

ESPN.com: NBA[\[Print without images\]](#)

Friday, July 13, 2012

Clippers re-sign Chauncey Billups

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES -- Five-time All-Star Chauncey Billups is staying with the Los Angeles Clippers.

NBA Free Agency

NBA free agency is under way, and ESPN.com has you covered with all the latest deals, trades and potential moves.

Free agents | Trade Targets | RC

- Insider: Free-agent PER rankings
- More: TrueHoop | Trade Machine

The team said Friday the unrestricted free agent has re-signed, a move coach Vinny Del Negro had mentioned a day earlier.

Billups averaged 15 points, 4 assists and 2.5 rebounds while playing 30.4 minutes in 20 games for the Clippers last season. His season ended in early February when Billups tore his left Achilles tendon in a game at Orlando. But he stayed with the team and served as a de facto coach during the Clippers' run to the Western Conference semifinals.

Billups had been claimed off waivers by the Clippers last December, a couple weeks before the lockout-shortened season began.
