

REGULAR SEASON CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIPS

1989 Big Eight Champions
(14-0)

Basketball, as in life, offers its share of firsts. And the 1988-89 season was no exception. The Buffs would open the pre-season with a 10-3 showing, including the program's first win over Louisiana Tech. The 61-60 win would be Colorado's first over a No. 2 ranked team and Barry would use that win to catapult the Buffs to a 20-game win streak that would come to a halt during the NCAA Tournament. But not before the Buffs would claim the Big Eight Conference's first undefeated regular season (14-0) title, their first tournament title and lay claim to the program's first conference player-of-the-year in Bridget Turner.

(12-2)

Colorado would graduate five seniors and reload with seven newcomers and leave the league's coaches to believe that they couldn't repeat its feats from the previous year. Although the nation's experts pegged the Buffs the No. 4 preseason team in the country, in the preseason Big Eight coaches poll, the Buffs would be picked to finish behind Kansas come March. Well, the exact opposite happened. Colorado would go 12-2 in conference competition and the preseason player-of-the-year would take a seat behind CU senior Jamillah Lang, crowned the 1994 conference queen.

1993 Big Eight Champions
(12-2)

A team little known to anyone outside the conference circles, the Buffs would take the nation by storm as they took a pre-season No. 25 ranking to No. 9 by March. A 15-game win streak to open the season would turn heads as CU was the country's seventh-ranked team when it opened the Big Eight campaign—a convincing 61-33 win over Kansas State in Boulder. The Buffs would live up to their preseason expectations to take the conference title, although few probably thought they would do it so convincingly, outscoring their league opponents by an average of more than 15 points a game.

1995 Big Eight Champions
(14-0)

If the 1989 conference season was a season of firsts, then the '95 campaign was when the Buffs would prove that history can repeat itself, and still provide some firsts. Following a 5-2 start, Colorado would go on a 25-game win streak, including the league's only second unblemished 14-0 conference record. Colorado's 74-71 win at Kansas State in the conference finale would put the seal on the league's only regular season conference three-peat and second straight conference player-of-the-year award winner in Shelley Sheetz. As they did in the 1993 postseason, the '95 Buffs would be the conference's second team to advance to a regional final in NCAA play.

CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIPS1989 Big Eight

Colorado's first conference tournament championship was icing on the cake of a dominant regular season where the Buffaloes swept the Big Eight (14-0). Having finished as runner up two of the previous three years, Colorado finally broke through in the championship game, and in dramatic fashion, needing double overtime to defeat Oklahoma State 98-92. Big Eight Player of the Year Bridget Turner took home Tournament MVP honors.

1992 Big Eight

Colorado started the 1992 Big Eight season at 0-3, but rallied to win 14 straight; 11 to finish the regular season and three more to capture its second tournament championship. Big Eight Newcomer of the Year Shelley Sheetz earned Tournament MVP honors leading the Buffaloes to wins over Kansas State (79-27), Nebraska (74-66) and Kansas (70-53). Colorado returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since its last Big Eight Tournament title team in 1989.

1995 Big Eight

Arguably the best women's basketball team in program history. Led by Player of the Year Shelley Sheetz and Newcomer of the Year Isabelle Fijalkowski, Colorado swept through the Big Eight regular season and tournament. That string of 17 wins was part of a larger 25-game win streak that vaulted the Buffaloes to the No. 2 national ranking and a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Sheetz, earning her second Tournament MVP, led CU to wins over Iowa State (73-38), Oklahoma State (76-58) and Kansas (61-45) in the title game.

1996 Big Eight

Kansas put an end to Colorado's string of three-straight Big Eight regular season titles, but the Buffaloes would get the last laugh in more ways than one. After wins over Oklahoma (76-60) and Oklahoma State (69-59), Colorado upended Kansas (75-47) for its second-straight tournament title. What made this win even more special was it was the final tournament for the Big Eight as both the Buffaloes and Jayhawks would begin Big 12 Conference play that next season.

1997 Big 12

A new conference, but similar results for Colorado, as the old Big Eight and four Southwest Conference schools made up the new Big 12. Colorado finished third in its first Big 12 regular season, earning a No. 3 seed and first round bye. Sporting a roster full of players with plenty of "tournament time" experience, Colorado stormed past Iowa State (56-39), Texas (64-50) and Kansas State (54-44) to claim the inaugural Big 12 Tournament Championship and the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.
