COLORADO BASKETBALL HISTORY

The University of Colorado continues to build toward a successful future hiring Colorado native Tad Boyle as the school's 18th head coach on April 19, 2010.

Boyle, 47, joined the Colorado staff from the University of Northern Colorado, where he led the Bears to a 56-66 record (.459 winning percentage) over the previous four seasons. The 2009-10 season was a breakout season for Boyle's Bears as they finished second in the Big Sky Conference with a 25-8 record (.758 winning percentage) and Boyle was named as the NABC Division I All-District Coach of the Year along with the Big Sky Coach of the Year. Boyle brings 15 years of coaching experience to Boulder.

"This is it (my dream job), there's no doubt," Boyle said. "I remember talking with (Texas A&M head coach) Mark Turgeon once when he asked me where I wanted to be in 10 years, and I said the head coach at the University of Colorado. This is a destination job. I'm humbled and honored."

Over the last three years, former head coach Jeff Bzdelik, who came from the United States Air Force Academy, led the Buffaloes to a 36-58 (.383) record. His best season was his last in Boulder, a 15-16 mark and 6-10 in the Big 12 in 2009-10. The victories in the season and in conference play were the most CU won since 2005-06. Over his three seasons with the Buffs, Bzdelik experienced a series of near-misses, losing 27 single-digit games, 18 of those in the Big 12. The 27 losses were an average of 4.6 points.

Entering the 2010-2011 season, Boyle inherits a Buffalo program just barely over a winning record 1,127-1091 (.508) in 109 years of existence and 107 of actual playing (1942-44 not played due to WWII).

A program first known as the Silver and Gold, won its first game back on Jan. 10, 1902 defeating State Prep School, 34-10. That game marked the beginning of what was to become an outstanding tradition of basketball at CU.

Although there have been many changes over the years from that first victory, the Silver and Gold became known as the Buffaloes in 1934, after CU students rented a buffalo calf for the final football game that year. Colorado has been a member of five conferences, joining the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1909, and then the Mountain States in 1937. The Buffs became a member of the Big Seven Conference in 1947, which became the Big Eight in 1958, and now are a member of the Big 12 Conference as teams from the Big Eight and Southwest Conferences merged in the 1996-97 season.

Another major change in Colorado basketball came in 1979, when the team moved into the Colorado Events/Conference Center with its spacious seating capacity of 11,076. The facility was renamed the Coors Events/Conference Center in 1990, in honor of a donation made by Coors to the campus. Many names and faces have helped make Colorado basketball special. There have been those, however, whose contributions stand out.

A total of 17 coaches have guided the Buffs to victory, but none more so than past leaders

Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, H.B. Lee, Russell "Sox" Walseth, and Ricardo Patton. The first coach to make a solid presence on the coaching sideline was Cox, who spent 13 years roaming the Balch Fieldhouse from 1936-50. Cox collected a 147- 89 (.623) record with his 1937-38 team reaching the championship game of the National Invitation Tournament before falling to Temple. While at the helm, Cox's teams won four Mountain States Conference (MSC) titles and he concluded his CU career with the best won-lost percentage (.623) of any CU coach of more than one season.

Some of CU basketball's finest moments were orchestrated by Lee from 1951-56.

Lee took control of the CU squad in 1950, and in four short seasons he guided the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in eight years (1953-54). During that season, the Buffaloes established themselves as a contender defeating NCAA runner-up Kansas on Feb. 2 (70-62).

The following year (1954-55), CU performed a feat not familiar in present day basketball, sweeping the Jayhawks in the season series, a feat only accomplished four other times (1948-49, 1958-59, 1961-62, 1962-63). Colorado made its only trip to the Final Four falling to San Francisco in the semifinals, however redeeming themselves in the third place game, defeating Iowa. That season saw Lee's squad win a then-school-best 19 games and secure a pair of Big 7 titles (one shared). From 1957-76, basketball was under the direction of Walseth. His 261 wins are the most by any coach in school basketball history. Walseth led the Buffs to back-to-back Big Eight Conference titles in 1961-62 and 1962-63, and both teams reached the NCAA second round before being eliminated by Cincinnati.

Walseth also engineered six Big 8 placings were his teams finished third or better in the conference, including three first place tallies (one shared). During the 1968-69 season, Walseth's team won a then-school best 21 games and during his tenure won 14 or more games in a season, 11 times. His teams also had 13 winning seasons. Today, CU now plays on the "Sox Walseth Floor" in the Coors Events/Conference Center, a tribute to Walseth's success as a Buff.

Coaches are not solely responsible for the success of each season, and the Buffs have had a wealth of outstanding talent on the hardwood in its proud past. Outstanding Buff performers range from Jack Harvey, CU's first All-American; to Burdette Haldorson, who led CU to consecutive Big Seven titles in 1953-54 and 1954-55; Cliff Meely; Scott Wedman; Jay Humphries to Chauncey Billups, CU's highest NBA Draftee (drafted third overall in the first round of the 1997 NBA Draft by the Boston Celtics).

The "Big Burd," as Haldorson was called, won the league scoring race in both championship seasons, netting 21.3 and 23.9 points per game, respectively. After Colorado finished third in the 1955 NCAA Tournament, Haldorson was selected to the AAU All-America team. His 13.8 rebounds per game that year is still a CU single season record. He also owns the record for most rebounds in a game, pulling down 31 in a 1952 effort against Oklahoma.

Meely became another familiar name to CU fans and opponents from 1968 to 1971. The sensational center-forward is CU's second all-time rebounder (971 boards, 12.1 avg.). In addition, Meely held a number of Big Eight scoring marks when his collegiate career ended in 1971. He was named an All-American for his performance during his senior campaign in which he pumped in an average of 28.0 points and hauled in 11.9 rebounds per game. A seven-point, 25+ rebound outing against Oklahoma was one highlight of that milestone season. That 1971 season capped a highly successful college career for Meely, as he led the Buffs to the conference title in 1968-69.

The next Buff to make an impact was Wedman, a sharp-shooting forward from 1971-74. Wedman came to CU from Denver's Mullen High School and led the team in scoring and rebounding for two years, field goal percentage three years, and free throw percentage one year. Before leaving Colorado, Wedman was firmly established in the school record books.

His numbers placed him seventh in career scoring, sixth in rebounding, and he was the eighth leading field goal shooter in CU history at that time. After enjoying a successful 12-year stint in the NBA, Wedman concluded his professional career in 1987 with the Boston Celtics.

Arguably the best and most exciting Buff of the 1980s was guard Jay Humphries (1981-84). While running the offense, Humphries became the school's all-time assist leader (562) and the then-eighth leading scorer (1,306 points, 11.7 avg.).

CU closed out the 1980s and began a new decade of Buffalo basketball with two greats, Shaun Vandiver and Stevie Wise. Both Vandiver and Wise were instrumental in the school's run through the 1991 National Invitation Tournament, CU's first postseason appearance since making the NCAA Tourney in 1969. And before it was over, the Buffaloes had played to a standing room only crowd in the Coors Events Center, cut down the nets there after defeating Arkansas State to advance to the NIT's Final Four in New York City, and eventually finished third in the tournament.

Vandiver, a 6-10 center, a transfer to CU in 1988 after leading Hutchinson CC to the junior college national championship, worked his way up the Buff charts with an excellent shooting touch and a desire to hit the boards. He finished his three-year career in Boulder as the Buffs' all-time leader in field goal percentage (.574, 750-of-1307), as well as their No. 2 all-time scorer (1,876 points) and rebounder (962 boards). He currently stands third on the field goal percentage and rebounding list, and fourth in scoring.

Wise too, left his mark in the CU record books. Coming to Boulder as a guard in 1987, he managed to suit up for 119 games in a Colorado uniform, the fifth-most. Like Vandiver, he too loved to shoot, and is one of the Buffs' all-time three-point specialists, holding several of CU's three-point shooting marks. Wise also finished his career as the No. 3 scorer (1,727 points) and sits in fifth today. Wise ranks among the top nine in career minutes (3rd), steals (t3rd), assists (7th), and free throws made (9th).

Donnie Boyce marked the onset of the 1990s, as the Maywood, Ill., product took CU and the Big Eight by storm. After four incredible seasons in Boulder, Boyce walked away as the then-all-time leading scorer (1,995 points) in school history and led the Buffs to an NIT bid at the end of his senior season, 1994-95. He became the first Buff (and second overall) to lead the team in scoring all four years.

Boyce, however, never enjoyed postseason play, as he suffered a broken leg that ended his collegiate career during CU's game with Oklahoma in the opening round of the 1995 Big Eight Tournament. Nonetheless, Boyce was drafted by the Atlanta Hawks with the 42nd pick in the second round of the 1995 NBA Draft. With numerous school records in tow, Boyce is remembered as one of the best players in CU history.

Billups continued CU's tradition of great players as he made his mark early in his career. In only his fourth game as a freshman, Billups posted the first triple-double in CU history. His 24-point, 11-assist, 11-rebound game against George Mason was a harbinger of great things to come for the 6-3 product from George Washington High School in Denver.

As a sophomore, Billups would lead Colorado to its first NCAA appearance (1996-97) in 28 years and earn many post-season accolades, including first-team All-Big 12 honors and first-team All-America kudos from Basketball Weekly. In two years, Billups scored over 1,000 points, becoming only the 20th player in CU history to accomplish that feat.

The next great point-guard, Jaquay Walls, guided CU toward back-to-back 18 win seasons, both of which brought NIT invitations. A college transfer who made his impact immediately, Walls was named honorable mention All-Big 12 and to the All-Newcomer team in his junior season. As a senior, he was twice named Big 12 Player of the Week and had a 42-point performance against Iowa State, which became the Big 12 season high, all-time conference record, as well as the top scoring performance by a Buff at the Coors Events Center. His 15 overtime points in that game was also an NCAA record. That spring, he was selected by the Indiana Pacers in the NBA Draft.

BUFF BITS

Colorado is just one of just 12 schools to have ever qualified for the NCAA Tournament and the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) in the same year, as the Buffaloes made dual appearances in 1940, becoming the first school to ever do that. That year, CU won the NIT and finished fourth in the NCAA West Region. The other schools that have matches this feat are: Arizona (1951), Bradley (1950), Brigham Young (1951), City College of New York (which won both tournaments in 1950), Dayton (1952), Duquesne (1952), Kentucky (1949), North Carolina State (1951), St. John's (1951 and 1952), St. Louis University (1952), and Utah (1944).

Continuing the powerful scoring tradition, Jamahl Mosley ended a four-year CU career as the 13th highest scorer ever for the Buffs finishing with 1,171 points. He brought many accolades to himself and the Colorado program including Academic All-Big 12 as a freshman, All-Big 12 and named to the AP's All-Improved team as a junior, and as a senior, received numerous accolades as the Buffs' veteran leader. CU saw another dominant player emerge on the Boulder campus.

Seven-footer David Harrison made his presence felt during the 2001-02 season being named to the Big 12 All-Freshman team and leading the Buffaloes in scoring (13.9

ppg.). The only one other player in CU history to stand over seven feet was Frank Wilcox in 1955-56. Harrison also rewrote the CU record book in field goal percentage finishing the season with a stellar 63.8 percentage from the field and third nationally, in addition to making his name synonymous with the CU blocked shot record lists.

With a record 106 swats for the 2002-03 season and shattering the previous mark of 73, Harrison became the first player in school history and in the Big 12 Conference to record a pair of triple-doubles (31 points, 17 rebounds and blocked 10 shots against Stetson; and against Nebraska, 20 points, 11 blocks and 10 rebounds).

Also during this span, Stephane Pelle emerged as another dominant player in CU basketball. Pelle, a four-year standout, was the first CU player in 11 years to average a double-double during the 2001-02 campaign. With a 12.8 points and 10.8 rebounds per game average, Pelle was named to the Big 12 All-Underrated team.

In 2002-03, CU enjoyed one of its finest seasons to date, capping it with a NCAA Tournament berth for the first time since 1996-97. With 20 victories on the season, another feat only accomplished twice before by Patton in 1996-97 (22-10) and Sox Walseth in 1968-69 (21-7), the Buffaloes also upset four nationally ranked teams — all at home for the first-time ever.

Individually, the Buffaloes received four All-Big 12 honors with Michel Morandais (second team) along with Pelle earning conference third-team. Morandais and Harrison also were named to the Big 12's specialty teams as two of the conference's most-improved players. Pelle capped his four-year career with 1,367 points and 1,054 rebounds becoming the first CU men's basketball player to secure both 1,000 plateaus. He also became CU's all-time rebounding leader and seventh overall scorer (today he's ninth).

During the 2003-04 campaign, CU won 18 games for the fifth time under Patton and earning its third NIT berth in eight years. More impressively, the Buffaloes won 10 conference games, the most since recording 11 back in 1996-97 and earned the number four seed at the Big 12 Tournament in Dallas. Harrison also broke the school record for blocks in a career (225) and would on go to rewrite the blocked shot record book despite playing only three years and opting for the NBA (29th overall, first round, Indiana Pacers, 2004 NBA Draft).

Other outstanding performances came from Blair Wilson breaking the CU career record for 3-pointers made (257). Earlier in the season, Wilson played "in the zone" draining six treys against Iowa State. In that game, Wilson set or tied four school records against the Cyclones making his first six 3-pointers without a miss (CU Record); tying a half record (6), tying for 3s made in a conference half, and tying consecutive 3-pointers made.

Morandais became the 21st player in CU history to score over 1,000 points in his career. He finished seventh overall with 1,428 (today he's eighth). Wilson reached the 1,000-point plateau and finished with 1,253 points and 14th overall. Harrison rounded out the 1,000-point scorers finishing with 1,317 and 11th place overall.

A near upset at the Big 12 Tournament highlighted a not-so-popular 14-16 record in 2004-05. After upsetting No. 6 seed

Texas, 81-69 in the first round of the conference tournament, the No. 11 seed Buffaloes became the first school in the nine-year history of the Big 12 to pull off the improbable upset. CU again played beyond its expectations narrowly upsetting eventual conference champion Oklahoma State, 87-85 in the quarterfinals.

The Buffaloes also saw the arrival of freshman Richard Roby in 2004-05 as he became the first freshman since Billups (1995-96) to lead CU in scoring with 16 points per game and net over double-digits 26 times in 30 games. He also recorded a pair of Phillips 66/Big 12 Rookie of the Week honors and became only the fourth CU player ever to make seven 3-pointers in a game, twice.

The 2005-06 Buffaloes won 20 games for the 11th time in their history en route to the National Invitational Tournament, with 14 of those coming at the Events Center tying the 2002-03 season for most-ever. The Buffs also re-wrote the school's 3-point record for made (240) and attempts (701), and Roby became the first CU player since 2003-04 and only the fourth player since 1996-97 to be named All-Big 12 first team. CU also reached the national stage by being ranked in back-to-back ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Polls, a school first since the 1996-97 campaign.

David Harrison

The 2006-07 season would not be one of its best seasons to reflect on, a 7-20 record and a 3-13 mark in the Big 12, school lows since the 1993-94 campaign. Entering his final year of his contract, coach Patton closed out his 11th full year of coaching with a school-record eight freshmen, the most on a team at one time, since 1993-94. However, it did see some positive headlines on the court.

Roby led the team in scoring for the third-straight year (17.3 ppg.), while senior guard Dominique Coleman became the first guard since Donnie Boyce in 1994-95 to lead CU in rebounding. Coleman grabbed 185 boards and averaged 6.9 cars a game. One of the team highlights was the upset victory over No. 12/14 Oklahoma State. It marked the fifth straight season a CU team defeated a nationally ranked opponent at home.

In 2007-08, Richard Roby set the school scoring record becoming the first male player to eclipse the 2,000-point barrier netting 2,001 points. He would go on to set numerous school records over his outstanding four-year career. The Buffaloes became the first team in Big 12 history as the No. 12 seed in its post-season tournament to beat a No. 5 seed (Baylor).

Roby also became the second Buff in its history to lead the team in scoring all four years (Boyce was the other).

During the 2008-09, CU saw sophomore guard Cory Higgins become one of only 13 players nationally to lead or finish second on his team in five major statistical categories (points, rebounds, assists, steals, blocked shots). He also ranked nationally in a trio of categories (steals, FT%, scoring).

In 2009-10, the Buffs provided a duel offensive punch with Higgins and super freshman Alec Burks. Higgins, garnered his second straight All-Big 12 third team honor, while Burks performed a CU first in the Buffs Big 12 history becoming the first Boulder athlete to earn conference freshman of the year honors.

Higgins and Burks each scored 587 and 512 points, respectively becoming the first tandem to net over 500 points in the same season since the 1990-91 campaign. Burks would also lead the team in rebounding, only the second freshman since Matt Bullard (6.4, 1985-86). Burks was also named to a number of post-season teams including the Big 12 All-Rookie Team, CollegeInsider.com All-America Freshman Team, 2009-10 Basketball Times' All-Freshman first team, CU Sports Performers of the Year (CUSPY) Male Freshman of the Year, Sporting News Magazine All-Freshman second team.

Burks also became the first CU freshman to surpass 500 points in a single-season (512). He ranked fourth nationally of all freshmen in points per game (17.1) and field goal percentage (53.8).

Higgins moved up on the school's all-time scoring list (ninth overall) with 1,391 career points. He led the Big 12-only in steals for the second straight year (2.1).

As a team, CU ranked third nationally in FT% (76.6) and for the first time led the Big 12 from the charity stripe. CU also ranked 21st nationally in 3-point percentage, 26th in FG percentage, 30th in steals. The 47.3 field goal percentage tied for 10th in school history, was also the highest from any CU team since 1989-90 (47.9) and the 409 turnovers committed, was a team low over 30 games played in a season since the stat first kept in 1977-78.

Attendance also improved as the eight Big 12 games became the highest ever at the Events Center (65,607) with an average of 8,201 ranked second.

RUSSELL "SOX" WALSETH

Legendary CU Basketball Coach Was One Of School's Most Popular Figures

Russell "Sox" Walseth, the legendary University of Colorado basketball coach who was likely the first and one of only a few to have coached both the men's and women's basketball teams at the same NCAA school, passed away on Wednesday, Jan. 28, 2004. He was 77.

A player, coach and administrator, his time at CU spanned 38 years, starting as an athlete in the 1940s when he lettered a combined six times in both basketball and baseball.

Taking over the reins of the men's program for the 1956-57 season, Walseth proceeded to coach the next 20 Buffalo teams. The winningest coach in CU men's basketball history with a 261-245 record, the Buffs won three Big Eight titles under his direction, in 1961-62, 1962-63 and 1968-69. He was the Big Eight Conference coach of the year on five occasions, and his most prominent players included Ken Charlton, Jim Davis, Cliff Meely, Scott Wedman and Dave Logan.

All three of his Big Eight champion teams represented the conference in the NCAA regional tournaments (in those days, only one school could advance from a conference). Eventual NCAA champion Cincinnati eliminated the Buffs in the first two appearances, while his third tourney team may have represented his best coaching job in his tenure as he piloted a sophomore-dominated team to the league title and an NCAA berth.

He retired from coaching for the first time in the spring of 1976 and remained on in an administrative position with the athletic department. But four years later (1980), and CU hit with budget woes, then athletic director Eddie Crowder asked him if he would come out of retirement to help the program to which he had devoted much of Sox (the origin of that nickname was always unknown to him, but he had it since childhood) was born April 6, 1926 in Aberdeen, S.D. He was an all-state performer in basketball at Pierre High School, where he graduated in 1944.

He spent two years in the Navy's V-5 and V-12 programs during which he began college, attending Carroll College in Helena, Mont. The Navy moved him to Colorado in the fall of 1945 and he was a regular on the basketball team in his first year at CU while still in the Navy program.

After his discharge, he stayed on at Colorado, playing guard with the reputation as a brilliant floor leader during the 1946-47 and 1947-48 seasons. He lettered three years as a shortstop for coach Frank Prentup on the baseball team, and would also try his hand in the minor leagues, spending two seasons with Victoria (B.C.), a member of the B League.

Perhaps his greatest game as a collegian occurred during his first year at Colorado when the Buffaloes made an early season tour that took them to New York's Madison Square Garden. Accounts at the time referred to his performance as, "Cool and crafty beyond his years, Walseth was unruffled at playing for the first time in the nation's top arena against one of the country's top teams, NYU." Though CU lost 66-52, Walseth led all scorers in the game with 20 points.

his adult life. Sox answered that call and would coach the CU women's team between 1980-83, then known as the "Lady Buffs," compiling an impressive 77-21 record. That mark included an incredible 43-0 record at home, and once again, he earned coach of the year accolades.

The basketball floor at the Coors Events/Conference Center is named after him. In 1998, he was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, and four years later in 2002, he was a member of the fourth class inducted into the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame.

- CU's all-time leader in victories with 261
- Likely the first and only a few to coach both the men's and women's basketball teams at the same school
- CU won three Big Eight titles under his direction
- Coached 20 different CU teams from 1957-1976
- Coached the CU women from 1980-83 and was an impressive 77-21, including 43-0 at home
- Coors Events Center basketball floor was named after him in 1996
- 1998 inductee of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame
- 2002 Inductee of the CU Athletic Hall of Fame

After his graduation from CU in the spring of 1948, he remained with the school as head freshman basketball coach while he worked toward a Master's degree in Education. He spent five seasons in this capacity, three years under his college coach, Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, and two with H.B. "Bebe" Lee.

With that experience along with his Master's from Colorado, he left Boulder to become head basketball coach at Arvin High School in Bakersfield, Calif., in 1954. After one year there, he was named head coach at South Dakota State College and quickly reshaped that school's cage fortunes. In his first year there (1954-55), his team forged a 14-11 mark, but the following year the Jackrabbits fashioned a 17-7 record in winning the North Central Conference crown and went on to play in the NAIA national tournament.

Walseth had the combined outstanding qualities of two fine coaches in Cox and Lee, and those along with his excellent background combined with a solid blend of youth and fire made him the easy choice to succeed Lee as CU's coach prior to the 1956-57 season.

Walseth is the fifth CU icon to pass away since the turn of the century, as the Buffalo family also lost long-time athletic staff members Fred Casotti (2001) and Les Fowler and Dan Stavely (both in 2003) and the school's first All-American and former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White (in 2002).

He was preceded in death by his first wife of more than 40 years, the former Eleanor "Ellie" Hahn, and is survived by his current wife, Joan, sons Joe and Nick, daughter Cynthia and four grandchildren.

ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

Jack Harvey 1939 & 1940

In his back-to-back All-America campaigns, Jack Harvey led the Buffs to two conference championships and a trip to the NCAA Tourney in his senior season. During those two years, CU posted an amazing 31-8 mark and received recognition as the No. 1 team in the land.

Known for his tough defense, Harvey proved to be key in numerous Buff victories. He was also an outstanding ball handler for a big man and was a key component in the CU fast break. A solid All-Conference performer, Harvey is the only CU cager to be selected twice as an All-American.

Robert Doll 1942

Bob Doll was the big-play man for coach Frosty Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven Championship squad. Doll, along with fellow All-American Leason McCloud, helped lead CU to a 16-2 record and the NCAA Western Tournament finals as a senior.

Known as an outstanding rebounder, Doll controlled the paint in many CU wins. He was also renowned for his shooting prowess, finishing second to McCloud in scoring.

A unanimous All-Big Seven selection, Doll was selected to All-America teams by Look, Pic and Time magazines. He was also tabbed as MVP of New York's Metropolitan Tournament as a sophomore and was a huge factor in CU's three conference titles in a four-year span. After graduation, Doll went on to play for the Boston Celtics.

Jim Willcoxon 1939

Known for his defense, Jim Willcoxon continued Coach Frosty Cox's tradition of talented cagers. Willcoxon helped anchor the 1937-38 and 1938-39 Big Seven Championship teams with tough play on the defensive end. He also led the Buffs to national prominence with strong showings on East Coast road trips.

His hard-nosed style of play earned him both All-Big Seven and All-America honors as a senior.

Leason McCloud 1942

The leading scorer for the 1942 Big Seven Champion Buffs, Leason McCloud was Coach Frosty Cox's "go-to guy." Known for his silky-smooth shot, McCloud was also a great passer and rebounder.

McCloud was key in CU's NCAA Western Tournament semifinal win over Kansas, pacing the Buffs with 19 points. His play caught the attention of national media and he joined fellow Buff Bob Doll on the Look, Pic and Time magazines' All-America squads and was a unanimous All-Big Seven selection.

Burdette Haldorson 1955

Burdette Haldorson was virtually unstoppable in 1955. Prior to the season, Coach H.B. Lee said, "We'll be just as good as Haldorson. We need the big man to play well for us." And play well he did, leading CU to a conference championship and a third-place finish in the National Collegiate Tournament. The big man led the Big Seven in scoring at 23.9 ppg and set what still stands as a CU record with an amazing 346 boards on the year. For his efforts, the Amateur Athletic Union tabbed Haldorson a first-team All-American.

Haldorson's talents were nationally recognized, as the standout was selected to the 1956 & 1960 U.S. Olympic teams. Upon graduation, Haldorson turned down a $7,000 contract with the NBA's St. Louis franchise. He did continue playing, however, and led amateur powerhouse Phillips 66 to a National Industrial Basketball League title.

Haldorson joined Cliff Meely as the only two Buffs to have their jerseys retired in 1994, and was named to the CU Hall of Fame in 1999.

Cliff Meely 1971

In 1971, Cliff Meely was a scoring machine. He tallied a CU-record 729 points and set a Big Eight record with 427 points in conference. Coach Sox Walseth said of Meely, "He is the most complete player I have ever coached."

Known for his quickness and agility, Meely could play any position on the floor. He was named to several All-America teams as a junior and senior and played in numerous all-star games after graduation.

Meely went on to play in over 300 games in the NBA for the Houston Rockets and the Los Angeles Lakers.

Ken Charlton 1963

Ranking eighth on CU's all-time scoring charts, Ken Charlton battled through a history of knee problems to lead Colorado to two Big Eight titles and in 1963, Charlton was named an All-American by the United States Basketball Writer's Association and Look magazine.

Along with his penchant for scoring, Charlton was also a force inside, ranking in the top 10 on the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms. He also succeeded in the classroom and was named an Academic All-American in 1963 as well.

Buff Coach Sox Walseth said of Charlton's play, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight." Charlton was elected to the inaugural class of the CU Hall of Fame in 1998.

Chauncey Billups 1997

One of CU's top perimeter threats in hoops history, Chauncey Billups graced the CU campus for two seasons before departing for the NBA. As a sophomore in 1997, Billups was named a first-team All-American by Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history.

Known for his playmaking skills and ability to penetrate, Billups also led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament in over two decades, where CU topped perennial power Indiana in the opening round.

Billups went on to be the third pick in the NBA draft in June and is still enjoying success in the pros.

In 2004, Billups helped lead the Detroit Pistons to the NBA title. Billups was also named The NBA Finals Most Valuable Player.

David Harrison
2003-04 AP
Honorable Mention

The seven foot, 250-pound big man performed his best season-to-date leading the Buffaloes in scoring (17.1 ppg.) and shooting an impressive 63.1 percentage from the field. His mark from the field led the Big 12 Conference and more impressively was third nationally. What turned out to be his third and final season in Boulder (opted for the NBA draft), Harrison would go on to break the school blocked shot record (225) and eclipse the 1,000-point barrier (1,317 pts.). Harrison would help the Buffs to a NIT appearance and an 18-11 mark, including a 10-6 and a tied for fourth place finish in the Big 12. Harrison holds or shares every blocked shot record in school history.

Shaun Vandiver
1989-90 UPI
Honorable Mention

The 1989-90 season for the junior center was the second of three seasons in Boulder. During the 1989-90 campaign, Vandiver led the team in scoring (22.3 ppg.), rebounding (11.2 rpg.), blocks (36), and field goal percentage (59.3). His 668 points during the season became the most scored by a CU big man (second all-time), in addition leading the Big Eight in scoring. At the conference post-season tournament, Vandiver earned most valuable player honors after he helped the Buffs upset Missouri and Oklahoma State in back-to-back games, becoming the first eighth seed to advance to the title game. Vandiver scored 75 points (then-sixth best for points) and 41 rebounds during the three-game span.

Jay Humphries
Honorable Mention

Arguably the best and most exciting Buff of the 1980s, Humphries became the school's all-time assist (562) and steals (309) leader. He finished his stellar career averaging five assists and 2.8 steals per game. On the scoreboard, Humphries became the then-eighth all-time scorer (1,306 points, 11.7 ppg.). His specialty, however, was defensive play leading the nation in thefts during the 1982-83 season with 115, which remains a school record for a season. His 101 steals during the 1983-84 campaign, ranks second on the CU list. Humphries also holds the second (174) and third (173) season assists totals, in addition to the school mark in assists in a conference game (14), and double-figure assist games for a career with eight.

CHAUNCEY BILLUPS

One of the most talented players in Colorado basketball history, Billups helped transform the Buffaloes into an NCAA tournament contender in the two years he played at CU. His hard work, dedication and exceptional basketball skills not only drew the attention of college basketball aficionados, but of professional teams as well. Billups was the No. 3 overall selection of the first round of the NBA Draft in 1997 by the Boston Celtics. As a captain of the Detroit Pistons, Billups led the team to the NBA championship in 2004 earning the NBA Finals Most Valuable Player award by averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in the five games.

NBA

- ▶ third pick in the 1997 NBA draft (Boston Celtics)
- ▶ helped lead the Detroit Pistons to the 2004 NBA title
- ▶ named the Most Valuable Player for the NBA Finals, averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in five games
- ▶ helped lead Nuggets to a franchise-best 54 wins, the most since moving to the NBA
- ▶ ranks sixth in 3-pointers made (1,589, as of Aug. 31, 2010)
- ▶ ranks 10th in 3-point field goal attempts (4,099, as of Aug. 31, 2010)
- ▶ ranks sixth in free throw percentage in NBA history (.892 through 2009-2010 season)

BUFFS IN THE PROS

Donnie Boyce

Atlanta Hawks, 1995 • San Antonio Spurs, 1996-97

Colorado's all-time leading scorer, Donnie Boyce completed his collegiate career in 1994-95 with 1,995 career points. However, Boyce's career ended prematurely when he broke his leg during the first half of CU's 1995 Big Eight Tournament game against Oklahoma. During his career in Boulder, Boyce was named All-Conference three times, twice on the league's first team. Boyce also held school records for games started (107), field goals attempted (1,648), free throws made (480) and free throws attempted (721).

In four consecutive seasons (1991-95), Boyce led the Buffaloes in scoring, and led the Big Eight in scoring (league games only) as a junior (26.8 ppg). A gifted player on all levels, Boyce will be remembered as one of the greatest players in CU and Big Eight history.

Matt Bullard

Matt Bullard

Houston Rockets, 1990-1994, 1996-98 • Atlanta Hawks, 1995-96

As a freshman, Bullard was named to All-Freshman team and was honorable mention All-Big Eight. The next year he led the team in both scoring (16.6 ppg) and rebounding (9.3). He finished the 1986 season ranked 18th in the country in field goal percentage.

Bullard joined the Rockets as a free agent in 1990, and was a member of Houston's 1994 NBA Championship team. He is the third-leading three-point shooter in franchise history.

Donnie Boyce finished his four-year career as CU's all-time leading scorer, however his promising NBA career was cut short by a broken leg.

Jim Creighton

Atlanta Hawks, 1975-76

After playing in the shadows of Cliff Meely for two years, Creighton came into his own during his junior and senior seasons. He quickly became a stalwart performer for the Buffs. Not big for a center (6-7, 190), Creighton played much bigger with his great jumping ability. Following an excellent senior season, he was named to the NCAA's District V All-Star squad.

Creighton enjoyed a one-year stint with the Atlanta Hawks. Used primarily for his defensive ability, he played in 32 games, averaging one point and 1.4 boards per game.

Jim Creighton made the jump from Boulder to Atlanta and the NBA's Hawks

Jim Davis

St. Louis/Atlanta Hawks, 1967-72 • Houston Rockets, 1972 • Detroit Pistons, 1972-75

Davis guided Colorado to two Big Eight championships during a brilliant three-year career. During that time, Davis emerged as one of the school's all-time top rebounders (863 boards) and scorers (1,110 points). In addition to being a fine rebounder and scorer, Davis was also known for his defensive skills.

As a professional ball player, Davis played for three different clubs, St. Louis/Atlanta, Houston and Detroit. His most successful seasons were spent with St. Louis/Atlanta as he averaged 7.9 points per game and totaled 1,484 career boards.

Robert Doll

Boston Celtics, 1948-50

One of the key players for Coach Forrest "Frosty" Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven championship squad, "Ichabod" Doll was known for his aggressive defense as he was named a unanimous first-team All-Conference player following his senior season. That same year, he also garnered All-America honors in Look, Pic and Time magazines.

Doll played in 94 games for the NBA's Boston Celtics over a span of two seasons. He held down a 7.3 point-per-game average during that span.

Jim Davis played in over 500 games in the NBA and hauled in almost 1,500 career rebounds

Pat Frink

Cincinnati Royals, 1968-69

Known as an excellent shooter, Frink finished his career at Colorado as the second leading scorer in Buff basketball history at that time (1,288 points). He accomplished that feat even though he missed the 1966 season due to a knee injury. Frink was also chosen as a member of the second-team academic All-America squad in 1968.

After graduation, Frink went on to play professionally with the Cincinnati Royals for one season. While a member of the ABA team, he played in 48 games and averaged 2.6 points per game.

Chuck Gardner

Denver Rockets, 1967-68

Chuck Gardner led the Buffs his senior year in scoring (20.2 ppg), rebounding (9.8 rpg), field goal percentage (.524) and free throw percentage (.650). A two-time All-Big Eight selection, Gardner was also chosen as a scholastic All-American his senior season. His excellent touch around the basket and dangerous hook shot enabled him to be an outstanding inside scorer.

Although he only played one year professionally, he did record some notable marks with the ABA's Denver Rockets. In 42 games, he averaged 4.7 points and 3.2 boards per game.

Pat Frink currently ranks No. 14 on CU's all-time scoring list. He also holds the No. 27th place in single-season scoring with 472 points.

Jay Humphries

Phoenix Suns, 1984-88 • Milwaukee Bucks, 1988-92 • Utah Jazz, 1992-1995

Humphries had an outstanding career at CU, as he was elected twice for both All-America and All-Conference honors. Humphries is the current all-time leader in both steals (309) and assists (586), evidence of both his great quickness and ball-handling abilities.

Humphries finished his career with the Utah Jazz, after spending four seasons with Phoenix and four with Milwaukee. He reached two milestones in 1992-93, tallying his 4,000th assist and 8,000th point. He averaged a career-high 15.3 points per game in 1989-90, and never averaged under 7.5 ppg. Humphries joined the Jazz on draft day '92, when he was traded from Milwaukee to Utah.

Cliff Meely scored over 2,500 points in his NBA career with the Houston Rockets and L.A. Lakers

Jay Humphries, CU's all-time steals leader and two-time All-American, scored almost 9,000 points in his 11-year NBA career

Cliff Meely

Houston Rockets, 1971-76 • Los Angeles Lakers, 1976

One of two players in Colorado basketball history to have his jersey number retired (20), Cliff Meely was named an All-American following the 1970-71 season. Meely was truly a graceful performer who could shoot from anywhere on the court. He finished his career at CU possessing eight Big Eight Conference marks and 16 school records, including CU's all-time scoring record (1,940 points, 24.3 ppg). Meely transferred to CU as a junior college All-American from Northeastern JC. While there, he scored 40 or more points on five separate occasions.

Meely played in more than 300 professional games over six seasons with the NBA's Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers. He averaged 8.7 points and 5.6 boards per game throughout his career with the Rockets, only playing in 20 games with the Lakers at the end of the 1975-76 season.

Alex Stivrins

Los Angeles Clippers, 1992-93 • Milwaukee Bucks, 1992-93

Stivrins led Colorado in rebounding both years he was a Buff, and finished sixth in the country in 1985. He finished his collegiate career at CU with averages of 13.9 points and 10.4 rebounds per game.

His first year in the NBA was spent with the Seattle SuperSonics, in 1985-86. Following that he played in both the CBA and the Italian League before returning to the NBA ranks in 1992-93. That season, he had stints with four different teams.

Alex Stivrins ranked 18th in career rebounding (583) and 46th in scoring (777 pts.) at CU.

Scott Wedman

Kansas City Kings, 1975-81 • Cleveland Cavaliers, 1981-82 • Boston Celtics, 1982-87

Wedman provided the backbone for CU basketball in the early '70s. Head Coach Sox Walseth called Wedman "one of the best we've ever had here." With his great touch, he was smooth as silk with the ball, and was also a big factor on the boards. Wedman's outstanding play earned him All-Big Eight honors in both his junior and senior seasons.

Wedman began his professional career with the NBA's Kansas City franchise, where he played for six seasons. While there, he averaged 17.4 points per game and 6.0 rebounds in 466 games. He was traded to Cleveland for the '81-82 season and then was sent to Boston where he averaged 5.6 points per game in 301 contests.

Chuck Williams

Denver Nuggets, 1971-72, 1975-76 (ABA); 1976-77 (NBA) • Kentucky Colonels, 1972-75* • Buffalo Braves, 1977-78

A floor leader, Williams was known for his precision passing, slashing drives to the basket and his tenacious defense. He possessed exceptional quickness and speed. Following a serious knee injury his junior year, he rebounded his final campaign to have an excellent season.

Williams began his professional basketball career with Denver. He played in 163 games with the Nuggets franchise during two different stints in both the ABA and NBA, and had a scoring average of 9.8 points per game. He also played for three years with the ABA's Kentucky Colonels and finished his career with the Buffalo Braves.

HALDORSON NAISMITH HALL OF FAME

Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson, one of the early stars in the history of the University of Colorado men's basketball program, was inducted along with his teammates from the 1960 United States Olympic team into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. The 2010 class was inducted on August 13 in Springfield, Mass.

That 1960 team brought home the gold medal from Rome and also featured Jerry West (West Virginia), Oscar Robertson (Cincinnati), Jerry Lucas (Ohio State) and Walt Bellamy (Indiana). The 12-man squad cruised to an 8-0 record, the average winning margin a gaudy 42.4 points. The team beat Brazil, 90-63, to clinch the gold after disposing of the USSR (81-57) and host Italy (112-81) leading up to the gold medal contest.

The 1992 "Dream Team" also will be inducted, along with Karl Malone and Scottie Pippen, among others. The 1960 and 1992 squads are generally considered the top two men's basketball teams in U.S. Olympic history.

They will become the seventh and eighth teams that the Hall is inducting, the first Olympic ones, joining others that include the Harlem Globetrotters, the original Celtics, and the 1966 Texas Western team that shattered the race barrier when it beat Kentucky to win the NCAA title. Members of inducted teams go into the Hall as a full group, not as individuals.

"I don't really know that much about it yet, but it will be a real honor to go into the Hall with the group of players that was on that team," Haldorson said from his winter home in Scottsdale, Ariz. "There were 12 guys, and all but two of us went into the NBA. I was one of those two, and I had invitations to turn pro as well, but I was basically ending my career. Some of those guys were outright stars, and I really believe Jerry West and Oscar Robertson would be stars in the game today."

"I've run into Oscar and Jerry a few times, but we all really went our own directions, so most of us haven't really seen each other since we parted ways that summer," he added. "We've never had a reunion so we kind of lost track of each other, but I can't think of a better way to finally get us all together again."

Haldorson averaged 2.9 points and 4.3 rebounds per game on the '60 team, and also won a gold medal as a member of the '56 team, when he averaged 8.6 points per contest. With Haldorson as a team member, the United States went 16-0 in the two Olympic games.

Haldorson's uniform, No. 22, is one of just two retired basketball jerseys in CU history. He left quite an imprint in the school's basketball annals, and the 6-foot-7 Austin, Minn., native still holds four school rebounding records some five-plus decades after his CU playing days, including the most in a half (21), game (31) and season (346).

As a senior in 1954-55, he led the Buffs to the Big Seven Conference title by averaging 23.9 points per game, and was named a first-team All-American. CU eventually went on to finish third in the nation, losing in the Final Four to eventual champion San Francisco and the legendary Bill Russell.

He averaged 15.0 points and 9.5 rebounds for his CU career, and was the first of only eight players to this day to score at least 1,100 points and record 700 or more rebounds. He was inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame in the school's second class in 1999; he previously had been inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, the first with ties to CU's basketball programs, in 1977.

Haldorson went on to have a brilliant career in the National Industrial Basketball League as a member of the Phillips 66ers, the team entry for Phillips 66, who then hired him after his career. He then moved to Colorado Springs to form his own gas and oil distribution business.

HALL OF FAME

Don Branby

- Three-Sport Letterman (Football, Basketball, Baseball)
- Football First-Team All-American
- CU Record Holder (Fumble Recoveries)
- Longtime college and professional coach

Don Branby was one of the last three-sport lettermen in Colorado history, as he earned nine in all playing football, basketball and baseball. His top honor was being named an Associated Press All-American in football in 1952, when he set what are still CU records with seven fumble recoveries and nine takeaways. Published reports at the time said he had at least 20 tackles in a 21-21 tie with Oklahoma, the Sooners' lone blemish in their famous Big 7 Conference run. He was just the sixth CU player to be invited to play in a postseason all-star game when he appeared in the 1953 East-West Shrine Game. A seventh round draft pick by the New York Giants in the 1953 Draft (the 79th player selected overall), he went on. After his playing days, he went into coaching in college at Montana State, and then in the Canadian Football League with the British Columbia Lions and the Ottawa Roughriders. In basketball, he scored 165 points in 45 career games in primarily a reserve role, though he led the Buffaloes in free throw percentage in 1951-52, making a then unheard of 39-of-48 tries (81.3%). In baseball, he played first base, third base and in the outfield; his 16 runs batted in were the third most on the team his senior year. He also spent four years in the Air Force, playing service football in which he also earned high accolades.

Ken Charlton

- 1963 All-American & Academic All-American
- Two-time All-Big 8 Selection

Ken Charlton was a member of back-to-back Big 8 Conference titles and two straight NCAA tournament appearances under the late Sox Walseth. Often going out and scoring 20-plus points a day or two after having his knees drained of excess fluid, Charlton was CU's all-time leading scorer at the time of his graduation with 1,352 points in just three seasons. Walseth often referred to him as, "the finest offensive player I ever coached."

Ranking 11th on CU's all-time scoring chart, Charlton was named an All-American by the United States Basketball Writers Association and Look magazine. Along with his penchant for scoring, he was also a force inside, ranking in the top 10 on the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms (he's 11th today). He also succeeded in the classroom and was named a 1963 Academic All-American.

Charlton's 514 points scored during the 1961-62 season still ranks 19th today for most points tallied in a single season. He owns a pair of 35-point efforts at Kansas (Jan. 5, 1963), and at Missouri (Mar. 5, 1962) that still rank among the top-20 scoring games in school history. Walseth said of Charlton's play, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight."

Burdette Haldorson

- 1955 All-American
- 1955 Final Four Participant
- 1956 & 1960 U.S. Olympian
- Retired Number (No. 22)

Burdette Haldorson, No. 22 is one of just two retired basketball jerseys in CU history, left quite an imprint in the school's basketball annals. The 6-7, 210-pound Austin, Minn., native still holds four school rebounding records some five decades after his CU playing days, including the most in a half (21), game (31) and season (346). As a senior in 1954-55, he led the Buffs to the Big Seven title by averaging 23.9 points per game, and was also named as a first-team All-American. He then moved to Colorado Springs to form his own gas and oil distribution business. In August 2010, Haldorson and his 1960 United States Olympic teammates were inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

Billy Lewis

- First African-American Varsity Basketball Player at CU
- Three-Time Basketball Letterwinner
- Cleared 6-6 3/4 as a High Jumper
- Voted Commissioner of the ASUC by the Student Body

The first African-American varsity basketball player at Colorado (and the first to letter), enrolling at CU in September 1956; at that time, freshmen were ineligible to play and he thus made his debut in the 1957-58 season. As with his football counterparts, though treated well in Boulder, he often had to endure harsh racism on the road in pre-Civil Rights America and thus blazed the trail for all those who would follow him to CU. The 6-3 forward played in 67 career games, scoring 244 points and grabbing 197 rebounds in lettering three times. His best season on the court was his junior year, when he averaged 5.9 points per game with a career-high 21 against Nebraska.

In 1959, after the basketball season was complete, he decided to come back out for track in his specialty, the high jump; he cleared 6-6 3/4 and finished second in the CU Invitational (to Wyoming's Jerry Lane, who jumped an inch higher) which topped his previous personal best of 6-2 as a senior at Denver's Manual High School, where he was coached by CU great and Hall of Fame member Gil Cruter. Just as important if not more so were his contributions as a student leader, becoming the first African-American elected by the student body as commissioner of the ASUC (Associated Students of the University of Colorado); he led a delegation of students and testified on the resolutions against discrimination in housing and employment practices and headed the SFHD, Students For Human Dignity, two of many causes he championed that helped change CU in a positive way forever.

Upon his graduation from CU in 1960, he clerked for a Denver judge, and after marrying fellow CU grad JoKatherine Holliman (the first African American woman on CU's homecoming court), they relocated to Washington D.C. where he would work for Colorado senator Peter Dominic in 1963 and 1964 while earning his Juris Doctor of Law degree from Howard University. In '64, he was recruited by IBM and took a position as the first African-American corporate attorney at the company's headquarters in Armonk, N.Y., and returned to Colorado two years later (1966) to be the junior counsel for IBM in its Niwot offices. He almost made a successful bid to become a state representative in 1968 against Tom Bastien, but lost by just 100 votes; he then opened a private law practice in Denver with partner Morris Cole.

Dave Logan

- 1975 First Team All-American (Sporting News)
- 1974 Playboy Preseason All-American
- Averaged 14.1 Points in 58 Basketball Games
- Drafted by Three Professional Leagues (NFL, NBA, MLB)

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1975 as selected by The Sporting News and a Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his junior season, the lone Buff to ever make the squad as a non-senior. Logan caught 68 passes for 1,078 yards in his CU career, numbers that both ranked second at the time of his graduation and remain in the top 20 all-time. He led the Buffs in receiving in both 1974 and 1975, after finishing second to the late J.V. Cain as a sophomore in 1973.

A two-sport star at CU (he also lettered in basketball, averaging 14.1 points in 58 career games), Logan is one of a handful to ever be drafted in three sports: he was a third round pick by Cleveland in the 1976 NFL Draft (65th overall); the Kansas City Kings nabbed him in the ninth round of the '76 NBA Draft; and the Cincinnati Reds had drafted him as an infielder and pitcher in the 19th round of baseball's June draft out of high school (longtime MLB outfielder Dave Winfield was also drafted in three). He played in 119 NFL games with Cleveland (1976-83) and Denver (1984) catching 263 passes for 4,250 yards and 24 touchdowns in his pro career. Logan settled back home in Colorado where he starred as a prep. He is a longtime participant in the radio sports talk scene in Denver, and was the radio play-by-play voice of the Denver Broncos after several years as the color analyst. He also worked several CU football games for KCNC-TV in the 1990s as the color commentator.

Cliff Meely

- First-Team All-American
- Three-Time All-Big Eight Performer
- Set 16 Colorado and 8 Big Eight Conference Records
- Six-year National Basketball Association Veteran

In exiting CU following his senior year with all the scoring records and as the runner-up in all the rebounding marks, some three-plus decades later Cliff Meely still holds the mark for single game (47), season (729) scoring, and is third in career points (1,940) and second in rebounds (971). His name remains either at or near the top in over a dozen statistical categories, and he still owns the two top single season scoring averages in CU history: 28.0 as a senior in 1970-71 and 23.8 as a sophomore in 1968-69. The 12.1 rebounds per game average for his career remains one of the top numbers ever posted collegiately.

Meely led Colorado to the Big Eight title in 1968-69, as the Buffaloes were 21-7 with a 10-4 mark in league play. A three-time All-Big Eight team member, he earned first-team All-America honors as a senior, and set 16 school and eight conference records during his career. Additionally, Meely's 24.3 points per game scoring average is still a school record. Meely was a leader on the Buffs' last Big Eight Conference title team. Overall, the Buffs won 49 games during his time on the CU campus under late coach Russell "Sox" Walseth, the fourth most over any three-year span in CU history, with his jersey number (20) just one of two retired in CU annals. Meely went on to play six seasons in the National Basketball Association with the Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers.

In 1995-96, Meely was named to the Associated Press' all-time Big Eight Conference Basketball first team. Along with Meely, the late Wayman Tisdale (Oklahoma), Danny Manning (Kansas) Jo Jo White (Kansas State), and Rolando Blackman (Kansas State) were named to the team. In addition the conference honor, Meely also earned the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Award presented to six former collegiate athletes who have gained recognition or done great work in their postgraduate careers.

Russell "Sox" Walseth

- Six letters at Colorado in basketball and baseball
- Winningest coach in CU men's basketball history
- Six-time conference Coach of the Year
- First to coach the men's and women's program at the same school

A player and long-time basketball coach at Colorado, Russell "Sox" Walseth was likely the first and one of just a few to have coached both the men's and women's program at the same NCAA school. His time at CU spanned 38 years, starting as an athlete in the 1940s when he lettered in both basketball and baseball. He then worked as the head freshman coach for five years (three under his coach, Frosty Cox, and two under H.B. Lee); after two years as head coach at South Dakota State, he replaced Lee for the 1956-57 season and would proceed to coach 20 Buffalo teams. The winningest coach in CU men's basketball history, posting a 261-245 record, the Buffs won three Big Eight titles under his direction, in 1961-62, 1962-63 and 1968-69. He was the Big Eight Conference coach of the year on five occasions, and his star players included Ken Charlton, Jim Davis, Cliff Meely and Scott Wedman. He then coached the women's team from 1980-83, then known as the "Lady Buffs," compiling an impressive 77-21 record. That mark included an incredible 43-0 record at home, and once again, he earned coach of the year accolades. The basketball floor at the Coors Events/Conference Center is named after him, and he is a member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame.
