The Cowgirls shot 28-77 (.364) from the field and out rebounded the Cowgirls 47-40. Wyoming struck first with a Randi Richardson three-point field goal, which was answered with five straight by Oklahoma State to put them up 5-3. The Cowgirls responded with an 11-2 run, which included three three-point field goals to give them a 14-7 advantage. OSU scored the next seven of nine to close the gap to two, 16-14, through the second media timeout. Aubrey Vandiver hit a basket to end the scoring which would start an 8-1 run by UW to extend the lead back to nine, 24-15. The margin would grow to double-figures, 33-17, with around five minutes to go in the half. Oklahoma State battled back by closing out the half on a 10-2 run but Wyoming still took a 35-27 lead into the lockerroom. The momentum continued out of the halftime break for OSU as they ran off nine straight points to take only their second lead of the game 36-35. A Chaundra Sewell basket would end the Wyoming drought then a three-point field goal by Randi Richardson helped give them a 40-36 lead. A Tiffany Bias basket pulled Oklahoma State to within one, 40-39, but a 6-2 run by UW put them back up five, 46-41. Unfortunately, Oklahoma State scored eight of ten to go ahead by one, 49-48. Bec Campigli hit a big shot to make it a two point game, 51-49, which was answered with six straight to give Oklahoma State a four point advantage, 55-51, with 7:27 remaining in the game. The Cowgirls narrowed the margin with seven of ten, five of the seven points from Bec Campigli, which tied it up at 58 all. The momentum shifted the way of Wyoming as they ran off 11 of 13 to give them a nine point lead, 69-60, with 1:54 on the clock. OSU would not go away easily as they scored 8 of 10 to make it 71-68 with under a minute to go. Free throws put UW up five, 73-68, which was answered by a Tiffany Bias three-point field goal to close the gap to two, 73-71. Two free throws and some good defense by Cowgirls sealed the 75-71 win for Wyoming.

2010-11 Cowgirl Basketball

Head Coach Joe Legerski

JOE LEGERSKI

(WYOMING, 1979)

University of Wyoming, Head Women's Basketball Coach

Joe Legerski is in his eighth season as the head women's basketball coach at the University of Wyoming. He was named head coach on May 1, 2003 and became the sixth head coach in Cowgirl history.

Under his guidance in 2009-10, the Cowgirls recorded another 20-win season finishing with a 21-12 overall record and a 9-7 mark in the MWC. Its the fourth time out of the last five seasons that a Wyoming team has recorded 20-wins or more, along with their sixth consecutive winning season. His teams have played in postseason a record number of times as well. They have played beyond the regular season in four of his seven years, which includes the last four of five. Three Cowgirls garnered conference honors for the seventh straight year under Legerski as Hillary Carlson and Aubrey Vandiver were each named to the Second Team All-MWC, while Emma Langford earned Third Team All-MWC honors.

He recorded his first career coaching victory on Dec. 13, 2003, as Wyoming defeated Montana State Billings, 62-51. His first conference win came on Jan. 17, 2004 against MWC rival BYU.

In his first season, he guided the Cowgirls to an 11-18 record overall and a 6-8 mark in the Mountain West Conference including their first ever Mountain West Conference Tournament victory in school history. Two Cowgirls also garnered All-Conference awards as he earned MWC Coach of the Year honors in his first year with the program.

In 2004-05, he helped the Cowgirls to a 16-12 overall mark, along with a 7-7 record and a fourth place finish in the MWC. It was the highest they'd finished in conference play since 1996-97. They swept BYU for the first time since 1994-95 and earned a 72-67 win over the Colorado Buffaloes which snapped a 13-game losing streak. Three Cowgirls earned All-MWC awards including Ashley Elliott who earned First Team All-MWC honors for the second year in a row.

For the 2005-06 season, the Cowgirls completed the year 21-9 overall, while finishing 10-6 overall in the Mountain West Conference. They made an appearance in the WNIT for only the third time in school history. The 21-wins were at the time the most since the 1989-90 season when they went 24-8 and the ten conference victories at the time tied an all-time school record which was set in 1978-79. Three Cowgirls garnered All-Conference honors, including Hanna Zavec who earned First Team All-MWC and Defensive Player of the Year honors along with Megan McGuffey who took home the MWC Newcomer of the Year award.

During the 2006-07 campaign, it was a magical year for Legerski and the Cowgirls as they won the WNIT Postseason Championship over the Wisconsin Badgers. Wyoming went 6-0 enroute to the championship. They completed the season with a program best 27-9 record, which eclipsed the 24-8 mark set in 1989-90, and the 11-5 record and second place finish in the league standings were the second most wins in both the MWC and school history. It was the also the first time in school history that a Cowgirl team had won at least 20 games in back-to-back seasons, along with being invited to post season play. For the second year in a row, Hanna Zavec was named First Team All-MWC and Justyna Podziemska was named MWC Newcomer of the Year along with earning Second Team All-MWC honors.

In 2007-08, the Cowgirls continued where they left off from the previous season as further marks were broken. They started off with an 18-1 record, which was the best start in school history, and tied for the best in the MWC as well. With 24 wins, they recorded their third straight 20-win season, which had never been done in the programs' history, and with a 12-4 mark in conference play it also was the most conference wins breaking the 11 wins set the year before. Their play helped them earn the Cowgirl programs' first ever bid to the NCAA Tournament. For the first time in school history, they were also ranked among the Top 25 teams in the country by both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Division I Coaches' Poll. Their highest ranking was 15th in the AP (1/28/08) and 16th in the Coaches' Poll (1/29/08). As a team, they were ranked in either poll for 13 weeks during the season and received votes for the other six polls. Wyoming was also honored with several individual awards. Hanna Zavec was named First Team All-Mountain West Conference for the third straight year, while being named the MWC Defensive Player of the Year, Justyna Podziemska earned Second Team All-MWC honors for the second straight year, and Aubrey Vandiver was awarded Third Team All-MWC honors. Zavec also garnered Honorable Mention All-America accolades by the Associated Press and for the second year in a row was named to the State Farm Coaches' Honorable Mention All-America Team.

In his sixth season with the Cowgirls, they wrapped up the year with a 16-14 record overall and an 8-8 mark in MWC. With a victory over Denver (11/14/08), he would reach his 100th career victory, the fastest head coach to achieve that mark in school history.

During his time, the Cowgirls have been successful in the classroom as well. He has coached 47 Academic All-MWC student-athletes, while 34 have been named MWC Scholar Athlete.

Legerski came to Wyoming following a highly-successful stint at the University of Utah. As an assistant (1991-1998), and later associate head coach (1998-2003) for Elaine Elliott, he was part of the most successful women's program in the history of both the Western Athletic and Mountain West Conferences. The Utes compiled a 254-96 record while he was there, including seven league titles. They were 135-35 in conference play.

During the 2002-03 season, Utah won the MWC with a 12-2 conference mark. The Utes were 24-7 overall, and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, before falling to Duke.

Legerski earned a bachelor of science degree in business education from UW in 1979. He was an assistant with the Cowgirls from 1987 through 1991, before taking the Utah position. He was the head women's basketball coach at Western Wyoming College (Rock Springs) for one season, finishing second in the region. Prior to that he was the head women's basketball coach at Rock Springs High from 1984 to 1986.

Legerski, and his wife, Jamie, are parents of three children, stepson Zane, daughter Madison and son Joseph III.
