2008 COLORADO BUFFALO FOOTBALL

GAME 11 — OKLAHOMA STATE COWBOYS

November 15 / 6:12 p.m. MST / Folsom Field, Boulder, Colo.

RELEASE NUMBER 11 (November 11, 2008)

ABC (Split-National) | KOA-RADIO | CUBUFFS.COM (Live Stats)

QUICKLY SPEAKING...

The Colorado Buffaloes (5-5, 2-4 Big 12) close out the home portion of the 2008 schedule by hosting the Oklahoma State Cowboys (8-2, 4-2 Big 12) in CU's annual Senior Day game this Saturday night, Nov. 15, in a 6:12 p.m. kickoff at Folsom Field ... The game will be televised on a split-national national basis by ABC with Ron Franklin (play-by-play), Ed Cunningham (analyst) and Jack Arute (sidelines) on hand to call the action (the other game is Boston College-Florida State) ... This marks just the third time Colorado's home finale will be played at night (and all spaced six years apart): the Buffs are 2-0 in such instances, defeating Kansas State 12-0 in 1996 and Iowa State 41-27 in 2002 ... Anyone notice the current top two teams in the nation were both on CU's 2007 schedule, and had their hands full with the Buffs? CU beat Texas Tech (now No. 2), 31-26 in Lubbock, and lost 30-24 to No. 1 Alabama in the Independence Bowl ... It's the first meeting between CU and OSU since Oct. 1, 2005; the Buffs won in Stillwater that day, 34-0, and it was the last time OSU has been shutout. The game was marked by bookend long plays for CU, with Hugh Charles scoring on the game's first play (a 74-yard run) with the last score coming on a 99-yard interception return by Marcus Burton (a junior on this year's CU team) ... CU leads the series by a 14-5 mark in the month of November (6-3 in Boulder) ... Colorado defeated Iowa State 28-24 last Saturday in Boulder, hanging on at the end thanks to a game-saving tackle for loss as time expired with ISU at the CU 1-yard line; Oklahoma State dropped a 56-20 decision at No. 2 Texas Tech ... A crowd of 46-48,000 is currently expected for the game; tickets can be purchased on line at CUBuffs.com, at TicketsWest outlets in all King Soopers stores, or by calling 303-49-BUFFS ... Visit CUBuffs.com/gameday as your one stop for everything, including live stats for all games.

DEPTH CHART ON PAGE 56, ROSTER ON PAGES 57-58

STAT OF THE WEEK

QB Cody Hawkins had his career game when it came to passer rating with a figure of 179.95 in the 28-24 come-from-behind win over Iowa State. But looking inside the numbers, once CU crossed midfield, he was even more deadly: he completed 11 of 13 passes for 91 yards and four touchdowns, which worked to a rating of 244.96 (and it was even higher from the 40-on-in, at 250.03). He continues his climb up CU's all-time passing chart as well.

OBSCURER NOTE OF THE WEEK

Colorado is the only school in the nation to have three freshmen (and in CU's case, all are true freshmen) leading any major statistical category. Looking at the school's top three rushers, you will find TB Rodney Stewart (622 yards), TB Darrell Scott (344) and QB Tyler Hansen (250). The Stewart-Scott combo adds to 966 yards, second only in CU "two-frosh" rushing to the 1991 total of 1,131 yards by the combo of TB Lamont Warren (830) and TB Kent Kahl (301). The 2008 trio of Stewart, Scott and Hansen have combined for 1,216 rushing yards, and in "three-frosh" rushing, they are on the heels of the 1991 group of Warren, Kahl and QB Kordell Stewart (177 yards), which totaled 1,275 yards between them.

OH BY THE WAY

Lost in CU's last minute comeback against Iowa State and the heroics of QB Cody Hawkins, CB Jimmy Smith and SS D.J. Dykes was one of the best games of his career by FS Ryan Walters. He had 16 tackles, 13 solo, both career highs, a quarterback sack, another tackle for loss, a third down stop and a pass deflection. He now has 86 tackles for the season (62 solo), with 10 third down stops, seven PBU's, five touchdown saves, two sacks, three fumble recoveries, to forced fumbles and two interceptions.

MEDIA SERVICES

- Coach Dan Hawkins holds a Tuesday press luncheon in the Dal Ward Athletic Center, starting at 11:30 a.m. with lunch, followed by Hawkins beginning the interview session promptly at Noon. This year's dates: Sept. 2-15 (Monday)-23-30, Oct. 7-14-21-28, Nov. 4-11-24 (Monday), Dec. 2-TBA (bowl). NOTE that there is no organized press luncheon on Sept. 9 or Nov. 18 (bye weeks). The press conference portion of the luncheon is streamed live on www.CUBuffs.com (in the BuffsTV area); all press conferences on CUBuffs.com are free and thus do not require access codes.
- Hawkins can be heard Mondays on the Big 12 Football Teleconference Call at 10:40 a.m. MT. All coaches participate; please call the Big 12 office (469-524-1007) for access (media only—you must register). A teleconference replay is available after 2 p.m. MT the same day by phone (706/634-1618) or on www.Big12sports.com.
- Video highlights of CU football games are available anytime provided by the Big 12 Confer+ence through www.CollegePressBox.tv. Highlights will be in files in Quicktime format, with all available for viewing prior to downloading. First-time visitors will need to register on-line for access; information: contact Ted Gangi at 214/909-9314 or webmaster@collegepressbox.com. Special requests can also be made through CU's BuffVision (Deric Swanson or Eric Pelloni: 303-735-3637).
- The Colorado lockerroom (home and road) is closed after games; following the customary 10-minute cooling off period, players will be made available (a list of players will be solicited immediately following the game; no cutoff to request players).
- Colorado's regular season football practices are closed to the general public (exception: Sundays) but are open to the media (exception: Thursdays). The 11th through 30th minute of practices (Sun-Tues-Wed) in-season are open for photography/video needs from the end zones and sidelines. All parameters listed in CU media policies.
- This year's standard meeting/practice schedule (mountain time, pre-time change): Sunday (3:15-5:00, 5:15-6:15); Monday (off); Tuesday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:30), Wednesday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:30), Thursday (2:30-3:40/4:00-6:00), Friday (3:00-4:00, evening meetings).
- Interviews with Colorado players are allowed post-practice on Sundays, pre- and post-practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and pre-practice Thursdays (the cutoff moves up to pre-Wednesday practice for Friday games). Phone interviews with out-of-town media are allowed all four days in all time slots. Interviews on Mondays are at the discretion of the player, as it being the standard player day off (no meetings/practice), CU can't arrange due to NCAA rules.
- Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for Big 12 football. Access and download weekly game notes, statistics, quotes, media guides and more for the conference and each member school throughout the season. Most FBS conferences are also accessible as well. Login information will be distributed to accredited media, and media members can also apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.
- CU On-Line Photo Database. The CU sports information service has an online photo database that allows registered members of the media instant access to print quality head shots of all CU coaches and student-athletes as well as action shots of key players. Registration is easy: for a login and password, simply log on to www.CUBuffs.com, select "Sports Information" from the "Athletic Department" menu located on the left navigation bar and follow the instructions.

THE BUFFALOES ON THE INTERNET

- Colorado has its information available to both the media and fans alike on the Internet. Visit the official CU site at www.CUBuffs.com for the latest information, releases, game notes and press conference broadcasts (free). Simply type www.cubuffs.com/media into your web browser, then click on Media Center, and it will link you to everything you'll need to know about CU football. "BuffsTV" offers the opportunity to listen and/or watch live game action of several CU athletic teams. Breaking news with the program will be found here first every time and delivered in full without others editing out what they might deem unessential.
- Yahoo.com is the official site for subscription service for audio-only broadcasts, as all football and men's and women's basketball games are streamed through Yahoo! Sports. Just visit the Multimedia area of the CUBuffs.com, go to the football schedule page and click on the corresponding audio icon, or visit yahoosports.com.

THE BUFFALOES ON THE AIRWAYS

Honor Candidates

There are several Colorado players worthy of consideration for national and conference honors as the season is now past the midway point; for those of you who have votes in such, please consider the below players!

✓ CB CHA'PELLE BROWN All-Big 12 Candidate

He is enjoying a fantastic season, with 72 tackles (49 solo), a team-best 14 third down stops, four more tackles for zero, two interceptions, one of which he returned for the winning points in a 31-24 over Eastern Washington. He has played all 694 snaps on defense and also has 10 PBU's and six TFLs, which includes a sack. All this while usually covering receivers several inches taller than him (he's 5-7).

✓ DT GEORGE HYPOLITE Bednarik, Lott, Outland, All-American Candidate /All-Big 12 Candidate

Named one of 20 quarterfinalists for the Lott Trophy on October 29; a first-team midseason All-Big 12 first-teamer (Phil Steele's), he's having a solid senior season, doing what he does best, clogging up the run. He has played 79 percent of CU's snaps on defense (547 of 694), racking up 35 tackles. He has 11 hurries, five tackles for losses, seven stops for zero and five third down stops.

✓ OLB BRAD JONES All-Big 12 Candidate

He is having an outstanding season, racking up 60 tackles to date (36 solo), with team highs of 13 quarterback hurries, 10 tackles for losses and five QB sacks. He also has eight third down stops, and a key forced fumble late in the K-State game that helped preserve a 14-13 win.

✓ DE MAURICE LUCAS All-Big 12 Candidate

He has his best season of his four as a Buffalo. He has been in on 34 tackles (28 solo), with six for losses, including a sack, along with four tackles for zero, three third down stops and four hurries.

✓ DT BRANDON NICOLAS All-Big 12 Candidate

Once again is doing yeoman's work without the flashy stats, playing a huge role in limiting the opponent running game as he's almost always in the area. He has been in on 27 tackles (19 solo), with six for losses, five third down stops and three stops for zero. He's been in for over 80 percent of the opponents' plays, rather high for a nose tackle (and for a second straight year at that, proving his durability).

✓ C DANIEL SANDERS Rimington Award Candidate (official watch list)/All-American & All-Big 12 Candidate

He is having the best year of all the CU linemen, grading out to 80 percent or better in nine of 10 games (90-plus four times, including a season- and career-best 96 percent against Kansas State; also scored a 94 percent mark at Texas A&M). He has played all 722 offensive snaps, is second on the team with 50.5 knockdowns, has four direct TD blocks, and has allowed just one sack and three pressures.

✓ KR JOSH SMITH All-Big 12 Candidate

He has 1,555 all-purpose yards in 10 games (just the ninth CU player to reach 1500), and has been among the nation's leaders all year and in the top two in the Big 12. He has 14 plays of 30 yards or longer and is averaging 15.9 yards per touch as he returns both kickoffs and punts in addition to his receiving duties. He has already set a CU single-season record for the most kick return yards with 1,211 (punt plus kickoff).

✓ TB RODNEY STEWART Freshman All-American /All-Big 12 Candidate

Unfortunately, his season is over after suffered a fractured fibula when he was "horse-collar" tackled in the Texas A&M game. At the time of his injury, he was fourth in the conference in rushing with 622 yards (69.1 per game), which was also good for 69th nationally but the sixth best total by any freshman. He tied the school record for most 100-yard games by a freshman and was in position to set most of the school's freshman rushing records, including yards (that record is 830).

✓ FS RYAN WALTERS All-Big 12 Candidate

He is second on the team in tackles with 86 (62 solo), and has been involved in several big plays, as has been par for the course for the CU captain's entire career. He has two interceptions and five touchdown saves to go with 10 third down stops, seven passes broken up, three fumble recoveries (two forced) and two sacks. One of the fiercest hitters in the league, he regularly bangs himself up but doesn't miss a beat.

AND KEEP AN EYE ON ANY OTHER BUFFS WHO MIGHT WARRANT CONSIDERATION THE SECOND HALF OF THE YEAR FOR POST-SEASON HONORS.

INJURY UPDATE

The Buffs came out of the Iowa State in solid shape for the most part. The injury list as of November 10:

Pos	Player	Injury	Notes	Status/Oklahoma State
DE	Jason Brace	concussion	likely out for the remainder of the regular season	OUT
PK	Jameson Davis	knee	strained it in the second half versus Iowa State	DAY-TO-DAY

OUT FOR SEASON (9): CB Benjamin Burney (knee); DE Drew Hudgins (knee); WR Jason Espinoza (collarbone), OG Mike Ittis (knee); ILB Jon Major (knee); OT Ryan Miller (fibula); TB Rodney Stewart (leg/ankle), OG Maxwell Tuioti-Maxwell (knee); TE Luke Walters (leg).

HIPAA: The players listed above have signed waivers for their injury information to be released/discussed with the media.

NOTE: Injuries are reported in conjunction with the HIPAA laws. CU releases player name, body part (but no right or left ID's), the general nature and playing status when it comes to reporting injuries. Status will be listed as either OUT, DOUBTFUL, QUESTIONABLE, DAY-TO-DAY, PROBABLE or DEFINITE. Injuries will be updated in-game, postgame, the Sunday after the game, and for game notes at the end of the week.

GAME-BY-GAME STARTERS

Here are CU's starters for the 2008 season (bold indicates first career start); this list often does not reflect who might "listed" first at a position, as especially on offense, the first play selected often involves a particular grouping:

OFFENSE

HANSEN JUST THE ELEVENTH When he appeared late in the first quarter against Kansas State on October 18, QB Tyler Hansen became just the 11th true freshman to see action in a game for Colorado since 1972, the year freshmen were once again eligible to play. Here's a look at the group Hansen joined and how they fared; game number indicates how far into the season the player made his debut (Colorado is now 9-2 in games when a true frosh made his Buffalo debut):

The most interesting of the above might be the first listed; in 1977, CU traveled three quarterbacks to Ames, and the first two, Jeff Knappe and Pete Cyphers, both went down with injuries and Lillo took over for the last 11:40 of the game and helped preserve a 12-7 Colorado win. It was the only action of his career at quarterback as he redshirted in 1978, and then played free safety his sophomore through senior seasons. NOTE: In 1984, Mark Hatcher was originally a quarterback but was moved to tailback where he saw action for seven games; he returned to quarterback in 1985 in CU's switch to the wishbone offense.

And in 1986, Bill McCartney opened up the competition at quarterback after the fifth game of the year, and true frosh Marc Walters (father of current Buff Ryan) appeared for the first time in game seven (Nebraska), and started the season finale at Kansas State when CU needed the win to secure a Bluebonnet Bowl bid.

AND JUST THE FIFTH Hansen started the next game at Missouri on October 25, becoming just the fifth true freshman to start a game at quarterback for the Buffaloes (and just the eight freshman overall when three redshirts are included). Here's how he compared with the four before him:

STEWART RUSHES INTO RECORD BOOK, BUT SEASON LIKELY OVER; SCOTT NOW IN SPOTLIGHT

True freshman TB Rodney Stewart had his coming out party on national television (ESPN), as the Westerville, Ohio (Columbus suburb) product had the third most rushing yards by a frosh in CU history against West Virginia. He had 28 carries for 166 yards, and while not getting into the end zone, on no less than three occasions was one defender away from going the distance. The diminutive (5-6, 175) yet speedy (4.35) Stewart had the first 100-yard game by a CU freshman in six years and the most yards by a first-year Buff since 1991. He then backed it up with a 100-yard game at Florida State, against a defense that held CU to minus-25 yards (on 27 tries) in 2007. He tied Lamont Warren's school record for the most 100-yard games by a freshman with three when he galloped for 141 yards in CU's 14-13 win over Kansas State. Stewart suffered a fractured fibula in the Texas A&M game (on a horse collar tackle) and out minimum four to six weeks, so likely for the rest of the regular season. The spotlight now shifts to fellow true freshman Darrell Scott, who has also been battling injuries but has 257 yards on the season; the two have already combined for the most rushing yards in a season by two true freshmen in CU history (the old best was 509) and are chasing the overall mark of 1,131. And with QB Tyler Hansen third on the team in rushing, CU is the only school in the nation that has three true frosh atop any statistical category. Some frosh numbers of note (*—denotes redshirt freshman):

DEFENSE

80 OR LONGER AIN'T BEEN EASY For CU opponents, that is. Through 10 games, opponent offenses have started 52 drives either inside (24) or at (28) the 20-yard line, and have scored just six times (three touchdowns, three field goals). By comparison, CU has 10 scores (8 TD/2 FG) in 43 similar instances.

PROTECTING A 1- & 2-POINT LEAD Kansas State closed to within 14-13 on the first possession of the second half, and the game remained scoreless from that point on in CU's win on October 18; thus, CU's defense protected the 1-point advantage for some 25:49. No one thought much of it at the time, other than it being a great job by Colorado holding off a very potent very potent offense the rest of the way, one that came in averaging 43 points per game. However, upon further research, it turned out to be the longest a Buffalo team had to protect such a narrow lead in 72 years, and the longest in the modern era (since 1946, or post-World War II). Colorado has 37 one- and two-point wins in its history, including eight between 1890 and 1945, but there are no play-by-plays available to research those games, but yearbook accounts do indicate the last time CU had to hold on to a lead that small the entire second half came on Oct. 24, 1936 in a 9-7 win at Colorado A&M (CSU). Here's a look at CU's 29 one- and two-point wins since 1946, showing how long the Buffs had to protect the lead after the game's final points were scored and a field goal was all the opponent needed for a win:

Where's it stand nationally in 2008? The longest nationally any team has been asked to hold on to a slim lead, that's where. There have been 35 games won by I-A/FBS teams that were decided by 1 or 2 points through November 8, and just three were scoreless in the fourth quarter. The double-digit protectors:

SPECIAL TEAMS

DAVIS RANKING HIGH

PK Jameson Davis ranks 10th in the NCAA in touchback percentage for kickers and is also the No. 2 freshman kickoff man in the nation. Davis has 13 touchbacks on 38 total kickoffs (as recognized by the NCAA) for a 34.2 percentage (CU has his count at 36, as squib kicks and free kicks are deducted to present the accurate picture). Additionally, Davis is the second among underclassmen on the list and is also second among Big 12 kickoff men. Of those listed ahead of him, six are seniors, one is a junior, one is a sophomore and one other freshman. At home, Davis has hit on touchbacks at 46 percent, with 12 on 26 kickoffs.

YOUNGSTER-MANIA

In the season opener against Colorado State, 56 different players saw action for the Buffaloes, including 24 underclassmen (eight sophomores, nine redshirt freshmen and seven true frosh). That's 43 percent of the players who contributed in some manner in CU's 38-17 victory over the Rams.

➤ An eighth true frosh has since joined the seven; where do the eight rank nationally? At this time, it ties for the 26th most in the nation; Florida State leads the way with a whopping 22, with Miami, Fla., right behind with 21. A closer look:

22 Florida State	15 SMU	11 Central Michigan	10 Arizona State	10 San Jose State	9 Virginia Tech	8 Tulsa
21 Miami, Fla.	14 Toledo	11 Rice	10 Auburn	9 Houston	8 Colorado	8 Washington
16 Arkansas	14 Minnesota	11 Tulane	10 Florida	9 Iowa State	8 Louisiana Tech	8 Wisconsin
15 Alabama	12 Georgia	11 UCLA	10 Illinois	9 Texas A& M	8 M. Tennessee St.	7 Nine tied
15 Iowa State	12 Tulane	10 Air Force	10 North Texas	9 USC	8 Notre Dame

The seven true freshmen are DT Curtis Cunningham, PK Jameson Davis, TE Ryan Deehan, QB Tyler Hansen, S Patrick Mahnke, OG Maxwell Tuioti-Mariner, TB Darrell Scott and TB Rodney Stewart. The nine redshirts included OG Blake Behrens, DT Eugene Goree, ILB Josh Hartigan, DE Conrad Obi, S Anthony Perkins, DT Tony Poremba, S Travis Sandersfeld, DT Lagrone Shields and CB Anthony Wright.

IN THE POLLS

Colorado was not ranked in the Associated Press (media) or USA Today Coaches polls of November 9, receiving no votes in either. CU was last ranked on November 6, 2005, when the Buffs peaked at No. 21 in the coaches' ballot (No. 22 in the AP and Harris Interactive), but dropped out after a Nov. 12 loss at Iowa State. CU was ranked three times in 2005, reaching No. 18 in the BCS Standings at one point (Nov. 6) and had returned to the polls after a 25-month hiatus on October 9. Dating back to the 1989 preseason, CU has been ranked in 185 of the last 321 polls (AP; 58%), which includes a tremendous run of 143 consecutive between 1989 and 1997 (the 10th longest streak of all-time). CU has been ranked 292 times in its history, the 21st most all-time. Since 1989, CU has played the fourth most ranked teams in the nation (99), trailing Florida (107), Florida State (100) and Michigan (100).

42 WINS OVER RANKED TEAMS EIGHTH BEST SINCE '89

CU's 42 wins over Associated Press ranked teams since the start of the 1989 season is the eighth most in the nation in this time frame (19 seasons). Florida State has the most with 67, followed by Florida (61), Michigan (60), Ohio State (57), Miami, Fla. (51), Tennessee (51), Southern Cal (49), Colorado (42), Penn State (41) and Alabama (40), Notre Dame (40), Texas (40) and Nebraska (36); as for the Big 12, after CU, UT and NU, the next schools on this list are Oklahoma (36), Texas A&M (29) and Texas Tech (22). All-time, Colorado's 65 wins over ranked teams are the 23rd most in history. (AP polls used for these figures because the coaches' poll omits teams on probation, but AP still ranks those teams.)

- Colorado had dropped 14 straight games against ranked opponents until the 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma. CU's previous last win against a ranked team came in 2003, when the Buffs toppled No. 22 Missouri in Boulder, 21-16. CU has lost nine straight road games against ranked opponents, with the last win at UCLA 31-17 in 2002.

RALPHIE IV OR V

For the first time in the history of the Ralphie program (circa 1966), the university is fortunate to have two of the live buffalo mascots, which have often been deemed college sports' best live mascot. Ralphie IV, CU's regular mascot since 1998, has been joined by Ralphie V, who made her debut at this past April's spring game and her first in-season run on Sept. 6 against Eastern Washington. Contrary to what some might believe, Ralphie IV has not officially retired and will appear during the 2008 season; it's just not known how many times. As they say in the sports business, the decision if Ralphie IV or V will be running at CU home games will be a 'game day' call. Both buffaloes are an active part of the program, and either could appear and run at a game (though will never appear together). Program managers will choose IV or V for a particular game based upon each animal's weekly practice performance leading up to the game. Ralphie V has appeared at all home games to date in 2008, whereas Ralphie IV handled the chores for the CSU game in Denver.

COLORADO BY THE NUMBERS IN 2008

- 2 The national rank of senior FS Ryan Walters who is the runner-up nationally in fumble recoveries with three.
- 8-1 Dan Hawkins' record following a bye week, including the win over West Virginia.
- 12.7 The conversion percentage by CU opponents on 3rd-and-9 or longer in 2008 (7-of-55).
- 13 The number of players who have scored touchdowns for CU in 2008, tied for the 16th most in the nation.
- 15 The number of first half turnovers by Colorado this season (12 in the second quarter) ... but just 4 in the second half.
- 15 The number of players who have at least one reception for Colorado, tied for the 12th most in the nation.
- 21 The margin of victory by Colorado in the season opener over Colorado State (38-17).
- 22 The number of freshmen CU has played to date in 2008 (eight true, 14 redshirt); that is tied for the seventh most in the nation.
- 23 The number of drives opponents have started inside-their own 25 after 36 Jameson Davis kick offs.
- 24-15 Colorado owns the best intra-division mark over the last five seasons against fellow Big 12 North teams at 24-15.
- 25 The combined margin of victory in the six CU-CSU games between 2002 and 2007 (four wins by CU).
- 43 The number of drives (out of 128) Colorado has had to begin at or inside its own 20-yard line (compared to 52 for the opponent).
- 43 The number of passing yards by West Virginia, the fewest against Colorado since 1999 (Baylor, 40).
- 44:15 The amount of time CU led against Colorado State, taking the lead early in the second quarter.
- 53.3 Josh Smith's kickoff return average for three returns against Colorado State, tying Walter Stanley's school record set against Oklahoma in 1980.
- 99 The percent grade OT Nate Solder earned against Kansas State, the best since All-America guard Joe Garten scored a 100 against KSU in 1990.
- 100.0 The conversion percentage on 3rd-&-1 runs by Rodney Stewart (5-of-5).
- 242 Colorado's streak of scoring in 242 consecutive games, the ninth longest streak of all-time (and third active longest at the time) came to and end.
- 422 Colorado's total yards against Iowa State, a season-high (274 pass, 148 rush).
- 1,123 The number of games Colorado has played in its history (119th season of intercollegiate football).
- 1,555 The number of all-purpose yards in 10 games by Josh Smith; only four have ever topped 1,600 in a season at Colorado.

WHAT A STRETCH

Colorado completed a seven-game gamut that in the preseason was loaded with no less than five ranked teams with the span including four games away from Boulder, and overall, one of the toughest stretches in school history. The run started with the 17-14 win over then-No. 21 West Virginia, followed by a trip to Jacksonville to take on Florida State, which had been ranked as high as No. 24 but dropped out after a loss to Wake Forest; CU dropped that one, 39-21. Then No. 5 Texas rolled into Boulder and left town with a 38-14 win, but it's still the only time this year Texas failed to score over 40 points. Then it was on to No. 16 Kansas, where the Buffs succumbed to the Jayhawks, 30-14, though that was a 16-14 game in the fourth quarter. Kansas State was up next, and while unranked, had two wins over Dan Hawkins' coached Buffaloes by a combined 40 points until CU won 14-13 this year. CU then traveled to No. 16 Missouri for the Tigers' homecoming game, and with Mizzou coming off two losses, they weren't the most hospitable in handing CU a 58-0 loss. The run on the road ended with a 24-17 loss at Texas A&M, notoriously one of the toughest places to play in college football.

CU-CSU TELECAST EARNS FSN-ROCKY MOUNTAIN TOP RATING

The 2008 Qwest Rocky Mountain Showdown featuring the University of Colorado vs. Colorado State football teams registered a 12.3 rating, making it the most-watched college football game ever on FSN Rocky Mountain and the highest-rated regular season game for any sport at any level. Overall, it was the highest-rated program on FSN Rocky Mountain since the Colorado State vs. Colorado football game on Sept. 4, 2004 (11.3 rating). According to FSN's analysis of Nielsen Media Research data, Sunday's telecast (Aug. 31) generated a 12.3 rating/23 share in the Denver DMA (designated market area), with an average of 180,810 homes watching the game. The game peaked at a 14.4 average household rating/27 share (211,680 households) during the 7-7:15 p.m. MT quarter hour. It was the most-watched program in the Denver market on Sun., Aug. 31, beating out such programs as the U.S. Open (9:30-4:00) on CBS and the NASCAR Pepsi 500 (6-10 p.m.) on ESPN. A rating is a percentage of all television households in a market, while the share is a percentage of those television sets in use that were tuned into the game. The half-hour CU-CSU PREGAME REPORT registered a 4.8 rating and the postgame report registered a 3.2 rating. In addition, the Colorado Rockies vs. San Diego Padres game on FSN Rocky Mountain that preceded coverage of the Qwest Rocky Mountain Showdown received a 4.3 rating which is 19 percent above the season average. The 2007 Showdown, a Colorado 31-28 winner in overtime, registered a 9.6 rating. The most-watched program ever in FSN Rocky Mountain's nearly 20 year history was Game 7 of the NHL Western Conference finals between the Colorado Avalanche and the San Jose Sharks on May 15, 2002 (17.7 rating).

➤ WEST VIRGINIA ON ESPN. The Sept. 18 game on ESPN drew a 2.87 metered market average, 19 percent higher than the game in the same slot a year ago (Texas A&M-Miami). About 3 million homes had the game on.

FOUR SENIORS SERVING AS 2008 CAPTAINS

When the votes were in, the University of Colorado football team had four seniors as the captains of the 2008 Buffaloes. In a vote by their teammates, fullback Maurice Cantrell, center Daniel Sanders, free safety Ryan Walters and wide receiver Patrick Williams were named captains. All four are fifth-year seniors and were members of CU's 2004 recruiting class.

Williams is the first wide receiver to be named a Buff captain since 2001, when John Minardi earned the nod from his teammates. Sanders is the first center and Walters the first free safety to be CU captains since 2003, when Marwan Hage and Medford Moorer, respectively, served, with Cantrell the first fullback since 2005, when Lawrence Vickers was named.

It is just the 11th time in 119 years that as many as four players will serve as season-long team captains; three of those occasions, the Buffaloes won conference titles: Big Eight crowns in 1976 and 1989 and the Big 12 trophy in 2001.

"It's an honor," Walters said. "I've wanted to play for the Buffs my whole life, the fact that my teammates voted for me to be a captain—it means a lot."

2008 TEAM MAKE-UP

The 111 players listed on the roster on September 1 broke down into 16 seniors, 19 juniors, 25 sophomores and 51 freshmen (including 26 redshirt frosh). An expanded breakdown:

Specialists Returning (2)—P Matt DiLallo, SN Justin Drescher.

Specialists Lost (2)—PK Kevin Eberhart, PK Tyler Cope.

AROUND THE NATION

Colorado gets most of its players from primarily three states: Colorado, California and Texas (74 percent of the entire roster—82 of 110 players). The roll call of state producers for the Buffs: Colorado 43, California 34, Texas 5, Arizona 4, Florida 4, Hawaii 3, Idaho 3, Ohio 2, Tennessee 2, Georgia 1, Iowa 1, Kansas 1, Kentucky 1, Massachusetts 1, Michigan 1, Nebraska 1, Pennsylvania 1, Utah 1, Washington 1 and Washington D.C. 1. That's 19 states total along with the District of Columbia that has produced the make-up of this year's team. (Army has the most states represented with 35, followed by Notre Dame with 29 and Navy with 27).

CAREER CHART WATCH

Here's where several Buffs are ranked on some of CU's all-time statistical charts 10 games into the 2008 season (Note: Colorado does not count bowl stats into career totals to protect past history):

- ⇒ QB CODY HAWKINS is sixth in passing yards (4,165), is third in completions (389), is fourth in attempts (683), is tied for third in touchdown passes (34), is tied for ninth in interceptions (22) and is eighth in total offense (4,165);
- ⇒ WR RIAR GEER is tied for 39th in receptions (49) and is 65th in receiving yards (486);
- ⇒ DT GEORGE HYPOLITE is 17th in tackles for loss (30) and is 23rd in quarterback sacks (11½);
- ⇒ OLB BRAD JONES is 43rd in total tackles (224);
- ⇒ WR SCOTTY MCKNIGHT is 21st in receptions (75), is 25th in receiving yards (898) and is 16th in receiving touchdowns (8);
- ⇒ WR JOSH SMITH is tied for 39th in receptions (49), is 29th in receiving yards (784), is 6th in kickoff returns (921) and is 39th in all-purpose yards (2,040);
- ⇒ TB RODNEY STEWART is 70th in rushing yards (622);
- ⇒ TB DEMETRIUS SUMLER is 96th in rushing yards (435);
- ⇒ FS RYAN WALTERS is 45th in total tackles (222) and is 15th in pass deflections (20);
- ⇒ WR PATRICK WILLIAMS is 10th in receptions (102) and is 20th in receiving yards (1,047).

CAPITAL RETURNS

CU's success often correlates directly with if it owns a hefty margin in return yards, as was the case in the 2001, 2002 and 2004 seasons—when the Buffs won the Big 12 North. The Buffs had advantages of 854-417 (2001), 803-607 (2002) and 574-499 (2004) in return yards, which includes all return yardage other than those on kickoffs (in 2006, the opponent had the upper hand at 390-277, but for 2007, CU had 677 and owned a 269-yard edge on the enemy); CU has a hefty 442-251 edge after 10 games in 2008. And the Buffs have 43 return and/or non-offensive touchdowns over the last nine seasons (39 regular season, four bowl game), tied for the ninth most in the nation for this span. OUGH ... LITERALLY

Colorado has lost 97 games due to injury or illness so far in 2008 (as of November 8), a number that will be no less than 111 when including the future missed games of nine players who have been lost for the season. All but nine of those 97 are by players who figured in either the two-deep or prominently on special teams. The Buffs are a bit shorthanded as Hawkins & Staff continue to rebuild the CU roster, but have 18 on the inactive roster now (eight injured, six ineligible, four transfers), not including 16 freshmen ticketed for a redshirt season.

ROAD-SWEET-ROAD: BUFFS 12TH BEST IN ENEMY STADIUMS SINCE '88

The Buffaloes have enjoyed a lot of success on the road over the last 20 seasons. CU has been victorious 59 of the last 102 times in enemy stadiums with a 59-42-1 overall road record (a 58.3 winning percentage) since the start of the 1988 season. That stands 12th nationally (11th in raw wins) and third among Big 12 Conference teams in this span; only 11 schools have won 60 percent of their away games in this time frame. During this time frame, CU won a school record 10 straight road games between 1994 and 1996. The Buffaloes own a 48-29-1 mark in their last 77 road conference games (Big 8 & Big 12—six losses at Nebraska, four at Kansas State and Missouri, three at Kansas, two at Iowa State and Texas A&M, Oklahoma, Texas and Texas Tech; and one each at Baylor and Oklahoma State; the tie was at K-State in 1993). CU is 23-28 on the Big 12 road since 1996 (0-3 in 2008). The chart to the right does not include neutral site games, despite some being anything but (i.e., Colorado vs. Texas at Irving for the '01 Big 12 title.)

19TH BEST IN THE NATION SINCE 1989

Colorado has the nation's 19th best record over the last 19-plus seasons, or since the start of 1989, CU has posted a 153-86-4 record. From opening 1-0 in '89, through the 10th game of the 2005 season, the Buffs owned one of the top 10 overall records in the nation (247 consecutive weeks). The best Division I-A records from the start of 1989 through all games of November 8:

THE BUFFALOES IN THE BIG 12

The Big 12 Conference has wrapped its 12th season, and the Buffaloes are tied for the second most division titles won with four, trailing only Oklahoma's six. Just seven of the schools in the conference have won a division title, with Missouri the first "newbie" to do so in six years. A closer look:

- ➔ Big 12 Division Titles (including 2007): Oklahoma 6, Colorado 4, Nebraska 4, Texas 4, Kansas State 3, Texas A & M 2, Missouri 1.
- ➔ Big 12 Championship Game Records: Oklahoma 5-1, Nebraska 2-2, Texas 2-2, Texas A & M 1-1, Kansas State 1-2, Colorado 1-3, Missouri 0-1.

CU VS. THE BIG 12 NORTH: Colorado owns the best record in intra-division competition going back to the start of the 2001 season against Big 12 North Division rivals, as the Buffaloes are 24-15; other records: Nebraska 23-15, Kansas State 19-19, Missouri 19-19, Kansas 17-22 and Iowa State 13-25. Colorado is 15-5 at home in this stretch versus the North, the only losses to NU (2003, 2005), KSU (2006) and KU and MU (2007).

SERIES HISTORY—COLORADO VS. OKLAHOMA STATE

Colorado leads the series by a 26-17-1 count, which includes a 13-7 edge in Boulder and an 11-10-1 advantage in Stillwater. CU has won 11 of the last 13, though Oklahoma State won the last time in Boulder by a 42-14 count in 2004, snapping a five-game Buff winning streak at Folsom. With this 11-2 run, the Buffs reclaimed a sizable advantage overall, as the Cowboys owned an 8-2-1 edge in games played between 1978 and 1988 (thus CU leads by only 13-10-1 since '78). CU had won eight straight, the longest streak by either team in the series, until a 33-29 Oklahoma State win in Stillwater in 1997. The “weirdness” of this series has been well documented through the years, with many an abrupt lead change and plenty of late fourth quarter scoring, with each team dashing the others’ hopes for some kind of title on more than one occasion. The winning team in the series has scored at least 30 points in 12 of the last 16 games; the only five shutouts in the 44-game history of between the two have been registered by Colorado, the last coming in Stillwater in the school’s last game in 2005 (34-0). Dan Hawkins is 0-0 against Oklahoma State, while OSU’s Mike Gundy is 0-1 against Colorado.

SERIES DID YOU KNOW — Both teams’ own 11-10 victories in the series, needless to say a unique final score in football. The amazing thing is that the finishes in both are sort of similar: in 1966, Colorado took a 10-3 lead with 8:11 left in the game on a 1-yard touchdown run by John Farler. After swapping possessions, OSU drove 69 yards in 13 plays, scored a touchdown and earned two points on a conversion pass to take an 11-10 lead with 1:11 left. The Buffs then drove to the OSU 29 but a Bernie McCall pass was intercepted with 25 seconds left to end the comeback. In 1981, the Buffs, trailing 10-3, marched 94 yards in the final 1:08, scored the touchdown and added the two-point pass for the win (complete details on this drive on page 186 of the CU football record book supplement).

SERIES SIGNATURE ANNIVERSARY GAME — 20th. In 1988, Oklahoma State rolled into Boulder, spotted the undefeated Buffs a 7-0 lead and then rode Barry Sanders to a 41-21 win. Sanders, who went on to win the Heisman Trophy with over 2,600 rushing yards, actually was fairly “contained” by the Buff defense, as he rushed for one of his lower totals on the year, 174 yards. But he scored four touchdowns as OSU turned six Colorado turnovers into 20 points to run away from the Buffs. Sal Aunese scored twice for the Buffs, with Darian Hagan adding the other CU score on a 16-yard run with 1:08 remaining.

BUFFS & COWBOYS BY THE NUMBERS

Here’s a look at some numbers-related trivia or fun facts with Colorado & Oklahoma State:

- 1 The number of times both schools have been ranked entering the game (1997: OSU #20, CU #24);
- 5 The number of touchdown passes John Hessler threw in the 1995 game, matching the school record he set a month earlier at Oklahoma;
- 15 The number of games in the series decided by a touchdown or less;
- 24 The number of points scored in the final 4:39 of the 1982 game (15 by Oklahoma State, 9 by Colorado);
- 25-25 The final score of the 1982 game, thanks to the note directly above;
- 444 The number of games in the Colorado-Oklahoma State series, 38 of which took place in succession between 1960 and 1997;
- 101 The number of plays run by Oklahoma State in the 1983 game, the second most plays ever in a game versus CU;
- 342 The number of rushing yards by CU’s Charlie Davis in the 1971 game (on 34 carries), still CU’s all-time single game record;
- 402 The number of passing yards by Koy Detmer in the 1996 game, one of nine 400-yard passing games in CU history;
- 676 The number of total yards by the Buffaloes in 1971, still the third most in CU history (and was the school record for 24 years).

OKLAHOMA STATE NOTES

Oklahoma State is 8-2 and comes into the game off a 56-20 loss at No.2 Texas Tech. The Red Raiders scored 14 points in every quarter in methodically pulling away from the Cowboys, taking control of a 21-14 game with three straight touchdowns to take a 42-14 lead six minutes into the second half. TTU had 38 first downs and 629 yards of offense (516 passing) to OSU’s 19 and 368 (186 rush, 182 pass).

- ➔ Mike Gundy, the legendary OSU quarterback, is in his fourth year as head coach of the Cowboys. He is 26-21 overall, going 4-7 his first season (2005) and 7-6 the next two years. He was 3-1 as a player against the Buffaloes, sharing the limelight with Thurman Thomas and then Barry Sanders. Gundy held the Big Eight total offense record (7,749 yards) until CU’s Kordell Stewart passed him in the final game of his career in 1994.
- ➔ In what has become a pass-happy conference, Oklahoma State’s the one school with a bread-and-butter rushing game, averaging 264.8 yards per outing, easily tops in the league and sixth in the NCAA. But looking inside the passing numbers, you will find that OSU’s 10.3 average per pass attempt is second in the nation, trailing only Tulsa even gaudier 11.4.

THE SET-UP

- ➡ This will tie for the fourth latest date in the calendar year that Colorado and Oklahoma State will play, only playing later in 1960 (Nov. 19), 1973 (Nov. 17) and 1974 (Nov. 16); the '73 game was in Boulder (as was the '69 game also played on Nov. 15) with the other two in Stillwater. It's the latest in the schedule the two will play (game 11), surpassing the games in the 70s, both of which were number 10.
- ➡ Colorado is 14-5 versus Oklahoma State in November, including a 6-3 mark in Boulder.

THE LAST TIME ... COLORADO 34, OKLAHOMA STATE 0*(OCTOBER 1, 2005; STILLWATER)

STILLWATER, Okla. — The first play for Colorado covered 74 yards and the last one 99 as the Buffaloes snapped a nine-game losing streak to Big 12 Conference South Division schools with a resounding 34-0 win over host and previously unbeaten Oklahoma State.

In the conference opener for both schools, the Buffs set the tone early as on the first play from scrimmage, Hugh Charles cut through the middle untouched and raced 74 yards for a touchdown just 18 seconds into the game. It was the second fastest score from scrimmage in CU history, topped only in 1996 when the Buffs scored 13 seconds into the game at Texas A&M.

That score would stand alone until two seconds before halftime, when Mason Crosby's 48-yard field goal extended the CU lead to 10-0. Though the Buffs had a 230-94 edge in total offense, they had two penetrations into Cowboy territory ended by a blocked field goal and a fumble. That, and OSU's defense sucked it up and did all it could to keep things close.

That changed in the opening moments of the second half, when Abraham Wright made his first career interception, setting the Buffs up for business at the OSU 29. Two plays later, Charles ran around the left end for 15 yards and a touchdown to provide the Buffs some breathing room at 17-0. CU sealed things on its next possession, marching 59 yards in just six plays to take a 24-0 lead. Joel Klatt hooked up with Evan Judge on a 27-yard pass play to the OSU 11, and then found Joe Klopfenstein in the end zone for the touchdown, with the play covering the final 11 yards.

Crosby added a 42-yard field goal with 2:07 remaining, but the Cowboys still did their best to avert being shutout. Bobby Reid hit D'Juan Woods along the right sideline for a 49-yard gain to the CU 31, with the 'Pokes driving to the CU 8 with 43 seconds remaining. On a third-and-five play, Reid was intercepted by CU freshman Marcus Burton, who raced 99 yards back down the right sideline for the closing touchdown. It was the longest play by a freshman in Colorado history in addition to preserving the shutout, CU's second this season. It marked the first time since 1992 the Buffs posted two in one year, and the first time in 40 years the Buffs had two in a three-game span.

Charles rushed for a career-high 132 yards, the third time in four games this year he topped the 100-yard mark, while Klatt moved into second place on CU's all-time passing yards list and into third on the total offense list. Wright had four tackles to go with his interception, also recording a sack, a forced fumble, a third down stop and a pass deflection in being one of several defensive stars for the Buffs on the afternoon.

CU racked up 381 yards of total offense while limiting OSU to 208, including just 92 on the ground. This was just the fifth shutout ever posted in the series, all by Colorado and the first since 1992.

FATHER-SON, BUT UNCLE-NEPHEW?

Colorado likely had a collegiate football first when both an uncle and his nephew scored in the Colorado State game. Sophomore WR Josh Smith returned a kickoff 93 yards in the second quarter, with his nephew, freshman TB Darrell Scott, scoring on a 1-yard run in the fourth quarter. It is believed to be the first time an uncle-nephew combo scored in the same game, if not in the same season, in the college ranks. CU has had father-son scoring before, with Larry Brunson (1971, one TD) and son Matt (2001, two TDs), Marc Walters (1986, two TDs) and son Ryan (2006, one TD) and Dick Anderson (1967, two PAT kicks) and son Blake (1994, one TD).

IN COLORADO BUFFALO HISTORY: NOVEMBER 15

Colorado is 8-6-2 all-time on November 15, with its 44-10 win at Iowa State in 2003 snapping a three-game losing streak on this date in history. A snapshot look at some of the games played on the date: 1913—CU's 20-0 win over Colorado Mines in Denver was summed up this way in the '15 Coloradoan: "A tall player, shot out from a mass of striving, pushing men, grabbed the ball out of the air, juggled it above his head on the run, and crossed the goal line. It was (Henry) Huber of Colorado. After that it was easy. Smashing, tearing and pushing, the men of the grey team pushed the lighter miners before them and piled up 20 points against the Ore-Diggers' 0." Smashing, tearing and pulling? Sounds like a trip to the dentist with taffy stuck in a filling. 1947—The Buffs had 222 passing yards, one of its highest totals in its history at the time, while limiting Wyoming to 80 yards on 54 plays in a 21-6 win in Boulder. 1952—Kansas State jumped to a 14-0 lead early in the second quarter, but the Buffs responded with 34 unanswered points in taking a 34-14 win in Boulder. CU forced KSU into six turnovers, including four in a span of six possessions after falling behind by the two scores. 1958—In 28-degree weather, snow and mud, Chuck Weiss' first quarter TD was all CU needed to win at Utah 7-0. Colorado had just 2 first downs and 62 yards on offense, its fewest ever in a win, while Utah mustered just 194 though running 66 plays to CU's 33. 1969—Bobby Anderson's 1-yard run with 1:23 to play capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive that rallied CU to a 17-14 win over Oklahoma State in Boulder. CU's other touchdown came on the first play of the game, when Steve Engel returned the opening kickoff 88 yards for a score. In-between, it was a game dominated by the defenses, as the teams netted under 600 yards combined on offense. 1975—Terry Kunz, Don Hasselbeck and Jim Kelleher scored touchdowns to lead CU to a 24-21 win at Lawrence. Gary Campbell (16 tackles, 13 solo) and Brian Cabral (11, 10) led CU on defense. 1980—Derek Singleton ran for 109 yards, but Kansas rushed for 425 in a 42-3 win in Boulder. 1986—Riding a five-game winning streak after opening 0-4, CU entertained No. 3 Oklahoma with the Orange Bowl on the line, but the Sooners and their familiarity with defending the wishbone were too much for the Buffaloes and left Boulder with a 28-0 win. OU did not attempt a single pass in the game. 1997—Kansas State turned two CU turnovers into touchdowns in a decisive second quarter as the No. 10 Wildcats defeated CU in Manhattan, 37-20, K-State's first win over the Buffs in 13 seasons. 2003—CU scored on six of its first seven possessions in building a 37-0 halftime lead en route to a 44-10 win at Iowa State. Joel Klatt threw for 288 yards and two scores with five different Buffs scoring touchdowns.

NOVEMBER 15 COLORADO MVP: DB Phil Irwin. With Oklahoma State driving for either a game winning touchdown or a game-tying field goal, his interception in the end zone preserved CU's 17-14 win over the Cowboys in Boulder in 1969. After CU took the lead with 1:23 left, OSU drove from its 23 to the CU 5.

BUFFS HOLDING OPPONENT QUARTERBACKS WELL UNDER RATINGS

For the most part in 2008, Colorado has done a good job of holding opponent quarterbacks under or at their season rating, either at the time of the game or once that QB has established a consistent number. Take a look:

Quarterback, Team	vs. Colorado QB Rating	Entering Game QB Rating	Season QB Rating	Notes
Billy Farris, Colorado State	113.5	--	132.6	Just 1 TD in 27 completions, 2 interceptions vs. Colorado
Matt Nichols, Eastern Washington	111.3	100.7	131.5	2 interceptions, 1 TD in 51 pass attempts.
Pat White, West Virginia	97.2	145.1	140.7	Just 43 yards passing, 3.1 yards per attempt vs. Colorado
Christian Ponder, Florida State	81.8	154.7	119.1	Completed 45 percent of passes, 0 TD, 1 interception vs. Colorado
Colt McCoy, Texas	158.7	209.7	180.3	Two of three picks against CU, one of two games under 80 comp pct.
Todd Reesing, Kansas	152.4	160.2	151.3	Buffs held Reesing to fewest passing yards, TD passes of season
Justin Freeman, Kansas State	97.3	161.8	134.1	Lowest QB Rating vs. Buffs, only game to date under 100
Chase Daniel, Missouri	191.5	175.8	172.4	Completed 31-of-37 with 5 TD (4 short), but did have an INT
Jerrold Johnson, Texas A & M	138.3	149.7	140.5	Completed less than 50 percent of his passes, but had 3 TD's
Austen Arnaud, Iowa State	121.6	124.4	122.9	Hurt CU more with his running (14-70)

100 RUSHING YARDS TOUGH TO GET AGAINST THE BUFFALOES

When an opponent back goes for a hundred against the Buffs, they usually have earned it. The four in 2008 and three who did so in 2007 sure did. Case in point, West Virginia's Pat White rushed for 148 yards on 19 carries, but picked up 83 of those on two tries (otherwise had 65 on 17); WVU's Noel Devine was in the same boat, netting 133 on 26 overall, but had 56 on four of those tries (thus 77 on the other 22). Florida State's Antone Smith rushed 25 times for 154 yards, but he had long runs of 60 and 19, meaning the other 23 netted 75. KU's Jake Sharp needed 31 carries for 118, just 3.8 to start with, and take out his long of 21, and he had 30-for-97, nothing out of the ordinary. Iowa State's Alexander Robinson picked up 101 on 23 tries, but had runs of 27, 17 and 14 otherwise had 43 yards on his other 20 carries. In 2007, CSU's Kyle Bell gained 135 yards in the opener, but needed 40 carries to do it (3.4 per; 25 of his carries went for three yards or less). K-State's James Johnson had 159 on 20 tries, but topped 100 thanks to a pair of late runs (68 & 40 yards), and Iowa State's Alexander Robinson went for 127 on 29 attempts (82 on 27 minus two long runs of 25 & 16). CU allowed just two opponents an individual 100-yard rushing game in 2006, Oklahoma's Allen Patrick (110, but on 35 carries; 3.1 per carry, with 23 rushes for three yards or less). Nebraska's Brandon Jackson picked up 142 on 34 tries (4.2 per). The last two to do it prior to Patrick and Jackson were Clemson's James Davis (150) in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl, and OU's Adrian Peterson in the 2004 Big 12 Championship game.

- The Buffs have allowed just 11 100-yard rushers, just three in Boulder, over the last 48 games (since the start of the 2005 season), though five this season. But other than the WVU backs, it's not been overly easy. Yards per carry by the five: Pat White, WVU 7.8 (19-148, but 83 on two carries); Noel Devine, WVU 5.1 (26-133); Antone Smith, Florida State 6.2 (25-154, includes one 60-yard run); Jake Sharp, Kansas 3.8 (31-118); Alexander Robinson, Iowa State 4.4 (23-101).
- Since 1950, there have been three occasions where CU did not allow a 100-yard rusher over an entire season (1957, 1965, 1967), but keep flirting with doing for the first time since the "Summer of Love." However, it won't happen in 2008.

VOTING BUFFS

Colorado was one of a handful of schools to participate in an ESPN College Game Day survey ahead of Tuesday's presidential election. The results basically fell in line with the eventual outcome; but what CU can be especially proud of is that of 95 players who were surveyed (out of 109, we missed a few of the inactive), 94 voted, and about 60 percent of those already had in advance. Here are the tabulated results and what they felt was the most important issue:

What is the most important issue to you this election?						Who are you going to vote for?
	Mc/P	Ob/B	Other	Undec.	Total	Pct.

SMITH REACHING RARE TERRITORY

Sophomore WR Josh Smith is already CU's 10th 1,000-yard all-purpose yard performer this decade, as CU has now had at least one in seven of the last eight seasons. TB Chris Brown has the decade high of 1,784, all but 40 of which came on the ground, in 1982. CU's all-time single-season record belongs to TB Rashaan Salaam, who amassed 2,349 in 1994 (2,055 rush; 294 receiving). Smith is just the ninth Buffs to reach 1,500 in a single season, and just four have attained 1,600, a number certainly attainable for Smith with two games remaining. A closer look at the top all-purpose Buffs:

BIG PLAY J-FLY

Sophomore WR Josh Smith, whose nickname is "J-Fly" is racking up the above yardage by his knack for the big play. He has 14 plays of 30 yards or longer this season. With 1,555 all-purpose yards, on 98 touches or 15.9 per, he was the fastest player to 1,000 all-purpose yards (1,016 in six games) at Colorado since Chris Brown in 2002 (1,004 through six). Smith now has 17 plays of 30-plus in his career (four receptions in 2007 in addition to the below); Terrence Wheatley led CU a year ago with 11 plays of 30 yards or longer (10 KOR, 1 interception). Josh's big plays this season:

HAWKINS RISING UP THE CHARTS

QB Cody Hawkins, one of 16 freshman starting quarterbacks in the nation in 2007 (8 at BCS schools) threw for 2,693 yards, just the fifth 2,500-yard season in school history (the total tied for the third most a season at CU). He set all the major passing and total offense records for a true freshman, and also set a record for attempts in a season by any class. Hawkins placed high on the other single season lists as well, such as attempts, completions and total offense. His 19 touchdown passes were the fourth most in a single season (record: 22, Koy Detmer in 1996), while his 15 interceptions tied for the second most in a single year (record: 16, John Hessler in 1997, followed by 15, Joel Klatt 2004). The interception count was a bit skewed—seven were by deflection.

- He is now in the top 10 in virtually every major passing category (and in the top 5 in three: TD passes (34), attempts (683) and completions (389)).
- Red Zone. He has a 27-to-3 career ratio of touchdowns to interceptions in the red zone (11-to-2 thus far in 2008; one pick really could have also been scored a catch and a fumble, as a KU defender ripped the ball away from Cody Crawford after an apparent catch).
- The 40-On-In. Once the Buffs reach the opponent's 40-yard line, Hawkins has been especially deadly this season. Through 10 games, he has completed 45-of-80 passes for 490 yards, with 15 touchdowns and three interceptions. That works out to a passer rating of 163.2 from the opponent 40- on-in for CU's sophomore signal caller. (In rallying CU to the win over Iowa State, he was 10-of-12 for 81 yards and 4 TDs, a rating of 250.03.)

HEAD IN THE RIGHT PLACE

Highly touted freshman TB Darrell Scott was selected as the Big 12 Conference's Newcomer of the Year in a preseason poll of league media. When informed of the honor he said, "Wow. That's flattering, but I haven't even put on any pads yet. It's too early."

SCOTT THE PUNTER? He's capable of "toe-ing" one sometime, as CU does have an incumbent two-year veteran back in Matt DiLallo, but Scott's days of youth soccer have made him a decent punter (left-footed, as is DiLallo). A position player punting at Colorado would not be a unique thing; in 1979, the last tailback-punter, Lance Olander, led the team in rushing with 440 yards (5.0 per carry on 88 tries) and in punting with a 42.0 average for 50 kicks (long of 62, 10 inside-the-20). Olander also punted some in 1978, when linebacker Steve Doolittle topped the Buffs (a 42.4 mark on 41 kicks to go with 52 tackles). And in 1977, quarterback Jeff Knapple led the team with a 38.8 average for 44 punts while passing for 1,203 yards and 4 touchdowns. The other running back-punter in the post-platoon era (1965-on) at Colorado was William Harris, who punted twice in 1965, once in 1966 but 25 times in 1967, averaging 36.1 yards in the latter.

BROWN RECORDS KNOWN SCHOOL FIRST

Cha'pelle Brown's 27-yard interception return for a touchdown that provided the winning points in CU's 31-24 win over Eastern Washington marked a first in school history. Never before had the Buffs used a defensive score of any kind in the fourth quarter as the decisive scoring play to come-from-behind or break a tie for a win.

➔ Icing On The Cake. There have been several times the defense scored points late to ice the win, but always followed an offensive score; this was the case in 1976 (a 20-10 win over Oklahoma State); in 1995 (a 27-17 win over Kansas State) and in 2002 (a 41-27 win over Iowa State). In a 20-19 win over Wyoming in 1997, Ben Kelly returned a kickoff 99 yards to close to within 19-17, and then got the ball back at the Wyoming 25 on a Ron Merkersen fumble return to the Cowboy 25.

CU WAS STARTING NATION'S TALENT TACKLE COMBO

The starters at offensive tackle for the Buffs in the first four game this fall were sophomores Ryan Miller and Nate Solder, with the “twin trees” officially the tallest tackle combination in CU history. They edge four other duos by three inches (as of now, both were still growing as of this summer). Solder stands 6-foot-9 and Miller 6-7¾, which we round up to 6-8, and that adds to 13 feet, 5 inches. With Matt Bahr now subbing for the injured Miller (out for the season with a fractured fibula), the new duo still ranks near the top. A look at the tallest tackle duos in CU history:

2008	Nate Solder (6-9), Ryan Miller (6-8)	1997-1999	Shane Cook (6-7), Ryan Johanningmeier (6-7)
1990	Mark Vander Poel (6-8), Ariel Solomon (6-6)	1978	Stan Brock (6-7), Matt Miller (6-6)
1992	Derek West (6-8), Jim Hansen (6-6)	2008	Nate Solder (6-9), Matthew Bahr (6-4)
1993-1994	Derek West (6-8), Tony Berti (6-6)

So where did and do the two duos rank nationally? Can't possibly determine for all-time without mega research, but one would assume it's among the tallest in college football history. A closer look:

McKNIGHT, SMART THE LATEST IN LONG LINE OF WALKONS TO RISE TO FIRST-TEAM

Sophomores Scott McKnight and Jeff Smart are just two of several walk-ons through the years who have been rewarded with scholarships. Once the NCAA started reducing the number of scholarships from 95 to 85 (completed in 1992), more and more players made their bones starting as walk-ons. Here's a short list of some of the standout former walk-ons at Colorado:

Player	Pos	First Season	Letters	Notes
Willie Beebe	FB	1978	4L	Solid blocker who scored nine career touchdowns as a bruiser near the goal line
Kyle Rappold	NT	1985	3L	Known as the “trash compactor” for his stature, the Fort Lewis transfer clogged the run
Jeff Campbell	WR/KR	1986	4L	Earned scholarship second day of freshman camp; played five years in the NFL
Ken Culbertson	PK	1986	3L	Scored 98 points in CU's 11-0 run in '89 season, making 59-59 PAT and 11-17 FG
David Gibbs	CB	1986	4L	Solid corner and special teams performer, now coaching with NFL Kansas City Chiefs
Mark Henry	WR	1987	3L	Big play guy with 18 career catches for 416 yards, or 23.1 per catch
Robbie James	WR	1987	1L	Threw TD pass on third down FG fake at Oklahoma State to lead CU to 16-12 win in 1991
Charles Johnson	QB	1987	2L	Often subbed for an injured Darian Hagan, earning Orange Bowl MVP honors in '91 vs. Notre Dame
Chris O'Donnell	LB/SN	1987	4L	Solid as a rock at long snapper on special teams all four years
Keith Miller	FB	1992	2L	From tiny Ovid, Colo., he was a solid blocking back. Now an opera singer with the MET.
Ryan Black	SS	1993	4L	Led team in tackles as a junior in 1996 with 154 (78 solo)
Ryan Sutter	FS	1993	3L	CU's all-time special team points leader, led Buffs in tackles (170, 98 solo) in 1997
Neil Voskeritchian	PK	1993	2L	Won the starting placekicker job in 1994, finished career ninth in scoring at CU (161 points)
Nick Pietsch	P	1996	4L	Led CU in punting in 1997-98-99, finished with a career average of 39.9
Beau Williams	TE	1998	2L	Primarily a blocking tight end, played a big role on CU's 2001 Big 12 title team
D.J. Hackett	WR	2001	2L	Walked on after CS-Northridge dropped football; led CU in receiving in '03, four-year NFL veteran
Tom Hubbard	FS	2001	2L	Defensive MVP of the 2004 Houston Bowl with two interceptions
Evan Judge	WR	2001	4L	Caught 69 balls for 903 yards to finish in top 20 in receiving yards
John Torp	P	2001	3L	Finished second for the '05 ray Guy Award; set a school records with 205 punts, 65 inside the 20
Paul Creighton	TE	2002	4L	Also saw action at FB, he primarily was a
Greg Pace	SN	2002	4L	Took over all special team snapping chores early as a freshman and handled through senior year
Joel Klatt	QB	2003	3L	Former infielder in Padres organization went on to set 44 CU passing and total offense records
Cody Crawford	WR	2004	2L	Has caught 22 passes and is a regular in the rotation
Jeff Smart	ILB	2005	1L	Earned a scholarship three games into the 2007 season; first LB to do so under Cabral
Scotty McKnight	WR	2006	1L	First freshman wide receiver to ever lead CU in receiving (43-488, 4 TD)
Aric Goodman	PK	2008	NA	In his first season, he was awarded a scholarship after making the game-winning FG versus West Virginia

NEW TRADITION BORN

Last season, Dan Hawkins instituted the Buffalo Roundup, where the team is dropped off in front of Libby Hall, walks through the Folsom Field plaza and by the bronze buffalo, and then into the stadium through a tunnel comprised of fans, cheerleaders and the Golden Buffalo Marching Band. Fairly well attended, it was still missing that certain something. And this year, thanks to long-time CU supporter Barb Roberts Quinlan, that certain something is a massive bell she donated to the university in memory of her late husband, Dwight Roberts, who in the 1970s became the first president of the CU Foundation. Dubbed the “Spirit Bell,” it will be rung twice on game days at Folsom. The first will be 10 minutes prior to the team's arrival on Colorado Avenue to alert the fans to gather to welcome the team; this will take place about two-and-a-half hours prior to kickoff. The second will be 10 minutes before Ralphie is set to run inside the stadium to let people know it's time to enter the gates to see one of college football's unique spectacles. The Eastern Washington game on Sept. 6 marked the debut for both.

Mrs. Quinlan purchased the massive bell two years ago, which is four feet in diameter and weighs 1,800 pounds, from an estate in Evergreen that featured almost 23,000 bells. She bought the biggest one. “I wanted to do something in memory of Dwight and his love for the university and this is the perfect thing to remember him.” She was the first to ring the bell, which will be situated at Benson Field near the Alumni Association pregame tent. The diameter of the bell determines the tone, and this bell's is an F-Sharp.

“It's two calls to action,” summed up CU athletic director Mike Bohn. “We think it's going to become very popular from the start for all involved and we were looking for something to alert the fans that the team is coming. We are most appreciative of the generosity and the commitment from both Barb and the Alumni Association to help begin this new tradition. We anticipate working with them to have honorary bell ringers for each game. It's also important to usher our fans into the stadium in time to see America's favorite mascot run and deliver a solid message of support to our football team.”

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS

Dan Hawkins is in his third season as head coach of the University of Colorado football program, his eighth overall as a FBS/Division I-A head coach and 14th as a collegiate head coach. He owns a 13-22 record at Colorado, along with a 66-33 record in the Division I-A ranks (53-11 at Boise State) and an overall career mark of 105-45-1 including five years at NAIA Willamette (Ore.) College. In his final year at Willamette (1997), his team posted a 13-1 record, falling in the NAIA Championship game, before he moved on to Boise State where he was assistant head coach under Dirk Koetter, coaching the tight ends and special teams while coordinating recruiting. When Koetter left BSU for Arizona State after the 2000 season, Hawkins was promoted to head coach. He took the Broncos to four bowl games in five years, with his 2004 team compiling an 11-0 regular season mark and ascending to No. 10 in the national polls; in the most anticipated non-BCS bowl game to date, Boise dropped a thriller to No. 7 Louisville, 44-40. In the modern history of Division I-A football, only three coaches won more games in their first five seasons than Hawkins (53: bested by Bob Pruett, Marshall; Bob Stoops, Oklahoma; and Pete Carroll, USC). Hawk's Handiwork:

At Colorado, the 2-1 mark includes a 1-1 mark against Nebraska, as CU lost 37-14 at Lincoln in 2006 and won 65-51 in Boulder in 2007, and the 17-14 OT win over West Virginia this season.
- ♦ Hawkins has been a head coach for 151 games (105-45-1), with that record and 69.9 winning percentage 10th in the nation for active coaches with 100 or more games coached for their career.
- ♦ In 13-plus seasons as a head coach, Hawkins' teams have been shutout just once, coming in his 149th game at the hands of Missouri (58-0). He had never dropped more than two games in a row in the same season (which happened just three times) until his first season at CU and won at least eight games seven times (10-plus four times).
- ♦ Hawkins tells his players: "You're in America, you're going to college, you live in Colorado. You have it better than 90 percent of the people in the world."
- ♦ Hawkins has used the term "conflama" when referring to some people's desire for conflict and drama (the reason someone like Jerry Springer and that lot is even on the air). He references it when people on the outside of a program choose to look at the negative without choosing to understand why something may very well be the way it is.
- ♦ Hawk on depth charts: "To be honest, we really don't pay too much attention to depth charts, we run a lot of personnel in and out of there at several positions. For example, I view the defensive line like hockey; they're playing in shifts as we want them fresh." As a result, especially on offense at receiver, tight end and in the backfield, CU utilizes different "groupings" as opposed to following a depth chart.
  - ♦ Hawk on the vertical passing game: "I love the long pass. As I've come along in this game, I've learned you've got to pound it and launch it."
  - ♦ Hawkins believes the four most important positions on a football team are the offensive and defensive lines, quarterback and cornerback.
  - ♦ Hawk's philosophy on big wins, like CU's 27-24 over No. 3 OU in 2007: "You enjoy it on Saturday, but come Sunday, it's in the vapor trail."
  - ♦ One of his beliefs is, "Once is a mistake; twice is a behavior." He applies it to football, whether for things on or off the field, and to life.
  - ♦ Hawk's response about potential for disaster after the 0-3 start in 2006: "There's always potential. When you get in your car and get out on the freeway, there's potential for disaster. I knew when I left Boise State there was potential for disaster. That doesn't scare me... there's also the potential for greatness. So you can hide behind the shadow if you want, but that's not living."
- ♦ Versus Ron Thulin on Hawkins' optimism: "His glass isn't half-full, it's overflowing. He's not going to change. He said they are going to keep fighting and doing the little things everyday. I think everyone on our crew was ready to put on a football helmet after talking to this man yesterday. He is excitable and he cares." Chimed in analyst Charles Davis: "I was looking to get taped and get out to practice that day. If you're around him long enough you can't help but be positive."
- ♦ As with many coaches, at the end of practice, the team will run for turnovers, mistakes, missed field goals, etc. One day in 2006 after PK Mason Crosby missed a kick within his range, Hawk felt a little bad as he wondered to himself, "How many coaches are making their kids run for a missed 64-yard field goal?"
- ♦ Hawkins is one of the 60 Division I-A coaches voting in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll in 2008 (the eighth straight year he is a voter and the 22nd straight year CU's head coach has participated).

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS CONTINUED

Hawkins is getting his first look in 2008 at the three other members of the Big 12 South he has not seen (Oklahoma State, Texas and Texas A & M); he has already done so for two non-conference opponents in 2008, Eastern Washington and West Virginia. He has now coached against 44 different teams in his career:

HAWKINS AMONG THE BEST

Dan Hawkins has one of the top records among all-active Division I-A (FBS) coaches. He owns the 13th best winning percentage and is listed among some of the top names in the profession (10th for those with 100-plus games). A closer look through games of November 8:

THE CLASS OF '06

In 2006, 10 programs hired new head coaches, including Colorado (with Northwestern being the 11th to do so when head coach Randy Walker passed away unexpectedly in July '06). COACHES ON GAME DAY

The coaching staff is split between the sidelines and the press box. Upstairs are offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich, defensive coordinator Ron Collins, running backs coach Darian Hagan, graduate assistants Andy Avalos and Joe Bever and technical assistants Brad Bedell and Ashley Ambrose. Head coach Dan Hawkins wears a headset on the sideline, along with linebackers coach Brian Cabral, assistant head coach/offensive line coach Jeff Grimes, passing game coordinator/receivers coach Eric Kiesau, secondary coach Greg Brown, defensive line coach Romeo Bandison and special teams/tight ends coach Kent Riddle. Plays are generally shuttled in from substituting players.

OLD-TIMER

Associate head coach and linebacker coach Brian Cabral has taken his place among legendary assistant coaches who have spent time at Colorado. Entering his 19th full-time season, he is now the longest tenured assistant coach in Colorado all sports history. A closer look at the top eight in football:

ASSISTANT COACH LONGEVITY: 1. Brian Cabral 19 (1990-current); 2. Frank Potts 18 (1927-39, 1941-43, 1946-47) and Frank Prentup 18 (1941-58); 4. Dan Stavelly 15 (1958, 1963-76); 5. Chet Franklin 12 (1963-74), Mike Hankwitz 12 (1985-94, 2004-05) and Alva Noggle 12 (1920-31); 8. Marshall Wells 11 (1948-58).

Versus' Ron Thulin said about Cabral: "He's one of the great individuals. Besides being an outstanding football coach he has been the barometer for this football program for the last two decades. He teaches a lot more than just football to these players and that's why Dan Hawkins kept him on the staff. He's one of the best in the business."

HAWKINS, CU AGREE TO CONTRACT EXTENSION

The University of Colorado and its head football coach, Dan Hawkins, have agreed to a contract extension which will see CU's third-year head coach remain with the Buffaloes through the 2012 season, athletic director Mike Bohn announced October 7.

Hawkins was named the 23rd head football coach in Colorado history on December 16, 2005, and owns a record of 11-19 after his first 30 games in Boulder. He guided the Buffs to a third place finish in the Big 12 North Division and an Independence Bowl berth in 2007; his 2008 team is currently 3-2, including a nationally televised win over then-No. 21 ranked West Virginia.

He originally signed a five-year, $4.25 million contract that was effective January 1, 2006, through December 31, 2010, not including incentive compensation for academic progress, student citizenship and community outreach, along with various performance incentives ranging from rewarding bowl appearances to winning conference and national championships.

"I am pleased with the progress Dan has made and the values he embodies as the leader of our football team," said CU-Boulder Chancellor G.P. "Bud" Peterson. "He has fully supported the integration of intercollegiate athletics into the academic mission of the university, and he shares the values of our faculty and staff in building a program on the solid foundations of integrity, academic achievement, and sportsmanship."

"Dan has consistently demonstrated a high level of professionalism, dedication, integrity and commitment to not only the football program but to the entire university," Bohn said. "His exemplary work ethic has instilled a strong sense of CU pride, vitality and spirit on campus, across the state and to alumni nationwide. We look forward to his continued leadership in building an athletic program to match the world class status of our institution."

"We remain committed to a compensation model that reflects the importance of on and off the field performance through incentives," Bohn added. "Coach Hawkins is making significant progress across the board and we recognize the importance of continuity in our leadership."

The new contract is effective as of July 1 of this year and runs through January 31, 2013, with the guaranteed compensation package for fiscal year 2008-09 to include base salary ($174,720); radio, television and public appearances ($514,500); sponsorship support ($210,000); and football camps ($52,500) for a total of $951,720, prior to performance incentives.

Those incentives includes academic progress toward graduation of football program athletes; meeting performance objectives in the area of player welfare and development; development of football program outreach; participation in the Big 12 Conference championship game; league and national titles and bowl participation and wins; and competitive success, e.g., if he is named the conference or national coach of the year.

EXPERIENCE

Colorado's 2008 coaching staff is youthful, yet experienced. Through Nov. 10 (Hawkins' 48th birthday), the 10 full-time coaches who comprise the Colorado coaching staff have coached a collective 83 seasons in Division I-A and have combined to coach in 1,256 games (with a record of 729-523-4, .582). The aggregate age of the 10 is 419 years, thus making the average age 41.9, one of the younger staffs in the nation. Linebacker coach Brian Cabral is the elder statesman at 52, followed by secondary coach Greg Brown (51); five of the coaches are 40 or older, including head coach Dan Hawkins (48), and five under, with offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich the youngest (35). Helfrich is the fourth youngest offensive coordinator in the Division I-A ranks; a closer look:

CU VERSUS THE "NEWBIES"

The Buffs opened the season with a three-game run against first-time head coaches. The season opener was against Colorado State with Steve Fairchild taking over for Sonny Lubick at Colorado State. Eastern Washington then hit town with Beau Baldwin at the helm, and West Virginia does the same with Bill Stewart. Then CU opened November at Texas A & M and its new coach, Mike Sherman; he was the first "newbie" to top the Buffs in 2008. One remains; Nebraska and Bo Pellini the day after Thanksgiving. That will be five schools with new head coaches on the Buffs' 2008 slate, believed to be an all-time CU high.

➔ So collectively, by the time CU saw the first three coaches of CSU, EWU and WVU, they had coached three games total; in game four at Florida State, the Buffs had the honor of being the 500th game coached by FSU head coach Bobby Bowden.

HEAD COACHING FATHERS AND THEIR PLAYER SONS

There have been 56 known players in Division I-A (FBS) history who have played for their head-coaching fathers in college, including 22 quarterbacks and five active pairings, according to a survey of I-A sports information departments (most schools responded, we checked others as best we could). The count includes CU head coach Dan Hawkins and his oldest son, Cody.

The most famous and perhaps best head coach father (HCF) and quarterback son (QBS) tandem in NCAA history is Jim and Kevin Sweeney at Fresno State. Kevin played for his father from 1982-86, when he became the first player in NCAA history to throw for 10,000 career passing yards (Jim was FSU's head coach for 19 years, retiring No. 17 on the all-time win list with 200 in his 32-year coaching career). The most famous "near-miss" happened at Stanford, where John Elway played quarterback from 1979-82 and his father, Jack, took over as head coach from 1984-88. And at Marshall, when they were a I-AA powerhouse just before moving up to I-A, Todd Donnan started at QB for his father, Jim, in 1993-94.

STARTING FROSH. Cody started the first game of his redshirt frosh year, which made him the ninth known son to start at quarterback for his head coach father in I-A/FBS history, and just the third freshman to do so. Kevin Sweeney started the first two games of his true freshman season at Fresno State in 1982, but was injured in the second game and granted a medical hardship for the season; he came back to start as a redshirt frosh through his senior season. Tim Sale started all 11 games of his true frosh year at Minnesota in 1980; he lettered that year, but played sparingly thereafter. There is one other active HCF-QBS combo, that being at North Texas where Riley Dodge is playing for his father, Todd. The list (#—denotes active):

*—denotes started/first-team (at some point when father was head coach at the time; in some cases, they became the starter after the father moved on).
%—The elder Brewer moved on to Mississippi in 1983 and son followed.

While this is the first time that CU has had the head coach father-player son active combo, the Buffaloes have seen it against them in the past. Iowa State (Criners), Kansas State (Dickeys, Snyders), Oklahoma State (Simmons) and perhaps one of the most famous father-son duos, Lee and Steve Corso at Indiana. When confirming with Lee, he was pretty proud that Steve caught the game winning TD in a 36-30 win against Kentucky his senior year, and reminded us that he had two pretty good games against Colorado (5 catches for 87 yards in a 17-16 CU win in 1979, and 3-38 in a 49-7 Indiana win in 1980).

DT'S HYPOLITE, NICOLAS CONTINUE TO SEE HEAVY DUTY

In 2007, for only the fourth time in the last 15 seasons, did CU have two defensive linemen play at least 80 percent of the snaps on defense (and just the second time in 20 seasons that two tackles were asked to do so). As juniors, Brandon Nicolas (85.7 percent) and George Hypolite (82.4) combined to play 1,395 snaps, with Nicolas playing the largest percentage of his team's snaps by a tackle in the span. The depth has improved so the hope from the coaches was that their studs can get a few more breathers. But in 2008, partially due to injuries, both have continued to get the lion's share of the snaps. Here's a look at the highest percent of snaps played by defensive linemen (ends, tackles) over the last 16 seasons (minimum 80 percent):

SEASON NOTES OF NOTE

- For the third time in CU history, the Buffaloes played in two active homes of NFL teams in the same season: CU opened the year against Colorado State at Invesco Field in Denver, and then played Florida State in Jacksonville (Jax Municipal Stadium). CU played in two NFL stadiums in 2002 (Denver, Houston) and 2004 (Kansas City, Houston).
- The 258 yards CU allowed CSU was the fewest by the opponent in a season opener since 1998, when the Rams had 202 in a 42-14 loss to the Buffaloes at old Mile High Stadium. It was the seventh lowest total by an opponent in the last 40 season openers, topped only by efforts against Washington State (196 in 1996), Fresno State (177 in 1988), Oregon (245 in 1978), Texas Tech (186 in 1976) and LSU (227 in 1971). And looking further inside the numbers, the Rams were never able to sustain a drive of consequence against the Colorado defense, having just one of 11 possessions last longer than 3:57 with no drive eating up more than 37 yards (which was CSU's final one of the game when CU had second- and third-team players in the lineup).
- The CSU game marked just the second time in the last 13 season openers that the Buffs did not allow a quarterback sack (the other occasion was in 2004). The five sacks recorded by the Buffalo defense were the most for CU since the second game of the '06 season (22 games; CU had 6-for-41 against CSU that year). And the five sack difference in CU's favor was the highest since an 8-2 edge over Washington State the second game of the '04 campaign. Four of those sacks came on first down, which helped put the CSU offense behind the 8-ball; the Rams netted just 42 passing yards on 16 first down plays, or 2.7 yards per. Though just one game in, that's a marked improvement over last year, when the opponent average was 7.6 yards.
- West Virginia had an all-or-nothing game against the Buff defense: the Mountaineers had 10 plays in double figures (eight rushes) for a total of 192 yards; the other 57 netted just 162 yards (2.8 per play). The 43 passing yards by WVU was an opponent decade low, as you have to go back to Nov. 13, 1999, to find a lower total (Baylor completed 4-of-21 passes for 40 yards in a 37-0 CU win).
- Sophomore WR Kendrick Celestine left the team for personal reasons on Sept. 21 after speaking with head coach Dan Hawkins on Sept. 21.
- Colorado's first six turnovers of the season (and seven of the first eight), occurred in the second quarter. And in the first four games, CU committed two turnovers in each, one fumble and one interception.
- CU placekickers, kicking from the 30-yard line on kickoffs for the first time in 2007, had all of six touchbacks the entire season. Fast-forward to 2008, PK Jameson Davis has become a key weapon in the battle for field position. The true freshman had topped the '07 total with seven touchbacks through three games (16 kickoffs), but just as important, he had 13 of those kicks inside-the-25 (two inside-the-20).
- A First. The 17-14 win over West Virginia marked the first time in Dan Hawkins I-A/FBS coaching career that he won a game when his team scored less than 20 points; he had been 0-17. He was 5-6 at NAIA Willamette when not scoring 20 or more points.
- Colorado's short yardage defense was as good as can be against West Virginia. The Mountaineers were 3-of-13 on third down and 0-of-2 on fourth down to begin with, but looking inside the numbers, WVU was 1-of-8 on 3rd-or-4th & 2 OR less (granted one of those was the 'Hail Mary' pass to the end zone at the end of regulation). Opponents had been 5-of-5 in such situations going into the game, but credit defensive coordinator Ron Collins and the Buff defense for likely an unheard of job on a high-caliber running team like West Virginia. The Mountaineers averaged 6.1 yards to go on its 13 third down tries, trying to convert via the rush nine times but batted just .333 (3-of-9).
- DT Curtis Cunningham registered his first collegiate stat in solid fashion; he had played 21 snaps in the first three games of the season but did not get in on any tackles. In the second quarter at Florida State, he batted a pass well into the air, which was then nearly caught by FSU quarterback Christian Ponder, who lost control of it. Yep, Cunningham was there to swipe it in midair, thus the ruling it was an interception, his career first.
- Colorado's first score of the game the last three outings (Eastern Washington, West Virginia, Florida State) have all been touchdown passes from QB Cody Hawkins to WR Josh Smith, covering 9, 38 and 30 yards, respectively. The last time that happened at CU was in 2006, when PK Mason Crosby got the Buffs on the board in three straight games, making field goals versus Arizona State, Georgia and Missouri (he also did it in the final three games of 2005 against Nebraska, Texas and Clemson). Then you have to go back to 1997 to find the next occasion, once again all field goals, by PK Jeremy Aldrich against Iowa State, Kansas State and Nebraska. But to find the last player to turn the 0 into a 6 on the scoreboard for CU in more than two straight games, you have to go all the way back to 1994, when TB Rashaan Salaam scored CU's first points in the first eight games of the season, all on touchdown runs, en route to rushing for 2,055 yards and 24 touchdowns in winning the Heisman Trophy.
- This was the first time that the same two players combined on a pass play to score CU's first touchdown in three straight games in school history.
- Colorado scored 14 points in three straight games in the middle of the year; on only one other occasion had a CU team ever scored the same point total three straight times, that coming in 1927 in successive losses to Colorado College (7-46), USC (7-39) and Colorado A&M (7-48); it's never happened four straight times. The key word here is scoring; shutouts were often the norm when the sport was much lower scoring between 1890 and 1940; CU went three straight games posting a "0" in 1890, 1893, 1916 and 1932, and six straight in 1906. As for the opponent, CU's first five foes in 1978 all scored 7 points as the Buffs opened 5-0.
- Kansas State ran 23 plays in plus territory (the 50-on-in) for 89 yards in the game; that's 3.9 per play, but considering it gained 51 on the three 17-yard plays on its opening second half possession, the Wildcats had just 38 yards on its other 20 plays in plus territory, or 1.9 per. Kansas State had just six three-and-outs coming into the game all season, but had three in a row in the second quarter and six in the game; KSU also came in averaging 43.3 points per game, eighth in the NCAA, but was held 30 points below its average.
- It was well documented that Kansas State mustered just a 3-for-15 performance on third down; the Wildcats came in ranked eighth in the nation in third down conversions at 49.3 percent and missed their last 11. But on second down, the Buff defense was even better: K-State was just of 2-of-18 converting second downs conversions at 49.3 percent and missed their last 11. But on second down, the Buff defense was even better: K-State was just of 2-of-18 converting second downs into firsts, the lone two makes both coming on 2nd-and-3 situations during the same second half drive. So combined, KSU was only 5-of-33 picking up a new set of downs on second or third down plays, a 15.2 percent conversion rate.
- PK Aric Goodman never saw the field against Missouri since the Buffs never trotted out their field goal/PAT unit to attempt a kick. Obviously, that didn't happen during CU's 242-game scoring run, but with Jameson Davis handling kickoff duties, the question came to mind, "When was the last time CU's starting placekicker didn't even play one play? You have to go back to Nov. 15, 1986, when Oklahoma shut out CU in Boulder, 28-0. OU won the toss and declined the first half option; CU wound up receiving the opening kickoff both halves and with no field goal tries that day, Dave DeLine never made the field.

CABRAL EARNS INAUGURAL HONORARY BUFFALO HEART AWARD

Long-time assistant coach Brian Cabral was presented with the inaugural Honorary Buffalo Heart Award at the weekly Boulder Buff Club luncheon at the Omni Interlocken in Broomfield on October 16. The original award, for a current senior, was created in 1998, but award officials started thinking about players from the past who would be deserving of the award, according to one of the founders, Buff Club member Pat Grimes. "I was told this former player and now coach has always embodied the award traits, which are heart, grit, determination and desire to CU fans both on and off the field," Grimes said in presenting Cabral the award.

BROPHY PREP PIPELINE?

Brophy Prep, a small Catholic school in Phoenix, has become a pipeline for the Buffaloes with five individuals in the football program owning ties to the school. Offensive guard Blake Behrens, a redshirt freshman, and two true frosh, recruit Ray Polk and invited walk-on receiver Sean Lieb all prepped there, as did Mark Nolan, CU's assistant director of football operations and ops interns Matt Butterfield and Charles Gonsler.

GAINING EXPERIENCE BUT STILL YOUNG

The Buffaloes were young a year ago, often having seven or eight freshmen in the game at the same time on offense (often as defined by around a third of the time the second half of the season). In the lineup were redshirts QB Cody Hawkins, WR Scotty McKnight and TE Nate Solder along with true frosh WR Kevin Celestine, TB Brian Lockridge, OG Kai Maiava (who supplanted redshirt OG Wes Palazzi), OT Ryan Miller and WR Josh Smith. Fast forward to 2008, and at the end of fall camp, there were 28 players in the two-deep who were freshmen (15, including seven recruits from last spring's class) or sophomores (13). Nationally, in a complex experience rating published by Phil Steele's College Football, Colorado and Boise State are tied for the third youngest teams in the nation, with Florida and Texas the only schools younger. At six positions, the top two players are either a freshman or a sophomore (WR, LT, RG, RT, QB, TB and PK).

- Fewest Seniors. Colorado has 15 seniors on its roster in 2008, 12 of whom are on scholarship which is tied for the seventh fewest in the nation. Alabama and Middle Tennessee have the fewest seniors on scholarship with nine, followed by Central Michigan and Toledo (10) and Minnesota and North Carolina (11). Colorado is one of four schools tied for seventh with 12 seniors on schollies.

TRENDS*1985-2008

Since 1985, when the Buffs returned to their traditional winning ways after six frustrating years, Colorado is 181-105-4, the 21st best record nationally in this span). In these 290 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

◆ with 400-plus yards total offense	105-18-2	◆ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	86-17-1
◆ with 500-plus yards total offense	52- 5-0	◆ when leading at halftime	146-19-2
◆ when leading in time of possession	119-29-3	◆ when leading after three quarters (145-12-3 in last 160)	149-14-3
◆ when making 20-plus first downs	109-32-1	◆ when scoring 24 or more points	147-20-2
◆ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	69- 8-1	◆ when scoring 14 or more points	178-62-4
◆ when punting three or fewer times	67-13-1	◆ when held to 13 points or less	3-41-0
◆ when scoring first	117-32-1	◆ when not committing a turnover or allowing a sack	14- 0-0
◆ with zero turnovers (131-50-2 with two or fewer)	33-10-2	◆ when rushing for more yards than passing	105-35-2
◆ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	106-18-1	◆ when passing for more yards than rushing	76-70-2
◆ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	91-12-1	◆ when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	98-20-2

TRENDS II*1989-2008

Since 1989, when the Buffs became a regular in the national rankings, Colorado has posted the nation's 19th best overall record at 153-86-4. Here are some trends during this time frame (243 games, including bowls):

➤ when running more plays than the opponent	85-32-3	➤ when rushing for 200-plus yards	79- 5-1
➤ with 400-plus yards total offense (47-5 with 500-plus)	91-18-2	➤ when rushing for 250-plus yards	53- 2-1
➤ when scoring 30 or more points	101- 6-1	➤ when rushing for 300-plus yards	31- 0-1
➤ when leading in possession time (54-60-1 when not)	98-27-3	➤ when rushing and passing for at least 200 yards	34- 2-0
➤ when making 20-plus first downs	96-29-1	➤ when passing for 200-plus yards	83-39-2
➤ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	55- 7-1	➤ when passing for 300-plus yards (10-0-1 400-plus)	25-13-1
➤ when scoring first (85-22-1 the last 108 times)	96-25-1	➤ when passing for more yards than rushing	76-70-2
➤ with zero turnovers (114-47-2 with two or fewer)	27-10-2	➤ when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	80-19-2
➤ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	82-11-1	➤ when holding edge in field position	121-23-1
➤ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	75-12-1	➤ when not committing a turnover or allowing a sack	13- 0-0
➤ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	64-12-1	➤ when out-rushing the opponent	123-14-3
➤ when average field position is CU 30+ (26-2 40+)	111-38-2	➤ when owning the edge in return yards	115-32-2
➤ when play selection is 50 percent rushing calls	126-29-2

TRENDS III*HAWKINS

Some trends of Colorado coach Dan Hawkins both overall and at his former school, Boise State; totals are for 99 games including bowls (66-33; the Broncos were 53-11 under his guidance in five seasons):

Category	At CU	Overall	Category	At CU	Overall
➤ when scoring 20 or more points (2-21 when not)	11- 6	64-12	➤ when leading after three (10-26 trailing, 3-2 tied)	8- 2	53- 3
➤ when scoring 30 or more points	9- 1	56- 3	➤ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	6- 5	38- 7
➤ when scoring 40 or more points	3- 0	38- 2	➤ when holding opponent under 300 yards offense	3- 5	27- 5
➤ when scoring 50 or more points	1- 0	20- 0	➤ when rushing for 200-plus yards	6- 1	38- 1
➤ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	6- 3	35- 3	➤ when rushing for 250-plus yards (7-0 300-plus)	3- 1	25- 1
➤ in games decided by 7 points or less	7- 8	17-13	➤ when rushing for more yards than passing	7- 6	25- 7
➤ with two or fewer turnovers (10-2 with zero)	11-16	49-24	➤ with a 100-yard rusher	8- 4	35- 4

➤ when leading at halftime	9- 5	52- 8	➤ with 500-plus yards total offense (6-0 with 600-plus)	2- 0	25- 1
➤ when trailing at halftime (4-0 when tied)	4-16	10-24

TURNOVERS ARE INDEED COSTLY

Dan Hawkins falls in line with most, if not all, head coaches when it comes to turnovers, and that they are one of the single most important factors in winning or losing ball games. He has penalties and rewards daily in the practice dependent on the number of turnovers committed or forced. Gary Barnett drilled home to his teams the importance of taking care of the football, which he learned from the legendary Bill McCartney. Statistics back up the argument, as the below will show that it is definitely better to take than to give over the last 20 seasons, in which CU owns the nation's 19th best overall record:

	Turnovers Committed	Turnovers Forced	+/-	Scoring Off Turnovers PF	PA	+/-
153 WINS	256	384	+128	1,271	521	+750
HAWKINS ERA (13 WINS)	21	27	+ 6	73	65	+ 8
86 LOSSES (& 4 TIES)	218	145	- 73	336	700	-364
HAWKINS ERA (22 LOSSES)	41	34	- 7	74	118	- 44
20-SEASON TOTALS (243 Games)	474	529	+55	1,607	1,221	+396
HAWKINS ERA (35 Games)	62	61	- 1	147	183	- 36

COACHES CORNER... WITH DAN HAWKINS

Some select comments from head coach Dan Hawkins following CU's 28-24 thrilling win over Iowa State; for more from Hawk, check out his blog at CUBuffs.com (located at <http://www.coachhawkins.com/blog.htm>):

On What He Said to the Defense Before the Game's Final Play—"I think we had a pretty good idea that they were going to run a zone-read or some kind of speed option. I think (Defensive Coordinator) Ron [Collins] did a good job of mixing it up down there. That's when it's all on the line. They made the play, and it was a great play."

On the Quarterback Situation and the Team's Reaction—"I think you're not going to have the feelings that you're going to have after a game like this if you're not willing to work through games like we had last week. So much of great football and great teams is being able to work through the bumps and banging in there. You set your ego aside and you're ready; Cody [Hawkins] has had to tag out for Tyler [Hansen], Tyler has had to tag out for him. It's not fun for either of them or for us, but they've handled it awesome. For our whole team to come out in the second half, it was so interesting because it's the nature of our schedule and our team that it gets hard when you get beat down a lot. Through depletion of personnel and losses, I think that first half was indicative of the things that plague does in the A&M game; so many opportunities that slide away and it sucks the life out of you. Cody was a part of it, but I think it was the team that got some wind underneath their wings and got going. I give them a lot of credit for that."

On His Confidence in Colorado's Kicking Game—"There's no question that it's squirrely at best. I think you just have to hang in there and keep trying to work with them. It's not like they're not trying, but you don't have as bunch of options. We just have to keep grinding and keep working. The blocked extra point wasn't the kicker's fault. Both of these guys are first year players. It's their first year dealing with stress, dealing with pressure, dealing with failure, dealing with injury; but they will rally back to prove themselves. They're just going through the valley a little bit. Everybody has to do it, but they'll come out on the other side."

On Colorado's Wide Receivers—"We've had a lot of issues on offense. It was great to just see them operating, blocking the right guys, running the right routes, catching the ball, doing those kinds of things; we certainly know that they are capable of that. You just stay after them week after week and it eventually shows up, and it did today."

On What He Told the Team at Halftime (CU trailed, 10-0)—"We missed a couple of kicks and it sucks the wind out of you a little bit. We have a couple of penalties on special teams and that sucks the wind out of you; we just had some of those instances. You wipe away some of those. You get a couple of plays and your momentum goes up, and your confidence is up and then your energy is up; that is indicative of young guys. Our staff was very poised at halftime, and I thought our team was as well. We put a lot of credence on the first two drives of the second half and I think that's always big for setting the tempo of the game. For the first time, we answered on offense and defense, and that really set the tone for the half. I give them a lot of credit for just believing and the staff a lot of credit for staying in there and coaching our guys."

On Persevering and Winning the Game—"At the end of the day, it's about one coach or one team winning more games than another coach or another team. But I really believe that we're doing the things that championship teams do. I really believe that on and off the field. We're doing what you're supposed to do, and we just have to hang with it. When you have those breakthrough moments, they help you. It's beating Oklahoma. It's beating West Virginia. In a situation like this, where it seems like the ball is rolling downhill, and you have enough character to put your back up against it and stop that momentum and shove it back up the hill. I think it means something to them as a football team, and it means something to them as individuals. The more you do it, the more you're going to be up against it. If you can't live through the A&M games and Missouri games of life, you are never going to have the West Virginia's, Oklahoma's, and Iowa State's of life. I thought it was great for them to learn that lesson."

PLAYER QUOTES

SS D.J. DYKES

ON GOAL LINE STAND—"It was obviously a big play. Any game changer is going to be a big play. They were on the one foot line and we needed to make a big play. It decided the game, so it meant a lot. They gave the ball to the quarterback, who is a very good player, Shaun Mohler made him pitch it and that got them to about the 5-yard line. Then we just swarmed the ball. Me and Jimmy Smith were able to break our blocks and make the tackle."

QB CODY HAWKINS

ON COMING IN AND WINNING—"I'm glad we won. I don't think it's about me, my guys are loving me up and keeping me confident. It came down to going out and doing what we do every day in practice."

ON COMING IN, IN THE SECOND HALF—"It's huge. I wasn't really sure what was going on. Tyler and I are great friends. Coach Helfrich came to me and said 'Cody your in.' It's definitely has a different feel when you go in in the second half."

BUFFS NEAR THE TOP IN BIG 12 FOOTBALL GRAD RATES

The NCAA released the annual graduation rate info on October 15, and Colorado fared well in the results pretty much across the board. The cohort period covered is 1998-2001, based on six years allowed for graduation, or having to do so by 2007. In the GSR tabulation, which allows for transfers who leave in good academic standing, CU had a grad rate of 75 percent for football; six CU programs were at 100 percent: women's basketball, women's cross country & track, men's and women's golf, women's tennis and women's volleyball. In the federal rate, which does not allow for transfers, the football number was 70. Texas and Oklahoma bring up the rear in the conference, but in their defense, they lead the league in this period in NFL draft choices and many seniors return later on to finish up their degrees as has been the case at Colorado. Here's a look at how CU compared with its conference colleagues and in-state rival CSU:

School	GSR	Fed Rate	School	GSR	Fed Rate	School	GSR	Fed Rate
Texas Tech	79	65	Colorado State	66	56	Iowa State	55	54
Nebraska	78	75	Oklahoma State	62	57	Kansas	53	51
Baylor	78	61	Missouri	59	49	Texas	50	40
Colorado	75	70	Texas A & M	56	47	Oklahoma	46	36
Kansas State	67	70

CU-BOULDER ON ACADEMIC ROLL

A few campus and university factoids to break up the run of sports notes:

- ❑ CU-Boulder has a record 5,750 new freshmen among its 29,000 students.
- ❑ CU-Boulder saw a record 23,000 applicants this fall – a 16 percent increase over the past two years and an increase of more than 35 percent over the past three years.
- ❑ The last three freshman classes have been the largest, best-qualified and most diverse freshman classes in the history of the university since the arrival of Chancellor G.P. “Bud” Peterson in July 2006.
- ❑ The average high school grade point average of incoming freshmen was 3.57, equaling last year’s all-time high.
- ❑ CU’s freshmen come from over 1,500 out-of-state high schools and more than 300 in-state high schools.
- ❑ Nearly 1,000 members of this year’s freshman class come from families whose parents are not college graduates.
- ❑ Freshman students of color increased from 771 in the fall of 2006 to nearly 950 this fall – a 23% increase in two years.
- ❑ CU-Boulder has added 90 new tenured or tenure-track faculty positions since the fall of 2006.
- ❑ Private support for CU-Boulder reached an all-time high this year (ending June 30) with $58 million in private donations – an increase of nearly 80 percent in two years.
- ❑ CU-Boulder researchers brought in a record $280 million in sponsored research revenue this year (ending June 30), surpassing last year’s record by over $14 million.
- ❑ On Monday, CU-Boulder earned the largest research contract in its history, $485 million from NASA, for an orbiting space mission to study Mars. CU-Boulder receives more NASA research dollars than any public university.
- ❑ CU-Boulder has major research initiatives and programs in biotechnology, renewable energy, global warming and aerospace engineering.
- ❑ The Athletic Department has been fully integrated into the academic culture of the university since Chancellor Peterson’s arrival in 2006, becoming a national model for how academics and athletics can work together toward common goals. This includes dual reporting responsibilities in budget and finance, facilities, academic advising and student disciplinary procedures.
- ❑ Six current or former student athletes and a coach competed in the Olympics. Olympic Steeplechaser Jenny Barringer, a senior, will be the grand marshal of the homecoming parade next month (Oct. 3).
- ❑ Over the past two years CU-Boulder has increased the amount of academic building space by nearly 330,000 gross square feet. A new Visual Arts Complex will open in early 2010.
- ❑ 13,400 students participated in 360,000 hours of community service in 2007, equivalent to 170 people working full-time for a year.
- ❑ CU-Boulder was one of three U.S. universities to receive the U.S. Presidential Award for General Community Service in February 2008 competing with more than 530 universities for the award given by the Corporation for National and Community Service based in Washington, D.C.Z
- ❑ Student outreach is one of the 18 initiatives in CU-Boulder’s strategic plan for the future, Flagship 2030, to prepare the university and its students for life, career and contribution in the 21st century.

FOLSOM HAS GONE “GREEN”

The University of Colorado at Boulder announced a goal to move toward zero-waste at Folsom Field during the football season and invest in local carbon-reduction projects. They anticipate recycling or composting at least 90% of the waste generated at Folsom Field this year.

According to U.S. Environmental Protection Agency information and other sources, Folsom Field will become the first major sports stadium in the nation, professional or collegiate, to collect all materials in recycling or compost containers, eliminate trash cans and transform its materials collections systems into a zero-waste process.

A major contributor to this initiative is Eco-Products, who supplies compostable food service items to the stadium. Made from plant starch materials, the cups, plates and cutlery turns back into soil in as little as 45 - 90 days in CU’s composting facility. The Eco-Products’ educational team is stationed at the trash, recycling and composting bins during CU games to bring awareness to the effort and help attendees properly dispose of their waste. CU fans are getting more than the excitement of the game this year - they are learning that “zero-waste” is possible and they can help make it happen.

Eco-Products is the nation’s largest supplier of compostable items made from renewable resources.

MIDSEASON REPORT ON CU’S ZERO WASTE INITIATIVE

Early results are in on Ralphie’s Green Stampede, CU’s ambitious effort to recycle, eliminate waste and cut carbon emissions. After four home football games, the effort is well on its way to reaching its goal to be the first major sports stadium to remove public trash cans with a zero waste approach.

The Oct. 4 Texas game for instance not only saw a decrease in waste generated, over 80 percent of consumed materials were either recycled or composted. Other environmental initiatives included a new valet bike parking service and CU’s investment in local carbon offsets for the energy used in the stadium and for the teams’ travel.

“Ralphie’s Green Stampede” is a bold step forward in national zero waste efforts. Zero waste is no longer an idealistic vision but a practical cornerstone of sustainability. Newsweek for instance, recently listed zero waste at the top of its list of ten fixes for the planet. CU first envisioned a waste free campus in its 2006 Blueprint for a Green Campus. Since then, CU’s waste has decreased, despite record-levels of enrollment and new construction. This saves disposal costs, earns revenues from robust recycling markets, and employs students who make a difference with their degree.

Momentum remains strong to reach and even surpass the goals in the remaining three home games. White Wave Foods is a primary sponsor of Ralphie’s Green Stampede. Fans are encouraged to step-up their involvement for the last two home games in November, Iowa State (Nov. 8) and Oklahoma state (Nov. 15).

Some of the detailed accomplishments include the enormous amounts of materials recovered for recycling or composting by removing public trash cans within the stadium. Almost three tons of plastic bottles, plastic cups, and aluminum cans were collected from within the stadium during the last game with Texas. An additional three tons of food and food service packaging was composted. Importantly, upstream efforts to reduce waste generated less material than the average home game last season.

CU’s private concession vendor, Centerplate Inc. has converted nearly all food and beverage containers in Folsom to recyclable or compostable materials. Boulder-based Eco-Products Inc. is furnishing the compostable servingware. This effort to “design for diversion” has been a major success so far. While there are still “rogue materials” like candy wrappers, almost all packaging within the stadium is now recoverable.

TWO-MINUTE WARNING

Colorado has scored 126 times in 196 tries, including 22 game winning or tying scores, when the offense has gone into the “two-minute offense” drill since 1988; that’s 64 percent of the time. With a no huddle offense in 2008, everything has the appearance of being a two-minute drill but that’s not the case; CU is 5-of-9, scoring a TD with urgency to tie the game with Eastern Washington and netting another at Texas A&M (after a first half field goal). The Buffs then used the offense to score twice in the last 9:14 to rally and defeat Iowa State. CU was 9-of-12 in 2007, utilizing the drill to score field goals at the end of each half against CSU, a fourth quarter TD against Florida State (and nearly a second one), once for six before the half versus Miami, for the game winning field goal, though a bit less rushed, against Oklahoma, and twice in the final stages at Iowa State (scoring a TD a nearly the tying field goal), a first half TD against Nebraska and two TDs against Alabama in the Independence Bowl (one in each half). The Buffs were 2-of-6 in 2006: 1-of-1 against Texas Tech (field goal), 0-of-2 versus Montana State, 0-of-1 versus Colorado State, 0-1 at Georgia and 1-of-1 versus Iowa State (field goal). One of the most prolific years in the drill came in 1994, when CU was 7-of-8; that included two scores in the final two minutes at Michigan, including that certain play of the decade. Between 1988 and 1994, Colorado was an amazing 61-of-81 in the two-minute offense, with 44 touchdowns. The chart showing CU’s scores:

SAFELY AHEAD

The Buffs have been a virtual lock to win once they have a lead of two or more scores (nine-plus points) over the past 33 seasons. Since 1976 (game 1), CU has protected a two-score lead 211 of 229 times, losing 15 and tying three when it blew the lead. A closer look (*—Disneyland Pigskin Classic at Anaheim):

Colorado has lost only 19 games (and was tied twice) dating back to 1980 when leading by any margin at any point in the fourth quarter or overtime. The most recent losses were in 2006 (Kansas, Baylor in three overtimes—CU scored first in OT2—and at Georgia, when the Buffs led 13-0 entering the quarter and lost with just 46 seconds remaining as UGA won, 14-13). In conference play, only Kansas (1984, 2006), Nebraska (1984, 1998, 1999, 2001), Oklahoma State (1997), Texas A&M (2004) and Baylor (2006) have rallied in the fourth to topple CU in this span. The ties came against Tennessee in 1990 (31-31, after leading 31-17) and Kansas State in 1993 (16-16 after taking a late 16-13 lead).

➤ Colorado has won 95 of its last 104 games in which it at any point has held a two-score lead—and 22 of the last 27). A 2003 loss to Baylor snapped a 26-game winning streak in such situations on the road, and an overall streak of 49 consecutive wins between 1993 and 1999 was snapped in 2000 (to CSU; Iowa State also did it later that year).

In this same span, Colorado has rallied to win 33 games and tie two others dating back to 1981 after once trailing at some point in the fourth quarter (not including coming from 27-3 down against Nebraska in 1999 before losing in OT). The most recent wins of this variety came this year against Iowa State (won 28-24 after trailing 24-13 with 9:14 left) and versus Eastern Washington (won 31-24 after being down 24-17). In 2007 CU rallied from 28-17 down in the third and 28-25 in the fourth to defeat CSU 31-28 in overtime) and Oklahoma (down 24-7 late in the third, eventually tying the fourth largest comeback in school history in winning 27-24).

DOMINATION

Colorado has only 31 losses to unranked teams since dropping the 1987 season opener to Oregon: to BYU (1988 Freedom Bowl); Stanford (1991); Missouri (1997); Kansas (1998); CSU, Washington and Texas Tech (1999); CSU, Texas A&M and Kansas (2000); Fresno State (2001); CSU and Wisconsin (2002); Washington State, Baylor and Kansas State (2003); Missouri (2004); Iowa State and Nebraska (2005); five games in both 2006 and 2007 and to Florida State and Texas A&M this year. On several occasions, teams used the win over the Buffs to gain national notoriety and/or move into the rankings following the win. The Buffs are 94-29-2 in their last 124 games against unranked teams (AP), along with a record of 125-31-2 in the last 157. The Buffs are 163-86-4 in regular season games since the start of the 1986 Big Eight Conference season (8-9 in bowls); 112-61-3 in Big 8/12 games (including four league title games) and 51-24-1 in non-conference regular season action.

LITTLE KNOWN RARITY

In CU history, the Buffaloes have had a 100-yard rusher and receiver in the same game on 27 occasions (and is 21-6 in games when this occurs). It’s happened seven times this decade, most recently at Baylor this season (TB High Charles 109 yards, and WR Josh Smith 103). It hadn’t happened since 2004, when it occurred thrice: at Texas A&M (TB Bobby Purify/WR Dusty Sprague), versus Kansas State (Purify/WR Ron Monteilh) and at Nebraska (Purify/WR Blake Mackey). In happened three games in a row late in 2001, including the first time the same player had 100 yards in both in the same game (TB Cortlen Johnson at Iowa State: 172 rushing and 105 receiving); Johnson and TE Daniel Graham did it against Missouri, Graham and TB’s Chris Brown and Bobby Purify all did it against Nebraska. A closer look at this unique list can be found on page 34 of the 2008 CU History & Records supplement.

SCORING STREAKS

The Buffs scored in a school record 242 consecutive games until a 58-0 loss at Missouri on October 25, CU's first shutout loss since November 12, 1988 by Nebraska in Lincoln (7-0). The Buffs had scored in 94 consecutive road games (123 including neutral sites) as well as in 153 straight league games, all 103 in Big 12 play, including the four title games, and their final 50 in Big Eight competition, dating back to the '88 shutout at Nebraska.

➤ CU has scored in 129 straight games at home (last shutout: a 28-0 loss to Oklahoma on Nov. 15, 1986), and has scored in 128 straight games against non-conference opponents (last shutout: a 44-0 loss at home to LSU on September 15, 1979). The home shutout losses to Oklahoma in '86 and LSU in '79 are the only two times CU has not scored at Folsom Field over the course of the last 268 games (all the way back to 1963). CU has been shutout just eight times in its last 476 games (dating to October 5, 1968), but only five schools have administered them: Oklahoma (three times), Nebraska (twice), Louisiana State, Michigan and Missouri.

➤ Big 12 Conference Consecutive Game Scoring Streaks (through November 8): Nebraska 161, Kansas State 150, Texas Tech 140, Oklahoma 131, Kansas 73, Missouri 73, Iowa State 61, Texas A&M 61, Texas 56, Oklahoma State 43, Baylor 21, Colorado 2. CU is the last team to shutout both Kansas State (12-0 in 1996) and Oklahoma State (34-0 in 2005).

SCORING STREAKS II

The school record 242 consecutive games in which Colorado scored was the third longest active streak in the nation prior to coming to an end. Ironically, Washington State had its 280-game run come to an end the week before CU's died at Missouri when the Cougars lost 69-0 to USC at home. Since the start of the 1993 season, just four Division I-A/FBS schools have scored in every game. The list, through games of the November 8:

School	Streak	Last Shutout	School	Streak	Last Shutout
Michigan	298	Oct. 20, 1984 at Iowa (0-26)	Air Force	190	#—Dec. 31, 1992 vs. Mississippi (0-13)
Florida	252	Oct. 29, 1988 vs. Auburn (0-16)	(#—Liberty Bowl)
TCU	201	Nov. 16, 1991 at Texas (0-32)

242 WAS HISTORIC

Colorado's 242-game scoring streak ranks as the ninth longest in Division I-A college history; of the top 16 all-time, nine were started in the 1980s while the other five began in the 1970s. Here's that list: (*—329 games including I-AA games prior to joining I-A in 1992):

The streak of 242 games started on November 19, 1988; here's a look at some of things in the news that day and week CU began its record scoring run:

- ◆ The media reported on President Ronald Reagan signing three executive orders the previous day in relation to FEMA and catastrophic nuclear accidents. Reagan was wrapping up his second term, as George H.W. Bush was elected into office 11 days earlier on November 8;
- ◆ Weatherwise, the high temperature in Boulder that day was 37 degrees, with the low 21.
- ◆ In the NBA, the Doug Moe-coached Denver Nuggets crushed the L.A. Clippers, 134-107 (Alex English was the highest paid player on Denver, at $1.65 million);
- ◆ Robert Plant of Led Zeppelin fame was touring that night in Tulsa, Okla.;
- ◆ The Escape Club owned the nation's top single on that date with their hit, Wild, Wild West, taking the spot over from the Beach Boys' Kokomo; Bon Jovi would take it over the next week with Bad Medicine.
- ◆ The Top 10 television shows at the time included: The Cosby Show, Roseanne, A Different World, Cheers, The Golden Girls, Who's The Boss, 60 Minutes, Murder She Wrote, Empty Nest and Anything But Love. L.A. Law's Corbin Bernson married actress Amanda Pays (who?);
- ◆ Movies that opened the previous night included Fresh Horses (so bad that critics said to chew your leg off to get away from this one), 1969, High Spirits, The Land Before Time and Oliver & Company; Scrooged and Cocoon: The Return opened four days later, the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.
- ◆ John Lithgow hosted that's evening's Saturday Night Live.

ANATOMY OF THE SCORING STREAK

Colorado more often than not had extended its scoring streak rather quickly. In the 242-game run, CU has scored on its first possession 95 times, plus another three occasions where it scored on returns on its first touch of the game. The Buffs have scored in the first quarter 166 times during the streak, and had it extended by halftime 219 times. A closer look (*—includes score on a kickoff return to start the 1998 Aloha Bowl; an interception return prior to the first offensive possession in the 2002 Alamo Bowl; and an interception return for a score on the first touch against Arizona State in 2007):

Colorado had a 154-84-4 record during the scoring streak, averaging 35.4 points in the wins and 16.4 points in the losses (and 23.5 the four tied games). The Buffs have had only nine occasions where they were delayed extending the streak into the fourth quarter. The most recent came last season in a 16-6 loss to Florida State, where it marked the latest in a game CU scored to maintain the streak; it was also the only fourth quarter touchdown in the streak that took place on fourth down. Here's a look at those occasions (*—denotes in Denver):

Sept. 15, 2007	225	FLORIDA STATE	Tyson DeVree 11 pass from Cody Hawkins	3:39	L 6-16

There were 16 occasions where Colorado scored just once to continue the streak. PK Mason Crosby by far has played the biggest individual role, personally extending the streak six times, or four more than the only other player do it even twice, WR/KR Jeremy Bloom. A look at these 16 times with one score (*—denotes Orange Bowl; #—denotes Big 12 Championship):

ROCKY MOUNTAIN SCORING PROFICIENCY

Colorado had scored in 242 straight games dating back to 1988; down the road, the NFL Denver Broncos have scored in 253 consecutive contests, the longest active streak in the professional ranks, one which dates back to 1992. Their fiercest rivals had inflicted the last shutouts of each: Nebraska and the Raiders (then in L.A.). Combined, the pair scored in 494 straight games. Many traits were eerily similar; the Broncos have extended it on their first possession 99 times, in the first quarter 165 times and by halftime on 239 occasions, although have had to wait to extend it in the fourth quarter just three times (including their last time out at New England, averting a shutout in a 41-7 loss).

➤ And if you count in the Air Force Academy's streak of 188 games, the Front Range trio had a 682-game streak going among them prior to the Buff shutout defeat at Missouri.

CAREER GAMES PLAYED/STARTED CHART

Listed below are the career games played/started, including bowls, for the players on the 2008 Colorado Buffaloes. The players on this year's opening roster collectively had played in 817 games, with 277 starts entering the season. Recent past numbers entering a season have been 853 games played/251 started (2007), 1,053/295 (2006), 1,080/314 (2005), 761/182 (2004), 845/239 (2003), 883/278 (2002), 694/223 (2000) and 790/229 (1999). STARTING STREAKS

C Daniel Sanders owns the longest starting streak on the team at 34 games, the first 11 of which were at right guard and the last 23 at center. He is followed by OLB Brad Jones (28), NT Brandon Nicolas (25) and ILB Jeff Smart (20); Cody Hawkins had started 20 straight at quarterback until Tyler Hansen made the start at Missouri. Yes, CU is young, but this also is a result of what Dan Hawkins thinks of depth charts; he prefers the term contributors, so whatever play they want to run to open a game could feature virtually anyone that fits a particular play or scheme.

TWENTY-NINE SEE FIRST CU ACTION IN 2008

Six players saw their first action as Buffaloes on the opening play of the Colorado State game on the kickoff coverage squad—three redshirt frosh (S Anthony Perkins, S Travis Sandersfeld, CB Anthony Wright), two true frosh (PK Jameson Davis, S Patrick Mahnke) and a junior college transfer (ILB Shaun Mohler). OG Blake Behrens was the only CU starter tonight who had not seen previous action. All told, 19 players saw their first action in a CU uniform in the season opener, including seven true freshmen (DT Curtis Cunningham, TE Ryan Deehan, OG Maxwell Tuioti-Mariner, TB Darrell Scott and TB Rodney Stewart were the other five); 10 additional players have seen their first action since. Twenty-eight players saw their first CU action in 2007, while 19 did in 2006, 16 in 2005 and 24 in both 2003 and 2004. The breakdown by class of those players seeing their first CU action in 2008 (*—mainly special teams duty):

TRUE FRESHMEN (8): DT Curtis Cunningham, PK *Jameson Davis, TE Ryan Deehan, QB Tyler Hansen, S *Patrick Mahnke, TB Darrell Scott, TB Rodney Stewart, OG Maxwell Tuioti-Mariner.

REDSHIRT FRESHMEN (18): OG Ethan Adkins, ILB *Tyler Ahles, OT Matt Bahr, QB Matt Ballenger, OG Blake Behrens, OG Shawn Daniels, WR *Jason Espinoza, PK *Aric Goodman, OG/DT Eugene Goree, ILB *Josh Hartigan, CB Jonathan Hawkins, TB *Arthur Jaffee, DE Conrad Obi, S *Anthony Perkins, DT Tony Poremba, S *Travis Sandersfeld, DT Lagrone Shields, CB *Anthony Wright.

SOPHOMORES (1): WR *Cameron Ham. JUNIORS (3): ILB Shaun Mohler, TE Devin Shanahan, ILB Bryan Stengel. SENIORS (0).

THIRTEEN PLAYERS MAKE FIRST CAREER STARTS IN 2008

Despite CU's well documented youth, only two players made their first career start in the season opener against Colorado State: OG Blake Behrens, a redshirt freshman, and DE Jason Brace, a junior. Seven seniors, three juniors and one sophomore started on defense in the opener, countered by six sophomores, one freshman, one junior and three seniors on offense. Three more players made their first start in week two and one each in games three, four and eight (see game-by-game list on page 4). Over the last 25 seasons, CU has had as few as six players (1994) and as many as 29 (1984, 15 on offense) make their first career starts in a single year. The high on a single side of the ball came in 1998, when 17 of 27 new starters were on offense. Here are the annual numbers of first-time starters since 1984:

ANNUAL FIRST-TIME STARTERS: 1984 (29), 1985 (9), 1986 (15), 1987 (14), 1988 (16), 1989 (7), 1990 (16), 1991 (23), 1992 (15), 1993 (7), 1994 (6), 1995 (11), 1996 (8), 1997 (14), 1998 (27), 1999 (14), 2000 (16), 2001 (12), 2002 (16), 2003 (20), 2004 (12), 2005 (11), 2006 (24), 2007 (18), 2008 (13).

EXPERIENCE ANALYSIS

Upperclassmen started about two-thirds of CU's games in both 2006 and 2007, though seniors accounted for just under 31 percent of the '07 starts, the third lowest figure the last nine seasons. In 2004, seniors started the fewest percentage of games (25.1) since the 1995 team (which had only seven seniors), while 38.8 percent of the starts were made by underclassmen. That showed the youth of the team, especially since underclassmen also had 41.7 percent of the starts in 2003. Fast-forward to 2006-07, Dan Hawkins' first two seasons where underclassmen accounted for 179 starts over the two years, or 33 percent. It's historically a cyclical pattern, and that shows up when looking at the breakdown of the starters over the course of the season. A year-by-year look at starts by class since 1999:

- 2008 starters (10 games): Seniors (89), Juniors (45), Sophomores (52), Freshmen (34; redshirts 19, true 15).
- 2007 starters (13 games): Seniors (89), Juniors (106), Sophomores (38), Freshmen (53; redshirts 29, true 24).
- 2006 starters (12 games): Seniors (92), Juniors (84), Sophomores (71), Freshmen (17; redshirts 11, true 6).
- 2005 starters (13 games): Seniors (116), Juniors (112), Sophomores (48), Freshmen (10; redshirts 4, true 5).
- 2004 starters (13 games): Seniors (72), Juniors (103), Sophomores (100), Freshmen (11; redshirts 0, true 11).
- 2003 starters (12 games): Seniors (105), Juniors (49), Sophomores (78), Freshmen (32; redshirts 14, true 18).
- 2002 starters (14 games): Seniors (155), Juniors (130), Sophomores (14), Freshmen (9; redshirts 0, true 9).
- 2001 starters (13 games): Seniors (102), Juniors (95), Sophomores (83), Freshmen (7; redshirts 7, true 0).
- 2000 starters (11 games): Seniors (55), Juniors (116), Sophomores (38), Freshmen (33; redshirts 15, true 18).
- 1999 starters (12 games): Seniors (115), Juniors (42), Sophomores (86), Freshmen (21; redshirts 20, true 1)

GRADLE OF COACHES

There are three current head coaches in Division I college football who have had assistant coaching stints at the University of Colorado, and all three have enjoyed great success. Les Miles had a good run at Oklahoma State and is running the show at LSU (at Colorado between 1982-86); Gregg Brandon is the head man at Bowling Green (1999-2000) while Rick Neuheisel has returned to college ball at the reins of UCLA (RN was a CU assistant in 1994 before being named head coach from 1995-98; he was also head coach at Washington from 1999-2002). Since Bill McCartney took over the program in 1982, CU has sent many an assistant coach into the head coaching ranks; Gerry DiNardo was the first, as after his CU stint between 1982-89 he went on to coach Vanderbilt, LSU and Indiana. Lou Tepper (CU: 1983-87), head coach at Illinois for five years and is now the head man at Edinboro (Pa.) State; Gary Barnett, who was an assistant at CU from 1984-91 was head coach at Northwestern from 1992-98 and then at CU from 1999 through 2005; Jim Caldwell, Wake Forest (at CU from 1982-84), Steve Logan, East Carolina (1985-86), Karl Dorrell, UCLA (2003-07), Bob Simmons, Oklahoma State (1988-94) and Ron Vanderlinden, Maryland (1983-91). All were assistants under McCartney, CU's all-time winningest head coach (93-55-5 between 1982-94). In 2003, Mike Hankwitz, served as Arizona's interim head coach for the last two months of the season; he was at CU for 10 years (1985-94). Tom Cable (1998-99) was head coach for four seasons at Idaho, as he coached under Neuheisel and Barnett. Dorrell is the only one above to coach as an assistant under both McCartney and Neuheisel. In addition, two former CU players are collegiate head coaches: Stan Brock ('80) was named the head man this past summer at Army (where he had been an assistant), and Pete Shinnick ('88) served seven seasons as head coach at Azusa Pacific and is now in his second season as the head man at North Carolina-Pembroke.

TWENTY-THREE SKIDOO

Colorado is one of just 23 schools in I-A/FBS history to be able to make the claim of winning (or sharing) a national championship and also having a Heisman Trophy winner. The criteria for national championship consideration included those crowned by the Associated Press, the coaches and the BCS; 30 total schools at one point in the past have been able to claim the throne. This prestigious short list:

Schools with national championships and no Heisman winner are Alabama (7 titles), Michigan State (2), Tennessee (2), Clemson (1), Georgia Tech (1), Maryland (1) and Washington (1).

SENIOR ANALYSIS

Colorado has 15 seniors on its 2008 active roster, with most in the two-deep who see regular action. Eleven are first-team/starters: FB Maurice Cantrell, WR Cody Crawford, S D.J. Dykes, DT George Hypolite, OLB Brad Jones, DE Maurice Lucas, CB Gardner McKay, DT Brandon Nicolas, C Daniel Sanders, FS Ryan Walters and WR Patrick Williams. Four others are reserves, S Joel Adams, WR Steve Melton, QB Nick Nelson and P Tom Suazo. There are two other seniors on the inactive roster, CB Benjamin Burney (redshirting following shoulder surgery) and OG Erick Faatagi (academically ineligible).

GRADUATION STAT(U)S

One senior has already earned his degree (in a double major of Women's Studies/Ethnic Studies no less, as DT George Hypolite earned his degree in just three years). Fourteen of CU's 17 seniors on the 2007 roster graduated by May 2008: PK Kevin Eberhart (Aerospace Engineering) and TE Joe Sanders (Ethnic Studies) graduated in May '07, with four earning their degrees in December: TE Tyson DeVree (Education), OT Edwin Harrison (Communication), OT Tyler Polumbus (Business Management), WR Dusty Sprague (Business Management). Eight more earned degrees in May '08: DE Alonzo Barrett (Sociology), TB Hugh Charles (Sociology), TB Byron Ellis (Integrative Physiology), FB Samson Jagoras (Integrative Physiology), WR Chase McBride (Geography) and WR Stephone Robinson (double in Business Management & Sociology); and in addition, Eberhart earned his master's in Aerospace Engineering. CB Terrence Wheatley (Economics), WR Alvin Barnett (Ethnic Studies) and QB Bernard Jackson (Ethnic Studies) are candidates for next summer; Wheatley is very close, but took the semester off to train for the draft.

► NOTE: Over the last six years (2002-07), CU has had 108 of its 128 seniors, including medicals, graduate; that translates to 84.4 percent (with six of the 20 non-grads still in school and looking to graduate within the next year, while six are in the NFL). NCAA numbers will not match these (it doesn't allow a school to count transfers who graduate, i.e., Wayne Lucier ('02), WR Mike Duren ('04) and DeVree, Jagoras and McBride in '07, but it does count against a school if it had a player transfer. It's one of the reasons the numbers are skewed to be lower than they really are, especially at tougher academic schools like Colorado.

STAT SHOTS

Here are some interesting statistical bullets about Colorado football:

- ➔ 30+. In its history, Colorado is 294-11-1 when scoring 30 or more points, along with records of 209-3 with 35-plus points and 194-2 with 36-plus, 171-1 with 38-plus and 109-0 with 43 or more tallies. The three losses with 35 more points came to Air Force (58-35 in 1968), Oklahoma (82-42 in 1980) and Stanford (41-37 in 1993). Colorado has played 1,123 games in its history, and has registered final point totals of every number between 0 and 70 except 68 (and of course 1), and has hit 75 and 109 above that mark.
- ➔ Colorado is 98-51-3 in its last 152 league games, and has the 11th fewest conference losses in the nation since 1989 for schools that have been league members for that time period. Within this record is a 25-game span in which CU did not lose a conference game, the fourth longest streak all-time in the Big Eight (1958-1995). Colorado was 23-0-2 during that run.
- ➔ Colorado has scored 30 or more points in 108 of its last 243 games, posting a 101-6-1 record. The losses were at Stanford, 41-37 in 1993, to Missouri in Boulder in 1997, 41-31, and twice to Nebraska (in Boulder in 1999, 33-30, in overtime; and 34-32 at Lincoln in 2000) and to Baylor (42-30 in 2003 and 34-31 in 3 OT in 2006); the tie was a 31-31 affair with Tennessee in the 1990 Disneyland Pigskin Classic. The Buffs have scored at least three touchdowns in 165 of these 243 dating to the start of 1989, going 131-31-2 (CU is 22-55-2 when held to two or fewer touchdowns).
- ➔ CU has allowed 421 touchdowns in the 794 times that the enemy has cracked its 20 dating back to 1988; the other 373 times has yielded 194 field goals as well as 179 non-scores. In this time frame, that works to the opponent coming away with nothing 24% of the time when penetrating the CU 20, and three points or less 48% of the time, astonishing numbers.
  - ➔ Under Dan Hawkins, the opponent has penetrated the CU red zone 119 times, with 77 touchdowns, 26 field goals and 16 non-scores.
- ➔ Since the middle of the 1998 season, the Buffalo "D" has rose to the occasion when the opponent has started a drive inside CU territory. Going back to the last six games in 1998 to the present, CU has allowed just 102 touchdowns out of 244 drives started on the CU side of the 50 (and just 145 scores overall, meaning 99 non-scores). In 2007, the opponent had 16 scores (9 TD/7 FG) out of 25 drives started in CU territory; over the last six seasons, CU's allowed just 104 scores (75 TD/29 FG) in 166 drives started from the 50 on into CU territory.
- ➔ CU has topped 400 yards of total offense in 52 of its last 140 contests (once in 2008; five times in 2007, after just one time in '06), as CU has made a habit of it since the start of the 1993 season. In 194 games in this span, CU has gained 400 or more yards 88 times (45 percent). The Buffaloes also have topped the 500-plus yard mark in 43 of the 192 games since the '93 season opener (23%)... and note that CU has played 79 ranked teams in this span.
- ➔ For years, the mark of a strong CU team was that the Buffaloes routinely averaged six or more yards on first down. The last time the Buffs averaged six or more for a season was in 2001, their Big 12 Championship year. Colorado did it six times between 1989 and 1997, including a team record best of 7.2 in both 1989 and 1994.
  - ➔ Colorado averaged 5.3 per first down play in 2007, but was inconsistent, gaining five or more yards just 149 times in 382 tries while being held to two yards or fewer 173 times. The average was 5.5 in Hawkins' first year.
  - ➔ In 10 games this year, the Buffs are averaging a modest 4.2 yards on first down (4.11, actually); since 1966, CU has averaged less than 4.1 yards just one time—3.5 in 1979.
- ➔ Dating back to the fifth game of the 1999 season, an OT win over Missouri, the Buffs have 43 scores by return in the last 120 games (two this year with season highs of seven in 2001 and 2002). Since the '95 opener and including postseason, CU has 64 scores by return in 169 games (57 regular season, seven bowl), or two every five games.
- ➔ 200/200. Colorado has accomplished the 200 "double-double," that is 200 yards both rushing and passing 13 times in the last 119 games (and 34 times in the last 192, dating to 1993); the Buffs nearly did it at A&M (198 pass, 194 rush). CU averaged over 200 in each for the season in both 1993 and 1994 (the first times ever at CU), as well as in 2001 (228.5/205.9). The Buffs are 34-2 since 1989 when they have reached the 200 plateaus in both. Prior to '93, CU had accomplished the feat only 19 times in its first 929 games in its history.
- ➔ Grass. Colorado is 65-54-1 in its last 120 games on grass, dating back to the 1985 season (62-47 in the last 109, including a 36-22 mark at home since Folsom Field converted back to grass in 1999).
- ➔ Artificial Turf. Colorado is 92-34-3 in its last 129 games on non-grass fields dating back to 1989, including a 59-26-3 mark in conference games. CU is 0-2 on the fake stuff in 2008; the Buffs are 2-7 on it under Hawkins.
- ➔ CU quarterbacks have traditionally taken care of the football, as Buff slingers have thrown just 188 interceptions in 5,981 attempts since the start of the 1993 season, an interception rate of just 3.14 percent (or one every 31.8 passes).
- ➔ The Buffs have been an enigma on third down defensively the last five seasons. In 2003, while opponents converted at an ordinary 34.6 percent clip (56-of-162), it's what they accomplished on the ones they made. Opponents gained 966 yards on those 56 makes, or an average of 17.3 per play; otherwise, CU allowed just 61 yards on the other 106 plays, or just 0.6 per. In 2004, opponents were 92-of-205 (44.9%), but gained 1,300 yards on the 92 conversions (14.1 per). In 2005, that number was down a bit to 10.2 on the 73 conversions, but jumped to 12.0 in 2006 (1,022 yards on the 85 conversions).
  - ➔ The trend continued in '07, as opponents had 838 yards on 60 makes (14.0 per), and just 130 on 113 misses (1.1).
  - ➔ In 10 games in '08, opponents have 519 yards on its' 55 makes (9.4 per), and just 85 on the 87 misses (1.0).
- ➔ Second Down Conversions. In the fourth year of tracking this statistic, trends basically show great success in converting on second down in wins as opposed to losses, whereas often on third down it doesn't seem to translate as much:

Second Down:
 2008 WINS (5)—Colorado: 41-of-125, 32.8%; Opponent 29-of-111, 26.1%.
 2008 LOSSES (5)—Colorado: 31-of-116, 26.7%; Opponent 48-of-120, 40.0%.

Third Down:
 2008 WINS (5)—Colorado: 35-of-77, 45.5%; Opponent 23-of-73, 31.5%.
 2008 LOSSES (5)—Colorado: 26-of-79, 33.9%; Opponent 32-of-69, 46.4%.
- ➔ Third Down & 36 Inches. Colorado was 12-of-13 on 3rd-&-1 plays in 2006, but was just 40-of-145 from all other distances (27.6%). CU was a bit of subpar 11-of-17 on 3rd-&-1 in 2007, though picked it up three out of five tries on fourth.
  - ➔ CU is 14-of-16 this season 3rd-&-1 and is 47-of-140 (34%) from elsewhere.
- ➔ No Turns Or Sacks. Dating back to 1972, Colorado is 14-0 in games when not allowing a sack or committing a turnover. The latest occurrence of this was in 2007—twice, in the 65-51 throttling of Nebraska and in the 31-26 win at Texas Tech. It also happened twice in 2005, when CU did it in a three-game span (in a 41-20 conquest of Texas A & M and a 44-13 win over Kansas). Those were the first times since 2001, when CU also did it twice (San Jose State and Nebraska). In these 14 games, the Buffs have outscored the opponent by 570-284, with only three games decided by less than 17 points (a 21-16 win at Iowa State in 1993 and the two 2007 games).
- ➔ Colorado rarely folds when the opponent is faced with a 3rd-and-20 or longer. Since Miami, Fla., converted on a 3rd-and-20 in its 35-29 win in Boulder in 1993, opponents are just 3-of-85 on 3rd-and-20 or more. The Buff defense had stopped the opponent 51 straight times until UCLA converted a 3rd-and-30 in 2003 (WSU converted on a 3rd-&-23 and ISU on a 3rd-&-20 in 2004). The CU offense is 5-of-77 when it's faced with 3rd-and-20 plus in the same span.
- ➔ Under Dan Hawkins, the Buffs have scored in 84 of 140 quarters (60 percent) and 4 of 5 overtime periods. All told, dating back to 1993, CU has scored in 553 of 792 quarters (71%). Those numbers include 35 of 52 quarters last season, including 10 in a row at one point.

NFL SCOUT WATCH

Colorado has 15 seniors on its roster this season, and history will show that most, if not all NFL teams pass through Boulder or a road site for CU game every season. So far in 2008, 55 scouts from 22 teams have witnessed the Buffs in person, visiting from Arizona, Atlanta, Baltimore, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Green Bay, Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Minnesota, New England, N.Y. Giants, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle, Tampa Bay, Tennessee and Washington. In 2007, 45 total scouts representing 22 teams were in attendance at games; in 2006, 52 scouts from 26 teams saw the Buffs in person on game day. It's the norm, as in 2005, 55 scouts representing 25 NFL teams attended games (49 from 23 did so in 2004), and this decade, all 32 teams have seen CU games in person (363 scouts in the seven-year period). Reps from the Colorado Crush (Arena Football League) also routinely attend games in Boulder.

"OUTSIDE THE NINE DOTS"

Some out of the ordinary records by the Buffs in some unique situations:

- ❑ Colorado is 83-42 in its last 125 games against teams who were not undefeated at the time of the game;
- ❑ Colorado is 73-22 against teams with three or more losses dating back to the 1985 season;
- ❑ Colorado is 66-26-1 in its last 93 games against schools that include the word "State" (dating to 1986);
- ❑ Colorado is 76-22-2 before crowds under 50,000 since the start of the 1989 season (79-60-2 with 50,000-plus);
- ❑ Colorado is 522-241-25 all-time in games played in the Mountain Time Zone (Colorado, Arizona, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming)

FOURTEEN TO THE HOUSE ON THE FIRST TRY WHEN IT COMES TO THEFTS & SCORES

CU players have a penchant to return their first career interceptions for touchdowns, as since 1992, 14 Buffaloes have scored after stealing their first college pass. The latest was by redshirt frosh CB Jimmy Smith, as his 31-yard return of a Joe Ganz pass cut Nebraska's lead over CU to 35-31 early in the second half and was the impetus to a 65-51 comeback win in 2007. The one previous was the most spectacular of the lot: ILB Marcus Burton returned a pick 99 yards at Oklahoma State in 2005, preserving CU's shutout in the waning seconds of the game. Three did it in 2004: OLB Brian Iwuh did it off the bat when he made his first career pick and returned it 37 yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown against Colorado State in the season opener; a week later, he was injured early against Washington State, and his sub, Joe Sanders, plucked off a ball and raced 51 yards for six, snapping a 3-3 deadlock in the process. Against Texas, CB Terrence Wheatley plucked one off and race 37 yards for six with his first theft. Two did it in 2001: S Medford Moorer picked off his first career pass and returned it 64 yards for a touchdown against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game, while CB Donald Strickland returned his first career pick 31 yards for a touchdown just one minute into the CSU game. Frosh redshirt CB Phil Jackson did it in 2000, as he returned his first career INT 28 yards for a TD against Washington. SS Rashidi Barnes had his first one in CU's win over CSU in 1997, returning it 26 yards for a score, rallying the Buffs into a 14-14 tie early in the second half. Barnes was the fourth Buff in a 14-game span to return a first career pick for a TD—Marcus Washington had a 95-yard theft for a score in the '96 Cotton Bowl against Oregon; Vili Maumau had a 33-yard interception for six (and a Hula dance) at Colorado State in 1996; and Nick Ziegler stole one for a 31-yard score against Washington in the '96 Holiday Bowl. Ben Kelly didn't do with an interception, but he did take his first career punt return back for a TD (against Utah State). In 1992, Dwayne Davis returned one 31 yards for a TD in a 21-20 win at Minnesota to start this amazing run.

BUFFALO DINOSAURS

Through 10 games in 2008, the longtime radio voice of the Buffs, Larry Zimmer, has called 442 CU games in his career, including 179 in a row (he's only missed three bowl games, two due to contracts forbidding teams to originate broadcasts, and three regular season games due to travel conflicts); his 400th at CU was also the 1,000 of his professional career. SID Dave Plati has worked 344, including the last 302 (dating to the '83 finale), while facilities man John Krueger has worked 298 in all (a string of 144 straight ended this season). Brian Cabral is the football staffer with the most "Buff" experience, as he has now coached in 243 in a row as an assistant coach; including his playing days (46 games), he has been a part of 289 CU games. The late Fred Casotti, the school's longtime SID and associate AD between 1952-87, witnessed 477 CU football games in person prior to his passing in 2001; included within that was a string of 268 in a row at one time at Folsom Field. Senior associate AD Jon Burianek, who retired in June 2006, is next as he worked 432 CU football games, including a closing run of 415 in a row (229 of which were at home; he'd seen 453 all told at the time he left CU). And the late F.M. "Dutch" Westerberg is the all-timer; he saw every CU home game (394 of 'em) from 1921 until 1999, when he passed away at the age of 94.

ANNIVERSARIES

The annual listing of what happened years ago, or anniversaries of 5, 10 and 25-year increments:

- 1898 Colorado's first home, Gamble Field, was earmarked on the CU campus. It was named in honor of six-time letterman, Harry Gamble.
- 1938 The 70th anniversary of CU and seven of its Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference brethren forming the Mountain States Conference, also known as the old Skyline Conference and even the Big Seven.
- 1948 The 60th anniversary of Colorado leaving the Mountain States Conference to join Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma from the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association (also known as the Big Six) in officially forming the Big Seven.
- 1958 (Nov. 22) Colorado's 15-14 loss to Colorado State in Boulder was the last game between the two in-state rivals for what would be 25 years. After a 20-14 loss to Air Force the following week to close a 6-4 season, long-time coach Dal Ward was fired.
- 1963 Forty-five years ago, Eddie Crowder was named head coach of the Buffaloes, and he would assume the athletic director position two years later. CU rose to national prominence and remained there under his tenure.
- 1978 In what would be the final season for the original Ralphie, the Buffs open 5-0, allowing 7 points in each of those games, before finishing 6-5; head coach Bill Mallory is fired at the end of the season. (Oct. 28) Colorado rallies from a 27-7 deficit at No. 13 Missouri to win, 28-27; it remains to this day the largest comeback in school history.
- 1983 (Sept. 17) CU and CSU resume their long-standing rivalry after a 25-year dormancy; in Boulder, the Buffs get the best of the Rams, 31-3.
- 1988 (Sept. 17) Colorado picks up its most significant road win to date of the Bill McCartney Era, as the Buffs rally to defeat No. 19 Iowa in Iowa City, 24-21; it's CU's first road win over a ranked team in 10 seasons and snaps a 12-game losing streak in such situations.
- 1998 (Sept. 5) Colorado and Colorado State play on a neutral field for the first time in their 70-game history; the Buffs dominate in a 42-14 win over the Rams at Mile High Stadium in Denver.
- 2003 (Sept. 13) The last game CU played ranked in the top 20, as the No. 17 Buffaloes, after opening 2-0 with wins over Colorado State and UCLA, lose big at home to Washington State, 47-26.

BUFFS AGAINST THE BEST

Here's a look at how CU has fared all-time against nationally ranked teams (Associated Press poll):

Games	All-Time Record	1989-08 Record	Dan Hawkins Record	Coach With The Most Wins
versus Top 5.....	12-49-2	8-17-1	1-1	5 / Bill McCartney
versus Top 10.....	25-85-3	14-30-2	1-3	8 / Eddie Crowder & Bill McCartney
versus Top 15.....	37-105-3	20-38-2	1-6	10 / Bill McCartney
versus Top 25.....	68-136-3	42-55-2	2-10	20 / Bill McCartney

CU and Nebraska have been the saving grace for the Big 12: the 12-year old league owns a 34-74 record against ranked non-conference opponents (including bowls) since its inception in 1996, and the Buffs own nine of those wins. CU is 9-11 against ranked non-Big 12 foes; Nebraska is 8-6, Texas 6-6, Oklahoma 3-3, Kansas State 2-5, Missouri 2-5, Kansas 1-3, Baylor 1-5, Iowa State 1-8, Texas Tech 1-8, Oklahoma State 0-5 and Texas A&M 0-9. CU has played 20 of the 108 games, with Nebraska next with 14 followed by Texas (12).

Against all-non league foes (non-conference opponents and bowl games), the records are: Nebraska 44-8, Kansas State 41-9, Texas 41-10, Oklahoma State 36-10, Oklahoma 38-12, Missouri 36-11, Kansas 33-12, Texas Tech 38-14, Texas A&M 34-16, Iowa State 30-17, Baylor 25-18 and Colorado 28-23 (remember traditionally CU plays one of the Big 12's, and the nation's, more challenging schedules and has avoided scheduling automatic wins for non-league games).

BUFFALO ROUNDUP BECOMING TRADITION

The 2007 Colorado Buffaloes started two new traditions that caught on. First was upon the team's arrival at Folsom Field prior to home games, instead of the busses just pulling up and unloading the team at the Dal Ward Center, the team is dropped off at Libby Hall off of Colorado Avenue (approximately 2 hours and 20 minutes prior to kickoff). At that point, the Buffalo Roundup commences; the team walks over to the stadium through the plaza area between Folsom and the MCDB (biology) building, touching the bronze buffalo along the way and accompanied by the pep band. They then enter the stadium at Gate 1 and proceed to the lockerrooms to get dressed for the game. The initial Buffalo Round was prior to the Florida State game, and that same night the fans were asked to wear black for the national TV audience and it gave the stadium a unique look. It was so popular the West Virginia was selected to be 2008's blackout game.

THE VERTICAL GAME

Dan Hawkins noted that one thing missing from CU's offense his first season in 2006 that was prevalent of his past offenses at Boise State was the vertical passing game. "By the end of the season, we'd always be up in the 70s or 80s in the number of pass plays over 20 yards," he said. He was definitely on mark with his assessment. In 2006, CU had just 35 total, 18 rushing and 17 passing, the Buffs' fewest overall 20-yard plays since 2000 (38) as well as pass plays of 20 yards or more since 2002 (23, also the last time CU had a quarterback quit the team after the season began). Colorado did have 18 rushing plays of 20 yards or more, and while not an overly large number, it was its most since 2002 and higher than nine of the totals in the 13 season snapshot below. In 2007, CU had 58 plays of 20 yards or longer (66 percent more than in 2006, more than doubling the pass play count). But in 2008, the Buffs have yet to break out, with just 30 plays of 20 yards or more through 10 games, reflective of the troubles CU has had on offense when it comes to consistency. Here's a look at CU's 20-plus plays in recent memory, going back to 1994, when CU had a high of 76 plays over 20-yards, almost equal in nature (37 rush, 39 pass):

Season	Total	Rush	Pass	Season	Total	Rush	Pass	Season	Total	Rush	Pass	Season	Total	Rush	Pass

PLAYING ON SUNDAY: IN-THE-PROS

There are 22 former Colorado Buffaloes on National Football League rosters as of November 9. That's down from 28 at the end of the 2007 season, but several former Buffs retired from the game, most notably Chad Brown and Matt Lepsis. Miami, Fla., had the most on the opening day rosters (44), followed by Florida State (37) and Georgia, Michigan and Ohio State (all 36); Texas had the most from the Big 12 (34). CU has continually been one of the top 20 producers for the last 20 years of NFL talent, and at one time in the late 1970's had the most active players (47) of any school in the nation. The last time Colorado was in the top 10 in players produced was in 2002, coming in 10th, ironically with the same number (29) as were playing in 2006 (when it was 19th). CU led the Big 12 in this area in the first four years of the conference's existence, was second in 2002 and 2003, and was third in 2000, 2001, 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2007. Nationally, CU was in the top four between 1996-99 (fourth in 1996-97-99, third in 1998). AND IN CANADA? Two former Buffs are making livings north of the border in the Canadian Football League, as C Marwan Hage is in his fifth year with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats and TB Hugh Charles joined the Saskatchewan Rough Riders in mid-September.

COLORADO HIGH SCHOOL COACHES: Several former Buffaloes are serving as high school head coaches in the state. Here's the list of eight who head prep programs: Jim Bratten (Holy Family), Dave Logan (Mullen), Mike Marquez (Northglenn), Bill Mondt (Eaton), Tom Tesone (Bishop Machebeuf), Ron Woolfork (Denver East) and Scott Yates (Kent Denver).

ALL-TIME CU PRO NOTE: How good was CU's 1994 offense? Ten of the 11 starters were drafted into the NFL (Tony Berti, Rae Carruth, Christian Fauria, Heath Irwin, Chris Naeole, Rashaan Salaam, Kordell Stewart, Bryan Stoltzberg, Derek West and Michael Westbrook), with the 11th signing as a free agent (Lepsis). All played, and three remain on NFL rosters some 11 years later. And six of the '94 defensive starters wound up playing professionally as well.

O-LINEMEN PIPELINE?

In recent times, CU has been a solid conduit to the National Football League when it has come to linebackers, encroaching a bit on the title justifiably thrown Penn State's direction. However, some research has indicated CU may very well be the place to go if an offensive lineman wants to take it to the next level. Dating back to the 1991 NFL draft, or the '87 recruiting class, 21 of 28 players who started at least two years on the Buff offensive line were either drafted or signed as free agents. The list is impressive (with three others who started just one season):

HISTORICALLY

Colorado is in its second century of intercollegiate football, as the Buffaloes are in their 119th season of competition having played 1,123 games with an all-time record of 663-424-36. CU currently stands 17th on the all-time win list and is 23rd in all-time winning percentage (.606; 21st for those schools with at least 50 seasons in Division I-A). Only Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska from the Big 12 rank ahead of CU on each list, and only 12 Division I schools have played more seasons of intercollegiate football than Colorado. In Boulder, the Buffs are 289-140-10 in their 85th season on the "hilltop" (Folsom Field). Against Big 12 opposition, CU is 251-220-13 against the other 11 members of the conference, formed in 1996.

MONTHLY TAB

The Buffs are 51-23-1 in its last 75 November games (45-14 in November against all-comers aside from Nebraska, going 6-9-1 against NU in turkey month). CU is 48-24 in its last 72 September games, a pretty decent record considering the quality of non-conference schedule CU annually plays, and is 4-2-1 in August games in its history. Dating back to 1989, the Buffs are 49-29-2 in their last 80 October games, when conference play annually comes into full bloom. CU is 5-7 in December games since 1993, including bowls.

OVERTIME

Colorado is 5-4 all-time in overtime games; the Buffs became the 84th team in Division I-A to play an overtime game when it played its first ever extra session affair against Missouri in 1999. Here's a chart summarizing the Buffs in overtime (*—denotes in Denver):

Date	Opponent	Score	Regulation	Coin Toss	Choice	---Total Yards---		Notes

RANKED "UNDEFEATEDS" FALL AT FOLSOM

Ten ranked, undefeated teams have lost their "0" in the loss column at Folsom Field since 1989. The last was Oklahoma this season, as the Sooners rolled in ranked No. 3 and left with a 27-24 setback to the Buffs. That was the first time since 2002, when Kansas State came to Boulder ranked No. 13 at 4-0 and lost, 35-31. Two bit the dust in 2001: Nebraska (11-0, No. 1 in the BCS and No. 2 in the polls) dropped a 62-36 game to the Buffs, as did Texas A & M (5-0, No. 20), 31-21. In 1998, No. 22 Texas Tech (6-0) fell to CU 19-17; in 1995, No. 3 Texas A&M (2-0) lost, 29-21; in 1994, No. 10 Wisconsin (2-0) was crushed, 55-17; and in 1990, No. 12 Washington (3-0) left a 20-14 loser. In 1989, No. 10 Illinois (2-0) lost 38-7 and No. 3 Nebraska (8-0) fell, 27-21.

STREAKING

Colorado has active multiple win streaks going against 13 Division I-A schools. The list: 5—Air Force; 4—San Jose State; 3—Minnesota, Utah State; 2—California, Colorado State, Iowa, Louisiana-Monroe, Notre Dame, Oregon State, Texas Tech, UCLA and Wyoming. CU's longest current losing streak is to Southern Cal (5), followed by LSU, Oklahoma and Texas (all 4) and Florida State, Kansas, Michigan State and Missouri (3 each).

THE BUFFS & COLLEGE FOOTBALL HARDWARE

Colorado is in an elite group when it comes to claiming college football's prestigious trophies dating back to the 1990 season. A proliferation of awards has emerged since the late 1980s, and the Buffs are near the top of the list when it comes to collecting these statues. CU has had seven different players win nine trophies over the last 18 seasons, which is the 11th most nationally when it comes to trophies. But when it comes to different players who have been honored, only Ohio State (11), Miami, Fla. (9), Oklahoma (9) and Nebraska (8) top the Buffs' seven. The postseason "hardware" includes the Heisman Trophy and the Lombardi, Maxwell, Walter Camp, Butkus, Thorpe, O'Brien, Unitas, Groza, Biletnikoff, Doak Walker, Nagurski, Bednarik, Mackey, Tatupu (defunct), Ray Guy, Rimington, Lott and Hendricks (on-field player awards only—for example, if the Draddy was included, CU would have one more on each list; so players only, no coaches, and no Disney Spirit, Orange Bowl Courage and ARA Sportsmanship awards). The list of schools that have had winners between 1990 and 2007 (players only; LSU and Michigan players split the 2004 Rimington Award and thus were both compensated for in the trophy count):

INSIDE-THE-POLL NUMBERS

Colorado has been ranked 12 times in the last 20 seasons in the Associated Press preseason football poll (just missing three of those occasions, No. 27 in 2001 and No. 32 in both 2003 and 2005). CU had appeared in every AP preseason ballot between 1989 and 1997, ranked in the top 15 each year, before not gaining mention in the '98 poll following a 5-6 season. The Buffs reappeared in the '99 poll at No. 15, and rose to No. 14 prior to the season-opening loss to CSU. Only CU, Florida, Florida State, Michigan and Nebraska have been ranked 15th or higher at least 11 times in these 15 years, and CU is one of only 14 teams to be ranked in as many as 12 of the last 19 preseason polls. Number of times ranked in the Associated Press Preseason Poll, 1989-2008: Ohio State 20, Florida State 19, Michigan 19, Tennessee 19, Miami, Fla. 17, Florida 17, Nebraska 16, Oklahoma 16, Penn State 16, Texas 16, Auburn 14, Notre Dame 14, Alabama 13, Colorado 12, Georgia 12, LSU 12, Virginia Tech 12.

LONG STAY

Colorado was one of only two teams to be ranked in every poll (both the Associated Press and Coaches, be it UPI or USA Today/CNN-ESPN) from the 1989 preseason through Oct. 4, 1997 (143 AP polls, 138 coaches). Only Nebraska could also make that claim (CU was second only to the Huskers, as Nebraska had been ranked in 265 straight polls when CU hit the 143 mark). The 143 consecutive polls still ranks as the seventh longest all-time in college football history. In this span, NU held the top spot 16 times and CU seven, with NU winning two national titles and Colorado one.

Associated Press Poll

MOST TOP 5 FINISHES (1989-2007): Florida St. 12, Miami 8, Ohio St. 6, USC 6, Nebraska 5, COLORADO 4, Florida 4, Oklahoma 4, Tennessee 4, Alabama 3, Notre Dame 3.

MOST TOP 10 FINISHES (1989-2007): Florida St. 12, Florida 11, Miami 9, Michigan 9, Nebraska 8, Ohio State 8, Tennessee 8, COLORADO 6, Alabama 6, Kansas St. 6, Oklahoma 6.

...AND THE RETURN

CU was out of the polls for an 11-week period once departing after 143 weeks ('97-98), but came back with a vengeance. When Colorado reappeared in both the AP and USAT/ESPN polls at No. 16 on Sept. 6, 1998 it marked the third highest debut in a poll since the AP ballot expanded to 25 teams in 1989. CU went from receiving votes to No. 16, the second highest CU has ever debuted after not being ranked in the preseason; back in 1971, the Buffs went into Baton Rouge and defeated No. 9 LSU, 31-21. CU appeared at No. 8 in the UPI-Coaches poll and at No. 12 on the AP ballot.

NOW 17 OUT OF 21

Colorado defeated at least one top 25 team for 12 consecutive seasons between 1988 and 1999, the second longest active streak in the nation behind Florida State for the latter half of the span. Colorado didn't go down easy when the streak ended in 2000, losing to five ranked teams by a combined 45 points (3, 3, 23, 14 and 2). The Buffs started a new streak in 2001, doing so with purpose as they tied the school record for most ranked teams defeated in a single season with five. CU then defeated two ranked teams in both 2002 and 2003 to make it 15 out of 16 years with at least one win over a ranked opponent, but the smaller run ended as the Buffs went 0-4 in both 2004 and 2005 and 0-5 in 2006. CU snapped that streak with a 27-24 win over No. 3 Oklahoma in 2007, and with the 17-14 overtime win over No. 21 West Virginia this year, it's now 17 out of 21 years defeating at least one ranked program. CU defeated at least three ranked teams in six of those 12 years, including five twice (1990, 1995). The Buffs have defeated at least two in nine of the last 15 years (and three ranked foes five of those seasons).

TV LAND

Colorado has had 156 of its last 231 games dating back to 1990 broadcast nationally or regionally (68 percent), including seven games in 2008. Since 1996, when the Big 12 began, 119 of CU's 158 games have been either nationally or regionally televised, which is an impressive 76 percent (the second most in the Big 12 Conference in that time frame). In addition, CU has had 27 of its last 33 non-conference games televised on a national or regional basis.

ANNUAL TV APPEARANCES SINCE INCEPTION OF THE BIG 12 (119): 1996 (10), 1997 (10), 1998 (9), 1999 (9), 2000 (7), 2001 (10), 2002 (12), 2003 (7), 2004 (9), 2005 (10), 2006 (7), 2007 (11), 2008 (8).

CARRYING THE TV TORCH

Colorado and Texas started carrying the torch in the 1990s when it came to scheduling regular season games against traditionally ranked opponents, games most likely to be selected for TV and making the two hits of league revenue that come with it. It's starting to get a bit better, but CU and UT still blaze the trail. Here are the counts (and records) since 1990 when it comes to playing ranked non-league teams (not including bowls): Colorado 28 (14-13-1), Texas 23 (8-13-2), Nebraska 14 (8-6), Oklahoma 14 (7-7), Texas A&M 12 (4-8), Texas Tech 12 (0-12), Baylor 11 (2-9), Missouri 10 (2-8), Iowa State 9 (1-8), Kansas 7 (0-7), Oklahoma State 6 (0-6) and Kansas State 4 (1-3).

BUFF BLEMISHES

Colorado has a history of inflicting blemishes on some of the teams who have traditionally fared well at home. The top five home records last decade (1990-99) belonged to Florida State (55-1-1), Nebraska (62-3), Florida (57-4), Texas A & M (55-4-1) and Kansas State (57-5-1). That's a combined 287-17-3; but of those 20 losses or ties, CU was responsible for five of them. CU won at Nebraska in 1990, at Texas A & M in 1996, and was 2-2-1 at Kansas State in the 90s. The Buffs also snapped the Aggies 22-game home winning streak—started late in 1996, after losses to CU then Texas Tech. And in 2001, CU won at Kansas State, snapping a 58-game home winning streak by the Wildcats against unranked teams, and was only the second KSU home loss in a 29 game span. CU almost added Georgia to this list in 2006, but fell 14-13 after leading 13-0 entering the fourth quarter.

18 OF 23

The Buffs have 18 winning (regular) seasons in the last 23 years (1985-2007), matched only by a handful of schools across the nation; CU's 6-6 record in 2007 did not count as a winning mark. The exceptions came in 1997, 2000, 2003 and 2007; in 1986, CU was 6-5 in the regular season but finished 6-6 after losing to Baylor in the Bluebonnet Bowl. CU has been invited to bowls in 18 of these 23 seasons, staying home in only 1987, 1997, 2000, 2003 and 2006.

OFFENSE & DEFENSE

Will Eugene Goree be next? The redshirt frosh is both a DT and an OG at present, and has now appeared on both sides of the ball but not in the same game. Through the years, there are always a few players who wind up playing on both sides of the ball. DT John Guydon was the latest to do so, seeing action on defense (13 snaps at tackle) and offense (3 snaps at guard) at Texas on October 15, 2005; it was the first time it happened for a complete series with no gimmicks or special situations since WR Michael Westbrook played a series at safety against Baylor in 1993. DE James Garee also trotted in on offense in 2005, catching a pass as an end at Miami. DT Sam Wilder had been the last before 2005, as he caught a 9-yard pass against Kansas State in 2002. DT Justin Bannan, did the same, catching a 12-yard TD pass on his only play at Missouri in 2000. CB Ben Kelly tried tailback in 1999 at Texas Tech; he finished with three yards on one carry (a nice 5-yard run was wiped out by a penalty). Between 1994 and 2005, several Buffs played on both sides of the ball, as offensive linemen often played on the goal line or short yardage defense units—OG Heath Irwin, OG Clint Moore, OG Chris Naeole, OT Melvin Thomas and OG Brad Bedell all did it at one time or another between 1993 and 1998. In 1990, OLBs Alfred Williams and Kanavis McGhee played some tight end in a 64-3 win over Kansas State (Williams caught a pass for 17 yards, McGhee didn't catch the one thrown his way). The last offensive skill player to swing over and try some defense was Westbrook (four snaps at strong safety) against Baylor in 1993.

WHY CU AND NOT UC?

A question often asked of many former Big Eight schools: Why is it the University of Colorado, but the moniker is CU and not UC? (The same applies at Kansas—KU, Missouri—MU, Nebraska—NU and Oklahoma—OU). "Midwestern casualness," said CU historian, the late Fred Casotti. It has always been this way at Colorado, for whatever reason, and at the other four—but seemingly nowhere else in the USA (except for Tulsa, but its midwest, too). In the 1950s, there was a concerted effort to eliminate the use of "CU" on the Boulder campus, both as a symbol and in speech, but Casotti said that no one would buy into it. "Nobody would change," he said. "It's easier to say than U of C, UC sounds like slang or something (as in 'you see'), and it was traditional. By trying to eliminate it, they reinforced it."

HISTORY OF THE "COLORADO"

As in the south end zone, that is. In 1967, the stadium was lowered when the track was removed, and that area remained basically a dirt hill. Former long-time senior associate A.D. Jon Burianek said that we tried to grow grass and bushes there, but none took. The first artificial field was installed during the summer of 1971, and that area was then covered with asphalt and the large, block COLORADO was painted on it, then in all-white block lettering. Trim was later added, and at one time, when blue was one of the school colors, the end zone as well was painted blue instead of the familiar black.

SPRING GAME ATTENDANCE

It started in February when former CU head coach Bill McCartney challenged the 1,500-plus in attendance at CU's annual recruiting luncheon in Denver (Feb. 7) to help fill Folsom Field for the spring game. While filling Folsom didn't happen, the 17,800 in attendance did set a spring record. CU has now had 10,000 or more fans four times attend its final spring scrimmage/game, with the previous best prior to this year of 13,642 in 1989 when many came out to honor Sal Aunese, the CU quarterback stricken with stomach cancer the previous month. The next two games drew 11,336 and 10,382 respectively. The national average worked to 12,996; take out the top 10 and the bottom 10, the 88 in the middle averaged 9,589. Forty-two schools drew 10,000-plus, with 66 under that figure, and the median number 6,000. CU's crowd ranked 26th in the nation, as just over 1.4 million fans turned out to watch football in the spring. Below are the top five CU spring game crowds in the school's history (#—first team Varsity and Alumni were on the same team and wore black jerseys):

Year	Score	Attendance	Notes
2008	Black 28, Gold 17	17,800	A record crowd come out in answer to coaches Hawk and Mac's challenge to fill Folsom
1989	#White 38, Black 35	13,642	A then-record crowd for the spring game showed up to honor Sal Aunese, who fighting stomach cancer
1990	#White 27, Black 25	11,336	Coming of an 11-1 season, CU was in everyone's top five entering 1990
1991	#Black 21, White 17	10,382	Fans braved 49 degree weather with 17 mph winds and saw the late John Zisch ('48) score on a 53 yard run
1992	#Black 44, White 7	9,617	Perfect weather (61 degrees, sunny) come out after CU signs its top recruiting class in history

In Hawk's first two years, the spring game has attracted 6,400 (2006, cloudy skies, temperature in the low 50s, very windy) and 5,800 last year (perfect weather, 60 degrees, clear skies, just a bit windy at times).

KEY: ◆—Big 12 Conference game; ►—Atlantic Coast Conference game; ✚—Big East Conference game; ■—Big Sky Conference game; +—Mountain West Conference game.

OPPONENTS IN 2008

Colorado's 11 I-AA/FBS schools combined for an 82-58 record in 2007 (58.6%), with I-AA/FCS foe Eastern Washington going 9-4, losing to eventual champion Appalachian State in the quarterfinals. The 2007 records of this year's foes: Colorado State (3-9), Florida State (7-6), West Virginia (11-2), Texas (10-3), Kansas (12-1), Kansas State (5-7), Missouri (12-2), Texas A&M (7-6), Iowa State (3-9), Oklahoma State (7-6) and Nebraska (5-7). So it once again appears CU will play one of the nation's toughest schedules and is one of just two Big 12 schools playing at least two BCS schools in non-league play (Baylor is playing three, Wake Forest, Washington State and Connecticut). The Buffs opened league play at home for the second straight season (Texas, Oct. 4), after opening on the road four straight years; in 2007, CU opened the Big 12 against No. 3 Oklahoma and came away with a 27-24 win over the Sooners.

OPPONENTS CORRALLED

Colorado allowed just five plays from scrimmage of 40 yards or longer in 2006 (three pass, two rush); those were the fewest since the 1987 season, when the Buffs surrendered just four (two rush, two pass). In 2007, CU was doing as well, but with Missouri having three of that length and Iowa State one, CU wound up allowing 11. Over the past 20 years, CU has limited the foe to six three times (1991, 1994, 1995) and to seven seven times (last: 2005). The 12 allowed over the 2005 and 2006 tied the second fewest over a two-year span (11 over the 1987-88 seasons; 12 previously in the '94 and '95 campaigns). The seven allowed in '05 were reduced from 14 in 2003 and 15 in 2004, as opponents had piled up 70 plays of 40 yards or longer from 1999-2004 after allowing just 83 between 1987 and 1998. The three-year total from 2005-07 was thus just 23, the lowest for any three-year span since this stat can be tracked.

➤ 2008: CU has allowed nine plays over 40 yards, six rushes and three passes.

USUALLY IN 'EM

Colorado's usually been in those games it's lost over the last 19 seasons, as of the 86 losses, 41 have been by eight points or less. Texas (six times), Missouri and Nebraska (five), Kansas State and Oklahoma (four) and Kansas and Florida State (twice) are the only ones who have handled the Buffs by nine or more points more than twice since 1989. CU has really been dominated from the start only eight times in this stretch (1992 at Nebraska, 1997 at Michigan, 1999 vs. CSU (though CU led in total yardage over 75 percent of the game), 2002 vs. USC, 2004 in the Big 12 title game with Oklahoma, twice in 2005, both against Texas, and Missouri this year. K-State ('00), Texas ('01 & '04), WSU ('03), Florida State ('03), Oklahoma State ('04), Miami and Nebraska ('05) put the game out of reach in the third quarter.

CLOSE CALLS USUALLY GOING CU'S WAY

Colorado is 3-2 in 2008 and 17-10 dating back to the start of the 2003 season when the final margin has been seven or fewer points. These "close calls" include a 6-8 record in the Dan Hawkins Era. Starting with a 22-19 come-from-behind win at Oklahoma State in 2001, which helped propel Colorado to the Big 12 title, the Buffaloes area 21-12 in seven-point or less decisions.

GAME #1—COLORADO 38, COLORADO STATE 17(August 31; Denver)*

DENVER — The previous six games in the Colorado-Colorado State series were decided by a total of 25 points, almost all coming down to the final minute if not the final play.

CU made sure that wasn't going to be the case this time around, using an adequate debut of the no-huddle offense and a sound defensive effort that thwarted the Rams all night as the Buffaloes cruised to a 38-17 win over their in-state rivals.

Things started out even, however, as after a scoreless first quarter, neither team appeared to be in position to run away with it. But the Buffs' passing game started to click, with Cody Hawkins completing three passes for 59 yards to Scotty McKnight, the last covering 35 yards for a touchdown that would put CU up for good at 7-0. Following a botched punt try, Corey Nabors tackled CSU punter Anthony Hartz at the Ram 5, and two plays later Hawkins snuck it in for a 14-0 advantage. But the fireworks were about to begin.

After CU stopped CSU on its next possession and took over on its own 20, Rodney Stewart reeled off a 17-yard gain and the Buffs appeared to have the Rams on their heels. But on the next play, Hawkins was intercepted when his pass was batted at the line of scrimmage Morton alone in the back of the end zone for a 21-yard touchdown pass. CSU was on the board, down just 14-7, and very much in the game.

Ben DeLine then kicked off to Josh Smith at the CU 7. The sophomore, absent the one big career play that could make him a household name in Colorado, took the ball and darted straight up field, avoiding a few Rams along the way. It would go in the books as a 93-yard kickoff return and CU was back ahead by two touchdowns.

CSU's John Mosure must have the song Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better on his mind, as he then took CU's kickoff, ran a bit to his left and eluded all comers in returning the kick 90 yards for a score to cut the Buff lead to 21-14. The NCAA had no records of whether or not there have been back-to-back kickoff returns for a touchdown in a game, but the general consensus was if it had happened before, it in fact was rare occurrence.

Colorado took control of the game on the first possession of the second half, with Hawkins directing a 45-yard drive and taking it over from the 1 for a 28-14 lead.

DeLine and CU's Aric Goodman would then swap field goals and freshman rookie tailback Darrell Scott closed the day's scoring with a 1-yard run with 2:14 left in the game. Scott, the nation's top running back recruit, finished with 54 yards on 11 carries, tops for all CU backs.

The Buff defense registered five quarterback sacks, their most in two seasons, limited CSU to just 2-of-12 on third down, and held the Rams to just 258 yards on offense. Jeff Smart (12 tackles), Ryan Walters (10 tackles, one interception) and Brad Jones (eight tackles, two for losses) were among the defensive stars for CU on the night.

Smith returned three kickoffs for a total of 160 yards, matching the third best game in that department in CU history. The game was the final one in Denver in the series for the time being, as Colorado exercised its option to play the 2009 game in Boulder, with CSU doing the same in 2010 and selected Fort Collins for the site.

GAME NOTES

For the time being, the series in Denver is complete, with CU owning a 5-4 advantage in games played (1-2 at old Mile High Stadium, 4-2 at Invesco Field) ... The attendance of 69,619 was the highest of the three game set (2006-08) but ranked sixth in the nine games (two sellouts) ... Ralphie IV led the Buffs on to the field tonight; she has not retired as some may think but Ralphie V is in the wings and will appear in the role this year as well ... TB Demetrius Sumler was stopped for no gain on CU's first offensive play, just the 14th time since 1950 that CU failed to gain yardage on its first play of the year ... Cody Hawkins' 35-yard touchdown pass to Scotty McKnight early in the second quarter marked the second straight year the duo hooked up on CU's first score of the season. Hawkins joined Kordell Stewart as the only Buffs to throw two TD passes for CU's first score of the year, while McKnight is the first player to catch two scoring throws to open the year's scoring for the Buffs and is the seventh player to score CU's first points of the year twice ... The 258 yards CU allowed CSU was the fewest by the opponent in a season opener since 1998, when the Rams had 202 in a 42-14 loss to the Buffaloes at old Mile High Stadium. It's the seventh lowest total by an opponent in the last 40 season openers, as Washington State (196 in 1996), Fresno State (177 in 1988), Oregon (245 in 1978), Texas Tech (186 in 1976) and LSU (227 in 1971) join the '98 effort against CSU ahead of tonight's Buff defensive performance. Colorado is now 20-14-1 when wearing all black uniforms, 3-0 in season openers (all against CSU)... CU improved to 75-39-5 in season openers, and have won 22 of its last 23 when scoring first ... Colorado now leads the series by a 59-19-2 count, including 16-5 since the series was resumed in 1983 after a 25-year dormancy. CU's 21-point win tonight was the largest in the series since a 41-14 Colorado win in 2001; the last six had been decided by a combined 25 points.

GAME #2—COLORADO 31, EASTERN WASHINGTON 24(September 6; Denver)*

BOULDER — Cha'pelle Brown's 27-yard interception return for a touchdown with 1:44 remaining completed a 14-point rally as Colorado defeated Eastern Washington, 31-24. It marked the first time since 2005 that the Buffaloes won the first two games of the season.

Despite being a Football Championship Subdivision (FCS, formerly Division I-AA) team, Eastern Washington gave CU all it could handle and more. EWU came in ranked seventh in its division and had battled Texas Tech tough the previous Saturday. Colorado's only lead of the game came after Brown's down the stretch heroics.

Trailing 21-7 at halftime, Colorado cut the margin in half with 5:23 left in the third quarter. After both teams traded two possessions without scoring, and CU without earning a single first down, Josh Smith returned a punt to the Eastern Washington 4-yard line to set the Buffs up royally. Three plays later, Cody Hawkins completed a 1-yard touchdown pass to Ryan Deehan and Aric Goodman's PAT sliced the deficit to 21-14.

Colorado put together an 11-play drive at the end of the quarter and the start of the fourth, but things stalled at the EWU 15; Goodman nailed a 32-yard field goal to pull the Buffs to within three with 13:46 to play.

Things looked bright for CU after its defense held the Eagles to a three-and-out, with the Buffs taking over at their own 40. Five plays later they had a first down at the EWU 29, but a rushing loss and three straight incomplete passes ended the threat with 8:38 on the clock.

EWU mustered its only scoring drive of the half on its next possession, which produced a 52-yard field goal by Felipe Macias. But it took 11 plays and chewed up 4:46 off the clock, leaving just 3:52 remaining in regulation.

A short kickoff played into CU's hands, and Hawkins completed all four of his pass attempts on what amounted to a 57-yard drive, the last of which covered two yards to fullback Jake Behrens. A 36-yard pass to Patrick Williams put the Buffs in business at the Eagle 8-yardline. Goodman's clutch PAT kick was good and the teams appeared headed to overtime.

But EWU quarterback Matt Nichols saw his second down pass swiped by Brown, who became the first defensive player in school history to score the winning points of a game when he raced untouched into the end zone.

Brown's feat matched that of Eagle linebacker J.C. Sherritt, who picked off a Hawkins pass midway in the second quarter and raced 48 yards for a touchdown, giving UNT its large lead of the day. That came on the heels of a Toke Kefu 1-yard run that capped a six-play, 27 yard drive which was the result of a Smith fumbled punt in CU territory.

Brynsen Brown's 43-yard catch and run opened the scoring, the big receiver dragging Cu's Jalil Brown the last 15 yards into the endzone. The Buffs tied it at 7-7 when Hawkins completed a 9-yard dpass to Smith to cap a 12-play, 65-yard effort.

CU had the slightest of edges in total offense (351-350) and forced Eastern Washington into three turnovers.

GAME NOTES

Colorado won its first two games for the first time since 2005 and for the fourth time this decade (2003-04-05-08) ... The Buffs are now 1-1 all-time against FCS/I-AA teams ... This marked the first home opener win for CU coach Dan Hawkins after dropping games to Montana State in 2006 (19-10) and Florida State (16-6) his first two seasons ... Colorado last scored 30 or more points its first two games of the season in 2005 (31-28 win over Colorado State, 39-0 over New Mexico); that was the first time since 1996 ... Ralphie V made her regular season debut ... TB Rodney Stewart became just the fourth true freshman to start a game at running back this decade, joining Brian Lockridge (2007), Brian Calhoun (2002) and Marcus Houston (2000) ... Only three players saw their first career action today (as compared to 19 last week), as OG Matt Bahr was in on the FG/PAT unit in the first half, CB Jonathan Hawkins appeared on defense in the third quarter and ILB Bryan Stengel made his debut in the fourth quarter. Colorado scored in its 237th consecutive game (last shutout: 7-0 at Nebraska on Nov. 12, 1988), adding to the fourth longest active streak in the nation and the ninth longest of all-time. CU has now extended the streak in the first half 215 times ... Cha'pelle Brown's third career interception was the game winner, returning the pick 27 yards for a touchdown with 1:44 remaining. It was CU's 43rd over the last 10 seasons, the seventh most return TDs in the country ... TE Ryan Deehan's 1-yard touchdown reception in the third quarter made some history: he became the first true CU freshman tight end to record a TD receiving in 25 years. You have to go back to Oct. 8, 1983, when Jon Embree caught a 4-yard pass for a score against Missouri for the last time a true freshman TE found the end zone.

GAME #3—COLORADO 17, WEST VIRGINIA 14 (OT)(September 18; Boulder)*

BOULDER — Aric Goodman's 25-yard field goal in overtime, after his West Virginia counterpart missed from two yards closer, catapulted the Colorado Buffaloes to a 17-14 win over the No. 21 Mountaineers, the school's first 3-0 start since 2004.

Colorado won the overtime coin toss and elected to play defense. After allowing WVU one first down, linebacker Jeff Smart stopped Jock Sanders for a two yard loss on a 3rd-and-1 at the Buff 4. Pat McAfee then came on to try a 23-yard field goal from the left hash, with his kick hitting the left upright and bounding away.

CU then had its overtime possession, earned a quick first down after a Rodney Stewart nine-yard run and a Darrell Scott 1-yard plunge. Scott carried again for two more and then Stewart drove it to the seven, where CU coach Dan Hawkins went for the game winner on third down.

Stewart, Colorado's diminutive freshman (5-6, 170) showed size is overrated as he torched the Mountaineers for 166 yards and nine first downs in the game. It was the third most yards ever in a game by a CU freshman.

The Buffaloes scored its fastest pair of touchdowns at the outset of a game in some seven seasons to take an early 14-0 lead. Cody Hawkins polished off a nine-play, 83-yard drive with a 38-yard dart to a streaking Josh Smith in the end zone. Then, on West Virginia's third play of the game, defensive tackle Brandon Nicolas tackled Brandon Starks for a seven-yard loss on a swing pass, forcing a fumble teammate Maurice Lucas recovered at the WVU 28.

Five plays later, Hawkins hit Patrick Devenny on third in the back of the end zone for a 13-yard touchdown play.

But the Mountaineers were hardly out of it. Mark Rodgers returned the ensuing kickoff 36 yards to the WVU 42, where it took quarter Pat White just five plays to cut the CU lead in half. White rushed over the left side and scampered 44 yards to the Buff 8, where two plays later he took it in from six yards out. Three seconds shy of being halfway into the first quarter, the game had the appearance of being an offensive shootout with 21 points already on the board.

Things settled down from there. The Buffs drove into Mountaineer territory just twice in their next eight possessions, derailing themselves with two second quarter turnovers on the two drives it did cross the 50. West Virginia, however, was not able to capitalize on either turnover and the score remained 14-7 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Colorado could not get untracked offensively, while West Virginia showed signs, albeit briefly, of taking command of the game. On its second possession of the half, WVU went for it on a 4th-&-1 at the CU 19 but Nicolas and George Hypolite came up big, stopping White in his tracks.

However, on the next series, White broke free for a 39-yard touchdown run, capping a quick four play, 68-yard drive that tied the game at 14-all with 4:49 left in the quarter.

Neither team really threatened until the overtime, though WVU drove to midfield in the final minute but never got into field goal range.

White (19 carries, 148 yards) and Noel Devine (26-133) became the first pair of backs on the same team to rush for 100 or more yards in the same game against CU for the first time since 2002.

GAME NOTES

Colorado's two touchdowns in the first 4:50 of the game were the fastest pair by the Buffs since Nov. 23, 2001 when the Buffs went up 14-0 on Nebraska just 3:13 into the game (CU of course went on to a 62-36 win); CU had not scored in the first quarter (six possessions) prior ... CU improved 8-9 in games under Dan Hawkins when scoring first ... Even though WVU completed 10-of-15 passes, the 43 yards was a decade opponent low, since Nov. 13, 1999 at Baylor, when CU limited the Bears to 40 passing yards on 4-of-21 throws; it was the lowest total by a ranked opponent in 20 years (No. 7 Nebraska completed 2-of-9 passes for 18 yards in a 7-0 win on Nov. 12, 1988) ... This was Colorado's 42nd win over a ranked team dating back to 1989, the eighth most in the nation during this time frame ... The game featured the first notable significant winds (18-32 mph) in a game in Boulder since 2006, when winds gusted from 12-24 miles per hour on Sept. 21 vs. Arizona State (and those were the first since November 1995 against Missouri) ... Colorado had two turnovers, both in the second quarter, as the first six on the season have all oddly occurred in the period ... CU allowed its first second half touchdown in 2008, but clamped down otherwise; through three games, the Buffs had allowed just 13 points in the second half all season ... QB Cody Hawkins improved his ratio of touchdowns to interceptions in the red zone to 20-to-1 ... The Buffaloes improved to 5-4 in overtime games, having faced eight different teams (Missouri twice).

GAME #4—FLORIDA STATE 39, COLORADO 21(September 27; Jacksonville)*

JACKSONVILLE — Antone Smith rushed for 154 yards and three touchdowns and Colorado couldn't capitalize on several early opportunities as Florida State methodically pulled away from the Buffaloes in a 39-21 in the River City Showdown.

Colorado returned to this northeastern Florida city for the first time since the 1972 Gator Bowl, and unfortunately for the Buffaloes, the result was about the same as that December day's 24-3 loss to Auburn. In both instances, CU may very well have been the better team but left the field wondering what could have been.

The key stretch of the game proved to be from inside the three minute mark of the first half to late in the third quarter, when the Seminoles broke open a 7-7 game with 18 unanswered points to take an insurmountable 25-7 lead.

Smith broke free around the left end, and with an apparent clip and a holding missed by the officials, raced untouched 60 yards to the end zone for a touchdown that gave FSU the lead for good. On the ensuing kickoff, CU's Josh Smith couldn't control immediately control the ball and once he did was tackled at the 3. The Buffs couldn't get out of the hole, and Matt DiLallo's punt was blocked out of the end zone by Dekoda Watson for safety. A long return of the free kick set up a late Seminole field goal, and when the smoke cleared, the deadlocked game turned into a 12-point FSU lead in just under two minutes.

Florida State added two more field goals, the lone scoring in the third quarter, and took an 18-point lead into the final stanza. But Colorado wasn't dead just yet, driving 80 yards in eight plays in just under three minutes, with Cody Hawkins' 2-yard touchdown pass to Riar Geer and slicing the lead to 25-14. Down by 11 with 13:32 to play, the Buffaloes had a chance.

That chance all but disappeared on the next play. Michael Ray Garvin, a sprinter on FSU's track team, gathered in the kickoff at the FSU 6, split all defenders headed toward him and in a flash returned the ball 94 yards for a touchdown. FSU was back up by 32-14, but the runback had taken only 12 seconds off the clock.

Now in rhythm, Hawkins again directed the Buffs on a long drive, this one eating up 78 yards in 11 plays. It culminated in a 14-yard pass from Hawkins to Patrick Devenny, and with 9:31 to go, CU was down just 32-21.

FSU ended any hopes of a miracle Buff comeback by chewing up almost six minutes on its next possession, marching 67 yards in 10 plays with Smith scoring for a third time to account for the final score.

Florida State got on the board three minutes into the game, capitalizing on an Eric Brown sack of Hawkins which also forced a fumble. After the FSU recovery, it took just four plays before Smith punched it in from the 2.

CU answered that initial score with an 80-yard drive, capped by a 30-yard touchdown pass from Hawkins to Smith. Over the next several possessions, the Buffs had additional chances, missing open receivers, not hitting the right hole or capitalizing after two FSU turnovers that could have produced at least a two touchdown lead.

Freshman tailback Rodney Stewart was CU's offensive star for the second straight game, rushing for 107 yards, while Smith caught seven passes for 85 yards. In the end, it wasn't enough as CU fell to 3-1 on the year, the same mark FSU would improve to.

Colorado wore all white uniforms for the first time in three seasons (almost three years to the day), last doing so Sept. 25, 2005 in a 23-3 loss down the road at the Orange Bowl to Miami, Fla. ... One of CU's four members of the College Football Hall of Fame, Dick Anderson, made the drive up north from his residence in Miami to attend the game ... For the third straight game, CU's first score was a touchdown pass from Cody Hawkins to Josh Smith ... TE Riar Geer caught his first passes of the year after missing the first two games due to knee surgery and being shutout last week against West Virginia ... Garvin's kickoff return touchdown was the second this season against the Buffs, the first time that has occurred against the Buffs since 1980 ... Colorado fell to 4-9 all-time in the state of Florida ... Junior ILB Shaun Mohler made his first career start ... Freshman DT Curtis Cunningham played 21 snaps in CU's first three games, slowly being groomed to replace one of CU's two seniors next year; he had not registered a tackle or any other stats until his second quarter PBU/interception ... Colorado scored in its 239th consecutive game today, extending the streak in the first quarter for the 165th time ... TB Rodney Stewart ran for 100 yards (21-107) in a second straight game, the sixth frosh to have at least two in a season (and the fourth two do it in back-to-back games).

GAME #5—TEXAS 38, COLORADO 14(October 4; Boulder)*

BOULDER — Chris Ogbonnaya wasn't listed on the Texas depth chart prior to the game. But the senior tailback likely made it after amassing 187 all-purpose yards and scoring two touchdowns, along with preventing one by Colorado, to lead the No. 5 Longhorns to a 38-14 win over the Buffaloes in CU's annual homecoming game.

Colorado knew it was important to get off to a good start, and elected to receive when it won the coin toss. But the Buffs went three plays and out on the drive, but their defense responded and seemed to have Texas hemmed in on a third-and-six from its own 35. Colt McCoy was flushed out of the pocket and spotted Ogbonnaya to his left and got the ball off just in time before he crossed the line of scrimmage. With the CU defense caught in over-pursuit, Ogbonnaya turned on the jets and raced 65 yards for the game's first score and a lead Texas would never relinquish.

The Buffs countered with three first downs on the next possession before stalling at the UT 18, where Aric Goodman missed the first of what would be three field goals in the first half. The Longhorns drove 80 yards in 10 plays after the miss, the final three plays gobbling up 55 yards after a first down sack by Brad Jones had UT staring at a second and 17. McCoy hit Ogbonnaya for a 23-yard gain, and then Brandon Shipley for back-to-back 16 yard pickups, the latter for a touchdown.

The breaking point for the Buffs came in the second quarter as the Buffs stiffened on defense, though Goodman missed two more field goal tries that would have cut into the Texas lead. The Longhorns then used a late eight play, 66-yard march in the period capped by a 13-yard run by Ogbonnaya to take a 21-0 halftime lead.

Texas tried to put the game away on the opening possession of the second half, but a 12-play drive ended with a Maurice Lucas sack and a 5-yard loss on a screen play sniffed out by Shaun Mohler. CU took over at its 14, and Rodney Stewart had a solid 6-yard run on CU's first play; but there was a miscommunication on the handoff between Cody Hawkins and Stewart and the ball wound up on the turf with Texas recovering at the Buff 18.

From there, Texas took just four plays to score, polished off by a 1-yard Cody Johnson run.

The Buffs got on the board two series later, capitalizing on a Chappelle Brown interception at the Texas 27. Faced with a fourth-and-10, Hawkins hit Josh Smith with a bullet pass for a 17-yard gain to the 10. Two plays later, Hawkins found Jake Behrens for a 7-yard touchdown play. Texas answered immediately with a 71-yard drive in four plays, most of the yards picked up on a first down 51-yard run by Ogbonnaya.

CU's second touchdown came in a second-team versus second-team situation, with Matt Ballenger throwing a 28-yard strike to a streaking Patrick Williams along the right sideline. It was the first game action for CU's backup quarterback.

Texas had decided advantages in first downs (25-15), rushing yards (169-49), total offense (431-266) and time of possession (36:57). Ogbonnaya led Texas in rushing with 71 yards and also caught six passes for 116 more.

It was the fourth straight win by Texas in the series.

GAME NOTES

The sellout crowd of 53,927 was the first at Folsom Field since the 2005 finale against Nebraska and was CU's first sellout for homecoming since 2003 (when No. 1 Oklahoma was the opponent) ... PK Aric Goodman tied the school record, held by several, for the most missed field goals in a game with three in the first half; the last time that happened was in CU's 29-7 loss to Oklahoma in the 2002 Big 12 Championship game, when Pat Brougham missed on tries from 41, 32 and 33 yards ... Despite being down 21-0, Colorado ran the same number of plays as Texas did in plus territory in the first half (12); the Longhorns gained 82 yards and scored twice, while CU totaled only 13 yards ... QB Cody Hawkins' third quarter fumble was the CU's first second half turnover this season; the first eight were all committed in the first half, seven in the second quarter ... Hawkins moved into the school's top 10 all-time in total offense (ninth, 3,573) passing fellow signal callers Craig Ochs and Steve Vogel ... FB Jake Behrens caught his third TD pass of his career, a 7-yard effort that was more than twice the distance of his first two (1, 2) ... OT Matt Bahr made his first career start, as he moved into the right tackle spot for an injured Ryan Miller, who is out for the year with a fractured fibula. TE Ryan Deehan made his first career start as CU opened in a two tight end formation ... QB Matt Ballenger threw a touchdown pass in his first career appearance, and in doing so, became the first non-starting QB at Colorado to have one in game since 2004, when James Cox had one in a 19-14 win over Iowa State ... The Buffs had two interceptions of Texas QB Colt McCoy (in 30 attempts); he had thrown just one in 100 tries coming into the game.

GAME #6—KANSAS 30, COLORADO 14(October 11; Lawrence)*

LAWRENCE — Jake Sharp rushed for three touchdowns, including two in the fourth quarter that clinched the game for Kansas, as the No. 15 Jayhawks took advantage of missed Colorado opportunities to post a 30-14 win.

The last two games in the series were defensive battles, and this one started out no different. Each offense scored just once in the first half, with Colorado getting on the scoreboard first on an 11-yard touchdown pass from Cody Hawkins to Cody Crawford. That score came with 3:15 left in the first quarter and one series after an apparent completion from Hawkins to Crawford at the KU 4 was ripped out of Crawford's hands by Kendrick Harper and ruled an interception.

KU missed a field goal on its next possession, but tied the game the next time it had the ball midway in the second quarter with the Jayhawks cranking things up a notch. The seven play, 76-yard drive featured four plays of 10 yards or more, including a 27-yard pass from Todd Reesing to Dexton Fields to the CU 4, where Sharp ran it in two plays later from the 1.

Kansas seized the lead on the next series — Colorado's — as on a 3rd-and-11 from the Buff 16, Hawkins was flushed from the pocket and veered to his left in the end zone, where Jake Laptad sacked him for a safety. The 'Hawks went ahead 9-7, which is what the score remained until late in the third quarter.

Colorado's defense stifled KU after the free kick, and then the offense drove from its 20 to the KU 27 in 11 plays, seemingly in position to take a halftime lead or at minimum, tie the game with a field goal. But on a 3rd-and-7 from the KU 27, Darrell Stuckey picked off a Hawkins pass on the east sideline to end the threat.

CU earned a first down on each of its first two second half drives, sandwiched around a three-and-out by the Kansas offense. The Jayhawks then proceeded to play like the 15th ranked team in the nation, scoring touchdowns on their next three possessions. The first, a 5-yard pass from Reesing to Dezmon Briscoe, capped a 12-play, 78-yard drive and rallied the Jayhawks from a 1st-and-goal from the CU 21 after a KU personal foul.

The Buffs countered the first score, largely in part to Josh Smith. He returned the kickoff 59 yards to the Kansas 41, and then hauled in a 38-yard pass on third down to the 1, where Hawkins scored on a quarterback sneak. It pulled CU to within 16-14 entering the fourth quarter.

Reesing hit clutch passes while avoiding CU's rush to Briscoe (15 yards) and Kerry Meier (18), the latter to the CU 8, where Sharp took it in for the score and a 23-14 KU lead. The Buffs went three-and-out, and Sharp's 7-yard run on KU's next possession sealed the game for the Jayhawks.

Kansas outgained the Buffaloes, 407-233, with advantages of 151-86 on the ground and 256-147 through the air. But other than a 22-16 edge in first downs and the only two turnovers in the game committed by CU (which prevented points and not leading to any), the game stats were right around even.

Shaun Mohler had a career high 14 tackles, with Ryan Walters adding 13 to lead CU.

GAME NOTES

This was CU's first game on artificial turf in 2008 ... This was also CSU's seventh straight loss against its "I-70" brethren, the other three Big 12 North schools within a stone's throw if not closer of Interstate 70. ... Kansas came in ranked fourth in the nation in third down conversions (56.4%), and while finishing 6-of-15 overall, the Buffs stopped the Jayhawks seven of their first eight tries ... This was CU's 98th game against ranked teams since the start of the 1989 season, fourth most in the nation; the Buffs are 42-54-2 in those games ... Colorado had just two penalties, its fewest since having zero against Texas Tech in 2006 ... Colorado dropped to 1-15 on the road against ranked conference opponents since the Big 12 began play in 1996; the one win was at Kansas State on Oct. 6, 2001 ... Overall, it was the 10th straight road loss versus ranked foes (does not include neutral sites); CU's last win over a ranked team in its own stadium was on Sept. 21, 2002 when the Buffs beat UCLA 31-17 at the Rose Bowl ... Redshirt frosh WR Jason Espinoza saw his first career action when he dropped back to field a punt in the second quarter; Espinoza, who shined during spring ball returning kicks, was sidelined the first six weeks of the season after suffering a broken collarbone early in fall camp ... QB Cody Hawkins was picked off for just the second time in the red zone in his career, but also had a TD, giving him a 24-to-2 ratio inside-the-20 in 18 career games ... WR Josh Smith had 198 all-purpose yards, which vaulted him over 1,000 for the season (1,016); he became the 10th CU player this decade to record at least a grand for a season. He had three plays of 30 yards or more, upping his season total to 10 ... WR Cody Crawford caught CU's first four passes, including his first career touchdown reception in the first quarter that got the Buffaloes on the scoreboard.

GAME #7—COLORADO 14, KANSAS STATE 13(October 18; Boulder)*

BOULDER — The odds makers missed this one by a mile. Forecasting a shootout, they set the over/under for the game at 63½, but when all was said and done, it might have been the defensive game of the year in the conference as Colorado defeated Kansas State, 14-13, before a near sellout on Parent's Weekend.

The Buff defense shined, twice holding K-State to field goals instead of touchdowns in the first half, taking things up a notch when the Wildcats would reach midfield, and after an early second half score cut CU's lead to a single point, proceeded to hold a very potent KSU offense at bay for almost 26 minutes, the longest asked of any Division I defense to hang on in the 2008 season.

One of the nation's leaders in third down conversions, KSU made good on its first two, including a 3rd-&10, to drive to the Colorado 19. But on 3rd-&5, an apparent catch, fumble and CU recovery was correctly ruled an incomplete pass by the replay booth, and Brooks Rossman came on to kick a 37-yard field goal for a 3-0 K-State lead.

On its first possession, CU picked up huge chunks of yardage on two runs by Rodney Stewart, the first for 18 and the second for 22; but on the later, he had the ball poked away from him with KSU's Joshua Moore recovering at the KSU 28. The Wildcats marched the Buff 36, with quarterback Josh Freeman scrambling for nine yards on a key 3rd-&7, but the drive stalled and Rossman belted a 53-yarder to make it 6-0.

CU went three plays and out on offense, and KSU came back with another drive ending in a field goal try, but Rossman missed this time for 47 yards out. The fortunes would then change for Colorado. With the offense more or less stagnant for the better part of four games, the coaching staff took he redshirt off quarterback Tyler Hansen and augmented the CU attack with his unique running abilities. Alternating with incumbent Cody Hawkins, sometimes every other snap but eventually by series, Hansen jumpstarted the Buff offense with runs of 13, 24 and 12, setting up a 4-yard touchdown run by Stewart. Aric Goodman's PAT made it 7-6, and CU was in the lead for good.

Two series' later, Hansen capped a 65-yard drive with a 21-yard touchdown strike to Scotty McKnight to put the Buffs up 14-6. Meanwhile, the Buff defense started taking charge. KSU had gone three-and-out on offense six times in as many games coming in, but CU would force that many this evening, including three straight in the second quarter.

KSU tied things up quickly on its first second half possession, using just three plays to go 46 yards with Freeman taking it in from 17 yards out. With 10:49 left in the third quarter, likely very few thought the night's scoring had been completed.

Research later revealed that no CU team had protected a 1- or 2-point lead in a game for as long as CU would in this one in some 72 years. KSU had five more possessions, driving three times into "shallow" CU territory, but was rebuffed each time. A "Hail Mary" pass on the game's final play was batted to the ground by Ryan Walters, who tied a school record in the game with two fumble recoveries.

Stewart ran for 141 yards, tying the school mark for the most 100-yard games by a freshman, while Hansen had 86 in his debut with 157 yards of total offense. But Hawkins' 22-yard pass on 3rd-&15 with 3:45 left bought CU a valuable opportunity to run almost three more minutes off the clock.

GAME NOTES

Colorado opened in its nickel defensive package for the sixth straight game ... The Wildcats were the nation's 13th ranked team in third down conversions (49.3%) coming into the game and opened 3-of-4; KSU then missed its next 11 attempts and finished the game 3-of-15 ... K-State was just 2-of-18 earning a first down on second down as well ... This marked the first time that CU won two games in a season scoring less than 20 points (with the WVU 17-14 overtime win) since 1998, when the Buffs beat Baylor (18-16) and Texas Tech (19-17); all four of the aforementioned were in Boulder ... The 14 points were the fewest CU scored in winning a game since Oct. 8, 1992, when the Buffs won 6-0 at Missouri ... Dan Hawkins improved to 2-19 when his teams have not scored 20 points (I-A/FBS), both wins this season ... The Buffs snapped a 7-game losing streak to its' I-70 compadres, Kansas, K-State and Missouri ... Kansas State ran 23 plays in plus territory (the 50-on-in) for 89 yards in the game; that's 3.9 per play, but considering it gained 51 on the three 17-yard plays on its opening second half possession, the Wildcats had just 38 yards on its other 20 plays in plus territory, or 1.9 per ... Kansas State had just six three-and-outs coming into the game all season, but had three in a row in the second quarter and six in the game; KSU also had scored in all but one quarter this season but were shutout twice tonight; the Wildcats had come in averaging 43.3 points per game, eighth in the NCAA, but that number dropped to 39.0 ... Hansen was just the 11th true freshman quarterback to take snaps in a game for the Buffs since 1973. His 86 yards rushing were the most by a CU QB in a game since Bernard Jackson had 105 against Kansas State in 2006 ... With his third 100-yard rushing game, Stewart tied Lamont Warren for the most 100-yard games by a freshman, true or redshirt, in CU history with three (Warren had three as a true frosh in '91); Stewart also scored his first career touchdown with his second quarter 4-yard run.

GAME #8—MISSOURI 58, COLORADO 0(October 25; Columbia)*

COLUMBIA — Chase Daniel threw five touchdown passes for the second straight year against Colorado, and with the Missouri Tigers benefitting from great field position, the No. 16 Tigers became the first team in nearly 20 years to shut out the Colorado Buffaloes, claiming a 58-0 homecoming win.

Missouri took a 14-0 lead barely four minutes into the game and never looked back. A four play drive to open the game resulted in a 3-yard touchdown run by Derrick Washington following a 35-yard pass from Daniel to Jeremy Maclin.

CU's first possession was disastrous, with freshman quarterback Tyler Hansen fumbling the snap and losing nine yards on the first play, soon followed by Stryker Sulak sacking him on third down for another 9-yard loss. On fourth down, punter Tom Suazo couldn't field the center snap and was thrown for a 15-yard loss, and Missouri took over at the CU 5. Three plays later, Daniel tossed a 1-yard TD pass to Chase Coffman.

Daniel and Maclin hooked up on a short scoring pass later in the quarter, and midway through the second stanza, Daniel topped off the longest drive of the night by the Tigers with a 10-yard throw to Tommy Saunders, the touchdown play completing an 80-yard march. Jeff Wolfert added two field goals in the last 1:42 of the half to give Mizzou a 34-0 lead.

Hansen was just the fifth true freshman to ever start a game at quarterback for Colorado. But neither he nor incumbent Cody Hawkins could get much going all night. The Buffs were outgained 298-33 at halftime in eventually what would be a 491-199 edge, with CU moving into the MU red zone on just two occasions.

Missouri had seven touchdown drives in the game, and on average, the Tigers started the seven at the CU 48. A high-octane offense to begin with, MU didn't need that kind of help. The Tigers added two more scores in the third quarter on drives that began at CU's 41 and 36, respectively, the latter capped by a 30-yard pass from Daniel to Maclin for a 48-0 advantage. Maclin caught 11 passes for 134 yards and two scores in the game, while Daniel completed 31-of-37 throws.

CU came in with the nation's third longest active scoring streak at 242 games, which also was the ninth longest of all-time in Division I. The Buffs drove to the Tiger 17 on their first possession of the second half, but a fourth down pass from Hawkins to Patrick Williams was broken up by Sulak. On the last drive of the game, CU marched from its 25 to the Missouri 9 but time ran out on the Buffs before they could get another play off. The end result was CU seeing a goose egg on its side of the scoreboard for the first time since a 7-0 loss at Nebraska on Nov. 12, 1988.

Colorado finished with just 41 yards rushing (though that included 30 yards lost to quarterback sacks), but did commit a season-low one turnover in the game.

It was Missouri's third straight win over CU, the first time the Tigers have won more than two in a row over the Buffs since a six-game run from 1979 through 1984.

GAME NOTES

The 34 points CU allowed in the first half were the most since game 12 last season, when the Buffs trailed Nebraska, 35-24, before rallying for a 65-51 win ... The 34 point halftime deficit was the most CU faced since the 2005 Big 12 championship game when the Buffs trailed Texas, 42-3 ... CU committed a season low one turnover in the game (but coming in the second quarter, the 9th of CU's 15 on the year that occurred in that stanza) ... WR Josh Smith set a CU single-season record for kick return yards with 977 (777 kickoff, 200 punt) with four games remaining ... WR Patrick Williams (3-28) moved from 13th into 12th in all-time receptions at CU (95; he passed D.J. Hackett who had 93 in 2000-03); he tied with James Kidd for 21st in yards (944) ... The 142 combined plays in the game marked the seventh straight game that CU has played where the final count was between 141 and 146 ... CU's 199 yards on offense were the fewest since having 196 against the Tigers in 2007 ... Missouri's 491 yards were a season high against the Buffaloes, topping Texas' 431; only three of eight foes have reached the 400 mark versus CU ... Missouri's offense isn't one that needs much help, but the Tigers seven TD drives on average started at the CU 48 (the average of their 13 was the MU 43) ... This was the third time in the last four games that CU and its opponent committed six or fewer penalties (CU had 4, MU 2). CU now has just 45 penalties in eight games this season, the Buffs committed at least 80 in the previous 15 years all but one time, Dan Hawkins first year when it had just 63 ... Three teams who played in "I-70" stadiums scored at least 50 points today: Missouri (58-0 over Colorado), Oklahoma (58-35 over Kansas State in Manhattan) and Texas Tech (63-21 over Kansas in Lawrence).

GAME #9—TEXAS A & M 24, COLORADO 17(November 1; College Station)*

COLLEGE STATION, Texas — Jerrod Johnson threw three touchdown passes, all in the third quarter, as Texas A&M used a dominant 15-minute stretch to rally for a 24-17 win over Colorado.

The Buffaloes led 10-3 at halftime, but it easily could have been anywhere from 20-3 to 28-0 as CU came away with nothing three different times inside the Aggie 40 in the first half. The loss was Colorado's fifth in its last six games and left both teams at 4-5 on the season.

The Buffs capitalized early when Brad Jones sacked Johnson at the CU 42 with an ensuing fumble recovered by Brandon Nicolas. Five plays later, Rodney Smith took it in from six yards out and CU jumped ahead, 7-0. That helped make up for the first possession, where the Buffs had a first down at the A&M 42 after the longest pass play of the year, a 40-yarder from Cody Hawkins to Demetrius Sumler. But that drive stalled at the 36 and the Buffs punted.

Colorado's first two second quarter drives went deep into Aggie territory, but ended in frustration. Aric Goodman missed a 46-yard field goal, the ball hitting the right upright, and then Hawkins threw an interception on a third-and-goal from the A&M 5.

In between those drives the Aggies got on board with a field goal to trim the lead to 7-3. The Buffs worked it back up to seven with a 30-yard Jameson Davis field goal with three second left before the half, one CU dominated in yardage, 219-76, and time of possession (18:09), but only had a 10-3 lead to show for it.

A&M turned the tables in the third quarter, rolling up 212 yards of offense and scoring on three of four possessions, using big plays along the way. The first two scores came on a 32-yard pass from Johnson to Ryan Tannehill which tied things up and then on a 59-yard bomb on a post-pattern to Jeff Fuller, which gave A&M the lead for good. The third score, a 10-yard pass from Johnson to Fuller, was set up by a 54-yard run from Cyrus Gray to the Buff 20. Those three plays alone accounted for 145 yards, almost half of the Aggie's total (308) on the night.

However, Colorado wasn't dead just yet. Tyler Hansen led an 11-play, 98-yard drive, the Buffs' longest march in six seasons, with Sumler capping the effort with a 10-yard run with 2:59 remaining to slice the deficit to 24-17. The Buffs utilized their timeouts and got the ball back on the A&M 46 with 2:29 left, but Hansen was picked off for the second time in the quarter by Trent Hunter. The second steal, one which he made off his shoe tops, sealed the A&M win with 2:24 to play as the Aggies were able to pickup two first downs and ran out the clock.

Stewart was lost for the remainder of the season when he suffered a broken fibula on a second quarter horse collar (illegal) tackle. Fellow frosh Darrell Scott came in and rushed for 66 yards, with Hansen netting 86, to help pickup the slack, with CU picking up a season-best 392 yards on offense.

GAME NOTES

CU had its first two 40-yard plays of the season on offense, both coming in the first half: a 42-yard run by TB Darrell Scott (second quarter) and a 40-yard pass from QB Cody Hawkins to TB Demetrius Sumler (first quarter) ... CU's first quarter TD ended a scoring drought that lasted 104 minutes and 17 seconds, as the last Buff score took place with 6:19 left in the second quarter against Kansas State on Oct. 18 ... DE Marquez Herrod made his first career start as CU opened in its base 4-3 defense ... PK Jameson Davis made his first career field goal attempt, knocking it through from 30 yards with :03 left in the first half ... CU limited A&M to just 76 yards on 22 plays in plus territory (the 50 on in), with 32 of those coming on a third quarter touchdown pass ... A&M was the next to last Big 12 team Dan Hawkins had not coached against until today; the last is Oklahoma State which comes to Boulder on Nov. 15 ... DT George Hypolite is the first Buff to have four tackles for loss in a game since Abraham Wright had four against Colorado State in the second game of the 2006 season ... The 98-yard touchdown drive by Colorado was its longest since a 98-yard march (11 plays) against UCLA in Boulder on Sept. 6, 2003 and a 98-yarder in 13 plays at Kansas on Oct. 12, 2002. CU has six 99-yard touchdown drives in its history, the last one of those coming on Oct. 27, 2001 at Oklahoma State ... CU's defense played outstanding in the first, second and fourth quarters, limiting the Aggies to a combined 96 yards in those three quarters (on 45 plays, or just over 2.1 per). A&M used an explosive third quarter to take over the game, outgaining the Buffs 212-55, despite holding just a 19-15 advantage in plays. Colorado gained a season-high 392 yards on offense, nearly having a 200-yard day both rushing (194) and passing (198) ... Cody Hawkins moved past Steve Vogel (3,912 yards) into sixth place in all-time passing yards at Colorado with 3,939. He also passed Mike Moschetti (366 completions) into third all-time with 369.

GAME #10—COLORADO 28, IOWA STATE 24(November 8; Boulder)*

BOULDER — It might not be “Joe to Jerry,” but Cody to Cody was good enough for Colorado. Cody Hawkins threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Cody Crawford with 1:30 remaining and then the defense stopped Iowa State at the goal line as the Buffaloes rallied from 11 points down in the final 9:14 to defeat the Cyclones, 28-24.

Though CU defeated Iowa State for the 22nd time in the last 25 meetings, this one went down to the wire. After Hawkins’ fourth touchdown pass, all in the second half, put the Buffs up by four, a good kickoff return by the Cyclones started them off at their own 39. Three plays later, I-State was already at the CU 14 with just 40 seconds left in the game.

Austen Arnaud completed an 8-yard pass to Houston Jones and then picked up another yard on an option run, and the Cyclones were faced with a third-and-one at the Buff 5, where they took their third and final time out. After an incomplete pass, Arnaud completed a pass to a wide open Darius Darks at the CU 1, but he had to leave his feet for the ball and came to a stop less than 18 inches from the goal. Arnaud spiked the ball with three seconds left and the game came down to one last play.

The Cyclones called another option play and ran it to the near side, with Arnaud faking the pitch to Alexander Robinson at the CU 5. But when he turned up field, he was greeted by D.J. Dykes and Jimmy Smith simultaneously, the play resulting in a 2-yard loss with time expiring.

CU twice rallied from double-digit deficits, trailing 10-0 at halftime and after storming back for a 13-10 lead, watched Iowa State regroup and take a 24-13 lead with just over nine minutes left after a 4-play, 57-yard drive which featured a 53-yard Robinson run.

Hawkins steered an 8-play, 80-yard drive, using the two-minute offense, and polished it off with a 14-yard touchdown pass to Patrick Williams to cut the lead to 24-19. Hed then tossed a two-point conversion pass to Jake Behrens to pull CU to within three. The Buff defense then held ISU to three plays and out, and CU again employed its two minute magic, driving 81 yards in 11 plays, with the pass from Hawkins to Crawford putting CU in the lead for what turned out to be good.

Hawkins replaced Tyler Hansen after halftime, as the CU freshman, despite rushing for 48 yards, was having some trouble reading the Iowa State defense. Hawkins responded by completing 20-of-29 passes for 415 yards and four touchdowns. In playing just 43 snaps he recorded his career-best single game rating (180.0) and threw a career best four touchdown passes, the first pair of which were to Scotty McKnight on CU’s first two second half possessions that bought CU a brief 13-10 lead. ISU scored in just three plays, covering 62 yards and needing just 52 seconds to do so, retaking the lead at 17-13.

Iowa State took a 3-0 lead on its first possession when Grant Mahoney made a 24-yard field goal after an 11-play drive stalled inside the CU 10. The Cyclones made it 10-0 just 55 seconds before halftime, turning an interception of Hansen into a 14-play, 65-yard march that culminated with a Jason Scales 1-yard run. The ISU defense did its part, containing CU to only 110 yards on offense.

Williams had a big day for the Buffs. In addition to his touchdown reception, he caught a 25-yard pass on the drive that put CU ahead in the third quarter, reaching the career 100 receptions and 1,000 yard milestones on the same play. Crawford caught a career-high eight passes for 79 yards to lead all Buff receivers.

GAME NOTES

This was the second straight game in the series that came down to the final play; in 2007, CU could not get two field goal tries off as time expired ... This was CU’s third come-from-behind win this season, joining rallies against Eastern Washington and Kansas State ... Colorado gained a season-high 422 yards, also the first 400-plus game for the Buffs on the year; CU had 110 yards at halftime but easily exceeded that total with 147 in the third quarter and 165 in the fourth for a 312-yard second half ... Colorado averaged just 2.5 yards on first down in the first half (11 plays, 27 yards), but reversed that course in the second half with a 7.0 figure (19-132) ... CU was 3-of-3 on 3rd-&-1 ... CU was bidding to score on just its second opening drive of the season but missed a field goal; Iowa State came back and drove for a three, the sixth score by the opponent on a first possession in ’08 (4 TD, 2 FG) ... It was the third time in 2008 CU did not score in the first half (Texas, Missouri previously) ... Nate Frere’s block of PK Aric Goodman’s third quarter PAT kick was the first blocked PAT kick by a CU opponent since Oct. 25, 2003 (Brodney Pool, in a 34-20 win in Boulder by No. 1 Oklahoma) ... CU had the game’s only turnover, a second quarter interception, CU’s 12th in the quarter on the season ... Williams became just the 10th player to catch 100 passes and the 19th to earn 1,000 receiving yards in a CU uniform ... WR Josh Smith became just the ninth player in school history to record 1,500 all-purpose yards in a season with 143 against ISU, giving him 1,555 for the year ... Two Buffs made their first career starts in the game, TB Darrell Scott and CB Jimmy Smith, which upped the total to 13 players who have made their first career starts in 2008, including eight freshmen (five true, three redshirt).

DEPTH CHART

A note about CU's depth: in-season, depth charts reflect change and generally do not announce it unless there are long-term injuries; also, the coaches often use "groupings" at certain positions (i.e. receiver-tight end-tailback-fullback), and often a group enters the game to run a play that does not match the depth.
