NO. 5/5 TEXAS TO OPEN BIG 12

PLAY AT COLORADO: No. 5/5 Texas (4-0) will start Big 12 play when it travels to Boulder, Colo. on Saturday, Oct. 4 to take on North Division foe Colorado (3-1) at Folsom Field (6 p.m./Central/FSN). With non-conference victories over FAU, UTEP, Rice and Arkansas, Texas is 4-0 for the sixth time in the last eight years. Prior to Mack Brown's arrival in 1998, Texas failed to open the year with at least four straight wins for 14 consecutive seasons, dating back to 1983. Texas is seeking to open the year with five straight victories for the third time in the Mack Brown era. Both of those teams earned berths in the Big 12 title game (2001 and '05). In addition, UT is looking to open Big 12 play with a victory for the 10th time in Mack Brown's 11 seasons. The Horns have won both of their Big 12 road openers under Brown. Texas is 26-4 in regular-season contests against the North Division since 1998. The Horns are coming off a 52-10 victory over the Razorbacks in Austin, its 12th consecutive non-conference victory, which is the longest streak in the Mack Brown era, while Colorado lost at Florida State, 39-21.

THE SERIES: Texas leads the 16-game series that began in 1940, 9-7, and has won five of the last six, including three straight. Since both teams joined the Big 12 in 1996, UT holds a 5-3 advantage over CU. Texas won the first meeting in 1940 (39-7) and went on to win the first four matchups. CU won the next six before the Horns claimed five of the last six, including a 70-3 victory in the 2005 Big 12 Championship game, their second victory over the Buffs that season. The series is tied, 3-3, in Boulder, but UT has won both of the last two match-ups in Colorado. The Longhorns lead the series, 4-3, in Austin and 2-1 in neutral-site games. In 2000, UT snapped a six-game CU series winning streak with a 28-14 victory in Boulder. A year later, No. 9 Texas knocked off No. 14 Colorado, 41-7, in Austin during the 2001 regular season, but the No. 9 Buffs returned the favor in a 39-37 shootout win over No. 3 Texas at the Big 12 Championship game that year. The loss knocked UT out of a possible berth in the BCS Championship game. Earlier that day, No. 2 Florida was upset by No. 5 Tennessee, 34-32, in Gainesville in a game that was rescheduled due to the tragic events of 9/11, setting up the possibility of the third-ranked Horns moving into the No. 2 spot with a win. That spot would have been even more certain when No. 2 Tennessee wound up getting upset by No. 21 LSU (31-20) in the rescheduled SEC Championship game the following Saturday. That opened the door for Nebraska to move into the BCS title game.

TEXAS VS. CU TRENDS: This week marks the 16th meeting between UT and CU, with Saturday's game marking the 11th contest between the two schools in the last 16 years ... Texas has outscored Colorado 563-325 in the 16 games ... both teams have entered the game ranked among the nation's Top 25 seven times in series history with CU holding a 4-3 advantage ... at least one team has been ranked in the nation's Top 25 in 12 of the all-time meetings with both teams winning six of the games ... Texas has outscored Colorado, 143-27, over the last three games.

NON-CONFERENCE STREAKS: With a 52-10 victory over Arkansas, Texas has won 12 straight non-conference games, which is the longest non-conference winning streak in the Mack Brown era (2006-present). The streak is the fifth-longest in the nation and the second-longest in school history. The Horns' school-record non-conference winning streak of 15 occurred from 1945-48. UT also had a streak of 11 straight non-conference victories from 1963-65 and a 10-game streak from 1968-70. Texas is also currently on a school-record non-conference road winning streak of nine, which bettered the previous mark of seven from 1956-63.

TEXAS COMING OFF NATION-LEADING SEVENTH CONSECUTIVE 10-WIN SEASON: The Texas Longhorns finished the 2007 season 10-3, giving them at least 10 wins in each of the last seven seasons, a feat unmatched by any other program nationally. Overall, Texas' 107 victories over the last 11 years are the most in the nation. The Horns also have won more Big 12 games (65) than any other team in the conference during MACK BROWN (Florida State '74): Texas' 11th-year head coach is 107-25 (65-15 Big 12) at UT, including the 2005 National Championship, and has a 193-99-1 mark over his 24-year career. Brown is the Big 12's winningest active coach (Division I-A games only) and his strings of 18 consecutive winning seasons and 16 straight bowl appearances are the second-longest nationally.

DAN HAWKINS (UC-Davis '84): Head coach Dan Hawkins is 11-18 in his third season at Colorado. Prior to Colorado, Hawkins was 53-11 in five seasons as the head coach at Boise State. While in Boise, Hawkins won 31 consecutive WAC and home contests en route to four WAC championships, three of them outright.

that time. In addition, the Horns set a school record last season by winning a bowl game for the fourth straight year after defeating No. 12 Arizona State in the Holiday Bowl. They are one of only three schools nationally to do so. The Holiday Bowl win marked UT's sixth bowl victory in the last seven years, including two BCS triumphs and a BCS Championship Game victory. Mack Brown's seven bowl victories at UT trail only Darrell Royal's eight wins.

NINE-WIN SEASONS: Texas has posted at least nine victories for the 10 straight seasons. The streak of 10 straight seasons of nine or more victories is a UT first and the longest active string in the nation. In addition, with 10 wins in his final two seasons at North Carolina, Mack Brown is the lone coach nationally to lead his team to nine or more victories in 12 straight seasons.

STRING OF SUCCESS: With a 2007 No. 10 final ranking, Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last eight seasons, a Longhorn best. In addition, UT has finished in the Top 10 in five of the last seven seasons (2001, '02, '04, '05 and '07). You have to go back to Darrell Royal's string of success in the late 1960s, when the Horns finished among the Top Five four out of five years (1968-72), to equal that consistency in UT history.

SIX HORNS ON WATCH LISTS: Texas has six players listed on national award watch lists in OG Cedric Dockery, P John Gold, C Chris Hall, QB Colt McCoy, DT Roy Miller and DE Brian Orakpo. Dockery was tabbed for the Outland Trophy watch list, which honors the nation's top interior lineman. Gold was named to the Ray Guy Award watch list as the nation's top punter. Hall earned a spot on the Rimington Trophy watch list, which honors the nation's top center. McCoy landed on the Maxwell Award, which recognizes the nation's outstanding collegiate player, the Walter Camp Football Foundation Player of the Year award and the Davey O'Brien Award, which goes to the nation's best college quarterback, watch lists. Miller was tabbed for the Bednarik Award watch list for the college defensive player of the year and Orakpo earned spots on the Nagurski Trophy, Hendricks Award and Lott Trophy watch lists. The Nagurski Trophy honors the nation's top defensive player, the Hendricks Award goes to the nation's top defensive end and the Lott Trophy is awarded to college's Defensive IMPACT Player of the Year.

ELEVENTH YEAR UNDER MACK BROWN: With Mack Brown in his 11th season at Texas, he is just the fourth coach in the 116 years of Texas football to coach the Longhorns for at least a decade and just the second UT coach to win 100 games. Darrell Royal, who won 167 games while at Texas, has the longest tenure at 20 years, while D.X. Bible and Fred Akers each coached in Austin for 10 seasons. With a 107-25 (.811) record at UT, Mack Brown is the architect of the nation's best record during that stretch. In addition, Brown has led the Horns to an 80-14 (.851) mark over the last eight seasons, which ranks second nationally, and includes four 11-win seasons (2001, '02, '04 and '05). The 11-win seasons set the bar at Texas before the Horns' record-setting, 13-win campaign in 2005. Texas is the only school in the nation that has posted at least 10 wins in each of the last seven seasons (a UT record). With 10 wins in 2007, Brown is the lone coach nationally to lead his team to nine or more victories in 12 straight seasons. His 10 straight seasons at UT of nine or more victories are a school best. Under Brown, the Horns have posted Top 10 finishes five times in the last seven years (2001, '02, '04, '05 and '07). Prior to his arrival, the last time UT finished in the Top 10 was 1983. In addition, Texas played in a bowl game for a school-record 10th-consecutive season in 2007, bettering the previous streak of nine straight from 1977-85. Brown's personal strings, including time at North Carolina, go back even further. He has posted 18 consecutive winning seasons and has directed his teams to 16 straight bowl games. Both of those marks are the second-longest active streaks in the nation.

UT'S NO. 2 ALL-TIME: Mack Brown has won 107 games at Texas. He is in second place on UT's all-time list behind only Darrell Royal, who tallied 167 victories from 1957-76. Brown moved ahead of Fred Akers, who posted 86 wins from 1977-86, during the 2006 season.

THE LAST TIME - NO. 2/2 TEXAS 70, COLORADO, 3

Houston, Texas, Dec. 3, 2005: No. 2 Texas scored on 10 of its first 11 possessions en route to a 70-3 win over Colorado to claim the Longhorns' second Big 12 Championship and post the school's first-ever 12-victory season. It also secured the Horns a spot in the BCS National Championship game against USC, marking the first time since 1983 that the Horns entered their bowl game ranked No. 1 or No. 2 and with a potential national title on the line. UT set Big 12 championship records for points (70), TDs (10), extra points (10), completion percentage (84.2%/16-of-19) and tied the mark for first downs (26) in the win. The 67-point win was the third-largest margin of victory Colorado had ever allowed and the eighth-biggest victory (point-wise) on UT record. Texas registered 486 yards of offense to Colorado's 191. The 486 yards gave UT 6,101 total yards for the season, eclipsing the school record that was set in 2003 (5,709). The Longhorns' offensive attack tallied 268 yards on the ground and 218 through the air. Vince Young, who completed 14-of-17 passes (82.4%) for 193 yards and rushed for 57 yards on eight carries, accounted for four TDs. Limas Sweed caught five passes for a career-high 102 yards, including a 31-yard TD. Quan Cosby added a career-best four grabs for 52 yards and David Thomas had three catches for 31 yards and a score. Facing the nation's second ranked rushing defense, Texas ran for 268 yards and six TDs and saw three different runners score TDs. Jamaal Charles led the way with 62 yards and two scores. Defensively, Cedric Griffin led the way with seven stops and a forced fumble. Robert Killebrew also had seven tackles on the game. Michael Huff chipped in six stops, a PBU and a forced fumble. Michael Griffin registered five tackles, recovered a fumble, blocked a punt and broke up a pass.

BROWN REACHES CENTURY

MARK: With a victory against Nebraska in 2007, Mack Brown joined Darrell Royal as just the second coach in UT history to reach the 100-victory plateau (107-25/.811). He also is one of only 10 active coaches at NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools who have won 100 games at their current school. Of the 80 coaches that have ever won 100 games at a FBS school, Brown is the 14th fastest to reach the century mark (124 games) and the third-fastest among active coaches. For his career, Brown has won 193 games, which ranks 23rd on the NCAA all-time list.

BOWL ROLL: With a 52-34 victory over No. 12 Arizona State in the 2007 Holiday Bowl, Texas has played in a bowl game for a UT-record 10 straight seasons, bettering the previous mark of nine straight bowl games from 1977-85. The Horns have won six of their last seven bowl games and have a 7-3 record in bowl contests under Mack Brown. In the 10 years prior to Brown's arrival, Texas went to four bowls and was 1-3. Brown is the first UT coach since Darrell Royal, who was 8-7-1 in bowl games, to post a .500 or better record in bowls. Under Brown, Texas has won bowl games in four consecutive years for the first time in school history (2004-07). They are one of only three schools nationally to accomplish that feat. The Horns did win five straight bowl contests previously (1963-64, '66, '68-69), but the streak was interrupted by seasons that did not result in a bowl game. Brown's personal string, including time at North Carolina, goes back even further. He has directed his teams to 16 straight bowl games, which is the second-longest active streak in the nation.

REWRITE THE RECORD BOOK:

During Mack Brown's 11-year tenure at Texas, the Horns have set 214 school records. The offense has led the way by setting 135 team, individual, game, season and career records. UT also has set 14 defensive records, 32 special teams records and 28 freshman records under Brown. In addition, the Horns have set every major school attendance record during the Mack Brown era.

BROWN'S TOP 10 HORNS: Mack Brown revived the Horns as a Top 10 regular beginning with a No. 5 preseason ranking in 2001. Since then, the Horns have earned a Top 10 standing in 94 of the last 117 AP polls. All totaled, UT has spent 101 weeks ranked among the Top 10 since Brown arrived in 1998. In the same 11-year stretch prior to his arrival, UT spent just 16 weeks rated among the Top 10. Brown has led the Horns to a final Top 10 ranking in five of the last seven seasons. In 2005, he led UT to its first No. 1 ranking since 1984 and its first No. 1 ranking to end the season since 1969. Before Brown took over the program, the last time UT earned a Top 10 finish was 1983. From the start of the 1984 season to Brown's arrival in 1998, UT was in the Top 10 just 28 times in 14 seasons.

UT AND THE AP TOP 10: After its loss at Kansas State in 2006, Texas had its string of 46-straight weeks in The AP Top 10 snapped. Prior to that, the last time the Horns were not among The AP Top 10 was in the final poll of the 2003 season. The 46-straight weeks was the second-longest streak in the nation and bettered the Horns' run of 40 straight weeks from 1968-71. It also was the longest for the Horns in the Mack Brown era. The longest Texas streak in The AP Top 10 is 60 weeks from 1961-65.

EIGHT STRAIGHT TOP 15 FINISHES:

Texas' No. 10 ranking in 2007 marked the eighth straight year the Horns finished ranked among the nation's Top 15. That is the first time UT has ever accomplished that feat. The 2007 standing followed a No. 13 ranking in 2006, a No. 1 ranking in 2005, a No. 5 ranking in 2004, a No. 12 ranking in 2003, a No. 6 ranking in 2002, a No. 5 ranking in 2001 and a No. 12 ranking in 2000.

WIRE-TO-WIRE: Texas is the nation's only school that has both started and finished the season ranked among the nation's Top 15 in each of the last eight seasons.

AP TOP 25 STREAK AT UT RECORD

130 STRAIGHT WEEKS: Texas has been ranked among The Associated Press Top 25 for a UT-record and national-leading 130 straight weeks, bettering a 114-week streak from 1968-76. The next longest active streak is USC's 104 weeks. Texas has finished the year ranked among The AP Top 25 in each of Mack Brown's 10 years in Austin. That marks the first time in school history Texas has finished in The AP Top 25 for 10 straight years, bettering the previous record of eight straight seasons from 1968-75.

UT-RECORD 158 STRAIGHT WEEKS IN COACHES POLL:

UT has been ranked among the USA Today Coaches Poll for 158 straight weeks dating back to late in the 1998 season. The 158 straight weeks is the longest UT streak in any poll and the nation's longest active streak in the coaches poll. The next longest active streak is USC's 103 weeks. The Horns' previous longest streak in the coaches poll was 54 weeks from 1977-80. Texas has been ranked in the first and last coaches poll in all 10 of Mack Brown's previous seasons in Austin.

CONFERENCE COMPETITION:

Mack Brown, who guided the Horns to the 2005 Big 12 Championship and has won or shared the Big 12 South Division Championship four times, is 65-15 (.813) in 10 seasons of Big 12 play. That is the best league record over that span, ahead of Oklahoma (63-17), Nebraska (48-32) and Kansas State (47-33). UT has won 33 of its last 39 games against Big 12 foes. The Horns had tied the school record by winning 21 straight conference games from 2004-06 before the streak was snapped at Kansas State in 2006. The record of 21 straight conference victories was set from 1968-71 when Texas was competing in the Southwest Conference. The 21-straight Big 12 victories also marked the longest streak in league history. It is a significant improvement from the 8-8 (.500) mark Texas produced in Big 12 competition the two years prior to Brown's arrival, UT's first in the conference. At 73-23 (.760), Texas has the top intraconference record since the Big 12 formed in 1996.

ROAD WARRIORS: Texas is 29-6 (.829) away from home (road and neutral sites) over the last six years, which is the second-best record in the nation. The Horns have lost only eight true road games (not including neutral-site games) in Mack Brown's 11-year tenure, with two of them coming in his first three games at UT. The Longhorns have won 34 of their last 37 true road games (.919). The only losses during that stretch were a trio of shootouts, 42-38 at Texas Tech in 2002, 45-42 at Kansas State in 2006 and 38-30 at Texas A&M in 2007. UT's loss at KSU snapped a school-record streak of 17 consecutive road wins. The 17-straight road wins eclipsed the previous record of 13 set from 1981-84. UT also won 12

In addition, UT has won a school-record nine consecutive non-conference road games, which betters the previous streak of seven from 1956-63.

BIG 12 ROAD SUCCESS: Texas has won 25 of its last 28 (.893) true Big 12 Conference road games (not including neutral-site games), including a league-record 13 consecutive conference road wins from 2002-06. The Horns are 29-5 (.853) in league road contests under Mack Brown. UT was 2-5 in Big 12 road games prior to Brown's arrival in 1998. Highlighting the Horns' road record under Brown are victories at Nebraska (1998) to end the Huskers' national-best 47-game home winning streak, another win that snapped a Nebraska 26-game home winning streak (2002) and a victory to break Oklahoma State's 10-game winning streak (2003). Prior to Brown's arrival, UT posted just two winning road records in the 10 seasons leading up to 1998 (the first year under Brown). All totalled during that time, UT was just 23-25 in road games.

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE: During Mack Brown's 11-year tenure, Texas has won 55 of its 61 home games (.902), including two of the five longest home winning streaks in UT history. That is a dramatic improvement from the Horns' 38-20-1 record in the 11 seasons prior to Brown's arrival. The Horns won 20 in a row at home from 1999-2003 (third-longest in school history). Then, from 2003-06, Texas won 16 straight home games, which tied for the fourth-best string on UT record. Under Brown, the Horns have outscored their opponents by an average of 43-16 and outgained them by an average of 463.5 yards to 286.2 at home.

UT'S BIG 12 SUCCESS AT HOME: Texas is 32-3 (.914) at home versus league opponents during the Mack Brown era. The 32 home victories are the most by any team in the conference over the last 10 years. In addition, the Horns set the league record with a 26-game home winning streak over Big 12 opponents, which was snapped in 2006. Prior to 2006, the last time UT had lost a home game against a league foe was 1999 (35-17 to No. 13 Kansas State).

LONGHORNS IN THE NFL: The Texas Football program is not only one of the best at the collegiate level, but since Mack Brown's arrival, it has become one of the premier sources of talent for the NFL as well. Currently, Texas has 37 players on NFL rosters. The 37 players are the most among Big 12 schools and rank ninth nationally. And, they aren't just roster players either. Of the 37 Longhorns, 28 have started games during their NFL careers, including 23 who were 2007 starters and 24 that started as rookies. Among that group of 37, seven have earned a spot in a Pro Bowl, five have played in a Super Bowl with two coming away as Super Bowl Champions. In addition, Texas has the most Top 10 and Top Five picks in the NFL Draft since 1999. The Horns' eight Top 10 picks lead USC (seven) and their six Top Five picks lead Miami and Penn St. (three).

HORNS ROUT ARKANSAS: No. 7 Texas registered 200 yards both rushing and passing for the third time in four games and held Arkansas to just 191 yards of offense in a 52-10 win over its longtime SWC foe. It was the Longhorns largest margin of victory in the 92 years of the 77-game series with the Hogs, dating back to a 52-0 win in 1916. Texas opened the year with a 4-0 record for the sixth time in the last eight years. Offensively, Texas scored on seven (six TDs) of its first eight possessions en route to 421 total yards (208 rushing/213 passing). Five of the Horns TD drives covered at least 60 yards. Texas completed a school-record 21-of-23 passes (91.3%), eclipsing the mark of 90.9% (10-of-11) set against Rice in 2006. The Horns offense efficiently converted 7-of-12 third down attempts (58.3%) and scored on all six of its red zone chances. UT, which tallied 241 yards (141 rushing/100 passing) en route to a 31-3 first half lead, tallied 14 plays of 10 or more yards in mounting a 45-3 lead before cruising to victory. Colt McCoy completed 17-of-19 passes for 185 yards and three TDs (no interceptions) and led the team in rushing with 84 yards and two scores. All totaled, he recorded 269 yards and was responsible for five TDs. Jordan Shipley hauled in eight catches for 83 yards and two TDs, his fourth straight game with a TD reception. Quan Cosby added five catches for 67 yards and a score. RBs Vondrell McGee (16-48) and Cody Johnson (9-43-1) combined for 91 yards and a score on 25 carries and John Chiles completed all four of his passes for 28 yards. Defensively, the Longhorns held the Hogs to 11 yards rushing (on 26 carries), Arkansas' lowest output since 1997. The Razorbacks 191 yards of total offense were the fewest for UA since 2002. Texas, which had seven sacks, 11 TFL and 11 pressures on the game, held Arkansas to just 57 yards on its final 29 plays (2.0 ypp) of the game. The Horns also held Arkansas to just 2-of-13 (15.4%) on third down. Arkansas' only penetration into the red zone resulted in a field goal, thanks to an Orakpo sack and QB pressure on back to back plays. Orakpo led the defense with two sacks, his third straight multi-sack game, three TFL and a forced fumble. Sergio Kindle chipped in five stops, including a sack, and Chykie Brown added four tackles with a sack. Henry Melton forced a fumble (recovered by Ben Alexander) that resulted in a Longhorn TD drive and Aaron Williams returned an interception 81 yards for a score. Texas' special teams were solid as well. John Gold averaged 47.0 yards per punt with a long of 54 yards and Trevor Gerland added a 51-yarder. The Horns did not allow the Razorbacks to return a punt, registering a 48.0 yard net punting average. Hunter Lawrence hit the Horns only field goal attempt (34 yards) and was good on his six extra-point attempts. Ryan Baily also made one PAT. Of Justin Tucker's nine kickoffs, three resulted in touchbacks. Curtis Brown led the way with three special teams tackles.

DKR'S RENOVATIONS: As Texas football proceeds through the 21st century, Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium continues to evolve as a state-of-the-art facility at the forefront of college football. The north end zone expansion project, which features an upper deck, club seating, an academic center and a war memorial plaza, was completed for the 2008 season. The expansion has increased the stadium's capacity to 94,113 and added approximately 2,108 club seats and 47 suites. The lower deck of the north end zone was completed for the 2007 season. Two other major upgrades were made prior to last season, including a new video board and temporary bleacher seating in the south end zone. The scoreboard is the nation's largest high-definition video display board thanks to DAKtronics. The $8-million Prostar Video Board is 55 feet high by 134 feet wide. In addition, the interior of the

In 132 games under Mack Brown, Texas has won 78-of-85 (91.8%) when scoring first.

Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex, most notably the players' lounge, is consistently being upgraded. It is all part of a $176.5-million renovation project at the Longhorns' stadium. Plans have already been drawn for construction of a new academic center approximately three times the size of the current one at Moncrief-Neuhaus. It will feature writing, math and computer labs, numerous tutoring areas, a multimedia classroom and academic staff office space.

“FAN”-TASTIC: Texas has been one of the best-attended programs in the nation over the past 10 years, drawing over 83,000 fans per game. The Horns, who have played in front of a sellout crowd in their last 49 home games, have attracted the top 10 crowds in UT history since Mack Brown took over in 1998. Texas' school-record season-ticket sales of 83,000 in 2008 are more than double the 39,743 sold in 1997, the UT record when Brown arrived, and increased by 9,000 tickets from the all-time high set in 2006. With the completion of the north end zone expansion project, all of UT's attendance records will be broken in 2008. Texas started the season by setting a new single-game attendance record against FAU with 98,053 fans, which is the largest crowd to ever see a football game in the state of Texas. UT's previous single-game attendance record of 89,422 fans was established when it hosted No. 1 Ohio State at Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium in 2006. The Horns went on to average 88,505 fans per game (No. 10 NCAA), which bettered the previous mark of 83,339 fans set in 2003. The total attendance figure was also shattered in 2006 with 619,534 total fans witnessing a home game, bettering the previous mark of 500,034 (2003). Overall, the top 15 home crowds at Texas have come since '06. On top of that,

Texas has attracted record crowds in four of its road games over the past three seasons, at UTEP (53,415, 2008), at Texas A&M (88,253, 2007), at Nebraska (85,187, 2006) and at Texas Tech (56,158, 2006).

COMEBACKS UNDER MACK BROWN:

During Mack Brown's 11 seasons at Texas, the Horns have registered 20 second-half comebacks, including 10 fourth-quarter comebacks. UT has recorded the six largest comebacks in school history during the Mack Brown era. In 2007, Texas erased two fourth-quarter deficits and a second-half deficit, including the largest fourth-quarter comeback in school history against Oklahoma State. The Horns trailed 35-14 entering the final stanza before scoring 24 unanswered points to win, 38-35. The week before, Texas trailed Nebraska, 17-9, entering the fourth quarter before running off 19 straight points to win, 28-25. After falling behind 17-3 early in the third quarter, Texas produced 336 total yards and 25 points in the second half to help seal the victory. The 2006 season mirrored '07 with two fourth-quarter comebacks and a halftime comeback, highlighted by the game at Texas Tech. After trailing the Red Raiders, 21-0, in the first quarter, the Horns closed the gap to 31-21 at halftime and 31-28 entering the fourth quarter, before going on to win 35-31. The 2005 National Championship season included a second-half comeback and two of UT's most memorable fourth-quarter comebacks, at No. 4 Ohio State and in the BCS Championship game against No. 1 USC. The Horns trailed the Buckeyes, 22-16, entering the final quarter, but Vince Young connected with Limas Sweed for a 24-yard TD with 2:37 remaining to give Texas a 23-22 lead. A late safety gave the Horns a 25-22 victory. Against USC, the Horns trailed 38-26 with just 6:42 remaining in the game before Young led two TD drives, including his game-winning eight-yard TD run with just 19 seconds left, to secure the win and the National Championship. Previously, the Horns notched four second-half comebacks and a fourth-quarter comeback in 2004, including a 28-point comeback against Oklahoma State, the largest in school history. UT also registered a halftime comeback in '02, a fourth-quarter comeback in '01, two halftime comebacks in 1999 and two fourth-quarter comebacks in '98.

BALANCED ATTACK: After four games, Texas is averaging 276.8 passing yards per game (18th NCAA) and 205.3 rushing yards (22nd NCAA). UT is one of only 15 teams nationally and one of three teams in the Big 12 that is averaging over 200 yards both rushing and passing on the season.

SCORING BALANCE: With both its scoring offense (49.5 ppg) and scoring defense (10.8 ppg) ranked sixth nationally, Texas is the only team in the country ranked in the Top 10 of both categories.

IN THE ZONE: Texas is one of only two teams nationally that ranks in the Top 10 in both red zone offense and defense. UT is tied for 10th nationally in both categories. The Horns have converted on 21 of their 22 trips to the red zone (19 TDs/two FGs), while the defense has held opponents to just seven scores on 12 red-zone possessions (three TDs/four FGs).

THIRD-DOWN MAGIC: Texas is one of just five teams nationally that ranks in the Top 15 in both third-down offense and defense. The Horns are tied for 12th nationally, having converted 22-of-44 third downs on offense (50.0%), while the defense ranks 14th after allowing just 17 conversions on 60 attempts (28.3%).

LONG DRIVES: Of its 28 scoring drives in 2008, Texas has posted 18 drives of at least 60 yards (17 TDs/one FG), 12 of at least 70 yards (11 TDs/one FG) and seven of at least 80 yards (seven TDs). The Horns only had 13 scoring drives of at least 80 yards all of last season. In addition, UT posted a 12-play, 99-yard scoring drive against Rice. That marked the fifth time in the Mack Brown era that UT traveled 99 yards for a TD. Against FAU, Texas scored TDs on four drives of at least 60 yards, including two 80-yard scoring drives. The Horns tallied three TD drives of at least 80 yards at UTEP and posted six scoring drives of at least 60 yards, including four of at least 74 yards and a 99-yard TD drive, against Rice. UT added five TD drives of at least 60 yards against Arkansas.

OFFENSIVE EXPLOSION: In 11 seasons under Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis, UT's offense has produced eight of the top nine passing seasons, nine of the top 11 total yardage campaigns and the top seven scoring years in school history. The Horns have also averaged at least 200 yards both rushing and passing in four of the 10 seasons. During that timespan, the Longhorns have registered 135 school records, thirty-six 50-point games and four of the top six total offense games on school record. Since Brown took over in 1998, UT has produced thirty-six 500-yard total offense performances (there are only 59 of them in the 116 years of Texas football) and has recorded nine of the school's nineteen 600-yard total offense games. The Horns' balanced attack has produced at least 400 yards of offense in 63 of its last 94 games and has registered 200 yards both passing and rushing 43 times under Brown and Davis. Texas has scored at least 25 points in 44 of its last 50 games.

2008: Through the non-conference season, Texas is averaging 49.5 points per game (sixth NCAA), 482.0 total yards (10th NCAA), 276.8 passing yards (18th NCAA) and 205.3 rushing yards (22nd NCAA). The Horns are one of only 15 teams nationally and one of three teams in the Big 12 that are currently averaging both 200 yards passing and rushing. UT has scored 198 points over its first four games, which is the most since 2003 (205 points) and the second-most since 1915 (236 points). In addition, Texas is tied for 10th nationally in red zone offense, having converted on 21 of its 22 red-zone possessions (95.5%, 19 TDs/two FGs), while ranking 12th nationally on third down, having converted 22-of-44 (50.0%). UT opened the season against FAU by eclipsing the 200-yard mark both rushing and passing. The Horns used 271 passing yards and 232 rushing yards to produce 503 yards of total offense. Texas scored on five of its first seven possessions, all on drives of at least 50 yards, including three drives of at least 70 yards. Texas went on to post 404 yards of total offense (282p/122r) at UTEP. After a three-and-out on its first possession, UT scored TDs on its next four possessions and tallied three scoring drives of 80 yards or more during the game. The Horns posted 600 yards of total offense (341p/259r) against Rice. It marked the first time since 2005 (vs. Kansas, 617 yards) that Texas reached the 600-yard plateau. The Horns averaged 5.9 yards per carry on 44 attempts and 17.0 yards on its 20 completions. UT scored on eight of its 10 possessions, including seven TDs, and posted four scoring drives of at least 70 yards, including a 99-yard TD drive. The Horns also went the entire game without punting for the first time since the Texas Tech game in 2003. UT used a balanced 208 yards rushing and 213 yards passing to tally 421 yards of total offense against Arkansas. The Horns scored on their first four possessions (three TDs/one FG) and on seven of their first eight drives (six TDs/one FG). Their punt in the second quarter broke a string of 14 straight possessions without a punt. In addition, UT set a single-game school record by completing 21-of-23 passing attempts (91.3%).

2007: The Texas offense finished the 2007 campaign as one of only 10 teams nationally to average 200 yards passing and 200 yards rushing. The Horns posted 255.4 yards passing (39th NCAA), 207.5 yards rushing (17th NCAA), 462.9 total yards (13th NCAA) and 37.2 points per game (14th NCAA). UT produced at least 400 yards of total offense in nine games and at least 500 yards in five, while scoring at least 30 points in nine of the 13 games. UT eclipsed the 200-yard rushing plateau on seven occasions and reached at least 300 yards rushing in three of its last five games.

2006: Texas finished the 2006 season ranked sixth nationally in scoring offense (35.9 ppg), ninth in passing efficiency (155.9 rating) and 22nd in total offense (391.5 ypg). The Horns registered at least 400 yards in seven of the 13 games and scored at least 35 points in eight contests.

2005: UT led the nation in scoring offense (50.2 ppg), ranked second in rushing offense (274.9 ypg) and finished third in total offense (512.1 ypg). The Horns produced at least 600 yards of offense three times in 2005, which was a first in UT history. Texas also came close to having three more 600-yard games with 591 against La.-Lafayette, 585 at Missouri and 556 in the Rose Bowl versus No. 1 USC. UT's 600-yard games came in three consecutive contests against Oklahoma State (606), Baylor (645) and Kansas (617). Texas rushed for at least 300 yards six times in 2005, matching 2004's total for the most by a Texas team since 1977. UT averaged a balanced 274.9 rushing yards and 237.2 passing yards in 2005, marking just the fifth time in school history the Horns averaged better than 200 yards both rushing and passing.

Prior to 2005: UT ranked second in the nation in rushing (299.2 ypg), seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) and 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg) in 2004. The Horns posted at least 600 yards of offense twice. They recorded 673 yards of offense (third-most in UT history) versus North Texas and 600 total yards against No. 19 Oklahoma State. In 2003, Texas averaged 232.5 rushing yards (eighth NCAA) and 206.6 passing yards, which was the fourth time in school history UT averaged better than 200 yards for each. Texas also averaged 439.2 yards of offense (20th NCAA) while averaging 41.0 points per game (sixth NCAA) in 2003. That came one year after UT averaged 250.1 passing yards and 33.8 points per game (16th NCAA) in 2002. In 2001, the Horns' led the Big 12 in scoring (39.2 ppg/sixth NCAA) and pass efficiency (136.1 rating/27th NCAA). Brown's first UT squad produced a school-best 692 yards against Rice in 1998 and averaged a balanced 266.5 yards passing per game and 204.2 yards rushing per game.

RECORD-BREAKING YEAR: In 2005, Texas not only set records, it shattered them, in several team offensive categories. The Longhorns set an NCAA record for points scored in a season with 652. The previous high was 624 by Nebraska in 1983, and the previous UT record was 533 in 2003. The team also set school marks with 50.2 points per game (41.4, 1969), 6,657 total yards (5,709, 2003), 512.1 yards per game (472.1, 1969) and 5.91 yards per carry (5.84, 2004). UT became one of only four teams in NCAA history to average 50 or more points and 500 or more yards per game for a season, and the first to do it since 1995. Texas scored at least 40 points in each of its last 11 games and 12-of-13 contests on the season. In 2005, only one other team in the nation (USC) scored 40 points in more than nine games. Texas scored at least 50 points in a game seven times in 2005. UT was the only school in the nation besides USC to accomplish that (versus NCAA Div. I-A). That is the most 50-point games the Horns have ever had in a season, surpassing the previous best of four set in 2003. As for 60-point games, Texas registered at least 60 points four times, which was also a UT first.

PRODUCTIVE PERFORMERS: Since Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis took over UT's offense in 1998, Texas has produced its only 2,000-yard rusher (2,124, Ricky Williams, 1998), 1,000-yard receivers (1,087, Wane McGarity, 1999/1,188, Kwame Cavil, 1999/1,142, Roy Williams, 2002/1,079, Roy Williams, 2003), 3,000-yard passers (3,357, Major Applewhite, 1999/3,303 Colt McCoy, 2007/3,207, Chris Simms, 2002/3,036 Vince Young, 2005) and 1,000 yard rusher/passers (Vince Young, 2004 and '05) in a season in school history. UT has seen players record school single-season bests for rushing touchdowns (28, Ricky Williams, 1998), TD passes (29, Colt McCoy, 2006), TD receptions (12, Roy Williams, 2002/Limas Sweed, 2006), total TDs (38, Vince Young, 2005), receptions (100, Kwame Cavil, 1999), scoring (168, Ricky Williams, 1998) and total offense (4,086, Vince Young, 2005). Cedric Benson became the fifth player in NCAA history to rush for over 1,000 yards in four straight seasons and finished his career ranked sixth on the NCAA all-time rushing list (5,540 yards). Vince Young became the first player in UT history to rush (1,079 yards) and pass (1,849 yards) for more than 1,000 yards in the same season in 2004 and then repeated the feat in 2005 with 1,050 yards rushing and 3,036 yards passing. He became the first player in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 yards or more and pass for at least 2,500 yards in the same season. He came within two rushing yards of becoming just the third freshman QB in NCAA history to post 1,000 yards rushing and passing in a season in 2003. The Longhorns' freshman records for rushing yards (1,053, Cedric Benson, 2001), rushing TDs (12, Cedric Benson, 2001), total TDs (13, Cedric Benson, 2001), 100-yard rushing games (5, Cedric Benson, 2001), passing yards (2,570, Colt McCoy, 2006), total offense (2,740, Colt McCoy, 2006), receptions (41, B.J. Johnson, 2000), receiving yards (809, Roy Williams, 2000), TD catches (8, Roy Williams, 2000) and TD passes (29, Colt McCoy, 2006) have also been set in the Brown era. In addition, McCoy's 29 TD passes in 2006 tied the NCAA record for freshmen.

MUSCHAMP'S STINGY SCORING

D: Defensive coordinator Will Muschamp has led a Longhorn defense that has allowed a total of 43 points this year and no more than 13 points in each of his four games at Texas. The 43 points allowed are the fewest since the 2001 defense gave up just 32 points. It's the first time since 1979 that a Texas defense has given up 13 points or less in each of the first four games. That's a trend that goes back a few years for one of the nation's premier defensive coordinators. Over the last three seasons at Auburn and Texas, UT defensive coordinator Will Muschamp has led defenses that have allowed 20 points or less in 26 of the last 30 games, including 14 or less 18 times. On average, his units are giving up just 14.8 points per game during that stretch. In 2008, UT's defense has only allowed three TDs (the fourth came on a fumble return for a TD)

and just 10.8 points per game (sixth NCAA). Last season, while at Auburn, Muschamp led a group that finished sixth nationally after allowing just 16.9 points per game. The Tigers held opponents to 20 points or less in 10 of their 13 games, including six games with 13 points or less. In 2006, Muschamp's D ranked seventh nationally after allowing just 13.9 points per game, including seven games with 14 points or less and two shutouts.

HOGTIED: In its last non-conference game of the season, Texas held an Arkansas offense that was averaging 403.0 total yards per game to just 191 yards, the Hogs' lowest offensive output since 2002. Arkansas was averaging 286.0 passing yards per game coming into the contest, but could only manage 180 on the day. The Horns also held the Razorbacks to just 11 yards rushing (on 26 attempts, 0.4 ypc), which was their lowest total since 1997 and over 100 yards below their season average of 117.0 yards per game. UT got off to a good start by only allowing nine total yards in the first quarter, while building a 10-0 lead. The Horns continued their strong play coming out of halftime, allowing just 21 total yards in the third quarter. Overall, the UT defense allowed only 57 yards on Arkansas' final eight drives (29 plays/2.0 ypp). UT held Arkansas to just 2-of-13 (15.4%) on third down, 3-of-16 (18.8%) combined on third and fourth-down attempts and forced five three-and-outs or better on Arkansas' 12 possessions.

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE: After inheriting a program that ranked among the NCAA's bottom half in total defense for the five seasons prior to his arrival, Mack Brown and the Longhorns' staff have reversed that trend. Texas has ranked among the nation's top 25 in total defense in eight of the last 10 seasons.

2008: The Texas defense is allowing just 10.8 points per game (sixth NCAA/first Big 12). The unit has only given up three TDs on the season (the fourth came on a fumble return for a TD), and has not allowed a rushing TD this year. The Horns are allowing 303.3 total yards per game (26th NCAA/second Big 12) and just 52.5 rushing yards per game (second NCAA/first Big 12). UT's opponents have only converted on 17 of their 60 third-down attempts (28.3%) and the Horns have only allowed seven scores on 12 red-zone possessions (58.3%), including just three TDs (25.0%). UT held FAU to 292 total yards (255p/37r) in a 52-10 victory. After giving up 146 yards in the first quarter, Texas held the Owls to the same amount, 146 yards, over the final three quarters and just 53 yards in the second half. Pressure was a big part of the Horns' defensive effort as they tallied nine hits on FAU quarterbacks, 13 pressures and nine TFL. The pressure continued at UTEP. The Horns registered 10 hits on the QBs, 19 pressures, six TFL and two sacks in a 42-13 win. UTEP managed just 59 yards on its first four drives of the second half as the Horns built their lead to 29 points entering the fourth quarter.

Against a Rice team that was averaging 434.3 yards per game and 39.7 points per game on the season, Texas held the Owls to 318 yards and 10 points while recording seven sacks, 11 TFL, 13 pressures and 16 hits on the QBs. In addition, the Horns gave up just 77 second-half yards after building a 24-3 lead at the break. UT held an Owls' offense that was averaging 142.7 rushing yards per game to just 17 yards and a 0.7 yard average on 24 carries. The Horns went on to hold an Arkansas offense that was averaging 403.0 total yards per game to just 191 yards, the Hogs' lowest offensive output since 2002. Arkansas was averaging 286.0 passing yards per game coming into the contest, but could only manage 180 on the day. The Horns also held the Razorbacks to just 11 yards rushing (on 26 attempts, 0.4 ypc), which was their lowest total since 1997 and over 100 yards below their season average of 117.0 yards per game. UT held Arkansas to just 2-of-13 (15.4%) on third down, 3-of-16 (18.8%) combined on third and fourth-down attempts and forced five three-and-outs or better on Arkansas' 12 possessions. UT posted seven sacks, 11 TFL, nine pressures and 18 QB hits on the day.

2007: Texas allowed 25.3 points, 371.2 total yards and 93.4 rushing yards per game (sixth NCAA) in 2007, while holding opponents to a 127.5 passer rating. UT held seven teams under 100 yards rushing, including three games of 10 yards or less. Texas held Rice to -11 yards rushing, which marked the fourth-best performance by the Longhorn D since 1990. The Horns also held five opponents to 14 points or fewer.

2006: Texas finished 2006 ranked third nationally against the run (61.2 ypg), 22nd in total defense (297.4 ypg) and 26th in scoring defense (18.3 ppg). The Horns only allowed two teams to rush for 100 yards and held seven opponents to 14 points or fewer. The 2006 UT defense produced the school's second-best effort since 1990 by holding North Texas to just 95 total yards. UT also held Rice to -12 yards rushing, which marked the fourth time since 1990 that UT held a team to negative yards rushing. In fact, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: The Longhorns ranked 10th nationally in total defense (302.9 ypg), eighth in scoring defense (16.4 ppg), eighth in passing defense (172.0 ypg) and 33rd in rushing defense (130.9 ypg). Texas only allowed opponents to reach 300 yards of total offense five times and held the remaining eight opponents to 267 yards or fewer. Statistically, UT's best defensive performance came against Oklahoma in the Red River Rivalry. The Sooners only managed 171 total yards and one TD. The Longhorns weren't far off that pace by allowing only 191 yards and one field goal to Colorado in the Big 12 Championship game.

Prior to 2005: Texas held its opponents to 320.1 yards (23rd NCAA), 17.9 points (18th NCAA) and 107.4 yards per game (16th NCAA). Texas ranked 25th nationally in total defense (329.8 ypg) and allowed just 21.1 points per game in 2003, while holding its opponents to 307.7 yards (16th NCAA) and 16.3 points per game (eighth NCAA) in 2002. UT was one of only two teams to post three shutouts against NCAA Division I-A opponents in 2002. The Longhorns defense went from ranking 85th nationally in total defense in 1997, the year prior to Brown's arrival, to back-to-back top 10 finishes in total defense in 1999-2000 and captured an NCAA statistical title in total defense in 2001. UT's 236.2 yards per game allowed that season were the fewest it had allowed since 1983 (212.0 ypg). It marked the first time since '83 and only the third time in school history that UT led the nation in total defense. Texas also led the Big 12 in rushing (89.5 ypg/sixth NCAA), passing (146.7 ypg/third NCAA) and scoring defense (13.7 ppg/third NCAA) while establishing itself as one of only two defenses ranked among the nation's top 10 in every major defensive category in 2001.

GROUND PATROL: Mack Brown and his staff inherited a ground defense that had ranked no better than 64th nationally in the five seasons prior to their arrival. In 11 seasons at Texas, they have turned that around dramatically. The Horns have limited 47 of their last 91 opponents to fewer than 100 yards rushing and allowed just twenty-five 100-yard rushers in the last 118 games. In addition, Texas has held its opponent under 50 yards rushing 30 times during the Mack Brown era. During the last eight seasons (94 games), UT has held opponents to just 107.8 rushing yards per game (10,132 yards on 3,139 carries) and 3.2 yards per carry.

2008: After four games, Texas is allowing just 52.5 yards rushing per game (second NCAA/first Big 12) and has not allowed a rushing TD. It marks the first time since 1991 that UT has not allowed a rushing TD over the first four games. Overall, Texas has given up just 210 rushing yards on 104 carries (2.0 ypc). In fact, the Horns' defense has produced more lost yardage via tackles for loss and sacks (211) than opponents have netted (210). Over the last two games, Texas has allowed just 28 yards on 50 carries for a 0.6 ypc average. UT opened the season against FAU by allowing just 37 yards on 23 carries for a 1.6 ypc average. The Horns held FAU's leading returning rusher, Charles Pierre, to just three yards on six carries. Against Rice, the Texas defense gave up just 17 yards on 24 carries for a 0.7 yards per carry average. The Horns allowed just 11 yards on 26 attempts (0.4 ypc) against Arkansas.

2007: Texas allowed just 93.4 yards per game to rank sixth nationally. The Horns held seven of their 13 opponents under 100 yards rushing and gave up just 2.9 yards per carry. Highlighting the season were games against No. 19 TCU (43 yards), Rice (-11 yards), Baylor (eight yards), Texas Tech (10 yards) and Arizona State (22 yards). All five games rank in UT's top 35 performances since 1990. In fact, the minus-11 yards by Rice were the fourth-fewest since 1990 and the fifth time UT has held an opponent to negative rushing yards in that span. All five occasions have come during the Mack Brown era.

2006: The Horns rush defense gave up just 61.2 yards per game in 2006 (third NCAA), turning in the best performance on school record since 1942 (57.5 ypg). They gave up only 795 yards rushing on 345 carries (2.3 ypc). UT allowed just two teams to rush for 100 yards and held six teams to 27 yards or less, including two games in which the opponent rushed for negative yards (Texas Tech, -13; Rice, -12). In addition, seven of UT's top 22 performances against the rush since 1990 came during the 2006 campaign.

2005: Texas allowed 130.9 ypg on the ground, 3.7 ypc and gave up only 15 rushing TDs, while holding nine of their 13 opponents to under 120 yards.

Prior to 2005: The Horns ranked 16th nationally in rushing defense (107.4 ypg) in 2004, allowing just 60.0 yards per game over the final six contests. UT held six foes to 70 (or fewer) yards rushing that season. After inheriting a unit that ranked 104th nationally and allowed 241.5 yards per game in 1997, Brown and company guided the Horns to the nation's 17th-best run defense (105.7 ypg) in 1999 and the 12th-best ground defense (94.0 ypg) in 2000. UT's 94.0 yards allowed rushing per game in 2000 was, at the time, the fewest allowed by a Longhorns' squad since 1977 (91.1 ypg). UT followed that effort up in 2001 by allowing a Big 12-low 89.5 rushing ypg (sixth NCAA) and just 2.8 yards per carry.

AIR DEFENSE: Texas' pass defense has been ranked in the Top 10 in five of the last eight seasons. During that time, it has allowed opponents to complete 52.5 percent (1,792-of-3,411) of their passes for only 195.5 yards per game (20,724 in 106 games), while intercepting 125 passes (1.2 pg).

2008: After giving up 151 yards in the first quarter to one of the nation's top passers, Texas held FAU to just 104 yards passing over the final three quarters and just 29 yards in the second half. The Horns held FAU's Rusty Smith to 15-of-31 (48.4%) passing and intercepted him once. UT held Arkansas to just 180 yards passing, which was over 100 yards less than its season average of 286.0 coming into the game, on 14-of-28 (50.0%), while returning an INT for a TD. After jumping out to a 31-3 halftime lead, the Horns only gave up 56 yards passing in the second half.

2007: UT allowed 277.8 yards passing per game, held opponents to a 127.5 passer rating and intercepted 17 passes on the season. Marcus Griffin led the team in tackles (99) and INTs (five), while Ryan Palmer (80 tackles, 14 PBU) and Brandon Foster (71 tackles, four INTs, 12 PBU) finished second and third on the team in tackles.

2006: The 2006 campaign saw Aaron Ross win the Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. It marked the second consecutive season that a Longhorn won the award after Michael Huff did so in 2005. Ross' six INTs helped UT total 13 for the season, and he also finished second nationally with 25 passes defended. Michael Griffin led the team in tackles for the second consecutive year and, along with Ross, earned All-America and first-team All-Big 12 honors.

2005: UT finished eighth nationally in pass defense (172.0 ypg). The Horns also finished fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.7 rating) that year. Opponents averaged only 5.13 yards per pass attempt, which led the nation, and threw for only 10 TDs compared to UT's 11 INTs. In 13 games, Texas allowed only two teams, Texas Tech and USC, to throw for over 200 yards. Both of those teams finished in the top five nationally in passing offense.

Prior to 2005: The Horns intercepted 13 passes and ranked 31st nationally in pass efficiency defense (114.3 rating) in 2004. Texas allowed opponents to complete just 167-of-354 passes (47.2%/third NCAA) for 2,305 yards (177.3 ypg/ninth NCAA) and ranked 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense (106.5 rating) in 2003. UT's recent pass defense efforts continue a turnaround that started when Mack Brown took over the Longhorns' program in 1998. That year, UT was coming off a season that saw it rank 75th nationally in pass efficiency defense (132.7 rating). In just their third season (2000), UT led the nation in pass efficiency defense (88.3 rating). The Horns limited opponents to the second-lowest completion percentage in the nation (45.2%/171-of-378), 184.3 yards per game, 5.36 yards per pass attempt (second NCAA), while allowing just eight TD passes that season. The Horns put up comparable numbers in 2001, holding a schedule that featured several high-powered passing attacks to a Big 12-low 146.7 passing yards per game (third NCAA) and ranked fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.0). Texas held its opponents to a NCAA-low 4.77 yards per attempt and just six TDs (t-2nd NCAA) in 2001. In 2002, Texas allowed opponents to complete just 192-of-400 passes (48.0%) for 2,147 yards (165.2 ypg/eighth NCAA). UT also ranked seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.1 rating). Texas' 22 interceptions were tied for the fourth-most nationally and second-most in UT history. The Horns ranked 92nd nationally in pass efficiency defense (138.7 rating) in '98 and improved to 12th in '99 (101.6 rating) before leading the nation in 2000.

UNEXPECTED OFFENSE: Even though Texas' offense is one of the most potent in the country, it has received help from the rest of the team when it comes to scoring TDs. Since 1999, UT has scored 60 TDs via returns, turnovers and blocked kicks. The 60 scores during that stretch rank fourth nationally behind Virginia Tech (68), Kansas State (64) and Miami (62). Texas tallied its first non-offensive TD of 2008 when Roddrick Muckelroy returned a fumble 26 yards for a TD at UTEP. True freshman Aaron Williams pitched in against Arkansas with an 81-yard INT return for a TD. In 2007, UT posted five non-offensive TDs on three INT returns, a fumble return and a kickoff return, which was UT's first since 2003. The Horns scored eight non-offensive TDs in 2006 with four coming off fumble recoveries, two from punt returns, one on an INT return and one on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone. In the nine-season stretch, Texas scored the most non-offensive TDs in 2003 (nine).

FORCING TURNOVERS: Texas' defense has forced 293 turnovers during the Mack Brown era (132 games/2.2 per game), while only giving up 224 turnovers for a plus-69 turnover margin. Overall, the Horns have averaged a plus-seven turnover margin per season during Brown's tenure. In addition, UT ranks eighth nationally with 206 forced turnovers since 2001. In 2008, Texas is plus-one in the turnover margin. The Horns opened the season by forcing two turnovers (one fumble/one INT) against FAU, while not committing a turnover of their own. They added a fumble recovery, which Roddrick Muckelroy returned 26 yards for a TD, at UTEP. Against Arkansas, the Horns notched two turnovers (one fumble/one INT). The fumble recovery led to a TD and the INT was returned for a score. In 2007, Texas forced 27 turnovers (10 fumbles/17 INTs), while giving up 26 (seven fumbles/19 INTs). In 2006, UT forced 32 turnovers (19 fumbles/13 INTs), while only giving up 23 (14 fumbles/nine INTs), for a plus-nine margin (T-No. 13 NCAA). The 32 takeaways were tied for the sixth-most in the nation and the 19 fumble recoveries tied for the most nationally. In 2005, UT forced 27 turnovers (16 fumbles/11 INTs). Three of those 27 turnovers were returned or recovered for scores, and the 16 fumble recoveries ranked fourth nationally. The Horns finished the season with a plus-nine turnover margin. Texas had a plus-five turnover margin, forcing 23 turnovers (10 fumbles/13 INTs) and losing 18, in 2004. UT forced 29 turnovers (14 fumbles/15 INTs) in 2003. UT's attacking unit provided several big plays in forcing 35 turnovers (T-No. 12 NCAA) in '02. The Longhorns combined for 22 INTs (T-No. 4 NCAA) by eight different players and recovered 13 fumbles.

GUARDING THE END ZONE: Texas' defense has made it difficult for opponents to reach the end zone over the last eight seasons. Since 2000, the Horns have allowed only 216 TDs in 106 games (2.0 TDs per game), which ranks sixth nationally. Miami has allowed the fewest TDs, giving up only 187. The Horns have only allowed four TDs through the first four games of 2008 with one coming on a fumble return and none coming via the run. UT's best season came in 2001, when the Horns' top-ranked unit gave up only 19 TDs. Texas has relinquished 27 TDs or fewer in five of the last eight seasons. Conversely, Texas has scored at least 45 TDs in each of the last eight seasons, with a high of 81 scores in 2005. The Horns have scored 27 TDs in 2008 and 483 TDs over the eight-year span, averaging over four TDs per game.

SCORING DEFENSE: Texas' defense has been a scoring machine since 1999. During that time, the defense has accounted for 240 points and scored in 35 of the 120 games. UT got its first defensive score in 2008 at UTEP when Roddrick Muckelroy returned a fumble 26 yards for a TD. True freshman Aaron Williams added an 81-yard INT return for a TD against Arkansas. The Horns' defense has scored at least three TDs in eight of the last nine seasons, led by the seven TDs scored in 2000. That defense tallied 46 points, which is the most over the nine-year stretch. The 2003 unit scored six TDs, while the 2006 unit scored five TDs.

SHORT DRIVES: The Texas defense has prevented its opponents from moving the chains on 36.7 percent of their drives over the last eight seasons (94 games). During that time, UT has forced 446 three-and-outs or better in 1,214 possessions. UT opened 2008 against FAU by forcing five three-and-outs on 13 possessions, including four straight possessions in the second half. Against Arkansas, the Horns forced five three-and-outs or better on 12 possessions, including two of Arkansas' first three possessions and the first two drives of the second half. In 2007, UT forced 52 three-and-outs or better on 168 possessions (.310). Texas forced 60 three-and-outs or better on 154 possessions (.390) in 2006. Previously, the Horns held foes to three-and-outs or better on 73-of-178 possessions (.438) in 2005, 46-of-153 possessions (.307) in 2004, 56-of-181 possessions (.309) in 2003, 73-of-176 possessions (.414) in 2002 and 73-of-165 possessions (.442) in 2001.

"SPECIAL" TEAMS: The Texas special teams have been just that since Mack Brown took over the program in 1998. Since then, Texas has blocked 60 kicks (33 punts/15 FGs/12 PATs), an average of 5.5 per season. That is 35 more than the 25 recorded in the 11-year span prior to Brown's arrival. UT has blocked the most kicks in the nation since 2000 with 51 to lead Virginia Tech (45) and N.C. State (43). Since Brown arrived, the Longhorns have had players set or equal UT records for career blocked kicks, single-season blocked kicks, career blocked punts and single-season blocked punts. Texas also has improved its kick returning and defending on kickoffs and punts. The Longhorns have scored on eight punt returns, while only giving up three punt return TDs since Brown's arrival. It had been 101 games (Kansas State, 1999) since Texas had given up a punt return for a TD before Kansas State returned one in 2007. That is a major difference from the 11 years prior to Brown's arrival. During that time, Texas scored on four punt returns, while its opponents scored on six returns. Texas has given up three kickoff returns for TDs during the Mack Brown era which is the same amount UT allowed in the 11 years prior to Brown's arrival. When Brown arrived in 1998, Texas hadn't returned a kickoff for a score since 1978. The Horns snapped that string when Victor Ike returned a kickoff 93 yards for a TD in the 2000 Holiday Bowl. Selvin Young added a 97-yard kickoff return TD against New Mexico State in 2003 and Quan Cosby posted a 91-yard kickoff return TD at Texas A&M in 2007. In addition, three of Texas' most accurate field goal kickers (Kris Stockton, 1996, '98-2000, Dusty Mangum, 2001-04 and Ryan Bailey, 2006-present) also have come during Brown's time at Texas. Mangum (121), Bailey (60) and Stockton (57) also are at the top of UT's consecutive made extra points list.

2008 SENIORITY: A group of 14 seniors who have played in a combined 486 games (158 starts) are leading the 2008 Longhorns. WR Quan Cosby (43 games/26 starts), OG Cedric Dockery (32 games/21 starts), RB Chris Ogbonnaya (38 games/one start) and WR Jordan Shipley (31 games/12 starts) have starting experience on the offensive side of the ball, while LB Rashad Bobino (43 games/40 starts), DL Aaron Lewis (36 games/12 starts), DE Henry Melton (40 games, 13 at defensive end/three starts), DT Roy Miller (40 games/10 starts), DE Brian Orakpo (39 games/14 starts) and CB Ryan Palmer (40 games/17 starts) lead the way for the defense. In addition, PK Ryan Bailey (22 games), DE Nic Redwine (10 games), FB Luke Tiemann (34 games/one start) and TE Peter Ullman (38 games/one start) also are providing senior leadership in 2008.

DEPARTED STARTERS:

Texas entered 2008 seeking to replace a combined 14 starters (6 offense/7 defense/1 specialist). That group combined to start 267 games (124 offense/143 defense), won a Draddy Trophy, earned two Academic All-America honors, placed three players on All-America teams and eight players on All-Big 12 teams. In addition, seven of those players are currently on NFL rosters. C Dallas Griffin capped his career by taking home the "Academic Heisman" in being awarded the Draddy Trophy. Griffin also was an Academic

All-American and earned honorable mention All-Big 12. OT Tony Hills, who was drafted in the fourth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers, was named a first-team All-American by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, while DT Frank Okam, who was selected in the fifth round by the Houston Texans, earned third-team All-America honors from The Associated Press. DT Derek Lokey, who signed as a free agent with the Kansas City Chiefs, joined Griffin as an Academic All-American and was named to various All-Big 12 teams. WR Limas Sweed, who was drafted in the second round by the Steelers, finished his career sixth on UT's all-time list with 124 receptions, fifth on the all-time list with 1,915 yards and second on Texas' TD receptions list with 20. Fellow receiver Nate Jones capped his career by tying Roy Williams for second on UT's single-season reception list with 70 in 2007. S Marcus Griffin earned All-America honors from ESPN.com and first-team All-Big 12 accolades, while CB Brandon Foster, who signed as a free agent with the Indianapolis Colts, earned second-team honors. LB Scott Derry was named an Academic All-Big 12 performer and an honorable mention All-Big 12 pick. Two juniors, RB Jamaal Charles and TE Jermichael Finley, will also need to be replaced. Charles, who was drafted in the third round by the Chiefs, earned honorable mention All-America honors from Sports Illustrated, while Finley, who also was selected in the third round by the Green Bay Packers, was tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12.

THE REAL MCCOY: With a victory against Arkansas, Colt McCoy, who is a member of the Maxwell Award, Davey O'Brien Award and WCFF Player of the Year award watch lists, improved his career record to 24-6 (No. 7 on UT's all-time list), leaving him one victory shy of moving into a tie for fifth on UT's all-time list. During his 30-game career, McCoy has completed 573-of-842 passes (68.1%/No. 1 on UT's all-time list) for 6,891 yards and 65 TDs against 26 INTs for a passer rating of 156.1 (No. 1 on UT's all-time list). McCoy's 65 career TD passes moved him past current UT assistant coach and former Longhorn QB Major Applewhite (60) for the all-time UT record. In combining his passing (65) and rushing (10) TDs, McCoy currently ranks third on UT's TDs responsible for list with 75, behind Ricky Williams (76) and Vince Young (81). His 6,891 passing yards are fifth best on school record. McCoy is just the fourth QB to surpass 2,000 yards passing in consecutive seasons and the fifth to record multiple seasons of at least 2,000 passing yards. McCoy has thrown for at least 200 yards 20 times in 30 career games, which is tied for second on UT's all-time list with James Brown (20) and trails only Applewhite (29). He also has thrown for at least 300 yards five times, which ranks third behind Brown (seven) and Applewhite (nine). McCoy has produced 49 plays of 30 yards or more, 20 of 40 yards or more and 14 of 50 yards or more during his career. He has thrown a TD pass in 27 of 30 career games, at least two TD passes in 19 games and at least four TD passes in six games. McCoy joined Chris Simms as one of only two players in Texas history to record two seasons of at least 20 TD passes. In fact, McCoy's 51 TDs over his first two seasons are the most in consecutive years, bettering Simms' total of 48 (22, 2001; 26, 2002). In total, McCoy has produced 7,831 yards of total offense (6,891p/940r), including 12 games of at least 300 total yards. He is just the fifth Longhorn in school history to eclipse the 7,000-yard plateau and ranks fourth on UT's all-time total offense list. He is just the fourth player in UT history to record at least 2,500 total yards in two or more seasons.

RECORD BREAKER: Colt McCoy has already etched his name in the Texas record book. McCoy holds UT's career record with 65 TD passes, bettering current UT assistant coach and former Longhorn QB Major Applewhite's 60 TD passes. He matched UT's all-time record by reaching the 1,000-yard plateau after the first four games in both 2007 and '08 and tied for second on UT's all-time list by reaching 2,000 yards passing after eight games in '07. McCoy is just the fourth QB to surpass 2,000 yards passing in consecutive seasons and the fifth to record multiple seasons of at least 2,000 passing yards. He is just the fourth player in UT history to record at least 2,500 total yards in two or more seasons and joined Chris Simms as the only two players in Texas history to record two seasons of at least 20 TD passes (29, 2006; 22, 2007). In fact, McCoy's 51 TDs over his first two seasons are the most in consecutive years, bettering Simms' total of 48 (22, 2001; 26, 2002). McCoy's 3,303 yards passing in 2007 rank second on UT's single-season list, while his 3,795 total yards also rank second. He tied the Texas record for consecutive completions with 15 (four vs. OSU/four at KSU/seven vs. TAM) in 2006 and set a school record for consecutive completions in a game with 13 against FAU this season. He also had 13 consecutive completions against Rice. As a freshman in 2006, McCoy threw 29 TD passes, which set the UT single-season mark, breaking the record of 26 shared by Chris Simms (2002) and Vince Young (2005). He also tied the then-NCAA freshman record held by Nevada's David Neill (1998). Against Baylor in 2006, McCoy threw six TD passes, which set the UT record for TD passes in a game and tied the NCAA freshman mark. The six TD throws eclipsed the previous mark of five set by James Brown (at Baylor, 1994) and matched by Chris Simms (at Oklahoma State, 2001). McCoy's 2,570 yards passing as a freshman rank first on UT's single-season freshman list and sixth on the overall single-season list. His 2,740 yards of total offense also rank first on UT's freshman single-season list and sixth on the overall single-season list. He produced 352 yards of total offense against Oklahoma State in 2006, which ranks as the second-highest single-game total by a freshman in UT history. He also posted 324 yards of total offense at Texas Tech (No. 5 on UT's freshman single-game total offense list) and 301 yards of total offense against Baylor (No. 6 on UT's freshman single-game total offense list). His 72-yard TD pass to Jamaal Charles in the 2006 Alamo Bowl is the fourth-longest pass play by a freshman in UT history, while his 62-yard TD pass to Billy Pittman against Baylor ranks seventh. He also threw a 50-yard TD pass to Limas Sweed against Baylor to become just the second freshman QB, along with Major Applewhite, to throw two TD passes of 50 or more yards in the same game. McCoy had a streak of 10-straight games with a TD pass, which is the second-longest in UT history.

STAT NOTE

Including bowl games, which weren't counted in career stats until 2002, Major Applewhite threw 67 career TD passes (60 regular season/seven bowl games), the most of any player in UT history. With bowl games included, Colt McCoy ranks second with 65 TD passes and Chris Simms is third with 58.

OUTSTANDING IN YEAR THREE: Already entrenched in the record books after two seasons, Colt McCoy has been even better as a junior. After four games, McCoy has gone 80-of-100 (80.0%) for 1,018 yards and 14 TDs, with only one INT, for a passer rating of 209.7. His 80.0% completion percentage is the best in the country and his 20 incompletions are the fewest among the nation's top 100 passers. McCoy's 209.7 passer rating ranks second nationally. In addition, McCoy leads the team in rushing with 278 yards and four TDs on 34 carries (8.2 ypc). His 278 rushing yards over the first four games are the second-most by a QB in UT history to Vince Young's 310 in 2005. Overall, McCoy has posted 1,296 yards of total offense (1,018p/278r) and is averaging 324.0 total yards per game, which ranks eighth nationally. His 1,296 total yards are more than 17 teams in the FBS. He also is responsible for 27 points per game, which ranks second nationally. His 18 total TDs are more than 86 other teams in the FBS. McCoy has rushed and passed for a TD in three of UT's first four games, becoming the first Longhorn to accomplish the feat.

FAU: In Texas' 52-10 victory over FAU, McCoy threw for 222 yards and three TDs, while notching his second career 100-yard rushing game with 103 yards on 12 carries (8.6 ypc). He joined Vince Young as the only players in UT history to pass for 200 or more yards and rush for 100 or more yards in a game more than once in a career. McCoy also accomplished the feat with 282 passing yards and 106 rushing yards against Oklahoma State in 2007. McCoy opened the season by completing his first 13 passes, which set a single-game record (previous record: Vince Young, 12, vs. Oklahoma St., 2004), on his way to completing 24-of-29 passes (82.8%). He shared Big 12 Player of the Week honors for his efforts.

at UTEP: McCoy completed 20-of-29 passes (70.0%) for 282 yards and four TDs. He started fast against the Miners, completing 14-of-16 (87.5%) for 187 yards and three TDs in the first half. It marked the fifth time in his career that he threw for at least four TDs in a game.

Rice: McCoy threw four TD passes, which moved him into first on UT's career TD passes list with 62. He went 19-of-23 (82.6%), including 13 consecutive completions to tie the single-game record he set against FAU, for 329 yards (no INTs). McCoy's 260.2 passer rating for the game was the highest of his career. In the first half alone, McCoy went 15-of-18 (83.3%) for 269 yards and two TDs. The 269 first-half yards tied for the third-highest first-half total in UT history. In addition, McCoy's 175 passing yards in the second quarter are the eighth-most for an individual quarter in Texas history. McCoy also rushed for 83 yards and a TD on eight carries (10.4 ypc). His 412 total yards were a career high and rank fourth on UT's single-game list.

Arkansas: McCoy set a personal best in completion percentage (17-of-19, 89.5%), while helping UT set a school record in single-game completion percentage (21-of-23, 91.3%). He threw for 185 yards and three TDs, while rushing for 84 yards and two TDs on nine carries (9.3 ypc). McCoy produced 180 (100p/80r) of his 269 total yards and three of his five TDs in the first half, while helping UT take a 31-3 lead.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Colt McCoy was named the O'Brien National Quarterback of the Week after leading the Longhorns to a 52-10 win over Arkansas. McCoy was responsible for five TDs (three passing, two rushing) and set a personal best in completion percentage (17-of-19, 89.5%). He threw for 185 yards and three TDs, while rushing for 84 yards and two TDs on nine carries (9.3 ypc). Earlier this season, McCoy shared Big 12 Player of the Week honors after helping Texas to a 52-10 victory over FAU. In that game, he threw for 222 yards and three TDs, while notching his second career 100-yard rushing game with 103 yards on 12 carries (8.6 ypc).

ON A ROLL: Over his last 12 games, Colt McCoy has gone 238-of-338 (70.4%) for 3,067 yards and 28 TDs for a passer rating of 168.1, while rushing for 668 yards and eight TDs. During that span, McCoy has thrown for at least 280 yards six times and had four games with four TD passes. He also has posted at least 50 yards rushing in eight games, including two 100-yard games (Oklahoma St., 106, 2007; FAU, 103, 2008).

MCCOY'S GROUND GAME: Colt McCoy has rushed for 940 yards and 10 TDs on 216 carries (4.4 ypc) during his 30-game career, but the bulk of that yardage has come during the last two seasons. Since the beginning of 2007, McCoy has posted 770 yards and eight TDs on 148 carries (5.2 ypc). In 2008 alone, McCoy has tallied 278 yards and four TDs on 34 carries (8.2 ypc). The 278 yards rushing over the first four games are the second-most by a QB in Texas history, trailing only Vince Young's 310 in 2005. Aside from Young's totals during his three seasons, Donnie Little's 191-yard total in 1979 is the next-best over the first four games of a season. Last season, McCoy finished second on the team in rushing with 492 yards, but his production was even better if you figure his totals purely as a runner (minus sack yardage). On 88 rushes, McCoy gained 665 yards (7.6 ypc), scored four TDs and posted 37 first downs. His 7.5 ypc average would have ranked him third nationally. Excluding sacks, McCoy has rushed for at least 50 yards in nine of the last 11 games. He produced his first career 100-yard rushing game with 106 at Oklahoma State last season and his 14-yard scramble on the final drive set up Texas' 40-yard game-winning field goal. McCoy added his second career 100-yard game in the 2008 season opener against FAU with 106 yards on 12 carries (8.6 ypc). During his career, McCoy has tallied 42 runs of at least 10 yards with nine of them coming during the first four games of 2008. He also has produced 15 runs of at least 20 yards and four of at least 30 yards during his career.

SOPHOMORE SUCCESS: After one of the most productive seasons by a QB in UT history in 2006, Colt McCoy returned in 2007 to earn both team and Holiday Bowl MVP honors. For the season, McCoy went 276-of-424 (65.1%) for 3,303 yards (No. 2 on UT's single-season list) and 22 TDs (T-No. 4 on UT's single-season list) for a passer rating of 139.2 (24th NCAA). McCoy's 276 completions rank first on UT's single-season list, while his 424 attempts stand second. McCoy also was the team's second-leading rusher with 492 yards, including at least 40 yards rushing in six of the last seven games and his first career 100-yard rushing game (106 at Oklahoma State). He amassed 3,795 total yards on the season (22nd NCAA/No. 2 on UT's single-season list). He passed for at least 200 yards 11 times and posted at least 300 yards of total offense six times. He matched UT's all-time record by reaching the 1,000-yard plateau after the first four games of 2007 and tied for second on UT's all-time list by reaching 2,000 yards passing after eight games.

MCCOY'S 2007 HIGHLIGHTS

No. 19 TCU: Colt McCoy helped defeat a ranked opponent for the third time in his career by going 25-of-38 (65.8%) for 239 yards and a TD.

at UCF: McCoy completed a UT single-game record 32 passes and tied the school record in attempts with 47.

Rice: McCoy posted his first 300-yard game of the season with 333 yards on 20-of-29 passing (69.0%) and three TDs (no INTs). His 295 yards passing in the first half are the second-most in a half on UT record.

vs. No. 10 Oklahoma: McCoy threw for 324 yards and two TDs. His 324 yards passing were the second-most ever by a Longhorn QB in a Red River Rivalry game. Major Applewhite's 328 yards in 1999 rank first.

at Iowa State: McCoy went 23-of-29 (79.3%) for 298 yards and four TDs. Combined with his 50 yards rushing, McCoy produced 348 yards of total offense, the third-best output of his career. He also had a 44-yard TD run, which is the longest of his career.

at Baylor: McCoy posted 337 yards of total offense behind 293 yards passing and 44 yards rushing.

Texas Tech: McCoy notched six TDs and 319 total yards by going 21-of-30 (70.0%) for 268 yards and four TDs, while rushing for 51 yards and two TDs. The six TDs were just one shy of the UT single-game record (seven, Clyde Littlefield, 1915).

vs. No. 12 Arizona State: McCoy notched his second bowl Offensive MVP honor after completing 21-of-31 passes (67.7%) for 174 yards and a TD and rushing for 84 yards and a TD on 16 carries (5.2 ypc) in a 52-34 Holiday Bowl victory.

FANTASTIC FIRST SEASON: After redshirting in 2005, Colt McCoy took over the reins of the Longhorn offense from former National Player of the Year and NFL Pro Bowler Vince Young in 2006. He progressed throughout the season and earned The Sporting News and Touchdown Club of Columbus National Freshman of the Year awards, while becoming a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top quarterback). McCoy also shared UT's MVP honors with Aaron Ross. He finished his redshirt-freshman campaign with a 161.8 passer rating (eighth NCAA), completing 217-of-318 passes (68.2%) for 2,570 yards (No. 6 on UT's single-season list/No. 1 on UT's freshman single-season list) and a UT-record 29 TDs (T-No. 2 on NCAA single-season freshman list), while throwing just seven INTs. His 217 completions rank fourth on UT's single-season list and first on the school's freshman list. During 2006, he posted 14 plays of 30 yards or more, nine of 40 yards or more and six of 50 yards or more. McCoy opened the season by throwing for 200 yards in only one of the first six games, but finished by exceeding the 200-yard mark in five of the final seven games, including two games over 300 yards. The two games he didn't throw for 200 yards over that stretch were the Kansas State and Texas A&M games, when he was suffering from an injury. During 2006, McCoy had a streak of 10-straight games with a TD pass, which is the second-longest in UT history. He threw a TD pass in 11 of 13 games and two TDs in 10 of 13. He also spread the ball around, completing passes to 12 different receivers and TD passes to nine different players. In addition, McCoy tied the UT record for consecutive completions at 15 after completing the final four passes against Oklahoma state, his only four attempts at Kansas State and the first seven passes versus Texas A&M. In total, McCoy tallied a UT freshman record 2,740 yards of total offense (No. 5 on UT's single-season list). He became UT's first freshman QB to win a season opener since Bobby Layne in 1944.

MCCOY'S 2006 HIGHLIGHTS

Iowa State: Colt McCoy threw for 200 yards for the first time in his career when he threw for 212 yards and two TDs.

Baylor: McCoy's season took off when he threw a UT single-game record six TD passes. The six TDs also tied the NCAA mark for TD passes by a freshman in a game. He ended the game going 21-of-32 (65.6%) for 275 yards, while rushing for another 26. The 301 yards of total offense rank seventh on UT's freshman list. He was named the Cingular All-America Player of the Week for his performance.

at Nebraska: McCoy went 25-of-39 (64.1%) for 220 yards, two TDs and no INTs in the snow. He helped the Horns come back twice from fourth-quarter deficits to win that game.

at Texas Tech: McCoy went 21-of-31 (67.7%) for 256 yards and four TDs, while rushing for 68 yards on nine carries (7.6 ypc) in helping UT come back from a 21-point award and the sixth UT player to win that honor. All six have come in the Mack Brown era. McCoy joins RB Jamaal Charles (2005), QB Vince Young (2003), RB Cedric Benson (2001), WR Roy Williams (2000) and QB Major Applewhite (1998) as honorees.

FRESHMAN NATIONAL HONORS:

Colt McCoy was a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top QB) and was named The Sporting News and Touchdown Club of Columbus National Freshman of the Year for his performance in 2006. McCoy was also twice named the Cingular All-America Player of the Week and earned the Walter Camp Player of the Week and Master Coaches Survey Game Ball once.

COMEBACK KID: Over the past few seasons, Texas has developed a never-say-die attitude that has helped pull off comebacks on several occasions. Much like his mentor Vince Young, who engineered six fourth-quarter comebacks and eight second-half comebacks, Colt McCoy has proven that he is capable of leading the Horns when they are behind. He has already posted five fourth-quarter comebacks and three second-half comebacks in his short career.

vs. No. 14 Oklahoma (2006): The first comeback of McCoy's career came after Texas trailed 10-7 at halftime, but the Horns stormed back for a 28-10 victory. McCoy opened the second half by going 5-of-5 passing for 66 yards and two TDs, while rushing for 23 yards on two scoring drives that put away the Sooners.

vs. Baylor (2006): Texas fell behind 10-0 after the first quarter before McCoy hit stride. He racked up 268 yards and a UT-record six TD passes on 19-of-26 passing (73.1%) over the final three quarters to lead UT to a 63-31 victory.

at No. 17 Nebraska (2006): McCoy brought the Horns back in his first test on the road. With Nebraska leading 20-19, Texas got the ball back at the Nebraska 44-yard line with 2:17 to play. McCoy methodically moved the Horns to the Nebraska five before UT kicked a field goal with 23 seconds left to take the lead for good, 22-20.

at Texas Tech (2006): Texas Tech jumped out to a 21-0 lead after the first quarter and 31-21 lead at the half, but McCoy led Texas to a 35-31 victory. The 21-point comeback is tied for the second-largest comeback in school history. After getting down 21-0, McCoy went 15-of-23 for 203 yards and four TDs, while rushing for 74 yards over the final three quarters.

vs. Iowa (2006): McCoy notched his fifth comeback of the 2006 season in the Alamo Bowl. Iowa grabbed the lead at 21-20 late in the third quarter, but, on the ensuing possession, McCoy drove Texas 72 yards in 11 plays for the go-ahead and game-winning score as UT would hold on for the 26-24 victory.

No. 19 TCU (2007): The Horns trailed 10-0 at the half, but McCoy led Texas on a seven-play, 60-yard TD drive to open the second half. For the half, McCoy went 12-of-16 (75.0%) for 139 yards and a TD and led Texas on five scoring drives as UT defeated the Horned Frogs, 34-13.

at UCF (2007): McCoy added his third fourth-quarter comeback, leading Texas to 12 straight points (TD, two FGs) on three consecutive drives after the Horns fell behind 24-23. On those three drives, McCoy went 7-of-10 for 82 yards, while adding 12 yards rushing.

Nebraska (2007): After falling behind 17-3 in the third quarter (17-9 entering the fourth quarter), McCoy guided a Texas offense that produced 336 total yards and 25 points in the second half and helped the Horns go on to win, 28-25.

at Oklahoma State (2007): McCoy notched his second-consecutive fourth-quarter comeback in leading Texas from a 35-14 deficit entering the final stanza. While helping Texas score 24-unanswered points to win the game, 38-35, McCoy went 8-of-9, including eight straight completions, for 145 yards and rushed for 38 yards, while leading the Horns to 311 yards of total offense. His 14-yard scramble on the final drive set up Texas' 40-yard game-winning field goal.

SPREADING THE WEALTH: Colt McCoy has continued the trend of keeping his entire receiving corps involved in UT's offensive attack by completing passes to 11 different receivers and TD passes to five different receivers in 2008. In addition, McCoy has produced completions of at least 30 yards to three receivers. He completed passes to seven different receivers and TD passes to three different receivers in the season opener against FAU. McCoy also hit seven different receivers at UTEP and completed TD passes to four different receivers. He completed passes to six different receivers against Rice and hit three players for TDs. Eight receivers made catches against Arkansas. In 2007, McCoy hit 12 different receivers and completed TD passes to seven pass catchers. For the first time in school history, the Longhorns had three players with 40 or more receptions in the same season. The Horns also had three players with 500 or more receiving yards for just the third time in school history. In addition, McCoy completed passes of at least 50 yards to four different players. In 2006, he completed passes to 12 different players, including six wide receivers, and TD passes to nine different pass catchers, five of which were wide receivers.

WIDE RECEIVERS SQUARED: Two of McCoy's top receivers in seniors Quan Cosby and Jordan Shipley are leading a young, but effective pass-catching group in 2008. The pair has already combined to catch 43 passes for 666 yards (15.5 ypc) and nine TDs in 2008 after registering 87 receptions for 1,097 yards (12.6 ypc) and 10 TDs last year.

Quan Cosby: A two-time first-team all-state football selection and a 100 and 200-meter state champ as a prepster, Quan Cosby's football career took a four-year detour when he was drafted in the sixth-round by the Anaheim Angels in the spring of 2001. He played four seasons of minor league baseball for the Angels' organization before deciding to rekindle his football career as a true freshman in 2005. Cosby has shown steady improvement and has developed into one of Colt McCoy's favorite targets. A former prep QB, he is currently riding a streak of 35 straight games with a reception (No. 2 on UT's all-time list), which tied for fifth nationally among active players, and has caught a pass in 38 of his 43 career games. He has caught at least three passes in 19 of his last 22 games. For his career, Cosby has caught 143 passes (No. 5 on UT's all-time list) for 1,820 yards (No. 7 on UT's all-time list) and 12 TDs. Also UT's top kick and punt returner, he has totaled 3,694 career all-purpose yards (1,820 rec./1,500 KR/374 PR) on 236 plays (15.7 ypp).

2008: After four games, Cosby leads the team in both receptions (23) and yards (345) and is averaging 15.0 yards per catch. His 86.3 yards per game rank 34th nationally. Cosby has also scored three TDs on the year with one coming in each of the last three games. After posting three receptions for 34 yards in the season-opener against FAU, Cosby posted a career-high 154 yards and a TD on eight receptions at UTEP. He recorded three catches of at least 30 yards, including two 39-yard grabs. The 154 receiving yards are tied for 23rd on UT's single-game list. Cosby added seven receptions for 90 yards and a TD against Rice, including a 35-yard reception. He came back to tally five receptions for 67 yards and a TD against Arkansas.

2007: Cosby made 60 receptions (No. 6 on UT's single-season list) for 680 yards and five TDs and posted at least five receptions in eight of the 13 games. He set a career high at UCF with 10 receptions before notching a career high in yards with 113, his second career 100-yard game, against Nebraska. Cosby scored TDs against Rice, Kansas State and Iowa State and had his first multi-TD game against Texas Tech.

2006: Cosby tripled the number of receptions from his freshman year and finished second on the team with 45. He posted 525 yards and scored two TDs on the year. Cosby caught seven passes on three different occasions and posted his first 100-yard receiving game with 101 against Oklahoma State. Over the last five games, he upped his production, making 28 receptions for 344 yards for an average of 5.6 receptions and 68.8 yards per game during that stretch.

2005: Cosby finished his freshman season with 15 catches for 270 yards (18.0 ypc) and two TDs. Beginning with his breakout receiving game of 79 yards on two catches, including a 55-yard TD grab, at Baylor, Cosby caught 12 passes for 245 yards (20.4 ypc) and two TDs in the Horns' final five games. He had a career-long 64-yard TD catch versus Kansas during that stretch.

Career: Cosby has registered 143 receptions (No. 5 on UT's all-time list) for 1,820 yards (No. 7 on UT's all-time list) (12.7 ypc) and 12 TDs in 43 career games (26 starts). He is just the ninth player in UT history to post at least 100 career receptions and currently ranks fifth on UT's all-time list. He also is just the seventh player in UT history to record 1,800 receiving yards and stands seventh on the all-time list.

Special teams/All-purpose yards: Cosby has also been key in the Longhorns' return game and is considered one of the nation's top return men. Tabbed second-team All-Big 12 by The Associated Press as a returner, he is just the second player in school history to log over 1,500 receiving yards and 1,500 kickoff return yards in a career. With 1,820 receiving yards and 1,500 kickoff return yards, he joins Mike Adams, who had 3,032 receiving yards and 1,591 kickoff return yards. For his career, he has returned 61 kickoffs (No. 2 on UT's all-time list) for 1,500 yards (No. 2 on UT's all-time list) for a 24.6 ypr average (T-No. 5 on UT's all-time list) and 32 punts for 374 yards (11.7 ypr) and a TD. In 2007, Cosby returned 42 kickoffs (No. 1 on UT's single-season list) for 1,017 yards (No. 1 on UT's single-season list), including a 91-yard return for a TD, for a 24.2 ypr average (No. 7 on UT's single-season list) and 19 punts for 178 yards (9.4 ypr), while averaging 144.2 all-purpose yards per game (No. 34 NCAA). In total, Cosby posted 1,875 all-purpose yards (680 rec./1,017 KR/178 PR) on 121 plays (15.5 ypp) in 2007. For his career, Cosby has tallied 3,694 all-purpose yards (1,820 rec./1,500 KR/374 PR) on 236 plays (15.7 ypp) and has notched seven career plays of 50 or more yards (four rec./two KR/one PR).

Jordan Shipley: When healthy, senior Jordan Shipley has proven to be a versatile pass catcher for the Horns. Shipley has recorded 63 receptions for 967 yards and 15 TDs (T-No. 5 on UT's all-time list) during his 31-game career (12 starts). He has caught a TD pass in six of his last seven games, including a streak of four consecutive games, which ranks fourth on UT's all-time list. In the first four games of 2008, Shipley posted 20 receptions for 321 yards (16.0 ypc) and six TDs. Even better, over his last two games, Shipley has notched 13 receptions for 238 yards (18.3 ypc) and four TDs. He opened 2008 against FAU by making four catches for 53 yards and a TD. He added three catches for 30 yards and a TD at UTEP. Shipley posted the first 100-yard receiving game of his career against Rice after notching five catches for 155 yards and two TDs, all in the first half. The 155 yards rank 22nd on UT's single-game list and are the fourth-most ever recorded in a half at UT. Shipley posted three catches for 30 yards each and a 60-yard reception against the Owls. He went on to set a career high with eight receptions for 83 yards and two TDs against Arkansas. In 2007, Shipley notched 27 receptions for 417 yards and five TDs. His 15.4 yards per catch average led the team (20+ receptions). He saw his first action at receiver in 2007 against UCF after suffering from a hamstring injury and notched four receptions for 47 yards. Shipley had one of the best games of his career at Iowa State, posting a career-high 71 yards, while notching the first multiple TD game of his career, including a 58-yarder. He added two receptions for 70 yards, including a career-long 60-yarder to set up UT's game-tying score late in the fourth quarter, at Oklahoma State. Shipley posted a career-high six receptions in the Holiday Bowl against Arizona State. In 2006, Shipley played in all 13 games and caught 16 passes for 229 yards and four TDs. He posted 17 plays of at least 10 yards and averaged 32.3 yards per TD catch. He also produced both a run and a reception of 40 or more yards. Shipley also serves as UT's holder.

FAMILIAR TARGET: Since Colt McCoy took over as the starting QB in 2006, he has developed a chemistry with the reliable Quan Cosby. The duo currently ranks third all-time on UT's QB-to-WR combo chart, having hooked up 122 times over the last three seasons. The duo trails only Major Applewhite and Kwame Cavil (124, 1998-99) and Chris Simms and Roy Williams (131, 2000-02) on the list. McCoy to Cosby started with 39 connections in 2006. In 2007, McCoy delivered all 60 of Cosby's receptions. So far in 2008, McCoy has found Cosby on all 23 of his receptions.

COSBY'S COMBO: Senior Quan Cosby has been asked to perform various duties since leaving professional baseball and joining the Texas football program. As a receiver, he's posted 1,820 yards (No. 7 on UT's all-time list) and 12 TDs on 143 receptions (No. 5 on UT's all-time list). He also is the Horns' top return man and was named honorable mention All-Big 12 by the league's coaches as a returner in 2007. Considered one of the nation's top return men, Cosby has amassed 1,874 combined return yards (1,500 KR/374 PR) on 93 returns (20.2 ypr) during his career. In 2007, Cosby posted nine kickoff returns of at least 30 yards, including a career-long 91-yard TD, and three punt returns of at least 20 yards with a long of 30. Cosby averaged 144.2 all-purpose yards per game, which ranked 34th nationally. Highlighting Cosby's career are a 91-yard kickoff return TD at Texas A&M (2007), a 74-yard kickoff return against No. 14 Nebraska (2006) to set up a score and a 55-yard punt return for a TD against Sam Houston State (2006). In addition, he completed a 34-yard pass to Limas Sweed against Iowa State in 2006.

MOVING THE CHAINS: Of Quan Cosby's 143 career receptions, 90 of them have gone for first downs (62.9%). Ten of his 15 receptions (66.7%) as a freshman went for first downs, while 30 of his 45 catches (66.7%) as a sophomore moved the sticks. Cosby produced first downs on 33 of his 60 receptions (55.0%) in 2007 and has moved the chains on 17 of his 23 receptions (73.9%) in 2008.

SCORING FAST: Senior Jordan Shipley became the fourth player in the Mack Brown era to score on UT's first offensive play from scrimmage in a game. He opened the Iowa State game last season with a 58-yard TD reception to join Jamaal Charles, who scored on a three-yard run on the first play at Missouri in 2005, Cedric Benson, who notched a 38-yard TD run against North Texas in 2004, and Hodges Mitchell, who scored on an 80-yard run at Oklahoma State in 1999.

FRESH FACES: Seniors Quan Cosby and Jordan Shipley are joined by a quartet of young receivers, including two pass catchers who saw action in 2007 in sophomores Brandon Collins and James Kirkendoll.

DID YOU KNOW?

Quan Cosby has posted a 64-yard reception, a 91-yard kickoff return, a 55-yard punt return and a 34-yard completion during his career.

After appearing in seven games at wide receiver and on special teams as a true freshman, Collins has posted five receptions for 51 yards in 2008. Kirkendoll saw action in four games at wide receiver as a true freshman before an injury shortened his season. He has caught five passes for 80 yards and a TD so far in 2008. In addition, redshirt freshman Malcolm Williams has started all four of UT's games in 2008, catching six passes for 33 yards, while true freshman Dan Buckner posted the first catch and first TD reception of his career at UTEP.

FOUR-BACK ATTACK: With Jamaal Charles now playing in the NFL with the Kansas City Chiefs, four Texas running backs are looking to replace his production in 2008. Charles finished his career as UT's fourth leading rusher with 3,328 yards on 533 carries (6.2 ypc). His 36 TDs are tied for fifth on UT's all-time list. In 2007, Charles rushed for 1,619 yards (No. 5 on UT's single-season list) and 18 TDs (T-No. 5 on UT's single-season list) on 258 carries (6.3 ypc). Senior Chris Ogbonnaya, sophomore Vondrell McGee and redshirt freshmen Cody Johnson and Foswhitt "Fozzy" Whittaker make up the quartet. Ogbonnaya, who is the team's third-down specialist and top blocker, carried the ball 26 times for 71 yards and two TDs and caught 21 passes for 204 yards, while serving primarily as UT's third-down back, in 2007. In 2008, Ogbonnaya has caught nine passes for 128 yards (14.2 ypc) and two TDs, including a 46-yard TD reception against Rice. He has carried the ball seven times for 22 yards. McGee posted 75 carries for 325 yards (4.0 ypc) and eight TDs as a redshirt freshman in 2007. His eight TDs tied for fifth all-time on UT's freshman list. So far in 2008, he's carried the ball 42 times for 157 yards and a TD, while making five receptions. Against FAU, McGee posted 12 carries for 63 yards (5.2 ypc) and a TD. Johnson has rushed 39 times for 166 yards (4.3 ypc) and four TDs. He became the first freshman in UT history to open a career by rushing for a TD in four straight games. As UT's goal-line specialist, Johnson has converted all three of his carries inside the five into TDs behind the lead block of Roy Miller. Whittaker spent the 2007 season gaining valuable experience on the scout team after finishing his prep career ranked sixth on the all-time Texas 5A rushing chart with 5,717 yards. After missing the season-opener against FAU with a knee injury, he saw his first action as a Longhorn at UTEP and rushed for 72 yards on 12 carries (6.0 ypc).

RECENT O-LINE SUCCESS:

The Texas offensive line has been one of the nation's steadiest units over the past four seasons, and despite four linemen moving on to the NFL over the previous two seasons, the Horns finished 17th nationally in rushing offense (207.5 ypg) and 13th in total offense (462.9 ypg) in 2007. The pipeline to the NFL over the last three years began with OT Jonathan Scott, who was taken in the fifth round of the 2006 NFL Draft by the Detroit Lions. Then, in the 2007 draft, the Horns had two players, OL Justin Blalock and OG Kasey Studdard, selected. Blalock was selected in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons and Studdard was taken in the sixth round by the Houston Texans. In addition, C Lyle Sendlein signed with the Arizona Cardinals as a free agent and ended up playing in 14 games, starting two. Now, the Horns must deal with the departure of two seniors from 2007 in OT Tony Hills, a first-team All-America selection who was drafted in the fourth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers, and C Dallas Griffin, who won the Draddy Trophy and was an honorable mention All-Big 12 selection.

2008 OFFENSIVE LINE: The 2008 line is led by the lone senior, OG Cedric Dockery, who is a member of the Outland Trophy watch list. Dockery, who was an honorable mention All-Big 12 selection in 2007, has played in 32 career games and made 21 starts. He is joined by a trio of juniors in C Chris Hall, OG Charlie Tanner and OT Adam Ulatoski. Hall is a member of the Rimington Trophy watch list, has played in 24 career games (16 starts) and started at least one game at all five line positions in 2007. Tanner has seen action in 22 career games (nine starts) and is a two-time Academic All-Big 12 performer. Ulatoski has played in 27 career games (21 starts) and was a second-team All-Big 12 pick in 2007. After playing right tackle during his first two seasons, he moved to left tackle to fill the void caused by Tony Hills' graduation. In addition to the upperclassmen, sophomore OT Kyle Hix (17 games/five starts) earned a starting spot at right tackle for the 2008 season. He saw action in all 13 games of 2007 and started at right tackle in UT's Holiday Bowl victory over No. 12 Arizona State. Sophomores OT Tray Allen (13 games), C Buck Burnette (17 games/one start), OG Michael Huey (17 games/three starts), OT Britt Mitchell (16 games) and OG Steve Moore (six games) also have seen action in 2008. Two players, red-shirt freshman OT Aundre McGaskey and true freshman OG David Snow, saw their first action as Longhorns against FAU and have continued to see action during 2008. After four games, the line has led Texas to a No. 6 national ranking in scoring offense (49.5 ppg) and a No. 10 ranking in total offense (482.0 ypg), while helping UT become just one of 15 teams nationally that is averaging over 200 yards both rushing and passing (276.8p/205.3r). In addition, the line has given up just three sacks on UT's 111 pass attempts, which is tied for 15th nationally. To start the season, Texas produced 503 yards of total offense in its victory over FAU, while not allowing a sack. They blocked for 404 total yards at UTEP, and then cleared the way for 600 yards against Rice, including 259 yards rushing. The group did not allow a sack for the second time this year and helped UT post 421 yards of total offense (213p/208r) against Arkansas.

THE GO-TO GUY: Junior Chris Hall entered 2007 as the starting right guard, but the right-guard label was quickly changed to offensive lineman as the versatile Hall became the go-to-guy at all five line positions for a Longhorn line that battled injuries. Hall started the second game of 2007 against No. 19 TCU at left guard before moving in as the starter at right tackle for an injured Adam Ulatoski against UCF and Rice. Hall moved back to left guard against Kansas State, but was back filling injured Ulatoski's shoes at right tackle for the Oklahoma game. Hall continued to plug holes along the offensive line by starting at left guard at Iowa State, right guard at Baylor and left guard against Nebraska before not starting against Oklahoma State due to his own injury. But, when Dallas Griffin sustained a season-ending knee injury in Stillwater, Hall slid over and played most of the game at center. He then started for Griffin at center against Texas Tech before moving to left tackle after Tony Hills sustained a season-ending leg injury. Then, Hall started at left tackle against Texas A&M, which meant he started at least one game at every offensive line position in 2007. In comparison, only three recent linemen have even started at the combination of center/guard or guard/tackle during a season. Justin Blalock started at right guard and right tackle (2006), Derrick Dockery started at right guard and right tackle (2002) and Dan Neil started at right guard and center (1993).

PRESSURE AT A PREMIUM: Since 1999, Texas ranks fourth nationally in sacks at 343 behind USC (357), TCU (350) and Virginia Tech (349). After finishing 2004 with 22 total sacks, the Longhorn defense improved to 34 sacks in '05 and 39.5 sacks in '06 before notching 28 sacks in '07. The Horns have already tallied 16 sacks in 2008 with 14 coming over the last two games. The 14 sacks are the most in a two-game stretch since 1990. The defense is led by DE Brian Orakpo, who has already produced six sacks in 2008, including two in each of the last three games. LB Sergio Kindle is second on the team in sacks with two, while DT Aaron Lewis and DE Henry Melton are tied for third with 1.5 sacks. Five other players have recorded a sack. In addition to the sacks, the Texas defense has already produced 36 TFL, 56 pressures and 53 hits on opponent's quarterbacks. Orakpo leads the team with eight TFL, while DT Lamarr Houston has posted four. DT Roy Miller currently has the team lead in pressures with 10, followed by Orakpo, who has nine.

THE RAK IS BACK: Senior DE Brian Orakpo, who is a member of the Nagurski Trophy and Lott Trophy watch lists, headlines a deep group of edge rushers, who are being counted on to pressure the backfield in 2008. In his three seasons, Orakpo has tallied 107 tackles, 16.5 sacks, 27 TFL, 41 pressures, six PBD, four forced fumbles and a fumble recovery in 39 games (14 starts). In 2008, he has posted 17 tackles, six sacks, which are tied for the second-most nationally, eight TFL, nine pressures, two PBD and two forced fumble. Orakpo opened the season against FAU by notching three tackles, a TFL and three pressures. At UTEP, he tallied five tackles, two sacks and three pressures. Orakpo added five tackles, two sacks, two pressures, two PBD and a forced fumble against Rice. He continued his tear with four tackles, two sacks, three TFL, a pressure and a forced fumble against Arkansas. Orakpo has now had at least two sacks in three consecutive games and in four of UT's last five games. In 2007, Orakpo, who was sidelined for four games after suffering a knee injury in the Longhorns' season opener, returned to action on a limited basis against Oklahoma and his impact was significant. In just 17 plays, the 6-4, 260-pounder recorded three tackles, two TFL and a sack versus the Sooners. He capped off the year by being named the Holiday Bowl Defensive MVP after a six-tackle, two-sack, three-TFL performance against No. 12 Arizona State. For the season, Orakpo posted 37 tackles, 5.5 sacks, nine TFL and 12 pressures in just nine games (eight starts). In 2006, Orakpo tallied 26 tackles, six TFL and 4.5 sacks, a year after posting 27 tackles, four TFL and a half sack, which resulted in him being named the 2005 National Defensive Freshman of the Year and Big 12 Defensive Freshman of the Year.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Texas senior DE Brian Orakpo was named The Lott Trophy IMPACT Player of the Week for his performance in leading the Longhorns to a 52-10 win over Arkansas. He recorded four tackles, two sacks, three TFL, a pressure and a forced fumble during the game. Overall, Orakpo helped the Texas defense hold Arkansas to just 191 yards, the Hogs' lowest offensive output since 2002, while not allowing an offensive touchdown.

TURNING UP THE HEAT: Since returning to action from a knee injury in last year's Oklahoma game (12 games), Brian Orakpo has posted 11 sacks, 16 TFL and 21 pressures. Over the last eight games (including the limited duty vs. OU) of 2007, Orakpo registered five sacks, eight TFL and 12 pressures. His numbers from the first four games of 2008 are almost identical to that eight-game stretch. Orakpo has tallied six sacks, which are tied for the second-most nationally, eight TFL and nine pressures during the non-conference portion of this year.

WORKOUT WARRIOR: Brian Orakpo was named the nation's top workout warrior. Orakpo, who entered The University of Texas as a 210-pound athlete, has gained 50 lbs. of muscle while maintaining eight percent body fat. The 6-4, 260-pounder is capable of bench pressing 515 lbs., squatting 600 lbs. and power cleaning 380 lbs., while posting bests of 4.6 seconds in the 40 and 42 inches in the vertical leap.

MELTON MAKING A MOVE: In just his second season at defensive end, senior Henry Melton used a tremendous offseason to earn the first defensive start of his career in UT's season opener against FAU and notched two pressures. He added three pressures at UTEP and a half sack against Rice. Melton tallied two tackles, a sack, a pressure and a forced fumble that was converted into a TD against Arkansas. For the season, he has registered three tackles, 1.5 sacks, six pressures, a PBD and a forced fumble. After spending his first two seasons at running back, Melton switched to defensive end during Alamo Bowl practices at the end of the '06 season. He saw action in 10 games in 2007 and tallied 11 tackles, a TFL, three pressures, a PBD, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

YOUNG DEFENSIVE ENDS: Texas has two underclassmen who made an impact last season in sophomores Eddie Jones and Sam Acho. The duo combined to notch 38 tackles, three sacks, five TFL, eight pressures, an INT and four PBD as freshmen. Jones, who redshirted in 2006, appeared in 11 games in 2007 and posted 28 tackles, 1.5 sacks, two TFL, six pressures, an INT and two PBD. He has recorded five tackles, a sack, three TFL, three pressures and a PBD so far in 2008. Jones opened the season by making two tackles, including a TFL, against FAU. He added two tackles, including a TFL, and a pressure at UTEP. Jones notched his first sack of the season against Arkansas to go along with a pressure and a PBD. Acho saw action in 11 games as a true freshman and tallied 10 tackles, 1.5 sacks, three TFL, two pressures and two PBD. He has posted seven tackles, a sack, three pressures and a forced fumble in 2008. Acho notched two pressures in UT's season-opening win over FAU before posting two tackles and a forced fumble at UTEP. He added three tackles, including a sack, against Rice and two tackles and a pressure against Arkansas.

MANNING THE MIDDLE: The defensive tackles unit was a major reason why Texas ranked sixth nationally (93.4 ypg) in rush defense in 2007, after giving up just 61.2 yards per game to rank third nationally in '06. The 2008 Longhorns are without the services of two of the stalwarts of those defensive lines. DTs Frank Okam and Derek Lokey combined to play in 83 games, while making 60 starts during their four-year careers. Okam, who was a third-team All-American in 2007 before being drafted in the fifth round by the Houston Texans, finished his career with 160 tackles, 10 sacks, 28 TFL, 12 PBD, one forced fumble and five fumble recoveries. Lokey garnered first-team All-Big 12 honors in 2007 and earned a spot on the Kansas City Chiefs' practice squad. He finished his career with 101 tackles, three sacks, 18 TFL, three PBD and a fumble recovery. Despite the losses, the duo of senior Roy Miller and junior Lamarr Houston have led a UT defense that ranks second nationally and first in the Big 12 against the run (52.5 ypg). Miller has played in 40 career games (10 starts) and is a member of the preseason Bednarik Award watch list, while Houston has played in 27 career games (13 starts) and made the first start of his career at defensive tackle in UT's season-opening win over FAU. They have combined to post 19 tackles, six TFL, 14 pressures and a PBD in 2008.

MILLER MAKING AN IMPACT: While Lokey and Okam claimed a bulk of the starts at defensive tackle over the last two seasons, Roy Miller was an integral part of the DT rotation throughout both of those years. His ability to hold the point of attack in UT's defensive scheme thanks to a 500 lbs. bench press, 690 lbs. squat and 350 lbs. power clean has the Horns ranked second nationally and first in the Big 12 in rush defense (52.5 ypg) and aided in UT finishing third nationally in rush defense (61.2 ypg) in 2006 and sixth (93.4 ypg) in '07. So far in 2008, Miller has tallied 12 tackles, two TFL and 10 pressures. He opened 2008 against FAU by posting three tackles and three pressures and added five tackles, two TFL and four pressures at UTEP. Miller posted two tackles and three pressures against Rice. After seeing action in 10 games as a true freshman in 2005 and making 10 tackles, Miller appeared in all 13 games in 2006, starting six. He finished the year with 39 tackles, six TFL and 3.5 sacks. Miller increased his production during his six starts, posting 26 tackles, four TFL, two sacks and two pressures. Despite battling an ankle injury for most of 2007, the 6-2, 295-pounder notched 40 tackles, a sack, eight TFL, seven pressures and a forced fumble in 13 games. For his career, Miller has recorded 101 tackles, 16 TFL, 4.5 sacks, 26 pressures and a forced fumble in 40 games (10 starts).

HOUSTON SHIFTS INSIDE: Junior Lamarr Houston spent his first two seasons at Texas as a productive defensive end, but he made the switch to defensive tackle during the spring of 2008. In his first start at defensive tackle against FAU, Houston tallied three tackles, including two TFL. He added four tackles, including two TFL, a pressure and a PBD against Rice before posting three pressures against Arkansas. A former prep linebacker and running back, Houston was named honorable mention All-Big 12 by The Associated Press in 2007 after tallying 66 tackles, 12 TFL, 4.5 sacks, 24 pressures, four PBD and a forced fumble. After opening the season as a backup, Houston replaced an injured Brian Orakpo in the week two starting lineup and posted six tackles, a sack, a forced fumble and a PBD against No. 19 TCU. He went on to start 11 of the final 12 games. As a true freshman in 2006, Houston saw action at defensive end and on special teams and notched 14 tackles, two TFL and a sack. In total, Houston has posted 87 tackles, 5.5 sacks, 18 TFL, 30 pressures, five PBD and a forced fumble in his 27 career games (13 starts).

LEWIS' LAST SEASON: After spending the bulk of his career at defensive end, the Texas coaching staff is taking advantage of Aaron Lewis' versatility, allowing him to see action at both defensive end and defensive tackle in 2008. He opened the year by logging 30 snaps, 16 at DT and 14 at DE, against FAU and notched two pressures. He posted two tackles, which were both behind the line of scrimmage, and a PBD against Rice before adding a pressure against Arkansas. Despite missing two games with an elbow injury in 2007, Lewis posted 26 tackles, eight TFL, two sacks and 10 pressures. After playing in eight games as a true freshman in 2005, Lewis saw his productivity more than double in 2006 with 21 tackles, eight TFL, three sacks, 11 pressures, three fumble recoveries and a forced fumble. For his career, Lewis has recorded 57 tackles, 19 TFL, 6.5 sacks, 26 pressures, five PBD, three fumble recoveries and a forced fumble in 36 games (12 starts).

BREAKING IN A NEW SECONDARY, AGAIN: For the second straight season, the Longhorn secondary lost three of its four starters. The Horns are replacing first-team All-Big 12 performer S Marcus Griffin, second-team All-Big 12 honoree CB Brandon Foster and S Erick Jackson, who started 10 of 13 games, from the 2007 secondary. Griffin was a two-year starter, who played in 49 career games (23 starts). Foster, who earned a spot on the Indianapolis Colts' practice squad, appeared in 46 career games and started 12 of 13 games last year. Jackson played in 41 career games, making 10 starts. The year before, Texas needed to replace three players who are currently playing in the NFL in CB Tarell Brown (San Francisco 49ers), S Michael Griffin (Tennessee Titans) and CB Aaron Ross (New York Giants). Brown was a three-year starter, who played in 51 career games. Griffin earned first-team All-America honors from Pro Football Weekly, was a semifinalist for the Lott Trophy (Defensive IMPACT Player of the Year) and finished his career as UT's eighth all-time leading tackler (364 tackles). The Horns also lost Thorpe Award winner and first-team All-American Aaron Ross, who led the team in INTs (six) and PBU (19), while making 80 tackles, as a senior in 2006. In addition, the Horns secondary produced two NFL starters from its 2005 squad in Thorpe Award winner and the seventh pick S Michael Huff and first-team All-Big 12 performer and second round NFL Draft pick CB Cedric Griffin.

PALMER TAKES THE LEAD: With three of the four starters from the 2007 secondary needing to be replaced, senior CB Ryan Palmer, the lone returnee, has taken over as the veteran leader in 2008. Joining Palmer (40 games/17 starts) are junior CB Deon Beasley (24 games/five starts) and sophomores CB Chykie Brown (17 games/four starts) and CB Curtis Brown (17 games). In addition, a trio of freshmen have already contributed in 2008. Redshirt freshman Earl Thomas and true freshman Blake Gideon earned the starting safety spots, while redshirt freshman Christian Scott also has seen game action.

Ryan Palmer: Senior Ryan Palmer has notched 117 tackles, six TFL, two INTs, 17 PBU, three forced fumbles and a fumble recovery during his 40-game career (17 starts). In 2008, Palmer has recorded 13 tackles, an INT and a PBU. He opened the year by notching two tackles and an INT in his own end zone that halted a FAU drive. He added two tackles and a PBU at UTEP before leading the team with eight tackles against Rice. In 2007, Palmer, who started all 13 games, finished second on the team in tackles with 80 and led the team with 14 PBU and three forced fumbles. He also added six TFL and a fumble recovery. In the first start of his career against Arkansas State, Palmer notched 10 tackles and a TFL. He also recorded 10 tackles against Iowa State. Palmer posted at least five tackles in 11 of the 13 games and at least two PBU in five, including a career-high three at UCF. He played at cornerback and on special teams as a freshman and sophomore, combining to tally 24 tackles, an INT and two PBU. One of the fastest players on the team, Palmer earned All-Big 12 honors after running the lead leg on Texas' 4x100-meter relay and teamed with former UT corner Brandon Foster to win the 4x100 Texas 5A state championship in 2003.

Deon Beasley: Junior Deon Beasley has played in 24 career games, starting five, at cornerback, posting 51 tackles, three TFL, three INTs and 10 PBU. Beasley posted a tackle in the season opener against FAU before adding three tackles at UTEP, two tackles against Rice and a tackle against Arkansas. In 2007, he tallied 37 tackles, three TFL, three INTs and nine PBU. His three INTs tied for the team lead, while his nine PBU ranked third. In his only start of the season against Rice, Beasley posted six tackles and two PBU. He capped the regular season by posting seven tackles, a TFL and an INT at Texas A&M.

Since Duane Akina arrived at Texas in 2001, all eight starting cornerbacks have gone on to play in the NFL. Seven are currently active, while the other, Rod Babers, played for two years with the Detroit Lions. The group includes three first-round draft picks (Quentin Jammer, 2002; Michael Huff, 2006; Aaron Ross, 2007), two Thorpe Award winners (Michael Huff, 2006; Aaron Ross, 2007), a Thorpe Award finalist (Quentin Jammer, 2001), a Super Bowl Champion (Aaron Ross, 2007) and a Pro Bowler (Nathan Vasher, 2006).

Chykie Brown: Sophomore Chykie Brown saw action in all 13 games at cornerback and on special teams as a redshirt freshman in 2007. He tallied 11 tackles and tied for second on the team with eight special teams tackles. So far in 2008, Brown has tallied 16 tackles, a sack, two TFL and two PBU. He earned the first start of his career against FAU and posted two tackles. Brown added five tackles at UTEP and five tackles, including a TFL, and two PBU against Rice. He recorded the first sack of his career against Arkansas to go along with four tackles.

Earl Thomas: Redshirt freshman Earl Thomas claimed one of the starting safety spots in 2008 and is currently second on the team in tackles with 18 to go along with three PBU and a forced fumble. In the first start of his career in UT's season-opening victory over FAU, Thomas posted five tackles, two PBU, a forced fumble and blocked a punt that led to a Texas TD. He came back to post six tackles at UTEP and three tackles against Rice. Thomas added four tackles and a PBU against Arkansas.

Blake Gideon: After joining the Texas program in January, true freshman Blake Gideon used spring and fall drills to earn a starting spot at safety in 2008 and he currently has 14 tackles, two pressures and two PBU on the season. In his first game against FAU, Gideon notched two tackles. He recorded seven stops, a PBU and a pressure at UTEP before posting four tackles and a pressure against Rice. Gideon added a tackle and a PBU against Arkansas.

BOBINO LEADS TALENTED LINE-BACKING CORP:

Texas' linebacking corps was one of its most experienced position groups in 2007, but the loss of Scott Derry (37 games/23 starts) and Robert Killebrew (49 games/34 starts) required some new faces to step into starting roles. The lone senior, Rashad Bobino, has started 40 of his 43 career games and is leading the rest of the linebacking corp. In addition to Bobino, juniors Sergio Kindle (23 games/three starts), Roddrick Muckelroy (19 games/eight starts) and Jared Norton (28 games/three starts) have starting experience.

Rashad Bobino: A three-year starter and UT's top returning tackler at LB, senior Rashad Bobino was tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12 by The Associated Press in 2007. He has started 40 of his 43 career games and posted 203 tackles, 25 TFL, 4.5 sacks, 20 pressures, 10 PBU, an INT, two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble. In 2008, Bobino has tallied seven tackles, a TFL, three pressures and two PBU. He opened the season by notching three tackles and a pressure against FAU. He added two tackles, two pressures and two PBU at UTEP before posting a tackle against Rice. He recorded his first TFL of the season against Arkansas. In 2007, Bobino recorded 69 tackles, four TFL, six pressures, four PBU and an INT. After starting at weak-side LB for the Horns' 2005 National Championship team, Bobino moved to middle linebacker in 2006. He recorded 74 tackles, 13

TFL, 2.5 sacks, eight pressures, four PBU and a fumble recovery on his way to honorable mention All-Big 12 honors. His 2006 season was highlighted by performances against Iowa State and Texas A&M. Against the Cyclones, Bobino made eight tackles to go along with career highs in TFL (three) and sacks (two). He also broke up a pass and recorded two pressures. He established a career high with 14 tackles and matched his career best with three TFL against Texas A&M. In 2005, Bobino started all 13 games at weakside LB and was named first-team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News. He registered 53 tackles, six of which came in Texas' 25-22 win at No. 4 Ohio State. Bobino also had seven TFL, two sacks, four pressures, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

Roddrick Muckelroy: Junior Roddrick Muckelroy had earned a starting position in 2006 as a redshirt freshman and was off to a great start before an injury ended his year. He started the first three games of 2006, posting 10 tackles, three TFL and a sack before sustaining a ruptured tendon in his ring finger, which forced him to miss the rest of the season. In the first start and first game of his career, Muckelroy posted three tackles, including two TFL, against North Texas. He added three tackles against No. 1 Ohio State and four tackles, including a TFL, at Rice. Back at full strength in 2007, Muckelroy posted 67 tackles, 2.5 sacks, six TFL, an INT, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery. He finished the year strong, tallying 29 tackles, 2.5 sacks, five TFL and two forced fumbles over the final four games, including the Holiday Bowl victory over No. 12 Arizona State, when he notched three tackles, a sack, two TFL and a forced fumble in his only start of the season. After four games in 2008, Muckelroy leads the team with 30 tackles to go along with two TFL and a fumble recovery. He opened the 2008 season against FAU by posting a team-high six tackles, including a TFL to earn the team's Most Productive Performer award. Muckelroy earned Most Productive Performer for the second straight week at UTEP after posting a career-high 14 tackles and a pressure, while returning a fumble 26 yards for his first career TD. He added seven tackles and a pressure against Rice, while earning the team's Hard Hat Award. Muckelroy posted three tackles, including a TFL, against Arkansas. For his career, Muckelroy has tallied 107 tackles, 11 TFL, 3.5 sacks, an INT, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries in 19 games (eight starts).

Jared Norton: During his 28-game career (three starts), junior Jared Norton has posted 85 tackles, seven TFL, three sacks, four pressures, an INT, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery. In 2008, Norton has tallied 17 tackles, two TFL, a sack and two pressures. He opened the season against FAU by tallying four tackles, including a TFL. He added five tackles and a pressure at UTEP before posting four tackles, a sack and a pressure against Rice. Norton tallied four tackles against Arkansas. In 12 games in 2007, Norton tallied 53 tackles, two sacks, four TFL, an INT and a forced fumble. He capped the year by earning the first start of his career in the Holiday Bowl victory against No. 12 Arizona State and posted four tackles, a TFL and a pressure. Norton also played in 12 games as a true freshman at linebacker and on special teams. He notched 15 tackles, a TFL, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

Sergio Kindle: Junior Sergio Kindle has seen action in 23 games (three starts) during his career and tallied 70 tackles, 2.5 sacks, eight TFL, eight pressures, two PBD and a fumble recovery. So far in 2008, Kindle has tallied 17 tackles, two sacks, three pressures, a PBD and a fumble recovery. In the season opener against FAU, Kindle notched two tackles and recovered a fumble that led to a Texas TD. He added four tackles and two pressures at UTEP before posting six tackles, a sack and a PBD against Rice. Kindle led the team in tackles against Arkansas with five to go along with a sack and a pressure. After playing in 11 games as a true freshman in 2006 and notching 21 tackles and three TFL, Kindle appeared in eight games in 2007, posting 32 tackles, a half sack, four TFL, five pressures and a PBD.

HALLSVILLE PRIDE: Longhorn junior WLB Roddrick Muckelroy may be a self-professed small town country kid from the East Texas town of Hallsville (population is about 3,000) but he's making big plays on the field. Including a career-high 14-tackle game in which he returned a fumble 26 yards for a TD at UTEP, Muckelroy leads the Horns with 30 tackles in 2008. He has been UT's most productive linebacker over the past two seasons, but even more so over the last six games. During that stretch, Texas' hard-hitting linebacker has posted 43 tackles, seven TFL, three sacks, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

LAWRENCE HANDLING PLACE-KICKING: After serving as UT's kickoff specialist over his first two seasons, junior Hunter Lawrence is handling the place-kicking duties in 2008. Lawrence has been perfect so far this season in scoring 33 points. He is 24-of-24 on PATs and has hit all three of his field-goal attempts, two of which were from 40 yards.

TUCKER ON KICKOFFS: True freshman Justin Tucker joined the Texas program in January and is handling the kickoff duties in 2008. After kicking the first attempt of his career out of bounds, Tucker placed 19 of his next 31 kickoffs into the end zone with 13 resulting in touchbacks. Against FAU, Tucker put three of his eight kickoffs into the end zone with one touchback. He posted five touchbacks at UTEP and put six of his seven kickoffs into the end zone. Tucker added four touchbacks and put five of his eight kickoffs into the end zone against Rice. He reached the end zone on five of his nine kickoffs against Arkansas, including three touchbacks. Overall, Tucker has kicked off 32 times for a 67.5 ypk average, recorded 13 touchbacks and is holding opponents to an average starting field position of the 24 yard line.

TAKING THE KICK: Senior Quan Cosby took over both the kick return and punt return duties in 2007 from Longhorns who are now playing in the NFL, Selvin Young (Denver Broncos) and Aaron Ross (New York Giants), and went on to be named second-team All-Big 12 by The Associated Press. Cosby returned 42 kickoffs (No. 1 on UT's single-season list) for 1,017 yards (No. 1 on UT's single-season list) for a 24.2 ypr average (No. 7 on UT's single-season list). He posted UT's first kickoff return TD since 2003 when he returned a kickoff 91 yards at Texas A&M. It was the first kickoff return TD Texas A&M had allowed since 1990. In addition, Cosby returned 19 punts for 178 yards (9.4 ypr). Cosby's 61 combined returns (42ko/19p) rank first on UT's single-season list, surpassing Mike Adams' 49 returns (23ko/26p) in 1993. His combined 1,195 returns yards (1,017ko/178p) also rank first on UT's single-season list, bettering Adams' 878 yards (622ko/256p) in 1993. Cosby was UT's leading kickoff return man in 2006, bringing back 13 kicks for 334 yards (25.7 ypr), and was Aaron Ross' top backup at punt returner in 2005 and '06.

COSBY'S CAREER RETURNS: For his career, Cosby has returned 61 kickoffs (No. 2 on UT's all-time list) for 1,500 yards (No. 2 on UT's all-time list) for a 24.6 ypr average (T-No. 5 on UT's all-time list), including a 91-yard TD return at Texas A&M last season and a 78-yard return on the opening kickoff at Nebraska in 2006. He also has returned 32 punts for 374 yards (11.7 ypr), including a 55-yard TD return against Sam Houston State in 2006. Cosby has produced 1,874 combined return yards (1,500 KR/374 PR) on 93 returns (20.2 ypr) during his career.

ELITE RETURN GROUP: With a 91-yard kickoff return for a TD and a 55-yard punt return TD, senior Quan Cosby is just the third Longhorn to return a kickoff and a punt for a TD, joining Raymond Clayborn (1973-76) and Selvin Young (2002-06).

IMMEDIATE IMPACT: Nine true freshmen, Emmanuel Acho, Nolan Brewster, Dan Buckner, Blake Gideon, Jeremy Hills, Kheeston Randall, David Snow, Justin Tucker and Aaron Williams, have seen action in 2008. Mack Brown has now played 93 of a possible 255 true freshmen (36.5%) in his 11 seasons at Texas.

TEXAS BY THE NUMBERS

0: Texas has not allowed a touchdown in the first quarter this season.

0: Texas has not allowed a rushing touchdown this season. In contrast, the Horns have run for 10 scores this season.

1: Junior QB Colt McCoy ranks first all-time at UT in completion percentage (68.1%) and passer rating (156.1).

2: The Longhorns won back-to-back Thorpe Awards thanks to current Oakland Raiders S Michael Huff (2005) and New York Giants DB Aaron Ross (2006).

2: Rice came to Austin ranked eighth nationally in third-down conversions (23-of-42/54.8%), but was successful on just 2-of-14 (14.3%) attempts against Texas.

3: Quan Cosby is one of just three Longhorns (Raymond Clayborn, 1973-76; Selvin Young, 2002-06) who have recorded a kickoff and punt return for a TD during their careers.

4: Freshman running back Cody Johnson has run for a touchdown in all four of Texas' games this season.

4: Texas is just one of three schools nationally that has won four consecutive bowl games. The four straight bowl wins also is a UT first.

SPANISH LANGUAGE BROADCAST

The Longhorns Sports Network will also offer a Spanish Language Radio broadcast of all Texas Football games. The games will be broadcast on a statewide network (Flagship: KINV 107.7 FM) and on the web at www.univision.com.

USE OF AUDIO/VIDEO IN COVERAGE

Any media entity collecting "video or audio materials" (film, traditional video or audio, digital video or audio, photos, etc.) from University of Texas Athletics events (games, practices, post-practice/post-game interviews and press conferences) may use that material only for traditional television newscasts, Web-based or print coverage, or other electronic transmission as approved by The University in writing, with a limitation of up to three (3) minutes in length from any single event. Its usage also must be used only as supporting video/audio for a reported story and not simply as rebroadcast/streamed highlights or interview sessions. Such media entity may not offer any live video, audio or other coverage of the event (or tape-delay rebroadcast coverage in its entirety) without the advance, written permission of The University of Texas Athletics Department.

POSTGAME

The Longhorns' locker room is closed. Interview requests should be given to Assistant AD/Media Relations Director John Bianco. Requested players will be brought to the Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex meeting rooms following home contests and to a designated interview area at road games.

NO INTERVIEWS ARE TO BE CONDUCTED ON THE FIELD FOLLOWING THE GAME. After a NCAA required and team-enforced 10-minute cooling off period, players and coaches will be escorted to the interview area. Failure to abide by this rule will result in termination of credential.

POST-PRACTICE AVAILABILITY

Practices are closed to the public and media. Players and assistant coaches are available by request after Tuesday's practice and head coach Mack Brown is available after Wednesday's practice to wrap up the week. Your requests should be given to Assistant AD/Media Relations Director John Bianco. All post-practice interviews are done on the roof of the Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex.

PHONE

Phone interviews with Longhorns players should be requested at least 24 hours in advance through Assistant AD/Media Relations Director John Bianco (office: 512/471-1346/cell: 512/748-9315). Based on the players' schedules, the call will either be made following practice or at an assigned time. The last chance for player interviews is after Tuesday's practice. Phone interviews with coaches and staff members should be requested at least 24 hours in advance through Bill Little (office: 512/471-6062/cell: 512/748-9316).
