COLORADO SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE: The University of Colorado Sports Information Office welcomes and encourages your interest in Colorado Basketball. We will make every effort to service your needs in covering the Buffs. The Sports Information Office maintains information on all current student-athletes and athletic department staff, as well as historical data on former athletes and Colorado's athletic department in general. The Sports Information Office is located in the Balch Fieldhouse Annex on the west side of Folsom Field.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS: Credentials for University of Colorado home men's basketball games can be obtained by e-mailing, faxing, writing or calling the CU Sports Information Office the week prior to the scheduled game. Credentials will be left at the southwest entrance on the third floor of the Coors Events Center.

ROAD GAME CREDENTIALS: Media credentials for Colorado road games can either be requested through CU's or the opponent's men's basketball sports information contact. Please be specific when requesting the type of credential needed.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photo passes are available for working photographers for officially recognized media outlets, and/or individuals on special assignment. Requests should be addressed in the same manner as media credentials.

VISITING RADIO PERSONNEL: Visiting radio personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Sports Information Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. Phone and ISDN lines are available for the opponent radio station next to the opponent bench for all home games.

MEDIA WORKROOM: A media workroom, located on the ground level of the Coors Events Center tunnel at the BuffVision studios.

MEDIA SERVICES: Game notes containing updated team and individual statistics, information on upcoming games, Pac-12 Conference standings prior to each non-tournament game throughout the season. Game notes, media guides and roster information, as well as opponent materials can be picked up before every game in the media workroom in the Coors Events Center. Copies of the box score and play-by-play information, as well as post-game quotes, can be e-mailed or faxed to your outlet at the conclusion of each game, home or away.

PHOTOGRAPHY: High-quality photography are available through the Sports Information Office. To request photographs of current CU players and staff, please contact the CU Sports Information Office. Please specify four-color or grayscale, as well as desired resolution and format.

PRESS ROW SERVICES: Working media will be provided with full play-by-play and box score statistics at halftime and following the game, along with coach and player quotes following the game.

POST-GAME INTERVIEW POLICIES: After a short cooling off period, Colorado head coach Tad Boyle and selected players will be available in the Coors Events Center tunnel at the BuffVision studios. The visiting head coach and selected players will address the media outside their lockerroom. All requests for player or coach interviews from either home or visiting teams should be directed to a CU Sports Information staff member. The Colorado and opponent lockerrooms are closed to the media.

INTERVIEW POLICIES:

1. Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Colorado Sports Information Office and assistant director Andrew Green.
2. Tad Boyle will be available on the Pac-12 Teleconference on a weekly basis during the season. Dates and times are to be announced.
3. All practices are open to the local media. Visiting media must receive authorization to attend practice through the Sports Information, which will in turn seek approval from Head Coach Tad Boyle. Live television shots must be approved by the Sports Information Office and Tad Boyle in advance.
4. Talking is not permitted on the floor and court area of the Coors Events Center while practice is in session unless it is to request a player or coach for an interview.
5. All interviews on game days, prior to tip-off, are at the discretion of Tad Boyle.
6. The lockerroom is closed to the media at all times.
7. The training room, equipment room and weight room are off-limits at all times to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested, and approval must be sought in advance from the Sports Information Office and the appropriate department head.
8. Sunday is the standard day off for players and coaches during the Pac-12 season and varies during the non-conference season. Any requests for athletes and coaches on Sundays and other off days will be handled on an individual basis through the Sports Information Office.
9. Road practices are closed, however head coach Tad Boyle is available for interviews with opponent media based on his personal discretion.
10. It is the request of the University of Colorado men's basketball program that the coaches and student-athletes are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player himself or through Andrew Green. Though most phone numbers are available through campus information, players are allowed and encouraged to decline interviews when they have been reached at home when that interview has not been approved.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE

Conference History

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back nearly a century to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland. The original membership consisted of four schools — the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference, essentially replacing Colorado, which left for the Big 7 two years earlier. The PCC continued as a nine-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities was formed and Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as commissioner of the Pac-8.

On July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Thomas C. Hansen was named the commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

During the 2010-11 academic year, Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the conference into a modern 12-team league by adding the University of Colorado and the University of Utah. The addition of CU and Utah led to an agreement to equal revenue sharing for the first time in conference history, created two divisions (North and South) for football only, established a football championship game for the first time ever, secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school and established the Pac-12 Network and Pac-12 Digital Network that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, as the Buffaloes were the first domino to fall in a change of the national landscape which, in just one week, saw Nebraska also leave the Big 12 and join the Big 10, Boise State depart the WAC for the Mountain West, TCU jump from the MWC for the Big East, and then on June 17, Utah agreeing to join CU to make it an even dozen in the Pac-12. Big-time rivals for the first half of the last century, the Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978. During the 33 years between expansions, Pac-10 teams claimed 258 NCAA titles (130 women's, 128 men's).

At present, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the conference schools are members of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports. CU participates in the MPSF in indoor track and will in women's lacrosse come 2014, and already competes in the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association (RMISA) in skiing, which is a coed sport.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

Pac-12 Commissioner Larry Scott

Conference of Champions

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushers in a new era with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference on July 1, 2011.

The Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions"®, claiming an incredible 180 NCAA team titles over the past two decades, including nine in 2010-11, averaging nearly nine championships per academic year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 27 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led the nation in NCAA Championships in 45 of the last 51 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 400 championships in 2010-11. With the inclusion of CU and UU, league teams have captured 451 NCAA titles through the 2011-12 season (306 men's, 145 women's), outdistancing the next closest conference by nearly 200.

In each of the last two years (2010-11, 2011-12) the then-Pac-10 and now the Pac-12 has led the country with nine NCAA titles, with men's and women's programs sharing the wealth with five NCAA women's titles and four men's crowns in each of those years.

Including titles previously won by Colorado and Utah, Pac-12 members have won 306 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 89 more than the next closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12: 16 basketball titles by six schools (more than any other conference), 53 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track & field crowns and 27 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 43 NCAA titles in volleyball, 38 of 42 in water polo, 27 in skiing and 23 swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA men's individual champions, as well, boasting 2,073 individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 30 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 23 occasions, including 2011-12. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 145 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC (second with 88). Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 19 tennis crowns, 14 of the last 22 volleyball titles, 14 of the last 23 trophies in golf, and 13 in swimming and diving.

Pac-12 women student-athletes shine nationally on an individual basis, as well, having captured an unmatched 642 NCAA individual crowns, an average of nearly 21 championships per season.

Colorado and Utah have combined to win 15 coed skiing titles, one of three NCAA sports to score championships based on men's and women's results along with fencing and rifle. Combined, the newest Pac-12 entrants added 27 NCAA ski crowns and 148 individual champions to the league's coffers.

In the 2012 London Summer Olympics, athletes who hailed from Pac-12 schools won 45 medals; had the conference been a country, it would have finished fifth.

 Career: Seventh in blocked shots (109), ninth in rebounding (698), 19th in steals (97), and 68th in points scored (675) • 25 double-doubles, tied for ninth all-time (CU is 20-5 in those games) • CU is 16-5 in games when he has 12 or more rebounds in a game; 8-0 when grabbing 15 or more rebounds • Second straight year he has lead the team in rebounds (11.1), blocks (67), and steals (46) in the same season; joins Chauncey Billups and Matt Bullard as the only Buffs to lead the team in three categories (out of points, rebounds, assists, blocks, steals) in both his freshman and sophomore seasons • Through his first 74 career games, Roberson is averaging 9.4 rebounds per game, ranking sixth highest per game in CU history. However, Roberson is averaging 14.4 rebounds per 40 minutes played which ranks best among all CU players since minutes began being recorded in 1978-79. The previous high is Stephane Pelle (1999-2003) at over a full rebound less per 40 minutes (13.4) • Shooting 53.7 percent from the field over his two years (250-of-466).

 Nationally: Ranked third nationally in rebounds per game with 11.1 trailing the national leader (Siena's O.D. Anosike) by 1.4 rebounds per game • Roberson's third place finish is the highest finish by a CU player in rebounding since Alex Stivrins who finished sixth in the nation with an 11.7 average in the 1984-85 season • Roberson finished the season with 20 double-doubles (15-5 in those games), fifth nationally • No. 54 nationally in blocked shots (1.86) • Among all players entering the NCAA Tournament was second in rebounding and tied for fourth in double-doubles • Roberson ranked second in the nation (trailing only Kansas' Thomas Robinson, a consensus All-America selection) in defensive rebound percentage (29.6 percent) as calculated by Ken Pomeroy (kenpom.com). Defensive rebound percentage is the percentage of possible defensive rebounds a player gets.

 2011-12 (sophomore): Set the CU single-season rebounding record (401) breaking a 58-year old mark previously set by Burdette Haldorson (1954-55) • Set the single-season defensive rebounding record (290) breaking the 225 by Shaun Vandiver (1989-90), 23 years ago • Shattered sophomore season record for most rebounds (401) topping old mark of 337 (Cliff Meely in 1968-69, 44 years ago) • First CU player to average a double-double for the entire season (11.6 ppg., 11.1 rpg.) since Stephane Pelle (2001-02; 12.8 ppg., 10.8 rpg.) • Became the 12th player in school history to lead the team in rebounding in back-to-back seasons, but only the second since 1994 (joining Stephane Pelle in 2001-02, 2002-03) • His 11.1 per game rebounding average was the highest since Shaun Vandiver hauled in 11.2 per in 1989-90 • 67 blocked shots, the most in a season since David Harrison had 85 in 2003-04 • 20 double-doubles (CU went 15-5), tied for the third most in a single season in CU history (with Cliff Meely, '68-69) • Grabbed 111 offensive rebounds, ranking third in school history • Scored 20 or more points in a game three times, tying for the team lead • Grabbed eight or more rebounds in 32 of 36 games during the season • Averaged a team-high 30.2 minutes per game and shot a team-best 50.2 percent from the field • Second in scoring (11.6 ppg.) and free throws made (102) • One of the key contributors that helped Colorado earn its first NCAA Tournament berth since the 2002-03 season (nine years) and only the third NCAA Tournament appearance since 1968-69 (43 years) • Member of the Pac-12 Conference Tournament Championship team and the automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament winning four games in four days at the Staples Center in Los Angeles.

Pac-12 (all games): First in rebounding (11.1 rpg.), first in offensive (3.1 rpg.), defensive rebounding (8.1 rpg.) • Tied for first in blocked shots per game (1.9) • Only player to average a double-double among all players in the Pac-12 (all games & conference-only games).

Pac-12 (conference only): First in rebounding (10.9 rpg.), first in blocked shots (2.3 bpg.), first in defensive rebounds (8.2), second in offensive rebounds (2.8) • Roberson averaged more defensive rebounds per game (8.1) in all games than any other player in the Pac-12 averaged total rebounds per game • Seven blocks against Oregon (Feb. 4) is the second highest for the season in the conference, and the most by a CU player since David Harrison had seven on Feb. 18, 2004 vs. Texas Tech. Of his 67 blocks on the season, 37 have resulted in a defensive rebound for CU (55.2 percent) • Helped CU as a team ranking first in defensive rebounds (25.9 rpg.) and first in defensive rebounding percentage (.731) • Grabbed a career-high 17 rebounds against Utah (Dec. 31) becoming the first player since 2006 to record that many boards in a game.

Pac-12 Tournament: Averaged 14.8 points and 10.3 rebounds per game, in addition to having seven steals, seven assists and seven blocked shots; also made four three-pointers (seven attempts, .571 percentage) • Shot 66.7 percent during the Pac-12 Tournament (20-of-30). Roberson made 11 straight field goal attempts dating back to the game-winning put back against Oregon in the quarterfinals. His streak ties for the third longest, and just one off the school record of 12 held by teammates Rodell "House" Guest and Shaun Vandiver one year apart. Roberson's 11-straight are the most on the road or at a neutral site. His 6-of-6 performance from the field against Cal, which included two 3-pointers, was a career-best percentage wise.

Awards: All-Pac-12 Conference First Team • All-Pac-12 All-Defensive Team • Pac-12 All-Tournament Team • Male Athlete of the Year Award winner at the 12th Annual CUSPY Awards (CU Sports Performers of the Year) • University of Colorado men's basketball Stephane Pelle Rebounding Award USBWA All-District 8 Team • Earned his second straight Stephane Pelle Rebounding Award (team award) • NABC All-District 20

2012 EUROPE TOUR

BUFFS EMBARKED ON 5-GAME, 10-DAY EUROPEAN TOUR

The University of Colorado men's basketball team traveled across the Atlantic Ocean for a five-game, 10-day European trip in August taking them to Paris (France), Antwerp (Belgium) and Amsterdam (The Netherlands). It's the second time in history the CU men's basketball team has traveled to Europe for an exhibition tour in the off-season.

In 1997 from May 20-30, the CU men's basketball team played squads from England and Germany achieving a 2-2 record. In September of 2006, CU travelled to Vancouver, British Columbia winning all three games they played in.

This past August 13, CU left Denver International Airport (DIA) on Monday morning en route to Chicago, then landed in Paris the following day at 9:25 a.m. local time (8 hours and 20 minutes later) on Aug. 14.

All three European cities were eight hours ahead of mountain time.

The basketball team stayed in Paris three nights and started play against the AMW France Elite team on back-to-back nights.

Game #1 (August 15) CU dropped an 86-73 decision as sophomores Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker each scored 13 points to pace the Buffaloes, while junior forward Andre Roberson added 11 points and 20 rebounds. Kevin Seraphin led all scorers with 24 points for the winners. Michel Toti and Ada Sane chipped-in with 16 and 14 points, respectively for AMW France.

The more experienced collection of professional players from the AMW France All-Stars led throughout the game in a close back-for-forth dual with the younger Buffaloes. With CU trailing 50-47 at the break, the Buffs jumped ahead early in the third quarter (international play 10 minute quarters) on a Booker three-point play and freshman forward Josh Scott's layup, giving CU a 52-50 lead after holding the home team scoreless for 3:15 minutes to open the third quarter. AMW France pulled even and took the lead for good, and led by as many as nine points on the strength of a pair of treys.

CU trailed 59-56 in the third quarter with five freshmen on the court at the same time. From there, it was a close battle as AMW France slowly pulled away pushing ahead 75-69 with 5:36 to play. Freshman Xavier Johnson recorded nine points and seven rebounds in his college debut, while Scott added 12 points on 6-of-9 shooting.

Game #2 (August 16) Both teams again played one another the following night as freshman Josh Scott tied a team-high 13 points with 10 rebounds, and junior Andre Roberson added 13 points, nine rebounds and four steals in CU's 91-74 loss against the AMW France Elite "Pro A" All-Stars at the Stade Pierre de Coubertin in Paris.

The Buffs started strong racing out to a 9-0 lead keeping the home team scoreless through the first 7:25 of the first quarter. Roberson's three-point play on a dunk after a steal pushed CU into a commanding 11-2 lead 4:35 remaining in the quarter. However, AMW France countered and evened the game at 15-15 after 10 minutes of play.

The second quarter remained close until AMW pulled away outscoring the Americans, 26-17 in the latter 10 minutes taking a 41-32 lead at the half. The home team broke open the third quarter outscoring CU, 31-25 and erupting for 11-of-14 shooting from the field (78.6 percent), including four, three-pointers. AMW pushed its advantage to at least 13 points on two occasions in the second half. Kevin Seraphin led all scorers with 16 points (8-of-14 FG shooting) and Giovan Oniangue added 14 points and four rebounds.

The French shot 58.3 percent from the field (35-of-60) for the game. CU was led by freshman Xavier Johnson off the bench with 12 points and five rebounds, while sophomore Spencer Dinwiddie added seven points and four boards. Senior Sabatino Chen had six rebounds and sophomore Askia Booker added 10 points.

Among the activities the team experienced other than basketball was a Paris city tour that including The Eiffel Tower, a Seine River Cruise, the Louvre Museum, the Arc de Triomphe, and the Champs-Elysees.

The team left Paris and travelled by bus to Bruges, Belgium, western Europe's most-visited medieval cities for lunch and a city tour. The city was picturesque city squares and canals. The tour guide said Bruges was untouched during both World Wars.

Game #3 (August 18) Freshman Josh Scott scored a game-high 19 points leading CU with a balanced scoring attack as the Buffaloes broke open a close game in the third quarter into a 91-63 rout over Optima Ghent at the Sportarena Tolhuis. Day five of CU's 10-day European Trip saw junior Andre Roberson add 15 points and 14 rebounds, sophomore Askia Booker chip-in with 18 points and six assists, with freshmen Chris Jenkins and Xavier Johnson adding 12 and 10 points, respectively. Jenkins and Johnson grabbed six rebounds apiece.

"We made fewer defensive mistakes with fewer breakdowns, that's why we gave up 63 points rather than 80's, 90's in which we did the first two games," said CU head coach Tad Boyle. "Obviously, the level of competition tonight wasn't what it was like the first two games. I was really pleased with the way our team responded. We had about an hour and an half film session this afternoon and that, I think the guys took it to heart and really tried to go out on the floor and execute the things we talked about."

The game was close through the first 30 minutes (10-minute quarters) with CU holding a 59-53 lead, then raced out to a crushing 32-10 fourth quarter, limiting the Dragons to 10 points in the final stanza. CU scored six straight points to open the quarter increasing its advantage to 65-53 before Optima Ghent scored on a three-pointer.

From there, the rout was on as CU went on a 16-0 run with a strong display of inside and perimeter play led by Roberson's eight points. The Americans dominated the glass with a 50-19 advantage (23 offensive) and shot 45.8 percent from the field compared to the home team's 40 percent.

The Buffs trailed after the first quarter 22-19, however led each quarter thereafter. Scott was 9-of-15 from the field; Booker was 8-of-11; and Roberson went 7-of-13, along with three steals. Thomas Van de Vandel led Optima Ghent with 19 points.

Game #4 (August 19) Trailing by 10 points with two minutes to play, the CU men's basketball team almost pulled off a stunning come-from-behind victory from its underclassmen, only to fall in the final seconds to Gembo BCC, Borgerhout, 88-86 at the Sporthal Luisbekeleer. The Buffaloes played the entire game without its upperclassmen presence of Askia Booker, Sabatino Chen, Spencer Dinwiddie, and Andre Roberson.

CU countered with the entire game on Sunday with all six freshmen, first-year transfer players, and their returning reserves from a year ago. Most of CU's firepower that generated 56.2 percent scoring and 70.5 percent of rebounding a year ago, did not play. The Americans started the game with forwards Wesley Gordon and Xavier Johnson; guards Xavier Talton, Eli Stalzer and Chris Jenkins. Forwards Josh Scott and Xavier Johnson came off the bench with juniors Ben Mills and Kevin Nelson and sophomore transfer Beau Gamble seeing minutes.

Scott led all scorers with 24 points with six rebounds and a blocked shot.

"We added a fifth game on this trip trying to get some guys as many minutes, and as much as a flow of the game in a normal situation, to give them that experience, so we went with a nine-man rotation," said CU head coach Tad Boyle.

"It gave us a great look into our freshmen class that are not normally in the rotation and getting them some minutes, so I thought the way we competed and lose by two to a very quality team that I think is better than the team we beat last night (Sat., Aug. 18), it gives us a lot of things to build on. The thing about this trip, is you want to learn as much as you can about your young players and we had a chance to do that today."

The Buffaloes were playing their second game in less than 24 hours were also led by Jenkins with 17 points and eight rebounds; Stalzer scored 10 points with six steals; and Gordon chipped-in with seven rebounds, six points, two steals and two blocks. Johnson added 11 points.

Trailing 74-66 with 1:47 to play, Gembo BBC made back-to-back treys for what seemed like a commanding 84-74 lead. Scott scored the next bucket with a power move in the paint, then Nelson added four points, inching CU closer and an 86-83 deficit with 16.6 seconds to play. With no timeouts, CU managed to force the home team into a turnover where Jenkins subsequently missed a three-pointer to tie. Gembo BBC added a pair of free throws for an 88-83 lead and Stalzer closed the gap with a three-pointer at the buzzer. Gembo, whose average age is 28, was the Belgian Division II 2011-2012 champion and returned 10 players from its title team a year ago were led by Domien Loubry with 22 points and six three-pointers.

Four CU players, Talton, Scott, Gordon, Johnson, all fouled out one-by-one in the fourth quarter.

CU shot 45.9 percent from the field (28-of-61) and committed 29 turnovers. Gembo BBC shot 49.2 percent for the game (29-of-59).

Game #5 (August 20) In their final game of the tour, the Buffaloes broke open a six-point first quarter lead into a 23-point cushion at halftime and cruised to a 96-57 victory over the Rotterdam Challengers at the Topsportcentrum. The Buffaloes dominated every facet of the game from a 55-29 advantage on the glass and forced Rotterdam into 25 turnovers. CU shot 47 percent from the field (41-of-87) to wrap up the five-game exhibition against semi-professional teams from France, Belgium and The Netherlands with a 2-3 record.

"Tonight was our best performance as a team; offensively, defensively, our bench played very well and I was really pleased with the way we played," said CU head coach Tad Boyle. "Individually, there were some great performances as well. The best thing from this trip is every player really improved; every player got a chance to play and get in the flow of real-live game situations against good competition. This trip is invaluable to our program this year."

CU recorded a five-game best 47 made field goals with four players in double figures led by freshman Josh Scott with 19 points (8-of-13) and five rebounds; junior Andre Roberson (18 points, 12 rebounds) and freshman Xavier Johnson (11 points, 10 rebounds) notched double-doubles; and senior Sabatino Chen poured in 11 points, six rebounds, six assists, and six steals.

Freshman Wesley Gordon chipped-in with eight points and six rebounds, while sophomore Askia Booker added nine points and five assists. Everyone played in the game for CU with 11 of 13 players scoring (Dinwiddie and Beau Gamble six points each; Xavier Talton four points and five rebounds; Ben Mills and Eli Stalzer two points each). Juniors Jeremy Adams and Shane Harris-Tunks did not play in any of the five games as both were nursing injuries.

With a six-point first quarter lead (26-20) engineered by Scott's seven points and Chen's four assists, CU held the Challengers scoreless through the first 4:40 of the second quarter, jumping out to a 34-20 lead before the home team scored their first basket.

CU then raced out to a 42-22 margin behind Scott's eight points, then three-point plays by Booker and Dinwiddie pushed their advantage to 57-34 at the break. Rotterdam was out-scored 31-14 in the second quarter, while CU also dominated the glass during the first 20 minutes by a 32-13 margin.

The third quarter was the same as the second as Chen scored six of CU's next 10 points for a 67-34 lead, while Rotterdam could only generate 10 points in the third quarter. CU's starters out-scored Rotterdam's, 53-27. The game's attendance was also played in front of a well-attended crowd (374 in attendance) and was easily the most-attended game surpassing the previous four games combined.

CU closed its stay in Amsterdam on Tuesday with a tour of the Anne Frank House in the afternoon followed by a Canal Cruise and BBQ farewell dinner. Wednesday morning the Buffaloes departed Amsterdam en route to Chicago then Denver.

2012 BUFF MADNESS/PAC-12 RING PRESENTATION

The defending Pac-12 Conference tournament champions Colorado Buffaloes kicked off the 2012-13 basketball season in a way it never has before.

On Thursday, October 12 at the Colorado vs. Arizona State football game, all players from the 2011-12 championship team—with the exception of Carlton Brown, Austin Dufault, Shannon Sharpe, and Nate Tomlinson who were unable to attend—received a standing ovation from the 46,000 fans in attendance as Pac-12 commissioner Larry Scott presented the 10 players with their championship rings.

Colorado sophomore guard Askia Booker said, "To be out there and get that award in front of everybody and all the fans that supported us, I think it was a great night." Booker said he gave the ring to his mother as a symbol of all the hard-work he put forth during his freshman year of college.

The following night would entail more excitement with the inaugural 'Buffs Madness.' The event centered around the first day of basketball practice was intended to entertain fans and build upon the enthusiasm and momentum garnered from last year's championship season.

Sophomore guard Spencer Dinwiddie and junior forward Andre Roberson helped make the event possible by not only persuading head coach Tad Boyle to permit the idea, but also promoting the event through social media sites such as Twitter and Facebook.

Dinwiddie said, "We took it to Twitter trying to get fan support and once they backed it up, that's how the whole genesis of the thing transpired, because (the fans) are the ones that really made it happen, not so much us."

Over 3,000 fans were in attendance and treated to a variety of festivities including a three-point contest, 10-minute scrimmage, and a humorous video of the team performing the "Gangnam Style" dance made famous by the artist PSY.

Students in attendance also received free pizza, delivered personally by Coach Boyle and women's head coach Linda Lappe.

"We wanted to do something special for them and also generate excitement for the upcoming season because we think we are building something special this year too," said Dinwiddie. "I'm just happy they let us have it, because I think it is a good event and it will grow and build and be more fun within the years to come."

'Buffs Madness' was certainly an evening enjoyed by all on hand and like his sophomore counterpart, Booker agreed that, "they have no choice (but to continue the event), as long as I'm here, I'm going to make it a tradition."

In two seasons at the helm of the University of Colorado men's basketball program, Colorado native Tad Boyle has made the Coors Events Center in Boulder the place to be for the basketball fan from November to March.

Boyle continues to make most of his "dream job" a reality for CU fans everywhere guiding the Buffaloes to the 2011-12 NCAA Tournament (third round), another 24-win season, in addition to a conference championship in its inaugural season of the Pac-12 by winning four games in four days.

For his efforts, Boyle became the first CU head coach to earn the District 20 Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), an award voted among his coaching peers. He is the first CU coach to win 20 or more games in back-to-back years, and his 48 wins, are a school-best in any two-year span of the program (CU has six 20-win seasons, Boyle has two of them).

On Memorial Day (May 2012), Boyle was named the official starter of the 34th Annual Bolder Boulder, the fifth largest road race in the world, and in Sept. 2012, he was invited to Washington, D.C. to members of Congress and other college basketball coaches to urge Congress to protect federal funding for cancer research and prevention programs on Capitol Hill.

In 2010-11, he began to set the standard by a first-year head coach, capping the season with a trip to the World's Most Famous Arena - Madison Square Garden, and a National Invitation Tournament semifinal appearance. He won a school-record 24 games and his popularity, and of his team helped the Coors Events Center set four attendance records.

"They're the heartbeat of this arena, they are the difference makers," Boyle said of the Coors Events Center crowd after a home victory in 2011-12. "To have that (student) section full was key, and I just want them to know that we appreciate and need them."

In two years, Boyle and his coaching staff are 32-4 (.889) at home.

Named the 18th head coach in CU men's basketball history, Boyle, 49, has already etched his name among the school's great coaches. In only two years, he has won a school-record 10 post-season games (three losses); tied the school mark with six post-season conference tournament wins (four in Pac-12; two in Big 12); and winning his 40th game (home win vs. Oregon) in just 61 games tying Frosty Cox (1935-39).

Boyle is also the first CU coach to begin the conference season with back-to-back 3-0 starts and the first coach since Cox (1935-36, 1936-37) to win his conference opener in back-to-back years.

During his initial season in Boulder, Boyle became the first head coach in 20 years to win his coaching debut; becoming the first CU coach since H.B. Lee (1950-51) to win his first two conference games in his first year; in addition, becoming the first Buff head coach since Henry Iba (1933-34) to win his first three conference games.

"This is it (my dream job), there's no doubt," Boyle said after being named head coach on April 19, 2010. "I remember talking with Mark Turgeon once when he asked me where I wanted to be in 10 years, and I said the head coach at the University of Colorado. This is a destination job. I'm humbled and honored."

In his first season in Boulder, Boyle led the Buffs to a school-record 18 home wins and their highest Big 12 finish (t-5th) since 2005-06. CU also ranked first in the Big 12, and fifth nationally in free throw percentage (77.8) for the 2010-11 season. Boyle's efficient attack also ranked 12th nationally in scoring (79.6 ppg) and 19th nationally in field goal percentage (47.3).

Boyle earned National Coach of the Week honors (Hoops Report, Jan. 10-16) after leading the Buffs to a 3-0 conference start, including wins over No. 9/8 Missouri and No. 21/20 Kansas State. The win over the Wildcats gave CU its first road win over a nationally ranked opponent since defeating No. 20 Texas Tech in January of 1997. CU defeated four ranked teams, including a 22-point comeback win to upset No. 5/5 Texas, 91-89.

Prior to his arrival to Boulder, Boyle resurrected the basketball program at the University of Northern Colorado, where he guided the Bears to a 56-66 record (.459) the past four seasons, including a breakout season in 2009-10, when the Bears were 25-8 (.758) and finished second in the Big Sky Conference. For his efforts, he was awarded the NABC Division I All-District Coach of the Year, the Big Sky Coach of the Year by both The Sporting News and CollegeInsider.com, where he was also named a finalist for the National Mid-Major Coach of the Year award.

"This exciting process was all about both the young men we have currently and those in the future who will be joining our program, and is an investment in them and represents the competitive spirit, teamwork, passion and dedication they stand for," CU athletic director Mike Bohn said.

"Tad Boyle represents everything that is right about college basketball. We look forward to his leadership, poise and competitive drive to unite all our collective Buff interests to support our team and this enterprise that has so much promise for the long term."

A Greeley, Colo., native, Boyle was named the 17th coach in UNC history on April 25, 2006. At that point, the Bears were in the midst of a transition to Division I in its first season as a member of the Big Sky Conference.

Northern Colorado finished 4-24 in his first season when squad finished last nationally in the final RPI rankings for that season. There were, however, flashes of times to come that season, including close losses to both Colorado (88-86) and Colorado State (75-66).

Over the next two seasons at UNC, he improved the team's win total from four to 13 and then 14. The Bears defeated Colorado State, 72-59, in his second season and also knocked off San Diego State, 72-59. The Aztecs were ranked among the nation's top 50 teams in the RPI rankings at that time. In year three, the Bears had improved from one conference win his first season to an even 8-8 mark and earned the school's first Division I post season trip, to the Sun Belt Conference Tournament.

It all came together for Boyle in his fourth season in Greeley, as the Bears advanced to the post season for the first time in school history, advancing to the quarterfinals of the CollegeInsiders.com Tournament while racking up a school record 25 victories. He coached one first-team All-Big Sky member and also the Big Sky Conference Defensive Player of the Year.

Prior to Northern Colorado, he spent six seasons as an assistant coach at Wichita State and was part of another turn around that saw the Shockers improve from 9-19 (.321) his first year there to one of the nation's top mid-major teams in 2006 when Wichita State went 26-9 and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. The Shockers eventually lost to Final Four Cinderella George Mason in the regional semifinals, but not before they had secured the No. 21 ranking in the final collegiate polls.

Boyle played collegiately at Kansas (1981-85) and for legendary coach Larry Brown. He was a member of two NCAA Tournament teams (1984, 1985) and was part of the 1984 Big Eight Tournament championship squad. As a senior, Boyle captained the Jayhawks, which featured freshman Danny Manning, who three years later led the Jayhawks to the NCAA Championship.

After earning a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Kansas in 1985, Boyle went on to serve six years as a high school basketball coach at various Colorado programs. He was the sophomore basketball coach at Greeley (Colo.) West for a year and then was an assistant coach at Loveland (Colo.) High School for two years.

From there, he served at Longmont (Colo.) High School for three years before returning to the college ranks.

It was at Kansas that Boyle played alongside Turgeon, whom he also coached with at Oregon under Jerry Green. Boyle's first collegiate coaching job in 1994 was on Green's Ducks staff, where he spent three seasons and helped the Ducks to the 1995 NCAA Tournament and the 1997 National Invitational Tournament. In 1997, Boyle followed Green to Tennessee, where he was director of basketball operations when the Vols won 20 games and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Boyle reconnected with Turgeon the following year, this time as an assistant coach at Jacksonville State (Ala.), where they helped turn a team that was 8-18 into a 17-11 squad in just one season.

Before heading to play collegiately at Kansas, Boyle was a standout performer at Greeley Central High School, where he led the Wildcats to a state championship as a senior in 1981 and earned Colorado Player of the Year honors as well as being selected to the Converse All-American team. His high school jersey was retired at the conclusion of his senior season.

Boyle is married to the former Ann Schell of Greeley, and they have two sons, Jack and Pete, and a daughter, Claire.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ...

"I want to say the job that Tad Boyle has done at Colorado, and what Colorado represents to the future of the Pac-12, I can make the argument that there's been no greater gift to college basketball in the Pac-12 than adding Colorado. They are well-coached, play extremely hard, very good on defense. They have talented players now. I feel like they have some really talented players coming in. I wish them the very best in the NCAA Tournament. Whoever draws them is running into a hungry, well-coached, disciplined team." — Arizona Head Coach Sean Miller after the Pac-12 Championship game (March 10, 2012)

"I'm a believer in Tad Boyle. He is not only a terrific teacher of the game with great basketball knowledge, he keeps it simple and gives his players an understanding of what you need to do to win, but a firm understanding of how teams lose, too. Boyle has tremendous toughness in him. He is demanding without being demeaning, and he puts his players in position to achieve together without fear of failing. That's what truly outstanding coaches do, and Tad Boyle is a truly outstanding coach." — Jay Bilas, ESPN (August 8, 2012)

"Colorado had the most boisterous contingent at the Pit during the NCAA tournament. The black and gold fans in Albuquerque were loud, proud and committed to ensuring the Buffaloes were well represented. I was there. I heard it. It was obvious to anyone in the arena. The Buffaloes were rewarded with an NCAA tournament win over UNLV — their first such victory in 15 years — before losing to Baylor in the round of 32. This was Colorado, and the sport they were cheering was men's basketball. Now that's progress. The CU fan base had rarely been known as well traveled (or loud) during its days in the Big 12. Yet something has changed in Boulder — for the better — since Colorado's move to the Pac-12. Now the fan base has something to cheer about: a team that isn't going to shy away from its newfound success under Tad Boyle, who is entering this third season with the Buffs." — Andy Katz / ESPN.com (July 17, 2012)

TAD BOYLE COACHING TREE

Below is a diagram of all the head coaches that Boyle played for or coached under at the college level, and all the mentors those coaches played for or coached under, etc. going all the way back to Dr. James Naismith. The shortest route tracing Boyle back to the game's inventor is only four generations (going either from Larry Brown to Dean Smith to Phog Allen to Naismith, or from Ted Owens to Dick Harp to Allen to Naismith). Boyle is a direct descendant of seven members of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame as well as a charter member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Notable "cousins" along the way are also mentioned:

ASSISTANT COACH JEAN PRIOLEAU

Jean Prioleau enters his third year with the University of Colorado men's basketball coaching staff bringing a wealth of expertise on and off the court.

Over his two years in Boulder, Prioleau has helped the Buffaloes enjoy their finest seasons to date with back-to-back 24-win campaigns in 2010-2011 and 2011-2012. The 48 wins are the best two-year span in the history of CU basketball, in addition, the coaching staff has also achieved a 32-4 home record (.889) with nine sellouts at the Coors Events Center.

In 2011-2012, Prioleau helped CU earn its first NCAA Tournament appearance in nine years, upsetting No. 6 UNLV in the second round and advancing to the third round. At the inaugural Pac-12 Conference tournament, the Buffs became just the 10th team in the nation to win at least four games in four days to capture the tournament title (a CU first since winning the Big 8 in 1968-69).

Over the last two seasons, a number of student-athletes have earned conference accolades under Prioleau's tutelage. In CU's last year of the Big 12 Conference, Alec Burks (first team, Big 12 All-Tournament team), Cory Higgins (second team), Levi Knutson (co-sixth man) all earned honors in 2010-11.

In their first year of the Pac-12 this past year, Andre Roberson (first team, All-Defensive, All-Tournament team), Carlon Brown (second team, tournament Most Outstanding Player), and Spencer Dinwiddie (freshman team) were named all-conference.

Assistant Coach, Fordham University

Prior to his arrival to CU, Prioleau was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Texas Christian University from 2008-2010. With the Horned Frogs, Prioleau not only served as the program's recruiting coordinator, but also was responsible for working with the TCU guards. Prioleau guided the development of TCU freshman Ronnie Moss as he became the first freshman since the 2001-2002 campaign to average double-digits as well as the progression of guards Edvinas Ruzgas and Keion Mitchem.

Prior to TCU, Prioleau spent two years on the coaching staff at Iowa State (2006-2008) where he helped the Cyclones record 29 victories during his time. In his two seasons, the Cyclones had three All-Big 12 Conference performers in Mike Taylor, Wesley Johnson and Jiri Hubalek. All three were ranked in the top-100 among in a pair of defensive categories.

Soon after accepting the position at Iowa State, Prioleau played an instrumental role in signing one of the top players for the Cyclones in Wesley Johnson. The 6-7 forward from Corsicana, Texas, proved to be a valuable find for the Cyclones as he garnered All-Big 12 Rookie Team accolades as well as honorable mention freshman All-American laurels during the 2006-2007 campaign.

Prior to joining the Iowa State program, Prioleau spent the 2005-2006 season as an assistant coach under former Marquette head coach and current Indiana University head coach Tom Crean. In his lone season with the Golden Eagles, Marquette recorded a 20-11 overall record and a 10-6 mark in Big East Conference en route to securing a spot in the NCAA Tournament. Prioleau was part of a Marquette program that ranked 11th in the country in three-point field goal percentage, 22nd in three-point field goals made per game and 43rd in the nation in scoring offense in his lone campaign. That season, Prioleau watched as the Golden Eagles posted victories over a trio of nationally-ranked opponents, including a 94-79 triumph over top-ranked UConn.

Before his stint with Marquette, Prioleau spent five seasons on the coaching staff at Wichita State (2000-2005) where he played a vital role in the resurgence and success of the Shockers in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Shockers earned a berth in the National Invitation Tournament on three occasions during Prioleau's tenure. During his five-year tenure, the Shockers never finished below a .500 overall or conference mark while winning 18 or more games in four of five seasons. The Shockers collected 94 total victories during Prioleau's tenure, including a pair of 20-win seasons in each of his final two campaigns with the program.

In addition to signing the top recruiting class in 2001 in the Missouri Valley Conference, Prioleau helped ink Sean Ogiri (Colorado Player of the Year), Paul Miller (2006 Missouri Valley Conference Player of the Year and 2001 Freshman of the Year), Jamar Howard (Missouri Valley Conference Defensive Player of the Year) and Randy Burns (Missouri Valley Conference Rookie of the Year).

"Jean has grown tremendously in this business in a very short period of time and what I like about him, the fact he's not only a good recruiter, a good basketball coach, he has a great basketball mind," Boyle said. "He's the full package in terms that some guys are labeled one thing or another, but he's got all the goods. I'm really fortunate to have him. He's been in the Big 12, the Big East, the Mountain West, so he knows this level of basketball and he's well-connected throughout the country."

During his professional career, Prioleau played in both domestic and international territories with stints coming in the USBL and CBA as well as pre-season training camps for the NBA's New York Knicks and Indiana Pacers. He also spent time overseas where he competed in Turkey, Italy and Switzerland. Following his graduation, Prioleau played professionally for the USBL's Long Island Surf prior to attending training camp for the Indiana Pacers Rookie/Free Agent Summer League. Prioleau was invited to the Pacers' veteran camp where he was the final cut made by the team one day prior to the start of the season.

In 1992-1993, Prioleau played for Yakima of the CBA before rejoining the Surf that summer. Prioleau made his second appearance at the Indiana Pacers' veteran camp before competing for Grand Rapids and Sioux Falls of the CBA. The following summer, he played for the New Jersey Nets' summer league team then signed a professional contract in Switzerland during the 1994-1995 season.

Prioleau began his coaching career at his alma mater - Fordham University - following an eight-year professional basketball career. During the 1999-00 campaign, Fordham recorded a 14-15 overall record and a 7-9 mark in Atlantic 10 Conference action in the lone season with Prioleau on the coaching staff. That season, Duke Freeman-McKamey was selected as the Most Improved Player in the Atlantic 10 Conference while Bevon Robin earned third team all-conference accolades.

A former standout at Fordham, Prioleau was inducted into the Athletics Hall of Fame in 2000 after concluding his career ranked second in all-time steals and assists, third in free throw percentage, fourth in field goals made and sixth in scoring. Prioleau guided the Rams to back-to-back Patriot League titles, including hitting the game-winning three-pointer in the 1992 Patriot League Championship Game.

The Rams advanced to the NCAA Tournament during the 1991-92 season for the first time since the 1971 campaign while Prioleau was selected as a first team All-Patriot League selection. He also guided the Rams to a pair of NIT Tournament appearances during the 1989-90 and 1990-91 seasons, including a 25-8 overall record during his junior campaign.

A 1992 graduate of Fordham University with a degree in physics, Prioleau is a member of both the NABC (National Association of Basketball Coaches) and BCA (Black Coaches Association).

Prioleau and his wife, Janelle, have a son, Elijah, born January 2011.

ASSISTANT COACH MIKE ROHN

Mike Rohn enters his third year as an assistant coach with the University of Colorado men's basketball team.

In his two years in Boulder, Rohn has helped the Buffaloes enjoy their finest seasons to date with back-to-back 24-win campaigns. The 48 wins are the best two-year span in the history of CU basketball, in addition, the coaching staff has achieved an impressive 32-4 home record (.889) with nine sellouts at the Coors Events Center.

In 2011-12, Rohn helped CU earn its first NCAA Tournament appearance in nine years, upsetting No. 6 UNLV in the second round and advancing to the third round. At the inaugural Pac-12 Conference tournament, the Buffs became just the 10th team in the nation to win at least four games in four days to capture the tournament title (a CU first since winning the Big 8 in 1968-69).

Over the last two seasons, a number of student-athletes have earned conference accolades under Rohn's tutelage. In CU's last year of the Big 12 Conference, Alec Burks (first team, Big 12 All-Tournament team), Cory Higgins (second team), Levi Knutson (co-sixth man) all earned honors in 2010-11. In their first year of the Pac-12 this year, Andre Roberson (first team, All-Defensive, All-Tournament team), Carlon Brown (second team, tournament Most Outstanding Player), and Spencer Dinwiddie (freshman team) were named all-conference.

"Mike's the ultimate grinder; loves to work, a tireless recruiter, a great basketball mind," head coach Tad Boyle said. "Both Mike and Jean (Prioleau), are the complete package as far as guys that they can relate to as players in the program, as well as recruit players into the program. I think it's important to have both, and both are good basketball guys."

Assistant Coach, McPherson College

Before arriving at CU, Rohn spent the previous three years as the director of basketball operations at Texas A&M (2007-2010) where he was part of the coaching staff that helped the Aggies to a trio of NCAA Tournament Round of 32 appearances. During those three years in College Station, the Aggies won 73 games, in addition to 28 Big 12 Conference games. A&M also led the conference in scoring defense (65.8 ppg.) for the first time in league history during the 2009-10 campaign.

At Wichita State, where Rohn spent seven years (2000-2007) as an assistant coach to Mark Turgeon, in addition with current CU assistant, Jean Prioleau, the Shockers engineered an impressive resume earning three-straight NIT trips (2003, 2004, 2005). During the 2005-06 season, the Shockers not only won their first Missouri Valley Conference championship in 19 years, they capped off a 26-9 record with a 2006 NCAA Tournament berth and a Sweet 16 appearance, a school-first in 18 years.

Rohn also helped coach fifth-year student-athlete Paul Miller capped off one of the best careers of any Shocker center by being named the MVC Player of the Year, the first Shocker to earn the award in 21 years, in addition to Jamar Howard (Missouri Valley Conference Defensive Player of the Year).

Prior to Wichita State, Rohn served three seasons as head coach from 1996-2000 at Dodge City (Kan.) Community College, where he built a 55-38 record and coached the Conquistadors to three consecutive state playoff appearances, including a 21-10 mark in 1999-2000. Rohn was also an assistant coach at Dodge City from 1993-96. In 1997, Dodge City was crowned the 1997 Jayhawk West Conference Champions.

"I'm very excited for the opportunity to back with coach Boyle," Rohn said. "Obviously, he's a good friend of mine and I have a lot confidence in his ability to lead this program. This program is really on the cusp of doing something really special and I think he's going to lead us into doing that, so it's a great opportunity for me and I'm fortunate to be here."

Rohn was a graduate assistant coach at Fort Hays State (1991-1993) while earning a master's degree in sports administration and coaching. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1990 from McPherson College, where he was a two-time all-conference selection. There he was named the league's newcomer of the year as a junior and was the conference player of the year as a senior. He also was named McPherson's Male Athlete of the Year in 1989.

He also served as an assistant coach at Colby Community College (1990-91) and at his alma mater, McPherson College (1989-1990). Rohn transferred to McPherson after playing two seasons at Dodge City Community College.

Mike, and his wife, Stephanie, have two daughters, Raegen and Rylee.

ASSISTANT COACH RODNEY BILLUPS

Rodney Billups begins his third year with the University of Colorado men's basketball team and enters his first year as an assistant coach on Tad Boyle's staff.

During his two years as the director basketball operations and not associated with the coaching duties on and off the court, Billups was an integral part of the behind-the-scenes success of the Buffaloes program with travel, scheduling, and the day-to-day operations of the program. In the summer, he is director of the CU basketball summer camps.

During his two years in Boulder, Billups has helped the Buffaloes enjoy their finest seasons to date with back-to-back 24-win campaigns, an NCAA Tournament (third round), and a NIT semifinal appearance at Madison Square Garden. The 48 wins are the best two-year span in the history of CU basketball, in addition, an impressive 32-4 home record (.889) with nine sellouts at the Coors Events Center.

Billups is the younger brother of former CU great Chauncey Billups, who played with the Buffaloes from 1995-97. The younger Billups is a Colorado native graduating from George Washington High School in 2001. He later was a three-year standout with the University of Denver Pioneers from 2002-05.

"Rodney's a Colorado guy; loves Colorado basketball and that means a lot to me," CU men's basketball coach Tad Boyle said. "He's a tremendous mentor and role model to the players we have in our program, as well as the group of players that we are bringing into the program in the coming years. Rodney's a bright, young coach who has a tremendous future in this business."

At DU, Billups averaged 10.2 points, 6.4 assists, and 3.2 rebounds during his 2004-05 senior season. In addition to leading the Sun Belt Conference in assists, he also ranked 17th nationally. He was named an All-SBC third team selection in 2004-05, the same season he helped the Pioneers win 20 games and a National Invitational Tournament berth.

Billups' 199 assists in his senior season, ranks third all-time in school history, while his 58 steals, ranks seventh. Over his three years at DU, Billups ranks fourth all-time in assists (418) and steals (154). For his career, he averaged 8.5 points per game, in addition to 4.6 assists, 2.7 rebounds and 1.7 steals per game.

In 2004-05, Billups was named co-recipient of the Floyd M. Theard Jr. Memorial Award. The award is presented each year to the DU men's basketball player who best displays the qualities of leadership, scholarship and sportsmanship.

Billups earned his business management degree from DU in 2005. After his collegiate days, he played professional basketball for ASK Riga in Latvia (2005-06), where he led the league in steals and assists. He also played one year in Finland (2006-07).

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT TOM ABATEMARCO

Tom Abatemarco enters his third year with the University of Colorado basketball staff and first year as the Director of Player Development.

This is the second stint for Abatemarco at CU having held the same position from 1990-93 under then-head coach Joe Harrington.

Over his two years in Boulder, Abatemarco has helped the Buffaloes enjoy their finest seasons to date with back-to-back 24-win campaigns in 2010-2011 and 2011-2012. The 48 wins are the best two-year span in the history of CU basketball, in addition, the coaching staff has also achieved a 32-4 home record (.889) with nine sellouts at the Coors Events Center.

In 2011-2012, Abatemarco helped CU earn its first NCAA Tournament appearance in nine years, upsetting No. 6 UNLV in the second round and advancing to the third round. At the inaugural Pac-12 Conference tournament, the Buffs became just the 10th team in the nation to win at least four games in four days to capture the tournament title (a CU first since winning the Big 8 in 1968-69).

Over the last two seasons, a number of student-athletes have earned conference accolades. In CU's last year of the Big 12 Conference, Alec Burks (first team, Big 12 All-Tournament team), Cory Higgins (second team), Levi Knutson (co-sixth man) all earned honors in 2010-11.

In their first year of the Pac-12 this past year, Andre Roberson (first team, All-Defensive, All-Tournament team), Carlton Brown (second team, tournament Most Outstanding Player), and Spencer Dinwiddie (freshman team) were named all-conference.

Before arriving to Boulder, Abatemarco served a brief stint with the Sacramento Kings as a player personnel and scouting coach. In addition, he spent seven years as a broadcaster with the Kings. Abatemarco also served as an assistant coach for the Reno Bighorns of the NBA Development League (NBDL) during its inaugural 2008-09 season, helping the team to a 25-25 record.

Abatemarco brings a wealth of coaching expertise from the professional and collegiate ranks. He enjoyed much success in the WNBA where he served as an assistant coach with the now-defunct Sacramento Monarchs from 2003-09.

During his six years with the Monarchs, he guided the team to the 2003 WNBA Western Conference Finals, a feat they would reach again in 2004, before winning a championship in 2005. The Monarchs would again reach the WNBA Finals in 2006, falling in the championship series.

Before making the transition to the WNBA, Abatemarco spent the previous 30 years on various college campuses as an assistant or head coach.

His college coaching experience includes stints at the University of Utah (2004-05) and Rutgers University (1994-97) after he spent three seasons at CU under Harrington from 1991-94.

In his first year with the Buffaloes in 1990-91, he helped CU to a 19-14 record and a NIT third place finish led by former school greats Shaun Vandiver and Stevie Wise. The 19 victories still rank as one of the top-10 seasons in CU history.

In addition to his head coaching position at Sacramento State (1997-2000), Abatemarco held two terms as an NCAA Division I head coach at Lamar University (1986-88) and Drake University (1988-90).

From 1982-86, Abatemarco served as assistant at North Carolina State when the Wolfpack won the 1983 NCAA Championship under the late-Jim Valvano.

Additional coaching experience includes stints at Virginia Tech (1981-82); at Maryland under Lefty Driesell (1979-81); under Lou Carnesecca at St. John's (1978-79); Davidson (1977-78); Iona (1975-77); and the New York Institute of Technology (1974-75).

As an assistant coach, Abatemarco enjoyed eight NCAA Tournament appearances, five Elite Eight appearances (two with Maryland & N.C. State, one with St. John's), and a trio of NIT appearances (Colorado - twice, Virginia Tech).

COORDINATOR OF OPERATIONS BILL CARTUN

Bill Cartun enters his third year with the Colorado men's basketball staff as the Coordinator of Operations.

Although not associated with the coaching duties on and off the court, Cartun is an integral part of the behind-the-scenes success of the Buffaloes program as the video coordinator.

In this role, Cartun is responsible for overseeing all aspects of the team's film and video needs, including opponent scouting, coordinating film exchange, managing the video room and supplying coaching staff with game film. Cartun also works in coordination with the director of basketball operations to help perform administrative duties and is the assistant director of the CU basketball summer camps.

Cartun comes to Boulder after spending three years (2007-2010) with the Charlotte Bobcats of the NBA as the basketball operations assistant and assistant video coordinator. With the Bobcats, he prepared video scouting edits for the coaches and players, scouted collegiate talent, and assisted in NBA draft preparation.

He is a 2005 graduate of Bates College where he received his bachelor's degree in economics. Cartun earned a master's degree in sport management from the University of Connecticut in 2007. While at Connecticut he worked with the men's basketball team as a student assistant.

Cartun is a 2000 graduate of Avon High School in Avon, Conn., where he was a two-time all-State basketball selection.

Cartun and his wife, Ashley, reside in Superior.

ATHLETIC TRAINER TRAE TASHIRO

Trae Tashiro begins his third year at the University of Colorado as the athletic trainer for the men's basketball program and spirit squad. Tashiro is a Colorado native and graduated from Skyline High School in 1995. He continued his education with an undergraduate degree in kinesiology in 2001 from the University of Northern Colorado.

From there, Tashiro earned his master's degree in sports medicine at the University of Virginia (2003). After UVA, Tashiro spent the following year working at the University of Denver as an athletic trainer intern where he was responsible for the men's soccer and women's lacrosse programs. Over the next three years, Tashiro crafted his expertise as an assistant athletic trainer at the University of Arizona (2004-07). He would later return to the Centennial State becoming an assistant athletic trainer with the Denver Broncos from 2007-2010.

Tashiro is married to the former Kimberly Bender. The Tashiro's have a son, Grayson Bruce, born in April 2011.

JAMES HARDY — DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

James Hardy enters his sixth year with the University of Colorado and his fourth as the Director of Basketball Strength and Conditioning with the men's and women's basketball programs. Hardy is also the strength and conditioning director for the CU volleyball program.

Hardy came to the Buffs after spending two years at Auburn University as a graduate assistant in the Tiger's strength and conditioning department. He earned his master's degree in biomechanics from AU in 2006.

His certifications include CSCS and CSCCA.

Hardy was the assistant strength coach at Christopher Newport University (Va.) from 2004-2005 and earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from CNU in 2003.

Hardy was born on December 5, 1981 in Danville, Va. and graduated from Lafayette High School in 2000 lettering in soccer.

MINDY SCLARO — ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR/ACADEMICS

Mindy Sclaro enters her eighth year as an Associate Director of Academics at the University of Colorado serving as Academic Coordinator for the Herbst Academic Center. Her caseload includes the men's basketball, women's lacrosse, women's volleyball and women's golf programs.

In addition to her responsibilities with the men's basketball, volleyball and women's golf programs, Sclaro prepared the N4A Academic and Life Skills Program Certification Self Study for the Herbst Academic Center in 2011. She has also served on a number of other programs including the National Survey of Student Engagement Committee (2009); Learning Specialist Search Committee Chair (2008, 2012); Safe Zone Ally Training (2008); and the NCAA Certification Academic Integrity Committee (2007).

She is a graduate of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) Professional Development Institute's Leader/Manager Track.

Sclaro earned her bachelor's degree in sociology from Ithaca College in 1987 with a focus on therapeutic intervention. While at Ithaca, she was a member of the lacrosse team. Sclaro earned her master's degree in sport management from Northern Colorado in 2001.

She joined the CU staff in 2005 as a life skills program intern and was promoted to her current position in March of 2006. Currently, she is pursuing a graduate certificate in ethnic studies at CU.

Prior to CU, she was the athletic director and varsity girls soccer coach at the Alexander Dawson School in Lafayette, Colo. From 1998-2005, Sclaro served as a life skills instructor, student advisor and was the assistant AD from 1996-1998. She was named the Mile High League Coach of the Year in 1998 and 2000 and was president of the league from 2003-2005.

The former Mindy Cohen is married to Sam Sclaro. She enjoys playing soccer and running with her dogs, Mavis and Ruby.

BUFFS ROLL PAST OVERMATCHED SKYHAWKS

BOULDER (Nov. 11) - Tad Boyle wasn't facing a complete makeover with his 2011-12 Colorado basketball team, but it came close. He unveiled his retooled Buffs Friday night against Fort Lewis College, and while he was the first to acknowledge there's work to be done before the schedule toughens - and that happens quickly - he also found plenty to applaud in CU's 85-57 season-opening victory at the Coors Events Center.

"The good thing is you can win by this margin and still have room for improvement," Boyle said after watching his second CU team struggle at times to find its half-court offense and lapse occasionally on defense but still do enough right to rout an overmatched opponent.

"Defensively we played pretty well," Boyle continued. "I challenged our guys to guard for 40 minutes. We had a few lapses, but I thought overall we played well - especially with the number of new guys we had on the court."

Playing without Cory Higgins, Alec Burks, Levi Knutson and Marcus Relporthe - a foursome that accounted for about 75 percent of CU's scoring load last season - was "really weird," sophomore forward Andre Roberson said. "But it's time to move on."

And so the Buffs did - at least in their opener.

CU senior forward Austin Dufault, who led CU with 18 points and added 10 rebounds, called Fort Lewis "a good Division II team" and said the Buffs submitted a first night they can build on: "You always want to get off to a good start and our team did that... we had a good team effort crashing the boards."

Boyle said Dufault and senior guard Nate Tomlinson, who had five points, four assists and three steals, "gave us great stability on the court... I don't know if Austin can get 18 and 10 every night, but I won't be mad at him if he does."

The Buffs' board work was controlled by the 6-7 Roberson, who at 215 pounds weighs about 15 more than last season and, said Boyle, "is a beast... he's a lot stronger, he's athletic and explosive." Roberson exhibited all of those things, collecting a game-best 15 of CU's 48 rebounds and scoring 13 points - all in the first half.

Fort Lewis coach Bob Hofman, a former CU point guard, liked what he saw from Roberson, calling him "a special player."

BUFFS FALL TO SHOCKERS IN PUERTO RICO OPENER

SAN JUAN, P.R. (Nov. 17) - Carlton Brown scored 15 points and added four rebounds but the Colorado Buffaloes fell to Wichita State, 67-58, in the first round of the Fifth Annual 5 Hour Energy Puerto Rico Shootout here Thursday.

The Buffs will now face Maryland Friday at 4:30 p.m. In an ironic twist, Maryland is now coached by Mark Turgeon, who was the head coach for the Shockers when Boyle was his assistant.

No other CU player hit double figures, but sophomore Andre Roberson did pull down 10 rebounds for the Buffaloes.

The two teams played even for the first 15 minutes of the first half when the game was tied at 24-24 before the Shockers went on a 7-0 run in less than two minutes to take a 31-24 lead with 3:15 left in the half.

Each team scored just once the remainder of the first half, 33-26.

The Shockers held the lead near double digits early in the second half, and the Buffs cut it to five points twice, first at 37-32 and then again at 40-35.

Colorado cut the Shocker lead to just three midway through the second half, 50-47, after Austin Dufault made a 3-pointer.

Askia Booker made a free throw with 2:13 left to bring CU to within five points at 62-57 and the Buffs didn't score again as the Shockers put the game away at the line with the final score, 67-58.

BUFFS TAKE DOWN BRONCOS 81-76

SAN JUAN, P.R. (Nov. 20) - Carlton Brown scored 23 points and Colorado defeated Western Michigan 81-76 in the seventh-place game of the Puerto Rico Tip-Off tournament.

Brown was 8 for 14 from the field and 6 for 6 from the free-throw line for the Buffaloes (2-2). Austin Dufault had 16 points and eight rebounds for Colorado, while Nate Tomlinson scored 12 and Askia Booker added 11 points.

The Buffs' five-point margin at the end was their biggest lead of the game.

"This win gives us confidence and that's important in college basketball," said CU head coach Tad Boyle. "We're going to get mentally tougher for our upcoming games."

Western Michigan (0-4), which didn't lead in either of the first two games of the tournament, jumped in front 13-3 and led 35-31 at halftime.

Matt Stainbrook had 20 points and eight rebounds for the Broncos. Demetrius Ward scored 16 points and Flenard Whitfield had 11 points and eight boards.

BUFFS TOP FALCONS IN OT, 76-73

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP, Nov. 23) - Tad Boyle had one way to describe Andre Roberson.

"He is a madman," said the Colorado coach about the sophomore guard who now has 57 rebounds for the Buffaloes in five games this season. "I don't know where his head was in the first 30 minutes of the game." Boyle said. "But was there at the end when it mattered."

Askia Booker hit a 3-pointer and Roberson got a key block and layup in overtime to help CU to a 76-73 victory over Air Force.

"I do what I can to win," Roberson said. "I will get rebound when it is needed."

Nate Tomlinson led Colorado (3-2) with 19 points on 4-of-7 shooting from 3-point range. Carlton Brown added 16 points, and Roberson had 11 points and 13 rebounds.

Roberson went scoreless in the first half, missing his only shot. He did have eight rebounds in the first 20 minutes.

Colorado's win couldn't overshadow the brilliant game of Michael Lyons of the Falcons. Lyons made 10-of-19 shots and clutch free throws at the end of regulation to finish with a career-high 31 points for Air Force (3-1).

It was the most points by a Falcon player since Jarvis Croff scored 31 on March 9, 2000 against Utah.

The Falcons' scrambling defense forced 18 turnovers, turning the mistakes into 27 points.

Air Force was the better team taking care of the ball, committing a season-low six turnovers.

The Falcons led 72-69 in overtime after a layup by Taylor Stewart and Mike Fitzgerald's 3-pointer. The Buffaloes then got Roberson's layup off a rebound and went ahead 74-72 on Booker's 3-pointer with 15 seconds left.

After Todd Fletcher made a free throw for Air Force, Roberson sealed the game with a basket. Fletcher missed a 3-point attempt at the buzzer.

"Air Force is a tough team to defend," Boyle said. "You then get either get layups or threes against you."

CU almost won the game in regulation after Roberson tipped in his own miss with 13 seconds remaining to make it 67-65. But Fitzgerald sank two free throws with 3.7 seconds left to send the game into overtime.

BUFFS' LATE RALLY FALLS ONE POINT SHORT

FORT COLLINS (Nov. 30) — Of all the questions about his Colorado basketball team crowding Tad Boyle's mind, the one that puzzled him most was this: "Really, how were we ever in it?"

But somehow — despite committing 15 turnovers, missing 16 free throws and shooting 36.8 percent from the field — Wednesday night's game against Colorado State came down to the Buffaloes' final possession.

And when senior guard Nate Tomlinson's long jumper bounded off the rim at the buzzer, CSU had escaped with a 65-64 victory at raucous Moby Gym.

"I have no idea how we had a chance to win this game, but I think it's a testament to our team that we did. I told our guys in the lockerroom I do not fault your competitiveness, I don't fault your desire . . . your will to win, I don't fault any of that stuff. But what I fault is our execution," said Boyle, reflecting on how poorly his team executed for most of the previous 48 minutes then amazingly put itself in position to steal a win from its in-state rival.

The Buffs overcame an eight-point deficit in the final 1:25 and even went ahead 64-63 on a Tomlinson layup with just over 10 seconds to play. But a floater from the right baseline by CSU's Dorian Green returned what would be the final advantage to the Rams and set the stage for Tomlinson's miss.

"We just needed one extra stop and didn't get it," said CU senior Austin Dufault.

Tomlinson, one of three CU players in double figures (he had 11, Dufault 13 and freshman Spencer Dinwiddie 16), said he didn't get the final shot he wanted because CSU switched defenders. Boyle had called for a high ball screen involving Dufault and Tomlinson, with either of them taking the final shot. But a bigger player switched on Tomlinson as time was expiring and he took the only shot he could.

"I didn't get a very good look," Tomlinson said. "I didn't get a very good feel for the ball and it just didn't go down."

Boyle said he takes responsibility for the poor execution overall, but added, "This team's heart is there. And we're not going to lose that. We're going to be in a lot of close games like this — we already have been. We've won our fair share."

The Buffs had missed 15 free throws in Monday night's 70-68 home win against Georgia, and Tomlinson said missing one more than that two nights later indicated more of a mental issue than anything else. "The more we talk about it, the worse it gets," he said. "That's the game . . . we're a real young team, but we're a tough team and that's not going to change."

BUFFS REGAIN COMPOSURE, SQUEEZE BY BULLDOGS

BOULDER (Dec. 7) — A veteran basketball team with a 15-point halftime lead is pretty close to being a certain winner. A young team clutching the same advantage . . . no guarantees.

With his team up 38-23 at intermission on Wednesday night, Colorado men's coach Tad Boyle fervently tried to head off the onset of complacency, telling his young Buffaloes, "Don't play the scoreboard, play the possession on both sides of the ball . . . it wasn't something we didn't talk about, but sometimes all you can do as a coach is talk. (Players) have to take it out on the floor and do it."

It took awhile in the second half for Boyle's message to register, but in the end it did. CU righted itself against surprisingly unflappable Fresno State and its zone defense, finally pulling free of the Bulldogs for a 71-64 win at the Coors Events Center.

If the Buffs' one-point loss a week earlier at Colorado State was directly traceable to the free throw line - 16 misses - this win plopped on the same thin stripe. CU shot 84.4 percent (27-of-32) Wednesday night from foul line, making 13-of-14 in the final 5:39 when Fresno State had closed to within three points and simply wouldn't vanish.

CU sophomore Andre Roberson, whose one made free throw in seven attempts accounted for his only point at CSU, recovered in a big way against Fresno State. He scored a career- and team-best 21 points on five-of-six shooting while making all nine of his free throw attempts. He also contributed a game-high 10 rebounds for his 10th career double-double, half of them this year.

"Andre was dialed in mentally . . . you could see it tonight," said Boyle, adding he hoped Roberson "getting his mojo going" doesn't require a pair of three-pointers every game. Roberson hit back-to-back treys in the first half when the Buffs appeared to be toying with the Bulldogs and building their 15-point halftime lead.

Tomlinson, who had a game-best six assists, and Dinwiddie occasionally alternated at the high post as the Buffs sought to distribute the ball against the Bulldogs' zone.

Roberson, who has reached double-digit rebounds in seven of eight games this season, said the Buffs can't relax after rolling to a halftime lead like Wednesday night's. "It's really important that we work on playing the full 40 minutes. We can't get comfortable with ourselves. We've got to work on that in practice."

COWBOYS' RUGGED SECOND HALF BURIES BUFFS

BOULDER (Dec. 9) — On a night when bad news trumped good, Tad Boyle opened with the good - that being the 10 days between games that he and his Colorado basketball team now can use to try and cure what ails them.

BUFFS FINALLY PUT AWAY FEISTY ROADRUNNERS

BOULDER (Dec. 19) - Mark Monday night down as a "rust buster" for the Colorado Buffaloes. Of more importance, also mark it down as a "W."

Overcoming their own sluggish start and withstanding their opponent's frantic finish, the Buffs eventually put away California State University-Bakersfield 70-64 at the Coors Events Center.

"That was a good win for us," said CU coach Tad Boyle. "I thought there were some really positive things that came out, but there's also lots of room for improvement - and that excites me as a coach."

He was noticeably more excited than he was 10 days previously, when Wyoming visited the Events Center and snapped CU's 27-game non-conference home court winning streak. Boyle gave his players the next two days off, then practiced them for 10 consecutive days.

Not playing for that long and laboring through a week of semester finals, said Boyle, resulted in "a little rust and mental fatigue" that was evident in the Buffs struggling to find the basket and falling behind by as many as 11 points in the first half.

"We didn't get out of the gate (Monday night) ... and we've been a team that's always gotten out fast," said Boyle.

If the Buffs didn't quite start or finish the night rust-free - they allowed the Roadrunners to cut a 12-point deficit to four in the final 31/2 minutes - they compensated nicely in the mid-section.

Senior Carlon Brown scored eight of his 15 points when the Buffs were in first-half recovery, and reserve Sabatino Chen provided a huge shot of hustle that spanned the last 5 seconds of the first half and stayed with Boyle's bunch well into the second.

"I thought Sabatino's minutes in the first half energized the team," said Boyle, adding that Brown, who had eight assists to go with his 15 points, "was terrific ... he played within himself. Those two performances (by Chen and Brown) were terrific."

Chen finished with six points, five rebounds, a pair of steals and a blocked first-half shot - which led to the game's most disputed whistle but also revved up the Buffs and the crowd. Counting Brown, four Buffs reached double figures, topped by Andre Roberson's 18. Spencer Dinwiddie added 13 and Austin Dufault 10.

BUFFS GET INTO GIVING, BUT HOLD ON TO WIN

BOULDER (Dec. 22) - Nothing against holiday spirit, but the Colorado Buffaloes went overboard with their giving Thursday night. They allowed Texas Southern back into what had all the early earmarks of a pre-Christmas stocking stuffer before escaping with a 56-51 win at the Coors Events Center.

A perplexed Tad Boyle knows what he wants under his tree - and any shopping mall St. Nick who has watched the Buffs this season already knows what tops the CU coach's list.

"I'm asking Santa for a consistent team," Boyle said. "Consistently good or consistently bad ... then I'll know what we have to work on. Right now, it's a hard thing to manage, but I have to do a better job of it. It's going to be on my mind for the next three days ... we have to get better."

Boyle's frustration came from a festive first half that saw the Buffs handle the visitors' 2-3 zone, shoot 50 percent from the field, hold the Tigers to 22.7 percent and lead by as many as 23 points (32-9).

Said Boyle: "The first half there were so many good things that happened ... but what we talk about (at halftime) and what our team does sometimes are different things."

Different, indeed ... the second half was all switches and ashes for the Buffs as those shooting percentages nearly flipped (50 percent for Texas Southern, 28.6 for CU) and the home team's nice habits turned naughty. Whatever the reason(s), the Buffs were a different - and in a bad way - bunch in the last 20 minutes. The Tigers, playing perfectly respectable Grinches, made seven of their dozen steals in the second half and forced the Buffs into 12 of their 20 turnovers.

"Once again, it was a tale of two halves," said CU freshman guard Spencer Dinwiddie, who made four of five treys in the first half and finished five-for-six from beyond the arc. His 18 points were a team and career best. "We're just very inconsistent and until we solve that, we won't be a great team ... you can't play basketball with an on/off switch."

Playing their eighth consecutive road game and searching for their first win in that stretch, the Tigers rallied behind a trapping defense that the Buffs had expected and the three-point shooting of guard Omar Strong (23 points). TSU closed to within three points (51-48) in the final half minute.

And although the visitors never led, they came close to making Christmas weekend very uncomfortable for the Buffs. CU (7-4) held off TSU (1-9) by making five of six free throws in the last 21.2 seconds - two of the foul shots by Dinwiddie and another pair by sophomore Andre Roberson, who added 11 points and 16 rebounds.

BUFFS' SMOTHERING 'D' BRINGS FIRST PAC-12 WIN

BOULDER (Dec. 31) - Don't take Colorado's 40-point win on Saturday in its Pac-12 Conference men's basketball debut as an indicator of things to come. If you're into indicators, as is Buffaloes coach Tad Boyle, you'll join him in the Coors Events Center on Thursday night.

That's when Washington visits, and as Boyle prophesied early on New Year's Eve after CU had undressed Utah, 73-33, "We'll find out a lot about our team when Washington comes in . . . If we're talking about a win then, I'll say our program is headed in the right direction."

Still, there always has to be a first step in a new conference - and the Buffs took a respectable one against the hapless Utes. CU (9-4, 1-0) held its first-time Pac-12 visitor to the lowest point total ever by an opponent in the Events Center, which opened for the 1979-80 season, and the lowest overall since a 42-30 win at Kansas on Jan. 17, 1949.

Utah's total was its lowest since 1947. The Utes (3-10, 0-1) entered the conference opener averaging 58.8 points.

Coupled with the Buffs' previous rout of New Orleans - 92-34 four nights earlier - they've held their last two opponents to 67 points. Boyle's nightly, weekly, monthly, yearly areas of emphasis are defense and rebounding, and he's gotten consecutive nearly air-tight nights from his team on the defensive end.

But predictably, instead of gloating about holding a pair of struggling opponents under 40, Boyle prefers to focus on the Buffs' daily progress. "I'm concerned about how Colorado basketball is playing. . . I'm not going to talk about Utah or New Orleans," he said, noting that CU's harder-than-it-had-to-be 56-51 win against Texas Southern three days before Christmas, "as bittersweet as it was, maybe it was a good thing for our team."

"We had put a big emphasis on defense," CU freshman guard Askia Booker said. "At halftime (Boyle) gave us a lot of credit for our defense. . . we didn't shoot well, but he told us our defense is why we had a 16-point lead."

Booker, tying his CU career high with 14 points, was one of four Buffs in double figures. Freshman Spencer Dinwiddie hit a career-best 19 points, while sophomore Andre Roberson had his ninth double-double of the season (17 points, career-high 17 rebounds). Senior Carlton Brown, who transferred from Utah two seasons ago, added 10 points.

BUFFS MEASURE UP (AND MORE) AGAINST HUSKIES

BOULDER (Jan. 5) - It came only two games into an 18-game Pac-12 Conference schedule, but it was a huge early test nonetheless - and the Colorado Buffaloes aced it.

CU overcame an erratic start Thursday night to dispose of Washington 87-69 at the Coors Events Center, winning for the fifth consecutive time and remaining unbeaten in the Pac-12.

"I thought that was a really good win for our program, for where we are right now . . . I have such respect for Lorenzo Romar and the Washington program and what they've done over the last 10 years . . . they've got good players," said Buffs coach Tad Boyle, who after his team's 40-point blowout of Utah last weekend in the conference opener had termed UW's upcoming visit a "measuring stick" for his program.

With that in mind, the Buffs measured up nicely, particularly in the areas of composing themselves after falling behind 7-0, overtaking the Huskies by halftime with determined defense, then never allowing their talented visitors back in the game.

Over the last several weeks, Boyle said, his message to the Buffs has centered on "pride and toughness . . . being proud of representing Colorado basketball, what we want it to represent, taking ownership in our program and playing with unbelievable toughness every night."

Did the Buffs do that Thursday? Ask the Huskies, who came to Boulder as the Pac-12's second-highest scoring team, averaging 80.6 points. The Buffs held them to their second-lowest total of the season.

"You've got to give credit to Colorado," Romar said. "They guarded us. We got out to a 14-5 lead and then they really clamped down defensively. They made shot after shot. They were very efficient offensively; they did a great job."

The Buffs (10-4, 2-0) got significant contributions from everyone who started or left the bench. Five CU players scored in double figures, topped by Carlton Brown's 18. Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker added 13 and 12, respectively. Austin Dufault and Nate Tomlinson chipped in 13 and 11. And Andre Roberson got his conference-leading rebounding average (12) along with eight points.

But the Buffs' list of contributors kept going. Junior Sabatino Chen was instrumental in the first-half rally, hitting three twisting layups. Sophomore Jeremy Adams also had six points and five rebounds, playing what Boyle termed Adams' "best game as a Buff." Sophomore Shane Harris-Tunks didn't score, but made a pair of blocks and two steals against one of the Pac-12 most athletic teams. The Huskies (8-6, 2-1) were led by Tony Wroten's 21. C.J. Wilcox (19) and Terrence Ross (13) were the only other UW players in double figures.

BUFFS FALL TO CAL 57-50 IN PAC-12 ROAD OPENER

BERKELEY, Calif. (Jan. 12/AP) - Colorado led at halftime and hung tough with California, but the Golden Bears pulled away late to defeat the Buffs 57-50 at Haas Pavilion.

Austin Dufault hit a three-pointer to make it a one-point game at 51-50 with 1:05 left in the game, but Cal's Harper Kamp responded with a layup to put the Bears up three. Colorado (11-5, 3-1 Pac-12) turned it over on their next possession and after Justin Cobbs made his first free throw, Allen Crabbe got an offensive rebound on the missed second attempt. Crabbe made both his ensuing free throw attempts to push the Bears' lead to 56-50 with 35.3 seconds remaining.

"Our guys battled," CU head coach Tad Boyle said following the loss. "They scratched and they fought, and like I told them in the locker room, I'll live with that kind of effort. Now we have to get better, certainly. Our offensive execution has to get better, especially in the second half, but I love the grit this team plays with."

Cal (14-4, 4-1 Pac-12) struggled to get over the hump, finally taking a lead at 39-37 with 10:08 left in the game on a David Kravish put-back. It was the Bears' first lead since being ahead 9-8 with 12:40 remaining in the first half.

Cal would take a five-point lead at 42-37, but CU fought back to retake the lead at 45-43 on a Dufault three. Cal then went on an 8-0 run, including four points from Richard Solomon, from 5:41 to 2:23 showing on the clock to take control of the game and go ahead 51-45.

Colorado led 29-22 at halftime as Dufault hit a jumper late in the period to extend the Buffs' lead to seven points. CU created the separation with a 7-0 run to break an 11-11 tie from 10:31 to 6:21 left on the clock in the first half. Dufault led all scorers with nine points off the break. Cal opened the second half on a 5-0 run to get back to within one possession.

Dufault led the Buffs with a game-high 19 points, and Andre Roberson added a double-double with 11 points and 14 boards. Kamp led Cal with 14 points with Cobbs also scoring in double-digits with 12.

Colorado won the rebounding battle 40-36, but was outshot by the Bears 35.1 percent (20-of-57) to CU's 31.9 percent (15-of-47). The Buffs also turned the ball over 17 times, leading to 22 points by Cal. The Golden Bears only turned the ball over eight times, leading to just two points for the Buffs off turnovers.

"Seventeen turnovers to eight, on the road, you're putting yourself behind the eight-ball," Boyle said about the significance turnovers played in the game.

SECOND-HALF SURGE LEADS STANFORD PAST BUFFS

PALO ALTO, Calif. (Jan. 14/AP) - Stanford outscored Colorado 45-31 in the second half to defeat the Buffs 84-64 at Maples Pavilion on Saturday afternoon.

The Buffs (11-6, 3-2 Pac-12) opened the second half on a 9-3 run fueled by five points from Spencer Dimwiddle to tie the game at 42 with 17:01 remaining in the game. Stanford (15-3, 5-1 Pac-12) then took over, going on a 32-5 run to open up a 74-47 lead with 7:48 to play.

"We tried to get a little aggressive defensively," Colorado head coach Tad Boyle said about the Cardinal's second-half streak.

"We started doubling their ball screens a little bit and they got a couple shooters loose. They went up five and then we got out of that and tried to get back to just guarding and the floodgates just kind of opened. Our defense wasn't good enough to keep us in the game tonight and our offense wasn't good either. I think you have to credit Stanford because they played a heck of a game."

Andre Roberson led CU with 15 points, while Austin Dufault (14), Carlton Brown (13), and Dimwiddle (11) all scored in double-digits as well.

Freshman Chasson Randle led the Cardinal with 18 points, including a 4-of-8 performance from beyond the three-point arc. Aaron Bright scored 14, Josh Huestis scored 13, and Josh Owens scored 10 points in addition to a game-high seven boards.

Stanford's 84 points were the most allowed by CU this season as the Cardinal shot 52.9 percent from the field (27-of-51), including 10-of-23 from long range (43.5 percent). The Buffs shot 42.1 percent (24-of-57) for the contest.

CU's last lead in the game came at 21-19 with 9:09 left in the first half before Stanford went on a 12-3 over the next 3:32 of game time to build their lead. The Cardinal led 39-33 at intermission.

Roberson had a game-high 13 points at halftime and Dufault also was in double-digits with 10 points at the break.

After starting 3-0 in conference play, CU has now dropped their first two road games in the Pac-12. The Buffs return to action on Thursday night as they host Arizona State at Coors Events Center. The game will tip at 6:30 p.m. and will be televised on ROOT Sports.

BUFFS STAY TOUGH IN CRUNCH, EDGE WILDCATS

BOULDER (Jan. 21) - The way the game had rocked back and forth for 39 minutes, Colorado coach Tad Boyle couldn't see it shifting toward the Buffaloes with a seamless offensive possession. Arizona had made it a deliver-a-blow, absorb-a-blow kind of Saturday, and the Wildcats - down one point with no timeouts - had a last chance to hush the season's first sellout crowd at the Coors Events Center.

It didn't happen - and that the Buffs outlasted the Wildcats 64-63 on what Boyle later called a "rock solid" final defensive stand simply made his afternoon.

"We work on time and score in practice a lot . . . up one and having to get a stop," he said. "All it takes is one break down; we made them take a contested three and they missed. I thought it was appropriate that we won the game that way."

The win, CU's fifth at home in Pac-12 Conference play (13-6 overall, 5-2 conference), finally unfolded like this:

After a Kevin Parrom layup gave UA a 63-61 lead, CU senior Carlton Brown drained a three-pointer to put CU ahead by a point with 1:18 showing. When Kyle Fogg missed the front end of a critical one-and-one with 1:01 left, Brown in turn misfired from just inside the top of the key with less than half a minute remaining.

The Wildcats controlled the rebound and had a final chance for the win, but they didn't have a timeout to set anything up. UA coach Sean Miller had sped through his second-half timeouts, using his last one with about 2:50 left.

As a result, the Wildcats sped down court and tried find a crack in the Buffs' defense. When none was found, the ball went to Parrom on the right perimeter. His try attempt at the buzzer was long - and the Buffs and their rowdy capacity crowd (11,056) exhaled. Victoriously.

As the crowd roared, most of CU's players joined in the celebration - all but senior Austin Dufault, who celebrated a little late. "I thought the game was tied," Dufault said sheepishly. "I saw Nate (Tomlinson) spinning down the court, and thought, 'What's he doing? We're going into overtime.' Then I looked at the scoreboard, grabbed Carlton and said, 'We won.'"

Duh . . . shocking, but true. Dufault, though, was infinitely more in tune to what preceded the final frantic seconds. To go along with Brown's team-best 19 points - 12 in the second half, seven of those in the last 9:57 - Dufault contributed 12 points, six rebounds and pair of steals, continuing his steady play in his final season. CU's pair of freshman guards - Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker - combined for 21 points (Dinwiddie 12, Booker nine). UA's Jesse Perry led all scorers with 20.

The contributions of Brown, Dufault, Dinwiddie and Booker were made all the more vital by what Boyle termed an off night for leading rebounder (11.3) and second-leading scorer (11.6) Andre Roberson, who collected seven boards but didn't score (0-for-8 from the field, 0-for-2 from the free throw line).

As proud as he was about the Buffs' defense in the final half minute, Boyle also pointed to his team's season-low six turnovers, which led to a dozen points. CU needed an advantage there, because UA won the board battle 44-35 - not a statistical duel Boyle likes to lose. And CU missed 10 free throws (16-of-26), hit just four three-pointers in 17 attempts and finished at 40.7 percent from the field (22-of-54).

But the Buffs, Boyle noted, "made one extra play" on defense. "That's what makes me the happiest and the most proud."

BUFFS STAMPEDE OVER USC 74-50 ON THE ROAD

LOS ANGELES (Jan. 26) - Andre Roberson had 13 points and 10 rebounds as Colorado beat Southern California 74-50 on Thursday night, sending the Trojans to their ninth straight loss.

CU's 24-point victory is their largest on the road in a conference game since the Cliff Meely-led Buffaloes won 80-56 in Norman against Oklahoma on Jan. 4, 1969 in a Big 8 game.

The Buffs led by 29 in the second half tonight, their largest lead in a conference road game since also taking a 29-point lead late in a 75-47 win at Nebraska on Jan. 7, 1963. By matching the lead from the Nebraska game in 1963, CU tied their largest lead in a road conference game since a 66-30 win at Denver on Jan. 9, 1946 in a Mountain States Conference game, a span of 66 years.

"Before we came out on the floor, we talked about this being a taking care of business type of game," head coach Tad Boyle said about CU's victory. "We knew if we did what we are supposed to do, the results would take care of themselves. Three things we talked about in practice this week were staying focused for 40 minutes, being mentally tough, and executing. I thought we did all three of those things tonight."

Carlton Brown scored 13 points with nine rebounds for the Buffaloes (14-6, 6-2), who used a 23-4 run spanning both halves in winning their first Pac-12 road game. Askia Booker scored 13, Austin Dufault 11 and Jeremy Adams 10.

Maurice Jones scored 13 points to lead the Trojans (5-16, 0-8), who shot 32 percent overall and went 5-of-25 on 3-pointers.

Roberson hit a layup and a free throw coming out of halftime to make the lead 40-26. After USC's James Blasczyk scored on a jumper with 17:33 left, the Trojans went scoreless for nearly six minutes.

BUFFS APPLY BRAKES TO HIGH-SCORING BEAVERS

BOULDER (Feb. 2) - The Pac-12 Conference's highest scoring team hurtled headlong into a defensive roadblock (or maybe it was a snow bank) on Thursday night.

Oregon State, averaging a league-best 82.4 points, found itself completely untracked by the University of Colorado, which ran, rocked and rolled to a convincing 82-60 victory at the Coors Events Center.

The Beavers' 60 points tied their lowest total of the season - a 74-60 home loss to Idaho in early December. They rode into Boulder on a three-game winning streak.

"I'm obviously pleased with the way our guys came out today to go," CU coach Tad Boyle said. "If you hold them to 36 percent (from the field) at home, you should win. We got stops, we got into transition ... the best way to beat a zone is to beat them down the court."

The Beavers, hoping their 1-3-1 zone would befuddle the Buffs, found themselves in early trouble and never found a way out. OSU's Jared Cunningham, the Pac-12's leading scorer (18.2), was held to 12 points on 5-of-12 shooting from the field.

Cunningham was mostly checked by Nate Tomlinson, whom Boyle called "one of the most underrated defenders in our league." And the Buffs did an equally decisive number on Cunningham's backcourt mate, Ahmad Starks, who was averaging 13.6 points. CU held him to three.

"Their backcourt is a big part of what they do ... we tried to make them take tough, contested shots," said Tomlinson, who had a game-high six of his team's season-best 19 assists.

Five CU players reached double figures, topped by Andre Roberson's 16 and 15 rebounds. Askia Booker added 15, Austin Dufault 14, Carlton Brown 12 and Spencer Dimwiddle 10.

"When you play defense like we did, they can have a lot of guys have a great night - and that's what they did," said OSU coach Craig Robinson. "That's what good teams do, they take advantage of teams when they come into their place and play well. That's a credit to their coach and their preparation."

The Buffs entered the game as the Pac-12 leader in field goal percentage defense (39.8) - and the Beavers quickly discovered why. OSU, which also led the league in field goal percentage (48.5), was held 38.2 percent from the field in the first half as CU opened a 15-point advantage at intermission. OSU (14-8, 4-6) finished the game at 36.2 percent from the field (21-of-58).

CU led by as many as 24 on several occasions in the second half and was never threatened - and that's just the way Boyle wanted it. The Buffs were expecting a run from the Beavers to open the second half, but it didn't happen. In fact, the team that hit the gas early was CU.

Boyle had talked to his team in the locker room about "winning every 4 minute segment ... we felt if we could extend that thing (a 15-point halftime lead), we could put them away. And we did. It's a sign of progress."

CU's 46 first-half points were a team first-half seasonal high in Pac-12 play.

TOMLINSON'S FT PUSHES BUFFS PAST DUCKS

BOULDER (Feb. 4) - Second chances to win basketball games usually don't occur within 16-second spans, but Nate Tomlinson glanced at the clock Saturday night, saw his second chance hanging there, then raced for it.

Tomlinson beat the clock and Oregon, sinking the first of two free throws with one second remaining to push Colorado to a 72-71 win at the sold-out, worn-out, but far from bummed out Coors Events Center.

With four seconds to play, the Colorado senior guard dribbled the length of the court and was fouled - Oregon coach Dana Altman believed otherwise - as he launched himself for a layup.

"Of course," Tomlinson answered afterwards when asked if he was fouled by Oregon's E.J. Singler. But Altman's postgame pursuit of the officiating crew suggested the second-year top Duck disagreed. By then the call and one free throw had been made, never mind that Tomlinson - by his own admission - "bricked my second one."

More reserved than he was at game's end, Altman called the foul that sent Tomlinson to the free throw line for the final time "just part of the game ... we didn't shoot free throws well (10-of-17), but CU was 23-of-30." They beat us there and that was a big difference."

The win kept the Buffs unbeaten at home (7-0) in Pac-12 Conference play and in a second-place tie (8-3 conference, 16-7 overall) with California. Washington leads the league at 9-2.

Coach Tad Boyle, who became the first CU coach to win his 40th game in his second season, called Tomlinson's sprint up-court and drawing the foul "a big-time play ... a smart play by Nate. It was one you expect your senior point guard to make."

Tomlinson also expected it of himself - especially after he had missed one of two free throws with 17.4 seconds to play. His stat line wasn't spectacular: 7 points on 1-of-5 from the field (his only three-pointer in four attempts) and 4-of-7 free throws; 2 rebounds, 4 assists and a turnover. But he made Oregon's leading scorer, Devone Joseph, work for most of his 18 points.

When Tomlinson made one-of-two free throw with 17.4 seconds to play, CU went up 71-69. But Oregon's Olu Ashaolu (17 points, 9 rebounds) tied the score with an inside basket and was fouled. He missed his free throw, the Buffs controlled the rebound and Tomlinson was off and dribbling.

Said Tomlinson: "I had a quick look up at the clock and saw that we had about four seconds left. So I made a play to put it in the refs' hands - and luckily I got the call."

Said Boyle: "You officiate the game from start to finish; if a kid gets fouled, it's a foul. I had no problem with most of those calls. I want the game officiated from start to finish just like coach Altman and any other coach does. I had no problem."

CU freshman Askia Booker, who led the Buffs with 17 points off the bench (13 in the first half), called Tomlinson's drive to the basket "a veteran move ... he didn't settle for a jump shot, he went for a layup."

After hitting only one of his two free throws 16 seconds earlier, Tomlinson said he "felt like I threw the game away ... I wouldn't have been able to sleep until next week if I'd missed that (last) one."

Sleep will come easy now, but this was a restless night for the Buffs. The road-tough Ducks (16-7, 7-4) outrebounded them 37-32, converted 15 CU turnovers into 18 points and outscored the home team 32-30 in the paint. Oregon also was able to shoot 42.9 percent from the field (27-of-63).

BUFFS GET BIG ROAD WIN, TOP ARIZONA STATE 63-49

TEMPE, Ariz. (Feb. 11, AP & CU Staff Reports) - Freshman Spencer Dinwiddie scored all 15 of his points in the second half as the Colorado Buffaloes outscored the Arizona State Sun Devils by exactly seven points in each half to finish with a 63-49 victory.

"You can tell your program has come a ways when you go on the road and expect to win," said CU head coach Tad Boyle. "We expected to win. There were some butterflies before the game because Arizona State has gotten better since we played them. I thought their match-up zone has gotten a lot better."

CU held a conference road opponent under 50 points for the first time in 45 years and the road win was much needed for the Buffaloes, who have had struggles away from home this season. CU improves to 17-8 overall and 9-4 in the Pac-12 while Arizona State falls to 8-17 and 4-9, respectively. It was February 2, 1967 when CU won at Oklahoma State, 49-42, the last time a CU league opponent scored less than 50.

The win became all that much more important with the fact that every team near the top of the Pac-12 standings also won. There are five teams within a game of each other as the Buffs 9-4 record keeps them tied for third as both Oregon (78-69 over Washington State) and Arizona (70-61 over Utah) also won to improve to 9-4 in the league standings.

"They've made some adjustments since we've last played them and (Trent) Lockett coming back is a difference maker. He's a good player and their big guys are getting better," Boyle added. "They're a physical basketball team and that's one thing we talked about before this game, we're going to have to match their physicality."

California topped UCLA, 73-63, to stay a game ahead of those three teams at 10-3, a feat Washington will attempt to accomplish Sunday with a match up at Oregon State. For at least a day, Cal takes a half-game lead over Washington, who then has a half-game lead over the Buffs, Wildcats and Ducks with most teams having five league games remaining.

Andre Roberson and Austin Dufault added 12 points apiece for the Buffaloes, who won their third straight game against the Sun Devils and have won three of four overall. CU is now 4-2 all-time against Arizona State and the Buffs have swept a Pac-12 opponent for the first time.

Jonathan Gilling scored 11 points and Lockett added 10 for Arizona State, which has lost three of four and eight of its last 11.

After the Sun Devils trimmed a football type score of 28-21 down to five points, the Buffs managed an 8-0 run as Dinwiddie and senior Nate Tomlinson got hit 3-pointers for the Buffs to take a 39-26 advantage five minutes into the second half.

The Buffs led by as many as 19 in the second half and with another football-esque score in the second half of 35-28 in favor of the Buffs, CU got its 14-point victory nine touchdowns to seven, 63-49.

The Buffaloes have now won two league road games by double figures for the first time since 1998-99. The Buffaloes won at USC, 74-50, on January 26.

For the Buffaloes, this team is comparable to their 1996-97 team that featured Chauncey Billups and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. CU at 17-8 has its best 25-game record since that season, when they were 18-7. Both teams were also 9-4 through 13 league games.

BUFFS GRIND OUT 55-48 WIN OVER UTES

SALT LAKE CITY (AP & CU Sports Info.) - Andre Roberson had 12 points and 16 rebounds and Austin Dufault added 11 points and nine rebounds as Colorado defeated Utah 55-48 Saturday.

The win was the second this season over the Utes, who lost 73-33 to the Buffaloes (18-8, 10-4 Pac-12) on New Year's Eve in the Pac-12 debut for both teams.

It was Roberson's 16th double-double of the season (21st career) and his 16 rebounds were the second most of his two-year career (17 vs. Utah, Dec. 31, 2010). CU is now 14-4 over the two years when Roberson has grabbed 12 or more rebounds in a game.

Roberson has 293 rebounds on the season (297 last year) giving him 590 in his short career, ranking 18th all-time at CU. His 293 rebounds now ranks 12th all-time, 53 from tying the school record held by Burdette Halderson in 1954-55.

Colorado guard Carlton Brown suffered through a miserable shooting performance — going 2 for 12 — and finished with five points in his return to Salt Lake City, where he played three seasons for Utah.

Jason Washburn led Utah (5-20, 2-11) with 16 points and 10 rebounds. Chris Hines added 12 points on four 3-pointers.

The Utes trailed by as many as nine points in the second half, but tied the score at 44 with 4:23 remaining. Colorado then went on a 6-0 run with four points from Spencer Dinwiddie (nine points, six rebounds) and a Roberson jumper pushing the CU lead to 50-44 with 2:51 remaining.

From there, the Buffs converted 5-of-6 free throws over the last 40 seconds for their third conference road win of the season. Dufault also had a late block with under 40 seconds helping to secure the win.

"I was proud of our guys. The last four minutes they buckled down and did what they had to do," CU head coach Tad Boyle said. "[Utah] made a run at us and our guys handled it. To not play your best and win a game is a sign of progress."

CU out-rebounded the home team by a 46-to-28 margin, the most rebounds the Utes have allowed to an opponent this season.

CU is 10-4 in conference play for the first time since the 2003-04 season, and its 18 wins in a season, is the 13th time the Buffs have won at least that many in their history.

BUFFS BOUNCE BACK, PUT BEARS IN DEEP SLEEP

BOULDER - Catching the Colorado Buffaloes on the rebound can produce a nasty bounce. Ask California, the former Pac-12 Conference co-leader. Smarting from its worst loss of the season three days earlier against Stanford, CU regrouped, refocused and showed up re-emerged Sunday afternoon for Senior Day.

Wrong place, wrong time for Cal . . .

The Buffs finished strong and decisively closed out the Bears 70-57 in their final regular-season home game at the sold-out Coors Events Center (11,043). With the win, CU remained in a fourth-place tie with Oregon, which edged Oregon State 74-73 on Sunday, and gave Washington a push past Cal into first place.

With a week of regular-season league play remaining - two road games for the Buffs - UW is at 13-3, Cal at 13-4, Arizona at 12-5 and CU and Oregon at 11-5. UCLA is fifth at 9-7. The Buffs face the Ducks Thursday night in Eugene. The top four regular-season finishers receive first-round byes in the Pac-12 postseason tournament, which begins March 7 in Los Angeles.

"Our guys have talked about it (and) we want one of those top four seeds," CU coach Tad Boyle said. "But I think the Pac-12 tournament is setting up to be anybody's game."

But that's as far as Boyle will take "bracketology" or postseason chatter of any kind. Thursday night's unexpected, inexplicable 24-point smackdown by Stanford perhaps put Boyle and the Buffs on notice about living out of the moment, looking too far into the future.

"After Thursday's game, I'm done predicting what this team is going to do," Boyle said. "I only know what (happens in practice) . . . Friday and Saturday we had very intense, spirited practices. Our guys were genuinely disappointed. With that, I'm not surprised with what we did (Sunday). I still don't know how to explain Thursday, though."

No further explanation needed. The Buffs boldly pushed out of their Cardinal funk with a final 14-6 run to dispatch the Bears and win their 19th game of the season. A victory either on Thursday at Oregon or Saturday at Oregon State would make Boyle the first CU coach to win 20 games in back-to-back seasons and his second Buffs team the first to reach that plateau in consecutive years.

Cal, which came to Boulder on a six-game winning streak and had beaten the Buffs 57-50 last month in Berkeley, had been 23-0 when outshooting its opponent. The Buffs outshot the Bears 43.5 percent from the field to 38. Boyle wants his defense to hold teams to 41 percent from the field, so three ticks below that constituted a pleasant Sunday afternoon for Boyle.

Not so for veteran Cal coach Mike Montgomery. "The one thing Colorado does is they will not let you get to the basket; they really load up at the basket," he said. "So, what we worked on was to try and get there (inside) and find the open guy (outside). I wouldn't say we were highly successful in that."

The Buffs, said Boyle, defended the perimeter better than efficiently, with freshman Spencer Dinwiddle - "He's become a lock-down guy" - lacking in on Jorge Gutierrez (no points) and senior Nate Tomlinson making Allen Crabbe work for his 16 points.

Said Boyle: "All of our guys - Carlton (Brown), 'Sk' (Askia Booker), Nate and Spencer - did great jobs on the perimeter . . . I thought our perimeter defense was terrific."

CU's perimeter offense - in truth, its offense overall - was markedly improved over the previous game, when the Buffs shot a season-worst 29.6 percent. Three Buffs - Dinwiddle and senior Austin Dufault with 15 each, Tomlinson with 11 - reached double figures.

DUCKS USE SECOND-HALF RUN TO TOP BUFFS 90-81

EUGENE, Ore. - The University of Oregon used an 18-3 second half run to take control of the game, and a late push by the University of Colorado fell short as the Ducks defeated the Buffaloes 90-81 at Matthew Knight Arena on Thursday night.

The win puts the Ducks (21-8, 12-5) into a tie with Arizona for third place in the Pac-12 standings and knocks the Buffs (19-10, 11-6) into sole possession of fifth place in the conference. For the Buffs to win first in the top four and receive a first-round bye in the Pac-12 tournament, they must defeat Oregon State on Saturday and hope for either Oregon to lose to Utah (also on Saturday) or for Arizona to lose at Arizona State on Sunday.

CU led 47-44 with 15:56 to play in the game, but over the next 4:17 Oregon went on an 18-3 run to take a 62-50 lead. Carlos Emory was the sparkplug for the Ducks as he completed two ones-and-dones during this stretch, in addition to hitting a three-pointer to account for nine of Oregon's 18 points over this run.

"I thought they were the aggressors coming out of halftime," said CU head coach Tad Boyle. "They really got to the foul line and got us on our heels a little bit. We have to guard the ball better than we did tonight. Once they got going, they made some tough shots."

The Buffs trailed 77-57 before going on a 7-0 run to put some pressure on Oregon. After the Buffs tightened the game to 76-70, Devos Joseph and Garrett Sim nailed step-back jumpers on back-to-back possessions to push the Buffs back to 10 points.

CU proved resilient once again though as Spencer Dinwiddle scored six straight points to close Oregon's deficit to just four at 80-76. The Ducks would convert their final 10 free throw attempts of the game, however, to ice it, including six from Tyrone Nared who was shooting 50.0 percent from the charity stripe on the season entering the game.

"We did punch back and we didn't hang our heads; we didn't have the bad body language," Boyle commented about CU's resiliency. "Oregon made some tough shots and we have to keep them off the free throw line; they shot 19 free throws in the second half and that's too many."

Oregon shot 20-27 from the free throw line for the contest, including 17-of-19 in the second half. The Ducks shot 61.5 percent (16-of-26) from the field in the second half as they outscored CU by 14 after intermission. For the game Oregon shot 54.4 percent (31-of-57), including 8-of-14 (57.1 percent) from beyond the arc. CU actually outshot UO as the Buffs were 30-of-55 (54.5 percent) from the field. The loss marks the first time this season that CU has been beaten when posting a better shooting percentage than their opponent (previously 19-0).

The Buffs turned the ball over 15 times in the contest, leading to 27 Oregon points. Joseph scored a game-high 24 points on 11-of-16 shooting, and Sim added 19 for the Ducks as he made 5-of-7 three-point attempts. Emory finished with 14 points and E.J. Singler also scored in double figures with 10.

Carlton Brown, who had not scored 10-plus points in four consecutive games after doing so in 19 of the first 24 games, broke out of his slump with a U-high 20 points on 8-of-11 shooting. His 20 points represented the first time a Buff had gone for at least 20 since Brown scored 28 against Washington State on Jan. 7.

Dinwiddle and Andre Roberson each scored 12 points, while Nate Tomlinson added 11. Roberson also reeled in a game-high eight rebounds.

After Tomlinson hit a corner three to open the scoring, the Ducks went on a 9-0 run to take a 9-3 lead. The Buffs then responded with an 8-0 run of their own.

The lead changed hands eight times in the first half, but CU went on a 10-0 run after trailing 23-22 to take their largest lead of the half at 32-23 with 4:54 to go in the first. Tomlinson and Dufault each hit three during this stretch.

The Ducks closed CU's lead to one point at 37-36, but the Buffs responded by scoring on their final two possessions of the first half, including a layup by Shane Harris-Tunks in the final five seconds, to give CU a 41-36 lead at the break.

CU shot a blistering 63.0 percent in the first half, making 17-of-27 field goals with their 41 first-half points the second highest total in Pac-12 play for the Buffs. The Ducks connected on 15-of-31 field goals (48.4 percent) in the first.

Joseph led all scorers with 11 points at the break. Brown led CU with nine points in the first half, coming on 4-of-5 shooting. Brown also had four rebounds and three assists in the opening half. Harris-Tunks contributed with six points before halftime, connecting on 3-of-3 field goals.

BUFFS OVERCOME UTES, SET DATE WITH DUCKS

LOS ANGELES (Mar. 7) - March's marching orders in college basketball are survive and advance, and the Colorado Buffaloes just managed that Wednesday night in the first round of the Pac-12 Conference tournament.

Overcoming a pair of scoring droughts in each half, sixth-seeded CU finally pulled away from Utah 53-41 at the sparsely populated Staples Center to advance to Thursday night's second round and a date with third-seeded Oregon (9:30 p.m., MST).

"We didn't play our best basketball... we set the game back a bit tonight," CU coach Tad Boyle said. "But we grinded it out, we did what we had to do to win... we never got in a rhythm all night. It was an ugly night, but we'll take it and move on."

The win was the Buffs' third against the 11th-seeded Utes this season and gave CU 20 wins (20-11) in back-to-back seasons for the first time in program history.

"We have an opportunity to leave a legacy and this team has done that," Boyle said. "It's not something we talked about when the season started, but we got around 17-18-19 (wins) and we did... we hope we can set a standard for future teams."

Wednesday night's attendance generously was listed as 6,747. CU's "C-Unit" cheering section - an audience of 50 students flown in for the tournament - made itself heard early. Boyle credited athletic director Mike Bohn for the move to bring the "C-Unit," calling Bohn "a wonderful athletic director... to bring 50 students out on the flight says a lot about him and his leadership ability. We're playing for the entire Buffs nation up and down the West Coast and back in Colorado."

Surrendering a combined 173 points in a pair of road losses last week at Oregon and Oregon State, CU tightened up its defense and found just enough offense to overcome Utah (6-25).

"I don't know how to pinpoint it (the offensive struggles)," said senior Carlton Brown, one of three Buffs to reach double figures. "We just didn't have the flow... but we built our program on defense and rebounding and some days it's going to be ugly."

Sophomore Andre Roberson led all scorers with 20 points and collected 11 rebounds, pushing him past Burdette Halderson as CU's career rebounding leader. Halderson had 346 from 1954-55; Roberson has 347 in his two seasons. Roberson said breaking the record "means a lot, but I'm not really into all the individual praise. I'm worried about the team first."

Brown, who broke out of his mini-slump with 20 and 14 points on the Oregon swing, added 15 points and freshman Spencer Dinwiddie had 10. But CU finished the game shooting 34.9 percent from the field (15-of-43) and made only one of 11 three-point attempts.

The Buffs were up 10, but the Utes - coming off the worst loss in program history (94-48 at Oregon) - weren't ready to roll. And CU wasn't ready to put them away; another Buffs drought - this one spanning nearly 7 minutes - was underway.

A three-pointer by Chris Hines and a dunk by Jason Washburn pulled Utah to within five (35-30) at the Utes' 12-minute mark. A minute and a half later, Washburn hit one of two free throws and the Buffs were four back (35-31) - and CU's offense had gone stagnant again.

The score remained at 35-31 for nearly 4 minutes, until Anthony Odunsi sank two free throws and pulled the Utes to within two (35-33). Utah stayed within two until CU got four consecutive points from Carlton Brown, two foul shots from Roberson, and another pair by Dinwiddie to push ahead 43-35 with 3:46 remaining.

The Utes never got closer than eight points thereafter.

ROBERSON'S PUT-BACK PUTS BUFFS IN PAC-12 SEMIS

LOS ANGELES (Mar. 8) - The Colorado Buffaloes rediscovered the defense they lost in Oregon and the offense that deserted them against Utah. But despite being night-and-day better in almost every area than in the past three games, CU needed something else - and Andre Roberson provided it Thursday night at the Staples Center.

It took a put-back by Roberson with 13 seconds remaining - and don't overlook a final defensive stand featuring Nate Tomlinson - to eliminate third-seeded Oregon, 63-62, and deposit the improbable Buffs in the Pac-12 Conference semifinals, two wins away from an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament.

"Well, to me, that's what basketball in March is all about," a jubilant CU coach Tad Boyle said. "Obviously, we're related because we won. But when our guys put forth the kind of effort they did, as a coach it just makes you real proud."

"I think you've got to tip your hat to Oregon, too, because their guys competed. It was just a great college basketball game by two teams going toe-to-toe."

The Buffs have been in this position before, they advanced to the Big 12 Conference semifinals last March, but were ousted by No. 2 Kansas. One big difference between that game and Friday night's, said Boyle, is "there won't be 18,000 Kansas fans cheering against us" in Kansas City, "so that's a nice thing."

He promised his players, who leaped and danced off the Staples Center court in celebration, would be well-rested, well-hydrated and well-motivated to face Cal. Boyle said the Buffs "competed our tails off" against the Jayhawks in their 90-83 Big 12 semifinal loss. "Those guys are here on a mission, and I like the focus of our team," Boyle said. "If we can compete (Friday) like we did against Kansas, as a coach, I'll take that."

Of course, Boyle would rather take that effort and a win into Saturday's Pac-12 championship game - an unheard-of destination when the conference season began for the first-year Pac-12 members.

Roberson, who recorded his 18th double-double of the season (12 points, 10 rebounds), said his rebound and decisive stick-back of a Spencer Dinwiddie miss was a product of Boyle's philosophy: "We tried to attack, we didn't want to take a jump shot. Coach Boyle tells us to attack the rim. I saw Spencer go (to the rim) and I crashed the boards like I normally do... it fell right into my hands."

Carlton Brown led CU with 18 points, hitting seven of his 13 field goal attempts (two-for-four threes). The Buffs were outscored 43-29, but they held the Ducks to 39.7 percent (27-of-68) shooting from the field. That was considerably below Oregon's 54.4 percent marksmanship in a 90-81 win over the Buffs last week in Eugene.

"I was sure hoping they wouldn't shoot like that again (Thursday)," Boyle said. "They got going on their home court and their crowd gave them so much energy... I'm glad this was a neutral court."

But CU had a hand - 10 at a time, in fact - in Oregon being cooled off Thursday. Tomlinson had asked assistant coach Mike Rahn if he could guard the Ducks' leading scorer, Devoe Joseph (16.8 point average). Joseph had torched CU for 24 points in Eugene, hitting 11-of-16 from the field.

But, said Boyle, Tomlinson "did a phenomenal job on Joseph... Note wanted to guard him and he and coach Rahn talked about some things. He told Nate to go for it. I have the utmost confidence in coach Rahn; I was fine with that."

Joseph's 12 points were second to center Tony Woods' 14 for the Ducks (22-9).

BUFFS RAZE ARIZONA, GET READY TO DANCE

LOS ANGELES (Mar. 8) - Dust off those dancing shoes, Buffs fans. Pac-12 hoops, who's your today?

The improbable, unflopable, and in the very end undeniable Colorado Buffaloes made history here Saturday, outlasting Arizona 53-51 at the Staples Center to win the Pac-12 Conference tournament championship in their debut season in the expanded league.

CU is a conference tournament champion for the first time in program history and in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2003 after earning the Pac-12's automatic berth. Where the Buffs are seeded, who and where they will play will be determined Sunday by the NCAA Selection Committee.

A season after being denied an NCAA Tournament berth and losing 75 percent of his offense, CU coach Tad Boyle reloaded as best he could and hoped for the best. But Boyle constructed his second season in Boulder with more determination than dreams, ultimately squeezing and coaxing every ounce of effort out of the Buffs during a taxing four-day Pac-12 run that followed a dismaying regular-season finish.

Losing three of its final four games, CU dropped from regular-season title contenders to a sixth tournament seed. No problem; rising up in L.A. was the Buffs' mission. They did it in grand - if gut-wrenching - style, and they did it the hard way, winning four games in four days.

CU (23-11) almost squandered a 23-point lead, scoring only three points in the last 9 minutes but still denying No. 4 seed Arizona (23-11) in its comeback attempt.

"Saying I'm proud of these guys is the biggest understatement I've ever made," Boyle said. "If you believe in destiny, you believe in the Colorado Buffaloes."

Freshman Spencer Dinwiddie led CU with 14 points, and senior Carlton Brown - the Buffs' leading scorer in the tournament - added 13, including a dunk in the final minute that was his team's last field goal. Sophomore Andre Roberson submitted his third double-double (10 points, 11 rebounds) in four tournament games.

Brown was named the tournament MVP, highlighting a two-week run that saw him hit lows, highs and finish as high as he's ever been.

Said Boyle on Brown: "I think what you saw out of Carlton these last four games is he's a guy who put this team on his shoulders. He's been more vocal than he's been all year in timeouts, in huddles, on the floor, encouraging his teammates. . . . (He) deserves the MVP of this tournament because he was big when we needed him to be big."

Brown, the only member of the CU roster to play in the NCAA Tournament (with Utah), said the late-season scoring slump he encountered finally was put behind him: "I just tried to put everything in the past, knowing I had this opportunity to be aggressive and play in this tournament. . . . I just let everything go."

Roberson also was named to the all-tournament team, joining Jared Cunningham (Oregon State), Kyle Fogg (Arizona), Solomon Hill (Arizona) and Jesse Perry (Arizona). That trio led the Wildcats in scoring Saturday - Fogg with 14, Hill with 13 and Perry with 11.

Arizona coach Sean Miller was effusive in congratulating CU and Boyle: "I want to say the job that Tad Boyle has done at Colorado and what Colorado represents to the future of the Pac-12, I can make the argument that there's been no greater gift to college basketball in the Pac-12 than adding Colorado."

Miller said whoever draws CU in the NCAA Tournament "is running into a hungry, well-coached, disciplined team. I really believe that's the story of today. They beat us. They were the better team."

BUFFS OUTLAST RUNNIN' REBELS; BAYLOR UP NEXT

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (Mar. 15) - No NCAA Tournament wins in nearly two decades? No problem. No Big Dance experience since 2003? No big deal.

Somebody say the Pac-12 Conference champions didn't belong? Nobody told the No. 11 seed Colorado Buffaloes, who started lost, played furiously and finally waved goodbye Thursday night to No. 6 seed UNLV, eliminating the Runnin' Rebels, 68-64.

It wasn't easy, but as CU coach Tad Boyle has seen over the past 10 days, his team doesn't do easy. Up by 20 points with 13:08 to play, CU saw its lead evaporate to 57-55 in the last 4 minutes after a 20-4 UNLV run, then to 67-64 in the final 8.4 seconds.

But as they did last week in winning the Pac-12 title, the Buffs held on - sometimes in spite of themselves. They committed a season-high 23 turnovers, yielded a season-high 14 steals and missed 10 free throws. In the four-day, four-game run in Los Angeles, CU averaged 8.5 turnovers and stayed in single-digit in errors for four games - a school record.

"I guess looking back, NCAA Tournament games shouldn't be easy, but we didn't handle our lead in the second half as well as we'd like to," Boyle said after congratulating UNLV (23-9) on its first season under coach Dave Rice. "But one thing about our team, we've shown toughness and resiliency all year. . . . we found a way to do it."

The victory at "The Pit" - which had a loud and sizeable CU contingent among the crowd of 11,839 - advances the surprising Buffs (24-11) to the NCAA Tournament's third round on Saturday.

The win in Thursday night's second round was CU's first in NCAA Tournament play since Chauncey Billups' Buffs defeated Indiana 80-62 in the 1997 tournament in Winston-Salem, N.C. CU was eliminated two days later by North Carolina, 73-56.

Boyle said this CU team "found its heart" in L.A., and the Buffs did nothing to lose it in Albuquerque. "We believe in ourselves," said sophomore Andre Roberson, who punched up his 20th double-double (12 points, 16 rebounds) against UNLV. "We believe in everything coach Boyle tells us. We execute our game plan, we try to do our best. Defense and rebounding - that's our motto. Every time we do that, we win games."

Roberson was one of four CU players in double figures, topped by freshman Askia Booker's 16. Senior Austin Dufault added 14 and senior Carlton Brown had 12. Freshman Spencer Dinwiddie finished with nine points, including five-of-seven free throws in the final minute. His foul shot with 5.5 seconds to play gave CU a four-point lead and sealed the win.

After consecutive days of practice that Boyle termed sub-par, he let the Buffs sleep in Thursday morning and pushed breakfast back an hour (10 a.m.). They also skipped their game-day shoot-around, but stayed on schedule with a morning film review of UNLV and a walk-through in one of their hotel's ballrooms.

If that's what it took to reenergize and refocus his team, it worked.

The Buffs got a three-pointer from Brown on their first possession, went up 3-0 and never trailed, although the Runnin' Rebels tightened things up with their full-court pressure in the final 10 minutes. CU committed 14 of its 23 turnovers - worth 18 UNLV points - in the last 20 minutes. But Boyle settled his team when he needed to with timeouts, and never lost confidence in his players down the stretch. "I trust this team, I really do," he said. "I think we've really found another level since we went to L.A. and did what we did."

2011-12 Colorado Basketball Highlights

- Earned Colorado's first NCAA Tournament berth since the 2002-03 season (nine years) and only the third NCAA Tournament appearance since 1968-69 (43 years).
- Won the Pac-12 Conference Tournament and the automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament winning four games in four days at the Staples Center in Los Angeles. The Buffaloes were the No. 6 seed.
- Carlton Brown named the Pac-12 Tournament's Most Outstanding Player averaging 15.8 points per game on 25-of-50 (50.0 percent) shooting in CU's four wins in four days. Brown also averaged 4.8 rebounds per game with nine steals.
- Against California in the semifinals, Brown had a breakaway windmill dunk that served as an exclamation point in the final minute of CU's victory. The play was No. 4 on SportsCenter's Top Ten plays of the day. Brown also had a highlight reel dunk in the final minute of the title game against Arizona, CU's final bucket of the game in a two-point victory which also snapped a streak of 8:19 without a field goal for the Buffs. Once again in the NCAA tournament win over UNLV, Brown had a breakaway tomahawk dunk in the final three minutes that provided CU with the spark to hold onto victory.
- Carlton Brown's dunk against UNLV appeared on CBS' One Shining Moment.

Individual Records: Andre Roberson set the single-season rebounding record (401) • Roberson set the single-season defensive rebounding record (290) • CU's freshman duo of Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker added to their designation of the highest scoring frosh pair in CU history. Dinwiddie (360 points) and Booker (317) have combined for 677 total points, well outdistancing all other rookie twosomes (the only two with 250-plus points) • Austin Dufault set the school record for most games played in a career (136) • Nate Tomlinson tied the school record for three-point percentage (min. 250 att.) at 40.6 percentage.

Team Records: Tied the school-record for victories in a season (24) • Sixth team in school history to win 20 games in a season and first 20-win team to average under 70 points per game (67.5) • Set a school-record for conference total attendance (82,442) breaking 2010-11 total of 78,472 • Set a school-record for average attendance (7,804).

National Notes: Andre Roberson ranked third nationally in rebounds per game with 11.1. Roberson trailed the national leader (Siena's O.D. Anosike) by 1.4 rebounds per game. Roberson's third place finish is the highest finish by a CU player in rebounding was Alex Stivins who finished sixth in the nation with an 11.7 average in the 1984-85 season • Roberson finished the season with 20 double-doubles, fifth nationally • Roberson was No. 54 nationally in blocked shots (1.86). • Spencer Dinwiddie was No. 101st nationally in free throw percentage (81.6) • According to The Chronicle of Higher Education, CU went from 4,637 fans in 2009 to 7,804 in 2012 for a 68 percent increase. The 68 percent makes CU the biggest gainers in attendance and a No. 1 ranking. Among the top 10 schools listed, CU is the only Pac-12 school that improved in attendance, while five Pac-12 schools decreased in attendance.

Pac-12 Conference Leaders (Team/Individual All Games): CU finished first in field goal percentage defense (.404) and defensive rebounds (26.1) • Andre Roberson first in rebounding (11.1 rpg.), first in offensive (3.1 rpg.), defensive rebounding (8.1 rpg.) • Roberson tied for first in blocked shots per game (1.9) • Team high for margin of victory (58 points) vs. New Orleans (92-34, Dec. 28, 2011) • Tied lowest field goals allowed with two others: 12 vs. New Orleans, Dec. 28, 2011).

Pac-12 Conference Leaders (Team/Individual: Conference-Only): First in defensive rebounds (25.9 rpg.) and first in defensive rebounding percentage (.731) • Andre Roberson first in rebounding (10.9 rpg.), first in defensive rebounds (8.2), first in blocked shots (2.3) • Carlton Brown tied six others for most three-pointers made in a game (6) vs. Washington State (Jan. 7, 2012) • Fewest points allowed: 33 vs. Utah, Dec. 31, 2011 • Lowest field goal percentage allowed (.226) vs. Utah (Dec. 31, 2011) • Fewest field goals allowed 12 vs. Utah.

Other Team Notes: Under head coach Tad Boyle, the Buffs are 10-3 in postseason play (6-1 in conference tournaments, 1-1 in the NCAA, 3-1 in the N.I.T.); that's the most wins by any CU coach in the postseason.

- His 6-1 conference tournament record is a percentage of .857, ranking first among CU men's basketball coaches.
- Boyle is 48-26 in two seasons at CU (73-34 the last three years including a 25-8 record at Northern Colorado in 2009-10).
- First coach in CU history to win back-to-back 20 games in a season.
- CU won 14 home games, tied for second in school history behind 18 wins set in 2010-11.
- 32 home wins, best two-year win total in school history.
- CU allowed the opponent 63.0 points per game, lowest since 1963-64 (49 years).
- Allowed opponent 40.4 shooting percentage, third lowest since 1965-66 season (47 years). Since 1965-66, the 40.4 FG% ranks behind 2002-03 (20 wins, .402) and 1996-97 (22 wins, .400).
- 2011-12 Totals: 24 wins (ties 1st all-time) • 1,289 rebounds (3rd all-time) • 2,429 points scored (4th all-time) • 560 free throws made (4th all-time) • 572 3-point attempts (5th all-time) • 199 3-pointers made (6th all-time) • 810 free-throw attempts (6th all-time) • 835 field goals made (8th all-time) • 1,874 FG attempts (9th all-time).

COLORADO BASKETBALL HISTORY

It was nine years since CU last danced in the NCAA Tournament and in one of the greatest seasons ever, second year head coach Tad Boyle equaled the previous season's win total (24), advanced to the NCAA Tourney third round, and won the inaugural Pac-12 Tournament championship by winning four games in four days as the No. 6 seed.

The conference regular season had its ups and downs where at one point, CU could have ended the season as the number one or two seed in the tournament. However, losing three of its last four games and dropping to the No. 6 overall seed, the Buff overcame No. 12 seed Utah, 53-41 on 34.9 percent shooting on the opening night at the Staples Center in Los Angeles.

On the day two and against No. 3 seed Oregon, CU edged the Ducks, 63-62 for the second time in three meetings this season. Sophomore forward Andre Roberson put back with 13 seconds remaining and a defensive stand by senior point-guard Nate Tomlinson proved to be the difference in the one point win. In the semifinals, CU took care of No. 2 Cal, 70-59 on 59.1 percent shooting from the field in the second half. Senior guard Carlon Brown breakaway windmill dunk served as an exclamation point in the final minute of CU's victory. The play was No. 4 on SportsCenter's Top Ten plays of the day.

In the finals, the Buffs held on again for another upset, edging No. 4 seed Arizona, 53-51 after leading the Wildcats by 12 points in the second half. CU scored only three points in the last nine minutes of the game, however, Brown had a highlight reel dunk in the final minute, snapping a streak of 8:19 without a field goal. CU became the first team to win four games in Pac-12 Conference Tournament history, and just the 10th team from the "big six" conferences to do so since 1952. At the NCAA Tournament, the Buffs, seeded No. 11 upset No. 6 and No. 23/25 ranked UNLV in the second round, then fell to No. 3 Baylor, 80-63, two days later.

Carlon Brown was named the tournament's most outstanding player, in addition being named to the all-tournament. Andre Roberson also earned all-tournament team had a superb sophomore year becoming the first CU player to average a double-double for the entire season (11.6 ppg., 11.1 rpg.) since Stephane Pelle (2001-02; 12.8 ppg., 10.8 rpg.). Roberson also became the 12th player in school history to lead the team in rebounding in back-to-back seasons, and just the third CU player to lead the team in rebounds, blocks, and steals in the same season, duplicating that feat during his freshman season.

In addition, Roberson set the single-season rebounding record (401) breaking a 58-year old record (Burdette Haldorson, 1954-55); set the single-season defensive rebounding record (290) breaking the 225 by Shaun Vandiver (1989-90), 23 years ago; and shattered sophomore season record for most rebounds (401) topping old mark of 337 (Cliff Meely in 1968-69, 44 years ago).

Roberson ranked third nationally in rebounds per game with 11.1 and trailed the national leader (Siena's O.D. Anosike) by 1.4 rebounds per game. Roberson's third place finish is the highest finish by a CU player in rebounding was Alex Stivrins who finished sixth in the nation with an 11.7 average in the 1984-85 season. Roberson finished the season with 20 double-doubles, fifth nationally and was No. 54 nationally in blocked shots (1.86).

CU's freshman duo of Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker added to their designation of the highest scoring frosh pair in CU history. Dinwiddie (360 points) and Booker (317) combined for 677 points, well outdistancing all other rookie twosomes (the only two with 250-plus points). Dinwiddie was No. 101st nationally in free throw percentage (81.6).

Colorado native Tad Boyle made the most of his "dream job" in his first year on the University of Colorado campus guiding the Buffaloes to a school-record 24 victories in 2010-11. In addition to setting the standard of the most successful season ever by a CU head coach, Boyle capped the season with a trip to the World's Most Famous Arena - Madison Square Garden, and a National Invitation Tournament semifinal appearance.

Named the 18th head coach in CU men's basketball history (on April 19, 2010), Boyle, 48, also etched his name among the school's great coaches becoming first head coach in 20 years to win his coaching debut; becoming the first CU coach since H.B. Lee (1950-51) to win his first two conference games in his first year, in addition to becoming the first Buff head coach since Henry Iba (1933-34) to win his first three conference games.

Boyle, 49, joined the Colorado staff from the University of Northern Colorado, where he led the Bears to a 56-66 record (.459 winning percentage) over the previous four seasons. The 2009-10 season was a breakout season for Boyle's Bears as they finished second in the Big Sky Conference with a 25-8 record (.758 winning percentage) and Boyle was named as the NABC Division I All-District Coach of the Year along with the Big Sky Coach of the Year. Boyle brings 15 years of coaching experience to Boulder.

"This is it (my dream job), there's no doubt," Boyle said. "I remember talking with (former Texas A&M head coach) Mark Turgeon once when he asked me where I wanted to be in 10 years, and I said the head coach at the University of Colorado. This is a destination job. I'm humbled and honored."

From 2007-10 the program was led by Jeff Bzdelik, who came from the United States Air Force Academy, led the Buffaloes to a 36-58 (.383) record. His best season was his last in Boulder, a 15-16 mark and 6-10 in the Big 12 in 2009-10. Over his three seasons with the Buffs, Bzdelik experienced a series of near-misses, losing 27 single-digit games, 18 of those in the Big 12. The 27 losses were an average of 4.6 points.

Entering the 2011-2012 season, the Buffalo program boasts a winning record of 1,152-1,102 (.511) in 110 years of existence and 108 of actual playing (1942-44 not played due to WWII).

A program first known as the Silver and Gold, won its first game back on Jan. 10, 1902 defeating State Prep School, 34-10. That game marked the beginning of what was to become an outstanding tradition of basketball at CU.

Although there have been many changes over the years from that first victory, the Silver and Gold became known as the Buffaloes in 1934, after CU students rented a buffalo calf for the final football game that year. Colorado has been a member of five conferences, joining the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1909, and then the Mountain States in 1937. The Buffs became a member of the Big Seven Conference in 1947, which became the Big Eight in 1958, and now are a member of the Big 12 Conference as teams from the Big Eight and Southwest Conferences merged in the 1996-97 season.

Another major change in Colorado basketball came in 1979, when the team moved into the Colorado Events/Conference Center with its spacious seating capacity of 11,076 (entering the 2010-11 season, capacity is 11,043 and called the Coors Events Center). The facility was renamed the Coors Events/Conference Center in 1990, in honor of a donation made by Coors to the campus. Many names and faces have helped make Colorado basketball special. There have been those, however, whose contributions stand out.

A total of 18 coaches have guided the Buffs to victory, but none more so than past leaders

Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, H.B. Lee, Russell "Sox" Walseth, and Ricardo Patton. The first coach to make a solid presence on the coaching sideline was Cox, who spent 13 years roaming the Balch Fieldhouse from 1936-50. Cox collected a 147- 89 (.623) record with his 1937-38 team reaching the championship game of the National Invitation Tournament before falling to Temple. While at the helm, Cox's teams won four Mountain States Conference (MSC) titles and he concluded his CU career with the best won-lost percentage (.623) of any CU coach of more than one season.

Some of CU basketball's finest moments were orchestrated by Lee from 1951-56. Lee took control of the CU squad in 1950, and in four short seasons he guided the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in eight years (1953-54). During that season, the Buffaloes established themselves as a contender defeating NCAA runner-up Kansas on Feb. 2 (70-62).

The following year (1954-55), CU performed a feat not familiar in present day basketball, sweeping the Jayhawks in the season series, a feat only accomplished four other times (1948-49, 1958-59, 1961-62, 1962-63). Colorado made its only trip to the Final Four falling to San Francisco in the semi-finals, however redeeming themselves in the third place game, defeating Iowa. That season saw Lee's squad win a then-school-best 19 games and secure a pair of Big 7 titles (one shared). From 1957-76, basketball was under the direction of Walseth. His 261 wins are the most by any coach in school basketball history. Walseth led the Buffs to back-to-back Big Eight Conference titles in 1961-62 and 1962- 63, and both teams reached the NCAA second round before being eliminated by Cincinnati.

Walseth also engineered six Big 8 placings were his teams finished third or better in the conference, including three first place tallies (one shared). During the 1968-69 season, Walseth's team won a then-school best 21 games and during his tenure won 14 or more games in a season, 11 times. His teams also had 13 winning seasons. Today, CU now plays on the "Sox Walseth Floor" in the Coors Events Center, a tribute to Walseth's success as a Buff.

Coaches are not solely responsible for the success of each season, and the Buffs have had a wealth of outstanding talent on the hardwood in its proud past. Outstanding Buff performers range from Jack Harvey, CU's first All-American; to Burdette Haldorson, who led CU to consecutive Big Seven titles in 1953-54 and

Stevie Wise

BUFF BITS

Colorado is just one of just 12 schools to have ever qualified for the NCAA Tournament and the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) in the same year, as the Buffaloes made dual appearances in 1940, becoming the first school to ever do that. That year, CU won the NIT and finished fourth in the NCAA West Region. The other schools that have matches this feat are: Arizona (1951), Bradley (1950), Brigham Young (1951), City College of New York (which won both tournaments in 1950), Dayton (1952), Duquesne (1952), Kentucky (1949), North Carolina State (1951), St. John's (1951 and 1952), St. Louis University (1952), and Utah (1944).

1954-55; Cliff Meely; Scott Wedman; Jay Humphries to Chauncey Billups, CU's highest NBA Draftee (drafted third overall in the first round of the 1997 NBA Draft by the Boston Celtics).

The "Big Burd," as Haldorson was called, won the league scoring race in both championship seasons, netting 21.3 and 23.9 points per game, respectively. After Colorado finished third in the 1955 NCAA Tournament, Haldorson was selected to the AAU All-America team. His 13.8 rebounds per game that year is still a CU single season record. He also owns the record for most rebounds in a game, pulling down 31 in a 1952 effort against Oklahoma.

Meely became another familiar name to CU fans and opponents from 1968 to 1971. The sensational center-forward is CU's second all-time rebounder (971 boards, 12.1 avg.). In addition, Meely held a number of Big Eight scoring marks when his collegiate career ended in 1971. He was named an All-American for his performance during his senior campaign in which he pumped in an average of 28.0 points and hauled in 11.9 rebounds per game. A seven-point, 25-rebound outing against Oklahoma was one highlight of that milestone season. That 1971 season capped a highly successful college career for Meely, as he led the Buffs to the conference title in 1968-69.

The next Buff to make an impact was Wedman, a sharp-shooting forward from 1971-74. Wedman came to CU from Denver's Mullen High School and led the team in scoring and rebounding for two years, field goal percentage three years, and free throw percentage one year. Before leaving Colorado, Wedman was firmly established in the school record books.

His numbers placed him seventh in career scoring, sixth in rebounding, and he was the eighth leading field goal shooter in CU history at that time. After enjoying a successful 12-year stint in the NBA, Wedman concluded his professional career in 1987 with the Boston Celtics.

Arguably the best and most exciting Buff of the 1980s was guard Jay Humphries from 1981-84. While running the offense, Humphries became the school's all-time assist leader (562) and finished fourth in scoring (1,306 points, 11.7 avg.). His specialty, however, was defensive play. He finished as the Buffs' all-time leader in steals with 309 for a 2.8 average per game, and led the nation in hefts during the 1982-83 campaign with 115.

CU closed out the 1980s and began a new decade of Buffalo basketball with two greats, Shaun Vandiver and Stevie Wise. Both Vandiver and Wise were instrumental in the school's run through the 1991 National Invitation Tournament, CU's first postseason appearance since making the NCAA Tourney in 1969. And before it was over, the Buffaloes had played to a standing room only crowd in the Coors Events Center, cut down the nets there after defeating Arkansas State to advance to the NIT's Final Four in New York City, and eventually finished third in the tournament.

Vandiver, a 6-10 center, a transfer to CU in 1988 after leading Hutchinson CC to the junior college national championship, worked his way up the Buff charts with an excellent shooting touch and a desire to hit the boards. He finished his three-year career in Boulder as the Buffs' all-time leader in field goal percentage (.574, 750-of-1307), as well as their No. 2 all-time scorer (1,876 points) and rebounder (962 boards). He currently stands third on the field goal percentage and rebounding list, and fifth in scoring.

Wise too, left his mark in the CU record books. Coming to Boulder as a guard in 1987, he managed to suit up for 119 games in a Colorado uniform, the fifth-most. Like Vandiver, he too loved to shoot, and is one of the Buffs' all-time three-point specialists, holding several of CU's three-point shooting marks. Wise also finished his career as the No. 3 scorer (1,727 points) and sits in sixth today. Wise still ranks among the top nine in career minutes (4th), steals (4th) and assists (7th).

Donnie Boyce marked the onset of the 1990s, as the Maywood, Ill., product took CU and the Big Eight by storm. After four incredible seasons in Boulder, Boyce walked away as the then-all-time leading scorer (1,995 points) in school history and led the Buffs to an NIT bid at the end of his senior season, 1994-95. He became the first Buff (and second overall) to lead the team in scoring all four years. His 1,995 career points is now third overall.

Boyce, however, never enjoyed postseason play, as he suffered a broken leg that ended his collegiate career during CU's game with Oklahoma in the opening round of the 1995 Big Eight Tournament. Nonetheless, Boyce was drafted by the Atlanta Hawks with the 42nd pick in the second round of the 1995 NBA Draft. With numerous school records in tow, Boyce is remembered as one of the best players in CU history.

Billups continued CU's tradition of great players as he made his mark early in his career. In only his fourth game as a freshman, Billups posted the first triple-double in CU history. His 24-point, 11-assist, 11-rebound game against George Mason was a harbinger of great things to come for the 6-3 product from George Washington High School in Denver.

As a sophomore, Billups would lead Colorado to its first NCAA appearance (1996-97) in 28 years and earn many postseason accolades, including first-team All-Big 12 honors and first-team All-America kudos from Basketball Weekly. In two years, Billups scored over 1,000 points, becoming the 20th player in CU history to accomplish that feat.

The next great point-guard, Jaquay Walls, guided CU toward back-to-back 18 win seasons, both of which brought NIT invitations. A college transfer who made his impact immediately, Walls was named honorable mention All-Big 12 and to the All-Newcomer team in his junior season. As a senior, he was twice named Big 12 Player of the Week and had a 42-point performance against Iowa State, which became the Big 12 season high, all-time conference record, as well as the top scoring performance by a Buff at the Coors Events Center. His 15 overtime points in that game was also an NCAA record. That spring, he was selected by the Indiana Pacers in the NBA Draft.

Continuing the powerful scoring tradition, Jamahl Mosley ended a four-year CU career as the 13th highest scorer ever for the Buffs finishing with 1,171 points (21st today). He brought many accolades to himself and the Colorado program including Academic All-Big 12 as a freshman, All-Big 12 and named to the AP's All-Improved team as a junior, and as a senior, received numerous accolades as the Buffs' veteran leader. CU saw another dominant player emerge on the Boulder campus.

Seven-footer David Harrison made his presence felt during the 2001-02 season being named to the Big 12 All-Freshman team and leading the Buffaloes in scoring (13.9 ppg.). The only other players in CU history to stand over seven feet are Frank Wilcox (1955-56) and current sophomore Ben Mills. Harrison also rewrote the CU record book in field goal percentage finishing the season with a stellar 63.8 percentage from the field and third nationally, in addition to making his name synonymous with the CU blocked shot record lists.

With a school-record 106 swats during the 2002-03 season and shattering the previous mark of 73, Harrison became the first player in school history and in the Big 12 Conference to record a pair of triple-doubles (31 points, 17 rebounds, 10 blocked shots against Stetson; and 20 points, 11 blocks, 10 rebounds versus Nebraska).

Also during this span, Stephane Pelle emerged as another dominant player in CU basketball. Pelle, a four-year standout, was the first CU player in 11 years to average a double-double during the 2001-02 campaign. Averaging 12.8 points and 10.8 rebounds per game, Pelle was named to the Big 12 All-Underrated team.

His season double in points and rebounds remains the only double-double spanning nearly 10 years (entering the 2011-12 season).

In 2002-03, CU enjoyed one its finest seasons to date, capping it with a NCAA Tournament berth for the first time since 1996-97. With 20 victories on the season, another feat only accomplished twice before by Patton in 1996-97 (22-10) and Sox Walseth in 1968-69 (21-7), the Buffaloes also upset four nationally ranked teams — all at home for the first-time ever.

Individually, the Buffaloes received four All-Big 12 honors with Michel Morandais (second team) along with Pelle earning conference third-team. Morandais and Harrison also were named to the Big 12's specialty teams as two of the conference's most-improved players. Pelle capped his four-year career with 1,367 points and 1,054 rebounds becoming the first CU men's basketball player to secure both 1,000 plateaus. He also became CU's all-time rebounding leader and seventh overall scorer (today he's 10th).

During the 2003-04 campaign, CU won 18 games for the fifth time under Patton and earning its third NIT berth in eight years. More impressively, the Buffaloes won 10 conference games, the most since recording 11 back in 1996-97 and earning the number four seed at the Big 12 Tournament in Dallas. Harrison also broke the school record for blocks in a career (225) and would on go to rewrite the blocked shot record book despite playing only three years and opting for the 2004 NBA Draft (29th overall, first round, Indiana Pacers).

Other outstanding performances came from Blair Wilson breaking the CU career record for 3-pointers made (257). Earlier in the season, Wilson played "in the zone" draining six treys against Iowa State. In that game, Wilson set or tied four school records against the Cyclones making his first six 3-pointers without a miss (CU Record); tying a half record (6), tying for 3s made in a conference half, and tying consecutive 3-pointers made.

Morandais became the 21st player in CU history to score over 1,000 points in his career. He finished seventh overall with 1,428 (today he's ninth). Wilson reached the 1,000-point plateau and finished with 1,253 points (17th today). Harrison rounded out the 1,000-point scorers finishing with 1,317 and is now 13th entering the 2011-12 season.

A near upset at the Big 12 Tournament highlighted a not-so popular 14-16 record in 2004-05. After upsetting No. 6 seed Texas, 81-69 in the first round of the conference tournament, the No. 11 seed Buffaloes became the first school in the nine-year history of the Big 12 to pull off the improbable upset. CU again played beyond its expectations narrowly upsetting eventual conference champion Oklahoma State, 87-85 in the quarterfinals.

The Buffaloes also saw the arrival of freshman Richard Roby in 2004-05 as he would become the first freshman since Billups (1995-96) to lead CU in scoring with 16 points per game and net over double-digits 26 times in 30 games. He also recorded a pair of Phillips 66/Big 12 Rookie of the Week honors and became only the fourth CU player ever to make seven 3-pointers in a game, twice.

The 2005-06 Buffaloes won 20 games for the 11th time in their history en route to the National Invitational Tournament, with 14 of those coming at the Events Center tying the 2002-03 season for most-ever. The Buffs also re-wrote the school's 3-point record for made (240) and attempts (701), and Roby became the first CU player since 2003-04 and only the fourth player since 1996-97 to be named All-Big 12 first team. CU also reached the national stage by being ranked in back-to-back ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Polls, a school first since the 1996-97 campaign.

The 2006-07 season would not be one of its best seasons to reflect on, a 7-20 record and a 3-13 mark in the Big 12, school lows since the 1993-94 campaign. Entering his final year of his contract, coach Patton closed out his 11th full year of coaching with a school-record eight freshmen, the most on a team at one time, since 1993-94. However, it did see some positive headlines on the court.

Roby led the team in scoring for the third-straight year (17.3 ppg.), while senior guard Dominique Coleman became the first guard since Donnie Boyce in 1994-95 to lead CU in rebounding. Coleman grabbed 185 boards and averaged 6.9 caroms a game. One of the team highlights was the upset victory over No. 12/14 Oklahoma State. It marked the fifth straight season a CU team defeated a nationally ranked opponent at home.

In 2007-08, Richard Roby set the school scoring record becoming the first male player to eclipse the 2,000-point barrier netting 2,001 points. He would go on to set numerous school records over his outstanding four-year career. The Buffaloes became the first team in Big 12 history as the No. 12 seed in its post-season tournament to beat a No. 5 seed (Baylor).

Roby also became the second Buff in its history to lead the team in scoring all four years (Boyce was the other).

During the 2008-09, CU saw sophomore guard Cory Higgins become one of only 13 players nationally to lead or finish second on his team in five major statistical categories (points, rebounds, assists, steals, blocked shots). He also ranked nationally in a trio of categories (steals, FT%, scoring).

In 2009-10, the Buffs provided a duel offensive punch with Higgins and super freshman Alec Burks. Higgins, garnered his second straight All-Big 12 third team honor, while Burks performed a CU first in the Buffs Big 12 history becoming the first Boulder athlete to earn conference freshman of the year honors.

Higgins and Burks each scored 587 and 512 points, respectively becoming the first tandem to net over 500 points in the same season since the 1990-91 campaign. Burks would also lead the team in rebounding, only the second freshman since Matt Bullard (6.4, 1985-86). Burks was also named to a number of post-season teams including the Big 12 All-Rookie Team, Colleg Insider.com All-America Freshman Team, 2009-10 Basketball Times' All-Freshman first team, CU Sports Performers of the Year (CUSPY) Male Freshman of the Year, Sporting News Magazine All-Freshman second team.

Burks also became the first CU freshman to surpass 500 points in a single-season (512). He ranked fourth nationally of all freshmen in points per game (17.1) and field goal percentage (53.8).

Higgins moved up on the school's all-time scoring list (ninth overall) with 1,391 career points. He led the Big 12-only in steals for the second straight year (2.1).

As a team, CU ranked third nationally in FT% (76.6) and for the first time led the Big 12 from the charity stripe. CU also ranked 21st nationally in 3-point percentage, 26th in FG percentage, 30th in steals. The 47.3 field goal percentage tied for 10th in school history, was also the highest from any CU team since 1989-90 (47.9) and the 409 turnovers committed, was a team low over 30 games played in a season since the stat first kept in 1977-78.

The 2010-11 saw a season unlike no other in quite some time for Buffalo Basketball. With Boyle running the bench as the 18th coach in school history, CU also won a school-record 18 home games at the Coors Events Center and achieved their highest Big 12 finish (t-5th) since 2005-06.

Statistically, CU ranked first in the Big 12 and fifth nationally in free throw percentage (77.8). Boyle's efficient attack also ranked 12th nationally in scoring (79.6 ppg) and 19th nationally in field goal percentage (47.3).

Other team records set:

- Four attendance marks: most sellouts a season (5); all games (140,284); conference total (78,472); conference average (9,809).
- Most games played in a season (38)

- Most minutes (7,675).
- Points scored in a season (3,025) — a school first over 3,000 points.
- FGs Made (1,058) — a school first over 1,000 made field goals.
- Most rebounds (1,367)
- Field Goal Attempts (2,237)
- Free Throws Made (679)
- Free Throw Attempts (873)
- Free Throw Percentage (77.8).
- A school-first, seven players to make at least 100 field goals in a season.
- Number of times with single-digit turnovers in a game (13).
- Most players with over 1,000 minutes played in a season (4).
- Tied school record for most 90 or more points in a season (8).
- Won three Big 12 road games for the first time since 1996-97 season.
- Defeated NCAA Tournament Teams: Kansas State (three times), Texas and Missouri.

Individually, the Buffs were lead by sophomore guard Alec Burks, who subsequently left early to enter the NBA Draft, became CU's second-ever lottery pick and selected No. 12 overall by the Utah Jazz.

Burks would score a single-season school record 779 points, in addition setting the school mark for most free throws made (249) and attempts (302) in a single-season. He would also become the first player at CU to score over 770 points, 240 rebounds, 100 assists in same season.

A Top-20 Wooden Award finalist and unanimous Big 12 Conference first team selection, Burks was 18th nationally in scoring with 20.5 points per game. He would also become the only Big 12 Conference player to rank in the top-12 in the conference-only games in points (20.0; 2nd), rebounds (7.6; t-3rd), and assists (2.8; 12th).

Burks also became the only second CU player in history to average over 20 points, 6 rebounds, and 2.5 assists per game for a season (20.5 ppg., 6.5 rpg., 2.9 apg.), joining Donnie Boyce, who averaged 22.4 points, 6.7 rebounds, and 4.5 assists in the 1993-94 season.

And for the first time in the 15-year Big 12 Championship history, the Buffs advanced to the conference semifinals where Burks became the first CU player to be named to the all-tourney team. Later in the season, the Grandview, Mo. native would be named to the NIT All-Tournament Team (97 points in four games, 24.3 ppg.).

The 2010-11 team was not comprised by one individual, but a cast of others who led to the Buffs success throughout the season. Cory Higgins would end his stellar four-year career tying the school mark for most points in a career (2,001) tying former teammate Richard Roby, who starred in Boulder from 2004-08. Higgins was a three-time third team conference selection, also set a number of school records also becoming the career leader in minutes (4,478), games (132), starts (131), and single-season minutes played (1,222) set in 2010-11.

Higgins would also become the first CU player male or female to score over 2,000 points, 500 rebounds, 300 assists, and 150 steals during his collegiate career.

Sharp-shooter Levi Knutson ended his career making the fifth most treys (81) in a season during CU's NIT run. The Littleton, Colo. native set the single-season mark for 3-point efficiency (47.4 percent) and notched his name among long-range shooting greats finishing third overall with a career 39.3 career percentage.

Andre Roberson also made his presence felt during his initial season setting the freshman rebounding (297) and blocked shot (42) records. Roberson also became the first freshman to lead any CU team in rebounds, steals (51), and blocks. The feat among the Big 12 was a rarity, as Roberson became only the fourth conference player to accomplish it. Averaging 7.8 rebounds per game (100th nationally), Roberson also tied for fifth nationally in freshman rebounding (only player with zero starts).

The 2011-12 season welcomed a new addition to the Coors Events Center since the building first opened in 1979. The brand new basketball and volleyball practice facility resides directly adjacent to the north side of Events Center.

The facility is 43,000 square feet of space featuring two basketball/volleyball courts; women's basketball locker rooms; and volleyball coaches' offices costing $10.8 million, funded from private funds.

Each practice court is 11,000 square feet, and both mimic the playing surface in the Coors Events Center exactly, down to the lines and logos. The structure will match the campus architectural Charles Klauder theme, a northern Italian, rural Tuscany influence, with varicolored sandstone and red-tiled roofs to match the other 200-plus buildings on the CU-Boulder campus.

It was nine years since CU last danced in the NCAA Tournament and in one of the greatest seasons ever, second year head coach Tad Boyle equaled the previous season's win total (24), advanced to the NCAA Tourney third round, and won the inaugural Pac-12 Tournament championship by winning four games in four days as the No. 6 seed.

The conference regular season had its ups and downs where at one point, CU could have ended the season as the number one or two seed in the tournament. However, losing three of its last four games and dropping to the No. 6 overall seed, the Buff overcame No. 12 seed Utah, 53-41 on 34.9 percent shooting on the opening night at the Staples Center in Los Angeles.

On the day two and against No. 3 seed Oregon, CU edged the Ducks, 63-62 for the second time in three meetings this season. Sophomore forward Andre Roberson put back with 13 seconds remaining and a defensive stand by senior point-guard Nate Tomlinson proved to be the difference in the one point win. In the semifinals, CU took care of No. 2 Cal, 70-59 on 59.1 percent shooting from the field in the second half. Senior guard Carlton Brown break-away windmill dunk served as an exclamation point in the final minute of CU's victory. The play was No. 4 on SportsCenter's Top Ten plays of the day.

In the finals, the Buffs held on again for another upset, edging No. 4 seed Arizona, 53-51 after leading the Wildcats by 12 points in the second half. CU scored only three points in the last nine minutes of the game, however, Brown had a highlight reel dunk in the final minute, snapping a streak of 8:19 without a field goal. CU became the first team to win four games in Pac-12 Conference Tournament history, and just the 10th team from the "big six" conferences to do so since 1952. At the NCAA Tournament, the Buffs, seeded No. 11 upset No. 6 and No. 23/25 ranked UNLV in the second round, then fell to No. 3 Baylor, 80-63, two days later.

Carlton Brown was named the tournament's most outstanding player, in addition being named to the all-tournament. Andre Roberson also earned all-tournament team had a superb sophomore year becoming the first CU player to average a double-double for the entire season (11.6 ppg., 11.1 rpg.) since Stephane Pelle (2001-02; 12.8 ppg., 10.8 rpg.). Roberson also became the 12th player in school history to lead the team in rebounding in back-to-back seasons, and just the third CU player to lead the team in rebounds, blocks, and steals in the same season, duplicating that feat during his freshman season.

In addition, Roberson set the single-season rebounding record (401) breaking a 58-year old record (Burdette Halderson, 1954-55); set the single-season defensive rebounding record (290) breaking the 225 by Shaun Vandiver (1989-90), 23 years ago; and shattered sophomore season record for most rebounds (401) topping old mark of 337 (Cliff Meely in 1968-69, 44 years ago).

Roberson ranked third nationally in rebounds per game with 11.1 and trailed the national leader (Siena's O.D. Anosike) by 1.4 rebounds per game. Roberson's third place finish is the highest finish by a CU player in rebounding was Alex Stivins who finished sixth in the nation with an 11.7 average in the 1984-85 season. Roberson finished the season with 20 double-doubles, fifth nationally and was No. 54 nationally in blocked shots (1.86).

CU's freshman duo of Spencer Dinwiddie and Askia Booker added to their designation of the highest scoring frosh pair in CU history. Dinwiddie (360 points) and Booker (317) combined for 677 points, well outdistancing all other rookie twosomes (the only two with 250-plus points). Dinwiddie was No. 101st nationally in free throw percentage (81.6).

RUSSELL “SOX” WALSETH

Legendary CU Basketball Coach Was One Of School’s Most Popular Figures

Russell “Sox” Walseth, the legendary University of Colorado basketball coach who was likely the first and one of only a few to have coached both the men’s and women’s basketball teams at the same NCAA school, passed away on Wednesday, Jan. 28, 2004. He was 77.

A player, coach and administrator, his time at CU spanned 38 years, starting as an athlete in the 1940s when he lettered a combined six times in both basketball and baseball.

Taking over the reins of the men’s program for the 1956-57 season, Walseth proceeded to coach the next 20 Buffalo teams. The winningest coach in CU men’s basketball history with a 261-245 record, the Buffs won three Big Eight titles under his direction, in 1961-62, 1962-63 and 1968-69. He was the Big Eight Conference coach of the year on five occasions, and his most prominent players included Ken Charlton, Jim Davis, Cliff Meely, Scott Wedman and Dave Logan.

All three of his Big Eight champion teams represented the conference in the NCAA regional tournaments (in those days, only one school could advance from a conference). Eventual NCAA champion Cincinnati eliminated the Buffs in the first two appearances, while his third tourney team may have represented his best coaching job in his tenure as he piloted a sophomore-dominated team to the league title and an NCAA berth.

He retired from coaching for the first time in the spring of 1976 and remained on in an administrative position with the athletic department. But four years later (1980), and CU hit with budget woes, then athletic director Eddie Crowder asked him if he would come out of retirement to help the program to which he had devoted much of his adult life. Sox answered that call and would coach the CU women’s team between 1980-83, then known as the “Lady Buffs,” compiling an impressive 77-21 record. That mark included an incredible 43-0 record at home, and once again, he earned coach of the year accolades.

The basketball floor at the Coors Events/Conference Center is named after him. In 1998, he was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, and four years later in 2002, he was a member of the fourth class inducted into the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame.

Sox (the origin of that nickname was always unknown to him, but he had it since childhood) was born April 6, 1926 in Aberdeen, S.D. He was an all-state performer in basketball at Pierre High School, where he graduated in 1944.

He spent two years in the Navy’s V-5 and V-12 programs during which he began college, attending Carroll College in Helena, Mont. The Navy moved him to Colorado in the fall of 1945 and he was a regular on the basketball team in his first year at CU while still in the Navy program.

After his discharge, he stayed on at Colorado, playing guard with the reputation as a brilliant floor leader during the 1946-47 and 1947-48 seasons. He lettered three years as a shortstop for coach Frank Prentup on the baseball team, and would also try his hand in the minor leagues, spending two seasons with Victoria (B.C.), a member of the B League.

Perhaps his greatest game as a collegian occurred during his first year at Colorado when the Buffaloes made an early season tour that took them to New York’s Madison Square Garden. Accounts at the time referred to his performance as, “Cool and crafty beyond his years, Walseth was unruffled at playing for the first time in the nation’s top arena against one of the country’s top teams, NYU.” Though CU lost 66-52, Walseth led all scorers in the game with 20 points.

- CU’s all-time leader in victories with 261
- Likely the first and only a few to coach both the men’s and women’s basketball teams at the same school
- CU won three Big Eight titles under his direction
- Coached 20 different CU teams from 1957-1976
- Coached the CU women from 1980-83 and was an impressive 77-21, including 43-0 at home
- Coors Events Center basketball floor was named after him in 1996
- 1998 inductee of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame
- 2002 Inductee of the CU Athletic Hall of Fame

After his graduation from CU in the spring of 1948, he remained with the school as head freshman basketball coach while he worked toward a Master's degree in Education. He spent five seasons in this capacity, three years under his college coach, Forrest B. "Frosty" Cox, and two with H.B. "Bebe" Lee.

With that experience along with his Master's from Colorado, he left Boulder to become head basketball coach at Arvin High School in Bakersfield, Calif., in 1954. After one year there, he was named head coach at South Dakota State College and quickly reshaped that school's cage fortunes. In his first year there (1954-55), his team forged a 14-11 mark, but the following year the Jackrabbits fashioned a 17-7 record in winning the North Central Conference crown and went on to play in the NAIA national tournament.

Walseth had the combined outstanding qualities of two fine coaches in Cox and Lee, and those along with his excellent background combined with a solid blend of youth and fire made him the easy choice to succeed Lee as CU's coach prior to the 1956-57 season.

Walseth is the fifth CU icon to pass away since the turn of the century, as the Buffalo family also lost long-time athletic staff members Fred Casotti (2001) and Les Fowler and Dan Stavelly (both in 2003) and the school's first All-American and former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White (in 2002).

He was preceded in death by his first wife of more than 40 years, the former Eleanor "Ellie" Hahn, and is survived by his current wife, Joan, sons Joe and Nick, daughter Cynthia and four grandchildren.

2011-12 NCAA Tournament

It was nine years since CU last danced in the NCAA Tournament and in one of the greatest seasons ever, second year head coach Tad Boyle equaled the previous season's win total (24), advanced to the NCAA Tourney third round, and won the inaugural Pac-12 Tournament championship by winning four games in four days as the No. 6 seed. The conference regular season had its ups and downs where at one point, CU could have ended the season as the number one or two seed in the tournament. However, losing three of its last four games and dropping to the No. 6 overall seed, the Buff overcame No. 12 seed Utah, 53-41 on 34.9 percent shooting on the opening night at the Staples Center in Los Angeles. On the day two and against No. 3 seed Oregon, CU edged the Ducks, 63-62 for the second time in three meetings this season. Sophomore forward Andre Roberson put back with 13 seconds remaining and a defensive stand by senior point-guard Nate Tomlinson proved to be the difference in the one point win. In the semifinals, CU took care of No. 2 Cal, 70-59 on 59.1 percent shooting from the field in the second half. Senior guard Carlon Brown breakaway windmill dunk served as an exclamation point in the final minute of CU's victory. The play was No. 4 on SportsCenter's Top Ten plays of the day. In the finals, the Buffs held on again for another upset, edging No. 4 seed Arizona, 53-51 after leading the Wildcats by 12 points in the second half. CU scored only three points in the last nine minutes of the game, however, Brown had a highlight reel dunk in the final minute, snapping a streak of 8:19 without a field goal. CU became the first team to win four games in Pac-12 Conference Tournament history, and just the 10th team from the "big six" conferences to do so since 1952. At the NCAA Tournament, the Buffs, seeded No. 11 upset No. 6 UNLV in the second round, then fell to No. 3 Baylor, 80-63, two days later.

2002-03 NCAA Tournament

The 2002-2003 season was one of the most successful campaigns in Colorado history. Standards were set high as the team returned five of their top six scorers from a year ago. Rarely in athletic competition can a team live up to the expectations of the media, and the fans; but the Buffs were able to not only meet expectations, but surpass them. CU finished the season 20-12, the third time in school history that a 20 win season had been accomplished. That included a nearly perfect record at home, as they went 14-1 on Sox Walseth Court. The game of the year came on January 22nd when the Buffs were able to topple the #6 ranked Kansas Jayhawks; a feat not accomplished since 1991. Sophomore David Harrison had a breakout year, setting several school records. Harrison broke, and then re-broke the record for blocked shots in a game when he recorded 10 against Stetson, and then 11 at home against Nebraska. Harrison also added two triple-doubles that year against Stetson and Nebr

1996-97 NCAA Tournament

The Buffs were back. Not since the late 1960s had CU basketball made the NCAA tournament, or had an AP top 25 ranking. Both of those droughts ended during '96-'97 season, as Colorado made it back to the big dance. Led by sophomore phenom Chauncey Billups, the Buffs stormed to a 22-10 record. Conference play did not change their winnings ways, as they went 11-5 in the Big Twelve. The 22 wins, along with their 11 Big Twelve victories each are school records. With their stellar record, the Buffs were able to break the AP Poll and receive a #24 national ranking. This was the first time since the 1968-1969 season that CU had been ranked in the top 25. The season was highlighted by two upsets, as the Buffs were able to defeat #20 ranked Texas Tech, and then exactly one week later topple the #8 ranked Cyclones of Iowa State. Chauncey Billups turned in one of the best seasons ever by a Buffalo. Billups finished the season with 555 total points, the first time a sophomore had scored that many points since Cliff Meely put up 667 points during the '68-'69 season. Electing for the NBA draft, Billups left Colorado after his sophomore year, but not after becoming the 23rd all time scorer in school history in just two years.

1968-69 NCAA Tournament

Coming off an uninspiring 9-16 overall record the previous year, Colorado was looking for a way to get the program back on track. A 3-11 conference record had coach Sox Walseth reeling. The Buffs were in need of a spark plug; and they found it in Cliff Meely. Never in school history had a first year player given the program a jolt in the way Meely was able to do in the 1968-1969 season. The Buffs tore through the season, finishing with a 21-7 mark and an 11-4 conference schedule. That record included a perfect 11-0 on home court. The 21 wins marked at the time, a school record for wins in a season. Colorado earned a #18 national ranking for their success, the first time the Buffs were able to crack the top 25 since 1963. This success was fueled by the inspiring play of Cliff Meely. Meely finished the season with 667 points, the most ever by a sophomore and 4th all time for any class. His ability to score was complimented by superb rebounding. Meely finished the '68-'69 campaign with 337 rebounds. This mark is also the most by any sophomore, and ranks 2nd all time in CU history.

1962-63 NCAA Tournament

The 1962-1963 season opened with all eyes on the Buffs. Coming off an impressive 19 win campaign and NCAA tournament berth the year before, Colorado was receiving national attention. Coach Sox Walseth knew his team was under the microscope from the very beginning. Some critics thought a team who was not used to being in the spotlight would crumble under the pressure; these Buffaloes proved them wrong. CU stormed through the season, accumulating a 19-7 record while going 11-3 in conference play. It was the second year in a row that Colorado had gone 19-7 overall. A perfect home record and a #10 national ranking helped to keep Boulder in a basketball induced frenzy. The previous year had ended with CU having 499 wins as a program, and they seized first opportunity they had during the '62-'63 campaign to reach that milestone. December 3rd 1962 saw CU defeat Wichita State 79-69 in double overtime, the 500th win of the programs illustrious history. Senior Ken Charlton paced the Buffs in scoring for the season. En route to an All-American selection, the 5th in CU's history, Charlton put up 514 points and 214 rebounds. His point total was well above the rest of the team, outpacing the 2nd best scorer, Jim Davis, by 154 points. Charlton currently ranks 10th all time on the career scoring list.

1961-62 NCAA Tournament

A 19 win season was something the Colorado Buffaloes had seen only once in their history. The last time they won 19 games (in 1955), was the last time CU received a bid to play in the NCAA tournament. With that goal in their heads, Sox Walseth and his Buffs marched to a 19-7 record, and a near perfect 13-1 mark in conference play. The #9 ranked Buffaloes finished the regular season on a torrid pace, winning 14 of their 15 final games. The one loss was their one conference loss as well, falling at Kansas State. That span included a 12 game winning streak, as CU decimated their Big 8 opponents. The #9 national ranking was, and continues to be the highest position CU has ever had with the AP polls. Colorado scorers were paced by junior forward Ken Charlton, who finished the season with 498 points and 216 rebounds. Charlton was the only member of the team to record 400 points and 200 rebounds. One of the great storylines of the season was the play of senior forward Wilky Gilmore. Gilmore was the only member of the team to play in all 26 contests, as he accumulated 330 points and 163 rebounds. Gilmore left the program as the 2nd all time leading scorer in CU history with 1026 career points. He currently ranks 22nd.

1954-55 NCAA Tournament Team (Final Four)

It was a season of first for the Buffaloes. The year marked the first time in school history the Buffs were offered an invitation to the NCAA national tournament. Once they arrived, the success they had during the big dance is unmatched in school history to this day. Advancing to the national semifinals, they were eventually defeated by San Francisco. CU won the consolation game 2 days later, to finish the season as the #3 team in the country. The season also saw the first time Colorado could put the number 19 in the win column. They finished with a 19-6 overall record, going 11-1 in tournament play. Their one blemish in Big Seven play came while playing at rival Nebraska. The season opened with a bang, as CU set a school scoring record as they took down Brigham Young by a score of 88-66. Colorado had an amazing winning streak during the season, capturing 15 of 16 games spanning from December to March. A #15 national ranking was also given to the Buffs during the regular season, which marked the first time in school history that CU had broken the AP top 25 poll. The '54-'55 Buffs were blessed to have the single most dominating rebounder in the history of Colorado. Senior Burdette Haldorson tore apart record after record, many of which are still standing today. His accomplishments were highlighted by a 21 rebound effort against Oklahoma, and later a 22 rebound game against Nebraska. His season mark of 346 rebounds is still the school record, as his single season rebounds/game average. He stands 6th on the career list, with 711 rebounds. He also knew how to put the ball in the basket; his 1125 career points was the best in school history when he left. He currently stands 18th on the all time list.

Under the direction of coach H.B. Lee, the Buffs finished the season with a less than stellar 10-10 regular season mark. It was their inspired 10-2 Big Seven record, however, that helped the Buffs reach the NCAA tournament for the 4th time in school history. Colorado started their season losing 7 in a row. Fans and the media had already stuck the proverbial fork in the Buff's season. After a loss at home to Iowa State though, a fire was lit under the Buffs, and they went flying to finish out the season. They won 11 of their next 13 games to storm back into tournament contention. That win streak was highlighted by a home win against the defending champion Kansas Jayhawks, along with road wins against contenders Iowa State, Nebraska, and Oklahoma. At season's end, the impressive winning streak was not enough to ensure an NCAA berth. The selection was eventually made when Colorado's name was literally pulled out of a hat. Talk about luck of the draw. CU was paced by junior center Burdette Haldorson. The 6'7 center led the team with 367 points and 199 rebounds. At the time, Haldorson's average of 9 rebounds per game tied him for the all time high with Frank Gompert.

1945-46 NCAA Tournament

One of the youngest CU teams to ever make the NCAA tournament came in the 1945-1946 season. The Buffs did not have one senior to help coach Forrest Cox direct the untested youth. Thankfully for Coach Cox, and for Buffs fans, they didn't need one. Colorado battled their way to a 12-6 overall record, and a 9-3 Mountain States Conference record. The season was highlighted by a 5 game win streak during the heart of the schedule. During that span they were able to defeat conference foes Denver, Colorado State, Utah, and Brigham Young. The inexperienced Buffs were lead by center Hank Knocke. The sophomore transfer exploded out of the gates: scoring 49 points in his first four games as a Buffalo. With a sturdy 6'4 frame, Knocke was able to control the area under the basket, and maintain CU's distinction as a force to be reckoned with. Knocke's season was highlighted by two 26 point efforts; once against Utah State, and again just two weeks later against Denver. At the time, those stood as the 3rd and 4th all time single game scoring records. The Buffs ended their season with a consolation victory over the University of Baylor.

1941-42 NCAA Tournament

Very little could stop Colorado in their march towards their second all time appearance in the NCAA tournament. The Buffs decimated their competition, going 15-1 in the regular season. Behind the direction of head coach Forrest B. Cox, CU's explosive attack and stingy defensive work won them their first 14 games in as many attempts. The Buffs finally lost their first game of the seas on March 3rd, a 39-40 loss to conference foe Wyoming. A perfect 6-0 home record had the fans in Boulder excited; and their 9-1 away record had the rest of the nation trembling. Colorado would eventually finish their season 16-2, as they took down Kansas in the NCAA western regional semifinals. They would later bow out to Stanford in the regional finals. Their stellar play helped the Buffs capture their 4th Mountain States Conference title in 5 years. Two All-American players helped to pace CU during this dominating season: Robert Doll and Leason McCloud. Robert Doll was the big play man for the Buffs. His imposing presence down in the paint allowed him to out rebound all of his opponents. Doll would later go on to play for the Boston Celtics in the NBA. Doll was supplemented by the stellar play of McCloud. The leading scorer on the team, McCloud was seen by coach Cox as the Buffs "go to guy". McCloud's inspired 19 point performance was the turning factor in Colorado's first round victory against Kansas.

1939-1940 NCAA and NIT

Coming off of an impressive NIT tournament championship, Colorado was invited to play in the NCAA tournament for the first time in school history. Under the direction of coach Forrest Cox, the Buffs had compiled an impressive 17-2 record previous to the NCAA tournament. This included a near perfect 11-1 record in conference play, a flawless 8-0 home performance, and a mid-season 12 game winning streak. Although CU had to bow out after the first round of the tournament, they did not end the season without some hardware to show. They had earlier defeated Duquesne University for the NIT championship. A 52-37 romping of the University of Denver had given the Buffs their 3rd straight Mountain States Conference title. Colorado was lead by Jack Harvey: a two time All-American selection. Over a two year span, CU went 31-8 with Jack Harvey wearing the silver and gold. Harvey was a dominating presence in the defensive end of the court; as well as being the catalyst in an explosive fast break offense. Harvey is Colorado's only two-time All-America selection.

NIT TEAMS

2010-11 NIT Team

In Tad Boyle's first season as Colorado's head coach, the Buffs won a school-record 24 games (14 losses) in reaching the NIT semifinals at Madison Square Garden. Considered by most analysts to have been the NCAA Tournament's biggest snub, CU made the most of their NIT appearance by winning three straight games before ultimately falling to Alabama in the semis. Led by senior Cory Higgins, who tied Richard Roby for CU's all-time career scoring title (2,001 points), and All-Big 12 unanimous first team selection Alec Burks, the Buffs boasted a potent offensive attack that ranked 12th nationally in scoring (79.6 ppg) and 5th nationally in free throw percentage (77.8 percent). Burks set a CU record for most points in a season with 779, surpassing Cliff Meely's mark that stood for 40 years. The season marked the first time that the Buffs had six players record over 100 made field goals in a season (Burks 251, Higgins 200, Levi Knutson 158, Marcus Relphorde 148, Austin Dufault 104, Andre Roberson 101). Roberson set a CU freshmen record by recording 297 rebounds for the season, and also became the first freshman in school history to lead the team in rebounds, steals (51) and blocks (42). Knutson was honored with the co-Big 12 Sixth Man of the Year Award.

2005-06 NIT Team

Led by a veteran roster of 10 seniors and an All-Big 12 first team selection, in sophomore Richard Roby, the Buffs tallied a 20-10 overall record to earn the school's eighth NIT berth. Coach Ricardo Patton's club ran off to one of the best starts in the program's history, with a 10-1 record before conference play. The season marked the first time three players had made over 50 3-pointers in a season (Roby 63, Andy Osborn 53, Chris Copeland 50). CU became nationally ranked for the first time since the 1996-97 season, coming in at No. 25 team in the country by the USA Today/Coaches' Poll for two straight weeks (Jan. 30-Feb. 12), and tied the school record for home wins in a season, with 14.

2003-04 NIT Team

Colorado won 18 games for the fifth time under coach Ricardo Patton, including 10 in conference play, the most since recording 11 back in the 1996-97 season, and earned a number four seed in the Big 12 Tournament in Dallas. The trio of David Harrison, Blair Wilson, and Michel Morandais each surpassed the 1,000 points in a career mark, en route to the Buffaloes' third NIT berth during Patton's eight years as head coach. Harrison would break the CU record for blocks in a career with a three-block performance against Utah. Harrison went on to block 85 shots during the season and after only three years in a CU uniform, would hold every blocked shot record category. Wilson also broke a bundle of records during the season, as the senior made six treys in a game against Iowa State to break or tie four school records, most notably the school record for career 3-pointers. The Buffaloes ended the year with an over-time loss in the NIT tournament to Oregon 72-77.

1999-2000 NIT Team

The Buffaloes marched out to an 11-5 pre-conference record to start out the 1999-00 season, led by senior guard Jaquay Walls' 17-point scoring average and Jamahl Mosley and Stephane Pelle's control of the paint, with 7.1 and 6.9 rebounds per game, respectively. On December 3 in Hawaii's Rainbow Classic, Colorado defeated Gonzaga 81-77, making it the Buffs' third straight victory over 1999 NCAA Tournament teams. In what many CU fans believe to be the best game at the Coors Events Center, CU came from behind to defeat Iowa State 102-90 in overtime. Walls scored a NCAA-record 15 points in the overtime, on his way to an astounding 42-point performance. At regular season's end the Buffs were invited to play in the NIT, only to fall in the first round to Southern Illinois 92-94. The invitation marked the third time in four years the Buffs had played in post-season tournaments.

Colorado opened the 1998-99 campaign with a 9-3, where it would see five Buff players average double digits in scoring over the season. By the year's end, many Colorado players had established themselves as some of the elite in the Big 12. Junior Jaquay Walls was named to the All-Big 12 All-Underrated Team, as well as earning All-Big 12 Honorable Mention status. Senior guard Kenny Price was named to the All-Big 12 Third team, while also ranking third in the conference in points per game. Price's nine three-pointers in a Big 12 second round game against Texas would set a single game record, breaking his mark of eight from the year before. With his nine treys, Price would bring his total for the year to 97, the highest single-season total in CU history. In March, Colorado was selected to the NIT, marking the second time in three years that the Buffs made a post-season appearance. CU defeated first round opponent Pepperdine 65-61 in the tournament's opening round, before losing to intrastate rival Colorado State 76-86 in the second round. Price's nine three-pointers in a Big 12 second round game against Texas would set a single game record, breaking his mark of eight from the year before. With his nine treys, Price would bring his total for the year to 97, the highest single-season total in CU history.

1994-95 NIT Team

Colorado started off the 1994-95 season with a 10-3 record, including a convincing win of the Mile High Classic. The Buffs beat Eastern Washington and Hofstra by a combined 39 points for CU's fifth consecutive victory of their home tournament. On January 7 in Boulder, the Buffs ended their 16-game losing streak against ranked teams, when they defeated No. 16 Iowa State 71-57, forcing a school record 31 turnovers by the opponent. After throwing down a fast break dunk, senior guard Donnie Boyce surpassed Cliff Meely (1967-71) to become Colorado's all-time leading scorer, finishing his illustrious career with 1,995 points. Boyce remains the only Colorado player to lead his team in scoring for four consecutive years. On January 17 against Texas-San Antonio, senior Ted Allen blocked five shots to become CU's all-time leader in blocks, finishing with 53 on the year. At the season's end, Colorado qualified for the NIT, for only the second invitation to post-season play in 25 years and the first since the 1900-91 season. The Buffs finished the year with an above .500 winning percentage, for the first time since coach Joe Harrington's debut season with the team.

1990-91 NIT Team

The inside-outside combination of Shaun Vandiver and Steve Wise led the way for the Buffaloes in the 1990-91 season, where the duo combined for an average 41 points per game. The Buffs scored a school record 124 points, twice, in pre-conference match-ups against Central Connecticut State and Tennessee State, both ending in CU victories. Colorado ended a 22-year post-season drought by receiving an invitation to play in the NIT tournament. The Buffaloes beat Michigan (71-64), Wyoming (83-75), Arkansas State (81-75), and Massachusetts (98-91) en route to a third place finish. Vandiver finished the year with a 21.2-point scoring average and 10 rebounds per game, which was good enough to earn the senior center first team All-Big Eight honors, and a spot on the NIT All-Tournament team. Colorado finished the season with a 19-14 record, the team's best in 21 seasons.

1939-1940 NCAA and NIT Team

The 1939-40 edition of the Buffaloes tallied one of the best records in school history, finishing the year at 17-4. The team, led by coach Forrest Cox, dominated the Mountain States Conference with a conference record of 11-1, the sole loss coming from Utah State 29-31. Colorado qualified for the 1940 NIT in New York City, beating DePaul 52-37 and Duquesne 51-40. The Buffaloes then went on to participate in the NCAA tournament, losing close games to Southern California (32-38) and Rice (56-60 OT). CU remains the only team in NCAA history to play in both the NIT and the NCAA post season tournaments.

1937-38 NIT Team

The Colorado men's basketball program earned its first post season berth in the 1937-38 season, under the direction of third-year head coach Forrest Cox, in which the Buffs went undefeated at home during the season. 1938 featured the debut of the Mountain States Conference, in which the Buffaloes stacked up a record of 10-2 in conference play. Colorado went on to the NIT in New York City, where the Buffs edged out New York University 48-47 in their first game, before succumbing to Temple University by a score of 34-60, turning in a 15-6 record on the season.

Balch Fieldhouse was the home floor for the Buffaloes during the 1937-38 season.

COLORADO BUFFALOES

2010-11 NIT

2012-13 COLORADO BASKETBALL

ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

Jack Harvey 1939 & 1940

In his back-to-back All-America campaigns, Jack Harvey led the Buffs to two conference championships and a trip to the NCAA Tournament in his senior season. During those two years, CU posted an amazing 31-8 mark and received recognition as the No. 1 team in the land. Known for his tough defense, Harvey proved to be key in numerous Buff victories. He was also an outstanding ball-handler for a big man and was a key component in the CU fast break. A solid All-Conference performer, Harvey is the only CU cager to be selected twice as an All-American.

Robert Doll 1942

Bob Doll was the big-play man for coach Frosty Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven Championship squad. Doll, along with fellow All-American Leason McCloud helped lead CU to a 16-2 record and the NCAA Western Tournament finals as a senior. Known as an outstanding rebounder, Doll controlled the paint in many CU wins. He was also renowned for his shooting prowess, finishing second to McCloud in scoring. An unanimous All-Big Seven selection, Doll was selected to All-America teams by Look, Pic and Time magazines. He was also tabbed as MVP of New York's Metropolitan Tournament as a sophomore and was a huge factor in CU's three conference titles in a four-year span. After graduation, Doll went on to play for the Boston Celtics.

Jim Willcoxon 1939

Known for his defense, Jim Willcoxon continued Coach Frosty Cox's tradition of talented cagers. Willcoxon helped anchor the 1937-38 and 1938-39 Big Seven Championship teams with tough play on the defensive end. He also led the Buffs to national prominence with strong showings on East Coast road trips. His hard-nosed style of play earned him both All-Big Seven and All-America honors as a senior.

Leason McCloud 1942

The leading scorer for the 1942 Big Seven Champion Buffs, Leason McCloud was Coach Frosty Cox's "go-to guy." Known for his silky-smooth shot, McCloud was also a great passer and rebounder. McCloud was key in CU's NCAA Western Tournament semifinal win over Kansas, pacing the Buffs with 19 points. His play caught the attention of national media and he joined fellow Buff Bob Doll on the Look, Pic and Time magazines' All-America squads and was a unanimous All-Big Seven selection.

Burdette Haldorson 1955

Burdette Haldorson was virtually unstoppable in 1955. Prior to the season, Coach H.B. Lee said, "We'll be just as good as Haldorson. We need the big man to play well for us." And play well he did, leading CU to a conference championship and a third-place finish in the National Collegiate Tournament. The big man led the Big Seven in scoring at 23.9 points per game and set what still stands as a CU record with an amazing 346 boards on the year. For his efforts, the Amateur Athletic Union tabbed Haldorson a first-team All-American. Haldorson's talents were nationally recognized, as the standout was selected to the 1956 and 1960 U.S. Olympic teams. Upon graduation, Haldorson turned down a $7,000 contract with the NBA's St. Louis franchise. He did continue playing, however, and led amateur powerhouse Phillips 66 to a National Industrial Basketball League title. Haldorson joined Cliff Meely as the only two Buffs to have their jerseys retired in 1994, and was named to the CU Hall of Fame in 1999.

Cliff Meely 1971

In 1971, Cliff Meely was a scoring machine. He tallied a then-CU record 729 points and set a Big Eight record with 427 points in conference. Coach Sox Walseth said of Meely, "He is the most complete player I have ever coached." Known for his quickness and agility, Meely could play any position on the floor. He was named to several All-America teams as a junior and senior and played in numerous all-star games after graduation. Meely went on to play in over 300 games in the NBA for the Houston Rockets and the Los Angeles Lakers.

Ken Charlton 1963

Ranking No.12 on CU's all-time scoring charts, Ken Charlton battled through a history of knee problems to lead Colorado to two Big Eight titles and in 1963, Charlton was named an All-American by the United States Basketball Writers Association and Look magazine. Along with his penchant for scoring, Charlton was also a force inside, ranking in the top 10 on the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms (No. 11 at CU). He also succeeded in the classroom and was named an Academic All-American in 1963 as well. Buff Coach Sox Walseth said of Charlton's play, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight." Charlton was elected to the CU Hall of Fame in 2010.

Chauncey Billups 1997

One of CU's top perimeter threats in hoops history, Chauncey Billups graced the CU campus for two seasons before departing for the NBA. As a sophomore in 1997, Billups was named a first-team All-American by Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history. Known for his playmaking skills and ability to penetrate, Billups also led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament in over two decades, where CU topped perennial-power Indiana in the opening round. Billups went on to be the third pick in the NBA draft by the Boston Celtics. In 2004, Billups helped lead the Detroit Pistons to the NBA title, in addition was named The NBA Finals Most Valuable Player.

David Harrison 2003-04 AP Honorable Mention

The seven foot, 250-pound big man performed his best season-to-date leading the Buffaloes in scoring (17.1 ppg.) and shooting an impressive 63.1 percentage from the field. His mark from the field led the Big 12 Conference and more impressively was third nationally. What turned out to be his third and final season in Boulder (opted for the NBA draft, first round No. 29, Indiana), Harrison would go on to break the CU block shot record (225) and eclipsed the 1,000-point barrier (1,317 pts.). Harrison helped the Buffs to the 2002-03 NCAA Tournament and a 2003-04 NIT. Harrison holds or shares every blocked shot record in school history.

Shaun Vandiver 1989-90 UPI Honorable Mention

The 1989-90 season for the junior center was the second of three seasons in Boulder. During the 1989-90 campaign, Shaun Vandiver led the team in scoring (22.3 ppg.), rebounding (11.2 rpg.), blocks (36), and field goal percentage (59.3). His 668 points during the season became the most scored by a CU big man (second all-time), in addition leading the Big Eight in scoring. At the conference postseason tournament, Vandiver earned most valuable player honors after he helped the Buffs upset Missouri and Oklahoma State in back-to-back games, becoming the first eighth seed to advance to the title game. Vandiver scored 75 points (then-sixth best for points) and 41 rebounds during the three-game span.

Jay Humphries 1982-83, 1983-84 AP Honorable Mention

Arguably the best and most exciting Buff of the 1980s, Jay Humphries became the school's all-time leader in assists (562) and steals (309). He finished his stellar career averaging five assists and 2.8 steals per game. On the scoreboard, Humphries became the then-eighth all-time scorer (1,306 points, 11.7 ppg.). His specialty, however, was defensive play leading the nation in thefts during the 1982-83 season with 115, which remains a school record for a season. His 101 steals during the 1983-84 campaign, ranks second on the CU list. Humphries also holds the second (174) and third (173) season assists totals, in addition to the school mark in assists in a conference game (14), and double-figure assist games for a career with eight.

Alec Burks 2010-11 AP Honorable Mention

An electrifying guard for two years in Boulder, Burks showcased on a nightly basis he was something special in a Buffs uniform. The holder of numerous school records in just two years, Burks holds the freshman (512) and sophomore (779) scoring records for those seasons. His career 19.0 points per game average ranks third all-time behind CU greats, Cliff Meely (24.3) and Shaun Vandiver (20.6). Named to the Big 12 Conference and NIT All-Tournament teams, Burks was also a conference unanimous first team selection, in addition being named a finalist (top 20) for John R. Wooden list in 2010-11. Burks scored a career-best 36 points (w/ personal-high 12 field goals) in an upset win over No. 9/8 Missouri (Jan. 8, 2011). He's the 18th player in school history to score that many in single game and the 36-point performance was the third highest at the Coors Events Center.

CHAUNCEY BILLUPS

One of the most talented players in Colorado basketball history, Billups helped transform the Buffaloes into an NCAA tournament contender in the two years he played at CU. His hard work, dedication and exceptional basketball skills not only drew the attention of college basketball aficionados, but of professional teams as well. Billups was the No. 3 overall selection of the first round of the NBA Draft in 1997 by the Boston Celtics. As a captain of the Detroit Pistons, Billups led the team to the NBA championship in 2004 earning the NBA Finals Most Valuable Player award by averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in the five games.

NBA

- ▶ third pick in the 1997 NBA draft (Boston Celtics)
- ▶ helped lead the Detroit Pistons to the 2004 NBA title
- ▶ named the Most Valuable Player for the NBA Finals, averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in five games
- ▶ helped lead Nuggets to a franchise-best 54 wins, the most since moving to the NBA
- ▶ ranks fifth in 3-Pointers Made (1,783 as Oct. 2012)
- ▶ ranks fifth in 3-Point Goal Attempts (4,587 as Oct. 2012)
- ▶ ranks tied for fifth in Free Throw Percentage in NBA history (.894 as Oct. 2012)

Olympics

- ▶ selected to be a part of Team USA that competed at the 2007 FIBA Americas Championship, a qualifying tournament for the Beijing Olympics
- ▶ played for USA Basketball's Men's 22-and-under team against the Dream Team III during the summer of 1996
- ▶ played at the 1995 Olympic Festival in Denver, competing for the North team that won the gold medal
- ▶ played for Team USA at 2010 FIBA Summer World Championships in Turkey (9-0, Gold Medal)

Colorado

- ▶ led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament in over two decades, where CU topped perennial power Indiana in the opening round of the 1997 tournament
- ▶ as a sophomore was named a first-team All-American by Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history; named first team All-Big 12 by the league coaches and Associated Press in 1996-97
- ▶ in two seasons in Boulder, averaged 18.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 5.1 assists in 55 games; also connected on 120 3-pointers and shot .857 (306-for-357) from the free throw line
- ▶ set a then-CU freshman record (465 points) and currently holds record with 143 freshman assists

George Washington High School

- ▶ named Mr. Colorado Basketball three times and in 1995 was a McDonald's High School All-American
- ▶ averaged 23.8 ppg. during his four-years
- ▶ holds the school record in scoring average by a freshman (17.9 ppg.)
- ▶ remains first player at CU to score over 1,000 career points in only two seasons
- ▶ second fastest player to record 500 points scored in only 28 games played

BUFFS IN THE PROS

Chauncey Billups

Boston Celtics, 1997-98 • Toronto Raptors, 1997-98 • Denver Nuggets, 1998-2000
• Minnesota Timberwolves, 2000-02 • Detroit Pistons, 2002-08 • Denver Nuggets, 2008-11
• New York Knicks, 2010-11 • Los Angeles Clippers, 2011-present

One of the most talented players in Colorado basketball history, Chauncey Billups helped transform the Buffaloes into an NCAA tournament contender in the two years he played in Boulder. His hard work, dedication and exceptional basketball skills not only drew the attention of college basketball aficionados, but of professional teams as well. Billups was the No. 3 overall selection of the first round of the NBA Draft in 1997 by the Boston Celtics. As a captain of the Detroit Pistons, he led the team to the NBA championship in 2004 earning the NBA Finals Most Valuable Player award honors by averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in the five games.

NBA

- Five-time NBA All-Star (2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010).
- helped lead the Nuggets to a franchise-best 54 wins in 2008-09, the most since moving to the NBA.
- ranks fourth all-time in NBA 3-point attempts (4,462).
- ranks fifth all-time in NBA free throw percentage (.894).
- ranks fifth in 3-pointers made (1,735).
- NBA Champion (2004) • NBA Finals MVP (2004).
- Five-time NBA All-Star (2006–2010)
- All-NBA Second Team (2006)
- Two-time All-NBA Third Team (2007, 2009).
- Two-time NBA All-Defensive Second Team (2005–2006) • J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award (2008)
- NBA Sportsmanship Award (2009).

Colorado

- led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament win in over two decades, where CU topped perennial power Indiana in the opening round of the 1997 tournament.
- as a sophomore was named a first-team All-American by The Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history; named 1996-97 All-Big 12 first team by the league coaches and Associated Press.
- In two seasons in Boulder, averaged 18.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 5.1 assists in 55 games; also connected on 120 3-pointers and shot .857 (306-for-357) from the free throw line.
- set a then-CU freshman record (465 points) and currently holds freshman record with 143 assists.

Chauncey Billups became CU's first-ever lottery pick in the 1997 NBA Draft.

Donnie Boyce finished his four-year career as CU's all-time leading scorer, however his promising NBA career was cut short by a broken leg.

Donnie Boyce

Atlanta Hawks, 1995 • San Antonio Spurs, 1996-97

Ranking third all-time on Colorado's all-time leading scorer, Donnie Boyce completed his collegiate career in 1994-95 with 1,995 career points. However, Boyce's career ended prematurely when he broke his leg during the first half of CU's 1995 Big Eight Tournament game against Oklahoma. During his career in Boulder, Boyce was named All-Conference three times, twice on the league's first team. Boyce also held school records for games started (107), field goals attempted (1,648), free throws made (480) and free throws attempted (721). In four consecutive seasons (1991-95), Boyce led the Buffaloes in scoring, and led the Big Eight in scoring (league games only) as a junior (26.8 ppg). A gifted player on all levels, Boyce will be remembered as one of the greatest players in CU and Big Eight history.

Matt Bullard

Houston Rockets, 1990-1994, 1996-98 • Atlanta Hawks, 1995-96

As a freshman, Matt Bullard was named to All-Freshman team and was honorable mention All-Big Eight. The next year he led the team in both scoring (16.6 ppg) and rebounding (9.3). He finished the 1986 season ranked 18th in the country in field goal percentage. Bullard joined the Rockets as a free agent in 1990, and was a member of Houston's 1994 NBA Championship team. He is the third-leading three-point shooter in franchise history.

Alec Burks

Utah Jazz, 2011-2012

An electrifying guard for two years, Burks showcased on a nightly basis he was something special in a Buffs uniform. The holder of numerous school records in just two years, Burks owns the freshman (512) and sophomore (779) scoring records for those seasons. His 19.0 career points per game average ranks third all-time behind CU greats, Cliff Meely (24.3) and Shaun Vandiver (20.6). Named to the Big 12 Conference and NIT All-Tournament teams, Burks was also a conference unanimous first team selection, in addition being named a finalist (top 20) on the John R. Wooden Award list in 2010-11. Burks scored a career-best 36 points (w/ a personal-high 12 field goals) in an upset win over No. 9/8 Missouri (Jan. 8, 2011). He's the 18th player in school history to score that many in a single game and the 36-point performance was the third highest ever at the Coors Events Center.

Alec Burks became CU's second lottery pick in the 2011 NBA Draft.

Atlanta Hawks, 1975-76

After playing in the shadows of Cliff Meely for two years, Jim Creighton came into his own during his junior and senior seasons. He quickly became a stalwart performer for the Buffs. Not big for a center (6-7, 190), Creighton played much bigger with his great jumping ability. Following an excellent senior season, he was named to the NCAA's District V All-Star squad. Creighton enjoyed a one-year stint with the Atlanta Hawks. Used primarily for his defensive ability, he played in 32 games, averaging one point and 1.4 boards per game.

Jim Davis

St. Louis/Atlanta Hawks, 1967-72 • Houston Rockets, 1972 • Detroit Pistons, 1972-75

Jim Davis guided Colorado to two Big Eight championships during a brilliant three-year career. During that time, Davis emerged as one of the school's all-time top rebounders (863 boards) and scorers (1,110 points). In addition to being a fine rebounder and scorer, Davis was also known for his defensive skills. As a professional ball player, Davis played for three different clubs, St. Louis/Atlanta, Houston and Detroit. His most successful seasons were spent with St. Louis/Atlanta as he averaged 7.9 points per game and totaled 1,484 career boards.

Jim Davis played in over 500 games in the NBA and hauled in almost 1,500 career rebounds.

Robert Doll

St. Louis Bombers, 1946-48 • Boston Celtics, 1948-50

One of the key players for Coach Forrest "Frosty" Cox's 1941-42 Big Seven championship squad, Robert "Ichabod" Doll was known for his aggressive defense as he was named a unanimous first-team All-Conference player following his senior season. That same year, he also garnered All-America honors in Look, Pic and Time magazines. In 1940, Doll led the Buffaloes to bids in both the NCAA Tournament and NIT. He was named the NIT Most Valuable Player after averaging 15.5 points per game. Two years later, Doll was named a consensus second team All-American and led Colorado to its first Final Four. Doll played professionally for two years with the St. Louis Bombers 1946, then joined the Boston Celtics as a free agent. During his two-year stint with the Celtics, Doll averaged 8.4 points and 1.4 assists per game during his pro career.

Pat Frink

Cincinnati Royals, 1968-69

Known as an excellent shooter, Pat Frink finished his career at Colorado as the second leading scorer in Buff basketball history at that time (1,288 points). He accomplished that feat even though he missed the 1966 season due to a knee injury. Frink was also chosen as a member of the second-team academic All-America squad in 1968. After graduation, Frink went on to play professionally with the Cincinnati Royals for one season. While a member of the ABA team, he played in 48 games and averaged 2.6 points per game.

Pat Frink currently ranks No. 16 on CU's all-time scoring list.

Chuck Gardner

Denver Rockets, 1967-68

Chuck Gardner led the Buffs his senior year in scoring (20.2 ppg), rebounding (9.8 rpg), field goal percentage (.524) and free throw percentage (.650). A two-time All-Big Eight selection, Gardner was also chosen as a scholastic All-American his senior season. His excellent touch around the basket and dangerous hook shot enabled him to be an outstanding inside scorer. Although he only played one year professionally, he did record some notable marks with the ABA's Denver Rockets. In 42 games, he averaged 4.7 points and 3.2 boards per game.

David Harrison

David Harrison had his best season with the Buffs during his junior year leading the Buffaloes in scoring (17.1 ppg.) and shooting an impressive 63.1 percentage from the field. The seven-foot, 250-pound presence led the Big 12 Conference in field goal percentage and more impressively was third nationally. What turned out to be his third and final season in Boulder (opted for the NBA draft), Harrison was drafted No. 29 of the first round by Indiana. In four seasons with the Pacers he averaged 5.0 points, 2.9 rebound a game, and shooting 53 percent from the field. Although his NBA career would not produce the numbers he performed in college, Harrison is currently the CU blocked shot record holder (225) and eclipsed the 1,000-point barrier (1,317 pts.). Harrison holds or shares every blocked shot record in school history and helped the Buffs to the 2002-03 NCAA Tournament and a 2003-04 NIT appearance.

In three years at CU, David Harrison holds all of the school's blocked shot records. He's the only player in school history to have a pair of triple-doubles.

Cory Higgins

Charlotte Bobcats, 2011-12

A solid four-year letterwinner who played a then-school record 132 games, Higgins is the only player in CU history with at least 2,000 points (2,001); 500 rebounds (547); 300 assists (320); and 150 steals (192) during his career. He shares the all-time scoring record with 2,001 points and at the time of his graduation was the holder of 17 school records. He's also the CU and Big 12 record holder with 45 consecutive free throws made (Dec. 10, 2008-Jan. 14, 2009) covering eight games as a sophomore. Higgins was a three-time All-Big 12 third team selection and a Wooden Award Preseason Top 50 Watch List nominee entering his senior year. His 2,001 career points ranked sixth all-time among Big 12 Conference scorers (in all games played) and during his junior and sophomore seasons, led the Big 12 (conference games-only) in steals with a 2.1 steals per game average.

Jay Humphries

Jay Humphries had an outstanding career at CU, as he was elected twice for both All-America and All-Conference honors. Humphries is the current all-time leader in both steals (309) and assists (586), evidence of both his great quickness and ball handling abilities. Humphries finished his career with the Utah Jazz, after spending four seasons with Phoenix and four with Milwaukee. He reached two milestones in 1992-93, tallying his 4,000th assist and 8,000th point. He averaged a career-high 15.3 points per game in 1989-90, and never averaged under 7.5 points per game. Humphries joined the Jazz on draft day '92, when he was traded from Milwaukee to Utah.

Jay Humphries, CU's all-time steals leader and two-time All-American, scored almost 9,000 points in his 11-year NBA career.

Cliff Meely scored over 2,500 points in his NBA career with the Houston Rockets and L.A. Lakers.

Houston Rockets, 1971-76 • Los Angeles Lakers, 1976

One of two players in Colorado basketball history to have his jersey number retired (20), Cliff Meely was named an All-American following the 1970-71 season. Meely was truly a graceful performer who could shoot from anywhere on the court. He finished his career at CU possessing eight Big Eight Conference marks and 16 school records, including at the time CU's all-time scoring record (1,940 points). He still owns the school mark averaging 24.3 points per game. Meely transferred to CU as a junior college All-American from Northeastern JC. While there, he scored 40 or more points on five separate occasions. Meely played in more than 300 professional games over six seasons with the NBA's Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers. He averaged 8.7 points and 5.6 boards per game throughout his career with the Rockets, only playing in 20 games with the Lakers at the end of the 1975-76 season.

Alex Stivrins

Seattle SuperSonics, 1985-86 • Phoenix Suns, 1992-93 • Atlanta Hawks, 1992-93 • Los Angeles Clippers, 1992-93 • Milwaukee Bucks, 1992-93

Alex Stivrins led Colorado in rebounding both years he was a Buff, and finished sixth in the country in 1985. He finished his collegiate career at CU with averages of 13.9 points and 10.4 rebounds per game. His first year in the NBA was spent with the Seattle SuperSonics, in 1985-86. Following that he played in both the CBA and the Italian League before returning to the NBA ranks in 1992-93. That season, he had stints with four different teams.

Alex Stivrins ranked 18th in career rebounding (583) and 46th in scoring (777 pts.) at CU.

Scott Wedman

Kansas City Kings, 1975-81 • Cleveland Cavaliers, 1981-82
• Boston Celtics, 1982-87

Scott Wedman provided the backbone for CU basketball in the early '70s. Head Coach Sox Walseth called Wedman "one of the best we've ever had here." With his great touch, he was smooth as silk with the ball, and was also a big factor on the boards. Wedman's outstanding play earned him All-Big Eight honors in both his junior and senior seasons. Wedman began his professional career with the NBA's Kansas City franchise, where he played for six seasons. While there, he averaged 17.4 points per game and 6.0 rebounds in 466 games. He was traded to Cleveland for the '81-82 season and then was sent to Boston where he averaged 5.6 points per game in 301 contests.

Chuck Williams

Denver Nuggets, 1971-72, 1975-76 (ABA); 1976-77 (NBA)
• Kentucky Colonels, 1972-75 • Buffalo Braves, 1977-78

A floor leader, Chuck Williams was known for his precision passing, slashing drives to the basket and his tenacious defense. He possessed exceptional quickness and speed. Following a serious knee injury his junior year, he rebounded his final campaign to have an excellent season. Williams began his professional basketball career with Denver. He played in 163 games with the Nuggets franchise during two different stints in both the ABA and NBA, and had a scoring average of 9.8 points per game. He also played for three years with the ABA's Kentucky Colonels and finished his career with the Buffalo Braves.

Harvey, McCloud, Zimmer: 2012 CU Athletic Hall Of Fame Class

The ninth class that will be inducted into the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame this November 15 will include 12 Golden Buffalo luminaries with an impressive list of accomplishments equal to or even surpassing any of the eight classes previously inducted since Byron "Whizzer" White was the first and sole inductee in 1998.

The 2012 class will be the largest inducted into the Hall since it was conceived in 1998, as 11 former Buffalo athletes plus one in very special category will join 47 individuals and the entire 1959 ski team which have been enshrined to date. Every decade between the 1930s and 1990s with the exception of the 1960s are represented in the class.

Jack Harvey, Basketball (1937-40)

He remains the only CU basketball player to be selected twice as a first-team All-American (1938-39, 1939-40), when he led the Buffs to two Mountain States Conference titles, and as a senior, an N.I.T. title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. Harvey scored 27 points in CU's 52-37 win at Denver in 1940, at the time the most points scored by a Buff in a single game and virtually an unheard total west of the Mississippi at the time. Known for his tough defense, he was a key performer in limiting the opponent to just 31.2 points per game his junior season and only 37.0 his senior year.

Leason "Pete" McCloud, Basketball (1939-42)

A first-team All-American, the third in CU basketball history and just the sixth CU athlete in any sport at the time, he was the Buffs' leading scorer on the 1941-42 team that reached the Final Four (he scored 19 points in a 46-44 win over Kansas that enabled CU to advance in the tournament). He was also a member of the 1939-40 team that won the N.I.T. and was invited to the first NCAA tournament. A two-time All-Mountain States performer (junior, senior seasons), he led the league in scoring both as a junior (14.1 per game) and senior (16.5, big for its day).

Larry Zimmer, Announcer (1971-present)

He is the first inductee into the Hall who is not a former athlete, coach or administrator; but he's been a part of more football and men's basketball games than perhaps anyone else in school history, calling 481 for football and 525 in basketball, or 1,006 total, through the 2011 season. He was awarded an Honorary "C" in 1992, and was honored as the 15th recipient of the Chris Schenkel Award by the National Football Foundation in 2009, which recognizes those who have enjoyed a long and distinguished career broadcasting college football at a single institution.

HALDORSON NAISMITH HALL OF FAME

Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson, one of the early stars in the history of the University of Colorado men's basketball program, was inducted along with his teammates from the 1960 United States Olympic team into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. The 2010 class was inducted on August 13 in Springfield, Mass.

That 1960 team brought home the gold medal from Rome and also featured Jerry West (West Virginia), Oscar Robertson (Cincinnati), Jerry Lucas (Ohio State) and Walt Bellamy (Indiana). The 12-man squad cruised to an 8-0 record, the average winning margin a gaudy 42.4 points. The team beat Brazil, 90-63, to clinch the gold after disposing of the USSR (81-57) and host Italy (112-81) leading up to the gold medal contest.

The 1992 "Dream Team" also will be inducted, along with Karl Malone and Scottie Pippen, among others. The 1960 and 1992 squads are generally considered the top two men's basketball teams in U.S. Olympic history.

They will become the seventh and eighth teams that the Hall is inducting, the first Olympic ones, joining others that include the Harlem Globetrotters, the original Celtics, and the 1966 Texas Western team that shattered the race barrier when it beat Kentucky to win the NCAA title. Members of inducted teams go into the Hall as a full group, not as individuals.

"I don't really know that much about it yet, but it will be a real honor to go into the Hall with the group of players that was on that team," Haldorson said from his winter home in Scottsdale, Ariz. "There were 12 guys, and all but two of us went into the NBA. I was one of those two, and I had invitations to turn pro as well, but I was basically ending my career. Some of those guys were outright stars, and I really believe Jerry West and Oscar Robertson would be stars in the game today."

"I've run into Oscar and Jerry a few times, but we all really went our own directions, so most of us haven't really seen each other since we parted ways that summer," he added. "We've never had a reunion so we kind of lost track of each other, but I can't think of a better way to finally get us all together again."

Haldorson averaged 2.9 points and 4.3 rebounds per game on the '60 team, and also won a gold medal as a member of the '56 team, when he averaged 8.6 points per contest. With Haldorson as a team member, the United States went 16-0 in the two Olympic games.

Haldorson's uniform, No. 22, is one of just two retired basketball jerseys in CU history. He left quite an imprint in the school's basketball annals, and the 6-foot-7 Austin, Minn., native still holds four school rebounding records some five-plus decades after his CU playing days, including the most in a half (21), game (31) and season (346).

As a senior in 1954-55, he led the Buffs to the Big Seven Conference title by averaging 23.9 points per game, and was named a first-team All-American. CU eventually went on to finish third in the nation, losing in the Final Four to eventual champion San Francisco and the legendary Bill Russell.

He averaged 15.0 points and 9.5 rebounds for his CU career, and was the first of only eight players to this day to score at least 1,100 points and record 700 or more rebounds. He was inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame in the school's second class in 1999; he previously had been inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, the first with ties to CU's basketball programs, in 1977.

Haldorson went on to have a brilliant career in the National Industrial Basketball League as a member of the Phillips 66ers, the team entry for Phillips 66, who then hired him after his career. He then moved to Colorado Springs to form his own gas and oil distribution business. In October 2011, Haldorson was inducted into the 12th class of the Colorado Springs Hall of Fame at the Colorado Springs World Arena, and in March 2012, he was named to the Pac-12 Conference Men's Basketball Hall of Honor, recognizing former men's college basketball players and coaches who have made a significant impact to the tradition and heritage of the conference.

HALL OF FAME

Don Branby

- Three-Sport Letterman (Football, Basketball, Baseball)
- Football First-Team All-American
- CU Record Holder (Fumble Recoveries)
- Longtime college and professional coach

Don Branby was one of the last three-sport lettermen in Colorado history, as he earned nine in all playing football, basketball and baseball. His top honor was being named an Associated Press All-American in football in 1952, when he set what are still CU records with seven fumble recoveries and nine takeaways. Published reports at the time said he had at least 20 tackles in a 21-21 tie with Oklahoma, the Sooners' lone blemish in their famous Big 7 Conference run. He was just the sixth CU player to be invited to play in a postseason all-star game when he appeared in the 1953 East-West Shrine Game. A seventh round draft pick by the New York Giants in the 1953 Draft (the 79th player selected overall), he went on. After his playing days, he went into coaching in college at Montana State, and then in the Canadian Football League with the British Columbia Lions and the Ottawa Roughriders. In basketball, he scored 165 points in 45 career games in primarily a reserve role, though he led the Buffaloes in free throw percentage in 1951-52, making a then unheard of 39-of-48 tries (81.3%). In baseball, he played first base, third base and in the outfield; his 16 runs batted in were the third most on the team his senior year. He also spent four years in the Air Force, playing service football in which he also earned high accolades.

Ken Charlton

- 1963 All-American & Academic All-American
- Two-time All-Big 8 Selection
- Inducted into CU Hall of Fame in 1999

Ken Charlton was a member of back-to-back Big 8 Conference titles and two straight NCAA tournament appearances under the late Sox Walseth. Often going out and scoring 20-plus points a day or two after having his knees drained of excess fluid, Charlton was CU's all-time leading scorer at the time of his graduation with 1,352 points in just three seasons. Walseth often referred to him as, "the finest offensive player I ever coached."

Ranking 11th on CU's all-time scoring chart, Charlton was named an All-American by the United States Basketball Writers Association and Look magazine. Along with his penchant for scoring, he was also a force inside, ranking in the top 10 on the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms (he's 11th today). He also succeeded in the classroom and was named a 1963 Academic All-American.

Charlton's 514 points scored during the 1961-62 season still ranks 19th today for most points tallied in a single season. He owns a pair of 35-point efforts at Kansas (Jan. 5, 1963), and at Missouri (Mar. 5, 1962) that still rank among the top-20 scoring games in school history. Walseth said of Charlton's play, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight."

Burdette Haldorson

- 1955 All-American
- 1955 Final Four Participant
- 1956 & 1960 U.S. Olympian
- Retired Number (No. 22)

Burdette Haldorson, No. 22 is one of just two retired basketball jerseys in CU history, left quite an imprint in the school's basketball annals. The 6-7, 210-pound Austin, Minn., native still holds four school rebounding records some five decades after his CU playing days, including the most in a half (21), game (31) and season (346). As a senior in 1954-55, he led the Buffs to the Big Seven title by averaging 23.9 points per game, and was also named as a first-team All-American. CU eventually went on to finish third in the nation, losing at the Final Four to eventual champion San Francisco and the legendary Bill Russell. Haldorson earned two gold medals in 1956 and 1960 as a member of the U.S. Olympic team, went on to have a brilliant career in the National Industrial Basketball League as a member of the Phillips 66ers, the team entry for Phillips 66, who then hired him after his career. He then moved to Colorado Springs to form his own gas and oil distribution business. In August 2010, Haldorson and his 1960 United States Olympic teammates were inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

Billy Lewis

- First African-American Varsity Basketball Player at CU
- Three-Time Basketball Letterwinner
- Cleared 6-6 3/4 as a High Jumper
- Voted Commissioner of the ASUC by the Student Body

The first African-American varsity basketball player at Colorado (and the first to letter), enrolling at CU in September 1956; at that time, freshmen were ineligible to play and he thus made his debut in the 1957-58 season. As with his football counterparts, though treated well in Boulder, he often had to endure harsh racism on the road in pre-Civil Rights America and thus blazed the trail for all those who would follow him to CU. The 6-3 forward played in 67 career games, scoring 244 points and grabbing 197 rebounds in lettering three times. His best season on the court was his junior year, when he averaged 5.9 points per game with a career-high 21 against Nebraska.

In 1959, after the basketball season was complete, he decided to come back out for track in his specialty, the high jump; he cleared 6-6 3/4 and finished second in the CU Invitational (to Wyoming's Jerry Lane, who jumped an inch higher) which topped his previous personal best of 6-2 as a senior at Denver's Manual High School, where he was coached by CU great and Hall of Fame member Gil Cruter. Just as important if not more so were his contributions as a student leader, becoming the first African-American elected by the student body as commissioner of the ASUC (Associated Students of the University of Colorado); he led a delegation of students and testified on the resolutions against discrimination in housing and employment practices and headed the SFHD, Students For Human Dignity, two of many causes he championed that helped change CU in a positive way forever.

Upon his graduation from CU in 1960, he clerked for a Denver judge, and after marrying fellow CU grad JoKatherine Holliman (the first African American woman on CU's homecoming court), they relocated to Washington D.C. where he would work for Colorado senator Peter Dominic in 1963 and 1964 while earning his Juris Doctor of Law degree from Howard University. In '64, he was recruited by IBM and took a position as the first African-American corporate attorney at the company's headquarters in Armonk, N.Y., and returned to Colorado two years later (1966) to be the junior counsel for IBM in its Niwot offices. He almost made a successful bid to become a state representative in 1968 against Tom Bastien, but lost by just 100 votes; he then opened a private law practice in Denver with partner Morris Cole.

Dave Logan

- 1975 First Team All-American (Sporting News)
- 1974 Playboy Preseason All-American
- Averaged 14.1 Points in 58 Basketball Games
- Drafted by Three Professional Leagues (NFL, NBA, MLB)

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1975 as selected by The Sporting News and a Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his junior season, the lone Buff to ever make the squad as a non-senior. Logan caught 68 passes for 1,078 yards in his CU career, numbers that both ranked second at the time of his graduation and remain in the top 20 all-time. He led the Buffs in receiving in both 1974 and 1975, after finishing second to the late J.V. Cain as a sophomore in 1973.

A two-sport star at CU (he also lettered in basketball, averaging 14.1 points in 58 career games), Logan is one of a handful to ever be drafted in three sports: he was a third round pick by Cleveland in the 1976 NFL Draft (65th overall); the Kansas City Kings nabbed him in the ninth round of the '76 NBA Draft; and the Cincinnati Reds had drafted him as an infielder and pitcher in the 19th round of baseball's June draft out of high school (longtime MLB outfielder Dave Winfield was also drafted in three). He played in 119 NFL games with Cleveland (1976-83) and Denver (1984) catching 263 passes for 4,250 yards and 24 touchdowns in his pro career. Logan settled back home in Colorado where he starred as a prep. He is a longtime participant in the radio sports talk scene in Denver, and was the radio play-by-play voice of the Denver Broncos after several years as the color analyst. He also worked several CU football games for KCNC-TV in the 1990s as the color commentator.

Cliff Meely

- First-Team All-American
- Three-Time All-Big Eight Performer
- Set 16 Colorado and 8 Big Eight Conference Records
- Six-year National Basketball Association Veteran
- Retired Number (No. 22)

In exiting CU following his senior year with all the scoring records and as the runner-up in all the rebounding marks, some three-plus decades later Cliff Meely still holds the mark for single game (47), season (729) scoring, and is third in career points (1,940) and second in rebounds (971). His name remains either at or near the top in over a dozen statistical categories, and he still owns the two top single season scoring averages in CU history: 28.0 as a senior in 1970-71 and 23.8 as a sophomore in 1968-69. The 12.1 rebounds per game average for his career remains one of the top numbers ever posted collegiately.

Meely led Colorado to the Big Eight title in 1968-69, as the Buffaloes were 21-7 with a 10-4 mark in league play. A three-time All-Big Eight team member, he earned first-team All-America honors as a senior, and set 16 school and eight conference records during his career. Additionally, Meely's 24.3 points per game scoring average is still a school record. Meely was a leader on the Buffs' last Big Eight Conference title team. Overall, the Buffs won 49 games during his time on the CU campus under late coach Russell "Sox" Walseth, the fourth most over any three-year span in CU history, with his jersey number (20) just one of two retired in CU annals. Meely went on to play six seasons in the National Basketball Association with the Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers.

In 1995-96, Meely was named to the Associated Press' all-time Big Eight Conference Basketball first team. Along with Meely, the late Wayman Tisdale (Oklahoma), Danny Manning (Kansas) Jo Jo White (Kansas State), and Rolando Blackman (Kansas State) were named to the team. In addition the conference honor, Meely also earned the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Award presented to six former collegiate athletes who have gained recognition or done great work in their postgraduate careers.

Russell "Sox" Walseth

- Six letters at Colorado in basketball and baseball
- Winningest coach in CU men's basketball history
- Six-time conference Coach of the Year
- First to coach the men's and women's program at the same school

A player and long-time basketball coach at Colorado, Russell "Sox" Walseth was likely the first and one of just a few to have coached both the men's and women's program at the same NCAA school. His time at CU spanned 38 years, starting as an athlete in the 1940s when he lettered in both basketball and baseball. He then worked as the head freshman coach for five years (three under his coach, Frosty Cox, and two under H.B. Lee); after two years as head coach at South Dakota State, he replaced Lee for the 1956-57 season and would proceed to coach 20 Buffalo teams. The winningest coach in CU men's basketball history, posting a 261-245 record, the Buffs won three Big Eight titles under his direction, in 1961-62, 1962-63 and 1968-69. He was the Big Eight Conference coach of the year on five occasions, and his star players included Ken Charlton, Jim Davis, Cliff Meely and Scott Wedman. He then coached the women's team from 1980-83, then known as the "Lady Buffs," compiling an impressive 77-21 record. That mark included an incredible 43-0 record at home, and once again, he earned coach of the year accolades. The basketball floor at the Coors Events/Conference Center is named after him, and he is a member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame.

2010-11: Alec Burks — led CU in assists during the 2010-11 season with 112.

Stephane Pelle Rebounding Award

2011-12: Andre Roberson — broke the school-record for rebounds in a season with 401, in addition to setting the school mark for defensive rebounds in a single-season with 290.

2010-11: Andre Roberson — set the freshman rebounding record with 297, and became the first freshman in school history to lead team in rebounds, steals (51) and blocks (42).

Chauncey Billups MVP Award (voted by the players)

(CU's last All-American named in 1997, eighth overall in school history. In two years with the Buffaloes, Billups led the Buffs to the NCAA Tournament [second round]; Averaged 18.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 5.1 assists in 55 games played. Also made 120 three-pointers and shot 85.7 percent from the free throw line).

2011-12: Carlon Brown — Led the Buffs in scoring in his only year with a 12.6 points per game average.

Earned the Pac-12 Tournament Most Outstanding Player award helping the Buffs win four games in four days en route to the conference championship. Brown averaged 15.8 points, 4.8 rebounds 2.3 steals per game. He shot 50 percent from the field and scored the game-winning basket with an uncontested dunk in the final seconds against Arizona in the conference title game.

2010-11: Alec Burks — Led CU in scoring with a 20.5 points per game average, the highest scoring average in a single season over the 20-point plateau in 16 years. Burks also scored a school record 779 points breaking a 40-year mark. He was an unanimous Big 12 Conference selection who also led the Buffs in assists with 112.

Most Improved Player (voted by the players)

2011-12: Austin Dufault — Averaged a season-best 11.1 points and 4.4 rebounds per game during his senior year. Also recorded a season-high in three-pointers (23), assists (33), defensive rebounds (107), field goals made (151), attempts (311), and minutes played (975).

2010-11: Levi Knutson — Saved his best season for last, finishing third in team scoring with an 11.7 points per game average and making 81 three-pointers, the most by a CU player since 2003-04. He also shot a season-best 50.6 percent from the field, in addition to 47.4 percent of his shots from the three-point arc. Knutson also grabbed a season-best in rebounds (110), steals (22), blocks (2), and tied a season-high in assists (31). Knutson was named co-Big 12 Conference Sixth Man of the Year.

COORS EVENTS CENTER HONORED JERSEYS

#4 Chauncey Billups

One of the most talented players in Colorado basketball history, Chauncey Billups helped transform the Buffaloes into an NCAA tournament contender in the two years he played at CU ... At CU, led the Buffs to their first NCAA Tournament in over two decades, where CU topped perennial power Indiana in the opening round of the 1997 tournament ... As a sophomore was named a first-team All-American by the Basketball News, becoming the eighth All-American in Colorado history ... Named All-Big 12 first team by the league coaches and Associated Press in 1996-97 ... In two seasons in Boulder, he averaged 18.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 5.1 assists in 55 games; also connected on 120 3-pointers and shot .857 (306-for-357) from the free throw line ... Set a then-CU freshman record (465 points; third today) and currently holds the freshman assists record (143) ... Entering the 2012-13 season, Billups continues to own the freshman scoring record with 33 points at Colorado State (Dec. 6, 1995) ... His hard work, dedication and exceptional basketball skills not only drew the attention of college basketball aficionados, but of professional teams as well. Billups was the No. 3 overall selection of the first round of the NBA Draft in 1997 by the Boston Celtics ... As a captain of the Detroit Pistons, Billups led the team to the NBA championship in 2004 earning the NBA Finals Most Valuable Player award by averaging 21 points and 5.2 assists in the five games ... He has played for seven NBA teams over his 15 years in the NBA, including the Denver Nuggets, where he helped lead Nuggets to a franchise-best 54 wins in 2008-09, the most since moving to the NBA ... He ranks among the top-five in 3-Pointers made (1,783); 3-Point FG attempts (4,587); and in free throw percentage (.894).

#4 Scott Wedman

A three-time letterman for Sox Walseth at Colorado, he ranks 18th all-time on CU's scoring chart entering the 2012-2013 season with 1,251 career points ... His 16.7 per game average, still ranks seventh best for a player with 75-plus games in a Buff uniform ... In 75 games, he converted 516 of 1,046 field goals, a solid 49.3 percent ... He twice earned All-Big Eight Conference honors, leading the Buffs in scoring as a junior (17.7 per game in 1972-73) and as a senior (20.0 in 1973-74); he was second as a sophomore with a 12.8 average in '71-72 ... One of just 12 players in school history to average 20 or more points in a season ... Scored his career high 32 points against Long Beach State his senior season ... He also led the team in rebounds with 9.3 per game both his junior and senior campaigns ... He was selected as a second-team member of the conference's all-decade team for the 1970s ... He played 12 years in the NBA with Kansas City, Cleveland and Boston, playing in 856 games with a 12.9 career scoring average, pouring in 11,027 points; he shot 48.2 percent from floor, 79.1 percent from the free throw line and 4.5 rebounds per game ... He won two championship rings with the Celtics (1984, 1986) and still shares the mark for field goal perfection in the postseason with two others when he hit all of 11 of shots, including four three-pointers, for 26 points in a win over the Los Angeles Lakers in Game 1 of the 1985 NBA Finals ... His No. 4 jersey was honored by CU in the spring of 2006 ... Inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 2007.

#13 Chuck Gardner

Charles "Chuck" Gardner was a three-time letterman under the legendary CU basketball coach Sox Walseth ... Gardner was a two-time first-team All-Big Eight Conference performer at center ... Excellent touch around the basket with a dangerous hook shot ... The 6-foot-8 Gardner led the Big Eight in scoring as a senior in 1965-66 with a 20.2 average ... Was also second in conference rebounding (9.8), field goal percentage (52.4) and fourth in free throw percentage (65.0). His finishing first or second in three categories and fourth in a fourth was the best all-around effort in its day ... Also had a team-best 52.4 field goal and 65.0 free throw percentage ... His 506 points during his senior year in 1965-66 ranks 25th in single-season scoring ... The 506 points was the third most scored at that time in school history ... Led the Big Eight in scoring during his junior campaign (16.9 ppg.) and third in field goal percentage (.485) ... Was also first on the team in rebounding (194, 8.1 rpg.) and fourth overall in the conference ... Scored 845 career points ranking No. 39 overall entering the 2012-2013 season, in addition to 486 rebounds, ranking 28 overall ... Was also an Academic All-American honorable mention ... Before entering private business, Gardner spent four seasons (1968-72) as an assistant coach under Walseth.

#20 Jim Davis

A three-year letterman under the legendary Sox Walseth, he earned first-team All-Big Eight honors from both the Associated Press and United Press international his junior (1962-63) and senior (1963-64) seasons ... CU was 53-24 in his career, winning two Big 8 titles and earning two trips to the NCAA Tournament ... He scored 1,110 career points converting 411-of-841 field goal attempts for a 48.9 percentage, considered very good for the day ... He averaged 14.4 points per game over his career, including 18.5 his senior season, when he also averaged 12.7 rebounds for a second straight season, leading the Big 8 both years ... With a 13.8 scoring norm as a junior, that makes him one of the few players in school history to average a double-double for two seasons (only four players in school history) ... Averaged 11.2 rebounds per game over his career (77 games) ... At the time of his graduation, he was CU's all-time leading rebounder and third all-time scorer (today he's fourth in rebounding, 23rd in scoring entering the 2012-2013 season) ... He was a fourth round selection by Detroit in the 1964 NBA Draft, but the 27th player overall in a 9-team league at the time ... Waived by the Pistons that September, he persevered and eventually signed as a free agent with the St. Louis Hawks in 1967; he went on to play for the Hawks, both in St. Louis and when they moved to Atlanta ... He was traded to Houston for a month during the 1971 season and finished up his career after being traded to Detroit ... He played eight seasons in all, scoring 3,997 points with his best year coming in 1969-70 when he averaged 13.6 points and 9.7 rebounds for Atlanta, helping the Hawks to a 48-34 record and first place in the NBA West Division ... From Muncie, Ind., where he prepped at Central High.

#20 Bob Jeangerard

Three-year letterman (1952-1955) under head coach H.B. Lee ... Two-time All-Big Seven Conference first-team selection ... Member of two NCAA Tournament teams in 1953-54 and 1954-55 ... Averaged 12.4 points and 6.1 rebounds per game during his collegiate career ... His senior year, he averaged 16 points and 6.8 rebounds per game, ranking second on the team in both categories ... CU won a then-school-best 19 games and reached the national semifinals falling to eventual champion San Francisco ... Named the NCAA Tournament Regional Most Outstanding Player ... Also that season, member of the CU team that rallied from a 23-point first half road deficit to edge Kansas State. The 23-point deficit remains to this day, a school record ... As a junior, he was second on the team in scoring (12.8 points per game) and rebounding (6.1 rpg) ... His tip-in at the buzzer defeated Oklahoma, 56-55 (Dec. 20, 1952) ... Entering the 2012-2013 season, ranks No. 39 in rebounding (413) and No. 41 in scoring (842) ... Member of the 1956 Olympic Gold Medal basketball team and scored a team-high 16 points in the gold medal game against the Soviet Union ... He went on to have an outstanding career in AAU ball.

#20 Cliff Meely

One of the pure prolific scorers and rebounders in the history of Colorado basketball, Cliff Meely remains either at or near the top in over a dozen statistical categories some four-plus decades later ... Meely still holds the mark for single game points (47) and season scoring (729), is second in rebounds (971), and third in career points (1,940) ... He owns the top two single season scoring averages in CU history: 28.0 as a senior in 1970-71, and 23.8 as a sophomore in 1968-69 ... His 12.1 rebounds per game career average remains one of the top numbers ever posted collegiately ... He led Colorado to the Big Eight Conference title in 1968-69 with a 21-7 record (10-4 mark in league play) ... A three-time All-Big Eight team member and first-team All-America honors as a senior ... Set 16 school and eight conference records during his career ... Additionally, Meely's 24.3 points per game scoring average is still a school record ... Overall, the Buffs won 49 games during his time on the CU campus under late coach Russell "Sox" Walseth, the fourth most over any three-year span in CU history ... His No. 20 jersey number is one of two retired in CU annals ... Meely went on to play six seasons in the National Basketball Association with the Houston Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers ... In 1995-96, Meely was named to the Associated Press' all-time Big Eight Conference Basketball first team (along with the-late Wayman Tisdale (Oklahoma), Danny Manning (Kansas), Jo Jo White (Kansas State), Rolando Blackman (Kansas State)) ... Meely was named to the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Award presented to six former collegiate athletes who have gained recognition or done great work in their postgraduate careers.

#22 Burdette Haldorson

Burdette "Burdie" Haldorson, one of the early stars in the history of the University of Colorado men's basketball program, is one of just two retired basketball jerseys (No. 22) in school history and he left quite an imprint in the school's basketball annals ... The 6-7, 210-pound Austin, Minn., native still holds four school rebounding records some five decades after his CU playing days, including the most in a half (21), game (31) and season (346) ... As a senior in 1954-55, he led the Buffs to the Big Seven title averaging 23.9 points per game, and was also named as a first-team All-American ... CU eventually went on to finish third in the nation, losing at the Final Four to eventual champion San Francisco and the legendary Bill Russell ... Haldorson averaged 15.0 points and 9.5 rebounds for his CU career, and was the first of only eight players to this day to score at least 1,100 points and record 700 or more rebounds ... Haldorson earned two gold medals in 1956 and 1960 as a member of the U.S. Olympic team and went on to have a brilliant career in the National Industrial Basketball League as a member of the Phillips 66ers, the team entry for Phillips 66, who then hired him after his career ... He then moved to Colorado Springs to form his own gas and oil distribution business ... In August 2010, Haldorson and his 1960 United States Olympic teammates were inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. ... Haldorson averaged 2.9 points and 4.3 rebounds per game on the '60 team, and also won a gold medal as a member of the '56 team, when he averaged 8.6 points per contest. With Haldorson as a team member, the United States went 16-0 in the two Olympic games ... He was inducted into the 2011 class of the Colorado Springs Sports Hall of Fame (October 2011); the Pac-12 Conference Hall of Fame (March 2012); in addition to CU's Athletic Hall of Fame (second class) in 1999 and CU's now defunct Athletic Hall of Honor in 1980 ... Listed 33rd among the top 50 greatest sports figures from Minnesota in the 20th century by Sports Illustrated.

#23 Ken Charlton

Ken Charlton, a lanky 6-foot-6, 191-pound forward, battled through a history of knee problems to lead Colorado to back-to-back Big Eight Conference titles, two top 10 national rankings and NCAA Championship berths (1962 and 1963) ... CU was 19-7 each of those seasons, eventually succumbing to Cincinnati (the '62 champ) both years in the NCAA tournament ... He capped his career by being named the Most Outstanding Player in the 1963 NCAA Midwest Regional, when he scored 26 points in a win over Oklahoma City, and despite being hobbled by a bad knee, came back with 23 in a loss to Cincinnati; the crowd in Lawrence gave Charlton several ovations for his gritty play against the two-time defending NCAA champs ... Often going out and scoring 20-plus points a day or two after having his knees drained of excess fluid, so he could play ... CU's 12th all-time leading scorer (1,352 points) and rebounder (671), he was a consensus All-America selection in 1962-63 ... The Buffs were 53-24 during his three-year career ... He scored a career-high 35 points on two occasions, at Missouri (Mar. 5, 1962) his junior and at Kansas (Jan. 5, 1963), as a senior, just under half of CU's total points in both victories. Both scoring efforts rank among the top-25 scoring games in school history ... He was CU's all-time leading scorer at the time of his graduation (1,352) in just three seasons ... Along with his penchant for scoring, he was also a force inside, ranking among the CU rebounding charts with 671 career caroms ... He led CU in rebounding as a sophomore (8.8 per game) and as a junior (9.5), and was third his senior season (8.2) ... He averaged 20.0 points per game in four NCAA tournament contests ... During his senior year, he hit a pair of free throws in the final seconds to seal three straight road victories at Nebraska (58-56), Iowa State (58-55) and Oklahoma State (64-61) ... He was also a first-team Academic All-America selection in 1963, the first year such a squad was selected for hoops ... Previously had his jersey number (#23) honored in 1999 ... The late Sox Walseth called him "the finest offensive player I ever coached." Walseth also said, "On a leg and a half, he's better than anyone else in the Big Eight." ... He had the privilege and experience to play for the late-legendary coach John Wooden when he helped the West to an 82-79 win over the East in the annual Shrine All-Star game in 1963; he scored 15 points which was second-most on the West squad ... A long-time Boulder banking executive after his playing days ... He was elected to the CU Hall of Fame in 2010.

The journey didn't stop there for C-Unit. Mike Bohn, athletic director, announced that instead of 50 fans, he would be taking 200 to the NCAA Tournament in New Mexico. Together the Buff fans travelled by bus to Albuquerque, N.M. In the first round, the Buffs escaped with a victory over UNLV, but came to a season-ending halt when the Buffaloes were defeated by Baylor.

After the travelling and the madness of March, the team and students came back to Boulder with an exhilarating story to tell. All the buzz generated around C-Unit brought national attention to the student cheering section. C-Unit celebrated their success with a pizza party at The Sink. Tad Boyle and Mike Bohn were a few guests of honor that showed up to thank the students for their relentless loyalty. Bohn thanked the students with a DVD copy of the Pac-12 Championship game for each of the OG 50. The 2011-2012 season was historical and momentous, one the fans and players alike will never forget.

C-Unit is a legion of Buff fans. It consists of some superheroes and a few band members, but all students with voices raspy from screaming. Together they create an atmosphere so keen to the heart of the Buffaloes; one would be mistaken not to know of C-Unit. According to The Chronicle of Higher Education, CU went from 4,637 fans in 2009 to 7,804 in 2012 for a 68 percent increase. The 68 percent makes CU the biggest gainers in attendance and a No. 1 ranking. Among the top 10 schools listed, CU is the only Pac-12 school that improved in attendance, while five Pac-12 schools decreased in attendance.

C-Unit begins every game, sometimes almost two hours, ahead of any other fan. These fans stand outside before doors open, rain or shine, to ensure they get prime seating. Some students bring their homework, some play games while others just meticulously count down the minutes until tip off. The men's basketball team is 32-4 in the last two years under Boyle at home, including nine sellouts. The 2011-12 season set a school-record for conference total attendance 82,442 breaking 2010-11 total of 78,472 and set school-record for average attendance 7,804, breaking 2010-11 total of 7,014. For the first time in school history, home attendance in conference play averaged over 9,000 fans in back-to-back years.

It is without a doubt the energetic and enthusiastic fans that contributed to the interest in CU Basketball. C-unit was also recognized as a finalist for the inaugural Naismith Student Section of the Year Award. The loyalty of the C-Unit was rewarded when the athletic department announced they were taking 50 of the most loyal fans to the Pac-12 tournament. The entire event was called "Stampede to Staples," a journey that led to witnessing a moment in history- the very first Pac-12 Championship, which was ours to take home.

The whole idea started with the agreement that 50 fans would cheer on both the men's and women's basketball teams as they were both competing in Los Angeles. The "OG 50", standing for "original gang of 50" as they so fondly call themselves, were flown on a charter plane to California and the first stop was In-N-Out Burger. Needless to say, the restaurant was baffled by the amount of jubilant people that showed up, all in black and gold Colorado gear. From that point on, the OG 50 was shuffled between the Galen Center at USC and the Staples Center, often times running through doors and entering with slow claps. People everywhere would stop and recognize the arrival of C-Unit. The C-Unit members would chant things like "We Don't Need No Altitude," a chant adapted to the current situation and altered from the Coors Events Center favorite "You Can't Win At Altitude."

Finally, the last few minutes of the Pac-12 Championship game boiled down and the men's basketball team was facing fourth seed Arizona. Five critical minutes remained and the game was dead even. The sixth man, the cheering section, the energy that sustained the team throughout the entire season, was needed more than ever. It was down to one minute and C-Unit started to chant "I Believe That We Will Win" and when the buzzer sounded indicating no time remained; the crowd erupted. The loyal 50 fans were jumping up and down, grabbing onto each other, so proud of what they stood for and so proud to be representing Colorado, the new champions. Four days and four victories later, the men's basketball team was crowned the champions of the newly formed conference and the C-Unit members were there to witness every step of the way.

Jim Ranglos

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Feb. 11, CU beat Kansas State for the Buffs 20th straight home victory.
- In the final game for both coaches, CU's H.B. "Bebe" Lee and the Buffs defeated Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen's Kansas squad, 75-67, to bring an end to two illustrious coaching careers.
- Jim Ranglos was the lone Buffalo to garner All-Big Seven honors after a season in which he finished ninth in the league in scoring, having averaged 14.8 points per game.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The CU head-coaching job was taken over by 30-year-old Russell "Sox" Walseth, who replaced H.B. Lee.
- On Dec. 3, the Buffs stunned highly regarded Oregon State, 67-58, in Sox Walseth's coaching debut.
- After upsetting Missouri, the Buffs set a Big Seven Christmas Tournament record by going 42-of-49 from the free throw line in a 90-87 victory over Michigan State. This marked the first time a CU team reached the finals of the tournament. CU lost the title game to Kansas, who was led by Wilt Chamberlain's 45 points.
- In his first season, Walseth was named Big Seven Coach of the Year.
- CU guard Dave Mowbray was selected to the All-Big Seven second team. Mowbray led the Buffs in scoring with 273 points, an average of 11.9 points per game.
- After pre-season predictions labeled CU as the poorest team in the Big Seven, the Buffs finished with a 14-9 record and tied for fourth in the conference. Only four other CU teams—1938, 1940, 1942, and 1955—had won more than 14 games.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 5, the Buffs shocked highly favored Washington, 70-63, in an overtime thriller.
- On Dec. 8, former CU coach Frosty Cox's return to Boulder was spoiled by an 86-55 drubbing by the Buffs.
- On Jan. 19, in one of the most accurate shooting performances in CU history, Russ Lind scored 25 points, shooting 10-of-11 from the field and 5-of-5 from the free throw line in a 73-64 victory over Iowa State.
- On Jan. 31, CU upset Kansas, 66-64, in the Buffaloes' first nationally televised appearance.
- CU guard Gerry Schroeder was named to both the AP and UPI All-Big Eight teams. Schroeder finished a brilliant three-year career with a total of 813 points, the third highest career total for a Buff, only topped by Bob Jeangerard's 842 and Burdette Halderson's 1125.
- Gerry Schroeder set a school record for points scored in a season by a guard (321 points).

Ken Charlton

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- This was only the second team in CU history to win 19 games. The other was the 1955 team, which went 19-6.
- On Mar. 10, CU rallied from 10 points down with 4:14 remaining to beat Kansas, 63-59 to win the Big Eight Conference title.
- On Mar. 17, CU defeated Texas Tech, 67-60, in the first round of the NCAA playoffs. In the Midwest Regional Championship game, the Buffs were stung, 73-46, by defending national champs Cincinnati.
- Center Jim Davis' .502 field goal percentage was the highest ever by a Buff, topping the old mark of .487 by Wilky Gilmore in the '60-'61 season.
- Forward Ken Charlton set single-game and single-season records in free throws for the Buffs, knocking down 19 free throws against Missouri and converting 172 on the season. Charlton's mark of 498 points scored was the second highest single-season total in CU history.
- Wilky Gilmore became the second most prolific scorer in CU history, racking up 1026 points in three years as a Buff.
- Gilmore and Charlton were both named to the All-Big Eight team, marking only the second time CU placed two men on the first team. Burdette Haldorson and Bob Jeangerard were the first duo in 1955.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 3, CU beat Wichita State, 79-69, in double overtime for the 500th win in CU history.
- On Mar. 9, CU's 69-56 victory over Kansas State in Manhattan gave CU a share of the Big Eight title with the Wildcats. The Buffs advanced to the NCAA playoffs because they had more wins.
- On Mar. 16, CU defeated Oklahoma City in Lawrence, Kan., 72-82, to advance to the NCAA Midwest Regional championship for the second straight year. CU would lose to familiar foe Cincinnati, who had beaten the Buffs in the Midwest Regional championship the previous year.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 5, Pat Frink scored 36 points in a 93-89 victory over Utah. This was Frink's first season back after a year of inactivity due to knee surgery.
- On Dec. 30, the Buffs beat Nebraska 73-66 to win the Big Eight Christmas Tournament.
- On Jan. 7, CU shot 59.9 percent from the field and stunned highly touted Kansas State 71-68.
- Although the Buffs and the Huskers had identical records, Colorado was snubbed by the National Invitational Tournament, despite beating tournament-bound Nebraska in the final game of the season.
- CU guards Pat Frink and Lynn Baker were both selected to the All-Big Eight second team.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Mar. 8, CU won the Big Eight basketball championship, beating Missouri 92-73 for the Buffs' school record 20th win.
- On Mar. 15, CU capped the season with a 97-82 victory over Texas A&M, securing a third-place finish in the NCAA Midwest Basketball Tournament.
- CU finished the season with an 11-0 home record.
- CU sophomore Cliff Meely closed out the conference portion of his first season with 348 points, an average of 24.9 points per game, to become the first player to win the conference scoring title in his first season since Wilt Chamberlain averaged 25.4 points per game for Kansas in 1957. In the process, Meely cracked Chamberlain's total points (310) record for sophomores.

Cliff Meely

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Buff senior Cliff Meely firmly established himself as the greatest scorer in Big Eight history. Meely was the first player in the Big Eight to average more than 30 points per game in conference play during a single season. He scored 427 points, an average of 30.5 points per game, in 14 league contests to win the scoring title for the second time in three years.
- On Dec. 22, Cliff Meely became CU's all-time leading scorer with a 22 point performance against Texas Tech, surpassing Ken Charlton's mark of 1,342 points.
- On Feb. 13, Cliff Meely scored a Big Eight record 47 points while grabbing 25 rebounds in a 99-69 win over Oklahoma.
- Meely garnered first-team All-America and first-team All-Big Eight honors.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Coach Sox Walseth entered his 19th season at CU with a 247-207 record through 18 campaigns.
- On Feb. 5, an 83-62 victory over Oklahoma State snapped the Buffs school record 11-game losing streak and gave CU their first conference win of the season.
- On Feb. 19, the Buffs converted 28-of-32 free throws en route to a 90-87 victory over Oklahoma. CU avenged its most lopsided loss of the season with the win, having been trounced by the Sooners in Norman earlier in the season, 113-62.
- On Mar. 8, the Buffs closed out the season with a 106-97 win over Missouri, led by Ron Wrigley's 21 points and 11 rebounds.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- CU came roaring out of the gates, winning 10 of its first 11 games of the season to mark the best start in school history.
- On Dec. 2, CU's 66-62 victory over South Dakota State in Boulder marked the program's 700th win.
- On Dec. 30, in the Big Eight Christmas Tournament, the Buffs finished a surprising second, losing to Kansas in the final for CU's second loss of the season.
- The Buffs finished the season 14-13. It was the first time that a CU team had finished above .500 since the 1970-71 season.
- CU guard Emmett Lewis moved into second place on the Buffs' all-time scoring list, finishing his four-year career at CU with 1,680 points. His career point total (1,680) ranked ninth on the Big Eight's all-time scoring list. Emmett also finished second in the league in scoring and was named to the Big Eight All-Conference first team.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- CU's 17-10 record during the 1979-80 season marked the program's best finish since the 1968-69 season, when the Buffs compiled a 21-7 record. This was only the sixth time in history that CU had won 17 games in a single season.
- On Nov. 8, a crowd of 9,679 turned out to see the Russian Nationals defeat the Buffs 88-73. The game was the first ever in the CU Events/Conference Center.
- On Dec. 21, the Buffs squared off against Colorado State for the first time in a decade. CU dispatched the Rams, 96-82, before a crowd of 7,812 at the Coors Events Center. The crowd was CU's largest home audience of the season.
- On Jan. 30, against Iowa State, CU sank 36-of-39 free throws, including a record-setting 16-of-16 by Jo Jo Hunter, as CU defeated the Cyclones 78-68.
- CU junior forward Craig Austin set a school record for field goal percentage in a season, hitting 116-of-204 shots for a .569 mark.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 16, all 15 players scored for CU in a 118-75 blowout of Adams State.
- On Mar. 3, CU beat Nebraska in Lincoln, 70-66, and became just the second team in the five-year history of the Big Eight playoffs to win on the road.
- On Mar. 6, CU made its first appearance in the Big Eight "final four" at Kansas City where the Buffs lost to Kansas State 64-61.
- On Mar. 13, CU's head coach Bill Blair announced his resignation. After leading Colorado to a 16-12 record during the 1980-81 campaign, Blair joined the New Jersey Nets coaching staff, where he became an assistant coach under Larry Brown.
- CU senior guard Jo Jo Hunter won the Big Eight scoring title with an average of 19.1 points per game. Hunter garnered first-team All Big Eight accolades and earned honorable mention All-American honors.
- On April 4, Tom Apke was named as Colorado's 13th head basketball coach.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On December 8, the Buffs fell to Tennessee in Boulder 64-63, marking the first win by a non-Big Eight team in the CU Events Center in the building's three-year history.
- On Dec. 10, the Buffs' late rally helped propel CU over nationally ranked Wyoming, 75-73.
- On Feb. 17, the Buffs upset Kansas in Boulder, 89-80, behind a remarkable performance by Jacques Tuz. Tuz scored 26 points, shooting 8-of-13 from the field and 10-of-11 from the free throw line. He added 12 rebounds, six assists, five steals and two blocked shots. His performance helped earn him Big Eight "Player-of-the-Week" honors.
- Tuz, who earned All-Big Eight honorable mention, was the only Buff to be awarded any post-season honor.

Jay Humphries

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Nov. 25, in a season opening 87-77 victory over Rockhurst College, CU guard Jay Humphries led the Buffs with 31 points, seven rebounds, nine assists and six steals.
- On March 7, CU's 62-52 win at Iowa State earned the team its second trip to the league's final four in Kansas City, where Oklahoma beat CU, 90-78, two days later. CU became the first team in league history to win twice on the road in league playoffs.
- For the second consecutive season, CU set a new attendance record. In 14 games CU drew a record 104,545 fans, only the second time in history the Buffs eclipsed the magical 100,000-mark. The Buffs posted a 12-2 mark during the home season, which was the second best home record in the Big Eight Conference.
- Jay Humphries finished his career with a total of 562 assists and 309 steals, both are first all-time among CU players.
- Jay Humphries was selected to the Big Eight All-Conference first team and was named an honorable mention All-American.

Randy Downs

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 1, the Buffs capped a four game undefeated home stand with a victory over Utah, 89-80. Before beating Utah, CU recorded wins over Elmhurst, Cal-Irvine and Regis to open the season.
- CU enjoyed another fine season at home, as the Buffs posted an 11-4 mark in Boulder, including 5-2 in league play.
- CU forward Alex Stivins was selected to the Big Eight All-Conference second team and also made the Academic All-Conference team for the second straight year. Stivins finished sixth in the nation in rebounding, averaging 11.7 per game.
- CU center Randy Downs led the Buffs in scoring, averaging 16.4 points per game. Downs became only the third player in CU history to reach the 1,000-point plateau as a junior.

Matt Bullard

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 11, CU's 78-65 victory over Colorado State marked the 800th win in the program's history.
- On Mar. 1, a 94-86 loss to Missouri gave Colorado the dubious distinction of being the only team in Big Eight history to go winless in league play.
- This was only the second 20-loss season in CU history, as the Buffs also ended the year with a seven-game home losing streak and a nine-game road losing skid.
- CU forward Matt Bullard was named to UPI's all-freshman team, as he became only the second player ever to lead CU in scoring as a freshman. His 12.7 average was the second best ever by a frosh, topped only by Emmett Lewis' 14.9 his rookie season back in '75-76.
- On April 2, Tom Miller was named as CU's 14th head basketball coach.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 18, in CU's first ever ESPN appearance, the Buffs defeated Tulsa behind Matt Bullard's 15 points and nine assists.
- On Feb. 14, Matt Bullard's 3-point shot with seven seconds remaining gave CU its first Big Eight victory in 26 straight outings, as the Buffaloes edged Iowa State 77-74.
- On Feb. 25, CU outscored 16th ranked Kansas 42-38 in the second half to stun the Jayhawks 65-56 in comeback fashion at the Events/Conference Center in Boulder.
- CU guard Ken Countryman became the first player since '84-85 to lead the team in both assists (72) and steals (32).
- Forward Matt Bullard's 464 points ranked as the 11th most for a season in CU history; his 260 rebounds were the ninth highest season total.
- The Buffs' 1-2 scoring punch of Matt Bullard and Scott Wilke turned out to be the third highest scoring combination in CU history. Bullard and Wilke both received All-Big Eight honorable mention honors.

Shaun Vandiver

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 4, Shaun Vandiver had a career and game high 34 points and 16 rebounds as he led the Buffs to an 85-79 victory over visiting Illinois State.
- On Mar. 9-11, CU pulled back-to-back upsets over Missouri and Oklahoma State to become the first eighth-seeded team to make it to the championship game of the Big Eight Postseason Tournament. Center Shaun Vandiver's performance at the tournament was nothing short of spectacular, as he scored 75 points (sixth-best all-time tournament effort) and grabbed 41 rebounds (tournament record) in CU's three games there. He became only the third tournament MVP to come from a losing team.
- CU's Shaun Vandiver and Steve Wise finished the season as the Big Eight's No. 1 and 2 scorers, respectively, marking the first time two Buffs have accomplished that.
- CU center Shaun Vandiver was selected to the First-Team All-Big Eight, as well as being named honorable mention All-American.
- CU guard Steve Wise received All-Big Eight honorable mention honors.
- On Mar. 29, Joe Harrington was named as CU's 15th head basketball coach.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The Events/Conference Center, home of the Buffaloes, was renamed the Coors Events Center.
- The Buffaloes scored a school record 124 points twice in early season match-ups against Central Connecticut State and Tennessee State, both CU victories.
- The Buffs' win at Iowa State (84-78) snapped their 56-game regular-season road-losing streak in league play.
- CU ended a 22-year postseason drought with an invitation to play in the National Invitational Tournament, where they dismantled Michigan, Wyoming and Massachusetts en route to a third-place finish.
- Shaun Vandiver averaged 21.2 points and 10 rebounds per game, good enough to earn first team All-Big Eight honors and a spot on the NIT all-tournament team.
- CU won their last game of the season for the first time in 16 seasons.
- The Buffs finished the season with a 19-14 record, their best in 21 seasons.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Donnie Boyce's debut performance, in which he scored 21 points, was the best debut by a CU player since Emmett Lewis scored 31 in 1975.
- CU coach Joe Harrington recorded his 200th career victory early in the season with a 73-70 double overtime win against UC-Irvine.
- CU earned the nickname of "Wednesday Warriors" after pulling off three upset defeats of top-ranked teams on successive Wednesdays. During the first three Wednesdays of February, the Buffs surprised No. 22 Oklahoma, No. 2 Oklahoma State, and No. 9 Missouri.
- CU played their way to an 11-4 home record and a .733 winning percentage.
- Freshman Donnie Boyce led the team in points (14.9 ppg.), was second in assists (3.1 apg.), third in rebounds (4.8 rpg.); and was selected to the Big Eight All-Freshman team.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Dec. 5, CU shot a scorching .619 from the field in a rout of Middle Tennessee State, 97-57, to improve the Buffs' record to 4-0.
- Sophomore Donnie Boyce continued to develop and prove himself as a top-notch player in the Big Eight. Boyce led CU and was second in the Big Eight in point per game (19.1); he also led CU in assists per game (3.6), and was second in rebounds per game (6.2).
- The Buffs began the season with a 5-1 mark after 6 games, notching the best starting record in the Joe Harrington era.
- For the fourth straight season the Buffaloes finished with an above .500 winning percentage at home.
- CU had multiple players receive post-season honors, including First Team All-Big Eight (Donnie Boyce), Phillips 66 Academic All-Big Eight Team (Kirk Williams), All-Big Eight Defensive Team (Poncho Hodges), and All-Big Eight Most Improved Team (Poncho Hodges).
- Teammates Poncho Hodges and Ted Allen finished first and second in the conference in blocked shots, marking the first time since 1953 that two teammates ranked one-two in that category.

Donnie Boyce

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The Buffs finished the season over .500 for the first time under Coach Joe Harrington.
- The Buffs again won the Mile High Classic in re-sounding fashion, beating Eastern Washington and Hofstra by a combined total of 39 points. It was the fifth consecutive time the Buffaloes won their home tournament.
- On Jan. 7 in Boulder, the Buffs ended their 16-game losing streak against ranked teams when they defeated No. 16 Iowa State by a score of 71-57. In that game CU forced a school record 31 turnovers by the opponent.
- On Jan. 17, in a game against Texas-San Antonio, Ted Allen blocked 5 shots to become CU's all-time leader in blocks.
- After throwing down a fast break dunk, Senior guard Donnie Boyce surpassed Cliff Meely (1967-71) to become CU's all-time leading scorer. Meely finished his career with a total of 1,940 points, while Boyce would finish his illustrious career with 1,995.
- In Boyce's final season as a Buffalo, he led the team in average points per game (18.5), assists per game (4.1), and rebounds per game (6.5); and became the first CU player to lead his team in scoring four consecutive years.
- CU received a bid to the 1995 NIT tournament, only the second invitation to postseason play in 25 years and the first since the 1991 season. They would go on to lose in the first round to New Mexico.

Chauncey Billups

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- CU suffered the worst season-opening loss in school history falling to UC Santa Barbara 71-47, a 24-point deficit.
- Freshman guard Chauncey Billups scored 31 points in his second career game, the most points in a single game by any CU freshman.
- On Dec. 2, Billups recorded the first ever triple double by a Buff, and the sixth in Big Eight Conference history. He scored 24 points and added 11 rebounds and 11 assists in this historic performance.
- Midway through the season, after suffering an 80-82 overtime loss to Southern Utah, head coach Joe Harrington resigned and Ricardo Patton was named interim head coach.
- On Jan. 29, 1996, Ricardo Patton won his first game as CU's head coach, as his Buffaloes beat Big Eight opponent Missouri 106-94. The game was televised on ESPN's "Big Monday," and the win was CU's first on ESPN since they upset No. 2 Oklahoma State in 1992.
- On Feb. 7, CU turned in one of its best performances of the year in a 64-63 overtime win at Kansas State. The win marked the first one-point victory since beating Purdue in 1988, and the first overtime road win in Big Eight play since beating Missouri 81-79 in January of 1973.
- With a win over Missouri-Kansas City in February, the Buffs finished the non-conference season with a 6-6 record, marking CU's seventh consecutive season with a .500-or-better record against non-conference opponents.
- On Mar. 5, Ricardo Patton was named head coach on a permanent basis, making him CU's 16th head coach in 93 seasons.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The Big Eight Conference adopted Texas, Texas Tech, Texas A&M and Baylor and became the Big 12 Conference.
- On Dec. 5, Chauncey Billups surpassed the career 500-point barrier. With his 17-point performance against Texas Arlington, Billups matched Shaun Vandiver as the fastest CU player to reach the 500-point plateau after only 28 games as a Buff.
- In an early season victory against Missouri-Kansas City, the Buffs set single game season highs in field goals (34), field goal percentage (.607), and free-throw percentage (.917).
- On Jan. 11, CU traveled to Lubbock, Texas to face No. 20 Texas Tech. The Buffs prevailed by an 80-78 score, and broke what was the nation's longest current home-court winning streak (35 games). It was also CU's first road win against a nationally ranked team since 1973. The win improved the Buffs' conference record to 3-0 for the first time since the 1968-69 season.
- With a win over Wofford in February, CU recorded 20 wins for only the second time in program history.
- In an expected decision, the Buffaloes were selected to play in the NCAA tournament for the first time since the 1968-69 season.
- In the first game of the NCAA tournament against Indiana, Chauncey Billups scored 24 points and became just the 19th player in CU history to record 1,000 points in his career. The win over Indiana was the 22nd of the season, a new school record.
- At season's end, Chauncey Billups closed the book on his storied collegiate career and declared for the NBA draft. He was selected third overall by the Boston Celtics.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Ricardo Patton finished his second full season with a 35-24 record and a 39-33-career head coaching record.
- CU would cruise through their non-conference schedule, finishing with an 8-4 record, and the ninth consecutive season over .500 against non-conference opponents.
- CU's Kenny Price scored a team season-high 28 points in a conference victory over Texas late in the season. Price drained eight 3-pointers to set a new single-game record. His eight treys also brought his total to 90 on the season and moved him into first place atop CU's all-time single-season 3-pointers made list.
- On Feb. 16, in a game against No. 4 Kansas, CU drew a season-high attendance of 10,822; it was also the third most attended game of the season, home or away.
- On Mar. 4, Kenny Price was named the Big 12 new-comer of the year.

Kenny Price

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- With a win over Iowa State on Mar. 4, the Buffs broke a nine-game conference tournament losing streak.
- Kenny Price's nine three-pointers in a Big 12 second round game would set a single game record, breaking his mark of eight from the year before. With his nine three's, Price would bring his total for the year to 97, the highest single-season total in CU history; the Buffs however, lost to Texas ending their bid for a first Big-12 championship.
- In March, CU was selected to play in the National Invitational Tournament. It marked the second time in three years under head coach Ricardo Patton that the Buffs qualified for post-season play. CU defeated first-round opponent Pepperdine, 65-61, but lost in the second round to intrastate rival Colorado State, 86-76.
- By year's end, many CU players had established themselves as some of the elite in the Big 12. Junior Jaquay Walls was named to the All-Big 12 All-Under-rated Team as well as earning All-Big 12 Honorable Mention status. Senior guard Kenny Price was named to the All-Big 12 Third Team, while ranking third in the conference in points per game.

Jaquay Walls

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- In the opening game of the season, sophomore Jose Winston tied his career-high with eight steals, the second-highest single-game total in CU history.
- On Dec. 30 in the Rainbow Classic, the Buffs defeated Gonzaga 81-77; marking the first straight victory over 1999 NCAA tournament teams.
- On Jan. 19, CU beat No. 17 Oklahoma 88-80, breaking an 11-game losing streak to the Sooners.
- With a victory in late January over Kansas State, head coach Ricardo Patton moved into sole possession of fourth on the all-time coaching wins list at CU with 68.
- In what many CU fans believe to be the best game at the Coors Events Center, CU came from behind to defeat Iowa State in overtime 102-90. Senior Jaquay Walls scored an NCAA-record 15 points in the overtime on his way to an astounding 42-point performance.
- A low point in the Buffs' season came in the Big 12 quarterfinal game against heavily favored Texas. CU was held to just 18 percent shooting from the field, and a record low 12 field goals on their way to a 78-35 loss.
- The Buffs were once again invited to play in the National Invitational Tournament following the season. They lost to Southern Illinois in the first round, 94-92. The invitation marked the third time in four years that the Buffs had played in a postseason tournament.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Nov. 18, in a 91-86 loss to Austin Peay, redshirt transfer D.J. Harrison solidified his offensive presence, scoring a team, season, and career high 38 points.
- On Nov. 19, Ricardo Patton took sole possession of third place for career wins for a CU basketball coach with 77.
- On Dec. 3, CU's offensive explosion marked the fourth highest scoring day in Buff history, with every team member contributing to the victory. In a 119-75 victory over Texas-Arlington, the Buffs tied a school record, nailing 15 three-pointers with Justin Harbert and D.J. Harrison combining for seven-of-nine three's and 34 points.
- On Dec. 6, the Buffs picked up one of their most lopsided road wins ever with a 105-61 victory over St. Mary's. The victory marked CU's second straight 100-point game in a row for the first time in school history.
- On Jan. 2, in a 91-63 victory over Coppin State, Jose Winston broke a 15-year old record, dishing out 15 assists and committing no turnovers in 29 minutes of play.
- On Jan. 13, five Buffaloes recorded double digit scoring efforts in CU's most lopsided conference victory in 32 years, as the Buffs routed the visiting Aggies 88-58.
- On Jan. 22, Jamahl Mosley eclipsed the 1,000 point barrier. He finished the season ranked 13th all-time with 1,171 points. That same night, a 5th ranked Kansas State team helped draw an Events Center attendance record of 11,363.
- CU finished its season with a 15-15 record (.500), marking the first time in 35 years the Buffs posted three consecutive .500 seasons or better.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- On Nov. 19, the University of Colorado's men's basketball program earned its 1000th victory. CU became the 10th school in Big 12 history to accomplish this milestone.
- With a victory over Morris Brown College on Jan. 9, Ricardo Patton improved his all-time non-conference record to 57-22, an astounding .721 winning percentage.
- On Jan. 16, head Coach Ricardo Patton earned his 100th career coaching victory with an exciting last-second home win over Iowa State, 63-61. Stephane Pelle converted a 10-foot fade away with 2.9 seconds remaining.
- In a Big 12 quarterfinal game against Kansas, Stephane Pelle recorded two blocks, moving him from 12th place on the career blocks list to 9th. In that same game, CU gave up a Big 12 tournament record 102 points to the number-one ranked Jayhawks.
- On Mar. 6, junior Stephane Pelle garnered his first Big 12 post-season honor, earning a third-team selection by the conference coaches. Pelle was the first Buff in 11 years to average a double-double in a single season (12.8 pp., 10.8 rpg.).
- At the commencement of the 2001-02 season, guard Blair Wilson was selected to the third Big 12 all-star team that toured Scandinavia later that summer.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The Buffs' 20 wins marked the third time in program history, and the second time under head coach Ricardo Patton, that a CU team has reached that milestone. Colorado finished the '68-'69 season with 21 wins and the '96-'97 season with 22 wins.
- 2003 was the year for quite a few program firsts. For the first time in school history, CU went undefeated at home in Big 12 play (8-0); with a victory over Nebraska on March 8 CU secured their 14th home win, the most wins at home in any year.
- It was the first season in which CU defeated four ranked teams in the same year. CU defeated No. 6 Kansas 60-59, No. 3 Texas 93-80, No. 22 Missouri 89-68, and No. 20/18 Oklahoma St. 68-56.
- On Nov. 24, against Stetson, David Harrison set the single-game record for blocked shots at 10. Harrison would break his own record with 11 blocked shots in Colorado's final home game against Nebraska. For the season, Harrison recorded 107 blocks, shattering the previous record of 73 set by Pancho Hodges in the 1991-92 season.
- The Buffs lured their highest home attendance average in twenty years, with an average of 8,995 coming to watch the action.
- Sophomore center David Harrison recorded CU's first triple-double in Big 12 play, and second triple-double in program history with his 31 points, 17 rebounds, and 10 blocked shots against Stetson on November 24. Harrison would add another triple-double against Nebraska with 20 points, 10 rebounds, and 11 blocked shots; making him the only player in Big 12 history to record two triple-doubles in a career.
- For the first time in school history, CU had three players selected as the Phillips 66/Big 12 players of the week: Blair Wilson (Feb. 24), Stephane Pelle (Jan. 27), and David Harrison (Nov. 25).
- Head coach Ricardo Patton led the team to a .500 record or better for the fifth straight year, and for the fourth time in seven years as head coach, he led the team to more than 18 victories.

David Harrison

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- CU earned its third NIT berth during Coach Patton's eight years as head coach. Despite David Harrison's 26 points and 12 rebounds, the Buffs fell in the first round to Oregon, 77-72 behind the strength of a 40-point performance by Oregon's Luke Johnson.
- CU won 18 games for the fifth time under head Coach Ricardo Patton.
- The Buffs won 10 conference games; the most since recording 11 conferences wins in 1996-97, and earned the fourth seed at the Big 12 Tournament in Dallas.
- Michel Morandais became the 21st player in school history to eclipse 1,000 points in his career. He would finish his career ranked seventh on CU's all-time scoring charts with 1,428 points. Blair Wilson reached the 1,000-point barrier on Dec. 31 against Richmond. He would leave Boulder ranked 14th on the Buffs' all-time scoring list with 1,253 points. David Harrison scored his 1,000th point during the 2003-2004 campaign on his way to amassing 1,317 career points, good for 11th on CU's all-time list. Harrison opted to declare for the NBA draft after his junior season, forfeiting his final year of eligibility.
- David Harrison broke the CU record for blocks in a career with three against Utah. Harrison bettered Ted Allen's eight-year mark of 161. Harrison would go on to block 225 shots and after only three years in a CU uniform would hold every blocked shot record category.
- Blair Wilson broke CU's record for career 3-pointers made with six against Iowa State. In that game, Wilson set or tied three more school records: he made a school record six 3-pointers without a miss; he tied the school mark for 3-pointers in one half (6); he also tied the school record for 3-pointers in one half of a conference game.
- Blair Wilson tied his personal best with seven 3-pointers at home against Kansas State. Ironically, it's the second time in his career he has netted seven treys against the Wildcats (Jan. 1, 2002). Wilson also became one of three players to make seven 3-pointers in a game, twice.

Richard Roby

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Richard Roby became the first freshman since Chauncey Billups (1995-96) to lead the team in scoring.
- On Dec. 28, Ricardo Patton won his 150th career game, defeating Gardner Webb 97-88.
- Marcus Hall scored CU's last 18 points of the first half and first two points of the second half at Oregon State, topping Donnie Boyce's mark (Mar. 5, 1994) of consecutive points by one player.
- Richard Roby made seven 3-pointers against Texas Tech (Feb. 2) and Kansas State (Feb. 26) to become only the fourth CU player ever to record seven or more treys in two or more games.
- Seeded 11th in the Big 12 Tournament, CU upset Texas, 81-69, to become the first school in Big 12 Tournament history to knock off a No. 6 seed.
- As a team, the Buffaloes shattered the school record for 3-pointers made in a season, bettering a mark of 218 set in 1998-99. CU made 223 and fell one attempt short of the record for three-point attempts in a season (633 in 1998-99). The Buffs made 129 treys against Big 12 opponents, besting the previous school record for 3-pointers made during conference play (114 in 2003-04). CU's 380 three-point attempts during conference play topped a previous mark (297 in 2001-02).
- CU and Oklahoma State combined for 30 3-pointers in Boulder on Jan. 30. The Buffs sunk a school record 17, while the Cowboys added 13. The two-team total is believed to be a Big 12 Conference record.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Richard Roby was named to the All-Big 12 first team. He's only the fourth CU player to named in this category. Roby was also named NABC District 12 first team, Big 12 Player of the Week (Jan. 10-16), Co-Big 12 Player of the Week (Jan. 16-22) and The Sporting News Player of the Week (Jan. 16-22).
- The 2005-06 season was the first time three players made over 50 3-pointers in a season (Roby 63, Osborn 53 and Copeland 50).
- The Buffs broke school records in 3-pointers made (240 old: 223) and 3-pointers attempted (701 old: 633). Their 10-1 start to the season matches those during the 1978-79 and 1968-69 seasons.
- CU beat Oklahoma State in Stillwater for the first time since Jan. 12, 1980 (20 games). The Buffaloes notched a road win against Missouri for the first time since the 1996-97 season, which also marked the Buff's second win in Columbia since Jan. 15, 1973 (a span of 32 games).
- The Buffs started Big 12 play with a 5-2 record, a first since 1996-97. The 5-2 start is the 14th time CU started 5-2 or better in league play in 59 years.
- CU earned a 2005-06 NIT berth, their eighth appearance in school history.
- CU won 14 home games, tying the number of home wins from 2002-03.
- CU was nationally ranked for the first time since the 1996-97 season (USA Today). They were ranked as the No. 25th team in the USA Today/Coaches' Poll for two straight weeks (Jan. 30-Feb. 5, Feb. 6-12)
- Head Coach Ricardo Patton recorded his 175 career victory when Colorado defeated Missouri, 78-60 (Feb. 25)

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- With eight freshmen on the roster, the 2006-07 team was the youngest in CU's 105-year history.
- CU upset No. 12/14 Oklahoma State in Boulder, marking the fifth straight season that CU defeated a nationally ranked opponent at home.
- Junior Richard Roby was named All-Big 12 honorable mention.
- Sophomore Jermyl Jackson-Wilson was named to the Kansas City Star All-Newcomer team.
- Dominique Coleman set a school record for most rebounds (185) in a season by a guard.
- The Buffaloes suffered their most losses in a season (20) since 1988-89 (21). CU's 13 conference losses marked the most by a CU squad since 1985-86 (14). The Buffs went 0-8 in conference play for the first time since 1993-94.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Richard Roby became the school's all-time leading scorer (2,001 points). Roby is the third player in school history to lead the team in scoring four consecutive seasons.
- CU shot a season-best 62 percent from the field at Texas A&M (a school second-best .773 from the field in the second half).
- CU's win over Baylor at the Big 12 Championships marked the first time a No. 12 seed defeated a No. 5 seed.
- CU held its opponents to 64.4 points per game compared to an 80.1 average in 2007-07. The 64.4 points per game that the Buffs yielded marked the lowest opponent scoring average in 46 years.
- Nine of CU's losses were by an average of 4.8 points.
- The Buffaloes committed 13.4 turnovers per game-their lowest in 28 years-and the Buffs' 12.9 turnovers per game in conference play was the lowest average by any CU team in the 12-year history of the Big 12.
- CU shot 68.4 percent from the charity stripe, a team best since 2000-01 (.715).
- In conference play, including the Big 12 Tournament, the Buffaloes lost games by: one point, two points, four points, five points, six points, and seven points. CU shot over 50 percent from the field in 11 conference games.

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- The Buffaloes youth of freshmen and sophomores attributed 72.3 percent of the team scoring, the highest percentage of any Buffs team since the Big 12 Conference began in 1996-97.
- CU fell short by single-digits 11 times, an average of 4.6 points; and in conference play on eight occasions by a 5.3 point margin. Four of those single-digit setbacks came against NCAA Tournament opponents, Texas (in overtime), at Kansas, at Oklahoma and Texas A&M.
- In two seasons, there have been 20 single-digit losses (15 in Big 12 play).
- All-Big 12 Conference third team selection Cory Higgins turned in a successful sophomore campaign that saw him become one of only 13 players nationally to lead or finish second on his team in five major statistical categories (points, rebounds, assists, steals, blocked shots). He also ranked nationally in a trio of categories (steals, FT%, scoring).
- Higgins scored 538 points finishing 13th all-time in school history for most points in a single-season. It ranks third all-time among CU sophomores and seventh all-time among guards for a season.
- Dwight Thorne II made great strides putting together his best season-to-date recording a 12 ppg. He made 48 percent of his shots and led CU from the three-point arc with 45.
- Levi Knutson was an All-Big 12 Academic first team selection. During the spring 2009 semester, the men's basketball team achieved their highest grade point average on record a 2.926. The 2.926 GPA shatters the spring 2001 semester of 2.744.

Alec Burks

OTHER INFO, NOTES, ETC.

- Alec Burks became CU's first-ever Big 12 Conference Freshman of the Year recipient. Burks also made the Big 12 All-Rookie Team, Colleg Insider.com All-America Freshman Team, 2009-10 Basketball Times' All-Freshman first team, CU Sports Performers of the Year: Male Freshman of the Year, Sporting News Magazine All-Freshman second team.
- Burks became the first CU freshman to surpass 500 points in a single-season (512). He was fourth nationally of all freshmen in ppg. (17.1) and FG% (53.8), and became only the second CU freshman to lead CU in rebounding (5.0 rpg.).
- Cory Higgins scored 587 points, the most in a season since the 1991-92 season. His 1,391 career points ranks ninth all-time. He led the Big 12-only in steals for the second straight year (2.1).
- CU ranked third nationally in FT% (76.6) and for the first time led the Big 12. CU also ranked 21st nationally in 3-pt. percentage, 26th in FG%, 30th in steals. The 47.3 FG% tied for 10th in school history, was also the highest from any CU team since 1989-90 (47.9). The 409 turnovers, was a team low over 30 games played in a season since the stat was first kept in 1977-78.
- Attendance in eight Big 12 games was the highest ever at the CECC (65,607) with an average of 8,201 ranking second.

Consecutive FGs Made: Sophomore Andre Roberson shot 66.7 percent during the Pac-12 Tournament (20-of-30). Roberson made 11 straight field goal attempts dating back to the game-winning put-back against Oregon in the quarterfinals. His streak ties for the third longest, and just one off the school record of 12 held by teammates House Guest and Shaun Vandiver one year apart. Roberson's 11 straight are the most on the road or at a neutral site. His 6-of-6 performance from the field against Cal, which included two 3-pointers, was a career-best percentage wise.

12—Shaun Vandiver vs. Illinois State in Boulder, Dec. 4, 1989.

12—Rodell "House" Guest vs. Central Connecticut State (5) & Eastern Michigan (7) in Boulder, Dec. 7-8, 1990.

11—Andre Roberson vs. Oregon (1), California (6) & Arizona (4) in Los Angeles, Mar. 8-10, 2012.

11—Jim Creighton vs. Iowa State in Boulder, Feb. 14, 1972.

David Harrison tops the list as CU's single-season and career leader in field goal percentage.
