OPENING TIP: Colorado is in the middle of a four-game stretch against ranked teams. Six of Colorado's final eight regular season opponents have been ranked at one point this season. The Buffaloes have dropped 17 straight games against a ranked opponent and 14 straight to a team ranked in both the AP and WBCA Coaches poll (Iowa State was ranked only in the WBCA poll in the meeting earlier this season as was Kansas State in two meetings in 2008-09). CU's last win over a ranked opponent was a 73-68 home win over No. 15/15 Kansas State on Feb. 23, 2008.

THE BUFFALOES: Colorado is 12-9 overall and 2-6 in Big 12 play after falling to No. 15(AP)/17 (WBCA) ranked Baylor, 76-42, in Waco on Feb. 6. The Buffaloes have lost their last four and six of their last seven. At 12-9 overall Colorado has surpassed its win total for all of 2008-09 (11-18) and needs just one more win to match its 2009 Big 12 win total (3-13).

TEAM NUMBERS: Colorado is averaging 69 points per game and shooting 41 percent from the field overall but those numbers have fallen to 60 points per game and 37 percent shooting over CU's eight Big 12 contests. Colorado is averaging 7.5 3-pointers per game, tied for third in the Big 12. The Buffaloes are the top free throw shooting team in the Big 12 at 75.5 percent (271-359). The Buffaloes are having success on the defensive end, ranking third in the Big 12 steals (9.2 spg) and fourth in blocks (4.4 bpg).

SPEARS LEADS: Brittany Spears tops Colorado by averaging 17.3 points, 8.6 rebounds and 2.4 steals per game. She recorded her 20th career double-double, fifth of the season and first during Big 12 play with 14 points and 11 rebounds against Iowa State and has narrowly missed double-doubles in three of her last five games, falling just one rebound short on each occasion. Her 20 career double-doubles are fifth on CU's all-time list.

Spears was held to nine points at Baylor, just the second time this season she hasn't scored in double-digits. She has reached double-digits in 50 of her last 54 games and 73 of 84 career outings.

On the league charts she ranks second in defensive rebounds (6.2 drpg) and steals, fourth in overall rebounds and free-throw percentage (.842), seventh in scoring and blocks (1.4 bpg), eighth in minutes (33.1 mpg), 13th in 3-pointers made (1.6 3mpg) and 14th in offensive rebounds (2.4 orpg).

SMITH OFF THE BENCH, SAME RESULTS: After starting the entire 2008-09 season, senior guard Bianca Smith has come off the bench for all but one game without missing a beat. She is averaging 13 points and 2.6 rebounds per game and is still displaying her sharp-shooting abilities. Smith leads the Big 12 with 60 3-pointers and ranks 12th in 3-point accuracy at 39 percent (60-of-154).

Smith ranks 15th in overall scoring in the Big 12 and second among those players primarily coming off the bench (starting less than half of a team's games). Here are the current leaders:

Player, Team	PPG
Danielle Adams, Texas A&M	16.2
Bianca Smith, Colorado	13.0
Christine Flores, Missouri	9.5
Cokie Reed, Texas	7.5
Sydney Carter, Texas A&M	7.1

SMITH NETS MILESTONE: Bianca Smith scored 11 points against Kansas and in the process became the 23rd player in team history to reach 1,000 career points. She currently resides in 23rd place on CU's all-time scoring list with 1,025.

Smith gives CU two 1,000 point scorers on the same team as she joins Brittany Spears who reached 1,000 last year and currently resides in 13th on CU's all-time list with 1,365. Having multiple 1,000 point scorers on the same team has happened several times in CU's history, and on two different occasions in the last decade alone. Jackie McFarland and Jasmina Ilic were 1,000-point teammates in 2006-07 and the Buffaloes had a trio of 1,000-point scorers in 2001-02 featuring Jenny Roulier, Mandy Nightingale and Britt Hartshorn.

FRESHMEN THRIVING: Freshmen Chucky Jeffery and Meagan Malcolm-Peck have made major contributions in their first collegiate seasons.

Jeffery tops all Big 12 freshmen and ranks third overall in steals at 2.4 per game. She leads Colorado and ranks ninth in the Big 12 in assists (3.5 apg) and is second on the team in steals and rebounds (5.5 rpg) and is third in scoring (10.1 ppg). She has scored in double-digits in six of the last nine games, and recorded her first career double-double with 14 points and a career-high 11 rebounds against Nebraska. Jeffery had one of the best stat lines of the season in the nonconference finale against Yale recording 19 points on a perfect 7-of-7 from the field to go along with nine assists, seven rebounds, five steals and two blocks.

Malcolm-Peck leads CU and ranks sixth in the Big 12 in blocks (1.4 bpg). With 29 blocks on the season, she is tied with Melody Johnson (1997-98) for the fifth best freshman season mark in team history. She is fourth on the team in rebounding (4.4 ppg) and fifth in scoring (6.5 ppg). Malcolm-Peck delivered one of the clutch performances of the season at Kansas State. After making just seven of her first 16 career free-throw attempts (.438), she drilled two attempts with 17 seconds remaining to give CU a four-point lead (61-57) en route to a 63-57 triumph.

FRESSLE HEATING UP: After a slow start, sophomore guard Alyssa Fressle is finding her freshman form that gained her a spot on the 2009 Big 12 All-Rookie team. Fressle is second on the team in assists (2.3 apg) while ranking third in steals (1.3 spg) and sixth in scoring (6.2 ppg). Her numbers have improved during the Big 12 schedule as she is averaging 7.4 points and 1.8 steals per outing. Her 14 steals during the conference schedule rank eighth best among league players.

GETTING 'ER DUNN: Senior center Courtney Dunn, has two career double-doubles, both of which came in a four-game span. She had a career outing against Oklahoma State tying a career high (Denver) and setting a new Big 12 personal best 16 points while nabbing a career high and team single season high 14 rebounds. She also had a double-double at Texas Tech recording 10 points and a then personal-best 11 rebounds. She is averaging 8.9 points and 6.1 rebounds over the eight league contests. Overall she has 135 points (6.8 ppg) and 97 rebounds (4.9 rpg) this season (20 games) after recording just 94 points and 85 rebounds combined in her first two seasons (48 games).

MULLANEY BOLSTERS BENCH: Junior guard Kelly Jo Mullaney continues to give Colorado key minutes and punch off the bench. She had eight points, including 2-of-4 from 3-point range, with one rebound and one steal at Baylor. She averages 4.1 points and 2.1 rebounds for the Buffaloes and has hit 13-of-24 from 3-point range on the season. She had made just nine 3-pointers in 28 games in 2008-09. Mullaney is 7-of-13 from 3-point range during the Big 12 schedule.

AUSTIN, Texas – A stifling Texas defense held Colorado to its lowest point total in team history as the No. 17 (AP)/16 (WBCA) ranked Longhorns shut down the Buffaloes 62-32 in a Big 12 Conference game Saturday night at the Frank Erwin Center.

Colorado (8-7, 0-3) committed 18 turnovers and shot just 28 percent from the field (13-of-47) as the Buffaloes dropped their third straight game, all against ranked teams and the last two of which have come on the road.

CU's 32 points surpassed the previous game low of 36, achieved on three occasions, most recently at Kansas State on Jan. 11, 2003. The Buffaloes scored just 12 first half points, the lowest first period output in team history and their second lowest one-half total on record.

Sophomore Brittany Spears had 11 points and 10 rebounds for her fourth double-double of the season, but the Big 12's second leading scorer at 18 points per game was held to just two in the first half. Colorado made just 22 percent (5-of-23) from the field in the period and committed 12 turnovers which led to 14 Texas points.

It was a messy start for both teams. Texas (14-3, 2-1) had 10 turnovers of their own in the first 14 minutes while hitting 38 percent from the field (6-of-16). The Buffaloes trailed by just eight, at 16-8, when Alyssa Fressle made a basket with 6:30 remaining in the half. Fressle scored eight of Colorado's first half total and finished with a team game-high 12.

Texas guard Kathleen Nash then scored the game's next 10 points, which included back-to-back 3-pointers, as the Longhorns ended the first half on a 13-4 run.

Despite its first half troubles, Colorado didn't quit, opening the second half on a 10-2 run to cut the Texas lead back to single digits. The Buffaloes scored the first six, pounding the paint with layups by Kara Richards, Bianca Smith and Fressle. Ashley Lindsey gave Texas its first points at the 14:32 mark with a bucket down low, but the Buffs responded with a Spears jumper and two Fressle free throws as the Longhorns lead was down to 31-22 with 13:38 remaining.

Colorado would not get any closer though as Nash hit two more 3-pointers during a 15-6 run to give Texas a 17 point cushion. Spears tallied five quick points, including CU's only 3-pointer on 12 attempts, to make it a 14 point game with 9:12 remaining, but the Buffaloes missed 10 of their next 11 shots to close the game.

Erika Arriaran scored all 11 of her points in the final 9:34 of the game, including three 3-pointers as she helped Texas end the contest on an 18-2 run. Nash finished with a game-high 16 points to go with seven rebounds.

Richards pitched in seven points and five rebounds for Colorado.

ABOUT THE LONGHORNS: No. 14 (AP)/19 (WBCA) Texas is 16-6 overall and currently in fifth place in the Big 12 standings at 5-3, just one-half game out of second place as three other league teams (Iowa State, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State) are at 6-3. After dropping its first two Big 12 games, Texas has won five of its last six and three straight. The Longhorns rank second in the Big 12 in scoring at 77.5 points per game, but also rank second-to-last in scoring defense as opponents average 65.6 per outing. Texas is one of the better 3-point shooting teams in the Big 12, making 7.1 per game. The Longhorns have made over 40 percent of their 3-point shots during conference play, tops among Big 12 teams.

Senior guard Brittainey Raven leads Texas with 15.6 points per game while averaging 4.9 rebounds and 2.7 assists. Junior guard Kathleen Nash is second on the team in scoring at 12.7 points per game and leads the Longhorns at 7.4 rebounds per contest and 3-point shooting. Nash has 48 3-pointers on the season and is shooting a Big 12-best 49 percent from downtown (48-of-98). Sophomore guard Ashleigh Fontenette paces the Longhorns in assists (3.4 apg) while averaging 10.2 points per game.

SERIES RECORDS: This will be the 19th meeting between Colorado and Texas with the Longhorns holding a 14-4 series lead. Two of CU's wins over Texas have come in Boulder, including the last meeting at Coors, a 67-52 decision on Feb. 16, 2008 which at the time snapped an eight-game Texas win streak in the series. UT won last year's meeting in Austin, 62-32.

Kathy McConnell-Miller is 1-3 against Texas, all with Colorado.

BIG 12 HONORS BUFFS: Colorado has been cited by the Big 12 Conference for weekly honors three times this season. Junior Brittany Spears was named the Phillips 66 Big 12 Co-Player of the Week on Nov. 23, Meagan Malcolm-Peck was the Freshman of the Week on Dec. 28 and Chucky Jeffery was named top freshman on Jan. 11.

CU's three weekly recognitions are its most since 2007-08 when Spears was named Freshman of the Week four times and Bianca Smith was Player of the Week once. It is also the first time that two different CU newcomers have earned Freshman/Rookie of the Week honors in the same season since 2004-05 when Kara Richards and Jackie McFarland were both recognized.

Jeffery averaged 15.5 points, 7.5 rebounds, 6.5 assists and 5.0 steals in Colorado's wins over Yale and Missouri. She tied a career-best with 19 points, connecting on all seven of her field goals attempts against Yale. Displaying her all-around game, Jeffery also registered a personal and team season-best nine assists to go along with seven rebounds, five steals and two blocked shots. Jeffery made her Big 12 debut by scoring 12 points and equaling a career-best eight rebounds and five steals in the win over Missouri. She hit 5-of-10 from the floor and also dished out four assists.

Malcolm-Peck pulled down a team-high 10 rebounds with four points in Colorado's win over San Jose State - her second double-digit rebounding effort of the season. She also recorded personal bests with four steals and three assists while tying a career high with three blocked shots. Malcolm-Peck's four steals came in the first eight minutes of the game as the Buffaloes built a 46-13 lead in the first half. For Malcolm-Peck it is her first weekly honor.

Spears was named to the Minnesota Subway Classic All-Tournament team after averaging 23 points and 10 rebounds in two games. She scored 19 points and pulled down seven rebounds in 25 minutes in the 63-49 win over Illinois-Chicago. She then recorded her 17th career double-double and second of the season with a game-high 27 points and 13 rebounds against Minnesota in the tournament final. She reached a double-double before intermission with 16 points and 10 rebounds in the opening 20 minutes. Spears hit 10-of-20 shots from the field and added four assists and four steals.

For Spears it was her fifth career Big 12 weekly honor, and first as Player of the Week.

STEAL-Y EYED: Colorado has been picking up steals in bunches this season. CU, which ranks third in the Big 12 in steals at 9.4 per game, has double-digit steals in 10 of 21 games this season. CU had only five games with double-digit steals in 2008-09. The 10 games of double-digit steals are the most in a season since the Buffaloes had 12 in 2003-04.

INDIVIDUALLY SPEAKING: Junior Brittany Spears leads Colorado and ranks second in the Big 12 with 50 steals this season. Spears, who already ranks 12th on CU's all-time steals list with 162, is the first player since CU All-American Shelley Sheetz to record 50 steals in each of her first three seasons (1991-92 to 1993-94). Freshman Chucky Jeffery is right behind Spears with 47 steals, ranking third in the Big 12 on a per game basis (2.4 spg). Jeffery is on pace for 69 steals (based on number of guaranteed games left) which would rank as the fourth best freshman season at Colorado.

CLIMBING THE LADDERS: Junior Brittany Spears and Senior Bianca Smith continue to make their impressions on the CU record book.

Spears, who became just the second player in team history (Lisa Van Goor) to reach 1,000 points as a sophomore, is 13th on CU's all-time scoring list (1,365). Spears is also seventh in blocked shots (113), eighth in 3-pointers made (135) and attempted (417), 11th in rebounds (666), 12th in steals (162), 15th in field goals made (495) and 18th in free throws made (240).

Spears' possible climbs Wednesday:

3 free throws made for 17th

4 steals for 11th

6 field goals made for 14th

11 points for 12th

Smith is second in career 3-point field goals made (235) and attempted (628), trailing only former CU All-American Shelley Sheetz in both categories (252-of-661 from 1991-95). Smith, who leads the Big 12 with 60 3-pointers this season, needs 17 to catch Sheetz's all-time career mark. Smith is the Big 12's active career leader in 3-pointers made and is 11th on the league's all-time 3-point list.

Smith is 23rd on CU's all-time scoring list with 1,025. She needs 68 points to crack the Top 20.

MORE SMITH FROM '3': Bianca Smith has 60 3-pointers this season which is 10th on CU's single-season list. She needs three to match her 2008-09 season total, and current ninth place spot, of 63. She also has a chance to break her own single-season school record of 80 set in 2007-08. Smith is the only player to appear on CU's single-season Top 10 for 3-pointers made in three different seasons.

TEAM SOLID FROM '3' TOO: Colorado ranks third in the Big 12 and 20th in the nation at 7.5 3-pointers made per game. CU's 156 3-pointers already ranks fifth on CU's single-season list and the Buffaloes need just two more to move into fourth place, catching the 2002-03 team. CU's 2007-08 WNIT semifinalist squad holds the current school record with 236.

HOUSTON TAKES LEAVE: Junior guard Whitney Houston has taken a leave of absence from the women's basketball team for personal reasons Kathy McConnell-Miller announced prior to CU's Big 12 opening win over Missouri. Houston, a native of Memphis, Tenn., had appeared in 12 of CU's 13 games prior to the announcement, logging two starts and averaging 4.2 points and 1.3 assists per game. No timetable has been set on her return.

SHUTTING DOWN OPPONENT'S 'O' EARLY: Colorado held San Jose State to 13 first-half points. Combined with the 11 allowed against Southern Utah in the previous game, the 24 points in back-to-back first halves are the lowest combined total in team history. The previous low total was 27 in 2001-02 in games against San Diego (36-18) and Bowling Green (53-9).

NUGGETS FROM THE SOUTHERN UTAH GAME: Colorado's 88-36 win over Southern Utah entered the Buffaloes' record book on several fronts:

Colorado's 42 point halftime lead (53-11) tied for the second largest in team history. The Buffaloes also held a 42 point lead against Colorado State on Nov. 16 1979 (63-21). The school record is a 44 point lead CU had against Bowling Green on Nov. 23, 2001 (53-9).

Southern Utah's 11 first half points tied for the fifth fewest by a CU opponent in any half. The school record is 8 set against Kansas State on March 7, 1992 (46-8).

Colorado's final winning margin of 52 points are CU's most since a 96-44 win over Bowling Green on Nov. 23, 2001.

Southern Utah's 36 total points tied for the 10th fewest allowed in team history and the fewest since giving up 35 to Kansas on Jan. 16, 2002.

IMPRESSIVE POINT SWING: The 63 point swing from last year's 77-40 loss to Seton Hall to this year's 80-54 win is the second largest in a series in team history (games no longer than two seasons apart). The Buffaloes had a 67 point swing against Idaho State during the 1981-82 season. Here are the top point swings in team history.

FRESHMAN DEBUTS: A pair of true freshmen made their collegiate debuts and made significant contributions to the Buffaloes comeback win against UC Irvine. Forward Meagan Malcolm-Peck got the starting nod and responded with six points, 11 rebounds, three blocks and three steals. Guard Chucky Jeffery came off the bench and registered four points, seven rebounds, three assists and two steals. Malcolm-Peck's start marked the fourth straight year the Buffaloes have had a freshman in the initial season starting lineup. The three others: Bianca Smith in 2006, Brittany Spears in 2007 and Alyssa Fressle in 2008.

MEMORABLE COMEBACK: Colorado's comeback from a 14-point halftime deficit to win against UC Irvine ties for the third-largest margin achieved in team history. The Buffaloes trailed the Anteaters 33-19 at the break before outscoring them 42-23 in the final 20 minutes.

Colorado came back from 19 down against the University of Washington on Dec. 21, 1982, at the Guisti Tournament in Portland, Ore. CU trailed 35-16 at halftime before winning 67-65. Colorado came back from 15 points down against Kansas State on Jan. 31, 2007, that game included a 23-0 second half run.

CAPTAINS NAMED: Before the season opener head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller announced that Brittany Spears, Whitney Houston and Bianca Smith were named captains for the 2009-10 season. Smith is a captain for the second straight year while Houston and Spears are first time captains. CU captains are voted on by the players.

BUFFS IN OPENERS: Colorado is now 31-5 (.861) all-time in season openers and started the season with a home game for the 24th time in 36 seasons. Colorado is an outstanding 34-2 (.944) all-time in home openers. Colorado has never lost its overall season opener when played at home (24-0).

TOUGH SCHEDULE: Colorado once again faces a tough schedule with potentially 16 games -- or 55 percent of the regular season schedule -- against 2009 NCAA or WNIT tournament teams. Eight of CU's 2009-10 opponents are currently ranked in the USA Today/ESPN/WBCA Coaches poll while seven are ranked in the Associated Press poll.

HOME AT THE CECC: Colorado is traditionally tough at home with a 340-110 all-time record at the Coors Events/Conference Center (.756). The Buffaloes have won 10 or more games in a season at the CECC in 21 of the previous 32 years. The Buffaloes have enjoyed five undefeated seasons (1980-83, 1992-94) at the CECC.

BUFFS ON TV: Colorado's regular season schedule features nine games that will be televised either regionally or nationally, eight of which are at home. CU opened its first of eight FSN Rocky Mountain games on Dec. 2, against Denver. FSN Rocky Mountain will also televise home games against Virginia (Jan. 2), Missouri (Jan. 9), Iowa State (Jan. 16), Oklahoma State (Jan. 24), Nebraska (Jan. 30), Texas (Feb. 10) and Kansas (Feb. 16). The games against Missouri and Oklahoma State will be televised nationally on FSN as part of the network's Big 12 package. Colorado's game at Kansas State (Jan. 20) will be produced by FSN Kansas City, but will also be picked up by FSN Rocky Mountain.

Colorado was 2-5 in televised games during the 2008-09 regular season. CU has appeared on 72 regional or national telecasts over the previous eight seasons.

BUFFS SIGN THREE: Shae Kelley, Ashley Wilson and Brittany Wilson have signed National Letters of Intent to play basketball and continue their education at the University of Colorado in 2010-11, CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller announced Nov. 12, during the NCAA early signing period. Kelley, a 6-foot forward from Denver, is a two-time All-State honorable mention and All-Denver Prep League pick out of East High School. Kelley will be the fifth Denver Public Schools player to suit up for the Buffaloes and the first since Montbello's Nikki Weddle (1997-99). Ashley and Brittany are identical twin 5-8 guards from Long Beach, Calif. Playing for one of the most storied programs in Southern California, the Wilson twins have won three consecutive CIF Division I state titles with nationally-ranked Long Beach Poly.

SMITH GAINS FULL SEASON: Senior guard Bianca Smith was formally released from the National Letter of Intent she originally signed at the University of Tulsa earlier this summer, allowing her to gain back the semester of eligibility she would have otherwise had to surrender this season. Smith is now eligible to play the entire 2009-10 season for the Buffaloes. Smith, a native of Missouri City, Texas, had signed an NLI in November 2004 with Tulsa, who at the time was coached by current CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller. When McConnell-Miller took over the Colorado program in April 2005, Smith decided to follow her to Boulder.

She never enrolled at Tulsa, but was faced with sitting out two full seasons, one for not honoring her NLI commitment to Tulsa and a second for transferring to another NCAA Division I school. Smith was able to use her redshirt year to fulfill the NCAA transfer obligation, sitting out the 2005-06 season. She successfully petitioned the NLI Appeals Committee in 2005 to gain one semester back, but was still faced with losing one semester under the NLI commitment.

In the spring of 2009 then-CU-Boulder Chancellor Bud Peterson contacted Tulsa President, Dr. Steadman Upham, on behalf of Smith and the University of Colorado to ask for Smith's full release. Thanks to cooperation from both universities and athletic departments, Smith was released and rewarded a full final season.

BUFFS PICKED 11TH...AGAIN: For the fourth straight season Colorado was picked to finish 11th in the annual Big 12 Conference Preseason Coaches Poll.

In one of the closest votes at the top in recent memory, Baylor was picked to win the 2010 title with five first place votes and 109 total points, edging out Texas and Kansas who tied for second with 106

Kathy McConnell-Miller
Head Coach
Fifth Season

When Kathy McConnell-Miller took over the University of Colorado program four years ago, there's no question the Buffaloes were rebuilding and the team was a work in progress.

In four seasons at Colorado, there is no question that McConnell-Miller's Buffaloes have made progress and the program is heading in the right direction.

McConnell-Miller, 41, sports a 64-80 record in her four-plus seasons at Colorado and is 155-168 overall in 10-plus seasons as an NCAA Division I head coach.

Injuries, graduation and playing in the nation's premier women's basketball conference, the Big 12, hampered the progress her teams had built her first three seasons in 2008-09 as the Buffaloes struggled to an 11-18 mark and a 12th place finish in league play. But returning nine contributing players and adding the 32nd best recruiting class in the nation has the Buffaloes pointing in the right direction once again.

The 2009-10 season will mark the first year in which the Buffaloes are comprised completely of players coach McConnell-Miller brought to campus. She fared well with the players inherited from legendary CU head coach Ceal Barry, but she has also excelled in bringing in her own players. McConnell-Miller, and her staff, who from day one have established a family type atmosphere in the lockerroom and a fighting spirit in their players, have been committed to keeping Colorado's best players home, and have certainly succeeded on that front.

For three straight seasons, Colorado has landed at least one of the state's premier prep stars, beginning in 2007 with Aija Putnina, who contributed two solid seasons for the Buffaloes, including the 2008 WNIT run, before returning to her native Latvia to pursue a professional career. In 2008, the Buffaloes landed the consensus Colorado Player of the Year Alyssa Fressle out of Highlands Ranch, who made an immediate contribution and was rewarded with a spot on the Big 12 All-Rookie Team.

CU hit the state jackpot in 2009 with three All-Colorado caliber players; twins Meagan and Brenna Malcolm-Peck, Boulder natives who played at Horizon High School, and Chucky Jeffery, one of the top Class 4A players in 2009 for Sierra High School in Colorado Springs. The regional additions of Kailah Bailey and Melissa MacFarlane, both of Omaha, Neb., have given the Buffaloes their third Top 40 class in the last four years.

In 2006, Colorado had the No. 29 ranked class according to the All-Star Girls Report. What was remarkable about the class of 2006 is McConnell-Miller and her staff didn't even have the chance to start on the recruiting trail until April when they arrived in Boulder. Despite that late start, McConnell-Miller and her staff managed to sign five top 150 players, including Whitney Houston and Putnina who made significant contributions in their first two seasons.

Her first three seasons at Colorado were marked by significant improvement each year. From a nine-win season her first year in Boulder, to a 13-17 mark in 2006-07, in 2007-08 she guided the Buffaloes to a 19-15 record and the team's first winning season and postseason berth since the 2003-04 campaign.

McConnell-Miller experienced quite a few firsts during CU's memorable 2007-08 season. She led Colorado to its first Associated Press national ranking in four seasons, peaking at No. 23, and in the process became the 22nd person in NCAA Division I women's history to coach and play for an AP ranked team.

McConnell-Miller's Buffaloes beat three ranked teams in 2007-08 - another first in four years - and finished ninth in the tough Big 12 Conference at 5-11. With a league-record eight Big 12 teams advancing to the NCAA Tournament, CU gained the conference's automatic bid into the WNIT where the Buffaloes proceeded to advance to the semifinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Marquette. It was CU's first ever appearance in the semifinals of a postseason event and for McConnell-Miller, she claimed the first three postseason wins of her head coaching career (3-3).

The signs of progress were also evident in her second season, 2006-07, when the Buffaloes finished tied for seventh in the Big 12 at 6-10. CU's six league wins in 2006-07 were more than the previous two years combined (3-13 in 2005-06 and 2-14 in 2004-05) and the Buffs won their first Big 12 Tournament game since 2003.

McConnell-Miller, who officially became the sixth head coach in the history of CU women's basketball on April 27, 2005, presided over the development of Jackie McFarland, one of the top players in the Big 12 from 2004-08. McFarland was a two-time AP honorable mention All-American and three-time All-Big 12 selection including back-to-back first team honors in 2007 and 2008. All-league selections are nothing new to McConnell-Miller as she has had at least one first or second team all-conference performer in each of her 10 seasons as a collegiate head coach. The latest in her run of all-star caliber players is junior Brittany Spears who last season became just the second player in team history to reach 1,000 points by the end of her sophomore year.

The Buffaloes have also had academic success in the McConnell-Miller era. In her three seasons, McConnell-Miller has coached 12 Academic All-Big 12 Women's Basketball team members and helped guide McFarland to three ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors, including first team acclaim in 2007-08.

Before arriving at CU, McConnell-Miller spent six seasons as head coach at the University of Tulsa where she constructed an impressive turnaround of the Golden Hurricane program. Before her arrival in 1999-2000, Tulsa had just one winning season in its 14-year history, an overall record of 81-250 (.324), and was actually dropped as a varsity sport for nine years following the 1986-87 campaign. In her six seasons at Tulsa, McConnell-Miller recorded a program-best 91 wins (15.2 wins per year), winning seasons in three of the last four years and two postseason appearances.

She left as Tulsa's all-time leader for coaching victories with a record of 91-88 and owns the longest tenure in school history by a women's basketball coach. McConnell-Miller, who earned WAC Coach of the Year honors in her rookie season as a collegiate head coach in 1999-00, led Tulsa to 14 or more wins in five of her six campaigns.

Under the direction of McConnell-Miller, Tulsa placed at least one player on either the All-WAC first or second team, each of her six seasons. McConnell-Miller also had the Golden Hurricane excelling in the classroom sporting four ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District first and second team performers. Tulsa players also earned 23 All-WAC Academic Team honors. One of McConnell-Miller's prize players was Allison Curtin who was an AP honorable mention All-American for the Golden Hurricane and was drafted by the Houston Comets in the first round of the 2003 WNBA Draft.

Prior to her appointment at Tulsa, McConnell-Miller spent four seasons on Theresa Grentz's staff at the University of Illinois (1995-99). She was an assistant coach for her first three years before being promoted to associate head coach for her final season. The Fighting Illini posted an overall record of 76-45 and advanced to three NCAA Tournaments with McConnell-Miller on the bench. Illinois won the Big Ten Conference Championship in 1997 and twice advanced to the Sweet 16. While at Illinois, McConnell-Miller was vital in the signing of a pair of recruiting classes that ranked among the top five in the nation.

McConnell-Miller coached with Grentz for a total of six years as she went with Grentz to Illinois from Rutgers University in 1995. McConnell-Miller was a Rutgers assistant for two seasons (1993-95), helping the Lady Knights post a pair of winning campaigns, the 1994 Atlantic 10 Championship and a spot in the NCAA Tournament. Her recruiting expertise was well documented at Rutgers as her last class was rated as the 14th-best nationally, giving McConnell-Miller back-to-back Top 15 classes.

Her first collegiate assistant coaching job came at her hometown school, the University of Pittsburgh. She joined the Panthers in 1991 and served as the recruiting coordinator. She was also an assistant coach for the 1993 Big East All-Star Team which played in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

She is a member of the Western Pennsylvania Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, and was inducted into the Seton LaSalle High School Hall of Fame in October of 2006.

McConnell-Miller enjoyed a four-year playing career at guard for the University of Virginia (1986-90). She played in four NCAA Tournaments with the Cavaliers including a pair of Sweet 16 appearances and the 1988 Elite Eight. McConnell-Miller earned her bachelor's degree in rhetoric and communications from Virginia in 1989.

One of eight children, she is one of six McConnell siblings who attended college on a basketball scholarship.

Four McConnell's are presently in the coaching ranks, three at the college level and one at the high school level. Her older sister, Suzie McConnell Serio is currently the head coach of Duquesne University and was the head coach of the Minnesota Lynx of the WNBA for three seasons (2003-06).

Born on Sept. 24, 1967, McConnell-Miller and her husband, Brad Miller, have three children: Brice (9), Mackenzie (8) and Macie (4).

BOULDER - Whitney Houston returned with a rush on Sunday. It almost made her year's absence worthwhile. Almost.

In her first game back after missing last season due to knee surgery, the junior point guard hit a layup and a three-pointer in crunch time to help push the Colorado women's basketball team past UC Irvine 61-56 in CU's season opener.

The Buffaloes trailed 33-19 at halftime. Rallying from that 14-point deficit at intermission ties for the third-largest comeback in school history.

Houston's layup gave the Buffaloes their first lead (54-52) of the game. Then she followed with her trey from the top of the key to allow CU breathing room it hadn't enjoyed for most of the afternoon.

"I guess I can say we needed it," Houston said of her late heroics. "It's my responsibility as a point guard . . . to give us that spark."

That she could provide it when necessary is a testament to her perseverance. "When you (miss) a year, nobody can duplicate that time off," Buffs coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "She's still finding her role and trying to figure it out."

Houston and teammate Bianca Smith finished with 11 points each, seven fewer than team high-scorer Brittany Spears, who opened her junior season with a double-double (18 points, 14 rebounds).

Attribute it to a case of opening afternoon jitters at the Coors Events Center, maybe the weekend snowstorm or perhaps something else outlandish, but it would have been difficult to imagine the Buffs starting more ineffectively. CU quickly found themselves behind 18-7 with 10 minutes to play in the half.

McConnell-Miller said her team's first half "was not up to expectations," adding UCI "came in with the mentality to win." While she was "proud of the way my team fought back to win," she said she doesn't want the Buffs to continue to put themselves in that position. "I don't like having to come back," she said.

How did the slow start happen? For starters, CU hit just four of its first 15 shots (26.7 percent) from the field and had trouble stopping UCI (0-2) in transition.

Rebounding was an early problem, too, with the Buffs finding themselves outboarded 16-7 with 7:48 left in the half. They managed to right themselves on the boards (CU outrebounded UCI 50-32 for the game), but their shooting stayed frigid through the opening half.

By halftime, CU was only 8-28 from the field (28.6 percent) and UCI was up 33-19, with Smith-Williams' dozen points - which included three-of-three from behind the arc - leading all scorers and keying a pair of 10-0 runs.

CU scored nine points to open the second half, pulling to within five (33-28) before UCI coach Molly Goodenbour called a timeout with 16:33 to play.

The five-point deficit was as close as the Buffs had been since trailing 22-17. But after an Anteaters turnover out of the timeout, Alyssa Fressle hit a short jumper in the lane and CU had trimmed the margin to 33-30.

A put-back by freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck made it 33-32 and completed CU's 13-0 run to open the second half. With 14:15 to play, Smith-Williams' two free throws finally earned UCI its first second-half points.

But just as suddenly, the Anteaters were off and running again, outscoring the Buffs 12-2 over the next 4 minutes to reclaim a double-digit advantage (45-34) with just under 10 minutes remaining.

UCI matched its biggest lead of the afternoon - 14 points - on a layup by Kim Barnes that made the score 50-36.

But Houston and the Buffs weren't done. Smith's three-pointer and a three-point play by Spears helped bring them to 52-48 with 4:03 left.

A pair of free throws by Spears half a minute later pulled CU to 52-50. She tied the score at 52-52 on a short jumper, then watched her roommate, Houston, give the Buffs their first lead with 1:38 to play.

After Houston's clutch three-pointer, Kelly Jo Mullaney and Smith added two free throws each in the final 17.6 seconds to seal the win.

MINNEAPOLIS - Kelly Jo Mullaney was focused on returning home, and Kathy McConnell-Miller saw it on the floor.

In front of numerous family members and friends, Mullaney scored 11 of her 13 points in the second half to help propel Colorado to a 63-49 win over Illinois-Chicago in the opening game of the 2009 Subway Classic at Williams Arena on the campus of the University of Minnesota.

Mullaney, a Minneapoli native who won a state championship with The Breck School on this floor in 2004, hit 4-of-7 from the field, including two 3-pointers, and corralled seven rebounds to give the Buffaloes their second straight 2-0 season start.

"Kelly Jo's preparation this week was unlike anything I had seen from her in her past three years at Colorado," McConnell-Miller said. "She was focused, determined and had a confidence about her we hadn't seen before. She wanted to come back home and perform at her best. She played a great floor game tonight and we're just proud she was able to do that in Minnesota."

Junior Brittany Spears, who battled foul trouble and played an unusually long 25 minutes, still led Colorado in scoring with 19 points. She nabbed seven rebounds and was a perfect 6-of-6 from the line.

The Buffaloes (2-0) will face Minnesota on Sunday at 5 p.m. MST. UIC falls to 0-3 and will play the Gophers on Saturday.

Colorado led the entire way, but could not distance themselves from the Flames until late. Both teams were stone cold in the first half. CU held Illinois-Chicago to just 21 percent shooting in the first 20 minutes, but didn't fare much better on its end making only 25 percent (7-of-28).

The Buffaloes looked to be on the brink of pulling away as they built a 14-6 lead with 8:38 remaining in the first half, but the Flames scored eight straight to tie the game at 14. Mullaney then scored her first points on a put back by a Chucky Jeffery miss to give CU the lead for good. Bianca Smith followed with a 3-pointer to widen the gap back to five before the Buffaloes settled for a 21-17 halftime lead.

UCI cut the lead to 28-25 early in the second half on a Jasmine Bailey 3-point play, but the Buffaloes had an answer for each Flames' run, and Mullaney was in the middle them all. After Bailey's free throw, Mullaney missed a field goal at the other end but got her own rebound and kicked it out to Smith for her second 3-pointer of the game that sparked a 16-8 run that included a Mullaney 3-pointer.

The Flames crept back to within 44-40 when Taylor Foulks hit her second 3-pointer of the game with 6:34 left. Mullaney responded on the other end with a 3-pointer of her own, and after a stop, Spears hit one from deep to give CU its first double-digit lead. Mullaney followed that with a long two of her own to put CU in front 52-40 with 5:01 remaining.

"It was really exciting, I love being back home and having all my family and friends here," Mullaney said. "

Colorado was much improved shooting in the second half, making 46 percent (12-of-26). The Buffaloes cemented the game at the line. CU was 14-of-18 from the free throw line in the second half, 18-of-23 overall.

Smith ended with 10 points. Senior Courtney Dunn, making her first career start, responded with seven points and career highs with eight rebounds and three blocks. Melissa MacFarlane and Brenna Malcolm-Peck each made their collegiate debuts.

"We had some different combinations out there," McConnell-Miller said. "It was a good feeling to be able to go to our bench and get the minutes we did."

Colorado dominated the boards for a second straight game, outrebounding UIC 52-35. The Buffaloes had 17 second-chance points.

Bailey had 11 points and eight rebounds to lead UIC.

BOULDER - Colorado head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller was expecting her freshman class to have an impact this season, and so far that's exactly what is happening.

Freshmen Meagan Malcolm-Peck and Chucky Jeffery combined for 23 points, 13 rebounds and seven steals to help lift Colorado to a 62-50 win over Georgia Southern in the first round of the 2009 Omni Hotels Classic Friday at the Coors Events/Conference Center.

The Buffaloes, 3-1 overall for the first time since 2003-04, will play Harvard in the championship game on Saturday at 7 p.m. Earlier on Friday, Harvard held off New Orleans 60-57. Georgia Southern and New Orleans will play in the consolation game at 4:30 p.m.

CU junior Brittany Spears led all players with 20 points.

Malcolm-Peck had a career-high 12 points, on 5-of-8 shooting, with seven rebounds, three blocks and two steals.

"I think the goal is always to contribute however you can and just make an impact," Malcolm-Peck said. "So whether it's hustling and getting a rebound and kicking out to Bianca [Smith] to get a three or anyway you can help the team. I just focus on that and his fun."

Jeffery had 11 points, six rebounds and five steals in 19 minutes of playing time. Jeffery has started the last three games while Malcolm-Peck has started all four.

"When I start I feel like I have to do well so I can stay on the floor and get my team off to a good start," Jeffery said. "Like (coach) said I need to let the bad things go and move forward."

The Buffaloes jumped out to a 10-0 lead, hitting four of their first six shots including 3-pointers by Malcolm-Peck and Spears. Conversely, Georgia Southern made just one of its first 10.

But that start quickly faded as the Buffaloes went cold, and were bit by the turnover bug at the same time the Eagles started heating up.

Colorado missed 10 straight shots which allowed Georgia Southern to counter the Buffs' opening run, with a 14-0 run of their and led 17-14 with 6:13 left in the half. Turnovers didn't help the Buffaloes cause either. CU committed 22 in the game, 13 of which came in the first 20 minutes.

CU rebounded to take a 21-20 lead at halftime. Both freshmen starters keyed big second half runs to allow the Buffs to put the game away.

With the Buffaloes up 27-26, Malcolm-Peck hit a 3-pointer and followed that up with a steal and layup to ignite a 17-7 run that put CU up 44-33 with 10:20 left. Carolyn Whitney and Candice Ivy had consecutive buckets for the Eagles to cut the CU lead to seven.

Jeffery took care of the next CU run. The Colorado Springs native had five points, three offensive rebounds and two assists as the Buffaloes outscored the Eagles 13-3 over a six minute span. Colorado had its largest lead at 57-40 with 3:32 remaining in the game, before a late Eagles' run narrowed the gap.

"We came back in the second half and played with great intensity, which we were talking a great deal about at halftime," McConnell-Miller said. "There were some great moments tonight."

Whitney led Georgia Southern with 11 points and eight rebounds. The Eagles committed 25 turnovers and shot just 26 percent from the field.

BOULDER - Freshman guard Chucky Jeffery hit a driving layup with five seconds remaining to give Colorado the Omni Hotels Classic title with a 67-65 win over Harvard in the Championship game at the Coors Events Center.

After Harvard's Victoria Lippert sank two free throws to tie the game at 65-65 with 0:35 left, the Buffaloes put the ball in the hands of Jeffery for the final possession. Jeffery, who finished with 14 points, ran the clock down at the top and left of the 3-point arc and broke down the middle of the lane for the decisive score as the shot clock expired.

Harvard guard Brogan Berry raced down the court with the ball, but her 30-foot 3-pointer bounced off the front of the rim as Colorado improved to 4-1 overall for the first time since 2003-04.

"It's real exciting," Jeffery said. "Being a freshman and having the coaches trust me enough to put the ball in my hands to make the last shot feels real good. I'm so excited."

Jeffery's chance was born from a similar possession at the end of the first half. Leading 31-29, CU ran down the clock late in the first half where Jeffery was able to get into the paint to score to put CU up four with :07 left. However, she went too early, giving Harvard time to get set on the other end where Christine Matera connected on a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Despite going too early, CU head coach Kathy McConnell-Miller knew Jeffery was an option at the end.

"Why put the ball in a freshman's hands? The determining factor at that point was how Chucky handled that possession at the end of the first half; we had set it up for a drive and she had gone a little too early, but with that said she made it."

It was also the Harvard defense. The Crimson were clamping down on CU's outside shot, which had generated nine 3-point buckets during the game. Jeffery had also been able to get to the rim on three possessions before the final drive.

"At the end of the game we basically ran a variation of the play and at that time really dictated the time she went to the rim and had our two shooters spotted up waiting on her. She executed it and I'm proud of her."

Her shooters on the wings were captains Brittany Spears and Bianca Smith, and even though they didn't get the call on the final play, there wouldn't have been a final play for Jeffery if it wasn't for their strong performances.

Smith had a season-high 22 points off the bench, hitting 6-of-11 3-point shots. Spears recorded her third double-double in five games with 11 points and 11 rebounds. Jeffery, Smith and Spears were each named to the All-Tournament team. Spears, who had 20 points in Friday's game against Georgia Southern, was the Tournament MVP.

Emma Markley led Harvard Saturday night with 24 points, on 10-of-15 shooting, and four blocks. Her 10 blocks over the two games, set a Classic record.

CU was fighting from behind all night. The Crimson led by as much as nine in both halves, while the Buffs' largest lead was four.

Harvard led 46-37 with 14:35 remaining, when the Buffaloes, led by Smith tightened the game for good. Smith hit two of her six 3's to cut the Harvard advantage to 48-43.

Jackie Alemayn made good on a long 3-pointer to put HU back up by six. Spears countered with a couple free throws and HU led 52-47.

The Buffaloes gobbled up that lead with a pair of 3-pointers. Freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck hit the first one from the corner and Kelly Jo Mullaney hit one from the top of the key to give CU a 53-52 lead. The score stayed within four points for the rest of the way.

BOULDER - Pay-back is sweet, and the Colorado women's basketball team savored it Sunday afternoon.

Even sweeter, though, is progress - and that's what Buffaloes coach Kathy McConnell-Miller savored most during her team's 80-54 dismantling of Seton Hall at the Coors Events Center.

"Everyone's asked me what I'm most pleased about," McConnell-Miller said following the Buffs' atonement for last season's dismaying 37-point loss. "I'm most pleased about what's happened over a 12-month period - how our returning players have bought in, stayed focused, how they've embraced our younger players . . . I'm most pleased about our development and our progress."

Still, avenging that December debacle in South Orange, N.J., was important to McConnell-Miller's players.

"Last season was an embarrassment . . . it was important for us to come out today and get a 'W,'" said CU junior forward Brittany Spears, who responded with her 19th career double-double and fourth of the season. She scored 24 points and collected 12 rebounds, with her five three-pointers a career best.

CU freshman Chuckey Jeffery added a career-high 19 points and six assists, while sophomore Alyssa Fressle contributed a season-best 10 - all in an early second-half run that helped the Buffs ice the game. Senior Bianca Smith chipped in with 11, including three of CU's 11 three-pointers.

Winning their fourth consecutive game and fifth straight at the Events Center, the Buffs improved to 6-1, with that start the program's best since 2003-04 when former coach Ceal Barry's team opened 12-1.

The Buffs led by nine (39-30) at halftime, but were up by as many as 14 on two previous occasions. The best the Pirates (5-4) could do in the first 20 minutes was fashion a pair of early ties and pull to 21-19 before CU went on a 9-2 run.

Meagan Malcolm-Peck, a 6-foot-2 freshman, keyed that spurt, scoring seven of the Buffs points in the run and finishing with that total.

Spears was more than the Pirates could handle in the first 20 minutes, hitting seven of her eight field goal attempts - including four of five treys - for 18 points. (She averages 18.7.)

CU hit 31-of-58 field goal attempts (53.4 percent) and was 11-for-21 (52.4 percent) from behind the arc.

The Buffs had to survive themselves in the opening 6 minutes, when they suffered a turnover a minute. But that dirty half-dozen was all CU would commit for the remainder of the half, and their first-half assist total (12 on 16 field goals) doubled their errors. They finished with a season-best 21 assists.

It was a far better effort by the Buffs than in last season's meeting, when they managed but 13 first-half points on the Pirates' home court and trailed 43-13 in a blowout victory Seton Hall later would tout as "perhaps its finest performance of the season."

Fueled by 10 points from Fressle, the Buffs opened the second half with a 14-2 run and took their largest lead to that point - 53-32 - with 14:45 remaining.

Four minutes later, CU increased its advantage to 61-36 on a free throw by Jeffery and her layup on the next possession. But Seton Hall followed with a 15-2 run to make the final 6:42 more interesting than the Buffs had planned.

The Pirates closed to 63-51 before a pair of free throws by Spears and a trey by Jeffery righted the Buffs and sent the Pirates packing.

McConnell-Miller said even with the big leads, she never felt that relaxed or in control of the game. "I am never to the point where I feel like we can rest . . . I like to reinforce that we teach them to play every possession as if the score is tied. I hope at no point that I ever let up or think that it was in hand."

With the exception of a lapse here and there, her team played like it got the message. Seton Hall got it, too.

FORT COLLINS - Following the bad example set by their male counterparts 24 hours earlier, the Colorado women's basketball team played in spurts Friday night and paid for it with an ugly loss.

Colorado State, with only eight available players, overcame miserable early shooting and a 16-point first-half deficit to defeat CU 69-61 in Moby Arena. On the same court Thursday night, the CSU men outworked and overran the CU men, 77-62.

"I told them this was one that was going to stick with us all week," Buffaloes coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "We need to learn how to put teams away. We need to learn how to be efficient down the stretch."

CU (6-2) was everything but efficient, losing its big first-half lead, its momentum and eventually unraveling to lose for the first time in five games.

Senior Bianca Smith led the Buffs with 19 points, while Brittany Spears added 15 and Meagan Malcolm-Peck 12. Four of the Rams' eight players finished in double figures, led by Chatilla Van Grinsven with 16.

CU led for the final time, 55-54, on a layup by Spears with 2:57 to play. But from that point, CSU (7-3) went on a 7-0 run to move ahead 61-55. The Buffs never got closer than four points for the remainder of the game, self-destructing with four of their 16 turnovers in the final 2:20.

Meanwhile, the Rams put the game away by making 11 of 12 free throws in the final 1:52. They finished the game 27-of-33 from the foul line while the Buffs hit 9-of-11.

CSU also outrebounded CU 45-43, including 15 offensive rebounds, and outscored the Buffs 20-13 in second-chance points.

At times, McConnell-Miller said, the Buffs "played extremely hard . . . they really wanted it. But at times, I thought whether it was a lack of communication on defense or a quick shot that led to a run by them, it wasn't a lack of preparation or effort."

"It was just a mindset of we settled . . . often and early in the shot clock."

Not much went right for the Rams in the early going, but taking advantage of the Buffs' proclivity for fouling was among them. CU committed 11 first-half fouls, reaching seven fouls (single bonus) with 10:49 left in the half and 10 fouls (double bonus) at 4:14 before intermission.

As a result, CSU hit 10-of-13 first-half free throws - and needed every one of them. A little over 13 minutes into the first half, the Rams had connected on only one of 14 field goal attempts (7.1 percent) and had fallen behind by 16 (27-11).

But what had all the earmarks of a possible blowout suddenly changed. Then, CSU found its range - relatively speaking. Over the final 5:03 of the half, the Rams outscored the Buffs 12-4 and went to the locker room trailing 31-23.

Of letting CSU back into the game before intermission, McConnell-Miller said, "Whether I let up, whether I went too deep in the bench - I'll take responsibility for that . . . they capitalized and we sent them into the half on a little momentum."

Still, CSU's first-half shooting was horrid and CU's wasn't much better. The Rams hit only five of their 28 (17.9 percent) field goal attempts, while the Buffs were 11-for-32 (34.4).

Outscoring the visitors 11-2 over the first 4 minutes of the second half, CSU pulled to 33-32 on a pair of Van Grinsven free throws then took a 34-33 lead - the Rams' first since 3-2 - on a layup by Natalie van den Adel.

The Buffs answered with a 7-0 run - five of the points came courtesy of Spears - to reclaim a six-point lead (40-34). Just as quickly, though, CSU leading scorer Kim Mestdagh (19.4) scored seven consecutive points and Erin Cooke hit a layup - and the Rams went back ahead 43-42 with 11:51 left.

The next 4 minutes belonged to Smith and the Buffs. Relishing her off-the-bench role, the senior hit back-to-back treys to push CU in front 50-46.

Over the next 6 minutes, five of the game's 13 lead changes occurred. But in the final 1:30, the Rams went up six points and the Buffs foun-dered.

BOULDER - Explosive starts are beginning to become the norm for the Colorado women's basketball team. And with Big 12 Conference play rapidly approaching, that's a very good trend to be setting.

For the second consecutive game, the Buffaloes sprinted to a decisive half-time lead, then maintained most of their aggressiveness in the second half en route to an impressive victory.

On Tuesday night at the Coors Events Center, CU's strong opening act laid the groundwork for an 86-50 demolition of San Jose State in the second game of a men's/women's doubleheader.

"We had a great first half," CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "We executed our game plan as to how we were going to defend their sets. . . we handled their sets."

Junior Brittany Spears and senior Bianca Smith handled the bulk of the Buffs scoring, riddling the Spartans for 28 and 25 points, respectively.

"I know I like a heck of a lot about this team," McConnell-Miller said. "I definitely like like I have one of the best players in the Big 12 and one of the best shooters."

Spears' 28 points were the most scored by a CU player this season, and Smith's 25 were her season-best.

Smith again came off the bench - a role she's finding increasingly productive. "My teammates are able to find me on the floor for open shots," she said, adding she believes she's able to capitalize on opponents being tired while she enters the game fresh.

Smith's 25 allowed CU's bench to outscore San Jose State's reserves 32-20. The Buffs' defense also did its part, accounting for double-digit steals (13) for the sixth time in 10 games. CU got 18 fast-break points to the visitors' four.

In their previous game - an 88-36 blowout of Southern Utah four nights earlier - the Buffs bolted to a 24-0 lead, then went up 40-4 and 49-5 before going to the locker room with a 53-11 halftime lead.

That big advantage at intermission must have been gratifying and worthy trying to duplicate, for the Buffs fashioned a 46-13 halftime bulge against the Spartans.

The 24 combined first-half points yielded to Southern Utah and San Jose State was the lowest ever for CU, coming in below the 27 allowed in back-to-back first halves in the 2001-02 season to San Diego State (18) and Bowling Green (9).

McConnell-Miller attributed her team's consecutive fast starts to her and her staff introducing more concepts to her players and giving them more rest on game day. Then, there's the built-in energy of playing at home, where the Buffs are 7-0 this season.

After CU scored the first four points Tuesday night, San Jose State coach Pam DeCosta called a timeout to settle her troops. The short time together didn't help.

Before the Spartans and DeCosta, a former student at Mesa State and Metro State, could digest what was transpiring, the Buffs had gone up 17-3 and were in control of the opening half behind the torrid Spears (20) and Smith (17).

Spears hit seven of her 10 first-half field goal attempts, five-of-six free throws and adding a pair of steals in only 14 minutes. Not to be outdone, Smith canned seven of her 11 shots from the field, including four of nine three-point attempts.

Defensively, the Buffs tormented the Spartans, recording 11 of their 13 steals in the first-half and adding two of their five blocked shots. The visitors shot just 20.8 percent from the field (5-of-24) in falling behind by 33 points at the break and finished at 32.8 percent (20-of-61) from the field.

Rather than back off after intermission, CU once again started at full speed and rolled to a 53-19 advantage in the second half's first 5 minutes. By the half-way point, CU had increased its advantage to 63-25, and San Jose State was zapped.

BOULDER - With January looming and the calendar about to flip, the Colorado women's basketball team finally can dispense with the appetizers and get to the meat of the schedule.

The Buffaloes believe they're hungry enough to proceed and succeed. They romped through a final tune up for Saturday's visit by nationally ranked Virginia by devouring Grambling State 92-43 on Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

Junior Brittany Spears led the Buffs with 20 points, and freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck and juniors Kelly Jo Mullaney and Chelsea Dale added 11 each.

CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller used 13 players, with 11 of them scoring. Only freshman point guard Chucky Jeffery, wearing a protective boot on her sprained right ankle, didn't see any court time but she's expected to play against UVA.

In Jeffery's absence, junior Whitney Houston made her second start of the season.

CU remained unbeaten (8-0) at home and improved to 9-2. But the schedule gets progressively tougher over the next week.

No. 23/21 Virginia is at the Events Center Saturday (3:30 p.m., FSN Rocky Mountain) and Big 12 Conference play opens a week later against Missouri (noon, FSN). In between is a Monday contest (7 p.m.) against Yale.

McConnell-Miller, a UVA alum and former point guard, called the Cavaliers "a quality team" that will offer the Buffs a chance to gauge their progress. But even in Wednesday night's rout, she claimed she saw her team advance in several areas.

"I was really pleased with our defense," she said. "We spent a lot of time preparing for Grambling's sets. . . and they couldn't run them in the first half. We just really took them out of what they wanted to run."

"On the offensive end, we didn't settle - we made the extra pass. . . I loved the way we executed. The way we finished the game with the players we had on the floor, I thought it was the first time we were that consistent for a 40-minute period."

"The players that came off the bench really picked up where the starters left off."

CU's bench outscored Grambling's 42-16.

The Lady Tigers, losing their fourth consecutive game and dropping to 3-6, didn't start a player over 5-foot-9 and had no player on the roster over 6-0.

Thus, the Buffs could have been expected to dominate the boards - and they did, 42-24. They also outscored the visitors 38-22 in the paint and got 32 points off of 28 turnovers (CU committed 26).

As they did in their two previous runaway wins, the Buffs bolted to a significant halftime lead against the Lady Tigers and coasted in the final 20 minutes.

Counting Wednesday night's 25-point halftime lead, CU's average margin at intermission since losing 69-61 at Colorado State on Dec. 11 has been 33 points.

The Buffs fashioned their 45-20 halftime advantage over the Lady Tigers by shooting 51.6 percent from the field (16-of-31) and forcing 16 Grambling turnovers that were converted into 19 points.

During one 4-minute stretch, CU hit four three-pointers in five possessions, opening an 18-point lead that wilted the visitors.

Then, the Buffs opened the second half with a 13-3 run, quickly building a 58-23 advantage and stretching it to 69-27 with 11:57 remaining. McConnell-Miller used the final 10 minutes to give her reserves court time.

Grambling never led, and CU led by 51 with 1:23 minutes to play. The Buffs' 92 points were their most since hitting 93 against CSU on Nov. 19, 2008.

BOULDER - Colorado freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck had an immediate answer for her scoreless performance on Saturday in the Buffaloes' loss to nationally-ranked Virginia.

Atoneament game Monday night as Malcolm-Peck scored a career-best 19 points to help the Buffs past the stubborn Yale Bulldogs, 78-71.

Fellow freshman Chuckey Jeffery tied a career high with 19, junior Brittany Spears added 15 and senior Bianca Smith came off the bench to contribute 10.

Jeffery also tied her career best in assists (nine of CU's 18) and steals (five of CU's 11) and collected seven rebounds.

"To tell you the truth, I didn't even think about (her scoreless Saturday)," Malcolm-Peck said. "In the game, I wasn't thinking, 'Oh, I've got to score,' or anything like that. I definitely have to focus on finishing around the basket and knocking down shots and tonight, rebounding. (But) going scoreless is always an extra push just to finish your shots."

CU finished the non-conference portion of its schedule with a 10-3 record, including a 9-1 mark at the Coors Events Center. Yale lost its fifth consecutive game and fell to 4-8.

The Buffs open Big 12 Conference play Saturday against Missouri (Events Center, noon, FSN), and maybe that was part of their early problem - Yale being sandwiched between Saturday's encounter with No. 23 Virginia (a 74-59 loss) and the league opener.

"It was a tough time to have this game - no question," noted CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller, adding after the emotionally taxing loss to the Cavaliers she spoke to the Buffs about "what type of team we are, what we want to be and how we want to respond. We are very happy with this win."

Yet for whatever reason, CU was out-hustled, out-worked and most definitely out-rebounded in Monday's first half. At one point, the Bulldogs had out-boarded the Buffs 13-4. The first half ended with Yale holding a 28-14 advantage; the game ended with Yale on top 45-35.

One plausible reason for CU's early board problems: Courtney Dunn, the Buffs' 6-foot-4 center, picked up two fouls in the first two minutes and went to the bench for the remaining 18.

Mainly because of that major rebounding deficit, CU never led in the first 20 minutes and managed only two ties. The Bulldogs led by a point (34-33) at the break, and the Buffs might have felt fortunate to have been that close.

Yale head coach Chris Gobrecht substituted freely, taking a wholesale approach that usually featured subbing five players at a time. Still, the Buffs' bench was more productive, outscoring the Bulldogs 10-5 in the first half. But that turned after intermission and Yale's bench wound up with a 21-12 scoring advantage.

Spears, CU's top scorer (20.2 average), hit a tray for the Buffs' first points and didn't connect again before intermission. But she opened the second half with a layup that gave CU its first lead (35-34) of the night.

And the Buffs kept pushing, outscoring the Bulldogs 10-4 in the second half's first 2:49 to open a 43-36 advantage. Less than a minute later, they went up 46-38 - their largest margin of the night to that point - on a tray from the left wing by Malcolm-Peck.

By the 14:17 mark, when Malcolm-Peck drained another three and Jeffery converted a conventional three-point play, the Buffs had outscored the Bulldogs 20-7 for a 53-41 advantage.

CU pushed its lead to 15 three times in the final nine minutes before Yale closed to 74-67 with 57 seconds remaining. The Buffs closed it out with four free throws by Smith and Spears in the final 47.2 seconds.

BOULDER - An opening statement was in order Saturday, and the Colorado women's basketball team penned what was expected of it.

In its 64-48 win against Missouri, CU was eloquent early, sluggish at mid-sentence and profound at the finish.

The punctuation mark: A 17-4 run over the final 5:54 that blunted an inspired Mizzou comeback and allowed the Buffaloes to open Big 12 Conference play in the proper context.

"It's great to open at home and come out with a win," CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "I'm very proud of my team. . . . Overall, a good performance, and I'm happy to be sitting here 1-0 in the Big 12."

Down by 17 points at halftime, the Tigers pulled to within three before the Buffs regained their offensive composure, ratcheted up their defense by going to a zone, then finally pulled away.

The Buffs, improving to 11-3 overall (10-1 in the Coors Events Center), had four players in double figures, led by Brittany Spears' 16 points. Chuckey Jeffery and Courtney Dunn added 12 each and Alyssa Fressle contributed 11.

CU made only one of its 11 three-point attempts - a season low. That late tray was courtesy of the 6-foot-4 Dunn, whose basket allowed the Buffs to extend their streak of consecutive games with a three-pointer to 150.

McConnell-Miller said waning confidence from behind the arc caused her team to pass up "a lot of open looks" and encounter difficulty with the shot clock on several late second-half possessions.

Plus, Missouri (10-4, 0-1) turned up its backcourt pressure on CU's ball handlers. But the Buffs trumped that by switching to the 2-3 zone and, noted McConnell-Miller, "The good news is that we responded to their run."

After trailing 32-15 at halftime, the Tigers steadily cut into the Buffs' lead until they'd narrowed the margin to 47-44 on a steal and layup by RaeShara Brown.

That basket capped a 14-3 Mizzou run during which the Buffs lost their offensive rhythm. But following a timeout by McConnell-Miller, CU switched from its man-to-man defense to the zone featuring Spears and Jeffery on top.

That, said McConnell-Miller, "made us very long and created a lot of steals and scoring through our defense."

Also, Jeffery said she and her teammates realized losing their big lead and allowing the Tigers back into the game "was not acceptable. When coach Miller called that timeout, she told us to relax and calm down."

"When we came out of the timeout, we had more energy with our defense and that's what really got us back into it. We went to the zone, got some steals and that gave us energy."

After the timeout, CU scored on consecutive layups by Bianca Smith and Jeffery, then added a pair of free throws by Spears.

That 6-0 run put the Buffs up by nine (53-44), and the Tigers appeared spent. CU kept up the pressure and closed it out with a flourish.

Jeffery finished with five of the Buffs' 11 steals. She also collected eight rebounds (Spears had nine) and dished out four of her team's 10 assists.

The Buffs enjoyed a 34-24 scoring advantage in the paint, with Dunn's dozen points a career best against a league opponent and her eight rebounds matching an overall career high.

Trailing only once (2-0) before intermission, the Buffs ended the first half with an 11-0 run and posted a 32-15 halftime lead.

Mizzou's 15 first-half points were the fewest the Buffs have allowed since holding Kansas to 14 in 2003. Also, CU's 17-point halftime bulge was its largest since being up by 24 against Iowa State in 2007.

BOULDER - Colorado's players claimed a solid plan was in place for Iowa State. But apparently nowhere in it was an antidote for Alison Lacey.

After the Buffaloes rallied to take a three-point second-half lead Saturday in a critical Big 12 Conference game, the Cyclones senior scored 16 of her team's final 19 points in a 68-62 victory at the Coors Events Center.

"Bottom line: Lacey hit some big-time shots," a dejected CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "We guarded them and did what we needed to do, but with the shot clock winding down, the ball was in Lacey's hands and she made plays."

Lacey scored only six of her game-best 32 points in the first half, sitting a good portion of the first 20 minutes with two fouls.

"I was dying to get back in," she said. "We have some inexperienced players, so it is my job as a senior point guard to take over."

She did her job very well, hitting half of Iowa State's eight three-point field goals. But another of the Cyclones' numbers was equally frustrating for the Buffs, who lost for only the second time (10 wins) on their home court this season.

Iowa State outrebounded CU 43-26, with the Cyclones' 26 defensive boards matching the Buffs' total. Little wonder that the second-chance point category was tipped heavily in Iowa State's favor (13-1).

CU senior guard Bianca Smith called the loss, which dropped the Buffs to 11-5 overall and 1-2 in the conference, "pretty devastating. . . we had a good shooting report, but we didn't box out. We can't have lapses like that."

Freshman guard Chucky Jeffery, who led the Buffs with 17 points (15 in the second half), said the Cyclones' rebounding dominance "decided the game. We didn't box out. . . we try to out-jump people and it ain't working."

Smith added 13 points and teammate Brittany Spears produced her 20th career double-double (14 points, 11 rebounds). Spears, held to a season-low three points in CU's Tuesday loss at Texas Tech, scored 10 of her total after intermission while Smith managed only three of her 13 in the second half.

Iowa State improved to 13-3 overall and won its first conference game after back-to-back league losses to No. 11 Nebraska and No. 8 Texas A&M.

After a miserable start - they were down 7-0 and 12-4 - the Buffs rallied and took their own seven-point lead before the Cyclones rallied.

CU held a 26-24 lead at the break behind Smith's 10 first-half points. She was the only player from either team in double figures.

Neither team shot well in the first 20 minutes, the Cyclones hitting just 29.6 percent from the field (8-of-27), while the Buffs were at 28.6 percent (6-of-21).

Less than 6 minutes into the second half, Iowa State took a 37-31 lead and held off a CU run that closed the deficit to two (44-42) on a three-pointer by Smith 10:19 to play.

After falling behind by six points, the Buffs finally caught the Cyclones at 50-50 on a conventional three-point play by Spears, then took a 53-50 advantage on a trey by Jeffery with 6:32 remaining.

Lacey took over from there, scoring Iowa State's next 14 points and dropping CU behind 64-60 with just under 2 minutes to play.

The Buffs pulled to 64-61 on a free throw by Spears, then forced a turnover. Jeffery hit one of two free throws with 1:19 remaining to bring the Buffs to within 64-62.

At the other end, Anna Prins, a 6-foot-7 freshman from Broomfield, hit the first of two free throws, sending the Cyclones up 65-62.

Spears misfired on CU's next possession and Iowa State converted three more free throws - two by Lacey - in the final 32 seconds to seal the win.

MANHATTAN, Kan. - Their arrival was a bit foggy, their departure clearly was better.

When the Colorado women's basketball team's charter flight couldn't land late Tuesday afternoon because of thick fog at the Manhattan airport, the airplane was diverted to Hutchinson, Kan., where the traveling party waited for over an hour to be bused to Manhattan.

Upon their arrival about 8 p.m., the Buffaloes had a short shoot-around at Bramlage Coliseum, returned to their hotel, ate dinner and called it a night.

A night later, there were no ill-effects - particularly not for freshman Meagan Malcolm-Peck and junior Brittany Spears.

They each hit a pair of late pressurized free throws Wednesday night as CU held off Kansas State 63-57, breaking an eight-game road losing streak and helping the Buffs surpass their 2008-09 win total (11-18, 3-13).

Leading by 14 points early in the second half, the Buffs (12-5, 2-2) appeared to have the game in hand until the Wildcats (10-8, 2-2) cut the margin to 55-54 with just over 3 minutes remaining.

But a three-pointer by Spears, who led CU with 15 points and nine rebounds, quelled that K-State push. The Buffs then hit five of seven free throws in the final 2:18 to preserve the Big 12 Conference victory.

Malcolm-Peck chased down a loose ball, was fouled and connected on both ends of a one-and-one with 14.6 seconds left to score her only two points of the game, giving CU a 61-57 lead.

Eight seconds later, Spears connected on another pair for the final margin. In addition to Spears, CU had three other players in double figures - Chucky Jeffery and Bianca Smith with 13 each, and Alyssa Fressle with 11.

But the Buffs' defense was just as instrumental as the offense, limiting the Big 12's top three-point shooting team to just four in 18 attempts and keeping the Wildcats out of synch for most of the game.

CU also held its own on the boards, battling to a 33-33 draw with K-State. The Buffs ramped up their defense to close the first half, holding the Wildcats without a field goal in the final 6 minutes, outscoring them 7-3 in the final 2:50 and going to their locker room with a 30-25 lead.

Entering the game as the Big 12's best three-point shooting team, K-State made just one of 10 first-half attempts. Meanwhile, CU hit four of its 14 tries, with Smith coming off the bench to account for two of them.

CU's halftime advantage at the break marked the Buffs' first in Big 12 road play since Jan. 9, 2008 at Missouri. The Buffs led 28-23, eventually winning in a blowout - 70-58. CU hadn't led at intermission at K-State since Feb. 14, 2007. That advantage was 28-26, and the Buffs also ended that game on top - 60-58.

So, a couple of precedents were set, leaving CU 20 more minutes to follow through - and the Buffs opened the second appearing intent on doing it.

They scored the second half's first seven points to take a 37-25 lead, forcing K-State coach Debbie Patterson to call a timeout with 17:19 remaining.

Talking it over didn't provide an immediate answer. Fressle quickly converted a steal into a layup to give the Buffs a 39-25 lead, capping a 20-4 Buffs run before the Wildcats finally got a three-pointer by Brittany Chambers at the 15:00 mark.

If the Wildcats were looking for a spark, the Buffs unwittingly provided it with 12:33 to play. After collecting a defensive rebound, Smith swung a forearm and cleared out a K-State defender. After being whistled for a foul, Smith protested and was assessed a technical. Kari Kincaid hit both free throws, pulling the Wildcats to within 10 (44-34).

The momentum had shifted to the Wildcats - but the Buffs didn't wilt, winning the game at the free throw line and leaving Manhattan under far better circumstances than their arrival.

LAWRENCE, Kan. -- Colorado and Kansas were both looking to rebound from recent losses. Unfortunately for the Buffaloes, Kansas won the battle of the rebounds, in a big way.

Kansas used a sizeable advantage on the boards and a first half offensive explosion to snap a two-game skid and claim a 75-64 win over Colorado in Big 12 Conference action Wednesday evening at Allen Fieldhouse.

Colorado drops its second straight, falling to 12-7 overall, 2-4 in Big 12 play while Kansas improves to an identical mark of 12-7 overall, 2-4 in league action.

The Jayhawks out-rebounded CU 27-7 in the first half and shot 51 percent (18-of-35) to build a 47-27 halftime lead. KU had 14 offensive boards in the first half alone which translated into a 13-1 advantage in second-chance points.

Kansas finished with a 49-29 advantage on the boards and an 18-6 edge in second-chance scoring.

CU struggled from the field for a second-straight outing, making just 38 percent (23-of-61) on the night. The Jayhawks led by as much as 23 points in the game before the Buffaloes regrouped over the final 20 minutes, outscoring Kansas 37-28 and cutting the final margin to 11.

Brittany Spears led Colorado with 21 points, seven rebounds and a career-best and team season high six blocked shots. Freshman Chucky Jeffery had 12 points, seven rebounds, three assists and three steals.

Senior guard Bianca Smith had 11 points as she became the 23rd player in school history to record 1,000 career points, doing so on a 3-pointer late in the first half.

Kansas was led by Big 12 Preseason Player of the Year Danielle McCray of Kansas who had 29 points and 16 rebounds. Carolyn Davis also registered a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Colorado returns home to face No. 6 (AP)/4 (WBCA) Nebraska on Saturday, Jan. 30, at 3:30 p.m. at the Coors Events/Conference Center. The game will be televised live on FSN Rocky Mountain.

BOULDER - Nebraska is a Top 10 women's basketball program for a reason - several of them, in fact. Colorado was (mis)treated to most, if not all, Saturday afternoon.

The No. 6/4 Cornhuskers pulled away from the Buffaloes in the game's final 8 minutes en route to an 80-64 victory at the Coors Events Center.

"There's no doubt that Nebraska is one of the top teams in our conference and the country," CU coach Kathy McConnell-Miller said. "They've got a very, very solid starting five . . . I would match them up with any in the country."

That experienced five-man front, with senior forward Kelsey Griffin the centerpiece, has the Huskers living the good life. They are 19-0 and one of only two undefeated teams in women's basketball - the other being No. 1 Connecticut. Nebraska also is 6-0 for the first time ever in conference play.

CU, meanwhile, lost its third consecutive game and its fifth in six outings, dropping to 12-8 overall and 2-5 in the Big 12.

Saturday's game launched a four-game stretch against ranked opponents, but McConnell-Miller wants her players focused on only the next foe. It's one game at a time, she said: "We have to get back in the flow, and we have some time (this week) to look at where we are and where we need to be."

McConnell-Miller believed her players mostly "worked hard" defensively against the Huskers. "But we didn't limit Kelsey Griffin's inside touches at all."

As a result, the 6-foot-2 Griffin, an All-America candidate, was the game's high scorer with 24 points and was one of four Huskers in double figures.

CU freshman Chucky Jeffery led the Buffs with 14 points and 11 rebounds - her first career double-double. Bianca Smith added 14 points and Courtney Dunn and Brittany Spears 10 each.

"I wasn't aware that I had a double-double," Jeffery said. "It would have been way more sweet if we'd won."

Trailing by 14 points in the first half, the Buffs got their last 12 points before intermission on a conventional three-point play by Spears, then three consecutive treys - one by Dunn and a pair by Smith - to close to 37-29 at the break.

But once again, CU struggled early shooting, hitting only five of 15 field goal attempts (33.3 percent) halfway through the first 20 minutes. The Buffs led just once (7-6) in the opening half, and that proved to be their only advantage of the afternoon.

"We don't want to be this come back team," McConnell-Miller said. "That's no way to live, no way to exist in this game."

CU's shooting improved (46.2 percent in the second half, 44.2 for the game) and the Buffs won the boards battle, 36-27. But Nebraska, winning for only the sixth time in history in Boulder (25 losses), checked out at 54.9 percent from the field.

Also plaguing the Buffs were 20 turnovers to the Huskers' 12, and Nebraska added 10 steals with its pressure defense.

The Huskers held Spears to 8.1 points below her average, and Nebraska coach Connie Yori lauded her players for their work: "You have to know her tendencies, and Dominique (Kelley) did a good job defensively . . . I think she played a great game and was a factor on both ends."

Nebraska's depth and experience showed early on, with eight players scoring in the first half, led by Kelley (nine) and Griffin (eight). Kelley finished with 18, while Cory Montgomery and Yvonne Turner added 11 each.

CU closed to within 38-33 to start the second half, but Nebraska answered with a 12-4 run to go back up by 13 (50-37) with 14:09 to play.

The Buffs kept battling, cutting the Huskers' advantage to 50-44 on a Meagan Malcolm-Peck trey from the right corner with 12 minutes remaining.

CU got no closer than eight points the rest of the way and trailed by 19 twice in the final 3 minutes, with Nebraska clearly justifying its ranking and Griffin the accolades waiting to come her way.
