in the Big 12 last year, and now will see action in the Pac-12 this season.
- Clemons was named the Big 12 Preseason Newcomer of the Year before the 2010 season after sitting out the 2009 season following a transfer from Michigan.
- The Sporting News tabbed him as one of two wide receivers on its All-Spring Team in 2010 and he was the publication's number one player who helped himself most during the spring.
- Clemons hails from an athletic family. His brother, Wes, played football at California University (Pa.) while his sisters, Mycah and Mycaiah, both ran track at Pittsburgh. He is cousins with Arizona Cardinals receiver Steve Breaston and Swin Cash, who won an Olympic Gold medal in 2004, two NCAA Championships at UConn and was MVP of the WNBA All-Star Game in 2009 while playing for Phoenix.
- Breaston eased Clemons' mind about having to redshirt in 2009 claiming that his redshirt season at Michigan was the best season of his life.
- Clemons has two personal mottos. The first is from John Wooden, "Talent is God-given. Be humble. Fame is man-given. Be grateful. Conceit is self-given. Be careful." The other is "there is no such thing as luck, because luck is not needed when you are prepared and are hard-working."
- Clemons only superstition is that his spikes have to be clean and shiny before each game. "I do this because if you look good, you play good."

- Hartigan recorded his second sack of the season against CSU, and had four total tackles, a third-down stop and a quarterback chase down in 44 snaps.
- Though he did not record a sack against Cal, Hartigan pressured Zach Maynard four times and finished with three tackles.

- Hartigan earned second-team All-Big 12 honors from the AP and honorable mention selection from the coaches after leading the Buffs with seven sacks and eight third down stops during the 2010 season.
- Hartigan recorded three sacks, including one on fourth down in the fourth quarter on Kansas State's last drive in CU's 44-36 victory in week 11 of 2010.
- Hartigan had a great game in CU's 29-27 win over Georgia in week 4 of 2010, coming up with two sacks, a third down stop and a forced fumble to go along with three tackles. It marked his first two career sacks and forced fumble.
- Hartigan continued his good play at Missouri in week 5 of 2009, coming up with two solo tackles, one of which was a sack and the other was a tackle for no gain and both were third down stops. He also had his first career interception.
- Hartigan moved from inside linebacker to defensive end mid-way through the 2009 season to account for more depth and he finished the 2009 season listed second at both defensive end spots. He caught the attention of the coaches when he was playing defensive end for the scout team in practice.
- An All-Broward County player out of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Hartigan had 100 tackles at linebacker for Northeast High School and also saw action on offense as a wide receiver.
- Hartigan's father, Sterling Palmer, played for the Washington Redskins for three seasons after a career at Florida State.
- Hartigan owns a '95 Mercury Grand Marquis that he has fixed up and enjoys taking to car shows.
- Prior to coming to Boulder in January 2007, Hartigan had never set foot outside the state of Florida.
- Hartigan made his mark on the scout team his first three seasons in Boulder. He gave the starting offensive line so many fits that former OL coach Denver Johnson said of him, "We can't block this guy!"

- Outside linebackers coach Kanavis McGhee on Hartigan: "With him being a wily veteran, he took the challenge on and is adjusting really well (to Jack linebacker). He's one of those guys that we're looking for to make things happen."

Jonathan Hawkins
DEFENSIVE BACK
5-11 * 195 * Senior

- Hawkins is nicknamed "J-Hawk" by his teammates and coaches.
- Hawkins was the fourth CU player to start at nickel back in the 2010 season after Parker Orms (knee in the CSU game), Travis Sandersfeld (leg in the Cal game) and Paul Vigo (leg in the Hawai'i game) all went down with injuries.
- After filling in for an injured Paul Vigo at the nickel back position against Hawai'i in week 3 of 2010, Hawkins responded with his first career interception and had three tackles, two of them solo.
- Hawkins played 63 of 75 defensive snaps against Texas Tech in week 7 of 2010 and had six tackles, nearly doubling his career total entering the game (eight). He also had his first tackle for loss and had one third down stop.
- Hawkins' uncle, "Jumpin'" Joe Caldwell, played for the ABA and NBA in the early 1970s. He won an Olympic Gold Medal in 1964. He is perhaps best known as being one of the forefathers of NBA free agency because after he had signed with the Hawks, he got a better offer from the ABA's Carolina Cougars. Rick Barry just a few years earlier had to sit out a season after a similar set of circumstances. Caldwell won a legal battle with the NBA and didn't have to sit out. Said Hawks' teammate Richie Guerin, "him leaving our team for the ABA, that was really the demise of our team in Atlanta, not Pete Maravich leaving."
- Hawkins came to CU, because he "knew it was home" when he took his official visit.
- CU was the first school to offer Hawkins a scholarship out of high school.
- Hawkins was recruited by former CU coach Gary Barnett in 2005. He was part of the 2006 signing class, but he gray-shirted after suffering a knee injury and didn't report until January 2007. He is the last remaining Buff who was recruited by Gary Barnett.

Sandersfeld, cont.

- Sandersfeld played the nickel back after freshman Parker Orms went down early against Colorado State to open the 2010 season and responded with four tackles, two solo and one for a loss, and two third down stops along with an interception. His four tackles were more than he had in his career coming into the game while the third down stops, the tackle for loss and interception were the first of his career.
- Sandersfeld now has 72 career special teams' points and is third in CU history since the Buffs' began tracking the stats.
- Sandersfeld compiled 45 special teams points in 2009, the second highest mark since CU began keeping those numbers in 1987.
- Against Texas A&M in 2009, Sandersfeld played on 17 defensive snaps and recorded his first three tackles on defense of his career.
- Originally an invited walk-on, Sandersfeld was placed on scholarship prior to the start of fall practices in 2009.

- Sandersfeld was steered toward CU by Limon superintendent of schools Harvey Goodman, who played at CU from 1972-74 under coaches Eddie Crowder and Bill Mallory.
- Sandersfeld is following in the footsteps of fellow Limon native Tom Hubbard, who began at CU as a walk-on and earned a scholarship, eventually becoming the defensive MVP of the 2004 Houston Bowl.

- Henderson is listed as second at right cornerback and is the starting nickel back.
- Henderson has started all four games and recorded four tackles, two touchdown saves, and a pass breakup against Ohio State.
- Henderson started his third straight game against CSU, playing in all 55 snaps and recording four tackles. Two of those tackles were for loss including one that was a monster hit on CSU QB Pete Thomas on a trick play.
- Henderson started his second straight game against Cal and recorded five tackles, including a forced fumble on a hit to QB Zach Maynard that was recovered by the Bears.
- Henderson started the season opener at Hawai'i, becoming the seventh true freshman to start the season opener in CU history. He is only the second CB to do so (Victor Scott in 1980 at UCLA) and the first since Jordon Dizon started against Colorado State in 2004. He played in all 65 defensive snaps, recording two tackles and a third down stop.

- Of the seven true freshmen to start the season opener, Henderson is just the second to play every snap in that game, joining OG Clint Moore who did so in 1991 against Wyoming.
- Henderson's coach at Norco High School was Todd Gerhart, father of former Stanford Heisman runner-up Toby Gerhart and Arizona State offensive lineman Garth Gerhart.
- Last season, as a senior at Norco, Henderson had 65 tackles, 13 pass breakups, and seven interceptions. He recorded 22 PBUs and nine interceptions for his high school career.
- At the time Henderson committed to CU, he also held offers from Air Force and New Mexico.

- Lockridge is listed fourth on the depth chart at tailback and is the starting kickoff returner. He is a candidate for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and the AFCA Good Works Team for his character and work in the community.
- Lockridge is one of five Buffs still on the roster that was on the trip when CU last won on the road at Texas Tech in 2007 (Bahr, Espinoza, Hartigan, Miller).
- Lockridge underwent season-ending surgery on his ankle in 2010. Prior to his ankle injury, Lockridge had 35 rushes for 146 yards and a touchdown, two receptions for 33 yards and 10 kickoff returns for 218 yards. His 47 touches generated 397 yards, an average of 8.4 per touch.
- Lockridge had a breakout game against Hawai'i in week 3 with his first 100 yard rushing day, carrying 14 times for 109 yards. He had 35 of his 109 yards after contact on six of his 14 rushes. He teamed with Rodney Stewart to become the first duo to have 100 yards rushing in the same game since 2002 when Chris Brown (25-127) and Bobby Purify (20-174) did it versus Iowa State in Boulder.
- Lockridge returned 30 kicks for 699 yards and a touchdown in 2009, the fifth-most kickoff return yardage gained in CU history. He became the fifth Buff to record 600-plus kickoff return yardage.
- Lockridge finished 2009 with 45 touches that combined for 787 yards (17.5 per touch) and two touchdowns.
- Lockridge broke a 98-yard kickoff return for a touchdown at No. 13 Oklahoma State in 2009. It was the first touchdown return since Josh Smith returned one against Colorado State in 2008 and it was the longest kick return in a decade, since Ben Kelly took one back 98 yards against Washington in 1999. It is tied for the ninth longest return in school history. Lockridge was also named the national kickoff return specialist of the week by the College Football Performance Awards for the week.
- He scored a touchdown on a nine yard run, his only of the game, against Colorado State in the 2009 season opener. It marked his second career rushing touchdown. He also had his first career reception against the Rams in 2009, as well.
- Lockridge missed the 2008 season recovering from surgery to repair a sports hernia he suffered in the Iowa State game in 2007. He didn't initially alert the training staff to his sports hernia; former running backs coach Darian Hagan noticed he was a little less explosive than normal.
- Lockridge rushed for 213 yards as a freshman in 2007, including his first career touchdown, a 43 yard scamper against Miami, Ohio.
- In 2007, Lockridge suffered a concussion in practice the Tuesday before the Oklahoma game, but didn't tell trainers until two days later. He was held out of the OU game but played every game the rest of the way.
- Lockridge played high school football at power Mission Viejo in Orange County. New York Jets quarterback Mark Sanchez also played football there.
- Lockridge, along with CU and Mission Viejo teammate and long-time friend Matthew Bahr, has a job lined up following graduation with corporate slaes at Victaulic, a mechanical pipe manufacturer.

Lockridge, cont.

- Lockridge was a published model prior to his arrival at CU and attended the prestigious John Robert Powers Acting School. He did photo shoots and had some photos published when he was younger in "things like Sears and JC Penny's catalogs." Abercrombie & Fitch was eyeing him for a shoot to promote its 2010 spring line, but he is unable to continue his modeling career at CU due to NCAA regulations. He calls his acting and modeling career more of a "hobby" than a serious career pursuit.
- Lockridge is also an accomplished self-taught musician. He started when he was 5-years old. He can't read music, it just comes to him in his head. At the Independence Bowl, he started playing the piano for teammates and actually got some tips from passers-by (He politely declined to accept the tips). Recently he has taught himself to play the guitar because his dorm room was too small for a piano his freshman year and is looking forward to learning the violin soon.
- Lockridge started his own clothing line in Orange County with friends from school - the clothing line is called S.F.C. (Stay Fresh Crew). He has suspended it while playing in college, but looks to pick it back up after his playing days are over.
- During an internship at a local Boulder real estate firm, Lockridge earned his commercial real estate license. He is also a certified financial planner and his goal after graduation is to own three financial planning firms, one in Colorado and two in California.
- Lockridge only recently began watching sports. More often you will find him tuned into Animal Planet or National Geographic channels, or playing an instrument.
- Until Lockridge was 15, he lived with his mother and three siblings in a rough part of Los Angeles. At that point, he decided to move out, get a job and pay rent to a family in Orange County. He held down three jobs while attending high school.
- Lockridge didn't play football until the ninth grade when he saw a flier for football camp. He went to the store and purchased camping gear and was ready for a trip into the wilderness. He didn't know it wasn't camping out. After a few good laughs from the camp counselors, they told him to bring a pair of gloves the next day, and he brought mittens.
- Fast Food Nation: In high school, Lockridge's body fat index was too low and he would cramp up; he even tore both of his hamstrings because his body was too tense. After one workout, his whole body cramped up and he was given three IVs before he could move again. Doctors told him that he was eating too healthy. He began taking fish oil pills or eating fast food and hasn't had cramps since.

Arthur Jaffee

DEFENSIVE BACK
5-11 * 215 * Senior

- Jaffee is a force on special teams for the Buffs and finished first on the team with 40 points in 2010. He is listed third at kick return.

- Jaffee led CU with four special teams' points against Colorado State.
- After not recording a special teams' point against Hawai'i, Jaffee tallied three against Cal, including a tackle inside the 20.
- Jaffee returned two kicks in the season opener at Hawai'i totaling 21 yards with a long of 17.
- Jaffee's 40 special teams' points last season were the third highest total since CU began tracking the stat in 1987.
- Jaffee has 68 career special teams' points and is tied with Ryan Black for fourth most in CU history. He is just three points behind teammate Travis Sandersfeld in third.
- Jaffee sparked the Buffs against Iowa State in week 10 of 2010 with an 89-yard kickoff return on a fake reverse as Toney Clemons served as a decoy. He took the return to the CU 9-yard line just after Iowa State had taken a 7-3 lead. CU scored two plays later to go up for good. The return marked the third longest in CU history without going for a touchdown (behind Ben Kelly and Byron "Whizzer" White).
- Jaffee came to CU as a preferred walk-on out of Boulder's Fairview High School, where he lettered four times in lacrosse and three in football.
- Jaffee's middle name is Pendragon, and there is a story behind his unique middle name. His mother would read to him from King Arthur before he was born...the Jaffee's are primarily Italian, but when Arthur was born he had light skin and red hair. So his mother knew he was a king and gave him the middle name Pendragon.
- Jaffee enjoys both surfing and wakeboarding.

He then came to CU where he walked-on and redshirted the 2010 season.
- Despite rushing for 1,348 yards and 19 touchdowns with a 9.1 ypc average as a senior on Mullen's 2008 state championship team, Ford was largely overshadowed by his teammate Adonis Ameen-Moore, then a sophomore, who rushed for 1,396 yards and 20 touchdowns. Ameen-Moore enjoyed two more standout seasons at Mullen and is now a freshman on scholarship at Syracuse.
- Ford's uncle is Howard Ballage, who lettered for CU from 1976-78 and as a senior led the nation in kickoff returns with a 29.4 average.

- Major is listed as the first-string "Sam" outside linebacker.
- A week after his first career interception against Cal, Major recorded his first career sack (a 10-yard loss) against Colorado State. He had five total tackles in playing all 55 snaps.

He also had an additional tackle for zero, one third down stop and the game-clinching fumble recovery after B.J. Beatty forced it. That happened with 1:55 left in the game and the Buffs were able to run out the clock after Georgia had marched to the CU 27 yard line.
- Major led the Buffs with 10 tackles to open the 2010 season against Colorado State. Two of his tackles were for no gain, two were third down stops and one was a touchdown saving tackle.

- Despite what the recruiting rankings said, he was regarded as the nation's top prep linebacker by many college coaches with his combination of size and strength making him more attractive than those few prospects ranked ahead of him.
- As a 13-year-old, he was one of the best youth hockey goalies in Colorado.

It's just about physical maturity with him, that's how he's going to get to the next level."
