UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, 138 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state.

The Boulder campus encompasses almost 800 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into the 21st century.

While almost 30,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado at Denver, the University of Colorado Anschutz Campus (Aurora) and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Bruce Benson lead the four-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. Phil DiStefano is in his sixth year as the chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions. CU-Boulder is regularly ranked among the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, and a 2010 USA Today/Princeton Review survey rated the University of Colorado as the fifth-best value among American public colleges. CU was recently ranked as the No. 33 university in the world by the Times Higher Education.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 18 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actors Robert Redford and Chris Meloni, the latter starring for years on Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, and the creators of South Park, Trey Parker and Matt Stone.

If the aphorism, "Somewhere between the Rockies and reality," seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University's past and present. The recently completed ATLAS building is one of the most state-of-the-art structures on any college campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it. Take in a pro sporting event down the road in Denver, just one of 13 cities with teams in all four pro leagues.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, "If you leave Boulder, you will return."

HEAD COACH ROY EDWARDS

Roy Edwards is now in his ninth season as head coach of the University of Colorado men's golf team, having been named to the position on July 14, 2006, following in the footsteps of the only two coaches the program had ever known over a span of six decades.

Edwards, 38, is just the third full-time men's golf coach in Buffalo history. He came to CU with an impressive pedigree, joining the Buffaloes from his alma mater, the University of Kansas, where he had served as the assistant for both the men's and women's programs for the previous four years (2002-06). He held the same position at Vanderbilt University for a year prior to returning to KU.

Edwards replaced the late Mark Simpson, who passed away from complications due to lung cancer in December 2005. Simpson had held the post since 1977, when he followed in the footsteps of his college head coach, Les Fowler. Fowler took over as player-coach in 1948 and remained on board until Simpson, his assistant, replaced him. Thus, Edwards is only the program's third full-time head coach since 1948.

Each of his predecessors had to lead the Buffaloes into stronger conferences, Fowler into the Big Seven in 1949 and Simpson into the Big 12 in 1996; but Edwards was faced with the most daunting task in CU golf history. He led the charge when the Buffaloes joined the Pacific-10 Conference on July 1, 2011 (making it the Pac-12), with Colorado becoming a member of the most prestigious men's golf conference in the nation. A long-time force in collegiate golf, as many as seven or eight schools have regularly occupied the top 30 over the last several seasons.

It took less than three years for Edwards to put his stamp on the CU golf program, perhaps in no bigger way than completing the dream of both Fowler and Simpson. One of the few major golf programs in the nation without its own true home golf course and facilities, Edwards played an integral part in working with Colorado alum Steve Kerr in the latter's acquisition of Vista Ridge Golf Club in Erie in early 2009. The club officially became Colorado National Golf Club in March of that year and has since served as the official home for the university's men's and women's golf teams. In 2012, construction was completed on the George Boedecker Jr. Practice Facility, a state-of-the-art complex at CNGC that matches any in the nation.

He also initiated the Colorado Partners program, a group that quickly grew to well over 100 members who contribute financially to augment the school's golf budget, and established the Colorado Golf Day which is an annual celebration and fundraiser for CU golf.

On the course, under Edwards the Buffaloes have re-established themselves as a top 50 program (over 300 play Division I golf), and ended the 2014-15 fall season ranked No. 39, its highest in six years and second-best in the last dozen. His teams have won nine tournaments, the second-most under one coach in school history; Simpson's teams won 16 and Fowler's six.

The 2013-14 Buffaloes set school records for stroke average (73.76) and top five major tournament finishes (eight; all were actually in the top four), which included one win in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational and three runner-up efforts. Over the course of four tournaments, the Buffs set two other impressive school marks: most consecutive rounds at or under par (12), and the most subpar in a row (6). According to GolfStat, CU had the nation's top performing freshman class, headlined by twin brothers Jeremy and Yannik Paul and Ethan Freeman.

The Buffs finished fourth at the Pac-12 Championships, 41 strokes behind No. 3 Stanford (1,438) and 26 behind runner-up and No. 10 Washington; No. 4 Cal was third, 12 ahead of the Buffs. But over the last two rounds, CU was second (718) to only Washington (716), making an impressive climb from 10th at the midway point into fourth place. The NCAA shipped the Buffaloes to Auburn for the regional, where CU finished 12th to end the season.

His seventh team, the 2012-13 squad, returned to the NCAA's after a three-year absence, finishing eighth in the Central (Fayetteville) Regional. The Buffaloes captured two major tournaments, the Air Force Falcon and Bandon Dunes invitational, marking the first time Colorado had won a major in both the fall and spring portions of the season (in the latter, CU was the first team in the four-year history of the event to finish under par as a team). The Buffs also finished second on three other occasions and posted nine top 10 finishes overall.

In 2011-12, his sixth season, the Buffs stormed out of the gate to win its first two fall tournaments, their own Mark Simpson Invitational and Air Force's Miranda Invitational; the victories propelled CU to an early No. 10 national ranking. The team successfully navigated its way through its first season in the ultra-competitive Pac-12 Conference, finishing eighth in a league championship that featured eight teams ranked in the top 30. The Buffs just missed qualifying for the NCAA championships but Derek Fribbs was selected to play as an individual.

The 2009-10 and 2010-11 teams, his fourth and fifth, respectively, had their moments but did not advance to the postseason, though Justin Bardgett qualified individually in 2010. The Buffs finished ninth and 10th in their last two appearances in the Big 12 Conference meet. The disappointments only created more resolve in the program and thus the turnaround in year six.

His third Buffalo team (2008-09) sported one of the nation's dynamic duos in Patrick Grady and Derek Tolan, as each won two tournaments and combined for 14 top 10 finishes. But the team was also balanced as a whole, with 32 top 20 performances posted by seven different golfers, and recorded a 74.06 stroke average, second lowest in school history (topped only by 73.77 in 2003-04). The Buffs posted 11 top 10 finishes in major tournaments, the second-most in school history that included a record-tying seven in the top five, and highlighted by a 34-stroke win in the DU-Ron Moore and three runner-up finishes in the USF Olympic Club, Western Intercollegiate and its own CU-Stevenson Ranch Invitational.

In earning a fourth straight trip to the NCAA's, in the Big 12 Championships, the Buffs posted their best conference finish in 28 years when they took second place; it tied for the largest improvement from one season to another in Big 12 history after finishing 10th in 2008 (CU moved from 11th to 3rd from 1997 to 1998 as did Missouri on one occasion). The Buffs were in the hunt for the title until the back nine of the fourth and final round, when Oklahoma State finally was able to get some distance and eventually won by 14 shots.

His second team, in 2007-08, became just the third in school history to win two major tournaments in the same season, as the Buffs won the Louisiana Classics and the Ohio State Kepler Intercollegiate. The Buffs finished 10th in the Big 12 meet, which moved to a 72-hole format for the first time, and was again invited to the NCAA's, placing 18th in the Central Regional. Junior Derek Tolan was one of two individuals to advance out of the regional into the finals, the first Buff to do so since 1993.

Edwards' first CU team (2006-07) had moderate success, and finished 11th in the Big 12 Championships; while that was disappointing, his team did something that neither Fowler's or Simpson's did, qualify for the NCAA Championships (though in fairness, more teams are invited today than when they coached, but it still was an impressive accomplishment). The team placed 20th in the NCAA Central Regional.

At Kansas, he was heavily involved in recruiting and the day-to-day functions for both the men's and women's teams, managed the Jayhawks' Birdie Club and was the main contact for both golf camps. A KU graduate, he returned to his alma mater in August 2002 as the assistant coach for both the men's and women's programs and further developed all the skills necessary to one day become a head coach. Among his many duties were coordinating and managing a $1 million-plus fundraising campaign for KU's golf practice facility and establishing an annual booster club program.

During his time at Kansas, he was one of three finalists for the Golf Coaches Association of America Assistant Coach of the Year in 2004 and helped coach six first-team All-Big 12 players (five men, one woman) and four Academic All-Americans. He started his coaching career as a volunteer/graduate assistant in 1998, working three years in that capacity before moving on to Vanderbilt for his first full-time assistant coaching position. During this time, he was also the Junior Golf Director for the Kansas Golf Association, running all activities for over 600 junior members of the KGA.

He was the assistant for both the men's and women's teams at Vanderbilt for the 2001-02 season. He was a part of history as both teams experienced two of the best seasons in the programs' existence the year he was a part of the program. He had a hand in coaching a pair of first-team All-Southeastern Conference players, including Brandt Snedeker, a first-team All-American, the 2007 PGA Tour Rookie of the Year and current star on the Tour.

Between KU and Vanderbilt, he coached five players who attained some level of All-American status, ranging from first-team to honorable mention.

A three-year member of the Jayhawk golf team, he lettered as a senior under legendary and long-time coach Ross Randall and earned his bachelor's of science degree in business administration from Kansas in 2000. Simultaneously while finishing his degree, he worked as a volunteer assistant coach for the men's team. His career playing highlights include being named the PGA Midwest Section Player of the Year in 1995 and the Heart of America Four-Ball champion in 1997. As a student, he was also heavily involved on KU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and held several leadership roles on campus.

Born October 14, 1976 in Kansas City, Mo., but truly a native of Hutchinson, Kan., he was a four-year letterman in golf at Hutchinson (Kan.) High School under legendary Kansas high school coach Rusty Hilst, one of his early mentors in the game. His hobbies include playing golf, cooking and traveling, and he was also an Eagle Scout in high school. His father, R.A., is a distinguished KU alum who was awarded the 2002 Fred Ellsworth Medallion for "unique and significant service to the university" (which two grandparents also earned). An uncle, Ray Evans, is recognized as one of the greatest athletes in KU history, as he was a two-time All-American in basketball (1942-43) and was KU's first football All-American after returning from World War II in 1947.

Edwards is married to the former Shelly Bonfantine of Albuquerque, N.M., as they wed on July 7, 2007 (07-07-07); she is a former golfer at the University of New Mexico. They are the parents of two sons, Ashton Ross (6) and Luke Leo (3).

ASSISTANT COACH BRANDON WHITE

Brandon White is in his second year as the assistant coach of the University of Colorado men's golf team, having been named to the position on September 1, 2013, just prior to the start of the college season. He brought a quality resume featuring both his playing and coaching abilities to the Buffalo program.

White, 34, joined the Colorado staff from the University of Northern Colorado, where he coached the Bears' women's golf team for seven years.

In hiring White, CU head coach Roy Edwards said, "We couldn't be more excited to have hired Brandon. He established himself as one of the top head coaches in women's golf and brings a very unique skillset to the position. He was a successful golfer prior to coaching, both as a professional and college player. He built UNC from the ground up into a very successful program. We are very fortunate to add him to our team."

White led the transition for Northern Colorado from Division II to Division I, and eventually coached the UNC women to the 2012 Big Sky Conference championship. That team also qualified for the NCAA regionals, and he was named the league's Coach of the Year for his accomplishments. His scholarship student athletes had a 98 percent graduation rate and produced five tournament and two Big Sky Conference champions. He also started a booster club for the program and raised funds to build an indoor practice facility for both the men's and women's programs.

White graduated with a degree in Business Administration from Pepperdine in 2003, where he lettered four years under coach John Geiberger. He was the 2000 West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year, finishing ninth in the league championship, and would become a member of four Pepperdine WCC champion teams. During his collegiate career, the Waves qualified for the NCAA regionals four times and the NCAA Championship Finals on two occasions (in 2000 and 2002, finishing eighth in the latter at Columbus, Ohio).

Following his college days, he competed twice in the PGA Qualifying School (2003, 2004), and played for two seasons on various professional tours beginning in the summer of 2003 through the winter of 2005. He competed in over 40 professional events, mostly in Arizona and California as a member of the Grey Goose/Gateway Tour.

As a junior golfer, he competed in many national events, including the ESPN Junior Golf Tour, the U.S. Junior Amateur Championship and the Junior World Championship. He also had several top local performances, including a runner-up finish to his credit in the Colorado Stroke Play Championship.

He has also worked as a professional caddy on the Grey Goose/Gateway, Canadian and Nationwide tours, and caddied for one of his former UNC golfers, Carleigh Silvers, in the 2014 U.S. Women's Open.

He was born March 13, 1980 in Ault, Colo., and graduated from Greeley (Colo.) Central High School in 1998, where he lettered four times in golf. He set several school records, including career stroke average (73.4), and set the Colorado high school state record that still stands for the low 18-hole round, a 10-under par 62, at the Marianna Butte High School Invitational.

VOLUNTEER COACH JON LEVY

Jon Levy is in his second year as a volunteer coach for the University of Colorado men's golf team after serving two years as the full-time assistant, originally joining the program on September 6, 2011, from the Golf Channel.

Levy, 38, opted to remain on as a volunteer assistant while deciding to pursue a long-time personal ambition to enter golf's private business world.

He has an impressive resume which includes experience in golf, coaching, marketing and communications. He has been a head coach at two junior colleges in Arizona, coaching one to a NJCAA national championship, possibly making him the only assistant coach in Division I who has led a program to a national title.

Prior to coming to CU, he worked for a year as the associate editor at the Golf Channel for the organization's website, where he had duties as both an editor and a writer. He also was the director of communications for the Gateway Tour, based in Scottsdale, Ariz., for three years (2007-10), where he handled all media relations, writing, communication and public relations functions. In his last year with the Gateway Tour, he also served as the head coach at Paradise Valley Community College. Following his playing career, Levy went into teaching in the Phoenix area. Soon after relocating there, he was named head coach at Scottsdale Community College, traditionally one of the winningest junior college programs in men's golf. During his tenure, SCC won four Arizona Community College Athletic Conference (ACCAC) titles, and in his final year there, the Fighting Artichokes won the 2007 National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) championship. He was named the NJCAA National Coach of the Year for the 2006-07 season.

He graduated in 1998 from Iowa State University with a degree in Speech Communication and minor in German. He was four-year letterman on the golf team for the Cyclones under coaches Dale Anderson and Jamie Bermel, and was captain his senior year. He was a two-time Academic All-Big 12 member.

After graduation, he competed twice in PGA Tour Qualifying and won two mini-tour events in five years playing on various professional circuits through the United States and Canada.

He was born August 22, 1976 in Princeton, N.J., and graduated from Groves High School (Birmingham, Mich.) where he lettered in golf and skiing. His hobbies include running, skiing, fishing and anything outdoors. In 1999 as a young professional out of school, he was in a NIKE television advertisement with Tiger Woods (called the Driving Range: he is the golfer next to Woods in the blue and white striped shirt; see it here: www.youtube.com/watch?v=qvK1K2tmJU8).

THE GOLDEN BUFFALOES

ETHAN FREEMAN

6-0, 195, Soph., 1L, Denver, Colo. (Kent Denver)

College—This Season (Soph.)—He played in all six fall tournaments, finishing with a 74.94 stroke average as 12 of his 17 rounds counted toward team scoring. His best finish was right out the gate, tying for 16th in the Air Force Falcon Invitational (215; -1); it included his best single round of the fall (a 2-under 70). His other top fall efforts came in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational (147, +3 to tie for 29th in the shortened event), and a tie for 30th in the Illinois Olympia Fields Invitational (224, +14; his second round 1-over 71 was one of the best scores for the middle round). Usually a steady performer, he led the team in pars (194) and in percentage of holes scoring par (63.4).

2013-14 (Fr.): He saw action in six tournaments as a true freshman, three each in the fall and spring. He was pressed into service late in the spring semester when two other fellow freshmen decided to leave the program, and he responded and then some: he has posted two top 20 finishes, first tying for 10th in the Wyoming Cowboy Classic which included a first round 65 (5-under), and then tying for 16th in the Pac-12 Championships. In the latter, he posted the highest finish in a league meet by a CU freshman since 2009 and the ninth-best ever in addition to tying for third among the 14 freshmen in the meet. He came back down to Earth a little bit at the NCAA Southeast Regional, posting three straight 79s for a 21-over 237, which tied him for 66th, though 16 of those strokes over par were traced to just seven holes. He played in three fall tournaments, starting his career in style by tying for 10th in the Air Force Miranda Invitational. He led all seven Buffaloes in the meet, though he competed as an individual; thanks to a 3-under par 69 in the final round which saw him score seven birdies, his 1-under 215 (73-73-69) total tied for the third-lowest score by a CU player in his first major tournament in school history (trailing only Jonathan Kaye, who recorded a 213 (+3) in the 1990 Wyoming Invitational, and Sebastian Heisele, who had a 2-under 214 in the 2008 Denver-Ron Moore Invitational). It was also the first time that a freshman posted the best score to lead the Buffaloes in a season opening tournament since 2005 (Derek Tolan, 2-under 214 in the Mexico Tucker Invitational; Tolan was a redshirt frosh: the last true freshman to accomplish the feat was Rick Cramer, 1-over 217 in the 1979 AFA Falcon invite). He followed that up with a tie for 27th in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational when he was designated as one of the team's scorers (+9, 77-71-77—225).

High School— He was considered one of the top junior players in Colorado throughout his high school career. He lettered four time under coach Bob Austin at Kent Denver, where he was a two-time 3A state champion (2010, 2011, his sophomore and junior years), and just missed the "hat trick" with a runner-up finish as a senior. Counting his freshman year when he tied for fifth, he's one of a just a handful of players in Colorado history to post four top five finishes in state championship play. In doing so, he led Kent Denver to four consecutive state titles. He was a four-time, first-team All-Metro League performer and a three-time member of the All-Colorado team. His stroke average improved every season from his freshman through senior years: 75.0, 73.9, 71.5 and 70.0.

Other—2014: He tied for medalist honors in U.S. Amateur Local Qualifying (144 at Columbine Country Club); he missed the cut at the event at the Atlanta Athletic Club (74-81—155, +12). He turned in a 77-74—151 (+11) at the Southwestern Amateur in Scottsdale, Ariz. (Desert Mountain Club), but missed the cut by six strokes. 2013: He finished second in the Colorado Golf Association's Junior Stroke Play Championship, turning in a 75-70-66—211 (-2) effort at Common Ground GC in Aurora. He tied for 13th in the CGA State Stroke Play with a 78-71-69-70—288 (+8) scorecard at Pinehurst CC in Denver, but his 210 score over the last three rounds was fifth best in the field. He was the co-medalist in the CGA Match Play Championship qualifying round (34-35—69), but lost in the second round (on the second playoff hole). He tied for 49th and was the eighth low amateur in the Colorado Open (71-72-70-74—287, +3). 2012: He won the CGA's Collegiate High School Invitational, with his 69-69-71—209 scorecard good for a 16-stroke victory on would be his college home course, Colorado National Golf Club. He helped the Colorado team to fourth place finish in the Junior America's Cup at BanBury Golf Club in Eagle, Idaho (77-71-71—219, which was 29th overall, though he had the 11th best score over the last two rounds). He also tied for sixth in a pair of American Junior Golf Association (AJGA) events (Aspen, Fox Hill). Other Years: He recorded multiple Future Collegians World Tour (FCWT) wins and top three finishes.

PHILIP JUEL-BERG

5-8, 150, Jr., 2L, Vedbaek, Denmark (HHX Knord Lyngby)

College—This Season (Jr.)—He enters the spring of his junior season having played in all 32 tournaments CU has scheduled during his career. In six fall meets, he averaged 75.29, uncharacteristically high for him, but largely inflated due to four rounds in the 80s (he had just five his freshman and sophomore years combined). On the other hand, he never scored higher than a double bogey on any hole, he owned the third-best middle round average for the Buffs (72.20) and tied for the team high with two eagles. His best fall finishes were a pair of ties for 29th place, at the Air Force Falcon Invitational (219, +3) and in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational (147, +3).

2013-14 (Soph.)—He played in all 12 tournaments, and finished second on the team in stroke average, both overall (73.00) and for the spring (72.67), thus no "sophomore slump" for him. He tied for the team lead in par or better rounds (19, 12 subpar, seven even), with 33 of his 36 rounds counting toward CU's team score and 23 of those rounds scored between 69 and 73. He had four top 20 finishes, including a career best fourth in CU's Mark Simpson Invitational, which was also his first top five finish in a major tournament (he had an even par scorecard 73-71-72—216). He matched that score at the Alister Mackenzie invite, tying for 27th, and then closed the fall with his first under-par effort in a major tourney, finishing 3-under par (72-69-72—213) for a 13th place tie at the UTEP Give 'Em Five Invitational. He then opened the spring with two more subpar efforts (both 212, -4) in the Amer Ari Invitational and the Wyoming Desert Intercollegiate (where he tied for 10th). At the Pac-12 Championships, he had to withdraw after the first round with flu-like symptoms; but he rallied to go out again in the afternoon and gut things out to shoot a 4-over 76, and then bounced back to finish with two even par rounds (72s) to help the Buffs finish fourth. He tied for 34th at the NCAA Southeast Regional at Auburn, turning in a 77-71-76—224 (+8) effort. For the year, he ranked eighth nationally in greens-in-regulation (72.4 percent), 42nd in sand saves (45.7 percent), 57th in par-5 scoring (4.68), 77th in fairways hit (69.2 percent).

2012-13 (Fr.): He enjoyed one of the most outstanding seasons by a true freshman in CU history. He played in all 14 tournaments, his 41 rounds tying for the most by a freshman ever at Colorado, while his stroke average of 73.95 was the third best ever by a frosh (his 74.25 average in the spring ranked as the third best and his 73.53 fall average the fifth best). He led the team in even-par rounds with 11, and tied for the team lead in even-par or better rounds with 18 (he was fourth with seven subpar efforts). He had three top 10 finishes and four top 20 finishes on the year, which saw 33 of 39 rounds count toward team scoring (tying for second; two rounds were played as an individual). He was steady in his round-by-round averages, as he was third on the team in first round scoring (73.71), third in the middle round scoring (74.08) and fourth in the final round (74.07). Nationally, he tied for 21st in rounds played (41, the third freshman), 32nd in eagles (5, the 10th frosh), 35th in fairways hit (74.0 percent, the fifth freshman) and 37th in greens-in-regulation (68.0; sixth of all frosh ... he hit 65.5 percent of par-3 greens, 26th nationally). His 738 holes played broke down into five eagles, 110 birdies, 435 pars, 158 bogeys, 25 doubles, three triples, one quadruple and one quintuple. He became the eighth freshman in school history to post the best team score in a conference championship with a 70-70-77-75—292 scorecard (12-over par) in the Pac-12 Championships; that tied him for 24th and matched the best score by a Buffalo in a 72-hole league title meet. He led the entire field with 50 pars, while also posting five birdies and 17 bogeys. Of the 16 freshmen in the field (including three redshirts), Juel-Berg finished fifth. He was CU's second best performer at the NCAA Central Regional in Fayetteville, tying for 30th with a 73-77-76—226 score (+10), and was the top Buff in the UCI Anteater (72-78-73—223, +7), tying for 10th. His top finish of the spring was a ninth-place tie at the Bandon Dunes Championship (73-72-71—216, E), helping the Buffaloes to the team win. He competed in all six fall tournaments, opening with an outstanding debut in the Ballyneal Challenge, where he finished second with a 70-69—139 (3-under) scorecard. The second round 69, the only one in the 60s, was quite a feat since the average score was a 77 and it was the first time he ever played the course. Other top performances included tying for 14th in the Air Force Invitational (217, +1) and for 27th in CU's Mark Simpson Invitational (216, E). The last signee of the 2012 recruiting class (signing in July), he came to CU after amassing an impressive European amateur resume.

High School—There are no high school sports per se in Denmark, as students compete on club teams in their preferred sports. He was a member of the Sollerod Golf Club, competing against other area club teams for three weeks out of the year, with the rest of the year set aside for individual competition.

Other—2012: He finished third in the Maage Trophy in Holbaek, Denmark (72-66-65—203, or 7-under); fifth in the Denmark Match Play National Championship; and sixth in the Team Rudersdal Open (70-70-72—212). 2011: He was fourth in the Maage Trophy (68-69-71—209) and placed eighth in the Danish International Amateur Championship (76-77-73-74—300). 2010: he was third in the Denmark Match Play and ninth in two major events: the Sir Henry Cooper (one of the largest under-18 European tournaments), where was two-under par with a 72-70-74-70—286 (-2) and in the Saab/Belgium International, where his final round 5-under 67 was the lowest in the field and propelled him to the top 10 finish with a 4-over 292 score.

Best Career Round In Competition—65 (-5: 2012 Maage Trophy, Holbaek GC, Holbaek, Denmark; -7: 2011 Kroghens Match, Sollerod, Denmark)

Academics—He is majoring in Economics at Colorado. He earned honorable mention Pac-12 All-Academic Team honors as a sophomore.

Personal—He was born February 18, 1992 in Copenhagen. His hobbies include most sports, particularly soccer; he played throughout primary school (equivalent to elementary school in America) and until he was 15. He also enjoys listening to music and action movies in general. Vedbaek is a suburb of Copenhagen, the capital of Denmark, the nation's largest city which is located on the eastern shore of the island of Zealand, separated from Sweden by the strait of Oresund. When he enrolled at Colorado, it was just the second time he had ever come to America; the first was on a family vacation when he was a child.

DAVID ORAEE

5-11, 165, Sr., 3L, Greeley, Colo. (Greeley West)

Career Notes: He has been a participant for six CU wins in major tournaments; the most previous to him doing so was four by Bobby Kalinowski (1991-94). He has played in every major tournament that CU has scheduled during his career (43 total), and has not recorded a triple bogey (or worse) since his sophomore season.

College—This Season (Sr.)— He recorded a 72.35 stroke average for the fall season, second-best on the team (and the 11th-best for a fall season at CU), as he broke into the win column for the first time in his career by claiming medalist honors in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational. He opened with a collegiate career-best 8-under 64 and followed it with a 67 for a 13-under 131 score – the lowest 36-hole effort in school history – en route to a five-stroke win. He had three top 20 finishes in the fall, as he also tied for seventh in the Air Force Invitational (212, -2) and tied for 20th in the Alister Mackenzie Invitational (214, +1). He scored 73 or better in 12 of his 17 fall rounds (with four in the 60s), and 16 of those rounds counted toward the team score. He led the team in the coaches "jumbo" stat, which is a formula to measure large numbers or lack thereof (he had just six holes worse than bogey—all doubles, and he scored par or better on 77.5 percent of his holes.

2013-14 (Jr.)—He finished third on the team in stroke average, both overall (73.22) and for the spring (72.77); he was CU's top performer three times, including at the Pac-12 Championships where he tied for 12th (293, +5). That followed his career best collegiate finish, a tie for second in Wyoming's Desert Intercollegiate (205, -5), which included his best single round, a 4-under 66 in the first round. He was second on the team with 79.0 percent of his holes played (666) scored at par or better, and he was one of 49 players in the nation who did not post a score worse than double bogey; he led the team in the fewest holes worse than bogey (18, all doubles). He tied for the team lead in rounds counting toward team scoring (91.9 percent, or 34 of 37). He played in all five fall events with his 73.87 stroke average fourth on the team; all five of his 54-hole scores fell between 219 and 225 with 14 of his 15

rounds falling between 70 and 76. His best result was a tie for eighth in CU's Mark Simpson Invitational (219, +3), the exact same score tying him for 30th in UTEP's Give 'Em Five invite; he tied for 20th in the UNM Tucker Invitational when he finished with a 224 (+8). At the NCAA Southeast Regional, he started out fairly strong and was poised for a top 20 finish until he struggled in the final round, eventually finishing in a tie for 39th (74-73-79—226, +10). For the year, he ranked 21st in "ham-and-egg," 22nd in greens-in-regulation (70.2 percent), 87th in par-4 scoring (4.08) and 93rd in pars per round (11.43).

2012-13 (Soph.): He played in all 13 major tournaments and finished fourth on the team in stroke average at 74.10, as he was more consistent in the fall than the spring. He did have his best major tournament finish after the break, when he tied for sixth in the Bandon Dunes Championship (-1, 215); his 72-73-70 scorecard helped the Buffaloes win the tournament and become the first team to do so with an under par team score. After an opening round 75, he bounced back with rounds of 69 and 67 for a 211 (+1) to tie for 22nd at the Stanford U.S. Intercollegiate. He tied for 42nd at the Pac-12 Championship (299, +19) and tied for 39th at the NCAA Central/Fayetteville Regional (229, +13). In the fall, he posted the first three top 10 finishes of his career, topped by a third place effort right out of the chute in the Ballyneal Challenge (72-73—145, +3). He tied for seventh in both Simpson Invitational (210, -6) and the New Mexico Tucker Invitational (217, +1), two meets that were held three days apart. He was also tied for seventh after two rounds of the fall finale, the Alister Mackenzie Invitational, after carding his back-to-back best rounds in college (67, 69) before tying for 26th after a final round 78 (214, +1). His 72.76 stroke average for the fall was third best on the team, bolstered by 53 birdies, second-most on the Buffs and tied for 31st in the country. Nationally for the season, he was 20th in greens-in-regulation (69.5 percent, which included a 68.4 percent number on par-3 holes, which was 15th in the NCAA), 47th in "Ham-N-Egg" (11/2) and 59th in fairways hit (71.3 percent). A model of consistency, he tied for the team low in holes worse than double bogey with just three (out of 738). 2011-12 (Fr.): As a true freshman, he played in all 11 regular season tournaments (the 34 rounds being the seventh most played by a freshman at CU), with his 74.50 stroke average the fourth freshman best in school history. He led the team in eagles (5), with 79 birdies and 365 pars, meaning he shot par or better on 73.4 percent of his holes. He recorded a 74-70-76-73—293 (+5) scorecard in the Pac-12 Championships, tying him for 27th overall and for sixth among the 20-plus freshmen competing; it was CU's second best score in the event and his best effort of the spring. The 293 was the best 72-hole score ever recorded by a CU freshman in any tournament and tied for the fourth best by a golfer in any class for a conference championship. For a true frosh playing under pressure in his first collegiate championship, he had a solid tournament with 11 birdies and 46 pars, the 57 holes of par or better the second most by a Buff, with just 14 bogeys and one double to round out his effort. He also had a solid effort in the Oregon Duck Invitational, tying for 38th (225, +9) and at the Bandon Dunes Championship, where he tied for 44th (226, +13). In the first round of the Alister Mackenzie Invitational to close the fall, he shot a 4-under 67, tying the school record for the low gross score by a freshman previously set by three others – and then matched it again in the spring with a 3-under 67 in the first round of the Wyoming Cowboy Classic in Scottsdale. He played in all four tournaments (one as an individual) and in the State of Colorado Cup. After an auspicious start with an 81 in CU's Mark Simpson Invitational, he came back with five straight par rounds or better, eventually tying for 47th in the Simpson (81-70-72—223, +7); he then had a strong performance in the Air Force-Miranda Invitational, as his 71-71-72—214 scorecard tied him for 12th. He was 1-1 in the Colorado Cup, winning his single match (4 and 3 versus Steve Sorenson), but lost the four ball match (2 and 1). In the final fall tournament, he recorded his collegiate best round of 67 in the Alister Mackenzie in Fairfax, Calif., eventually tying for 52nd.

High School—As a senior, he was both the All-Colorado and the 5A Front Range Player of the Year, when he owned a 70.0 stroke average. He won the Colorado 5A high school individual title at Aurora's Valley Country Club, with his 70-72—142 (-2) scorecard good for a one-shot win; he was the only player under par in the first round and was 3-over at the turn in the second before blistering the back nine with a 33 score to clinch the win. He was the first four-year All-State selection from Weld County, the Class 4A Northern Region Player of the Year twice, and Greeley West's first 5A state champion in any sport. In lettering four times at Greeley West, his stroke average was 71.72 as a freshman (with a low round 65 that included a hole-in-one) and then 71 or lower the next three years. A four-year letterman in golf for coach Larry Brinz, he captained the team his sophomore through senior seasons. He also lettered twice in basketball.

Other—2014: He reached the semifinals of the Colorado Golf Association Match Play Championship in his defense of his 2013 title; he won four matches but lost 3 and 2 in the semis. In the Colorado Open, he was the eighth low amateur and tied for 46th overall (70-74-74-71—289, +5). He tied for 64th in the inaugural Saguaro Amateur, held in Arizona over winter break (78-75-73—226). 2013: He became the 15th Buffalo to win the CGA Match Play Championship, cruising to the title with a 6 & 5 verdict over CSU's Parker Edens; he was dominant the entire week in winning six matches, leading after 80 of 113 holes (tied after another 24), and winning 46 holes outright and matching his partner another 44 times. He tied for 27th in the CGA State Stroke Play at Pinehurst CC (73-71-75-76—295). He tied for 39th and was the seventh low amateur in the Colorado Open (71-72-71-70—284, E). He tied for 44th in the Southwestern Amateur, turning in a 74-75-74-75—298 scorecard (+18) on the par-70 Desert Mountain Course in Scottsdale, Ariz. 2012: He was the co-medalist in the stroke play qualifying for the CGA's Match Play (69, -3) and became the No. 2 seed, though lost in the second round. He tied for 15th in the CGA Stroke Play Championship at Fort Collins Country Club (76-67-77-70—290, +10). He finished fourth in U.S. Open Local Qualifying (38-32—70) at Collindale Golf Club in Fort Collins, advancing to Sectionals, where he tied for 44th (78-74—152, +8) at Lakeside Country Club in Houston. He tied for eighth in the Colorado Golf Association's Public Links Championship at Highland Meadows GC (206, -7). In CU's Casotti Classic, a legitimate play-your-own ball event for media and guests, he shot the lowest score in the 18 years of the tournament, an 8-under 64 (32-32) at Pelican Lakes Golf Club in Windsor. 2011: Reached the round of 32 in his first CGA Match Play Championship (at Bear Creek GC). 2010: He won the AJGA (American Junior Golf Association) Aspen Golf Classic with a 74-69-69—212 (-4) score. 2009: He set the national record for the largest margin of victory in an AJGA event when he won by 18 strokes in the AJGA Junior All-Star in Aspen (he posted a 66-64-70—200 scorecard, the 8-under 64 being a tournament record; the old mark had been 15 strokes. He tied for second in the U.S. Junior Amateur Qualifier at Boomerang Links in Greeley (69-70—139). Other Years: He was a six-time CJGA All-Star and a two-time Junior America's Cup team member.

Best Career Round In Competition—64 (-7; June 2009, AJGA Junior All-Star, Aspen Golf Club, Aspen, Colo.; -8, Sept. 29, 2014, CU-Mark Simpson Invitational, Colorado National Golf Club, Erie, Colo.)

Academics—He is majoring in Integrated Physiology at Colorado. A High Honor Roll member his freshman through senior years in high school, earning an academic letter all four years, his high school grade point average was a 4.2 (on a 4.0 scale).

Personal—He was born June 23, 1993 in Greeley, Colo. His hobbies include playing basketball and video games, with his likes in music ranging from Lil' Wayne to John Mayer. He was the recipient of the Denver Post Youth Excellence in Sports Award for the month of June 2009.

JEREMY PAUL

6-1, 175, Soph., 1L, Viernheim, Germany (Albertus-Magnus Schule)

College—This Season (Soph.)—In leading the team in the six fall tournaments with a 71.47 stroke average, he recorded the fourth-best number in school history for the fall portion of the season. He also had team bests with four top 10 finishes, with all six of his efforts placing in the top 20; seven of his 17 fall rounds were under par and all counted toward team scoring. A fast-starter, his top finish came following his highest opening round score of the fall (74): he posted a fifth-place effort in the first tournament of the season – the Air Force Falcon Invitational – where he matched his collegiate career-best 65 in the final round to zoom into a top five finish. He still owned a team-best 70.33 first round average (71.5 over his CU career), starting the last three fall tournaments with rounds in the 60s. He also had a team-high 61 birdies and a 20.6 subpar percentage, along with the fewest holes worse than par (61, with just seven double bogeys). He finished as the 11th ranked player on the European list for the fall for next June's Palmer Cup (the top six collegiate golfers from the final rankings from both the United States and Europe automatically make each team's 10-member squad to compete in the event, a college version of the Ryder Cup).

2013-14 (Fr.): He earned second-team All-Pac-12 Conference honors and All-Pac-12 Freshman Team honors in rewriting most of CU's freshman records, starting with his 72.51 stroke average. He became the just the sixth freshman to lead the Buffaloes in stroke average and the first since Kane Webber in 1999-2000 (when he set the previous frosh best of 73.03); the others were Dale Douglass (1955-56), Blake Stirling (1970-71), Steve Jones (1977-78) and Knut Ekjord (1994-95). His 72.22 spring average was a freshman best and the fifth lowest all-time at Colorado, while his 72.93 fall stroke average, the second best on the team, was the fourth-best by a freshman (true or redshirt) for the fall in school history. His overall 72.51 was also the seventh best average in school history and the lowest in five years. He had 17 subpar rounds on the year, one shy of the school mark, and led (15) or was tied for the team lead in 20 categories. He set a CU freshman record for the best score in a 54-hole tournament with an 8-under (71-67-70—208) effort at Cal's Alister Mackenzie Invitational, tying for seventh and breaking the old Buff frosh mark by three shots; however, it would last just one tournament as his brother Yannik broke it by a shot in UTEP's Give 'Em Five Invitational – but in that meet, Jeremy turned in a 65-73-71—209 scorecard to tie for sixth, thus he recorded two of the top three freshman performances in school history in back-to-back events. He then opened the spring with a 9-under 207 at the Amer Ari Invitational in Waikoloa, Hawai'i, becoming the first player in CU history to have three straight 7-under par or better efforts in tournament play and then tie his brother again for the record, and his next time out, he turned in a 4-under 212 at the Wyoming Desert Intercollegiate, setting a school record with four straight under par performances. In the fall, he did not have a score worse than a double bogey on a hole, and had just three in 666 holes on the year; he owned a team-best 19.2 percent figure for subpar holes (team-highs of 122 birdies and six eagles). For the year, he ranked in the nation's top 100 in 10 categories: greens-in-regulation (7th, 72.4 percent), "ham-&egg" (12th, 12/3), eagles (20th, 6), par-4 scoring (55th, 4.06), putting par (71st, 0.96), last round average (71st, 71.58), fairways hit (74th, 69.7 percent), subpar strokes per round (75th, 3.62), birdies (86th, 122), and stroke average to par (98th, +0.76). His 10 subpar holes when recorded his 65 were tied for the second most in any round in the NCAA. He was one of four finalists for CU's Freshman Athlete of the Year at the CUSPY Awards (CU Sports Performers of the Year).

High School—He was considered one of the top international recruits, along with his twin brother Yannik, in college golf's 2012-13 recruiting class. Along with his brother, he helped his prep school, Albertus-Magnus Schule, to second-place finishes in Germany's National School Team Championships in both 2011 and 2012. He had a 72.3 stroke average as a senior and a 72.6 mark as a junior. He also played soccer.

YANNIK PAUL

6-1, 175, Soph., 1L, Viernheim, Germany (Albertus-Magnus Schule)

College—This Season (Soph.)—He played in all six fall tournaments, recording a 72.59 stroke average, the 15th-best ever for the fall portion of a season at Colorado. He opened up the year matching his career-best tournament finish with a tie for second in the Air Force Falcon Invitational, turning in a 69-71-67—207 (-9) effort that was one shot back of medalist honors. He had two other tournaments where he was under par, both minus-3 and tying for sixth: CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational (141) and Cal's Alister Mackenzie Invitational (210); he led the latter through two rounds after a 66-67 start, the 133 total the fifth-best 36 hole score in school history. He had the fewest bogeys (51) of the five players who appeared in all six tournaments and owned the second-best percentage of holes at par or better (79.1); 16 of his 17 rounds counted toward team scoring.

2013-14 (Fr.): He finished fourth on the team in stroke average with a 73.53 figure, the third lowest number ever posted by a freshman; he led the team for the fall with a 72.5 mark, which tied for the 12th lowest fall average in school history and was also the third lowest fall average by a freshman (true or redshirt; the last freshman to lead the Buffs in fall scoring at the break was Kane Webber in the 1999-2000 season). He had 12 subpar rounds and 15 of par or better. His best finish, a tie for second in UTEP's Give 'Em Five Invitational to end the fall (9-under, 66-72-69—207, three shots out of the lead), was the best in school history by a freshman for a 54-hole tournament on any course layout (and tied for the seventh best overall on a par-72 configuration); though his brother matched it in the spring. He twice recorded a 6-under par 66 for his collegiate best, in the UTEP meet and in the first round at the Wyoming Desert Intercollegiate, where he tied for fifth (210, -6). He tied for 16th in his first collegiate tourney, carding a 1-over 217 (75-71-71) scorecard at the Air Force Miranda Invitational. He placed in the top 50 in eight of his 11 tournaments, seven in the top 31, including tying for 31st at the Pac-12 Championships (300, +12) where his third round score (69, -3) was the only score in the 60s in the field (and was a 13-stroke improvement over his second round score); he followed that with a final round 71. In the NCAA Southeast Regional he opened strong with a 2-under 70, which had him tied for second one shot out of the lead, but he eventually finished at 23-over 239 and 69th. He had only four scores worse than a double bogey on a hole (612 holes), none in the fall, and he had the only bogey free round on the team all season (his final round 70 at the Amer Ari Invitational, where he had 16 pars, also a team-high, and two birdies). For the year, he ranked in the nation's top 100 in five categories: greens-in-regulation (1st, 75.3 percent), "ham-&egg" (ninth, 12/2), sand saves (16th, 53.3 percent), putting par (67th, 0.92), fairways hit (80th, 68.9 percent),

High School— He was considered one of the top international recruits, along with his twin brother Jeremy, in college golf's 2012-13 recruiting class. Along with his brother, he helped his prep school, Albertus-Magnus Schule, to second-place finishes in Germany's National School Team Championships in both 2011 and 2012. He had a 71.89 stroke average as a senior and a 73.1 mark as a junior. He also played soccer.

Other—2014: He won the German International Amateur Championship, as he entered the final round as the co-leader and posted a two-stroke win (70-67-66-67—270, -18); he recorded two eagles, 27 birdies and 35 pars on his way to the title, opening and closing all four rounds with a birdie or better. 2013: He finished eighth in the German International Amateur Championship (72-67-75-70—284). He was the second low amateur (to his brother) in the Pro Golf Tour tournament at Glashofen Neusass, as he finished 15th overall with a 73-73-72—218. He was 29th in the Luxembourg International Amateur (75-74-76—225). 2012: A member of the German National Junior Team, he reached the round of 32 at the British Boys Amateur Championship. He placed seventh in the German International Men's Amateur, where his third round 68 was the low score in the entire field for all rounds (80-75-68-72—295). 2011: He was the Hessen State

DREW TRUJILLO

5-10, 175, Jr., 2L, Montrose, Colo. (Montrose)

College—This Season (Jr.)—He played in four fall tournaments, three as an individual, posting a 75.64 stroke average for 11 rounds of competition. His best finish was a tie for 50th in the Air Force Falcon Invitational (224, +8), also where he recorded his best single round of the fall, a 1-under 71. He had a subpar/par percentage of 74.2, fourth best on the team, as he occasionally has some solid rounds undone by a big number here or there. He had a solid second round average of 73.33.

2013-14 (Soph.): He competed in six tournaments, four in the fall and two in the spring. He had played just once after the semester break, as an individual in the Wyoming Desert Intercollegiate, scoring three straight 72s for a 216 to tie for 36th. He was then pressed into action for the Pac-12 Championships after CU's roster thinned due to defections, and he shot a 23-over par 311 to tie for 56th; but his second and third round scores of 76 and 74 were important for CU's eventual fourth place finish in the meet, in which he played the par-3 holes 13th-best in the field at 2-over. In the fall, he opened with his best career finish when it counted toward team scoring, a tie for 16th at the Air Force Miranda Invitational (+1, 69-77-71—217). Later in the semester, he recorded his first 54-hole tournament under par, tying for 22nd at the Alister Mackenzie Invitational (-1, 73-70-72—215). He owned a 75.17 strokes average for his 12 rounds in the fall.

2012-13 (Fr.-RS): He worked his way into the regular travel squad rotation during the spring, participating in seven of the nine tournaments after winter break. His best finish was in the Wyoming Cowboy Classic, tying for 11th in the individual format event (+1, 217 which included a final round 69). His other top finish came in the Cal-Irvine Anteater Invitational, where he tied for 24th (+13, 229). He was one of CU's six scorers for the Pac-12 Championships, placing 63rd overall with an 81-74-78-75—308 (+28) scorecard. He played in two fall tournaments, tying for 14th in the Ballyneal Challenge, an individual tournament, and 35th in the CU-Mark Simpson Invitational

(71-72-75—218, where his rounds did not count toward CU's team scoring). For the year, he scored 58 birdies and 260 pars in his 468 holes.

2011-12 (Fr.) —The coaching staff decided to redshirt him in his true freshman season, though he still competed in all team practices and tournament qualifiers.

High School—He lettered three times in golf under coach Angelo DeJulio, placing 10th in the state meet as a senior after claiming runner-up honors as a junior (with a 6-under 138 total that included a 66 in the first round). As a senior, he captured regional champion honors ahead of the state meet. He earned first-team All-Southwestern Conference honors his sophomore through senior years, and was a first-team All-State and All-Colorado performer as a junior (honorable mention as a senior). He owns the Montrose record for individual wins (four) as well as the number of consecutive tournaments using his score (32). He placed in the top 10 in every tournament he appeared in as junior and senior and had 30-plus career top 10 efforts as a prep. He also lettered twice in baseball (catcher/designated hitter) as a freshman and sophomore.

Other—2014: He tied for 10th in the Colorado Golf Association's Western Chapter Championship, carding a 77-70—147 (+5) at The Bridges Golf & Country Club in Montrose. Tied for 90th in the inaugural Saguaro Amateur, held in Arizona over winter break (77-79-79—235). 2013: He won the CGA Western Chapter Championship held in Montrose, shooting 69-70—139 (3-under) at The Bridges; he chipped in from about 15-feet on No. 18 after starting the hole two strokes out of

NEW BUFFALOES

Roy Edwards added four new golfers to the program last November in the 2014-15 early signing period; three signed letters-of-intent and the fourth a financial aid agreement to join the Buffaloes, who ended the fall season ranked No. 39 in the nation.

The group included three of the state's top prep players, Pierce Aichinger and Ross MacDonald, both from two-time 4A state champion Valor Christian in Highlands Ranch, and Wilson Belk from Cheyenne Mountain in Colorado Springs. A fourth addition, Ben Bradley, signed a financial aid agreement to attend CU, as he has been competing on the German National Team and will enroll in January; he will be eligible to compete in the spring semester.

All three Colorado prep products finished in the top eight of this year's state championship and were first-team All-State performers.

"We are very excited about this class," Edwards said. "Ben, Ross, Wilson, and Pierce all bring a lot of talent and energy to our golf program and we are very excited to have them join us. It is one of our primary goals in recruiting to attract the best players from Colorado and we were fortunate to get a great group once again in this recruiting cycle. We continue our strong relationship in Germany with the addition of Ben Bradley. All four are high-quality people as well as players.

"With a lot of hard work, determination, and belief in themselves, we feel all of them have a chance to be very good players individually and help our team be successful. We can't wait to get started with them."

Aichinger, who resides in Cherry Hills Village, is an All-State and All-Colorado team member, tying for sixth in the state meet as a senior (72-75—147) at Walking Stick Golf Club in Pueblo. He was the Colorado Junior PGA champion with a 64-65—129 effort (11-under par at Indian Tree Golf Club in Arvada), and claimed the titles at the CJGA Estes Park (68-70—138) and the RMJGT at Walking Stick (70-73—143). He was also second in the Bass Pro Shop/Payne Stewart AJGA Championship (71-69-72—212).

Edwards on Aichinger: "Pierce has shot some very low scores. He is someone who is really developing into a strong player. When he plays well he gets on a roll and is very hard for anyone to beat. He comes from a very structured and successful program at Valor."

MacDonald, a Castle Rock resident, was the Colorado Junior Stroke Play champion in both 2013 and 2014, represented Colorado in the Junior Americas Cups in 2012 and 2013 and was the recipient of the Hale Irwin Elite Player Program Award this past summer. He finished third in last month's 4A state championships with a 70-72—142 scorecard, and was seventh in the event as a junior and 10th as a sophomore. He was All-State as a junior and senior.

Edwards on MacDonald: "Ross has had one of the more decorated careers in Colorado junior golf history. Along with Pierce, he comes from Valor, who has had one of the best high school golf teams in the country the last few seasons."

Belk was a four-year letterman at Cheyenne Mountain, with every one of his scores counting toward his team's score. An All-State performer his sophomore through senior years, he tied for eighth as a senior in the 4A state meet (72-76—148) after finishing as the runner-up his junior year (71-74—145), one shot out of the lead (he was 12th as a sophomore). He was the 4A Southern Regional champion (shot even-par at Walking Stick in Pueblo), and was the 2013 and 2014 Pikes Peak Athletic Conference champion, earning player-of-the-year accolades for the conference both years. He also had an impressive list of accomplishments nationally, which included a third place finish at the AJGA Junior at Cattail Creek last May and qualifying and playing in the Western Junior.

Edwards on Belk: "Wilson is fundamentally very sound with a great short game. He is extremely well-liked by his peers. He is a talented player who we feel strongly will work hard to develop at the collegiate level."

Bradley, from Frankfurt, Germany, reached the match play of this year's British Boys Amateur; he advanced with an 83-73—156 scorecard, tying for 53rd with his second round score tied for the 13th best in the field (he lost 2 and 1 in the first round of match play). Competing on the German National Team for the past two years, he finished 22nd in the German Championships in September among an impressive list of amateur accomplishments around Europe. He will be a freshman in eligibility.

Edwards on Bradley: "We are very fortunate to add Ben to our roster for the spring, and he will add immediate depth to the team. He has been competing on the German National Team and his dad is PGA professional, so he has the lineage. Ben is also very well-liked by his teammates and is a nice addition for us."

YEAR-BY-YEAR TOURNAMENT RESULTS

Since 1947-48, when CU joined the Big Seven Conference and lists those major tournaments CU is known to have played in (results are complete since 1976-77; any previously discovered results also included). Team scores are low four or five golfers, unless listed in round-by-round cumulative form, i.e., 380/764/—1134; tournament name is most recent, i.e., Stanford's "The Nelson" at one time was called the Stanford Fall Invitational and the Stanford Shootout; underline indicates break between fall and spring season; RMIGA one-day meets and dual results prior to 1980 are not included; (B)—indicates "B" or JV team entered by Colorado.

COLORADO HALL OF FAME

In 1989, the University of Colorado inaugurated a "Golf Hall of Fame," inducting four former players at a ceremony prior to start of The International at Castle Pines Golf Club. Periodically, those who have made a significant contribution to the University of Colorado golf program will be inducted into this select group.

THE INAUGURAL INDUCTEES

DALE DOUGLASS, Fort Morgan, Colo.

Dale lettered three seasons at CU (1956 through 1959), graduating in 1959. Following a successful collegiate career in the days of dual matches rather than tournaments, he went on to blossom as a professional golfer on the PGA Tour, winning three tournaments. Since he turned 50, he has taken the PGA Senior Tour by storm, with 12 victories as well as several runnerup finishes. Dale is known by his peers as one of the finest gentlemen of the game and by his friends as an all around nice guy.

LES FOWLER, Boulder, Colo.

Les is truly one of the state of Colorado's golf legends. He was first a player at CU as an undergraduate starting in 1946, then a player-coach and then the head coach, all the while building solid political and real estate careers. He was CU's golf coach for 30 years—the second longest coaching stint in CU history—and on a volunteer basis without compensation. Les was personally rewarded in that he coached many golfers on to great careers in the sport, most notably Dale Douglass and Hale Irwin. He remained one of the state's top senior golfers for over two decades, and won dozens of state tournaments in his career.

HALE IRWIN, Boulder, Colo.

Hale enjoyed two great careers at the University of Colorado. He was a three-year letterman at defensive back in football (an all-Big Eight selection in 1966 and 1967), and spent three seasons as the number one golfer for Coach Les Fowler (1965 through 1967). In his junior year, he set the school's season stroke average record (72.04), which stood for 38 years. He won three tournaments as a senior, ending with a bang: he ended his collegiate career by claiming medalist honors in both the Big Eight and NCAA Championships. He went on to become one of the most respected players and fiercest competitors on the PGA Tour, in addition to having a fabulous career which has seen Hale win 20 Tour events, including the U.S. Open on three occasions (1974, 1979, 1990). He has won 41 events on the Champions Tour, was the Rookie-of-the Year in 1995, is the only player on any PGA Tour to have won the same event five straight years (Turtle Bay) and has surpassed $30 million in overall career earnings ($24 million-plus on the Champions Tour).

STEVE JONES, Yuma, Colo.

Steve lettered four years at CU (1978 through 1981), and during that time he rewrote the Buff record book. As Coach Mark Simpson's first recruit, he won two college tournaments and posted nine top-five finishes to go with a school record 21 top-10 placings. He broke Hale Irwin's career stroke average mark with a 73.7 norm for 141 rounds, with his 73.3 average his senior year remaining a school best. Since graduating from CU, he has become one of the bright young stars of the PGA Tour, winning eight tournaments, including the 1996 U.S. Open, and became golf's 99th millionaire. He also won the 1988 Colorado Open. He is now competing on the Champions Tour as he is now healthy after battling assorted injuries for the past few years.

SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWMENT FUND

Petry

Douglass

Fowler

The University of Colorado men's golf team currently has three endowed scholarships, as the interest from those endowments go directly to funding scholarships of current CU golf team members.

The Nick Petry Scholarship is in the name of the late CU golf letterman (1939-40), and was begun in 1991.

The Dale Douglass Scholarship is in the name of CU's first real star on the PGA Tour (and current Senior Tour member) as he lettered as a Buff between 1956 and 1959.

The Les Fowler Scholarship is in the name of the late CU golfer and longtime coach (1948-77) and state legislator. It was created in 2003.

Two University of Colorado Golf Hall of Fame members pose at the 1992 induction: PGA and Senior Tour great Hale Irwin (left) with the founder of The International and long-time CU supporter, Jack Vickers.

CU GOLF HISTORY & TRADITION

The game of golf migrated to the United States from Europe, and was introduced at the college level around 1850. As the sport became popular, proponents sought out the warmer climates where it could thrive year-round. And as golf popularity grew, it spread to the larger cities where there was a desire for outdoor recreation, but the financial burden of building and maintaining a golf course was rather great.

Several eastern universities were among the earliest institutions to entertain the game of golf as a "club." As this relatively new sport enticed athletes of all ages to allot their recreation time to it, cities began to select acreage specifically as sites for future golf courses. Around this time, the late 1800s, several universities were endowed with funds that permitted their own private courses. Golf fell in line with most other sports at the time, which originated as clubs at American colleges.

In 1901, a group of professors and students formed a club for golf at the University of Colorado, but were without any real local place to play until 1917, when the city of Boulder built a nine-hole course on the north side of town. This course featured "buffalo" grass, sand greens and a "pasture-pool," complete with gophers. College enthusiasts were invited to join the local "divot diggers," and so golf took off in Boulder Valley. Denver already had the Denver Country Club and Cherry Hills, so Boulder was growing up in this area.

Golf was one of the last minor sports to become a varsity program, attaining that status in 1912. CU initiated a golf team that year, and original opponents included Denver University, Colorado College and Greeley State Teachers College (now Northern Colorado). World War I had delayed many of the college level sport programs, and the program resumed play in 1920 under Joe Mills, who had coached football the previous two seasons.

Golf at CU underwent a reorganization in 1924, with the first varsity match a challenge between two DU football players (who were caddies at Denver C.C.) and two CU football seniors, who kidded their opponents about the "sissy-game." They learned during the summer at a cost of 50 cents per round. Walt Franklin and Burke bought three clubs and six golf balls from a shop on Denver's Larimer Street to play the match, but there is no record of who actually won. But competitive golf had finally arrived on the CU campus.

Prior to World War II, team captains often served as player-coaches. But since 1948, the University of Colorado has had only two coaches, Les Fowler (1948-76) and Mark Simpson (1976-current). Fowler, an accomplished player himself, led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948, finishing second in the league meet as a senior player-coach. It marked the beginning of the modern era of Colorado golf.

It took the youthful Fowler just six years to bring the first championship to Boulder. In 1954, Keith Alexander shot a 216 for 54 holes, powering the Buffs to the league title. The following year, Fowler's team did it again, although the Buffs had to share the spotlight as 1955 Big Seven champions with Oklahoma.

When Oklahoma State became the eighth school to enter the conference, a dynasty of unequalled magnitude resulted. The Cowboys have proceeded to win every Big Eight tournament since 1958-with only three exceptions. In 1968 the Bison surprised the Grier Jones-led Okie Staters by shaving 35 strokes off the previous year's winning total to upset the defending champs and interrupt the Cowboys' dominant hold. (Missouri won in 1984 and Oklahoma in 1992.)

That 1968 win surprised many a CU golf follower because the Buffs had just lost their all-time best golfer to graduation-Hale Irwin. Irwin, a two-sport star who captained the football team as a senior defensive back, won the individual league title in 1966 by three strokes to pace the Buffs to a second-place finish. He was also co-champion in the rain-shortened, 36-hole tourney the following year with OSU's Jones.

But it was that final year of Irwin's which brought prominence to Colorado golf. The current pro standout won the 70th annual NCAA Championships over such future touring luminaries as Johnny Miller, Hubert Green, Jerry Heard and Rick Massengale.

Irwin continues to be an authoritative force with the PGA. He is just one of a handful of players who have won over $8 million on the Tour. He was won over 30 major tournaments, including the U.S. Open three times (1974, 1979, 1990), between the PGA and Senior PGA tours.

The 1992-93 Buffaloes, featuring among others, future pros Jonathan Kaye and Scott Petersen and two-time Big Eight champion Bobby Kalinowski.

DID YOU KNOW?... that former CU golfer Jonathan Kaye owns the PGA Tour record for the most improvement from one round to the next? At the 1999 Bob Hope Classic he shot a second round 83 but came back with a 62 in the third round. The 21 stroke improvement is a PGA record.

Irwin, though, wasn't the first CU golfer to make it big on the pro tour. Dale Douglass, a 1959 graduate, also made his professional mark after college.

Douglass rarely lost an individual match throughout his collegiate career and was one of the Big Eight's top stars his senior year, finishing fifth in the league championships. As a professional, Douglass' best year was 1969 when he won both the Azalea and Kemper Opens. The two-time president of the Tournament Players Association also won the 1970 Phoenix Open. Most recently, Douglass has made it big on the PGA Seniors Tour, becoming one of its top money winners.

For several years in the Big Eight, the Colorado golf team played second fiddle to Oklahoma State as a powerful foe. After suffering poor finishes in 1973 and 1974, Mark Simpson joined with the legendary Les Fowler to lead the Buffs to a third place in '75 and second in '76. Simpson then took over the reins of the program in January, 1977, and would lead the Buffs to 11 NCAA tournament appearances and 13 first-division finishes in conference action, including a trio of runnerup efforts.

Simpson's first star recruit, Steve Jones, also has made it big on the PGA Tour, winning three tournaments in 1989 alone and the 1996 U.S. Open.

Simpson has coached seven all-Americans and 15 all-conference players.

In 1994 another Simpson recruit, Bobby Kalinowski, joined Irwin as a two-time Big Eight champion.

In 1996, one of the most powerful collegiate golf conferences was born out of the formation of the Big 12 Conference, which consisted of all members of the old Big Eight and four members of the disbanded Southwest Conference. The conference has averaged five teams in the Top 25 since its inception, with Colorado often included in that mix.

CU returned to the NCAA Championship finals in 1999 after a five-year absence in stunning fashion. In the NCAA Central Regional on the Ohio State campus, the Buffs pulled off the second largest rally in the 11-year history of the regional format. CU climbed from 18th to 10th place on the final day, and then won a playoff on the first hole against Kent State to advance to the national finals.

The Buffaloes returned as a regular member of the nation's Top 50 during the 1999-2000 season, and have climbed as high as No. 10 in the polls over the last decade. In 2001-02, the Buffs had one of their best years in tying for 14th in the NCAA Championship Finals. The 2003-04 team won the Western Intercollegiate, the first team win in four years, and set a school record for stroke average both overall (73.77) and the spring (73.71).

Colorado has appeared in the NCAA Finals 15 times and in the Championships 27 times overall; on 14 other occasions, CU has been represented by at least one individual.

Backlund NCAA Golf Medalist

Buff Ace Fires 137 For Record

By KALIN MOORE
Senior Staff Sports Writer
GOLDEN, Colo., June 25—Merle Backlund, University of Colorado senior, spearheaded a Buff comeback that led to the Big 12 Conference's first NCAA Championship victory in a 137-yard drive on Tuesday with a record-breaking 137 yards.

The 22-year-old student fired a 68 on Tuesday by hitting a 137-yard drive on Tuesday with a record-breaking 137 yards.

The Buffs' comeback in the final round of the Big 12 Conference tournament, the 1953 NCAA Championship, was a dramatic one. The Buffs, who had been in the lead since the first round, were defeated by the University of Houston in the final round. Backlund's record-breaking drive was the key to the Buffs' victory.

Backlund, who was a member of the Buffs' 1953 team, was a member of the Buffs' 1953 team. He was a member of the Buffs' 1953 team. He was a member of the Buffs' 1953 team.

Merle Backlund, the University of Colorado's golf ace, shot a 68 on Tuesday to lead the Buffs to a 137-yard drive on Tuesday with a record-breaking 137 yards.

The first individual national title in Colorado golf history, as the late Merle Backlund was the medalist in the 1953 NCAA meet.

Tragedy hit the program in 2005, as on December 5, Simpson passed away after a valiant yearlong battle against cancer. Ironically, he would coach the Buffaloes for the exact same amount of time as Fowler, his predecessor and coach. The duo combined to coach 58 seasons for the school. The legacy the two created was one the administration looked to continue when Roy Edwards was named just the third full-time head coach in CU history.

Edwards is his ninth season and he helped usher the program into the nation's toughest golf conference when the Buffaloes joined the Pac-12 in 2011. In his third season, he coached CU to a second place finish in the Big 12—CU's first runner-up conference finish since Simpson's teams did so in 1979, 1980 and 1981. And in his eighth year – Colorado's third in the Pac-12 – he led the Buffs to a fourth place effort in its league meet, beating four top 30 teams in the process.

Hale Irwin and Steve Jones came back to Boulder in 1997 and put on a clinic for the current Buffalo team.

THE BUFFS AND THE U.S. OPEN

Did you know that Colorado, Ohio State, Stanford and Wake Forest have produced the most United States Open winners in history? The Buffaloes, Buckeyes, Cardinal and Demon Deacons have had their respective alums win four titles—for Colorado, Hale Irwin has won three (1974, 1979, 1990) and Steve Jones one (1996). The trophy in 1974 is pictured at right.

CU was the only school in the 1990s to boast two winners (Irwin in '90, Jones in '96), and was also the only school to produce two in the 1970s (Irwin in '74 and '79).

In 1999, junior-to-be Matt Call became the first Buffalo to play in the U.S. Open while still attending CU when he advanced through the two stages of local and sectional qualifying. In 2002, CU senior Ben Portie earned a spot in the same fashion in the Open just three weeks after playing his final collegiate round. That same year, future Buffalo Derek Tolan qualified and played as a 16-year-old.

BUFFALO GREATS

A look at some of the greats in Colorado golf history, including conference champions, multiple record holders and major tournament winners, and/or those who have made their mark professionally.

At Colorado (1953-56): The first Buffalo to win Big 7 Conference medalist honors when he won with a 216 score in the 1954 meet, he helped Colorado to the team title, its first Big 7 crown in golf. Emerging as CU's No. 1 golfer as a sophomore in the spring of 1954, he was the first and remains the only soph in school history to win a conference medalist honors. By tying for 10th in 1955 and eighth in 1956 in the league meet, he became the first (and to date, still one of just five) CU players to have recorded three top 10 finishes in the conference championships. He is believed to have compiled a 25-10-2 record in dual match play, a pretty impressive figure for a No. 1 man, and led CU to the NCAA Championships in both 1954 and 1955.

KEITH ALEXANDER

At Colorado (1950-53): Colorado's first national champion in golf, as he won NCAA medalist honors in 1953 at the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs, when he recorded a 69-68—137 scorecard for a then-NCAA record 7-under par; it was in the day when the field was pared to the low 64 after medal play, and despite losing in the first round of match play, he became only CU's fourth national champion in its athletic history at the time (joining three track performers: Gil Cruter, Dave Bolen and Warren Bateman). The 137 was a record at the time as well, besting the old mark of 138 set by a most familiar name in 1950: Wake Forest's Arnold Palmer. In the Big 7 Championships, he finished ninth as a sophomore and third as a senior.

MERLE BACKLUND

At Colorado (1978-82): The first and to date only golfer in Colorado history to play in four NCAA Championships, as he went individually as a freshman in 1979 (also a first and only) and as a senior in 1982 and with the full Buff contingent in 1980 and 1981. He finished second in the 1979 Big 8 Championships, to date the highest finish ever by a Colorado freshman in a conference championship meet. He tied for 5th in the 1981 event and for seventh in the '82 affair, making him one of just five Buffs to have recorded three top 10 finishes in league championship play. His third place finish at the 1978 Falcon Invitational would stand as the best by a CU freshman in his first meet for 21 years. The summer after he completed his CU eligibility, he pulled off the rare sweep in winning both the Colorado State Stroke and Match Play championships. He was a third-team All-American in both 1981 and 1982.

RICK CRAMER

Professionally: He played briefly on the PGA Tour but did play several seasons on some of the other pro tours, and is currently involved in administration and operations for the Gateway Tour Series in the Phoenix area.

At Colorado (1956-59): Owned a career stroke average of 74.11 as a Buff, playing in an era where dual matches were the norm and tournaments were the exception. He posted three top 10 finishes in the Big Seven/Eight Championships, tying for eighth as a freshman in the '56 Big 7 meet, and taking seventh and fifth in the '58 and '59 Big 8 tests, respectively; he was the second Buff (and still one of just five) to record three top 10 finishes in conference championship play.

Professionally: A member of the Champions Tour since he turned 50 in 1986, he had 11 victories on what was formerly known as the Senior Tour. He became just the fifth player in history to play in 500 tournaments when he reached the mark in 2003. He starred on the PGA Tour after turning pro in 1960, winning three events. Now more or less retired, he won just over $7 million on the Champions Tour and over $9 million as a professional. He has played in 600 Champions Tour events, with 151 top 10 finishes along with 283 in the top 25.

DALE DOUGLASS

At Colorado (1994-99): He led the team in stroke average all four of his playing seasons, one of just two Buffs to do so (with Steve Jones), but they weren't in consecutive years as he redshirted after his true junior season. He led the Buffs at the 1995 NCAA Central Regional in 1995, tying for 14th, and played in one other NCAA meet (in 1999 as a senior). He played 133 rounds, and with 127 counting toward team scoring, he set the school record for percentage counted (95.5). He had a career stroke average of 74.34, and he had 11 top 10 and 22 top 20 finishes in his career. Over the course of his career, he was the top Buffalo scorer in 27 tournaments, the most in school history.

KNUT EKJORD

At Colorado (1945-76): He tied for fourth in the first Big 7 Conference championship meet Colorado ever played in, as he recorded a 147 score for 36 holes in the 1948 meet. Following his graduation, he would coach the Buffaloes on a volunteer basis for a total of 29 seasons, actually starting as a player-coach his senior year. His top players out of over 125 that played for him included Hale Irwin, Dale Douglass, John Hamer, Gary Polumbus, Larry McAtee, Bill Musselman, Tom Woodard, Mark Crabtree and the man who succeeded him as head coach, Mark Simpson. His teams won three conference titles and reached the NCAA Championships seven times, with the 1968 team posting the school's best ever national finish when it tied for eighth. He was a district manager in the insurance business, and active in Boulder politics as a city councilman and state representative and state senator. Though he never played professionally, he was one of the states top amateur golfers for four decades, including senior golf, and is a member of the state of Colorado Golf Hall of Fame. He passed away on February 8, 2003 at the age of 78 in Boulder.

LES FOWLER

At Colorado (2004-09): He finished 14th in the most rounds played (113) at Colorado, finishing 16th in career stroke average (74.45), ninth in top 5 finishes (7), sixth in top 10 finishes (12) and ninth in top 20 efforts (18). As a senior, he was the Co-Male Athlete of the Year at Colorado for all sports (with teammate Derek Tolan), he played in all 13 tournaments, with two wins, five top 5, eight top 10 and 10 top 20 finishes. He earned PING All-Region honors and was an honorable mention All-American, finishing as the No. 46 ranked player in the nation (Golfweek). He recorded a 71.98 stroke average for the season, the third best in school history (and his 71.32 average during the spring the second best, just .02 off the record). His outstanding spring was topped by his victory in CU's Stevinson Ranch Invitational, where he cruised to the win with an 8-under par 208 score. His top fall highlight was his first career collegiate win, when a 67-69-68—204 scorecard earned him medalist honors at Denver's Ron Moore Invitational at Green Valley Ranch GC in Denver. The 12-under par effort matched John Lindberg's school record for the most strokes under par that he set in the 1989 BYU Classic. He was named the Golfweek National Player-of-the-Week for the week ending Sept. 22 after he won the DU-Ron Moore invite, and in the process was believed to be the first player in CU history to be afforded such an honor. He turned pro following his senior year, and won the Adams Tour's Coca-Cola Wal-Mart Open (in Louisiana) in March 2010.

PATRICK GRADY

At Colorado (1961-64): He helped CU to a tie for 18th in the 1964 NCAA Championships, tying for 36th individually (73-78—151), the same year he tied for fifth in the Big Eight Championships (73-71-71—215), as he led the Buffs to a third place finish. Dual meets were more the norm for his day, and as a senior, he posted one of the best dual marks in school history, going 14-2 on the year, with a low round of 68.

JOHN HAMER

After CU: He opted not to pursue a professional career, but took the state of Colorado by storm in the amateur ranks. He owns 10 CGA state titles, including four individual championships (1969 and 1970 Stroke Play; 1992 and 1996 Senior Stroke Play). He was the state amateur of the year in 1969, is one of only three players to ever win back-to-back stroke play titles, and was inducted into the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame in 2002.

At Colorado (1964-67): The 1967 NCAA individual champion, winning by two strokes with a 2-under par 286 score, an effort that saw him post a 65 in the third round which included a hole-in-one. The all-time CU leader in tournaments won (4), he also racked up two medalist honors in Big 8 Conference play, winning the 1966 title outright and sharing the '67 crown when he was a first-team All-American. His 72.04 stroke average as a junior still reigns as a CU single-season best, as are his eight rounds in the 60s that year, and he is one of just five players to have led the Buffs in average three or more seasons. He earned a combined six letters in football and golf; after playing quarterback as a sophomore, he became a two-time first-team all-Big Eight selection at weak side safety 1965 and 1966, making nine interceptions (in 1989, he was selected to the 25-member All-Century Football Team for CU's first 100 years of football). He was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 1986 and CU's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2002 (in the school's fourth class).

HALE IRWIN

Professionally: The all-time money winner on the Champions (Senior) Tour with $26.9 million in earnings (and he has over a $6 million advantage over No. 2 Gil Morgan). He won 20 times on the PGA Tour, including three U.S. Opens (1974, 1979, 1990); had 45 Champion Tour wins through 2014, including two U.S. Senior Open crowns (1998, 2000); and 18 other professional wins including international play. Entering 2013, he has made the cut in an incredible 432 of 437 Champions Tour events, with 210 top 10 finishes: in addition to the 45 wins, he has 43 runner-up finishes and 23 third place efforts, or 111 top three performances. His son, Steve, also played for the Buffs from 1994-97, and the two won the 2003 Father-Son Challenge. Inducted into the World Golf Hall of Fame in 1992, he is also very active in his own golf course design company.

At Colorado (1977-81): He set numerous school records during his CU career, in which he became the first and only player in school history to record four top 10 finishes in the conference championship meet (two thirds and two sevenths in four Big 8 title meets). A second-team All-American as a senior in 1980-81, when he had nine top 10 finishes and ten top 20 efforts, which are both still school bests. Over the course of his career, he had 19 top 10 and 26 top 20 finishes, both CU records, and was the top Buffalo scorer in 23 tournaments, tied for the second most in school history. He is the only player in Buff annals to lead the team in stroke average for four consecutive seasons, and one of just two to do it four times overall.

Professionally: He has over $6.5 million in career earnings on the PGA Tour (he became the sports' 99th millionaire when he topped that figure), winning eight times, none bigger than his 1996 U.S. Open title. He captured that event on the last hole on Sunday, his pinnacle achievement that season which earned him the Tour's Comeback Player of the Year honor. His win in the 1997 Phoenix Open was landmark, as his 11-shot victory was accomplished by scoring the third lowest 72-hole score in PGA history at the time (a 26-under 258). He was the medalist in the 1986 Tour Qualifying School, finally making it to the big time on a permanent basis in 1987. He was inducted into the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame in 1997, CU's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2012 and into the state of Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 2013. Unfortunately, he estimates he has lost a third of his professional career due to assorted injuries, but is healthy again and is now playing on the Champions Tour (with just under $500,000 in career earnings on that circuit).

STEVE JONES

At Colorado (1976-81): During his CU career, he played the second most rounds in school history when he teed it up for 18 holes 152 times. But in 1981, in his last Big 8 Conference championship meet, the three rounds he recorded there were most memorable as he ended a 14-year run by Oklahoma State golfers in claiming medalist honors with a 211 score. His 41 rounds during the 1976-77 season still stand as the most ever in a single year by a Colorado freshman. He earned honorable mention All-America honors as a senior in 1981.

TERRY KAHL

At Colorado (1991-94): He became the ninth (and to date, last) player to win back-to-back Big 7, Big 8 and/or 12 Conference medalist honors when he captured both the 1993 and 1994 Big 8 Championships. He joined Hale Irwin as the lone Buffaloes to accomplish the back-to-back feat. His 72.62 stroke average as a senior in 1993-94 was the best in CU history by a senior at the time; his 144 career rounds are tied for the third most by a Buff, with a career stroke average of 73.97. He is tied for the most top five finishes in CU history (11), ranks second in top 20 finishes with 25 and fourth in top 10 efforts with 14. A third-team All-American his junior season in 1993 and a second-team performer as a senior in '94, when he recorded a school record six top five finishes.

BOBBY KALINOWSKI

At Colorado (1990-93): He joined the Buff team after spending his freshman year at Phoenix Community College, and formed quite a CU trio with Scott Petersen and Bobby Kalinowski. As a junior in 1992, he won the PING-Arizona Intercollegiate in style, as he defeated Phil Mickelson on the first playoff hole; he was also the co-medalist at the '93 Air Force Falcon Invitational as a senior, making him one of eight players in school history to win multiple major tournaments. One of six players in school annals to record a 65 (or better) round in competition when he shot 31-34 in the 1990 Wyoming Invitational; the 31 on the front tied the second best single 9-hole score in Buff history as well. He owned a career stroke average of 74.98 with eight top 10 and 13 top 20 finishes in his Colorado career.

JONATHAN KAYE

Professionally: Now taking a break from playing on the PGA Tour (sidelined in 2010 with injuries), he has over $10.5 million in earnings through 2012. He broke through for his first Tour win in 2003 when he won the Buick Classic in Harrison, N.Y., and won the FBR Open in 2004. He played on and off on the Tour, mainly due to a rotator cuff injury, but tied for second in the 1998 Qualifying School and had been a regular starting in 1999; that year at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic, his 21-stroke improvement from round one to two (83-62) set the PGA Tour improvement mark. To date, he has made the cut in 193 of 318 events, with 66 top 25 finishes (31 top 10), with eight runner-up showings.

At Colorado (1972-73): He played just one season of golf, joining the team his senior year. He led the team in stroke average with a 74.00 norm for 16 rounds, posting three top 10 finishes which included a victory in the Galveston Island Intercollegiate, where he won with a 1-over par 289 score.

GEORGE KELLEY

After CU: He is the owner/general manager of Stevinson Ranch Golf Club (Stevinson, Calif.), and has played a key role in the tournament the Buffaloes hosted annually from 1999 through 2009 on one of California's top public courses. After graduating from CU in 1973, he played three years as a touring pro on the European, Asian and Australian tours. After his playing days, he became a real estate broker with an eye on golf, brokering several large scale golf course deals, and in the early 1990s, he set forth to build the highly acclaimed Stevinson Ranch on family owned land in central California. He is often a guest lecturer and is active in the National Golf Course Owners Association.

At Colorado (1986-89): His 73.65 career stroke average is the third best in CU history (it set the record at the time), the second best for a player with 100-plus rounds; his 71.15 stroke average the fall of his junior season still ranks as the best for the fall portion of a season at Colorado, while he is tied for the most wins (4) and top five finishes (11) in a CU career (he is second in top 10 efforts with 18 and fourth in top 20 finishes with 23). He set, and still owns, the Colorado records for low score for 36, 54 and 72 holes, all set during his junior season: a pair of 66s for a 132 at the Robertson Homes Invitational set the two round mark; a final round 72 in that meet for a 204 set the 54-hole standard; and his 284 score earlier that same fall in the New Mexico Tucker Invitational established the four round best. And for his career, he was the top Buffalo scorer in 23 tournaments, tied for the second most in school history. He was a second-team All-American as a senior in 1989 after being an honorable mention choice as a sophomore.

JOHN LINDBERG

At Colorado (2002-06): He tied for the third most rounds played in Colorado history, 144, including three GCAA Match Play Championship rounds. His career stroke average of 73.54 ranked third all-time for the Buffaloes, behind only one-time teammate Kane Webber (72.90) and Scott Petersen (74.37); it was the second best figure for 100-plus rounds other than Webber. He set the school record for low single round (63), as well as the most under par (-8) for 18 holes. By holding both the low gross score and most-under-par records for a single round, he became the first player to solely own both marks since Hale Irwin did so between 1967 and 1981. For his career, he had 13 top 10 tournament finishes, including a school record six straight during the course of his senior season, and 20 top 20 finishes. He was named CU's Male Athlete of the Year for all sports at the school's annual CUSPY (CU Sports Performers of the Year) Awards for 2005-06, when he also earned honorable mention All-America honors. He was two-time PING/GCAA All-Central Region selection and was just the second CU player to earn All-Big 12 and All-Big 12 Tournament Team honors in the same season when he did so as a senior.

EDWARD McGLASSON

At Colorado (1967-69): As a senior in 1968, he earned first-team All-America honors, the last CU player to do so. He was the No. 1 man on the Buffalo team that posted the school's best-ever finish at the NCAA Championships, as he led the Buff to an eighth-place tie in the meet at Las Cruces, N.M. He tied for eighth individually (70-72-75-74—291), to date the third best individual finish in the NCAA's by a University of Colorado golfer. He led the team in stroke average as a senior (73.80), when he finished second in the Big 8 Championships with a 212 score, falling to Oklahoma State's Grier Jones by two shots; however, he was one of three Buffs to finish in the top four in leading Colorado to the Big 8 title, its last conference crown to date.

BILL MUSSELMAN

At Colorado (1991-93): As a senior, he earned honorable mention All-America honors, when he was a second-team All-Big 8 performer. He led the team in stroke average both as a senior (73.5) and as a junior (73.4), one of only eight players in school history to do so for multiple seasons. He set a mark for the lowest CU career stroke average for 50 or more rounds with a 73.47 for 77 rounds, a mark that stood through 2003. His senior year, he won the John Burns Intercollegiate (Honolulu) and the Fresno State Lexus Classic, and he posted eight top 5, nine top 10 and 15 top 20 finishes in his career. An honorable mention All-American his senior year (1993). Prior to transferring back to the state where he starred as a prep (at Englewood's Cherry Creek High School), he lettered twice at the University of Tulsa in 1989 and 1990.

SCOTT PETERSEN

Professionally: A member of the Nationwide Tour since 2000, as well as in 1996; he played on the Canadian Tour from 1997-99. He has came up just short several times in his bid for his PGA Tour card, but has won over $540,000 as a pro, including wins at the 1997 Infiniti Championship, the 1999 Samsung CPGA Championship and the 2000 Colorado Open.

At Colorado (1997-2002): Playing as CU's No. 1 man over the course of his entire senior season, he completed his career with a 73.89 stroke average, fifth-best all-time at Colorado (at the time), with his 106 career rounds tying for the 13th most. As a senior, he led CU with a 72.46 average, the second best number in Colorado history at the time. His spring stroke average of 72.44 set a school record, and was the first Buff under 73 in the spring since Steve Jones did so in 1980. He became the fifth CU player to post a season stroke average under 73, putting him impressive company with Dale Douglass, Irwin, John Lindberg and Bobby Kalinowski. He also led the team in top 10 finishes (4), top 20 finishes (8), rounds in the 60s (5), subpar rounds (12), first round average (71.15), middle round average (72.79), final round average (73.50), and in rounds counting toward team scoring (38 of 39, or 97.4 percent). He tied for 33rd in the NCAA Championships (66-72-75-73—286), becoming the first Buff since Irwin to lead at any point of the finals after his 5-under par 66 in the first round. He won the 2002 sectional qualifier for the U.S. Open, shooting rounds of 68-67—135 and earned the right to play in the U.S. Open on the famous Bethpage Black course in Farmingdale, N.Y. (though he missed the cut). He turned professional immediately following the qualifier, and went out and won his first professional tournament (Green Mountain Open, Killington, Vt.) the following weekend, winning $10,000 as a tune-up for the Open. After a two-year stint as CU's assistant coach, he is now the head pro at Sterling Country Club.

BEN PORTIE

At Colorado (1968-2005): Student, Athlete, Facilities Manager, Administrator, Assistant Coach, Head Coach. Simpson held all those roles over nearly four decades as a Buffalo, until cancer claimed him early at the age of 55 on December 5, 2005. He had a modest playing career at CU, earning three letters, but would make his mark as one of the top coaches in the collegiate game. On January 12, 2005, he was inducted into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame. Simpson had replaced his own coach, the legendary Les Fowler, in January 1977, and would coach the Buffs for 29 years, the exact length Fowler had done so. He presided over 421 events as head coach, the fifth most for any sport in school history. He was most proud of the fact that 119 of the 129 players he brought into the program (92.2 percent) graduated with a degree from CU. He was the 1981 Big Eight Conference and NCAA District Five coach of the year, when CU finished second in the league and 11th in the nation. He was named the co-Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year in 2000, as his Buffaloes finished third in the league meet and were ranked in the nation's Top 25 for most of the year. He was also a finalist for induction into the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame in 2002, and in 2004, the organization recognized him for his contributions to the sport and honored him with its Lifetime Achievement Award. Simpson's teams went to the NCAA's 15 times in his tenure. Under his tutelage, Colorado produced seven different All-Americans who combined for 13 accolades (Jones, Tom Woodard, Terry Kahl, Rick Cramer, John Lindberg, Bobby Kalinowski and Kane Webber), in addition to 10 all-Big Eight and four all-Big 12 golfers and 15 All-America Scholars. He was also heavily involved in collegiate golf administration, and served two-and-a-half years as GCAA president (2000-2002) and spent a decade in different positions with the organization.

MARK SIMPSON

At Colorado (2005-09): He finished third in the most rounds played (151) at Colorado, and was 13th in career stroke average (74.19). He tied for second in both the most top 10 finishes (18) and top 20 efforts (26) in school history (he was 11th with five top five performances). He has had 89.8 percent of his career rounds count toward team scoring (132 of 147; does not include four solo rounds), a figure which ranked fifth in school history. He became just the fifth CU player to have qualified to play in four NCAA Championships, joining Rick Cramer (1979-82), Bob Kalinowski (1991-94), Matt Zions (1999-2002) and Kane Webber (2000-04). As a senior, he was selected as the Male Career Athletic Achievement Award winner for all sports, and the co-Male Athlete of the Year (with teammate Patrick Grady) at the school's annual CUSPY celebration (CU Sports Performers of the Year). An honorable mention All-American by Golfweek (one of 20) and the GCAA (one of 33), he also earned PING All-Central Region honors, All-Big 12 honors and All-Big 12 Tournament Team accolades. He finished as the No. 43 ranked player in the nation by both GolfStat and Golfweek. He became the 10th player in school history to win two career tournaments, claiming both in the fall semester, and in doing so set a school record for the lowest stroke average (71.00) for the fall in CU annals. He opened up his senior year by earning co-medalist honors in San Francisco's Olympic Club Intercollegiate, and three weeks later again snared co-medalist at New Mexico's Tucker Invitational. In-between, he placed second in DU's Ron Moore Invitational, posting his career best for the most under par in a tournament (205, -11). In the spring, he had four top 20 finishes, highlighted by a tie for second in the Western Intercollegiate (213, +3). He turned pro following his senior year and promptly went out and won the San Juan Open in his third tournament as a professional, and then captured the Colorado Open.

DEREK TOLAN

At Colorado (2000-04): A third third-team All-American as a senior, when he had three wins, six top 10 finishes (11 top 20) and a conference-runner-up 71.46 average that established a new CU single-season school record (just three strokes over par for the year). His first collegiate win came in the Western Intercollegiate (206, -4); three weeks later, he won again, claiming the Purdue Invitational (206, -10); and a month after that, he won The Maxwell in a playoff to become one of just 19 golfers for the year to win three or more times. His 71.35 stroke average in the spring decimated the previous record, and for the year, he led the team in 23 (of 24) statistical categories. He played the fifth most rounds in school history (144) on his way to a 72.90 career stroke average, which bested the old mark by over half a stroke. He also ranked fourth in top five finishes (10), fourth in top 10 efforts (15), first in top 20 finishes (27) and first in 54-hole tournament scores of 220 or better (29). At the 2004 CUSPY's (CU Sports Performers of the Year Awards banquet), he was selected as the Male Career Athletic Achievement Award recipient.

KANE WEBBER

Professionally: He is competing on the European and Asian tours and in several regional professional tournaments.

At Colorado (1974-77): Nicknamed the "Human 2-Iron" for his svelte 6-foot-3 frame, believed to be the first African-American to play varsity golf at Colorado. He led the Buffs in stroke average as a junior ('75-76) with a 76.27 figure for 30 rounds. He often played his best in the Big Eight Championships, tying for fifth as junior in 1976 and was sixth as a senior a year later, when he earned an individual berth in the NCAA Championships and was awarded honorable mention All-America honors. He became the sixth player in program history to twice be named first-team all-conference, garnering the nod in 1976 and 1977 and joining Keith Alexander, Dale Douglass, Hale Irwin, Larry McAtee and Jim English as two-time recipients.

TOM WOODARD

Professionally: He competed for two-and-a-half years on the PGA Tour after his collegiate days, and qualified for two U.S. Opens and a PGA Championship. He was twice selected as the Colorado PGA Section Player of the Year, won a national professional tournament in 1979 on the United Golfers Association Tour and still owns the low round at Denver's popular City Park Golf Course, an 11-under par 61 he shot in 1988. Since becoming a club professional in 1986, he has made an impact all around the Denver metro area: he served as head professional at City Park (1987-89), Littleton Golf Club (1990), South Suburban (1991-95) and at Buffalo Run (where he was the first head pro in 1996); he was director of golf for the City of Denver from 1997-2006 (overseeing six courses), and has been the general manager and director of golf at Foothills Park & Recreation District in Denver since 2006. He co-founded The First Tee of Denver, and was inducted into the National Black Golfers Hall of Fame in 2012 and into the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame in 2013.

LATE CU COACH SIMPSON INDUCTED INTO COACHES HALL

NEW ORLEANS (January 12, 2005) — University of Colorado men's golf coach Mark Simpson was inducted into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame, the first CU coach to earn the exclusive honor.

"I'm completely honored and humbled that the committee would consider my coaching career worthy of this honor," Simpson said in opening his induction speech. "I'd like to thank the person who nominated me, but I don't know who that is."

"About three months ago, I was having breakfast with a friend, and about three-fourths of the way through it he said, 'You know, Simpson, you have a great job.' I said, 'Yeah, I like it.' Then about two weeks later at lunch with another friend, he says to me, 'You really do have a dream job.'"

"I got to thinking and I truly realized that I do have a dream job," Simpson said. "One, I get the special privilege to work with young 17- and 18-year olds and help mold them as people and golfers; two, I love the University of Colorado and no matter what you've heard about CU these last months, ninety-eight percent of what some perceive about us just isn't true. It is truly a special place, and I'm fortunate enough to coach at my alma mater. And three, I get to coach and teach the game of golf."

"My dream job has lasted 29 years," he continued. "There is so much to be thankful for and people to thank. God. The University of Colorado, as (the athletic director) Eddie Crowder took a chance and named me as head coach when I was just 26 years old. All of the players who I've been blessed to coach and watch mature during my time at CU. My peers. The GCAA; I've been to Japan, Scotland, England, Ireland and all over the United States thanks to the GCAA."

Simpson closed by acknowledging that when he was a young coach, he would listen to advise of those who had been in the profession for a long time. He gave a bit of advice for younger coaches in the audience.

"If you want to be a great coach, one of the qualities you have to have is that you must relate to your players," he said. "Use relate as an acronym: the R is for respect; the E for edify, or to build up your players; the L for listen, as in truly listen to them; the A for authentic, be the real person you are; the T for time, and wisely spend the same amount of time with each of your players and in several areas; and the second E for expectations, for as a coach, it is extremely important to pass on your expectations of them."

"One of the quests we have is to prepare them for life, and the greatest thing I can hear is when they return years later and tell of the appreciation for what they learned from me, but more importantly, from their experiences at the University of Colorado."

In attendance at the event were members of Simpson's immediate family, his mother Martha, Anne Kelly, CU women's golf coach; Mark Crabtree, the head coach at Louisville who was one of Simpson's first players; and Eric Hoos, a former CU assistant and current head coach at Denver.

CU's Assistant Athletic Director for Media Relations, David Plati, a long-time friend and colleague of Simpson, presented him for induction. Some highlights of his presentation:

"I've been CU's SID since 1984; five years earlier, as a freshman in the office, I was handed the men's golf beat. After being named SID, I wasn't about to give it up, in part due to my love for the game as well as for the sheer enjoyment I have had working with Coach Simpson and the golf team for what has now been almost 26 years. I'm probably the only SID he even remembers handling his sport..."

"Mark's induction is two-fold, one for his longevity as a respected coach, as well as for all the work he has done on behalf of college golf. He has truly thrived on being involved on the administrative side of things, and the game is better for his contributions."

"Mark is truly one of the good guys. Ask most everyone who has ever met him. I can say for fact that 'Stretch,' one of his nicknames, is truly one of the all-time most popular figures both at the University of Colorado as well as in Colorado golf circles, which honored him last September with the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame's Lifetime Achievement Award."

"Mark has all the qualities one seeks in a college coach, some of which include:

"Humility. Mark has never been above learning and evolving as a coach. He will tell you that when he started out, he wanted all his players to like him. After a few years, he learned they didn't want a friend; they wanted to be coached and to be mentored."

"Disciplinarian. After all, we are talking about a man who left Jonathan Kaye home from the 1993 Central Regional. To this day, he will tell you it was one of, if not the, toughest decisions he has ever had to make."

"Compassion: A freshman, Charlie Luther, hit his first collegiate drive off the then-called women's tee markers with the ball landing several feet behind the tee box. The poor kid was even holding his pose, having no idea where the ball went until he heard the thud behind him. 'Sims' comforted him with the line, 'Don't worry Charlie, even Bo Jackson lost yardage on his first college carry.'"

"But he also traveled the 14 hours both to and from Australia to help comfort one of his players after his father passed away. He was on hand when that player, Kane Webber, shot a 59 a day after the funeral in a family tournament played to honor his dad."

"Part-Time Nutritionist. Mark has purchased over 10,000 bananas for players to snack on during their rounds... something about the potassium I believe. Mark also thrives on finding the best Mexican food restaurant in a town so he can showcase his knowledge of the Spanish language, and loves the Louisiana Classics as he has turned many a young meat-and-potatoes golfer on to crawfish."

"Respect. How many U.S. Open winners openly thank their college golf coach publicly within minutes after victory? That's what Steve Jones did in 1996, as well as several more times in the days afterward."

"And Good Fortune. Mark offered the same Steve Jones, his first top recruit, a full ride back in the summer of 1977 after Jones shot a 72 after a morning 86 at one of Colorado's tougher courses, Hiwan in Evergreen. He would soon learn that a full scholarship back then was seldom ever offered and it ate up almost all of his allotted aid for the year. But it would be worth it."

"In a recent interview, Mark summed up what he thought was the best thing about the game of golf. He said, 'The greatest thing is that it teaches maturity in the sense that you can't blame anybody or anything for your failures, you can only point the finger at yourself.'"

The Official Home of the Buffaloes

Les Fowler had a dream. Mark Simpson had the same one.

The two head golf coaches at Colorado, each for 29 years between 1948 and 2006, longed for the University of Colorado to have its own golf course.

Enter Steve Kerr and current CU head coaches, Roy Edwards (men) and Anne Kelly (women). Kerr graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in Denver and was one of Fowler's last recruits, playing under both coaches as Simpson took over in the middle of his Buffalo career.

A long-time supporter of CU's golf teams, Kerr remained close with Simpson through the years and saw his daughter Erin become one of CU's first real stars of its fledgling women's program. She graduated from CU in 2003 as the school's all-time leader in stroke average and is now playing professionally.

To say that Kerr wanted to give something back to the program he loves and cherishes would be an understatement. In addition to the financial contributions through the years he has made to both programs, on March 2, 2009, it became official: the Buffaloes finally would have a golf course and facility to call its very own thanks to him.

Located in Erie and formerly known as Vista Ridge Golf Club, Kerr's purchase of the entire operation and subsequent licensing agreement with his alma mater has created Colorado National Golf Club, which will now provide Colorado's men's and women's programs with one of the finest arrangements in all of college golf.

Kerr floated the idea of purchasing and/or developing land in or around Boulder to build the school a course, but that became unrealistic due to several factors. Edwards and Kelly then suggested models in place at Texas A & M and the University of Washington, where local courses were purchased and then for all intents and purposes were basically donated back to the schools for their privileged use without any of the financial responsibility or liability for owning or operating the course.

Kerr liked the idea and as it became more of a reality, athletic director Mike Bohn and former CU chancellor Bud Peterson became integral players to make CNGC happen. Knowing Vista Ridge was attainable, Kerr worked to acquire the property to set everything in motion by the end of 2008. The club officially had its grand opening under the new name on May 2, 2009, with CU legends Hale Irwin and Steve Jones in attendance to celebrate the event.

CNGC and the school signed a long-term licensing agreement for it to be the exclusive home golf course of the CU men's and women's golf programs and will utilize the primary athletic mark and a newly created secondary logo in all branding efforts. The club features CU memorabilia from all sports, highlighted by CU Golf All-America Awards and already has plaques on display, as well as Simpson's last golf bag he maintained as head coach.

The club has incorporated the CU brand in many ways, including adorning the President's Room with donated keepsakes and memorabilia from the greatest golfers to ever play for the Buffaloes, including Irwin, Jones and Jonathan Kaye, as well as tributes to former coaches Fowler and Simpson. Golf carts are emblazoned with the CU logo, with 11 others representing each school rival in the Pac-12 Conference.

In 2012, the George Boedecker Jr. Golf Facility, a 5,500-square foot state-of-the art indoor practice facility was completed, giving CU's golf teams one of the premier winter homes in all of college golf (when Colorado's often mild winter weather along the Front Range doesn't cooperate, of course).

The course remains open for public play as well as tournament play, both amateur and for charity. CNGC has already hosted several top amateur tournaments, including both a men's and women's NCAA regional.

Matt Schalk is the club's director of golf and general manager, with Jason Dumler the head professional; both are native Boulderites and Schalk at one time served as a volunteer assistant coach for the Buffs. The championship configuration of CNGC is 7,676 yards with a par-72 layout, though there are six tee boxes, the shortest all the way down to 4,790 yards with four in-between providing every golfer to play in his or her own comfort zone. CNGC is located at 2700 Vista Parkway (Colorado Highway 7), about two miles west of Interstate 25.
