CU 2011 recruiting class analysis: Woodson Greer

By TOM KENSLE |  No Comments

WOODSON GREER, OLB, 6-2, 225, Corona (Calif.) Junipero Serra

COACH JON EMBREE SAYS: “He reminds me of (ex-CU linebacker and current director of football operations) Jason Sykes (when also is a Serra grad) because he’s a big, physical kid that’s really good in spaces. I’m not worried about him matching up with a receiver.”

WHAT YOU MAY NOT KNOW: Serra compiled a 42-2 record during Greer’s three seasons at Serra High.

MY TAKE: I like his size, and since Embree got him to flip from an oral commitment to Arizona State, my guess is he has potential.

CU 2011 recruiting class analysis: Stevie Joe Dorman

By TOM KENSLE |  No Comments

STEVIE JOE DORMAN, QB, 6-4, 210, Somerset (Texas) HS

COACH JON EMBREE SAYS: “He’s a guy nobody wanted but I’ll take him all day long. He does a great job of working the pocket, stepping up if he needs to, sliding to the outside. And he does that without taking his eyes off the receiver.”

WHAT YOU MAY NOT KNOW: Dorman’s uncle, former CU quarterback Koy Detmer, earned first-team all-Big 12 for the league’s inaugural season (1996). Another uncle, Ty Deter, won the 1990 Heisman Trophy while at BYU.

MY TAKE: It’s baffling that the Internet recruiting sites did not even have Dorman on their radar (in a self-fulfilling prophecy, he went from zero stars to three after committing to CU), but I’ll defer to Dorman’s grandfather Sonny Detmer on this one. If Sonny thinks the kid can play, he probably can. Could become a great diamond-in-the-rough story.

CU 2011 recruiting class analysis: Brady Daigh

By TOM KENSLE |  No Comments

BRADY DAIGH, LB, 6-2, 235, Mullen HS

COACH JON EMBREE SAYS: “You see it all the time where one guy (at that position on a high school team) gets more publicity (Mullen’s Leilon Willingham, who signed with Central Florida) then the other guy becomes the better player. Brady is going to be a great asset to our program, a very good player.”

WHAT YOU MAY NOT KNOW: Daigh (pronounced “day”) was the first player in this class to commit to CU, when Dan Hawkins was coach.

MY TAKE: Embree isn’t the only one impressed. In its final state player rankings, Rivals.com moved Daigh from No. 10 in the state of Colorado to No. 3. That almost never happens. I look for him to be a future starter.
