ABOUT THE BUFFALOES: Colorado is 12-15 overall and tied with Oregon for ninth place in the Pac-12 at 5-11. The Buffaloes are one-game behind Washington State which is in eighth at 6-10. Colorado appears to be heading for the No. 8-9 game at the Pac-12 Tournament for the second straight season. The Buffaloes have an outside shot to climb as high as a tie for seventh in the final regular season league standings, but tiebreakers would put Colorado in the No. 8, No. 9 spot. Colorado could also be the No. 10 seed, but would need to finish with a worse record than Oregon to fall there.

The Buffaloes split their final home series this past weekend, falling to No. 7/8 ranked Oregon State 66-44 on Feb. 20, but rebounding to defeat Oregon 84-69 on Senior Day on Feb. 22. Colorado went 2-2 on its final home stand and has won three of its last seven.

Colorado is averaging 70.4 points per game on 42.5 percent shooting. The Buffaloes' scoring has dipped slightly during Pac-12 play, as is the norm with stiffer competition, but still checks in at a solid 67.7 points per game. CU has shot 42.0 percent during Pac-12 play, including a league-best 38.2 percent from 3-point range.

Defensively, Colorado has allowed 69.7 points per game on 38.3 percent from the field. Colorado is second in the Pac-12 in free throw percentage (.748), rebounding (42.8 rpg), defensive rebounds (29.3 drpg), rebounding margin (+5.8) and blocked shots (4.7 bpg) while ranking third in scoring (70.4 ppg), 3-point percentage (.378), 3-point defense (.291) and offensive rebounds (13.5 orgp) and fourth in assists (15.3 apg).

Junior forward Jamee Swan paces Colorado at 13.4 points, 8.0 rebounds and 1.9 blocks per game while shooting 46.7 percent from the field. Swan averaged 14.0 points, 6.0 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 1.5 blocks last weekend against Oregon State and Oregon. She has scored in double-figures a team best 19 times including three straight and nine of her last 11. Swan also leads the team with seven double-doubles and nine double-digit rebounding games.

In the Pac-12 Swan ranks second in blocks, third in offensive rebounds (3.2 orgp), sixth in overall rebounding, 12th in scoring, 13th in defensive rebounds (4.8 drpg) and 14th in field goal percentage.

Senior guard Lexy Kresl is third on the team in overall scoring at 12.5 points per game and leads the Buffaloes during conference play at 13.5 per contest. She paces Colorado at 4.3 assists and 1.2 steals per game, and is also the team's top 3-point shooter at 40.8 percent (53-of-130). Kresl had 16 points, seven rebounds and five assists in the win over Oregon, hitting 3-of-4 from 3-point range. She is averaging 15.5 points over the last 13 games and has made 33 of her last 70 from 3-point range (.471).

On the overall Pac-12 charts Kresl ranks fourth in assists, fifth in 3-point percentage, sixth in 3-pointers made (2.1 3mpg), seventh in free throw percentage (.803), 10th in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.2) and 18th in scoring.

Senior forward Jen Reese leads Colorado in free throw percentage (.867), is second in scoring (13.0 ppg) and rebounding (7.2 rpg) and third in field goal percentage (.459). Reese averaged 17 points and six rebounds over the weekend with the Oregon schools. She had 19 against No. 7/8 Oregon State including a perfect 8-of-8 from the free throw line, tying her career best performance for free throws without a miss. Reese has made her last 20 free throw attempts and is hitting 92.7 percent from the line during Pac-12 play (38-of-41) the best mark in the league during that span. Reese has Colorado's top scoring game of the season putting in a career-best 30 in the home game against UCLA, which also put her over the career 1,000 point mark. She made 14-of-19 from the field and also dished out five assists, all career-highs.

Reese has scored in double figures in 18 of 27 games - scoring nine in three others - and has three double-doubles. She has four games of 20 or more points this season. On the Pac-12 leaderboard, Reese is second in free throw percentage, eighth in defensive boards (5.4 drpg), 10th in overall rebounding and 14th in scoring.

percentage (.865) and field goal percentage (.463) while ranking third in rebounding (5.8 rpg) and fourth in scoring (9.3 ppg). She has made 28-of-31 (.903) from the free throw line during league play. Smith has also been one of Colorado's most consistent rebounders, registering at least five rebounds in 14 of the last 18 games. She ranks 15th in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage.

Senior guard Jasmine Sborov is averaging 6.6 points and 5.0 rebounds and ranks second on the team in assists with 69. She's upped her scoring to 8.3 points over the last seven contests while hitting 49 percent (21-of-43) from the field during that same time frame. In the win over Oregon she scored 13 points, grabbed a team-best nine rebounds and dished out four assists. Sborov had one of her best all-around games of her career in this season's first game with Arizona scoring 14 points with 11 rebounds and seven assists. It was her third career double-double, the second this season and first ever against a conference opponent. In fact all three numbers, points-rebounds-assists, are personal bests in a Pac-12 game.

Sophomore wing Lauren Huggins is second on the team with 35 3-pointers and has hit 36.5 percent from long range, ranking 14th in the Pac-12. She has made 6-of-12 over the last six games (.500) including 2-of-4 during an eight-point effort against Washington. She hit 3-of-5 at UCLA, making three consecutive shots during Colorado's second half run that chipped away at the Bruins' double-digit lead. Huggins had seven points and a career-high seven rebounds in the first meeting with Arizona. Her seven rebounds were more than the total of her first nine Pac-12 games combined (five).

Sophomore forward Zoe Beard-Fails is averaging 4.1 points and 3.1 rebounds and is second on the team in blocked shots with 16. Against Long Beach State she had career highs in points (14), rebounds (8) and field goals made and attempted (7-of-13).

Colorado continues to succeed with help from its freshman class. Forward Zoe Correal scored a career-high seven points in the win over Oregon and is averaging 3.1 points and 3.3 rebounds over the last eight games. Guard Alina Hartmann scored a career-best 11 points off the bench against Washington State hitting 4-of-6 from the field. Arizona ranks 11th in the Pac-12 in scoring (58.0 ppg) and 12th in field goal percentage (.361). BOULDER – If the University of Colorado women's basketball team ever needed a respite it was Sunday morning. CU entered its Super Bowl matinee against the Arizona Wildcats having lost three straight heartbreaking Pac-12 games, but the Buffs gave themselves the break they needed.

Colorado never trailed on its way to an 81-69 stomping of Arizona behind 14 points, 11 rebounds and seven assists from Jasmine Sborov. Lexy Kresl added 20 points and four assists, while Jen Reese contributed 19 points and eight boards. Haley Smith was the fourth Buff in double figures with 10 points.

"Didn't think we played our best of the season, by any means," Colorado coach Linda Lappe said. "Like that we did enough to win down the stretch. I thought our offense really clicked."

The deep shooting funk the Buffs (10-11, 3-7) suffered against Arizona State had all but disappeared by tipoff against the Wildcats (8-13, 1-9). Colorado shot 52 percent from the field in the first half and 50 percent from deep. It wasn't just the scoreboard, though — the Buffs looked like a completely different offensive team than the one that the Sun Devils stifled.

Colorado's ball movement was crisp, its passes quick and on target. The Buffs racked up 12 assists in the first half against Arizona after dishing out just nine Friday night. Sborov had four of those dimes — most of them to Reese on the elbows, where her jumper was automatic.

"We had been playing pretty well together in practice," Reese said. "That showed against ASU on Friday night and I just feel like, like coach said, our offense was clicking."

It seemed as if the only Buff baskets that weren't assisted were three pull-up threes that Kresl nailed to break the Wildcats' full-court press. Colorado has had mixed results against the press this season but against Arizona its ball movement and Kresl's hot shooting stretched the Wildcats too thin.

"We're just really getting to know each other and each other's tendencies a little better than we were at the beginning of the season," Sborov said. "I know where Jen's gonna be all the time, I know where my other players gonna be, they know where each other are gonna be."

Jamee Swan, who started despite the ankle injury she suffered Friday, struggled with her shot but fought hard on the glass and pulled down five offensive rebounds as CU held a 45-31 board advantage. Swan's presence alone helped the Buffs dominate inside. Arizona didn't score in the paint until there were eight minutes remaining in the first half and Colorado absolutely owned the boards — at one point the Buffs had as many offensive rebounds as the Wildcats had total boards.

Swan and Reese were bigger, stronger and more physical than anyone Arizona could throw at them. Had the Wildcats not attempted four times as many foul shots as the Buffs, Colorado's halftime lead would have been far greater than 41-31.

The Buffs' shooting cooled off slightly early in the second half, but their interior dominance did not. Colorado got three straight buckets off of possessions with two or more offensive rebounds. The Wildcats cut the Buffs' lead to six points with a 3-pointer from LaBrittney Jones but Colorado quickly pushed it back to double digits. Although the Buffs didn't shoot as well in the second half (36.7 percent, 45.3 for the game) their ball movement was still top-notch, their cuts were sharp and they rarely made a shot without at least two passes preceding it.

Malena Washington paced the Wildcats with 16 points but Arizona's offense was discombobulated all game en route to a 39 percent shooting performance.

Arizona did close the gap once again, with slightly less than four minutes remaining — Colorado committed more of the untimely turnovers (13 total) that have plagued it all season, and those gave the Wildcats easy transition opportunities. But they got no closer than five points and the Buffs closed the game out with free throws.

THE SERIES: This will be the 17th meeting between Colorado and Arizona with the Buffaloes holding a 13-3 series lead. Colorado has won 10 straight over the Wildcats including all seven meetings as Pac-12 rivals. Colorado won the season's first meeting, an 81-69 decision in Boulder on Feb. 1.

Colorado registered its eighth 80-point game of the season in the win over Oregon on Feb. 22 and fourth during Pac-12 play. The 84 points ties CU's Pac-12 season high which came in the home loss to UCLA (90-84) on Jan. 11. CU scored 82 at Washington, the most for the Buffaloes in a conference road game since an 84-60 win at Nebraska on Feb. 26, 2002. Colorado's number of 80-point games, both overall and in league games, are the most since the 2001-02 season when the Buffaloes had 13 80-point games, five during the Big 12 Conference schedule.

Colorado is hovering around a pair of Top 10 single-season percentage numbers in the team annals. The Buffaloes' nationally No. 10 ranked 3-point shooting percentage of 37.8 would rank as the fourth best single-season mark in team history if the season ended today. Colorado's 74.8 percent showing from the free throw line would rank in the ninth spot. CU's current overall pace of 42.5 percent from the field would be the team's best since 2003-04 (.435).

BACK TO THE BOARDS: Colorado has outrebounded, or been even, with 22 of its 27 opponents this season by an average of 5.9 per game. The Buffaloes are second the Pac-12 in overall rebounds (42.8 rpg) and defensive boards (29.3 drpg) while ranking third in offensive rebounds (13.5 orgp). If the season ended today, Colorado's 42.8 per game rebounding average would be the seventh best in team history.

Colorado has six games with 50 or more rebounds, including a 52-33 edge in the win over Washington State, its biggest margin in conference plays since holding a plus-25 margin against Arizona (51-26) on Jan. 20, 2013. Colorado had a season-high 60 against San Jose State the program's most since pulling down 60 against Marquette in the first round of the 1994 NCAA Tournament.

Colorado has two players ranking in the top 10 of the current Pac-12 leaderboard. Junior Jamee Swan is sixth at 8.0 per game while senior Jen Reese is 10th at 7.2 per contest.

KRESL'S DISH: Lexy Kresl recorded the fourth triple-double in team history by scoring 12 points, grabbing 11 rebounds and dishing out 11 assists in the double overtime win over Colorado State on Nov. 29.

Her triple-double was the team's first since Chucky Jeffery recorded the second of her two triple-doubles at Oklahoma State on Mar. 25, 2012 during the Postseason WNIT. Sandy Bean achieved the program's first triple-double against Utah State on Feb. 16, 1979.

For Kresl, both the rebounds and assists figures were career-highs. It was actually her second "double" of the week. Kresl put together her first career double-double in the win over Denver with 10 points and 10 assists.

Nine of her assists in the Denver game came in the first 20 minutes, tying a school record for assists in one half originally set by Whitney Law against Cal State Fullerton on Nov. 18, 2005.

Counting Colorado's prior three triple-doubles, Kresl's points-assists double-double was the 14th in team history and first since Jeffery's triple at OSU (12 points, 12 rebounds, 10 assists).

WORKING OVERTIME: Colorado has played in four overtime games, the most in one season in team history. As of Feb. 23, it's tied for the fourth-most in NCAA Division I for the 2014-15 campaign (DePaul, Jacksonville State, Louisiana-Lafayette, McNeese State, Oklahoma, San Jose State, Southern Mississippi and William & Mary), trailing only Hofstra, Norfolk State and Purdue who have each played in five. The NCAA I record for overtimes in one season is seven set by Wisconsin in 1998-99.

Colorado's 77-72 overtime win over Utah moved the Buffaloes to 3-1 on the season with the extra session and above .500 all-time at 24-23.

2014-15 OVERTIME GAMES

Nov. 17 vs. Western Kentucky (68-68) L, 78-79
 Nov. 29 vs. Colorado State (64-64/74-74) W, 87-81
 Dec. 5 vs. San Jose State (85-85) W, 97-89
 Jan. 11 vs. Utah (63-63) W, 77-72

The Buffaloes had played three overtime games in one season on four other occasions, most recently in 1995-96. Colorado played in overtime in three of its first seven games marking the first time the Buffaloes had played three during the nonconference schedule. Overall it's the 14 time Colorado has played multiple overtime games in one season.

Colorado played back-to-back overtime games for the first time in team history with the San Jose State and CSU contests. The Buffaloes had two overtimes in a three-game span in February 1988.

The double overtime game with CSU was just the sixth in team history and first since an 84-77 setback to Iowa State on Jan. 13, 2008. Lexy Kresl set a school single game record by playing in 49 minutes against Colorado State. The Buffaloes are 3-3 overall in double overtime games.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS: Colorado has a record of 56-37 since the beginning of the 2012-13 season. Of those 37 losses, 16 have been to ranked teams and 15 of those ranked higher than Colorado at the time the game was played. The Buffaloes have won 53 of their last 74 games against unranked opponents.

The Buffaloes have been dominant in regular season nonconference games under Linda Lappe. Colorado is 48-9 in that stretch since the beginning of the 2010-11 season. The Buffaloes have won 41 of their last 46 regular season nonconference contests. The Buffaloes put together 33 straight nonconference wins from Dec. 30, 2010 through Dec. 12, 2013.

REESE'S PIECES: Senior forward Jen Reese is the 12th player in team history to reach 1,100 points and 600 rebounds in a career.

She reached the 1,000-point milestone during her career-high 30-point effort against UCLA on Jan. 11 and is the 26th player to reach that mark. She is currently 20th on CU's career scoring list with 1,139 points.

2014-15 Opponents in Bold

Reese reached 600 at Washington State and is currently 13th on CU's all-time list at 659. She is 18th in career field goals made with 454.

KRESL SOLID FROM ARC, LINE: Senior guard Lexy Kresl ranks seventh in career 3-pointers made at 177 and is fifth in attempts with 549. Her current 40.8 percent status from 3-point range this season would rank 11th on Colorado's all-time single-season list.

She has made a 3-pointer in 90 of 120 career games and has 49 contests with two or more buckets from long range. Kresl hit five at Washington, tying a season high and also marking her seventh career game with five or more 3-pointers.

Kresl has also been one of Colorado's most reliable free throw shooters over the past three seasons. Her career percentage of 82.7 (187-of-226) would rank fifth on the Buffs' all-time list (minimum of 100 attempts).

She hit 84.1 percent from the line in 2013-14 (69-of-82) ranking third in the Pac-12 Conference. Her mark was also good for 19th on Colorado's single-season list.

HUGGINS SHOOTS UP LIST: Sophomore Lauren Huggins, who is second on the team in 3-pointers this season with 35, has moved into a tie with Chucky Jeffery (2009-13) for 15th place all-time with 75. She is 16 in attempts with 206.

SWAN'S SWATS: Junior forward Jamee Swan ranks second in the Pac-12 in blocked shots at 1.9 per game. She has 30 blocked shots over the last 14 games (2.1 bpg).

She has three games with five blocks this season, standing as both career and team season highs (Long Beach State, USC and Washington State). Her 52 blocked shots on the season tie for seventh on CU's single-season list and her current 1.9 per game pace would rank sixth on the Buffaloes' all-time charts.

Swan has 41 percent of Colorado's blocked shots this season. The Buffaloes total of 126 blocks currently ranks ninth on the team's single-season record book.

Swan has 116 career blocks ranking eighth on CU's all-time list.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Colorado is 0-4 against ranked teams this season after dropping a 66-44 decision to No. 7/8 Oregon State on Feb. 20. The Buffaloes have dropped their last 16 against ranked opponents. Colorado is 62-158 all-time against ranked opponents.

STRONG SCHEDULE: Colorado currently holds down the 19th toughest schedule in the nation (through games of Feb. 25) as its opponents have a combined record of 334-220 (.603). The Buffaloes are third in the Pac-12 trailing only UCLA (5th, .643) and Stanford (16th, .606).

Colorado opened a season with two teams that made the NCAA Tournament the previous year (North Dakota & Western Kentucky) for the first time since 2003-04 when the Buffaloes hosted Old Dominion and Notre Dame in the WBCA Classic. Only twice since then had the Buffaloes even played one team in their first two coming off a trip to the big dance, Loyola-Marymount in 2004-05 (Game 1) and Vanderbilt in 2006-07 (Game 2).

Here's a look at Colorado's nonconference opponents through Feb. 25:

OMNI HOTELS CHAMPS: Colorado won its Omni Hotels Classic championship for the 18th time by defeating Missouri State and Colorado State. The Buffaloes improved to 46-10 all-time in their home holiday classic and won their sixth straight title.

WRAPPING UP THE WNIT: Colorado was 2-1 in the Preseason WNIT advancing to the quarterfinals and picking up a consolation round win. The Buffaloes competed in the season-opening event for the third time and moved to 8-2 all-time in the tournament.

The Buffaloes won the championship in 1995 and also advanced to the semifinals of the 2001 event.

Mississippi State defeated Western Kentucky 88-77 in the championship game. The 2014 Preseason WNIT featured five NCAA Tournament teams from a year ago along with four Postseason WNIT participants, including Colorado.

HARRIS LEAVES TEAM: Sophomore guard Desiree Harris has left the Colorado women's basketball program citing personal reasons.

Harris, who did not appear in a game this year, played in 15 contests as a freshman averaging just a little under five minutes per game. She intends on remaining at the university as a student.

FOR OPENERS: Colorado improved to 36-5 (.878) in all-time season openers and has won the last 15. The Buffaloes started the season with a home game for the 28th time in 41 seasons. Colorado is an outstanding 39-2 (.951) all-time in home openers and has never lost its overall season opener when played at home (28-0).

RETURN TO 'D': Defense has been a staple to the Colorado program under Linda Lappe and for the Buffaloes to be successful in 2014-15, toughness on that side of the court will once again be paramount.

Three of Colorado's top four single-season field goal percentage defense totals have come under Lappe's direction. The 2012-13 NCAA Tournament team set the bar with a school-record effort at .350. Last year's squad came in with the third-best total at .369. Colorado's 2013-14 total ranked third on the Pac-12 leaderboard and 34th in the nation.

Two of Colorado's top 10 scoring defense totals have come under Lappe's reign including a school-best 54.5 ppg in 2012-13. Three of CU's top 10 rebounding margins have also come in that time frame, including last year's mark of plus-5.0, the eighth best in team history.

HOME AT THE CEC: Colorado is traditionally tough at home with a 404-142 all-time record at the Coors Events Center (.740). The Buffaloes finished the regular season 10-7 at the Coors Events Center marking the 26th time in 37 years the team has finished with at least 10 wins at home.

The Buffaloes have enjoyed five undefeated seasons (1980-83, 1992-94) at the CEC.

Colorado has won 28 of its last 42 and 39 of its last 56 at home.

BUFFS SIGN QUARTET TO NLI's: Monica Burich, Makenzie Ellis, Kennedy Leonard and Alexis Robinson have signed National Letters of Intent to play basketball and continue their education at the University of Colorado in 2015-16 head coach Linda Lappe announced on Wednesday, the first day of the NCAA's early signing period.

Burich, a 6-2 forward, is a strong three-sport athlete for Roseville (Minn.) High School in the Twin Cities area. She averaged 15.5 points, 9 rebounds, 5 assists, 3 steals and 2 blocks as a junior, helping Roseville to a 21-7 record. Burich was first team Class AAAA All-State selection by the Minnesota Girls Basketball Coaches Association. A two-time all-conference selection, Burich has led the Raiders in blocks and steals the last three years, and added rebounds and assists to that resume as a junior.

Leonard, a 5-8 guard from Southlake, Texas, has led Carroll High School to three straight district and regional championships. Leonard averaged 8.4 assists per game in 2013-14, leading Texas and ranking ninth in the country. She was the 2014 District MVP, 2013 District Offensive MVP and the 2012 Newcomer of the Year. Leonard has averaged 12 points, 7 assists, 6 rebounds and 3.5 steals over her first three years.

Ellis, a 6-2 forward from Tulsa, Okla., averaged 12.2 points and 6.6 rebounds as a junior, guiding Booker T. Washington High School to BUFFS ON TV: Colorado women's basketball will be televised to a regional or national audience at least 13 times during the regular season, including 12 games on the Pac-12 Networks during league play. This marks the third consecutive year the Buffaloes will have double-digit regional or national television appearances.

Colorado made its television debut on ROOT Sports Rocky Mountain on Nov. 25, defeating Denver 77-49. Colorado's first eight Pac-12 games were televised on the Pac-12 Networks as were five of the Buffaloes' nine home conference games. All home games, and conference road games, that aren't televised are streamed live through Colorado's Pac-12.com video portal. In addition, CU's game at Missouri on Friday, Dec. 12, aired on SEC Network +, the SEC's online video streaming option.

Entering this season, Colorado has tipped off on 127 national or regional telecasts since the fall of 2001, and 28 since the advent of the Pac-12 Networks in 2012.

BUFFS IN EXHIBITION: Colorado improved to a perfect 25-0 in exhibition games with its 90-57 win over CSU-Pueblo on Nov. 8. The Buffaloes have outscored their opponents by 32 points per game (86.3 to 54.3) in those contests. The Buffaloes have played at least one exhibition game in all but one year (2009) since 1997. CU's exhibition games have featured a mix of NCAA II schools, foreign teams and traveling all-star teams. CU's closest exhibition contest came in 1997, a 77-72 win over Athletes in Action.

BUFFS PICKED 10TH: In what is expected to be one of the most competitive league races in recent memory, Colorado was tabbed to finish 10th in the 2014-15 Pac-12 Conference standings according to the annual coaches preseason poll, announced at Pac-12 Media Day on Oct. 21.

Stanford was voted the preseason favorite for the 15th straight season, claiming 116 points and seven first place votes. California was second with 111 overall and three first place votes. The other two first place nods went to Oregon State, selected to finish third overall with 105.

UCLA was fourth with 84 points followed by Washington (72), USC (65), Arizona State (64), Washington State (56), Oregon (48), Colorado (31), Utah (28) and Arizona (12).

In the media's preseason poll, Colorado was picked 11th, swapping positions in that poll with Utah.

BUFFS TIP OFF SEASON WITH ANNUAL ONE-ON-ONE EVENT: The One-On-One With Colorado Women's Basketball event is a program favorite. In its fourth year under head coach Linda Lappe, this year's event was held Oct. 28 with nearly 250 fans, faculty and staff members in attendance.

The premise of the One-On-One event is to have each student-athlete pair up with a prominent female member of the university's faculty/staff, and get to know them outside of a classroom or office setting. The pairs then introduce each other to fans in attendance for the main program.

A diverse group of campus leaders joined for this event, ranging from professors, to department heads, to CU Regents.

"This event is special for us, it lets our fans know exactly who we are on and off the court," said sophomore guard Lauren Huggins, whose presenter was Dr. Susan Hendrickson, a senior instructor of chemistry and one of Huggins' former professors. "We also get to meet and interact with influential women within the CU community and through that we build relationships that will help us in the future."

Student-athletes and their "presenters" first sat down at a team dinner to learn about each other. Following the dinner, the public event began with a reception where players and presenters could greet the fans in attendance. Former head coach Ceal Barry, who held a similar event during her tenure, served as the event's emcee and brought each player and presenter to the stage.

"We always have such a blast hosting this event," Lappe said. "It shows a true commitment from both the faculty and staff on campus and also from all of our fans in the community."

Each student-athlete introduced their presenter, their role within the university and what they learned about them, and vice versa.

After introductions, the presenter was then allowed to ask the player any question, touching on a wide variety of topics, which always prove to be very entertaining, as both student-athlete and presenter let their own personalities shine.

ROBERSON TO MISS SEASON: Junior forward Arielle Roberson will miss the 2014-15 women's basketball season after tearing the ACL in her left knee in a routine drill during individual workouts just prior to the start of fall practice.

A two-time honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection, Roberson led Colorado in scoring (12.0 ppg) and rebounding (8.3 rpg) while ranking second in blocked shots (1.0 bpg) and third in field-goal percentage as a sophomore in 2013-14.

Roberson ranked ninth in the Pac-12 in rebounding, and at times, simply dominating in the paint for the Buffaloes. She had seven double-doubles on the season and her 109 offensive rebounds were the fourth-most by a Buffalo since the 1987-88 (when the stat was first charted on a regular basis).

Roberson set a Colorado conference tournament game record with 17 rebounds in the 2014 Pac-12 Tournament quarterfinals against Stanford, tying for the 11th best overall performance by a Buffalo. Her 464 career rebounds are the fourth best for a freshman-sophomore combined in team history.

The 2013 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year, Roberson has scored 771 points through her first two seasons and already ranks 14th in career double-doubles (10) and double-figure rebounding games (14) and is 19th in all-time blocked shots (57).

BOULDER – Colorado overcame a sluggish start and with a strong second half prevailed 68-59 over North Dakota in the first round of Preseason WNIT Saturday at the Coors Events Center.

Senior forward Jan Reese scored a game-high 21 points and junior front-court mate Jamee Swan pitched in 16 as Colorado remained perfect all-time in season openers at home (28-0).

The win sets up a quarterfinal game with Western Kentucky on Monday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Coors Events Center. WKU coasted to a 93-57 home win over Central Arkansas on Friday.

"It's going to be a great win for us when the end of the season comes around because they're going to win a lot of games," head coach Linda Lappe said. "You can see why, they don't back down. We're happy to be moving on."

Colorado entered the game knowing the key was to stop 6-5 senior post Emily Evers and as advertised, Evers posted her numbers, finishing with 21 points and 18 rebounds, but the Buffaloes made her work. Evers nine field goals came on 22 attempts.

North Dakota shot out to an 11-4 lead. With the Buffs keying in on Evers, Leah Szabla took advantage by finding open driving lanes to score five of her 15 points in the early minutes.

But UND stalled, making just four of its first 21 shots, allowing Colorado to steadily crawl back into the game.

Haley Smith scored four points during an 11-2 run that gave the Buffaloes their first lead at 15-13. Colorado also had a boost from freshmen Brecca Thomas and Alina Hartmann playing in their first game. With Lexy Kresl and Jasmine Sborov in early foul trouble with two each, Hartmann came in and scored five points off the bench and Thomas played a steady 11 minutes, with a rebound, assist and no turnovers.

With the help of the solid bench, the game stayed tight for the rest of the half. Swan scored on a layup with just under a minute left for the eighth tie of the period at 31-31. UND, answered with a conventional 3-point play by Evers to take a 34-31 lead at the break.

Colorado went on an 8-1 run to start the second half which gave the Buffaloes a 39-35 lead. But Colorado went cold missing its next seven shots allowing North Dakota to close to 45-43 with 1:44 left on a Bailey Strand layup.

At that point, needing plays on both ends, Colorado really put it together.

With UND continually pounding the ball at Evers, the Buffaloes started to win the battle. Swan blocked an Evers layup attempt that quickly turned into Lauren Huggins' third 3-pointer at the 9:43 mark. That exchange jolted the momentum to Colorado, embarking on a 13-2 run.

Reese accounted for four in a row followed by six straight from Swan who hit a couple free throws to give CU its largest lead at 58-45 with 6:46 remaining.

The defending Big Sky Conference champs weren't going to go away without a fight. Szabla scored five straight as CU's lead was quickly whittled down to six. CU responded with a Swan layup to halt UND's run.

Megan Lauck scored on a jumper but Thomas answered with her first career 3-pointer to push the lead back to nine at 63-54.

Following Thomas' 3-pointer, the Buffs went scoreless for the next four minutes. Evers took advantage with two field goals and a free throw in the first half of that span to trim CU's lead to four.

Despite missing five straight shots in that time frame, Colorado was able to get stops to avoid UND getting any closer. After a Colorado turnover with 30 seconds left, Swan made a great play to get in the UND passing lane to get a steal.

Reese then iced the game on a 3-point play. She scored in traffic on a put back of a free throw miss, was fouled herself and sank the free throw to put CU up 66-59 with just 15 seconds left.

BOULDER – Free throws brought the Colorado women's basketball team back into its WNIT game Monday night against Western Kentucky but turnovers took the Buffaloes out of it, allowing the Lady Toppers to escape the Coors Events Center with a 79-78 overtime win.

Trailing by nine points midway through the second half, the Buffs roared back by hitting 22 of 27 free throws in the final 12:46 and tied the score at 68-68 on one of two foul shots by Jan Reese with 19.3 seconds to play.

But OT belonged to Western Kentucky, which turned CU's 24 turnovers into 21 points and got a game-high 30 points from Chastity Gooch – the Conference USA coaches' preseason player of the year.

Reese scored a career-best 24 points, including 20 in the second half and overtime. Her 11-of-13 performance from the foul line set career highs for both attempts and makes. Meanwhile, teammate Lexy Kresl tied her career high with 20 points and hit four of seven 3-point attempts.

The Lady Toppers led 36-35 after a first half that couldn't have been much tighter. The first 20 minutes featured 13 lead changes and seven ties, with neither team leading by more than four points.

That large lead was posted by the Buffs, who got 12 points from Kresl on her perfect 3-point shooting (4-of-4). She opened the night's scoring with a trey, and didn't cool off before intermission.

CU finished the half hitting five of its six 3-point attempts, with Haley Smith hitting the other 3-ball and Jasmine Sborov responsible for the lone miss. Overall, the Buffs shot 50 percent (11-of-22) from the field before the break.

Western Kentucky opened the second half just as it did the first, getting a trey from the versatile Gooch and taking a 39-35 lead for its largest advantage of the night to that point.

Gooch wasn't done. She scored the Lady Toppers' next five points, pushing them in front 44-37 with a conventional 3-point play with 16:13 remaining.

Less than 2 minutes after Swan's fourth, Smith went to the bench with her fourth foul and Western Kentucky was beginning to pull away. Lappe shifted her team into a 2-3 zone defense, which might have eased the Buffs' foul problem but not their turnovers.

And the Lady Toppers took advantage, surging to a nine-point lead (48-39) and forcing the Buffs into catch-up mode. They took it to well, outscoring the Lady Toppers 12-3 and tying the score at 53-53 on a pair of free throws by Reese with 8:33 to play.

Kresl completed CU's comeback by hitting two free throws with 6:19 left, giving the Buffs their first lead (57-55) of the second half. It didn't last long. After Gooch hit the first of two free throws, Western Kentucky controlled the second miss, allowing Kendall Noble to sink a short jumper and the Toppers to reclaim a one-point advantage with just over 5 minutes remaining.

Having climbed back in, CU wasn't going away. Four free throws by Beard-Fails and Reese pushed the Buffs back in front 62-61 at the 4:08 mark. They managed a four-point lead (67-63) on another pair of foul shots by Beard-Fails, but the Toppers tied the score at 67-67 on a free throw and a put-back by Gooch of the second miss. Tashia Brown broke the tie (68-67) by hitting one of two free throws.

CU controlled the rebound and Lappe called a timeout with 26.8 seconds showing. The plan was to get Reese the ball – and it worked. Fouled with 19.3 seconds left, she hit one of two free throws to tie the score at 68-68.

Kresl gave the Buffs the OT lead, making one of two free throws, and Sborov corralled Kresl's miss and laid it back in. CU was up 71-68, but a Gooch free throw and a Noble put-back drew another tie at 71-71.

Gooch took care of that with two free throws, giving the Toppers a 73-71 lead, then hit a short baseline jumper to increase it to 75-71. Sborov made one of two foul shots with 42.1 seconds left, pulling the Buffs to within 75-72.

Two Jones free throws put Western Kentucky up 77-75, but Reese answered with a trey from the right corner, then a conventional 3-point play as CU closed to within 79-78 with 20.7 seconds left.

The officials' review of an out-of-bounds call gave the Buffs the ball with 19.5 seconds left, but Kresl missed a baseline drive and Noble was fouled with .3 seconds showing. She missed both free throws but they weren't needed, CU was out of time and luck.

DENVER – Lexy Kresl was in a giving mood for the first 20 minutes of Tuesday night's game. But in a crucial moment early in the second half, there was no spreading the wealth, she would take control.

Kresl scored five straight points to stop a Denver run and in turn sent the Buffaloes rolling to a 77-49 win at Magness Arena Tuesday night on the DU campus.

Kresl recorded her first career double-double scoring 10 points and dishing out a career-high 10 assists, nine of which came in the first half, tying a CU single-half record.

Colorado (3-1) used a 12-3 run late in the first half to open up a double-digit lead. Kresl had five assists in a span of six baskets late in the period to build a 38-27 advantage at the break.

Junior forward Jamee Swan was one of the main benefactors, scoring 17 of her season-high 23 points in the first 20 minutes.

"It took us a little while to figure out how to play with (Denver's) changing defenses," Kresl said. "We were playing a motion offense against a zone, so once we found those areas there were a lot of gaps and we had a lot of opportunities to score."

Denver (0-3) opened the second half on a 7-0 run. The Buffaloes missed their first three shots and had a turnover, which allowed consecutive layups by Alecia Espinosa and Paige Bradley. Denver's Morgan Van Ripper-Rose then hit a 3-pointer to cut the lead to 38-34.

Scoreless in the first half, Kresl stopped the Pioneers' run with a 3-pointer from the baseline. Then, Kresl stayed in the backcourt, darted in front of Espinosa's inbound pass for a steal and laid the ball back up and in for a 43-34 Colorado lead.

"I knew we needed a spark so I just wanted to pick up the intensity," Kresl said. "After that (play) everyone else caught on with that same aggressiveness."

That was just the beginning. Jen Reese scored the next basket for the Buffaloes and Haley Smith added her sixth and final field goal of the night to cap off the 9-0 run and the Buffaloes rolled from there, outscoring the Pioneers 30-15 the rest of the way.

"That was a huge five points for our team," coach Linda Lappe said. "They started to get some of that momentum and as soon as that happened, they were deflated a little bit and that's when we knew we needed to go on a run, and our players did a really nice job capitalizing on that."

Swan made 8-of-12 from the field and hit all seven free throw attempts. She also grabbed seven rebounds, dished out three assists and had two blocks.

"Jamee was outstanding tonight," Lappe said. "She played hard and was disciplined. She played a lot tougher on both the offensive and defensive end."

Smith finished with 12 points, hitting 6-of-8 from the field, with seven rebounds and two steals. Reese had 10 points, five rebounds and a pair of steals.

Colorado shot 48 percent from the field while holding Denver to just 28 percent. Despite some early troubles on the boards, the Buffaloes out rebounded the Pioneers 47-37.

Bradley led Denver with 15 points.

BOULDER – Haley Smith scored a career-high 18 points as Colorado's offense was firing on all cylinders in an 87-59 win over Missouri State in the first round of the Omni Hotels Classic Friday evening at the Coors Events Center.

Senior Lexy Kresl added 17, hitting five 3-pointers as the Buffaloes (4-1) hit 80 points for the second time in three games.

Colorado moves on to face Colorado State in Saturday's championship game at 7:30 p.m. Colorado State (3-1) defeated TCU 76-62 in the tournament opener. Missouri State (0-5) will face TCU (3-2) in Saturday's consolation at 5 p.m.

"I really liked our effort tonight," coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we played a complete game, both offensively and defensively. We had great production from our starters, had great production from our bench."

The Smith-Kresl duo were simply on fire. Smith was 6-of-9 from the field, in continuation of a three-game stretch where she's made a whopping 73 percent of her attempts (19-of-26). Kresl hit five of her first six 3-point attempts, settling in for a solid 6-of-13 night from the field which included seven rebounds, four assists and a pair of steals.

"My teammates are hitting me for open shots," Smith said. "I don't feel like I'm having to create, I'm just hitting the ones that are open."

It helps that Smith's shot selection mirrors that of every practice this season, and her teammates are taking notice, if the opposition has caught on yet.

"Haley deserves everything she's getting," Kresl said. "I see her shooting every day in the gym. That shot that you see her hit 7-of-8 in the game, she hits them in practice and shoots them every day."

Colorado shot 43 percent and hit a season-high nine 3-pointers. The Buffaloes put up 50 points in the second half on 46 percent shooting, thanks to momentum that actually began in the final minutes of the first period.

Smith and Kresl had eight points each as the Buffaloes built a 16-9 lead. But MSU stayed close, and tied the game at 18-18 on a Kenzie Williams free throw.

Kresl's third 3-pointer of the half and a Zoe Correal layup pushed CU's lead back to five, but the Lady Bears answered again, tying the score at 27-27 with 3:35 remaining.

For the second straight game Colorado made a strong run at the end of the first half to seize momentum.

The Buffaloes started getting stops and were able to get the ball quickly down the floor in transition. Colorado broke the tie with four straight free throws and then after a MSU turnover, Jasmine Sborov drilled a 3-pointer from left baseline to give Colorado a 34-27 advantage.

Free throws gave Colorado a 37-27 lead at halftime and the Buffaloes came out of the locker room fast and furious. Colorado had three offensive rebounds on the first possession, the final one ending in a Jamee Swan put back basket.

Then, Jen Reese had a great steal on the other end, which ended in a transition layup by Swan off a nice no-look feed from Sborov that capped off a 14-0 run.

"That's really big in any game, just ending the half with momentum," Kresl said. "The other team goes into the locker room kind of doubting themselves."

Liza Fruendt stopped CU's run with a 3-pointer to pull MSU back to 41-30, but Colorado kept on rolling.

Kresl hit back-to-back 3-pointers and Lauren Huggins added her first of three second half treys as Colorado led 50-32 with 15:06 remaining.

A 10-2 Missouri State run, aided by five points from Fruendt, closed Colorado's lead to 12 at 56-44 with 8:16 remaining. But Colorado quickly ended that run as Swan converted on a 3-point play, and scored on another fast break bucket, off an alley-oop pass from Smith, that sparked a 20-1 run that gave CU a 76-46 lead to end the Lady Bears' night.

Swan scored 14 points and had eight rebounds. Correal also had personal-best eight rebounds to tie Swan for the team lead. Colorado dominated the glass, outrebounding Missouri State 53-36 and committed a season-low 10 turnovers.

BOULDER – The Colorado Buffaloes starting front court of Jen Reese, Haley Smith and Jamee Swan, combined for 67 of 97 points, and Lexy Kresl scored the game's final six from the free throw line as the Buffs defeated San Jose State in overtime, 97-89, Friday morning at the Coors Events Center.

Swan (26 points, 11 rebounds) and Smith (24 points, 12 rebounds) both had double-doubles and Reese just missed one (17 points, 9 rebounds).

The Buffs (6-1) jumped out to a quick 9-0 lead in the first four minutes of the game, as the Spartans didn't get on the scoreboard until Ta'Rea Cunnigan hit a 3-pointer at the 15:52 mark. Smith hit the game's first shot and had two free throws to end that 9-0 run.

After the Spartans Rachol West hit a jumper, was fouled and hit her free throw, the Buffs lead was down to five at 11-6. Lauren Huggins, who hit all four of her 3-pointers in the first half, knocked down her first triple and along with a Reese jumper and two free throws from Swan, the Buffs lead grew to 18-9.

Zoe Beard-Falls had a nice post-to-post dish to Reese under the basket, and then hit a lay-up of her own to push the Buffs lead to double figures at 22-11, after which the game remained pretty even for most of the rest of the first half.

Huggins hit her second, third and fourth 3-pointers in a span of three minutes on the game clock, each alternating with a lay-up from Swan, as the Buffs led 35-25 with 7:25 left in the first half. Huggins final 3-pointer was matched by a 3-pointer from Cunnigan to cut the Buffs lead to seven, but then Smith followed a mid-range jumper with a 3-pointer in the span of 12 seconds to push the Buffs lead back to 12 at 40-28.

After a pair of Swan layups and another jumper from Swan, the Buffs led 46-36 with 3:34 remaining in the half. The Spartans used a 10-4 run to cut the Buffs lead to just four at the break, 50-46, powered by 3-pointers from Rebecca Woodberry and Ali Bettencourt.

Woodberry then became a thorn in the Buffs side, as she scored eight straight points to give the Spartans their first lead of the game at 58-56. That lead was short-lived, as Jasmine Sborov hit a triple to put the Buffs back up 59-58.

The Spartans used a 6-0 run to take a five point lead, 64-59 and led 69-63 after a Bettencourt 3, the Buffs would claw their way back into the game on the strength of Swan and Smith. Those two combined for 13 of the first 14 points in a 14-2 run as the Buffs turned their six point deficit into a six point advantage with five minutes left in regulation. Swan hit three lay-ups and three free throws in the run while Smith had a baseline jumper and nice reverse lay-up. Swan also took a huge charge on the defensive end to keep the game tied 71-71 in the midst of that run.

Woodberry then went back to work, hitting four straight free throws on back-to-back possessions to cut the Buffs lead down to two at 77-75. Riana Byrd made it a one-point game hitting 1-of-2 from the line before Brecca Thomas hit her only shot of the game, a huge 3-pointer to put the Buffs up 80-76 with 3:34 left.

Reese then had a layup on the Buffs next possession and with a 82-76 lead with less than three minutes left, the Buffs looked to be in good shape, but the Spartans had one more run in them, outscoring the Buffs 9-3 down the stretch, capped by a Cunnigan layup with just 3:0 seconds left, that tied the game at 85-85. Woodberry continued to hurt the Buffs, knocking down two free throws and hitting a 3-pointer with 1:54 left that made it a two point game.

San Jose State took the initial overtime lead after Byrd hit a layup to open the period, but the Buffs then took control as Smith hit two jumpers and Swan another to give the Buffs a 91-87 lead three-and-a-half minutes into the extra period.

Smith quickly tied the game at 87-87 less than a minute into overtime, then Swan completed a great post move that started that the high post and included a nifty spin move to put the Buffs up for the final time at 89-87. The Buffs then bucked down on the defensive end and controlled the boards for the next three possessions. After Lappe called a timeout with 1:42 left, the next play to Smith, including a pump fake, she dribbled once, hit her shot to put CU up 91-87 with 1:34 left.

After Cunnigan hit two free throws at the 1:26 mark, Kresl went to work, first drawing a foul and hitting two freebies at the 1:12 mark and then grabbing huge defensive rebounds and being fouled immediately. Her third and fourth free throws came with just 31 seconds left, making it 95-89, and her final two with just 16 seconds left, making the game 97-89.

IOWA CITY, Iowa – Despite a career afternoon from senior Jasmine Sborov, Colorado endured its lowest offensive output of the season and struggled to make key stops when they were needed as No. 22/19 Iowa defeated the Buffaloes 78-63 Sunday afternoon at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Sborov led Colorado (6-2) with career-highs in points (17) and rebounds (12) for her second career double-double.

"Defensively, we have to get tougher," head coach Linda Lappe said. "We can't give up 78 points on the road and expect to win."

The Buffaloes did some things well and showed they could play toe-to-toe with the Hawkeyes. CU dominated on the boards by a count of 53-36, and 23 offensive rebounds led to some extra possessions and trips to the foul line that kept the Buffaloes close.

However, persistent foul trouble, and key lapses at the beginning of the first half, and start of the second, allowed Iowa (7-2) to build a double-digit lead and maintain that margin to stay unbeaten at home in 2014 (6-0).

Haley Smith, coming off a 24-point performance, looked to get on track early once again hitting two of her first three shots as CU took a 6-4 lead. But she picked up two fouls in six seconds just one minute later forcing the Buffaloes to go to their bench early. She would be limited to eight points hitting just 4-of-12.

Melissa Dixon, who led Iowa with a game-high 23 points, hit her first of five 3-pointers to spark a 6-0 Hawkeyes run and a 10-6 lead.

Sborov, who crashed the boards hard from the beginning, answered with a 6-0 run of her own. First she got a rebound off her own free throw miss and eased in for a layup to end Iowa's run. Then the senior put the Buffaloes up 12-10 as she took a handoff from Zoe Beard-Falls at the elbow and scored on traffic, converting on a 3-point layup.

The game pace picked up from there. After Iowa retook the lead, Colorado briefly took it back when freshman Alina Hartmann hit a 3-pointer in transition. The Hawkeyes responded with an almost identical shot of their own. Dixon's second 3-pointer was followed by one from Ally Disterhoft which sparked a 10-2 run that gave Iowa a 24-17 edge.

Colorado's ability to get offensive rebounds extended possessions that allowed the Buffaloes to chisel away at the Hawkeyes. Beard-Falls converted a 3-point play to cut the lead to four. Sborov was then fouled on another offensive rebound and hit two free throws to trim Iowa's lead to 25-23.

After a Disterhoft basket and Iowa with the ball after a foul, Lexy Kresl stole the ball from Claire Till and found Lauren Huggins for a transition 3-pointer that cut the Iowa lead to 27-26 with 3:39 left.

Dixon's third 3-pointer sparked an 8-2 run for Iowa to end the half. Iowa point guard Samantha Logic, who had been held scoreless, secured an offensive rebound and banked in a short jumper at the buzzer for a 35-28 Iowa lead.

Iowa kept rolling early in the second half. The Hawkeyes hit 4-of-7 out of the gate and even had the ball bounce their way a few times. Disterhoft missed a free throw but Whitney Jennings was able to get the rare offensive rebound and put it in for a double-digit Iowa lead.

Smith scored her first basket since early in the second half to make it a 47-38 game. The Buffaloes were able to force a Jennings miss, but during a mad scramble for the rebound, Till corralled the ball from her knees and pitched out to Dixon for her fourth 3-pointer as the lead quickly went back to double-digits.

"Give Iowa a lot of credit," Lappe said. "I thought their spurt to end the first half and at the beginning of the second half was the difference in the game."

Jen Reese scored all 14 of her points in the second half. Even when it seemed she was about to get going, scoring on Colorado's first two second half possessions, she was hit with two quick fouls that gave her four total with nearly 18 minutes remaining.

Iowa built its lead to 15 at 59-44 with 8:39 left, but the Buffaloes put up a good fight to end the game. Reese reentered and scored six straight for Colorado to cut the Hawkeye lead to 61-52. But by this time, with nearly everyone in some sort of foul trouble, Iowa attacked. Back-to-back layups by Dixon and Kali Peschel had Iowa running back out to an 18-point advantage with 4:31 left.

To their credit, the Buffaloes never quit. Down 72-54, Colorado began to press. The Buffaloes forced two turnovers helping a 9-0 run led by five straight from Sborov. Iowa figured out the press and hit free throws for the final margin.

BOULDER – If Jen Reese was the starter, Jamee Swan was the closer – and for Swan the role was unconventional. Out of the starting lineup for the first time this season, Swan bounded off the bench to score 16 second-half points and help push Colorado past Wyoming 76-71 on Sunday afternoon.

“Wyoming is always really tough...it’s always a great game,” said CU coach Linda Lappe. “It was a great way to go into the holiday break.”

The Buffs and Swan saved most of their excitement and energy for the game’s final 10 minutes. After Reese scored CU’s first 10 points and kept the home team close at intermission – the Cowgirls led 42-41 – Swan helped reenergize the Buffs when they needed it most.

Trailing by eight points twice in the last 14:30, the Buffs launched a 10-1 run that took them from a 58-50 deficit to a 60-59 lead with 5:52 left. A couple of hustle plays and back-to-back baskets by senior Jasmine Sborov and a short banker by Alina Hartmann gave CU its first lead since 41-40.

Hartmann’s basket came off an acrobatic falling-out-of-bounds assist from Swan, who also had four rebounds, one block and two steals. Up 60-59, the Buffs built a 69-65 lead as Swan scored the next seven points. Then she put a ribbon on the win with three of four free throws in the final 13 seconds.

In addition to Swan’s 16 points and Reese’s 15, CU got double-figure production from Sborov (11) and Haley Smith (10). Guard Marquelle Dent, one of four Coloradans in Wyoming’s starting lineup, led the Cowgirls (5-5) with 24 points. Kayla Woodward added 22, hitting five of her seven 3-point attempts, and Kaitlyn Mileto contributed 11 points.

Both Reese, who finished 7-of-13 from the field, and Swan said the energy created by CU’s bench factored significantly in the comeback. Reese pointed specifically to Swan as being high-voltage: “When (she) comes in and takes that charge and makes that face, screaming, I get excited and almost have a heart attack...our energy on the bench was great that game and that really helped.”

The Buffs trailed 42-41 at halftime after Dent hit a layup and left CU with a 6-second final possession. The Buffs couldn’t convert and had to be satisfied with their one-point deficit.

Neither team led by more than four points in the opening half, with CU managing a 12-8 lead on two of three free throws by Thomas with 13:52 before intermission. Reese finished the first half with a team-best 13 points, hitting six of nine from the field as CU shot a season-high 57.7 percent (15-for-26).

Opening the second half with a 13-6 run, Wyoming extended its lead to a game-high eight points, going ahead 55-47 on a put-back by Jordan Sibrel with just over 13 minutes remaining.

At the half’s mid-way point, CU still trailed by eight and found itself trading baskets – not a good way to catch up – until Reese and Swan hit back-to-back jump shots to cut Wyoming’s lead to 59-54.

The Buffs were reenergized and rolling. Back-to-back jump shots by Sborov and Hartmann’s short banker completed CU’s 10-1 run. A one-point lead was exchanged until Swan scored on a smooth pivot move to send the Buffs up 64-62, then collected a defensive rebound at the other end, then connected on two free throws to put CU ahead 66-62 with 2:55 left.

A Woodward try brought the Cowgirls to within 66-65, but Swan’s conventional three-point play with 1:40 remaining pushed the Buffs up 69-65. After Dent cut it to 69-67, Sborov hit a pair of free throws to restore CU’s four-point advantage (71-67).

Smith and Sborov hit one free throw each in the final minute but Dent answered with field goals each time and brought Wyoming to within 73-71 with 30.5 seconds to play – and the Cowgirls had the ball.

Coming out of a time out, Dent missed a chance to tie and Swan was fouled after snaring the rebound. She made three of four free throws in the final 13 seconds and the Buffs finally could relax.

BOULDER – ‘Tis the season, but the Colorado women’s basketball team might have taken this ‘better-to-give’ thing a bit too far. CU gave, gave and gave some more Tuesday night, offering up 22 points off of 25 turnovers to Long Beach State, which was no doubt appreciative and left the Coors Events Center with a 62-56 win.

In spite of themselves and their ill-timed generosity, the Buffaloes (7-4) didn’t go quietly. They cut a 13-point second-half deficit to two before faltering in the final 5 minutes, allowing the 49ers (13-1) to win their 11th consecutive game.

“Give Long Beach State a lot of credit,” said CU coach Linda Lappe. “They’re 13-1 for a reason...they’re tough and they make plays when they need to. We turned the ball over way too many times, there were too many possessions when we didn’t even get a shot.”

CU got a double-double (15 points, 15 rebounds) from Jamee Swan and a career-high 14 points from Zoe Beard-Fails, who also contributed eight rebounds as the Buffs won the board battle 50-26.

“We knew that we would have an advantage in the post,” Lappe said. “And both Zoe and Jamee have been playing really well. I thought their energy, and toughness were two things that they brought.”

Beard-Fails scored the Buffs’ first 6 points and 8 of their first 15. While she hit four of her six shots during that span, her teammates could hit only 3 of 14 field goal attempts. Swan added six first-half points, doing the majority of her scoring after intermission.

With 12:09 left and trailing 45-32, the Buffs had committed 23 of their final turnover total. Making matters (and the score) worse, they had hit only 2 of 10 from the field.

But CU settled down. A technical foul on Devin Hudson resulted in two free throws from Jen Reese and launched a 14-3 run that pulled the Buffs to within 48-46 on another pair of Reese foul shots with 5:02 left. Reese hit seven of her eight free throw attempts, but she was only 1-of-8 from the field.

During its comeback, CU stymied Long Beach with a 3-2 zone, resulting in the 49ers shooting 2-for-12 from the field. But in the final 5 minutes, the Buffs could creep no closer than two points. The 49ers increased their lead to as many as nine points (61-52) and left Boulder with their 11th consecutive win.

Giving up 13 points off of 14 first-half turnovers, the Buffs sabotaged themselves time and again in trying to cope with the 49ers frequently changing defense. Still, CU trailed only by two points (28-26) at the break after leading for the first 11:30.

The Buffs led by as many as five points (9-4) early, but Long Beach caught up and passed the home team on a pair of 3-pointers by Hallie Meness. Her first try tied the score at 15-15 and her second gave the 49ers their first lead of the night at 18-15 with just over 8 minutes left before intermission.

From there, the Buffs managed only one more first-half lead, going up 19-18 on a put-back by Swan. The 49ers took advantage of six Buffs turnovers and a 3-48 CU drought to go up 24-19. The Buffs eventually fell behind 28-22, but closed the half with a 4-0 run and closed to within a basket at the half. The teams’ 54 combined first-half points was the second-lowest of the season in a CU contest, trailing the 51 in the Colorado State game.

Meanwhile, the 49ers’ leading scorer, Raven Benton (11.7 ppg), went to the bench with two personal fouls at the 10:01 mark and remained seated for the rest of the half. After starting the second half, Benton again went to the bench only 3 minutes in after hurting a knee on a breakthrough layup attempt that she missed.

Once again, the 49ers didn’t suffer greatly with Benton temporarily sidelined. They opened the second half with a 15-2 run and took the first of two 13-point lead – 43-30. CU finally got a layup from Swan to stop a 12-0 Long Beach surge, but by then the 49ers were in command and the Buffs were still struggling to protect the ball.

BERKELEY, Calif. – California's inside game was too much to handle as the Golden Bears defeated Colorado 75-59 in a Pac-12 Conference game Monday evening at Haas Pavilion in Berkeley.

California scored 52 points inside the paint, mostly to the benefit of leading scorer Reshanda Gray who had 17 points and 10 rebounds.

Jamee Swan led Colorado with 21 points and five rebounds. Jen Reese pitched in 15 points on 6-of-12 shooting with eight rebounds.

The Golden Bears also took advantage of 23 Colorado turnovers, accounting for 21 points.

Cal's Brittany Boyd had 19 points, 14 rebounds, seven steals and six assists.

California continually pounded the ball inside to the 6-foot, 3-inch Gray, and despite her low field goal numbers – she made just 4-of-12 from the field – it was effective as she continually made it to the foul line, hitting 9-of-16.

When Colorado could get stops, they struggled to score. The Buffaloes shot just 37 percent and fell victim to California's ability to run off a defensive rebound, resulting in 20 fast break points. Boyd controlled that tempo as she was just three steals and four assists shy of a quadruple double.

"(Especially in the second half) they pounded it inside and we didn't have an answer," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "We didn't have an answer down low, we didn't have an answer for their layups in transition. We'll regroup and get back into it."

California never trailed. After Reese hit her first two shots to tie the game at 4-4, Cal scored the next eight. Jasmine Sborov got aggressive for the Buffaloes, darting to the rim on consecutive layups to slice the Bears lead in half.

Following a Boyd jumper, Reese connected on her third 3-pointer of the season and Swan scored on a fast break bucket to pull the Buffaloes within one (14-13), with 10:54 remaining.

California responded with three straight buckets in the paint and led 20-13. The Buffaloes fought back to make it a 1-point game again as a 6-0 run ending with a Haley Smith field goal made it a 20-19 game at the 7:36 mark.

While Swan and Reese accounted for most of Colorado's points, Boyd was able to get everyone involved. Penina Davidson drilled a 3-pointer, Gabby Green and Justine Hartman added points as a 13-2 run late in the first allowed the Bears a 10-point halftime lead (33-23).

"We did some good things in the first half," Lappe said. "But it went down from there. We have to be ready to play."

Swan and Reese started the second half with layups and Brecca Thomas hit a 3-pointer to cut the Cal lead to 37-30, four minutes in. But the Buffs missed their next five shots which allowed Cal a 6-0 run over 2:13 to take a 43-30 advantage.

Gray made four straight free throws and Boyd scored on a runner in the lane to put Cal up 49-35. Swan scored consecutive baskets on nice post moves to bring the deficit to 10 one more time.

Mikayla Cowling scored four straight points and Boyd pitched in the next five as Cal went on an 11-2 run to put the game out of reach.

"(Cal) made us turn over the ball more than we wanted to," Reese said. "We didn't play together for a 40 minutes. We had spurts where we did, but spurts where we didn't and we can't do that."

BOULDER – If the Colorado women's basketball team was counting on the rigors of the road rattling Southern California, it didn't happen. Leaving LA for the first time in a month – or in eight games – the Trojans made themselves at home Friday night in the Coors Events Center, but with lots of unwarranted hospitality from the Buffaloes.

Getting 22 points from 21 CU turnovers, USC rolled to an 81-61 Pac-12 Conference win.

The Buffs committed 11 of their turnovers in the first half, digging themselves an early hole with a very narrow escape route. CU (7-7, 0-3) never found it, losing its fourth consecutive game and its sixth of the past seven. The Buffs trailed by as many as 19 points late in the first half and were never able to pull closer than 9 points in the second half.

Entering Friday night, the Trojans (10-5, 2-2) had lost three of their past four games, including a split with the Oregon schools in the Pac-12's opening weekend.

"I thought we did some really good things," CU coach Linda Lappe said, "but we didn't start off well (and) it didn't seem like we could ever catch up... but give USC credit, they came in here with a lot of confidence and played hard."

Lappe said her team, which faces UCLA on Sunday at the CEC (2 p.m., Pac-12 Network), "just has to regroup and keep getting better, come to work every day... I feel like we have gotten better but if you look at one stat, it's the turnovers."

"We have to tighten up defensively, but offensively if we take care of the ball (Friday night) it's a totally different game at halftime."

The Buffs trailed 40-27 at intermission, but it took a 6-0 run to close the half to get them that close. And that run could have been 8-0 had Jamee Swan and Jasmine Sborov converted free throws for three-point plays.

But the Buffs couldn't complain, less than a minute earlier they trailed 40-21 with that 19-point deficit marking their largest at home this season. It surpassed the 14-point deficit they faced against Colorado State in the Omni Hotels Classic.

The Buffs rallied to win that one 87-81 in double overtime, but to duplicate that – OT or not – against the Trojans would be difficult.

For starters, CU's turnovers would have to decrease. Of the Buffs' 11 first-half turnovers, four came in the first 4:03. The Trojans got 14 first-half points off of the home team's errors, then eight more in the second as a result of the Buffs' 10 turnovers. The 11 first-half errors were largely responsible for CU failing to score on consecutive possessions until the 6-0 run to close the half.

Meanwhile, CU got only eight points from USC's eight miscues in 40 minutes.

Guard Lexy Kresl said the Buffs can combat their turnover epidemic by "having confidence, handling the ball and handling the pressure... we just have to attack, when you're not aggressive you make more mistakes."

Added Lappe: "It's not that we're bad ball handlers, it's just making the right reads and the right passes."

CU shot 41.9 percent (13-for-31) from the field in the first 20 minutes and the Trojans weren't astoundingly better, hitting 43.2 percent (16-of-37). It merely underscored CU's need to take better care of the ball in the second half, it happened for a while but not consistently enough for the Buffs to catch up.

USC finished the night shooting 42.9 percent (27-of-63) while CU checked out at 44.3 percent (27-of-61). And that takes the Buffs back to the turnovers that ultimately cost them the game.

Three Buffs scored in double figures, topped by Swan's 14 points. Jen Reese added 13 and Sborov 10. The Trojans got 20 points each from Alexyz Vioioletama and McKenzie Calvert, and 17 from Brianna Barrett.

USC's aggressiveness in getting to the basket was obvious. The Trojans attempted 31 free throws, making 23, while the Buffs went 8-for-11 from the foul line.

"Yeah," said Lappe, "I think we can be more aggressive in getting to the rim."

Opening the second half with a conventional three-point play from Swan, the Buffs trimmed the Trojans' lead to 40-30. But it took nearly 8 minutes before they finally cut USC's lead to single digits. Lauren Huggins hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key to pull CU to within nine points (56-47) with 12:17 to play.

But that was as close as the Buffs could get. The Trojans responded with five quick points, rebuilt a 14-point lead (61-47) and led by as many as 20 in the final minute.

BOULDER – The Colorado women's basketball team had never opened conference play – any conference play – with five consecutive losses. It required an extra 5 minutes and stellar free throw shooting, but the resilient Buffs avoided that historical blemish with a 77-72 overtime escape against Utah Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

CU (8-8, 1-4) broke a five-game losing streak and earned its first Pac-12 Conference win of 2015.

"It feels good to get that one," added Buffs coach Linda Lappe. "I liked how our team came out tonight."

That would be bold and aggressive, but the Utes (6-10, 0-5) didn't rattle or roll over. Rallying from an eight-point second-half deficit to tie the score at 63-63 with 1:23 to play, they forced the Buffs into their fourth overtime this season – the most in program history. CU is 3-1 in those games.

The Utes held a 41-32 rebound advantage and outscored the Buffs 42-16 in the paint. But in OT, CU showed the same determination it discovered in a Sunday loss to UCLA and didn't falter.

Two minutes into the extra period, freshman Joeseta Fatusi hit a 3-pointer for Utah's first lead – 68-67 – since 9-7. The teams traded one-point leads until Jen Reese, Lexy Kresl, Jasmine Sborov and Haley Smith hit eight of 10 free throws in the final 1:33 to seal CU's win.

"We were comfortable going into overtime – we've been in a lot of them -- although we could have won it in regulation," Lappe said. "But we made enough plays down the stretch (in OT)."

Making those plays led to Utes fouls and to Buffs free throws. CU made 31 of 40 attempts for the night, but went 10-of-13 in the overtime. Smith was perfect in the extra period – 4-for-4 – and for the night – 11-for-11. Kresl canned 11 of her 16 foul shot tries and finished with a career-high 26 points.

Smith added 15 and freshman Brecca Thomas scored a career-high 11 points. Thomas was one of three freshmen – Zoe Correal and Alina Hartmann were the other pair – who aided in the Buffs' bench productivity. CU's subs outscored Utah's 18-6.

Up by a point with 3:04 left before intermission, the Buffs closed out the half with an 8-2 run and took a 38-31 lead to their locker room. It was their largest advantage of the first half, and they never trailed after the 15-minute mark when the Utes forged a 9-9 tie.

Kresl scored her 10 first-half points in the first 12 minutes, going 3-for-3 from the field and hitting a pair of treys and two of three free throws. But her second personal foul sent her to the bench with 8:12 left in the period and she didn't return.

Also missing court time due to a pair of quick fouls was Jamee Swan, who played only 6 minutes and scored three first-half points (seven total). And Reese, coming off a career-high 30 points against UCLA, missed her only three field goal attempts and went to the locker room scoreless. She finished with six points.

Given those circumstances, CU needed bench help – and the subs delivered. Thomas (9), Hartmann (3) and Correal (2) combined for 15 first-half points.

But CU's late first-half momentum didn't spill into the second half. Opening the final 20 minutes with a 6-0 run, Utah crept to 38-37 and forced a Buffs timeout.

Kresl and Sborov hit back-to-back jumpers, putting CU ahead 42-37 with 15:30 remaining. Not quite half a minute later, one of two free throws by Kresl sent the Buffs up 43-37, and when Reese hit a 15-foot jumper for her first points CU finished a 7-0 run and pushed its advantage to eight (45-37).

But Wicijowski and the Utes Utah kept pushing. After her 3-pointer from the top of the key drew them to 52-50, her pair of free throws with 1:23 to play tied the game at 63-63. After a timeout with a minute remaining, the Utes turned the ball over with 38.9 seconds left. CU called timeout, but a traveling call on Kresl ended that possession and left Utah with 26 seconds to win it.

With 15.3 seconds showing, the Utes took a timeout to set their final play. A layup attempt by Danielle Rodriguez missed, the Buffs controlled the rebound and used their last timeout with 1.1 seconds remaining.

A full-court pass by Reese was fielded at the top of the key by Swan, who steered a pass to Smith for a desperation shot from the left corner. It missed and once again the Buffs were headed for OT.

SALT LAKE CITY – The Colorado women's basketball team required overtime to defeat Utah on Wednesday night in Boulder, but on Sunday afternoon no extra time was needed for the Buffaloes to record a memorable road win.

Parlaying torrid 3-point shooting in the second half and skin-tight defense all game on the Utes' Taryn Wicijowski, the Buffaloes took care of business in regulation and left the Huntsman Center with a 73-54 Pac-12 Conference victory.

CU (9-8, 2-4) won for the second time on the road this season and for the first time in Pac-12 play. It was the Buffs' largest conference road win in 12 years -- or since a 71-50 triumph at Kansas in 2003, current CU coach Linda Lappe's senior season.

"We started well and had a lot of energy," Lappe said. "Defensively, I liked our presence. They (Utah) missed shots, and a lot of them we caused by having our hands up and our length."

The Buffs hit eight of their 14 3-point field goal attempts, including going 7-for-11 in the second half. Their final shooting numbers: 44.9 percent from the field, 57.1 percent from beyond the arc. But they hit 63.6 in the final 20 minutes from long range and 57.1 percent from the field overall in the second half.

Just as impressive, though, as the Buffs' marksmanship was their inside defense on Wicijowski, who nearly singlehandedly carried the Utes in their 77-72 OT loss on Wednesday in Boulder.

In that game, Wicijowski led all scorers with 29 points and all rebounders with 14. But four days later, the Buffs had her figured out, she finished with six points -- none in the second half -- and three rebounds -- none in the first half.

"Our spots may not have scored a lot for us (today), but they did a nice job defending," Lappe said. "We talked a lot about how we were going to stop Taryn Wicijowski, she obviously hurt us at our place, we wanted to do some different things on her."

Jamee Swan did a nice job. Zoe Correal did a nice job as well. Just the way that we doubled team, it was there every time, a defender could really count on that double. I think we just caused her (Wicijowski) to think. And anytime you make players think, good things happen for you defensively."

And after scoring a career-high 26 points on Wednesday night, senior Lexy Kresl again found Utah's defense to her liking. She led all scorers Sunday with 18 points, but got help from Haley Smith (11) and Swan (10).

The Buffs also went 13-for-14 from the free throw line, got 17 points off of 12 Utes turnovers and committed just nine themselves. They outrebounded the Utes 36-28, with Jen Reese grabbing a team-high seven boards.

Danielle Rodriguez led Utah with 14 points and was the only Utes player in double figures. Utah was held to 36.7 percent (18-of-49) from the field. The Utes (6-10, 0-6) dropped their sixth consecutive game and now have lost seven of their last nine games.

The Buffs led 27-24 at halftime, taking the lead on a 3-pointer by Kresl with 5 seconds before the buzzer. They were ahead for most of the half, up by as many as five points before encountering a nearly 6-minute scoring drought and committing three of their four first-half turnovers.

The Utes took advantage, going on an 8-0 run and taking a three-point lead before the Buffs righted themselves, caught up and went into intermission ahead.

At the 12:30 mark of the second half, CU opened an eight-point advantage (40-32) then went ahead by double digits (50-40) for the first time on a Kresl layup. Less than a minute later, Jasmine Sborov added a reverse layup for a 52-40 lead -- and with 8:02 to play the Buffs appeared to be reaching a rare comfort zone on the Pac-12 road.

CU increased its advantage to as many as 21 points in the final minute and a half.

 Washington State

PULLMAN, Wash. — Colorado women's basketball played dominant defense for 40 minutes Sunday afternoon, but its offense, turnover-prone all game, failed in the final five. The Buffs blew a late lead for the second consecutive game and fell 73-68 to the Washington State Cougars.

"This is definitely a missed opportunity, two missed opportunities," Colorado coach Linda Lappe said. "There are some definite positives but again we have to be sharper at the end of the game."

Until the end, the Buffs (9-10, 2-6) had the game in hand. They played the best defense they had all year, holding the Cougars (13-6, 4-4) to just 25 percent shooting and 18 percent from deep. Colorado itself shot 50 percent, and got a career-high 28 points from Jamee Swan.

With those numbers, the Buffs losing seemed nigh-impossible. But a combination of turnovers and Washington State's foul shooting gave the Cougars the edge. The Buffs turned the ball over a season-high 27 times and sent Washington State to the line for 39 foul shots, and there the Cougars shot 84 percent.

Nearly all of Washington State's offense came from the line. The Cougars missed nearly as many shots (52) as Colorado attempted (56). The few field goals that they did hit were costly — eight of their 18 makes came off of their 20 offensive rebounds.

"We didn't get any offensive rebounds in the last eight minutes of the game," Lappe said. "So really, it comes down to rebounding and turnovers. It's hard to win a game where you give a team 14 extra shots and they shoot 39 free throws."

CU rolled early, and its defense was stifling. The Buffs packed the paint and forced the Cougars into jump shots, and their slump never broke. Washington State's shooting numbers were ghastly — guards Lia Galdeira and Tia Presley were a combined 10-of-34, forwards Taylor Edmondson and Mariah Cooks 6-of-19. But Galdeira got 12 of her team-high 27 points at the free-throw line. Presley was perfect on her seven attempts from the stripe, Cooks was 9-of-10.

Cooks in particular hurt the Buffs late, she was a perfect 8-of-8 at the line in the second half.

Swan almost did enough on her own to give the Buffs the victory. She paced CU all game, and no Cougar could guard her one-on-one. She unleashed her full arsenal of post moves — spins, hooks, drop steps — and chipped in seven rebounds. Lexy Kresl continued her strong shooting stretch with 15 points on an efficient 5-of-8 shooting, and her eight boards led the team. But she was also responsible for seven turnovers.

The Cougars scored 25 points off of those 27 turnovers, the damage would have been much worse if not for Colorado's suffocating defense. But those were 27 possessions that the hot-shooting Buffs didn't finish with a shot, 27 possessions without Swan finishing a post-up or Jen Reese launching from midrange.

Reese didn't have her best game — her jumper was not early, but she finished with just nine points on 4-of-10 shooting. Still, Colorado led by as much as 12 in the second half and seemed poised at any minute to run away. The turnovers, though, gave the Cougars a lifeline they were more than happy to grab.

It all coalesced in one calamitous stretch with four minutes left. With Colorado nursing a 65-60 lead, Jasmine Sborov turned the ball over to Galdeira, then fouled her. It was Sborov's fifth foul, so she was gone, and Lappe vigorously argued the call with the ref, who assessed the coach a technical foul. That gave Galdeira four free throws, and she nailed them all. Two more foul shots from Louise Brown gave the Cougars a lead they wouldn't relinquish.

Washington State closed the game on a 16-3 run despite making just 1-of-7 field goals in that stretch. The Cougars finally started double-teaming Swan, and Colorado couldn't find offense from anyone else.

The Buffs have a shot at revenge in Boulder on February 13.

BOULDER — Despite another late push and rally from a second half deficit, the University of Colorado women's basketball lost 68-60 Friday night to No. 11 Arizona State.

It was the third straight close loss for the Buffs (9-11, 2-7), the third straight heartbreaker that just slipped away. "We keep playing better and better," Colorado head coach Linda Lappe said. "I liked how hard we played tonight. It was the hardest that we played all season long. We had a shot to win it. They made a few more plays down the stretch."

Lappe and her players were visibly frustrated after the game — they lost despite 18 points from Lexy Kresl, despite another double-double from Jamee Swan, despite committing only 12 turnovers.

"We did a fantastic job on the glass and a fantastic job taking care of the basketball," Lappe said. "Those were the two things we talked about a lot this week."

Still, the Buffs struggled to find good looks against Arizona State's defense, and 15 points each from the Sun Devils' Sophie Brunner and Katie Hempen were enough to push them over the top.

The Buffs could not do much of anything in the first half against the Sun Devils' Pac-12-leading defense, shooting just 28 percent. Arizona State (19-2, 8-1) pressed after makes and Colorado had to work hard to advance the ball against the Sun Devils' athletic guards.

Arizona State stifled the Buffs' half-court sets, too — the Sun Devils' bigs snuffed out Colorado's pick-and-rolls with solid hedges and timely double teams. Arizona State consistently denied the Buffs the middle of the floor.

Swan was the only Buff who shot efficiently in the first half. She continued her hot streak from last weekend, she made 2-of-2 and pulled down eight boards while the rest of the team shot 5-for-23.

Colorado stayed close because Arizona State was nearly as sloppy — the Sun Devils hit just 36 percent of their shots and committed seven turnovers.

The Buffs went to the locker room trailing by only seven points (30-23) and they started the second half hot. Swan continued to get easy looks off of offensive rebounds and Kresl heated up after scoring only five points in the first half.

But Hempen got hot after a quiet first half, too — the Sun Devils' leading scorer is a streaky shooter, and she turned up only briefly, but she nailed two deep, contested threes that each dampened Colorado's burgeoning rally.

The Buffs also struggled to contain Promise Amukamara, who repeatedly foiled her defenders with quick drives and a nasty crossover. Arizona State's lead grew to as large as 13 points, and the Sun Devils were up by 10 when Colorado lost Swan for the rest of the game with an ankle injury.

Swan skied for another offensive rebound with a little more than eight minutes remaining and rolled her left ankle when she landed. She lay in pain on the court for more than a minute and could put little weight on the ankle when she was helped off the court, she is listed as day-to-day.

"Anytime someone gets hurt you pick it up for them and play in honor of them," Kresl said. "She was in pain and we felt we needed to come together for her."

Come together they did — the Buffs went on an 18-11 run after Swan's injury and cut the Arizona State lead to three points at 61-58 with 2:35 left in the game. Colorado got a three from Brecca Thomas, an and-one from Jen Reese (who shot just 2-of-7 and scored only nine points in an otherwise quiet night), and Kresl started aggressively driving and finishing at the rim.

Just when the Buffs were in striking distance, though, the Sun Devils pulled away. Brunner hit a layup and then forward Kelsey Moos hit a rare three to put the game out of reach.

LOS ANGELES – The Colorado women's basketball team rallied from a 16-point second-half deficit and even took a pair of late one-point leads Friday night against UCLA. But the comeback was in vain, the Buffs couldn't close out the Bruins and lost 72-65 at Pauley Pavilion.

The Buffs used a 20-6 run to overtake the Bruins 61-60 on a three-point play by Jasmine Sborov for their first lead of the game with 3:12 remaining.

CU (10-12 overall, 3-8 Pac-12) led again 63-62 on a pair of Lexy Kresl free throws with 2:30 left, but UCLA (9-13, 5-6) took advantage of four late turnovers and finished with a 10-2 run to finish the Buffs.

The Buffs committed 28 turnovers, 18 of them in the first half as the Bruins led by as many as 17 points before a 7-2 run cut CU's halftime deficit to 34-22. The Buffs battled from behind all night, falling behind 11-0 in the first 4 minutes.

With their 90-84 win in Boulder on Jan. 11, the Bruins swept the Buffs after losing three games to CU last season. Those three CU wins had tied the series at 5-5, including 3-3 in Pac-12 play.

Jamee Swan led the Buffs with 17 points, with Kresl adding 13 and Sborov 11. Jen Reese, who scored a career-high 30 points in the first meeting, was held to four points Friday night. She hit two free throws with 5:10 to play and didn't make her first field goal until 47 seconds remained.

Nirra Fields scored 24 points for the Bruins. Monique Billings added 14 and Jordyn Canada 12.

The Buffs turned on themselves early, committing four turnovers in less than 5 minutes and quickly falling behind 11-0. By the first half's halfway point they had committed 10 turnovers and trailed 17-5, finally getting a put-back by Zoe Correal at the 14:32 mark and a 3-pointer by Kresl two possessions later.

But the error epidemic didn't subside. By halftime CU had committed 18 turnovers that led to 18 UCLA points and a 34-22 Bruins lead. The Buffs entered the night averaging 17 turnovers a game, so with 20 minutes remaining ball-handling and mental perfection would be needed to head off a truly embarrassing outing.

Neither team's first-half shooting was close to stellar. After opening 0-for-7, CU finished the half 10-for-29 (34 percent) while UCLA was 13-for-37 (35 percent). The Bruins also got 10 second-chance points to the Buffs' zero and finished the game with an 18-15 edge in that category.

CU shot 42 percent (23-of-55) for the game while UCLA was at 38 percent (35-of-66).

If CU was to stage a second-half comeback, it would have to start with being more careful with the basketball. The Buffs were, and they slowly began to climb back into the game.

Lauren Huggins hit three consecutive 3-pointers to start the Buffs on their comeback, cutting a 16-point Bruins lead to 8 (45-37). From there, CU kept applying the defensive pressure while Swan and Sborov supplied most of the offensive work in the Buffs' 20-6 run.

After Kresl's two free throws gave CU a 63-62 lead, a chance to pad that advantage disappeared when she turned it over. It was the first of four turnovers in five possessions, leading to the Bruins' 10-2 run to finish the night.

LOS ANGELES – The Colorado women's basketball team had a sloppy week of practice leading up to its Los Angeles road trip, and it showed for the second game in a row as the Buffs departed for the City of Angels with a 66-51 Pac-12 loss Sunday afternoon to the USC Trojans.

Colorado coach Linda Lappe summed it up succinctly: "We were uncomfortable the whole game."

Jamee Swan paced Colorado (10-13, 3-9) with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Lexy Kresl also scored 14 points but they were the only Buffs to reach double figures. Entering the game with 994 career points, Kresl's Sunday total put her over the 1,000-point mark (1,008).

Four USC players topped 10 points, led by Kaneisha Horn with 15, seven rebounds and four assists.

Colorado's season-long turnover woes surfaced again against the Trojans (13-10, 5-7) — the Buffs committed 11 turnovers in the first half and 22 for the game after they gave it up the Buffs departed for the City of Angels with a 66-51 Pac-12 loss Sunday afternoon to the USC Trojans.

Those turnovers let USC play the game on its terms. The Trojans are not a good half-court offensive team but they ran off of Colorado's giveaways and got to the paint easily in transition. USC didn't get good looks many other ways — the Trojans scored 22 points off of Buff turnovers but shot only 35 percent for the game.

Colorado's half-court defense was solid, the Buffs switched between man-to-man and zone looks, packed the paint and forced USC into jump shots. The Trojans were inconsistent from midrange and didn't hit a 3-pointer in the first half, so Colorado — despite the turnovers, despite shooting just 32 percent — hung with USC for 20 minutes.

Kresl hit two threes — one from about 25 feet and the one that put her over 1,000 points for her career — to key a 10-0 Buffs run late in the first half. Zoe Beard-Fails shot an efficient 5-of-5 from the foul line, and Swan hit a transition layup that gave Colorado a 23-21 lead going into the break.

The first 10 minutes of the second half, though, were a nightmare for the Buffs. USC's offense came alive for a few possessions and Colorado's simply disappeared. The Buffs turned it over in every conceivable way — post entry passes, stripped dribbles, inbounds plays, dribble handoffs. They committed backcourt violations and illegal screens.

Every Buff turnover led to easy opportunities for the Trojans, and they were too happy to capitalize. Alexyz Violetama, only a 29 percent 3-point shooter, knocked down USC's first two treys as the trailer in transition. She scored 10 points in the second half after going scoreless in the first and pulled down three offensive rebounds.

"We had too many turnovers, which resulted in transition points and we weren't nearly as solid, in the second half, in our half-court defense," Lappe said.

Colorado's only recourse to stop the Trojans in transition was to foul, and that got the Buffs into trouble. Haley Smith fouled out halfway into the second period, and Swan, Jasmine Sborov and Zoe Correal all had their effectiveness limited because of foul trouble.

Even when the Buffs took care of the ball, their shots didn't fall. Jen Reese made her first bucket but never scored again. Sunday was the second straight game, and sixth out of the last eight, that she was held to single digit scoring. Kresl's 14 points came on just 4-of-15 shooting. Lauren Huggins missed her only attempt of the game.

"They were flying at us, trying to make plays on the basketball, and really kept us off of our rhythm on offense," Lappe said.

USC opened the second half on a 23-6 run, and, though the Trojans didn't shoot well after that, they really didn't need to. Colorado never got hot, never got in sync and only briefly narrowed the deficit to single digits.

BOULDER – The Colorado women's basketball team dug itself cavernous first- and second-half holes on Sunday and spent 40 minutes trying to escape. Washington wouldn't allow it and cruised to a 79-67 Pac-12 Conference win at the Coors Events Center.

The Buffaloes (11-14, 4-10) fell behind 16-2 to open the game, trailed 41-28 at halftime and were down by as many as 21 points just under six minutes into the second half. They closed to within 10 with 1:40 remaining, but guard Kelsey Plum hit a 3-pointer to give the Huskies (19-7, 8-6) a 69-56 lead and effectively put the Buffs away.

CU crept to within 10 (75-65) once more on a Lexy Kresl trey in the final 23 seconds, but UW concluded the night at the free throw line and won its fourth straight against the Buffs.

"Well, we pretty much got it handed to us in that game, it pretty much wasn't a game," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we had some decent chances with eight minutes left. I felt like we were in good position down ten, we were finally scoring the basketball and finally getting a few stops. But we just couldn't really figure out a way to cut it down below ten."

Plum, the Pac-12's leading scorer (23.0 ppg), finished with 28 points, including 10-of-10 free throws. Three other Huskies also reached double figures in scoring: Chantel Oshahor with 16 and Aminah Williams and Jazmine Davis with 13 each.

CU, which shot only 35 percent (23-of-65), got 13 points and a game-best 12 rebounds from Jamee Swan while Haley Smith and Jen Reese added 10 points each. Reese also grabbed nine rebounds, while Swan recorded her seventh double-double of the season.

Lappe said the Buffs "had a lot of great looks, especially in the second half. We were executing the offense very well at the start of the second half. We had a lot of layups with second and third chances...we just couldn't convert. I'm not that upset about it, poor shooting nights are going to happen. It's a matter of whether or not you can get stops on the other end when you do have poor shooting nights."

CU played from behind – way behind – for the entire first half. In the first five minutes, they were down 16-2 as the Huskies opened by shooting 60 percent from the field. They finished at a meager 38 percent (20-of-52) but made up for it by hitting 32 of their 37 foul shots. CU was 15-of-21.

UW's lead went to 15 points (21-6) before CU shook itself awake and began the slow climb back. A 7-0 run jump-started the Buffs and helped bring them to within three points – 31-28 – but they got no closer before intermission.

The Huskies closed out the half with a 10-0 run and took a 41-28 lead to their locker room.

Plum, who hit four of her first five shots and all three of her 3-point attempts, finished the half with 17 points. None of her teammates had more than seven points, and none of the Buffs had that many. Kresl and Smith each had six as CU shot only 33 percent (10-for-30).

After expending considerable energy in their first-half comeback, the Buffs didn't need to do it again in the second. But trailing by 13 when the final 20 minutes started, they had little choice. And the hill quickly got steeper.

With Oshahor nailing back-to-back 3-pointers with her quirky set shot, the Huskies outscored the Buffs 14-6 in the second half's first 5:30 and roared ahead 55-34. CU had rallied in the first half – but not from a 21-point deficit.

By the 10-minute mark, the Buffs had cut the deficit to 58-45 on a pair of Lauren Huggins 3-pointers and two free throws by Brecca Thomas. But from there to the final buzzer, 10 points back was as close as they could come.

BOULDER – Before Friday night's game Colorado women's basketball coach Linda Lappe had beseeched her players to attack the No. 7 Oregon State Beavers with a sense of urgency, and for one half the Buffs did. For one half, they looked equal to the Pac-12's best team.

But only for one half. Oregon State erupted after the break and cruised to a 66-44 victory behind 17 points and 10 rebounds from Jamie Weisner and 14 points from Ali Gibson. Jen Reese led the Buffs with 19 points and eight rebounds, but Colorado's offense, despite only 11 turnovers, failed it for much of the night.

"We took them out of their element, but then someone else stepped up," Lappe said. "I really liked the fight of our team. I really like how hard we played and how tough we played defense, especially in the first half."

The Buffs (11-15, 4-11) played one of the best halves of defense they have all season, holding the Beavers (24-2, 14-1) to 33 percent shooting and never letting them get comfortable inside. Oregon State center Ruth Hamblin leads the Pac-12 in field goal percentage, but Jamee Swan blocked Hamblin's first shot and bothered her into a 1-of-4 shooting night.

The Beavers committed 10 first-half turnovers, including multiple travels and backcourt violations. Oregon State rarely plays so sloppily, and much of the Beavers' offense came from the five threes that they made.

"Just being able to turn them into one-on-one players," Lappe said. "I thought our help-side was very good."

Colorado's first-half offense was in little better shape, though — the Buffs shot just 38 percent, and Hamblin's rim protection deterred them from any kind of interior shot. Colorado settled for midrange jumpers early, and bricked its way to a 20-9 deficit.

But Hamblin went to the bench after committing her second foul, and the Buffs attacked. Reese made Colorado's first layup slightly more than 15 minutes into the half, then she and Swan got to the rim at will. They ignited a 17-6 run that Reese capped with a trey to give the Buffs a brief lead before the squads went to halftime deadlocked at 26.

Oregon State has devastated the Pac-12 for a reason, though, and the Beavers began to assert their dominance in the second half. They took better care of the ball — they committed only four turnovers after the break — and their offense turned into the cutting, screening, passing behemoth that carved up every foe it has thus far faced.

The driving lanes that Colorado choked off in the first half were wide open in the second, all but two of Oregon State's 24 points in the paint came in the second half. The Beavers assisted on 11 of their 17 second-half buckets, and if basketball tracked that stat like hockey does they would have had many more — they moved the ball side-to-side before finding open cutters or shooters, and shot 63 percent in the half.

"They're number one in the league for a reason and you can see why," Lappe said. "They have such good balance, they're tough and they shoot the ball well."

The Buffs simply couldn't match that for 40 minutes. Even with Hamblin fighting foul trouble, Colorado struggled to finish inside and outside and everywhere in between. The Buffs shot just 17 percent after halftime, they made just four shots in the second half, hitting just of their last 17 attempts, they didn't hit a three, and Reese went without a make.

"They changed how they were guarding on-ball screens," Lappe said. "They really forced us to take some outside shots. They stayed a lot tighter to Jen, kept somebody pretty much glued to her."

It didn't matter who Oregon State played inside, their bigs warded off every Colorado attack. The Beavers only blocked two shots in the game, but their presence and size were enough as the Buffs scored just two points in the paint in the second half.
