BOULDER, Colo., March —All-conference Wayne Tucker dominated the scoring statistics this year for Colorado's basketball team, final figures show, with 117 field goals and 54 free throws—a total of 283 points in 23 games. Tucker committed only 45 personals and never left a game during the season because of too many whistles. He averaged 12.5 points per game, hit 35% of his shots from the floor, and 71% from the free throw line.

Tucker became the highest Colorado scorer since the Buffs joined the Big Seven—surpassing Kendall Hills' 273 points and 12.4 average set last season, when Hills too made all-conference.

Sophomore Frank Gompert was second, with 177; senior Bill Clay third with 157, and sophomore Kenny Koop fourth with 145.
