2007 COLORADO BUFFALO FOOTBALL

GAME 9—TEXAS TECH

October 27 / 10:11 a.m. MDT / Lubbock

RELEASE NUMBER 9 (October 22, 2007)

ABC (Split-National) | KOA-RADIO | SIRIUS SATELLITE RADIO (Ch. 143) | CUBUFFS.COM (Live Stats)

QUICKLY SPEAKING...

The Colorado Buffaloes (4-4, 2-2 Big 12) finish off October with their third road game in four weeks on the conference road, traveling to Lubbock to take on the Texas Tech Red Raiders (6-2, 2-2 Big 12) in a 10:11 a.m. MDT kickoff at Jones AT&T Stadium (52,882)... The game will be televised on a split-national (or "super-regional") basis by ABC, with Dan Fouts (play-by-play), Tim Brant (analyst) and Todd Harris (sideline reporter) to call the action; they also worked the Florida State game last month for ESPN... The World Series will air on KOA-Radio, but Saturday's first game won't interfere with the CU broadcast on KOA-Radio as the game is set for shortly after 6 pm. between the Colorado Rockies and Boston Red Sox... If the Rockies win, it'll mark the second straight year the World Series winner would come from Big 12 country (St. Louis won in 2006)... The Buffs are 3-3 against teams that beat them in 2006 (wins over CSU, Oklahoma and Baylor; losses to Arizona State, Kansas State and Kansas); there are two other chances left to improve on the record with games left against Missouri and Nebraska... Both teams are coming off losses to ranked opponents; CU fell to No. 15 Kansas, 19-14, while Tech lost at No. 17 Missouri, 41-10... This is the third straight time TTU will play CU after losing to the Tigers; the Red Raiders lost 38-21 last year and 62-31 in 2003... When CU dealt Tech a 30-6 defeat last year on the heels of the Missouri loss, it was the only time in the last four years that Tech has dropped back-to-back games... There are about 4,500 tickets left for the Missouri game in Boulder on Nov. 3, which will be CU's second annual Veterans Day celebration game... CUBuffs.com features game day updates and live stats for all games.

DEPTH CHART ON PAGE 54; ROSTER ON PAGES 55-56

STAT OF THE WEEK

Colorado did a great job of forcing Kansas into third down plays, as the Jayhawks were just 2-of-18 in second down efficiency, with 16 of the attempts from five yards or more. That translated into 16 of 18 times when KU ran a second down play, it was headed for third down. The Buffs limited Kansas to just 55 yards on those second down plays (3.1 per). KU also found it tough once it reached midfield, gaining 127 yards on 33 plays in plus territory, or 3.8 per attempt.

OBSCURE NOTES OF THE WEEK

- Through eight games, there is just one player who has played every snap (all offense or all defense), and that's OT Tyler Polumbus. He's been in there for every one of the 611 snaps on offense. C Daniel Sanders has played 601 of 611, while SS Daniel Dykes has played 511 of the 521 on defense.
- Mr. Do-It-All. Not only does (true) freshman PK Tyler Cope kickoff, but good or bad, he has often finished his own business as he has six solo tackles on return coverage. To put that in perspective, the most any kicker has had in a season since charting special teams tackles was separated out in 1987 was two (Mitch Berger in 1993, Mason Crosby in 2003). And those were the only two Crosby had in his entire career.

RISING UP THE CHARTS

QB Cody Hawkins, one of 12 freshman starting quarterbacks in the nation (5 at BCS schools) is quietly sneaking up on a 2,000-yard passing season, as he has thrown for 1,967 yards through eight games. That's already the 12th highest single-season total; 11 have reached the 2,000 mark. He's on pace to throw for 2,950 yards, which is unfamiliar territory for most throughout CU history; only four times have CU quarterbacks passed for over 2,500 yards, and just one over 2,700—Koy Detmer for 3,156 in 1996. Hawkins is moving up all the single season lists that go with passing yards, such as attempts, completions and total offense. His 13 touchdown passes are the eighth most in a single season (record: 22, Koy Detmer in 1996), and his 14 interceptions is also the third most in a single year (record: 16, John Hessler in 1997, followed by 15, Joel Klatt 2004). The interception counts a bit skewed—six have been by deflection.

MEDIA SERVICES

- Coach Dan Hawkins holds a Tuesday press luncheon in the Dal Ward Athletic Center, starting at 11:30 a.m. with lunch, followed by Hawkins beginning the interview session promptly at Noon. This year's dates: Sept. 4-11-18-25, Oct. 2-9-16-23-30, Nov. 6-19 (Monday)-27, Dec. TBA (bowl). NOTE that there is no organized press luncheon on Nov. 13 (bye week). The press conference portion of the luncheon is streamed live on www.CUBuffs.com (in the BuffsTV area); all press conferences on CUBuffs.com are free and thus do not require access codes.
- Hawkins can be heard Mondays on the Big 12 Football Teleconference Call at 10:40 a.m. MT. All coaches participate; please call 706/679-2026 for access (media only—you must register). A teleconference replay is available after 2 p.m. MT the same day by phone (706/634-1618) or on www.Big12sports.com.
- Video highlights of CU football games are available anytime provided by the Big 12 Conference through www.CollegePressBox.tv. Highlights will be in files in Quicktime format, with all available for viewing prior to downloading. First-time visitors will need to register on-line for access; information: contact Ted Gangi at 214/909-9314 or webmaster@collegepressbox.com. Special requests can also be made through CU's BuffVision (Deric Swanson or Eric Pelloni: 303-735-3637).
- The Colorado lockerroom (home and road) is closed after games; following the customary 10-minute cooling off period, players will be made available (a list of players will be solicited immediately following the game; no cutoff to request players).
- Colorado's regular season football practices are closed to the general public (exception: Sundays) but are open to the media (exception: Thursdays). The first 25 minutes of practices (Sun-Tues-Wed) in-season are open for photography/video needs from the end zones and sidelines. Extensive parameters listed in CU media policies.
- This year's standard meeting/practice schedule (mountain time, pre-time change): Sunday (3:15-5:00, 5:15-6:15); Monday (off); Tuesday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:30), Wednesday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:30), Thursday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:00), Friday (3:00-4:00, evening meetings).
- Interviews with Colorado players are allowed post-practice on Sundays, pre- and post-practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and pre-practice Thursdays (the cutoff moves up to pre-Wednesday practice for Friday games). Phone interviews with out-of-town media are allowed all four days in all time slots. Interviews on Mondays are at the discretion of the player, as it being the standard player day off (no meetings/practice), CU can't arrange due to NCAA rules.
- Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for Big 12 football. Access and download weekly game notes, statistics, quotes, media guides and more for the conference and each member school throughout the season. The conference office will distribute login information to accredited media, and media members can also apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.
- CU On-Line Photo Database. The CU sports information service has an online photo database that allows registered members of the media instant access to print quality head shots of all CU coaches and student-athletes as well as action shots of key players. Registration is easy: for a login and password, simply log on to www.CUBuffs.com, select "Sports Information" from the "Athletic Department" menu located on the left navigation bar and follow the instructions.

THE BUFFALOES ON THE INTERNET

- Colorado has its information available to both the media and fans alike on the Internet. Visit the official CU site at www.CUBuffs.com for the latest information, releases, game notes and press conference broadcasts (free). Simply type www.cubuffs.com/media into your web browser, then click on Media Center, and it will link you to everything you'll need to know about CU football. "BuffsTV" offers the opportunity to listen and/or watch live game action of several CU athletic teams. Breaking news with the program will be found here first every time and delivered in full without others editing out what they might deem unessential.
- Yahoo.com is the official site for subscription service for audio-only broadcasts, as all football and men's and women's basketball games are streamed through Yahoo! Sports. Just visit the Multimedia area of the CUBuffs.com, go to the football schedule page and click on the corresponding audio icon, or visit yahoosports.com.

THE BUFFALOES ON THE AIRWAYS

- KOA-Radio in Denver (850 AM) originates the 14-station CU Football Network, with sports director Mark Johnson in his fourth year as the play-by-play voice of the Buffs. Larry Zimmer (analysis) is in his 34th season broadcasting Colorado football (he handled play-by-play from 1971-81 and 1985-2003). Former CU quarterback Charles Johnson (pre- and postgame shows/sidelines) is in his third year on the broadcast team. TTU: Game One of the World Series is in the evening, so CU will not be affected.
- Wednesdays at 7 p.m., the Dan Hawkins Show originates from The Millennium Harvest House Hotel in Boulder, with Mark Johnson and Zimmer hosting the program.
- Satellite Radio: Sirius Radio is the satellite home of the Buffaloes; the CU-TTU broadcast will air on channel 143 (CU/KOA radio network feed; TTU feed on Ch. 140).
- FOX Sports Net Rocky Mountain is the television home of the Buffaloes, as "The Buffalo Stampede" is seen in the six-state FSN area every Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. Assistant AD and former CU QB Charles Johnson hosts the program; the show airs through the end of basketball season for the men and/or women. FSN will also replay Dan Hawkins' weekly press conference three times each week (day of and/or after) at various times. The network will also replay the CU-CSU game twice and the CU-ASU game once.

DIZON NAMED BUTKUS AWARD SEMIFINALIST; REMAINS NATION'S LEADING TACKLER AS WELL AS NUMBER TWO ACTIVE CAREER LEADING TACKLER

Senior ILB Jordon Dizon was named one of 10 semifinalists for the Dick Butkus Award on October 18, presented annually to the nation's best linebacker by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando. Dizon is looking to become the third Colorado Buffalo to win the award, one of the first created to honor the best at a specific position. Outside linebacker Alfred Williams won from CU's national championship team in 1990, with inside 'backer Matt Russell claiming the honor in 1996.

Dizon is the nation's leading tackler, and has been for all but one week this season, as he has 111 (ACTUAL TOTALS—NOT INACCURATE PRESS BOX COUNT NCAA USES), or an average of 13.9 per game, with 80 being solo stops. But that doesn't begin to tell the story of what he has accomplished or meant to CU's defense.

The Buffs' defensive captain, he's played 509 snaps this season—all but 12 by the CU defense. He has eight tackles for losses, including three quarterback sacks, and another nine for zero gains by the opponent, all team bests, as are his 14 third down stops. The school record in the latter is 18, which he flirted with a season ago in coming up one short.

He also has an interception, two pass break-ups, four hurries, two near-sacks, a forced fumble and a caused interception. On special teams, he's had another tackle and two knockdown blocks. Dizon has 12 or more tackles in seven of CU's eight games, including a career-high 22 in the opener against Colorado State. He had 17 in game two at Arizona State in 100-degree heat, along with four third down stops and three for losses, and racked up 15 at Baylor when he made his first career interception.

In Colorado's 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma, he had 13 tackles, including a key fourth quarter sack on third down against Sooners signal caller Sam Bradford.

The always humble Dizon was modest about being selected as a semifinalist. "It's definitely an honor, but it would mean more to me to win the Big 12 Championship than any individual accolades."

"Great players are a reflection of great coaches, and I have to give all credit to Coach (Brian Cabral)," Dizon added. "He's been there to help me improve since Day One and I just have to keep working hard for him and my team." Cabral also coached Russell and was on the staff when Williams earned it.

Dizon is now fifth all-time at Colorado in tackles with 391, which also includes the third-most solo stops with 253. Barry Remington is CU's all-time leader with 493, with Russell second (446), Greg Biekert third (441) and Ted Johnson fourth (409). Biekert was a semifinalist for the Butkus Award in 1992, while Johnson was a finalist in '94.

"He's probably the most complete, every down player that I've ever coached," Cabral said, which is saying something consider that he has coached eight of the top 15 tacklers in school history. "He's the only player I've had start for me for four years, which is a tremendous accomplishment for him. He's enjoying his best season as Buffalo."

Dizon was the lone semifinalist from the Big 12 Conference; joining him in the final 10 are Dan Connor (Penn State), Shawn Crable (Michigan), Erin Henderson (Maryland), Ali Highsmith (LSU), James Laurinaitis (Ohio State), Jeremy Leman (Illinois), Ben Moffitt (South Florida), Keith Rivers (USC) and Wesley Woodyard (Kentucky).

The list will be narrowed to three finalists by the Butkus selection committee on November 9, with the winner to be announced in Orlando in December.

Senior Dick Butkus Award candidate ILB Jordon Dizon remains the nation's tackles leader, and is now the second active leading career tackler, based on total tackles. He opened the season with a career-high 22 against Colorado State.

He was also named a quarterfinalist for the Lott Trophy on October 23.

Here's a look at the top eight active career tacklers (*—includes 9 tackles in 2003):

➤ Passed His Coach. Dizon passed his position coach, Brian Cabral, with his effort against Colorado State. Cabral had 297 tackles in his CU career, which at the time was a school record. Since he became CU's linebackers coach in 1989, he has fallen to 16th on the list, but much of it is due to his own coaching; eight of the players who have passed him he has tutored, including Dizon.

➤ Where His Career Effort Ranked. Dizon's 22 stops (17 solo) against Colorado State tied for the 17th most in school history, the most since ILB Hannibal Navies recorded 28 (19 solo) against Missouri in 1997. The 17 solo tackles by Dizon tied for the third most in a game, trailing Navies as well as ILB Greg Biekert, who had 19 at Illinois in 1990.

➤ Dizon had posted 10 or more tackles in five consecutive games, dating back to the end of the 2006 season (he had 82 tackles for those quintet of games, or 16.2 per); the run stopped when he had five in the Miami game, but alas, the first-team defense was out there for only 42 plays. He has 17 career double figure games: he had two as a frosh but amazing never had more than six in a game his sophomore season.

➤ Third Down Terror. Dizon has 14 third/fourth down stops this year, picking up where he left off in 2006, when he snuck up on a school record in the category. In posting 17 third down stops, he was one shy of the record first set by OLB Chad Brown in 1992 and then equaled in 2005 by OLB Brian Iwuh. An under appreciated statistic, one that CU may be the only school to track (starting in 1991 in earnest); Dizon now has 43 in his career, the fourth most-ever by a Buff; ILB Greg Biekert holds the school record with 47, followed by Brown and ILB Matt Russell (45 each).

2007 COLORADO HONORS CANDIDATES & CHECKLIST

There are a few Colorado players worthy of consideration for national and conference honors as the second half of the season is now in full swing; more could be added to the below list. Those of you who participate in such ballots, please take a look at the below Colorado Buffaloes who we feel are worthy of consideration.

TB HUGH CHARLES All-Big 12 Candidate (Doak Walker Award List)

CU's rushing leader with 561 yards, including four straight 100-yard games at one point, tied for the fifth most in succession in school history... The came once he was fully healed from a hamstring injury suffered on CU's third play of the season... Has 36 carries of five or more yards and 16 of 10-plus out of 86... Has earned 34 first downs, 23 rushing and 11 receiving, as he has 15 catches for 131 yards... Colorado's 11th all-time leading rusher with 2,231 yards.

P MATT DILALLO All-Big 12 Candidate (Ray Guy Award List)

Has a lower than normal average (41.5) mainly because the average yardline he's punted from has been the CU 37; has placed 15 of 34 punts inside-the-20, and has just one touchback... Owns a 42.33 average on six kicks inside CU's 25... Opponents averaging just 8.0 yards per return, but that drops to 5.3 when allowing for one long effort (44 yards).

ILB JORDON DIZON All-American Candidate (Butkus Award Semifinalist; Bednarik, Lott Candidate)

The nation's leading tackler (13.9 per game officially through coaches video; still leads in NCAA inaccurate press box count), and has been for all but one week of the 2007 season... 80 of 111 stops have been solo; 17 for zero or minus yardage (eight of the latter, including three sacks)... Owns a team-best 14 third down stops, and has dabbled in every other category as well, citing how much he is all over the field: he has four hurries, two near-sacks, a forced fumble, two pass break-ups, an interception, a touchdown save and a caused interception. He has double-figure tackles in six of seven games, including a career-best 22 in the opener against Colorado State... has played all but 12 snaps out of CU's 521 on defense.

PK KEVIN EBERHART All-Big 12 Candidate

He has two game winning field goals this season, in overtime against Colorado State and then a more dramatic 45-yard kick to beat No. 3 Oklahoma, 27-24, as time expired (just the second time that has occurred in CU history)... Has made good on 12-of-18 field goal attempts (7-of-10 from 40-plus), including both his tries over 50 yards, and both on road (54 at Baylor, 50 at Kansas State)... Tied the school record for most FG's in a game with five at Baylor... Has clicked on all 21 of his PAT kicks and is CU's leading scorer with 57 points.

DT GEORGE HYPOLITE All-American Candidate

One of CU's most vocal players and leaders, he has 31 tackles (25 solo) as he has played a big part in stopping the opponent running game as well as providing pressure on pass plays... He has a team-best three sacks, with five pressures, along with four third down stops and four tackles for zero. One of the 11 players honored on the AFCA's 21007 Good Works Team for his off-the-field achievements, on the field he's played 448 snaps out of 521, a high percentage for a defensive lineman.

DT BRANDON NICOLAS All-Big 12 Candidate

Quietly goes about his business, most of which is limiting the opponent running game... he has 26 tackles (21 solo), but does a great job of filling gaps and forcing runners out of their desired lanes... He has a team best nine tackles for loss (including two sacks), and has six stops for zero; that translates to 15 of his 26 tackles going for zero or minus yardage... Also has a pass broken up and a pressure.

ILB TYLER POLUMBUS All-Big 12 Candidate

Has played every snap on offense (611) this season... Owns a team-best six games where he has graded out at 80 percent or higher (current; all consecutive), which includes the two best single game grades of the year by any lineman, 92% versus Kansas and 89% against Florida State... Has 50.5 knockdown blocks and has allowed just one sack.

C DANIEL SANDERS All-Big 12 Candidate (Rimington Award List)

Affectionately known as "Girthy" for his 6-3, 310 frame... Team leader in knockdown blocks with 60.0, he has graded out to 80 percent or higher in four games... He has not allowed a sack and has been flagged for just one penalty... Has played all but 10 snaps on offense this season (601 of 611).

CB TERRENCE WHEATLEY All-American Candidate (Jim Thorpe Award List)

One of the top cornerbacks in the country, and no other Big 12 cornerback up for honors has played tougher competition than he has had to face (CU's playing the 20th toughest schedule nationally)... He has two interceptions, including one he returned for a score at Arizona State, to go with 30 tackles (21 solo)... He has nine pass deflections, so that adds to 11 combined including his picks against just five completions allowed in man coverage... Also has four third down stops, two touchdown saves and a forced fumble.

* * * * *

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN CONSIDERATIONQB CODY HAWKINS

One of 12 freshman quarterbacks starting in 2007 (5 BCS)... Has thrown at least one touchdown pass in eight consecutive games to start his career; school record at any point is nine... Has thrown for 1,967 yards in completing 57 percent of his passes... Led team to 34 scores (22 TD/12 FG) in 108 drives against 20th toughest schedule in NCAA.

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN CONSIDERATIONOG KAI MAIAVA

He saw his first action of the season in game four (Miami-Ohio), playing once the coaches knew he was ready; he proceeded to record 11 knockdown blocks in 40 plays... He started the next game, against No. 3 Oklahoma, and had 12 knockdowns in 70 plays... He became the eighth true freshman to ever start a game on the offensive line in school history... Has three games with 10 or more knockdowns, with 46.5 on the season, has not allowed a sack or been called for a penalty.

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN CONSIDERATIONOT RYAN MILLER

When he started against Kansas State, he became the first true freshman to ever start a game at offensive tackle in CU history (and just the ninth true frosh lineman overall)... He made his first appearance in the fourth game of the year (Miami-Ohio) as the coaches would not play him until he was ready (same as with Maiava)... Top game grade was 83% against Oklahoma; has 28.5 knockdown blocks in just 232 plays from scrimmage and has graded out to 80-plus percent three times in five games.

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN CONSIDERATIONWR SCOTTY McKNIGHT

Colorado's leading receiver since the season opener (33 catches, 387 yards, 2 TD), as he is closing in on school records for receptions by a freshman (39); he already owns the mark for receiving yards (old was 337). No freshman wide receiver has ever led CU in receptions (and only one has period).

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN CONSIDERATIONWR JOSH SMITH

One of the most exciting freshman receivers in the country, he's got the knack for the big play. He has 15 receptions for 343 yards, an average of 22.9 yards per catch; he missed the first two games of the year after suffering a bruised kidney in a fall camp scrimmage. Of his 15 catches, 12 have earned first downs.

2-0 VERSUS THE BIG BAD SOUTH

The North Division schools have taken their lumps, not only in games but also publicly, but perhaps things are changing; they are for Colorado. The 43-23 win over Baylor clinched the season series against the South Division, the eighth time in 12 seasons CU will have done so. Colorado is 20-15 all-time against the South in the regular season, tied with Nebraska for the best mark. The Buffs also have won the season series against the South in 1996 (3-0), 1998 (3-0), 1999 (2-1), 2000 (2-1), 2001 (2-1), 2002 (2-1) and 2005 (2-1). Seems some have forgotten that the North was the dominant division in this league at the on-set, basically coming to the rescue of the four Texas schools from a dying Southwest Conference after a decade of NCAA violations for most.

FOURTH DOWN T.D.

Senior TE Tyson DeVree is utilizing his initials to the max this season, as he now has five touchdown catches in 2007. Three of those have come on fourth down plays—11 yards against Florida State, 1 yard against Miami-Ohio and 4 yards against Oklahoma. All the passes were thrown by QB Cody Hawkins. DeVree skipped the Baylor game for precautionary reasons after suffering a recurrence of a concussion which first happened against Miami, but he returned the next week and has become a favorite target. On the year, he has 20 catches for 235 yards, 11.8 per, with 12 for 10-plus yards. But looking closer at his statistics and you find he's been pretty clutch this fall, and not only evidenced by his fourth down scoring ability. He has earned 13 first downs off the 20 receptions, with 11 of those coming on third and fourth down.

DEFENSIVE RARITY

The Buff defense accomplished a rarity in the 42-0 win over Miami-Ohio, as it marked just the 17th time in the last 46 seasons that Colorado limited an opponent to under both 100 yards rushing and passing in the same game. Colorado last did this in 1999, when it held Baylor to under 100 yards in both. Eddie Crowder teams did it six times, Bill McCartney defenses four times, Rick Neuheisel squads three times, Bill Mallory units twice, Gary Barnett D's once and now Dan Hawkins' stoppers once. Here's a look at them all, since the 1961 season (when Colorado had three that year alone):

Year	Opponent	Rush	Pass	Total	Result	Year	Opponent	Rush	Pass	Total	Result
1963	OKLAHOMA STATE	66	93	159	W, 25- 0	1988	FRESNO STATE	97	80	177	W, 45- 3

LIKE NIGHT AND DAY

Colorado's running game enjoyed a 386 yard improvement from the Florida State game to the Miami-Ohio game. Where did that stand in Buff history for a one-game in-season improvement? Research revealed it topped the chart from one game to the next. The old one game improvement best was in 1991, when CU in the height of its I-Bone era had 153 in a 28-21 loss at Stanford, but came back after an open week to throttle Missouri with 502 rushing yards (the Buffs were on a mission, it was the first game with Mizzou after the Fifth Down game and CU had had it with all that talk; so the Buffs played smash mouth ball in a 55-7 win). Here are the top 10 jumps in rushing yards from one week to the next in CU history:

Diff.	First Game	Rush	Second Game	Yards	When	Diff.	First Game	Rush	Second Game	Yards	When
386	FLORIDA STATE	-27	MIAMI-OHIO	359	Sept. 15-22, 2007	277	at Oklahoma	75	KANSAS STATE	352	Nov. 16-23, 1985

FALL PERSONNEL MOVES

THE SCHOLARSHIP ADDITIONS On September 18, the coaches awarded a scholarship to ILB Jeff Smart, who joined the team as an invited walk-on back in the fall of 2005, has seen his playing time increase as he has steadily improved; the Boulder High school graduate will start in place of Michael Sipili today. A week later on September 25, WR/PR Chase McBride, was placed on scholarship; the Broomfield High product promptly went out and was named the Big 12 Special Teams player of the week. The awarding of a scholarship to Smart, a fifth-semester sophomore, counts only against the team's overall total of 85 and not toward an initial count for a particular year (thus the reason for no scholarship right now for WR Scotty McKnight, among others; any walk-on awarded a scholarship in his first four semesters must count as an initial).

SIPILI SUSPENDED FOR SEMESTER Sophomore ILB Michael Sipili was suspended September 21 by the university for the remainder of the fall semester (through Dec. 21) for violating two articles of CU's Student Code of Conduct. Sipili had been suspended by coach Dan Hawkins for CU's first three games, though was allowed to practice, and was scheduled to play today prior to the university's ruling. He will be eligible for readmission for the 2008 spring semester; he is currently in good academic standing and is in position to be eligible for fall 2008, pending spring and summer course work. He does have a redshirt year available to him and thus he would still have three years of eligibility remaining. He will return to CU for the spring semester.

INELIGIBLE Senior QB Bernard Jackson and junior OG Erick Faatagi have not been able to become academically eligible and it is extremely unlikely that either will play this season. Jackson is a fifth-year senior, so he would be done, while Faatagi has one more year of eligibility remaining.

CHARLES IN RARE TERRITORY

CU senior TB Hugh Charles had the ninth 100-yard rushing game of his career (22-171, 1 TD) at Kansas State, his fourth in a row; it marked the first time a Buff had done that in four straight games since TB Chris Brown had eight consecutive games reaching the century mark in 2002. The 171 yards was a career-high, besting the 132 he had against Oklahoma State his sophomore season. He also became just the 16th player in school history to go over 2,000 yards in career rushing, with his next target on the list to join the six who have gained 2,500. The streak stopped the following game, as he had just 39 against Kansas.

Colorado is one of the national leaders in 1,000-yard career rushers (48), but that doesn't necessarily translate into an overt number of 100-yard games in a row. In fact, Charles run of four straight was just the seventh time that happened in Colorado history (by six players). Here's a closer look at those who have done it:

9	Rashaan Salaam	1994	Michigan 22-141, Texas 35-317, Missouri 28-166, Oklahoma 25-161, Kansas State 28-202, Nebraska 22-134, Oklahoma State 29-174, Kansas 30-232, Iowa State 29-259
8	Eric Bieniemy	1990	Washington 29-143, Missouri 29-217, Iowa State 21-131, Kansas 18-174, Oklahoma 28-188, Nebraska 38-137, Oklahoma State 22-148, Kansas State 22-115
8	Chris Brown	2002	UCLA 26-188, Kansas State 26-167, Kansas 25-309, Baylor 23-167, Texas Tech 26-149, Oklahoma 25-103, Missouri 35-211, Iowa State 25-127
5	Byron White	1937	Colorado State 19-138, Colorado Mines 8-117, Utah 19-154, Colorado College 18-213, Denver 21-119
5	James Mayberry	1977	Nebraska 21-113, Missouri 26-136, Iowa State 27-111, Oklahoma 20-108, Kansas State 40-174
4	Eric Bieniemy	1988	Kansas 34-195, Oklahoma 20-114, Iowa State 24-166, Missouri 30-106
4	Hugh Charles	2007	Miami-Ohio 17-123, Oklahoma 24-110, Baylor 19-109, Kansas State 22-171

CAREER 100-YARD RUSHING GAMES LEADERS: Eric Bieniemy 22, Chris Brown 14, Rashaan Salaam 14, Charlie Davis 13, Bobby Anderson 11, James Mayberry 11, Merwin Hodel 10, Cortlen Johnson 10, Bobby Purify 10, Hugh Charles 9, Darian Hagan 9, Tony Reed 9, Lamont Warren 9.

INJURY UPDATE

CU suffered came out of the Kansas game in good shape (only one trainer visit to the field), but had worse luck in conditioning Sunday following the game. Colorado's injury list as of Tuesday, October 23 a.m.:

Pos	Player	Injury	Notes	Status/Texas Tech
FB	Jake Behrens	ankle	sprained in conditioning the Sunday after the Kansas game (Oct. 21)	QUESTIONABLE
ILB	R.J. Brown	concussion	latest in career suffered in FSU game: is out indefinitely as testing and analysis continues	OUT
TB	Kevin Moyd	illness	suffering ill effects last week (fever, virus)	DAY-TO-DAY
CB	Jimmy Smith	knee	Suffered a slight sprain in Kansas game, will be limited in practice for precautionary reasons	PROBABLE
CB	Terrence Wheatley	elbow	bruised against Kansas	PROBABLE

OUT FOR SEASON: WR Cameron Ham (broken fibula); DE Drew Hudgins (ruptured Achilles).

NOTE: Injuries are reported in conjunction with the HIPAA laws. CU releases player name, body part (but no right or left ID's), the general nature and playing status when it comes to reporting injuries. Status will be listed as either OUT, DOUBTFUL, QUESTIONABLE, DAY-TO-DAY, PROBABLE or DEFINITE. Injuries will be updated in-game, postgame, the Sunday after the game, and for game notes at the end of the week.

WALK-ONS HOLD THEIR OWN AS BUFFS TIE FOR NATION'S LEAD IN CONTRIBUTORS

CU has five starters that either are or were walk-ons, which is tied for the most in the country. ILB's R.J. Brown and Jeff Smart, SS Daniel Dykes, FB Samson Jagoras and WR Scotty McKnight and PR Chase McBride all joined the Buffs via the walk-on route (Brown, McBride and Smart have since earned schollies). Now that adds to six players, but Brown has been sidelined with concussion issues and Smart has stepped into the starting role. Florida International also has five, followed by Central Michigan, Florida Atlantic and Utah with four; several had three, including Boise State, East Carolina, Fresno State, Texas Tech, Troy and Virginia.

EIGHT NATIONAL BROADCASTS TO BE A SCHOOL RECORD

The Colorado Buffaloes may not be "America's Team," a title which may very well belong just down the road to the Colorado Rockies right now, but there aren't many if any football teams with more games on television at this point. With the addition of the Missouri game (national), this will bring the total to eight TV games for the Buffaloes out of the first 10 weeks of the season, including seven national broadcasts. The TV arrangements have not been determined for the Nov. 10 Iowa State game, but the regular season finale against Nebraska is already set for national broadcast by ABC from Folsom on Nov. 23.

Thus, that will be eight national broadcasts during the regular season, which will be a school record, besting the six in CU's national championship year in 1990; the Orange Bowl that season was the seventh. Colorado was on national TV seven times as recent as 2005, but that count included the Big 12 Championship game and the Champs Sports Bowl, with 11 of 13 overall on the air. The most television appearances (national or regional) in one season by the Buffs came in 2002, when 12 of 14 games were televised. CU had 10 of 11 games broadcast nationally or regionally in 1997, 10 of 12 in 1996, and 10 of 13 in 2001 and 2004.

FACULTY COACH OF THE WEEK

The coaches have begun a new program in 2007, selecting a member of the UCB faculty as the "Faculty Coach of the Week." The honoree for today's game is Jim Marlatt, a professor from CU's Leeds School of Business. He serves as a liaison between academics and athletics. The recipients to date:

Sept. 15	Susan Morley, Business	Sept. 29	Jim Marlatt, Business
Sept. 22	David Clough, Engineering	Oct. 20	Kevin McMahon, Business

CROSSING MIDFIELD

Colorado has had 111 possessions on offense through the first eight games of the year, on 68 of them, CU ran at least one play in plus territory (the 50-yard line-on in), which translates to 61.3 percent of the time the Buffs are roaming into the opponents' end of the field. CU has run 271 plays in plus territory (or 44.4 percent of its total); the opponent has run 223 of 521 (42.8%) while venturing into plus territory 50.9 percent of the time (55 of 108).

SPREADING THE BALL AROUND THE ROSTER

Through eight games, 17 different players have caught passes for the Buffaloes, with seven different players catching touchdown passes. That's just two off the school record of 19, set in 1999 and matched in 2004. Fifteen of the 17 have at least two grabs, with a dozen with five or more. In 1999, 14 had two or more catches (12 five-plus), and in 2004, 13 had two or more and 10 had at least five.

➤ Nationally, that ranks third (tied with USC) behind Troy and TCU for the number of players with receptions (both have 18), and tied for 15th in the number of players with TD catches (Troy has had 13 different players score; research by the Troy University Sports Information Office).

ALUMNI ROLL CALL

ABC and ESPN are using school celebrities or area connections to introduce the starting lineups this season. So far, Kordell Stewart (Florida State, ESPN), Darian Hagan (Kansas State, ESPN2) and Mason Crosby (Kansas, ESPN) have done them for CU's three ABC/ESPN games. ABC was working on something on its own for the Texas Tech game that was Colorado-related, and something special is in the works for the Nebraska game (both on ABC).

HOW YOUNG ARE THE BUFFALOES?

How young is this 2007 Colorado Buffalo team? There are all kinds of examples that show how the youth movement is developing in the second year of the Dan Hawkins Era. Some factoids:

- Seven true freshmen have played thus far, the most since 2003 and tied for the fifth-most in school history (11 in 2002, 10 in 1984 and 2000, 9 in 1992);
- Two true freshmen are offensive line starters, just the second time that has ever occurred (OG Kai Maiava, OT Ryan Miller); the other time was in 1991 (OG Clint Moore, 8 games; OG Dolyn Jackson, 3 games);
- Quite often, eight of the 11 players in the offensive lineup are freshmen or redshirts: WR Kendrick Celestine, QB Cody Hawkins (RS), TB Brian Lockridge, OG Kai Maiava (who replaced a RS, Wes Palazzi), WR Scotty McKnight (RS), OT Ryan Miller, WR Josh Smith and TE Nate Solder. And yes, all eight have been in the game at the same time (Maiava and Palazzi have not, but one or the other has been with the other seven).
- Thirty-Four of the players who are regularly playing, of about 56 on the average, are underclassmen.

DILALLO AN INSIDE-THE-20 MACHINE

Sophomore P Matt DiLallo has 34 punts on the season, with 15 placed inside-the-20. He is currently 54th in the nation, but that doesn't tell the whole story. His personal net average is 36.1, and here's the reason: the average yardline of DiLallo's kicks have been the CU37; he owns an average of 42.3 for all kicks on CU's side of the 50, and it jumps to 45.3 for five kicks inside the Buff 25.

ROOKIES ON THE LINE

Two true freshman busted into the lineup in the Miami game, OG Kai Maiava and OT Ryan Miller. They became just the fourth and fifth offensive linemen to play as true freshmen at CU in the last 15 seasons, joining OG Marwan Hage (2000), OG Drew Shader (2001) and OG Brian Daniels (2003). It's the first time since 1991 that two played in the same season (OG Dolyn Jackson, OG Clint Moore). Miller is the first tackle to play as a true frosh since Bryan Campbell, who played as a reserve behind Mark VanderPoel on the 1989 and 1990 teams. Maiava, who has made a definite impact with 23 knockdown blocks in 110 snaps from scrimmage, also started against Oklahoma, becoming just the eighth true freshman to start a game on the offensive line since freshmen were allowed to play again in 1972.

Player	Pos	Season	Starts	Player	Pos	Season	Starts
Leon White	OG	1973	3	Marwan Hage	OG	2000	2
Guy Thurston	OG	1979	3	Brian Daniels	OG	2003	9
Eric Coyle	OG	1982	4	Kai Maiava	OG	2007	4
Clint Moore	OG	1991	8	Ryan Miller	OT	2007	2
Dolyn Jackson	OG	1991	3

When freshman OT Ryan Miller made his first career start against Kansas State, there was a little more significance to it than your normal freshman doing so: it's the first time a true frosh has ever started at offensive tackle in CU history. He became the ninth true freshman to start on the offensive line since 1972, joining Maiava. With both starting at Kansas State, they become just the fourth pair of true freshmen in school history to start at the same position in the same game, the second instance this year. Here are those four occasions (the first time of which also happened here in Manhattan):

Nov. 21, 1987 vs. Kansas State at Manhattan (CU 41, KSU 0)

Kanavis McGhee and Alfred Williams, both recruits out of Houston, are bookend outside linebackers for the first of many times in their CU careers.

Sept. 21, 1991 vs. Minnesota in Boulder (CU 58, Minnesota 0)

Clint Moore and Dolyn Jackson are the starting offensive guards in the third game of the season; the pair also started the following week at Stanford.

Sept. 29, 2007 vs. Oklahoma in Boulder (CU 27, Oklahoma 24)

Kendrick Celestine and Josh Smith are two of the players who started in a four-receiver set that opened the game for the Buffs.

Oct. 13, 2007 vs. Kansas State at Manhattan (Kansas State 47, CU 20)

Kai Maiava (guard) and Ryan Miller (tackle) started on the offensive line.

SERIES HISTORY—COLORADO VS. TEXAS TECH

The all-time series consists of just eight games between the two schools, with the home team winning each time out as the series, which dates back to 1962, is tied at 4-4. Tech won the first two in the series (in 1962 and 1976), with CU evening things up with wins in 1981 and 1998. The Red Raiders slipped ahead with a 31-10 verdict in 1999, while the Buffs posted the largest margin of victory in the series in 2002 with a 37-13 win in Boulder. The Buffs storned to an early 14-0 lead in the last encounter in Lubbock in 2003, only to see Tech battle back and take a 26-21 victory. In the third set of games in the Big 12 rotation, Colorado equaled its margin of victory in '02 with a 30-6 win in Boulder last year. Only two of the games in the series have been decided by a touchdown or less in the series, the 2003 game in Lubbock and a 1998 game in Boulder, a 19-17 Colorado win. Dan Hawkins is 1-0 against Texas Tech; Tech's Mike Leach is 1-2 against the Buffaloes.

SERIES DID YOU KNOW — In the 1981 game at Folsom, CU zoomed to a 45-7 lead before settling for a 45-27 victory. In that game, Walter Stanley caught five passes for 222 yards, establishing a CU record for the most receiving yards in a single game. That mark was matched in 1996, when Rae Carruth caught seven passes for 222 yards at Missouri. These are the only two 200-plus yard receiving days in CU history, and Stanley's effort broke the school record of 158 set by Cliff Branch at Missouri in 1970. Stanley also had four rushes for 28 yards and returned four punts for 87 yards, giving him 337 all-purpose yards, the second most in school history at the time (and still the third most to this day). He scored three touchdowns that covered 231 yards (an average of 77.0)—receptions of 87 and 74 yards and a punt return he took it 70 yards for a score.

SERIES SIGNATURE ANNIVERSARY GAME — 5th. In 2002, Colorado used strong performances from its defense and special teams, outscoring Tech 24-0 from just prior to halftime through the end of the game in posting a 37-13 win. The Buffs turned five Red Raider turnovers into 21 points, as Kliff Kingsbury threw for 268 yards but needed 65 attempts to do it; he also had four interceptions, one returned 51 yards by Medford Moorer for a touchdown. Tyler Brayton closed the scoring when he sacked Kingsbury late in the game; he forced and recovered a fumble, taking the ball 14 yards for a touchdown. CU had just 278 yards on offense, but Chris Brown rambled for 149 on the ground, with one touchdown. The game plan was to keep a 10-yard pass completion at 10 yards, or a 2-yard one at 2 yards; it worked, as Tech averaged a season-low 4.1 yards per pass attempt.

BUFFS & RED RAIDERS BY THE NUMBERS

Here's a look at some numbers-related trivia or fun facts with Colorado and Texas Tech:

- 0 The number of quarterback sacks by Texas Tech's "Senor Sack," All-American Gabriel Rivera, in the 1981 game;
- 3 The number of the games in the series that have been televised;
- 4 The number of Jeremy Aldrich field goals in the 1998 game, earning him special teams player-of-the-week honors;
- 4 The number of interceptions CU made on Tech Heisman Trophy candidate Kliff Kingsbury in the 2002 game;
- 5 The number of interceptions thrown by CU's Jeff Austin in the 1976 game, which set a school record that still stands;
- 9 The number of passing yards allowed by CU against Tech in the 1962 game;
- 12 The number of interceptions CU has made in the last three meetings in the series;
- 44.4 The average yards per reception by CU's Walter Stanley in the 1981 game (5 catches for 222 yards, a CU record);
- 91 The number of yards of CU's final scoring drive in the 1998 game—the longest march against Tech in 1998;
- 107 The number of yards rushing by Colorado's Tony Reed in the 1976 season opener, on his way to a 1,000-yard rushing season;
- 345 The number of passing yards by CU's Randy Essington in the 1981 game;
- 540 The number of air miles between the Boulder and Lubbock campuses (making Tech CU's closest neighbor);

THE SET-UP

Texas Tech is the nation's leader in completion percentage (72.4); the Red Raiders have the most pass attempts in the nation with 452, so that's not a fluke; in fact only 19 other teams have over 300 attempts to date, one being Colorado, with the next closest to Tech being Baylor with 397 then Hawaii with 358. Now in the three games in the Mike Leach Era at TTU, Colorado has done as good a job as anyone against the TTU offense, as Red Raider quarterbacks are "only" 95-of-161 (59.0 percent), with 12 interceptions and only two touchdowns.

TEXAS TECH NOTES

Texas Tech is 6-2 overall and 2-2 in Big 12 Conference play, as the Red Raiders are coming off a second straight loss to Missouri. The Tigers got the best of them last year in Lubbock by 38-21, and this year in Columbia, Mizzou outscored TTU 24-0 in the second half en route to a 41-10 win. Though Tech QB Graham Harrell threw for 397 yards, he was 44-of-69 to attain that many yards and was picked off four times, while Mizzou threw a balanced attack at Tech in rushing for 212 yards and passing for 210. Harrell actually is 88-of-130 for 765 yards in the two losses against the Tigers, fairly astoshing numbers. This is the "rubber" game for Tech against the Big 12 North, as it owns a 42-17 win over Iowa State. The Red Raiders went 4-0 in non-conference action, but weren't overly tested other than a 45-31 win over Texas-El Paso; outscoring the other three by 183-40 (including a 75-7 rout of I-AA/FCS Northwestern State).

- ➔ Texas Tech head coach Mike Leach is in his eighth season at the reins of the Red Raiders, owning a 62-35 record.
- ➔ The Red Raiders need one more win to post their 13th straight winning season (15th plus-margin in the regular season), as Tech is the only school in the Big 12 that has not had a losing year in the history of the Big 12 Conference (1996-present).
- ➔ TTU led the nation in passing for four straight seasons between 2002 and 2005, and were third last year; Tech also was the nation's total offense leader from 2003-2005 but was sixth last year. The Red Raiders are right back up there leading both categories in 2007. And with 3,900 yards passing through eight games in 2007, the Red Raiders have passed for 29,788 yards since the start of the 2002 season.

THE LAST TIME... COLORADO 30, TEXAS TECH 6

OCTOBER 14, 2006 / BOULDER

BOULDER — Bernard Jackson threw for two touchdowns and ran for a third with All-American Mason Crosby adding three field goals including a couple of long-range bombs as Colorado ended a 10-game losing streak with a dominant 30-6 victory over Texas Tech.

The Buffaloes had a decisive edge in all three phases of the game — offense, defense and special teams — but excelled particularly on defense in shutting down the Red Raiders explosive passing attack. CU limited Tech to 245 yards through the air, 105 below its season average, and a 104.2 rating, over 40 points shy of its number coming in. The Buffaloes pitched a shutout until 9:04 remained in the game, when the Red Raiders got on the board largely due to a 54-yard pass play where CU missed two tackles. Colorado also did not commit a penalty for the fourth time in its history, the first time since Sept. 21, 1985.

CU scored on its first possession for the sixth time in seven games, but this time never looked back. Jackson piloted a five-play, 65-yard drive, capped with a 28-yard TD pass to tight end Riar Geer. The lead grew to 14-0 on the first possession of the second quarter, as Jackson hit a streaking Jarrell Yates in the corner of the end zone from 29 yards out; Jackson had a 35-yard run earlier in the drive. Crosby then added field goals of 56 and 26 yards, the former the second longest in the nation in 2006 and the latter with just five second left before the half to bump the lead up to 20-0.

Crosby connected from 53 yards in the third quarter, set up by a Hugh Charles 35 yard run, and then Jackson closed the scoring on a 1-yard run following a failed Tech inside kick attempt after its score.

Charles finished with 119 yards on the ground, as the Buffs topped 200 yards rushing in consecutive games for the first time since late 2002, with Jackson accounting for 205 yards total offense. Defensively, many players shined for the Buffaloes. Ryan Walters made the first two interceptions of his career, linebacker Jordan Dizon recorded a career-high 16 tackles (11 solo), with end Abraham Wright making a key fourth down sack in the first half when Tech was bidding to slice CU's two-TD lead in half.

Tech had just 276 yards overall, and only 31 rushing on 15 attempts. CU allowed TTU just five plays in plus territory all game, including two for losses one being Wright's sack, and an interception.

THE BUFFS IN TEXAS

Colorado is 14-17 all-time in the state of Texas, including the 43-23 win at Baylor earlier this month. Colorado has not won in Lubbock (0-4), and has also lost four times in Austin (3-4).

IN COLORADO BUFFALO HISTORY: OCTOBER 27

Colorado is 7-5 all-time on October 27, with some significant games played on the date in school history. Here's a brief look at some of the games played on the date: 1923—CU bests DU, 21-7, at old Broadway Park in Denver despite "deplorable conditions due to rain and snow on the Wednesday and Thursday before the game," according to the '24 Coloradan Yearbook. Pregame talk had the conditions so poor that there was no way the Silver & Gold would be able to use their aerial game, but behind Art Quinlan, CU completes 15-of-30 passes for 206 yards and wins easily. 1973—Colorado used an amazing four-play, 76-yard drive to score the winning touchdown in besting No. 7 Missouri in Boulder, 17-13. What made it amazing was that CU barely had that much offense in the entire second half and had been stifled. The four plays: Clyde Crutchmer 19 pass to J.V. Cain; Crutchmer 40 run; Crutchmer 13 pass to Steve Haggerty to the Tiger 4 where Jim Keller scored with 1:21 left in the game. The entire drive took 46 seconds. 1984—The Buffs drop a 20-14 decision at No. 10 Oklahoma State, despite Ron Brown's four receptions for 141 yards (and an 80-yard touchdown); in true CU-OSU series wackiness, each team records a safety and despite the normal sounding score, the game was tied 8-8 early in the second quarter. 1990—The No. 10 Buffs win their 12th straight Big Eight conference game, knocking off No. 22 Oklahoma 32-23, using a strong second half. Trailing 14-12 at intermission, Colorado went on a 20-3 run, as Darian Hagan threw two touchdown passes (12 yards to Mike Pritchard and 85 yards to Rico Smith) to take control of the game. The 20-point blitz took place over a 14-minute span. 2001—CU started its march to the 2001 Big 12 title with the first of five consecutive wins, rallying from a 19-7 deficit with just under five minutes left in the third quarter to win at Oklahoma State, 22-19. Craig Ochs hit Matt Brunson with a 74-yard touchdown pass that got CU on the board first, but the Cowboys countered with 19 straight points; Marcus Houston's 16-yard run as time ran out in the third quarter, capping an 80-yard drive and pulling CU to within 19-14. The Buffs stopped OSU on fourth down at their own 34 and marched 66 yards for the winning score, which came on a 21-yard pass from Bobby Pesavento to Daniel Graham. The Buffs went for two and made it—but after an inadvertent spike by Graham and a celebration penalty, it covered 33 yards on a Pesavento to Derek McCoy pass play, quite possibly the longest two point conversion in NCAA history.

OCTOBER 27 COLORADO MVP: Eric Bieniemy, 1990. CU's 5-foot-6 senior tailback rushed 28 times for 188 yards and touchdown (which covered 69 yards) in the 32-23 win over Oklahoma in Boulder, setting the stage for a showdown with Nebraska the following week for the Big 12 title.

IN THE POLLS

Colorado was not ranked in the Associated Press (media) or USA Today Coaches polls of October 21, nor did the Buffs receive any votes. CU was last ranked in 2005, when the Buffs peaked at No. 21 in the November 6 coaches' ballot (No. 22 in the AP and Harris Interactive), but dropped out after a Nov. 12 loss at Iowa State. CU was ranked three times in 2005, reaching No. 18 in the BCS Standings at one point (Nov. 6) and had returned to the polls after a 25-month hiatus on October 9. Dating back to the 1989 preseason, CU has been ranked in 185 of the last 303 polls (AP; 62%), which includes a tremendous run of 143 consecutive between 1989 and 1997 (the 10th longest streak of all-time). CU has been ranked 292 times in its history, the 21st most all-time. Since 1989, CU has played the fourth most ranked teams in the nation (93), trailing Florida (103), Florida State (96) and Michigan (96).

COLORADO BY THE NUMBERS IN 2007

- 0:00 The amount of time CU led against Oklahoma, as the Buffs won on the final play of the game.
- 0 The number of opponent turnovers in the previous 16 quarters until Terrence Wheatley's overtime interception in the CSU game;
- 5 The number of players who have rushed for 100-plus yards against CU in the last 33 games; CSU's Kyle Bell had 135, but needed 40 carries to do it...
- 16 The number of tackles FS Ryan Walters had in the season opener, the third highest total in school history that did not lead the team in a game
- 21-11 Colorado owns the best intra-division mark over the last five seasons against fellow Big 12 North teams at 21-11.
- 22 The number of tackles in 83 defensive plays by ILB Jordan Dizon against Colorado State, the most tackles by a Buff defender in 10 seasons.
- 23 The number of tackles Dizon had against CSU when adding in one he had on special teams.
- 31.3 The number of points below its average coming in (50.3) that the Buffs held Kansas to on the scoreboard.
- 34.4 The completion percentage for Miami-Ohio (11-of-32), the first CU opponent to complete less than 40 percent of its passes in 39 games.
- 45.0 Terrence Wheatley's kickoff return average for three returns against Colorado State.
- 53.3 The school record for average kickoff return for a single game (minimum 3), set by Walter Stanley versus Oklahoma in 1980.
- 62 The number of punt return yards Colorado had in the 2007 season opener against Colorado State.
- 66 The number of combined yards WR Patrick Williams gained on the first plays of the year for 2005 and 2006 (42 on a reception against Montana State in 2006, 24 on a reverse against CSU in 2007; both are CU records for the longest gains on the first play of the year for both disciplines).
- 106 The number of receiving yards by WR Scotty McKnight against Colorado State, the most ever by any CU player in his first career game.
- 112 The number of points scored by Colorado in games 4 through 6, the most in a three-game span since 2002.
- 123 The number of punt return yards Colorado had the entire 2006 season.
- 171 The number of rushing yards by TB Hugh Charles against Kansas State, a career-high and the most by a Buff since 2004.
- 230 Colorado has scored in 230 consecutive games, the fifth longest active streak in the nation (and the 11th longest of all-time).
- 291 The number of receiving yards by WR Scotty McKnight in the first four games in 2007, which was 30 more than CU's 2006 leader (TE Riar Geer).
- 720 The number of days between field goal attempts in a game for senior PK Kevin Eberhart (last was Sept. 10, 2005 before this year's opener).

100 RUSHING YARDS TOUGH TO GET AGAINST THE BUFFALOES

When an opponent back goes for a hundred against the Buffs, they usually have to earn it. Case in point, CSU's Kyle Bell gained 135 yards in the opener, but needed 40 carries to do it (3.4 per; 25 of his carries went for three yards or less). K-State's James Johnson had 159 on 20 tries, but topped it thanks to a pair of late runs (68, 40 yards). CU allowed just two opponents an individual 100-yard rushing game in 2006, Oklahoma's Allen Patrick (110, but on 35 carries; 3.1 per carry, with 23 rushes for three yards or less). Nebraska's Brandon Jackson picked up 142 on 34 tries (4.2 per). The last two to do it prior to Patrick and Jackson were Clemson's James Davis (150) in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl, and OU's Adrian Peterson in the 2004 Big 12 Championship game. Since 1950, there have only been three occasions where CU did not allow a 100-yard rusher over an entire season (1957, 1965, 1967).

- The Buffs have allowed five 100-yard rushers over the last 33 games (since the start of the 2005 season). In this time frame, only Kansas (two) has allowed fewer in the Big 12 Conference, while all other schools have allowed at least six.
- The Last 100-Yard Opponent To Rush For 100 Yards In Boulder? Kansas State's Alan Webb had 24 carries for 103 yards on Nov. 13, 2004.

SUB-300 BECOMING COMMONPLACE; BUFFS IN GOOD COMPANY IN 500 CLUB

Starting in 2005, the 300 yards of total offense figure has been anything but automatic for the opponent: Colorado has held 13 of its last 32 opponents to under 300 yards on offense (including three in a row earlier this season), with just eight teams picking up over 400 (no team has hit 500 since Texas A&M racked up 532 on Oct. 23, 2004; see below). Florida State was the first victim in 2007, gaining just 221 yards though it did leave town with a 16-6 win; Miami the next week wasn't so lucky, amassing just 139 in a 42-0 CU win and the Buffs held the high-octane Oklahoma Sooners to just 230. Five did not reach CCC (that's 300 in roman numerals) last season, with just three topping the "CD" mark (400). This year, ASU just barely climbed above the 400 mark (402), and Baylor attained it thanks to garbage time against the CU second-stringers (465 yards, 172 in the fourth quarter after the score was 40-9). KSU had 463.

500 Colorado is in some very good company when it comes to how long the Buffaloes have gone without allowing the opponent to gain 500 yards in a game. In fact, only five schools have gone more games than Colorado's 39; Florida's streak of 49 straight ended at Kentucky (512) last Saturday. Here's a closer look at all teams to not allow 500 yards since the start of the 2005 season; (through games of October 20; GNA500 denotes consecutive games not allowing 500-plus yards):

Rk	School	GNA500	Last	Rk	School	GNA500	Last
1	Maryland	81	547, vs. Georgia Tech (Nov. 18, 2000)	6	Clemson	40	502, vs. Texas A&M (Sept. 18, 2004)
2	Penn State	70	542, at Michigan State (Nov. 24, 2001)	6	Colorado	40	532, at Texas A&M (Oct. 23, 2004)
3	Utah	49	633, vs. New Mexico (Oct. 25, 2003)	8	Miami (Fla.)	38	545, at North Carolina (Oct. 30, 2004)
4	Florida State	47	514, vs. North Carolina St. (Nov. 15, 2003)	8	Mississippi State	38	599, at LSU (Sept. 25, 2004)
5	Alabama	46	519, at Auburn (Nov. 22, 2003)	10	South Florida	34	577, at Cincinnati (Nov. 20, 2004)

PASS DEFENSE COMING AROUND

When Florida State completed "only" 8-of-18 passes against the Buffaloes, or 44.4 percent of its throws, it ended a streak of 19 consecutive games in which CU opponents had completed over 50 percent of their passes (there were no 50 percent games, all were over). The streak went in the other direction, as the Buffs held the next three opponents under the break-even mark. Miami-Ohio was just 11-of-32 (34.4%) and Oklahoma just 8-of-19 (42.1%). The effort against Miami was the first time since Sept. 11, 2004 that an opponent failed to complete 40 percent of its passes (Washington State in Seattle, 19-of-52 for 36.5 percent). The last time the opponent was held below 50 percent for three straight games was actually a four-game stretch that ended the 1999 regular season (Oklahoma, Kansas State, Baylor and Nebraska); the streak made it to five when including the Insight.com Bowl against Boston College. For the year, the opponent is hovering around 50 percent, at 137-of-250 (54.8%); it is an encouraging statistic since Colorado allowed passes to be completed at a 66.9 percent rate in 2006. However, Todd Reesing (Kansas) completed 20-of-29 passes, and the real test is this week at Texas Tech.

SENIOR ANALYSIS

Colorado has 17 seniors on its 2007 roster, most of whom are in the two-deep and see regular action. Ten are on offense, including incumbent first-teamers TB Hugh Charles, OT Edwin Harrison and OT Tyler Polumbus; rounding out the other nine are TE Tyson DeVree, TB Byron Ellis, FB Samson Jagoras, WR Chase McBride, WR Stephone Robinson, TE Joe Sanders and WR Dusty Sprague (McBride and Robinson will see plenty of action returning kicks as well). Defensively, DE Alonzo Barrett, ILB Jordan Dizon and CB Terrence Wheatley are all starters, with SS Lionel Harris to see extended playing time. PK Kevin Eberhart, is out from Mason Crosby's All-American shadow and is shining in his role. The other two seniors, WR Alvin Barnett and QB Bernard Jackson are academically ineligible at present.

GRADUATION STAT(U)S

Two of CU's 17 seniors on the roster have already graduated: PK Kevin Eberhart (Aerospace Engineering) and TE Joe Sanders (Ethnic Studies). Seven are on schedule to graduate this December: DE Alonzo Barrett (Sociology), SS Lionel Harris (Sociology), OT Edwin Harrison (double in Communication & Ethnic Studies), WR Chase McBride (Geography), OT Tyler Polumbus (Business Management), WR Dusty Sprague (Business Management) and CB Terrence Wheatley (Economics); all are fifth-year seniors. The remaining eight are all likely May '08 candidates to walk: WR Alvin Barnett (Ethnic Studies), TB Hugh Charles (Sociology), TE Tyson DeVree (Education), ILB Jordan Dizon (Economics), TB Byron Ellis (Integrative Physiology), QB Bernard Jackson (Ethnic Studies), FB Samson Jagoras (Integrative Physiology) and WR Stephone Robinson (double in Business & Sociology).

► NOTE: Over the last five years (2002-06), CU has had 93 of its 111 seniors, including medicals, graduate; that translates to 83.8 percent (with seven of the 18 non-grads still in school and looking to graduate within the next year, while three are in the NFL). NCAA numbers will not match these (it doesn't allow a school to count transfers who graduate, i.e., Wayne Lucier in '02 or WR Mike Duren in '04), but it does count against a school if it had a player transfer. It's one of the reasons the numbers are skewed to be lower than they really are, especially at tougher academic schools like Colorado.

CAREER CHART WATCH

Here's where several Buffs rank on some of CU's all-time statistical charts eight games into the 2007 season (Note: Colorado does not count bowl stats into career totals to protect past history):

- ⇒ WR ALVIN BARNETT is tied for 53rd in receptions (38) and 90th in receiving yards (363).
- ⇒ TB HUGH CHARLES is 11th in rushing yards (2,231), 19th in all-purpose yards (2,728), 11th in yards from scrimmage (2,681), 67th in receiving yards (450), 32nd in receptions (51) and 71st in scoring (66 points).
- ⇒ ILB JORDON DIZON is fifth in total tackles (391), tied for third in solo tackles (253), tied for 14th in tackles for loss (32) and 25th in sacks (11).
- ⇒ TB BYRON ELLIS is 90th in rushing yards (475).
- ⇒ QB CODY HAWKINS is 18th in passing yards (1,967), is tied for 10th in touchdown passes (13) and tied for 20th in interceptions (14).
- ⇒ WR SCOTTY MCKNIGHT is 65th in receptions (33) and is 83rd in receiving yards (387).
- ⇒ KR STEPHONE ROBINSON is seventh in punt return yards (647), fifth in punt returns (79), seventh in kickoff return yards (857), fourth in kickoff returns (48) and fifth in combined kick return yards (1,504).
- ⇒ WR DUSTY SPRAGUE is 11th in receptions (94) and is 15th in receiving yards (1,141).
- ⇒ CB TERRENCE WHEATLEY is tied for sixth in interceptions (11), is tied for eighth in pass deflections (28) and is fourth in kickoff return yards (1,160).
- ⇒ WR PATRICK WILLIAMS is tied for 20th in receptions (69) and is 31st in receiving yards (705).

CAPITAL RETURNS

CU's success often correlates directly with if it owns a hefty margin in return yards, as was the case in the 2001, 2002 and 2004 seasons—when the Buffs won the Big 12 North. The Buffs had advantages of 854-417 (2001), 803-607 (2002) and 574-499 (2004) in return yards, which includes all return yardage other than those on kickoffs (in 2006, the opponent had the upper hand at 390-277, but this year, CU has 416 and owns a 56-yard edge on the enemy). And the Buffs have 39 return touchdowns over the last eight —plus seasons (35 regular season, four bowl game), the 10th most in the nation for this span. ROAD-SWEET-ROAD: BUFFS 12TH BEST IN ENEMY STADIUMS SINCE '88

The Buffaloes have enjoyed a lot of success on the road over the last 19 seasons. CU has been victorious 58 of the last 956 times in enemy stadiums and is 58-37-1 overall away from home (a 60.9 winning percentage). That stands 12th nationally (10th in raw wins) and third among Big 12 Conference teams in this span; only 11 schools have won 60 percent of their away games in this time frame. During this time frame, CU won a school record 10 straight road games between 1994 and 1996. The Buffaloes own a 47-25-1 mark in their last 72 road conference games (Big 8 & Big 12—six losses at Nebraska, three at Kansas State, two at Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Texas Tech; and one each at Baylor, Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Texas A&M; the tie was at K-State in 1993). CU is 22-24 on the Big 12 road since 1996 (1-1 in 2007). The chart to the right does not include neutral site games, despite some being anything but (i.e., Colorado vs. Texas at Irving for the '01 Big 12 title.)

19TH BEST IN THE NATION SINCE 1989

Colorado has the nation's 19th best record over the last 18-plus seasons, or since the start of 1989, CU has posted a 146-77-4 record. From opening 1-0 in '89, through the 10th game of the 2005 season, the Buffs owned one of the top 10 overall records in the nation (247 consecutive weeks); that was snapped with a loss to Nebraska late in 2005. The best Division I-A records from the start of 1989 through games of October 13:

THE BUFFALOES IN THE BIG 12

The Big 12 Conference has entered its 12th season, and the Buffaloes are tied for the second most division titles won with four, just behind Oklahoma's five. Just half of the schools in the conference have won a division title. A closer look:

- ➔ Big 12 Division Titles (including 2006): Oklahoma 5, Colorado 4, Nebraska 4, Texas 4, Kansas State 3, Texas A & M 2.
- ➔ Big 12 Championship Game Records: Oklahoma 4-1, Nebraska 2-2, Texas 2-2, Texas A & M 1-1, Kansas State 1-2, Colorado 1-3.

CU VS. THE BIG 12 NORTH: Colorado owns the best record in intra-division competition going back to the start of the 2001 season against Big 12 North Division rivals, as the Buffaloes are 21-11 in this time frame. Other records in this span: Nebraska 20-12, Kansas State 19-13, Missouri 12-19, Iowa State 11-20 and Kansas 12-20. Colorado is 12-4 at home in this stretch versus the North, the only losses to Nebraska (2003, 2005), K-State (2006) and Kansas this season.

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS

Dan Hawkins is in his second season as head coach of the University of Colorado football program, which is his seventh year as a Division I-A head coach and his 12th season as a collegiate head coach. He owns a 6-14 record at Colorado, along with a 59-25 record in the Division I-A ranks (53-11 at Boise State) and an overall career mark of 98-37-1 including five years at NAIA Willamette (Ore.) College. In his final year at Willamette (1997), his team posted a 13-1 record, falling in the NAIA Championship game, before he moved on to Boise State where he was assistant head coach under Dirk Koetter, coaching the tight ends and special teams while coordinating recruiting. When Koetter left BSU for Arizona State after the 2000 season, Hawkins was promoted to head coach. He took the Broncos to four bowl games in five years, with his 2004 team compiling an 11-0 regular season mark and ascending to No. 10 in the national polls; in the most anticipated non-BCS bowl game to date, Boise dropped a thriller to No. 7 Louisville, 44-40. In the modern history of Division I-A football, only three coaches won more games in their first five seasons than Hawkins (53: bested by Bob Pruett, Marshall; Bob Stoops, Oklahoma; and Pete Carroll, USC). Hawk's Handiwork:

- ◆ Hawkins has been a head coach for 136 games (98-37-1), with that record and 72.4 winning percentage ninth in the nation for active coaches with 100 or more games coached for their career.
- ◆ In 13 seasons as a head coach, Hawkins' teams have never been shutout, and had never dropped more than two games in a row in the same season (which happened just three times) until his first season at Colorado and had won at least eight games seven times (10-plus four times).
- ◆ A sample of what Hawkins tells his players: "You're in America, you're going to college, you live in Colorado. You have it better than 90 percent of the people in the world."
- ◆ Hawkins has used the term "conflama" when referring to some people's desire for conflict and drama (i.e., the reason someone like Jerry Springer and that lot is even on the air). He references the term when people on the outside of a program choose to look at the negative without choosing to understand why something may very well be the way it is.
- ◆ Hawk on depth charts: "To be honest, we really don't pay too much attention to depth charts, we run a lot of personnel in and out of there at several positions. For example, I view the defensive line like hockey; they're playing in shifts as we want them fresh." As a result, especially on offense at receiver, tight end and in the backfield, CU utilizes different "groupings" as opposed to following a depth chart.
- ◆ Hawk on the vertical passing game: "I love the long pass. As I've come along in this game, I've learned you've got to pound it and launch it."
- ◆ Hawk's philosophy on big wins, like CU's 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma: "You enjoy it on Saturday, but come Sunday, it's in the vapor trail."
- ◆ One of his beliefs is, "Once is a mistake; twice is a behavior." He applies it to football, whether for things on or off the field, and to life.
- ◆ Hawk's response about potential for disaster after the 0-3 start in 2006: "There's always potential. When you get in your car and get out on the freeway, there's potential for disaster. I knew when I left Boise State there was potential for disaster. That doesn't scare me... there's also the potential for greatness. So you can hide behind the shadow if you want, but that's not living."
- ◆ Versus' Ron Thulin on Hawkins' optimism: "His glass isn't half-full, it's overflowing. He's not going to change. He said they are going to keep fighting and doing the little things everyday. I think everyone on our crew was ready to put on a football helmet after talking to this man yesterday. He is excitable and he cares." Chimed in analyst Charles Davis: "I was looking to get taped and get out to practice that day. If you're around him long enough you can't help but be positive."
- ◆ As with many coaches, at the end of practice, the team will run for turnovers, mistakes, missed field goals, etc. One day in 2006 after PK Mason Crosby missed a kick within his range, Hawk felt a little bad as he wondered to himself, "How many coaches are making their kids run for a missed 64-yard field goal?"
- ◆ Hawkins is one of the 60 Division I-A coaches voting in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll in 2007 (the seventh straight year he is a voter and the 21st straight year CU's head coach has participated).

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS CONTINUED

So far this season, Hawkins coached against two teams for the first time, Florida State and Miami-Ohio. Next season, with the rotational change for the Big 12 South Division teams, he'll get his first look at Oklahoma State, Texas and Texas A & M. He has now coached against 39 different teams in his career:

HAWKINS AMONG THE BEST

Dan Hawkins has one of the top records among all-active Division I-A (FBS) coaches. He owns the 13th best mark and is listed among some of the top names in the profession (10th for those with 100-plus games). A closer look through games of October 20:

THE CLASS OF '06

In 2006, 10 programs hired new head coaches, including Colorado (with Northwestern being the 11th to do so when head coach Randy Walker passed away unexpectedly in July '06). Here's a look at what coaches make up the "class of 2006" and their record through games of October 20 (*—denotes first college head coaching job):

FIRST & SECOND YEAR COACHING COMPARISONS

Dan Hawkins isn't the only coach in Colorado history who struggled in his first season. In fact, for whatever reason, it's more the norm, as going back to Dal Ward's inaugural year (1948, when CU became a member of the Big Seven Conference), only two coaches had winning records with one other a .500 mark out of the 10 who have piloted the Buffs over the last 59 seasons. Bill Mallory is the coach that had the most improvement in W-L record, going 9-3 in 1975 after a 5-6 mark his inaugural year (+4), followed by Bill McCartney (+1½) and Sonny Grandelius (+1). Six of the nine current Big 12 coaches all had better records in their second seasons (the other three matched their first year mark); Bob Stoops (Oklahoma) had the top improvement, going from 7-5 in 1999 to 13-0 and the NC.

COACHES ON GAME DAY

The coaching staff is split between the sidelines and the press box. Upstairs are offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich, defensive coordinator Ron Collins, running backs coach Darian Hagan, graduate assistants Andy Avalos and Joe Bever and technical assistants Brad Bedell and Donnell Leomiti. Head coach Dan Hawkins wears a headset on the sideline, along with linebackers coach Brian Cabral, assistant head coach/offensive line coach Jeff Grimes, passing game coordinator/receivers coach Eric Kiesau, secondary coach Greg Brown, defensive line coach Romeo Bandison and special teams/tight ends coach Kent Riddle. Plays are generally shuttled in from substituting players.

EXPERIENCE

Colorado's 2007 coaching staff is youthful, yet experienced. Through five games in 2007, the 10 full-time coaches who comprise the Colorado coaching staff have coached a collective 83 seasons in Division I-A and have combined to coach in 1,106 games (with a record of 659-443-4, .598). The aggregate age of the 10 is 406 years, thus making the average age 40.6, one of the younger staffs in the nation. Linebacker coach Brian Cabral is the elder statesman at 51, followed by secondary coach Greg Brown (50); four of the coaches are over 40, including head coach Dan Hawkins (46), with six under, with offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich the youngest (33). Helfrich is the third youngest offensive coordinator in the Division I-A ranks; the only two who are younger include Major Applewhite, Alabama (29) and Brian Harsin, Boise State (31). A closer look:

2007 NEW FACES

There was only one change on the coaching staff, as Jeff Grimes replaced Chris Strausser as assistant head coach and offensive line coach; Grimes, who joined CU from BYU, is also the running game coordinator. Former Buff and NFL veteran Brad Bedell is the new offensive technical assistant, replacing Mike Babcock who got a full-time position at San Diego. Otherwise, the staff and support staff are intact, unlike a year ago, when CU also welcomed a new strength coach and new head trainer along with the new coaching staff under Dan Hawkins.

OLD-TIMER

Assistant head coach and linebacker coach Brian Cabral has taken his place among legendary assistant coaches who have spent time at Colorado. In his 18th season, he is now tied for the most all-time in years coached as a full-time member of the staff, as he had caught two legendary Franks: Potts and Prentup, both who also assisted for 18 years each. A closer look:

ASSISTANT COACH LONGEVITY: 1. Frank Potts 18 (1927-39, 1941-43, 1946-47) and Frank Prentup 18 (1941-58); 3. Brian Cabral 18 (1990-current); 4. Dan Stavely 15 (1958, 1963-76); 5. Chet Franklin 12 (1963-74), Mike Hankwitz 12 (1985-94, 2004-05) and Alva Noggle 12 (1920-31); 7. Marshall Wells 11 (1948-58); 9. Ray Jenkins 10 (1948-57), and Jon Embree 10 (1993-2002).

TBS play-by-play man Ron Thulin had this to say about Cabral: "He's one of the great individuals. Besides being an outstanding football coach he has been the barometer for this football program for the last two decades. He teaches a lot more than just football to these players and that's why Dan Hawkins kept him on the staff. He's one of the best in the business."

THE SIMULATOR

Coors Field brought "The Humidor" into vogue; CU kind of did the same with "The Simulator?" A computer program from Gridiron Technologies that simulates every play, and aspect for that matter, of the offense tests quarterbacks on their assignments and reads. Coaches monitor the progress through printouts that summarize how the players did. While every offensive player has access to the simulator, offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich finds it particularly valuable for the quarterbacks. Helfrich brought the idea with him from Arizona State, where the program was first developed and tested by an Arizona State alum. Helfrich calls the simulator a hybrid between the standard playbook and videotape. The Buffs used it a lot more in 2006, not as much so far this year, but it is still available to the kids.

TURNOVER MARGIN

Colorado finished +0.67 in turnover margin in 2006, having committed 16 on the year while forcing 22; that is tied for second in the Big 12 and 17th nationally. It was the best by a CU teams since 1993, when the Buffs were a healthy plus-13 (fourth best in the NCAA). There have been only eight seasons in school history where the number was better than a plus-six: 1951 (+8), 1956 (+18), 1960 (+10), 1967 (+17), 1972 (+11), 1976 (+16), 1989 (+12), 1993 (+13) and now 2006 (+8).

➤ In 2007, CU is minus-9 through eight games (-3 in the four wins, -6 in the four losses). CU was plus-1 in the big win versus Oklahoma.

GOACHES CORNER... WITH DAN HAWKINS

Some select comments from head coach Dan Hawkins following CU's 19-14 loss to Kansas; for more from Hawk, check out his blog at CUBuffs.com (located at <http://www.coachhawkins.com/stepout.htm>):

ON BEING EFFICIENT—“Margin of error is small, so it's a case of in the first half where we dropped a couple of third-down plays, we put the ball on the ground, we missed a field goal, so we just have to play at a little bit of a higher level. It's not a question of heart by any means, but that's the nature of the schedule and it's going to continue to be that way, so we all just have to continue to push and call ourselves to a higher level of efficiency.”

ON KANSAS QB TODD REESING—“He had that big play at the end of the first half, which was good, and led to one of their scores. In terms of running, they did a lot better job in the second half. He's a good player; very competitive and it's hard to keep a player like that down.”

ON RECOVERING FROM THE LOSS—“Everything becomes new again. It's a question of continuing to iron out things, and make the little things become the big things.”

Offensive Line—“We didn't run the ball like we wanted to, or needed to. But I think they did a better job, certainly in the second half, in terms of protection.”

KANSAS IN THE SECOND HALF—“They were just more patient running the football. That was kind of key for them in the second half, and we would either have a little gap error or an assignment issue in there, and I think they did a good job of just running the football and they kind of controlled things in the second half.”

ON RESPONDING TO AN OPPONENT'S SCORE—“That's the hallmark of a really good team and a mature team. We score and go ahead and hit them, and they answered. You've got to give them credit; they played well.”

ON BEING CLOSE TO WINNING THE GAME—“It's not about being close. I like our guys' effort and heart and all of that. They've shown that time and time again and I don't question that at all. But just like all of us every single day in our jobs, you're just trying to get that much closer to perfection and chase it.”

ON MOMENTUM—“This is such an emotional game and a momentum game, and when you have opportunities and you don't seize them they tend to hammer away at you, and they also give the other team a little bit of breath of fresh air when you do that. So things are always working in your favor or against you, depending on how it is.”

ON KANSAS AS A TEAM—“They're a good football team, they are. Anytime you are that efficient, and you don't make mistakes, you're good. They were very solid all the way around.”

PLAYER QUOTES

Player quotes following the 19-14 loss to Kansas and prior to the Texas Tech game:

CB TERRENCE WHEATLEY

ON THE TEXAS TECH OFFENSE—“I think more than being a physical challenge it's from a mental standpoint because they do pass the ball from a different amount of formations, different amount of routes, you definitely have to bring your 'A-Game' to the table, that's for sure. So just from a mental standpoint they do present some challenges especially for the secondary with different coverages and stuff. This will definitely be the biggest challenge of the year, by far.”

ON PREPARING FOR TEXAS TECH—“I don't think you start from square one, you probably want to do something similar to what you did last year. You know you don't want to run the same coverages or from an offensive standpoint, run the same plays because you know they'll probably have that scouted pretty well. You want to throw some wrinkles in there, do something similar but at the same time do something they haven't seen before, different formations but a similar play. Whatever it may be, but running the same stuff probably isn't the best idea. Just looking at last year's film definitely gives us an idea of what we can do as far as game planning.”

ON LAST YEAR'S GAME WITH TEXAS TECH AFTER THE GAME WAS OUT OF REACH—“Their wide receivers stopped running routes hard, started jogging and you can kind of get a sense of who is getting the ball from who was running hard at the time. Hopefully we can do that again this year, that'll be nice. Last year you could kind of tell that they weren't expecting us to do what we did and play as hard as we did. They kind of expected us to lay down last year and we didn't and it was a little bit of a shock to the system for them and hopefully we can do it again.”

ON GETTING PRESSURE ON TECH QB GRAHAM HARRELL—“Yeah, the pass rush is nice. When you look at what he does, it looks like he is just sitting back there throwing darts. He's just sitting back there letting it rip. If we create some pressure, hit him a few times, hopefully that'll rattle him a little bit. We hit him a few times last year and he seemed to get a little antsy in the pocket and let a few passes go that he probably wishes he could have back and didn't let go. I just hope that we can get to him and let him know that he isn't going to be completely comfortable and be able to, basically, do what he wants to do. He's the type of guy who will survey all of his options just because he is so smart. You can't let a guy like that do that. You have to tell him, 'Hey you can look at your first, second and third and after that you better be running for your life.' Hopefully we can do that coming off the edge or coming up the middle or blitzing but there has to be a way to get pressure that way. You can't just sit there and let him get comfortable and do what he wants to do.”

“I think we were hitting them pretty good [last season] and after a little bit you could see he didn't want to get hit like that again. There were a few times that he probably let one go too early, he didn't go through his whole progression, he'd look at his first and second option then got rid of it. I think we need to do the same thing, we need to get into his head a little bit and not just let him sit back there and pass it like he is playing a video game or something where he can go 'I have all the time in the world to survey the field.' You just want to get in his head a little bit, knock him around a few times and let him know that we're here and hopefully he'll throw us a few like he did last year.”

ON TEXAS TECH WR MICHAEL CRABTREE—“He's just good. He's good, he's big, he's fast, he's strong; for a freshman it's almost not even fair watching it on film to be honest with you. He's a big guy, he's smart and he is really competitive and I think that is what separates him from a lot of wide receivers. I haven't seen him back down from anybody yet and he is in an offense where he is going to get the ball a lot. They are going to throw the ball to him a lot because he likes to compete and when he gets it you better tackle him because he's going to try and run you over, unlike most receivers. It's going to be an excellent challenge for the secondary to go against an offense like this, in particular a guy like this who so far this season hasn't backed down from anybody no matter who they are.”

GAME #1—COLORADO 31, COLORADO STATE 28 (OT)(September 1; Denver)

DENVER — Kevin Eberhart dutifully waited for his chance playing behind two-time All-American Mason Crosby the last three seasons, and when the Colorado senior placekicker had his chance in the spotlight, he connected on field goals to force overtime and then to win the game as the Buffaloes defeated in-state rival Colorado State, 31-28.

The Buffs rallied from 11 down against the Rams, the second time in three years CU was down by that many and came back to claim the victory, both by the same final score. Crosby was the hero in 2005, and this time around Eberhart made clutch kicks from 22 yards out with 13 seconds left in regulation, and then the game winner in overtime from 35 yards after Terrence Wheatley snuffed out CSU's overtime chance with an interception in the end zone.

Both teams scored touchdowns on their first possessions, as the score was 14-14 just three minutes into the second quarter. Redshirt freshman Cody Hawkins got off to a good start, completing his first five passes, two of which went for touchdowns to Scotty McKnight and Tyson DeVree. Thing settled down a bit in the second quarter, and Eberhart's 38-yard field goal just before the halftime gun gave the Buffs a 17-14 lead heading into intermission.

CSU took its first lead of the game with an impressive opening drive in the second half, and then used the recovery of a fluke squib kickoff, which bounded off CU's R.J. Brown, to score quickly and take a 28-17 just five minutes into the second half.

From that point on, it was all CU, as the Buff defense stiffened in holding the Rams to just five first downs and 79 yards on their last six possessions. Meanwhile, Colorado inched closer as Hawkins led the Buffs on a 14-play, 86-yard march that culminated with a Demetrius Sumler 3-yard touchdown run that pulled the Buffs to within five. The CU coaches elected to go for two, which proved big after Hawkins connected with Riar Geer for the deuce to cut the lead to 28-25.

Special teams play was a deciding factor in this game, and the Buffs dominated their northern counterparts in a big way. The last blow came with two minutes left, when Chase McBride returned a punt 43 yards to the CSU 34. An interference penalty on fourth down that prevented a Patrick Williams catch moved the ball to the 14, and three plays later Eberhart made the first of his two late kicks to send the game into an extra session.

Wheatley made the pick of a Caleb Hanie pass on a third-and-goal play from CU's 9-yard line, as linebacker Jordon Dizon forced Hanie to throw on the run with Wheatley in the right place to snare the pass, which was CSU's only turnover of the game.

CU ran three short yardage plays that kept the ball near the middle of the field, giving Eberhart a straighter shot at the winning points, which he made with ease.

Sumler led all CU ground gainers with 86 yards, while Hawkins completed 18-of-31 passes for 201 yards and two scores. McKnight caught eight passes for 106 yards and a score, the most receiving yards in a first career game by any Colorado receiver.

GAME NOTES

ILB Jordon Dizon racked up 22 tackles, the most by a Buffalo since 1997 (28 by Hannibal Navies versus Missouri)... WR Patrick Williams ran a reverse for 24 yards on the first play of the game, the longest rush on the first play of the season; he also owns the longest reception mark of 42 which he set in 2006 against Montana State... CU had 10 different players pile up a combined 26 special team points, one of the highest single-game totals in school history... The last six CU-CSU games have been decided by 26 points... This was the first overtime game in the series, and CU's first in a season opener; it was one of only two overtime games involving I-A/FBS teams over the first weekend. CU is now 74-39-5 in season openers, with a 9-5 mark against CSU; QB Cody Hawkins won his debut to raise the mark to 6-1 against Colorado State for CU signal callers who had their starting initiations against the Rams; Terrence Wheatley's 68-yard kickoff return in the third quarter was the longest by a Buff since Oct. 18, 2003, when Jeremy Bloom returned one 88 yards for a TD at Kansas State; Wheatley's interception in overtime gave him 10 for his career, tying him for eighth on CU's all-time pick list... Colorado scored in its 223rd straight game... Hawkins' touchdown pass to McKnight with 12:52 left in the first quarter was CU's quickest first score of the season since 1989, when Eric Bieniemy scored from a yard out against Texas just 1:15 into the game... McKnight had a great coming out party, as after suffering a broken ankle on the first day of spring practices, he rebounded to earn the top spot atop the grouping at the "Z" receiver position. He had eight receptions for 106 yards and a score, the first Buff to have a hundred yard receiving day since Evan Judge had 108 yards at Kansas State in 2005... Ten freshmen (two true) saw their first collegiate action in the game: CB Jalil Brown, WR Kendrick Celestine (true), PK Tyler Cope (true), QB Cody Hawkins, DE Marquez Herrod, WR Scotty McKnight, OG Wes Palazzi, CB Jimmy Smith, TE Nate Solder and TB Demetrius Sumler. In addition, SS Daniel Dykes played in his first CU game after transferring from Idaho and ILB Jake Duren after doing the same from UNC... CU freshman Michael Knorps, the victim in an on-campus stabbing on August 27, was a special guest of the team at the game. He watched from the sidelines, and when the Buffs took the podium for the Centennial Cup presentation, he was waved up by PK Kevin Eberhart to join in the celebration.

GAME #2—ARIZONA STATE 33, COLORADO 14*(September 8; Tempe)*

TEMPE, Ariz. — Colorado matched the game time temperature a hot start by zooming to a 14-0 lead, but the Buffaloes cooled off as the evening progressed as Arizona State shut CU out from the first quarter on in rallying for a 33-14 victory.

The 102 degree reading at kickoff was the warmest ever in school history, and it didn't seem to bother the Buffs in the least as Terrence Wheatley picked off a Rudy Carpenter pass just under a minute into the game and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown and a 7-0 CU lead.

Coupled with a stout early defensive performance, the Sun Devils went three plays and out three times in their first four possessions, while Colorado started three of its four drives inside ASU territory. But the Buffs struggled moving the ball and couldn't capitalize on great field position for their first six drives, which on average was the ASU 44, and managed just one score from those six opportunities, that coming on a 10-yard pass from Cody Hawkins to Scotty McKnight.

After spotting CU the two-score lead, ASU came back with 33 unanswered points in just under 17 minutes. After finally getting their wake up call, the Sun Devils started with a 19-point scoring blitz in the final four minutes of the first half to wrestle momentum away from the Buffs. Carpenter hit Michael Jones on a 12-yard scoring pass to cap a 12-play, 80-yard march to get on the board, and then pulled to within 14-13 on a 26-yard interception return by Troy Nolan, though the PAT kick sailed wide.

Following a CU punt, ASU had another crack in the half, though starting at its own 14 with 1:25 left. Using the two-minute offense to perfection and also capitalizing on a key fourth down play along the way, Carpenter drove the Sun Devils 86 yards in 71 seconds, finding Kyle Williams on a 22-yard pass play for the go-ahead score.

Arizona State used two short scoring drives for touchdowns in the third quarter to pull away from the Buffs, as both possessions started on CU's side of the 50 and took just nine plays between them.

The Sun Devils doubled up the Buffs on offense, owning a 407-204 edge in yards, and for the second straight week the opponent had as substantial advantage in time of possession (nearly an eight-minute edge for ASU). It was just the eighth time since 1993 that the Buffaloes had a two-score lead at any point in a game and didn't hold on for the win.

GAME NOTES

The 102 degree temperature at kickoff was the warmest in school history, eclipsing the 99 degrees at kick on Sept. 21, 2002 at UCLA... Arizona State became just the 11th school (out of 47 with multiple games) to win its first two games in the series with Colorado; the fourth Pac-10 team to do so, joining Oregon State, UCLA and USC... Arizona State had 12 penalties, including seven of the personal foul variety, as CU earned a school record seven first downs by penalty... All seven Colorado penalties were on the offense... CU was without the services of tailback Hugh Charles, who missed the game with a strained hamstring; the Buffs running game never got untracked, netting just 49 yards on 23 tries when allowing for sacks and kneeldowns... CU was 1-of-22 on second down trying to earn a new set of downs, quite often leaving long situations on third down tries, as Colorado was 4-of-13, with the average distance-to-go from 9 yards... DT Brandon Nicolas recorded his first career quarterback sack in the game... P Matt DiLallo's first two punts were inside-the-20 boots, as his first four of the season were such before recording a touchback on his third kick of he game... CU is now 1-3 in ASU Sun Devil Stadium, 1-2 in Fiesta Bowls and 0-1 against host Arizona State... QB Cody Hawkins suffered his first loss as a starting quarterback dating back to Pop Warner ball, as he is now 60-1... It was CU's seventh straight road games, dating back to a 30-16 loss at Iowa State in 2005, its longest road losing streak since dropping 10 in a row over the 1980 and 1981 seasons (0-5 both years; CU won its last road game in '79 and their first in '82)... CB Terrence Wheatley returned a first quarter interception 35 yards for a touchdown, the second INT for a score in his career. His first came his sophomore year on Oct. 30, 2004 in Boulder when he returned one 37 yards for CU's only touchdown in a 31-7 loss to No. 8 Texas. It was CU's first interception since the Kansas game last year (Oct. 28, game 9), and was Wheatley's 11th for his career, tying him for sixth on CU's all-time pick list with Steve Rosga (1992-96) and Ben Kelly (1997-99)... QB Nick Nelson and P Tom Suazo saw their first college action in the game... WR Scotty McKnight caught 14 passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns in CU's first two games; he is rapidly approaching last year's leading numbers, as TE Riar Geer led CU last season in all three categories (24-261-3)... ILB Jordon Dizon had 17 tackles and has moved into 12th place all-time at Colorado, as he has 321 for his career. He is the nation's third active leading tackler, and his two sacks against ASU gave him 10 for his career, bumping him up into a tie for 29th in CU annals.

GAME #3—FLORIDA STATE 16, COLORADO 6*(September 15; Boulder)*

BOULDER — The opportunities were there for a second straight week but the Colorado Buffaloes couldn't capitalize before a "blacked-out" crowd of nearly 53,000 and a national television audience as the Florida State Seminoles escaped their first-ever trip to Boulder with a 16-6 victory.

In a game where CU dominated both the possession time and the play count on a warm night, Florida State did not wear down until late in the game, holding the Buffaloes scoreless for over 56 minutes until Colorado broke through with a touchdown to extend the nation's fifth longest active scoring streak to 225 games.

But the Cody Hawkins 11-yard pass to Tyson DeVree in the end zone, on fourth down at that, came quickly (eight plays and 71 yards in 58 seconds), but was just too late. CU got the ball back and again drove deep into FSU territory, but were rebuffed with two seconds remaining on a Tony Carter interception, his second of the game, with his theft in the end zone all but preserving the win.

The teams dueled to a scoreless tie after one quarter, but the Seminoles took command of the scoreboard in the second, using a 36-yard touchdown run by Antone Smith to take a 7-0 lead and then a 31-yard field goal by Gary Cismesia to work to 10-0 lead. Cismesia would add field goals from 27 yards in the third and 37 early in the fourth to build a secure two-score lead for FSU.

Colorado couldn't swing momentum back its way until its final two drives in the game, though an interception by Brad Jones was ruled an incomplete pass by the Atlantic Coast Conference officiating crew, with no stoppage of the game for a review of the play. It happened on the second play of the second half, and had it been allowed, CU would have been in business inside the FSU 30.

Regardless, CU had its chances, driving four times deep into Seminole territory but could only produce the one score. Two missed field goals didn't help the Buffaloes, along with crucial wild center snaps in the shotgun that cost CU 31 yards in losses at inopportune times.

The CU defense had little to apologize for, containing Florida State to just 221 yards on offense and to 1-of-13 conversions on third down.

GAME NOTES

Florida State improved to 2-1 on the season, while the Buffs dropped to 1-2. . . The 8:15 p.m. kickoff was the latest in Folsom Field history, and with the game taking 3 hours and 31 minutes, the ending time of 11:46 was the latest a game ever ended in Boulder in CU annals. . . in any sport (the previous latest ending for football was 11:27; a women's NCAA regional game ended at 11:39 in the early 90s) . . . Colorado had allowed 173 yards in the first quarter in two games (86.5 per), but FSU mustered just 22 in the opening stanza. . . CU held the ball for 11:39 in the first quarter, only the second quarter in the first nine that the Buffs held an advantage. . . Matt DiLallo had his first 50-plus yard punt of the season (55 in the second quarter); it came on his 12th kick of the season (the average LOS for his punts was the CU 46; six of his first nine were inside-the-20) . . . The Buffaloes had 33 rushing yards in the first half, one more than for the entire game the previous week at Arizona State, but had 60 yards in losses in the second half to finish at minus-27; at one point, CU rushed nine straight times for negative yards. . . Two true freshmen saw action in the game WR Josh Smith (who started), and TB Brian Lockridge. . . The scoreless first quarter was just the second involving the Buffaloes over the last 48 games (dating back to 2003); the only other was the 2006 Kansas State game. . . Colorado attempted 54 passes, tied for the second most in school history; CU tried 55 against Washington State in 2003, and then later that year tossed 54 against Kansas. The 34 completions were the second most, trailing only the 38 against Kansas in '03. This was the 35th 300-yard passing game in CU history. . . Colorado's defense limited Florida State to 221 yards of offense on 55 plays; the Seminoles picked up 81 of them on their only two plays longer than 20 yards in the game. Of the 55 plays, 36 gained three yards or less. It was the fewest yards by an opponent since New Mexico State had 181 in Boulder on Sept. 10, 2005. . . Florida State converted just 1 of 13 third down plays (though it went for 45 yards), the best CU defense in that situation since 1999, when Kansas (1-of-13), Baylor (1-of-13) and KSU (1-of-14) were all held in check. . . Tony Carter picked off two passes for Florida State, the first opponent to steal two versus a CU team since 2004. . . FSU completed just 44 percent of its passes (8-of-18), the first CU opponent in 18 games not to complete over 50 percent of its throws. . . PK Kevin Eberhart missed two field goal tries; four of his five career misses at this point of his career have been against the Seminoles.

GAME #4—COLORADO 42, MIAMI-OHIO 0*(September 22; Boulder)*

BOULDER — Cody Hawkins threw for two touchdowns and passed for a third as he was one of many stars on offense and defense as Colorado stifled Miami (Ohio) at every turn in defeating the RedHawks, 42-0.

The Buffaloes, unable to get anything going on the ground the previous game against Florida State, had three different players run for 90 or more yards just seven days later, picking up 359 rushing yards as a team. With Hawkins passing for 275 more, Colorado amassed 634 total yards, or 495 more than its visitors from Oxford, Ohio.

Colorado needed a fourth down pass to get on the scoreboard as time dwindled in the first quarter. Hawkins floated a 1-yard toss to tight end Tyson DeVree to open the scoring, capping a 16-play, 72-yard drive that used almost eight minutes on the clock. The Buffs came right back with an 80-yard drive to go up 14-0 early in the second quarter, utilizing a Hugh Charles 22-yard run and then a 24-yard Hawkins to Josh Smith pass to get inside the MU red zone. Demetrius Sumler knocked it in from the 1 to complete the drive.

Hawkins topped off CU's next scoring effort with a 1-yard run, and then piloted a successful two minute drive to end the half, engineering a 10-play, 84-yard march in just 1:45 and finishing it off with a 3-yard touchdown pass to sophomore tied end Patrick Devenny, his first reception and score of his career, which also came in his first career game played.

If the game wasn't already salted away, Charles burst through the line and scored from 17 yards out to put CU ahead 35-0 with 32 seconds left in third quarter, basically sealing the outcome. Brian Lockridge polished things off with a 43-yard run with just over nine minutes left in the game.

Charles (123), Sumler (91) and Lockridge (90) combined for 314 rushing yards, helping CU to dominate in first downs (33-6) and time of possession (40:24 for Colorado).

Miami only ventured into Colorado territory three times, and had just 11 yards of offense for nine plays on the Buff side of the 50, never penetrating deeper than the CU 38-yard line. The RedHawks were held under 100 yards in both rushing (44) and passing (95) in being limited to 139 yards overall.

GAME NOTES

Colorado had 359 rushing yards in the game, the first time it topped 300 yards on the ground since going for 331 against Iowa State in Boulder on Nov. 16, 2002 (a 41-27 win) and its most since 372 at Missouri the week before (Nov. 9, 2002, a 42-35 overtime win)... Colorado's 634 yards on offense tied for its 11th most in its history, the highest team total since setting the school record with 767 against San Jose State in 1999... CU has played only one other Mid-American Conference team, that being 30 years ago almost to the day (Sept. 17, 1977 against Kent State in Boulder)—both games ended with the same final score (42-0)... Colorado ran 93 plays in the game, 15 for zero yardage (11 incompletions) and four for negative yards (including the last two plays of the game on kneeldowns)... CU's 33 first downs tied for the eighth most in its history, the most since 34 against NMSU in 2005 (its 40:24 in possession time was the first 40-plus minute effort since 40:14 in that same game against the Aggies); 12 different Buffs earned first downs... This was the second shutout in Dan Hawkins' I-A career, going with a 62-0 win over Idaho State in his 2003 season opener while at Boise State... Colorado's first scoring drive took 16 plays and consumed 7:48; both season highs for plays and time in a scoring drive. It's the longest time-wise since a 15-play, 75-yard drive that took 7:51 against Iowa State last year; it's the most plays since a 17-play drive (55 yards, 7:55) against Kansas in 2004... This was the first five-plus touchdown game by the Buffs in the Dan Hawkins Era, and just the second 4-TD game... Colorado topped 200 yards in both rushing (359) and passing (275), improving to 33-2 since 1989 when hitting 200 in both... The 386-yard improvement in rushing from the previous week (-27 vs. Florida State) was a school best, topping the 349 yards CU picked up between the Stanford (153) and Missouri (502) games in 1991... Colorado's defense posted its first shutout since a 34-0 win at Oklahoma State in 2005, limiting Miami to 139 yards of total offense, the lowest by an opponent since Baylor mustered just 114 yards on Nov. 13, 1999 (a 37-0 CU win in Waco). Colorado outgained Miami by 495 yards (634-139), but it was only the fourth largest (positive) difference in game for the Buffaloes.

GAME #5—COLORADO 27, OKLAHOMA 24*(September 29; Boulder)*

BOULDER — Oklahoma scored late to pad the final score in its 2006 game with Colorado; the Buffaloes' answer a year later was the ultimate as Kevin Eberhart made a 45-yard field goal to complete the fourth biggest comeback in school history as CU dealt the No. 3 Sooners a stunning 27-24 defeat.

Eberhart's kick topped off a Colorado rally after Oklahoma had built a 24-7 lead by the middle of the third quarter, as he "sandwiched" the 20-point rally with a 41-yard field goal on the front end that had cut the lead to 24-10 with 4:10 remaining in the quarter. That was his career long, until he bested it when the Buffs needed it most. He drilled the kick as time ran out, only the fourth such instance in school history where the Buffs won on a score as time expired, and the second field goal.

In-between, Cody Hawkins threw a pair of touchdown passes, one on fourth down and the other following a muffed punt deep in the Sooner end that would eventually help CU end a 14-game losing streak to ranked teams.

For the third time in four games, Tyson DeVree snared a scoring toss from Hawkins on a fourth down play, none bigger than this one as it polished off a 62-yard march. Hugh Charles (23 yards) and Byron Ellis (12) had a pair big running plays on the drive. That cut the Sooner lead to 24-17 on the second play of the fourth quarter.

With just under five minutes remaining, Reggie Smith muffed a Matt DiLallo punt, as Gardner McKay raced down on the coverage unit to distract him enough to cough up the ball. Justin Drescher recovered at the Oklahoma 16, and three plays later, Hawkins hit Dusty Sprague with a 15-yard dart into the end zone for the tying score.

The Buffs then snuffed out the Sooners in three plays, and Michael Cohen's 45-yard line drive punt was perfect for a big return. Chase McBride delivered, returning the kick 31 yards to the midfield stripe. A 16-yard pass from Hawkins to Kendrick Celestine set CU up at the OU 35, and three running plays moved the ball eight yards closer as time ticked down to the 2-second mark, setting up Eberhart's heroics.

Oklahoma took a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter, capitalizing on the first of two D.J. Wolfe interception returns. Sam Bradford hit Juaquin Iglesias on a 13-yard touchdown pass after the Sooners took over at the CU 11. The Buffs tied it two possessions later when Hugh Charles dashed around the right side for a 25-yard scoring run. OU built a 17-7 halftime lead, the second touchdown coming on an impressive 3-play, 80-yard drive capped by a 34-yard run by Allen Patrick. A Garrett Hartley field goal capped an 11-play drive 48 seconds before intermission.

Colorado's defense shined for a third straight game, holding the Sooners to 37 points under their scoring average, as well as 332 yards below its average offense per game entering the game. OU had just 230 yards offensively, its fourth lowest total ever against a CU team; exactly half of the yards came on just four plays, meaning the potent Sooner attack spent most of the day stifled as it went three-and-out six times on the afternoon.

GAME NOTES

The Buffs snapped a 5-game losing streak to the Sooners, as Colorado's last win over OU had been a 38-24 verdict in Boulder in 1999; two of the losses came in Big 12 Championship games (2002, 2004)... The Sooners' touchdown with 1:40 left in the first quarter following an interception was the first against the CU defense in nearly seven quarters; had the Buffs reached seven full quarters, it would have marked the first time in 30 seasons CU held an opponent without a TD that long (season finale in '77, a 23-0 shutout over Kansas State, and the first three quarters of the '78 opener against Oregon)... In the first half, OU averaged 7.8 yards on first down (13 plays, 102 yards), while CU netted just 1.8 (13 plays, 24 yards); Colorado did bounce back to average 5.8 per try in the third quarter and 4.5 for the game... Colorado dominated time of possession for a second straight week (38:54, including 21:30 in the second half); that was likely a factor in CU outgaining the Sooners 219-56 after halftime... This was Dan Hawkins' first win over a ranked team at Colorado, and his third in 13 games as a head coach; his other two wins over ranked teams came against #8 Fresno State (35-30 in 2001) and #19 TCU in the 2003 Fort Worth Bowl (34-31)... Colorado improved to 7-5 in Big 12 Conference openers... Thirty-five years ago, the Buffs toppled No. 2 Oklahoma in Boulder, 20-14, in the signature anniversary game for CU in the series his year... Oklahoma had been held to 24 points or less in a half just twice in its non-conference game schedule, much less to that few in a game; the Sooners came in with 246 points and a 61.5 average, but the latter number "dropped" to 54.0... CU's rally from 17 down tied the fourth largest comeback in school history; it was the biggest in a decade, when CU came back from 18 down (35-17) at Iowa State to win 43-38 on Nov. 8, 1997.

GAME #6—COLORADO 43, BAYLOR 23

(October 6; Waco)

WACO, Texas — Cody Hawkins passed for 293 yards and two touchdowns, Demetrius Sumler scored three times and Kevin Eberhart tied a school record with five field goals as Colorado raced to a 40-9 third quarter lead in coasting to a 43-23 win over the Baylor Bears.

The victory snapped a 7-game road losing streak for the Buffaloes, which had not won outside the state's borders since a 23-20 verdict at Kansas State in October 2005.

Sumler's 7-yard catch early in the second quarter was the second touchdown thrown by Hawkins and propelled the Buffs to what turned out to be an insurmountable 17-0 lead. It came after CU dominated the first period, with Hawkins and Dusty Sprague playing catch on the first possession of the game. Sprague caught three passes for 81 yards on the drive, with the last one a 26-yard bullet for the game's first score. Eberhart missed his first field goal attempt early in the quarter, but came back to drill a 41-yard effort later in the quarter for a 10-0 CU lead.

Sumler scored on a 3-yard run just two plays after Ryan Walters recovered a Baylor fumble at the Bears 26-yard line. Hawkins completed a 23-yard pass to Kendrick Celestine to the three, setting up Sumler's touchdown and a 24-3 CU lead. After a Baylor touchdown, Eberhart kicked three field goals in the next six minutes to run the lead to 33-9; within that trio of kicks was a career-best 54-yard kick as time expired in the first half, a play that was possible because D.J. Dykes sprinted some 30 yards up field to fair catch a short Baylor punt with just four seconds left before halftime.

The second half dragged a bit, especially since it was a hot, humid evening. Sumler added his third score on a 2-yard run midway through the third quarter to give CU its big lead at 40-9; the Bears added a couple of late cosmetic scores well after the game was decided, with Eberhart closing the Buff scoring with a 30-yard chip shot, as his first four efforts were all in excess of 40 yards.

Hugh Charles ran 19 times for 109 yards and Hawkins completed 17 of 26 passes in pacing a balanced Buffalo offense. Eberhart tied the school mark for field goals made (5), attempted (6) as well as points scored by a kicker for a game (19).

Baylor quarterback Blake Szymanski also entered the record book, as he completed 36 of 60 passes, both school marks, for 410 yards.

GAME NOTES

Colorado opened 2-0 in the Big 12 for the sixth time in the 12-year history of the conference (previously done in 1996, 1998, 2001, 2002, 2005)... Colorado's 30-point first half was its highest since half leading Texas A&M 31-10 at intermission on Oct. 8, 2005... the 43 points were the most since a 44-13 win over Kansas that same season (Oct. 22) and were the second most points by the Buffs in the last 41 games... CU is now 19-4 the week after playing a top 5 team dating back to 1986... Colorado has now doubled its win total over last year's 2-10 mark; it's the 16th time in school history (118 seasons) that the Buffs will have at least doubled its win total from the previous season. This tied for the seventh quickest in doing so, but the second fastest in the last 75 seasons (1892, 1894, 1907, 1917, 1933, 1985)... The 60 passing attempts by Baylor were the fifth-most ever against CU (the most since Texas Tech set the record of 65 against CU in 2002); the 36 completions tied for the third most... The last team to throw for over 400 yards against CU was Colorado State, with 403 in the 2004 season opener... WR Dusty Sprague came in with eight catches for 93 yards and almost equaled the yards on CU's first scoring drive, as he caught three passes for 81 yards on CU's 7-play, 82-yard possession to open the game; he finished with five for 95 and the score... TE Nate Solder made his first career start tonight... ILB Jordon Dizon made his first interception of his career, coming in the first quarter; DE Alonzo Barrett had his first career interception, and the first interception by a CU defensive lineman since DE Abraham Wright at Oklahoma State on Oct. 1, 2005... TB Cory Nabors saw his first career action, in the first half on kickoff coverage; DT Eric Lawson played for the first time as a Buff (in the fourth quarter)... This was the 27th time in CU history the Buffaloes had a 100-yard rusher and receiver in the same game, the first time since it happened three times in 2004 (TB Hugh Charles 20-122 rush; WR Josh Smith 2-103 receiving).

GAME #7—KANSAS STATE 47, COLORADO 20

(October 13; Manhattan)

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Kansas State won the battle on every front, offense, defense and special teams, as the Wildcats gained over 200 yards rushing and passing in running away from the Colorado Buffaloes, 47-20.

K-State jumped to early leads of 10-0 and 17-3, and the Buffs were on their heels from the on-set, playing catch-up the entire evening. Though still a 10-point game after an impressive touchdown drive early in the second half, CU only had the ball one time after the first quarter needing just one tie or take the lead. A huge special teams play by the Wildcats sealed the verdict.

Hugh Charles' 1-yard touchdown run cut the KSU lead to 30-20 with 4:37 left in the third quarter, and the Wildcats came back with a 39-yard Brooks Rossman field goal to inch the lead back to 33-20. The Buffs stalled on their next possession, and when punter Matt DiLallo couldn't cleanly handle a low snap,

K-State's Daniel Gonzalez had an opening to block the kick, with Courtney Herndon scooping the ball up and taking it six yards for a touchdown.

Four Colorado turnovers (three interceptions) contributed to 10 KSU points along with going 2-or-14 combined on third and fourth downs kept CU from getting into any kind rhythm. Ten of CU's 16 possessions used less than 1:45 of clock time, none of which produced points. Defensively, K-State ran off a season-high seven plays of 20 or more yards against the Buffs, including the longest play from scrimmage on the year, a 68-yard James Johnson touchdown run that closed the scoring.

Despite Charles finishing the game with a career-high 171 yards, the Buffs were unable to string back-to-back wins together away from home for the first time in consecutive weeks since 1994.

GAME NOTES

CU had scored in seven consecutive quarters entering the game, extending that to 10 before being shutout in the fourth quarter... FB Jake Behrens gained 23 yards on a rush to open the game on his first career touch; his first career reception in the second quarter (1-yard) was his first collegiate touchdown... First career starts tonight were made by Behrens, TB Brian Lockridge and OT Ryan Miller... PK Tyler Cope made his sixth solo tackle on kickoff coverage in the first half, the most by any CU kicker in recent memory... QB Cody Hawkins extended a pair of school records, as he threw a touchdown pass in his seventh straight game from his career on-set, and well as an interception for the seventh straight game. The record for the most consecutive games with a touchdown pass at any time in a career is nine (Koy Detmer, the first nine games of the '96 season)... PK Kevin Eberhart made both his field goal tries to extend his streak to seven; he made the second longest of his career (50 yards) in this game... CU had a punt blocked for the first time since the Arizona State game last year; the last time an opponent scored a touchdown on a blocked punt return was in the 2005 Big 12 Championship game, when Brandon Foster recovered the ball in the end zone for a Texas touchdown... This was the seventh time in the 12 year history of the league CU played back-to-back league games away from home, and CU still has never has never swept the pair, going 0-2-5 (losing both twice with five splits)... Colorado still owns the best intra-division record in the North since the start of the '01 season at 21-10, with a 9-7 road mark; K-State is third (19-13, with Nebraska in-between at 20-12)... The 47-20 loss (27 points) was the largest margin of defeat in Dan Hawkins' 19 games at Colorado, and the first time an opponent scored 40 or more points... Colorado allowed over 400 yards to the opponent in back-to-back games for the first time since the end of the '05 season (Nebraska, Texas in the Big 12 title game)... ILB Jordan Dizon had 13 tackles, cracking the top 5 all-time at CU as he passed Chad Brown and Laval Short into fifth place with 375 for his career... TB Hugh Charles had the ninth 100-yard rushing game of his career, his fourth in a row (the most since TB Chris Brown had eight consecutive games reaching the century mark in 2002). It was a career-high for Charles, as his best previous game of 132 yards came against Oklahoma State in Stillwater in 2005... CB Terrence Wheatley (6-128 kickoff returns) became just the fifth player in CU history to record 1,000 kickoff return yards, ending the game with 1,065 for his career.

GAME #8—KANSAS 19, COLORADO 14*(October 20; Boulder)*

BOULDER — An expected offensive shootout never materialized with defense ruling the roost as the No. 15 Kansas Jayhawks left Folsom Field a winner for the first time in 12 years in dealing the Colorado Buffaloes a 19-14 setback.

Ill-timed and costly turnovers thwarted CU's chances of knocking off the 11th undefeated, ranked team at Folsom since 1989. The biggest may have come late in the first quarter, as after stopping KU cold on its first two possessions, the Buffs drove to the Jayhawk 13-yard line where Hugh Charles lost control of the ball while trying to stretch for a first down, with Kendrick Harper recovering for KU. Colorado had a sure three and may have taken it for six, setting a different tone for the game.

Instead, Kansas took over and drove to the CU 31, where Scott Webb made a 48-yard field goal to put the Jayhawks up 3-0 just 78 seconds into the second quarter. That lone score stood at halftime, as the Buffs were well into KU territory three times before the halftime gun, with only a missed field goal, an interception and an incomplete pass into the end zone to show for it.

Colorado stormed out of the lockerroom and drove 80 yards in 10 plays to open the third quarter, with Cody Hawkins executing a perfect fake "fumble" in throwing to a wide open Tyson DeVree for a 27-yard touchdown. Hawkins pretended to fumble the ball, and with several offensive linemen yelling, "Fumble!," Kansas bought it and left DeVree all by himself.

But the lead was short-lived, as KU countered with a 58-yard drive in just five plays to go up 10-7, the big play a 27-yard pass from Todd Reesing to Marcus Henry that set Kansas up at the Buff 2. Jake Sharp took it in from there, and KU moved ahead for good. Webb added a 35-yard field goal two minutes later to make the score 13-7.

The backbreaker came after CU punter Matt DiLallo pinned KU at its 6-yard line with 2:31 left in the third. The Jayhawks methodically marched 94 yards in 15 plays, converting four third down plays and using over seven minutes of possession time (7:08) with Reesing connecting with tight end Derek Fine on a 4-yard TD throw. Reesing was stopped short on a 2-point try, and the 'Hawks were up 19-7 with 10:23 to play.

After swapping three downs and out possessions, the Buffs used another 10-play, 80-yard drive to cut the lead down to five. A pair of passes from Hawkins to DeVree gained 34 yards, and then a 27-yard reception by Patrick Williams had CU in business at the KU 5. From there, Hawkins hit Byron Ellis with a 5-yard throw as he leaped into the end zone.

The game had a storybook feel to it, but it was not meant to be for the Buffs. CU stuffed KU and forced a punt, taking over at its own 42 with 2:16 left. But a sack (with a face mask that was at first called and then waved off), fumble and two incomplete passes, the last of which went in and out of Josh Smith's hands, ended the rally.

Kansas improved to 7-0 with the win, but was held well under its season averages of 50.3 points and 515.8 yards of total offense.

GAME NOTES

The 33 points were the lowest combined in the series since a 20-7 Colorado win in 1996; this marked the first time the winning team did not score at least 20 since a 17-10 CU win in 1986... CU went from 11 penalties the previous week at Kansas State (and 21 over the last two games) to four, none in the first half... Colorado averaged just 1.7 yards per first down play in the first half (15 plays, 26 yards), but came back to average 5.4 in the second (16-87)... Eleven different players earned CU's 18 first downs by rushing or passing (the 19th was by penalty)... Colorado made Kansas earn its yards in plus territory, as KU ran 33 plays on CU's side of the 50 for 127 yards (3.8 per)... KU came into the game the NCAA leader in kickoff return average (31.4), but averaged just 18.0 on two returns... DE Alonzo Barrett had his first quarterback sack of the season—and just CU's second in the last five games... QB Cody Hawkins had a touchdown pass for the eighth straight game, a CU record at the on-set of career by five (old mark was three) to move within one of the all-time record of nine, set by Koy Detmer during the 1996 season... TB Hugh Charles had his string of 100-yard games snapped at four, which had tied the fifth longest streak in school history; This was the 19th time that Colorado played the Sunflower State schools in back-to-back games, the sixth straight year at that; the Buffs have now dropped both games back-to-back for the second consecutive year but for just the fourth time in the 19; the Buffs have swept KU and KSU nine times in this fashion with the other six split. The two will play back-to-back again in 2008, 2009, 2012 and 2013... PK Mason Crosby attended the game, as the Green Bay Packer rookie traveled back to Boulder during his team's bye week... CU found out the morning of the game that former tight end Tennyson McCarty ('97) had passed away, as his body was found in the mountains, near a vehicle parked in a turnout on the Peak-to-Peak Highway northeast of Peaceful Valley. He was 32.

TOUGHEST SCHEDULES / BUFFS IN AT NO. 20

Though based purely on won-loss records, Colorado currently is playing the 20th toughest schedule in the nation when taking into consideration both past and future opposition; it was just No. 5 last week, but its bunched up among the top 30. Oklahoma State tops the chart, as its opponents are 48-22 for a 68.6 winning percentage; the rest of the top five: Texas A & M (48-23, .676); Washington (52-29, .642); Nebraska (48-27, .640) and Notre Dame (49-28, .636). Colorado's opponents are 45-31, .592 (going 3-7 last week). Nebraska and Baylor are Nos. 6 and 7, to give the Big 12 five teams in the top seven; nine league schools are in the top 50, with only Texas Tech (51st), Oklahoma (58th) and Kansas (70th) ranked lower.

EBERHART MAKING OWN FOOTPRINTS

PK Kevin Eberhart had to replace a two-time All-American in Mason Crosby, but he's already done enough to make his own mark, both on the field and in the record books. Against Baylor, he tied the school record for field goals made in a game with five, joining Jeremy Aldrich (five against Kansas on Sept. 18, 1999, in a 51-17 win) and also tied the mark for attempts with six. He also made good on all four PAT kicks to score 19 points, tying CU's record for the most points in a game by a kicker (Aldrich's point count in that '99 KU game). Some Ebbies:

👉 His 54-yard field goal at the end of the first half at Baylor was a career best, topping the 45-yard effort against Oklahoma the previous week which was the game winner as time expired in CU's dramatic 27-24 upset of No. 3 Oklahoma. It was the 32nd field goal of 50 yards or longer in CU history, and tied for the 11th longest overall. It was the longest by a Buff other than Crosby (13 50+) since Mitch Berger hit a 54-yard kick against Miami-Florida in Boulder on Sept. 25, 1993. It tied for the fourth longest on the road by a Buff, and tied CU's longest in the state of Texas (Crosby had a 54-yard kick in the 2004 Houston Bowl).

👉 He became the seventh Buff to make four (or more) field goals in a game, joining Aldrich, Mark Zetterberg, Tom Field, Berger, Jeremy Flores and Crosby. He is just the second to make four in game from 40 yards or longer, joining Aldrich, who made all five of his kicks against Kansas in Boulder from between 40 and 49 yards.

👉 His then career-long 45-yard field goal came with 0:00 on the clock against Oklahoma, just the second game winning kick of such nature in school history (not including one in overtime, which he made earlier this year to beat Colorado State, 31-28). The only other came on Oct. 18, 1947, when John Zisch made a 36-yard field goal as time expired to lead CU to a 9-7 win over BYU in Boulder.

THIRD DOWN DEFENSE "ON FIRE"

When Colorado State scored on its first two second half possessions to take a 28-17 lead in the season opener, at that point the Rams were 9-of-12 on third down conversions. However, since that time, the CU defense has fortified itself on the down. How much so? Since that third defensive series of the second half of the opener, the opponent is a combined 29-of-107 (27.1 percent) converting on the down. For the season, the Buffs are ranked 24th nationally in third down defense (38-of-119, 31.9%), though did have a run in the top 10 for a three-game stretch. Sans those first 12 tries, the Buffs would be right up there. How far up there? Seventh, actually; Kansas leads with a 25.7 figure and it's bunched up from the get-go.

ALL-TIME COMEBACKS

The 17-point comeback against Oklahoma tied for the fourth biggest in school history (the second biggest ever at Folsom Field). Here's a look at the top ones:

Trailed By	Time, Qtr,	Final	Opponent, Site (Date)	Trailed By	Time, Qtr,	Final	Opponent, Site (Date)
20	(7-27)	8:01, 3Q	28-27 Missouri at Columbia (Oct. 28, 1978)	17	(0-17)	7:00, 3Q	21-20 Minnesota at Minneapolis (Sept. 19, 1992)
19	(0-19)	13:18, 4Q	20-19 Kansas in Boulder (Oct. 7, 1961)	17	(7-24)	8:11, 3Q	27-24 Oklahoma in Boulder (Sept. 29, 2007)
18	(17-35)	8:20, 3Q	43-38 Iowa State at Ames (Nov. 8, 1997)	15	(13-28)	8:52, 2Q	41-34 Iowa State in Boulder (Oct. 31, 1953)

It was the 30th time in school annals that the Buffs rallied to win or tie a game in the final two minutes, and just the second time the Buffaloes won a game on a field goal as time expired. The only other occasion was on October 18, 1947, when John Zisch kicked a 36-yard field goal to beat BYU 9-7 (in Boulder). Two times, CU scored touchdowns as the clock ran out, both famous games: 33-31 at Missouri in 1990 (Fifth Down) and 27-26 at Michigan in 1994 (The Catch). Two times, CU tied games with field goals as time expired (25-25 at Oklahoma State in 1982 and 24-24 versus Oklahoma in 1992).

CU's previous largest deficit it overcame against OU was 11 points, when the Buffs fought back from 31-20 down to win 42-31 in Boulder on Oct. 30, 1976.

THE OKLAHOMA WIN WAS HANDED TO CU? OU SELF-DESTRUCTED? WHAT KOOL-AID ARE SOME DRINKING?

We had to endure a week nationally of how Oklahoma blew its game against Colorado instead of the Buffaloes getting credit for the comeback. Now Oklahoma did have a couple of (forced) turnovers and two key penalties, but some would have you believe that CU just hung around long enough until the Sooners imploded last Saturday. Not so fast (apologies to Lee Corso): OU had just 230 yards of offense (with exactly half—115—coming on four plays, otherwise the Sooners averaged 2.7 yards per play); two of its three touchdowns drives followed interceptions off deflected balls that combined went for 28 yards; the Sooners were 1-of-9 on third down, while CU was 6-of-19 (13 points higher than OU opponents had fared in the first four games); CU ran 82 plays to OU's 46; the Buffs didn't run any trick or gadget plays; and the OU offense went three plays (or fewer) and out six times in 13 drives. Sure sounds like Colorado had a lot to do with creating the circumstances for its own victory.

TRIFECTA OF DEFENSE

On September 8, Colorado left the southwestern desert allowing 402 yards to Arizona State, but the next three games were a whole different ball game. The Buffaloes allowed just 590 yards in the three games after the ASU loss, which stood as the second lowest three-game total over the last 42 seasons. Going back to 1966, here are the best three-game defensive efforts by the Buffaloes:

1992	510	Missouri (187), Oklahoma (307), Kansas State (16)	1999	628	Oklahoma (317), Kansas State (197), Baylor (114)
1977	593	Kent State (137), New Mexico (175), Army (281)	1998	649	Fresno State (330), Utah State (141), Baylor (178)
1969	597	Penn State (229), Indiana (167), Iowa State (201)	2007	590	Florida State (221), Miami-Ohio (139), Oklahoma (230)

QUARTERBACK DEBUTS

Redshirt freshman QB Cody Hawkins made his first career start in the season opener against Colorado State, the 42nd player set to start at quarterback for Colorado dating back to the 1959 season. He was the 17th to do so in a season opener but the first freshman, true or redshirt. A look at past Buffalo quarterback debuts:

(*—season opener; #—injured in the first quarter; †—Colorado's record as the starting quarterback.)

Looking inside the numbers, when a CU signal caller has made his starting debut against Colorado State, they have generally enjoyed success. It has now happened seven times, with Colorado winning six of the games including Hawkins' debut. Kordell Stewart and Joel Klatt had the top starts, both throwing for over 400 yards and four touchdowns. In fact, when combined, CU's throwers are 78-of-120 for 1,313 yards with 12 touchdowns and just one interception; that would work to an average passer rating of 188.24. Here are those games singled out from the above:

BIG 12 BOWL TIE-INS ALTERED LAST SEASON

The Big 12 Conference signed new agreements with the Gator, Sun and Insight bowls beginning in 2006, and ended previous arrangements with the Champs Sports and Fort Worth bowls. The new agreements run through 2009, and the league also re-upped for that same period of time with the bowls it retained relationships with: Fiesta, Cotton, Holiday, Alamo, Independence and Houston. The new Big 12 bowl lineup:

BCS/Tostitos Fiesta (vs. BCS)

MasterCard Alamo (vs. Big 10)

Insight (vs. Big 10)

AT&T Cotton (vs. SEC)

*Toyota Gator (vs. ACC)

Independence (vs. SEC)

Pacific Life Holiday (vs. Pacific 10)

*Vitalis Sun (vs. Pacific 10)

EV1.net Houston (vs. Big East)

*—For the Gator and Sun bowls, the Big 12 is guaranteed a spot each season in one of the bowls, with no more than two appearances in either game over the four years of the contract; the Sun Bowl selected a Big 12 team (Missouri) in 2006, so the Gator may very well make a run at a Big 12 school this winter.

THE VERTICAL GAME

Dan Hawkins noted that one thing missing from CU's offense in 2006 that has been prevalent of his past offenses at Boise State was the vertical passing game. "By the end of the season, we'd always be up in the 70s or 80s in the number of pass plays over 20 yards" he said on his radio show last Oct. 18. "I don't want to tell you how many we have this season." Except we have always publicized the count in our stat pages, and he was definitely on mark with his assessment. CU had just 35 total, 18 rushing and 17 passing, the Buffs' fewest overall 20-yard plays since 2000 (38) as well as pass plays of 20 yards or more since 2002 (23), also the last time CU had a quarterback quit the team after the season began). Colorado did have 18 rushing plays of 20 yards or more, and while not an overly large number, it was its most since 2002 and higher than nine of the totals in the 12 season snapshot below. In 2007, CU already has 43 plays of 20 yards or longer through eight games, and is on pace to increase its count from last year by 67 percent. Here's a look at CU's 20-plus plays in recent memory, going back to 1994, when CU had a high of 76 plays over 20-yards, almost equal in nature (37 rush, 39 pass):

Season	Total	Rush	Pass
1994	76	37	39	1998	40	11	29	2002	58	35	23	2006	35	18	17

41 WINS OVER RANKED TEAMS SEVENTH BEST SINCE '89

CU's 41 wins over Associated Press ranked teams since the start of the 1989 season is the seventh most in the nation in this time frame. Florida State has the most with 66, followed by Florida (58), Michigan (58), Miami, Fla. (51), Ohio State (50), Tennessee (49), Colorado (41) and Notre Dame (40). Penn State (39), Alabama (36), Nebraska (35) and Texas (35) round out the top 10. As for the Big 12, after CU, NU and UT, the next schools on this list are Oklahoma (33), Texas A&M (20) and Texas Tech (17). All-time, Colorado's 64 wins over ranked teams are the 23rd most in history. (AP polls used for these figures because the coaches' poll omits teams on probation, but AP still ranks those teams.)

- Colorado had dropped 14 straight games against ranked opponents until the 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma. CU's previous last win against a ranked team came in 2003, when the Buffs toppled No. 22 Missouri in Boulder, 21-16. CU has eight straight road games at ranked opponents, with the last win at UCLA 31-17 in 2002.

CHARLES IS COLORADO'S 48TH TO 1,000

TB Hugh Charles became the 48th player in Colorado history to have rushed for 1,000 or more yards in a career when he surpassed the mark in 2006. Research indicates that the Buffs are one of the all-time leaders in the number of players who have rushed for 1,000-plus yards for a career. Oklahoma currently tops the list with 64, followed by Nebraska and USC (both 54); three prominent schools never responded with their counts but likely are on the lost. Regardless, CU is among the national leaders in the number of players who have reached the career 1K plateau:

Oklahoma	64	Colorado	48	Minnesota	39	South Carolina	36	Air Force	34	Georgia Tech	32
Nebraska	54	Texas	44	North Carolina	37	Penn State	35	Virginia	34	Michigan	NA
Southern Cal	54	West Virginia	41	Iowa	36	Texas A & M	35	Miami, Fla.	33	Ohio State	NA

TRENDS

1985-2007

Since 1985, when the Buffs returned to their traditional winning ways after six frustrating years, Colorado is 174-97-4, the 19th best record nationally in this span). In these 275 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

◆ with 400-plus yards total offense	103-17-2	◆ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	85-17-1
◆ with 500-plus yards total offense	51- 5-0	◆ when leading at halftime	142-17-2
◆ when leading in time of possession	114-26-3	◆ when leading after three quarters (141-12-3 in last 156)	145-14-3
◆ when making 20-plus first downs	105-30-1	◆ when scoring 24 or more points	142-18-2
◆ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	67- 7-1	◆ when scoring 14 or more points	171-56-4
◆ when punting three or fewer times	65-13-1	◆ when held to 13 points or less	3-40-0
◆ when scoring first	113-28-1	◆ when not committing a turnover or allowing a sack	12- 0-0

◆ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	88-11-1

TRENDS II

1989-2007

Since 1989, when the Buffs became a regular in the national rankings, Colorado has posted the nation's 19th best overall record at 146-78-4. Here are some trends during this time frame (228 games, including bowls):

➤ when running more plays than the opponent	81-29-3	➤ when rushing for 200-plus yards	76- 5-1
➤ with 400-plus yards total offense (46-5 with 500-plus)	89-17-2	➤ when rushing for 250-plus yards	52- 2-1

➤ when play selection is 50 percent rushing calls	122-28-2

TRENDS III

HAWKINS

Some trends of Colorado coach Dan Hawkins both overall and at his former school, Boise State; totals are for 84 games including bowls (59-25; the Broncos were 53-11 under his guidance in five seasons):

Category	At CU	Overall	Category	At CU	Overall

➤ when trailing at halftime (4-0 when tied)	1-10	7-18

TURNOVERS ARE INDEED COSTLY

Dan Hawkins falls in line with most, if not all, head coaches when it comes to turnovers, and that they are one of the single most important factors in winning or losing ball games. He has penalties and rewards daily in the practice dependent on the number of turnovers committed or forced. Gary Barnett drilled home to his teams the importance of taking care of the football, which he learned from the legendary Bill McCartney. Statistics back up the argument, as the below will show that it is definitely better to take than to give over the last 19 seasons, in which CU owns the nation's 19th best overall record:

	Turnovers		+/-	Scoring Off Turnovers		+/-
	Committed	Forced		PF	PA
146 WINS	247	369	+122	1,265	490	+739
HAWKINS ERA (6 WINS)	12	12	E	31	34	- 3
78 LOSSES (& 4 TIES)	202	135	- 67	301	653	-352
HAWKINS ERA (14 LOSSES)	25	24	- 1	39	71	- 32
19-SEASON TOTALS (228 Games)	449	504	+55	1,530	1,143	+387
HAWKINS ERA (20 Games)	37	36	- 1	70	105	- 35

TWO-MINUTE WARNING

Colorado has scored 117 times in 182 tries, including 20 game winning or tying scores, when the offense has gone into the “two-minute offense” drill since 1988; that’s 65 percent of the time. CU is 5-of-7 this season, utilizing the drill to score field goals at the end of each half against CSU, twice in the fourth quarter against Florida State (scoring one TD), once for six before the half versus Miami and for the game winning field goal, though a bit less rushed, against Oklahoma. The Buffs were 2-of-6 in 2006: 1-of-1 against Texas Tech (field goal), 0-of-2 versus Montana State, 0-of-1 versus Colorado State, 0-1 at Georgia and 1-of-1 versus Iowa State (field goal). In 2005, CU also used the drill to score the game winning field goal against CSU. CU was very productive in 2004 (4-of-5), including a second half go-ahead score at Texas A&M and the game winning touchdown versus Kansas State. In 2003, the Buffs scored twice in as many tries in the season opener against Colorado State, registering a TD at the end of the first half and the game-winning score at the end of the game—CU’s first in the two-minute drill since 1999. Lo and behold, the Buffs did it again in the offense the following week, putting the game winning score on the board with 2:15 left against UCLA. One of the most prolific years in the drill came in 1994, when CU was 7-of-8; that included two scores in the final two minutes at Michigan, including that certain play of the decade. Between 1988 and 1994, Colorado was an amazing 61-of-81 in the two-minute offense, with 44 touchdowns. The chart showing CU’s scores:

SAFELY AHEAD

The Buffs have been a virtual lock to win once they have a lead of two or more scores (nine-plus points) over the past 30 seasons. Since 1976 (game 1), CU has protected a two-score lead 207 of 223 times, losing 13 and tying three when it blew the lead. A closer look (*—Disneyland Pigskin Classic at Anaheim):

Colorado has lost only 19 games (and was tied twice) dating back to 1980 when leading by any margin at any point in the fourth quarter or overtime. The most recent losses were last season (Kansas, Baylor in three overtimes—CU scored first in OT—and at Georgia, when the Buffs led 13-0 entering the quarter and lost with just 46 seconds remaining as UGA won, 14-13. In conference play, only Kansas (1984, 2006), Nebraska (1984, 1998, 1999, 2001), Oklahoma State (1997), Texas A&M (2004) and Baylor (2006) have rallied in the fourth to topple CU in this span. The ties came against Tennessee in 1990 (31-31, after leading 31-17) and Kansas State in 1993 (16-16 after taking a late 16-13 lead).

- Colorado has won 91 of its last 99 games in which it at any point has held a two-score lead—and 18 of the last 22). A 2003 loss to Baylor snapped a 26-game winning streak in such situations on the road, and an overall streak of 49 consecutive wins between 1993 and 1999 was snapped in 2000 (to CSU; Iowa State also did it later that year).
- In this same span, Colorado has rallied to win 31 games and tie two others dating back to 1981 after once trailing at some point in the fourth quarter (not including coming from 27-3 down against Nebraska in 1999 before losing in OT). The most recent wins of this variety came this season against CSU (rallying from 28-17 down in the third and 28-25 in the fourth to win 31-28 in overtime) and Oklahoma (down 24-7 late in the third, eventually tying the fourth largest comeback in school history in winning 27-24).

DOMINATION

Colorado has only 27 losses to unranked teams since dropping the 1987 season opener to Oregon: to BYU (1988 Freedom Bowl); Stanford (1991); Missouri (1997); Kansas (1998); CSU, Washington and Texas Tech (1999); CSU, Texas A&M and Kansas (2000); Fresno State (2001); CSU and Wisconsin (2002); Washington State, Baylor and Kansas State (2003); Missouri (2004); Iowa State and Nebraska (2005); five games in 2006 and Arizona State, Florida State and Kansas State this year. On several occasions, teams used the win over the Buffs to gain national notoriety and/or move into the rankings following the win. The Buffs are 87-25-2 in their last 114 games against unranked teams (AP), along with a record of 118-27-2 in the last 146. The Buffs are 156-78-4 in regular season games since the start of the 1986 Big Eight Conference season (8-8 in bowls); 108-55-3 in Big 8/12 games (including four league title games) and 48-23-1 in non-conference regular season action.

LITTLE KNOWN RARITY

In CU history, the Buffaloes have had a 100-yard rusher and receiver in the same game on 27 occasions (and is 21-6 in games when this occurs). It’s happened seven times this decade, most recently at Baylor this season (TB High Charles 109 yards, and WR Josh Smith 103). It hadn’t happened since 2004, when it occurred thrice: at Texas A&M (TB Bobby Purify/WR Dusty Sprague), versus Kansas State (Purify/WR Ron Monteilh) and at Nebraska (Purify/WR Blake Mackey). It happened three games in a row late in 2001, including the first time the same player had 100 yards in both in the same game (TB Cortlen Johnson at Iowa State: 172 rushing and 105 receiving); Johnson and TE Daniel Graham did it against Missouri, Graham and TB’s Chris Brown and Bobby Purify all did it against Nebraska. A closer look at this unique list can be found on page 171 of the 2004 CU football media guide (yes, from three years ago; thanks again, NCAA).

SCORING STREAKS

The Buffs have scored in a school record 230 consecutive games, last being shutout on November 12, 1988 by Nebraska in Lincoln (7-0). CU has scored in 122 straight games at home (last shutout: a 28-0 loss to Oklahoma on Nov. 15, 1986 in a game where the Sooners did not attempt a single pass). The Buffs have scored in 90 consecutive road games (117 including neutral sites). The Buffs have scored in 145 straight league games (all 95 in Big 12 play, including the four title games, and their final 50 in Big Eight competition, dating back to the '88 shutout at Nebraska). CU has scored in 124 straight games against non-conference opponents (last shutout: a 44-0 loss at home to LSU on September 15, 1979). The home shutout losses to Oklahoma in '86 and LSU in '79 are the only two times CU has not scored at Folsom Field over the course of the last 261 games (all the way back to 1963). CU has been shutout just seven times in its last 461 games (dating to October 5, 1968), but only four schools have done it: Oklahoma (three times), Nebraska (twice), Louisiana State and Michigan. Big 12 Conference Consecutive Game Scoring Streaks (through October 20): Colorado 230, Nebraska 147, Kansas State 135, Texas Tech 125, Oklahoma 115, Kansas 57, Missouri 56, Iowa State 47, Texas A&M 46, Texas 41, Oklahoma State 28, Baylor 7. CU is the last team to shutout both Kansas State (12-0 in 1996) and Oklahoma State (34-0 in 2005).

SCORING STREAKS II

The school record 230 consecutive games in which Colorado has scored is the fifth longest active streak in the nation. Since the start of the 1993 season, just eight Division I-A/FBS schools have scored in every game. The list, through games of October 20:

230 AND COUNTING

Colorado's 230-game scoring streak is the 11th longest in Division I-A college history; of the top 14 all-time, nine were started in the 1980s while five began in the 1970s. Here's that list:

The streak of 230 games started on November 19, 1988; here's a look at some of things in the news that day and week CU began its record scoring run:

- ◆ The media reported on President Ronald Reagan signing three executive orders the previous day in relation to FEMA and catastrophic nuclear accidents. Reagan was wrapping up his second term, as George H.W. Bush was elected into office 11 days earlier on November 8;
- ◆ Weatherwise, the high temperature in Boulder that day was 37 degrees, with the low 21.
- ◆ In the NBA, the Doug Moe-coached Denver Nuggets crushed the L.A. Clippers, 134-107 (Alex English was the highest paid player on Denver, at $1.65 million);
- ◆ Hakeem Olajuwon scored 34 points and had 12 rebounds as Houston posted a 109-98 win at Detroit, ending the Pistons' 8-0 run to start the season;
- ◆ Robert Plant of Led Zeppelin fame was touring that night in Tulsa, Okla.;
- ◆ The Escape Club owned the nation's top single on that date with their hit, Wild, Wild West, taking the spot over from the Beach Boys' Kokomo; Bon Jovi would take it over the next week with Bad Medicine.
- ◆ The Top 10 television shows at the time included: The Cosby Show, Roseanne, A Different World, Cheers, The Golden Girls, Who's The Boss, 60 Minutes, Murder She Wrote, Empty Nest and Anything But Love. L.A. Law's Corbin Bernson married actress Amanda Pays (who?);
- ◆ Movies that opened the previous night included Fresh Horses (so bad that critics said to chew your leg off to get away from this one), 1969, High Spirits, The Land Before Time and Oliver & Company; Scrooged and Cocoon: The Return opened four days later, the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.
- ◆ Christine Onassis, heir and stepdaughter of Jackie O., died of heart failure at the age of 37;
- ◆ John Lithgow hosted that's evening's Saturday Night Live; and

ANATOMY OF THE SCORING STREAK

Colorado has more often than not extended its scoring streak rather quickly. In the 230-game run, CU has scored on its first possession 91 times, plus another three occasions where it scored on returns on its first touch of the game. The Buffs have scored in the first quarter 160 times during the streak, and had it extended by halftime 208 times. A closer look (*—includes score on a kickoff return to start the 1998 Aloha Bowl; an interception return prior to the first offensive possession in the 2002 Alamo Bowl; and an interception return for a score on the first touch against Arizona State in 2007):

Colorado has a 148-78-4 record during the scoring streak, averaging 35.5 points in the wins and 16.1 points in the losses (and 23.5 the four tied games). The Buffs have had only nine occasions where it extended the streak in the fourth quarter. The most recent came last week in a 16-6 loss to Florida State on September 15, where it marked the latest in a game CU scored to maintain the streak; it was also the only fourth quarter touchdown in the streak that took place on fourth down. Here's a look at those occasions (*—denotes in Denver):

Sept. 15, 2007	225	FLORIDA STATE	Tyson DeVree 11 pass from Cody Hawkins	3:39	L 6-16

There have been 16 occasions where Colorado scored just once to continue the streak. PK Mason Crosby by far has played the biggest individual role, personally extending the streak six times, or four more than the only other player do it even twice, WR/KR Jeremy Bloom. A look at these 16 times with one score (*—denotes Orange Bowl; #—denotes Big 12 Championship):

SCORING DUEL JUST 25 MILES APART

Colorado has scored in 230 straight games dating back to 1988; down the road, the NFL Denver Broncos have scored in 235 consecutive contests, the second longest active pro streak which dates back to 1992. Their fiercest rivals inflicted the last shutouts of each: Nebraska and the Raiders (then in L.A.). Combined, the pair has scored in 465 straight games. Many traits are eerily similar; the Broncos have extended it on their first possession 92 times, in the first quarter 155 times and by halftime on 225 occasions, although have had to wait to extend it in the fourth quarter just once.

➤ And if you count in the Air Force Academy's streak of 176 games, the Front Range trio has a 641 game streak going among them.

STAT SHOTS

Here are some interesting statistical bullets about Colorado football:

- ➔ 30+. In its history, Colorado is 290-11-1 when scoring 30 or more points, along with records of 207-3 with 35-plus points and 192-2 with 36-plus, 169-1 with 38-plus and 108-0 with 43 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 in 1993). Colorado has played 1,108 games in its history, and has registered final point totals of every number between 0 and 70 except 68 (and of course 1), and has hit 75 and 109 above that mark.
- ➔ Colorado is 8-15-1 in its last 24 games against top five teams (dating back to 1989) and is 14-29-2 against top 10 schools and 41-51-2 against all ranked teams in the same time frame.
- ➔ Colorado is 14-5 (in-season) following a loss to a top 10 team since the middle of 1993. That includes one game in 2006 (CU lost 28-13 at Missouri after losing 14-13 at No. 9 Georgia) and two games in 2005 (when CU bested Kansas, 44-13, after falling at No. 2 Texas in October, and the losses at the end to No. 2 Texas in the Big 12 title game and to Clemson in the bowl).
- ➔ Colorado is 94-45-3 in its last 142 league games, and has the 10th fewest conference losses in the nation since 1989 for schools that have been league members for that time period. Within this record is a 25-game span in which CU did not lose a conference game, the fourth longest streak all-time in the Big Eight (1958-1995). Colorado was 23-0-2 during that run.
- ➔ Colorado has scored 30 or more points in 104 of its last 228 games, posting a 97-6-1 record. The losses were at Stanford, 41-37 in 1993, to Missouri in Boulder in 1997, 41-31, and twice to Nebraska (in Boulder in 1999, 33-30, in overtime; and 34-32 at Lincoln in 2000) and to Baylor (42-30 in 2003 and 34-31 in 3 OT this year); the tie was a 31-31 affair with Tennessee in the 1990 Disneyland Pigskin Classic. The Buffs have scored at least three touchdowns in 156 of these 228 games, dating to the start of 1989, going 126-28-2 (CU is 20-50-2 when held to two or fewer touchdowns).
- ➔ CU has allowed 384 touchdowns in the last 742 times that the enemy has cracked its 20 (dating back to 1988; the other 358 times have yielded 182 field goals as well as 176 non-scores). In this time frame, that works to the opponent coming away with nothing 24% of the time when penetrating the CU 20, and three points or less 48% of the time, which are astonishing numbers. Under Dan Hawkins, the opponent has penetrated the CU red zone 66 times, with 40 touchdowns, 13 field goals and 13 non-scores.
- ➔ Since the middle of the 1998 season, the Buffalo "D" has rose to the occasion when the opponent has started a drive inside CU territory. Going back to the last six games in 1998 to the present, CU has allowed just 90 touchdowns out of 217 drives started on the CU side of the 50 (and just 125 scores overall, meaning 92 non-scores). In 2007, the opponent has seven scores (7 TD) out of 18 drives started in CU territory; over the last four-plus seasons, CU's allowed just 84 scores (63 TD/21 FG) in 140 drives started from the 50 on into CU territory.
- ➔ CU has topped 400 yards of total offense in 49 of its last 125 contests (thrice thus far in 2007, after one time in '06), as CU has made a habit of it since the start of the 1993 season. In 179 games in this span, CU has gained 400 or more yards 85 times (47 percent). The Buffaloes also have topped the 500-plus yard mark in 42 of the 179 games since the '93 season opener (24%)... and remember CU has played 75 ranked teams in this span.
- ➔ For years, the mark of a strong Colorado team was that the Buffaloes routinely averaged six or more yards on first down. Colorado averaged 5.5 per first down play in 2006, though over half (181 of 304) of the plays have netted four or less yards. CU had a slight edge in top gains (18-16 on 20-plus, 55-53 on 10-plus) on the down, and CU also had fewer plays with two or less yards (166-141) and of zero gain (75-64). The last time the Buffs averaged six or more for a season was 2001, their Big 12 Championship year. Colorado did it six times between 1989 and 1997, including a team record best of 7.2 in both 1989 and 1994.
 - ➔ Colorado is averaging 5.4 per first down play in 2007, still trying to find some consistency, gaining five or more yards just 99 times in 262 tries.
- ➔ Colorado had seven touchdowns by returns in 2001 (4 interception, 2 punt, 1 fumble), a school record that the 2002 team matched (3 fumble, 2 interception, 2 punt). In 2004, the Buffs had six; dating back to the fifth game of the 1999 season, an OT win over Missouri, the Buffs have 39 scores by return in their last 104 games. Since the '95 opener and including postseason, CU has 60 scores by return in 155 games (53 regular season, seven bowl), or two every five games.
- ➔ 200/200. Colorado reached 200 yards both rushing and passing against Miami-Ohio as CU has accomplished the 200 "double-double" 12 times in the last 105 games (and 33 times in the last 178, dating to 1993). CU averaged over 200 in each for the season in both 1993 and 1994 (the first times ever at CU), as well as in 2001 (228.5/205.9). The Buffs are 33-2 since 1989 when they have reached the 200 plateaus in both. Prior to '93, CU had accomplished the feat only 19 times in its first 929 games in its history.
- ➔ Grass. Colorado is 59-49-1 in its last 109 games on grass, dating back to the 1985 season (56-42 in the last 98, including a 31-19 mark at home since Folsom Field converted back to grass in 1999).
- ➔ Artificial Turf. Colorado is 91-31-3 in its last 125 games on non-grass fields dating back to 1989, including a 58-24-3 in conference games. CU is 1-1 on the fake stuff in 2007 after going 0-3 in 2006 (but 2-0 in '05 and 3-1 in '04).
- ➔ CU quarterbacks have traditionally taken care of the football, as Buff slingers have thrown just 174 interceptions in 5,480 attempts since the start of the 1993 season, an interception rate of just 3.18 percent (or one every 31.5 passes).
- ➔ The Buffs have been an enigma on third down defensively the last four seasons. In 2003, while opponents converted at an ordinary 34.6 percent clip (56-of-162), it's what they accomplished on the ones they made. Opponents gained 966 yards on those 56 makes, or an average of 17.3 per play; otherwise, CU allowed just 61 yards on the other 106 plays, or just 0.6 per. In 2004, opponents were 92-of-205 (44.9%), but gained 1,300 yards on the 92 conversions (14.1 per). In 2005, that number was down a bit to 10.2 on the 73 conversions, but jumped to 12.0 in 2006 (1,022 yards on the 85 conversions).
 - ➔ The trend is still continuing in '07, as in eight games, opponents have 508 yards on 38 makes (13.4 per), and just 90 on 81 misses (1.1).
- ➔ Second Down "Conversions." The Colorado defense has some pretty good numbers in an interesting category: opponents are just 37-of-165 earning first downs on second down plays (22.4%; down from 26.1 a year ago); Kansas was just 2-of-18, with 16 tries from 5 or more. Only 28 of those tries have come from four yards or less as well (16 makes). By comparison, CU is a tad better at 59-of-198 overall (29.8%), with 39 tries from four yards or shorter (21 makes).
- ➔ Third Down & 36 Inches. Colorado was 12-of-13 on 3rd-&-1 plays in 2006, but was just 40-of-145 from all other distances (27.6%). CU is a subpar 6-of-11 on 3rd-&-1 in 2007.
- ➔ No Turns Or Sacks. Dating back to 1972, Colorado is 12-0 in games when not allowing a sack or committing a turnover. In 2005, CU did neither in its 41-20 conquest of Texas A & M, and came back two weeks later and did the same in the 44-13 win over Kansas. CU had last done it in 2001, as it played turnover-free ball twice in allowing no sacks versus San Jose State (51-15) and Nebraska (62-36). In these 12 games, the Buffs have outscored the opponent by 474-207, with only one game decided by less than 17 points (a 21-16 win at Iowa State in 1993).
- ➔ Colorado rarely folds when the opponent is faced with a 3rd-and-20 or longer. Since Miami, Fla., converted on a 3rd-and-20 in its 35-29 win in Boulder in 1993, opponents are just 3-of-82 on 3rd-and-20 or more. The Buff defense had stopped the opponent 51 straight times until UCLA converted a 3rd-and-30 in 2003 (WSU converted on a 3rd-&-23 and ISU on a 3rd-&-20 in 2004). The CU offense is 5-of-70 when it's faced with 3rd-and-20 plus in the same span.
- ➔ Under Dan Hawkins, the Buffs have scored in 52 of 80 quarters (65 percent) and 3 of 4 overtime periods. All told, dating back to 1993, CU has scored in 521 of 696 quarters (75%). Those numbers include 22 of 32 quarters this season, including 10 in a row at one point (and 17 of the last 21 since a six-quarter dry spell that covered the Arizona State and Oklahoma games).

NFL SCOUT WATCH

Colorado has 17 seniors on its roster this season, and history will show that most, if not all NFL teams pass through Boulder or a road site for CU game every season. In 2007, 31 total scouts (representing 18 teams) from Arizona, Atlanta, Buffalo, Carolina, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Miami, Minnesota, New England, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Seattle and Tampa Bay have been in attendance at games thus far; in 2006, 52 scouts from 26 teams saw the Buffs in person on game day. It's the norm, as in 2005, 55 scouts representing 25 NFL teams attended games (49 from 23 did so in 2004), and this decade, all 32 teams have seen CU games in person (318 scouts in the six-year period). Reps from the Colorado Crush (Arena Football League) also routinely attend games in Boulder.

"OUTSIDE THE NINE DOTS"

Some out of the ordinary records by the Buffs in some unique situations:

- ❑ Colorado is 77-35 in its last 112 games against teams who were not undefeated at the time of the game;
- ❑ Colorado is 71-19 against teams with three or more losses dating back to the 1985 season;
- ❑ Colorado is 63-24-1 in its last 88 games against schools that include the word "State" (dating to 1986);
- ❑ Colorado is 73-18-2 before crowds under 50,000 since the start of the 1989 season (75-56-2 with 50,000-plus);
- ❑ Colorado is 516-239-25 all-time in games played in the Mountain Time Zone (Colorado, Arizona, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming)

A BAKER'S DOZEN OF THEFTS & SCORES

CU players have a penchant to return their first career interceptions for touchdowns, as since 1992, 13 Buffaloes have scored after stealing their first college pass. The latest was one of the most spectacular of the lot: ILB Marcus Burton returned a pick 99 yards at Oklahoma State in 2005, preserving CU's shutout in the waning seconds of the game. Three did it in 2004: OLB Brian Iwuh did it off the bat when he made his first career pick and returned it 37 yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown against Colorado State in the season opener; a week later, he was injured early against Washington State, and his sub, Joe Sanders, plucked off a ball and raced 51 yards for six, snapping a 3-3 deadlock in the process. Against Texas, CB Terrence Wheatley plucked one off and race 37 yards for six with his first theft. Two did it in 2001: S Medford Moorer picked off his first career pass and returned it 64 yards for a touchdown against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game, while CB Donald Strickland returned his first career pick 31 yards for a touchdown just one minute into the CSU game. Frosh redshirt CB Phil Jackson did it in 2000, as he returned his first career INT 28 yards for a TD against Washington. SS Rashidi Barnes had his first one in CU's win over CSU in 1997, returning it 26 yards for a score, rallying the Buffs into a 14-14 tie early in the second half. Barnes was the fourth Buff in a 14-game span to return a first career pick for a TD—Marcus Washington had a 95-yard theft for a score in the '96 Cotton Bowl against Oregon; Vili Maumau had a 33-yard interception for six (and a Hula dance) at Colorado State in 1996; and Nick Ziegler stole one for a 31-yard score against Washington in the '96 Holiday Bowl. Ben Kelly didn't do with an interception, but he did take his first career punt return back for a TD (against Utah State). In 1992, Dwayne Davis returned one 31 yards for a TD in a 21-20 win at Minnesota to start this amazing run.

BUFFALO DINOSAURS

Through eight games in 2007, the longtime radio voice of the Buffs, Larry Zimmer, has called 427 CU games in his career, including 164 in a row (he's only missed three bowl games, two due to contracts forbidding teams to originate broadcasts, and three regular season games due to travel conflicts); his 400th at CU was also the 1,000 of his professional career. SID Dave Plati has worked 329, including the last 287 in a row, while facilities man John Krueger has worked 287 in all (136 straight). Brian Cabral is the football staffer with the most "Buff" experience, as he has now coached in 228 in a row as an assistant coach; including his playing days (46 games), he has been a part of 274 CU games. The late Fred Casotti, the school's longtime SID and associate AD between 1952-87, witnessed 477 CU football games in person prior to his passing in 2001; included within that was a string of 268 in a row at one time at Folsom Field. Senior associate AD Jon Burianek, who retired in June 2006, is next as he worked 432 CU football games, including a closing run of 415 in a row (229 of which were at home; he'd seen 453 all told at the time he left CU). And the late F.M. "Dutch" Westerberg is the all-timer; he saw every CU home game (394 of 'em) from 1921 until 1999, when he passed away at the age of 94.

ANNIVERSARIES

The annual listing of what happened years ago, or anniversaries of 5, 10 and 25-year increments:

- 1937 The 70th anniversary of CU's first All-American in any sport, as Byron "Whizzer" White earned the honor. He led CU to an 8-0 regular season, led the nation in rushing, total offense and scoring, and guided CU into its first bowl game in school history (Cotton Bowl, where CU lost 28-14 to Rice).
- 1947 (Nov. 27) A state of Colorado football tradition ends, as CU and the University of Denver meet for the final time on their traditional Thanksgiving day match-up; the Pioneers win the finale, 26-20.
- 1952 (Sept. 27) Colorado and Oklahoma battle to a 21-21 tie in Boulder, the Sooners only blemish in a 47-0-1 record in Big Seven Conference play.
- 1967 The Anderson brothers lead Colorado back to the postseason, as CU posts an 8-2 regular season mark and then defeats Miami, Fla., 31-21 in the Bluebonnet Bowl, one of the most entertaining bowl games of the '67 season. Dick Anderson intercepts nine passes and leads the team in tackles (102), while Bobby Anderson leads the team in rushing and passing and comes off the bench with an injured ankle to run for 108 yards and two touchdowns in the bowl win on New Year's Eve.
- 1972 (Oct. 21) Thirty-five years ago, some had Colorado pegged to be a national champion contender, but a stunning 38-6 loss at Oklahoma State sidetracked the dream; Oklahoma rolled into town ranked No. 2, but behind Gary Campbell and Jon Keyworth, the Buffaloes pull the 20-14 upset. The latter, played on October 22, drew a then-record 52,022 in attendance for any sporting event in the state of Colorado.
- 1977 (Oct. 1) Colorado's last trip to the Northeast results in a 31-0 whitewash of Army at West Point; CU is scheduled to return in 2015 versus Syracuse.
- 1982 The 25th anniversary of the hiring of Bill McCartney as CU head coach (June 9), signaling the start of the McCartney Era and eventual rise to three-time Big Eight Conference champion and the 1990 national championship. During the season, a wild 25-25 tie at Stillwater sees the Buffs tie the game at the gun on a 49-yard field goal by Tom Field; CB Victor Scott returns two interceptions for touchdowns for CU. TB Derek Singleton passed away on New Year's Day after nearly a three-month fight against spiral meningitis.
- 1987 (Oct. 3) Sal Aunese makes his first career start at quarterback and leads the Buffaloes to a 29-16 win over Colorado State in Fort Collins. Aunese rushed for 83 yards and passed for 139, in scoring one TD and throwing for another, as CU built a 26-0 lead early in the second quarter and never looked back.
- 1992 (Oct. 17) Mitch Berger's 53-yard field goal at the gun completes a furious Colorado rally as the Buffs tie Oklahoma, 24-24, in Boulder; it extends CU's unbeaten streak in Big Eight play to 24 games; the streak would reach 25 (23-0-2) before coming to an end with a loss two weeks later at Nebraska.
- 1997 Following a 33-29 loss at Oklahoma State, CU drops out of the polls for the first time since the 1988 season; it ends a 143-consecutive week run being ranked, the 10th longest of all-time.
- 2002 TB Chris Brown rushes for 1,744 yards, third in the nation, but his Heisman hopes are dashed by a late season ankle injury that forced him to miss the better part of three games. WR Jeremy Bloom makes his CU debut in style, returning a punt 75 yards for a touchdown the first time he touches the ball as a collegian in the season-opener against Colorado State. CU opens 9-3 in defending its Big 12 North Division title, but drops the league title game to Oklahoma and the Alamo Bowl to Wisconsin to finish 9-5, with the 14 games the most in a single season in school history.

BUFFS AGAINST THE BEST

Here's a look at how CU has fared all-time against nationally ranked teams (Associated Press poll):

Games	All-Time Record	1989-07 Record	Dan Hawkins Record	Coach With The Most Wins
versus Top 5.....	12-48-2	8-16-1	1-0	5 / Bill McCartney
versus Top 10.....	25-83-3	14-28-2	1-1	8 / Eddie Crowder & Bill McCartney
versus Top 15.....	37-101-3	20-34-2	1-2	10 / Bill McCartney
versus Top 25.....	67-132-3	41-51-2	1-6	20 / Bill McCartney

CU and Nebraska have been the saving grace for the Big 12: the 12-year old league owns a 28-71 record against ranked non-conference opponents (including bowls) since its inception in 1996, and the Buffs own eight of those wins. CU is 8-11 against ranked non-Big 12 foes; Nebraska is 8-6, Texas 5-6, Kansas State 2-5, Oklahoma 2-2, Baylor 1-4, Iowa State 1-8, Texas Tech 1-8, Kansas 0-2, Missouri 0-5 Oklahoma State 0-5, and Texas A&M 0-9. CU has played 17 of the 91 games, with Nebraska next with 12 followed by Texas (11).

Against all-non league foes (non-conference opponents and bowl games), the records are: Nebraska 41-7, Kansas State 38-7, Oklahoma State 31-10, Texas 36-10, Oklahoma 34-11, Missouri 31-11, Texas A&M 32-13, Kansas 29-11, Texas Tech 33-14, Iowa State 28-15, Baylor 23-16 and Colorado 25-21 (remember traditionally CU plays one of the Big 12's, and the nation's, more challenging schedules and has avoided scheduling automatic wins for non-league games).

2007 NCAA RULES CHANGES

The NCAA Football Rules Committee approved several changes this past April; here are the most significant:

- Game Clock. The rules adopted for the 2006 season were basically thrown out, as they altered the games greater than the NCAA rules committee had expected (though others figured it out immediately; Division I-A coaches had limited input into the change). The committee's prediction of six fewer plays per game was way off—10 per team in some cases—with other unforeseen problems also cropping up. The change this year is that the play clock will start at 15 seconds instead of 25 upon the return from live action following a TV timeout.
- Timeouts/TV Games. As is the case in the NFL, a team timeout will be only 30 seconds in length plus the 25-second clock; this will vary due to TV contracts with conferences and when the timeout is called; most TV timeouts are not taken in conjunction with ones called by teams unless more time than expected has already run off the clock and the network needs to get in the three or four it has slotted for a particular quarter.
- Kickoffs. All kickoffs will now be from the 30-yard line instead of the 35, which will reduce the number of touchbacks with the side benefit of fewer clock stoppages since the ball will in play for more returns. The kicking tee remains one inch in height, a change made last season.

BUFFALO ROUNDUP HAS SUCCESSFUL DEBUT AT FLORIDA STATE GAME, BECOMING TRADITION

The 2007 Colorado Buffaloes are trying something new this fall upon its arrival at Folsom Field prior to home games. Instead of busses just pulling up and unloading the team at the Dal Ward Center, the team is now dropped off at Libby Hall off of Colorado Avenue (approximately 2 hours and 20 minutes prior to kickoff). At that point, the Buffalo Roundup will commence; the team walks over to the stadium through the plaza area between Folsom and the MCDB (biology) building, touching the bronze buffalo along the way and accompanied by the pep band. They then enter the stadium at Gate 1 and proceed to the lockerrooms to get dressed for the game. The initial Buffalo Round was prior to the Florida State game and was judged a success.

PLAYING ON SUNDAY: IN-THE-PROS

There are 25 former Colorado Buffaloes on National Football League rosters as of October 22. There were 29 CU alums on the final 2006 rosters, which was second in the Big 12 behind Nebraska (32); Oklahoma had 27, Texas 25, Kansas State 2 and Oklahoma State 11. CU has continually been one of the top 20 producers for the last 18 years of NFL talent, and at one time in the late 1970's had the most active players (47) of any school in the nation. Last year, CU was 19th with the 29 former Buffs playing on Sundays; The last time Colorado was in the top 10 was in 2002, coming in 10th, ironically with the same number (29) as were playing last year. CU led the Big 12 in this area in the first four years of the conference's existence, was second in 2002 and 2003, and was third in 2000, 2001, 2004 and 2005. Nationally, CU was in the top four between 1996-99 (fourth in 1996-97-99, third in 1998). AND IN CANADA? One former Buff is making his living north of the border in the Canadian Football League, as C Marwan Hage is in his fifth year with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

COLORADO HIGH SCHOOL COACHES: Several former Buffaloes are serving as high school head coaches in the state. Here's the list of eight who head prep programs: Jim Bratten (Holy Family), Spencer Colter (Boulder), Dave Logan (Mullen), Mike Marquez (Northglenn), Bill Mondt (Eaton), Tom Tesone (Bishop Machebeuf), Ron Woolfork (Denver East) and Scott Yates (Kent Denver).

A DECADE WORTH OF NUMBERS: Colorado had 46 players drafted between 1993 and 2002, the seventh most in the nation and second most in the Big 12. Tennessee led the way with 60, followed by Florida State (58), Nebraska (53), Ohio State (52), Florida (48), Miami, Fla. (47) and then Colorado.

ALL-TIME CU PRO NOTE: How good was CU's 1994 offense? Ten of the 11 starters were drafted into the NFL (Tony Berti, Rae Carruth, Christian Fauria, Heath Irwin, Chris Naeole, Rashaan Salaam, Kordell Stewart, Bryan Stoltenberg, Derek West and Michael Westbrook), with the 11th signing as a free agent (Lepsis). All played, and three remain on NFL rosters some 11 years later. And six of the '94 defensive starters wound up playing professionally as well.

O-LINEMEN PIPELINE?

In recent times, CU has been a solid conduit to the National Football League when it has come to linebackers, encroaching a bit on the title justifiably thrown Penn State's direction. However, some research has indicated CU may very well be the place to go if an offensive lineman wants to take it to the next level. Dating back to the 1991 NFL draft, or the '87 recruiting class, 21 of 28 players who started at least two years on the Buff offensive line were either drafted or signed as free agents. The list is impressive (with three others who started just one season):

THIS-N-THAT

- 12. The game at Arizona State was the 12th for Colorado in the state of Arizona; that ranks fourth among the seven states that border Colorado (Kansas 66, Oklahoma 51, Utah 44, Nebraska 33, Arizona 12, Wyoming 6, New Mexico 2).
- 22. The Colorado State game marked the 22nd time that CU will have played in Denver, the eighth time versus the Rams. Most of the other games came against the University of Denver; CU is 14-8 all-time in the Mile High city.
- 400. Colorado has 398 combined wins in the seven different conferences it has lined up to play football in (one in 2007), thus the Buffs are now two victories away from 400 all-time wins in conference play, dating back to the Colorado Football Association in the 1890s.
- 500. The final road game of the year at Iowa State will be the 500th road game in school history, as CU enters the season with 495; the Buffs are 29 games over .500 in their history in enemy stadiums (253-224-18, .529).
- 1,100. The '06 season finale (Nov. 24) at Nebraska was the 1,100th game in school history.

STARTING STREAKS

OT Tyler Polumbus owns the longest starting streak on the team at 20 games, followed by CB Terrence Wheatley with 19 and C Daniel Sanders with 18. The only other players with more than a handful of consecutive starts are ILB Jordon Dizon (14), SS Ryan Walters (13) and OLB Brad Jones (12). Yes, CU is young, but this also is a result of what Dan Hawkins thinks of depth charts; he prefers the term contributors, so whatever play they want to run to open a game could feature virtually anyone that fits a particular play or scheme.

TWENTY-EIGHT SEE FIRST CU ACTION THUS FAR IN 2007

A total of 28 players have stepped on to the field wearing a Colorado Buffalo uniform for the first time in 2007. Twelve players had their first taste of collegiate action in the opener against Colorado State, with three more hitting the field for the first time at Arizona State and two others in game three against Florida State. In game four, the floodgates opened again with seven players making their first appearance. In 2006, 19 players saw their first action, with 14 taking the field for the first time in the opener; 16 saw their first action in 2005 while 24 did so in both 2004 and 2003. The list of Buffs to hit the field for the first time in 2007 (*—mainly special teams duty):

SIXTEEN PLAYERS MAKE FIRST CAREER START IN 2007

Five players made their first career starts in the opener, four on offense: QB Cody Hawkins, WR Scotty McKnight, OG Wes Palazzi and TB Demetrius Sumler and one on defense, SS Daniel Dykes. At Arizona State in game two, ILB Jake Duren was in for the first play, and against Florida State in CU's home opener, ILB R.J. Brown, TE Joe Sanders and WR Josh Smith were out there for the first play. ILB Jeff Smart made his first start against Miami-Ohio in game four, just days after he was awarded a scholarship. WR Kendrick Celestine and OG Kai Maiava trotted out there for the first play against Oklahoma in game five, while TE Nate Solder did the same at Baylor. FB Jake Behrens, TB Brian Lockridge and OT Ryan Miller made their first starts at Kansas State. Twenty-four players made their first career starts in 2006, the third-most over the last 23 seasons (15 offense, nine defense). The 24 first-time starters in 2006 were the third-most over the last 23 seasons and were the most since 1998, when there were 27 first-time starters for the Buffaloes, 17 on offense and 10 on defense. The high came in 1984, when 29 made their first starts (15 on offense). The annual number of first-time starters since 1984: ANNUAL FIRST-TIME STARTERS: 1984 (29), 1985 (9), 1986 (15), 1987 (14), 1988 (16), 1989 (7), 1990 (16), 1991 (23), 1992 (15), 1993 (7), 1994 (6), 1995 (11), 1996 (8), 1997 (14), 1998 (27), 1999 (14), 2000 (16), 2001 (12), 2002 (16), 2003 (20), 2004 (12), 2005 (11), 2006 (24), 2007 (16).

EXPERIENCE ANALYSIS

Upperclassmen started about two-thirds of CU's games in 2006, though seniors accounted for just over 34 percent of the starts, the third lowest figure the last eight seasons. In 2004, seniors started the fewest percentage of games (25.1) since the 1995 team (which had only seven seniors), while 38.8 percent of the starts were made by underclassmen. That showed the youth of the team, especially since underclassmen also had 41.7 percent of the starts in 2003. Fast-forward to 2005 and 2006, and underclassmen accounted for 199 starts those two seasons. It's historically a cyclical pattern, and that shows up when looking at the breakdown of the starters over the course of the season. A year-by-year look at starts by class since 1999:

- 2007 starters (8 games): Seniors (55), Juniors (67), Sophomores (23), Freshmen (31; redshirts 20, true 11). Upperclassmen: 69%
- 2006 starters (12 games): Seniors (92), Juniors (84), Sophomores (71), Freshmen (17; redshirts 11, true 6). Upperclassmen: 67%
- 2005 starters (13 games): Seniors (116), Juniors (112), Sophomores (48), Freshmen (10; redshirts 4, true 5). Upperclassmen: 80%
- 2004 starters (13 games): Seniors (72), Juniors (103), Sophomores (100), Freshmen (11; redshirts 0, true 11). Upperclassmen: 39%
- 2003 starters (12 games): Seniors (105), Juniors (49), Sophomores (78), Freshmen (32; redshirts 14, true 18). Upperclassmen: 58%
- 2002 starters (14 games): Seniors (155), Juniors (130), Sophomores (14), Freshmen (9; redshirts 0, true 9). Upperclassmen: 93%
- 2001 starters (13 games): Seniors (102), Juniors (95), Sophomores (83), Freshmen (7; redshirts 7, true 0). Upperclassmen: 69%
- 2000 starters (11 games): Seniors (55), Juniors (116), Sophomores (38), Freshmen (33; redshirts 15, true 18). Upperclassmen: 71%
- 1999 starters (12 games): Seniors (115), Juniors (42), Sophomores (86), Freshmen (21; redshirts 20, true 1) Upperclassmen: 56%

KEY: ◆—Big 12 Conference game; ▶—Atlantic Coast Conference game; ■—Mid-American Conference game; +—Mountain West Conference game; ↔—Pacific 10 Conference game.

OPPONENTS IN 2007

The 2007 Colorado schedule figured to (again) be one of the toughest in the nation (and is), as for the 10th time in 12 seasons, it arguably boasts the toughest non-conference slate in the Big 12 Conference. It features two BCS schools, Arizona State on the road (in no doubt triple figure temps) and Florida State, along with intra-state rival Colorado State and an almost always sound program in Miami-Ohio. Then of course the Big 12 slate follows, with the second year of the Baylor-Oklahoma-Texas Tech rotation in place. The Buffs do get to open Big 12 play at home for the first time since the 2002 season, as CU has opened at Missouri twice, Baylor and Oklahoma State; that's the good news... CU opens league play against top-10 ranked Oklahoma on Sept. 29. Colorado has seven '06 bowl teams on its 2007 schedule; all combined to go 76-76 (50.0%); the records including bowl games: Colorado State (4-8), Arizona State (6-6), Florida State (7-6), Miami-Ohio (2-10), Oklahoma (11-3), Baylor (4-8), Kansas State (7-6), Kansas (6-6), Texas Tech (8-5), Missouri (8-5), Iowa State (4-8) and Nebraska (9-5).

OPPONENTS CORRALLED

Colorado allowed just five plays from scrimmage of 40 yards or longer in 2006 (three pass, two rush); those were the fewest since the 1987 season, when the Buffs surrendered just four (two rush, two pass). In 2007, CU has allowed only seven in eight games (four pass, three rush). Over the past 20 years, CU has limited the foe to six three times (1991, 1994, 1995) and to seven 40-plus plays seven times, most recently in 2005. The 12 allowed over the 2005 and 2006 ties the second fewest over a two-year span, trailing the 11 over the 1987-88 seasons and matching the dozen in the '94 and '95 campaigns. The seven allowed in '05 were reduced from 14 in 2003 and 15 in 2004, as opponents had piled up 70 plays of 40 yards or longer from 1999-2004 after allowing just 83 between 1987 and 1998. The three-year total thus is just 19, the lowest for any three-year span since this stat can be tracked.

CU ADDS WEST VIRGINIA, HAWAII TO FUTURE SCHEDULES; BUFF SLATES THROUGH 2013 BASICALLY COMPLETE

Call it the battle of the late John Denver's hit singles, but the University of Colorado and West Virginia University will meet for the first time on the football field in 2008 and 2009, one of the highlights announced this past summer as the University of Colorado released its complete football schedules for the 2008 through 2010 football seasons.

The Mountaineers replaced North Carolina in 2008 and 2009, as North Carolina opted out of the series. ESPN helped arrange the series, as the cable network will most likely televise one or both contests on either ABC or one of its cable outlets. West Virginia was 11-2 last season and finished as the No. 10 team in the country.

West Virginia will come to Boulder on Sept. 27, 2008, with the Buffaloes returning the game on Sept. 26, 2009. The late Denver had hits with Take Me Home Country Roads in 1971 (the No. 8 song of the year), showcasing the state of West Virginia, and the following year with Rocky Mountain High, doing the same for Colorado (the No. 29 song of 1973, as it was released late in '72).

CU completed its 2008 schedule with the addition of Eastern Washington, a member of the I-AA Big Sky Conference. EWU is the second I-AA opponent the Buffaloes will have ever played (joining Montana State last year), though all other future opponents either signed or CU is negotiating with are from I-A (now known as the Football Bowl Subdivision, or FBS).

Colorado has agreed to play Hawaii in a four-game set, in 2010, 2011, 2014 and 2015. A game on Sept. 18, 2010, completed the 2010 schedule. The Buffs will return the game in 2011, with that date in the process of being finalized.

The only unknown over the next three years are the locations of the Colorado and Colorado State games in 2009 and 2010; in the schools' latest five-year deal, the first three games are set in Denver with the final two up to the schools. CU is the home team in '09 and Colorado State in '10. The two schools have yet to discuss games beyond 2010, but the Buffs are holding an opening for the Rams in each year through 2015.

CU does not have complete schedules to release beyond 2013, but previously announced home-and-home series after that year include Oregon (2014, 2017) and Washington (2015, 2016) and the back half of a second Arizona State series (2018 in Tempe).

NO CREAMPUFFS HERE

Colorado has the 19th best record in college football since the start of 1989 season (146-78-4). Of these 228 games, Colorado has played 94 ranked teams (41%), the fourth most in the nation during this time frame, with another 36 games against teams receiving significant (10 or more) votes. CU is 41-51-2 against ranked teams during this period (including a 13-22 record on the road); CU is also 105-27-2 against unranked teams. The schedule is also consistent: CU has played the fourth most games against ranked teams the last 14 seasons (71 of its last 168 contests), going 3-3 in 1993, 5-1 in 1994, 5-2 in 1995, 2-2 in 1996, 1-5 in 1997, 3-3 in 1998, 2-2 in 1999, 0-5 in 2000, 5-2 in 2001, 2-3 in 2002, 2-3 in 2003, 0-4 in 2004, 0-4 in 2005, 0-5 in 2006 and 1-1 thus far in 2007. NOTE: In 1990, CU became only the second team in NCAA history to win the national championship after playing the nation's toughest schedule (opponents won 63% of their games; Penn State was the first to accomplish the feat, in 1982). CU also played the nation's toughest in 1997: opponents won 67% of their games as the Buffs played both co-national champions, Michigan and Nebraska.

USUALLY IN 'EM

Colorado's usually been in those games it's lost over the last 18 seasons, as of the 77 losses, 37 have been by eight points or less. Nebraska and Texas (five times), Kansas State and Oklahoma (four), Missouri (three) and Florida State (twice) are the only ones who have handled the Buffs by nine or more points more than twice since 1989. CU has really been dominated from the start only seven times in this stretch (1992 at Nebraska, 1997 at Michigan, 1999 vs. CSU (though CU led in total yardage over 75 percent of the game), 2002 vs. USC, 2004 in the Big 12 title game with Oklahoma, and twice in 2005, both against Texas. K-State ('00), Texas ('01 & '04), WSU ('03), Florida State ('03), Oklahoma State ('04), Miami and Nebraska ('05) put the game out of reach in the third quarter.

GLOSE CALLS USUALLY GOING CU'S WAY

Colorado is 2-1 in "close calls" in 2007, defeating CSU in overtime and toppling Oklahoma at the final gun, and is 13-7 when the final margin has been seven or fewer points dating back to the start of the 2003 season. That included four setbacks last year (CSU, Georgia, Baylor, Kansas) and one this year; starting with a 22-19 come-from-behind win at Oklahoma State in 2001, CU is 17-9 in seven point decisions.

GRADLE OF COACHES

There are three current head coaches in Division I college football who have had assistant coaching stints at the University of Colorado, and all three have enjoyed great success. Les Miles had a good run at Oklahoma State and is running the show at LSU (at Colorado between 1982-86); Gregg Brandon is the head man at Bowling Green (1999-2000) while Karl Dorrell has the reins at UCLA (two CU stints: 1992-93, 1995-97). Since Bill McCartney took over the program in 1982, CU has sent many an assistant coach into the head coaching ranks; Gerry DiNardo was the first, as after his CU stint between 1982-89 he went on to coach Vanderbilt, LSU and Indiana. Lou Tepper (CU: 1983-87), head coach at Illinois for five years and is now the head man at Edinboro (Pa.) State; Gary Barnett, who was an assistant at CU from 1984-91 was head coach at Northwestern from 1992-98 and then at CU from 1999 through 2005; Jim Caldwell, Wake Forest (at CU from 1982-84), Steve Logan, East Carolina (1985-86), Rick Neuheisel, at CU and Washington (1994), Bob Simmons, Oklahoma State (1988-94) and Ron Vanderlinden, Maryland (1983-91). All were assistants under McCartney, CU's all-time winningest head coach (93-55-5 between 1982-94). In 2003, Mike Hankwitz, served as Arizona's interim head coach for the last two months of the season; he was at CU for 10 years (1985-94). Tom Cable (1998-99) was head coach for four seasons at Idaho, as he coached under Neuheisel and Barnett. Dorrell is the only one above to coach as an assistant under both McCartney and Neuheisel. In addition, two former CU players are collegiate head coaches: Stan Brock ('80) was named the head man this past summer at Army (where he had been an assistant), and Pete Shinnick ('88) served seven seasons as head coach at Azusa Pacific and is now in his second season as the head man at North Carolina-Pembroke.

TWENTY-THREE SKIDOO

Colorado is one of just 23 schools in I-A/FBS history to be able to make the claim of winning (or sharing) a national championship and also having a Heisman Trophy winner. The criteria for national championship consideration included those crowned by the Associated Press, the coaches and the BCS; 30 total schools at one point in the past have been able to claim the throne. This prestigious short list:

School	National Championships	Heisman Trophies	School	National Championships	Heisman Trophies

Nebraska	1970-71-94-95-97	1972-83-2001

Schools with national championships and no Heisman winner are Alabama (7 titles), Michigan State (2), Tennessee (2), Clemson (1), Georgia Tech (1), Maryland (1) and Washington (1).

TWENTY-TWO SKIDOO

Colorado has not suffered back-to-back losing seasons since a six-year run between 1979 and 1984; thus, it has been 22 years since the Buffs have had two or more consecutive sub-.500 records. That ranks 18th among I-A/FBS schools who have been full-fledged division members in this time frame. Tennessee is the runaway leader (95 seasons), followed by Ohio State (82), Southern Miss (72) and Arizona State (59); CU's figure is third among Big 12 Conference schools, trailing Nebraska (45) and Texas A&M (33). After posting a 7-5 record in 1985, the Buffaloes have had just four seasons where it did not finish with a winning regular season record: 1997 (5-6), 2000 (3-8), 2003 (5-7) and 2006 (2-10). Those four teams along with the 1987 squad (7-4) are CU's only squads not to go bowling over the last 22 years. Take a closer look at the leading schools and the years that have passed since they last posted losing marks in two or more consecutive seasons (*—denotes coming off a losing season in 2006):

HISTORICALLY

Colorado is in its second century of intercollegiate football, as the Buffaloes are in their 118th season of competition with an all-time record of 656-416-36 in 1,108 games. CU currently stands 17th on the all-time win list and is 23rd in all-time winning percentage (.609; 21st for those schools with at least 50 seasons in Division I-A). Only Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska from the Big 12 rank ahead of CU on each list, and only 12 Division I schools have played more seasons of intercollegiate football than Colorado. In Boulder, the Buffs are 284-138-10 in their 84th season on the "hilltop" (Folsom Field). Against Big 12 opposition, CU is 247-214-13 against the other 11 members of the conference, formed in 1996.

MONTHLY TAB

Dating back to 1989, Colorado is 48-26-2 in its last 76 October games, when conference play annually comes into full bloom. The Buffs are 46-23 in their last 69 September games, a pretty decent record considering the quality of non-conference schedule CU annually plays, and is 49-20-1 in their last 70 November games (44-10 in November against all-comers aside from Nebraska, going 4-9-1 against NU in turkey month). CU is 5-6 in December games since 1993, including bowls, and is 2-2-1 in August games in its history.

OVERTIME

Colorado is 4-4 all-time in overtime games; the Buffs became the 84th team in Division I-A to play an overtime game when it played its first ever extra session affair against Missouri in 1999. Here's a chart summarizing the Buffs in overtime (*—denotes in Denver):

RANKED "UNDEFEATEDS" FALL AT FOLSOM

Ten ranked, undefeated teams have lost their "0" in the loss column at Folsom Field since 1989. The last was Oklahoma this season, as the Sooners rolled in ranked No. 3 and left with a 27-24 setback to the Buffs. That was the first time since 2002, when Kansas State came to Boulder ranked No. 13 at 4-0 and lost, 35-31. Two bit the dust in 2001: Nebraska (11-0, No. 1 in the BCS and No. 2 in the polls) dropped a 62-36 game to the Buffs, as did Texas A&M (5-0, No. 20), 31-21. In 1998, No. 22 Texas Tech (6-0) fell to CU 19-17; in 1995, No. 3 Texas A&M (2-0) lost, 29-21; in 1994, No. 10 Wisconsin (2-0) was crushed, 55-17; and in 1990, No. 12 Washington (3-0) left a 20-14 loser. In 1989, No. 10 Illinois (2-0) lost 38-7 and No. 3 Nebraska (8-0) fell, 27-21.

STREAKING

Colorado has active multiple win streaks going against 11 Division I-A schools. The list: 5—Air Force; 4—San Jose State; 3—Minnesota, Utah State; 2—California, Iowa, Louisiana-Monroe, Notre Dame, Oregon State, UCLA and Wyoming. CU's longest current losing streak is to Southern Cal (5), followed by LSU and Oklahoma (both 4) and Michigan State and Texas (3 each).

THE BUFFS & COLLEGE FOOTBALL HARDWARE

Colorado is in an elite group when it comes to claiming college football's prestigious trophies dating back to the 1990 season. A proliferation of awards has emerged since the late 1980s, and the Buffs are near the top of the list when it comes to collecting these statues. CU has had seven different players win nine trophies over the last 17 seasons, which is the ninth most nationally when it comes to trophies. But when it comes to different players who have been honored, only Ohio State (11), Miami, Fla. (9), Oklahoma (9) and Nebraska (8) top the Buffs' seven. The postseason "hardware" includes the Heisman Trophy and the Lombardi, Maxwell, Walter Camp, Butkus, Thorpe, O'Brien, Unitas, Groza, Biletnikoff, Doak Walker, Nagurski, Bednarik, Mackey, Tatupu, Ray Guy, Rimington, Lott, Hendricks and ARA Sportsmanship awards (on-field player awards only—if the Draddy Award was included, the Buffs would have one more on each list). The list of schools that have had winners between 1990 and 2006 (players only; LSU and Michigan players split the 2004 Rimington Award and thus were both compensated for in the trophy count):

INSIDE-THE-POLL NUMBERS

Colorado has been ranked 12 times in the last 19 seasons in the Associated Press preseason football poll (just missing three of those occasions, No. 27 in 2001 and No. 32 in both 2003 and 2005). CU had appeared in every AP preseason ballot between 1989 and 1997, ranked in the top 15 each year, before not gaining mention in the '98 poll following a 5-6 season. The Buffs reappeared in the '99 poll at No. 15, and rose to No. 14 prior to the season-opening loss to CSU. Only CU, Florida, Florida State, Michigan and Nebraska have been ranked 15th or higher at least 11 times in these 15 years, and CU is one of only 14 teams to be ranked in as many as 12 of the last 19 preseason polls. Number of times ranked in the Associated Press Preseason Poll, 1989-2007: Florida State 19, Michigan 19, Ohio State 19, Tennessee 18, Miami, Fla. 17, Florida 16, Nebraska 16, Oklahoma 15, Penn State 15, Texas 15, Notre Dame 14, Auburn 13, Colorado 12, Alabama 12, Georgia 11, LSU 11, Virginia Tech 11.

LONG STAY

Colorado was one of only two teams to be ranked in every poll (both the Associated Press and Coaches, be it UPI or USA Today/CNN-ESPN) from the 1989 preseason through Oct. 4, 1997 (143 AP polls, 138 coaches). Only Nebraska could also make that claim (CU was second only to the Huskers, as Nebraska had been ranked in 265 straight polls when CU hit the 143 mark). The 143 consecutive polls still ranks as the seventh longest all-time in college football history. In this span, NU held the top spot 16 times and CU seven, with NU winning two national titles and Colorado one.

Associated Press Poll

MOST TOP 5 FINISHES (1989-2006): Florida St. 12, Miami 8, Nebraska 5, Ohio St. 5, USC 5, COLORADO 4, Florida 4, Oklahoma 4, Tennessee 4, Alabama 3, Notre Dame 3.

MOST TOP 10 FINISHES (1989-2006): Florida St. 12, Florida 11, Miami 9, Michigan 9, Nebraska 8, Ohio State 8, Tennessee 8, COLORADO 6, Alabama 6, Kansas St. 6, Oklahoma 5.

...AND THE RETURN

CU was out of the polls for an 11-week period once departing after 143 weeks ('97-98), but came back with a vengeance. When Colorado reappeared in both the AP and USAT/ESPN polls at No. 16 on Sept. 6, 1998 it marked the third highest debut in a poll since the AP ballot expanded to 25 teams in 1989. CU went from receiving votes to No. 16, the second highest CU has ever debuted after not being ranked in the preseason; back in 1971, the Buffs went into Baton Rouge and defeated No. 9 LSU, 31-21. CU appeared at No. 8 in the UPI-Coaches poll and at No. 12 on the AP ballot.

16 OUT OF 20

Colorado defeated at least one top 25 team for 12 consecutive seasons between 1988 and 1999, the second longest active streak in the nation behind Florida State for the latter half of the span. Colorado didn't go down easy when the streak ended in 2000, losing to five ranked teams by a combined 45 points (3, 3, 23, 14 and 2). The Buffs started a new streak in 2001, doing so with purpose as they tied the school record for most ranked teams defeated in a single season with five. CU then defeated two ranked teams in both 2002 and 2003 to make it 15 out of 16 years with at least one win over a ranked opponent, but the smaller run ended as the Buffs went 0-4 in both 2004 and 2005 and 0-5 in 2006. But with the win over No. 3 Oklahoma in 2007, it's now 16 out of 20 years defeating at least one ranked program. CU defeated at least three ranked teams in six of those 12 years, including five twice (1990, 1995). The Buffs have defeated at least two in nine of the last 14 years (and three ranked foes five of those seasons).

TV LAND

Colorado has had 143 of its last 216 games dating back to 1990 broadcast nationally or regionally (66 percent). That includes six games this year, seven in 2006, 10 in 2005, nine in 2004, seven in 2003, 12 in 2002, 10 in 2001, plus 7 in 2000, 9 in both 1998 and 1999, 10 in 1996 and 1997. Since 1996, when the Big 12 began, 106 of CU's 143 games have been either nationally or regionally televised, an impressive 74 percent (the second most in the Big 12 Conference in that time frame). In addition, CU has had 24 of its last 29 non-conference games televised on a national or regional basis.

CARRYING THE TV TORCH

Colorado and Texas started carrying the torch in the 1990s when it came to scheduling regular season games against traditionally ranked opponents, games most likely to be selected for TV and making the two hits of league revenue that come with it. It's starting to get a bit better, but CU and UT still blaze the trail. Here are the counts (and records) since 1990 when it comes to playing ranked non-league teams (not including bowls): Colorado 27 (13-13-1), Texas 23 (8-13-2), Nebraska 14 (8-6), Oklahoma 13 (6-7), Texas A&M 12 (4-8), Texas Tech 12 (0-12), Baylor 10 (2-8), Missouri 9 (1-8), Iowa State 9 (1-8), Kansas 6 (0-6), Oklahoma State 6 (0-6) and Kansas State 4 (1-3).

BUFF BLEMISHES

Colorado has a history of inflicting blemishes on some of the teams who have traditionally fared well at home. The top five home records last decade (1990-99) belonged to Florida State (55-1-1), Nebraska (62-3), Florida (57-4), Texas A & M (55-4-1) and Kansas State (57-5-1). That's a combined 287-17-3; but of those 20 losses or ties, CU was responsible for five of them. CU won at Nebraska in 1990, at Texas A & M in 1996, and was 2-2-1 at Kansas State in the 90s. The Buffs also snapped the Aggies 22-game home winning streak—started late in 1996, after losses to CU then Texas Tech. And in 2001, CU won at Kansas State, snapping a 58-game home winning streak by the Wildcats against unranked teams, and was only the second KSU home loss in a 29 game span. CU almost added Georgia to this list in 2006, but fell 14-13 after leading 13-0 entering the fourth quarter.

18 OF 22

The Buffs have 18 winning (regular) seasons in the last 22 years (1985-2006), matched only by a handful of schools across the nation. The exceptions came in 1997, 2000, 2003 and this season; in 1986, CU was 6-5 in the regular season but finished 6-6 after losing to Baylor in the Bluebonnet Bowl. CU has been invited to bowls in 17 of the previous 22 seasons, staying home in only 1987, 1997, 2000, 2003 and 2006.

OFFENSE & DEFENSE

Through the years, there are always a few players who wind up playing on both sides of the ball. DT John Guydon was the latest to do so, seeing action on defense (13 snaps at tackle) and offense (3 snaps at guard) at Texas on October 15, 2005; it was the first time it happened for a complete series with no gimmicks or special situations since WR Michael Westbrook played a series at safety against Baylor in 1993. DE James Garee also trotted in on offense in 2005, catching a pass as an end at Miami. DT Sam Wilder had been the last before 2005, as he caught a 9-yard pass against Kansas State in 2002. DT Justin Bannan, did the same, catching a 12-yard TD pass on his only play at Missouri in 2000. CB Ben Kelly tried tailback in 1999 at Texas Tech; he finished with three yards on one carry (a nice 5-yard run was wiped out by a penalty). Between 1994 and 2005, several Buffs played on both sides of the ball, as offensive linemen often played on the goal line or short yardage defense units—OG Heath Irwin, OG Clint Moore, OG Chris Naeole, OT Melvin Thomas and OG Brad Bedell all did it at one time or another between 1993 and 1998. In 1990, OLBs Alfred Williams and Kanavis McGhee played some tight end in a 64-3 win over Kansas State (Williams caught a pass for 17 yards, McGhee didn't catch the one thrown his way). The last offensive skill player to swing over and try some defense was Westbrook (four snaps at strong safety) against Baylor in 1993.

WHY CU AND NOT UC?

A question often asked of many former Big Eight schools: Why is it the University of Colorado, but the moniker is CU and not UC? (The same applies at Kansas—KU, Missouri—MU, Nebraska—NU and Oklahoma—OU). "Midwestern casualness," said CU historian, the late Fred Casotti. It has always been this way at Colorado, for whatever reason, and at the other four—but seemingly nowhere else in the USA. In the 1950s, there was a concerted effort to eliminate the use of "CU" on the Boulder campus, both as a symbol and in speech, but Casotti said that no one would buy into it. "Nobody would change," he said. "It's easier to say than U of C, UC sounds like slang or something (as in 'you see'), and it was traditional. By trying to eliminate it, they reinforced it."

HISTORY OF THE "COLORADO"

As in the south end zone, that is. In 1967, the stadium was lowered when the track was removed, and that area remained basically a dirt hill. Former long-time senior associate A.D. Jon Burianek said that we tried to grow grass and bushes there, but none took. The first artificial field was installed during the summer of 1971, and that area was then covered with asphalt and the large, block COLORADO was painted on it, then in all-white block lettering. Trim was later added, and at one time, when blue was one of the school colors, the end zone as well was painted blue instead of the familiar black.

QUARTERBACK HISTORY LESSON

The competition for the starting quarterback job this year was really just the sixth real battle in the last 16 years at Colorado, though third time in the last five years. There was a three-way competition for the job in 2006 among James Cox, the initial winner, Bernard Jackson (who would start games two through 12) and Brian White (who quit after the first game). The last time had been in 2003, when walk-on Joel Klatt earned the nod; in 2000, the competition between Zac Colvin and Bobby Pesavento raged from the start of spring ball to the final week of August camp. Colvin was named the opening game starter but four weeks into the season, freshman Craig Ochs came in during the second quarter of the Kansas State game and did not relinquish the role the remainder of the season. In 1998, the first real battle in six years, juniors Mike Moschetti and Jeremy Weisinger and sophomore Adam Bledsoe duked it out for the starting role. Moschetti won the job and Weisinger subsequently transferred to Texas A & M, where he became a free safety. Moschetti was the first junior college transfer to start a game at quarterback for Colorado since 1976, when Jeff Austin started the first three games of the year. Back in 1992, it was a four-way battle between a hero off the bench in junior Vance Joseph, an unknown sophomore named Kordell Stewart, the younger brother of a Heisman winner, Koy Detmer, and a transfer from Illinois, Duke Tobin. Stewart emerged as the winner and held the reins for three years, with Detmer the heir in 1995. John Hessler, of course, subbed for an injured Detmer most of that season and assumed control his senior year (1997). Darian Hagan had piloted the ship from 1989-91.

AND MORE— In looking back at CU history, the Buffs have usually had a capable backup quarterback that became a household name. As far back as 1971, when 5-foot-7 Joe Duenas subbed for an injured Ken Johnson to lead CU to a 56-13 win over Wyoming in the second game of the season, Colorado second-team signal callers have made names for themselves. Two years later, David Williams and Clyde Crutchmer dueled for starting honors; in 1976, Austin replaced Jeff Knapple on occasion after Knapple wrestled the starting job away from him; in 1979, Charlie Davis and Bill Solomon battled back and forth; in the early 1980s, Steve Vogel and Randy Essington alternated as starters for three years, with Vogel emerging as CU's all-time passing leader at the time. In the last 1980s, there was the run of Sal Aunese replacing Mark Hatcher, Hagan replacing Aunese, Charles Johnson and Joseph both subbing for an injured Hagan on occasion; Stewart replacing Hagan, and he himself being replaced by Detmer and Tobin due to injuries; and of course, Hessler subbing for Detmer after Detmer replaced Stewart. Perhaps the best example of this came in 2001, when Bobby Pesavento took over the second half of the year for an injured Craig Ochs, and he helped lead the Buffs to their first Big 12 Conference title. That run included Pesavento steering the Buffs to wins over No. 2 Nebraska and No. 3 Texas. And in 2002, Robert Hodge has had to replace Ochs, after Ochs suffered the third concussion of his CU career and eventually left the team.

DEPTH CHART

A note about CU's depth: in-season, depth charts reflect change and generally do not announce it unless there are long-term injuries; also, the coaches use "groupings" at certain positions (i.e. receiver-tight end-tailback-fullback), and often a group enters the game to run a play that does not match the depth.
