Colorado's Sports Information Department: The University of Colorado's Sports Information Department welcomes and encourages your interest in Colorado Basketball. We will make every effort to service your needs in covering the Buffs. The Sports Information Office maintains information on all current student-athletes and athletic department staff, as well as historical data on former athletes and Colorado's athletic department in general. The Sports Information Office is located in the Balch Fieldhouse Annex on the west side of Folsom Field.

Media Credentials: Credentials for University of Colorado home women's basketball games can be obtained by emailing, writing or calling the CU Sports Information Office the week prior to the scheduled game. Credentials will be left at the street level entrance to the practice facility off Regent Drive.

Road Game Credentials: Media credentials for Colorado road games can either be requested through CU's or the opponent's women's basketball media relations contact. Please be specific when requesting the type of credential needed.

Photographers: Photo passes are available for working photographers for officially recognized media outlets, and/or individuals on special assignment. Requests should be addressed in the same manner as media credentials.

Visiting Radio Personnel: Visiting radio personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Sports Information Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. Phone and ISDN lines are available for the opponent radio station next to the opponent bench for all home games.

Media Workroom: A media workroom, located just off the playing floor, through the tunnel and to the right, will be available for use by media before and after games.

Media Services: Game notes containing updated team and individual statistics, information on upcoming games, Pac-12 Conference standings, and the latest AP and WBCA polls will be available one day prior to each non-tournament game throughout the season. Game notes, media guides and roster information, as well as opponent materials can be picked up before every game in the media workroom in the Coors Events Center. Copies of the box score and play-by-play information, as well as postgame quotes, can be emailed to your outlet at the conclusion of each game, home or away.

Photography and Video Services: High-quality photography is available through the Sports Information Office. To request photographs of current CU players and staff, please contact the CU Sports Information Office. Please specify four-color or grayscale, as well as desired resolution and format. For video highlight clips, contact the Pac-12 Conference.

Telephone-Fax: Media desiring a phone line for their own use should contact Campus Telecommunications (303-492-5194) to have a line installed. All other phones are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. A fax machine is available, also on a first-come, first-serve basis. You may reach an outside line by dialing "8".

Press Row Services: Working media will be provided with full play-by-play and box score statistics at halftime and following the game, along with coach and player quotes following the game. Beverages are available in the media workroom.

Postgame Interview Policies: After a short cooling off period, Colorado head coach Linda Lappe and selected players will be available to the media. All requests for player or coach interviews from either home or visiting teams should be directed to a CU sports information staff member. The Colorado and opponent lockerrooms are closed to the media.

No-Smoking Policy: The University of Colorado is a smoke free campus.

Coors Events Center: Located on Regent Drive, the first left off Colorado Avenue coming from U.S. 36.

Interview Policies

1. Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Colorado Sports Information Office and assistant director Ashley Braun.
2. All practices are open to the local media, as well as to any member of a national media outlet who is not connected with a future opponent on the team schedule. Visiting media must receive authorization to attend practice through the Sports Information Office, which will in turn seek approval from the Head Coach. Live television shots must be approved by the Sports Information Office and Linda Lappe in advance.
3. Talking is not permitted on the floor and court area of the Coors Events Center while practice is in session unless it is to request a player or coach for an interview through Ashley Braun.
4. Basketball players may be interviewed following practice during both the fall and spring semesters. CU players are not to be interviewed prior to any practice unless approved 24 hours in advance by Ashley Braun, and this exception is rare. All interviews on game days, prior to tipoff, are at the discretion of Linda Lappe.
5. The lockerroom is closed to the media at all times.
6. The training room, equipment room, and weight room are off-limits at all times to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested, and approval must be sought in advance from the Sports Information Office and the appropriate department head.
7. Any requests for athletes and coaches on off days will be handled on an individual basis through the Sports Information Office.
8. Road practices are open only to members of the media that cover CU on a regular basis, as well as any members of the national media. Linda Lappe is available for interviews with opponent media based on her personal discretion.
9. It is the request of the University of Colorado women's basketball program that players are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player herself or through Ashley Braun. Though most phone numbers are available through campus information, players are asked to decline interviews when they have been reached at home when that interview has not been approved.

HEAD COACH LINDA LAPPE

Sixth
Season

When Linda Lappe first came to Colorado as a freshman in the fall of 1998, she joined a basketball program with a proud history, but facing a rebuilding period. Over her five-year career as a player she helped lead the Buffaloes from a time of struggle to the doorstep of the Final Four.

In the spring of 2010, Lappe returned to Boulder, finding the Colorado program in a similar mode of rebuilding as she had when she arrived a decade earlier. But as she did as a player, her desire to return the Buffaloes back to prominence wouldn't be denied.

Now five years into her reign as head coach of her alma mater, Lappe is proving once again to be a catalyst in the revival of Colorado basketball.

Lappe is 98-69 at Colorado, and in five seasons, ranks second in all-time coaching wins for the program – a milestone she reached in year four. She has guided the Buffaloes to four postseason berths: the 2013 NCAA Tournament and three Postseason WNIT appearances (2011-12, '14). The 2015-16 season will be her ninth overall as a collegiate head coach, sporting an eight-year mark of 148-105 which includes seven years with a record of .500 or better.

Colorado's four-straight winning seasons, and post appearances, between 2010-14 was the program's first since 2000-04; toward the tail end of Lappe's playing career. Additionally, Colorado's NCAA Tournament appearance in 2013 was its first since 2004.

Lappe brought Colorado back into the Associated Press national rankings for 25 straight weeks spanning parts of two seasons, from Dec. 17, 2012, to Jan. 13, 2014. Her team reached as high as No. 11 in the AP poll and No. 14 in the USA Today Sports coaches' poll during the 2013-14 nonconference schedule.

Bolstered by a statement-making upset win over then No. 8-ranked and eventual national runner-up Louisville, Lappe helped Colorado to its first AP Top 25 ranking since 2008, debuting at No. 25 on Dec. 17, 2012. With the initial ranking, Lappe became the eighth NCAA Division I women's basketball coach to play for an AP ranked team and then return to lead that same program back into the AP poll. Overall she was the 31st person to coach and play for an AP ranked women's team.

She picked up her 100th collegiate coaching win, and 50th at Colorado, with an 84-39 victory over New Mexico on Dec. 29, 2012. That win also clinched the Buffaloes' second-straight perfect nonconference regular season record (11-0). Colorado would extend its preseason success into 2013-14, winning its first nine games and establishing a 33-game nonconference regular season win streak which ended only after dropping a competitive 69-62 decision by No. 7 ranked Louisville on the road in December 2013.

Lappe has coached a pair of first-team all-conference performers, one for each league she's coached in. Lappe guided Chucky Jeffery to back-to-back All-Pac-12 honors in 2012 & '13 and Brittany Spears to All-Big 12 accolades in 2010-11.

Lappe helped mentor Spears, CU's all-time leading scorer, into a 2011 WNBA second round draft pick (No. 19 overall) by the Phoenix Mercury. Two years later, her team celebrated Jeffery being selected by the Minnesota Lynx in the second round (No. 24 overall) of the 2013 WNBA Draft. Jeffery would go on to play 17 games for the New York Liberty spanning the 2013 and '14 seasons.

Her staff has also been successful on the recruiting trail with five strong classes, including the 23rd ranked recruiting class in the nation in 2015 according to ProspectsNation.com, and the 27th rated class in 2013 by ESPN's HoopGurlz.

Her 2014-15 squad finished 15-17, battling through injuries and an extremely competitive schedule. Colorado had the 26th toughest schedule in the nation based on overall winning percentage (.597). Eight nonconference opponents advanced to postseason play, plus the Buffaloes endured one of the most competitive Pac-12 seasons in recent years. Five teams would make the NCAA Tournament, the league's most in nine seasons, plus another two in the WNIT.

The Buffaloes still turned heads on a national stage by pulling off the largest upset in Pac-12 Tournament history. Colorado, the No. 9 seed, toppled regular season champion and top seed Oregon State 68-65 in the quarterfinals, becoming the lowest seed to ever defeat a No. 1 in the history of the event. With that win the Buffaloes joined California and Stanford as the only three Pac-12 schools to reach the Pac-12 semifinals twice in the last three years.

The win over the No. 8/9 ranked Beavers was her fourth over a ranked opponent and second against a top 10 foe.

Lappe led Colorado to a 19-15 record in 2013-14, advancing to the third round of the Postseason WNIT. After a 9-0 start led the Buffaloes to a No. 11 AP national ranking, Colorado was hit by the injury bug, and a slow start to Pac-12 play. However, as in previous years, the Buffaloes found momentum late in the season, winning five of their final eight games through a fourth-straight postseason appearance.

In her third season, Lappe led Colorado to a 25-7 mark and a fourth place finish in the Pac-12 at 13-5, its most overall wins since 1995-96 and league wins since 1994-95.

When the Buffaloes heard their name called on NCAA Selection Monday, she became one of eight head coaches to play for and coach the same program in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament as Colorado was invited to the Big Dance for the 13th time in program history.

Colorado's 2012-13 individual awards were plentiful to say the least. Arielle Roberson was named the Pac-12 Freshman of the Year, while earning honorable mention to both the All-Pac-12 and league All-Defensive teams. Brittany Wilson earned All-Pac-12 Defensive honors while Jeffery and Rachel Hargis were given honorable mention along with Roberson.

Her second season (2011-12) couldn't have started any better. Colorado swept its 11-game nonconference regular season schedule and with its first ever Pac-12 win, a 58-52 come-from-behind classic at Utah in the opener, CU equaled the second-best start in school history at 12-0.

Colorado also achieved its first conference tournament win since 2007 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2012 Postseason WNIT for the second straight season.

At the time of her hire, Lappe, now 35, was the youngest head women's basketball coach at a BCS (now Power 5) conference school, behind only Jamie Craighead (Sacramento State) and Candace Whittaker (UMKC). Just a couple months after her 30th birthday, she became the second-youngest to be named head coach of the CU women's team. Lappe's mentor, CU Athletic Hall of Fame coach Ceal Barry, was 28 when named on April 12, 1983, exactly 27 years to the date of her own hiring.

Possibly surprising to those outside the program, but not those who played or coached with her previously, Lappe's first year turned heads of outsiders immediately. With an emphasis on team, Lappe helped Colorado's squad thrive. She inherited a team with only six healthy returning players, three of which had limited playing experience. Lappe meshed the returners with three newcomers who all contributed significant minutes.

Picked to finish last in its final season as a member of the Big 12 Conference, Colorado surprised naysayers with a 6-10 record, good enough for an eighth place tie in a league that sent seven teams to the NCAA Tournament. Her first CU team finished 18-16 overall, advancing to the quarterfinals of the 2011 Postseason WNIT.

Lappe was the only rookie NCAA Division I head coach with wins over ranked teams in 2010-11, both wins special in their own way.

The first win was a 66-60 overtime triumph over No. 17 (AP)/16 (ESPN/USA Today/WBCA) ranked Iowa State. The victory provided Lappe with her first Big 12 win and came against her home state school.

Her second win over a ranked opponent provided a different set of circumstances. Needing wins in three of their final four regular season games to ensure postseason eligibility, Lappe's squad didn't waste any time by knocking off No. 16/15 Oklahoma (73-68) in Boulder. The Buffaloes then proceeded to win two straight road games, their first road wins of the season, to clinch their WNIT berth. Lappe became one of three NCAA I rookie head coaches to lead a team into the 2011 postseason, guiding Colorado to wins over UC Riverside, future Pac-12 rival California at home and on the road at Wyoming.

A key contributor as a player for some very prominent Colorado women's basketball teams, Lappe was named the seventh head coach in the program's history by then-athletic director Mike Bohn on April 12, 2010, just under a decade removed from her playing career at her alma mater.

Lappe returned full circle to the Buffaloes after a three-year stint as head coach at Metropolitan State College in Denver. She was 50-36 at Metro State, guiding the Roadrunners to top-three finishes and winning records in the Eastern Division of the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference in each of her three seasons.

Her 2009-10 squad finished 17-12 overall before ending the season in the RMAC Tournament semifinals against the eventual NCAA Division II national runner up in Fort Lewis (Colo.) College. She had two players earn RMAC All-Eastern Division honors in 2010 in Kristin Valencia and Chelsea Williamson and Valencia was tabbed as the East Division Defensive Player of the Year.

Lappe's 2007-08 Metro State team posted a 19-10 overall record, finished second in the RMAC's East Division and qualified for the conference tournament. Metro State put together a season-high nine-game winning streak during the season and ranked third in the RMAC in scoring defense.

She landed her first head coaching job after four years as an assistant at the NCAA Division I level, three with Drake University (2004-06) and one with Colorado State (2006-07).

Lappe was hired at Colorado State by Jen Warden, a former Colorado assistant who was on the bench with Barry during Lappe's playing career. At CSU, Lappe was the recruiting coordinator and also worked with the Rams' backcourt players.

Lappe began her collegiate coaching career at Drake where she spent three years on Amy Stephens' staff, helping the Bulldogs to a 47-42 mark. She assisted Drake to WNIT appearances in 2004 and 2006 and helped sign a Top 50 class that would go on to help the Bulldogs claim the 2007 Missouri Valley Conference Championship.

A two-year captain and All-Big 12 honorable mention selection, Lappe averaged 7.8 points, 3.7 rebounds and 2.0 assists in 115 games from 1998-2003. She helped Colorado to three consecutive NCAA appearances from 2001-03, including an Elite Eight appearance in 2002 and a spot in the Sweet 16 as a senior in 2003.

Lappe averaged 8.4 points and 4.4 rebounds as a senior 2003 while dishing out 96 assists, and shooting 84.3 percent from the free throw line as the Buffaloes finished 24-8 and fourth in the Big 12. She was a finalist for the V Foundation Comeback of the Year award after missing large chunks of her sophomore and redshirt junior years with injuries.

She missed the first 11 games the 2001-02 season, but worked her way back into the lineup for CU's Elite Eight squad averaging 4.6 points and 2.9 rebounds per game against a brutal schedule that included 16 games against ranked teams.

Lappe helped CU to a 22-9 mark in 2000-01 and the team's first NCAA appearance since 1997. She led the Big 12 in free throw percentage at 85.9 percent and tallied seven points and nearly three rebounds per contest.

As a freshman in 1998-99 Lappe was CU's offensive MVP after she led the team in scoring (10.7 ppg), free throws made (91) and percentage (.827), assists (3.8 apg) and steals (1.7 spg) as the Buffs made their first ever postseason WNIT appearance. She played just two games as a sophomore in 1999-2000 before a broken knee cap ended her season.

A three-time first team Academic All-Big 12 honoree, Lappe graduated from CU with her bachelor's degree in business administration in 2002. She is a native of Morning Sun, Iowa, where she had a stellar prep career. An honorable mention Street & Smith's All-American, she graduated from Winfield-Mount Union High School with prep records in career points (1,987), steals (402), steals in a season (111), steals in a game (10), career assists (652), season assists (208), single game assists (14) and a 110-3 (.974) career record.

She was a first-team Class A (the smallest classification in Iowa) all-state selection from 1996 to 98 and a second-team all-Iowa pick following her freshman year. Her Winfield-Mount Union teams were the Class A state champions in 1995 and 96 and her 1997 team went 28-0 before being upset in the state semifinals, snapping an 80-game win streak. Her 1998 Winfield-Mount Union team would also return to the state finals. In 2009 Lappe was inducted into the Iowa Girls Basketball Hall of Fame.

The daughter of Tom and Jean Lappe, she has two siblings who both played college basketball. Her older brother Burt is a graduate of Northern Iowa, and her younger brother Jake is a graduate of Luther (Iowa) College.

ASSISTANT COACH JULIAN ASSIBEY

First
Season

Julian Assibey is in his second year with the University of Colorado women's basketball program and first as an assistant coach.

Assibey was promoted to the coaching position on June 23, 2015, after serving as the team's video coordinator for the 2014-15 season. He will coach Colorado's posts, headlined by senior Jamee

Swan, an honorable mention to the 2014-15 All-Pac-12 Conference team and the Buffaloes' leader in scoring, rebounding and blocked shots. Assibey also inherits a younger group with very high ceilings in terms of development, including Zoe Correial, Zoe Beard-Fails and Bri Watts.

As the team's video coordinator, Assibey broke down game and practice video while assisting with scouting reports and Colorado's basketball camps. He will maintain supervision in some of those video components in his new coaching role.

Prior to coming to Boulder, Assibey spent three seasons as an assistant coach at Merrimack College in North Andover, Mass. He helped the Warriors to a 12-win turnaround from 2011-12 to 2012-13 when Merrimack finished 17-12 and advanced to the Northeast-10 Conference semifinals.

Colorado is not foreign to Assibey who started his career on Lappe's first Metro State College of Denver staff. He was an assistant for two seasons (2007-09), helping the Roadrunners to a third place Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference finish in 2007-08 and a fifth place showing in 2008-09.

Assibey returned to his alma mater, William Penn (Iowa), for one season (2009-10) and spent one season back in Colorado at Western State (2010-11) before joining the Merrimack staff.

A native of Downey, Calif., Assibey was a four year letterwinner at William Penn, and is among the school's top five in career steals. He received his bachelor's degree in Sports Administration and Strength & Conditioning in 2005 and followed that up with a master's degree in Coaching and Athletic Administration from Concordia University (Mass.) in 2013.

Assibey and his wife Kaylee are the parents of two boys, Malachi (5) and Elijah (1).

ASSISTANT COACH JAMIE CAREYSecond
Season

Former WNBA point guard and USA Basketball administrator Jamie Carey is in her second season as an assistant women's basketball coach at the University of Colorado, joining the program on June 16, 2014.

During her first season on the Buffaloes bench, Colorado enjoyed one of its finest offensive seasons in over a decade, averaging just under 70 points per game, hitting the 80-point mark eight times. She helped tutor point guard Lexy Kresl to her best individual season, averaging 12.4 points and 4.5 assists per game while earning honorable mention to the All-Pac-12 Conference team and All-Pac-12 Tournament honors.

Carey also did a stand-up job teaching her trade to Brecca Thomas, one of Colorado's guards of the future. She will do the same with newcomers at the guard position: Kennedy Leonard, Alexis Robinson and Louisville transfer Ariana Freeman.

Carey joined Colorado after four years with USA Basketball as the assistant women's national team director. She worked with all levels of the national team program, helping the organization identify coaches and athletes for participation. Carey assisted with organizing logistics for trials, training camps and international competitions, supported the athletes and staff on site internationally and assisted with practice for all national teams.

While working with USA Basketball, Carey was a three-year head girls basketball coach at Sand Creek High School in Colorado Springs (2011-14), guiding the program to a 62-16 record, three Colorado Class 4A Great 8 State appearances and a pair of Pikes Peak Athletic Conference titles. She was the Pikes Peak Athletic Conference Coach of the Year this past season and the Colorado Springs Area Coach of the Year in 2012.

Carey's high school coaching career included two seasons at Legacy High School in Broomfield (2008-10), helping the team to a Colorado Class 5A runner up finish in 2010. Her five year high school coaching record is an impressive 106-25 (.809).

One of the top point guards in the nation, Carey was drafted by the Phoenix Mercury with the 31st overall pick in the 2005 WNBA Draft. She would later sign as a free agent with the Connecticut Sun, where she enjoyed a four-year career on some very successful teams. Connecticut played in the postseason all four years during Carey's time there, including the 2005 WNBA Finals.

Her collegiate career was a well-documented achievement over adversity. The 1999 Ms. Colorado Basketball out of Horizon High School, Carey signed to play at Stanford where she was the 2000 Pac-10 Conference Freshman of the year, a member of the Pac-12 All-Freshman team and named to several Freshman All-America squads.

However concussions sidelined her career at Stanford for the next two seasons. Carey resumed her career at the University of Texas in 2002 where she was a two-time All-Big 12 Conference selection and helped the Longhorns to the 2003 Women's Final Four. She was a finalist for several national awards over her final two seasons including the Wade Trophy, Naismith Award and Nancy Lieberman National Point Guard of the Year in 2004 and 2005.

Carey won the Jim Valvano Comeback Player of the Year Award in 2004 and received numerous off the court accolades. As a senior in 2005 she was named the NCAA Woman of the Year and earned the Big 12's Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarship. Carey was a Carey earned a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology from Texas in 2004 and completed her Masters of Education in Sport Management in 2006. She was Valedictorian of her graduating class at Horizon in 1999 where she was also a WBCA High School All-American and Colorado's Gatorade Player of the Year.

ASSISTANT COACH KELLY RAE FINLEY

Fourth
Season

Kelly Rae Finley is in her fourth season as an assistant women's basketball coach as she was hired by head coach Linda Lappe on May 18, 2012. She serves as Colorado's recruiting coordinator and also coaches the wing position.

Finley has helped Colorado to at least 15 wins in all three seasons on the Buffaloes' bench with an overall record of 59-39.

During her time on the Colorado bench, the Buffaloes have participated in the 2013 NCAA Tournament and the 2014 Postseason WNIT. Colorado was ranked among the nation's best for large portions of her first two seasons, reaching as high as No. 11 (Associated Press) and No. 14 (USA Today/WBCA) during the 2013-14 season and No. 18 (both polls) in 2012-13.

On the court, her wings had a fantastic 2014-15 season. Colorado led the Pac-12 and ranked eighth in the nation in 3-point field goal percentage, with a large portion coming from the quartet of Jasmine Sborov, Haley Smith, Lauren Huggins and Alina Hartmann who combined to hit 38 percent from long range.

As the recruiting coordinator, she's helped Colorado to establish a strong foothold not only in the Pac-12 footprint, but nationally and worldwide. Her first recruiting class in 2013 hit a pair of Pac-12 states in Washington and California, while reaching out to Virginia. Class number two hit California once again, while revisiting Texas, historically an important area for Colorado recruiting, and the Buffaloes' first international recruit in six years.

The Class of 2015 contains a quartet that spans four states, showing once again Colorado's national reach in recruiting. The Buffaloes pulled two players from Big 12 country, one from the Southeast and another from a Big Ten stronghold. ProspectsNation.com tabbed this class the 23rd best in the country on signing day in November 2014.

Finley, 30, arrived at Colorado after four years on the staff at Harvard University (2008-12); the last three as a full-time assistant coach. The Crimson posted a 75-41 mark in her four seasons in Cambridge including four second place Ivy League finishes – a record of 42-14 – and three Postseason WNIT appearances.

At Harvard, Finley was the recruiting coordinator, signing a class in 2011 that was ranked 31st in the nation by ESPN including the Ivy League's first McDonald's All-American in Temi Fagbenle. She coached 12 All-Ivy League players and coordinated player development with an emphasis on the forward position.

Off the court Finley was Harvard women's basketball's liaison for equipment management, community outreach coordinator and was an active participant at alumni events. She was a Harvard Faculty Affiliate with the Leverett House, an upperclass dorm. Finley also continued her education with graduate studies in organizational leadership & non-profit management through the Harvard University Extension School.

Finley graduated cum laude from Colorado State University in 2008 with her bachelor's degree in human development and family studies. She was a two-year letterwinner for the Rams and was a Mountain West Conference Scholar-Athlete Award winner in 2008. She played one year for Lappe, who was a CSU assistant in 2006-07. Finley began her collegiate career at Northwestern University where she lettered in 2004-05.

She was involved with Boys and Girls Clubs of Fort Collins and Chicago as well as a representative on the Student Athletic Advisory Committee and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA).

A native of Minneapolis, Finley was a three-year team captain for The Breck School, helping her team to a Minnesota Class 2A State Championship in 2004, runner-up finish in 2003 and a third-place showing in 2002. Her AAU team, the Minnesota Metro Stars won the Nike Showcase championship in Chicago in 2003.

Finley began her coaching career in her native state, as an assistant with her former AAU team from 2005-07. She coached the 12U, 13U and 16U teams, developing game schemes and practice plans while assisting with tournament organization and coordination. Finley also served as the MN Hardball basketball camp director from 2007-08, engaged in all aspects of the organization's functions.

MIRIAM RUTZEN

Director of Operations

Miriam Rutzen is in her second season as director of operations for the Colorado women's basketball program.

A native of Biggsville, Ill., Rutzen was a four-year standout at forward at Harvard (2009-13), ranking among the program's career top-10 in blocked shots and games played. She was a two-time recipient of Harvard's Best Defensive Player Award (2010-11, '11-12), helping the Crimson to a pair of second place Ivy League finishes and two Postseason WNIT berths.

Rutzen received her A.B. degree in Psychology from Harvard in 2013 along with a secondary degree in sociology. She spent the last academic year as an IEP Specialist for the West Central School District in her hometown of Biggsville, providing writing services and tutoring to a quadriplegic senior student. While working for the West Central School District, Rutzen served as the 6th grade girls basketball coach and a volunteer assistant varsity softball coach.

Rutzen was heavily involved in Colorado's summer camps for both boys and girls well before joining the Buffaloes in a full time capacity in August 2014. She was a commissioner over seven coaches for middle school age divisions at the girls' Individual Camps and was the director for the boys' Little Dribblers Camp, managing 10 coaches over 100 boys, ages 5-8.

MIKE PETRINO

Director of Recruiting and Video

Mike Petrino is in his first season as the Director of Recruiting and Video for the University of Colorado women's basketball program.

Petrino manages the sports video operations for the Buffaloes which includes, editing, production and related support for coaches and student-athletes. He plays a key role in Colorado's recruiting efforts to maximize connections with recruits, parents and coaches while providing support with video and social media endeavors.

Petrino comes to Boulder after spending the last four years as an assistant coach for the Wyoming women's basketball team. With Petrino on the bench, the Cowgirls won nearly 60 percent of their games including a pair of 20-plus win seasons from 2012-14 and a Postseason WNIT appearance in 2013.

Prior to joining Wyoming, Petrino had a successful prep coaching career in Portland, Ore. He was the head boys basketball coach at Central Catholic High School for five years, where he amassed a 97-37 overall record. His teams won five consecutive Mount Hood Conference Championships and made three Oregon State Activities Association State Tournament appearances, placing as high as third twice.

He was selected the Mount Hood Conference Coach of the Year three times and the Oregon Athletic Coaches Association All-Star Coach in 2008 and '11. In 2010, Petrino was invited to coach at the Nike Global Challenge which features some of the best high school players in the country.

In his five years as head coach, Petrino had nine players continue their basketball careers in college. Academically, Central Catholic was recognized by the OSAA in 2009 and '10 for having one of the top team grade point averages. Petrino had been on the Central Catholic staff since 2001, serving as an assistant coach, and junior varsity head coach before taking over the varsity program in 2006.

A native of Montana, he earned his bachelor's degree in Secondary Education in 1999 from Montana State Billings. Petrino and his wife, Kelly, have two daughters, Jamieson and Hayden.

ASHLEY BRAUN

Assistant Sports Information Director

Ashley Braun is in her second year as an assistant sports information director at the University of Colorado and first as the women's basketball contact. She also works with the women's golf program and has previously worked with the soccer and lacrosse teams.

Prior to joining Colorado, Braun spent three years as communications coordinator at the Fiesta Bowl in Scottsdale, Ariz. where she managed the website, social media channels, publications and developed communication plans for the college football bowl game's community events.

Braun graduated from Colorado in 2011, earning her bachelor's degree in broadcast journalism and worked as a student assistant in the sports information office.

TAKAMASA SAKAMOTO

Assistant Athletic Trainer

Takamasa Sakamoto is in his first year as an assistant athletic trainer with the University of Colorado Sports Medicine program. In addition to leading the needs for the CU women's basketball team, he also covers the Buffaloes' nationally prominent cheer squad.

Sakamoto joins Colorado after one year at Ohio State University, where he served as an intern from 2014-15.

He earned his bachelors of science degree in athletic training from the University of Alabama in 2012 and in 2014, Sakamoto received his masters of education in exercise science from Wichita State University.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Sakamoto enjoys hiking and playing golf.

KYLE GEDDES

Marketing/Promotions

Kyle Geddes is in his fifth year as a marketing/promotions coordinator with the CU Athletic Department. Geddes assists in all aspects of marketing and promotions for all 17 of Colorado's varsity sports, with a focus on women's basketball and volleyball.

Prior to joining Colorado, Geddes was a marketing assistant with the University of Maryland Athletic Department where he developed and executed marketing, ticket sales and game production for the Terrapins' men's soccer and women's lacrosse teams. His efforts allowed both programs to reach attendance milestones with both also exceeding their ticket revenue goals for the season. While focusing day-to-day on those sports, he also contributed to group ticket sales plans for football and men's and women's basketball.

Geddes spent two years (2008-10) as a marketing graduate assistant in the athletic department at St. John's (N.Y.) University. At St. John's he directed promotional and ticket sales efforts for women's soccer, women's basketball and men's lacrosse. He also implemented game day operations for eight of 16 varsity sports including men's basketball at Madison Square Garden. Geddes also worked for ISP Sports, where he was a promotions team member for the 2009 and 2010 BIG EAST Men's Basketball Tournament.

He earned his MBA from St. John's in 2010 with a concentration in marketing. Geddes obtained a bachelor's degree in marketing from Notre Dame in 2008, where he was also a four-year sports marketing intern for the Fighting Irish.

A native East Northport, NY, Geddes enjoys playing lacrosse and is an avid NHL and NBA fan.

ROSI HAUBER

Office Manager

Rosi Hauber is in her sixth year as office manager for the University of Colorado women's basketball team, assisting in virtually every phase of the program's day-to-day operation.

A CU Athletics veteran, Rosi arrived at CU in September 1997, and began a seven-year stint in the athletic director's office in 1998. In 2005 she moved over to the marketing and promotions and licensing area where she also assisted with the Alumni C-Club and the East Stadium Club Seats and Suites.

Rosi earned her diploma from Northeast Iowa Community college and worked at Iowa State University for 13 years before moving to Colorado in 1987. She grew up on her family's farm near Cresco, Iowa.

Rosi resides in Erie, Colo., with Jim Jokumsen and their Shiba Inu (Dora). She enjoys classic cars, travel, playing cards and college sports.

BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF

CHRIS HOWLETT

Academic Coordinator

Chris Howlett is in his fourth year in the Herbst Academic Center as he joined the staff in July 2012.

Howlett serves as the academic coordinator for the women's basketball, men's golf and skiing programs at CU. His primary role is to design and implement objective based academic programming for student-athletes to improve academic success, time management skills, decision making skills, and study skills with the long term goal being graduation, community involvement and career placement.

Prior to his arrival at CU, Howlett served as an athletic academic counselor at Florida Atlantic University from 2008-12. His responsibilities at FAU included the academic oversight of the men's soccer, women's softball, women's golf, and women's volleyball teams. In addition, Howlett served as the department's admissions liaison, textbook coordinator, and Life Skills coordinator.

Howlett attended Western High School in Davie, Fla., where he played baseball and hockey. He earned a bachelor's of business administration degree with a major in management, and minor in accounting, from Florida Atlantic University in 2008. To further his education and enhance his leadership and management skills, Howlett is currently pursuing a Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Management through the Lockheed Martin Engineering Management Program at the University of Colorado.

Howlett is originally from Northampton, England and enjoys traveling, playing hockey, and spending time with his wife, Rachel.

CHRIS SHECKLER

Assistant Director of Sports Performance

Chris Sheckler is in his fourth year as the assistant director of sports performance for women's basketball and volleyball, joining the Colorado staff in August 2012.

Sheckler, 28, came to CU from Montana State, where he was the assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Bobcats for one year (2011-12). While at MSU, Sheckler designed and implemented strength and conditioning programs for men's and women's basketball, men's and women's alpine and nordic skiing, as well and women's golf, while assisting with football. He went to MSU from South Dakota State where he spent two seasons (2009-11) as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach.

He graduated from Dakota Wesleyan University in 2009, where he received a Bachelor's degree in Exercise Science. He earned a Master of Science in Sports Science from South Dakota State in 2011. He also maintains strength and conditioning certifications through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA) and USA Weightlifting.

While at Dakota Wesleyan, Sheckler was an NAIA scholar All-American in football, an All-GPAC linebacker and a recipient of the Dakota Wesleyan Matthew D. Smith Award, which is given to the most outstanding senior student-athlete. He also lettered three years in track and field, where he participated in the hammer and indoor weight throws.

He was born August 6, 1986 in Cody, Wyo., and graduated from Rock

Springs High School (Rock Springs, Wyo.) where he lettered in football, track and field, and hockey. His hobbies include cycling, hunting, fishing, skiing and snowboarding. He also competes in Olympic weightlifting and the Scottish Highland Games.

DERIC SWANSON

Executive Director of BuffVision

Deric Swanson is in his 17th year as the Executive Director of BuffVision, coordinating all aspects of production involving the video display boards at Folsom Field and the Coors Events Center, both recently upgraded to a near $10 million operation for both facilities combined.

Swanson, 40, is considered one of the best in his field and came to CU from the National Hockey League's Colorado Avalanche, where he had worked for a brief time as the manager of game entertainment and video production. He had previously worked three-plus seasons with the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club, first as a stadium camera operator, and then as video production coordinator, including the 1998 Major League Baseball All-Star Game at Coors Field.

In 2003, BuffVision won the Golden Matrix Award for "Best Overall Video Display" in the University Division at the Information Display and Entertainment Association (IDEA) conference in Atlanta.

The following year, BuffVision was awarded two distinctions, one for the 2004 Aurora Awards, a Platinum Best of Show statue for In-Game Entertainment Graphics/Design, and a Telly Award for The Buffalo Stampede, CU's coaches' show. In 2006 and 2007, BuffVision won three more Telly Awards for Swanson's production, including two for the "Ralphie on Campus" institutional spot and another for The Buffalo Stampede, and in 2013 earned another Telly for a production involving CU's Men's Basketball team and the Navy Seals.

He is a 1996 graduate of Colorado State University, earning his bachelor's degree in technical journalism and broadcasting. He graduated Magna Cum Laude and was recognized as CSU's outstanding graduate in journalism.

He was born May 24, 1974 in Oakland, Calif., and attended two high schools. His father was stationed in the Azores, Portugal, and he spent two years at Lajes High School, where he lettered in football, soccer, volleyball and basketball. After moving to Colorado, he graduated from Liberty High School in Colorado Springs, where he lettered in football. He played volleyball on CSU's club team for three years. Swanson has also competed in eight IronMan events, including a personal best of 11 hours and 29 minutes in Phoenix, Ariz., in 2009.

He is married the former Heather Cohea and the couple has two sons, Gavin (7) and Dane (4).

ERIC PELLONI

Assistant Director of BuffVision

Eric Pelloni is in his 10th season as the assistant director of BuffVision, although he has been involved in CU Athletics for the better part of 15 years.

He assists with the video packages for CU's video display boards and has been on the BuffVision game day crew for 14 seasons. Pelloni also helps coordinate streaming and technical issues between CU Athletics and Pac-12 Enterprises.

BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF

When CU Athletics overhauled its official athletic website, CUBuffs.com, in 2003, Pelloni was hired on a part-time basis to create video content and stream live. He has created the majority of the graphic work and assisted in the designing of CUBuffs.com, and has designed several women's basketball media guide covers.

Pelloni was also the associate producer of "The Buffalo Stampede" coaches show which aired weekly on FSN Rocky Mountain until ending with Colorado's transition over to the Pac-12 Networks agreement.

Prior to his full-time appointment at CU, Pelloni worked as a freelance video editor/graphic artist in the Denver area, creating video content for both broadcast and non-broadcast applications for a number of clients including Qwest Communications, Coors, XCEL Energy and the United Way of New York City.

Pelloni graduated from Metropolitan State College of Denver in 1998 and served as an Adjunct Professor at Metro State in 2003-04. He and his wife Gabbie, CU's Director of Operations for Olympic Sports, have a son, E.J.

NEILL WOELK

Contributing Editor, CUBuffs.com

Neill Woelk, a veteran journalist of 35 years with many ties to the University of Colorado and Boulder communities, joined CUBuffs.com as its contributing editor in July 2015.

Woelk spent 30 years as a sports reporter, columnist, assistant sports editor and sports at the Boulder Daily Camera, where he covered a multitude of CU sports and events. He also worked for newspapers in Oregon and Utah.

Woelk is a 1982 CU graduate and a Colorado native. He was the 1999 Colorado sportswriter of the year and has received numerous Colorado Press Association awards for his work.

"The University of Colorado has been part of the fabric of my life for most of my life," Woelk says. "It's exciting to be part of an athletic department that has such a storied past and an equally bright future."

MICHELLE WOLCOTT

Team Physician

Dr. Michelle Wolcott is in her 13th year as team physician for the University of Colorado women's basketball program.

An orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Wolcott specializes in the management of athletic injuries to the ankle, knee and shoulder. She earned her bachelor of science degree in biology from the University of Utah and graduated from Georgetown University School of Medicine in 1996.

Dr. Wolcott completed her internship and residency in orthopedic surgery at Loyola University Medical Center in Maywood, Ill., in 2001. She also completed a fellowship in sports medicine at the University of Iowa Hospital & Clinics in 2002.

A member of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons and the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, Dr. Wolcott spends her free time with her son, Henry (5), and daughter Charlotte (3).

STEPHANIE CHU, D.O.

Team Physician

Dr. Stephanie Chu has served as team physician within CU Athletics since 2008. Working with women's basketball, soccer and volleyball teams at CU, she specializes in primary care sports medicine, with personal interests in women's sports medicine and endurance athletes.

Originally from Westerville, Ohio, Chu earned her undergraduate degree from Miami University in 1999 and her medical degree from the Ohio University College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2003. She completed her Family Medicine residency and Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship at the University of Connecticut in 2008, working with various athletic teams while at UConn.

Currently residing in Denver, Chu is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) and the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine (AMSSM). She spends her free time traveling and volunteering with the nonprofit organization Hope Shines, traveling to Kigali, Rwanda with the organization every summer.

PRESIDENT BRUCE BENSON

Bruce D. Benson became president of the University of Colorado in March 2008. Since taking the helm of his alma mater, he has enhanced CU's standing as one of the nation's leading teaching and research universities, advancing the economy, health and culture of Colorado and beyond. He is the longest-serving CU president in more than 50 years.

During Benson's tenure, CU's research funding has reached record levels in each of the past four years (including $861 million in 2013-14 and a record $884 million in 2010-11), supporting the university's research strengths in biotechnology, health care, renewable and sustainable energy, and aerospace engineering, among others. He has led efforts to promote cross-campus collaboration that have resulted in cooperative academic programs and research initiatives, most notably CU's Biofrontiers Institute, led by Nobel laureate Tom Cech.

CU has broken records for fundraising in each of the past six years (including a record $360 million in 2014-15) under his leadership. Benson and his wife, Marcy, chaired CU's $1.5 billion Creating Futures fundraising campaign, which exceeded its goal in November 2013. The campaign, the largest in university history, supports scholarships, academic enhancements (endowed faculty positions, programs), research projects and capital improvements across CU's campuses.

Benson, 77, has guided efforts to institute operational efficiencies, cut bureaucracy and improve business practices at the university. CU has secured legislation over the past seven sessions of the Colorado General Assembly that has allowed it to save millions annually in areas such as procurement, insurance and construction. He has also established a number of public-private partnerships to make the university more entrepreneurial and meet the needs of businesses in Colorado and across the country.

He oversees a system with four campuses (Boulder, Colorado Springs, Denver, and Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora) where some 67,500 students pursue courses for credit. During his tenure, CU's four campuses have seen record enrollment. The university's annual budget is $3.55 billion.

Before becoming CU's president, Benson had already made his mark in business, politics, philanthropy, education and civic endeavors. He founded Bruce Mineral Group in 1965, a year after earning his bachelor's degree in Geology from CU.

He was active in a variety of educational, civic and political endeavors; he was the Republican nominee for Colorado governor in 1994. Benson has received many honors recognizing his leadership in a variety of endeavors, but two are particularly notable: CU in 2004 granted him an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters, and in February 2009 he was inducted into the Colorado Business Hall of Fame.

He was born July 4, 1938 in Chicago, and has three children and 10 grandchildren.

CHANCELLOR PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip P. DiStefano is in his seventh year as the Chancellor at the University of Colorado Boulder. Prior to his appointment on May 5, 2009, Dr. DiStefano was the top academic officer at CU-Boulder for eight years as the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. He had also served as interim chancellor twice during pivotal times in the university's history.

Dr. DiStefano, 68, co-chaired the steering committee for CU-Boulder's visionary strategic plan, Flagship 2030, conceived with campus, community and statewide input, to guide the university for decades to come. Today, Dr. DiStefano is shepherding its implementation as Flagship 2030 has moved from vision to reality.

Dr. DiStefano has served CU-Boulder for 41 years. He joined the University of Colorado in 1974 as an Assistant Professor of Curriculum and Instruction at the School of Education. His academic career flourished as he assumed a series of academic and administrative positions, including Professor, Associate Dean, Dean and Vice Chancellor. He was appointed Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs in 2001.

He also served five years as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, as he assumed the role on June 1, 2000, and held it until appointing Dr. David Clough to the position in the spring of 2005.

As Chancellor he works closely with students, faculty, staff, alumni, donors, governing officials, and business and community leaders in extending CU's legacy as a preeminent national comprehensive research university.

A first-generation college graduate, Dr. DiStefano earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University in 1968 and a Master of Arts degree in English Education from West Virginia University in 1971. He holds a Doctorate in Humanities Education from Ohio State University, where he served as a teaching and research associate.

Dr. DiStefano began his educational career as a high school English teacher in Ohio. He has authored and co-authored numerous books and articles on literacy education.

He was born September 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He is married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella, and the couple has three grown daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer, and two granddaughters.

In 2015, he served as the official starter for the 37th annual Boulder Boulder, the city's 10-kilometer race that is the fourth largest in the nation. He has been very active throughout his career in the Boulder Community, having previously served on numerous boards, including the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

PROVOST RUSSELL MOORE

Dr. Russell L. Moore has had a long and distinguished career at the University of Colorado Boulder, now serving in the capacity of Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, having assumed the position July 1, 2010.

Dr. Moore also previously served as interim vice chancellor for research from May 2009 to July 2010, and prior to that appointment, he was the associate vice chancellor for research since 2006. Dr. Moore served as chair of kinesiology and applied physiology (now integrative physiology) from 1994 to 2001, and was assistant professor (1984-86), associate professor (1993-96) and full professor (1996-present) in that department.

He holds an adjunct professorship in medicine (cardiology) at the University of Colorado's Anschutz Medical Campus at the University of Colorado Denver.

He was an assistant and associate professor (1986-91) in the departments of medicine, cellular and molecular physiology at the Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine in Hershey, Pa. He did postdoctoral work at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas (1981-84).

Dr. Moore earned a Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry from the University of California at Davis in 1976, and a master's degree (1978) and doctorate (1982) in physiology from Washington State University in Pullman, Wash.

FACULTY REP DAVID CLOUGH

Faculty Athletics Representative Dr. David Clough is a national leader in college athletic reforms and represents CU to the Pac-12 Conference and the NCAA. A professor of chemical and biological engineering, Dr. Clough enters his 11th year as the University of Colorado Boulder's Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR), as he assumed the role in March 2005.

Professor Clough reports to Chancellor DiStefano and works closely with the Director of Athletics, Rick George, and the coaches and staff of Athletics to support student-athletes, especially in their academic pursuits. The FAR's duties include oversight of the eligibility certification and compliance functions on the Boulder Campus. He strives to be well known to CU's student-athletes, and he and his wife Sydney are present at many home competitions of CU's sports teams. He also travels with many CU teams to away competitions.

Dr. Clough replaced Chancellor Phil DiStefano, who served as FAR from June 1, 2000 until just shortly after his appointment as interim chancellor for the Boulder campus in 2005. Clough is only the sixth FAR in CU history, joining a prestigious list: Walter Franklin (1947-1948), Warren Thompson (1949-1966), William Baughn (1967-1989), James Corbridge (1989-2000) and DiStefano (2000-2005).

Dr. Clough has had a significant impact on engineering education at CU-Boulder and beyond through career-long efforts to enhance the learning of engineering students. He has pioneered active- and cooperative-learning techniques in the College of Engineering and Applied Science, and in 1989 he originated the concept of the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory. Clough's research has focused on the automated control of chemical and related processes.

He has been involved with student-athlete success for more than 30 years as his relationship with the CU athletic department dates to more than three decades. Throughout his career, Dr. Clough has taken a special interest in engineering student-athletes, long appreciating the combined academic and athletic challenges they face. He played an integral role in the Rhodes Scholarship candidacy of Buff football star Jim Hansen, an Academic All-American who was awarded the Rhodes in 1993.

Dr. Clough received his bachelor's degree from the Case Institute of Technology (now Case Western Reserve University) in 1968 and his master's from CU-Boulder in 1969, both in chemical engineering. He worked as an engineer for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., from 1969 to 1972 before returning to CU-Boulder to earn his doctorate in 1975. He joined the faculty of the Department of Chemical Engineering at that time.

He served as the college's associate dean for academic affairs from 1986 to 1992, playing a role in a number of important initiatives, including the Gemmill Engineering Library, the Herbst Humanities Program, and the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory. From 1993 through 1999, he was associate chair of the Department of Chemical Engineering and was responsible for significant improvements to the department's undergraduate advising program.

Known for his willingness to experiment with new educational concepts and technology, Dr. Clough has worked to reform traditional lecture classes into an interactive workshop format that greatly enhances the learning of students. Through these efforts, he has helped to reshape the way engineering is taught. The student-run Engineering Excellence Fund chose Dr. Clough as the first recipient of the Sullivan-Carlson Inspiration in Teaching Award in 1998. He has received numerous teaching and advising awards from nominations by his students over the years. He also has been given the college's Hutchinson Teaching Award and Peters Service Award. He received the first Boulder Faculty Assembly Teaching Award in 1980 and the Boulder Campus Outstanding Advisor Award in 1996. His merit as an educator also has been recognized outside CU. In 1995 the American Society for Engineering Education (Rocky Mountain Section) presented him with its first Outstanding Educator Award.

In April 2000, he received the college's Distinguished Engineering Alumnus Award in the Education category. It recognized his significant impact on engineering education through pioneering the active learning concept for the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory, and in leading the college in changing traditional lecture courses to an active learning format.

In his role as Faculty Athletics Representative, Clough represents CU to the Pac-12 Conference and the NCAA. He provides a liaison between Athletics and the faculty and works to enhance the educational experience of 350 student-athletes. Clough has been active in the Faculty Athletics Representatives Association (FARA) and will become President of FARA in November. In his time as FAR, Dr. Clough has established a reputation for his expertise in the NCAA's Academic Performance Program and the program's statistics tracking the academic progress of student-athletes, the Academic Progress Rate (APR) and the Graduation Success Rate (GSR). He has developed tracking and predictive tools that have been shared with over 100 NCAA Division I institutions.

He and his wife, Sydney, have four grown children, Astrid, William, Rodney and Damon, and four grandchildren. Dr. Clough's father, John W. Clough, was a chemical engineer, and his two brothers are retired engineers. The Clough family established a scholarship endowment in engineering at CU in honor of John Clough, who died in 1994. The family holds a strong belief in giving back to the educational institutions that have benefited its members.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR RICK GEORGE

Rick George was introduced as just the sixth full-time athletic director in University of Colorado history on July 17, 2013, returning to Boulder where he helped play a role in the school's first and only national championship in football some 23 years earlier.

George, 55, came to Colorado from the Texas Rangers baseball club of the American League, where he was named chief operating officer on October 5, 2010 with a promotion to president of business operations in February 2013. He agreed to a 5-year contract at CU, and he officially started on the job on August 12, 2013.

His list of achievements in his first 24 months in the position were many, but none more significant than shepherding through a $156 million Athletic Complex Expansion from creation through fruition, gaining approval from the Board of Regents and then raising nearly one-half of the estimated cost to initiate construction, which began May 12, 2014. The project is the core of the Sustainable Excellence Initiative (SEI), the jewel of which is a long-awaited indoor practice facility. Once green-lighted, he spearheaded the most successful fundraising campaign in athletic department history, raising just under $75 million a year-and-a-half into the project.

George implemented the department's first-ever comprehensive strategic plan, which has mapped CU's immediate and long range purpose and goals. He also redesigned the management teams, made tough budget decisions that reduced deficits he inherited, and canvassed the state, region and nation in both friend- and fundraising.

Near the end of his first year, he was recognized by CU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee as its choice for Staff Member of the Year; no token award, the group acknowledged his attendance at most home athletic events, regular meetings with team captains of all programs to interact with them and receive their feedback, and willingness to meet with any student-athlete and that his door is always open to them.

George brings the most diverse background to the position than any before him at Colorado: all five others had extensive and primarily exclusive college athletic histories, the only exceptions being when Marolt left CU after 10 years as ski coach to lead the U.S. Olympic ski team before returning, and Tharp, who was a university attorney with strong CU-Boulder campus ties. While George began and worked in the college athletic world for the first half of his professional career, he stepped outside that box for the second half.

George is just the sixth full-time athletic director in Colorado history, following in the footsteps of Harry Carlson (1927-65), Eddie Crowder (1965-84), Bill Marolt (1984-96), Dick Tharp (1996-2004) and Mike Bohn (2005-13). Two others have bridged directors in interim capacities, Jack Lengyel (six months between Tharp and Bohn) and Ceal Barry (two months between Bohn and George).

George was with the Rangers for less than three years, but saw the team win two American League championships and compile a 243-176 record (.580 winning percentage) during his time there, second-best in the major leagues during that time frame. As the COO, he worked closely with team president and CEO, baseball Hall-of-Famer Nolan Ryan, and was responsible for all facets of the Rangers' business operations, including oversight of all sales and marketing efforts, broadcast and communications, ticket and suite sales, naming rights, etc., in addition to overseeing the finance, human resource and operations departments.

Among his many accomplishments with the Rangers was a comprehensive branding study that successfully rebranded the ball club, and an implementation of a new ticketing strategy that over the course of three seasons increased ticket revenues by over $30 million. The club's attendance saw an increase of 40 percent from the 2010 season to nearly 3.5 million in 2012, second in the American League (behind the New York Yankees) and third in the majors. The 2013 numbers were on pace to exceed the 3 million mark again when he left the franchise for CU.

Prior to joining the Rangers, George served as executive vice president and chief of operations for the PGA TOUR for two-and-a-half years (beginning in June 2008). While with the TOUR, he worked with the corporate marketing department in renewing sponsorships and creating new events. He also oversaw the Tournament Business Affairs division that worked with Tournaments to increase tournament revenue.

He also worked for the PGA TOUR as president of the Champions Tour from 2003-08, and as the executive vice president for championship management his last three years there. His major accomplishments included increasing revenues and sponsorships and the development of strategic plans, the latter including a vision and mission statement as well as core values. The Champions Tour had grown to a minimum 29 events with over $55 million in prize money when he left for the PGA TOUR.

From 1998-2003, George served as President and CEO of the Fore!Kids Foundation, a 501c3 organization that raised money for children's charities via golf-related events, where he led rebranding and organizational efforts that resulted in increases in charitable giving to the Foundation.

At the collegiate level, George worked in three major conferences (Big Ten, Big 8, Southeastern) in football operations, beginning with his alma mater, the University of Illinois, as football recruiting coordinator (1983-87).

He graduated from Illinois in 1982 with a Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts & Sciences Individual Study that had an emphasis on Sports Communication and Journalism. He was a four-year letterman at cornerback for the Illini, playing in 44 straight games and starting in 27 games in all, as he played two years each under coaches Gary Moeller and Mike White. He was a two-time recipient of the school's Bruce Capel Award, given for dedication and courage to honor Capel who lost his life serving his country in Vietnam; George received the honor for his junior and senior seasons.

Upon his graduation, White named him the assistant director for player personnel for the Illini, and a year later (1983), he assumed the all sports recruiting coordinator. In March 1984, George took over the recruiting chores solely for football, with his first class ranked No. 1 in the nation by the recruiting services with all in the top 20; he coordinated five classes in all at Illinois when the call came to take him out west to Colorado.

On March 2, 1987, Bill McCartney hired him as Colorado's football recruiting coordinator. Two-and-a-half years later (Dec. 21, 1989), George was promoted to assistant athletic director for football operations, not coincidentally after the Buffaloes finished the regular season with an 11-0 record and the school's first-ever No. 1 national ranking in the polls. CU lost to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl and would finish No. 4, but came back to go 11-1-1 in 1990, this time defeating the Irish in the Orange Bowl to earn consensus national champion honors.

Rick George is overseeing the $153 million facility upgrade to Folsom Field that is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 2015 and will benefit all CU Student Athletes.

Shortly thereafter, he left the Buffaloes for Vanderbilt University, where he was reunited with former CU offensive coordinator Gerry DiNardo, who was named the Commodores' head coach a year earlier. In eight years at Vanderbilt (1991-98), he also served as associate athletic director for external operations in conjunction with overseeing the football program. This was where George first expanded his professional role outside of solely football, as he had oversight over all external departments, particularly in the area of managing budgets and developing marketing and promotional strategies for all sports.

George was born April 3, 1960 in Woodstock, Ill., and graduated from Collinsville (Ill.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Nancy Green, and the couple has two grown daughters, Jenni Reed (husband Tom) and Christi, and one granddaughter (Harper).

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, 139 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state.

The Boulder campus encompasses almost 800 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into this century.

While almost 30,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado at Denver, the University of Colorado Anschutz Campus (Aurora) and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Bruce Benson lead the four-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. Phil DiStefano is in his seventh year as the chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions. CU-Boulder is regularly ranked among the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, and a 2010 USA Today/Princeton Review survey rated the University of Colorado as the fifth-best value among American public colleges. CU was recently ranked as the No. 33 university in the world by the Times Higher Education.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 18 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actors Robert Redford and Christopher Meloni, the latter starring for years on Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, and the creators of South Park, Trey Parker and Matt Stone.

If the aphorism, "Somewhere between the Rockies and reality," seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University's past and present. The recently completed ATLAS building is one of the most state-of-the-art structures on any college campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it. Take in a pro sporting event down the road in Denver, just one of 13 cities with teams in all four pro leagues.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, "If you leave Boulder, you will return."

PAC-12 CONFERENCE

Conference History

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back 99 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland. The original membership consisted of four schools — the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference, essentially replacing Colorado, which left for the Big 7 two years earlier. The PCC continued as a nine-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities was formed and Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as commissioner of the Pac-8.

On July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Thomas C. Hansen was named the commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

During the 2010-11 academic year, Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the conference into a modern 12-team league by adding the University of Colorado and the University of Utah. The addition of CU and Utah led to an agreement to equal revenue sharing for the first time in conference history, created two divisions (North and South) for football only, established a football championship game for the first time ever, secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school and established the Pac-12 Network and Pac-12 Digital Network that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, as the Buffaloes were the first domino to fall in a change of the national landscape which, in just one week, saw Nebraska also leave the Big 12 and join the Big 10, Boise State depart the WAC for the Mountain West, TCU jump from the MWC for the Big East, and then on June 17, Utah agreeing to join CU to make it an even dozen in the Pac-12. Big-time rivals for the first half of the last century, the Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978. During the 33 years between expansions, Pac-10 teams claimed 258 NCAA titles (130 women's, 128 men's).

At present, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 12 women's sports. Additionally, the conference schools are members of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports. CU participates in the MPSF in indoor track and now in women's lacrosse and has competed since 1950 in the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association (RMISA) in skiing, which is a coed sport.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located in the heart of San Francisco.

Conference of Champions

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Just 27 days after the Conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the Conference on the forefront of collegiate athletics. The Networks, including one national network, six regional networks, and a robust digital network marked the first-ever integrated media company owned by a college conference. In addition, the "TV Everywhere" rights allow fans to access Pac-12 Networks outside the home on any digital device, including smartphones and tablet computers.

That same year, the Pac-12 also launched its Globalization Initiative to proactively promote the Conference and member institutions through student-athlete exchanges and sport. In the first four years, Pac-12 student-athletes have enjoyed unique cultural and athletic experiences in China, fielding full university and Pac-12 all-star teams in women's volleyball and men's basketball. The Conference and its member schools have gained significant brand exposure for the future and set a foundation for growth.

On the field, the Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions[®]," claiming an incredible 140 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000. For the 10th consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most or tied for the most NCAA titles of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01, including nine in 2014-15 (two claimed by Colorado: men's cross country and skiing). Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 49 of the last 55 years, four of the exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the Conference finished second.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 400 championships in 2010-11; with the inclusion of Colorado and Utah, the league teams zoomed past 450 titles, outdistancing the next conference by nearly 200. In all, Conference teams have won 478 NCAA Championships (291 men's, 158 women's, 29 coed).

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA individual champions, as 2,208 individual crowns have been won by Pac-12 student-athletes over the years (1,333 in men's championships, 701 in women's and 174 in coed (e.g. skiing, fencing).

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 34 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 25 occasions, including 15-consecutive years from 2000-2015.

2014-15 QUICK REVIEW

In the 2014-15 academic year, the Pac-12's nine NCAA titles came in the form of four men's and four women's and one coed team title. Five different league schools claimed NCAA titles and, of the seven NCAA institutions to have won multiples titles, three were from the Pac-12. No other conference in the country had more than one team win multiple NCAA titles.

Oregon was one of only two programs in the country to win three NCAA titles in 2014-15. The Ducks successfully defended its indoor and outdoor NCAA Track & Field titles, and also won the women's outdoor crown for the first time in 30 years. Colorado and Stanford claimed a pair of titles, as well. The Buffaloes claimed the academic year's first NCAA title, taking home its second straight men's cross country crown in dominating fashion, posting a 33-point margin of victory. Colorado then grabbed the hardware in skiing, its third in five years and 20th in the history of the program.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-12 in 2014-15. Of the 22 sports sponsored, 20 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 67 of a possible 97 teams into the postseason (69.1 percent), while the women sent 79 of a possible 115 teams (68.7 percent).

2015-16 OUTLOOK

BOULDER – Basketball and most other sports have a simple premise: Games are won by outscoring the other team – or flipping that, by preventing the other team from outscoring you.

The latter half of that principle is called defense, and it's where Linda Lappe's fifth University of Colorado women's basketball team did a collective face-plant in 2014-15.

Offensively, the Buffaloes were just fine, thank you. Defensively . . . better let Lappe explain it:

"Last year it was the best offensive team I've ever coached in what, seven or eight years? And it was the worst defensive team I've ever coached. Consequently it was the worst team record I've ever had."

The unsightly numbers back Lappe up. Her Buffs finished 15-17 overall, 6-12 in the Pac-12 Conference. And a peek behind those records reveals that Lappe is spot on in saying last season's team might have had problems getting a significant stop against a mediocre high school team.

CU averaged 69.1 points a game last winter and allowed 68.3 – the highest yield in Lappe's five years in Boulder. The Buffs' margin for error was miniscule, their errors were monstrous. Averaging 17 turnovers a game, they were last in the Pac-12 in that category with a turnover margin of minus-5.28.

Couple those lost possessions with a squishy defense and managing even 15 wins borders on miraculous.

Lappe's best defensive team at CU (2012-13) allowed 54.5 points a game – a figure that can atone for a multitude of offensive sins and even compensate for double-digit turnovers on occasion. But a scoring differential of less than a point (69.1-68.3) for a 'D'-deficient, error-prone team is the stuff of nightmares for a hoops coach.

SO WHEN PRACTICE BEGAN earlier this month, the Buffs went back to basics. Which means every time they lace up their sneakers they're thinking first of putting a hand in someone's face, moving their feet faster, fighting through screens, filling passing lanes . . . generally playing stronger defense.

"Offense is putting the ball through the hoop and we can do that," said forward Jamee Swan, the Buffs' only senior. "But defense is something you don't really learn growing up. The first thing you do when you play basketball is shoot. So we're putting offense on the back burner. We still work on it every day, but our defensive presence is going to be phenomenal this year and I can't wait for everybody to see how fired up we are on defense."

Swan concedes that she and her 2014-15 teammates, for some reason, ranged from cool to frosty on the idea of defensive dirty work. "Yeah," Swan said, "I was very slow on my feet and backtracked from what I had done the season before. I'm not sure what the cause was, but I felt like I was behind in everything. I didn't foul as much as I did the year before but I was never in the right position to play defense."

Lauren Huggins

Lappe recognized it in Swan and everyone else, but couldn't seem to get the Buffs on the same wavelength. My bad, she admitted Wednesday at the school's annual hoops media day: "We felt like we didn't have the right mindset last year, and that's on me . . . We were a little less aggressive in how we coached defense. This year, we're back to our aggressive defensive style – getting up and pressing the basketball, moving our feet, getting in the gap, passing lanes – just being there, wherever we need to be.

"Last year we didn't play a great system of team defense. We talk about playing five versus one – whoever has the ball is not just going against their opponent, but going against the five that are on the floor. Really it's just taking pride in our defense and understanding that it's how we're going to win."

2015-16 OUTLOOK

With Swan being the only senior and the rest of the roster composed of four juniors, three sophomores and four freshman, the Buffs will be among the youngest teams in the Pac-12. It also will be among the youngest teams Lappe has coached.

But her freshman class is expected to be atypical in terms of its talent and collective basketball IQs. Lappe projects that three of the frosh foursome – 6-2 Monica Burich, 6-2, Makenzie Ellis, 5-8 Kennedy Leonard, 5-10 Alexis Robinson – might be on the floor at any one time.

“They have to be on a fast track . . . they have to catch on quickly,” Lappe said, noting that by the time non-conference play begins on Nov. 14 against Loyola Marymount the young Buffs should be working their way up to speed.

She doesn’t expect productivity to suffer because of youth. All, she said, have “high basketball IQs. Things you’re normally teaching freshmen that these don’t have to learn. They’ve played at a high level to this point. The things we’re teaching them are positioning, getting through screens, offensive sets . . . not angles, how to pass, when to get the ball out of their hands.

“The things that are hard to teach, we’re not having to teach these freshmen. It’s been a lot of fun for our coaching staff to take the next step with our team . . . there’s going to be some bumps along the way and it’s going to be a constant learning process. But they’re highly, highly competitive kids with great basketball IQs. They want to win and they’re great teammates.”

SWAN, WHO LED THE BUFFS last season in scoring (13.2 ppg), rebounding (7.9 rpg) and blocked shots (1.9 bpg), hopes her final CU team can emulate her first. In her freshman year (2012-13), the Buffs set Lappe’s gold standard for defense (54.5 ppg) and reached the NCAA Tournament.

Swan’s best memories of that season include “the intensity on defense and everything that we did.” She recalled how Chuck Jeffery and the Malcolm-Peck twins (Meagan, Brenna) “didn’t put up with anything.

The intensity on defense and in everything that we do . . . (relates how Chucky and the Malcolm-Peck twins didn’t put up with anything. When you came in after a bad practice, they would pull you aside and say you need to pull your head out of your butt and go.

“I want to recreate that and have Haley Smith (junior wing) be the Meagan Malcolm-Peck of our team and Lauren Huggins (junior wing) be the Chucky Jeffery . . . we need to have people that will make sure that everyone is on target, on the same page.”

That page, of course, is torn from the book on outrageous ‘D.’ What might have been underemphasized last season has been pushed to the forefront.

“Every single day when our players come (to practice) they have to know that we’re going to be tough on the floor, that we’re going to be focused, that we can get through anything mentally, any adversity,” Lappe said.

“We’re going to be able to score at a high level; we have talented offensive players. But can we defend? I think the Denver Broncos are showing defense can do some really amazing things. When we went to the NCAA Tournament (in 2013-13) we were holding teams under 50 consistently, under 45 consistently. We want to get back to having a presence on the defensive side of things.”

It’s all about “getting back to who we are,” she said. “And that’s playing defense. If you can play defense, you’re on the floor. It’s a mindset.”

Jamee Swan

Forward • 6-2 • Senior • 3L • Marana, Ariz. (Marana)

Coming off her most consistent season, Jamee Swan has moved into the upper echelon of front court players in the Pac-12. She is a fiery, passionate forward that gives Colorado a solid post presence. She is a dynamic rebounder who has the strength to finish down low, but can also move to the outside and play with her face to the basket.

Career: Colorado's active leader in scoring, rebounding and blocked shots. She enters her senior year ranking sixth in blocks (126), 14th in double-doubles (10) and 17th in rebounds (577) on CU's all-time lists. With 866 points she is well on pace to become the 28th member of CU's 1,000 point club.

2014-15 (Junior): Earned honorable mention to the 2015 All-Pac-12 Conference team after leading Colorado in scoring (13.2 ppg), rebounding (7.9 rpg) and blocked shots (1.9 bpg). Her 62 blocked shots rank fifth on Colorado's single-season list. She shot 46.7 percent on the season and also led the Buffaloes in free throws made (101) and attempted (141) while ranking third in assists (60). Swan scored in double-figures a team-best 22 times including six of her last eight and 12 of her last 15. Swan also led the team with eight double-doubles and 10 double-digit rebounding games. In the Pac-12 Swan ranked second in blocks, fourth in offensive rebounds (3.2 orpg), sixth in overall rebounding, 12th in defensive rebounds (4.8 drpg), 13th in scoring and 15th in field goal percentage. She had three games with five blocks, standing as both career and team season highs (Long Beach State, USC and Washington State). Against Long Beach State (12/30), she established a career and team season high with 15 rebounds. Swan had 43 percent of Colorado's blocked shots as the Buffaloes total of 144 blocks is the fourth most in one season in team history. Swan reached the 20-point mark on five occasions, including a career-best 28-point performance at Washington State (1/25) a game in which she also set a personal best with 12 field goals made. She had a great overall weekend in the Pacific Northwest, scoring 22 points, 11 rebounds and a career-best six assists at Washington (1/23). Swan averaged 13.3 points, 8.3 rebounds and 2.3 blocks during the Pac-12 Tournament. She had 15 points, five rebounds and four blocks in the first round win over USC (3/5). The next night she had 18 points, a game-high 13 rebounds, and two blocks in Colorado's upset win over No. 8/9 and top seeded Oregon State in the quarterfinals.

2013-14 (Sophomore): Led Colorado in both field-goal percentage (.505) and blocked shots (36) while ranking third in rebounding (5.3 rpg). On the Pac-12

Conference leaderboard, Swan was fifth in field-goal percentage, eighth in blocks (1.1 bpg) and 15th in offensive rebounds (2.4 orpg). She had 12 double-figure scoring games, and shot particularly well in those outings (76-of-128, 59.4 when in double figures). She shot 50 percent or better in 10 of those instances, including a 7-of-9 effort resulting in 16 points in the WNIT win over TCU (3/19). Swan netted a career-high 25 points in just 18 minutes in the home loss to Washington (2/14), hitting 9-of-12 from the field and 7-of-10 from the free-throw line. That career-best night was the middle game of a three-game stretch where she scored 53 points in just 54 minutes (at Oregon, Washington, Washington State). Swan recorded her second career double-double with 20 points and a career-best 13 rebounds against No. 4 ranked Stanford (1/12). She had one other double-digit rebounding game, pulling down 10 in the Pac-12 Tournament first round win over UCLA (3/6). She had a memorable homecoming in Colorado's come-from-behind overtime win at Arizona (2/23). Swan scored 18 points, grabbed seven rebounds and recorded a career- and team season-high six steals against the Wildcats. She also hit a short jumper with 0.9 seconds remaining which sent the game into overtime. Swan was only one of two Buffs (with Rachel Hargis) to appear in all 34 games. She logged eight starts, mostly coming in the early portion of the Pac-12 season.

2012-13 (Freshman): Swan led Colorado in field-goal accuracy at 45.5 percent (66-of-145) and ranked second in blocks (28) and fourth in rebounding (4.5 rpg). Her success from the field actually improved to 48.1 percent (39-of-81) during Pac-12 play and she was the team's third-best rebounder during the league schedule (4.6 rpg). Swan appeared in all 32 games and logged one start which came in the second contest of her career. In that game at UMKC (11/18), she scored 14 points on 6-of-9 from the field with three rebounds. Swan wasn't intimidated by the nation's best. At No. 6/6 Stanford (1/27) she scored 14 points while recording a personal-best 7-of-9 performance from the field. She had an outstanding Pac-12 Tournament, averaging 10.5 points, 8.0 rebounds and 2.0 blocks in games against Washington (3/8) and No. 4/4 ranked Stanford (3/9). Swan recorded her first career double-double with a personal-best 15 points to go along with 10 rebounds in the Pac-12 quarterfinal win over Washington. In all she scored in double-digits five times and grabbed double-digit rebounds on two occasions. Swan grabbed a career-best 11 rebounds in the home win over Utah (1/8), narrowly missing a double-double with eight points. She had a career-best four blocked shots in the NCAA Tournament game against Kansas (3/23).

High School: A 2012 graduate of Marana High School near Tucson, where she was highly regarded as the top prospect in the state of Arizona. She was ranked as the eighth best forward in the nation and the 38th best overall player by ESPN HoopGurlz. Swan averaged 20.8 points, 12.8 rebounds, 3.4 blocks and 3.0 steals as a senior, earning All-Southern Arizona, first team All-Division I, and Division I Player of the Year honors from the Tucson Citizen. A 2012 Sporting News honorable mention All-American, she had a double-double in all but one contest with game highs of 42 points and 19 rebounds. Despite missing 10 games of her senior season with an injury, Swan received honorable mention to the WBCA All-America team and was a McDonald's All-America nominee. Swan averaged 19.6 points, 13.4 rebounds, 4.1 blocked shots and 4.1 steals for the Tigers as a junior, earning first team All-Southern Arizona and Southern Arizona 4A1 Player of the Year honors from the Tucson Citizen. She was also the Arizona Daily Star Player of the Year and a member of the Class 4A All-State first team. Swan was a 2009-10 Class 4A All-State performer as a sophomore, averaging 21.5 points, 15.2 rebounds and 6.3 blocks per game. Swan earned a total of 12 varsity letters at Marana, also

My favorite thing about Colorado Basketball is: Having 11 sisters

Favorite quote: "Keep moving forward" - Walt Disney

The best moment from your 2014-15 season: Beating OSU in the Pac-12 Tournament

Favorite thing to do in Boulder: Walk down Pearl Street.

If you could pick one reality TV show to be on what would it be and why?: Amazing Race with my mom because we watched it a lot growing up.

One word to describe me off the court is: Goofy

My pregame rituals are: Take a nap, listen to music, get taped and sit alone.

One thing people don't know about me is: My ears are different sizes

The three things I cannot live without are: Movies, friends, internet

Best talent not related to basketball: Eating more food than the average bear

Favorite story about a teammate or yourself with your teammates: When me and ZBF [Zoe Beard-Fails] hid in Jen Reese's Room and scared her in Iowa.

If I could play one other sport in college it would be: Volleyball

If I could have a shot to play 1-on-1 against anyone in the world it would be: Tony Parker

Your all-time 'Starting 5': Larry Bird, Scotty Pippen, Michael Jordan, Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Wilt Chamberlain

Do you have any hidden talents?: I can lick my nose, and make the Chewbacca noise

Between your teammates, who would win at a game of HORSE?: Lauren Huggins

When did you first play basketball, who got you started on the sport?: When I was 2, my mom would take me to her practices

Who would we find on your iPod right now?: J. Cole, Kanye, Fetty Wap, Frank Oceans, G-Eazy, Justin Bieber, Kid Ink, Zedd, Kyle, Keith Urban, Ke$ha, and many more

What is your favorite professional sports team?: Denver Broncos and Oklahoma City Thunder

What phrase, saying, theme or situation motivates you the most.: "Keep movin' forward"

I wish I knew how to...: Play the piano

One thing I want to accomplish in my life would be: "Be the very best that no one ever was" -Pokemon

Best 'non-athletic' skill that competing in basketball has taught you: Communicating

If I could meet any famous person it would be: J.Cole

And I would ask that person: What motivated him to keep going and pursue his dreams, even when life got him way down?

Most Inspirational Person In Your Life and Why: My mom because she has done everything she can to put me and my brother through school.

My plans after graduation are: Hopefully play basketball overseas and in the WNBA

My favorite class at CU: Sign language with Willy

My hero is: My mommy

Advice to young athletes: Never stop chasing your dreams. If you want something to change don't wait for it to do it. "Unless someone like you cares an awful lot, nothing is going to get better, its' not" - The Lorax by Dr. Seuss

Lauren Huggins

Guard/Forward • 6-2 • Junior • 3L • Littleton, Colo. (Heritage)

Lauren Huggins progressed nicely in her second full season, asserting herself as one of the premier 3-point shooters in the Pac-12. She has range that extends well beyond the 3-point arc. The first Colorado signee of the Linda Lappe era, she provides the back court with a fantastic scoring option from long distance. Continuing the development of her all-around game will be key for Huggins to build upon as she enters her junior season.

Career: Ranks 15th in career 3-pointers with 83 and 16th in 3-point attempts at 222.

2014-15 (Sophomore): A regular in the rotation, she played in all 32 games averaging 4.5 points and 1.6 rebounds. Huggins was second on the team with 43 3-pointers and hit 38.4 percent from long range, ranking 11th in the Pac-12. Her percentage tied Annan Wilson (1989-90) for the 19th best single-season performance in team history (based on a minimum of 50 attempts). She made 14 of her final 28 from 3-point range including 7-of-13 over her final four contests. All but two of her season's field goals came from beyond the 3-point arc. Huggins scored a season-high 12 points, hitting 4-of-7 from 3-point range, in the double overtime win over Colorado State (11/29). Three of her 3-pointers came during the overtime sessions; two in the final minute of the first overtime, including one with 1.7 seconds left to force double overtime. Huggins had a

2015-16 BUFFALOES

2013-14 (Freshman - Medical Hardship): Appeared in 26 games, all-off the bench, and ranked second on the team with 36 3-point field goals. Huggins was Colorado's most accurate long-range shooter, hitting on 36.4 percent beyond the arc, a mark good enough to rank 11th in the Pac-12 Conference. She scored a career-high 16 points in the win over Alcorn State (11/15), hitting a team season-best five 3-pointers. Huggins matched that output later in the season, during the home win over Arizona (1/24), she made 5-of-8 from downtown, finishing with 15 points. She had a good all-around game against Iowa (11/20), scoring nine points, on 3-of-6 from 3-point range, with a personal-best five rebounds to go with two assists and two steals. During that stretch of Alcorn State, Iowa and at New Mexico (11/23), Huggins made 12-of-24 (.500) from downtown. She had nine games with at least two 3-pointers and hit one in each of Colorado's five postseason contests, making 7-of-13 during that run (.538).

2012-13 (Freshman): Huggins played in five games, averaging 2.4 points and 1.2 rebound in 6.0 minutes per game. She scored all 12 of her season's points on 3-pointers, connecting on 4-of-11 from downtown (.364). Her most extended time came against Colorado State (12/5) where she played 17 minutes and recorded six points, three rebounds, one steal and one blocked shot. Shortly after that game was when she was diagnosed with a stress fracture in her right leg that ultimately ended her season. She was granted a medical hardship by the NCAA in the Summer of 2013.

High School: A 2012 graduate of Heritage High School in Littleton, Huggins is the first Colorado signee for Linda Lappe's coaching staff. A two-time All-Continental League first team selection, Huggins helped the Eagles to an 18-7 record as a senior and a spot in the Sweet 16 of the Class 5A Colorado State Tournament. She was rated as the 64th best player in the nation and the 11th best wing by ESPN HoopGurlz. She starred at 2012 edition of "The Show" Colorado's annual high school basketball all-star game played at the Pepsi Center. Huggins was named MVP of the contest, scoring a game-high 15 points, hitting on 5-of-6 from 3-point range, in her "Blue" team's 69-48 win. As a junior she averaged 12 points and nearly eight rebounds per game, guiding the Eagles to the 2011 Class 5A Sweet 16. A two-time honorable mention to the Class 5A All-State team, she played her club basketball with the Boulder Rockies.

Academics: Huggins is majoring in integrative physiology at CU. She earned honorable mention to the 2014 Pac-12 Women's Basketball All-Academic team.

Personal: Born on March 28, 1994, she is the daughter of Jerry and Tracy Huggins of Littleton. She has two older sisters, Erin, a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, and Megan a senior at CU.

GETTING TO KNOW LAUREN

My favorite thing about Colorado Basketball is: Getting to represent my home state and represent what Colorado Basketball is all about.

Favorite quote: "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy." - Martin Luther King Jr.

The best moment from your 2014-15 season: Beating Oregon State (who was ranked #1 in the conference) in the Pac-12 Tournament.

Favorite thing to do in Boulder: Hike the Flatirons

If you could pick one reality TV show to be on what would it be and why?: Survivor, because growing up, my dad and I would watch it every Wednesday and I think that the concept behind it is very cool.

One word to describe me off the court is: Spontaneous

My pregame rituals are: Before I hook my music up to spread the wealth of my musical insight, I like to listen to the same five songs before every game.

One thing people don't know about me is: That I still sleep with my baby blanket and every time we travel, I take it with me.

The three things I cannot live without are: Wi-Fi, double stuffed Oreos, and my family

The most inspiring thing I've seen a teammate go through or do for someone else.: Bri Watts battle through plenty of adversity and continue to have a positive attitude and outlook every day.

Best talent not related to basketball: Knowing all the words to almost every song.

Favorite story about a teammate or yourself with your teammates: We like to pull little pranks on each other, especially when we are on the road, such as stealing the other room's remote to change the channels on the TV when they have no idea, or hiding in each other's rooms after meals and jumping out and scaring each other.

If I could play one other sport in college it would be: Volleyball

If I could have a shot to play 1-on-1 against anyone in the world it would be: Kobe Bryant

Your all-time 'Starting 5': Michael Jordan, Larry Bird, Kobe Bryant, Maya Moore, Elena Delle Donne

Do you have any hidden talents?: As much as I wish I did, I can't claim any secret talents.

Between your teammates, who would win at a game of HORSE?: I would

When did you first play basketball, who got you started on the sport?: I started playing basketball when I was four years old. My dad put a basketball in my hands, taught me how to shoot, and the rest is history.

Who would we find on your iPod right now?: Future and Drake

What is your favorite professional sports team?: Denver Broncos

What phrase, saying, theme or situation motivates you the most.: Philippians 4:13

I wish I knew how to...: Sing

One thing I want to accomplish in my life would be: To raise a family

Best 'non-athletic' skill that competing in basketball has taught you: How to apply mental toughness in all other aspects of my life as well as keeping a competitive mindset in all situations of my life.

If I could meet any famous person it would be: Michael Jordan

And I would ask that person: What was it like to be the best in the world at one point in his life and is he proud of the legacy that he left.

One thing about a teammate they may not want everyone to know, but EVERYONE should know: Zoe C [Correal] and Brecca [Thomas] have dance routines to specific songs that have clearly been well rehearsed. Some of them are good while others are. . . interesting to say the least.

Most Inspirational Person In Your Life and Why: The most inspirational person in my life would be my grandfather who has had Type I diabetes for 50+ years but has never allowed that to change his lifestyle. He continues to take river floats, climb mountains and live life to the fullest.

My plans after graduation are: Continue to go to school to become a Physical Therapist

My favorite class at CU: Human Anatomy Lab

My hero is: My dad

Advice to young athletes: Don't let anyone tell you that your dreams are unrealistic and work hard for what you want.

Zoe Beard-Fails is a strong and competitive forward who has the ability to score on the inside with a variety of post moves, but can also step outside and hit from 3-point range. Colorado's third Virginia native, Beard-Fails showed she can play well in a crowded post area, winning plenty of 50-50 balls and converting in traffic.

2014-15 (Sophomore): Saw action in 31 games, averaging 3.5 points and 2.7 rebounds. Beard-Fails was second on the team in blocked shots with 16. She logged seven starts, five of them coming in December & January as the nonconference schedule ended and Pac-12 slate began. Beard-Fails had a career-night in one of those starts, scoring 14 points and grabbing eight rebounds in the nonconference finale against Long Beach State (12/30). She also played a career-most 31 minutes in that game, hitting 7-of-13 from the field. She did well from the line hitting just under 71 percent (36-of-51). In the Preseason WNIT quarterfinal against Western Kentucky (11/17) she established personal bests with eight free throws on 10 attempts. Beard-Fails was a perfect 6-of-6 from the charity stripe in the win over Wyoming (12/21).

2013-14 (Freshman): Played in 27 games as a first-year Buffalo, averaging just under three points per outing. She shot well on limited opportunities, hitting 52.8 percent from the field (28-of-53) as most of her offense came directly off the blocks. Her time on the court increased considerably down the stretch playing in 18 of the last 19 games including the final 10. She scored a career-best 10 points on 5-of-6 shooting in just nine minutes in the regular season finale against USC (3/2). Beard-Fails scored just over half (17) of her points during the Pac-12 season (33) in the final five regular season games. She took that momentum into the postseason, with several solid performances. Beard-Fails established personal bests hitting 5-of-6 from the free-throw line in the Pac-12 Tournament first round win over UCLA (3/6). Against TCU in the first round of the WNIT (3/19) she tied for the team lead in rebounds with six, a personal-best. In the second round against win over Southern Utah (3/22) Beard-Fails recorded three blocked shots, accounting for her season total.

High School: Beard-Fails is a 2013 graduate of Georgetown Day School in Washington D.C. She averaged 17 points and 10 rebounds as a senior, guiding the Mighty Hoppers to a runner up finish at the District of Columbia Interscholastic Athletic Association (DCIAA) state championship. She owns school single-game records for points (42), rebounds (27), free-throws made (22) and free-throws attempted (24). Beard-Fails was a 2013 Washington Post "All-Met" Third Team selection and named to the Independent School League All-Conference team. Additionally, she claimed the Alain-Ciaco Sportsmanship Award and was a McDonald's All-America nominee. She averaged 26 points and nearly 18 rebounds as a sophomore for Georgetown Day in 2010-11, earning fourth team All-Met honors from the Washington Post. Beard-Fails played her freshman season at South Lakes High School in Reston, Va., where she averaged 16 points and 7 rebounds, earning first team all-district and second team all-region honors. CU was able to bring Beard-Fails from the east coast in part because she already knew current Buffaloes assistants LaTonya Watson, from her days at American University, and Kelly Rae Finley from her tenure at Harvard. Beard-Fails was rated the 51st forward in the nation by ESPN.com's Hoop Gurlz. She played club ball with the Boo Williams program, participating on the team that was the 2011 Nike National runner-up. Beard-Fails' club experience also extended to national tournaments and camps at Michigan, Duke, Stanford and Tennessee. She participated in the USA U-16 Trials in 2011.

Academics: Beard-Fails is an advertising major at Colorado and earned honorable mention to the 2015 Pac-12 Women's Basketball All-Academic team. Following her freshman year, she spent time with three different women in journalism, to learn about their careers. First was former Buffalo and Denver Fox 31 sports reporter/anchor Kami Carmann.

Haley Smith

Guard/Forward • 6-2 • Junior 2L • Sammamish, Wash. (Skyline)

Haley Smith is a strong, athletic wing who can elevate over smaller players with a nice true jump shot. She took her game to the next level between her freshman and sophomore seasons. Working tirelessly on her shot, she became a dangerous outside scoring threat that nicely complimented the development of her all-around game. Just the second Washington native in program history, Smith is an outstanding student as well and has all the right tools to become a team leader over the next two years.

2014-15 (Sophomore): Started all 32 games on the wing averaging 9.5 points and 5.4 rebounds per game. Smith led Colorado and ranked ninth in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (.472). She hit 88 percent from the line (51-of-58) but fell just below the minimum number of attempts to be ranked on the league leaderboard. That number was good enough though for the ninth best single-season mark in team history (minimum 50 attempts). Smith was a perfect 11-for-11 from the free throw line in the home win over Utah (1/14). Both numbers represent career highs for Smith with the 11 free throws made tying for the team season high along with Jen Reese (11-of-13) and Lexy Kresl (11-of-16). Smith's 11-for-11 outing also ties for Colorado's fourth best single game performance for free throws made with out a miss. That outing was part of a larger four game stretch where she made 20 straight free throws. Smith made 91.9 percent (34-of-37) from the foul line against Pac-12 opponents. She recorded her first career double-double in the overtime win over San Jose State (12/5) with 24 points and 12 rebounds. Those were career-best numbers as was her 10-of-14 performance from the field. Smith scored in double-digits in 13 games, including a Pac-12 high 19 points in the home loss to UCLA (1/11). She had 16 points against USC in the first round of the Pac-12 Tournament, hitting 6-of-10 from the field and a perfect 4-of-4 from the free throw line. Smith averaged 10.7 points on 57 percent shooting during the Pac-12 Tournament. She was third on the team in rebounding, grabbing at least five rebounds in 24 of 32 games.

2013-14 (Freshman): Averaged 3.5 points, 2.3 rebounds and just over one assist as a first year Buffalo. She was thrust into a starting role during the early part of the Pac-12 Conference season, once junior Jasmine Sborov was lost for the season with a foot injury. Smith started the final 20 games of the season and saw her numbers increase to 4.9 points, 3.1 rebounds and 1.3 assists in that role. Her all-around game picked up piece-by-piece as the season went along. Her first career start came against defending Pac-12 champion and No. 4 ranked Stanford (1/12), and while her numbers were minimal, two points in 17 minutes, Smith began a foundation to build on. One week later, in front of her home town team, she grabbed seven rebounds and made her first career 3-pointer at Washington (1/19). She just missed a double-double by scoring eight points and grabbing a personal-best eight rebounds in the home win over Utah (2/2). Smith registered career numbers in the home win over UCLA (2/28), scoring 11 points on 5-of-10 shooting and matched her personal best with eight rebounds. Smith averaged 6.6 points over five postseason games. She put on a gutsy performance in the Pac-12 Tournament quarterfinal loss to No. 4/3 Stanford (3/7). Battling flu-like symptoms, she recorded her second career double-digit game with 10 points, hitting 5-of-7 from the field, along with three rebounds and a pair of assists in 20 minutes.

High School: Smith is a 2013 graduate of Skyline High School. She averaged 12 points and nine rebounds, guiding the Spartans to a 20-7 record and a spot in the 2013 Washington 4A Girls State Tournament quarterfinals. Smith was named KingCo 4A MVP, earned second team all-state and was named to the Seattle Times All-Star team. She was a Washington Gatorade Player of the Year nominee and participated in the Washington 4A vs. 3A All-Star Game and the Washington vs. Oregon All-Star Game. As a junior, she averaged right around seven points, five rebounds, two assists and two steals per game. Smith was an All-KingCo 4A Second Team selection as a sophomore, averaging eight points and six rebounds. She had a successful club career playing with the Tree of Hope program which won the 2012 Fila Sixty-Four Tournament title. ESPN.com's HoopGurlz listed her as the top prospect in the state of Washington and the 20th ranked wing in the nation. Along with her four-year basketball career, Smith lettered three times in cross country and twice in track & field.

Academics: Smith is majoring in Mechanical Engineering with a focus on Biomedical Engineering at Colorado and has a Chancellor's Achievement Scholarship. She earned honorable mention to the 2015 Pac-12 Women's Basketball All-Academic team. She was named to the Dean's List for the 2014 Spring term. In high school she was a National Achievement Scholarship finalist and a National Qualifier in Washington's DECA competition.

Personal: Born Haley Smith on June 17, 1995, in Sammamish, Wash., she is the daughter of David and Judy Smith. She has one younger brother, Hugh, who is a freshman at Washington. Smith lists the biggest moment of her high school career as being named the 2013 KingCo MVP and going to the state tournament. After college she would like to become a biomedical engineer. In high school she went on a two week trip with 20 other biology students and a teacher from her school to Ecuador where the class went to the Santa Lucia Cloud Forest and helped researchers study mammals, birds, and carbon levels of trees in the Andes.

GETTING TO KNOW HALEY

My favorite thing about Colorado Basketball is: The sense of family it brings. I have 11 girls who love me for me and would do anything for me, which not everyone gets.

Favorite quote: "Hard work beats talent when talent fails to work hard."

The best moment from your 2014-15 season: Beating Oregon State in the Pac-12 tournament and our team rushing the court.

Favorite thing to do in Boulder: Go find a new hike to try out.

One word to describe me off the court is: Focused

My pregame rituals are: Watching "my show" for the season on Netflix, then listening to music and visualizing the game.

The three things I cannot live without are: The outdoors, books, and my family

Favorite story about a teammate or yourself with your teammates: When Bri pranked me and Brittany Wilson by stealing our TV remote

If I could play one other sport in college it would be: Soccer

If I could have a shot to play 1-on-1 against anyone in the world it would be: Candace Parker

Do you have any hidden talents?: I can solve a Rubik's cube.

Between your teammates, who would win at a game of HORSE?: Lauren Huggins

When did you first play basketball, who got you started on the sport?: My parents got me started by signing me up to play at the YMCA

Who would we find on your iPod right now?: Fetty Wap, Dave Matthews, and a bit of country

What is your favorite professional sports team?: Seattle Seahawks

What phrase, saying, theme or situation motivates you the most.: Maximum effort

I wish I knew how to...: Ski

One thing I want to accomplish in my life would be: Hike on the Pacific Crest Trail

Best 'non-athletic' skill that competing in basketball has taught you: That failure is not always a bad thing. It allows you to learn and grow, and a person who has never failed probably doesn't know a lot.

My plans after graduation are: To get a master's degree in biomechanical engineering

My favorite class at CU: Mechanics of Solids

Advice to young athletes: Keep working at your sport. Even if you think you might be behind other players, or not as fast, or not as big, continue to work on those skills and be a great team player. Those things can be just as or more important than height and strength.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Bri Watts

Center • 6-2 • Junior • 2L • Fresno, Calif. (Clovis West)

Bri Watts provides a physical presence down low for the Buffaloes and will be able to hold her own against some of the most aggressive and physical players in the Pac-12. As a post, she has great hands and feet and will only continue to get better. The first commit of the 2013 class, Watts is a steady player who enjoys the physical play down on the low block and will contribute to the strong depth of the Colorado front line.

2014-15 (Sophomore): Saw her first game action, playing in 18 contests and averaging just under five minutes per game. She made her collegiate debut in the Preseason WNIT opener against North Dakota (11/15) registering three blocked shots and two rebounds. Watts scored her first collegiate points two nights later against Western Kentucky (11/17) finishing with a field goal and free throw. Her biggest scoring night came against Missouri State (11/28) in the opening round of the Omni Classic where she had five points on 2-of-4 shooting along with three rebounds. Watts appeared in the final six games of the season and had a rebound in each one of Colorado's three Pac-12 Tournament games.

2013-14 (Freshman): Did not appear in a game, but was a full participant in practice and was a valuable member of the scout team as the Buffaloes prepared for upcoming opponents.

High School: Watts is a 2013 graduate of Clovis West High School. She averaged nearly seven points a game, helping the Golden Eagles to a 23-6 record and a perfect 10-0 mark in the Tri-Rivers League.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Her team won the CIF Division I Central Section title, earning a spot in the state championships. Following her senior year, Watts participated in the North vs. South All-Star Game and City vs. County All-Star contest, playing on the winning team on both occasions. Watts played just her senior year at Clovis West, transferring from rival Buchanan. She averaged nearly six points and just over six rebounds per game for Buchanan as a junior, contributing to the Bears' 18-9 record and a spot in the CIF Central Section Division I semifinals. Her transfer to Clovis West, which lost to Buchanan in the section quarterfinals in 2012, was partially a family move and partially a style of play change to a program which featured the post. Watts participated in the 2011 USA Basketball Women's U16 National Team Trials.

Academics: Watts is an open option major at Colorado.

Personal: Born Briana Nicole Watts on January 25, 1995, in Sacramento, Calif., she is the daughter of Walter and Rachel Watts. Her father played basketball at the University of Utah for the late Rick Majerus (1988-91) and was the second leading scorer and rebounder on the Utes' 1991 Sweet 16 Team. Walter also played professional football and baseball. She has an older brother, Walter, who played offensive line for Utah's football team from 2007-10, a younger sister, Alexis and two younger brothers, LeJuan and DeSean. She enjoys spending time with family.

Zoe Correal

Center • 6-4 • Sophomore • 1L • San Francisco, Calif. (Salesian)

Zoe Correal is a true center who can get up and down the floor quickly and gives Colorado another big presence in the post. She looks forward to playing defense against the other "biggs" in the Pac-12 while continuing to develop her offensive game. Correal gained enough experience in her first year that she's confident heading into her second season.

2014-15 (Freshman): Appeared in 31 games averaging just under two points per game while grabbing two rebounds an outing. Her playing time grew as the season progressed. She played double-digit minutes in 14 games, with nine coming in the final 11 games of the season. Correal averaged 4.3 rebounds over the final three regular season games while hitting 56 percent from the field. On the season she shot a solid 55 percent, hitting on 24 of 44 attempts. Her first extended minutes came in the Omni Classic win over Missouri State (11/28) where she pulled down a personal-best eight rebounds. Correal made a solid Pac-12 debut. After playing just 10 minutes combined in the last four nonconference games, she scored six points on 3-of-6 from the field at No. 15/15 Stanford in the league season opener. Correal stepped in during crunch time against No. 11/11 Arizona State. After Jamee Swan went down with an injury, Correal responded with four points, four rebounds and a blocked shot in nine minutes against the Sun Devils. She had another solid game in the rematch, blocking a career-high three shots in a personal best 22 minutes against ASU (3/1). Correal scored a career-best seven points on 3-of-5 shooting with five rebounds on Senior Day against Oregon (2/22).

High School: Correal is a 2014 graduate of Salesian High School, located in the Bay Area suburb of Richmond, Calif. She helped the Pride to three straight NorCal championships, two in Division IV

2015-16 BUFFALOES

(2012, '13) and a third in the Open Division (2014). Correal's Salesian teams enjoyed a record of 90-20 during that span. She averaged 11.2 points and 8.2 rebounds as a senior, earning All-Tri-Country Rock League and Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team honors, as Salesian finished 30-7, and the runner up in the 2014 CIF Open Division state championship. Correal was a second team Cal-Hi Sports Division IV All-State selection in 2013, averaging 9.4 points and 7.6 rebounds as the Pride finished 29-8 and captured their second straight NorCal Division IV title. She pitched in 3.5 points and 4.0 rebounds per game on Salesian's 2012 North Coast Section and NorCal Division IV championship squad. Correal was a two-time recipient of the state's Sportsmanship Award. Rated as the No. 46 post player in the nation by ESPN HoopGurlz, Correal also played for the CA Ballaz club program.

Academics: Correal is a psychology major at Colorado.

Personal: Born Zoe Angelique Correal on August 11, 1996, in San Francisco, she is the daughter of Zef and Maia Correal. She has three younger sisters, Amara, Nia and Vega. She lists the birth of her youngest sister, Vega, born in March 2013, as one of the happiest days of her life. Her hobbies are basketball and writing. She enjoys writing short stories and poetry in her spare time. She has a distant Colorado connection, great uncle Joe Barry Carroll, a Denver East High School graduate who was the top pick in the 1980 NBA draft and a 10-year league veteran, mostly with the Golden State Warriors.

GETTING TO KNOW ZOE

My favorite thing about Colorado Basketball is: The competitiveness; every day is a new opportunity to compete and win, and that is very exciting.

Favorite quote: "What will be, will be"

The best moment from your 2014-15 season: Beating OSU in the Pac-12 Tournament

Favorite thing to do in Boulder: Hang out at the 29th street mall or on Pearl St.

If you could pick one reality TV show to be on what would it be and why?: The Voice, so I can be on Christina's team.

One word to describe me off the court is: Funny

My pregame rituals are: Watch an episode of one of my shows.

One thing people don't know about me is: If I told you then everyone would know.

The three things I cannot live without are: My family, friends, and God

The most inspiring thing I've seen a teammate go through or do for someone else: Everyone waking up for 6 a.m. workout to support their teammates even when they didn't have to.

Best talent not related to basketball: I can tell excellent jokes.

Favorite story about a teammate or yourself with your teammates: Earlier in this preseason we played pranks on the coaches, and watching their reactions when they saw their offices "decorated" with pictures, sticky notes, and cups filled with water was really funny.

If I could play one other sport in college it would be: Volleyball

If I could have a shot to play 1-on-1 against anyone in the world it would be: Tim Duncan

Your all-time 'Starting 5': Tim Duncan, Derrick Rose, Steph Curry, DeAndre Jordan, Lisa Lesley

Do you have any hidden talents?: I can read Kenzie's mind while she reads minds.

Between your teammates, who would win at a game of HORSE?: Kennedy Leonard

When did you first play basketball, who got you started on the sport?: I first played basketball in the 8th grade and my parents got me started on the sport.

Who would we find on your iPod right now?: J. Cole, Drake, Chris Brown

What is your favorite professional sports team?: Golden State Warriors

What phrase, saying, theme or situation motivates you the most.: Just one more

I wish I knew how to....: Dance

One thing I want to accomplish in my life would be: Success enough to where I can take care of my family.

Best 'non-athletic' skill that competing in basketball has taught you: Time management, there are many things that need to get taken care of day to day and the only way to do that is to manage your time properly.

If I could meet any famous person it would be: J. Cole

And I would ask that person: Will you marry me?

One thing about a teammate they may not want everyone to know, but EVERYONE should know: Jamee Swan wanted to be a Pokemon master when she was a kid.

Most Inspirational Person In Your Life and Why: My parents are very inspirational, because they did not grow up with much and the built everything they have from the ground up. I strive to be just like them.

My plans after graduation are: Hopefully go to graduate school and earn a master's degree in psychology

My favorite class at CU: Social Psychology

My hero is: My Mom

Advice to young athletes: Just take everything one day at a time and try not to get overwhelmed, you are capable of doing great things that's why you're here.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Brecca Thomas

Guard • 5-5 • Sophomore • 1L • Stafford, Texas (The Kinkaid School)

Brecca Thomas is a point guard that plays with a lot of heart and energy. She brings a tremendous skill set; being able to score, facilitate the offense and play defense. A true student of the game and playing at an elite level in the state of Texas, Thomas gained a lot of valuable experience as a first-year player.

2014-15 (Freshman): Saw the most consistent time of all first-year Buffaloes, playing in 32 games with four starts at point guard, averaging 3.3 points and 1.3 assists. Thomas answered the call in her first big test as a starter. With senior Lexy Kresl sitting out to rest an injury, Thomas made her first start against region rival Wyoming (12/21). She had nine points, three rebounds and two assists in 26 minutes against the Cowgirls. Thomas also logged a pair of starts with Kresl in the home games with Washington State (2/13) and Washington (2/15) as the Buffaloes went to a smaller, quicker lineup. She set a career high in points with 11 in the home win over Utah (1/14), hitting a perfect 4-of-4 from the free throw line. She worked on developing her shooting touch throughout the season, and it showed during conference play. Thomas made 33 percent from 3-point range during Pac-12 games (9-of-27) and also made 86 percent from the line during that same time frame (12-of-14).

High School: Thomas is a 2014 graduate of The Kinkaid School in Houston. She was a four-year All-South Zone and All-Southwest Preparatory Conference Division I performer for the Falcons. Thomas scored 2,204 points during her career while dishing out 544 assists and 438 steals, averaging out to 17.4 points, 4.3 assists and 3.4 steals per outing. As a senior in 2014, she averaged 18.6 points, 5.0 assists, 3.5 steals and 3.4 rebounds helping Kinkaid to a 22-7 record and a third place SPC finish. Thomas helped to lead Kinkaid to back-to-back SPC Championships in 2012 and '13. As a junior, Thomas averaged 20.6 points, 5.5 assists and 3.5 steals guiding the Falcons to a 28-5 record. She hit 47 percent from the field and was even more accurate from 3-point range, shooting 51 percent (72-of-141). Thomas averaged 17.3 points, 4.2 steals and 3.8 assists as a sophomore as the Falcons finished 31-3, setting a school record for wins and claiming their first of two straight SPC crowns. A McDonald's All-American nominee, she was ranked as the 25th best point guard in the nation by ESPN HoopGurlz. Thomas played in the TABC All-Star game, was the MVP of the Westbury Christian Rotary Tournament and on the All-Tournament team for the HISD Tournament. Thomas also lettered twice in track & field, participating in the 100 meters, shot put and triple jump, and in softball where she played center field. She played club basketball for the DFW Elite program.

Academics: Thomas is an open option major at Colorado, planning to pursue her degree in Communication and Advertising with a minor in Business.

Personal: Born Brecca Thomas on November 14, 1996, she is the daughter of Carl Sr., and Alvirita Thomas. She has an older brother, Carl Jr., who was a swimmer at Ouchita Baptist University. She would like to compete in basketball at the professional level or would be interested in becoming a community relations manager or a marketing consultant. She enjoys swimming, rock climbing, collecting playing cards and boxing. Her favorite event while in high school was when her team would go Thanksgiving shopping for less fortunate families.

Ariana Freeman

Guard • 5-9 • Sophomore • TR • Manassas, Va.
(Paul VI Catholic/Louisville)

Ariana Freeman is a big, strong guard who can get to the rim, defend and bring a level of toughness. She will add a great deal of versatility to the Buffaloes. She will redshirt the 2015-16 season after transferring from Louisville and will have three years of eligibility remaining.

2014-15 (Freshman-Louisville): Played in 19 games as a true freshman for the No. 8 (AP)/10 (USAT) ranked Cardinals who advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16. She averaged just over five minutes per game and totaled 23 rebounds and 16 points on the season.

High School: Freeman is a 2014 graduate of Paul VI Catholic High School in Fairfax, Va. She was the 2014 Washington Catholic Player of the Year, finishing her career as the school's all-time leading scorer. She led Paul VI to its first WCAC championship as a senior averaging 16.2 points per game. Freeman was twice selected to the All-Met first team and three times to the All-WCAC first team. She averaged 19.7 points and 10.8 rebounds as a junior and was the only non-senior on the 2012-13 All-WCAC squad. She was ranked in ESPN HoopGurlz Top 100 throughout her prep career, reaching as high as No. 15 as a sophomore. Freeman was the 24th rated wing coming out of high school.

Academics: Freeman is interested in broadcasting and journalism at Colorado, planning on studying in the College of Media, Communication and Information. She would like to be a sports broadcaster after college. She maintained a 3.6 GPA in high school.

Personal: Born on July 8, 1996, in Boulder, she is the daughter of Desmond and Veronique Freeman. Her parents are both Colorado alums and her dad played football for the Buffaloes from 1994-97 as a tight end, then known as Desmond Dennis. She has one brother, Josiah, who is in the eighth grade. She enjoys cooking and eating and loves scary movies.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Makenzie Ellis

Forward • 6-2 • Freshman • HS • Tulsa, Okla. (Booker T. Washington)

due to injury, she's ready to get back on the floor for the Buffaloes.

High School: Ellis is a 2015 graduate of Booker T. Washington High School in Tulsa. Ellis had a knee injury that forced her to sit out the 2015 high school season, but despite that was a 2015 McDonald's All-America nominee. Ellis was also an Elite 8 in Oklahoma and Vype Top 100 honoree. She averaged 12.2 points and 6.6 rebounds as a junior in 2013-14, guiding Booker T. Washington to a 22-5 record. She earned honorable mention to the Tulsa World's All-State team – which spans all classifications – as the Hornets fell just one game short of the 2014 state tournament. Ellis was the lone sophomore starter on Booker T. Washington's 2013 Class 6A State Championship team. She earned All-State Tournament first team honors as well as regular season MVP awards for the Jenks Invitational, Lady Jag Classic and Super 5. She's ranked as the 98th best player in the country by ESPN HoopGurlz, and 15th at her position. Ellis was also selected for the USA Women's U17 National Team Trials in 2014.

She played AAU basketball for the Nike Cy-Fair Elite in 2014 and the Oklahoma Ballerz in 2013..

Academics: Ellis is interested in Integrative Physiology as a major at Colorado.

Personal: Born on Jan. 27, 1997, in San Mateo, Calif., she is the daughter of Matney and Christine Ellis. She has a younger sister, Savannah, who is a junior in high school and also plays basketball. After college, Ellis would like to play in the WNBA or overseas, or go into physical therapy. She lists the biggest moment of her high school career as winning the state championship and singing the school hymn all together as a team and school.

GETTING TO KNOW MAKENZIE

Advice to young athletes: Never give up on your dreams, no matter what. When people tell you that you can't do it, prove them wrong, because one day they will be sitting in the stands watching you wishing that they put in the effort that you did.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Kennedy Leonard

Guard • 5-8 • Freshman • HS • Southlake, Texas (Carroll)

Kennedy Leonard is a smooth, quick and fast point guard who sees the floor as good as anybody in the nation. Her ability to get the ball to the right player at the right time is unmatched and her unselfishness makes her very fun to play with and to watch.

High School: Leonard is a 2015 graduate of Carroll Senior High School in Southlake, Texas. She led Carroll to a 26-7 record and undefeated District 7-6A season (12-0) by averaging 17.2 points, 7.5 assists, 6.4 rebounds and 3.7 steals per game as a senior. She was named the District MVP for the second straight season and claimed her fourth consecutive All-District First Team honor. Leonard was also named the 2015 Dallas Fort-Worth Star-Telegram Super Team Player of the Year. Leonard holds the Carroll school record for assists with 921 and is also in the top three in scoring, rebounds and steals for the Lady Dragons. A two-time team captain, she is a 2015 McDonald's All-American nominee and was invited to play in the Texas Girls Coaches Association (TGCA) All-Start Game. Leonard is a four-time Dallas Morning News All-Area first team performer and also a two-time member of the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches and Morning News All-State teams. She is ranked as the 40th best player in the nation, and the ninth best point guard, by ProspectsNation.com. Leonard played club ball with the Cy Fair Nike Elites, compiling a 40-2 record as the starting point guard and helping that program to a No.

1 ranking and the Nike National Championship in 2013.

Academics: Leonard is undecided on a major at Colorado but is interested in coaching.

Personal: Born on Sept. 27, 1996 in Hackensack, N.J., she is the daughter of Kyle and Lyndsey Leonard. She has two older sisters, Taylor, who is a lawyer, and MacKenzie, a junior at Missouri who is also studying to be a lawyer. Her parents are Colorado State graduates, with her mom, a native of Scotland, a swimmer for the Rams. She enjoys fishing, painting and adventuring.

GETTING TO KNOW KENNEDY

My favorite thing about Colorado Basketball is: The atmosphere. We are a family away from our real families. My teammates light up my day every day and I'm so thankful for them.

Favorite quote: "Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented, fabulous? Actually, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. Your playing small does not serve the world. There is nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It's not just in some of us; it's in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others."

The best moment from your 2014-15 season: Winning games!

Favorite thing to do in Boulder: Going exploring all over Boulder and all in the mountains and just being able to look at the mountains every day.

If you could pick one reality TV show to be on what would it be and why?: House Hunters! I love HGTV a lot. Any show on that channel, I would be happy to be on!

One word to describe me off the court is: Silly

My pregame rituals are: Praying during the national anthem, listening to good pump up music, and getting ready to win!

One thing people don't know about me is: I love to play soccer in the free time we have!

The three things I cannot live without are: God, my family (including Cadbury), and my team

The most inspiring thing I've seen a teammate go through or do for someone else.: No specific person, but everyone on the team pushing each other every day to go the hardest they can and be the best they can be is inspiring. Always having each other's back, it's a good thing.

Best talent not related to basketball: Playing soccer

Favorite story about a teammate or yourself with your teammates: When we all went ice skating and roller blading together on a Saturday night and had so much fun.

If I could play one other sport in college it would be: Soccer

If I could have a shot to play 1-on-1 against anyone in the world it would be: Jamie Carey

Your all-time 'Starting 5': Michael Jordan, Alexis Robinson, Derrick Rose, Bri Watts, Shaq

Do you have any hidden talents?: I am really good at cooking and baking!

Between your teammates, who would win at a game of HORSE?: Lauren Huggins

When did you first play basketball, who got you started on the sport?: When I was 4, and by my dad!

Who would we find on your iPod right now?: Drake

What is your favorite professional sports team?: Denver Broncos

What phrase, saying, theme or situation motivates you the most.: Prove them wrong

I wish I knew how to....: Do a cartwheel

One thing I want to accomplish in my life would be: Living out my dreams, and accomplishing my goals.

Best 'non-athletic' skill that competing in basketball has taught you: Competition. Always go your hardest and good things will happen.

If I could meet any famous person it would be: Peyton Manning

And I would ask that person: What makes him such a good person!

One thing about a teammate they may not want everyone to know, but EVERYONE should know: Bri Watts and Alexis Robinson are the most sarcastically funny people you'll ever meet.

Most Inspirational Person In Your Life and Why: My mom. She has been through so much, and she always has a positive attitude. She inspires me every day to be a better person. And I can't thank her enough for that.

My plans after graduation are: To go pro playing basketball

My favorite class at CU: ETHN with Professor Withycombe

My hero is: My family, and every member of it. My dad, he has come up from nothing and made so many things possible for me and I am forever grateful for him

Advice to young athletes: To always keep going. At times, life gets hard but it is nothing compared to the joy and happiness that comes from persevering. There is always a light at the end of whatever tunnel you are going through and you are never, never alone.

2015-16 BUFFALOES

Alexis Robinson

Guard • 5-10 • Freshman • HS • Ashland, Ky. (Ashland Blazer)

Alexis Robinson is a quick and athletic combo guard who can really defend, has a tremendous mid-range game, and is a true triple threat player. She is skilled, a very hard worker and extremely competitive; a great recipe for an emerging star for Colorado.

High School: Robinson is a 2015 graduate of Paul G. Blazer High School in Ashland, Ky. She capped off her storied four-year prep career by leading Ashland Blazer to its fourth consecutive Kentucky Region 16 championship. She averaged 14.8 points, 7.3 rebounds and 4.3 assists as a senior to help guide the Kittens to a 26-7 overall record and pulling off just the second four-peat in Region 16 since 1975. Robinson earned Region 16 Tournament MVP honors each of her four seasons. She was the 2015 Kentucky Association of Basketball Coaches Region 16 Player of the Year and a finalist for the Miss Kentucky Basketball award. Robinson led Ashland to four state tournaments, highlighted by a semifinals appearance in 2014. She is a two-time Area Player of the Year and a two-time member of the Lexington Herald Leader All-State team. Robinson is the school's all-time leader in assists (643) and steals (300) while ranking second in career blocks (219) and third in points (1,855). She was rated by ESPN HoopGurlz as the 91st best player in the nation and 21st guard. She played club basketball with the Kentucky Premier EYBL team and was a Ohio/Kentucky All-Star and an Indiana Junior All-Star.

Academics: Robinson is undecided on a major at Colorado but is interested in becoming a dietitian and owning her own gym.

Personal: Born on April 2, 1997, she is the daughter of Matt and Mary Robinson. She has three younger siblings, MyKasa (15), DeVante (14) and Khia (8). She enjoys fishing and shopping.

BOULDER – Colorado overcame a sluggish start and with a strong second half prevailed 68-59 over North Dakota in the first round of Preseason WNIT Saturday at the Coors Events Center.

Senior forward Jen Reese scored a game-high 21 points and junior front-court mate Jamee Swan pitched in 16 as Colorado remained perfect all-time in season openers at home (28-0).

The win sets up a quarterfinal game with Western Kentucky on Monday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Coors Events Center. WKU coasted to a 93-57 home win over Central Arkansas on Friday.

"It's going to be a great win for us when the end of the season comes around because they're going to win a lot of games," head coach Linda Lappe said. "You can see why, they don't back down. We're happy to be moving on."

Colorado entered the game knowing the key was to stop 6-5 senior post Emily Evers and as advertised, Evers posted her numbers, finishing with 21 points and 18 rebounds, but the Buffaloes made her work. Evers nine field goals came on 22 attempts.

North Dakota shot out to an 11-4 lead. With the Buffs keying in on Evers, Leah Szabla took advantage by finding open driving lanes to score five of her 15 points in the early minutes.

But UND stalled, making just four of its first 21 shots, allowing Colorado to steadily climb back into the game.

Haley Smith scored four points during an 11-2 run that gave the Buffaloes their first lead at 15-13. Colorado also had a boost from freshmen Brecca Thomas and Alina Hartmann playing in their first game. With Lexy Kresl and Jasmine Sborov in early foul trouble with two each, Hartmann came in and scored five points off the bench and Thomas played a steady 11 minutes, with a rebound, assist and no turnovers.

With the help of the solid bench, the game stayed tight for the rest of the half. Swan scored on a layup with just under a minute left for the eighth tie of the period at 31-31. UND, answered with a conventional 3-point play by Evers to take a 34-31 lead at the break.

Colorado went on an 8-1 run to start the second half which gave the Buffaloes a 39-35 lead. But Colorado went cold missing its next seven shots allowing North Dakota to close to 45-43 with 13:44 left on a Bailey Strand layup.

At that point, needing plays on both ends, Colorado really put it together.

With UND continually pounding the ball at Evers, the Buffaloes started to win the battle. Swan blocked an Evers layup attempt that quickly turned into Lauren Huggins' third 3-pointer at the 9:43 mark. That exchange jolted the momentum to Colorado, embarking on a 13-2 run.

Reese accounted for four in a row followed by six straight from Swan who hit a couple free throws to give CU its largest lead at 58-45 with 6:46 remaining.

The defending Big Sky Conference champs weren't going to go away without a fight. Szabla scored five straight as CU's lead was quickly whittled down to six. CU responded with a Swan layup to halt UND's run.

Megan Lauck scored on a jumper but Thomas answered with her first career 3-pointer to push the lead back to nine at 63-54.

Following Thomas' 3-pointer, the Buffs went scoreless for the next four minutes. Evers took advantage with two field goals and a free throw in the first half of that span to trim CU's lead to four.

Despite missing five straight shots in that time frame, Colorado was able to get stops to avoid UND getting any closer. After a Colorado turnover with 30 seconds left, Swan made a great play to get in the UND passing lane to get a steal.

Reese then iced the game on a 3-point play. She scored in traffic on a put back off a free throw miss, was fouled herself and sank the free throw to put CU up 66-59 with just 15 seconds left.

BOULDER – Free throws brought the Colorado women's basketball team back into its WNIT game Monday night against Western Kentucky but turnovers took the Buffaloes out of it, allowing the Lady Toppers to escape the Coors Events Center with a 79-78 overtime win.

Trailing by nine points midway through the second half, the Buffs roared back by hitting 22 of 27 free throws in the final 12:46 and tied the score at 68-68 on one of two foul shots by Jen Reese with 19.3 seconds to play.

But OT belonged to Western Kentucky, which turned CU's 24 turnovers into 21 points and got a game-high 30 points from Chastity Gooch – the Conference USA coaches' preseason player of the year.

Reese scored a career-best 24 points, including 20 in the second half and overtime. Her 11-of-13 performance from the foul line set career highs for both attempts and makes. Meanwhile, teammate Lexy Kresl tied her career high with 20 points and hit four of seven 3-point attempts.

The Lady Toppers led 36-35 after a first half that couldn't have been much tighter. The first 20 minutes featured 13 lead changes and seven ties, with neither team leading by more than four points.

That large lead was posted by the Buffs, who got 12 points from Kresl on her perfect 3-point shooting (4-of-4). She opened the night's scoring with a trey, and didn't cool off before intermission.

CU finished the half hitting five of its six 3-point attempts, with Haley Smith hitting the other 3-ball and Jasmine Sborov responsible for the lone miss. Overall, the Buffs shot 50 percent (11-of-22) from the field before the break.

Western Kentucky opened the second half just as it did the first, getting a trey from the versatile Gooch and taking a 39-35 lead for its largest advantage of the night to that point.

Gooch wasn't done. She scored the Lady Toppers' next five points, pushing them in front 44-37 with a conventional 3-point play with 16:13 remaining. Less than 2 minutes after Swan's fourth, Smith went to the bench with her fourth foul and Western Kentucky was beginning to pull away. Lappe shifted her team into a 2-3 zone defense, which might have eased the Buffs' foul problem but not their turnovers.

And the Lady Toppers took advantage, surging to a nine-point lead (48-39) and forcing the Buffs into catch-up mode. They took to it well, outscoring the Lady Toppers 12-3 and tying the score at 53-53 on a pair of free throws by Reese with 8:33 to play.

Kresl completed CU's comeback by hitting two free throws with 6:19 left, giving the Buffs their first lead (57-55) of the second half. It didn't last long. After Gooch hit the first of two free throws, Western Kentucky controlled the second miss, allowing Kendall Noble to sink a short jumper and the Toppers to reclaim a one-point advantage with just over 5 minutes remaining.

Having climbed back in, CU wasn't going away. Four free throws by Beard-Fails and Reese pushed the Buffs back in front 62-61 at the 4:08 mark. They managed a four-point lead (67-63) on another pair of foul shots by Beard-Fails, but the Toppers tied the score at 67-67 on a free throw and a put-back by Gooch of the second miss. Tashia Brown broke the tie (68-67) by hitting one of two free throws.

CU controlled the rebound and Lappe called a timeout with 26.8 seconds showing. The plan was to get Reese the ball – and it worked. Fouled with 19.3 seconds left, she hit one of two free throws to tie the score at 68-68.

Kresl gave the Buffs the OT lead, making one of two free throws, and Sborov corralled Kresl's miss and laid it back in. CU was up 71-68, but a Gooch free throw and a Noble put-back drew another tie at 71-71.

Gooch took care of that with two free throws, giving the Toppers a 73-71 lead, then hit a short baseline jumper to increase it to 75-71. Sborov made one of two foul shots with 42.1 seconds left, pulling the Buffs to within 75-72.

Two Jones free throws put Western Kentucky up 77-75, but Reese answered with a trey from the right corner, then a conventional 3-point play as CU closed to within 79-78 with 20.7 seconds left.

The officials' review of an out-of-bounds call gave the Buffs the ball with 19.5 seconds left, but Kresl missed a baseline drive and Noble was fouled with 3 seconds showing. She missed both free throws but they weren't needed, CU was out of time and luck.

DENVER – Lexy Kresl was in a giving mood for the first 20 minutes of Tuesday night's game. But in a crucial moment early in the second half, there was no spreading the wealth, she would take control.

Kresl scored five straight points to stop a Denver run and in turn sent the Buffaloes rolling to a 77-49 win at Magness Arena Tuesday night on the DU campus.

Kresl recorded her first career double-double scoring 10 points and dishing out a career-high 10 assists, nine of which came in the first half, tying a CU single-half record.

Colorado (3-1) used a 12-3 run late in the first half to open up a double-digit lead. Kresl had five assists in a span of six baskets late in the period to build a 38-27 advantage at the break.

Junior forward Jamee Swan was one of the main benefactors, scoring 17 of her season-high 23 points in the first 20 minutes.

"It took us a little while to figure out how to play with (Denver's) changing defenses," Kresl said. "We were playing a motion offense against a zone, so once we found those areas there were a lot of gaps and we had a lot of opportunities to score."

Denver (0-3) opened the second half on a 7-0 run. The Buffaloes missed their first three shots and had a turnover, which allowed consecutive layups by Alecia Espinoza and Paige Bradley. Denver's Morgan Van Riper-Rose then hit a 3-pointer to cut the lead to 38-34.

Scoreless in the first half, Kresl stopped the Pioneers' run with a 3-pointer from the baseline. Then, Kresl stayed in the backcourt, darted in front of Espinoza's inbound pass for a steal and laid the ball back up and in for a 43-34 Colorado lead.

"I knew we needed a spark so I just wanted to pick up the intensity," Kresl said. "After that (play) everyone else caught on with that same aggressiveness."

That was just the beginning. Jen Reese scored the next basket for the Buffaloes and Haley Smith added her sixth and final field goal of the night to cap off the 9-0 run and the Buffaloes rolled from there, outscoring the Pioneers 30-15 the rest of the way.

"That was a huge five points for our team," coach Linda Lappe said. "They started to get some of that momentum and as soon as that happened, they were deflated a little bit and that's when we knew we needed to go on a run, and our players did a really nice job capitalizing on that."

Swan made 8-of-12 from the field and hit all seven free throw attempts. She also grabbed seven rebounds, dished out three assists and had two blocks.

"Jamee was outstanding tonight," Lappe said. "She played hard and was disciplined. She played a lot tougher on both the offensive and defensive end."

Smith finished with 12 points, hitting 6-of-8 from the field, with seven rebounds and two steals. Reese had 10 points, five rebounds and a pair of steals.

Colorado shot 48 percent from the field while holding Denver to just 28 percent. Despite some early troubles on the boards, the Buffaloes out rebounded the Pioneers 47-37.

Bradley led Denver with 15 points.

BOULDER – Haley Smith scored a career-high 18 points as Colorado's offense was firing on all cylinders in an 87-59 win over Missouri State in the first round of the Omni Hotels Classic Friday evening at the Coors Events Center.

Senior Lexy Kresl added 17, hitting five 3-pointers as the Buffaloes (4-1) hit 80 points for the second time in three games.

Colorado moves on to face Colorado State in Saturday's championship game at 7:30 p.m. Colorado State (3-1) defeated TCU 76-62 in the tournament opener. Missouri State (0-5) will face TCU (3-2) in Saturday's consolation at 5 p.m.

"I really liked our effort tonight," coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we played a complete game, both offensively and defensively. We had great production from our starters, had great production from our bench."

The Smith-Kresl duo were simply on fire. Smith was 6-of-9 from the field, in continuation of a three-game stretch where she's made a whopping 73 percent of her attempts (19-of-26). Kresl hit five of her first six 3-point attempts, settling in for a solid 6-of-13 night from the field which included seven rebounds, four assists and a pair of steals.

"My teammates are hitting me for open shots," Smith said. "I don't feel like I'm having to create. I'm just hitting the ones that are open."

It helps that Smith's shot selection mirrors that of every practice this season, and her teammates are taking notice, if the opposition has caught on yet.

"Haley deserves everything she's getting," Kresl said. "I see her shooting every day in the gym. That shot that you see her hit 7-of-8 in the game, she hits them in practice and shoots them every day."

Colorado shot 43 percent and hit a season-high nine 3-pointers. The Buffaloes put up 50 points in the second half on 46 percent shooting, thanks to momentum that actually began in the final minutes of the first period.

Smith and Kresl had eight points each as the Buffaloes built a 16-9 lead. But MSU stayed close, and tied the game at 18-18 on a Kenzie Williams free throw.

Kresl's third 3-pointer of the half and a Zoe Correal layup pushed CU's lead back to five, but the Lady Bears answered again, tying the score at 27-27 with 3:35 remaining.

For the second straight game Colorado made a strong run at the end of the first half to seize momentum.

The Buffaloes started getting stops and were able to get the ball quickly down the floor in transition. Colorado broke the tie with four straight free throws and then after a MSU turnover, Jasmine Sborov drilled a 3-pointer from left baseline to give Colorado a 34-27 advantage.

Free throws gave Colorado a 37-27 lead at halftime and the Buffaloes came out of the locker room fast and furious. Colorado had three offensive rebounds on the first possession, the final one ending in a Jamee Swan put back basket. Then, Jen Reese had a great steal on the other end, which ended in a transition layup by Swan off a nice no-look feed from Sborov that capped off a 14-0 run.

"That's really big in any game, just ending the half with momentum," Kresl said. "The other team goes into the locker room kind of doubting themselves."

Liza Freundt stopped CU's run with a 3-pointer to put MSU back to 41-30, but Colorado kept on rolling.

Kresl hit back-to-back 3-pointers and Lauren Huggins added her first of three second half treys as Colorado led 50-32 with 15:06 remaining.

A 10-2 Missouri State run, aided by five points from Freundt, closed Colorado's lead to 12 at 56-44 with 8:16 remaining. But Colorado quickly ended that run as Swan converted on a 3-point play, and scored on another fast break bucket, off an alley-oop pass from Smith, that sparked a 20-1 run that gave CU a 76-46 lead to end the Lady Bears' night.

Swan scored 14 points and had eight rebounds. Correal also had personal-best eight rebounds to the Swan for the team lead. Colorado dominated the glass, outrebounding Missouri State 53-36 and committed a season-low 10 turnovers.

BOULDER – Lexy Kresl had a triple-double, Jen Reese scored a career high 26 points and Lauren Huggins hit three 3-pointers in the two overtime periods as the Colorado Buffaloes defeated in-state rival Colorado State, 87-81, to claim the 2014 Omni Hotels Classic Saturday night at the Coors Events Center.

Kresl earned MVP honors for the second time in her career, finishing the game with 12 points and career-highs of 11 rebounds and 11 assists, needing every one of her career high 49 minutes to claim the program's fourth triple-double.

Huggins was 4-of-7 from behind the arc, including two 3-pointers in the final minute of overtime to force a second overtime, and another triple in the second overtime that spurred a run that secured the game for the Buffs.

Reese's career high 26 points came off an 8-of-14 shooting performance from the field and 9-of-10 performance from the line.

Elin Gustavsson scored 22 straight points in the midst of a 24-9 run that helped the Rams open up a 43-29 lead, just five minutes into the second half.

After switching defensive philosophies, Gustavsson only had three points the remaining 25 minutes and the Buffs went on a 24-8 run of their own to take a 53-51 lead with 8:03 left.

After Gustavsson hit her final field goal of the game, CSU led 51-47 but back-to-back 3s from Reese and Sborov gave the Buffs that 53-51 lead.

Sborov had two big lay-ups, Haley Smith hit a jumper and then Jamee Swan had a huge offensive rebound and layup to give the Buffs their biggest lead to that point at 61-57 with 4:26 remaining. Sborov was hustling for a rebound and was called for her fourth foul, then her reaction garnered a technical foul, which gave her personal foul No. 5 and her night was done prematurely at the 5:12 mark.

The Rams bounced back and went on a 7-1 run to take a 64-62 lead. Britt Ryder hit a 3-pointer with 2:06 remaining to tie the game at 62-62 and then after a timeout, Ellen Nystrom drove the lane and hit a layup with 50 seconds left.

The Buffs tuned the ball over and then called a timeout with 38 seconds left. After good full court pressure, the Rams Keyora Wharry caught a desperation pass at half court and was immediately fouled with 29.8 seconds left. She missed the front end of a one-and-one and then the Buffs called their final timeout with 24.9 remaining. Reese was fouled and hit two free throws to force overtime.

The Rams controlled most of the first overtime, opening up a five point lead at 71-66 with 2:11 left after Ryder drove left through the lane and threw up a shot that somehow went in. On the next CU possession, Reese was fouled and hit both free throws to match her career high at 24 points with 1:53 left.

The Buffs stopped the Rams twice in the next possession extended by an offensive rebound, and just before the shot clock ran out for a second time, Smith came away with a scrappy rebound and kicked it to Kresl near half court.

The shot clock, having not reset, went off and Kresl seemed to pause momentarily before kicking the ball to Huggins on the left side. She wasted no time and immediately launched a 23-footer that tied the game at 71-71.

On the defensive end, Huggins committed a good, hard foul going for a block, not giving anything up easily. Nystrom hit both free throws for the Rams with 24.6 seconds left, now up 73-71. On the next possession, Reese missed a layup and fouled Gustavsson going for the ball with just 11.4 seconds left. Gustavsson missed the first, made the second to give the Rams a 74-71 lead.

Kresl, who at the end of regulation, had 10 rebounds but not yet double figures in assists or points, had her 10th assist at that final triple from Huggins to enter double overtime with a double-double in assists and rebounds.

The Buffs continued the momentum and immediately took control in the second overtime, after Reese gathered an offensive rebound and hit a layup to put the Buffs up 76-74. Wharry immediately tied the game at 76-76 with both scores coming less than 30 seconds into the period.

Huggins remained hot, hitting her third 3-pointer in less than two minutes of game action to put the Buffs up for good at 79-76 with 3:47 left in the second OT. On the Buffs next possession, Kresl put the nail in the coffin with a 3-pointer, securing her triple-double and putting the Buffs up by six, 82-76 with 3:13 left.

The Rams would get no closer.

IOWA CITY, Iowa – Despite a career afternoon from senior Jasmine Sborov, Colorado endured its lowest offensive output of the season and struggled to make key stops when they were needed as No. 22/19 Iowa defeated the Buffaloes 78-63 Sunday afternoon at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Sborov led Colorado (6-2) with career-highs in points (17) and rebounds (12) for her second career double-double.

"Defensively, we have to get tougher," head coach Linda Lappe said. "We can't give up 78 points on the road and expect to win."

The Buffaloes did some things well and showed they could play toe-to-toe with the Hawkeyes. CU dominated on the boards by a count of 53-36, and 23 offensive rebounds led to some extra possessions and trips to the foul line that kept the Buffaloes close.

However, persistent foul trouble, and key lapses at the beginning of the first half, and start of the second, allowed Iowa (7-2) to build a double-digit lead and maintain that margin to stay unbeaten at home in 2014 (6-0).

Haley Smith, coming off a 24-point performance, looked to get on track early once again hitting two of her first three shots as CU took a 6-4 lead. But she picked up two fouls in six seconds just one minute later forcing the Buffaloes to go to their bench early. She would be limited to eight points hitting just 4-of-12.

Melissa Dixon, who led Iowa with a game-high 23 points, hit her first of five 3-pointers to spark a 6-0 Hawkeyes run and a 10-6 lead.

Sborov, who crashed the boards hard from the beginning, answered with a 6-0 run of her own. First she got a rebound off her own free throw miss and eased in for a layup to end Iowa's run. Then the senior put the Buffaloes up 12-10 as she took a handoff from Zoe Beard-Fails at the elbow and scored in traffic, converting on a 3-point play.

The game pace picked up from there. After Iowa retook the lead, Colorado briefly took it back when freshman Alina Hartmann hit a 3-pointer in transition. The Hawkeyes responded with an almost identical shot of their own. Dixon's second 3-pointer was followed by one from Ally Disterhoff which sparked a 10-2 run that gave Iowa a 24-17 edge.

Colorado's ability to get offensive rebounds extended possessions that allowed the Buffaloes to chisel away at the Hawkeyes. Beard-Fails converted a 3-point play to cut the lead to four. Sborov was then fouled on another offensive rebound and hit two free throws to trim Iowa's lead to 25-23.

After a Disterhoff basket and Iowa with the ball after a foul, Lexy Kresl stole the ball from Claire Till and found Lauren Huggins for a transition 3-pointer that cut the Iowa lead to 27-26 with 3:39 left.

Dixon's third 3-pointer sparked an 8-2 run for Iowa to end the half. Iowa point guard Samantha Logic, who had been held scoreless, secured an offensive rebound and banked in a short jumper at the buzzer for a 35-28 Iowa lead.

Iowa kept rolling early in the second half. The Hawkeyes hit 4-of-7 out of the gate and even had the ball bounce their way a few times. Disterhoff missed a free throw but Whitney Jennings was able to get the rare offensive rebound and put it in for a double-digit Iowa lead.

Smith scored her first basket since early in the second half to make it a 47-38 game. The Buffaloes were able to force a Jennings miss, but during a mad scramble for the rebound, Till corralled the ball from her knees and pitched out to Dixon for her fourth 3-pointer as the lead quickly went back to double-digits.

"Give Iowa a lot of credit," Lappe said. "I thought their spurt to end the first half and at the beginning of the second half was the difference in the game."

Jen Reese scored all 14 of her points in the second half. Even when it seemed she was about to get going, scoring on Colorado's first two nearly half possessions, she was hit with two quick fouls that gave her four total with nearly 18 minutes remaining.

Iowa built its lead to 15 at 59-44 with 8:39 left, but the Buffaloes put up a good fight to end the game. Reese reentered and scored six straight for Colorado to cut the Hawkeye lead to 61-52. But by this time, with nearly everyone in some sort of foul trouble, Iowa attacked. Back-to-back layups by Dixon and Kali Peschel had Iowa running back out to an 18-point advantage with 4:31 left.

To their credit, the Buffaloes never quit. Down 72-54, Colorado began to press. The Buffaloes forced two turnovers helping a 9-0 run led by five straight from Sborov. Iowa figured out the press and hit free throws for the final margin.

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Colorado's cold second-half shooting allowed Missouri to erase a 15-point second half deficit and edge out a 53-50 win over the Buffaloes Friday night at Mizzou Arena.

Lexy Kresl led all players with 17 points, tying a season high with five 3-point field goals. Jen Reese had a game-high 11 rebounds, but was limited to six points on 3-of-9 shooting.

Colorado (6-3), which led 36-21 in the opening minute of the second half, shot just 18 percent from that point forward, including a 7-minute, 24-second scoreless span that allowed Missouri (7-2) to embark on a 19-4 run to even out the game at 40-40 with 10:06 remaining.

"We weren't ready coming out of the half," Colorado head coach Linda Lappe said. "We came out and hit a 3-pointer and we needed to squash (Missouri's energy) right there, but we let them back in. We didn't play inspired enough and that's not going to win you games on the road against the SEC."

Despite the frigid shooting effort, Colorado still had its chances late.

The Buffaloes regrouped to take a 50-46 lead on a pair of Zoe Beard-Fails free-throws, but Missouri responded with a Juanita Robinson 3-pointer at the 2:03 mark cut the CU lead to 50-49.

That proved to be the last field goal for either team. Missouri managed six free throws on three different trips that provided the final margin. In that span Colorado went 0-for-3 from the field and Reese missed the front end of a one-and-one with 24 seconds left that could have tied the game.

Bree Fowler picked up the rebound on the Reese miss and was fouled with 8.3 seconds. She made 1-of-2, giving the Buffaloes one last chance. After Missouri knocked the ball out of bounds on the initial push, Kresl was able to have a contested 3-pointer at the buzzer that fell wide of the rim.

"(Missouri) came out stronger and ready to go," Kresl said. "They had way more energy and we noticed it immediately."

Beard-Fails had eight points, three rebounds and a pair of steals.

The Buffaloes played arguably their best defensive half of the season in the game's first 20 minutes which allowed them to establish a double-digit lead.

After an initial onslaught of Missouri 3-pointers – five of the Tigers' first six field goals were from long range – Colorado clamped down on the home team's shooters.

Morgan Eye hit Missouri's fifth 3-pointer in that early span for a 17-16 Tigers' edge. On that play, away from the ball Lauren Huggins was called for a foul, allowing the Tigers another possession. They ended up with two, after an offensive rebound, but the Buffaloes stood tall with a pair of stops and that was just the beginning.

Beard-Fails gave Colorado the lead back with a bucket and Jasmine Sborov hit a pair of free throws for a 20-17 lead.

Haley Smith continued the run, scoring easily after gathering in an offensive board. Following a Bri Watts free throw, Jamee Swan stole the ball and went coast-to-coast for a layup as the Buffs built a 28-19 advantage.

Huggins capped off the 17-4 run with a 3-pointer. She was the ninth Colorado player to score in the first half alone as the Buffaloes led 31-19. Missouri was held scoreless after Eye's 3-pointer, for 6:19 until Bri Porter ended the drought with under a minute left.

Kayla McDowell and Jordan Frericks led Missouri with 10 points each.

BOULDER – Tis the season, but the Colorado women's basketball team might have taken this "better-to-give" thing a bit too far. CU gave, gave and gave some more Tuesday night, offering up 22 points off of 25 turnovers to Long Beach State, which was no doubt appreciative and left the Coors Events Center with a 62-56 win.

In spite of themselves and their ill-timed generosity, the Buffaloes (7-4) didn't go quietly. They cut a 13-point second-half deficit to two before faltering in the final 5 minutes, allowing the 49ers (13-1) to win their 11th consecutive game.

"Give Long Beach State a lot of credit," said CU coach Linda Lappe. "They're 13-1 for a reason...they're tough and they make plays when they need to. We turned the ball over too many times, there were too many possessions when we didn't even get a shot."

CU got a double-double (15 points, 15 rebounds) from Jamee Swan and a career-high 14 points from Zoe Beard-Fails, who also contributed eight rebounds as the Buffs won the board battle 50-26.

"We knew that we would have an advantage in the post," Lappe said. "And both Zoe and Jamee have been playing really well. I thought their energy, and toughness were two things that they brought."

Beard-Fails scored the Buffs' first 6 points and 8 of their first 15. While she hit four of her six shots during that span, her teammates could hit only 3 of 14 field goal attempts. Swan added six first-half points, doing the majority of her scoring after intermission.

With 12:09 left and trailing 45-32, the Buffs had committed 23 of their final turnover total. Making matters (and the score) worse, they had hit only 2 of 10 from the field.

But CU settled down. A technical foul on Devin Hudson resulted in two free throws from Jen Reese and launched a 14-3 run that pulled the Buffs to within 48-46 on another pair of Reese foul shots with 5:02 left. Reese hit seven of her eight free throw attempts, but she was only 1-of-8 from the field.

During its comeback, CU stymied Long Beach with a 3-2 zone, resulting in the 49ers shooting 2-for-12 from the field. But in the final 5 minutes, the Buffs could creep no closer than two points. The 49ers increased their lead to as many as nine points (61-52) and left Boulder with their 11th consecutive win.

Giving up 13 points off of 14 first-half turnovers, the Buffs sabotaged themselves time and again in trying to cope with the 49ers frequently changing defense. Still, CU trailed only by two points (28-26) at the break after leading for the first 11:30.

The Buffs led by as many as five points (9-4) early, but Long Beach caught up and passed the home team on a pair of 3-pointers by Hallie Meneses. Her first try tied the score at 15-15 and her second gave the 49ers their first lead of the night at 18-15 with just over 8 minutes left before intermission.

From there, the Buffs managed only one more first-half lead, going up 19-18 on a put-back by Swan. The 49ers took advantage of six Buffs turnovers and a 3:48 CU drought to go up 24-19. The Buffs eventually fell behind 28-22, but closed the half with a 4-0 run and closed to within a basket at the half. The teams' 54 combined first-half points was the second-lowest of the season in a CU contest, trailing the 51 in the Colorado State game.

Meanwhile, the 49ers' leading scorer, Raven Benton (11.7 ppg), went to the bench with two personal fouls at the 10:01 mark and remained seated for the rest of the half. After starting the second half, Benton again went to the bench only 3 minutes in after hurting a knee on a breakaway layup attempt that she missed.

Once again, the 49ers didn't suffer greatly with Benton temporarily sidelined. They opened the second half with a 15-2 run and took the first of two 13-point lead – 43-30. CU finally got a layup from Swan to stop a 12-0 Long Beach surge, but by then the 49ers were in command and the Buffs were still struggling to protect the ball.

STANFORD, Calif. – Nothing comes easy once conference play begins and Colorado had the envious task of opening with the 15th ranked team in the country on their home court, a place the Buffaloes have never won.

The final result still favored the home team, but Colorado proved to be a worthy early opponent for the defending league champions and the Buffaloes came away with plenty of reasons to feel good about moving forward.

Colorado completely erased an 11-point second half deficit, but a late 8-0 run gave Stanford enough of a cushion to hold on for a 62-55 Saturday night at Maples Pavilion in the Pac-12 Conference opener for both teams.

Jamee Swan had her second consecutive double-double leading the Buffaloes with 12 points and a game-high 10 rebounds.

Colorado (7-5, 0-1) had several bright moments defensively. The Buffaloes forced 16 turnovers, several coming on shot clock violations after 30 seconds of intense defense. Colorado played even – and at times better than the Cardinal – on the boards for most of the game, although Stanford would end up with a slight overall edge (37-35).

But one thing the Buffaloes couldn't stop was the backcourt combination of Amber Orange and Lili Thompson. The Cardinal duo combined for 43 of Stanford's 62 points, hitting both the outside shot and getting into the paint as well.

Orange had a game-high 26 points on 10-of-16 shooting with a pair of 3-pointers. Thompson had 17 points making 7-of-12.

Colorado set the tone defensively early as Stanford's first two possessions ended in a blocked shot and a shot clock violation as the Buffaloes held an early 5-2 lead. Thompson got going for the Cardinal (9-4, 1-0) who scored seven straight for a four point advantage.

Swan scored in a row for the Buffaloes who tied the game at 11-11, but she picked up her second foul less than 10 minutes in. Zoe Beard-Fails, making her third start of the season also got into foul trouble, forcing the Buffaloes deep into their frontcourt bench.

San Francisco native Zoe Correal, who had played just 10 minutes in the previous four games, put in some key minutes. She scored all of her career-best six points, during a seven minute stretch in the first half.

Correal's minutes came at a time that halted Stanford's biggest run. Orange had scored five points during a 9-0 run that gave the Cardinal a 30-19 lead.

Stanford was red hot early, but cooled off at the right time. The Cardinal scored just two points in the final 4:17 and none after Thompson scored from 15-feet out with 3:31 left as Stanford's lead was down to 32-25 at the break.

Shortly after Briana Roberson put Stanford back into a double-digit lead at 42-31 with a 3-pointer, the Buffaloes turned it up defensively.

Colorado forced seven Stanford turnovers held the Cardinal scoreless over a 4:44 stretch that put the Buffaloes back in the lead. Haley Smith and Swan scored on back-to-back layups to start the run. Lexy Kresl would then score consecutive baskets to bring CU to within two at 42-40.

The comeback was complete when freshman Brecca Thomas hit CU's only 3-pointer of the game, with 10:14 left giving the Buffaloes a 43-42 lead.

But Stanford's Bonnie Samuelson responded immediately with a 3-pointer of her own to put the Cardinal back on top. Samuelson's 3-pointer, her only make on six tries, sparked an 8-0 run as the Cardinal retook the lead 50-43.

Swan pulled Colorado back to four at 51-47, but the Buffaloes missed their next three shots and Stanford reclaimed a double-digit lead at 57-47.

Colorado clamped down for one final time. Leading scorer Jen Reese who had been silent for most of the game scored six of her 10 points in the final minutes with a long jumper bringing the Buffaloes to within four at 57-53 with just over a minute remaining.

But the Buffaloes couldn't draw any closer as Orange scored her 10th bucket of the game and also hit a free throw in the final seconds.

BOULDER – If the Colorado women's basketball team was counting on the rigors of the road rattling Southern California, it didn't happen. Leaving LA for the first time in a month – or in eight games – the Trojans made themselves at home Friday night in the Coors Events Center, but with lots of unwarranted hospitality from the Buffaloes.

Getting 22 points from 21 CU turnovers, USC rolled to an 81-61 Pac-12 Conference win.

The Buffs committed 11 of their turnovers in the first half, digging themselves an early hole with a very narrow escape route. CU (7-7, 0-3) never found it, losing its fourth consecutive game and its sixth of the past seven. The Buffs trailed by as many as 19 points late in the first half and were never able to pull closer than 9 points in the second half.

Entering Friday night, the Trojans (10-5, 2-2) had lost three of their past four games, including a split with the Oregon schools in the Pac-12's opening weekend.

"I thought we did some really good things," CU coach Linda Lappe said, "but we didn't start off well (and) it didn't seem like we could ever catch up . . . but give USC credit, they came in here with a lot of confidence and played hard."

Lappe said her team, which faces UCLA on Sunday at the CEC (2 p.m., Pac-12 Network), "just has to regroup and keep getting better, come to work every day . . . I feel like we have gotten better but if you look at one stat, it's the turnovers."

"We have to tighten up defensively, but offensively if we take care of the ball (Friday night) it's a totally different game at halftime."

The Buffs trailed 40-27 at intermission, but it took a 6-0 run to close the half to get them that close. And that run could have been 8-0 had Jamee Swan and Jasmine Sborov converted free throws for three-point plays.

But the Buffs couldn't complain, less than a minute earlier they trailed 40-21 with that 19-point deficit marking their largest at home this season. It surpassed the 14-point deficit they faced against Colorado State in the Omni Hotels Classic.

The Buffs rallied to win that one 87-81 in double overtime, but to duplicate that – OT or not – against the Trojans would be difficult.

For starters, CU's turnovers would have to decrease. Of the Buffs' 11 first-half turnovers, four came in the first 4:03. The Trojans got 14 first-half points off of the home team's errors, then eight more in the second as a result of the Buffs' 10 turnovers. The 11 first-half errors were largely responsible for CU failing to score on consecutive possessions until the 6-0 run to close the half.

Meanwhile, CU got only eight points from USC's eight miscues in 40 minutes.

Guard Lexy Kresl said the Buffs can combat their turnover epidemic by "having confidence, handling the ball and handling the pressure . . . we just have to attack, when you're not aggressive you make more mistakes."

Added Lappe: "It's not that we're bad ball handlers, it's just making the right reads and the right passes."

CU shot 41.9 percent (13-for-31) from the field in the first 20 minutes and the Trojans weren't astoundingly better, hitting 43.2 percent (16-of-37). It merely underscored CU's need to take better care of the ball in the second half, it happened for a while but not consistently enough for the Buffs to catch up.

USC finished the night shooting 42.9 percent (27-of-63) while CU checked out at 44.3 percent (27-of-61). And that takes the Buffs back to the turnovers that ultimately cost them the game.

Three Buffs scored in double figures, topped by Swan's 14 points. Jen Reese added 13 and Sborov 10. The Trojans got 20 points each from Alexyz Vaiioletama and McKenzie Calvert, and 17 from Brianna Barrett.

USC's aggressiveness in getting to the basket was obvious. The Trojans attempted 31 free throws, making 23, while the Buffs went 8-for-11 from the foul line. "Yeah," said Lappe, "I think we can be more aggressive in getting to the rim."

Opening the second half with a conventional three-point play from Swan, the Buffs trimmed the Trojans' lead to 10 (40-30). But it took nearly 8 minutes before they finally cut USC's lead to single digits. Lauren Huggins hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key to pull CU to within nine points (56-47) with 12:17 to play.

But that was as close as the Buffs could get. The Trojans responded with five quick points, rebuilt a 14-point lead (61-47) and led by as many as 20 in the final minute.

BOULDER — For about 30 minutes of Colorado's Sunday afternoon game against UCLA, Jen Reese was unstoppable. Her game was predictable, yet inevitable — cut, catch, turn, fire, swish, repeat.

Her career-high 30 points were almost enough to pull off the Buffs' biggest comeback since 1982. Almost. Colorado fought back from 21 points down, but it couldn't overcome an early rash of turnovers and poor shooting. The Buffs turned a laugh into a thriller into a heartbreaker and fell 90-84 to the Bruins at the Coors Events Center.

Nonetheless, CU coach Linda Lappe called the game "probably the best we've played — at least the last 30 minutes — we took long...I'm proud of how we competed and attacked, proud of how hard we worked. We took a good step in the right direction."

UCLA shot 50 percent from the field, 53.8 from 3-point range (7-of-13), and had an impressive six players in double figures, led by Kari Korver's 17 points. CU's accuracy was even better, shooting 57.9 percent (33-of-57) from the field, including 60.8 percent in the second half.

But neither the Buffs' late marksmanship nor Reese's individual heroics was enough. They lost their fifth consecutive game, their seventh in the past eight, and dropped to 0-4 in Pac-12 Conference play (7-8 overall).

The Buffs opened the game like the shellshocked team that committed 21 turnovers in an 81-61 loss to USC on Friday. They turned the ball over five times in Sunday's first 10 minutes and UCLA (7-9, 3-2) made them pay in transition, the Bruins turned those easy looks into 14 fast-break points and they made eight of their first 11 shots.

UCLA opened with a full-court press and it denied CU good looks, the Buffs hit just two of their first eight shots and went more than 4 minutes without scoring. The Bruins, meanwhile, used that drought to build their lead as large as 21 points.

Slowly, though, the Buffs crept back in. A three-guard lineup that featured Lexy Kresl, Jasmine Sborov and Alina Hartmann helped grease Colorado's ball movement, as they hit eight of their final 12 shots with six of those makes coming off of assists. They got Reese open looks along the baseline, they got Kresl open above the break, where she hit four threes, and Haley Smith feasted on jumpers from the free-throw line when the Bruins focused on her teammates.

"They zoned a lot, but a lot of times I think they kind of got lost in the zone," Smith said. "And then they would lose our shooters on the wings and stuff. I definitely think there were some great holes that we were able to take advantage of."

Most of the Buffs' best looks were midrange jumpers, Reese and Smith picked UCLA's 2-3 zone apart by cutting to open spaces. Reese was all but automatic, hitting from the baseline, the elbow, the wing, from everywhere.

"It's a lot about moving without the ball and trying to find the open gaps," said Reese, who added seven rebounds, five assists and was 2-of-2 from the foul line. "I feel that as a team we did that, and people with the ball were finding the open players and those players were able to knock the shots down."

The Buffs' first half was remarkably efficient given their poor start — they shot 50 percent and trailed by just nine points at halftime. CU carried its hot streak through the break, and the Bruins cooled off, the Buffs cut UCLA's lead to five points less than 2 minutes into the second half.

Reese tied the game 5 minutes into the second when she cut backdoor and dropped in a layup off of a feed from Jamee Swan. Lauren Huggins gave Colorado its first lead less than a minute later. She leaked through the Bruins' full-court pressure and buried a 3-pointer from the right wing.

From there, the teams went back-and-forth, UCLA finally pulled ahead through persistence on the offensive glass — the Buffs won the rebounding battle by one (30-29) but still allowed 13 offensive boards.

The Buffs' chances effectively ended with 16 seconds left, when Swan crashed into the Bruins' defense on the fast break. She hit a layup and thought she had an opportunity to tie the game with a 3-point play, but Swan was whistling for charging. UCLA had the lead, the momentum and the ball.

"It was a tough call," Lappe said. "You have to call something. I probably should have called timeout with Jamee being on the fast break. It was one play in a game that had a lot of plays, a lot of shots and a lot of calls. It wasn't the game for sure."

BOULDER — The Colorado women's basketball team had never opened conference play — any conference play — with five consecutive losses. It required an extra 5 minutes and stellar free throw shooting, but the resilient Buffs avoided that historical blemish with a 77-72 overtime escape against Utah Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

CU (8-8, 1-4) broke a five-game losing streak and earned its first Pac-12 Conference win of 2015.

"It feels good to get that one," added Buffs coach Linda Lappe. "I liked how our team came out tonight."

That would be bold and aggressive, but the Utes (6-10, 0-5) didn't rattle or roll over. Rallying from an eight-point second-half deficit to tie the score at 63-63 with 1:23 to play, they forced the Buffs into their fourth overtime this season — the most in program history. CU is 3-1 in those games.

In OT, Utes held a 41-32 rebound advantage and outscored the Buffs 42-16 in the paint. But in OT, CU showed the same determination it discovered in a Sunday loss to UCLA and didn't falter.

Two minutes into the extra period, freshman Joeseta Fatusi hit a 3-pointer for Utah's first lead — 68-67 — since 9-7. The teams traded one-point leads until Jen Reese, Lexy Kresl, Jasmine Sborov and Haley Smith hit eight of 10 free throws in the final 1:33 to seal CU's win.

"We were comfortable going into overtime — we've been in a lot of them — although we could have won it in regulation," Lappe said. "But we made enough plays down the stretch (in OT)."

Making those plays led to Utes fouls and to Buffs free throws. CU made 31 of 40 attempts for the night, but went 10-of-13 in the overtime. Smith was perfect in the extra period — 4-for-4 — and for the night — 11-for-11. Kresl canned 11 of her 16 foul shot tries and finished with a career-high 26 points.

Smith added 15 and freshman Brecca Thomas scored a career-high 11 points. Thomas was one of three freshmen — Zoe Correal and Alina Hartmann were the other pair — who aided in the Buffs' bench productivity. CU's subs outscored Utah's 18-6.

Up by a point with 3:04 left before intermission, the Buffs closed out the half with an 8-2 run and took a 38-31 lead to their locker room. It was their largest advantage of the first half, and they never trailed after the 15-minute mark when the Utes forged a 9-9 tie.

Kresl scored her 10 first-half points in the first 12 minutes, going 3-for-3 from the field and hitting a pair of treys and two of three free throws. But her second personal foul sent her to the bench with 8:12 left in the period and she didn't return.

Also missing court time due to a pair of quick fouls was Jamee Swan, who played only 6 minutes and scored three first-half points (seven total). And Reese, coming off a career-high 30 points against UCLA, missed her only three field goal attempts and went to the locker room scoreless. She finished with six points.

Given those circumstances, CU needed bench help — and the subs delivered. Thomas (9), Hartmann (3) and Correal (2) combined for 15 first-half points.

But CU's late first-half momentum didn't spill into the second half. Opening the final 20 minutes with a 6-0 run, Utah crept to 38-37 and forced a Buffs timeout.

Kresl and Sborov hit back-to-back jumpers, putting CU ahead 42-37 with 15:30 remaining. Not quite but a minute later, one of two free throws by Kresl sent the Buffs up 43-37, and when Reese hit a 15-foot jumper for her first points CU finished a 7-0 run and pushed its advantage to eight (45-37).

But Wicijowski and the Utes Utah kept pushing. After her 3-pointer from the top of the key drew them to 52-50, her pair of free throws with 1:23 to play tied the game at 63-63. After a timeout with a minute remaining, the Utes turned the ball over with 38.9 seconds left. CU called timeout, but a traveling call on Kresl ended that possession and left Utah with 26 seconds to win it.

With 15.3 seconds showing, the Utes took a timeout to set their final play. A layup attempt by Danielle Rodriguez missed, the Buffs controlled the rebound and used their last timeout with 1.1 seconds remaining.

A full-court pass by Reese was fielded at the top of the key by Swan, who steered a pass to Smith for a desperation shot from the left corner. It missed and once again the Buffs were headed for OT.

SEATTLE – Colorado showed it could run with the Pac-12's highest-scoring outfit. But the Buffaloes couldn't run with the Washington Huskies long enough.

The Buffs led by as many as 11 points in the first half and 8 in the second, but they couldn't hang on and lost 85-82, snapping their two-game winning streak.

CU (9-9, 2-5) rallied to go ahead 68-65 with 6:22 to play, but a 3-pointer by Jasmine Davis tied the score and the Buffs never regained the lead. They pulled to within a point three times in the final 4:11 and missed a final-second shot to send the game into overtime.

The Buffs had three players in double figures, topped by Lexy Kresl's 23. Jamee Swan added 22 while Jen Reese contributed 13. Swan also grabbed 11 rebounds for her fourth double-double of the season.

Davis led the Huskies (15-4, 4-3), who average 79.5 points a game, with 25 points and Kelsey Plum – the Pac-12's leading scorer – added 23, just 1.5 below her average. Talia Walton scored 18.

A hot-shooting first half – 45 percent overall from the field, 50 percent from behind the arc – carried the Buffs to a 42-35 halftime lead.

Swan led CU in scoring (15 points) and rebounding (7) in the opening half, but she was one of four Buffs to pick up two fouls in the first 20 minutes and got the required bench time along with Zoe Correal, Haley Smith and Reese.

First-half hustle paid off for the Buffs, they outscored the Huskies 13-3 in second-chance points and outboarded them 23-19. Plus, CU opened in a sharing mood, dishing out 12 first-half assists.

And CU's first-half defense wasn't bad either. UW managed only 37 percent from the field (11-of-32) but drained 7 of its 19 3-point attempts. Walton hit all three of her try tries and, like Plum, scored first-half 11 points.

The Buffs didn't open the second half as efficiently as they did the first, and the Huskies were more dialed in than they were at the opening tip. Result: UW outscored CU 15-6 – including a 12-0 run – in the second half's first 6:08.

CU went nearly 3 minutes without a basket, and compounding the coldness, the Buffs committed three quick turnovers and saw Reese go to the bench with her fourth foul. The Huskies surged ahead 52-48 and stayed ahead until Kresl hit a trey for a 53-52 Buffs advantage with just under 14 minutes remaining.

It was the start of something good – really good.

Kresl and her teammates were rediscovering their offensive rhythm. Her triple not only restored CU's lead, it launched an 11-0 run that carried the Buffs to a 62-54. Kresl, who had six first-half points, added 14 before the second half's 10-minute mark as CU hit six of seven shots during its surge.

But the Huskies wouldn't go away. They pulled to within 66-65 with 7:06 to play on one of two foul shots by Davis. But the Buffs countered with a pair of free throws by Swan – her first points of the second half – for a three-point CU lead.

It lasted as long as it took Davis to call a 3-pointer to tie it at 68-68. Two free throws by Aminah Williams returned the advantage (70-68) to UW with 5:09 left. The Buffs closed to within one point three times in the final 4:11, including 78-77 with 1:50 to play. After Plum missed two free throws, CU called timeout with 1:24 left. But the Buffs didn't capitalize on their set strategy, and Davis made them pay by hitting a 3-pointer from the corner to push the Huskies ahead 81-77 with 49 seconds remaining.

Two free throws by Reese 22 seconds later pulled the Buffs to within 81-79 – and a stop was needed. It came in the form of Smith's fifth foul, sending Plum to the foul line with 21 seconds left. She hit both free throws – UW went up 83-79 – but Swan knocked down a trey to draw CU to 83-82 with 11.9 seconds showing.

After a Huskies timeout, Swan quickly fouled Davis, who sank one of two for an 84-82 advantage. But UW controlled the miss and CU was forced to foul with 9 seconds to play. Kelli Kingma hit one of her two free throws for an 85-82 UW lead. A desperation 3-pointer by Jasmine Sborov with a second left missed – and the Buffs were done.

PULLMAN, Wash. – Colorado women's basketball played dominant defense for 40 minutes Sunday afternoon, but its offense, turnover-prone all game, failed in the final five. The Buffs blew a late lead for the second consecutive game and fell 73-68 to the Washington State Cougars.

"This is definitely a missed opportunity, two missed opportunities," Colorado coach Linda Lappe said. "There are some definite positives but again we have to be sharper at the end of the game."

Until the end, the Buffs (9-10, 2-6) had the game in hand. They played the best defense they had all year, holding the Cougars (13-6, 4-4) to just 25 percent shooting and 18 percent from deep. Colorado itself shot 50 percent, and got a career-high 28 points from Jamee Swan.

With those numbers, the Buffs losing seemed nigh-impossible. But a combination of turnovers and Washington State's foul shooting gave the Cougars the edge. The Buffs turned the ball over a season-high 27 times and sent Washington State to the line for 39 foul shots, and there the Cougars shot 84 percent.

Nearly all of Washington State's offense came from the line. The Cougars missed nearly as many shots (52) as Colorado attempted (56). The few field goals that they did hit were costly – eight of their 18 makes came off of their 20 offensive rebounds.

"We didn't get any offensive rebounds in the last eight minutes of the game," Lappe said. "So really, it comes down to rebounding and turnovers. It's hard to win a game where you give a team 14 extra shots and they shoot 39 free throws."

CU rolled early, and its defense was stifling. The Buffs packed the paint and forced the Cougars into jump shots, and their slump never broke. Washington State's shooting numbers were ghastly – guards Lia Galdeira and Tia Presley were a combined 10-of-34, forwards Taylor Edmondson and Mariah Cooks 6-of-19. But Galdeira got 12 of her team-high 27 points at the free-throw line. Presley was perfect on her seven attempts from the stripe, Cooks was 9-of-10.

Cooks in particular hurt the Buffs late, she was a perfect 8-of-8 at the line in the second half.

Swan almost did enough on her own to give the Buffs the victory. She paced CU all game, and no Cougar could guard her one-on-one. She unleashed her full arsenal of post moves – spins, hooks, drop steps – and chipped in seven rebounds. Lexy Kresl continued her strong shooting stretch with 15 points on an efficient 5-of-8 shooting, and her eight boards led the team. But she was also responsible for seven turnovers.

The Cougars scored 25 points off of those 27 turnovers, the damage would have been much worse if not for Colorado's suffocating defense. But those were 27 possessions that the hot-shooting Buffs didn't finish with a shot, 27 possessions without Swan finishing a post-up or Jen Reese launching from midrange.

Reese didn't have her best game – her jumper was hot early, but she finished with just nine points on 4-of-10 shooting. Still, Colorado led by as much as 12 in the second half and seemed poised at any minute to run away. The turnovers, though, gave the Cougars a lifeline they were more than happy to grab.

It all coalesced in one calamitous stretch with four minutes left. With Colorado nursing a 65-60 lead, Jasmine Sborov turned the ball over to Galdeira, then fouled her. It was Sborov's fifth foul, so she was gone, and Lappe vigorously argued the call with the ref, who assessed the coach a technical foul. That gave Galdeira four free throws, and she nailed them all. Two more foul shots from Louise Brown gave the Cougars a lead they wouldn't relinquish.

Washington State closed the game on a 16-3 run despite making just 1-of-7 field goals in that stretch. The Cougars finally started double-teaming Swan, and Colorado couldn't find offense from anyone else.

The Buffs have a shot at revenge in Boulder on February 13.

BOULDER — If the University of Colorado women's basketball team ever needed a respite it was Sunday morning. CU entered its Super Bowl matinee against the Arizona Wildcats having lost three straight heartbreaking Pac-12 games, but the Buffs gave themselves the break they needed.

Colorado never trailed on its way to an 81-69 stomping of Arizona behind 14 points, 11 rebounds and seven assists from Jasmine Sborov. Lexy Kresl added 20 points and four assists, while Jen Reese contributed 19 points and eight boards. Haley Smith was the fourth Buff in double figures with 10 points.

"Didn't think we played our best of the season, by any means," Colorado coach Linda Lappe said. "Like that we did enough to win down the stretch. I thought our offense really clicked."

The deep shooting funk the Buffs (10-11, 3-7) suffered against Arizona State had all but disappeared by tipoff against the Wildcats (8-13, 1-9). Colorado shot 52 percent from the field in the first half and 50 percent from deep. It wasn't just the scoreboard, though — the Buffs looked like a completely different offensive team than the one that the Sun Devils stifled.

Colorado's ball movement was crisp, its passes quick and on target. The Buffs racked up 12 assists in the first half against Arizona after dishing out just nine Friday night. Sborov had four of those dimes — most of them to Reese on the elbows, where her jumper was automatic.

"We had been playing pretty well together in practice," Reese said. "That showed against ASU on Friday night and I just feel like, like coach said, our offense was clicking."

It seemed as if the only Buff baskets that weren't assisted were three pull-up threes that Kresl nailed to break the Wildcats' full-court press. Colorado has had mixed results against the press this season but against Arizona its ball movement and Kresl's hot shooting stretched the Wildcats too thin.

"We're just really getting to know each other and each other's tendencies a little better than we were at the beginning of the season," Sborov said. "I know where Jen's gonna be all the time, I know where my other players gonna be, they know where each other are gonna be."

Jamee Swan, who started despite the ankle injury she suffered Friday, struggled with her shot but fought hard on the glass and pulled down five offensive rebounds as CU held a 45-31 board advantage. Swan's presence alone helped the Buffs dominate inside. Arizona didn't score in the paint until there were eight minutes remaining in the first half and Colorado absolutely owned the boards — at one point the Buffs had as many offensive rebounds as the Wildcats had total boards.

Swan and Reese were bigger, stronger and more physical than anyone Arizona could throw at them. Had the Wildcats not attempted four times as many foul shots as the Buffs, Colorado's halftime lead would have been far greater than 41-31.

The Buffs' shooting cooled off slightly early in the second half, but their interior dominance did not. Colorado got three straight buckets off of possessions with two or more offensive rebounds. The Wildcats cut the Buffs' lead to six points with a 3-pointer from LaBrittney Jones but Colorado quickly pushed it back to double digits. Although the Buffs didn't shoot as well in the second half (36.7 percent, 45.3 for the game) their ball movement was still top-notch, their cuts were sharp and they rarely made a shot without at least two passes preceding it.

Malena Washington paced the Wildcats with 16 points but Arizona's offense was discombobulated all game en route to a 39 percent shooting performance.

Arizona did close the gap once again, with slightly less than four minutes remaining — Colorado committed more of the untimely turnovers (13 total) that have plagued it all season, and those gave the Wildcats easy transition opportunities. But they got no closer than five points and the Buffs closed the game out with free throws.

LOS ANGELES — The Colorado women's basketball team rallied from a 16-point second-half deficit and even took a pair of late one-point leads Friday night against UCLA. But the comeback was in vain, the Buffs couldn't close out the Bruins and lost 72-65 at Pauley Pavilion.

The Buffs used a 20-6 run to overtake the Bruins 61-60 on a three-point play by Jasmine Sborov for their first lead of the game with 3:12 remaining.

CU (10-12 overall, 3-8 Pac-12) led again 63-62 on a pair of Lexy Kresl free throws with 2:30 left, but UCLA (9-13, 5-6) took advantage of four late turnovers and finished with a 10-2 run to finish the Buffs.

The Buffs committed 28 turnovers, 18 of them in the first half as the Bruins led by as many as 17 points before a 7-2 run cut CU's halftime deficit to 34-22. The Buffs battled from behind all night, falling behind 11-0 in the first 4 minutes.

With their 90-84 win in Boulder on Jan. 11, the Bruins swept the Buffs after losing three games to CU last season. Those three CU wins had tied the series at 5-5, including 3-3 in Pac-12 play.

Jamee Swan led the Buffs with 17 points, with Kresl adding 13 and Sborov 11. Jen Reese, who scored a career-high 30 points in the first meeting, was held to four points Friday night. She hit two free throws with 5:10 to play and didn't make her first field goal until 47 seconds remained.

Nirra Fields scored 24 points for the Bruins. Monique Billings added 14 and Jordyn Canada 12.

The Buffs turned on themselves early, committing four turnovers in less than 5 minutes and quickly falling behind 11-0. By the first half's halfway point they had committed 10 turnovers and trailed 17-5, finally getting a put-back by Zoe Correal at the 14:32 mark and a 3-pointer by Kresl two possessions later.

But the error epidemic didn't subside. By halftime CU had committed 18 turnovers that led to 18 UCLA points and a 34-22 Bruins lead. The Buffs entered the night averaging 17 turnovers a game, so with 20 minutes remaining ball-handling and mental perfection would be needed to head off a truly embarrassing outing.

Neither team's first-half shooting was close to stellar. After opening 0-for-7, CU finished the half 10-for-29 (34 percent) while UCLA was 13-for-37 (35 percent). The Bruins also got 10 second-chance points to the Buffs' zero and finished the game with an 18-15 edge in that category.

CU shot 42 percent (23-of-55) for the game while UCLA was at 38 percent (35-of-66).

If CU was to stage a second-half comeback, it would have to start with being more careful with the basketball. The Buffs were, and they slowly began to climb back into the game.

Lauren Huggins hit three consecutive 3-pointers to start the Buffs on their comeback, cutting a 16-point Bruins lead to 8 (45-37). From there, CU kept applying the defensive pressure while Swan and Sborov supplied most of the offensive work in the Buffs' 20-6 run.

After Kresl's two free throws gave CU a 63-62 lead, a chance to pad that advantage disappeared when she turned it over. It was the first of four turnovers in five possessions, leading to the Bruins' 10-2 run to finish the night.

BOULDER — Colorado's second game against Washington State Friday night followed much of the blueprint that the first battle laid out. In that late-January matchup — a 73-68 Cougars victory in Pullman — the Buffs held Washington State to 25 percent shooting, including a combined 10-of-34 from Cougars star guards Tia Presley and Lia Galdeira.

But Colorado committed 27 turnovers, gave up 20 offensive rebounds and allowed Washington State to shoot an unreal 33-of-39 from the free-throw line. In the rematch, the Buffs again stifled the Cougars' offense, and this time they took care of the little things on the way to a 72-51 win at the Coors Events Center.

"We won that game because we defended and rebounded," Buffs coach Linda Lappe said. "I think the rebounding piece of it is something that we lacked up at their place."

Colorado (11-13, 4-9 Pac-12) held Washington State (13-11, 4-9) to 32 percent shooting, committed only 15 turnovers, out-rebounded the Cougars by 19 and sent them to the line for just nine foul shots. The Buffs' guards suffocated Presley and Galdeira into an almost identical combined shooting performance from the first game, they made just 10-of-35 together.

"Sometimes we're very predictable on defense," Lappe said. "Tonight we weren't that predictable and I thought we helped each other really well."

Colorado didn't have its best shooting night, either — the Buffs shot 41 percent, but Lexy Kresl was only 4-of-16 and Jamee Swan just 2-of-11. Jen Reese paced Colorado with 14 points on an efficient 6-of-9 shooting and pulled in nine rebounds. The Buffs also got a career-high 11 points and four rebounds from freshman guard Alina Hartmann.

"I didn't play that much in the first game so it was kind of hard for me to come in today," Hartmann said. "But we stepped up as a team and only because my teammates had my back I was able to perform like this."

Reese and Kresl came off the bench, in their places were Zoe Beard-Fails and Brecca Thomas.

"We haven't won many games," Lappe said. "At some point you change what you're doing. The last couple weeks we haven't had good weeks of practice. I thought this week we had a really good week of practice and those guys practice well. They were ready."

Whatever Lappe's reasons, it worked — after seven tight minutes Colorado exploded to a 21-point lead at halftime. Washington State didn't hit a 3-pointer until the final 10 seconds of the first half when Galdeira pulled up and buried one, any semblance of momentum that might have given the Cougars evaporated when Reese beat the first-half buzzer with a put-back.

The Buffs' offense struggled early in the second half, they went scoreless for nearly five minutes as Washington State cut the lead to 11 points. The Cougars got no closer, though. Reese's midrange jumper was automatic after the break and Swan, though she did not shoot well, had a fantastic defensive game.

Washington State never got into a rhythm and Colorado was never threatened.

"At multiple timeouts I wrote 0-0 on the board," Lappe said. "For them to stop looking at the score and stop worrying about things they can't control."

Hartmann capped off the night with the play of the game — she cut baseline, caught a pass from the high post and flipped it over her head for a no-look reverse. "I have no idea, actually," Hartmann said when asked how she made it. "I threw it up, I don't know."

"It was awesome," Reese said. "This just gives us confidence as a building block for Sunday against Washington and moving forward."

BOULDER – The Colorado women's basketball team dug itself cavernous first- and second-half holes on Sunday and spent 40 minutes trying to escape. Washington wouldn't allow it and cruised to a 79-67 Pac-12 Conference win at the Coors Events Center.

The Buffaloes (11-14, 4-10) fell behind 16-2 to open the game, trailed 41-28 at halftime and were down by as many as 21 points just under six minutes into the second half. They closed to within 10 with 1:40 remaining, but guard Kelsey Plum hit a 3-pointer to give the Huskies (19-7, 8-6) a 69-56 lead and effectively put the Buffs away.

CU crept to within 10 (75-65) once more on a Lexy Kresl layup in the final 23 seconds, but UW concluded the night at the free throw line and won its fourth straight against the Buffs.

"Well, we pretty much got it handed to us in that game, it pretty much wasn't a game," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we had some decent chances with eight minutes left. I felt like we were in good position down ten, we were finally scoring the basketball and finally getting a few steps. But we just couldn't really figure out a way to cut it down below ten."

Plum, the Pac-12's leading scorer (23.0 ppg), finished with 28 points, including 10-of-10 free throws. Three other Huskies also reached double figures in scoring: Chantel Oshahor with 16 and Aminah Williams and Jazmine Davis with 13 each.

CU, which shot only 35 percent (23-of-65), got 13 points and a game-best 12 rebounds from Jamee Swan while Haley Smith and Jen Reese added 10 points each. Reese also grabbed nine rebounds, while Swan recorded her seventh double-double of the season.

Lappe said the Buffs "had a lot of great looks, especially in the second half. We were executing the offense very well at the start of the second half. We had a lot of layups with second and third chances...we just couldn't convert. I'm not that upset about it, poor shooting nights are going to happen. It's a matter of whether or not you can get stops on the other end when you do have poor shooting nights."

CU played from behind – way behind – for the entire first half. In the first five minutes, they were down 16-2 as the Huskies opened by shooting 60 percent from the field. They finished at a meager 38 percent (20-of-52) but made up for it by hitting 32 of their 37 foul shots. CU was 15-of-21.

UW's lead went to 15 points (21-6) before CU shook itself awake and began the slow climb back. A 7-0 run jump-started the Buffs and helped bring them to within three points – 31-28 – but they got no closer before intermission.

Plum, who hit four of her first five shots and all three of her 3-point attempts, finished the half with 17 points. None of her teammates had more than seven points, and none of the Buffs had that many. Kresl and Smith each had six as CU shot only 33 percent (10-for-30).

After expending considerable energy in their first-half comeback, the Buffs didn't need to do it again in the second. But trailing by 13 when the final 20 minutes started, they had little choice. And the hill quickly got steeper.

With Oshahor nailing back-to-back 3-pointers with her quirky set shot, the Huskies outscored the Buffs 14-6 in the second half's first 5:30 and roared ahead 55-34. CU had rallied in the first half – but not from a 21-point deficit.

By the 10-minute mark, the Buffs had cut the deficit to 58-45 on a pair of Lauren Huggins 3-pointers and two free throws by Brecca Thomas. But from there to the final buzzer, 10 points back was as close as they could come.

BOULDER – Before Friday night's game Colorado women's basketball coach Linda Lappe had beseeched her players to attack the No. 7 Oregon State Beavers with a sense of urgency, and for one half the Buffs did. For one half, they looked equal to the Pac-12's best team.

But only for one half. Oregon State erupted after the break and cruised to a 66-44 victory behind 17 points and 10 rebounds from Jamie Weisner and 14 points from Ali Gibson. Jen Reese led the Buffs with 19 points and eight rebounds, but Colorado's offense, despite only 11 turnovers, failed it for much of the night.

"We took them out of their element, but then someone else stepped up," Lappe said. "I really liked the fight of our team. I really like how hard we played and how tough we played defense, especially in the first half."

The Buffs (11-15, 4-11) played one of the best halves of defense they have all season, holding the Beavers (24-2, 14-1) to 33 percent shooting and never letting them get comfortable inside. Oregon State center Ruth Hamblin leads the Pac-12 in field goal percentage, but Jamee Swan blocked Hamblin's first shot and bothered her into a 1-of-4 shooting night.

The Beavers committed 10 first-half turnovers, including multiple travels and backcourt violations. Oregon State rarely plays so sloppily, and much of the Beavers' offense came from the five threes that they made.

"Just being able to turn them into one-on-one players," Lappe said. "I thought our help-side was very good."

Colorado's first-half offense was in little better shape, though — the Buffs shot just 38 percent, and Hamblin's rim protection deterred them from any kind of interior shot. Colorado settled for midrange jumpers early, and bricked its way to a 20-9 deficit.

But Hamblin went to the bench after committing her second foul, and the Buffs attacked. Reese made Colorado's first layup slightly more than 15 minutes into the half, then she and Swan got to the rim at will. They ignited a 17-6 run that Reese capped with a trey to give the Buffs a brief lead before the squads went to halftime deadlocked at 26.

Oregon State has devastated the Pac-12 for a reason, though, and the Beavers began to assert their dominance in the second half. They took better care of the ball — they committed only four turnovers after the break — and their offense turned into the cutting, screening, passing behemoth that carved up every foe it has thus far faced.

The driving lanes that Colorado choked off in the first half were wide open in the second, and all but two of Oregon State's 24 points in the paint came in the second half. The Beavers assisted on 11 of their 17 second-half buckets, and if basketball tracked that stat like hockey does they would have had many more — they moved the ball side-to-side before finding open cutters or shooters, and shot 63 percent in the half. "They're number one in the league for a reason and you can see why," Lappe said. "They have such good balance, they're tough and they shoot the ball well."

The Buffs simply couldn't match that for 40 minutes. Even with Hamblin fighting foul trouble, Colorado struggled to finish inside and outside and everywhere in between. The Buffs shot just 17 percent after halftime, they made just four shots in the second half, hitting just of their last 17 attempts, they didn't hit a three, and Reese went without a make.

"They changed how they were guarding on-ball screens," Lappe said. "They really forced us to take some outside shots. They stayed a lot tighter to Jen, kept somebody pretty much glued to her."

It didn't matter who Oregon State played inside, their bigs warded off every Colorado attack. The Beavers only blocked two shots in the game, but their presence and size were enough as the Buffs scored just two points in the paint in the second half.

TUCSON, Ariz. – In an up-and-down season for the Colorado women's basketball team, Jen Reese and the Buffs punched the UP button and held it for the entire second half of Friday night's game against Arizona.

With Reese scoring 14 of her game-best 20 points in the final 20 minutes, the Buffs rolled to a 66-51 win in the McKale Center, defeating the Wildcats for the 11th consecutive time.

Coach Linda Lappe, who improved to 8-0 against Arizona, said she and her team are "excited about this win. It's the second game in a row that we played well and held our opponent to fewer points in the second half than the first half, so it's a great formula for us. Our depth and our bench are allowing us to do that."

Coupled with an 84-69 win over Oregon last weekend, CU won back-to-back Pac-12 Conference games for the second time this season. The Buffs, now winners of three of their last five games, close out the regular season on Sunday (2 p.m., Live Stream) at No. 10 Arizona State.

At halftime Friday night, CU (13-15, 6-11) and Arizona were tied at 28. But the Buffs came out firing – and making. They shot 60 percent from the field (15-of-25) in the second half and limited the Wildcats to 30.4 percent.

But the second-half domination also came in other forms: the Buffs were nearly perfect from the free throw line (7-of-8), recorded 9 of their 17 assists, and collected 16 of their 35 rebounds. CU committed only five second-half turnovers (12 total) and finished 9-of-10 at the foul line.

In one stretch midway through the half, Reese scored eight consecutive points as the Buffs pushed from a 39-39 tie into a 49-41 lead. Reese got scoring help from Jamee Swan (15) and Haley Smith (12). Swan also led all rebounders with eight. And Lexy Kresl chipped in with five points, five assists, six rebounds; it was her ninth game with at least five assists.

"I thought Lexy had a good floor game in the second half," Lappe said. "She really created the tempo for our team; she did it in the first and second half. She understood her shot wasn't there but I thought she got to the rim a lot. I thought she was getting beat up down there but she didn't let it bother her."

Losers of five in a row and eight of nine, the Wildcats (9-19, 2-15) were led by Breanna Workman and Keyahndra Cannon with 10 each.

The Buffs started strong, hitting four of their first seven shots and taking a 9-3 lead. But the Wildcats recovered with an 8-0 run and went up 11-9 with 13:26 left before halftime.

In that span, there were three ties before the break, with CU leading by as many as five points twice before suffering a sloppy finish. The Buffs committed three of their seven first-half turnovers in the final 2:34 and had to be satisfied with the 28-28 halftime tie.

A 2-3 zone defense in the second half put the onus on Arizona's perimeter shooters – and they encountered problems. The Wildcats hit only seven of their 23 second-half attempts while CU took advantage with a Reese-inspired 10-3 run and steadily pulled away.

"I thought our zone worked pretty well; we worked on it a little bit in practice, not a lot, so you have to give our players credit for being able to execute it like they did," Lappe said. "They were talking and moving extremely well. Sometimes the toughest thing to do out of a zone is to rebound and our guards rebounded along with our post players."

CU took a 10-point advantage (54-44) on a conventional 3-point play by Swan with 5:05 to play, then extended the lead to 16 (62-46) in the final two minutes and won its second Pac-12 road game.

At the end of her eighth successful night against Arizona, Lappe credited "a great attitude by our club. I thought our starters got us started on the right foot, but we were pushing in transition. The offense I was calling was really slowing the ball down, so we didn't go back to that in the second half. Instead, we were in our more up-tempo offense."

TEMPE, Ariz. – It was a season of almost there for Colorado women's basketball, and it ended, as it often had, with a tough loss that was closer than the score indicated and more painful because of it.

Sunday afternoon, that loss came at No. 10 Arizona State, it came by the score of 56-49, and it came at the hands of Katie Hempen and Promise Amukamara.

Hempen led all scorers with 15 points. She buried the Buffs with three-second half 3-pointers. Amukamara scored 13, and late in the game she forced the ball inside and ratcheted up the tempo.

Colorado (13-16, 6-12 Pac-12) got 12 points, six assists and five rebounds from Lexy Kresl, who played her final regular-season game eight miles from her hometown of Paradise Valley. No other Buff scored in double figures. They shot nearly the same percentage as the Sun Devils – 42 percent to 43 percent – but Colorado committed 19 turnovers and Arizona State just nine.

"Their defense was on point tonight," Buffs coach Linda Lappe said. "Every time our player turns around they were right there; they get by one and there would be another one and so on."

That Sun Devils' defense, second in the Pac-12 in scoring, stifled Colorado early. Arizona State's full-court press trapped whoever was the target of Colorado's inbound passes and kept the Buffs from initiating their half-court sets. Jasmine Sborov hit Colorado's first shot with a running put-back of a Jamee Swan miss, then the Buffs went five minutes without scoring.

"We let them speed us up," Kresl said. "Which hurt the flow of our offense so it was a little bit harder to get into it at times. And it's just difficult to kind of progress from there once you are already disrupted."

Colorado committed five turnovers in that stretch, and that which has plagued the Buffs all season continued to do so – they threw away inbound passes and post feeds and got called for illegal screens. But Colorado's defense was equally stingy; Arizona State (26-4, 15-3) struggled from the paint and from beyond the arc, and the Sun Devils were able to turn their six offensive rebounds into only three second-chance points.

The Buffs held Arizona State four minutes without a point and used a 7-0 run to turn an 11-4 deficit into a tie game. Kresl and Lauren Huggins buried three from NBA range, and Swan and Jen Reese got rare inside buckets. Colorado stayed level for the rest of the half and took its first lead when Huggins rattled in a trey in the final 10 seconds. But Elisha Davis raced back down the court, pulled up from the elbow, and drained a jumper at the buzzer. That put the Sun Devils up 22-21 and the Buffs never led again.

Colorado looked for its offense from the elbows early in the second half. The Buffs got their first bucket after the break when Haley Smith cut backdoor and scored off of Reese's feed. Arizona State guarded Colorado's bigs well, though – the Sun Devils forced Swan into foul trouble and limited Reese to only three shot attempts.

Amukamara pushed Arizona State ahead by pushing the tempo; she led several one-way fast breaks, got to the rim with little trouble, and finished through contact once she was there. Her and-one over Kresl gave the Sun Devils what was then their biggest lead of the game.

Colorado looked to make another run as Kresl buried another 25-foot triple and Sborov nailed a tough turnaround jumper off of a baseline cut to narrow Arizona State's lead from 11 points to five. Then Hempen made back-to-back treys and the Buffs never threatened again.

"We didn't get anything easy tonight, that's for sure," Lappe said. "They make you work and they do that against every team. They make you work for every single shot that you get. Our offense sputtered tonight. We have a few days to get better and get back at it on Thursday."

SEATTLE – The 2015 Pac-12 Conference Women's Tournament has a Cinderella – and she looks suspiciously like a Buffalo.

Colorado stunned top-seeded and eighth-ranked Oregon State 68-65 here Friday night in the Pac-12 quarterfinals, defeating a ranked opponent for the first time in seven attempts this season and for the first time in 18 tries.

The ninth-seeded Buffs – the lowest to defeat a No. 1 or No. 2 seed in Pac-12 tourney history – trailed the Beavers 60-59 with 4:21 to play, but went on a gritty 8-0 run and held OSU (26-4) at bay down the stretch.

“Great game for our team,” said CU coach Linda Lappe, whose 2013 Buffs also advanced the Pac-12 semis. “Really excited for our three seniors who have been battling all season long.”

One of the trio of seniors, Lexy Kresl, led CU (15-16) with 19 points – 14 in the first half – and was five-of-five from long range. Junior Jamee Swan contributed 18 points and 13 rebounds for her eighth double-double of the season, and senior Jen Reese added 13 points – all of them in the second half, with 10 scored consecutively during a stretch that saw OSU overtake CU and threaten to pull away.

The Buffs' third senior – Jasmine Sborov – finished with only two points, but they were vital. Her coast-to-coast layup with 1:43 left put CU up 63-60 and offered just a sliver of breathing room in the nerve-fraying final two minutes.

The Beavers, who outscored the Buffs 40-18 in the second half last month and rolled to a 66-44 in the Coors Events Center, had four players in double figures, led by Ruth Hamblin's 14. But CU limited OSU to a season-low 33.8 percent from the field (22-of-65) while the Buffs shot 43.5 percent (27-of-62). They also committed just 10 turnovers.

The Buffs opened on a blistering shooting pace but closed the half with their shooting touches iced down. Hitting their first five shots – including three treys by Kresl – they leapt to a 14-7 lead and went ahead by 10 points (30-20) on a 3-pointer by Lauren Huggins with 6:15 left until halftime.

But after shooting 67 percent in the game's first 4:30, CU had cooled to 37.5 percent by halftime. And after her torrid start – 14 points in the first 9:27 – Kresl didn't score in the half's final 10:33. CU finished the half three-of-seven from long range and the game six-of-nine from beyond the arc – and those treys were enough to keep OSU honest in its perimeter defense and help the Buffs get 24 points in the paint to the Beavers' 28.

Huggins' three points were her team's last of the first half. The Buffs got only six shots over the last six minutes of the half – and missed them all. The Beavers took advantage, launching a 13-0 run on a trey by Sydney Wiese and closing it on a three-ball by Ali Gibson to take a 33-30 halftime lead. It was OSU's first lead since 4-3, and that 13-0 run expanded to 15-0 when the Beavers scored the first two points of the second half to go up 35-30.

And by now, Reese was ready to score and Swan, who was only 8-of-21 from the field, still was making the occasional jumper and keeping Hamblin away from the basket. At the 8:32 mark, after six consecutive points from Swan, another Kresl trey and an “and-one” from Reese, CU had built a seven-point lead.

Trailing 56-49, Oregon State was in unfamiliar territory – but not too unfamiliar to rally. Over the next 4:11, the Beavers outscored the Buffs 11-3 and regained the lead, 60-59, on a three-point play by Hamblin with 4:21 remaining.

Coming out of a timeout, the Buffs got a stop but turned it over. The Beavers' next possession was fruitless. Swan hit a short jumper to put CU back in front 61-60, followed by Sborov's end-to-end for a layup and a 63-60 Buffs advantage with 1:43 left.

They went up 65-60 on a Kresl layup after a sweet feed from Reese, then 67-60 on two free throws by Haley Smith with 40.2 seconds showing. Ali Gibson's trey with just under 20 seconds left brought the Beavers to within 67-63, and after Sborov missed the front end of a one-and-one with 17.5 seconds left, a put-back by Gabriella Hanson brought OSU to 67-65 with 2.1 seconds showing.

Huggins was fouled and hit one of two free throws. Needing a 3-pointer to tie, OSU's in-bounds pass sailed out of bounds at mid-court as the buzzer and CU's biggest win of the season was complete.

SEATTLE – A night after disrupting the Pac-12 Conference Women's Tournament, the Colorado Buffaloes needed a monstrous encore to advance to the conference championship game. The Buffs never stopped battling to achieve it, but California's Brittany Boyd and Reshanda Gray and an attacking defense stopped CU short.

Cal's pair of stars and its demonic 'D' carried the No. 4 seed Bears past the Buffs 68-55 in Saturday's second semifinal.

"I'm really, really proud of our effort," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "We talked about leaving everything on the court, coming out and playing hard. I really feel like we were able to do that and when that happens you're not disappointed with the outcome."

CU led early but fell behind Cal 29-23 at halftime and never got closer than five points in the second half. The Bears' pressure defense forced most of CU's 16 turnovers, costing the Buffs 20 points.

Boyd and Gray each had double-doubles – Boyd finishing with a game-high 18 points, 10 rebounds and 7 assists, while Gray added 17 points and 10 boards.

With Boyd driving, dishing, hitting clutch jump shots and rebounding, and with Gray cleaning up inside, the Bears defeated the Buffs for the second time this season. The first was 75-59 on Jan. 5 in Berkeley, but it didn't carry the finality of Saturday night's loss for the Buffs and their three seniors – Jen Reese, Jasmine Sborov and Lexy Kresl.

Reese led CU (15-17) with 16 points, with Kresl contributing 11. The Buffs outshot the Bears from the field 41.4 percent to 38.7, but Cal outscored CU 34-24 in the paint, courtesy of Boyd getting to the rim and Gray working efficiently there, and held a 13-4 edge in fast-break points.

The Buffs started as efficiently as they did in Thursday night's stunning upset of the Beavers, hitting five of their first nine shots and racing to a 12-3 lead. The Bears, meanwhile, appeared temporarily out-of-sync offensively and missed nine of their first 10 field goal attempts.

But that didn't last. Cal began trapping just across half-court and it disrupted CU's offensive flow, causing most of the Buffs' eight first-half turnovers. That pressure also rejuvenated the Bears' offense: hitting six of their next eight shots, they went on a 12-0 run, caught the Buffs, kept on pushing the pace and kept on defending.

Although Cal played only seven players while CU used 10, the Bears' bench was more productive, outscoring the Buffs 10-3 in the first 20 minutes. But that figure increased to only 10-6 for the game.

By halftime, CU's finish had matched Cal's cold start. The Buffs hit only one of their last 10 field goal attempts, scoring only four points in the half's final 6:06, and trailed 29-23 at intermission.

CU needed an efficient second half start but didn't get it. Right away, the Buffs committed two turnovers, helping the Bears outscore them 6-2 and take their first double-figure lead (35-25). Another two CU turnovers aided in back-to-back baskets by Boyd, the second an "and-one" opportunity that she converted for an 11-point Cal lead – 40-29 – with 15:36 to play.

By the 10-minute mark the Buffs trailed 50-43, and time was growing short to make their move to reach Sunday's championship game. A Swan put-back (50-45) gave CU and its fans hope, but Gray answered with four quick points – including a three-point play – and Cal had restored its nine-point lead, 54-45, with just under eight minutes remaining.

Even down by nine, the Buffs weren't done. Baskets by Haley Smith and Kresl brought them to within 56-51, but that was it. Boyd answered with a foul-line jumper that Lappe called "probably the biggest shot of the game" when the Buffs were coming out of a timeout and needing a stop. Mercedes Jefflo added two free throws, then a trey from the left corner by Gabby Green giving the Bears a 10-point lead – 63-53 – with 1:11 to play.

2014-15 SEASON IN REVIEW

Colorado finished the 41st season of women's basketball with a 15-17 record, along the way exhibiting an exciting brand of basketball that provided its share of memorable moments.

The Buffaloes had their best overall offensive effort in nearly a decade. Colorado had success scoring inside and out, and by utilizing a balanced attack. The more players involved the better as the Buffaloes had a sparkling record of 15-5 when three or more players scored in double digits.

Colorado averaged nearly 70 points per game and hit the 80-point mark eight times. Three-point efficiency was a strength as the Buffaloes led the Pac-12 and ranked eighth in the nation from beyond the arc at 38.2 percent. That figure ranks as the fifth best in team history and the best overall since 2001-02.

The Buffaloes efficiency from the field wasn't limited to the 3-point arc. Colorado's overall field goal percentage of 42.9 was its best mark since 2003-04 and its 74.8 percent showing from the foul line ranks ninth in the team annals.

Colorado also had its share of nail-biting moments. The season featured a school-record four overtime contests, three of which came in the first seven games, and the sixth double-overtime outing in program history. The Buffaloes had 16 games decided by 10 points or less with half of those coming against Pac-12 Conference opponents.

The Buffaloes embarked on one of the most competitive nonconference schedules in recent memory by participating in the 2014 Preseason WNIT, reaching the quarterfinals and finishing with a 2-1 mark. A consolation round win over Arkansas State sparked a season best five-game win streak which included a road win at Denver and also top honors at the 2014 Omni Hotels Classic.

Colorado won its home holiday classic for the 18th time, and in dramatic fashion. After cruising to a first round win against Missouri State, the Buffaloes had their hands full in the championship against Colorado State. Facing a 14-point second half deficit the Buffaloes fought back to win in double-overtime on the heels of Lexy Kresl who sported a triple-double (12 points, 11 rebounds, 11 assists) en route to Omni Classic MVP honors. Jen Reese also earned All-Tournament honors, registering 26 points and 14 rebounds against the Rams.

Colorado would finish out nonconference play at 7-4, against a schedule that collectively won 60 percent of its games and accounted for eight postseason appearances.

The Buffaloes then entered what would prove to be one of the most competitive Pac-12 seasons in recent years. Five teams would make the NCAA Tournament, the league's most in nine years, plus another two played in the WNIT.

Colorado had a rocky start to conference play dropping its first four, including the season's only meeting with Stanford and California on the road. The Buffaloes regrouped to sweep their home-and-home series with Utah.

After dropping five of its next six, four of which game against postseason teams, Colorado started to gain some momentum for the final stretch run. The Buffaloes put together their best all-around performance to date with a resounding 72-51 win over Washington State. Colorado was also able to celebrate Senior Day in style with an 84-69 win over Oregon.

Having split each of its final three weekends, Colorado finished out the Pac-12 season at 6-12 and in ninth place in the standings. In a season that had its share of highs and lows, the Buffaloes ended with a bang.

As the No. 9 seed in the Pac-12 Tournament, Colorado matched up for a first round game with No. 8 USC. The Trojans swept the season series, winning a pair of games by an average of 18 points. But this was a different Colorado team. The Buffaloes shot 53 percent and controlled the game throughout, taking a 75-63 decision and in the process securing their streak of winning at least one game in each Pac-12 Tournament they've competed in since joining the league in 2011-12.

One night later, Colorado turned the heads of the entire nation, knocking off the top seed and No. 8/9 ranked Oregon State, 68-65 in the quarterfinals. Avenging a 22-point loss in Boulder just two weeks earlier, the Buffaloes became the lowest seed to ever defeat a No. 1 or 2 seed at the Pac-12 Tournament. Kresl scored 19 points and tied a tournament record by hitting 5-of-5 from 3-point range. Jamee Swan registered her eighth double-double of the season with 18 points and 13 rebounds as Colorado advanced to the semifinals for the second time in three years.

The run came to an end in the semifinals as Colorado fell to No. 4 seed California 68-55, in a closely fought game in which the Bears pulled away late.

Jen Reese

Lexy Kresl

Junior forward Jamee Swan led Colorado at 13.2 points, 7.9 rebounds and 1.9 blocks per game, earning honorable mention to the coaches All-Pac-12 team. Her 62 blocked shots rank fifth on Colorado's single-season list. She shot 46.7 percent on the season and also led the Buffaloes in free throws made (101) and attempted (141). Swan scored in double-figures a team-best 22 times including six of her last eight and 12 of her last 15. Swan also led the team with eight double-doubles and 10 double-digit rebounding games.

In the Pac-12 Swan ranked second in blocks, fourth in offensive rebounds (3.2 orpg), sixth in overall rebounding, 12th in defensive rebounds (4.8 drpg), 13th in scoring and 15th in field goal percentage.

Senior guard Lexy Kresl was third on the team in overall scoring at 12.4 points per game while pacing Colorado at 4.5 assists and 1.1 steals per outing, joining Swan as an honorable mention Pac-12 pick. She was the team's top 3-point shooter at 40.7 percent (61-of-150). Her 61 3-pointers rank 13th on Colorado's all-time season list while her 134 total assists rank 11th.

Kresl was named to the Pac-12 All-Tournament team as she averaged 14.0 points, 5.0 assists and 4.0 rebounds while hitting 49 percent from the field. On the overall Pac-12 charts Kresl ranked fourth in assists and free-throw percentage (.818), sixth in 3-pointers made (2.0 3mpg), seventh in 3-point percentage, 11th in assist-to-turnover ratio and 19th in scoring.

Senior forward Jen Reese was second in scoring (12.9 ppg), rebounding (6.9 rpg) and field goal percentage (.470). She completed her illustrious playing career as one of only 11 Buffaloes to record 1,200 points and 600 rebounds. Reese recorded double figures in scoring in 21 games including a career and team-season high 30 against UCLA on Jan. 11, the game in which she surpassed 1,000 points in her career.

She finished 2nd in the Pac-12, and 24th in the nation, in overall free throw percentage (.864). Reese topped all Pac-12 players in free throw percentage during conference games hitting 93 percent (40-of-43) and at one point made a team season best 24 straight.

Jamee Swan

Haley Smith

Also on the Pac-12 leaderboard, Reese was ninth in defensive boards (5.3 drpg), 11th in overall rebounding, 12th in field goal percentage and 15th in scoring.

Sophomore guard Haley Smith led Colorado and ranked ninth in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (.472). She hit 88 percent from the line (51-of-58) but fell just below the minimum number of attempts to be ranked on the league leaderboard. That number was good enough though for the ninth best single-season mark in team history (minimum 50 attempts). Smith was third on the team in rebounding (5.4 rpg) and fourth in scoring (9.4 ppg).

Senior guard Jasmine Sborov started all 32 games and averaged 6.5 points and 5.0 rebounds and ranked second on the team in assists with 78. In the win over Oregon she scored 13 points, grabbed a team-best nine rebounds and dished out four assists. Sborov had one of her best all-around games of her career in this season's first game with Arizona scoring 14 points with 11 rebounds and seven assists. It was her third career double-double, the second this season and first ever against a conference opponent. In fact all three numbers, points-rebounds-assists, are personal bests in a Pac-12 game.

Sophomore wing Lauren Huggins was second on the team with 43 3-pointers and hit 38.4 percent from long range, ranking 11th in the Pac-12. She made 14 of her final 28 from 3-point range including 7-of-13 over her final four contests. Sophomore forward Zoe Beard-Fails averaged 3.5 points and 2.7 rebounds and was second on the team in blocked shots with 16. Against Long Beach State she had career highs in points (14), rebounds (8) and field goals made and attempted (7-of-13).

1,000 POINTS, 1,000 REBOUNDS

Only three players in CU history have recorded 1,000 career rebounds, coincidentally all three are 1,000 point scorers making this 1,000-1,000 double club an exclusive list. Lisa Van Goor (1980-85) ranks first in rebounding with 1,145, and second in scoring at 2,067. Erin Scholz is CU's second-best career rebounder with 1,067 and is seventh in career scoring with 1,621 points from 1993-97. Jackie McFarland is CU's third all-time rebounder with 1,049 and scorer with 1,957 points from 2004-08.

1,000 POINT SCORERS

Just 27 players own membership in CU's 1,000 point club in 40 seasons of Colorado women's basketball. Jeannie Raikes was the first to do so, reaching her 1,000th point on Dec. 20, 1980. Lisa Van Goor was the fastest player to reach 1,000 points, getting there in just 55 games and the first sophomore ever at CU to accomplish the feat. Brittany Spears joined her in 2009, reaching 1,000 in her 63rd game; the final game of her sophomore season. Eight players have reached 1,000 points as juniors: Shelley Sheetz, Tracy Tripp, Erin Carson, Bridget Turner, Erin Scholz, Tera Bjorklund, Jackie McFarland and Chucky Jeffery.

Brittany Spears

Pasadena, Calif. (2007-11)

2,185 Points

ALL-TIME JERSEY NUMBERS

Jersey number 22 is the most frequently issued now worn by 13 Buffaloes. The number 12 is the next most frequently used jersey, by 12 players. Just the number "0" is an eligible number that hasn't been worn and three numbers have been worn by just one player (00, 41, 53).

The years in parentheses next to the names indicate the last season that number was worn and by whom. Current players are in bold.

Mandy Nightingale wore three different jersey numbers, 11 (1998-99), 32 (1999-2000) and 23 (2000-01, 2001-02). She is the only player in CU history to wear three different numbers since numbers were assigned on a permanent basis.

PRESEASON TOURNAMENTS

Colorado is 108-40 since the 1980-81 season in regular season tournaments, including a sparkling 46-10 all-time in its own Omni Hotels Classic which celebrates its 29th year in 2015.

Colorado has won 18 of 27 Omni Hotels Classic titles and has played in every championship game but three as the Buffaloes finished third in 2005 and 2007, and fourth in 2008. The 2006 season brought a one-year change in the tournament, as it followed a true "Classic" format where Colorado and Wyoming played Nevada and Charlotte on consecutive days, primarily because Wyoming and CU had just played each other three days before. The Classic returned to its normal format in 2007, and this season Colorado hosts Colorado State, Missouri State and TCU over Thanksgiving weekend.

The Buffaloes also have some notable preseason tournament wins outside the Coors Classic. CU won the Preseason WNIT in 1995 defeating New Mexico State, Utah, Texas A&M and Arkansas in the championship. More recently, Colorado claimed the 2003 WBCA Classic title in Boulder by topping Old Dominion and Notre Dame.

Erin Scholz helped Colorado to the 1995 Preseason WNIT championship with a 73-71 win over Arkansas.

Head Coach: Sox Walseth

Assistant Coach: Susan Horner

Record: 28-5 Overall
10-0 Intermountain Conference
(14-0 H, 9-5 A, 5-0 N)

Captain: Michell Irving

Notes: After a four-year hiatus, Sox Walseth, the winningest coach in CU men's basketball history, takes the helm of the women's team. The team responds with the school's first undefeated Intermountain Conference season (10-0). Colorado wins three games by scoring in excess of the century mark. Colorado wins the mid-season Big Eight Tournament, and Region VII Championship. Colorado went on to qualify for the AIAW National Championship Tournament.

Head Coach: Ceal Barry

Assistant Coaches: Jen Warden, LaTonya Watson, Kim LaLonde

Director of Operations: Kris Livingston

Record: 12-16 Overall
5-11 Big 12 Conference
(8-5 H, 2-9 A, 2-2 N)

Captains: La Shena Graham, Alexis Felts

Notes: Colorado is a preseason nationally ranked team for the sixth straight year. With a convincing 78-65 win over Missouri, Ceal Barry picks up her 300th win since taking over the reins of the Buffs. Seniors Alexis Felts, La Shena Graham and Damietta Velicica graduate as the program's sixth-winningest class with a 91-37 career record. In just her first season, Mel Johnson becomes Colorado's 15th all-time career leader in blocked shots with 29 rejections.

Head Coach: Ceal Barry

Director of Operations: Kris Livingston

Record: 10-19 Overall
4-12 Big 12 Conference
(9-6 Home, 0-12 Road, 1-1 Neutral)

Captains: Kami Carmann, Linda Lappe, Jenny Roulter

Notes: The Buffs opened the season with 11 healthy players, and were without a senior for the first time in program history. Coach Ceal Barry won her 400th career game in the first round of the Coors Classic, as the Buffs took the title once again. Sophomore guard Jenny Roulter was named third team All-Big 12 following the season. Roulter and teammate Sabrina Scott were invited to the U.S. R. William Jones Cup Team Trials in Colorado Springs following the season.

Head Coach: Ceal Barry

Director of Operations: Kris Livingston

Record: 22-9 Overall
11-5 Big 12 Conference
(12-3 Home, 6-5 Away, 4-1 Neutral)

Captain: Kami Carmann

Final Ranking: 20/23

Notes: For the first time since 1997, the Buffaloes were selected to the NCAA Tournament after their best record in four seasons. Colorado also upset No. 6 Iowa State at home on Feb. 14, CU's first win over a top 10 team since defeating No. 7 Purdue in 1995. Juniors Mandy Nightingale and Jenny Roulier were named Third Team All-Big 12 Conference following the season. Roulier and freshman Tera Bjorklund were both selected by USA Basketball to represent the United States on the World University Games Team and Junior National Team, respectively. Nightingale and sophomore Sabrina Scott participated on the Big 12 All Star Tour, which was coached by Ceal Barry in August.

Notes: The youth movement was certainly on for the Buffaloes in 2004-05. Over one-third (67.3 percent) of Colorado's scoring in 2004-05 came from freshmen or sophomores, while just over 64 percent of its rebounding from underclassmen. CU's youth showed at times as the team finished below .500 for the first time since the 1999-2000 season. Senior Veronica Johns-Richardson was given honorable mention to the All-Big 12 Conference team averaging 10 points per game and leading the Buffs in assists (85) and steals (59). Jackie McFarland and Kara Richards formed one of the better first-year duos in the Big 12. McFarland was twice named the Big 12 Rookie of the Week and was selected to the All-Big 12 Freshman Team by the Kansas City Star and the Waco Tribune-Herald. Richards earned the Big 12's Rookie of the Week honor in her first weekend as a collegian and was also selected to the Waco Tribune-Herald's All-Big 12 Freshman squad. Senior Sarah Lini and junior Whitney Law were members of the Academic All-Big 12 first team while Johns-Richardson earned second team acclaim. Head coach Ceal Barry retired after 22 seasons on the CU bench, leaving as the school's all-time winningest coach with 427 wins.

Head Coach: Kathy McConnell-Miller

Assistant Coaches: Mike Neighbors, Bethann Shapiro Ord, Aisha Veasley

Director of Operations: Carla Morrow

Record: 9-21 Overall
3-13 Big 12 Conference
(7-9 Home, 1-9 Away, 1-3 Neutral)

Captains: Jasmina Ilic, Whitney Law, Jackie McFarland

Notes: The Kathy McConnell-Miller era at CU began with a bang as the Buffaloes defeated Cal State-Fullerton 100-71 in the season opener. Jasmina Ilic and Jackie McFarland each netted 34 points, marking the first time in team history a pair of teammates scored 30 or more points in one game. Senior Whitney Law dished out a school-record 15 assists as McConnell-Miller claimed her first CU coaching victory. McFarland had one of the best sophomore seasons in team history. She averaged 17.2 points and 9.2 rebounds per game earning second team All-Big 12 Conference honors. McFarland's 516 total points were the second most by a sophomore in team history and seventh overall. Her 277 rebounds were the third best mark by a sophomore and the 10th most overall in Buffs' history. McFarland was also named a second team Academic All-American, the lone sophomore on the three Academic All-America teams. Law and senior Tami Garnett joined McFarland on the Academic All-Big 12 team

Head Coach: Kathy McConnell-Miller

Aisha Veasley

Director of Operations: Carla Morrow

Record: 13-17 Overall
6-10 Big 12 Conference
(11-5 Home, 1-10 Away, 1-2 Neutral)

Captains: Jasmina Ilic, Jackie McFarland, Susie Powers

Notes: Colorado finished the 2006-07 season at 13-17 overall and tied with Texas and Texas Tech for seventh place in the Big 12 Conference at 6-10. CU's six Big 12 wins were one more than its totals in the previous two years combined (3-13 in 2005-06 and 2-14 in 2004-05) and the best overall record since the 2003-04 season when the Buffs finished 22-8, 11-5 in the Big 12, and advanced to the program's last NCAA Tournament. Junior forward Jackie McFarland made headlines by being named to the 2007 All-Big 12 Conference first team and earning honorable mention to the Associated Press All-America team. McFarland, who became the fifth player in team history to record 1,300 points and 700 rebounds, led the Big 12 and ranked third in the nation in field goal percentage (.605) and was second in the Big 12 in scoring and rebounding. Senior Jasmina Ilic earned honorable mention to the All-Big 12 team and joined McFarland on CU's 1,000 point scoring list. Ilic finished her CU career sixth on the all-time 3-point field goals list and is 19th in scoring.

Director of Operations: Tracy Tripp

Record: 11-18, 3-13 Big 12
(8-8 H, 2-9 A, 1-1 N)

Captains: Kara Richards, Hannah Skildum, Bianca Smith

NOTES: Colorado battled through one of the toughest schedules in 35 years of women's basketball in 2008-09. The Buffaloes played in 11 games against ranked teams, the second most in team history and played 17 games in 2008-09 against teams that would go on to qualify for postseason play. Sophomore Brittany Spears was named to the All-Big 12 Conference second team. She became just the second player in school history to reach 1,000 points by the end of a sophomore season. Senior Kara Richards was an honorable mention All-Big 12 pick. Freshman guard Alyssa Fressle was named to the 2009 Big 12 All-Rookie team.

Head Coach: Kathy McConnell-Miller

Assistant Coaches: Patrick Harrington, Tom McConnell, Aisha Veasley

Director of Operations: Tracy Tripp

Record: 13-17, 3-13 Big 12 (10-8 H, 2-8 A, 1-1 N)

Captains: Whitney Houston, Bianca Smith, Brittany Spears

Notes: Colorado took advantage of home cooking by winning nine of 10 nonconference games at home en route to a 10-3 nonconference record. The Buffaloes finished second at the Minnesota Subway Classic and won their own Omni Classic at the Coors Events Center. Brittany Spears and Bianca Smith were named to both all-tournament teams while Chucky Jeffery was named to the Omni Classic All-Tournament team. CU's 11 games against ranked teams were the second most in team history, trailing only the 16 played in 2001-02. The Buffaloes played 15 of their 30 games against teams that would advance to either the NCAA or WNIT postseason events. Colorado led the Big 12 and ranked 14th in the nation in free-throw accuracy at 76.1 percent, the third best mark in team history. CU's 229 3-pointers made were the second most on the team's all-time charts. The Buffaloes ranked second in the Big 12 and 18th in NCAA Division I in 3-pointers made at 7.6 per outing. Spears led Colorado in scoring (17.7 ppg), rebounding (7.8 rpg) and steals (2.1 spg), earning honorable mention to the 2010 All-Big 12 Conference team. She is one of only six players in team history to reach 1,500 points and 700 rebounds in a career. Smith was named the 2010 Big 12 Sixth Man Award winner after averaging 12.8 points per game and leading the Big 12 in 3-pointers (2.7 3mpg) and free-throw percentage (.887). She graduates as CU's single-game, season and career leader in 3-point field goals made and attempted. Smith completed her career in 18th place on CU's all-time scoring list with 1,138 points. Sophomores Alyssa Fressle and Julie Seabrook were named to the Academic All-Big 12 Conference Women's Basketball First Team.

Head Coach: Linda Lappe

Assistant Coaches: Jennie Baranczyk, Jonas Chatterton, Johnna Pointer

Director of Operations: Tracy Tripp

Record: 18-16, 6-10 Big 12 (15-6 H, 3-8 A, 0-2 N)

Captains: N/A

Notes: The Linda Lappe era began for Colorado's final season in the Big 12 Conference. Lappe led CU to an 18-16 overall record, advancing to the quarterfinals of the 2011 postseason WNIT. CU finished tied for eighth place in the Big 12 at 6-10, its best league mark since 2007...Lappe was the only rookie NCAA Division I head coach to beat a ranked opponent this season, and her teams achieved it twice, knocking off No. 17/16 Iowa State (also her first conference win) and No. 16/15 Oklahoma. Additionally, Lappe was one of just three NCAA I rookie head coaches to lead her team into postseason play...All-Big 12 first team senior guard/forward Brittany Spears graduated as CU's all-time leading scorer with 2,185 points. She led CU and ranked third in the Big 12 in scoring at 19.2 points per game. She was also first in defensive rebounds (6.0 drpg), third in rebounding (8.1 rpg), fourth in 3-point field goals (2.4 3mpg), fifth in free-throw percentage (.830), 10th in steals (1.8 spg) and 11th in blocked shots (1.2 bpg). Sophomore guard Chucky Jeffery put together one of the season's most memorable individual performances in the championship game of the Omni Classic against Loyola Chicago. Jeffery recorded the second triple-double in team history by totaling 10 points, 13 rebounds and 10 assists during CU's 65-34 win...Sophomore Meagan Malcolm-Peck and junior Julie Seabrook were named to the Academic All-Big 12 Conference Women's Basketball Second Team.

Head Coach: Linda Lappe

Assistant Coaches: Jennie Baranczyk, Jonas Chatterton, LaTonya Watson

Captain: Julie Seabrook

Record: 21-14, 6-12 Pac-12 (12-6 H, 6-7 A, 3-1 N)

Notes: The Buffaloes ushered in the Pac-12 Conference era with a 21-14 overall record, the school's first 20-win season in eight years...Under second-year head coach Linda Lappe, Colorado swept its 11-game nonconference regular season schedule and equaled the second-best start in school history at 12-0 by defeating Utah, 58-52, in its inaugural Pac-12 game...The Buffaloes won their first conference tournament game since 2007 with a 55-41 win over Utah in the first round of the Pac-12 Tournament...Colorado advanced to the WNIT for the second straight season, its first back-to-back postseason appearance of any kind since playing in four straight NCAA Tournaments from 2001 to '04. Junior guard Chuckie Jeffery had an incredible postseason run averaging 15.8 points and 11.8 rebounds during the WNIT. She had double-doubles in the final three games and recorded her second career triple-double, and just the program's third, with 12 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists at Oklahoma State...Jeffery earned All-Pac-12 honors and was named to the league's All-Defensive Team. Lexy Kresl was voted to the All-Freshman team by the media while she and Jen Reese earned honorable mention to the coach's All-Freshman squad. Senior forward Julie Seabrook earned honorable mention to the Academic All-Pac-12 team.

Record: 15-17, 6-12 Pac-12 (10-7 H, 3-9 A, 2-1 N)

NOTES: Colorado had its best offensive output in nearly a decade, averaging just under 70 points per game. Three-point efficiency was a strength as the Buffaloes led the Pac-12 and ranked eighth in the nation from beyond the arc at 38.2 percent. The season featured a school-record four overtime contests, three of which came in the first seven games and the sixth double-overtime in program history. The Buffaloes had 16 games decided by 10 points or less with half of those coming against Pac-12 Conference opponents. Colorado's 2014-15 schedule ranked as the 26th toughest in the nation based on overall winning percentage (.597). Colorado pulled off the biggest upset in Pac-12 Conference Tournament history as the No. 9 seed the Buffaloes knocked off top seed and No. 8/9 ranked Oregon State in the quarterfinals, becoming the lowest seed to ever beat a No. 1 or 2 seed at the tournament. Senior Lexy Kresl earned Pac-12 All-Tournament team honors and she joined Jamee Swan as an honorable mention to the coaches' All-Pac-12 team. Kresl also picked up Pac-12 All-Academic honors for the third straight year while Haley Smith and Zoe Beard-Fails received honorable mention. Jen Reese and Kresl joined the 1,000-point club. Reese became the 11th player in team history to reach 1,200 points and 600 rebounds.

*Final Poll

Poll Notes and Streaks

Colorado was ranked in 75 straight polls from the final poll of the 1991-92 season (Mar. 15, 1992) to Dec. 9, 1996.

Of those 75 polls, 49 weeks were spent among the nation's top-10 teams.

Colorado was ranked in 25 consecutive AP polls from Dec. 17, 2012 to Jan. 13, 2014, the third longest streak in team history (30 from 2001-02).

Colorado has appeared in 183 AP polls, ranking third among Pac-12 schools.

In the past 14 seasons, Colorado has appeared on 144 regional or national telecasts and is scheduled for another 15 during the 2015-16 regular season. This will be the fourth year of the Pac-12 Networks, which consists of one national and six regional networks. Colorado tied a school-record with 16 games televised in 2014-15 which included three postseason contests. The Pac-12 Networks will once again televise the opening three rounds of the Pac-12 Tournament, March 3-5, in Seattle, giving the Buffaloes at least one more televised game and potentially more as the team advances through the bracket. ESPN is scheduled to pick up the Pac-12 Championship game on Sunday, March 6. CU also has all games, home and away, broadcast on KKZN 760 or KVCU 1190 AM, featuring play-by-play man Corey Lopez and color analyst Carol Callan of USA Basketball.

#-The WNBA Elite Draft, held in Feb. 1997 prior to the inaugural season, was for players who had competed professionally in other leagues, mostly international.

ELITE EIGHT TEAMS

1992-93 (27-4)

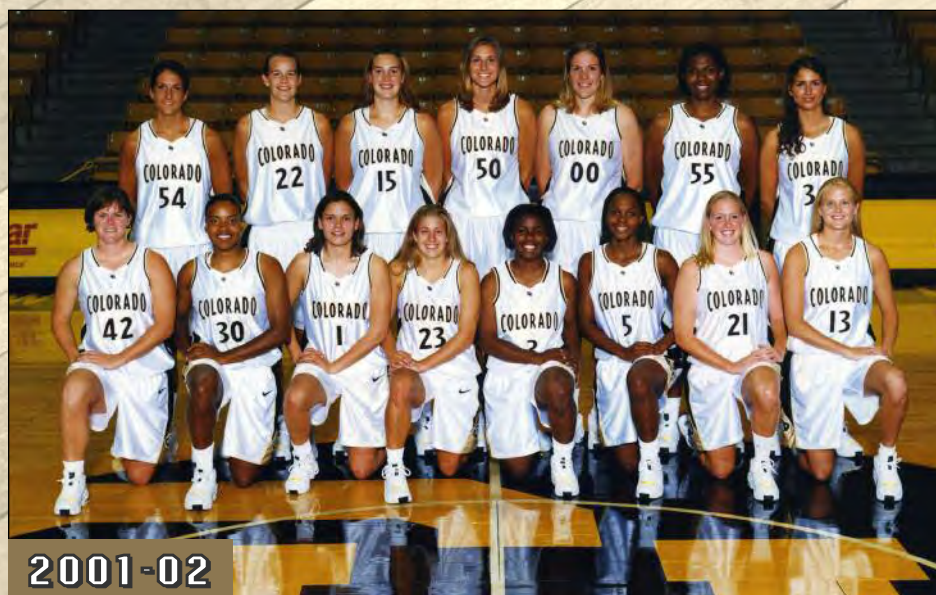

Colorado's first Elite Eight team won the 1993 Big Eight championship and earned an at large berth to the NCAA Tournament, claiming the No. 4 seed in the West Region. After a first round bye, the Buffaloes defeated No. 5 seed UC Santa Barbara in Boulder, 81-54, to gain a spot in the West Region in Missoula, Mont. Colorado upset No. 1 seed and defending national champion Stanford 80-67 in the regional semifinal. Eventual national champion Texas Tech ended CU's Final Four bid with a 79-54 decision in the regional final.

1994-95 (30-3)

After sweeping the Big Eight regular season and tournament titles, Colorado received the league's first ever No. 1 NCAA Tournament seed, holding that spot in the Midwest Region. The Buffaloes entered the NCAA Tournament ranked a program-best No. 2 in the Associated Press Top 25 poll and riding a 22-game win streak which would grow to a school-record 25 in a row during the championship. Colorado cruised to opening round wins over Holy Cross (83-49) and Southwest Missouri State (78-34) in Boulder before embarking on its third straight trip to regionals. Colorado took care of George Washington 77-61 in the Sweet 16 in Des Moines, Iowa, before falling in a heartbreaker to Georgia in the regional final, 82-79.

2001-02 (24-10)

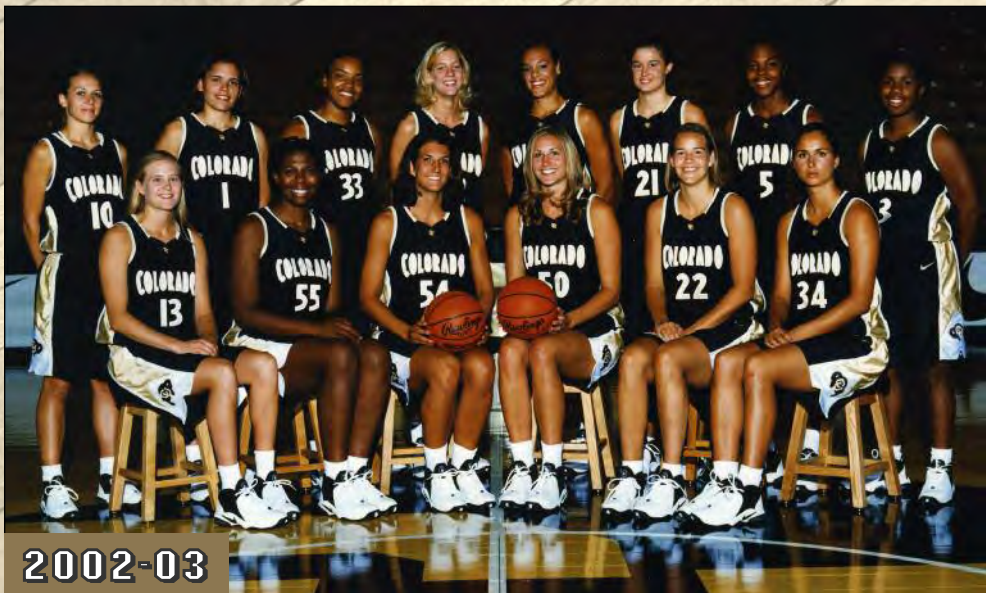

The Buffaloes sported one of the toughest schedules in the country, playing games against 16 ranked opponents, but still managed to place third in the ever-tough Big 12 Conference. Colorado didn't let an early exit from the Big 12 Championship deter its run to a third NCAA Elite Eight. The Buffaloes were the No. 3 seed in the West and took advantage of their home floor for opening round wins over Southern (88-61) and LSU (69-58). Boise, Idaho, was the site for the West Regional where Colorado knocked of No. 2 seed and future conference rival Stanford, 62-59, to advance to the program's third Elite Eight. Top seed and eventual national runner-up Oklahoma ended Colorado's run, 94-60, in the finals.

SWEET 161993-94*1993-94 (27-5)

Sandwiched in between two Elite Eight appearances, the 1994 Big Eight Champions had a successful run in their own right. Ranked in the Top 10 for nearly the entire season, Colorado earned an at-large bid to the 1994 NCAA Tournament as the No. 3 seed in the West Region as the field grew from 48 to 64 teams. The Buffaloes hosted first- and second-round games for the third straight season, gaining a trip to Stanford and the regional semifinals with wins over Marquette (77-74) and Oregon (92-71). No. 2 seed Stanford had the Buffaloes on its own floor for the Sweet 16 game, and in revenge for the year before, took a 78-62 decision.

As the Big Eight grew into the Big 12, Colorado continued its prominence on a national stage. The Buffaloes won the inaugural Big 12 Tournament championship after placing third in the regular season. Colorado earned the No. 2 seed in the Midwest Region and took care of business in first- and second-round games in Boulder, claiming wins over Marshall (69-49) and Stephen F. Austin (66-57). Iowa City played host to the Midwest Regionals, where Colorado ran into a tough Tennessee squad, 75-67 in the Sweet 16.

A format change in the NCAA Tournament gave the Buffaloes the unique opportunity to host the NCAA Tournament despite being a lower seed. As the No. 6 seed in the Midwest Region, Colorado took full advantage by defeating BYU in the first round, 84-45, and then shocking No. 3 seed and heavily favored North Carolina, 86-67, to gain the program's sixth trip to the regional round. The Buffaloes traveled to Knoxville, Tenn., to face No. 2 Villanova in a rematch of the Coors Classic Championship game earlier that season. However, like in the Coors Classic, Villanova had a little more at the end, squeaking out a 53-51 win over the Buffaloes.

NCAA TEAMS

1987-88 (21-11)

Colorado's first NCAA Tournament team. The Buffaloes finished 8-6 in the Big Eight and earned a berth to the big dance after a runner-up showing at the Big Eight Tournament. The No. 7 seed in the West, Colorado won its first ever NCAA Tournament game, 78-72, over No. 10 seed Eastern Illinois in Long Beach, Calif. Host and No. 2 seed Long Beach State ended Colorado's first tournament appearance with a 103-64 second round victory.

1988-89 (27-4)

Colorado swept the Big Eight regular season (14-0) and won its first conference tournament championship. The Buffaloes received the No. 3 seed in the West and a first round bye. Colorado also served as a host site for the first time but fell in its first NCAA game at the Coors Events Center, 84-74, to No. 6 seed UNLV.

1991-92 (22-9)

After a two-year break, the Buffaloes returned to the NCAA Tournament, earning the Big Eight's automatic bid following their second tournament championship in four years. The No. 7 seed in the Midwest Region, Colorado fell in a first round game to No. 10 Southern Illinois, 84-80, in overtime in Boulder. While an early exit was not what the team had expected, this would prove to be the first in a fantastic run of six-straight NCAA Tournaments for the Buffaloes, including two Elite Eights.

1991-92

NCAA TEAMS

2000-01 (22-9)

After a three-year hiatus, Colorado returned to the NCAA Tournament; which would be its first of four straight. The Midwest's No. 6 seed, this year marked the first NCAA Tournament since CU's inaugural appearance in 1988 where the Buffaloes played first- and second-round games away from Boulder. Nashville was the locale for Colorado, which claimed a 98-78 first round win over Siena, before falling to the host and No. 3 seed Vanderbilt Commodores, 65-59, in the second round.

2012-13 (25-7)

Colorado had its best season in nearly a decade, placing fourth in the Pac-12 (13-5) and advancing to its 13th NCAA Tournament and first since 2004. Prior to the beginning of the season, the Buffaloes knew they would host first- and second-round games at the Coors Events Center. Colorado earned the No. 5 seed in the Norfolk Region. Former Big 12 rival Kansas, which had made the Sweet 16 the year before, had a disappointing regular season but caught fire late to sneak in as a No. 12 seed. The Jayhawks had the momentum and defeated the Buffaloes 67-52 in the first round before eventually knocking off No. 4 seed South Carolina en route to the Sweet 16.

As difficult as it would be to follow a 30-3 season and a No. 2 national ranking, the 1996 team held its own by winning the Preseason WNIT Tournament. Led by a new generation of Buffaloes, Colorado won its fourth and the final Big Eight Conference Tournament before the league would become the Big 12. Colorado earned the No. 3 seed in the West and defeated Tulane 83-75 in a first-round game in Boulder before falling to No. 6 seed Auburn, 68-61, in the second round.

Ceal Barry's 12th and final NCAA Tournament team was put in the opposite position of the year before, being a higher-seeded team playing on a lower seeds home floor. Like the year before, Colorado was the No. 6 seed, but this time in the East Region and forced to face No. 11 UC Santa Barbara in a true road game. Colorado fell to USCB, 76-49, in that first round contest.

NCAA ACTION

The Buffs have made 13 trips to March Madness, including six straight in the 1990s (one of 15). When Ceal Barry and the Buffs reached the pinnacle as the No. 1 seed in the Midwest Region in 1995, it was a first for Colorado and the Big Eight Conference.

The fans in Boulder came out in full force for the 1995 Midwest Region first and second rounds, selling out the Buffs' games against Holy Cross and Southwest Missouri State (now Missouri State) with a then-NCAA record 11,072 for each contest.

From 1993 to 1997, Colorado had one of the more impressive NCAA Tournament runs going 10-5 and advancing to three Sweet 16s and two Elite Eight rounds.

In fact, the Buffs were only one of 10 schools to advance to at least four Sweet 16s in that span and one of 11 to advance to the elite round of eight.

The Coors Events Center has hosted one or more rounds of the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament in 12 different seasons, including 1992 where the Buffaloes hosted a first round session as well as the Midwest Regional. Most recently, the Coors Events Center was a first- and second-round site for the Norfolk Regional in 2013, hosting Colorado, South Carolina, Kansas and South Dakota State.

CU has hosted two NCAA tournaments at the Pepsi Center in Denver; the 2001 Midwest Regional and 2006 first and second round games.

REGULAR SEASON CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIPS

1989 Big Eight Champions
(14-0)

Basketball, as in life, offers its share of firsts. And the 1988-89 season was no exception. The Buffs would open the pre-season with a 10-3 showing, including the program's first win over Louisiana Tech. The 61-60 win would be Colorado's first over a No. 2 ranked team and Barry would use that win to catapult the Buffs to a 20-game win streak that would come to a halt during the NCAA Tournament. But not before the Buffs would claim the Big Eight Conference's first undefeated regular season (14-0) title, their first tournament title and lay claim to the program's first conference player-of-the-year in Bridget Turner.

Colorado would graduate five seniors and reload with seven newcomers and leave the league's coaches to believe that they couldn't repeat its feats from the previous year. Although the nation's experts pegged the Buffs the No. 4 preseason team in the country, in the preseason Big Eight coaches poll, the Buffs would be picked to finish behind Kansas come March. Well, the exact opposite happened. Colorado would go 12-2 in conference competition and the preseason player-of-the-year would take a seat behind CU senior Jamillah Lang, crowned the 1994 conference queen.

(12-2)

A team little known to anyone outside the conference circles, the Buffs would take the nation by storm as they took a pre-season No. 25 ranking to No. 9 by March. A 15-game win streak to open the season would turn heads as CU was the country's seventh-ranked team when it opened the Big Eight campaign—a convincing 61-33 win over Kansas State in Boulder. The Buffs would live up to their preseason expectations to take the conference title, although few probably thought they would do it so convincingly, outscoring their league opponents by an average of more than 15 points a game.

If the 1989 conference season was a season of firsts, then the '95 campaign was when the Buffs would prove that history can repeat itself, and still provide some firsts. Following a 5-2 start, Colorado would go on a 25-game win streak, including the league's only second unblemished 14-0 conference record. Colorado's 74-71 win at Kansas State in the conference finale would put the seal on the league's only regular season conference three-peat and second straight conference player-of-the-year award winner in Shelley Sheetz. As they did in the 1993 postseason, the '95 Buffs would be the conference's second team to advance to a regional final in NCAA play.

CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIPS1989 Big Eight

Colorado's first conference tournament championship was icing on the cake of a dominant regular season where the Buffaloes swept the Big Eight (14-0). Having finished as runner up two of the previous three years, Colorado finally broke through in the championship game, and in dramatic fashion, needing double overtime to defeat Oklahoma State 98-92. Big Eight Player of the Year Bridget Turner took home Tournament MVP honors.

1992 Big Eight

Colorado started the 1992 Big Eight season at 0-3, but rallied to win 14 straight; 11 to finish the regular season and three more to capture its second tournament championship. Big Eight Newcomer of the Year Shelley Sheetz earned Tournament MVP honors leading the Buffaloes to wins over Kansas State (79-27), Nebraska (74-66) and Kansas (70-53). Colorado returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since its last Big Eight Tournament title team in 1989.

1995 Big Eight

Arguably the best women's basketball team in program history. Led by Player of the Year Shelley Sheetz and Newcomer of the Year Isabelle Fijalkowski, Colorado swept through the Big Eight regular season and tournament. That string of 17 wins was part of a larger 25-game win streak that vaulted the Buffaloes to the No. 2 national ranking and a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Sheetz, earning her second Tournament MVP, led CU to wins over Iowa State (73-38), Oklahoma State (76-58) and Kansas (61-45) in the title game.

1996 Big Eight

Kansas put an end to Colorado's string of three-straight Big Eight regular season titles, but the Buffaloes would get the last laugh in more ways than one. After wins over Oklahoma (76-60) and Oklahoma State (69-59), Colorado upended Kansas (75-47) for its second-straight tournament title. What made this win even more special was it was the final tournament for the Big Eight as both the Buffaloes and Jayhawks would begin Big 12 Conference play that next season.

1997 Big 12

A new conference, but similar results for Colorado, as the old Big Eight and four Southwest Conference schools made up the new Big 12. Colorado finished third in its first Big 12 regular season, earning a No. 3 seed and first round bye. Sporting a roster full of players with plenty of "tournament time" experience, Colorado stormed past Iowa State (56-39), Texas (64-50) and Kansas State (54-44) to claim the inaugural Big 12 Tournament Championship and the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Longest Home Win Streak: 53 (Feb. 20, 1980, through Nov. 19, 1983)

Longest Home Conference Streak: 31 (Jan. 25, 1992, through Feb. 2, 1996)

Since 1979, the Coors Events Center on the southwest edge of the Boulder main campus has been home to Colorado women's basketball. It is the home of the NCAA's eighth-longest all-time home court win streak, the Big Eight Conference's longest home league streak and home to five undefeated home seasons.

The most dramatic changes in the 32-year history of the Coors Events Center have taken place in the last four years, culminating with the dedication of a 43,000 square foot practice facility in August 2011.

CU made the commitment to enhance the basketball program by reconfiguring the second level of the Coors Events Center for a basketball operations center. The headquarters for Colorado Basketball, completed in April 2008, allows the Buffs' coaches, student-athletes and staff more convenient access to the playing floor, practice gym, locker rooms, weight room and sports medicine facilities within the Events Center.

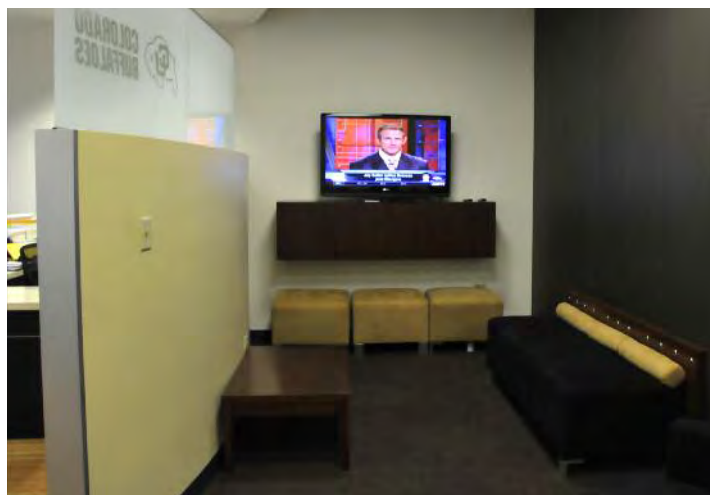

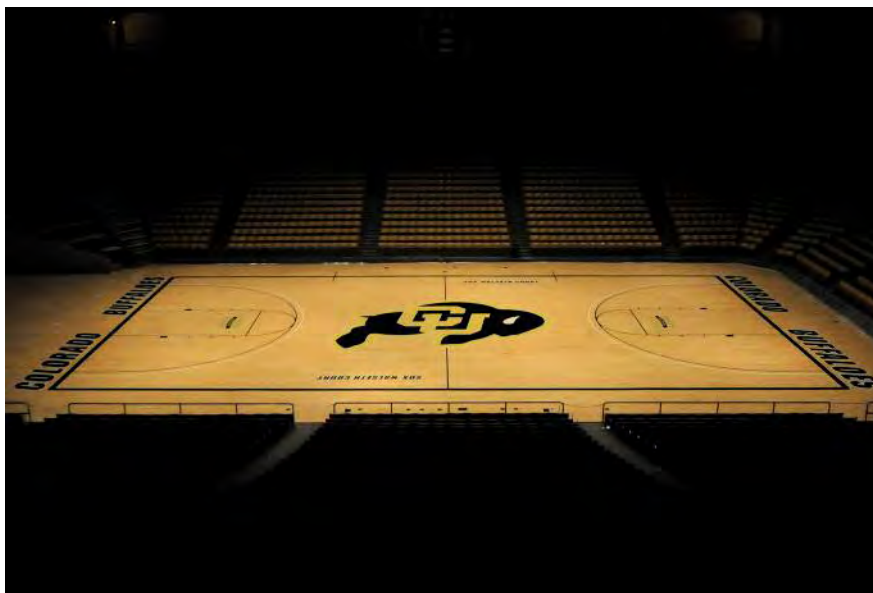

COORS EVENTS CENTER

During the summer of 2008 the Coors Events Center underwent a $200,000 "Floor Lift" as a permanent maple surface was installed. The high grade maple gives the floor and almost white appearance and features the signature Buffalo on Sox Walseth Court.

The $10.8 million practice facility, built from private funding, opened in August 2011 adding two full basketball/volleyball courts, a new women's basketball locker room and additional coaches offices and meeting rooms. The facility is attached to the north side of the Coors Events Center and allows CU basketball and volleyball student-athletes greater access and teams better flexibility in practice and workout scheduling.

The structure matches the campus architectural Charles Klauder theme, a northern Italian, rural Tuscany influence, with varicolored sandstone and red-tiled roofs to match the other 200-plus buildings on the CU-Boulder campus.

The practice facility was given LEED Platinum Certification, the highest possible by the internationally recognized system developed by the US Green Building Council. As of the summer 2011, 557 buildings in the world have achieved it, 473 in the US. Of the 473 in the US, only 31 other buildings in all of higher education nationwide have met the standard, and this is the second athletic facility beside Florida's west stadium expansion.

The Coors Events Center is within walking distance from all points of campus, and parking for Colorado basketball games is free to the public in the parking garage located just north of the arena. The southwest entrance faces the majestic flatirons, the mountains located west of campus, providing Colorado fans with one of most beautiful views in all of collegiate athletics when they arrive to the game. Coors has hosted its share of concerts. Bob Dylan, Jack Ingram and Juice Newton are just some of the artists who have taken the stage in the Events Center, providing an indoor venue for CU students and Boulder residents equipped to attract some of the best entertainers in the World.

COLORADO BASKETBALL MILESTONES

March 19, 1898—Miss Longon (of East Denver) organizes a team and is elected captain. The first girls' basketball game is played at the University and Denver East High School defeats the University, 21-9.

1899—Miss Pinger is elected captain and Colorado defeats Colorado Agricultural College, twice.

1900—Miss Elwell is elected captain and the University has an undefeated season (number of games unknown).

February 3, 1900—The University defeats Colorado Agricultural College, 30-2. Admission to the game is 25 cents and there is a dance given afterwards paid for by the money raised for admission.

1902 Team

March 14, 1902—University defeats Agricultural College, 47-8.

January 17, 1975—A 57-54 win over Weber State, in the season-opener in Boulder, gives the program its first win. It also marks Colorado's first varsity game and first as a member of the Intermountain Conference.

March 20, 1978—Maureen "Rene" Portland is named Colorado's third head women's basketball coach.

May 11, 1979—Corky O'Rourke (Most Valuable Player Award), Sue Horner (Senior and Leadership Award), Lizz Brugger (Coach's Award) and Kim Scheidt (Most Improved Player Award) are honored at the first University of Colorado women's sports banquet.

May 25, 1979—The Big Eight Conference voted to sponsor championship events for women in 10 sports on a one-year trial basis.

July 11, 1979—Rene Portland named coordinator of women's athletics at CU.

November 16, 1979—The Buffs play their first game in the Coors Events/Conference Center, and christen the arena with a 112-48 win over in-state rival Colorado State.

December 16, 1980—After a 7-0 start on the season, Colorado is ranked in the Associated Press for the first time in the program's history. The Buffs are ranked 20th and celebrate with a 134-33 win over Fort Carson.

June 14, 1980—Sox Walseth, after a 20-year career with the CU men's team, is named Colorado's fourth women's basketball coach.

January 15, 1983—Colorado's first game as a member of the Big Eight Conference. The Buffs lose at Kansas State, 59-75.

March 11, 1983—With four rebounds in the first half against Kansas State, Lisa Van Goor becomes the first Colorado basketball player, male or female, to grab 1,000 rebounds. She reached the milestone in only her third season.

March 15, 1983—After three seasons with the Lady Buffs and 20 seasons with the CU men's team, head coach Sox Walseth announces his retirement. Walseth compiled a career record of 338-266 from 1957-83.

April 12, 1983—Ceal Barry was named Colorado's fifth head coach in program history.

February 23, 1985—Fifth-year senior Lisa Van Goor scores 19 points against Kansas State to become the first basketball player in Colorado history, male or female, to eclipse the 2,000-point career mark, passing Cliff Meely's 1,940 points. She also became the first CU player to score 2,000 points and grab 1,000 boards.

February 25, 1989—Colorado beats Kansas, 70-51, in Lawrence, to become the first Big Eight Conference team to register an undefeated (14-0) conference record.

March 28, 1989—A crowd of 11,199 fans pack the Coors Events/Conference Center to watch No. 9 Colorado play then-No. 16 UNLV in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. It is the largest crowd to watch a women's basketball game in Boulder.

November 24, 1992—Colorado is ranked in the preseason AP poll for the first time in the program's history. The Buffs enter the 1992-93 season as the nation's 25th-ranked team.

March 20, 1993—An 81-74 win over UC-Santa Barbara in the second round of the NCAA Tournament catapults the Buffs into the Sweet 16 for the first time in the program's history. Colorado would go on to beat defending national champion Stanford, 80-67, in the regional semifinal before falling to eventual national champion Texas Tech, 79-54, in the regional final.

April 16, 1993—After 19 seasons as the Lady Buffs, head coach Ceal Barry announces that the team will be referred to as the Buffaloes, dropping the moniker, Lady.

February 25, 1994—The Big 12 Conference is formed when Baylor, Texas A&M, Texas and Texas Tech merge with existing Big Eight Conference schools Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, to create one of the most formidable women's basketball conferences in the country.

February 26, 1995—Colorado escapes a last second shot and beats Kansas State, 74-71, in Manhattan, to become only the second team in Big Eight history to have an undefeated (14-0) league season.

March 13, 1995—Colorado is voted the second-ranked team in the country in the final Associated Press poll of the 1994-95 season. It is the highest ranking in the program's and Rene Portland's 1979-80 team was Colorado's first to be nationally ranked.

COLORADO BASKETBALL MILESTONES

Colorado's 1977-78 team was its winningest to date, with an 18-14 mark.

Big Eight Conference's history.

March 14, 1999—Shelley Garcia's collegiate career comes to a close as a member of the second winningest class in CU history (110-48). Ceal Barry coaches 400th game at Colorado.

November 26, 1999—Colorado defeats Wright State 76-49, earning head coach Ceal Barry her 400th career victory.

January 18, 2000—Ceal Barry coaches her 500th game at Colorado, becoming just the fourth person in CU history to coach that many games, meets or matches.

January 22, 2001—Buffs earn first national ranking since the 1997-98 season, checking in at No. 25 in the Associated Press Poll.

March 11, 2001—Colorado earns its ninth bid to the NCAA Tournament, first since 1997. They will face Siena in a first round game at Vanderbilt University.

November 9, 2001—Britt Hartshorn becomes the 16th 1,000 point scorer for Colorado and the first for CU since 1997 with four points against Oral Roberts. She would be joined later in that month by classmates Jenny Roulier (Nov. 11) and Mandy Nightingale (Nov. 23), making the trio the first in CU history to reach the 1,000 point mark not only in the same month, but also in the same season.

February 3, 2002—On the strength of a 40-foot three pointer by Mandy Nightingale, Colorado defeats No. 12 Texas Tech in Lubbock in overtime, giving CU its first-ever road win with over 10,000 fans in attendance.

March 23, 2002—Randie Wirt hits two free throws with eight seconds left to clinch a Colorado upset over No. 2 seed and No. 5 ranked Stanford in the West Regional Semifinal, sending the third-seeded Buffaloes to their first Elite Eight since 1995.

January 26, 2003—Tera Bjorklund becomes the 19th player in CU history to score 1,000 points, and just the sixth junior to do so, seventh non-senior.

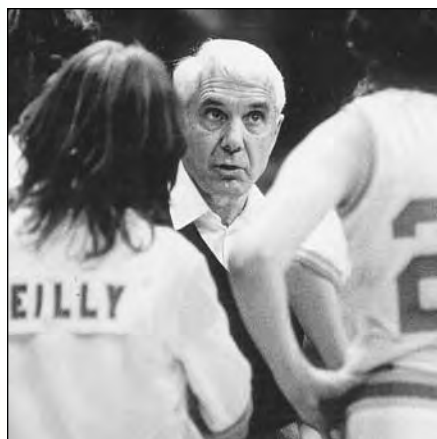

November 28, 2003—Ceal Barry won her 400th game as CU's head coach as the Buffaloes defeated Idaho State 95-65 in the first round of the 17th annual Coors Classic.

January 28, 2004—Russell "Sox" Walseth, the legendary University of Colorado basketball coach who was likely the first and one of only a few to have coached both the men's and women's basketball teams at the same NCAA school, passed away after a two-year battle with cancer at the age of 77.

February 24, 2004—A 75-56 home win over Kansas gave Ceal Barry career win No. 500.

Feb. 24, 2005—Head coach Ceal Barry announced she would retire at the end of the season after 22 years on the CU bench. Her 427 wins are the most by any coach in CU history as she led the Buffs to 12 NCAA appearances and 13 20-win seasons.

Apr. 27, 2005—Athletic Director Mike Bohn announced the hiring of Kathy McConnell-Miller to become the sixth head coach in the 31-year history of CU women's basketball.

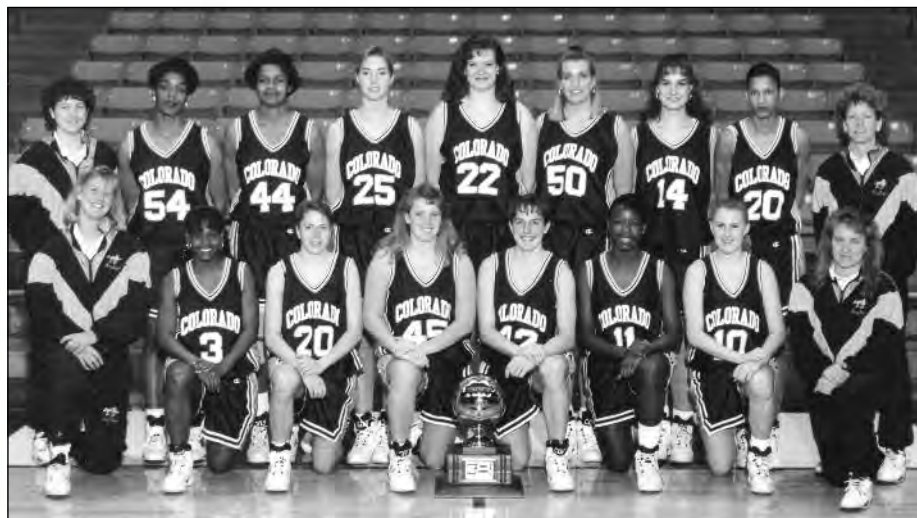

Sox Walseth's 1982 team not only set or tied 30 school records, but was also Colorado's most dominant in NCAA season stats.

CU celebrates another NCAA Tournament win.

1992-93 Big Eight Champions

November 18, 2006—Colorado defeated Cal State-Fullerton 100-71 in Kathy McConnell-Miller's coaching debut with the Buffaloes. Jasmina Ilic and Jackie McFarland each had 34 points marking the first time two CU players had scored 30 or more points in a single game. Senior Whitney Law dished out a school-record 15 assists as McConnell-Miller's team recorded the most points in a coaching debut of active Big 12 coaches.

February 26, 2006—Kathy McConnell-Miller picked up career win No. 100 as the Buffs defeated Oklahoma State 73-62 at the Coors Events Conference Center. Ironically it was against OSU which McConnell-Miller picked her first career head coaching win seven years earlier while at Tulsa.

November 25, 2007—Colorado claimed a 78-65 win over Charlotte in the Coors Classic for Buffaloes' 300th win at the Coors Events/Conference Center.

November 29, 2007—Colorado defeated in-state rival Colorado State for the 600th win in program history.

March 2, 2007—Junior Jackie McFarland was named to the All Big 12 Conference first team, by a vote of league coaches. She is just the second CU player so honored in the Big 12 era, joining Tera Bjorklund.

March 6, 2007—Jackie McFarland scored a Big 12 Championship first round game record 32 points to lead Colorado to a 71-67 win over Texas Tech, its first Big 12 Tournament win in four seasons. McFarland's 32 points also tied the best output by a CU player in Big 12 Championship action, matching Tera Bjorklund's 32 against Oklahoma in the 2003 quarterfinals.

December 9, 2007—Colorado won 62-51 at No. 20(AP)/17(WBCA) Vanderbilt for CU's first win over the perennial SEC power. Combined with a win over No. 22/21 in their previous outing, the Buffaloes had wins over ranked teams in back-to-back games for the first time since the 2002 NCAA Tournament and also their first win as an unranked team on an ranked opponents home floor in more than a decade.

December 24, 2007—On the heels of seven straight wins, including two over ranked opponents, Colorado cracked the Associated Press Top 25 poll for the first time in four seasons, debuting at No. 25. With the ranking, CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller became the 22nd person in NCAA Division I women's history to play for and coach an AP ranked team.

January 9, 2008—Colorado opened the Big 12 season with a 70-58 win at Missouri, giving the Buffaloes their 11th straight win; a streak that ranks seventh in team history. Freshman Brittany Spears scored 24 points against the Tigers, the second most in team history by a freshman in her first league game.

March 24, 2008—Colorado played in its first postseason game in four years, and for just the second time in the postseason WNIT, defeating Gonzaga, 82-68, at the Coors Events Center.

April 2, 2008—Colorado played its first-ever game in the month of April, falling to eventual champion Marquette, 86-72, in the semifinals of the Postseason WNIT in Boulder. The appearance in the semifinals was the deepest postseason tournament run in team history.

March 12, 2009—Brittany Spears scored 23 points in the final game of the season, against Kansas State in the Big 12 Championship, to become the second sophomore in team history to reach 1,000 career points.

March 25, 2010—CU Athletics held a ground breaking ceremony for a basketball/volleyball practice facility adjacent to the north side of the Coors Events Center. The project is the first dramatic change to the Coors Events Center since it opened in 1979 and will add 43,000 square feet of space including two dedicated basketball/volleyball courts and locker rooms for the women's team.

April 12, 2010—CU alum and former Buffaloes standout Linda Lappe is named the seventh head coach in the program's 36-year history.

November 12, 2010—Linda Lappe records her first win as Colorado head coach as the Buffaloes shut down Regis 76-38 in the season opener.

January 15, 2011—Linda Lappe gains her first Big 12 win in dramatic fashion, leading Colorado to a 66-60 overtime win over No. 17/16 Iowa State.

February 23, 2011—In their final meeting as long-time conference rivals, Colorado upsets No. 16/15 Oklahoma, 73-68 in Boulder. More significantly, the win sparks a late season three-game winning streak that allows the Buffaloes to climb over .500 and advance to postseason play for just the second time since 2004.

February 26, 2011—Senior Brittany Spears becomes the second player in CU history to reach 2,000 career points on a 3-pointer during the second half of a 63-59 win at Missouri.

March 8, 2011—Brittany Spears scores her 2,068th career point during CU's Big 12 Championship first round game against Kansas to become CU's all-time leading scorer, passing Lisa Van Goor.

July 1, 2011—Colorado becomes a member of the Pac-12 Conference joining Utah as the league grows from 10 to 12 teams.

August 20, 2011—Colorado Athletics officially dedicates its new 43,000 square foot basketball and volleyball practice facility.

December 21, 2011—Freshman Lexy Kresl hit a 3-pointer at the buzzer to give Colorado a 52-49 win over Creighton in the final game of the UTSA Holiday Classic. The win preserved the Buffaloes second-ever perfect nonconference record (11-0), joining the 1992-93 team which won all 12 regular season non-league contests.

December 31, 2011—Colorado won its first Pac-12 Conference game with a dramatic come-from-behind 58-52 win at Utah in Salt Lake City. The Buffaloes trailed by 10 late in the second half before finishing the game on a 20-4 run. The win also allowed Colorado to match its second-best start in team history at 12-0.

COLORADO BASKETBALL MILESTONES

March 25, 2012—Chucky Jeffery recorded her second career triple-double, and just the third in team history, with 12 points, 12 rebounds in 10 assists at Oklahoma State in the quarterfinals of the Postseason WNIT. The Buffaloes dropped a competitive 78-70 decision to the eventual tournament champions.

Dec. 14, 2012—Colorado upsets No. 8 and eventual NCAA runner-up Louisville 70-66 at the Coors Events Center, giving the Buffaloes their 14th win over a Top 10 opponent and first since 2002. Three days later, Colorado would crack the AP Top 25 for the first time since 2007-08. The ranking also made head coach Linda Lappe the eighth woman to play for an AP ranked team and then return to coach her alma mater to an AP ranking.

Dec. 29, 2012—Colorado's 84-39 win over New Mexico clinched the program's second straight undefeated non-conference season (11-0) and extended the team's non-conference regular season winning streak to 24 games.

Mar. 8, 2013—Colorado defeats Washington 70-59 in the Pac-12 Tournament, advancing the Buffaloes to a league tournament semifinal round for the first time since 2003. The win was also the Buffaloes 10th straight overall, combining with the 11-game preseason win streak, it marked the first time in team history Colorado had two winning streaks of 10 or more games in the same season.

Mar. 18, 2013—For the first time in nearly a decade, Colorado's name was called on Selection Monday as the Buffaloes received their 14th NCAA Tournament bid. The Buffaloes were given the No. 5 seed in the Norfolk Region of the NCAA Tournament. Colorado hosted Kansas, South Carolina and South Dakota State in First- and Second-Round games at the Coors Events Center.

Mar. 6, 2015—Colorado achieved the biggest upset in Pac-12 Tournament history as the No. 9 seed Buffaloes knocked off top seed and No. 8/9 ranked Oregon State, 68-65, in the quarterfinals. Avenging a 22-point loss in Boulder just two weeks earlier, the Buffaloes became the lowest seed to ever defeat a No. 1 or 2 seed at the Pac-12 Tournament. Lexy Kresl scored 19 points and tied a tournament record by hitting 5-of-5 from 3-point range. Jamee Swan registered her eighth double-double of the season with 18 points and 13 rebounds as Colorado advanced to the semifinals for the second time in three years.

Julie Seabrook scored 17 points to lift Colorado to a win in its first ever Pac-12 game, a 58-52 decision at Utah on Dec. 31, 2011.

CU ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

The University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame was established in 1998 to recognize outstanding individual and team accomplishments and to preserve the heritage and tradition of the CU Athletic Department.

Appropriately, one of CU's most distinguished alumni, former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, was the lone member inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame's inaugural class in 1998.

The CU Athletic Hall of Fame includes 79 individuals and one team. CU women's basketball is represented by six individuals, five players and one coach. The players are Lisa Van Goor (1999), Shelley Sheetz (2004), Tera Bjorklund (2010), Bridget Turner (2010) and Erin Scholz. Former head coach Ceal Barry was also inducted in 2010.
