Season Recap: Injuries plagued the Colorado women through all of the Big 12 Conference season when senior Camila Belassi (68 singles, 61 doubles wins) injured her right knee (ACL) and was lost for the season prior to conference play. Since then, the Buffaloes juggled their lineup with 12 different singles and 12 different doubles combinations. Led by seniors Monica Milewski (26 wins) and Melisa Esposito (19 wins) at the No. 1 and No. 2 slot, respectively, the Buffaloes did advance to the conference quarterfinals for the fourth straight spring, and as a team won 11 matches. Even though they shared the school doubles record with 78 tallies, Esposito and Milewski have only a pair of doubles win together. At the top of the singles ladder, Milewski recorded 91 singles victories to her credit, the second most of any CU woman and an impressive 9-2 mark against the conference in 2010; and Esposito became only the ninth CU woman to win 80 career singles matches.

Perhaps the most successful women's tennis student-athlete in CU history, Milewski became the first CU male or female tennis athlete to earn three Big 12 Conference singles honors. She earned conference accolades in 2010, 2008, and 2007. Milewski was also named all-conference doubles with Esposito in 2010, to go with her doubles distinction in 2008 (with Camila Belassi). Esposito made the All-Big 12 doubles team for the second straight year after being selected to the 2009 team with Belassi. Milewski has five All-Big 12 Conference honors (three singles, two doubles), while Esposito and Belassi have earned a pair of doubles honors. All three graduated from CU last Friday (May 7). The previous record for career singles and doubles all-conference honors was held by Jessica Garrow (1997-2000) and Dominique Lemperle (2000-2003) with four (two singles and two doubles honors each).
