^ academically ineligible for Fall 2005 semester

ineligible, sophomore transfer, Ohio State, sits out all of the 2005-06 season

The Buffs committed only five turnovers against Cal Poly, the least amount since the home win over Texas (Feb. 8) ... The 22 offensive rebounds against Cal Poly matched last year's 22 at Iowa State (Jan. 22) and Kansas (Jan 15) ... CU has made a 3-pointer in 109-straight games (last time CU didn't was Jan. 16, 2002, Iowa State, W, 63-61) ... With 10 seniors, eight senior scholarships, CU has the most nationally ... The CU men resemble what a box of Total cereal looks like, they return 100% of their scoring, 100% rebounding, 100% blocked shots, 100% of everything from a year ago with the exception of the Fall semester with Julius Ashby ineligible, he could return Dec. 31 (Dartmouth) or Jan. 3 (Savannah State).

“LS” INITIALS: If you notice the “LS” initials on each of the CU player uniforms that's in memory of senior walk-on Scott Senger's mother, Linda died of cancer this past July. Scott played at nearby Monarch High School where set the school record for 3-pointers made in a season and most points scored.

BUFFS PICKED 9TH: The Big 12 coaches are predicting the Buffs will be a ninth place team in 2005-06. Last season the conference coaches predicted a 10th place finish and were almost correct as CU finished 11th. In its conference history, CU has finished in second place (once), fourth (one), fifth (once), seventh (once), ninth (three times) and 10th (once). Below is the history of the Big 12 coaches' predictions and the Buffs actual finish:

1996-97: No Poll done (CU finished 2nd)

1997-98: 9th (CU finished 9th)

1998-99: 10th (CU finished 8th)

1999-00: 8th (CU finished 7th)

2000-01: 7th (CU finished 9th)

2001-02: 7th (CU finished 9th)

2002-03: 9th (CU finished 5th)

2003-04: 6th (CU finished 4th)

2004-05: 10th (CU was 11th)

TOUGH NON-CONFERENCE? Do you think CU has an easy non-conference schedule this year, or perhaps it's difficult? In fact, CU ranks smack dab in the middle based on their opponents record last season. Remember, Baylor is not playing a non-conference schedule this season due to NCAA infractions. Texas A&M has the easiest, followed by Nebraska and so on ...

Colorado 73
UNC Wilmington 54
Nov. 18, 2005 Coors Events Center

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) - Chris Copeland's 20 points led Colorado past UNC Wilmington 73-54 Friday night, the Seahawks' first loss after three impressive wins in the Black Coaches Association Tournament.

Bufs coach Ricardo Patton, who has a .547 winning percentage and a .439 Big 12 mark in his decade in Boulder, improved to 10-0 in season openers.

Richard Roby, who led the Bufs with a 16-point average as a freshman last season, added 14 points, Jayson Obazuaye had 12 and Andy Osborn finished with 10. T.J. Carter's 12 points led the Seahawks (3-1).

With 6-9 post player Julius Ashby academically ineligible until the second semester, the Bufs turned to forwards Copeland, a junior, and Osborn, one of Colorado's nation-high 10 seniors on the roster, to control the paint and keep Wilmington from going 4-0 on its trip through the Rockies.

Copeland scored 10 first-half points - he had the only successful 3-pointer in nine tries by Colorado - and Osborn, who finished with eight boards, had eight points by halftime as the Bufs inched ahead 29-23.

The Seahawks, of the Colonial Athletic Association, have averaged better than 19 wins each of their three seasons under coach Brad Brownell. They were fresh off capturing the championship of the Black Coaches Association Tournament in Laramie, Wyo., with wins over Butler, Wyoming and North-western.

But instead of being in rhythm, they were tired. Both teams started out slowly with Wilmington shooting 39 percent (10-of-26) in the first half and Colorado 38 percent (11-of-29).

The Seahawks were within six at 38-32 when the Buffaloes, led by Copeland's five points, used an 18-2 run to take control. Antoine McGee's three-point play with 11:12 remaining made it 56-34.

Back-to-back baskets by Roby and Copeland's three-point play made it 68-44 with 3:46 left.

Nov. 21, 2005 Moby Arena

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) - Sophomore Sean Morris scored a career-best 34 points and his older brother, senior Michael Morris, sank two critical free throws with 10 seconds left as Colorado State beat Colorado, 83-82 Monday night. After the elder Morris' free throws made it 83-80, Chris Copeland inexplicably dished it inside to Martane Freeman, whose dunk made it 83-82.

Michael Harrison tipped Marcus Hall's inbounds pass to Smith, who dribbled out the clock, securing the Rams' 25th straight home opening victory and their first win over the Bufs since 1999, setting off a wild celebration at Moby Arena, where the students stormed the court.

Smith added 16 points for the Rams (2-0), who also got 10 points each from Harrison and Lewis. Hall added 12 points, seven assists and tied a career-best four steals.

Freeman's career-high 17 points off the bench and Copeland's 16 points led the Bufs (1-1), who saw a 74-66 lead with 7 1/2 minutes vanish when the Rams turned up their pressure defense.

Sean Morris tied it at 79 with 52 seconds left when he sank his school record-tying ninth 3-pointer.

Hall charged at the other end, then fouled Smith, whose two free throws with 26 seconds left gave the Rams the lead for good at 81-79.

Richard Roby (10 points) was fouled with 11 seconds left but missed one of two foul shots, leaving the Rams ahead by a point. After a timeout, Roby fouled Michael Morris, who calmly sank both free throws for an 83-80 lead.

The Bufs have long played a running style and they appeared set to extend their winning streak over the Rams to six for the first time since 1946-50 when they built an eight-point second half lead.

Andy Osborn (11 points) sank three 3-pointers in helping Colorado built a 43-40 halftime lead but he scored just two points in the second half.

Saint Mary's 54
Nov. 26, 2005 Pepsi Center

DENVER, Colo. (AP) - Richard Roby scored 17 of his 29 points in the first half and Colorado cruised to a 73-54 win over Saint Mary's on Saturday night in the Colorado Classic.

Roby, who averaged 16 points as a freshman, had started the season in somewhat of a slump, averaging just 12 points in the Bufs' 1-1 start that included a last-second loss to archrival Colorado State.

So, Roby stayed in the gym after practice to work on his game and it paid off at the Pepsi Center.

He was 4-of-7 from beyond the arc and also grabbed six rebounds off the defensive glass and stole the ball three times.

Dominique Coleman added 10 points for the Bufs, who improved to 5-1 against the Gaels of the West Coast Conference. Marcus Hall added a season-best eight assists, while freshman Calvin Williams came off the bench to grab seven rebounds.

Daniel Kickert's 22 points led the Gaels (1-1), who had a height advantage but couldn't keep up with the Bufs' faced-paced tempo led by Roby and quickly fell behind.

The Buffaloes (2-1) jumped out to a 40-26 halftime lead thanks to Roby's 17 points, two steals and a blocked shot. He was also 3-for-3 from three-point range.

The Gaels cut the deficit to single digits on Brett Collin's basket that made it 49-40 with 11 minutes left, but the Bufs quickly put to rest any hope of a comeback when Coleman slammed back-to-back baskets.

Colorado rebuilt its cushion to 67-49 on consecutive fastbreak buckets by Marcus King-Stockton with 3 1/2 minutes remaining.

Collins had 16 points and 11 boards for Saint Mary's.

at Penn 60
Nov. 29, 2005 The Palestra

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. - Sophomore guard Richard Roby and senior forward Chris Copeland scored 22 and 20 points, respectively leading the University of Colorado Buffaloes to 78-60 victory over the University of Pennsylvania at The Palestra.

CU/Penn played the first 20 minutes of play all even and went to the intermission with a 37-37 tie. Unfortunately for the Quakers, they went ice cold during the second half, and the Buffaloes took advantage to earn the 18-point win.

After shooting nearly 44 percent from the field during the first stanza, Penn (2-1) went just 9-of-31 (29.0 percent) in the second half including 2-of-15 (13.3 percent) from three-point land. CU on the other hand was 15-of-33 (45.5 percent) and an impressive 8-of-10 (.800) from the free throw line.

CU (3-1) jumped all over Penn to start the game, scoring nine of the game's first 10 points. However, the Quakers responded with an 8-3 run to draw within three, then reeled off 11 unanswered points to lead 20-16.

Roby led a five-point Colorado run that gave the Buffs back the lead, but after the teams traded buckets Penn went on another 11-point streak that pushed its lead to 33-23. Roby was again on display, though, scoring 10 points as CU climbed back to tie the game at the break. At the half Roby had 17 points and had missed just one of his 11 shots from the field (4-of-5 field goals including 3-of-3 three-pointers, 6-of-6 free throws).

The Buffs scored seven of the first 10 points in the second half to take a 44-40 lead, then extended that advantage to 50-42 as the Quakers missed several opportunities. Penn was within nine points with seven minutes left (57-48), but Colorado dropped seven of the next eight points to make its lead 15 (64-49) and Penn never got inside double digits after that.

Senior guard Jayson Obazuaye led the CU dominance on the glass with a game-high and career-high nine rebounds helping CU to a 50-28 advantage. Copeland added seven rebounds along with sophomore Marcus King-Stockton tying a personal-best seven boards.

Dec. 3, 2005 Coors Events Center

BOULDER - The University of Colorado men's basketball team placed all five of its starters in double figures led with 17 points each by Andy Osborn and Richard Roby as the Buffaloes cruised to a 93-75 victory over Cal Poly at the Coors Events Center.

With the win, CU improves to 4-1, having won its last three in a row, while the Mustangs drop their fourth straight and fall to 1-4.

Other starters who reached double figures for the Buffs were Jayson Obazuaye (13 pts.), Chris Copeland (12 pts.) and Marcus Hall, who finished the game with 11 points and five assists.

"It was a good game, a good win," said CU head coach Ricardo Patton. "There was some good, but some bad. But, overall, I thought the guys played fairly well. In fact, we had only five turnovers."

The Buffaloes raced out to a 45-39 advantage at the intermission on 51.5 percent shooting (17-of-33), getting balanced scoring from all five of its starters, including Roby and Osborn with nine points apiece.

Midway through the first half, CU rallied from its biggest deficit of the game (four points) with a 9-0 run over the next two minutes, pushing its lead to eight points (31-23).

In the second half, CU continued to hold its advantage over the Mustangs, extending its lead to 22 points with five minutes remaining as Osborn hit his fourth three-pointer of the game and an 87-65 lead.

Osborn also recorded his second career double-double in a CU uniform, grabbing 10 rebounds to go with his 17 points. Osborn's 10 boards helped CU dominate the Mustangs under the basket with a 46-33 advantage.

Colorado 76
Utah 52
Dec. 7, 2005 Coors Events Center

BOULDER (AP) - Sophomore guard Richard Roby collected his third career double-double of 19 points and 10 rebounds leading Colorado to a 76-52 home win Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

Chris Copeland added 16 points as Colorado (5-1) extended its winning streak to four. Bryant Markson and Chris Jackson led Utah (4-2) with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

"That was a great win," said Colorado head coach Ricardo Patton. "Utah is a really good basketball team. We had a lot of different lineups and everybody contributed. Like always, we need to take a look at the tape and try to improve."

The Utes had won the last two meetings between the two teams, but struggled with 17 turnovers and were only 2-for-14 in 3-pointers as they scored a season-low 16 points in the first half.

Colorado started the second half making 2-of-7 shots, allowing Utah to cut a 17-point halftime deficit to 38-31 on a 3-pointer and a layup by Johnnie Bryant five minutes into the half.

Martane Freeman hit two straight shots after a driving layup by Marcus Hall to put the Buffaloes back up by 44-31.

Two free throws by Copeland capped a 6-0 run to give Colorado its biggest lead, 56-37, with 8:21 left. Utah got as close as 66-51 in the remaining three minutes on a layup by Ricky Johns.

Colorado started slowly, missing 14-of-15 shots to start the game and trailed 10-3 after a layup by Utah's Luke Nevill. But the Buffaloes began finding their range from beyond the 3-point arc, connecting on seven 3-pointers, three by Roby and outscored Utah, 30-6 over the last 11:57 of the first half to lead 33-16. Colorado was 12-for-37 on 3-pointers.

Copeland and Marcus Hall had two 3-pointers each in the first period. In contrast, the Utes were 0-for-4 on 3-pointers and shot 33 percent against a suffocating defense that also forced 11 turnovers.

BOULDER (AP) - Richard Roby scored 20 points and Martane Freeman added a career-high 17 as Colorado extended its winning streak to five games with a 96-80 victory over UC Irvine.

Marcus Hall contributed 14 points and five assists. Colorado (6-1) has won all seven meetings between the two teams. "It was a great win, especially under these circumstances," said CU head coach Ricardo Patton. "I know the guys have been pressed this week with exams and we haven't even practiced in our own gym. With all the distractions this week I am very proud that we continue to be a good basketball team. Any time you shoot that good there is a good chance of winning."

The win spoiled the homecoming of Denver native Ross Schraeder, who had 26 points to lead UC Irvine (4-4). The Anteaters, who had an impressive road win at Stanford, hadn't played since Dec. 3. The rustiness showed.

Colorado withstood several Anteater runs in the second half, the first when Nic Campbell scored seven straight points to reduce the lead to 56-51. Dominique Coleman's jumper capped a 6-0 run for the Buffaloes to help them pull away.

A conventional three-point play by Darren Fells made it a five-point game again, only to see Freeman respond with a 3-pointer. A layup from Coleman helped Colorado put its lead back to 69-59.

UC Irvine made its final run at Colorado when baskets by Mark Kelley and Campbell (18 points) got them within 77-71 with 6:25 left. Roby nailed a 3-pointer and Freeman converted two free throws, and the Buffaloes' lead was never under nine points over the final 5:36.

The Buffaloes were 20-of-24 from the free throw line, also made 10 3-pointers for the game and placed six players with 10 or more points. The CU bench recorded their most points of the season pouring in a season-best 34 points.
