THE GAME: The University of Colorado will play its final nonconference game of the 2009-10 season by hosting Yale University on Monday, Jan. 4, at 7 p.m. at the Coors Events/Conference Center.

BROADCAST: All Colorado women's basketball games can be heard live on KKZN AM 760. Mike Rice will handle play-by-play duties with USA Basketball's Carol Callan providing the color commentary. Live internet audio of all CU basketball games is available on BuffsRadio, a subscription service through CUBuffs.com. Live internet video streaming of Monday's game is available on BuffsTV, also a subscription service through CUBuffs.com. Please note the BuffsRadio audio and BuffsTV video are separate subscriptions.

OPENING TIP: Monday's game will be Colorado's 500th home contest. The Buffaloes are 371-128 (.743) all-time in home games a mark that includes four seasons (1975-79) at the Balch Fieldhouse. CU is 338-107 all-time at the Coors Events Center (.760).

THE BUFFALOES: Colorado is 9-3 overall, looking to win double-digit nonconference regular season games for the second time in three years (2007-08). Monday's game is the last tune up for Big 12 Conference play which begins on Saturday, Jan. 9, when the Buffaloes will host Missouri in a 12 p.m. game televised nationally on

FSN. Monday's game will be Colorado's fifth straight at home.

TEAM NUMBERS: Colorado is averaging 73 points per game and shooting 44 percent from the field. Prior to the Virginia game, the Buffaloes had hit 80-plus points in their last five home games and shot a combined 50 percent (162-of-321) in those five wins. It was the first time CU has scored 80-plus in five straight at home since the 2001-02 season when the Buffs registered 80 in six straight with wins over San Diego (83-44), Bowling Green (96-44), Houston (88-58), Iowa (92-83), Air Force (80-47) and Wyoming (81-57).

Colorado shot a season best 59.3 percent in its win over Grambling State (35-59), its best mark since shooting 61.9 percent (26-of-42) in a 77-71 win at Kansas on Feb. 1, 2006.

CU is averaging 8.7 3-pointers per game, ranking second in the Big 12 and 13th in the NCAA through games of Dec. 20. The Buffaloes are also the No. 1 free throw shooting team in the Big 12 at 77 percent (137-of-179). Colorado is averaging 39.8 rebounds per game, and winning the battle of the boards by 4.3 per game. The Buffaloes are also averaging 9.8 steals per game and forcing opponents into 18.6 turnovers per contest.

SPEARS' HOT START: Brittany Spears is off to a great start as she leads the Buffaloes at 20.2 points, 8.7 rebounds, 2.6 steals and 1.3 blocks per game. She has four double-doubles on the season which currently ties for third in the Big 12. On the league charts she ranks third in scoring, fourth in steals, fifth in overall rebounds and defensive rebounds (6.0 drpg), seventh in free-throw percentage (.811) and minutes (32.2 mpg), ninth in 3-pointers made (2.3 3mpg), and 10th in blocked shots.

Spears has scored 20 or more points in four straight (22.8 ppg) and seven overall. She has now made 52 of her last 97 field goal attempts (.536) and 17-of-32 from 3-point range (.531) during that span.

SMITH OFF THE BENCH, SAME RESULTS: After starting the entire 2008-09 season, senior guard Bianca Smith has come off the bench for all but one game without missing a beat. She is averaging 14.8 points and 2.5 rebounds per game and is still displaying her sharp-shooting abilities. Smith leads the Big 12 with 40 3-pointers and is the Big 12's best free throw shooter making 25 of her first 26 attempts on the season (.962) and has made 17 straight. She is 13th in 3-point accuracy at 42.1 percent (34-of-84).

Smith ranks 12th in overall scoring in the Big 12 and third among those players primarily coming off the bench (starting less than half of a team's games). Here are the current leaders:

Player, Team	PPG
Brittainey Raven, Texas	14.9
Bianca Smith, Colorado	14.8
Danielle Adams, Texas A&M	14.6
Ashley Field, Baylor	8.4
Christine Flores, Missouri	8.6

FRESHMEN THRIVING: Freshmen Chucky Jeffery and Meagan Malcolm-Peck have made major contributions to Colorado's solid start.

Jeffery is third on the team in scoring at 8.6 points per game and is second in steals (2.1 spg) and third in rebounds (5.4 rpg). She tops all Big 12 freshmen in steals and is eighth overall in that category on the league charts. Jeffery was named to the 2009 Omni Hotels Classic All-Tournament Team. Over the two games she averaged 12.5 points, 5.5 rebounds, 3.0 assists, 2.5 steals and shot 61 percent (11-of-16).

On the team charts, Malcolm-Peck leads CU in blocks (1.9 bpg) and is second in rebounding (6.2 ppg) and fourth in scoring (7.0 ppg). On the Big 12 charts, Malcolm-Peck is fourth in offensive rebounds (3.3 orgp), fifth in blocks and 19th in overall rebounding.

FRESSLE HEATING UP: After a slow start, sophomore guard Alyssa Fressle is finding her freshman form that gained her a spot on the 2009 Big 12 All-Rookie team. Fressle is averaging 7.0 points over the last seven games while grabbing 2.4 rebounds and dishing out 2.4 assists per contest during that span. She has shot 50 percent or better in five of the last seven games and has made eight of her last 13 from the field (.615)

GETTING 'ER DUNN: Senior center Courtney Dunn, who has started 10 of the last 11 contests, matched a career high with eight rebounds in the win over Grambling State. She had a career night against Denver, logging personal bests with 16 points, 5-of-7 from the field and 4-of-4 from the line. Her 16 points equaled her total for the first five games of the season combined. Her previous career high was nine against Kansas (1/22/08), a mark she eclipsed in the first half alone (14).

MULLANEY BOLSTERS BENCH: Junior guard Kelly Jo Mullaney continues to give Colorado key minutes and punch off the bench. She had 11 points on 5-of-6 from the field with five rebounds in the win over Grambling State. She averages 4.8 points and 2.5 rebounds for the Buffaloes and has hit 6-of-12 from 3-point range on the season. She is two-thirds to her 3-point output from 2008-09 when she made nine in 28 games.

ABOUT THE BULLDOGS: Yale is 4-7 overall and has lost its last four. The Bulldogs average 60 points per game and shoot 36 percent from the field. Freshman guard Megan Vasquez leads Yale at 10.8 points per game.

SERIES RECORDS: This will be the first meeting between Yale and Colorado. The Buffaloes are 5-0 against Ivy League schools including a 67-65 win over Harvard on Nov. 28.

Kathy McConnell-Miller has never faced Yale as a head coach.

BIG 12 HONORS BUFFS: Freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck was named Phillips 66 Big 12 Women's Basketball Freshman of the Week on Dec. 28 for games played from Dec. 21-27. It was CU's second Big 12 weekly honor as junior Brittany Spears was named Co-Player of the Week on Nov. 23 for games from Nov. 16-22.

Malcolm-Peck pulled down a team-high 10 rebounds with four points in Colorado's win over San Jose State - her second double-digit rebounding effort of the season. She also recorded personal bests with four steals and three assists while tying a career high with three blocked shots. Malcolm-Peck's four steals came in the first eight minutes of the game as the Buffaloes built a 46-13 lead in the first half. For Malcolm-Peck it is her first weekly honor.

Spears was named to the Minnesota Subway Classic All-Tournament team after averaging 23 points and 10 rebounds in two games. She scored 19 points and pulled down seven rebounds in 25 minutes in the 63-49 win over Illinois-Chicago. She then recorded her 17th career double-double and second of the season with a game-high 27 points and 13 rebounds against Minnesota in the tournament final. She reached a double-double before intermission with 16 points and 10 rebounds in the opening 20 minutes. Spears hit 10-of-20 shots from the field and added four assists and four steals.

For Spears it was her fifth career Big 12 weekly honor, and first as Player of the Week. She earned four Big 12 Rookie of the Week citations as a freshman in 2007-08.

STEAL-Y EYED: Colorado has been picking up steals in bunches this season. CU logged 12 steals against Grambling State, giving the Buffaloes double-digit steals in seven of 12 games this season. CU had only five games with double-digit steals in 29 games in 2008-09 and seven in 34 games in 2007-08.

SHUTTING DOWN OPPONENT'S 'O' EARLY: Colorado held San Jose State to 13 first-half points. Combined with the 11 allowed against Southern Utah in the previous game, the 24 points in back-to-back first halves are the lowest combined total in team history. The previous low total was 27 in 2001-02 in games against San Diego (36-18) and Bowling Green (53-9).

NUGGETS FROM THE SOUTHERN UTAH GAME: Colorado's 88-36 win over Southern Utah entered the Buffaloes' record book on several fronts:

- Colorado's 42 point halftime lead (53-11) tied for the second largest in team history. The Buffaloes also held a 42 point lead against Colorado State on Nov. 16 1979 (63-21). The school record is a 44 point lead CU had against Bowling Green on Nov. 23, 2001 (53-9).

Southern Utah's 11 first half points tied for the fifth fewest by a CU opponent in any half. The school record is 8 set against Kansas State on March 7, 1992 (46-8).

Fewest Points In One Half By An Opponent

Date	Opponent	Points
3/7/92	vs. Kansas State	8
11/23/01	vs. Bowling Green	9
12/9/98	at Wyoming	10
12/31/91	vs. New Mexcio	10
12/19/09	vs. Southern Utah	11
3/17/95	vs. SW Missouri State	11

Colorado's final winning margin of 52 points are CU's most since a 96-44 win over Bowling Green on Nov. 23, 2001.

Southern Utah's 36 total points tied for the 10th fewest allowed in team history and the fewest since giving up 35 to Kansas on Jan. 16, 2002.

CLIMBING THE LADDERS: Junior Brittany Spears and Senior Bianca Smith continue to make their impressions on the CU record book.

Spears, who became just the second player in team history (Lisa Van Goor) to reach 1,000 points as a sophomore, is 17th on CU's all-time scoring list with 1,244. Spears is also seventh in blocked shots (101), eighth in 3-pointers made (128) and attempted (379), 13th in rebounds (590), 15th in steals (143) and 16th in field goals made (459).

Smith is third in career 3-point field goals made (215) and attempted (569). She made her 200th career 3-pointer in the win over Southern Utah on Dec. 19. She needs 10 more to pass Mandy Nightingale (1998-02) for second place on CU's all-time list. Smith, who currently has 40 3-pointers on the season, would need 77 total this year to break Shelley Sheetz's career mark of 252, but it's possible. Smith holds CU's single-season mark hitting 80 from downtown in 2007-08.

IMPRESSIVE POINT SWING: The 63 point swing from last year's 77-40 loss to Seton Hall to this year's 80-54 win is the second largest in a series in team history (games no longer than two seasons apart). The Buffaloes had a 67 point swing against Idaho State during the 1981-82 season. Here are the top point swings in team history.

Opponent	Margin	Date	Margin	Date	Difference
Idaho State	-6 (55-61)	1/22/82	+61 (116-55)	2/13/82	+67
Seton Hall	-37 (40-77)	12/9/08	+26 (80-54)	12/6/09	+63

back win against UC Irvine. Forward Meagan Malcolm-Peck got the starting nod and responded with six points, 11 rebounds, three blocks and three steals. Guard Chucky Jeffery came off the bench and registered four points, seven rebounds, three assists and two steals.

Malcolm-Peck's start marked the fourth straight year the Buffaloes have had a freshman in the initial season starting lineup. The three others: Bianca Smith in 2006, Brittany Spears in 2007 and Alyssa Fressle in 2008.

REBOUNDING WOWS: Colorado has enjoyed early success on the boards. The Buffaloes began the season with back-to-back 50-plus rebounding efforts, corralling 50 against UC Irvine in the season opener and improving on that mark with 52 against Illinois-Chicago.

Colorado had just one game all of 2008-09 with 50 or more rebounds, notching 51 against Arkansas-Pine Bluff on Dec. 2. CU's 52 rebounds against Illinois-Chicago were its most since recording 58 at Colorado State on Dec. 1, 2007.

The Buffaloes back-to-back 50-rebound effort was the teams first since stringing together three straight from Nov. 20-24, 2001 (50 vs. San Diego, 59 vs. Bowling Green, 50 vs. Houston). CU wasn't able to get a third 50-rebound game this time, grabbing just 24 against Minnesota, but it should be noted that both teams shot right at 50 percent from the field in that game, leaving rebounds at a premium (UM won the rebounding battle 32-24).

Against UC Irvine, Brittany Spears led the way with 14 while Meagan Malcolm-Peck grabbed 11 in her CU debut. It marked the first time the Buffs had two players reach double-digits in rebounds since Brittany Spears and Julie Seabrook each had 13 against Idaho State on Dec. 30, 2008. In the Illinois-Chicago game, the rebounds were well distributed. No one had double digits, but six players had four or more rebounds and all 10 that played had at least one.

Back to UC Irvine, Malcom-Peck's 11 rebounds, six of which came on the offensive end, put her in some exclusive CU company. Her 11 boards are the third most in team history by a freshman in her CU debut and the most in 27 years:

No.	Player	Opponent
16	Monica Kosenski	vs. Northern Arizona, 11/28/86
13	Kim Jackson	vs. UTEP, 11/19/82
11	Meagan Malcolm-Peck	vs. UC Irvine 11/17/09
10	Randie Wirt	vs. Albany, 11/17/00
10	Lisa Van Goor	vs. Colorado Women's, 11/18/80
9	Crystal Ford	vs. Adams State, 11/23/85
8	Jamillah Lang	vs. Gonzaga, 11/23/90

Chucky Jeffery had seven rebounds in her debut. She is one of eight different players, a list that includes Brittany Spears (at San Francisco, 11/16/07), to reach that number in her first collegiate game.

MEMORABLE COMEBACK: Colorado's comeback from a 14-point halftime deficit to win against UC Irvine ties for the third-largest margin achieved in team history. The Buffaloes trailed the Anteaters 33-19 at the break before outscoring them 42-23 in the final 20 minutes.

Colorado came back from 19 down against the University of Washington on Dec. 21, 1982, at the Guisti Tournament in Portland, Ore. CU trailed 35-16 at halftime before winning 67-65. Colorado came back from 15 points down against Kansas State on Jan. 31, 2007, that game included a 23-0 second half run.

CU's Top Halftime Comebacks:

CAPTAINS NAMED: Before the season opener head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller announced that Brittany Spears, Whitney Houston and Bianca Smith were named captains for the 2009-10 season. Smith is a captain for the second straight year while Houston and Spears are first time captains. CU captains are voted on by the players.

BUFFS IN OPENERS: Colorado is now 31-5 (.861) all-time in season openers and started the season with a home game for the 24th time in 36 seasons. Colorado is an outstanding 34-2 (.944) all-time in home openers. Colorado has never lost its overall season opener when played at home (24-0).

TOUGH SCHEDULE: Colorado once again faces a tough schedule with potentially 16 games -- or 55 percent of the regular season schedule -- against 2009 NCAA or WNIT tournament teams. Seven of CU's 2009-10 opponents are ranked in the current Associated Press poll while six are ranked in the USA Today/ESPN/WBCA Coaches poll.

HOME AT THE CECC: Colorado is traditionally tough at home with a 338-107 all-time record at the Coors Events/Conference Center (.760). The Buffaloes have won 10 or more games in a season at the CECC in 20 of the previous 31 years. The Buffaloes have enjoyed five undefeated seasons (1980-83, 1992-94) at the CECC.

BUFFS ON TV: Colorado's regular season schedule features nine games that will be televised either regionally or nationally, eight of which are at home. CU opened its first of eight FSN Rocky Mountain games on Dec. 2, against Denver. FSN Rocky Mountain will also televise home games against Virginia (Jan. 2), Missouri (Jan. 9), Iowa State (Jan. 16), Oklahoma State (Jan. 24), Nebraska (Jan. 30), Texas (Feb. 10) and Kansas (Feb. 16). The games against Missouri and Oklahoma State will be televised nationally on FSN as part of the network's Big 12 package. Colorado's game at Kansas State (Jan. 20) will be produced by FSN Kansas City, but will also be picked up by FSN Rocky Mountain.

Colorado was 2-5 in televised games during the 2008-09 regular season. CU has appeared on 72 regional or national telecasts over the previous eight seasons.

BUFFS SIGN THREE: Shae Kelley, Ashley Wilson and Brittany Wilson have signed National Letters of Intent to play basketball and continue their education at the University of Colorado in 2010-11, CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller announced Nov. 12, during the NCAA early signing period. Kelley, a 6-foot forward from Denver, is a two-time All-State honorable mention and All-Denver Prep League pick out of East High School. Kelley will be the fifth Denver Public Schools player to suit up for the Buffaloes and the first since Montbello's Nikki Weddle (1997-99). Ashley and Brittany are identical twin 5-8 guards from Long Beach, Calif. Playing for one of the most storied programs in Southern California, the Wilson twins have won three consecutive CIF Division I state titles with nationally-ranked Long Beach Poly.

SMITH GAINS FULL SEASON: Senior guard Bianca Smith was formally released from the National Letter of Intent she originally signed at the University of Tulsa earlier this summer, allowing her to gain back the semester of eligibility she would have otherwise had to surrender this season. Smith is now eligible to play the entire 2009-10 season for the Buffaloes. Smith, a native of Missouri City, Texas, had signed an NLI in November 2004 with Tulsa, who at the time was coached by current CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller. When McConnell-Miller took over the Colorado program in April 2005, Smith decided to follow her to Boulder.

She never enrolled at Tulsa, but was faced with sitting out two full seasons, one for not honoring her NLI commitment to Tulsa and a second for transferring to another NCAA Division I school. Smith was able to use her redshirt year to fulfill the NCAA transfer obligation, sitting out the 2005-06 season. She successfully petitioned the NLI Appeals Committee in 2005 to gain one semester back, but was still faced with losing one semester under the NLI commitment.

In the spring of 2009 then-CU-Boulder Chancellor Bud Peterson contacted Tulsa President, Dr. Steadman Upham, on behalf of Smith and the University of Colorado to ask for Smith's full release. Thanks to cooperation from both universities and athletic departments, Smith was released and rewarded a full final season.

BUFFS PICKED 11TH...AGAIN: For the fourth straight season Colorado was picked to finish 11th in the annaul Big 12 Conference Preseason Coaches Poll.

In one of the closest votes at the top in recent memory, Baylor was picked to win the 2010 title with five first place votes and 109 total points, edging out Texas and Kansas who tied for second with 106 points (3 first place votes each). Texas A&M was picked fourth with 87 votes and picked up the final first place vote. Defending champion Oklahoma was fifth (86), followed by Nebraska (80), Iowa State (59), Kansas State (44), Oklahoma State (41), Texas Tech (38), Colorado (22) and Missouri (15).

The Buffaloes have fared better than the Big 12 coaches preseason prediction three of four seasons under Kathy McConnell-Miller:

2009-10 Opponents in Bold

Kathy McConnell-Miller Head Coach Fifth Season

When Kathy McConnell-Miller took over the University of Colorado program four years ago, there's no question the Buffaloes were rebuilding and the team was a work in progress.

In four seasons at Colorado, there is no question that McConnell-Miller's Buffaloes have made progress and the program is heading in the right direction.

McConnell-Miller, 41, sports a 61-74 record in her four-plus seasons at Colorado and is 152-162 overall in 10-plus seasons as an NCAA Division I head coach.

Injuries, graduation and playing in the nation's premier women's basketball conference, the Big 12, hampered the progress her teams had built her first three seasons in 2008-09 as the Buffaloes struggled to an 11-18 mark and a 12th place finish in league play. But returning nine contributing players and adding the 32nd best recruiting class in the nation has the Buffaloes pointing in the right direction once again.

The 2009-10 season will mark the first year in which the Buffaloes are comprised completely of players coach McConnell-Miller brought to campus. She fared well with the players inherited from legendary CU head coach Ceal Barry, but she has also excelled in bringing in her own players. McConnell-Miller, and her staff, who from day one have established a family type atmosphere in the lockerroom and a fighting spirit in their players, have been committed to keeping Colorado's best players home, and have certainly succeeded on that front.

For three straight seasons, Colorado has landed at least one of the state's premier prep stars, beginning in 2007 with Aija Putnina, who contributed two solid seasons for the Buffaloes, including the 2008 WNIT run, before returning to her native Latvia to pursue a professional career. In 2008, the Buffaloes landed the consensus Colorado Player of the Year Alyssa Fressle out of Highlands Ranch, who made an immediate contribution and was rewarded with a spot on the Big 12 All-Rookie Team.

CU hit the state jackpot in 2009 with three All-Colorado caliber players; twins Meagan and Brenna Malcolm-Peck, Boulder natives who played at Horizon High School, and Chucky Jeffery, one of the top Class 4A players in 2009 for Sierra High School in Colorado Springs. The regional additions of Kailah Bailey and Melissa MacFarlane, both of Omaha, Neb., have given the Buffaloes their third Top 40 class in the last four years.

In 2006, Colorado had the No. 29 ranked class according to the All-Star Girls Report. What was remarkable about the class of 2006 is McConnell-Miller and her staff didn't even have the chance to start on the recruiting trail until April when they arrived in Boulder. Despite that late start, McConnell-Miller and her staff managed to sign five top 150 players, including Whitney Houston and Putnina who made significant contributions in their first two seasons.

Her first three seasons at Colorado were marked by significant improvement each year. From a nine-win season her first year in Boulder, to a 13-17 mark in 2006-07, in 2007-08 she guided the Buffaloes to a 19-15 record and the team's first winning season and postseason berth since the 2003-04 campaign.

McConnell-Miller experienced quite a few firsts during CU's memorable 2007-08 season. She led Colorado to its first Associated Press national ranking in four seasons, peaking at No. 23, and in the process became the 22nd person in NCAA Division I women's history to coach and play for an AP ranked team.

McConnell-Miller's Buffaloes beat three ranked teams in 2007-08 - another first in four years - and finished ninth in the tough Big 12 Conference at 5-11. With a league-record eight Big 12 teams advancing to the NCAA Tournament, CU gained the conference's automatic bid into the WNIT where the Buffaloes proceeded to advance to the semifinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Marquette. It was CU's first ever appearance in the semifinals of a postseason event and for McConnell-Miller, she claimed the first three postseason wins of her head coaching career (3-3).

The signs of progress were also evident in her second season, 2006-07, when the Buffaloes finished tied for seventh in the Big 12 at 6-10. CU's six league wins in 2006-07 were more than the previous two years combined (3-13 in 2005-06 and 2-14 in 2004-05) and the Buffs won their first Big 12 Tournament game since 2003.

McConnell-Miller, who officially became the sixth head coach in the history of CU women's basketball on April 27, 2005, presided over the development of Jackie McFarland, one of the top players in the Big 12 from 2004-08. McFarland was a two-time AP honorable mention All-American and three-time All-Big 12 selection including back-to-back first team honors in 2007 and 2008. All-league selections are nothing new to McConnell-Miller as she has had at least one first or second team all-conference performer in each of her 10 seasons as a collegiate head coach. The latest in her run of all-star caliber players is junior Brittany Spears who last season became just the second player in team history to reach 1,000 points by the end of her sophomore year.

The Buffaloes have also had academic success in the McConnell-Miller era. In her three seasons, McConnell-Miller has coached 12 Academic All-Big 12 Women's Basketball team members and helped guide McFarland to three ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors, including first team acclaim in 2007-08.

Before arriving at CU, McConnell-Miller spent six seasons as head coach at the University of Tulsa where she constructed an impressive turnaround of the Golden Hurricane program. Before her arrival in 1999-2000, Tulsa had just one winning season in its 14-year history, an overall record of 81-250 (.324), and was actually dropped as a varsity sport for nine years following the 1986-87 campaign. In her six seasons at Tulsa, McConnell-Miller recorded a program-best 91 wins (15.2 wins per year), winning seasons in three of the last four years and two postseason appearances.

She left as Tulsa's all-time leader for coaching victories with a record of 91-88 and owns the longest tenure in school history by a women's basketball coach. McConnell-Miller, who earned WAC Coach of the Year honors in her rookie season as a collegiate head coach in 1999-00, led Tulsa to 14 or more wins in five of her six campaigns.

Under the direction of McConnell-Miller, Tulsa placed at least one player on either the All-WAC first or second team, each of her six seasons. McConnell-Miller also had the Golden Hurricane excelling in the classroom sporting four ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District first and second team performers. Tulsa players also earned 23 All-WAC Academic Team honors. One of McConnell-Miller's prize players was Allison Curtin who was an AP honorable mention All-American for the Golden Hurricane and was drafted by the Houston Comets in the first round of the 2003 WNBA Draft.

Prior to her appointment at Tulsa, McConnell-Miller spent four seasons on Theresa Greutz's staff at the University of Illinois (1995-99). She was an assistant coach for her first three years before being promoted to associate head coach for her final season. The Fighting Illini posted an overall record of 76-45 and advanced to three NCAA Tournaments with McConnell-Miller on the bench. Illinois won the Big Ten Conference Championship in 1997 and twice advanced to the Sweet 16. While at Illinois, McConnell-Miller was vital in the signing of a pair of recruiting classes that ranked among the top five in the nation.

McConnell-Miller coached with Greutz for a total of six years as she went with Greutz to Illinois from Rutgers University in 1995. McConnell-Miller was a Rutgers assistant for two seasons (1993-95), helping the Lady Knights post a pair of winning campaigns, the 1994 Atlantic 10 Championship and a spot in the NCAA Tournament. Her recruiting expertise was well documented at Rutgers as her last class was rated as the 14th-best nationally, giving McConnell-Miller back-to-back Top 15 classes.

Her first collegiate assistant coaching job came at her hometown school, the University of Pittsburgh. She joined the Panthers in 1991 and served as the recruiting coordinator. She was also an assistant coach for the 1993 Big East All-Star Team which played in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

She is a member of the Western Pennsylvania Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, and was inducted into the Seton LaSalle High School Hall of Fame in October of 2006.

McConnell-Miller enjoyed a four-year playing career at guard for the University of Virginia (1986-90). She played in four NCAA Tournaments with the Cavaliers including a pair of Sweet 16 appearances and the 1988 Elite Eight. McConnell-Miller earned her bachelor's degree in rhetoric and communications from Virginia in 1989.

One of eight children, she is one of six McConnell siblings who attended college on a basketball scholarship.

Four McConnell's are presently in the coaching ranks, three at the college level and one at the high school level. Her older sister, Suzie McConnell Serio is currently the head coach of Duquesne University and was the head coach of the Minnesota Lynx of the WNBA for three seasons (2003-06).

Born on Sept. 24, 1967, McConnell-Miller and her husband, Brad Miller, have three children: Brice (9), Mackenzie (8) and Macie (4).

#3 Whitney Houston, 5-5, Junior, Guard, Memphis, Tenn. (Hillcrest)

This Season:

- Made her second start of the season against Grambling State, subbing for the injured Chucky Jeffery.
- Dished out a season-best five assists against Seton Hall.
- Played in her first game since April 2008, scoring 11 points on 5-of-10 shooting and two steals against UC Irvine.

- Missed the Illinois-Chicago game with a slight concussion sustained in the season opener, but returned against Minnesota scoring 10 points and dishing out three assists.

Career:

- Redshirted the 2008-09 season after suffering a season-ending knee injury in preseason workouts.
- Named CU's "Sixth Man" Award winner for 2007-08. She was CU's leader in scoring and assists among those players who primarily came off the bench.
- Averaged 9.5 points and two assists in four 2008 WNIT games and turned the ball over just five times, and only once in the final three games.
- Had 15 3-pointers in 2008-09 after going just 1-of-17 in 29 games as a freshman.
- Won the team's Most Improved Player Award after the 2006-07 season.
- Led CU in assists with 64 in 2006-07, the first freshman to do so since Linda Lappe did it in 1998-99.

- Ranked fifth in assists (2.2) and eighth in scoring (7.9 ppg) among freshmen in the Big 12 Conference.

- A 2006 graduate of Hillcrest High School in Memphis where she led the Lady Vikings to the Tennessee Class AA state title as a senior. She was the state tournament MVP as Hillcrest finished with a 35-3 record and delivered the Memphis area its first girls Division 1 basketball state title in 21 years.

- A Miss Basketball finalist in Tennessee, averaging 19 points, six assists and three rebounds per game as a senior. She was a Class AA All-State first team selection and also earned Class AA All-Metro and District MVP honors.

- A four-time member of the Memphis Commercial Appeal's Best of the Preps/ All-Metro Class A-AA team and was one of five finalists for the overall girls basketball Best of the Preps award as a junior and senior.

- She lists the biggest moments of her career as being inducted into the Honor Society and winning the state championship.

- She is a women's studies major at Colorado.

#22 Brittany Spears, 6-1, Junior, Forward, Pasadena, Calif. (Pasadena/Notre Dame Prep)

This Season:

-Has made 52 of her last 97 field goal attempts (.536) including 17-of-32 from 3-point range (.531).

- Recorded her 19th career double-double fourth of the season with 24 points and 12 rebounds against Seton Hall. Her four double-doubles tie for third in the Big 12 this season. Also had a career-best five 3-point field goals against the Pirates.

- On the league charts she ranks third in scoring, fourth in steals, fifth in overall rebounds and defensive rebounds (6.0 drpg), seventh in free-throw percentage (.811) and minutes (32.2 mpg), ninth in 3-pointers made (2.3 3mpg), and 10th in blocked shots.

- Named the Big 12 Women's Basketball Co-Player of the Week on Nov. 23. Her fifth career Big 12 weekly honor, and first as Player of the Week. She earned four Big 12 Rookie of the Week citations as a freshman in 2007-08.

- Named Omni Hotels Classic MVP, averaging 15.5 points and 9.0 rebounds over the two games.

- Named to the Minnesota Subway Classic All-Tournament team after averaging 23 points and 10 rebounds in two games.

Career:

- 2009 All-Big 12 Conference second team selection.

- The second player in team history -- joining CU Athletic Hall of Famer Lisa Van Goor -- to reach 1,000 career points by the end of a sophomore season.

Overall was the 22nd Buff to reach 1,000 and the second fastest.

- On CU's career charts ranks seventh in blocked shots (101), eighth in 3-pointers made (128) and attempted (379), 13th in rebounding (590), 15th in steals (143), 16th in field goals made (459) and 17th in scoring (1,244).

- As a sophomore on the Big 12 charts ranked second in minutes, third in scoring, fourth in defensive rebounds, seventh in overall rebounds, eighth in steals and 3-point percentage, ninth in blocks, 10th in field-goal percentage 12th in 3-pointers made and 14th in free-throw percentage.

- Her 18.3 point average as a sophomore stands as the sixth best single-season mark in team history and her 530 points rank ninth.

- The fifth player in team history with 400 points in each of her first two seasons, and the fourth to do it as a freshman-sophomore.

- Played all 40 minutes in a three-game stretch starting with the Missouri game. She is the first CU player to play 40 or more minutes in three straight games since Mandy Nightingale in 2000. In all played 172 consecutive minutes over five games (Oklahoma to Kansas).

- Named MVP of the Paradise Classic averaging 16 points, 7 rebounds and 3 blocks over the two game tournament. Averaged 26 points in the two games of the Coors Classic, earning All-Tournament honors.

- Scored a career high 36 points against UMass, a Classic record and tying for the third best total in team history (Jasmina Ilic scored 36 against Nebraska on Jan. 4, 2006). She also set Classic records for field goals in one game (12 vs. UMass) and field goal attempts over two games (40).

BOULDER - Whitney Houston returned with a rush on Sunday. It almost made her year's absence worthwhile. Almost.

In her first game back after missing last season due to knee surgery, the junior point guard hit a layup and a three-pointer in crunch time to help push the Colorado women's basketball team past UC Irvine 61-56 in CU's season opener.

The Buffaloes trailed 33-19 at halftime. Rallying from that 14-point deficit at intermission ties for the third-largest comeback in school history.

Houston's layup gave the Buffaloes their first lead (54-52) of the game. Then she followed with her trey from the top of the key to allow CU breathing room it hadn't enjoyed for most of the afternoon.

"I guess I can say we needed it," Houston said of her late heroics. "It's my responsibility as a point guard . . . to give us that spark."

That she could provide it when necessary is a testament to her perseverance. "When you (miss) a year, nobody can duplicate that time off," Buifs coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "She's still finding her role and trying to figure it out."

Houston and teammate Bianca Smith finished with 11 points each, seven fewer than team high-scorer Brittany Spears, who opened her junior season with a double-double (18 points, 14 rebounds).

Attribute it to a case of opening afternoon jitters at the Coors Events Center, maybe the weekend snowstorm or perhaps something else outlandish, but it would have been difficult to imagine the Buifs starting more ineffectively. CU quickly found themselves behind 18-7 with 10 minutes to play in the half.

McConnell-Miller said her team's first half "was not up to expectations," adding UCI "came in with the mentality to win." While she was "proud of the way my team fought back to win," she said she doesn't want the Buifs to continue to put themselves in that position."I don't like having to come back," she said.

How did the slow start happen? For starters, CU hit just four of its first 15 shots (26.7 percent) from the field and had trouble stopping UCI (0-2) in transition.

Rebounding was an early problem, too, with the Buifs finding themselves out-boarded 16-7 with 7:48 left in the half. They managed to right themselves on the boards (CU outrebounded UCI 50-32 for the game), but their shooting stayed frigid through the opening half.

By halftime, CU was only 8-of-28 from the field (28.6 percent) and UCI was up 33-19, with Smith-Williams' dozen points - which included three-of-three from behind the arc - leading all scorers and keying a pair of 10-0 runs.

CU scored nine points to open the second half, pulling to within five (33-28) before UCI coach Molly Goodenbour called a timeout with 16:33 to play.

The five-point deficit was as close as the Buifs had been since trailing 22-17. But after an Anteaters turnover out of the timeout, Alyssa Fressle hit a short jumper in the lane and CU had trimmed the margin to 33-30.

A put-back by freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck made it 33-32 and completed CU's 13-0 run to open the second half. With 14:15 to play, Smith-Williams' two free throws finally earned UCI its second-half points.

But just as suddenly, the Anteaters were off and running again, outscoring the Buifs 12-2 over the next 4 minutes to reclaim a double-digit advantage (45-34) with just under 10 minutes remaining.

UCI matched its biggest lead of the afternoon - 14 points - on a layup by Kim Barnes that made the score 50-36.

But Houston and the Buifs weren't done. Smith's three-pointer and a three-point layup by Spears helped bring them to 52-48 with 4:03 left.

A pair of free throws by Spears half a minute later pulled CU to 52-50. She tied the score at 52-52 on a short jumper, then watched her roommate, Houston, give the Buifs their first lead with 1:38 to play.

After Houston's clutch three-pointer, Kelly Jo Mullaney and Smith added two free throws each in the final 17.6 seconds to seal the win.

MINNEAPOLIS - Kelly Jo Mullaney was focused on returning home, and Kathy McConnell-Miller saw it on the floor.

In front of numerous family members and friends, Mullaney scored 11 of her 13 points in the second half to help propel Colorado to a 63-49 win over Illinois-Chicago in the opening game of the 2009 Subway Classic at Williams Arena on the campus of the University of Minnesota.

Mullaney, a Minneapolis native who won a state championship with The Breck School on this floor in 2004, hit 4-of-7 from the field, including two 3-pointers, and corralled seven rebounds to give the Buffaloes their second straight 2-0 season start.

"Kelly Jo's preparation this week was unlike anything I had seen from her in her past three years at Colorado," McConnell-Miller said. "She was focused, determined and had a confidence about her we hadn't seen before. She wanted to come back home and perform at her best. She played a great floor game tonight and we're just proud she was able to do that in Minnesota."

Junior Brittany Spears, who battled foul trouble and played an unusually low 25 minutes, still led Colorado in scoring with 19 points. She nabbed seven rebounds and was a perfect 6-of-6 from the line.

The Buffaloes (2-0) will face Minnesota on Sunday at 5 p.m. MST. UIC falls to 0-3 and will play the Gophers on Saturday.

Colorado led the entire way, but could not distance themselves from the Flames until late. Both teams were stone cold in the first half. CU held Illinois-Chicago to just 21 percent shooting in the first 20 minutes, but didn't fare much better on its end making only 25 percent (7-of-28).

The Buffaloes looked to be on the brink of pulling away as they built a 14-6 lead with 8:38 remaining in the first half, but the Flames scored eight straight to tie the game at 14. Mullaney then scored her first points on a put back of a Chucky Jeffery miss to give CU the lead for good. Bianca Smith followed with a 3-pointer to widen the gap back to five before the Buffaloes settled for a 21-17 halftime lead.

UIC cut the lead to 28-25 early in the second half on a Jasmine Bailey 3-point play, but the Buffaloes had an answer for each Flames' run, and Mullaney was in the middle them all. After Bailey's free throw, Mullaney missed a field goal at the other end but got her own rebound and kicked it out to Smith for her second 3-pointer of the game that sparked a 16-8 run that included a Mullaney 3-pointer. The Flames crept back to within 44-40 when Taylor Foulks hit her second 3-pointer of the game with 6:34 left. Mullaney responded on the other end with a 3-pointer of her own, and after a stop, Spears hit one from deep to give CU its first double-digit lead. Mullaney followed that with a long two of her own to put CU in front 52-40 with 5:01 remaining.

"It was really exciting, I love being back home and having all my family and friends here," Mullaney said. "

Colorado was much improved shooting in the second half, making 46 percent (12-of-26). The Buffaloes cemented the game at the line. CU was 14-of-18 from the free throw line in the second half, 18-of-23 overall.

Smith ended with 10 points. Senior Courtney Dunn, making her first career start, responded with seven points and career highs with eight rebounds and three blocks. Melissa MacFarlane and Brenna Malcolm-Peck each made their collegiate debuts.

"We had some different combinations out there," McConnell-Miller said. "It was a good feeling to be able to go to our bench and get the minutes we did."

Colorado dominated the boards for a second straight game, outrebounding UIC 52-35. The Buffaloes had 17 second-chance points.

Bailey had 11 points and eight rebounds to lead UIC.

BOULDER - Colorado head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller was expecting her freshman class to have an impact this season, and so far that's exactly what is happening.

Freshmen Meagan Malcolm-Peck and Chucky Jeffery combined for 23 points, 13 rebounds and seven steals to help lift Colorado to a 62-50 win over Georgia Southern in the first round of the 2009 Omni Hotels Classic Friday at the Coors Events/Conference Center.

The Buffaloes, 3-1 overall for the first time since 2003-04, will play Harvard in the championship game on Saturday at 7 p.m. Earlier on Friday, Harvard held off New Orleans 60-57. Georgia Southern and New Orleans will play in the consolation game at 4:30 p.m.

CU junior Brittany Spears led all players with 20 points.

Malcolm-Peck had a career-high 12 points, on 5-of-8 shooting, with seven rebounds, three blocks and two steals.

"I think the goal is always to contribute however you can and just make an impact," Malcolm-Peck said. "So whether it's hustling and getting a rebound and kicking out to Bianca [Smith] to get a three or anyway you can help the team. I just focus on that and its fun."

Jeffery had 11 points, six rebounds and five steals in 19 minutes of playing time. Jeffery has started the last three games while Malcolm-Peck has started all four.

"When I start I feel like I have to do well so I can stay on the floor and get my team off to a good start," Jeffery said. "Like (coach) said I need to let the bad things go and move forward."

The Buffaloes jumped out to a 10-0 lead, hitting four of their first six shots including 3-pointers by Malcolm-Peck and Spears. Conversely, Georgia Southern made just one of its first 10.

But that start quickly faded as the Buffaloes went cold, and were bit by the turnover bug at the same time the Eagles started heating up.

Colorado missed 10 straight shots which allowed Georgia Southern to counter the Buffs' opening run, with a 14-0 run of their and led 17-14 with 6:13 left in the half. Turnovers didn't help the Buffaloes cause either. CU committed 22 in the game, 13 of which came in the first 20 minutes.

CU rebounded to take a 21-20 lead at halftime. Both freshmen starters keyed big second half runs to allow the Buffs to put the game away.

With the Buffaloes up 27-26, Malcolm-Peck hit a 3-pointer and followed that up with a steal and layup to ignite a 17-7 run that put CU up 44-33 with 10:20 left. Carolyn Whitney and Candice Ivy had consecutive buckets for the Eagles to cut the CU lead to seven.

Jeffery took care of the next CU run. The Colorado Springs native had five points, three offensive rebounds and two assists as the Buffaloes outscored the Eagles 13-3 over a six minute span. Colorado had its largest lead at 57-40 with 3:32 remaining in the game, before a late Eagles' run narrowed the gap.

"We came back in the second half and played with great intensity, which we were talking a great deal about at halftime," McConnell-Miller said. "There were some great moments tonight."

Whitney led Georgia Southern with 11 points and eight rebounds. The Eagles committed 25 turnovers and shot just 26 percent from the field.

BOULDER - Freshman guard Chucky Jeffery hit a driving layup with five seconds remaining to give Colorado the Omni Hotels Classic title with a 67-65 win over Harvard in the Championship game at the Coors Events Center.

After Harvard's Victoria Lippert sank two free throws to tie the game at 65-65 with 0:35 left, the Buffaloes put the ball in the hands of Jeffery for the final possession. Jeffery, who finished with 14 points, ran the clock down at the top and left of the 3-point arc and broke down the middle of the lane for the decisive score as the shot clock expired.

Harvard guard Brogan Berry raced down the court with the ball, but her 30-foot 3-pointer bounced off the front of the rim as Colorado improved to 4-1 overall for the first time since 2003-04.

"It's real exciting," Jeffery said. "Being a freshman and having the coaches trust me enough to put the ball in my hands to make the last shot feels real good. I'm so excited."

Jeffery's chance was born from a similar possession at the end of the first half. Leading 31-29, CU ran down the clock late in the first half where Jeffery was able to get into the paint to score to put CU up four with :07 left. However, she went too early, giving Harvard time to get set on the other end where Christine Matera connected on a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Despite going too early, CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller knew Jeffery was an option at the end.

"Why put the ball in a freshman's hands? The determining factor at that point was how Chucky handled that possession at the end of the first half; we had set it up for a drive and she had gone a little too early, but with that said she made it."

It was also the Harvard defense. The Crimson were clamping down on CU's outside shot, which had generated nine 3-point buckets during the game. Jeffery had also been able to get to the rim on three possessions before the final drive.

"At the end of the game we basically ran a variation of the play and at that time really dictated the time she went to the rim and had our two shooters spotted up waiting on her. She executed it and I'm proud of her.

Her shooters on the wings were captains Brittany Spears and Bianca Smith, and even though they didn't get the call on the final play, there wouldn't have been a final play for Jeffery if it wasn't for their strong performances.

Smith had a season-high 22 points off the bench, hitting 6-of-11 3-point shots. Spears recorded her third double-double in five games with 11 points and 11 rebounds. Jeffery, Smith and Spears were each named to the All-Tournament team. Spears, who had 20 points in Friday's game against Georgia Southern, was the Tournament MVP.

Emma Markley led Harvard Saturday night with 24 points, on 10-of-15 shooting, and four blocks. Her 10 blocks over the two games, set a Classic record.

CU was fighting from behind all night. The Crimson led by as much as nine in both halves, while the Buffs' largest lead was four.

Harvard led 46-37 with 14:35 remaining, when the Buffaloes, led by Smith tightened the game for good. Smith hit two of her six 3's to cut the Harvard advantage to 48-43.

Jackie Alemamy made good on a long 3-pointer to put HU back up by six. Spears countered with a couple free throws and HU led 52-47.

The Buffaloes gobbled up that lead with a pair of 3-pointers. Freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck hit the first one from the corner and Kelly Jo Mullaney hit one from the top of the key to give CU a 53-52 lead. The score stayed within four points for the rest of the way.

BOULDER - Pay-back is sweet, and the Colorado women's basketball team savored it Sunday afternoon.

Even sweeter, though, is progress - and that's what Buffaloes coach Kathy McConnell-Miller savored most during her team's 80-54 dismantling of Seton Hall at the Coors Events Center.

"Everyone's asked me what I'm most pleased about," McConnell-Miller said following the Buffs' atonement for last season's dismaying 37-point loss. "I'm most pleased about what's happened over a 12-month period - how our returning players have bought in, stay focused, how they've embraced our younger players . . . I'm most pleased about our development and our progress."

Still, avenging that December debacle in South Orange, N.J., was important to McConnell-Miller's players.

"Last season was an embarrassment . . . it was important for us to come out today and get a 'W,'" said CU junior forward Brittany Spears, who responded with her 19th career double-double and fourth of the season. She scored 24 points and collected 12 rebounds, with her five three-pointers a career best.

CU freshman Chuckie Jeffery added a career-high 19 points and six assists, while sophomore Alyssa Fressle contributed a season-best 10 - all in an early second-half run that helped the Buffs ice the game. Senior Bianca Smith chipped in with 11, including three of CU's 11 three-pointers.

Winning their fourth consecutive game and fifth straight at the Events Center, the Buffs improved to 6-1, with that start the program's best since 2003-04 when former coach Ceal Barry's team opened 12-1.

The Buffs led by nine (39-30) at halftime, but were up by as many as 14 on two previous occasions. The best the Pirates (5-4) could do in the first 20 minutes was fashion a pair of early ties and pull to 21-19 before CU went on a 9-2 run.

Meagan Malcolm-Peck, a 6-foot-2 freshman, keyed that spurt, scoring seven of the Buffs points in the run and finishing with that total.

Spears was more than the Pirates could handle in the first 20 minutes, hitting seven of her eight field goal attempts - including four of five treys - for 18 points. (She averages 18.7.)

CU hit 31-of-58 field goal attempts (53.4 percent) and was 11-for-21 (52.4 percent) from behind the arc.

The Buffs had to survive themselves in the opening 6 minutes, when they suffered a turnover a minute. But that dirty half-dozen was all CU would commit for the remainder of the half, and their first-half assist total (12 on 16 field goals) doubled their errors. They finished with a season-best 21 assists.

It was a far better effort by the Buffs than in last season's meeting, when they managed but 13 first-half points on the Pirates' home court and trailed 43-13 in a blowout victory Seton Hall later would tout as "perhaps its finest performance of the season."

Fueled by 10 points from Fressle, the Buffs opened the second half with a 14-2 run and took their largest lead to that point - 53-32 - with 14:45 remaining.

Four minutes later, CU increased its advantage to 61-36 on a free throw by Jeffery and her layup on the next possession. But Seton Hall followed with a 15-2 run to make the final 6:42 more interesting than the Buffs had planned.

The Pirates closed to 63-51 before a pair of free throws by Spears and a trey by Jeffery righted the Buffs and sent the Pirates packing.

McConnell-Miller said even with the big leads, she never felt that relaxed or in control of the game. "I am never to the point where I feel like we can rest . . . I like to reinforce that we teach them to play every possession as if the score is tied. I hope at no point that I ever let up or think that it was in hand."

With the exception of a lapse here and there, her team played like it got the message. Seton Hall got it, too.

FORT COLLINS - Following the bad example set by their male counterparts 24 hours earlier, the Colorado women's basketball team played in spurts Friday night and paid for it with an ugly loss.

Colorado State, with only eight available players, overcame miserable early shooting and a 16-point first-half deficit to defeat CU 69-61 in Moby Arena. On the same court Thursday night, the CSU men outworked and overran the CU men, 77-62.

"I told them this was one that was going to stick with us all week," Buffaloes coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "We need to learn how to put teams away. We need to learn how to be efficient down the stretch."

CU (6-2) was everything but efficient, losing its big first-half lead, its momentum and eventually unraveling to lose for the first time in five games.

Senior Bianca Smith led the Buffs with 19 points, while Brittany Spears added 15 and Meagan Malcolm-Peck 12. Four of the Rams' eight players finished in double figures, led by Chantilla Van Grinsven with 16.

CU led for the final time, 55-54, on a layup by Spears with 2:57 to play. But from that point, CSU (7-3) went on a 7-0 run to move ahead 61-55. The Buffs never got closer than four points for the remainder of the game, self-destructing with four of their 16 turnovers in the final 2:20.

Meanwhile, the Rams put the game away by making 11 of 12 free throws in the final 1:52. They finished the game 27-of-33 from the foul line while the Buffs hit 9-of-11.

CSU also outrebounded CU 45-43, including 15 offensive rebounds, and outscored the Buffs 20-13 in second-chance points.

At times, McConnell-Miller said, the Buffs "played extremely hard . . . they really wanted it. But at times, I thought whether it was a lack of communication on defense or a quick shot that led to a run by them, it wasn't a lack of preparation or effort."

"It was just a mindset of we settled . . . often and early in the shot clock."

Not much went right for the Rams in the early going, but taking advantage of the Buffs' proclivity for fouling was among them. CU committed 11 first-half fouls, reaching seven fouls (single bonus) with 10:49 left in the half and 10 fouls (double bonus) at 4:14 before intermission.

As a result, CSU hit 10-of-13 first-half free throws - and needed every one of them. A little over 13 minutes into the first half, the Rams had connected on only one of 14 field goal attempts (7.1 percent) and had fallen behind by 16 (27-11).

But what had all the earmarks of a possible blowout suddenly changed. Then, CSU found its range - relatively speaking. Over the final 5:03 of the half, the Rams outscored the Buffs 12-4 and went to the locker room trailing 31-23.

Of letting CSU back into the game before intermission, McConnell-Miller said, "Whether I let up, whether I went too deep in the bench - I'll take responsibility for that . . . they capitalized and we sent them into the half on a little momentum."

Still, CSU's first-half shooting was horrid and CU's wasn't much better. The Rams hit only five of their 28 (17.9 percent) field goal attempts, while the Buffs were 11-for-32 (34.4).

Outscoring the visitors 11-2 over the first 4 minutes of the second half, CSU pulled to 33-32 on a pair of Van Grinsven free throws then took a 34-33 lead - the Rams' first since 3-2 - on a layup by Natalie van den Adel.

The Buffs answered with a 7-0 run - five of the points came courtesy of Spears - to reclaim a six-point lead (40-34). Just as quickly, though, CSU leashed scorer Kim Mestdagh (19.4) scored seven consecutive points and Erin Cooke hit a layup - and the Rams went back ahead 43-42 with 11:51 left.

The next 4 minutes belonged to Smith and the Buffs. Relishing her off-the-bench role, the senior hit back-to-back treys to push CU in front 50-46.

Over the next 6 minutes, five of the game's 13 lead changes occurred. But in the final 1:30, the Rams went up six points and the Buffs foun

BOULDER - Explosive starts are beginning to become the norm for the Colorado women's basketball team. And with Big 12 Conference play rapidly approaching, that's a very good trend to be setting.

For the second consecutive game, the Buffaloes sprinted to a decisive half-time lead, then maintained most of their aggressiveness in the second half en route to an impressive victory.

On Tuesday night at the Coors Events Center, CU's strong opening act laid the groundwork for an 86-50 demolition of San Jose State in the second game of a men's/women's doubleheader.

"We had a great first half," CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "We executed our game plan as to how we were going to defend their sets . . . we handled their sets."

Junior Brittany Spears and senior Bianca Smith handled the bulk of the Buffs scoring, riddling the Spartans for 28 and 25 points, respectively.

"I know I like a heck of a lot about this team," McConnell-Miller said. "I definitely feel like I have one of the best players in the Big 12 and one of the best shooters."

Spears' 28 points were the most scored by a CU player this season, and Smith's 25 were her season-best.

Smith again came off the bench - a role she's finding increasingly productive.

"My teammates are able to find me on the floor for open shots," she said, adding she believes she's able to capitalize on opponents being tired while she enters the game fresh.

Smith's 25 allowed CU's bench to outscore San Jose State's reserves 32-20. The Buffs' defense also did its part, accounting for double-digit steals (13) for the sixth time in 10 games. CU got 18 fast-break points to the visitors' four.

In their previous game - an 88-36 blowout of Southern Utah four nights earlier - the Buffs bolted to a 24-0 lead, then went up 40-4 and 49-5 before going to the locker room with a 53-11 halftime lead.

That big advantage at intermission must have been gratifying and worth trying to duplicate, for the Buffs fashioned a 46-13 halftime bulge against the Spartans.

The 24 combined first-half points yielded to Southern Utah and San Jose State was the lowest ever for CU, coming in below the 27 allowed in back-to-back first halves in the 2001-02 season to San Diego State (18) and Bowling Green (9).

McConnell-Miller attributed her team's consecutive fast starts to her and her staff introducing more concepts to her players and giving them more rest on game day. Then, there's the built-in energy of playing at home, where the Buffs are 7-0 this season.

After CU scored the first four points Tuesday night, San Jose State coach Pam DeCosta called a timeout to settle her troops. The short time together didn't help.

Before the Spartans and DeCosta, a former student at Mesa State and Metro State, could digest what was transpiring, the Buffs had gone up 17-3 and were in control of the opening half behind the torrid Spears (20) and Smith (17).

Spears hit seven of her 10 first-half field goal attempts, five-of-six free throws and adding a pair of steals in 14 minutes. Not to be outdone, Smith canned seven of her 11 shots from the field, including four of nine three-point attempts.

Defensively, the Buffs tormented the Spartans, recording 11 of their 13 steals in the first-half and adding two of their five blocked shots. The visitors shot just 20.8 percent from the field (5-of-24) in falling behind by 33 points at the break and finished at 32.8 percent (20-of-61) from the field.

Rather than back off after intermission, CU once again started at full speed and rolled to a 53-19 advantage in the second half's first 5 minutes. By the half-way point, CU had increased its advantage to 63-25, and San Jose State was zapped.

BOULDER - With January looming and the calendar about to flip, the Colorado women's basketball team finally can dispense with the appetizers and get to the meat of the schedule.

The Buffaloes believe they're hungry enough to proceed and succeed.

They romped through a final tune up for Saturday's visit by nationally ranked Virginia by devouring Grambling State 92-43 on Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

Junior Brittany Spears led the Buffs with 20 points, and freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck and juniors Kelly Jo Mullaney and Chelsea Dale added 11 each.

CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller used 13 players, with 11 of them scoring. Only freshman point guard Chucky Jeffery, wearing a protective boot on her sprained right ankle, didn't see any court time but she's expected to play against UVA.

In Jeffery's absence, junior Whitney Houston made her second start of the season.

CU remained unbeaten (8-0) at home and improved to 9-2. But the schedule gets progressively tougher over the next week.

No. 23/21 Virginia is at the Events Center Saturday (3:30 p.m., FSN Rocky Mountain) and Big 12 Conference play opens a week later against Missouri (noon, FSN). In between is a Monday contest (7 p.m.) against Yale.

McConnell-Miller, a UVA alum and former point guard, called the Cavaliers "a quality team" that will offer the Buffs a chance to gauge their progress. But even in Wednesday night's rout, she claimed she saw her team advance in several areas.

"I was really pleased with our defense," she said. "We spent a lot of time preparing for Grambling's sets . . . and they couldn't run them in the first half. We just really took them out of what they wanted to run."

"On the offensive end, we didn't settle - we made the extra pass . . . I loved the way we executed. The way we finished the game with the players we had on the floor, I thought it was the first time we were that consistent for a 40-minute period."

"The players that came off the bench really picked up where the starters left off."

CU's bench outscored Grambling's 42-16.

The Lady Tigers, losing their fourth consecutive game and dropping to 3-6, didn't start a player over 5-foot-9 and had no player on the roster over 6-0.

Thus, the Buffs could have been expected to dominate the boards - and they did, 42-24. They also outscored the visitors 38-22 in the paint and got 32 points off of 28 turnovers (CU committed 26).

As they did in their two previous runaway wins, the Buffs bolted to a significant halftime lead against the Lady Tigers and coasted in the final 20 minutes.

Counting Wednesday night's 25-point halftime lead, CU's average margin at intermission since losing 69-61 at Colorado State on Dec. 11 has been 33 points.

The Buffs fashioned their 45-20 halftime advantage over the Lady Tigers by shooting 51.6 percent from the field (16-of-31) and forcing 16 Grambling turnovers that were converted into 19 points.

During one 4-minute stretch, CU hit four three-pointers in five possessions, opening an 18-point lead that wilted the visitors.

Then, the Buffs opened the second half with a 13-3 run, quickly building a 58-23 advantage and stretching it to 69-27 with 11:57 remaining. McConnell-Miller used the final 10 minutes to give her reserves court time.

Grambling never led, and CU led by 51 with 1:23 minutes to play. The Buffs' 92 points were their most since hitting 93 against CSU on Nov. 19, 2008.
