2003 CU Football: Game 6 — Kansas

SAT., OCT. 11 / Folsom Field, Boulder, Colo. / 1:30 p.m. MDT (No television)

RELEASE NUMBER 6 (Oct. 6, 2003)

Quickly The Colorado Buffaloes (2-3, 0-1 Big 12) will try to snap a three-game losing streak this Saturday against the resurgent Kansas Jayhawks (4-1, 1-0 Big 12) in a 1:30 p.m. mountain kickoff at Folsom Field... There will be no television broadcast of the game, either live or via any other medium (pay per view/tape delay)... Colorado lost its Big 12 opener to Baylor last Saturday, dropping a 42-30 decision in Waco; CU is now 5-3 in Big 12 openers, and has opened 0-2 on just one occasion, that being in 1997 when CU opened league play with losses to Texas A&M and Oklahoma State. That is CU's only 0-2 start in league play dating back to 1983 and the current... CU's official website, www.CUBuffs.com, features game day updates and live stats for all games, home and road... There are about 3,000 tickets remaining for the game, which will be the centerpiece of the Boulder campus' Family Weekend activities... ABC has notified the Big 12 Conference office that it will utilize one of its 6-day options in selecting games for broadcast for Oct. 18; the CU at Kansas State game is one of two that it will decide on by Noon this Sunday (the other is Texas Tech-Oklahoma State), so the game time won't be known until then.

DEPTH CHART ON PAGE 35

In-The-Polls CU was unranked in both the Associated Press (media) and USA Today/ESPN (coaches) polls of Sunday, Oct. 5, but the Buffs had climbed to No. 17 in both prior to the 47-26 loss to Washington State. CU opened the year unranked and received votes in each, but entered the rankings after the season opening win over CSU. CU has been ranked in 182 of the last 237 polls (AP; 77%), including a tremendous run of 143 consecutive between 1989 and 1997 (the 10th longest streak of all-time). Since 1989, CU has played the fourth most ranked teams in the nation (76), trailing Florida State (81), Florida (80) and Michigan (78).

Stat of the Week Here's something you rarely see: five games into the season, both Colorado and its opponent are about as 50-50 as it gets when it comes to play selection, at least at first glance. The Buffs have run 377 plays, 189 rushing and 188 passing, while the opponent has 356 plays—178 rushing, 178 passing. Ah, but remember in college that sacks count as rushes (why they still do, we don't know), so when adjusted to call sacks passing plays, CU's numbers change to 206 passes and 171 rushes (55-45 pass-rush) and the opponents to 183 passes and 173 rushes (51-49 pass-to-rush).

Obscure Note of the Week The 42-30 loss to Baylor last Saturday marked just the 10th time in Colorado history that CU lost a game when scoring 30 or more points. The Buffs are frequent visitors to the 30-point plateau, having scored that many 284 times in 1,055 games (and 86 times in the last 169 games, or 51% of the time since 1985). The Buffs are 273-10-1 all-time when scoring 30-plus points; prior to last week, the last losses CU suffered when scoring that many had both come to Nebraska: 34-32 in Lincoln in 2000 and 33-30 to the Huskers in Boulder in 1999.

McCoy Assault on Record Book Senior WR Derek McCoy is having an outstanding senior season, as he is among the nation's leading receivers with 29 catches for 554 yards and six touchdowns. His 110.8 yards per game leads the Big 12 Conference and is fifth in the NCAA, while his 19.1 average per catch in ninth among all players nationally with over 70 yards receiving per game. McCoy is now sixth all-time at Colorado in receiving yards with 1,709, and is eighth in receptions with 100. He is also tied for fourth in TD receptions (15), is first in two-point conversions made (4) and is tied for 38th in scoring (98 points). He is bidding to become only the fifth wide receiver in CU history to score 100 career points.

Media Services

- Coach Gary Barnett holds a Tuesday press luncheon in the Dal Ward Athletic Center, starting at 11:30 a.m. with lunch, followed by Barnett beginning the interview session promptly at Noon. This year's dates: Sept. 2-9-16-30, Oct. 7-14-21-28, Nov. 4-11-24 (Monday), Dec. 2-TBA (bowl). NOTE that there are no organized press luncheons on Sept. 22 and Nov. 18 (Tuesdays of bye weeks).
- The press conference portion of the luncheon is streamed live on CUBuffs.com (in the Buffs Backstage Pass area); media can watch and listen by contacting David Plati in advance for free access codes (david.plati@colorado.edu).
- Barnett can be heard Mondays on the Big 12 Football Teleconference Call at 10:40 a.m. mountain time. All coaches participate weekly; please call 913/981-5507 for access (this number is intended for media only). The teleconference is replayed later in the day, and is available by calling 402/222-9912 after 3 p.m. mountain time.
- Video highlights of CU football games are available Tuesdays on the Big 12 Conference's satellite highlights package, which can be found at Galaxy 4R (C-band), Transponder 20 (orbital slot 99W; 4100 MHz vertical, standard audio 6.2-6.8 MHz between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. MT from Aug. 26 through Dec. 9 (trouble number: 817/265-4465). Special requests can be made through CU's BuffVision (303-735-3637).
- The Colorado lockerroom (home and road) is closed to all members of the media after games; following the customary 10-minute cooling off period, players will be made available (a list of players will be solicited immediately following the game).
- Colorado's football practices are closed to the public and media in 2003. The first 20 minutes of practice are open for photography (video) needs from the end zones and sidelines; after the 20-minute cutoff, all must leave practice at that time.
- This year's tentative meeting/practice schedule (mountain time): Sunday (off); Monday (2:00-3:30; 3:30-6:00); Tuesday (2:15-3:30/3:30-6:00), Wednesday (2:15-3:30/3:30-6:00), Thursday (2:15-3:30/3:30-5:30), Friday (5:30-6:00, evening meetings).
- Interviews with Colorado players are allowed both pre- and post-practice on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays (the cutoff moves up to post-Tuesday practice for Friday games). Phone interviews with out-of-town media are allowed all three days in both time slots. Interviews on Sundays are at the discretion of the player, as it being the standard player day off (no meetings or practice), CU can't arrange due to NCAA rules.

CU on the Internet

- Colorado has its information available to both the media and fans alike on the Internet. Log on to the official site for CU athletics at www.CUBuffs.com for the latest information, releases, game notes and broadcasts of press conferences.

On-the-Air

- KOA-Radio in Denver (850 AM) originates the 16-station CU Football Network, with sports director emeritus Larry Zimmer in his 30th year as the play-by-play voice of the Buffs (1971-81, 1985-current). Jay Leeuwenburg, CU's All-American center in 1991, is in his second year handling color analysis, with former CU All-American Bobby Anderson in his 26th season on the broadcasts, doing pre- and postgame shows and providing coverage from the sidelines. Wednesdays at 7 p.m., the Gary Barnett Show originates from Dolan's Restaurant in Boulder, with Zimmer and Leeuwenburg hosting the program. Note: CU's games return to the Internet this fall; check out CUBuffs.com.
- FOX Sports Rocky Mountain is the new television home of the Buffaloes, as "The Buffalo Stampede" will be seen in the six-state FSN area every Saturday at 9:30 a.m. New FSN college reporter Chuck Garfien is the host of the program; the first show aired August 23 and it will run weekly through the week following the end of basketball season for the men and/or women.

Injuries The Buffs are still a banged up bunch, with six players suffered nicks or worse in the Baylor game. The Buffs did heal up a bit during their bye week, as CU was nursing several maladies after a grueling non-conference schedule (four starters went down against Washington State, three more against Florida State, and this was after losing DE Marques Harris for the year late in the UCLA game). The injury report for the Baylor game as of Tuesday morning, Oct. 7:

Pos	Player	Injury	When (opponent)	Status: BU	Pos	Player	Injury	When (opponent)	Status: BU
DE	James Garee	knee	Oct. 4 (Baylor)	PROBABLE	SS	Omar Stewart	knee	Oct. 4 (Baylor)	DAY-TO-DAY

WR	Blake Mackey	lower leg	August camp	DOUBTFUL	OL	Taylor Landry (back, August camp)
FS	Medford Moorer	elbow	Oct. 4 (Baylor)	QUESTIONABLE	TE	Joe Sanders (shoulder surgery, chronic).
TB	Bobby Purify	ankle	Sept. 13 (WSU)	OUT

NOTE: Injuries are being reported a bit differently in 2003; with the new HIPAA laws in effect, combined with existing FERPA laws, CU releases only the name, body part, and playing status when it comes to reporting injuries. Status will be listed as either OUT, DOUBTFUL, QUESTIONABLE, DAY-TO-DAY or PROBABLE. Injuries will be updated during and after games, the day after the game, and for the next contest's game notes at the end of the week. Coach Gary Barnett will discuss injuries one time (Mondays after practice), as will the players.

Players-of-the-Game

BIG 12 PLAYERS-OF-THE-WEEK: QB Joel Klatt (Offensive: Aug. 30 vs. Colorado State)

NATIONAL PLAYERS-OF-THE-WEEK: QB Joel Klatt (Aug. 30 vs. Colorado State: The Sporting News, SI.com, collegefootballnews.com)

Twenty-Three Get First Taste A total of 21 players have seen their first taste of action in a CU football uniform in 2003. Nine played for the first time in the season opener against Colorado State, with four more getting their first play in each of the next three games (UCLA, Washington State and Florida State). Three scholarship freshmen played in the opener versus CSU, including two scholarship kickers; the Buffs are likely the first team in the nation in a very long time that had two freshmen scholarship kickers play in the first game of the year. The complete list (*—special teams duty only to date):

TRUE FRESHMEN (8): ILB *Walter Boye-Doe, S Dominique Brooks, PK *Mason Crosby, OT Brian Daniels, PK *Kevin Eberhart, TB Daniel Jolly, S Lorenzo Sims, CB Terrence Wheatley.

REDSHIRT FRESHMEN (12): ILB Jason Ackermann, TB Brandon Caesar, QB James Cox, TE *Paul Creighton, C Mark Fenton, DT Marcus Jones, CB Sammy Joseph, DE Alex Ligon, WR Tyler Littlehales, OG Del Scales, OT Jack Tipton, ILB Thaddeaus Washington.

SOPHOMORES (2): DT Nick Clement, FS *Tom Hubbard

JUNIORS (1): DT McKenzie Tilton

Underclassmen Role In 2002, when CU finished 9-5 in the school's only ever 14-game season, underclassmen started a total of 23 games (14 sophomore/9 freshmen). Fast-forward to this season, and that total was surpassed after just four games (25), with the underclassmen start count through five games now at 43 (32 sophomore/11 freshmen). In CU's Big 12 championship year in 2001, 90 underclassmen made starts, with the 71 starting in 2000 and 107 in 1999 during the Barnett era. Prorated for this season, CU is on schedule to start 103 of the youngsters.

CU vs. Kansas Colorado leads the series by a 38-21-3 count, including a 21-8 edge in Boulder; but CU leads by just 5-3 in the last eight games. Prior to a KU win in Boulder in 1995, CU had reeled off 10 straight wins, the longest streak by either school in the series, which began back in 1903. Though CU has dominated in the win column over the last 20 meetings (16-4), 10 of the games have been decided by 13 points or less. And dating back to 1965, CU owns a hefty 29-8-1 lead in the series, turning around a 13-9-3 KU advantage established in the first two-thirds of last century. Gary Barnett is 3-1 versus KU, while Mark Mangino is 0-1 against CU.

Series Did You Know? — The second largest comeback in CU history was registered against the Jayhawks in 1961; Kansas led 19-0 with 13:18 left in the game. CU rallied for a 20-19 win and went on to win the Big Eight title and play LSU in the Orange Bowl.

CU & Kansas By The Numbers Here's a look at some numbers-related trivia in the Colorado-Kansas series:

- 2:09 The time of the final drive that led to CU's 30-24 comeback win on a snow-covered Folsom Field in the 1991 game;
- 5 The record number of quarterback sacks by Colorado ILB Dan McMillen in the 1985 game (including one "helmet-less");
- 10 The number of turnovers forced by Colorado in the 1976 game, a 40-17 Buffalo win (six fumbles, four interceptions);
- 18 The number of yards DT Leonard Renfro returned an interception for a touchdown to open the scoring in the 1992 game;
- 59 The length of a field goal by KU's Johnny Beck at the halftime gun of the 2001 game, a Folsom Field record;
- 87 The number of rushing attempts by the Buffaloes in the 1970 game (for 429 yards);
- 94 The number of yards Melvin Johnson returned a kickoff for a TD in the 1974 game (a key play in an eventual 17-16 CU win);
- 126 The number of passing yards by Gale Weidner in the 1957 game;
- 166 The number of yards receiving by Charles Johnson in 1992, which made him the first CU receiver to top 1,000 yards for a season;
- 232 The number of yards by Rashaan Salaam in the 1994 game that allowed him to break Eric Bieniemy's single-season record;
- 309 The number of yards by Chris Brown in the 2003 game, the third most in CU history (and the third 300-yard game);
- 1981 The last year there was a shutout in the series (at Lawrence, a 27-0 Kansas win).

KU's Last Time Out The Jayhawks are coming off a bye week, but prior to the break upset No. 23 Missouri, 35-14, in Lawrence on Sept. 27. Trailing 14-13 with 9:49 left in the third quarter, KU scored the last 22 points of the game behind a strong running game that wore down the Tigers. KU rushed 48 times for 207 yards in the game, with 318 net yards overall, while the Jayhawk defense stifled their rivals, holding MU to just 196 yards, only 62 through the air. Clark Green rushed 17 times for 78 yards and two scores, while KU quarterback Bill Whittemore rushed for 76 and two scores and passed for 111.

The Last Time

COLORADO 53, KANSAS 29

(Lawrence, Kan.; October 12, 2002)

LAWRENCE, Kan. —Chris Brown ran for 309 yards and two touchdowns, while Robert Hodge threw three TD passes for the second straight game to lead Colorado over Kansas, 53-29.

Brown amassed the third most yards in a single game in CU history, as he had six runs of 10 or more yards, including 78- and 51-yard jaunts for scores. He came into the game as the Big 12's leading rusher and exited as the nation's top ground gainer, averaging 164.5 yard per game.

Colorado got off to a good start in winning its Big 12 road opener for the fifth time in seven tries, as the Buffs built a 14-0 lead less than five minutes into the game. Hodge hit D.J. Hackett with a beautiful 8-yard pass on a classic fade to cap the first drive of the game, and after KU fumble, Brown scored his first six of the day on a 78-yard run.

But KU proved resilient and fought back to take a 15-14 lead, starting with a safety in seemingly what would be the rarest of ways: Johnny McCoy and Greg Cole teamed to tackle Brown in the end zone for the deuce. Bill Whittemore connected with Marcellus Jones for a 26-yard touchdown, and then scored himself from five yards out on the first play of the second quarter to bring the Jayhawks all the way back from the early deficit.

Colorado answered with three straight touchdowns, as just 45 second after KU took its only lead of the game, Brown ran it home from 51 yards out to put the Buffs back in the lead for good. Hodge hit Derek McCoy with the first of two touchdown throws, a 15-yard toss, and then hooked up with John Donahoe on a two-point pass to make it 29-15. KU came back and was driving, but Donald Strickland picked off Whittemore at the CU 5 and raced 95 yards for a touchdown.

That might have broken the spirit of most teams, but KU came back and marched 80 yards, with Whittemore and Jones teaming for a second TD pass, this one from 20 yards, to cut the Buff lead to 36-22 at halftime. CU held KU on its first second half possession and got a 43-yard field goal from Patrick Brougham on its first post-halftime try for a 39-22 lead. Whittemore scored on a 9-yard run on Kansas' next drive to whittle the lead to 39-29.

That's where the KU comeback was stifled, as Hodge and McCoy hooked up again on an 8-yard TD pass, to put CU up 46-29 with 12:32 to play. Brandon Drumm closed out the day's scoring and cemented the win with a 21-yard run to polish off a 13-play, 98-yard drive with 5:05 remaining.

The Buffs rushed for 427 yards, their most since netting 502 in a win over Missouri in 1991. The 53 points by the Buffaloes were the most scored in the 62-game series with Kansas, and the 82 combined points was also a series best. The CU defense did record a season-high 13 tackles for loss. Tyler Brayton led the way with 10 tackles (all solo), with three for losses, two third down stops, a pass broken up, a hurry and a forced fumble.

The Set-Up One thing to watch for this week will be the battle between the teams when it comes to kick returns. Combining punts and kickoff returns, Colorado has 36 total returns for 691 yards (19.2 per touch), while Kansas has 25 for 535 yards, or 21.4 per. KU's Charles Gordon is sixth nationally in punt returns (15 for a 16.2 average), while Greg Heaggans is 15th in kickoff returns with a 28.8 average. CU's Jeremy Bloom is ranked 21st in punt return average (13 for a 14.2 norm) and is 47th in kickoff return average (23.5 on 13 returns). Gordon has an 82-yard punt return, the longest kick return by either team, otherwise both have earned their return numbers with consistency rather than feeding off one or two long touchdown runbacks (neither team owns a kick return score in 2003).

➤ Set-Up II. Colorado owns a 15-11-2 record versus Kansas in October games, including wins in eight of the last 11.

In Buff History: October 11 The Buffaloes are 9-3-1 on October 11 in their history, including wins in four of the last five games played on the date. In 1958, CU scored a 65-12 win at Arizona, a point total that would stand for 37 years as the most by the Buffs in the modern era. CU last played on this date in 1986, snapping a four-game losing streak that opened the year with a hard fought 17-12 win at Missouri. It was the first en route to a 6-1 record and second place finish in Big Eight play.

Statistically Speaking Here's where the Buffs rank statistically in some select categories in the Big 12 and the NCAA through games of October 4:

- ♦ P John Torp: 41.4 punting average (7th/Big 12; 50th/NCAA).

Chart Watch Here's where several Buffs rank on some of CU's all-time statistical charts five games into the 2003 season (note Colorado does not count bowl stats into career totals to protect past history):

- ⇒ WR JEREMY BLOOM is 10th in punt return yards (520), is tied for fifth in punt return touchdowns (2); is 23rd in kickoff return yards (344); is 73rd in all-purpose yards (1,169);
- ⇒ QB ERIK GREENBERG is 31st in passing yards (737), and is tied for 23rd in touchdown passes (6).
- ⇒ WR D.J. HACKETT is tied for 40th in receiving yards (601), and is tied for 30th in receptions (48).
- ⇒ QB JOEL KLATT is 29th in passing yards (761), and is tied for 23rd in touchdown passes (6).
- ⇒ WR DEREK MCCOY is sixth in receiving yards (1,709), is eighth in receptions (100), is tied for fourth in TD receptions (15), is first in two-point conversions made (4) and is tied for 38th in scoring (98 points).
- ⇒ FS MEDFORD MOORER is 54th in tackles (195), and is 24th in solo tackles (139).
- ⇒ TB BOBBY PURIFY is tied for 15th in rushing yards (1,999), is 48th in receptions (36), and is 26th in all-purpose yards (2,362).
- ⇒ HC GARY BARNETT is seventh in games coached (55), eighth in wins (31) and tied for sixth in league wins (22).

Big 12 Run The Buffaloes were only the third team to return to the Big 12 Championship game, but seven years in, the league is still looking for its first repeat champion. Regardless, CU's 14-2 record is the fourth best over any 2-year span in in conference play since the conference was formed in 1996 (see chart). No team has won two straight league titles since the formation of the group, and in seven seasons, the same schools have met only twice for the title (Nebraska and Texas played for the crown in '96 and '99). The 2002 game was the sixth original match-up.

The Schedule Much has been made of CU's tough schedule in 2003, and according to the NCAA, and through games of October 4, it is the second toughest in the nation. CU's opponents are 46-14 combined (43-12 when games against CU are deducted); Texas A&M holds the top spot, as opponents are 48-12 (.800), while Iowa State is third at .750 (42-14). Following are Texas (No. 10), Kansas State (No. 17) and Baylor and Kansas (tied at No. 31). That's seven Big 12 teams in the top 31.

Road-Sweet-Road The Buffs have enjoyed more than their fair share of success on the road over the last 15 seasons. CU has been victorious 52 of the last 76 times in enemy stadiums and is 60-29-1 dating back to the 1985 season (a 67.2 winning clip). During this time frame, CU won a school record 10 straight road games (between 1994 and 1996), before the streak ended in the '96 regular season finale at Nebraska, 17-12 (it bested the old mark of eight straight set between 1922 and 1924). Over the last 15 seasons, Colorado is 51-23-1 away from home (a 68.7 winning percentage), which stands eighth nationally and second among Big 12 Conference teams in this span. The Buffaloes own a 41-16-1 mark in their last 58 road conference games (Big 8 & Big 12—five losses at Nebraska, two at Kansas, Kansas State and Oklahoma, and one each at Baylor, Oklahoma State, Missouri, Texas and Texas Tech; the tie was at K-State in 1993). CU is 16-13 on the Big 12 road since 1996. (The Buffs were 4-1 on the road in 2002.) This does not include neutral site games, some of which were anything but neutral (i.e., Texas at Irving for the Big 12 title).

Blooming The coaches wanted to get playmaker WR Jeremy Bloom the ball more in 2003, and they've done just that through five games. As a true freshman in 2003, Bloom had 28 touches on the season, for a whopping 506 yards, or 18.1 yards per touch. In 2003, he's already up to 38 touches, for a net 663 yards and 17.4 yards per touch. That means his career numbers stand at 66 total touches (rushes, receptions, returns) for 1,169 yards, a pretty impressive 17.7 yards per play. The CU record for the highest average per touch, for a minimum of 1,500, 2,000 and 2,500 yards is 18.9, by Mike Pritchard (133 touches for 2,513 yards).

Bloom might add something else to his repertoire, as in practice during CU's bye week, he tried playing a little cornerback. The book's still out on the move, which would be in addition to his time at wide receiver and kick returner, but with the injury situation in the secondary he could definitely wind up being an option..

Warm Reception Quarterback Joel Klatt was quick to point out his success was due to CU's receivers having a great game against the Rams. CU's senior starters, Derek McCoy and D.J. Hackett, combined for 14 receptions, 295 yards and three touchdowns, one of the most productive two-man games in school history. A roll call of what they did, individually and together:

- ❑ McCoy had four catches for 192 yards, while Hackett had 10 for 103; it marked just the 10th time in Colorado history that two players had 100-plus receiving yards in a game, and the first time it happened since 1996.
- ❑ The duo's combined 295 receiving yards were the third most in CU history for a tandem in a single game; Rae Carruth (222) and Phil Savoy (117) combined for 339 at Missouri on Nov. 9, 1996, the last time a pair of Buffs eclipsed 100 yards in receiving in a game; and Charles Johnson (168) and Michael Westbrook (128) combined for 296 at Missouri in 1992.
- ❑ Hackett's 10 receptions marked just the sixth time in Buff annals a player grabbed 10 or more receptions in a single game; Daniel Graham was the last player to snare double digits in catches when he had 10 against Oregon in the 2002 Fiesta Bowl.
- ❑ McCoy's touchdown receptions of 82 and 78 yards gave him four career catches of 75 yards or longer; he previously had a pair of 75 yard catches from former Buff Craig Ochs, against Kansas in 2001 and against San Diego State last year. That's the most in school history, as he passed Rae Carruth (3). Carruth has the most in a career for 70 yards or longer with five.

One-Two Punch The McCoy-Hackett combo is rapidly emerging as one of the most prolific in CU history; through five games, they have combined for 62 receptions for 974 yards and seven touchdowns. The last time two wide receivers combined for as many or more came in 2000, when Javon Green and John Minardi had 96 catches for 1,291 yards and six TDs; Derek and D.J. have a ways to go to catch CU's all-time wide receiver duo, however: in 1992, Michael Westbrook and Charles Johnson posted these numbers as a pair: 133 receptions, 2,209 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Tenth Best Since 1989 Colorado has the nation's 10th best record over the last 14-plus seasons, or since the start of 1989, as CU is 122-49-4 in this span. CU posted the 10th best record for the 1990s decade (87-29-4, .742) for teams that were Division I-A the entire 10 years. Colorado's seven bowl wins in the '90s were second only to Florida State's eight (the Seminoles went 8-2, CU 7-2). Over the last 18-plus years, Colorado's 149-67-4 mark is 12th nationally, from the time then-coach Bill McCartney reversed CU's fortunes by switching to the wishbone on offense. The best Division I-A record from the start of the 1989 season to the present (through games of Oct. 4):

Walk-On QB's Colorado has started two different quarterbacks in 2003, both with walk-on roots. Joel Klatt started the first three games before being sidelined with a shoulder sprain, and Erik Greenberg replaced him in the role for Florida State. Both joined the programs as walk-ons; Greenberg earned a scholarship prior to leaving for his Mormon Mission, while Klatt is still a walk-on but will receive a scholarship in January when he is first able to (see note later in release regarding his situation). The previous total in school history, at least since 1973, prior to his this season had been just one—Scott Kingdom, who made his first start at Iowa State in 1980.

Capital Returns CU has owned a hefty margin in return yards over the opponent the last two seasons, another important variable in CU's success. The Buffs had an 854-417 edge in 2001 and an 803-607 lead in 2002 in return yards, which includes all return yardage other than those on kickoffs. Return yards are a staple of the Barnett Era at Colorado, as CU now has 3,190 in the 55 games he has coached, 954 more than the opponent. That difference of 17.3 yards per game might not seem like much, but it weighs heavily into the battle for field position. And the Buffs have 27 return touchdowns over the last four-plus seasons (23 regular season, four bowl game), tied for the fourth most in the nation for this span. A closer look:

- Colorado had 0 return yards in the win over UCLA... the first time the Buffs did not tally any return yards since a 44-21 loss to Kansas State in the 2000 season. The last time the Buffs won a game with zero (or fewer) return yards was at the tail end of the '94 regular season, when they defeated Iowa State 41-20 with minus-9, a week after they had zero in a 51-26 win over Kansas. Surprisingly, two games later, the Buffs were held to zero in the loss at Florida State (but came back with 107, all Jeremy Bloom punt return yards, at Baylor).

The Buffs Against The Best Here's a look at how CU has fared all-time against nationally ranked teams (Associated Press poll):

Games	All-Time Record	1989-03 Record	Coach With The Most Wins
versus Top 5.....	11-44-2	7-12-1	5 wins by Bill McCartney
versus Top 10.....	24-77-3	13-22-2	8 wins by Eddie Crowder/Bill McCartney

versus Top 25.....	65-116-3	39-35-2	20 wins by Bill McCartney

CU and Nebraska have been the saving grace for the Big 12: the eight-year old league owns a 21-50 record against ranked non-conference opponents (including bowls) since its inception in 1996, and the Buffs own seven of those wins. CU is 8-7 against ranked non-Big 12 foes; Nebraska is 7-4, Texas 2-5, Kansas State 2-3, Baylor 1-3, Oklahoma 1-0, Kansas 0-2, Oklahoma State 0-3, Iowa State 0-5, Missouri 0-5, Texas Tech 0-6 and Texas A&M 0-7.

Against all-non league foes (non-conference opponents and bowl games), the records are: Nebraska 30-4, Kansas State 28-4, Oklahoma State 21-6, Oklahoma 22-8, Texas 22-9, Texas A&M 22-9, Missouri 19-9, Iowa State 18-9, Texas Tech 21-11, Kansas 17-9, Baylor 15-11 and Colorado 17-13. Traditionally, CU has played one of the Big 12's (and the nation's) more challenging schedules and has avoided scheduling automatic wins (i.e., "cupcakes" and "creampuffs") for non-league games.

Record Watch The annual running list of records that have fallen or have been tied during the course of the 2003 season. The first entry of the year came by Derek McCoy against Washington State, when he tied the school record for the most receptions in a single game. NOTE: Colorado has not adopted the NCAA policy of counting bowl game statistics in its season or career numbers.

Ackermann Ideals Rooted In Christian Background

By Barry Rubenstein, Graduate Assistant SID

It all starts with spring camp in mid-March for 15 days. Then comes the daily weight training sessions during the summer months, leading up to another 26 days of fall camp commencing in early August. Not to mention all the meetings, film sessions and scrimmages that the team takes part in on a daily basis. Once the grueling 12-plus-game, four month long season starts, participation in CU's football program more resembles the daily grind at the office than just some sort of extracurricular activity. Why? Well, according to sophomore linebacker Jason Ackermann, Division I college football is more than just an after school activity, it's a full-time job.

"Sometimes when you play a sport like football at this level, it takes over your life," said Ackermann. "You are doing it all the time and it becomes just like a full-time job."

While it most certainly is not easy to juggle a full-time job like football and a full academic course load at a top university such as Colorado, Ackermann has his own special sort of crutch to help him through the tough times ... a prescription called Young Life, Student Venture and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

"I come from a very religious background and I feel like participation in these groups has helped me in life in so far as setting up my goals," Ackermann said. "For me personally, it has helped me focus on certain things that I need to get done, like my schoolwork. These groups really help to remind me that I am just a student, I am still young and I'm still learning."

Jason has been a part of Young Life for as far back as he can remember, initially as a member and then as a leader. An organization that has been around for over six decades, Young Life's mission is to provide strong, positive influences in the lives of young people through the assistance of its volunteer leaders such as Ackermann.

He didn't stop there, however, as Jason immediately took to a group called Student Venture upon entering his high school years. Not unlike Young Life, Student Venture's passion is also to help young people, but more as an opportunity to establish and grow in their Christian faith. Growing up in a very religious family setting here in Boulder, Ackermann felt right at home.

"These groups are very accepting," he said. "My family is real religious, so Student Venture has been basically just an extended family for me." Ackermann also has real family close by, as first cousin Amber Metoyer is a sophomore on CU's women's basketball team.

A soft-spoken and religiously motivated sort of guy, Jason is not the typical prototype of a hard-hitting linebacker. But when you see his 6-foot-2, 215-pound frame wreaking havoc on the field, it all comes together. Though his participation in his newest extended family, the CU football team, has often been a test of his faith, the redshirt freshman relies on his Christian "brothers" to get him through the difficult times.

"There are a lot of distractions in college, in the sense of party life and having the freedom to not go to classes," he said. "It is real easy to get lost in other people's ideals and values, but I have been able to lean on the friends that I have made through these groups to get me through the hard times."

Some of those peers that Jason refers to belong to another one of his callings, the nationally recognized organization Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This 50-year-old group's purpose is to help coaches and athletes on all levels in blending the medium of athletics with their religious aspirations. The FCA tries to achieve its mission in the same manner a football coach might, by instilling integrity, teamwork and excellence in its members. Lucky for Jason, he has found a home away from home with the Buffalo football program.

"Our coaches are very religious and that was definitely one of the reasons that I came here," said Ackermann. "My parents feel very comfortable knowing that if I have any questions I can go talk to coach Cabral. I really like having that here because sometimes coaches just want to talk about football, but I really need to talk about life as well. And I get that here at CU."

As far as his persona on the field, Jason relays with a sly smile that he does in fact have a slight personality shift when he takes to the gridiron. But the true test is to see how he can control his emotion and attitude while still playing with the fire and passion that one needs to be successful as a big-time collegiate linebacker.

"I have found myself sometimes being a little bit more aggressive and talking a bit more trash on the field," he said. "But when I get off the field I try to cut that down and get a little bit more humble again. I don't have to sit back because of my Christian faith, instead it is my faith that has helped me become who I am."

Now in his second season with the Buffs, Ackermann has been either second or third on the depth chart at middle linebacker, but he caught the eyes of many during the spring, posting 17 tackles (four for losses) in the three full scrimmages. But when CU is in its dime defense, the athletic Ackermann ascends to first on the chart and recently saw his first extended action from scrimmage in the Baylor game.

The Colorado coaching staff, however, can thank their lucky stars that the Louisville, Colo. product is still wearing the Black and Gold. And go figure, Jason attributes his perseverance to his faith.

"I've kept in touch with the people that I've grown up with in terms of my religious background," he said. "That has really helped to inspire me and keep my priorities in order. I really don't think that I would've made it through my freshman year if it wasn't for some of the people that I had surrounding me."

What A Debut Sophomore QB Joel Klatt had quite the debut in CU's 42-35 season opening win over Colorado State. He completed 21-of-34 passes for 402 yards and four touchdowns, and with no interceptions, posted a single-game quarterback rating of 199.9. Klatt, who joined the Buffs as a walk-on in May 2002, played all of eight snaps at quarterback last fall (all in mop-up duty against Baylor). He remains a walk-on, as since CU utilized all 25 scholarships for when he would have been a freshman, he must be establish "residency" at CU for two years before a scholarship he can be awarded would only count to the team total of 85 and not against a particular year. A roll call of what he accomplished in the game:

- ❑ His 402 yards passing tied for the sixth most in a single game in school history, and were the third most in a starting debut (topped only by Koy Detmer's 418 against Oklahoma and Kordell Stewart's 409 against Colorado State—both coming in 1992);
- ❑ His 199.9 rating for the game was the second best in CU history for a game with 30 or more attempts;
- ❑ His four touchdown passes marked just the ninth time in school annals that many had been thrown in a single game (three 5 TD efforts and now six 4 TD games);
- ❑ It was CU's first 300-yard passing game since Craig Ochs had 346 against Fresno State in the 2001 season opener and the first 400-yard effort since Mike Moschetti set the school record with 465 against San Jose State in 1999.
- ❑ He led the Buffs to a pair of touchdowns in the two-minute drill: he tossed a 45-yard scoring strike to John Donahoe with 29 seconds left in the first half, and then engineered a 6-play, 75-yard drive that led to the winning score with 0:40 left in the game.

Accolade City Klatt garnered all kinds of honors for his effort against the rival Rams. Three organizations cited him as the National Player of the Week: The Sporting News (for its weekly magazine and radio network), SI.com and collegefootballnews.com. The last Buff quarter back to be afforded such an honor was John Hessler, for his five TD pass effort in CU's 38-17 win at Oklahoma in 1995. Klatt was also named the Big 12 Conference's Offensive Player of the Week, and was the inaugural winner of the Pioneer Press State of Colorado Player of the Week Award, selected by the Colorado Chapter of the National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame. How did he celebrate? Aside from being his usual low-key self about those kinds of things, he had to pay his semester tuition bill the Tuesday after the win.

Where Does It Rank? Passing for 402 yards is a rare enough accomplishment in college football, unless your program is BYU, Houston or another famed program with a history of taking it to the air. But for a walk-on to throw for 402, in a first career game, which was also a nationally televised season opener? Likely even more rare. But where does the yardage stand in relation to what some other walk-ons have posted? It ranked as the fourth most passing yards ever by a walk-on in a game. The list:

Flashback Former Buff quarterback Mike Moschetti phoned Klatt on the Tuesday night prior to the CSU game, and the two had a long conversation. Moschetti pointed out to Klatt that there were several similarities between his start and Klatt's, both of which came against CSU in Denver. Klatt said postgame that in the half hour conversation, Moschetti cited how, "The game will have its ebbs and flows, and not to get too high or too low. I remembered his advice after the first quarter when things weren't going that well." The comparison between Klatt's and Moschetti's inaugural games:

2-0 Klatt was only the 10th quarterback (out of 38) to win his first two starts for the Buffaloes dating back to the 1959 season. The best start ever was another sophomore, Darian Hagan, who led CU to 11 straight wins in 1989, followed by another soph, Kordell Stewart, who won his first eight starts in 1992. Junior Mike Moschetti won his first five in 1998 and is the last player to open 2-0. The complete list since 1959:

Coach Gary Barnett Gary Barnett is in his fifth season as head coach of the Colorado program, and his 14th year as a collegiate head coach. He owns a 31-24 record at Colorado, along with a 66-69-1 record in 11-plus seasons in the Division I-A ranks (the first seven at Northwestern), and has an overall career mark of 74-80-2. This is his second stint at Colorado, as he was an assistant in Boulder under Bill McCartney for eight years between 1984 and 1991. During that span, CU was 59-34-2 in 95 games, including a 30-5-2 mark the last three years, when CU won three Big Eight titles and the 1990 national championship. Northwestern hired Barnett as head coach on Dec. 18, 1991 to replace Francis Peay, and he would take just four years to turn a dismal program into one of the nation's top teams. Barnett led Northwestern to back-to-back Big Ten championships in 1995 and 1996, earning berths in the Rose and Citrus bowls; he was the national coach of the year for '95 as selected by 18 different organizations. He was the third McCartney assistant to land a head coaching position, following Gerry DiNardo (Vanderbilt) and Lou Tepper (Illinois), both of whom started their careers in 1991. In 2001, he was selected as the Associated Press Big 12 Coach-of-the-Year when he became just the fourth man to ever coach two different teams to the NCAA Most Improved Team title.

♦ Barnett is no stranger to lining up across the sideline from ranked teams. In his 81 games at Northwestern, the Wildcats faced 30 ranked opponents (posting a 9-20-1 record). In his eight years as an assistant at Colorado, the Buffaloes played 34 ranked teams in 95 contests. As CU head coach, he's seen 23 in 55 games (going 10-13); so in his 19 years as Division I-A head or assistant coach, he's coached against 87 ranked opponents in 231 games, better than one in every three (38%).

♦ In an October 2000 Bloomberg Information Service poll of Division I-A head coaches, Gary Barnett ranked sixth in a listing of the best coaches in college football. Eighty-eight (or roughly 72%) of the 114 head coaches responded in the poll, which ranked Penn State's Joe Paterno first (20½ votes) and Florida State's Bobby Bowden second (19). The rest of the top 10 at the time: 3. Bill Snyder, Kansas State (12); 4. Frank Beamer, Virginia Tech (10½); 5. Steve Spurrier, Florida (5½); 6 (tie). Gary Barnett, Colorado, and Barry Alvarez, Wisconsin (3); 8. LaVell Edwards, BYU (2½); 9 (tie). Dennis Erickson, Oregon State, and Lloyd Carr, Michigan (2).

♦ Barnett first got to Colorado in a very matter-of-fact manner. He "road-tripped" from Missouri in the winter of 1971 with a friend, as both were hunting for teaching jobs. He didn't hear anything back from the interviews, and started his coaching career by helping out on Dan Devine's staff at Missouri, his alma mater. He had been selling insurance in Columbia while his wife, Mary, was finishing up her degree. He was soon offered a teaching and assistant coaching position at Air Academy High School in Colorado Springs (at $8,500 a year). He accepted, and he and Mary headed west to begin their love affair with the state of Colorado.

♦ Barnett grew up in the small town of Mexico, Missouri (where his mother returned to live after the family moved to St. Louis when he as in the ninth grade. He used to chase down softballs at the adults' fast-pitch softball games, as every ball turned in was worth a nickel, and three would net him a Coke (at 15 cents), the going rate in the mid-1950s.

♦ Barnett did something extremely rare after he accepted the CU job on Jan. 20, 1999. He made it a goal to meet the parents and families of all players on the CU roster. He pretty much pulled it off, visiting with all but three families of the returning players (all in obscure, hard to reach locations) by the end of the '99 season. He did it to find out more about the players on his team and to talk with the parents about promises that were kept or not met by the previous coaching staff. He says if you get a beat on what kind of environment each player grew up in, which gives a good indication on how you have to deal with each individually.

♦ Barnett figured he would never get a crack at the Colorado job. After Rick Neuheisel emerged as the internal hire following Bill McCartney's surprising retirement in November 1994, Barnett thought that with Rick being so young, the CU job would never even be an option. He was linked to many a job opening, but the only one he ever interviewed for was the Notre Dame position; not the Detroit Lions, Texas Longhorns, Oklahoma Sooners or UCLA Bruins as rumors had led many to believe.

♦ Barnett enjoyed many happy as well as sad moments in his first stop in Boulder between 1984 and 1991. Emotions ran the gamut from winning the national championship (1990) and three Big Eight Conference titles (1989-90-91), along with coaching a Heisman Trophy candidate (Darian Hagan) and a Rhodes Scholarship finalist (Eric McCarty) to dealing with the life-threatening injury to tight end Ed Reinhardt (1984), the death of quarterback Sal Aunese (1989, from stomach cancer) to his own son Clay being seriously injured when he was on the CU sidelines during a game. Another high included Charles S. Johnson being named the MVP of the 1991 Orange Bowl, supplanting the low that he had to replace an injured Hagan in that game. And in his final year at Colorado in 1991, he tutored a young true freshman by the name of Kordell Stewart, who went on to become the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader.

♦ Barnett's top six goals for the CU program each year are listed as: 6) Winning the Big 12 Conference championship; 5) Winning the Big 12 Conference North Division; 4) Winning a bowl game; 3) Have a winning season; 2) To be a relentless team; and 1) Attitude and Chemistry. They are displayed prominently on the wall in the team's main meeting room (which was renamed for Tom McMahon in 2003).

♦ Barnett's first game at Northwestern was against Notre Dame at Chicago's Soldier Field—deemed a neutral site. His first game at CU was against Colorado State at Denver's Mile High Stadium, also a neutral site. How many coaches had their first games with two different schools classified in this manner? Barnett was probably the first—the research would be most time consuming!

♦ Barnett replaced Francis Peay at Northwestern, and other finalists included Earle Bruce (at Colorado State at the time), Paul Schudel and Gary Darnell. The president who hired Barnett at Northwestern, Arnold Weber, was the president of CU when it hired Bill McCartney in 1982. The parallels between McCartney and Barnett number many, right down to the record in their first three years as head coaches: Mac was 7-25-1 at Colorado (1982-84), Barnett 8-24-1 at Northwestern (1992-94), with exactly 10 years separating each, both their first career head coaching jobs.

♦ Barnett is again one of the 61 Division I-A coaches voting in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll in 2003 (the fourth straight year he is a voter and the 17th straight year CU's head coach has participated).

The Class of '99 In 1999, 19 programs hired new coaches, including Colorado. Here's a look at the entire class and their records through games of Oct. 4 (including bowls; *—denotes first college head coaching job):

Forty Somethings The average age of the CU coaching staff is 42.2, as the 10 full-time coaches (as of Oct. 7) are collectively 422 years old. While that figure is more than likely in the younger half in the nation, the group has 122 years of coaching experience in the Division I-A ranks. Head coach Gary Barnett is the elder statesman at 57, followed by Vince Okruch (48), Brian Cabral (47), Dave Borbely (44), Shawn Watson (44), John Wristen (41), Shawn Simms (40), Ted Gilmore (36), Chris Wilson (34) and Vance Joseph (31).

Game Day The coaching staff is split between the sidelines and the press box. For 2003, in the box will be offensive coordinator Shawn Watson, tight ends coach John Wristen, cornerbacks coach Vance Joseph, defensive line coach Chris Wilson, and graduate assistants Jason Eck and Lee Goldstein. Head coach Gary Barnett wears a headset on the sideline (he's on with the coordinators), along with defensive coordinator Vince Okruch, inside linebackers coach Brian Cabral, offensive line coach Dave Borbely, receivers coach Ted Gilmore and running back coach Shawn Simms. The receivers or running backs shuttle in plays, as sideline signals are an option Barnett won't utilize often.

Watson concentrates on the offensive play calling, while Okruch makes the defensive call from the sidelines. Barnett does what he calls, "managing the game," determining if what's called is the best for the long run. He might make the play call in a critical situation (third-and-long, red zone strategizing, etc.).

⇒ In Watson's first game as offensive coordinator (in 2000), CU gained 532 yards against Colorado State, the most ever by a Buff team in its first game with a new offensive pilot. The old record was 530 in 1993 (vs. Texas, Elliot Uzelac's first game).

Old-Timer Assistant head coach and linebacker coach Brian Cabral has taken his place among legendary assistant coaches who have spent time at Colorado. He is now fourth all-time in years coached as a full-time member of the staff, as he trails two legendary Franks: Potts and Prentup, both who assisted for 18 years each, and one his mentors in life, the late Dan Stavelly, who coached 16 seasons in two stints. A closer look:

ASSISTANT COACH LONGEVITY: 1. Frank Potts 18 (1927-39, 1941-43, 1946-47) and Frank Prentup 18 (1941-58); 3. Dan Stavelly 15 (1958, 1963-76); 4. Brian Cabral 14 (1990-current); 5. Chet Franklin 12 (1963-74) and Alva Noggle 12 (1920-31); 7. Marshall Wells 11 (1948-58); 8. Ray Jenkins 10 (1948-57), Mike Hankwitz 10 (1985-94) and Jon Embree 10 (1993-2002).

O Brother Where Art Thou? For the second time at Colorado, brother is coaching brother on the football team. Vance Joseph, defensive backs coach, is tutoring his younger brother, Sammy, a redshirt frosh in 2003. In 1993, Jon Embree coached his younger brother Sean at tight end; it was Jon's first year as a full-time coach and Sean was a senior.

2003 New Faces Two new assistants joined the CU coaching staff this year, Ted Gilmore (receivers) and Shawn Simms (running backs); both were hired last winter and were with the team for spring practice. Other new personnel on board who work closely with football on a daily basis are Greg Finnegan (speed-strength and conditioning, joining CU from the Jacksonville Jaguars in May); Sarah Ramey (an assistant for Finnegan; she came to CU from Kansas State in July); Dr. Eric McCarty and Dr. Reed Bartz are new team physicians (McCarty played for CU between 1983-87, and returns to the school from a similar position at Vanderbilt, while Bartz joins CU from the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo.); and Troy Kema (assistant director of academics, joining the Buffs in July from Utah State).

Bufs On Grass Colorado is 41-26-1 in its last 68 games on grass, dating back to the 1985 season (38-20 in the last 58, including a 2-3 mark so far in 2003). The Buffs are 44-32-1 on grass dating back to the 1977 season; that's only 77 games on the real stuff in the last 26-plus seasons, but that number is on the rise since Folsom converted back to grass in 1999. Colorado is 16-8 at home since the switch.

On The Plastic Colorado is 85-24-3 in its last 112 games on artificial turf dating back to 1989, and 5-1 over the 2001 and 2002 seasons (the loss was in the Alamo Bowl). The only teams to defeat Colorado more than once on artificial surface in this span are Nebraska (8 times), Kansas (3) and Kansas State (3). CU is 53-17-3 in its last 73 conference games on the fake greenery. The Buffs won't see an artificial field in 2003 until the seventh game of the year at Kansas State (and then only one other time, at Texas Tech).

Coach's Corner/with Gary Barnett

Comments from Colorado head coach Gary Barnett following the 42-30 loss to Baylor:

General: "We couldn't get enough momentum to keep going and they kept coming back on us. We're really young and not a good tackling team and Baylor exposed it. We're just not playing with confidence. I don't think we ran the ball well; that takes experience."

On Baylor's Play: "Baylor did a good job of keeping the ball and pounding us in the second half. We didn't play very well, they played hard and we just had a lot of mistakes."

On Not Scoring On 4th-And-Goal From The 1: "It's a hard thing to swallow. They played fundamental football and we made a fundamental mistake. I wish we could have that over again. I don't know if we would have called anything differently, we knew what we wanted to run. We just wanted to make sure everybody knew what to do."

On Practices During The Open Week: "I felt like we had improved, especially on offense. I saw some real light there. But we made errors (in the game). It's hard to be objective about it when you've committed as many errors as we committed"

Player Quotes

Some comments from select players following the loss to Baylor:

QB JOEL KLATT

ON THE LOSS: "We didn't answer the call. We haven't played very hard in our last three games. We are having confidence issues. It's hard to put a finger on what is going wrong, but we need to get our fire back. We prepared for Baylor but they just outplayed us. That is credit to their new coaching staff. Erik (Greenberg) did a great job today, I didn't expect to go in any sooner than I did."

TB BRIAN CALHOUN

GENERAL: "We have to execute much better; we just couldn't do enough. We had a problem keeping momentum. I tried not to get too high or too low, but when we didn't score on fourth-and-goal it takes it out of you. We are not doing good right now; we need to learn from our losses."

ON BEING STOPPED ON FOURTH & GOAL: "It was a rough situation, and it was really frustrating."

DT BRANDON DABDOUB

GENERAL: "Nobody played well. It just seemed like we were flat, and I don't have an explanation for it. I mean, we came down here, intent on taking care of business and starting our run at a third straight division title. We need to hurry up and correct this. This is just some adversity we need to get through."

ILB AKARIKA DAWN

GENERAL: "Almost everything they got we gave to them by not doing our assignments. And they capitalized on those mistakes."

Bloom's Day

Lost in the 42-30 loss at Baylor was the fact that sophomore WR Jeremy Bloom had 250 yards on kick returns, the most ever in a game by a Buff and believed to be only the second 200-plus yard kick return effort in school history (the late Byron "Whizzer" White's game-by-game numbers aren't accessible, as there is a game against Utah in 1936 where he may have exceeded 200 but wouldn't have had 250). Bloom would have had 26 more punt return yards had Baylor not been called for an illegal substitution just prior to the end of the first half; the Bears, though penalized, received an untimed down with 0:00 on the clock and took a knee to end the half. The list of top CU combined kick return yards in a single game:

Season Note Progression

A running list of major notes and/or accomplishments the Buffaloes have had in 2003:

- ◆ COLORADO STATE. The attendance of 76,219 was the largest crowd to ever witness a college sporting event in the state of Colorado; it was the second largest crowd ever in the three-year history of INVESCO Field at Mile High (the biggest crowd was 76,643 for the Denver-Oakland Monday night game last Nov. 11).
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. First Play of the Year: Bobby Purify rushed for a modest 2 yards on CU's first offensive play of the year, marking the sixth straight year CU has run the ball on its first play of the season.
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. Klatt to McCoy: The 82-yard touchdown pass from Joel Klatt to Derek McCoy was the 10th longest pass play in schools history. It was the fourth career play 75 yards or longer for McCoy, while the 82 yards was the longest distance covered for a player's first career touchdown pass.
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. 28—Colorado scored 28 points in the second quarter, its most since it scored 28 in the first quarter in the 62-36 win over Nebraska on Nov. 23, 2001. CU outscored CSU in the quarter, 28-7, but only outgained the Rams by 265-192 as the teams combined for 457 yards in the period (including 122 in the final 84 seconds).
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. WR Derek McCoy had his third career 100-yard receiving game, as he caught four passes for 192 yards and two touchdowns (82 and 77 yards). His previous career best was 118 yards last year at Missouri. The 192 yards are the third most in a single game in CU history, topped only by 222 by Walter Stanley vs. Texas Tech (1981) and Rae Carruth at Missouri (1996).
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. Colorado passed for 402 yards, its first "four large" effort since throwing for 474 against San Jose State on Sept. 11, 1999, and it was the first 300-plus game since the '01 season opener against Fresno State (346 yards). It marked only the ninth time in school history that CU has thrown for 400 or more yards.
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. WR D.J. Hackett caught 10 passes for 103 yards tonight, career highs in both; his previous CU bests came against Iowa State last year, when he had four catches for 69 yards. Four of his catches earned first downs on third down throws from Klatt (21, 19, 10—for a touchdown, and 18 yards).
- ◆ COLORADO STATE. CU improved to 71-38-5 in 114 season openers, snapping a four-game losing streak; it was just CU's third win in the last 18 openers that the opponent had scored first, joining wins over Tulsa in 1969 (35-14 after trailing 7-0) and NE Louisiana in 1995 (a 48-13 win after spotting NLU a 3-0 edge).
- ◆ UCLA. Colorado's first touchdown drive of the game consumed 98 yards... that ties for the seventh longest in school history; the Buffs have had six 99-yard marches for TDs, the last coming at Oklahoma State in 2001 (complete list on page 221 of CU media guide).
- ◆ UCLA. PK Mason Crosby made good on his first career field goal attempt near the end of the first half. The 40-yard kick tied for the fifth longest in CU history by a true freshman; the four ahead of him were all by Tom Field in 1979, including the record long one of 51 yards (against Oregon on Sept. 8). The longest first career field goal by any Buffalo regardless of class is 53 yards, jointly accomplished by Jim Harper (vs. Tennessee in 1990) and Mitch Berger (vs. Oklahoma in 1992); the irony of those two kicks is the fact that both those games ended in ties (Berger's line drive kick tied the game at 24-24 as time ran out).
- ◆ UCLA. QB Erik Greenberg saw his first game action in almost three years—when he appeared in the third quarter, it was the first time since he took two late snaps at Missouri in 2000; he spent the '01 and '02 seasons serving his Mormon Mission in Bolivia.
- ◆ UCLA. Colorado improved to 2-0 for the first time since 1998; the last time Colorado was 2-0 with the two wins coming by a combined 10 or fewer points was in 1953, after opening with a 21-20 win at Washington and then defeating Arizona in Boulder, 20-14.
- ◆ UCLA. JK-to-JK. The game-winning touchdown from Joel Klatt to TE Joe Klopfenstein was the latter's first career touchdown pass, coming on his sixth career reception.
- ◆ UCLA. While offense prevailed last week (CSU outgained CU, 585-504), defense won out in week two, as CU edged out the Bruins, 245-243. UCLA had just 38 yards rushing, the fewest allowed by CU since Oklahoma was held to minus-11 in 1999 (of course, both figures include sack yardage). But minus the sacks, UCLA still had just 53 on 24 attempts.
- ◆ UCLA. CU has 190 rushing yards after two games (compared to 559 passing); that's the fewest rushing yards by the Buffs two games into a season since 1997 (when CU had 171 after beating CSU and losing at Michigan). It's the most passing yards after two games since '99 (765).
- ◆ UCLA. The Colorado defense stiffened when it had to; in addition to allowing its fewest yards since holding Kansas State to 196 in 2001 (23 games ago), UCLA was in plus territory (50 on in) six times today and scored only 14 points. In fact, take away the 42-yard touchdown pass and the 38-yard pass on third-and-30; and the Bruins ran 29 plays on CU's side of the 50 for just 51 yards.
- ◆ UCLA. The Bruins converted on a 3rd-and-30 in the game, marking the first time since 1993 that CU allowed an opponent to earn a first down out of a situation where it was 3rd-and-20 or more. The Buff defense had stopped the opponent 51 straight times on 3rd-and-20 or longer, as the last conversion had come on Sept. 25, 1993, when Miami converted on a 3rd-and-20 in its 35-29 win.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. The 445 yards gained by the Buffaloes were their fourth most ever in a losing game.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. It took just 6:10 for two of the nation's nine longest scoring streaks to be extended. WSU upped its streak to 217 games, fifth longest in Division I-A, while CU bumped its streak to 175 games, the ninth longest nationally. Both are school records.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. QB Joel Klatt. He completed 13-of-25 passes for 149 yards and a touchdown, with no interceptions. He has now thrown 92 consecutive passes without an interception, which is tied for the sixth longest streak in CU history and the third longest to open a career; Bobby Pesavento owns both the overall and the start of a career record with 106, set in 2001; Craig Ochs is next with 104, and John Hessler third with 100 (the second most without a pick to begin a Buff career back in 1995).
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. QB Erik Greenberg. He threw his first collegiate pass against WSU, with his second being intercepted and returned for a touchdown and his fourth caught by Derek McCoy on fourth down for a 46-yard touchdown.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. Sammy Moore's 97-yard kickoff return to open the second half was the first allowed by Colorado since the 1996 season; the last one was by Washington's Jerome Pathon in the Holiday Bowl (86 yards) on Dec. 30, 1996; the last regular season one was also that year, by CSU's Calvin Branch who returned one 96 yards for a score on Sept. 7, 1996.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. FS Medford Moorer had his sixth career interception, becoming the 39th player in CU history to have that many in a career (he's tied with 14 others for 26th place on the all-time list). The all-time leader? John Stearns had 16 between 1970-72.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. The 47 points allowed by Colorado were the most by a visiting team at Folsom Field since Missouri defeated the Buffs, 59-20, on October 8, 1983. It was the most by any opponent anywhere since a 52-7 loss to Nebraska in Lincoln on Oct. 31, 1992.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. Colorado outgained Washington State in the last three quarters; after the Cougars held a 220-127 edge after the first quarter, CU won the second (131-123), third (110-94) and fourth (77-26).

- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. WR Derek McCoy tied the school record for receptions in a game with 11, joining pretty good company: the other two to do it were Michael Westbrook at Baylor and Charles Johnson at Missouri, both in 1992.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. TE Joe Klopfenstein. His two touchdowns receiving marked the first time a CU tight end caught two in a game since Nov. 9, 1996, when Brody Heffner Liddiard had a pair in a 49-42 win over Iowa State.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. POST-CATCH YARDAGE: Washington State receivers had 190 yards after the catch, including 56 by Sammy Moore and 55 by Scott Lunde on their big third down touchdown catches. Colorado had 159, with Derek McCoy netting 63 on his 11 receptions.
- ◆ WASHINGTON STATE. TB Bobby Purify. He had 62 yards on his rushing gains, and those didn't come easy, as 59 came after he was first hit. (CU had 98 of its 115 yards gained rushing after contact—not including losses—while WSU had 121 of its 169.)
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. The 81-yard reception for a touchdown by Jeremy Bloom was the fourth play in his career that covered 75 or more yards (it tied for the 11th longest pass play in school history as well). He owns the long reception in school history of 94 yards, and punt returns of 80 and 75 yards; all four plays went for touchdowns (and all have been on regional or national television).
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. Marwan Hage made his first career start at center; he swapped positions with Derek Stemrich, who moved over from center to tight guard.
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. TB Brian Calhoun had the third 100-yard game of his career, carrying 21 times for 118 yards, including the long burst of 49, CU's longest rush this season (he had the previous long of 31). The first three 100-yard games of his career have come against Nebraska, Oklahoma and Florida State.
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. WR Derek McCoy caught five passes for 34 yards—the five receptions gives him 94 for his career, as he passed Dave Hestera (91) into 10th place on CU's all-time list.
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. Florida State QB Chris Rix became only the third player to ever amass over 400 yards total offense against Colorado (411: 394 pass, 17 rush), the second player to do so this year. Fresno State QB Trent Dilfer had 474 yards in the 1993 Aloha Bowl (523 pass, -49 rush), and CSU's Bradlee Van Pelt had 416 (339 pass, 77 rush) earlier this season against the Buffs in Denver. However, it was the first time CU lost when allowing a player over 400 yards total offense.
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. Colorado has allowed 40 or more points in back-to-back games for the first time since the 1983 season. You have to go back to Oct. 22-29, 1983, when CU lost 69-19 at Nebraska and then 40-14 at home to Oklahoma State.
- ◆ FLORIDA STATE. The 40-point loss was CU's worst since dropping a 52-7 affair at No. 8 Nebraska on Oct. 31, 1992; unfortunately, it was not Halloween today... it was also CU's worst loss to a non-conference team since a 55-14 setback at Notre Dame in 1984.
- ◆ BAYLOR. The Buffs started at cornerback both Sammy Joseph and Terrence Wheatley, marking the first time in CU history that it started a pair of freshmen at the position in the same game, not to mention starting two at any point in the same season.
- ◆ BAYLOR. Colorado had only 22:44 in possession time, but it's only its lowest since having the ball for just 21:57 in last year's Big 12 title game against Oklahoma.
- ◆ BAYLOR. When Baylor scored 21 points in the third quarter against the Buffs, it marked the fourth time this year a foe has scored 20 or more points in a quarter against CU (Washington State had 20 in the first and 24 in the third, and Florida State had 24 in the fourth).
- ◆ BAYLOR. QB Erik Greenberg. He completed 16-of-29 passes for 346 yards (2 TD/1 INT), the second most passing yards by a walk-on or former walk-on in CU history (trailing Joel Klatt's 402 against CSU earlier this year).
- ◆ BAYLOR. TB Brian Calhoun finally scored his first touchdown rushing in his career—coming on his 72nd carry of the season and 139th of his career (148th including the Alamo Bowl).
- ◆ BAYLOR. WR Jeremy Bloom. The sophomore had 250 yards on kick returns in the game, a CU record (143 kickoff, 107 punt). Records will be checked back in Boulder.
- ◆ BAYLOR. Colorado is now 5-3 in Big 12 Conference openers, including a 1-1 mark on the road; CU last opened away from Boulder in the league's first year (a 24-10 win at Texas A&M).
- ◆ BAYLOR. Colorado has now lost three straight in Texas since winning the '01 Big 12 title game in Dallas in 2001, falling to Oklahoma in Houston in the '02 championship game, to Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl in San Antonio and today to Baylor.
- ◆ BAYLOR. This marked the 11th time in CU history that the Buffs had two 100-yard receivers in the same game; McCoy (171) and D.J. Hackett (4-143) did it for the second time this season, as the pair also accomplished it in the opener against Colorado State.
- ◆ BAYLOR. QB Joel Klatt. His streak of consecutive passes thrown without an interception ended at 92 today when a pass was tipped and picked off in the fourth quarter. It tied for the sixth longest streak all-time, the third at the start of a career. Bobby Pesavento holds the mark at 106, CU's all-time streak without one (regardless of the point of career), followed by Craig Ochs (104), John Hessler (100, the second most to open a career), Darian Hagan (99), Kordell Stewart (98), Klatt and Sal Aunese (92). The list with dates is on page 209 of CU's 2003 media guide.
- ◆ BAYLOR. When Colorado led 23-14, it owned a two-score lead; thus it was just the third time in the last 74 such situations where the Buffs didn't manage to hold on and win the game (dating back to 1993). CU had won in 26 such circumstances in a row on the road as well, dating to a 41-37 loss at Stanford in 1993.
- ◆ BAYLOR. Colorado allowed 40 or more points in three straight games for the first time since allowing 41 or more in five straight games in the midst of the 1980 season.

#1—COLORADO 42, COLORADO STATE 35

(August 30; Denver, Colo.)

DENVER—The 75th meeting between in-state rivals Colorado and Colorado State was televised nationally on ESPN, and the network dubbed it an "instant classic" after the pass-happy Buffaloes defeated the No. 23 Rams, 42-35.

In a game that had everything from more than the usual bulletin board material pregame to heavy rains and a 28-minute lightning delay in-game, CU sophomore quarterback Joel Klatt and the Buff receivers stole the show. Colorado amassed 402 yards passing, its most in almost four years, and Klatt's mastery of the two-minute offense enabled the Buffaloes to snap a four-game losing streak in season openers.

CSU took an early 7-0 lead, but the Buffs stormed back with 28 second quarter points, on the strength of a Bobby Purify 6-yard run and three Klatt touchdown passes that covered 137 yards: 82 yards to Derek McCoy on a 3rd-and-12 play call following the series CSU went back up, 14-7; 10 yards to D.J. Hackett, who made an acrobatic grab at the 2-yard line and somehow landed and then plowed into the end zone dragging a couple of defenders; and 45-yards to John Donahoe, coming with just 29 seconds left in the half. Hackett and McCoy would combine for 14 catches, 295 yards and three scores.

Stifled to three plays and out the first four drives of the second half, and with CSU having closed the gap to 28-21, Klatt and McCoy hooked up on a 78-yard touchdown pass to put the Buffs back ahead by two scores at 35-21. But the Rams fought back, tying the game with just 1:50 left when quarterback Bradlee Van Pelt, who had spent the better part of the three weeks leading up to the game providing material for CU's bulletin board, scored on a 30-yard run around the right side. Van Pelt accounted for 416 yards of total offense, the second player to ever top the 400-yard mark against CU and the first during the regular season, appeared to more than back up his talking.

But the modest Klatt marched the Buffaloes 75 yards in six plays, similar to a Van Pelt engineered drive in 2002 that rallied the Rams to a 19-14 win (that possession covered 84 yards in seven plays). Klatt completed all four of his passes on the drive, the first covering 25 yards to McCoy and the last 33 yards to Jeremy Bloom, which set CU up at the Ram 4-yard line. After an illegal shift call on the Buffs, Purify scampered in with the game-winning touchdown with 40 seconds left in the game. CSU's last-ditch effort stalled at midfield as time ran out.

The teams combined for 741 passing yards, as the Rams gained 585 overall and CU 504. Heavy rains drenched fans and spectators alike in the third quarter; an impressive flash of lightning struck right when Klatt threw the ball to McCoy for CU's third quarter score, as the storm had settled over the stadium and led to a 28-minute suspension, sending the teams to the lockerroom.

#2—COLORADO 16, UCLA 14

(September 6; Boulder, Colo.)

BOULDER—Colorado went through the 2000, 2001 and 2002 seasons without a late victory thanks to its historical success in the two-minute drill. But in 2003, the Buffaloes did it for the second straight week as No. 24 CU rallied for a 16-14 win over UCLA.

In the lowest scoring game at Folsom Field in six seasons, Colorado saw leads of 7-0 and 10-7 disappear, but a sophomore "JK" combination would save the day and propel the Buffs to their first 2-0 start in five years.

Drew Olson's 13-yard touchdown pass to Mercedes Lewis, moments after the two hooked up for 38 yards on a 3rd-and-30 situation, enabled the Bruins to take a 14-10 lead into the fourth quarter. The Buffs used the first five minutes of the period to run 11 plays but could drive no closer than the UCLA 47. The Bruins took over after a John Torp punt pinned them at their own 11, and were able to run over four minutes off the clock in working the ball out to the 36. But a 27-yard shanked punt would put CU in business at its own 37.

UCLA, playing in its first game of the season, on the road, in altitude for a new head coach, was ripe to be taken advantage of with exactly five minutes showing on the clock. The Buffs worked diligently downfield in their two-minute offense, picking up consistent short gains in the 4-to-8 yard range while a tired UCLA tried to catch its breath. Following a 3rd-and-3 play that saw Klatt hit D.J. Hackett for 10 yards and a first down at the CU 7, the Buffs scored two plays later when Klatt drilled a pass to Joe Klopfenstein, who scored the winning points. The PAT kick was blocked, and with 2:15 remaining, a field goal could still win it for the Bruins.

But freshman Kevin Eberhart thwarted UCLA's comeback attempt at the roots... his high, arching kick was fumbled by Maurice Drew at the goal line, with Drew picking the ball up but only carrying it to the Colorado 10. After four straight incomplete passes, the Buffs took over and knelt down to end the game.

In the defensive struggle, CU just edged UCLA in yardage (245-243), with the 488 combined yards less than CU had recorded or allowed in the season-opening win over CSU.

#3—WASHINGTON STATE 47, COLORADO 26

(September 13; Boulder, Colo.)

BOULDER—It was one of those plays that could have stood out as the most important of the game, a gutsy 4th-and-1 pass that produced a 46-yard touchdown from Erik Greenberg to Derek McCoy. At the time, it got No. 17 Colorado seemingly back into the battle against Washington State, as the score cut the WSU lead to 20-13 early in the second quarter.

Except that the Cougars had different ideas, and would score 27 unanswered points in an 8:16 span over the second and third quarters, riding that spree to a 47-26 win over the Buffaloes.

In one of the more bizarre games at Folsom Field in some time, Washington State, smarting from an overtime loss the previous week at Notre Dame, used the long play to take over the game. Three plays over 74 yards were just how long. WSU used third down conversion passes of 74 and 77 yards from Matt Kegel to Sammy Moore and Scott Lunde, respectively, for its first two scores, and then a Jason David 41-yard interception return for a score off a Greenberg errant throw had the Cougars ahead, 20-6, entering the second quarter.

Greenberg had come in for Joel Klatt, who reaggravated a shoulder injury he initially hurt the previous week against UCLA. He would soon atone for his interception, as the Buffs needed a score to get back into the game and he threw a perfect pass to a streaking McCoy on a fourth down call that surprised everyone and got the Buffs back within a touchdown.

WSU's scoring flurry started with a Drew Dunning 43-yard field goal late in the first half, and concluded with a 39-yarder from Dunning that upped the score to 47-13 with 8:21 left in the third quarter. But what probably broke CU's collective back was a 97-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Moore to open the second half, and typical of a kick that a return man fumbles, he picked it up and then slid around the pursuing coverage to race the length of the field for the score.

The Buffs did eat into the margin a bit; Greenberg threw short touchdown passes to Derek McCoy and Joe Klopfenstein that cut the deficit to three touchdowns. WSU only outgained CU by 18 yards, but the non-offensive scores and five CU turnovers helped the Cougars to their second win ever over a Colorado team, the last of which had come in 1981.

#4—FLORIDA STATE 47, COLORADO 7

(September 20; Tallahassee, Colo.)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Chris Rix completed 30-of-39 passes helping Florida State to a regular season single-game record for passing yards allowed by a Colorado team as the No. 10 Seminoles slowly but surely pulled away from CU in posting a 47-7 verdict in the intersectional match-up.

The Buffs opened strong but couldn't maintain much momentum as the game wore on against a talented Florida State defense. CU took the opening kickoff and marched to the Seminole 5-yard line, but couldn't score a TD on a first-and-goal from the 5 and missed a chip-shot field goal. FSU came right back and scored on an 80-yard drive, with Rix hooking up with Craphonso Thorpe on a 37-yard TD pass on a 4th-and-3 play.

The Buffs would hang in, and after the first of four Florida State field goals, Erik Greenberg threw a perfect pass to a streaking Jeremy Bloom for an 81-yard touchdown catch and run, narrowing the FSU lead to 10-7. Trailing 13-7, CU was trying to get into field goal range, but a Brian Calhoun fumble after he picked up five yards and a first down on a third-and-1 run gave the ball back to the Seminoles. Six plays later, FSU closed with a field goal to take a 16-7 intermission lead.

Down but not out, the Buffs held FSU to a field goal the opening drive of the second half, stalling the Seminoles at the CU 12. Colorado went three-and-out on its next two drives, and the backbreaker for the Buffs came on FSU's next series. Taking over at the 34, Rix again found Thorpe for a long strike, this one covering 64 yards to up the lead to 26-7 with 6:05 left in the quarter.

FSU added a couple of touchdowns on a botched punt, taking over at the CU 12, and then returned a blocked punt for a score to go up 40-7 early in the fourth quarter. Curiously still passing well into the final minutes of the game, the Seminoles added a late score to add a little insult to injury in accounting for the 47-7 final.

Colorado had 236 yards of offense in the first half, but could only muster 39 in the second half against a deep and talented FSU defense. Rix threw for 394 yards, with his sub, Frank Walker, adding 64 to give the Seminoles 458 in the game, topping the previous regular season best against the Buffaloes (Kansas State had 439 in 1969).

Calhoun led all runners in the game with 118 yards rushing, while Erik Greenberg passed for 192 yards and a touchdown in his first collegiate start; he was 10-of-12 in the first half before going 4-of-18 in the second.

#5—BAYLOR 42, COLORADO 30

(October 4; Waco, Texas.)

WACO, Texas — Rashad Armstrong rushed for 166 yards and two touchdowns, with his second score putting the game out of the reach just over five minutes into the fourth quarter to lead Baylor to only its second Big 12 Conference league win in 39 tries as the Bears defeated Colorado, 42-30.

Armstrong's 55-yard explosive run capped a 97-yard drive in the fourth quarter that flustered the Buffaloes, as it came on the heels of Baylor stopping CU on a 4th-and-goal from the 1. Trailing 35-30 and seemingly ready to grab momentum back to its side, Colorado had taken over on the Baylor 9 after recovering a fumble, BU's only turnover on the day. The Bear defense pinned a pair of three-yard rushing losses on CU, but on third and goal from the 15, Erik Greenberg completed a pass for 14.9 yards to Joe Klopfenstein, leaving the Buffs fourth and literally inches to go.

But Baylor's Justin Crooks and Maurice Lane threw Brian Calhoun for a 2-yard loss on fourth down, after he was forced to the outside on the short side of the field. Baylor took over and ran eight straight running plays to extend its lead to 12. The Buffs would get no closer, though CU penetrated Baylor territory three more times and reached midfield a fourth time in the game's final 9:36.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado scored first with a 28-yard yard Mason Crosby field goal in what would be a seesaw second stanza, as the changed hands four times in just over 12 minutes. Daniel Jolly scored a touchdown on his second career carry that put the Buffs up 10-7, and Greenberg found Derek McCoy, who had a big day, in the endzone on a perfectly executed fade pattern that gave CU a 17-14 halftime lead. Sandwiched in-between were Alex Karas TD passes to Robert Quiroga and Trent Shelton for the Bears.

The Buffs came out in the third quarter meaning business, marching 75 yards in seven plays with Calhoun scoring on a 3-yard run, his first career rushing touchdown. A 40-yard pass from Greenberg to D.J. Hackett had set the Buffs up at the Bear 3; but Crosby's PAT attempt hit the upright and left CU with a 23-14 edge.

Baylor answered CU's two-score lead with three straight touchdowns, scoring 35 points in 17 minutes overall. The Bears came right back with a 74 yard drive, with Karas hitting Shane Williams on an 8-yard TD toss to cut the lead to 23-21. Just 82 seconds after that score, Jamaal Harper recovered a Greenberg fumble and ran it in from seven yards out to put Baylor ahead 28-23, and on the next drive, Greenberg fumbled once again, with the Bears driving just 21 yards in four plays to take a 35-23 edge. On the first play following a Baylor punt miscue, Greenberg hit a streaking McCoy over the middle for a 29-yard touchdown, the last of the scoring in a 34-point binge in the quarter.

Colorado had 399 yards passing in the game, its 10th most ever in a game, but Baylor countered by topping 200 yards in both rushing and passing.

Quarterback Sacks—Colorado: Dawn 1-12, Brooks 1-7. Baylor: Cash 1-8.

Passes Broken Up—Colorado: Brooks. Baylor: Andrews 2, Cash 2, Hampton, McLean, Todd.

Captains The 2003 team captains (selected August 22) are all seniors: OG Marwan Hage, FS Medford Moorer, TB Bobby Purify and ILB Sean Tufts. Two have already graduated (Hage and Moorer), two hail from Colorado (Purify and Tufts), two own two of the top five career start counts on the team (Hage and Tufts), and three are on watch lists for awards (Moorer, Purify and Tufts). It's only the third time in 24 years that CU has four captains (there were four in 1989 and 2001, both league title seasons).

Ticket Update Colorado sold 26,590 public season tickets for 2003, including faculty/staff, Flatirons Club, the new club seats (820) and suite seating (estimated at 580). Thirty-one of 40 suites have been sold (one suite is a double). Student season tickets also sold out, as 11,291 were purchased ($55 each). Folsom's new capacity is at an all-time high of 53,750; the Buffs will be looking to average over 50,000 fans for the first time since 1997 (51,658). CU has averaged 50,000-plus 11 times in its history, with the all-time best of 52,160 occurring in 1995. With CU's attractive home schedule, that record should be challenged. (The season ticket record of 31,331 was set in 1976, but that's when only 7,000 seats were allotted for students.)

Solid Rating The season opener against Colorado State, televised nationally on ESPN, to date is the most watched cable telecast in the metropolitan Denver area. The game registered a 15.9 audience rating in metro cable homes.

1 That's the number of yards needed by TB Bobby Purify to become just the 15th player in Colorado history to rack up 2,000 career rushing yards. (Never take that "1" for granted; Carroll Hardy finished with 1,999 career rushing yards between 1951-54).

Players For National Awards Several Colorado players made the preseason official watch lists for some of college football's top honors. The list:

Butkus Award (top linebacker): Sean Tufts (one of 90 candidates on official watch list)

Ted Hendricks Award (top defensive end): Marques Harris (one of 29 candidates on official watch list)

Lombardi Award (top lineman): Marques Harris (one of 64 candidates on official watch list)

Trends I Since 1985, when the Buffs returned to their traditional winning ways after six frustrating years, Colorado is 150-68-4, the 12th best record nationally in this span). In these 222 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

Experience Analysis CU started all upperclassmen in almost every game in 2002, and for the season, juniors and seniors started 93% of the time; after five games in '03, that percentage is down to 61%. Going into 2002, 47 players on the roster had seen previous game experience in their careers, with 28 making at least one start (22 had made at least three starts). That's a difference of 16 fewer players with game experience than the 2001 squad had at the start, with seven fewer players owning starting experience. The '01 team had 19 more players with game experience over the 2000 starting numbers, including six more that made starts. So it's cyclical, and that shows up when looking at the breakdown of the starters over the course of the season.

- 2003 starters (5 games): Seniors (44), Juniors (23), Sophomores (32), Freshmen (11: redshirts 6, true 5).
- 2002 starters (14 games): Seniors (155), Juniors (130), Sophomores (14), Freshmen (9: redshirts 0, true 9).
- 2001 starters (13 games): Seniors (102), Juniors (95), Sophomores (83), Freshmen (7: redshirts 7, true 0).
- 2000 starters (11 games): Seniors (55), Juniors (116), Sophomores (39), Freshmen (32: redshirts 15, true 17).
- 1999 starters (12 games): Seniors (115), Juniors (42), Sophomores (84), Freshmen (23: redshirts 23, true 0).

Usually In 'Em Colorado's usually been in those few games it has lost over the last 14-plus seasons. Of the 52 losses, 30 have been by eight points or less (including the '01 and '02 openers, six in 2000 and three of the five losses in 1999, or 12 of the 23 losses in the Barnett Era). Teams that have defeated CU by more than eight are Nebraska (three times), Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas (twice), Baylor, Colorado State, Florida State, Michigan, Notre Dame, Oregon, Texas Tech, USC and Washington State. CU has really been dominated from the start only four times in this stretch (1992 at Nebraska, 1997 at Michigan, 1999 vs. CSU (though CU led in total yardage over 75 percent of the game) and 2002 vs. USC, while K-State ('00), Texas ('01), WSU ('03) and Florida State ('03) put the game out of reach in the third quarter.

True Freshmen Participation Chart

The below chart shows the participation of true freshmen at Colorado since 1986, when almost half the incoming recruits saw action. The speculation was that several members of this year's class would play; and through five games, eight have. The 11 who played in 2002 were the most true frosh to play in the last 18 seasons (and in at least the last half century). The only times over the last 18 seasons that over 40 percent of the rookies have seen action came most recently, as 11 of 23 played in 2002, along with 2000 (10 of 19 played). The list is solely scholarship frosh, and does not include Prop 48 sophomores (3 in 1987, 1 in 1991), or one partial qualifier in 1997 and 1998:

| Season | Total | Played | Redshirted | Those Who Played (Walk-ons listed but not included in count)                                                                 |

Crosby Makes Some History

PK Mason Crosby, who was named as the starter for both field goals and PAT kicks at the midway point of August camp, made some history against Colorado State. Only one other true freshman has handled the placekicking chores in the season opener in the last 50 years: Tom Field got the nod in the '79 opener against Oregon. He hit both his field goal tries (30 & 51 yards) and went 1-2 in extra points in a 33-19 loss to the Ducks in a game better known for two reasons: it was Chuck Fairbanks first game as CU head coach, and it was the first sporting event ever televised by ESPN (which went on the air the previous day). Field would lead the team in scoring that year, hitting 18-of-19 PAT kicks and 10-of-14 field goals for 48 points, the only frosh kicker to ever do so with the 48 points tied for the most ever by a rookie at Colorado (Herchell Troutman also had 48 in 1994). Only one other true freshman kicker has ever seen any action, as in 1987, Eric Hannah went 16-17 in PAT's and 4-5 in field goals for 28 points.

➤ Crosby made his first field goal attempt against UCLA in week two, as a 40-yarder he nailed in the second quarter tied for the fifth longest in CU history by a true freshman (Tom Field has the four longest, all in 1979, including the true frosh long of 51).

Special Teams Invite

How important does the coaching staff view special teams? Barnett started this tradition while at Northwestern, and has continued it at CU: the coaches of the four major special team units (punt, punt return, kickoff and kickoff return) personally hand out invitations to the players to attend the inaugural meetings of those units during camp. While some starters appear on all units, all feature traditional role players who have found a home with dedication to special teams work.

Career Games Played/Started Chart

Listed below is the career games played/started, including bowls, for the players on the 2003 Colorado Buffaloes. Though the players gone from last year's team accounted 803 games and 333 starts, this year's team is the third most experienced team heading into the season in head coach Gary Barnett's five years in Boulder. The 107 players on the opening day active roster collectively had played in 845 games, with 239 starts. The 2001 team was the most experienced, as it entered the year with 924 games played with 326 starts; similar numbers were 883 and 278 (2002), 694 and 223 (2000) and 790 and 229 (1999). The list:

LAST TRUE FRESHMEN TO START: DB Dominique Brooks, OG Brian Daniels, DB Lorenzo Sims (2003); J.J. Billingsley, TB Brian Calhoun, DB Brian Iwuh (2002); G Marwan Hage, DE Marques Harris, TB Marcus Houston, QB Craig Ochs, TB Bobby Purify, TE Quinn Sypniewski, ILB Sean Tufts (2000).

LAST TRUE FRESHMEN TO START AT QUARTERBACK: Craig Ochs (2000), Koy Detmer (1992). IN A SEASON OPENER: Has not occurred.

LAST TRUE FRESHMEN TO START AT RUNNING BACK: Brian Calhoun (2002); Marcus Houston (2000), Lamont Warren (1991). IN A SEASON OPENER: Kent Kahl (1991).

LAST REDSHIRT FRESHMEN TO START: CB Sammy Joseph (2003); DT Brandon Dabdou (2001), OG Karl Allis (2000), CB Phil Jackson (2000); four in 1999.

LAST PLAYERS TO START FOR THE FIRST TIME AS A SENIOR: WR D.J. Hackett (2003); DE Dylan Bird, WR Jason Burianek, OT Josh Foster, QB Robert Hodge, DB Lovell Houston, OT Rawle King (2002), WR Matt Brunson (2001), DE Anwawn Jones (2000).

Out There For That First Play

The longest starting streak on the team is owned by OG/C Marwan Hage at 32 games; DE Marques Harris had started 29 before his season-ending injury against UCLA. The next longest is by FS Medford Moor (19) and OT Sam Wilder (16, but the first 11 of those were at DT). Hage also leads in career starts with 34, followed by CB Phil Jackson with 32 and Harris with 31, WR Derek McCoy (29) and ILB Sean Tufts (24). Harris will return in '04 with a chance to play in more games than any Buff before him.

Fifteen "First" Starts

Fifteen players have made their first career starts in a CU uniform so far in 2003, including eight in the CSU game: WR D.J. Hackett, ILB Chris Hollis, CB Sammy Joseph, QB Joel Klatt, TE Joe Klopfenstein, OT Clint O'Neal, C Derek Stemrich and FB Lawrence Vickers. DB Lorenzo Sims followed suit, starting against Washington State, also his first collegiate action. Three players made their first start at Florida State, OG Brian Daniels, QB Erik Greenberg and ILB Thaddaeus Washington, while three more did at Baylor: S Dominique Brooks, ILB Akarika Dawn and DE James Garee. In 2002, 16 players made their first career starts, and the most first starts in recent memory came in 1998, when there were 27 first-time starters for the Buffaloes, 17 on offense and 10 on defense. It was the most since 1984, when 29 made their first starts (15 on offense). The annual number of first-time starters since 1984:

ANNUAL FIRST-TIME STARTERS: 1984 (29), 1985 (9), 1986 (15), 1987 (14), 1988 (16), 1989 (7), 1990 (16), 1991 (23), 1992 (15), 1993 (7), 1994 (6), 1995 (11), 1996 (8), 1997 (14), 1998 (27), 1999 (14), 2000 (16), 2001 (12), 2002 (16) and 2003 (15).

Starting Shuffle

In 1998, Colorado had a plethora of injuries, and it meant different starting lineups on a weekly basis; it was the start of an incredibly unique streak. In 1998, CU started 12 different lineups on offense and 11 on defense, or 23 different starting lineups when combining offense and defense for the 12 games, the most in CU history until 1999 and 2000, when CU did not start the same lineup two weeks in succession the entire year. The previous high since 1971 (the start of 11-game seasons) was in 1991, when CU used 13 (seven on offense and six on defense).

- ⇒ In 1999, CU started 20 different lineups (12 offense, 8 defense), due to personnel and formations in about half of the instances and to injuries for the rest. The 20 were the second most in team history to the 1998 count. In 2000 and now 2001, the numbers continued to grow.
- ⇒ CU had started different lineups on offense for 41 consecutive games, starting in mid-1997 until the start of 2001. On defense, the Buffs started a different 11 for 30 straight contests until having the same starting lineup in there for games two and three in 2001 (CSU, San Jose State).
- ⇒ CU used 21 different lineups (11 offense, 10 defense) in 2002.
- ⇒ In 2003, CU has used nine different lineups in five games, and thus has now utilized 110 different starting lineups in its last 68 games, or just 26 under the maximum.

Liner Notes

Here's the place to look for that one or two sentence quick note on a CU two-deep regular:

- 1 Sammy Joseph ..... Has 4.54 speed in the 40, he is starting at CB after redshirting as a true frosh in 2002. Owns a 37½ vertical.
- 2 Brian Calhoun ..... One of the fastest players on the team, as he has been clocked as fast as 4.28 in the 40-yard dash. And how many players can say their first three 100-yard games came against Nebraska, Oklahoma and Florida State?
- 3 Marcus Moore..... He has found a home at cornerback after shuffling positions his first four years here. He was moved there during spring drills and improved with each practice and has seen playing time as a top reserve.
- 4 Ron Monteilh ..... Reserved and focused on the field, off of it he is very involved in community service as he is a former volunteer bereavement counselor, and is currently a big brother volunteer for the Boulder County Partners organization, a nonprofit that pairs adults with at-risk teens
- 5 J.J. Billingsley ..... Recorded a CU freshman record 15 tackles in his first career start against San Diego State and ranked among the top 10 in tackles by a true freshman in the nation in 2002 (finishing with 67).
- 6 Phil Jackson..... He is fully recovered from shoulder surgery and is the most experienced of all the cornerbacks on the team. He has five career interceptions, three of which ended scoring drives in 2002 (two in the end zone, one other inside-the-15). He can sniff out the big play.
- 7 Vance Washington..... Another DB with blazing speed, he closes quickly to the ball and could also return kicks at some point.
- 10 James Cox..... Though listed third at QB, he pushed for the starting role versus Klatt and Greenberg, and the youngest of the returning QBs, he's still very much in the hunt for playing time. He's the pure passer of the lot.
- 12 Akarika Dawn ..... He had no problem with a position move from strong safety to inside linebacker, which happened just days into August practices. It was easy for him to accept, as he knew with his body style and projected weight that he would someday make the move to linebacker. He speaks fluent Spanish (his fiancé is Colombian).
- 13 Erik Greenberg..... Returned to CU this past spring after serving his two-year Mormon mission in Bolivia. He had a solid spring, shaking off the rust and pushed Joel Klatt for the starting spot this past August camp. He saw his first real extensive action against WSU after Klatt was hurt, and made his first career start at Florida State.
- 14 Joel Klatt..... He played two seasons in the San Diego Padres organization (A-ball), but football was his first love and he walked on in the fall of '02. He threw all of three passes and played eight snaps total on offense as a frosh, but the 21-year old sophomore nailed down the starting job for '03. He has the best foot-speed of the QBs.
- 15 Jeremy Bloom..... Scored a 75-yard TD on his first collegiate touch, a punt return against CSU in 2002, and then his first catch went for a school record 94 yards (and a TD) against K-State. He, Bob Mathias (Stanford) and Johnny "Lam" Jones (Texas) are among the few to compete in the Olympics before playing a down of college football.
- 16 Mason Crosby ..... He was hitting field goals from day one that would have been good from well over 60 yards, as his strong leg is the reason he is CU's first frosh kicker to start a season since 1979 (Tom Field).
- 17 Medford Moorer ..... The most ferocious hitter on defense for the Buffaloes, he also is one of the most vocal players and calls out CU's defensive signals when in the game. Seems to make that big play, owns INT and FR returns for TDs; Set the stage for his senior year with 15 tackles in the Alamo Bowl and is on the Thorpe Award watch list.
- 20 Clyde Surrell ..... He missed the first three games for a variety of reasons, the most serious of which was the UCLA game for the funeral of his younger brother (who was murdered in Los Angeles the last week in August). His first action came against Florida State, and he responded with 13 tackles (10 solo).
- 21 Brandon Caesar ..... The unknown player in CU's backfield, Caesar looks solid in practice and offers a different dimension when he gets his hands on the ball. Wore No. 36 as a redshirt but grabbed No. 21 when it opened.
- 26 Terrence Wheatley .... He hasn't run the 40 yet for his CU coaches, but he is likely the fastest player on the team, as he has posted a 40 time before in the 4.24 range. First true frosh to start at corner since Damen Wheeler in 1996r.
- 27 Brian Iwuh ..... He cracked the starting lineup for the final two games of 2002... not many can say their first start came in the Big 12 Championship game. He responded well and could be a starter the remainder of his career.
- 29 John Torp..... Has to replace Ray Guy Award winner Mark Mariscal, but had three kicks in '02 with a 49.7 average. He's punted well to date in some tough situations (the rain against CSU, and 1/3 of his punts inside the CU25).
- 30 Marques Harris ..... One of the toughest players to defend against in the Big 12, his combination of strength and speed is truly unique. Founded "Harris' Kids," a true to his heart organization for the underprivileged. However, his season was cut short when he suffered a broken tibia and fibula late in the UCLA game; the surgery was successful and he'll take a redshirt year available to him and return as a senior in 2004.
- 32 J.P. diZerega..... He learned the FB position from one of the best in Brandon Drumm, and saw some spot play there in '02.
- 34 Lawrence Vickers ..... He is one of those players who is an all-around weapon: good-to-great speed, good blocking, solid hands, can run like a TB. He has the tough task of replacing Brandon Drumm at FB but has responded to the challenge.

- 42 Bobby Purify ..... He is quite skilled in sign language, learning it in high school... Uncles James and Bobby Purify were a big Motown recording duo in the 1960s (including the top 10 hit, "I'm Your Puppet"). Likely gained the most rushing yards (1,832) with the fewest career starts (3) in the NCAA heading into 2003.
- 45 Quinn Sypniewski ..... He was hampered by a toe injury dating back to last fall to late August; he was finally healthy enough to play against UCLA, missed the WSU game due to an illness in the family and played sparingly at FSU.
- 50 Chris Hollis ..... A co-starter at the weakside LB spot, he rebounded all the way from a virus that struck him hard prior to the Alamo Bowl last year, causing him to miss out on those extra practices.
- 51 Alex Ligon ..... A monster on the scout team in '02 (three time defensive scout award winner), he gets to do it for real, and he's had to pick up some of slack with Marques Harris out for the year. Like Harris, he has great quickness.
- 52 Derek Stemrich ..... He missed the spring due to knee surgery, returned sharp for the fall, and opened as CU's starting center before shifting to guard for the fourth game of the season.
- 54 Sean Tufts ..... His position coach (Brian Cabral) raves about him, saying he might be the best ILB he's had here (might big plaudit considering Cabral has coached Greg Biekert, Chad Brown, Ted Johnson, Matt Russell and Jashon Sykes). His hobbies include making things out of—duct tape—including his wallet.
- 58 Mark Fenton ..... He got the attention of the coaching staff during CU's Alamo Bowl practices, as he practiced at center and emerged as a viable contender for playing time at the position.
- 59 Greg Pace ..... He planned his snapper role in high school, when he attended several camps just to become a long snapper.
- 60 Matt McChesney ..... Returned to the team in good academic standing, he has had a monster spring and fall and opponents might not know what is in store for them; his play enabled the coaches to move Sam Wilder to offense. Switches back and forth between end and tackle, and he can play both very well.
- 62 Marwan Hage ..... Speaks four languages: English, French, Arabic and Spanish. Born in Beirut and moved with his family to Montreal when he was 12, he graduated in just three years with a degree in business management. After starting 30 games at guard, he shifted to center with his first start at Florida State.
- 69 Karl Allis ..... He's battled injuries throughout his career, and he's already overcome two as a senior—a concussion suffered in the WSU game, and a fractured thumb in practice (Sept. 25), the latter of which has him in a cast indefinitely. He opened the year as the starting split guard before switching to tight tackle during the bye.
- 73 Clint O'Neal ..... Battled Gary Moore for the starting job at tight tackle, the only position battle that lasted into game week. He won the job and received about three-fourths of the reps during games before the line was reshuffled.
- 74 Sam Wilder ..... He had an outstanding year at DT in 2002, but a week into fall drills, he was shifted to OT to shore up the depth. He took to the position quickly and won a starting job just 10 days after making the transition.
- 79 Gary Moore ..... Battled for the starting position at tight tackle, and was getting about a quarter of the reps in games.
- 80 Derek McCoy ..... Basically the go-to receiver, but not in the possession sense; has great hands and runs good routes, and has also proved to be the deep threat as well. But his best attribute might very well be his downfield blocking.
- 82 James Garee ..... He's proven disruptive in practice, living in the backfield harassing quarterbacks.
- 85 John Donahoe ..... CU quarterbacks have said that he is, "One of the best and most detailed route runners they have ever seen." Also a threat as a punt return man, he is one of the fastest players on the team (4.4 speed).
- 86 Jesse Wallace ..... Bloomed a bit as a sophomore, he's looked good in practice and is in the regular rotation this fall.
- 88 D.J. Hackett ..... Had a really good second half of his junior season, becoming more of a regular target, as he grabbed two TD passes in the Alamo Bowl. Transferred to CU in the spring of 2002 after CSU-Northridge dropped football.
- 89 Joe Klopfenstein ..... At 6-5, 240, he could "lumber" downfield; not so, he's quick, has good hands and is ready to breakout.
- 93 Vaka Manupuna ..... He has looked very good in fall camp, as he had a rocky spring after his mother passed away following a heart attack. He had been moved to OT before her death, but went back to DT upon his return.
- 94 DeAndre Fluellen ..... Originally signed with Oklahoma State out of high school, but found his way to CU where he has helped clog the middle against the run.
- 97 Gabe Nyenhuis ..... All the World Cup attention has gone Jeremy Bloom's way, but Gabe was a World Cup champ in his own right: BMX bikes (1998). He's kind of under the radar, but he's a quality DE who has the foe's attention.
- 98 Brandon Dabdoub ..... Boasts team's best bench press at 442 pounds and the best squat at 547; he was a second-team freshman All-American (Sporting News) in 2001. Has enjoyed a fine camp and is back in the starting rotation.

Two-Minute Warning Colorado has scored 101 times in 153 tries that the offense has been put into the two-minute drill since 1988 (or 66 percent of the time). CU has opened strong in this area in 2003, as the Buffs scored twice in as many tries in the season opener against Colorado State, registering a TD at the end of the first half and the game-winning score at the end of the game—CU's first in the two-minute drill since 1999. Lo and behold, the Buffs did it again in the offense the following week, putting the game winning score on the board with 2:15 left against UCLA and also had a first half TD in the drill against Baylor. The Buffs were just 1-of-4 last year, scoring a TD in the first half against Texas Tech, and were 5-of-9 in 2001 and 6-for-10 in the drill in 2000, when it posted a 3-8 record. One of the most prolific years in the drill came in 1994, when CU was 7-of-8; that included two scores in the final two minutes at Michigan, including that certain play of the decade. Between 1988 and 1994, Colorado was an amazing 61-of-81 in the two-minute offense, with 44 touchdowns. The chart showing CU's scores:

#—led in overtime. In 89 games over the last eight seasons, CU has led in 72 of them; the Buffs have also had a lead in 49 of 59 Big 12 games.

Thefts & Scores CU players have a penchant to return their first career interceptions for touchdowns, as since 1992, nine Buffaloes have scored after stealing their first college pass. Two did it in 2001: sophomore Medford Moorer picked off his first career pass and returned it 64 yards for a touchdown against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game, while junior Donald Strickland returned his first career pick 31 yards for a touchdown just one minute into the Colorado State game. Frosh redshirt CB Phil Jackson did it in 2000, as he returned his first career INT 28 yards for a touchdown against Washington. SS Rashidi Barnes had his first career interception in CU's win over Colorado State in 1997, and he returned it 26 yards for a touchdown, which rallied the Buffs into a 14-14 tie a little over a minute into the second half. Barnes became the fourth Buffalo in a 14-game span to return a first career pick for a touchdown—Marcus Washington had a 95-yard theft for a score in the '96 Cotton Bowl against Oregon; Vili Maumau had a 33-yard interception for six (and a Hula dance) at Colorado State in 1996; and Nick Ziegler stole one for a 31-yard score against Washington in the '96 Holiday Bowl. The only Buff in that time frame whose first career interception didn't go for a score was Damen Wheeler—and it appeared did score against K-State in 1996, but he was called for stepping out of bounds. Ben Kelly didn't do with an interception, but he did take his first career punt return back for a TD (against Utah State). In 1992, Dwayne Davis returned one 31 yards for a TD in a 21-20 win at Minnesota to start this amazing run.

Stat Shots

Here are some interesting statistical bullets about Colorado football:

- In its history, Colorado is 273-10-1 when scoring 30 or more points, along with records of 197-3 with 35-plus points and 182-2 with 36-plus, 158-1 with 38-plus and 103-0 with 43 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 in 1993). Colorado has played 1,055 games in its history, and has registered final point totals of every number between 0 and 70 except 68 (and of course 1), and has hit 75 and 109 above that mark.
- Colorado is 7-11-1 in its last 19 games against top five teams (dating back to 1989) and is 13-23-2 against top 10 schools and 39-35-2 against all ranked teams in the same time frame.
- Colorado has scored 30 or more points in 86 of its last 175 games, posting an 80-5-1 record. The losses were at Stanford, 41-37 in 1993, to Missouri in Boulder in 1997, 41-31, and twice to Nebraska (in Boulder in 1999, 33-30, in overtime; and 34-32 at Lincoln in 2000) and at Baylor in 2003 (42-30). The tie was a 31-31 affair with Tennessee in the 1990 Disneyland Pigskin Classic. The Buffs have scored at least three touchdowns in 127 of these 175 games, dating to the start of 1989, going 105-20-2 (CU is 17-29-2 when held to 20 points or less).
- CU has allowed only 275 touchdowns in the last 546 times that the enemy has cracked its 20 (dating back to 1988; the other 271 times have yielded 140 field goals as well as 131 non-scores). In this time frame, that works to the opponent coming away with nothing 25% of the time when penetrating the CU 20, and three points or less 50% of the time, which are astonishing numbers.
- Opponents had just 18 scores (14 TD, 4 FG) on 33 drives started inside CU territory in 2002; the Buff "D" has rose to the occasion in this situation since mid-1998. Opponents had 10 TDs in 31 drives started in CU territory in 1999, an awesome figure that was added to in 2000, as opponents had just nine TDs (and 12 scores) in 21 drives started on the Buff side of the 50. In 2001, the foe scored 11 TDs in 24 starts in plus territory, so when all these numbers are combined with the last half of 1998, the three-plus year total is just 52 touchdowns in 127 drives started on the CU side of the 50 (and just 71 scores overall, meaning 56 non-scores). So far in 2003, the opponent has 10 scores (8 TDs, 2 FG) out of 16 drives started in plus territory.
- CU has topped 400 yards total offense per game figure in 36 of its last 73 contests (twice to date in 2003, five times in 2002), as CU has made a habit of it since the start of the 1993 season. In 126 games in this span, CU has gained 400 or more yards 72 times (57 percent). The Buffaloes also have topped the 500-plus yard mark in 37 of the 126 games since the '93 season opener (30%)... and remember CU has played 57 ranked teams in this 126-game span.
- So far in 2003, the Buff defense practically is in an all or nothing mode. The opponent has run 356 plays, with 147 going for five yards or more and 132 for zero or minus yardage. That means only 77 plays have generated the more common gains of 1, 2, 3 or 4 yards per play. By contrast, CU has run 377 plays, 134 for five-plus yards, 154 for zero or minus yards, and 89 between one and four yards.
- Colorado had seven touchdowns by returns in 2001 (4 interception, 2 punt, 1 fumble), a school record; but guess what? The 2002 team matched it (3 fumble, 2 interception, 2 punt). Dating back to the fifth game of the 1999 season, an OT win over Missouri, and including the eight total in 2002 (one came in the bowl), the Buffs have 27 scores by return in their last 51 games. And since the '95 opener and including postseason, CU has 47 scores by return in its last 102 games (40 regular season, seven bowl), or one almost every two games.
- Colorado rushed and passed for over 200 yards once in 2002 (Missouri), but did it four times in 2001 (San Jose State, Missouri, Iowa State, Nebraska; the last three in a row) and has accomplished the 200 "double-double" eight times in the last 54 games. The Buffs have recorded the feat 29 times in their last 126 games (dating to 1993); CU did it five times in both 1994 and 1995, four times in 1993 and once in 1996. CU averaged over 200 in each for the season in both 1993 and 1994 (the first times ever at CU), as well as in 2001 (228.5/205.9), and also came close in 1995. The Buffs are 29-2 since 1989 when they have reached the 200 plateaus in both. Prior to 1993, CU had accomplished the feat only eight times in its previous 140 games.
- Colorado has allowed 280 quarterback sacks since the start of the 1993 season (including bowls), with the offensive line responsible for only 164 of those (the others were allowed by tight ends/receivers/backs or were coverage sacks). That's 280 sacks allowed for 4,054 pass plays called, or one for every 14.5 pass attempts. The young line in 2003 is struggling a bit though, as CU has allowed 18 sacks for 206 pass calls, or one every 11.4 tries. And combined with this sack statistic is that fact that CU quarterbacks have thrown just 117 interceptions in 3,772 attempts in the same span, or an interception rate of just 3.10 percent (one every 32.2 passes).
- Colorado scored quickly in 2002, as the Buffs had 23 scoring drives of under 2:00 (out of 54), including 18 touchdown marches. But 11 of those drives were 56 yards or longer, and 16 of CU's scoring drives were four plays or less. It was no different in the '03 opener, as CU had three TD drives under one minute: in fact, the three were a combined 237 yards in length (80, 77 and 80). And throw in a fourth drive—the game-winner—that took 1:10 and covered 75 yards.
- Colorado is 78-26-3 in its last 107 league games, and has the ninth fewest conference losses in the nation since 1989 for schools that have been league members for that time period. Within this record is a 25-game span in which CU did not lose a conference game, the fourth longest streak all-time in the Big Eight (1958-1995). Colorado was 23-0-2 during that run.
- CU has scored in 13 of 20 quarters in 2003, after scoring in 39 of 56 quarters in '02 (and in one of two overtime periods); the Buffs scored in 41 of 52 quarters in 2001 (12 in a row at one time), its best since '95 and vastly improved over 2000 (28 of 44). Colorado had scored in 29 of 44 quarters in 1999 (as well as in the two OT sessions). In the postseason, CU scored in all four quarters in the 1993 Aloha Bowl, the 1995 Fiesta Bowl, the 1996 Holiday Bowl, the 1998 Aloha Bowl and the 1999 Insight.com Bowl, and scored in three of the four at the 1996 Cotton Bowl (CU had scored in 16 consecutive quarters in bowls until Oregon shut out the Buffs in the second quarter in the '02 Fiesta Bowl). All tolled, CU has scored in 380 of its last 496 quarters (77 percent).

Safely Ahead The Buffaloes have been a virtual lock to win once they have a lead of two or more scores (nine-plus points) over the past 26 years. Going back to start of the 1976 season (320 games), Colorado has blown a two-or-more score lead only 11 times, losing eight and tying three. A closer look (*—Disneyland Pigskin Classic at Anaheim):

Colorado has lost only 15 games (and was tied twice) dating back to 1980 when leading by any margin at any point in the fourth quarter or overtime. The most recent losses have been to Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl (losing 31-28 in overtime after leading 28-21 late in the game), to Colorado State in the '02 opener (19-14 after briefly leading 14-13 with 9:39 left), and two games in 2000: to Colorado State in the opener (losing 28-24 after leading 24-14) and at Nebraska (lost 34-32 on a field goal at the final gun after leading 24-21 early in the fourth and 32-31 with 47 seconds left). In conference play, only Kansas (1984), Nebraska (1984, 1998, 1999, 2001) and Oklahoma State (1997) have rallied in the fourth to topple CU in this span. The ties came against Tennessee in 1990 (31-31, after leading 31-17) and Kansas State in 1993 (16-16 after taking a late 16-13 lead).

- In this same span, Colorado has rallied to win 26 games and tie two others dating back to 1981 after once trailing at some point in the fourth quarter (not including coming from 27-3 down against Nebraska in 1999 before losing in OT). The most recent win of that variety came last week, when CU rallied to top UCLA, 16-14, scoring the winning touchdown with just 2:15 left.
- Colorado has won 71 of its last 74 games in which it at any point has held a two-score lead; the loss to Baylor snapped a 19-game winning streak in such situations (and one of 26 straight on the road). A streak of 49 consecutive wins between 1993 and 1999 was snapped in 2000 (to CSU; Iowa State also did it later that year).

Little Known Rarity In CU history, the Buffaloes have had a 100-yard rusher and receiver in the same game on 23 occasions. It's happened six times over the last four seasons, and amazingly, three games in a row late in 2001, including the first time the same player had 100 yards in both in the same game (TB Cortlen Johnson at Iowa State: 172 rushing and 105 receiving); Johnson and TE Daniel Graham did it against Missouri, Graham and TBs Chris Brown and Bobby Purify all did it against Nebraska. Colorado is 18-5 in games when this occurs. A game-by-game look at this unique accomplishment can be found on page 187 of the 2003 Colorado football media guide.

In-Season Birthdays Here's the list of those coaches and players who have birthdays to celebrate during the 2003 season, including camp (*—denotes on a game day):

Dinosaurs Through five games in 2003, senior associate AD Jon Burianek had worked 399 CU football games, including a current run of 382 in a row (he's seen 419 all told). The radio voice of the Buffs, Larry Zimmer, has called 374 games in his career, including 114 in a row (he's only missed three bowl games, two due to contracts forbidding teams to originate broadcasts, and three regular season games due to travel conflicts). Yours truly (SID Dave Plati) has worked 276, including the last 234 in a row. Brian Cabral is the football staff member with the most "Buff" experience, as he has now coached in 175 in a row as a member of the staff; including his playing days (46 games), he has been a part of 221 CU games. Head coach Gary Barnett has now coached in 150 Buffalo games (95 as an assistant). And equipment man Mike Smith has now worked 102 straight, 151 overall including his time as a student manager, grounds crew member and Ralphie runner. The late Fred Casotti, the school's longtime SID and associate AD between 1952-87, witnessed 477 Colorado football games in person prior to his passing on Oct. 12 of last year; included within that was a string of 268 in a row at one time at Folsom Field. And the late F.M. "Dutch" Westerberg is the all-timer; he saw every CU home game (394 of 'em) between 1921 and 1999; he passed away in 1999 at the age of 94.

Playing On Sunday There are 26 Colorado Buffaloes on 2003 National Football League rosters (as of Oct. 6), third most in the Big 12 behind Texas A&M (33) and Nebraska (29). CU is 13th nationally for the most produced, as Florida and Notre Dame lead with 40. The Buffs had 42 report to camps, which tied for the most in the league with the Huskers. In 2002, CU tied for 10th nationally with the most players in the NFL with 29. CU led the Big 12 in this area in the first four years of the conference's existence, was third in 2000 and 2001 and second in 2002. Nationally, CU was in the top four between 1996-99 (fourth in 1996-97-99, third in 1998). The 2003 list (2R—denotes second-year rookie):

Giants 1, Oakland 1, Tennessee 1. AND IN CANADA? For the first time in a long time, were Buffaloes are in the Canadian Football League this summer.

DECADE NUMBERS: Colorado had 46 players drafted between 1993 and 2002, the seventh most in the nation and second most in the Big 12. Tennessee led the way with 60, followed by Florida State (58), Nebraska (53), Ohio State (52), Florida (48), Miami, Fla. (47) and then Colorado.

NOTE: How good was CU's 1994 offense? Ten of the 11 starters were drafted into the NFL (Tony Berti, Rae Carruth, Fauria, Irwin, Naeole, Rashaan Salaam, Stewart, Bryan Stoltenberg, Derek West and Westbrook), with the 11th signing as a free agent (Lepsis). All played. Five remain on NFL rosters some nine years later.

OL Pipeline? In recent times, CU has been a solid conduit to the National Football League when it has come to linebackers, encroaching a bit on the title justifiably thrown Penn State's direction. However, some research has indicated CU may very well be the place to go if an offensive lineman wants to take it to the next level. Dating back to the 1991 NFL draft, or the '87 recruiting class, 16 of 21 players who started at least two years on the Buff offensive line were either drafted or signed as free agents. The list is impressive (with three others who started just one season):

Scout Watch In 2002, 63 scouts representing 25 NFL teams attended CU game days to watch another hefty CU senior class (22 in all, 19 of which were two-deep regulars). CU's senior class numbers 21 this fall, and 17 teams have already scouted CU: Atlanta, Baltimore, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Detroit, Green Bay, Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Miami, New England, N.Y. Giants, N.Y. Jets, Tennessee and Washington. The Colorado Crush of Arena Football has also scouted the Buffs.

The Average Buff The 105 players on the 2003 opening roster (Aug. 24) were 7,585 inches in height and weighed 23,750 pounds, or an average of 6-2¼, 226 pounds per player (very similar to last three averages: 6-2¼, 227 in 2002 and 6-2, 227 in both 2000 and 2001). The 7,585 inches translate roughly into 632 feet or 211 yards (Chris Brown's rushing total last year at Missouri), while the weight of 23,750 pounds is the equivalent of the amount of airline fuel needed to fly just over five times between Des Moines and Chicago (at 20,000 feet). Here's a look at position-by-position averages; the biggest changes over a year ago came in the defensive front, as the ends are 14 pounds heavier and the tackles 21 pounds more on the average (LW—denotes lettermen):

The most popular letter to begin surnames are the letters M & S (11 each), followed by H (10) and then C (9); eight players share last names, including two sets of brothers: Dan & Marcus GONZALES and Allen & Blake MACKKEY. The most popular first names are JOHN (Donahoe, Guydon, Martin, Torp) and two variations of MARCUS/MARQUES, also shared by four players (Gonzales, Harris, Jones, Moore). The more unique ones include Akarika, Colt, Dusty, Marwan, McKenzie, Medford, Omar, Thaddaeus and Vaka.

Around The Nation Colorado gets most of its players from primarily three states: Colorado, California and Texas (80 percent of the entire roster—88 of 110 players). The roll call of state producers for the Buffs: Colorado 43, California 23, Texas 22, Illinois 3, Louisiana 3, Iowa 2, Tennessee 2, Arizona 1, Arkansas 1, Hawai'i 1, Massachusetts 1, Minnesota 1, Missouri 1, Nebraska 1, Oklahoma 1, Oregon 1 and Wisconsin 1. That's 17 states plus Canada (two players) that produced the make-up of this year's team.

2003 Team Makeup The 104 players listed on the active roster breaks down into 20 seniors, 12 juniors, 26 sophomores and 46 freshmen (including 19 redshirt frosh). An expanded breakdown:

Lettermen Returning: 42 (23 offense, 18 defense, 1 specialist)
Scholarship Players: 81

Lettermen Lost: 25 (12 offense, 11 defense, 2 specialists)
Walk-On Players: 23

Starters Returning (11)—Offense 3 (WR John Donahoe, SG Marwan Hage, WR Derek McCoy); Defense 8 (DB J.J. Billingsley, DE Marques Harris, CB Phil Jackson, FS Medford Moorer, DE Gabe Nyenhuis, DB Clyde Surrrell, ILB Sean Tufts, DT Sam Wilder).
(Calculated by those who had six or more starts in 2002.)

Others Returning With Significant Starting Experience (5; three or more career starts)—OL Karl Allis, DT Brandon Dabdoub, DT DeAndre Fluellen, TB Bobby Purify, TE Quinn Sypniewski).

Starters Lost (13)—Offense 8 (OT Justin Bates, TB Chris Brown, FB Brandon Drumm, TT Josh Foster, C Ryan Gray, QB Robert Hodge, TG Wayne Lucier, TE Beau Williams); Defense 5 (DT Tyler Brayton, SS Kory Mossoni, DB Roderick Sneed, CB Donald Strickland, ILB Drew Wahlroos).

Others Lost With Significant Starting Experience (3)—QB Zac Colvin, ILB Joey Johnson, ILB Aaron Killion.

Specialists Returning (0)—SN Greg Pace.

Specialists Lost (2)—PK Pat Brougham, P Mark Mariscal.

Senior Analysis Colorado has 20 seniors on its roster, with several (13) in the two-deep on the depth chart. Starters include: OG Karl Allis, WR D.J. Hackett, OG Marwan Hage, CB Phil Jackson, WR Derek McCoy, FS Medford Moorer, DE Gabe Nyenhuis, TB Bobby Purify, TE Quinn Sypniewski and ILB Sean Tufts. Others who have seen regular action in rotations at their position include DT DeAndre Fluellen, WR John Donahoe, CB Marcus Moore and WS Clyde Surrrell. A few are regulars on special teams: FB Chad Gardner, TE Jake Jones and WR Barry Kunkel and S Omar Stewart. The 20th is reserve WR Daniel Gonzales; DE Marques Harris, a starter at DE for three years, suffered a broken leg in the UCLA game and is out for the season. He does have a redshirt year available to him, however.

Graduation Status Five of Colorado's 20 seniors have already earned their degrees: OG Marwan Hage (business management, in three years), CB Phil Jackson (ethnic studies), WR Derek McCoy (marketing), CB Marcus Moore (journalism/broadcast news) and FS Medford Moorer (sociology). Two others are set to graduate in December: WR John Donahoe and TE Jake Jones, with a dozen on schedule for next May: OG Karl Allis, DT DeAndre Fluellen, WR Daniel Gonzales, WR D.J. Hackett, DE Marques Harris, WR Barry Kunkel, DE Gabe Nyenhuis, TB Bobby Purify, DB Omar Stewart, TE Quinn Sypniewski and LB Sean Tufts. The remaining pair, FB Chad Gardner and DB Clyde Surrrell, are in position to graduate in three semesters (December '04).

NOTE: Colorado had 24 of its 26 seniors on the 2002 roster (including medicals) graduate, a 92.3 percent rate; ILB Kory Mossoni needs a couple of classes and is enrolled this fall, while FB Brandon Drumm plans to finish off the little more than a semester he needs. Now, the 2002 rate won't be calculated by the NCAA for a couple of years yet, but don't look for the same number. It doesn't allow a school to count transfers who graduate (i.e., Wayne Lucier), but it does count against a school if it had a player transfer. Go figure that one, but it's one of the reasons the numbers are skewed to be lower than they really are, especially a tougher academic schools like Colorado. Take for example the most recent figure released, for the '96 freshmen class: CU's figure was 53 percent (10 of 19; four transferred, while four others pursued professional football starting their last semesters. Six of the nine left in good academic standing, meaning they were on course to graduate; and six transfers into the program, five of which graduated, do not count at all. Simply allowing for transfers to count both ways, CU's rate rises to 76 percent).

Streaking Colorado has active multiple win streaks going against 18 major schools. The list: 5—Air Force; 4—Missouri, San Jose State; 3—Minnesota, Utah State; 2—California, Iowa, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Nebraska, Northeast Louisiana, Notre Dame, Oklahoma State, Oregon State, UCLA, Texas A&M and Wyoming. CU's longest current losing streak is to Southern Cal (5), followed by Louisiana State (4) and Michigan State (3).

Scoring Streaks The Buffs have scored in a school record 177 consecutive games (dating back to 1988, the second longest streak in the Big 12 behind Texas), last being shutout on Nov. 12, 1988 at Nebraska (7-0). CU has scored in 96 straight games at home (last shutout: a 28-0 loss to Oklahoma on Nov. 15, 1986 in a game where the Sooners did not attempt a single pass). The Buffs have scored in 70 consecutive road games (91 including neutral sites). The Buffs have scored in 109 straight league games (all 59 in Big 12 play, including the 2001 and 2002 title games, and their final 50 in Big Eight competition, dating back to the '88 shutout at Nebraska). CU has scored in 108 straight games against non-conference opponents (last shutout: a 44-0 loss at home to Louisiana State on Sept. 15, 1979). The home shutout losses to Oklahoma in '86 and LSU in '79 are the only two times CU has not scored at home over the course of the last 235 games (all the way back to 1963). CU has been shutout just seven times in its last 409 games (dating to Oct. 5, 1968), but only four schools have done it: Oklahoma (three times), Nebraska (twice), Louisiana State and Michigan. Big 12 Conference Consecutive Game Scoring Streaks (through games of Oct. 4): Texas 270, Colorado 177, Iowa State 136, Nebraska 94, Kansas State 84, Texas Tech 70, Oklahoma 59, Oklahoma State 32, Texas A&M 21, Kansas 7, Baylor 7 and Missouri 5. CU was the last team to shutout Kansas State (12-0 in 1996).

Scoring Streaks II The school record 177 consecutive games Colorado has scored in currently is the ninth longest active streak in the nation. The list of all those Division I-A programs that have scored in every game over at least the last 12-plus seasons, through games of Oct. 4:

Outside The Nine Dots Some out of the ordinary records by the Buffs in some unique situations:

- ❑ Colorado is 59-18 in its last 77 games against teams who were not undefeated at the time of the game;
- ❑ Colorado is 61-9 against teams with three or more losses dating back to the 1985 season;
- ❑ Colorado is 52-14-1 in its last 67 games against schools that include the word "State" (dating to 1986);
- ❑ Colorado is 16-7 since 1986 against teams ranked between Nos. 20 and 25 in the AP poll (7-1 in the last 8; four straight wins);
- ❑ Colorado is 58-9-2 before crowds under 50,000 since the start of the 1989 season (12-2 last 14; 64-40-2 with 50,000-plus);
- ❑ Colorado is 58-20-2 in games where the starting quarterback had the letter "K" in his first or last name (dating to 1992: Kordell Stewart, Duke Tobin, Koy Detmer, Mike Moschetti, Joel Klatt, Erik Greenberg).

Schedule History CU's 2002 schedule included nine bowl teams, meaning the Buffs have played 32 bowl teams over the last three seasons. The formula to calculate schedule strength by the NCAA calls for combined record of all opponents, minus wins against non-Division I teams and the results (wins & losses) against the school the research is figured for. CU's 12 opponents in 2002 under the formula posted a 100-68 log, a .595 winning percentage, the eighth toughest schedule in school history; in fact, CU's last three schedules all rank in the top eight in CU annals, with the 2003 slate likely to join them. The 1997 schedule holds down the No. 1 slot (.669), with the 1971 slate second at a .641 percentage. That schedule included national champion Nebraska (13-0), No. 2 Oklahoma (11-1), No. 11 Louisiana State (9-3) and Iowa State (8-4). The 1990 Buffs are one of just two teams (with Penn State in '82) to have won national championships while playing the nation's toughest schedule; opponents that season were 72-43-3 (.623), Colorado's fifth toughest all-time. The 1997 team played eight games against teams with winning records, with all eight having won at least seven games (five with nine-plus wins and four won 10 or more), and seven went to bowls, including the eventual co-national champions, Nebraska (13-0) and Michigan (12-0). CU also faced seven bowl teams in both 2000 and 2001, when it played the NCAA's fourth and second toughest schedules.

Opponents In 2003 Colorado played nine bowl teams on its '02 schedule, and bounces right back with nine on its 2003 slate. This year's 12 foes combined for a 92-66 record in 2002, a winning percentage of .582; four teams won 10 or more games (Colorado State, Kansas State, Oklahoma and Washington State), while only three did not have a winning record in the regular season (Baylor, Kansas and Missouri). CU's been a mainstay near the top of the toughest schedule standings this century, as the Buffs played the nation's 12th toughest schedule last year, after playing the fourth toughest in 2001 and second toughest in 2000. The roll call of 2003 opponents and their 2002 records: Colorado State (10-4), UCLA (8-5), Washington State (10-3), Florida State (9-5), Kansas (3-9), Baylor (2-10), Kansas State (11-2), Oklahoma (11-2), Texas Tech (9-5), Missouri (5-7), Iowa State (7-7) and Nebraska (7-7).

No Creampuffs Here As previously mentioned, Colorado has the 10th best record in college football since the start of 1989 season (122-49-4). Of these 175 games, Colorado has played 76 ranked teams (43%), the fourth most in the nation during this time frame, with another 23 games against teams receiving significant (10 or more) votes. CU is 39-35-2 against ranked teams during this period (including a 13-15 record on the road); CU is also 83-14-2 against unranked teams. CU has played the third most games against ranked teams the last nine-plus years (57 of its last 126 contests), going 3-3 in 1993, 5-1 in 1994, 5-2 in 1995, 2-2 in 1996, 1-5 in 1997, 3-3 in 1998, 2-2 in 1999, 0-5 in 2000, 5-2 in 2001, 2-3 in 2002 and 1-1 so far in '03. NOTE: In 1990, CU became only the second team in NCAA history to win the national championship after playing the nation's toughest schedule (opponents won 63% of their games; Penn State was the first to accomplish the feat, in 1982). CU also played the nation's toughest (it's toughest-ever) in 1997: opponents won 67% of their games.

Ranked "Undefeateds" Fall At Folsom Nine ranked, undefeated teams have lost their "0" in the loss column at Folsom Field since 1989. The latest is Kansas State, which came to Boulder ranked No. 13 at 4-0 and lost, 35-31. Two bit the dust in 2001: Nebraska (11-0, No. 1 in the BCS and No. 2 in the polls) dropped a 62-36 game to the Buffs, as did Texas A&M (5-0, No. 20), 31-21. In 1998, No. 22 Texas Tech (6-0) fell to CU 19-17; in 1995, No.3 Texas A&M (2-0) lost, 29-21; in 1994, No. 10 Wisconsin (2-0) was crushed, 55-17; and in 1990, No. 12 Washington (3-0) left a 20-14 loser. In 1989, No. 10 Illinois (2-0) lost 38-7 and No. 3 Nebraska (8-0) fell, 27-21.

Folsom Named Best Field The Sports Turf Management Association named Folsom Field as its 2002 "Football Field of the Year," the first time CU has ever earned this prestigious award. Jason DePaepe, CU's athletic turf manager, officially accepted the award January 17 in San Antonio. Those who judge the competition were impressed with DePaepe and his staff's aggressive maintenance program, as the field is easily one of the best in college football, if not all sports.

Historically Colorado is in its second century of intercollegiate football, as the Buffaloes are in their 114th season of competition with an all-time record of 632-387-36 in 1,055 games. CU currently stands 15th on the all-time win list and is 21st in all-time winning percentage (.616). Only Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska from the Big 12 rank ahead of CU on each list, and only 12 Division I schools have played more seasons of intercollegiate football than Colorado. In Boulder, the Buffs are 269-127-10 in 79 seasons on the “hilltop” (Folsom Field). Against Big 12 opposition, CU is 231-194-13 against the other 11 members of the conference, formed in 1996.

Monthly Tab Colorado 40-14-2 in its last 56 October games, and are now 38-15 in its last 53 games played in September. CU is 42-14-1 in its last 57 November games, including 15 straight wins between 1991 and 1996; CU is 36-7 in November against all-comers aside from Nebraska, and is 4-7-1 against NU in turkey month). CU is 5-3 in December games since 1993, and with this year’s win over CSU, is 2-2-1 in the only August games in its history.

Overtime Colorado became the 84th team in Division I-A to play an overtime game when it played its first ever extra session affair against Missouri in 1999. Here’s a chart summarizing the Buffs in overtime:

Buffs & College Football Hardware Colorado is in an elite group when it comes to claiming college football’s prestigious trophies dating back to the 1990 season. A proliferation of awards have emerged since the late 1980s, and the Buffs are near the top of the list when it comes to collecting these statues. With Mark Mariscal garnering the 2002 Ray Guy Award as the nation’s best punter, CU now has had seven different players win nine trophies over the last the 13 seasons. That’s tied for the fifth most nationally, when it comes to trophies. But when it comes to different players who have been honored, only Miami and Nebraska top the Buffs’ seven, and barely at that as each has had eight. The postseason “hardware” includes the Heisman Trophy and the Lombardi, Maxwell, Walter Camp, Butkus, Thorpe, O’Brien, Unitas, Groza, Biletnikoff, Doak Walker, Nagurski, Bednarik, Mackey, Tatupu, Ray Guy, Rimington and Hendricks awards. The list of schools that have had winners between 1990 and 2002:

Domination Colorado has only 15 losses to unranked teams since dropping the 1987 season opener to Oregon: to BYU (1988 Freedom Bowl), Stanford (1991), Missouri (1997), Kansas (1998), CSU, Washington and Texas Tech (1999), CSU, Texas A&M and Kansas (2000), Fresno State (2001), CSU and Wisconsin (2002), and Washington State and Baylor this year. BYU reappeared in the ’88 final rankings; Stanford went 7-1 after CU to crack the top 20; in ’97, MU almost beat Nebraska the following week and made its way into polls for the first time in 14 seasons; CSU appeared at No. 24 after defeating CU in ’99; in ’01, Fresno toppled No. 10 Oregon State the next week and zoomed into the rankings; in ’02, CSU climbed as high as No. 13; and WSU cracked the polls after its win in Boulder in 2003. The Buffs are 65-12-2 in their last 79 games against unranked teams (AP), with records of 82-13-2 in the last 97 and 96-14-2 in the last 112, once winning 25 straight between 1993 and 1997. The Buffs are 133-50-4 in regular season games since the start of the 1986 Big Eight Conference season (7-7 in bowls); 92-34-3 in Big 8/12 games (including two league championship games) and 41-16-1 in non-conference regular season action.

Cradle of Coaches There are five current head coaches in Division I college football who have had assistant coaching stints at the University of Colorado. The most obvious is Gary Barnett, who was an assistant at CU from 1984-91 and was head coach at Northwestern from 1992-98. Others include: Gerry DiNardo, Vanderbilt/LSU and now of Indiana (at Colorado from 1982-89); Tom Cable, Idaho (1998-99), Les Miles, Oklahoma State (1982-86), Gregg Brandon, Bowling Green (1999-2000) and the most recent, Mike Hankwitz, who was named Arizona’s interim head coach on Sept. 28; he was at CU for 10 years (1985-94). Lou Tepper (1983-87) was head coach at Illinois for five years and is now the head man at Edinboro (Pa.) State. All but Cable were assistants under Bill McCartney, CU’s all-time winningest head coach (93-55-5 between 1982-94); Cable coached under both Neuheisel and Barnett. And former Buff OG Peter Shinnick, is a fourth-year head coach at a small college in Minnesota. Five others who assisted under McCartney have also worked as head coaches: Jim Caldwell, Wake Forest (at CU from 1982-84), Steve Logan, East Carolina (1985-86), Rick Neuheisel, at CU and Washington (1994), Bob Simmons, Oklahoma State (1988-94) and Ron Vanderlinden, Maryland (1983-91).

Inside-the-Poll Numbers Colorado has been ranked 12 times in the last 15 seasons in the Associated Press preseason football poll (just missing in 2001, coming in No. 27; and in '03, at No. 32). CU had appeared in every AP preseason ballot between 1989 and 1997, ranked in the top 15 each year, before not gaining mention in the '98 poll following a 5-6 season. The Buffs reappeared in the '99 poll at No. 15, and rose to No. 14 prior to the season-opening loss to CSU. Only CU, Florida, Florida State, Michigan and Nebraska have been ranked 15th or higher at least 11 times in these 15 years, and CU is one of only 10 teams to be ranked in as many as 12 of the last 15 polls. Number of times ranked in the Associated Press Preseason Poll, 1989-2003: Florida State 15, Michigan 15, Ohio State 15, Miami, Fla. 14, Nebraska 14, Tennessee 14, Notre Dame 13, Penn State 13, Colorado 12, Alabama 12.

Cumulative Rankings In the 1990s, the Buffaloes were the Associated Press' consensus No. 10 team, with only Nebraska ranked higher (No. 3) from the Big 12 Conference.

Long Stay Colorado was one of only two teams to be ranked in every poll (both the Associated Press and Coaches, be it UPI or USA Today/CNN-ESPN) from the 1989 preseason through Oct. 4, 1997 (143 AP polls, 138 coaches). Only Nebraska could also make that claim (CU was second only to the Huskers, as Nebraska had been ranked in 265 straight polls when CU hit the 143 mark). In this span, NU held the top spot 16 times and CU seven, with NU winning two national titles and Colorado one.

Associated Press Poll

MOST TOP 5 FINISHES (1989-2002): Florida State 12, Miami 7, Nebraska 5, COLORADO 4, Tennessee 4, Alabama 3, Florida 3, Notre Dame 3.

MOST TOP 10 FINISHES (1989-2002): Florida State 12, Florida 10, Nebraska 8, Miami 8, Tennessee 8, Michigan 7, COLORADO 6, Kansas State 6, Alabama 5, Ohio State 5.

And The Return CU was out of the polls for an 11-week period ('97-98), but came back with a vengeance. When Colorado reappeared in both the AP and USAT/ESPN polls at No. 16 on Sept. 6, 1998 it marked the third highest debut in a poll since the AP ballot expanded to 25 teams in 1989. CU went from receiving votes to No. 16, the second highest CU has ever debuted after not being ranked in the preseason; back in 1971, the Buffs went into Baton Rouge and defeated No. 9 LSU, 31-21. CU appeared at No. 8 in the UPI-Coaches poll and at No. 12 on the AP ballot.

Third Highest CU finished 9-5 in 2002 and was ranked No. 20 in the final AP poll... the third highest final ranking ever for a 5-loss team, and the second-highest since AP went to a post-bowl ballot in 1968. In 1959, a 5-5 Notre Dame team was ranked No. 17 in the final poll (Dec. 7); in 1984, an 8-5 Miami, Fla., team closed the year at No. 18. Only 11 teams with five losses have made the final AP rankings, three doing so in 2002 (Florida State and Virginia joined CU); Georgia Tech and Texas are the only ones to do it twice.

Unique Streak Ended At 12, But It's Now 15 of 16 Colorado defeated at least one top 25 team for 12 consecutive seasons between 1988 and 1999, the second longest active streak in the nation behind Florida State for the latter half of the span. CU defeated at least three ranked teams in six of those 12 years, including five twice (1990, 1995). CU has defeated at least two in seven of the last 10 years (and three ranked foes in five of those seasons). Colorado didn't go down easy when the streak ended in 2000, losing to five ranked teams by a combined 45 points (3, 3, 23, 14 and 2). The Buffs started a new streak in 2001, doing so with a vengeance as they tied the school record for most ranked teams defeated in a single season with five. CU defeated two ranked teams in 2002 and opened with a win over No. 23 Colorado State in '03 to make it 15 out of 16 years with at least one win over a ranked opponent.

TV Time Colorado has now had 108 of its last 163 games dating back to 1990 broadcast nationally or regionally (66 percent). That includes four games this year, 12 in 2002, 10 games in 2001, plus 7 in 2000, 9 in both 1998 and 1999, 10 in 1996 and 1997. Including 1996, when the Big 12 began, 71 of CU's 90 games in this span have been either nationally or regionally televised, an impressive 79 percent. Nationally, CU is likely in the top 10 in national/regional appearances in this time frame, but official records are not kept.

Carrying The TV Torch Colorado and Texas started carrying the torch in the 1990s when it came to scheduling regular season games against traditionally ranked opponents, games most likely to be selected for TV and making the conference some revenue. Here are the counts (and records) of Big 12 schools since 1990 when it comes to playing ranked non-league teams (not including bowls): Colorado 24 (13-10-1), Texas 20 (6-12-2), Nebraska 12 (8-4), Oklahoma 12 (6-6), Texas A&M 11 (4-7), Texas Tech 11 (0-11), Baylor 9 (2-7), Missouri 9 (1-8), Iowa State 6 (0-6), Kansas 6 (0-6), Oklahoma State 5 (0-5) and Kansas State 2 (1-1).

Buff Blemishes Colorado has inflicted a few blemishes on some of the teams who had the best home records in the 1990s. The top five home records last decade (1990-99) belonged to Florida State (55-1-1), Nebraska (62-3), Florida (57-4), Texas A & M (55-4-1) and Kansas State (57-5-1). That's a combined 287-17-3; but of those 20 losses or ties, CU was responsible for five of them. CU won at Nebraska in 1990, at Texas A & M in 1996, and was 2-2-1 at Kansas State in the 90s (wins in 1991 and 1995 and a tie in 1993). The Buffs added to their mystique by returning to A & M in 2000 and snapping the Aggies 22-game home winning streak—started later in the 1996 season (after losses to CU then Texas Tech). And in 2001, CU won at Kansas State, snapping a 58-game home winning streak by the Wildcats against unranked teams, and was only the second KSU home loss in a 29 game span.

16/18 The Buffs have 16 winning (regular) seasons in the last 18 years, likely matched only by a handful of schools across the nation. The only exceptions came in 1997 and 2000; in 1986, CU was 6-5 in the regular season but finished 6-6 after losing to Baylor in the Bluebonnet Bowl. CU has been invited to bowls in 15 of the previous 18 years, staying home in only 1987, 1997 and 2000.

Offense/Defense Through the years, there are always a few players who wind up playing on both sides of the ball. The last to try this was DT Sam Wilder, who caught a 9-yard pass against Kansas State in 2002. DT Justin Bannan, did the same, catching a 12-yard TD pass on his only play (at Missouri in 2000). CB Ben Kelly tried tailback in 1999 at Texas Tech; he finished with three yards on one carry (though a nice 5-yard run was wiped out by a penalty). In the last 12 years, several Buffs have played on both sides of the ball; in 1998 OG Brad Bedell played some goal-line defense. That's been a trend at CU, having one of the "big uglies," as Keith Jackson would say, come over to defense for goal line or short yardage defense—OG Heath Irwin, OG Clint Moore, OG Chris Naeole and OT Melvin Thomas all did the same in the mid-90s. The last defenders to try it at a skill position? You have to back to the 1990 season, when OLBs Alfred Williams and Kanavis McGhee played some tight end in a 64-3 win over Kansas State (Williams caught a pass for 17 yards, McGhee didn't catch the one thrown his way). The last offensive skill player to swing over and try some defense was WR Michael Westbrook, who played four snaps at strong safety against Baylor in 1993.

Why CU, Not UC A question often asked of many former Big Eight schools: Why is it the University of Colorado, but the moniker is CU and not UC? (The same applies at Kansas—KU, Missouri—MU, Nebraska—NU and Oklahoma—OU). "Midwestern casualness," says CU historian Fred Casotti. It has always been this way at Colorado, for whatever reason, and at the other four listed above—but seemingly nowhere else in the USA. In the 1950s, there was a concerted effort to eliminate the use of "CU" on the Boulder campus, both as a symbol and in speech, but Casotti said that no one would buy into it. "Nobody would change," he said. "It's easier to say than U of C, UC sounds like slang or something (as in 'you see'), and it was traditional. By trying to eliminate it, they reinforced it."

Walk Ons & Scholarships A lot of factors go into a walk-on earning a scholarship, but one of the lesser-known components is that often a player has to establish residency for two years for his scholarship not to be counted against those awarded for the year he entered school. If he's been in the program for two years, his scholarship only counts toward the 85 total; if he's been in for less than two years, then it also counts against the class of the year he enrolled. If the school is already at the maximum of 25, he can't be placed on scholarship until establishing two years of residency.

A Little QB History The competition for the starting quarterback job in 2003 was only the fourth real battle in just over a decade at Colorado. The last was in 2000, when the competition between Zac Colvin and Bobby Pesavento raged from the start of spring ball to the final week of August camp. Colvin was named the opening game starter on Aug. 27; four weeks into the season, freshman Craig Ochs came in during the second quarter of the Kansas State game and never relinquished the role. There was no battle for starting quarterback in 1999, as senior Mike Moschetti was entrenched as the starter. However, the battle for the starting job in 1998 was the first in some six years; Moschetti, junior Jeremy Weisinger and sophomore Adam Bledsoe duked it out for the starting role. Moschetti won on Aug. 24, when then-head coach Rick Neuheisel named him as the starter (Weisinger subsequently asked for and received a release from his scholarship and transferred to Texas A & M, where he became a free safety). Moschetti was the first junior college transfer to start a game at quarterback for Colorado since 1976, when Jeff Austin started the first three games of the year. Back in 1992, it was a four-way battle between a hero off the bench in junior Vance Joseph, an unknown sophomore named Kordell Stewart, the younger brother of a Heisman winner, Koy Detmer, and a transfer from Illinois, Duke Tobin. Stewart emerged as the winner and held the reins for three years, with Detmer the heir in 1995. John Hessler, of course, subbed for an injured Detmer most of that season and assumed control his senior year (1997). Darian Hagan had piloted the ship from 1989-91.

A LITTLE HISTORY— In looking back at CU history, the Buffs have usually had a capable backup quarterback that has become a household name. As far back as 1971, when 5-foot-7 Joe Duenas subbed for an injured Ken Johnson to lead CU to a 56-13 win over Wyoming in the second game of the season, Colorado second-team signal callers have made names for themselves. Two years later, David Williams and Clyde Crutchmer dueled for starting honors; in 1976, Austin replaced Jeff Knapple on occasion after Knapple wrestled the starting job away from him; in 1979, Charlie Davis and Bill Solomon battled back and forth; in the early 1980s, Steve Vogel and Randy Essington alternated as starters for three years, with Vogel emerging as CU's all-time passing leader at the time. In the last 1980s, there was the run of Sal Aunese replacing Mark Hatcher, Hagan replacing Aunese, Charles Johnson and Joseph both subbing for an injured Hagan on occasion; Stewart replacing Hagan, and he himself being replaced by Detmer and Tobin due to injuries; and of course, Hessler subbing for Detmer after Detmer replaced Stewart. Perhaps the best example of this came just last year in 2001, when Bobby Pesavento took over for an injured Craig Ochs for the second half of the season, and he helped lead the Buffs to their first Big 12 Conference title. That run included Pesavento steering the Buffs to wins over No. 2 Nebraska and No. 3 Texas. And in 2002, Robert Hodge has had to replace Ochs, after Ochs suffered the third concussion of his CU career and eventually left the team.

Chart-Mania The below three charts offer a look at what Colorado has accomplished over the last 18 football seasons, through all games of 2002 (includes bowl games and only those schools who have been members of Division I-A the entire time):
