Buffs volleyball upsets No. 1 Nebraska

FIVE-GAME UPSET OF CORNHUSKERS HIGHLIGHTS WINNING WEEKEND FOR COLORADO

The higher they are ranked, the harder they fall.

The University of Colorado can attest to that after beating No. 1 Nebraska Saturday at Coors Events Center. It is the Cornhuskers' lone defeat on the season.

Colorado (15-9, 11-6 Big 12) stunned Nebraska (25-1, 15-1 Big 12) in five games, 19-30, 30-28, 15-30, 30-27, 15-12. It is the first time CU has knocked off a top-ranked opponent in the volleyball program's history.

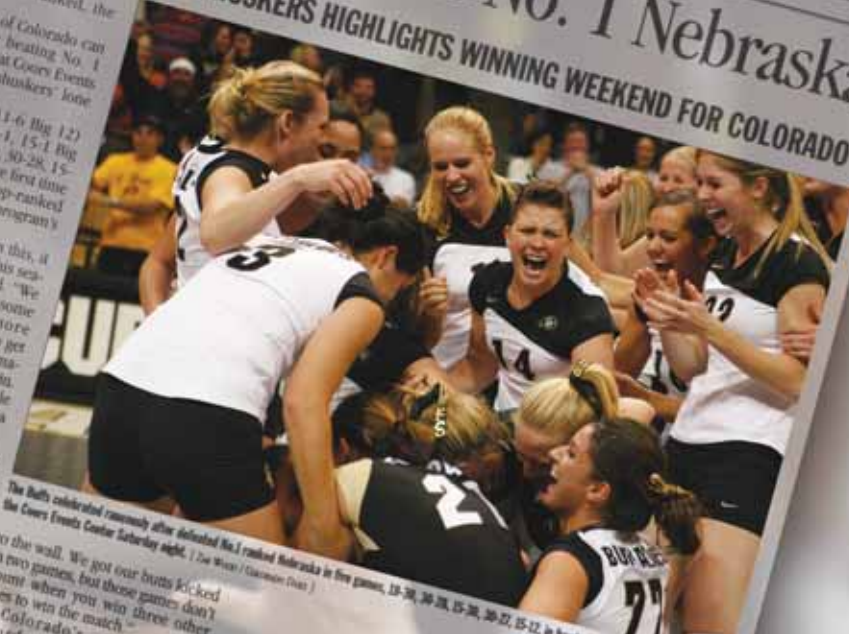

"When we look back on this, it will just be another victory this season," head coach Pi'i Aiu said. "We still have to go out and win some matches. We have three more matches to play. We're trying to get a good seed into the NCAA tournament. The victory is just another win. In the history of CU, I think people are going to look back on this. It's a win against a No. 1."

CU senior Ashley Ni'u summed up the accomplishment, calling it "an incredible win because it hasn't happened in so long."

Austin Zimmerman led Colorado with nine kills and 10 blocks, four solo and six assists. The last time a Buff recorded 10 blocks or more was Lara Bossov against Kansas State on Sept. 15, 2004.

Colorado had 68 kills, 10 the Huskers' 69. Another Sutherland led CU with 18 kills and 11 digs. Gibson recorded 16 kills and Alex Ruth notched 14 in the win.

"We've always played well with our backs against the wall," Aiu said. "We talked to our team about that this week and against Nebraska we've always felt like our backs were to the wall. We got our backs kicked in two games, but those games don't count when you win three other ones to win the match."

The Buffs celebrated exuberantly after defeating No. 1 ranked Nebraska in five games, 19-30, 30-28, 15-30, 30-27, 15-12, in front of a record-setting crowd at the Coors Events Center Saturday night. (The Week / Classroom Photo)

Colorado's next game is Saturday against the No. 15 Oklahoma Sooners on the road in Norman. Game time is 6 p.m.

"I think this gives the team a glimpse of what we can be and the things we can do."
