THE SEASON: Colorado finished the 41st season of women's basketball with a 15-17 record, along the way exhibiting an exciting brand of basketball that provided its share of memorable moments.

The Buffaloes had their best overall offensive effort in nearly a decade. Colorado had success scoring inside and out, and by utilizing a balanced attack. The more players involved the better as the Buffaloes had a sparkling record of 15-5 when three or more players scored in double digits.

Colorado averaged nearly 70 points per game and hit the 80-point mark eight times. Three-point efficiency was a strength as the Buffaloes led the Pac-12 and ranked eighth in the nation from beyond the arc at 38.2 percent. That figure ranks as the fifth best in team history and the best overall since 2001-02.

The Buffaloes efficiency from the field wasn't limited to the 3-point arc. Colorado's overall field goal percentage of 42.9 was its best mark since 2003-04 and its 74.8 percent showing from the foul line ranks ninth in the team annals.

Colorado also had its share of nail-biting moments. The season featured a school-record four overtime contests, three of which came in the first seven games, and the sixth double-overtime outing in program history. The Buffaloes had 16 games decided by 10 points or less with half of those coming against Pac-12 Conference opponents.

The Buffaloes embarked on one of the most competitive nonconference schedules in recent memory by participating in the 2014 Preseason WNIT, reaching the quarterfinals and finishing with a 2-1 mark. A consolation round win over Arkansas State sparked a season best five-game win streak which included a road win at Denver and also top honors at the 2014 Omni Hotels Classic.

Colorado won its home holiday classic for the 18th time, and in dramatic fashion. After cruising to a first round win against Missouri State, the Buffaloes had their hands full in the championship against Colorado State. Facing a 14-point second half deficit the Buffaloes fought back to win in double-overtime on the heels of Lexy Kresl who sported a triple-double (12 points, 11 rebounds, 11 assists) en route to Omni Classic MVP honors. Jen Reese also earned All-Tournament honors, registering 26 points and 14 rebounds against the Rams.

Colorado would finish out nonconference play at 7-4, against a schedule that collectively won 60 percent of its games and accounted for eight postseason appearances.

The Buffaloes then entered what would prove to be one of the most competitive Pac-12 seasons in recent years. Five teams would make the NCAA Tournament, the league's most in nine years, plus another two played in the WNIT.

Colorado had a rocky start to conference play dropping its first four, including the season's only meeting with Stanford and California on the road. The Buffaloes regrouped to sweep their home-and-home series with Utah.

After dropping five of its next six, four of which game against postseason teams, Colorado started to gain some momentum for the final stretch run. The Buffaloes put together their best all-around performance to date with a resounding 72-51 win over Washington State. Colorado was also able to celebrate Senior Day in style with an 84-69 win over Oregon.

Having split each of its final three weekends, Colorado finished out the Pac-12 season at 6-12 and in ninth place in the standings. In a season that had its share of highs and lows, the Buffaloes ended with a bang.

As the No. 9 seed in the Pac-12 Tournament, Colorado matched up for a first round game with No. 8 USC. The Trojans swept the season series, winning a pair of games by an average of 18 points. But this was a different Colorado team. The Buffaloes shot 53 percent and controlled the game throughout, taking a 75-63 decision and in the process securing their streak of winning at least one game in each Pac-12 Tournament they've competed in since joining the league in 2011-12.

One night later, Colorado turned the heads of the entire nation, knocking off the top seed and No. 8/9 ranked Oregon State, 68-65 in the quarterfinals. Avenging a 22-point loss in Boulder just two weeks earlier, the Buffaloes became the lowest seed to ever defeat a No. 1 or 2 seed at the Pac-12 Tournament. Kresl scored 19 points and tied a tournament record by hitting 5-of-5 from 3-point range. Jamee Swan registered her eighth double-double of the season with 18 points and 13 rebounds as Colorado advanced to the semifinals for the second time in three years.

The run came to an end in the semifinals as Colorado fell to No. 4 seed California 68-55, in a closely fought game in which the Bears pulled away late.

Junior forward Jamee Swan led Colorado at 13.2 points, 7.9 rebounds and 1.9 blocks per game, earning honorable mention to the coaches All-Pac-12 team. Her 62 blocked shots rank fifth on Colorado's single-season list. She shot 46.7 percent on the season and also led the Buffaloes in free throws made (101) and attempted (141). Swan scored in double-figures a team-best 22 times including six of her last eight and 12 of her last 15. Swan also led the team with eight double-doubles and 10 double-digit rebounding games.

In the Pac-12 Swan ranked second in blocks, fourth in offensive rebounds (3.2 orpg), sixth in overall rebounding, 12th in defensive rebounds (4.8 drpg), 13th in scoring and 15th in field goal percentage.

Senior guard Lexy Kresl was third on the team in overall scoring at 12.4 points per game while pacing Colorado at 4.5 assists and 1.1 steals per outing, joining Swan as an honorable mention Pac-12 pick. She was the team's top 3-point shooter at 40.7 percent (61-of-150). Her 61 3-pointers rank 13th on Colorado's all-time season list while her 134 total assists rank 11th.

Kresl was named to the Pac-12 All-Tournament team as she averaged 14.0 points, 5.0 assists and 4.0 rebounds while hitting 49 percent from the field. On the overall Pac-12 charts Kresl ranked fourth in assists and free-throw percentage (.818), sixth in 3-pointers made (2.0 3mpg), seventh in 3-point percentage, 11th in assist-to-turnover ratio and 19th in scoring.

Senior forward Jen Reese was second in scoring (12.9 ppg), rebounding (6.9 rpg) and field goal percentage (.470). She completed her illustrious playing career as one of only 11 Buffaloes to record 1,200 points and 600 rebounds. Reese recorded double figures in scoring in 21 games including a career and team-season high 30 against UCLA on Jan. 11, the game in which she surpassed 1,000 points in her career.

She finished 2nd in the Pac-12, and 24th in the nation, in overall free throw percentage (.864). Reese topped all Pac-12 players in free throw percentage during conference games hitting 93 percent (40-of-43) and at one point made a team season best 24 straight.

Also on the Pac-12 leaderboard, Reese was ninth in defensive boards (5.3 drpg), 11th in overall rebounding, 12th in field goal percentage and 15th in scoring.

Sophomore guard Haley Smith led Colorado and ranked ninth in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (.472). She hit 88 percent from the line (51-of-58) but fell just below the minimum number of attempts to be ranked on the league leaderboard. That number was good enough though for the ninth best single-season mark in team history (minimum 50 attempts). Smith was third on the team in rebounding (5.4 rpg) and fourth in scoring (9.4 ppg).

Senior guard Jasmine Sborov started all 32 games and averaged 6.5 points and 5.0 rebounds and ranked second on the team in assists with 78. In the win over Oregon she scored 13 points, grabbed a team-best nine rebounds and dished out four assists. Sborov had one of her best all-around games of her career in this season's first game with Arizona scoring 14 points with 11 rebounds and seven assists. It was her third career double-double, the second this season and first ever against a conference opponent. In fact all three numbers, points-rebounds-assists, are personal bests in a Pac-12 game.

Sophomore wing Lauren Huggins was second on the team with 43 3-pointers and hit 38.4 percent from long range, ranking 11th in the Pac-12. She made 14 of her final 28 from 3-point range including 7-of-13 over her final four contests. Sophomore forward Zoe Beard-Fails averaged 3.5 points and 2.7 rebounds and was second on the team in blocked shots with 16. Against Long Beach State she had career highs in points (14), rebounds (8) and field goals made and attempted (7-of-13).

Colorado received help from its freshman class throughout the season. Guard Brecca Thomas led the class in scoring by averaging 3.3 points per game. Forward Zoe Correal was the top rebounder in the group, averaging just over two per game. Correal also hit 55 percent from the field and had 10 blocked shots. Guard Alina Hartmann averaged 2.5 points as a first year Buff and made 45 percent from 3-point range. Center Bri Watts saw spot action in 18 games, including the final six.

POST SEASON FACTS: Colorado, the No. 9 seed at the Pac-12 Tournament, advanced to the semifinals for the second time in three years after its 68-65 upset win over top seed and regular season champion Oregon State in the quarterfinals.

Colorado is now 5-4 all-time at the Pac-12 Tournament. The Buffaloes have won at least one tournament game in each season they've been in the event, but this was the first year with two wins. Colorado reached the 2013 semis after receiving a bye as the No. 4 seed and a quarterfinal win over Washington.

Four of those five wins have come as the lower seed. Overall the Buffaloes are 34-27 in conference tournament games.

Colorado became the lowest seeded team to defeat either a No. 1 or No. 2 seed in the Pac-12 Tournament.

It was the 15th time Colorado has advanced to a conference semi-final, but just the second since 2003.

It was the third time Colorado has defeated a conference tournament No. 1 seed. The other two times happened in the 1992 and 1996 Big Eight Conference championship games, with the Buffaloes defeating No. 1 Kansas both times.

BUFFS TRIO HONORED FOR ACADEMICS BY THE PAC-12: For the third straight season Lexy Kresl has earned a spot on the Pac-12 Conference Women's Basketball All-Academic team. Sophomores Haley Smith and Zoe Beard-Fails received honorable mention.

Kresl's spot on the second of the two exclusive 5-member teams means she made the All-Academic squad each season she was eligible. All-Academic team members must have a 3.0 GPA or better and be either a starter or significant contributor. Kresl was a first team selection in 2014 and a second team honoree in 2013.

A native of Paradise Valley, Ariz., Kresl is an integrative physiology major carrying a 3.56 overall GPA. She aspires to attend Physician Assistant school after graduating in May and to work in pediatrics. Kresl is Colorado's first three-time All-Academic team member since Jackie McFarland earned a trio of All-Big 12 Conference academic honors from 2006-08.

Earlier this winter, she earned a spot on the Capital One All-District 7 Women's Basketball team as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

Smith, a 6-1 sophomore wing from Sammamish, Wash., is a mechanical engineering major with a 3.69 GPA. Beard-Fails, a 6-1 sophomore forward from Herdon, Va., is an advertising major

PERFECT NIGHT AT THE LINE: Colorado hit all 14 free throws in the win over Washington State, the third best total in team history for free throws made without a miss. The Buffaloes hit 74.8 percent from the line on the season, ranking ninth on Colorado's single-season chart. The Buffaloes were even better during the Pac-12 schedule, hitting 77.6 percent. Colorado ranked second in the Pac-12 in free throw shooting both overall and during Pac-12 games.

SBOROV AMONG 'SO YOU WANT TO BE A COACH' CLASS: Senior guard Jasmine Sborov participated in the 13th annual 'So You Want To Be A Coach' program in conjunction with the Women's Basketball Coaches Association National Convention April 3-5 in Tampa, Fla.

The objectives of the "So" program are to increase the understanding and application of skills necessary to secure coaching positions in women's basketball. "So" participants will learn about recruiting, the administrative side to coaching, how to get hired, skill development, the importance of knowing the rules, and how to balance work and life.

Qualified candidates must have exhausted their final year of basketball eligibility at a four-year institution or have graduated within the past year. Each participant is selected based on her academics, contributions to women's basketball on and off the court, professional resume and a written recommendation from their head coach.

Sborov, a native of Round Rock, Texas, has been a vital part of Colorado women's basketball's community service efforts during her career and has participated in a wide variety of events. She was one of nominees for the 2015 AllState WBCA Good Works Team.

She has participated in National Girls and Women In Sports Day and Healthy Kids Day a pair of separate events that promote health and fitness to youth in the community. Last winter, Sborov participated in a fitness activity with Imagine!'s Out and About group. The mission of Imagine! is to create and offer innovative supports to people of all ages with cognitive, developmental, physical, and health related needs so they may live fulfilling lives of independence and quality in their homes and communities. This past summer she dove into the coaching arena, helping with a local AAU girls basketball team.

SMITH PERFECT FROM FREE THROW LINE: Sophomore Haley Smith was a perfect 11-for-11 from the free throw line in the home win over Utah. Both numbers represent career highs for Smith with the 11 free throws made tying for the team season high along with Jen Reese (11-of-13) and Lexy Kresl (11-of-16).

Smith's 11-for-11 outing also ties for Colorado's fourth best single game performance for free throws made with out a miss. She had a string of 20 straight free throws made end with her only attempt at Washington State.

REESE'S TOP FIELD GOAL NIGHT: Senior forward Jen Reese

had a career night with 30 points in the home loss to UCLA on Jan. 11. She made 14-of-19 from the field and the 14 field goals made tie for the third-best single-game total in team history. Reese joins 10 others who have had 14 field goals in a game, most recently by CU's all-time leading scorer Brittany Spears against California in the first round of the 2011 Postseason WNIT.

TWO 1,000 POINT SCORERS: Senior guard Lexy Kresl became the 27th player in team history to reach 1,000 points during her 14-point performance at USC. With classmate Jen Reese hitting the 1,000-point milestone earlier in the season, it marked the first time since 2006-07 that two Buffaloes reached the 1,000-point milestone in the same season: Jackie McFarland (3rd 1,957) and Jasmina Ilic (23rd 1,093).

Reese completed her career in 19th at 1,200 while Kresl finished in 22nd at 1,109.

OFFENSIVE ATTACK: Colorado registered its eighth 80-point game of the season in the win over Oregon on Feb. 22 and fourth during Pac-12 play. The 84 points tied CU's Pac-12 season high which came in the home loss to UCLA (90-84) on Jan. 11. CU scored 82 at Washington, the most for the Buffaloes in a conference road game since an 84-60 win at Nebraska on Feb. 26, 2002. Colorado's number of 80-point games, both overall and in league games, are the most since the 2001-02 season when the Buffaloes had 13 80-point games, five during the Big 12 Conference schedule.

Colorado had solid offensive numbers all season. The Buffaloes ranked No. 8 in the nation in 3-point shooting, and led the Pac-12, at 38.2 percent. That mark also ranks at the fifth-best single-season percentage in school history while CU's 161 3-pointers made ranks seventh. Colorado's 74.8 percent showing from the free throw ranks ninth spot. CU's mark of 42.9 percent from the field is the team's best since 2003-04 (.435).

BACK TO THE BOARDS: Colorado outrebounded, or was even, with 26 of its 32 opponents this season by an average of 5.1 per game; the eighth best margin in team history. The Buffaloes were second the Pac-12 in overall rebounds (41.8 rpg) and defensive boards (29.0 drpg) while ranking fifth in offensive rebounds (12.8 orgp).

Colorado had six games with 50 or more rebounds, including a 52-33 edge in the win over Washington State, its biggest margin in conference plays since holding a plus-25 margin against Arizona (51-26) on Jan. 20, 2013. Colorado had a season-high 60 against San Jose State the program's most since pulling down 60 against Marquette in the first round of the 1994 NCAA Tournament.

KRESL'S DISH: Lexy Kresl recorded the fourth triple-double in team history by scoring 12 points, grabbing 11 rebounds and dishing out 11 assists in the double overtime win over Colorado State on Nov. 29.

Her triple-double was the team's first since Chucky Jeffery recorded the second of her two triple-doubles at Oklahoma State on Mar. 25, 2012 during the Postseason WNIT. Sandy Bean achieved the program's first triple-double against Utah State on Feb. 16, 1979.

For Kresl, both the rebounds and assists figures were career-highs. It was actually her second "double" of the week. Kresl put together her first career double-double in the win over Denver with 10 points and 10 assists.

Nine of her assists in the Denver game came in the first 20 minutes, tying a school record for assists in one half originally set by Whitney

2014-15 Opponents in Bold

Law against Cal State Fullerton on Nov. 18, 2005.

Counting Colorado's prior three triple-doubles, Kresl's points-assists double-double was the 14th in team history and first since Jeffery's triple at OSU (12 points, 12 rebounds, 10 assists).

WORKING OVERTIME: Colorado played in four overtime games, the most in one season in team history. The Buffaloes were 3-1 on the season with the extra session(s) which allowed them to move above .500 in all-time overtime games at 24-23.

2014-15 OVERTIME GAMES

Nov. 17 vs. Western Kentucky (68-68)	L, 78-79
Nov. 29 vs. Colorado State (64-64/74-74)	W, 87-81
Dec. 5 vs. San Jose State (85-85)	W, 97-89
Jan. 11 vs. Utah (63-63)	W, 77-72

The Buffaloes had played three overtime games in one season on four other occasions, most recently in 1995-96. Colorado played in overtime in three of its first seven games marking the first time the Buffaloes had played three during the nonconference schedule. Overall it's the 14 time Colorado has played multiple overtime games in one season.

Colorado played back-to-back overtime games for the first time in team history with the San Jose State and CSU contests. The Buffaloes had two overtimes in a three-game span in February 1988.

The double overtime game with CSU was just the sixth in team history and first since an 84-77 setback to Iowa State on Jan. 13, 2008. Lexy Kresl set a school single game record by playing in 49 minutes against Colorado State. The Buffaloes are 3-3 overall in double overtime games.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS: Colorado has a record of 59-39 since the beginning of the 2012-13 season. Of those 39 losses, 17 have been to ranked teams and 16 of those ranked higher than Colorado at the time the game was played. The Buffaloes have won 55 of their last 77 games against unranked opponents.

The Buffaloes have been dominant in regular season nonconference games under Linda Lappe. Colorado is 48-9 in that stretch since the beginning of the 2010-11 season. The Buffaloes have won 41 of their last 46 regular season nonconference contests. The Buffaloes put together 33 straight nonconference wins from Dec. 30, 2010 through Dec. 12, 2013.

REESE'S PIECES: Senior forward Jen Reese is the 11th player in team history to reach 1,200 points and 600 rebounds in a career.

She reached the 1,000-point milestone during her career-high 30-point effort against UCLA on Jan. 11 and is the 26th player to reach that mark. She completed her career in 19th on CU's career scoring list with 1,200 points.

Reese reached 600 at Washington State and finished 13th on CU's all-time list at 686. She is also 17th in career field goals made with 479.

KRESL SOLID FROM ARC, LINE: Senior guard Lexy Kresl ranks seventh in career 3-pointers made at 185 and is fifth in attempts with 569. Her 40.7 percent mark from 3-point range this season is the 11th best in team history.

She made a 3-pointer in 93 of 125 career games and had 51 contests with two or more buckets from long range and eight with five or more. She tied a Pac-12 Tournament record by hitting a perfect 5-of-5 from 3-point range in the upset win over No. 8/9 Oregon State. That performance also tied her own school record which she shares with former CU standout Jenny Roulier in February 2002.

Kresl also completed her career as one of Colorado's all-time greats from the free throw line. Her career percentage of 83.2 (198-of-238) ranks fourth on the Buffs' all-time list (minimum of 100 attempts).

She hit 84.1 percent from the line in 2013-14 (69-of-82) ranking third in the Pac-12 Conference. Her mark was also good for 19th on Colorado's single-season list.

HUGGINS SHOOTS UP LIST: Sophomore Lauren Huggins, who is second on the team in 3-pointers this season with 43, has moved into 15th place all-time with 83. She is 16th in attempts with 222.

SWAN'S SWATS: Junior forward Jamee Swan ranks second in the Pac-12 in blocked shots at 1.9 per game. She has 62 blocks on the season which ranks fifth on Colorado's single-season charts.

She had three games with five blocks this season, standing as both career and team season highs (Long Beach State, USC and Washington State). Swan had 43 percent of Colorado's blocked shots this season. The Buffaloes total of 144 blocks is the fourth most in one season in team history.

Swan has 126 career blocks ranking sixth on CU's all-time list.

AGAINST RANKED TEAMS: Colorado was 1-5 against ranked opponents in 2014-15. The Buffaloes dropped their first five before knocking off No. 8/9 ranked Oregon State, 68-65, in the quarterfinals of the Pac-12 Tournament on March 6.

That win allowed Colorado to snap 17-game losing streak against ranked teams dating back to a 70-66 decision over No. 8/8 Louisville on Dec. 14, 2012 in Boulder.

Colorado won its first game against a ranked team away from Boulder since a 62-51 win at No. 20/17 Vanderbilt on Dec. 9, 2007. It was Colorado's 15th win over a Top 10 opponent; 14th where the opponent was ranked in the Top 10 in both major polls. The Buffaloes claimed their first win over a Top 10 team away from Boulder since defeating No. 5/5 Stanford in the 2002 NCAA Sweet 16.

Colorado is 63-159 all-time against ranked opponents.

STRONG SCHEDULE: Colorado's 2014-15 schedule ranked as the 26th toughest in the nation based on overall winning percentage as its opponents had a combined record of 403-272 (.597). The Buffaloes' schedule finished fifth in the Pac-12 trailing only UCLA (5th, .644), Stanford (10th, .629), Arizona State (21st, .608) and California (24th, .602).

The Buffaloes schedule had hovered in the 18-28 range throughout the course of the season.

Colorado opened a season with two teams that made the NCAA Tournament the previous year (North Dakota & Western Kentucky) for the first time since 2003-04 when the Buffaloes hosted Old Dominion and Notre Dame in the WBCA Classic. Only twice since then had the Buffaloes even played one team in their first two coming off a trip to the big dance, Loyola-Marymount in 2004-05 (Game 1) and Vanderbilt in 2006-07 (Game 2).

Here's a look where Colorado's nonconference opponents finished:

Total	218-140 (.609)

Eight of 11 participated in postseason play (2 NCAA, 5 WNIT, 1 WBI). Five finished with 20 or more wins, two won their regular season conference championship and two finished as the league's runner up. The 11 teams finished with an average of 19.8 wins.

HOME AT THE CEC: Colorado is traditionally tough at home with a 404-142 all-time record at the Coors Events Center (.740). The Buffaloes finished the regular season 10-7 at the Coors Events Center marking the 26th time in 37 years the team has finished with at least 10 wins at home.

The Buffaloes have enjoyed five undefeated seasons (1980-83, 1992-94) at the CEC.

Colorado has won 28 of its last 42 and 39 of its last 56 at home.

OMNI HOTELS CHAMPS: Colorado won its Omni Hotels Classic championship for the 18th time by defeating Missouri State and Colorado State. The Buffaloes improved to 46-10 all-time in their home holiday classic and won their sixth straight title.

WRAPPING UP THE WNIT: Colorado was 2-1 in the Preseason WNIT advancing to the quarterfinals and picking up a consolation round win. The Buffaloes competed in the season-opening event for the third time and moved to 8-2 all-time in the tournament.

The Buffaloes won the championship in 1995 and also advanced to the semifinals of the 2001 event.

Mississippi State defeated Western Kentucky 88-77 in the championship game. The 2014 Preseason WNIT featured five NCAA Tournament teams from a year ago along with four Postseason WNIT participants, including Colorado.

HARRIS LEAVES TEAM: Sophomore guard Desiree Harris has left the Colorado women's basketball program citing personal reasons.

Harris, who did not appear in a game this year, played in 15 contests as a freshman averaging just a little under five minutes per game. She intends on remaining at the university as a student.

FOR OPENERS: Colorado improved to 36-5 (.878) in all-time season openers and has won the last 15. The Buffaloes started the season with a home game for the 28th time in 41 seasons. Colorado is an outstanding 39-2 (.951) all-time in home openers and has never lost its overall season opener when played at home (28-0).

BUFFS SIGN QUARTET TO NLI's: Monica Burich, Makenzie Ellis, Kennedy Leonard and Alexis Robinson have signed National Letters of Intent to play basketball and continue their education at the University of Colorado in 2015-16 head coach Linda Lappe announced on Wednesday, the first day of the NCAA's early signing period.

Burich, a 6-2 forward, is a strong three-sport athlete for Roseville (Minn.) High School in the Twin Cities area. She averaged 15.5 points, 9 rebounds, 5 assists, 3 steals and 2 blocks as a junior, helping Roseville to a 21-7 record. Burich was first team Class AAAA All-State selection by the Minnesota Girls Basketball Coaches Association. A two-time all-conference selection, Burich has led the Raiders in blocks and steals the last three years, and added rebounds and assists to that resume as a junior.

Leonard, a 5-8 guard from Southlake, Texas, has led Carroll High School to three straight district and regional championships. Leonard averaged 8.4 assists per game in 2013-14, leading Texas and ranking ninth in the country. She was the 2014 District MVP, 2013 District Offensive MVP and the 2012 Newcomer of the Year. Leonard has averaged 12 points, 7 assists, 6 rebounds and 3.5 steals over her first three years.

Ellis, a 6-2 forward from Tulsa, Okla., averaged 12.2 points and 6.6 rebounds as a junior, guiding Booker T. Washington High School to a 22-5 record. She earned honorable mention to the Tulsa World's All-State team – which spans all classifications – as the Hornets fell just one game short of the 2014 state tournament. Ellis was the lone sophomore starter on Booker T. Washington's 2013 Class 6A State Championship team and earned All-State Tournament honors.

Robinson, a 5-10 guard from Ashland, Ky., has led Ashland Blazer High School to the last three Kentucky state tournaments, highlighted by a semifinals appearance in 2014. She is the only player in the state to be named MVP of her district tournament the past three years. Robinson is a two-time Area Player of the Year and a member of the Lexington Herald Leader All-State team. She enters her senior campaign already the Kittens' all-time leader in steals with 242 and on pace to challenge team marks for points, rebounds, assists and blocks.

BUFFS ON TV: Colorado women's basketball was televised to a regional or national audience 16 times during the season, tying the school record set just one year ago. The Buffaloes had 13 regular season games televised, including 12 games on the Pac-12 Networks during league play. This marked the third consecutive year the Buffaloes will have double-digit regional or national television appearances.

Colorado made its television debut on ROOT Sports Rocky Mountain on Nov. 25, defeating Denver 77-49. Colorado's first eight Pac-12 games were televised on the Pac-12 Networks as were five of the Buffaloes' nine home conference games. All home games, and conference road games, that aren't televised are streamed live through Colorado's Pac-12.com video portal.

In addition, CU's game at Missouri on Dec. 12, aired on SEC Network +, the SEC's online video streaming option and the game at Iowa on Dec. 7 was part of the Big Ten Network's online option.

As of the conclusion of the regular season, Colorado has tipped off on 144 national or regional telecasts since the fall of 2001, and 58 since the advent of the Pac-12 Networks in 2012.

BUFFS IN EXHIBITION: Colorado improved to a perfect 25-0 in exhibition games with its 90-57 win over CSU-Pueblo on Nov. 8. The Buffaloes have outscored their opponents by 32 points per game (86.3 to 54.3) in those contests. The Buffaloes have played at least one exhibition game in all but one year (2009) since 1997. CU's exhibition games have featured a mix of NCAA II schools, foreign teams and traveling all-star teams. CU's closest exhibition contest came in 1997, a 77-72 win over Athletes in Action.

BUFFS PICKED 10TH: In what is expected to be one of the most competitive league races in recent memory, Colorado was tabbed to finish 10th in the 2014-15 Pac-12 Conference standings according to the annual coaches preseason poll, announced at Pac-12 Media Day on Oct. 21.

Stanford was voted the preseason favorite for the 15th straight season, claiming 116 points and seven first place votes. California was second with 111 overall and three first place votes. The other two first place nods went to Oregon State, selected to finish third overall with 105.

UCLA was fourth with 84 points followed by Washington (72), USC (65), Arizona State (64), Washington State (56), Oregon (48), Colorado (31), Utah (28) and Arizona (12).

In the media's preseason poll, Colorado was picked 11th, swapping positions in that poll with Utah.

BUFFS TIP OFF SEASON WITH ANNUAL ONE-ON-ONE EVENT: The One-On-One With Colorado Women's Basketball event is a program favorite. In its fourth year under head coach Linda Lappe, this year's event was held Oct. 28 with nearly 250 fans, faculty and staff members in attendance.

The premise of the One-On-One event is to have each student-athlete pair up with a prominent female member of the university's faculty/staff, and get to know them outside of a classroom or office setting. The pairs then introduce each other to fans in attendance for the main program.

A diverse group of campus leaders joined for this event, ranging from professors, to department heads, to CU Regents.

"This event is special for us, it lets our fans know exactly who we are on and off the court," said sophomore guard Lauren Huggins, whose presenter was Dr. Susan Hendrickson, a senior instructor of chemistry and one of Huggins' former professors. "We also get to meet and interact with influential women within the CU community and through that we build relationships that will help us in the future."

Student-athletes and their "presenters" first sat down at a team dinner to learn about each other. Following the dinner, the public event began with a reception where players and presenters could greet the fans in attendance. Former head coach Ceal Barry, who held a similar event during her tenure, served as the event's emcee and brought each player and presenter to the stage.

"We always have such a blast hosting this event," Lappe said. "It shows a true commitment from both the faculty and staff on campus and also from all of our fans in the community."

Each student-athlete introduced their presenter, their role within the university and what they learned about them, and vice versa.

After introductions, the presenter was then allowed to ask the player any question, touching on a wide variety of topics, which always prove to be very entertaining, as both student-athlete and presenter let their own personalities shine.

ROBERSON GRADUATES, WILL NOT RETURN: Junior forward Arielle Roberson will graduate with her class in May and has opted not to return for her senior season.

Roberson, who is scheduled to complete her bachelor's degree in Communication, missed her redshirt junior year this past winter after tearing the ACL in her left knee during preseason individual workouts. It was her second full season lost to injury in four years; she also missed her true freshman year (2010-11) with a torn labrum in her left hip.

A two-time honorable mention All-Pac-12 Conference selection, Roberson averaged 12.0 points and 7.3 rebounds in 64 career games for the Buffaloes. She led Colorado in scoring (12.0 ppg) and rebounding (8.3 rpg) as a sophomore in 2013-14 while ranking second in blocked shots (1.0 bpg) and third in field-goal percentage (.458).

The 2013 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year, Roberson is 10th in career rebounding average at Colorado. She is 14th in career double-doubles (10) and double-figure rebounding games (14) and is 19th in all-time blocked shots (57).

#3 Bri Watts, 6-2, So., C, Fresno, Calif. (Clovis West)

This Season:

- Played in each of the final six games.
- Recorded a rebound in all three of the Pac-12 Tournament games.
- Made her Pac-12 debut with three rebounds and a steal in 10 minutes at California.

- Following her senior year, Watts participated in the North vs. South All-Star Game and City vs. County All-Star contest, playing on the winning team on both occasions.

- Played just her senior year at Clovis West, transferring from rival Buchanan. She averaged nearly six points and just over six rebounds per game for Buchanan as a junior, contributing to the Bears' 18-9 record and a spot in the CIF Central Section Division I semifinals.

- Her father (Walter) played basketball at the University of Utah for the late Rick Majerus (1988-91) and was the second leading scorer and rebounder on the Utes' 1991 Sweet 16 Team. Walter also played professional football and baseball.

- She has an older brother, Walter, who played offensive line for Utah's football team from 2007-10, a younger sister, Alexis and two younger brothers, LeJuan and DeSean.

- She enjoys spending time with family.

- Scored her first collegiate points with a field goal against Western Kentucky.

- Personal best five points, hitting 2-of-4 from the field, against Missouri State.

Career:

- Did not see game action in 2013-14, but was a full participant in practice and a valuable member of the scout team as the Buffaloes prepared for upcoming opponents.

- A 2013 graduate of Clovis West High School.

- Averaged nearly seven points a game, helping the Golden Eagles to a 23-6 record in 2013 and a perfect 10-0 mark in the Tri-Rivers League.

BOULDER – Colorado overcame a sluggish start and with a strong second half prevailed 68-59 over North Dakota in the first round of Preseason WNIT Saturday at the Coors Events Center.

Senior forward Jan Reese scored a game-high 21 points and junior front-court mate Jamee Swan pitched in 16 as Colorado remained perfect all-time in season openers at home (28-0).

The win sets up a quarterfinal game with Western Kentucky on Monday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Coors Events Center. WKU coasted to a 93-57 home win over Central Arkansas on Friday.

"It's going to be a great win for us when the end of the season comes around because they're going to win a lot of games," head coach Linda Lappe said. "You can see why, they don't back down. We're happy to be moving on."

Colorado entered the game knowing the key was to stop 6-5 senior post Emily Evers and as advertised, Evers posted her numbers, finishing with 21 points and 18 rebounds, but the Buffaloes made her work. Evers nine field goals came on 22 attempts.

North Dakota shot out to an 11-4 lead. With the Buffs keying in on Evers, Leah Szabla took advantage by finding open driving lanes to score five of her 15 points in the early minutes.

But UND stalled, making just four of its first 21 shots, allowing Colorado to steadily crawl back into the game.

Haley Smith scored four points during an 11-2 run that gave the Buffaloes their first lead at 15-13. Colorado also had a boost from freshmen Brecca Thomas and Alina Hartmann playing in their first game. With Lexy Kresl and Jasmine Sborov in early foul trouble with two each, Hartmann came in and scored five points off the bench and Thomas played a steady 11 minutes, with a rebound, assist and no turnovers.

With the help of the solid bench, the game stayed tight for the rest of the half. Swan scored on a layup with just under a minute left for the eighth tie of the period at 31-31. UND, answered with a conventional 3-point play by Evers to take a 34-31 lead at the break.

Colorado went on an 8-1 run to start the second half which gave the Buffaloes a 39-35 lead. But Colorado went cold missing its next seven shots allowing North Dakota to close to 45-43 with 1:44 left on a Bailey Strand layup.

At that point, needing plays on both ends, Colorado really put it together.

With UND continually pounding the ball at Evers, the Buffaloes started to win the battle. Swan blocked an Evers layup attempt that quickly turned into Lauren Huggins' third 3-pointer at the 9:43 mark. That exchange jolted the momentum to Colorado, embarking on a 13-2 run.

Reese accounted for four in a row followed by six straight from Swan who hit a couple free throws to give CU its largest lead at 58-45 with 6:46 remaining.

The defending Big Sky Conference champs weren't going to go away without a fight. Szabla scored five straight as CU's lead was quickly whittled down to six. CU responded with a Swan layup to halt UND's run.

Megan Lauck scored on a jumper but Thomas answered with her first career 3-pointer to push the lead back to nine at 63-54.

Following Thomas' 3-pointer, the Buffs went scoreless for the next four minutes. Evers took advantage with two field goals and a free throw in the first half of that span to trim CU's lead to four.

Despite missing five straight shots in that time frame, Colorado was able to get stops to avoid UND getting any closer. After a Colorado turnover with 30 seconds left, Swan made a great play to get in the UND passing lane to get a steal.

Reese then iced the game on a 3-point play. She scored in traffic on a put back of a free throw miss, was fouled herself and sank the free throw to put CU up 66-59 with just 15 seconds left.

BOULDER – Free throws brought the Colorado women's basketball team back into its WNIT game Monday night against Western Kentucky but turnovers took the Buffaloes out of it, allowing the Lady Toppers to escape the Coors Events Center with a 79-78 overtime win.

Trailing by nine points midway through the second half, the Buffs roared back by hitting 22 of 27 free throws in the final 12:46 and tied the score at 68-68 on one of two foul shots by Jan Reese with 19.3 seconds to play.

But OT belonged to Western Kentucky, which turned CU's 24 turnovers into 21 points and got a game-high 30 points from Chastity Gooch – the Conference USA coaches' preseason player of the year.

Reese scored a career-best 24 points, including 20 in the second half and overtime. Her 11-of-13 performance from the foul line set career highs for both attempts and makes. Meanwhile, teammate Lexy Kresl tied her career high with 20 points and hit four of seven 3-point attempts.

The Lady Toppers led 36-35 after a first half that couldn't have been much tighter. The first 20 minutes featured 13 lead changes and seven ties, with neither team leading by more than four points.

That large lead was posted by the Buffs, who got 12 points from Kresl on her perfect 3-point shooting (4-of-4). She opened the night's scoring with a trey, and didn't cool off before intermission.

CU finished the half hitting five of its six 3-point attempts, with Haley Smith hitting the other 3-ball and Jasmine Sborov responsible for the lone miss. Overall, the Buffs shot 50 percent (11-of-22) from the field before the break.

Western Kentucky opened the second half just as it did the first, getting a trey from the versatile Gooch and taking a 39-35 lead for its largest advantage of the night to that point.

Gooch wasn't done. She scored the Lady Toppers' next five points, pushing them in front 44-37 with a conventional 3-point play with 16:13 remaining.

Less than 2 minutes after Swan's fourth, Smith went to the bench with her fourth foul and Western Kentucky was beginning to pull away. Lappe shifted her team into a 2-3 zone defense, which might have eased the Buffs' foul problem but not their turnovers.

And the Lady Toppers took advantage, surging to a nine-point lead (48-39) and forcing the Buffs into catch-up mode. They took it to well, outscoring the Lady Toppers 12-3 and tying the score at 53-53 on a pair of free throws by Reese with 8:33 to play.

Kresl completed CU's comeback by hitting two free throws with 6:19 left, giving the Buffs their first lead (57-55) of the second half. It didn't last long. After Gooch hit the first of two free throws, Western Kentucky controlled the second miss, allowing Kendall Noble to sink a short jumper and the Toppers to reclaim a one-point advantage with just over 5 minutes remaining.

Having climbed back in, CU wasn't going away. Four free throws by Beard-Fails and Reese pushed the Buffs back in front 62-61 at the 4:08 mark. They managed a four-point lead (67-63) on another pair of foul shots by Beard-Fails, but the Toppers tied the score at 67-67 on a free throw and a put-back by Gooch of the second miss. Tashia Brown broke the tie (68-67) by hitting one of two free throws.

CU controlled the rebound and Lappe called a timeout with 26.8 seconds showing. The plan was to get Reese the ball – and it worked. Fouled with 19.3 seconds left, she hit one of two free throws to tie the score at 68-68.

Kresl gave the Buffs the OT lead, making one of two free throws, and Sborov corralled Kresl's miss and laid it back in. CU was up 71-68, but a Gooch free throw and a Noble put-back drew another tie at 71-71.

Gooch took care of that with two free throws, giving the Toppers a 73-71 lead, then hit a short baseline jumper to increase it to 75-71. Sborov made one of two foul shots with 42.1 seconds left, pulling the Buffs to within 75-72.

Two Jones free throws put Western Kentucky up 77-75, but Reese answered with a trey from the right corner, then a conventional 3-point play as CU closed to within 79-78 with 20.7 seconds left.

The officials' review of an out-of-bounds call gave the Buffs the ball with 19.5 seconds left, but Kresl missed a baseline drive and Noble was fouled with .3 seconds showing. She missed both free throws but they weren't needed, CU was out of time and luck.

DENVER – Lexy Kresl was in a giving mood for the first 20 minutes of Tuesday night's game. But in a crucial moment early in the second half, there was no spreading the wealth, she would take control.

Kresl scored five straight points to stop a Denver run and in turn sent the Buffaloes rolling to a 77-49 win at Magness Arena Tuesday night on the DU campus.

Kresl recorded her first career double-double scoring 10 points and dishing out a career-high 10 assists, nine of which came in the first half, tying a CU single-half record.

Colorado (3-1) used a 12-3 run late in the first half to open up a double-digit lead. Kresl had five assists in a span of six baskets late in the period to build a 38-27 advantage at the break.

Junior forward Jamee Swan was one of the main benefactors, scoring 17 of her season-high 23 points in the first 20 minutes.

"It took us a little while to figure out how to play with (Denver's) changing defenses," Kresl said. "We were playing a motion offense against a zone, so once we found those areas there were a lot of gaps and we had a lot of opportunities to score."

Denver (0-3) opened the second half on a 7-0 run. The Buffaloes missed their first three shots and had a turnover, which allowed consecutive layups by Alecia Espinoza and Paige Bradley. Denver's Morgan Van Ripper-Rose then hit a 3-pointer to cut the lead to 38-34.

Scoreless in the first half, Kresl stopped the Pioneers' run with a 3-pointer from the baseline. Then, Kresl stayed in the backcourt, darted in front of Espinoza's inbound pass for a steal and laid the ball back up and in for a 43-34 Colorado lead.

"I knew we needed a spark so I just wanted to pick up the intensity," Kresl said. "After that (play) everyone else caught on with that same aggressiveness."

That was just the beginning. Jen Reese scored the next basket for the Buffaloes and Haley Smith added her sixth and final field goal of the night to cap off the 9-0 run and the Buffaloes rolled from there, outscoring the Pioneers 30-15 the rest of the way.

"That was a huge five points for our team," coach Linda Lappe said. "They started to get some of that momentum and as soon as that happened, they were deflated a little bit and that's when we knew we needed to go on a run, and our players did a really nice job capitalizing on that."

Swan made 8-of-12 from the field and hit all seven free throw attempts. She also grabbed seven rebounds, dished out three assists and had two blocks.

"Jamee was outstanding tonight," Lappe said. "She played hard and was disciplined. She played a lot tougher on both the offensive and defensive end."

Smith finished with 12 points, hitting 6-of-8 from the field, with seven rebounds and two steals. Reese had 10 points, five rebounds and a pair of steals.

Colorado shot 48 percent from the field while holding Denver to just 28 percent. Despite some early troubles on the boards, the Buffaloes out rebounded the Pioneers 47-37.

Bradley led Denver with 15 points.

BOULDER – Haley Smith scored a career-high 18 points as Colorado's offense was firing on all cylinders in an 87-59 win over Missouri State in the first round of the Omni Hotels Classic Friday evening at the Coors Events Center.

Senior Lexy Kresl added 17, hitting five 3-pointers as the Buffaloes (4-1) hit 80 points for the second time in three games.

Colorado moves on to face Colorado State in Saturday's championship game at 7:30 p.m. Colorado State (3-1) defeated TCU 76-62 in the tournament opener. Missouri State (0-5) will face TCU (3-2) in Saturday's consolation at 5 p.m.

"I really liked our effort tonight," coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we played a complete game, both offensively and defensively. We had great production from our starters, had great production from our bench."

The Smith-Kresl duo were simply on fire. Smith was 6-of-9 from the field, in continuation of a three-game stretch where she's made a whopping 73 percent of her attempts (19-of-26). Kresl hit five of her first six 3-point attempts, settling in for a solid 6-of-13 night from the field which included seven rebounds, four assists and a pair of steals.

"My teammates are hitting me for open shots," Smith said. "I don't feel like I'm having to create, I'm just hitting the ones that are open."

It helps that Smith's shot selection mirrors that of every practice this season, and her teammates are taking notice, if the opposition has caught on yet.

"Haley deserves everything she's getting," Kresl said. "I see her shooting every day in the gym. That shot that you see her hit 7-of-8 in the game, she hits them in practice and shoots them every day."

Colorado shot 43 percent and hit a season-high nine 3-pointers. The Buffaloes put up 50 points in the second half on 46 percent shooting, thanks to momentum that actually began in the final minutes of the first period.

Smith and Kresl had eight points each as the Buffaloes built a 16-9 lead. But MSU stayed close, and tied the game at 18-18 on a Kenzie Williams free throw.

Kresl's third 3-pointer of the half and a Zoe Correal layup pushed CU's lead back to five, but the Lady Bears answered again, tying the score at 27-27 with 3:35 remaining.

For the second straight game Colorado made a strong run at the end of the first half to seize momentum.

The Buffaloes started getting stops and were able to get the ball quickly down the floor in transition. Colorado broke the tie with four straight free throws and then after a MSU turnover, Jasmine Sborov drilled a 3-pointer from left baseline to give Colorado a 34-27 advantage.

Free throws gave Colorado a 37-27 lead at halftime and the Buffaloes came out of the locker room fast and furious. Colorado had three offensive rebounds on the first possession, the final one ending in a Jamee Swan put back basket.

Then, Jen Reese had a great steal on the other end, which ended in a transition layup by Swan off a nice no-look feed from Sborov that capped off a 14-0 run.

"That's really big in any game, just ending the half with momentum," Kresl said. "The other team goes into the locker room kind of doubting themselves."

Liza Fruendt stopped CU's run with a 3-pointer to pull MSU back to 41-30, but Colorado kept on rolling.

Kresl hit back-to-back 3-pointers and Lauren Huggins added her first of three second half treys as Colorado led 50-32 with 15:06 remaining.

A 10-2 Missouri State run, aided by five points from Fruendt, closed Colorado's lead to 12 at 56-44 with 8:16 remaining. But Colorado quickly ended that run as Swan converted on a 3-point play, and scored on another fast break bucket, off an alley-oop pass from Smith, that sparked a 20-1 run that gave CU a 76-46 lead to end the Lady Bears' night.

Swan scored 14 points and had eight rebounds. Correal also had personal-best eight rebounds to tie Swan for the team lead. Colorado dominated the glass, outrebounding Missouri State 53-36 and committed a season-low 10 turnovers.

BOULDER – The Colorado Buffaloes starting front court of Jen Reese, Haley Smith and Jamee Swan, combined for 67 of 97 points, and Lexy Kresl scored the game's final six from the free throw line as the Buffs defeated San Jose State in overtime, 97-89, Friday morning at the Coors Events Center.

Swan (26 points, 11 rebounds) and Smith (24 points, 12 rebounds) both had double-doubles and Reese just missed one (17 points, 9 rebounds).

The Buffs (6-1) jumped out to a quick 9-0 lead in the first four minutes of the game, as the Spartans didn't get on the scoreboard until Ta'Rea Cunnigan hit a 3-pointer at the 15:52 mark. Smith hit the game's first shot and had two free throws to end that 9-0 run.

After the Spartans Rachol West hit a jumper, was fouled and hit her free throw, the Buffs lead was down to five at 11-6. Lauren Huggins, who hit all four of her 3-pointers in the first half, knocked down her first triple and along with a Reese jumper and two free throws from Swan, the Buffs lead grew to 18-9.

Zoe Beard-Falls had a nice post-to-post dish to Reese under the basket, and then hit a lay-up of her own to push the Buffs lead to double figures at 22-11, after which the game remained pretty even for most of the rest of the first half.

Huggins hit her second, third and fourth 3-pointers in a span of three minutes on the game clock, each alternating with a lay-up from Swan, as the Buffs led 35-25 with 7:25 left in the first half. Huggins final 3-pointer was matched by a 3-pointer from Cunnigan to cut the Buffs lead to seven, but then Smith followed a mid-range jumper with a 3-pointer in the span of 12 seconds to push the Buffs lead back to 12 at 40-28.

After a pair of Swan layups and another jumper from Swan, the Buffs led 46-36 with 3:34 remaining in the half. The Spartans used a 10-4 run to cut the Buffs lead to just four at the break, 50-46, powered by 3-pointers from Rebecca Woodberry and Ali Bettencourt.

Woodberry then became a thorn in the Buffs side, as she scored eight straight points to give the Spartans their first lead of the game at 58-56. That lead was short-lived, as Jasmine Sborov hit a triple to put the Buffs back up 59-58.

The Spartans used a 6-0 run to take a five point lead, 64-59 and led 69-63 after a Bettencourt 3, the Buffs would claw their way back into the game on the strength of Swan and Smith. Those two combined for 13 of the first 14 points in a 14-2 run as the Buffs turned their six point deficit into a six point advantage with five minutes left in regulation. Swan hit three lay-ups and three free throws in the run while Smith had a baseline jumper and nice reverse lay-up. Swan also took a huge charge on the defensive end to keep the game tied 71-71 in the midst of that run.

Woodberry then went back to work, hitting four straight free throws on back-to-back possessions to cut the Buffs lead down to two at 77-75. Riana Byrd made it a one-point game hitting 1-of-2 from the line before Brecca Thomas hit her only shot of the game, a huge 3-pointer to put the Buffs up 80-76 with 3:34 left.

Reese then had a layup on the Buffs next possession and with a 82-76 lead with less than three minutes left, the Buffs looked to be in good shape, but the Spartans had one more run in them, outscoring the Buffs 9-3 down the stretch, capped by a Cunnigan layup with just 3:0 seconds left, that tied the game at 85-85. Woodberry continued to hurt the Buffs, knocking down two free throws and hitting a 3-pointer with 1:54 left that made it a two point game.

San Jose State took the initial overtime lead after Byrd hit a layup to open the period, but the Buffs then took control as Smith hit two jumpers and Swan another to give the Buffs a 91-87 lead three-and-a-half minutes into the extra period.

Smith quickly tied the game at 87-87 less than a minute into overtime, then Swan completed a great post move that started that the high post and included a nifty spin move to put the Buffs up for the final time at 89-87. The Buffs then bucked down on the defensive end and controlled the boards for the next three possessions. After Lappe called a timeout with 1:42 left, the next play to Smith, including a pump fake, she dribbled once, hit her shot to put CU up 91-87 with 1:34 left.

After Cunnigan hit two free throws at the 1:26 mark, Kresl went to work, first drawing a foul and hitting two freebies at the 1:12 mark and then grabbing huge defensive rebounds and being fouled immediately. Her third and fourth free throws came with just 31 seconds left, making it 95-89, and her final two with just 16 seconds left, making the game 97-89.

IOWA CITY, Iowa – Despite a career afternoon from senior Jasmine Sborov, Colorado endured its lowest offensive output of the season and struggled to make key stops when they were needed as No. 22/19 Iowa defeated the Buffaloes 78-63 Sunday afternoon at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Sborov led Colorado (6-2) with career-highs in points (17) and rebounds (12) for her second career double-double.

"Defensively, we have to get tougher," head coach Linda Lappe said. "We can't give up 78 points on the road and expect to win."

The Buffaloes did some things well and showed they could play toe-to-toe with the Hawkeyes. CU dominated on the boards by a count of 53-36, and 23 offensive rebounds led to some extra possessions and trips to the foul line that kept the Buffaloes close.

However, persistent foul trouble, and key lapses at the beginning of the first half, and start of the second, allowed Iowa (7-2) to build a double-digit lead and maintain that margin to stay unbeaten at home in 2014 (6-0).

Haley Smith, coming off a 24-point performance, looked to get on track early once again hitting two of her first three shots as CU took a 6-4 lead. But she picked up two fouls in six seconds just one minute later forcing the Buffaloes to go to their bench early. She would be limited to eight points hitting just 4-of-12.

Melissa Dixon, who led Iowa with a game-high 23 points, hit her first of five 3-pointers to spark a 6-0 Hawkeyes run and a 10-6 lead.

Sborov, who crashed the boards hard from the beginning, answered with a 6-0 run of her own. First she got a rebound off her own free throw miss and eased in for a layup to end Iowa's run. Then the senior put the Buffaloes up 12-10 as she took a handoff from Zoe Beard-Falls at the elbow and scored on traffic, converting on a 3-point layup.

The game pace picked up from there. After Iowa retook the lead, Colorado briefly took it back when freshman Alina Hartmann hit a 3-pointer in transition. The Hawkeyes responded with an almost identical shot of their own. Dixon's second 3-pointer was followed by one from Ally Disterhoft which sparked a 10-2 run that gave Iowa a 24-17 edge.

Colorado's ability to get offensive rebounds extended possessions that allowed the Buffaloes to chisel away at the Hawkeyes. Beard-Falls converted a 3-point play to cut the lead to four. Sborov was then fouled on another offensive rebound and hit two free throws to trim Iowa's lead to 25-23.

After a Disterhoft basket and Iowa with the ball after a foul, Lexy Kresl stole the ball from Claire Till and found Lauren Huggins for a transition 3-pointer that cut the Iowa lead to 27-26 with 3:39 left.

Dixon's third 3-pointer sparked an 8-2 run for Iowa to end the half. Iowa point guard Samantha Logic, who had been held scoreless, secured an offensive rebound and banked in a short jumper at the buzzer for a 35-28 Iowa lead.

Iowa kept rolling early in the second half. The Hawkeyes hit 4-of-7 out of the gate and even had the ball bounce their way a few times. Disterhoft missed a free throw but Whitney Jennings was able to get the rare offensive rebound and put it in for a double-digit Iowa lead.

Smith scored her first basket since early in the second half to make it a 47-38 game. The Buffaloes were able to force a Jennings miss, but during a mad scramble for the rebound, Till corralled the ball from her knees and pitched out to Dixon for her fourth 3-pointer as the lead quickly went back to double-digits.

"Give Iowa a lot of credit," Lappe said. "I thought their spurt to end the first half and at the beginning of the second half was the difference in the game."

Jen Reese scored all 14 of her points in the second half. Even when it seemed she was about to get going, scoring on Colorado's first two second half possessions, she was hit with two quick fouls that gave her four total with nearly 18 minutes remaining.

Iowa built its lead to 15 at 59-44 with 8:39 left, but the Buffaloes put up a good fight to end the game. Reese reentered and scored six straight for Colorado to cut the Hawkeye lead to 61-52. But by this time, with nearly everyone in some sort of foul trouble, Iowa attacked. Back-to-back layups by Dixon and Kali Peschel had Iowa running back out to an 18-point advantage with 4:31 left.

To their credit, the Buffaloes never quit. Down 72-54, Colorado began to press. The Buffaloes forced two turnovers helping a 9-0 run led by five straight from Sborov. Iowa figured out the press and hit free throws for the final margin.

BOULDER – If Jen Reese was the starter, Jamee Swan was the closer – and for Swan the role was unconventional. Out of the starting lineup for the first time this season, Swan bounded off the bench to score 16 second-half points and help push Colorado past Wyoming 76-71 on Sunday afternoon.

“Wyoming is always really tough...it’s always a great game,” said CU coach Linda Lappe. “It was a great way to go into the holiday break.”

The Buffs and Swan saved most of their excitement and energy for the game’s final 10 minutes. After Reese scored CU’s first 10 points and kept the home team close at intermission – the Cowgirls led 42-41 – Swan helped reenergize the Buffs when they needed it most.

Trailing by eight points twice in the last 14:30, the Buffs launched a 10-1 run that took them from a 58-50 deficit to a 60-59 lead with 5:52 left. A couple of hustle plays and back-to-back baskets by senior Jasmine Sborov and a short banker by Alina Hartmann gave CU its first lead since 41-40.

Hartmann’s basket came off an acrobatic falling-out-of-bounds assist from Swan, who also had four rebounds, one block and two steals. Up 60-59, the Buffs built a 69-65 lead as Swan scored the next seven points. Then she put a ribbon on the win with three of four free throws in the final 13 seconds.

In addition to Swan’s 16 points and Reese’s 15, CU got double-figure production from Sborov (11) and Haley Smith (10). Guard Marquelle Dent, one of four Coloradans in Wyoming’s starting lineup, led the Cowgirls (5-5) with 24 points. Kayla Woodward added 22, hitting five of her seven 3-point attempts, and Kaitlyn Mileto contributed 11 points.

Both Reese, who finished 7-of-13 from the field, and Swan said the energy created by CU’s bench factored significantly in the comeback. Reese pointed specifically to Swan as being high-voltage: “When (she) comes in and takes that charge and makes that face, screaming, I get excited and almost have a heart attack...our energy on the bench was great that game and that really helped.”

The Buffs trailed 42-41 at halftime after Dent hit a layup and left CU with a 6-second final possession. The Buffs couldn’t convert and had to be satisfied with their one-point deficit.

Neither team led by more than four points in the opening half, with CU managing a 12-8 lead on two of three free throws by Thomas with 13:52 before intermission. Reese finished the first half with a team-best 13 points, hitting six of nine from the field as CU shot a season-high 57.7 percent (15-for-26).

Opening the second half with a 13-6 run, Wyoming extended its lead to a game-high eight points, going ahead 55-47 on a put-back by Jordan Sibrel with just over 13 minutes remaining.

At the half’s mid-way point, CU still trailed by eight and found itself trading baskets – not a good way to catch up – until Reese and Swan hit back-to-back jump shots to cut Wyoming’s lead to 59-54.

The Buffs were reenergized and rolling. Back-to-back jump shots by Sborov and Hartmann’s short banker completed CU’s 10-1 run. A one-point lead was exchanged until Swan scored on a smooth pivot move to send the Buffs up 64-62, then collected a defensive rebound at the other end, then connected on two free throws to put CU ahead 66-62 with 2:55 left.

A Woodward try brought the Cowgirls to within 66-65, but Swan’s conventional three-point play with 1:40 remaining pushed the Buffs up 69-65. After Dent cut it to 69-67, Sborov hit a pair of free throws to restore CU’s four-point advantage (71-67).

Smith and Sborov hit one free throw each in the final minute but Dent answered with field goals each time and brought Wyoming to within 73-71 with 30.5 seconds to play – and the Cowgirls had the ball.

Coming out of a time out, Dent missed a chance to tie and Swan was fouled after snaring the rebound. She made three of four free throws in the final 13 seconds and the Buffs finally could relax.

BOULDER – ‘Tis the season, but the Colorado women’s basketball team might have taken this “better-to-give” thing a bit too far. CU gave, gave and gave some more Tuesday night, offering up 22 points off of 25 turnovers to Long Beach State, which was no doubt appreciative and left the Coors Events Center with a 62-56 win.

In spite of themselves and their ill-timed generosity, the Buffaloes (7-4) didn’t go quietly. They cut a 13-point second-half deficit to two before faltering in the final 5 minutes, allowing the 49ers (13-1) to win their 11th consecutive game.

“Give Long Beach State a lot of credit,” said CU coach Linda Lappe. “They’re 13-1 for a reason...they’re tough and they make plays when they need to. We turned the ball over way too many times, there were too many possessions when we didn’t even get a shot.”

CU got a double-double (15 points, 15 rebounds) from Jamee Swan and a career-high 14 points from Zoe Beard-Fails, who also contributed eight rebounds as the Buffs won the board battle 50-26.

“We knew that we would have an advantage in the post,” Lappe said. “And both Zoe and Jamee have been playing really well. I thought their energy, and toughness were two things that they brought.”

Beard-Fails scored the Buffs’ first 6 points and 8 of their first 15. While she hit four of her six shots during that span, her teammates could hit only 3 of 14 field goal attempts. Swan added six first-half points, doing the majority of her scoring after intermission.

With 12:09 left and trailing 45-32, the Buffs had committed 23 of their final turnover total. Making matters (and the score) worse, they had hit only 2 of 10 from the field.

But CU settled down. A technical foul on Devin Hudson resulted in two free throws from Jen Reese and launched a 14-3 run that pulled the Buffs to within 48-46 on another pair of Reese foul shots with 5:02 left. Reese hit seven of her eight free throw attempts, but she was only 1-of-8 from the field.

During its comeback, CU stymied Long Beach with a 3-2 zone, resulting in the 49ers shooting 2-for-12 from the field. But in the final 5 minutes, the Buffs could creep no closer than two points. The 49ers increased their lead to as many as nine points (61-52) and left Boulder with their 11th consecutive win.

Giving up 13 points off of 14 first-half turnovers, the Buffs sabotaged themselves time and again in trying to cope with the 49ers frequently changing defense. Still, CU trailed only by two points (28-26) at the break after leading for the first 11:30.

The Buffs led by as many as five points (9-4) early, but Long Beach caught up and passed the home team on a pair of 3-pointers by Hallie Meness. Her first try tied the score at 15-15 and her second gave the 49ers their first lead of the night at 18-15 with just over 8 minutes left before intermission.

From there, the Buffs managed only one more first-half lead, going up 19-18 on a put-back by Swan. The 49ers took advantage of six Buffs turnovers and a 3-48 CU drought to go up 24-19. The Buffs eventually fell behind 28-22, but closed the half with a 4-0 run and closed to within a basket at the half. The teams’ 54 combined first-half points was the second-lowest of the season in a CU contest, trailing the 51 in the Colorado State game.

Meanwhile, the 49ers’ leading scorer, Raven Benton (11.7 ppg), went to the bench with two personal fouls at the 10:01 mark and remained seated for the rest of the half. After starting the second half, Benton again went to the bench only 3 minutes in after hurting a knee on a breakthrough layup attempt that she missed.

Once again, the 49ers didn’t suffer greatly with Benton temporarily sidelined. They opened the second half with a 15-2 run and took the first of two 13-point lead – 43-30. CU finally got a layup from Swan to stop a 12-0 Long Beach surge, but by then the 49ers were in command and the Buffs were still struggling to protect the ball.

BERKELEY, Calif. – California's inside game was too much to handle as the Golden Bears defeated Colorado 75-59 in a Pac-12 Conference game Monday evening at Haas Pavilion in Berkeley.

California scored 52 points inside the paint, mostly to the benefit of leading scorer Reshanda Gray who had 17 points and 10 rebounds.

Jamee Swan led Colorado with 21 points and five rebounds. Jen Reese pitched in 15 points on 6-of-12 shooting with eight rebounds.

The Golden Bears also took advantage of 23 Colorado turnovers, accounting for 21 points.

Cal's Brittany Boyd had 19 points, 14 rebounds, seven steals and six assists. California continually pounded the ball inside to the 6-foot, 3-inch Gray, and despite her low field goal numbers – she made just 4-of-12 from the field – it was effective as she continually made it to the foul line, hitting 9-of-16.

When Colorado could get stops, they struggled to score. The Buffaloes shot just 37 percent and fell victim to California's ability to run off a defensive rebound, resulting in 20 fast break points. Boyd controlled that tempo as she was just three steals and four assists shy of a quadruple double.

"(Especially in the second half) they pounded it inside and we didn't have an answer," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "We didn't have an answer down low, we didn't have an answer for their layups in transition. We'll regroup and get back into it."

California never trailed. After Reese hit her first two shots to tie the game at 4-4, Cal scored the next eight. Jasmine Sborov got aggressive for the Buffaloes, darting to the rim on consecutive layups to slice the Bears lead in half.

Following a Boyd jumper, Reese connected on her third 3-pointer of the season and Swan scored on a fast break bucket to pull the Buffaloes within one (14-13), with 10:54 remaining.

California responded with three straight buckets in the paint and led 20-13. The Buffaloes fought back to make it a 1-point game again as a 6-0 run ending with a Haley Smith field goal made it a 20-19 game at the 7:36 mark.

While Swan and Reese accounted for most of Colorado's points, Boyd was able to get everyone involved. Penina Davidson drilled a 3-pointer, Gabby Green and Justine Hartman added points as a 13-2 run late in the first allowed the Bears a 10-point halftime lead (33-23).

"We did some good things in the first half," Lappe said. "But it went down from there. We have to be ready to play."

Swan and Reese started the second half with layups and Brecca Thomas hit a 3-pointer to cut the Cal lead to 37-30, four minutes in. But the Buffs missed their next five shots which allowed Cal a 6-0 run over 2:13 to take a 43-30 advantage.

Gray made four straight free throws and Boyd scored on a runner in the lane to put Cal up 49-35. Swan scored consecutive baskets on nice post moves to bring the deficit to 10 one more time.

Mikayla Cowling scored four straight points and Boyd pitched in the next five as Cal went on an 11-2 run to put the game out of reach.

"(Cal) made us turn over the ball more than we wanted to," Reese said. "We didn't play together for a 40 minutes. We had spurts where we did, but spurts where we didn't and we can't do that."

BOULDER – If the Colorado women's basketball team was counting on the rigors of the road rattling Southern California, it didn't happen. Leaving LA for the first time in a month – or in eight games – the Trojans made themselves at home Friday night in the Coors Events Center, but with lots of unwarranted hospitality from the Buffaloes.

Getting 22 points from 21 CU turnovers, USC rolled to an 81-61 Pac-12 Conference win.

The Buffs committed 11 of their turnovers in the first half, digging themselves an early hole with a very narrow escape route. CU (7-7, 0-3) never found it, losing its fourth consecutive game and its sixth of the past seven. The Buffs trailed by as many as 19 points late in the first half and were never able to pull closer than 9 points in the second half.

Entering Friday night, the Trojans (10-5, 2-2) had lost three of their past four games, including a split with the Oregon schools in the Pac-12's opening week-end.

"I thought we did some really good things," CU coach Linda Lappe said, "but we didn't start off well (and) it didn't seem like we could ever catch up . . . but give USC credit, they came in here with a lot of confidence and played hard."

Lappe said her team, which faces UCLA on Sunday at the CEC (2 p.m., Pac-12 Network), "just has to regroup and keep getting better, come to work every day . . . I feel like we have gotten better but if you look at one stat, it's the turnovers."

"We have to tighten up defensively, but offensively if we take care of the ball (Friday night) it's a totally different game at halftime."

The Buffs trailed 40-27 at intermission, but it took a 6-0 run to close the half to get them that close. And that run could have been 8-0 had Jamee Swan and Jasmine Sborov converted free throws for three-point plays.

But the Buffs couldn't complain, less than a minute earlier they trailed 40-21 with that 19-point deficit marking their largest at home this season. It surpassed the 14-point deficit they faced against Colorado State in the Omni Hotels Classic.

The Buffs rallied to win that one 87-81 in double overtime, but to duplicate that – OT or not – against the Trojans would be difficult.

For starters, CU's turnovers would have to decrease. Of the Buffs' 11 first-half turnovers, four came in the first 4:03. The Trojans got 14 first-half points off of the home team's errors, then eight more in the second as a result of the Buffs' 10 turnovers. The 11 first-half errors were largely responsible for CU failing to score on consecutive possessions until the 6-0 run to close the half.

Meanwhile, CU got only eight points from USC's eight miscues in 40 minutes. Guard Lexy Kresl said the Buffs can combat their turnover epidemic by "having confidence, handling the ball and handling the pressure . . . we just have to attack, when you're not aggressive you make more mistakes."

Added Lappe: "It's not that we're bad ball handlers, it's just making the right reads and the right passes."

CU shot 41.9 percent (13-for-31) from the field in the first 20 minutes and the Trojans weren't astoundingly better, hitting 43.2 percent (16-of-37). It merely underscored CU's need to take better care of the ball in the second half, it happened for a while but not consistently enough for the Buffs to catch up.

USC finished the night shooting 42.9 percent (27-of-63) while CU checked out at 44.3 percent (27-of-61). And that takes the Buffs back to the turnovers that ultimately cost them the game.

Three Buffs scored in double figures, topped by Swan's 14 points. Jen Reese added 13 and Sborov 10. The Trojans got 20 points each from Alexyz Vioioletama and McKenzie Calvert, and 17 from Brianna Barrett.

USC's aggressiveness in getting to the basket was obvious. The Trojans attempted 31 free throws, making 23, while the Buffs went 8-for-11 from the foul line. "Yeah," said Lappe, "I think we can be more aggressive in getting to the rim."

Opening the second half with a conventional three-point play from Swan, the Buffs trimmed the Trojans' lead to 40-30. But it took nearly 8 minutes before they finally cut USC's lead to single digits. Lauren Huggins hit a 3-pointer from the top of the key to put CU to within nine points (56-47) with 12:17 to play.

But that was as close as the Buffs could get. The Trojans responded with five quick points, rebuilt a 14-point lead (61-47) and led by as many as 20 in the final minute.

BOULDER – The Colorado women's basketball team had never opened conference play – any conference play – with five consecutive losses. It required an extra 5 minutes and stellar free throw shooting, but the resilient Buffs avoided that historical blemish with a 77-72 overtime escape against Utah Wednesday night at the Coors Events Center.

CU (8-8, 1-4) broke a five-game losing streak and earned its first Pac-12 Conference win of 2015.

"It feels good to get that one," added Buffs coach Linda Lappe. "I liked how our team came out tonight."

That would be bold and aggressive, but the Utes (6-10, 0-5) didn't rattle or roll over. Rallying from an eight-point second-half deficit to tie the score at 63-63 with 1:23 to play, they forced the Buffs into their fourth overtime this season – the most in program history. CU is 3-1 in those games.

The Utes held a 41-32 rebound advantage and outscored the Buffs 42-16 in the paint. But in OT, CU showed the same determination it discovered in a Sunday loss to UCLA and didn't falter.

Two minutes into the extra period, freshman Joeseta Fatusi hit a 3-pointer for Utah's first lead – 68-67 – since 9-7. The teams traded one-point leads until Jen Reese, Lexy Kresl, Jasmine Sborov and Haley Smith hit eight of 10 free throws in the final 1:33 to seal CU's win.

"We were comfortable going into overtime – we've been in a lot of them -- although we could have won it in regulation," Lappe said. "But we made enough plays down the stretch (in OT)."

Making those plays led to Utes fouls and to Buffs free throws. CU made 31 of 40 attempts for the night, but went 10-of-13 in the overtime. Smith was perfect in the extra period – 4-for-4 – and for the night – 11-for-11. Kresl canned 11 of her 16 foul shot tries and finished with a career-high 26 points.

Smith added 15 and freshman Brecca Thomas scored a career-high 11 points. Thomas was one of three freshmen – Zoe Correal and Alina Hartmann were the other pair – who aided in the Buffs' bench productivity. CU's subs out-scored Utah's 18-6.

Up by a point with 3:04 left before intermission, the Buffs closed out the half with an 8-2 run and took a 38-31 lead to their locker room. It was their largest advantage of the first half, and they never trailed after the 15-minute mark when the Utes forged a 9-9 tie.

Kresl scored her 10 first-half points in the first 12 minutes, going 3-for-3 from the field and hitting a pair of treys and two of three free throws. But her second personal foul sent her to the bench with 8:12 left in the period and she didn't return.

Also missing court time due to a pair of quick fouls was Jamee Swan, who played only 6 minutes and scored three first-half points (seven total). And Reese, coming off a career-high 30 points against UCLA, missed her only three field goal attempts and went to the locker room scoreless. She finished with six points.

Given those circumstances, CU needed bench help – and the subs delivered. Thomas (9), Hartmann (3) and Correal (2) combined for 15 first-half points.

But CU's late first-half momentum didn't spill into the second half. Opening the final 20 minutes with a 6-0 run, Utah crept to 38-37 and forced a Buffs timeout.

Kresl and Sborov hit back-to-back jumpers, putting CU ahead 42-37 with 15:30 remaining. Not quite half a minute later, one of two free throws by Kresl sent the Buffs up 43-37, and when Reese hit a 15-foot jumper for her first points CU finished a 7-0 run and pushed its advantage to eight (45-37).

But Wicijowski and the Utes Utah kept pushing. After her 3-pointer from the top of the key drew them to 52-50, her pair of free throws with 1:23 to play tied the game at 63-63. After a timeout with a minute remaining, the Utes turned the ball over with 38.9 seconds left. CU called timeout, but a traveling call on Kresl ended that possession and left Utah with 26 seconds to win it.

With 15.3 seconds showing, the Utes took a timeout to set their final play. A layup attempt by Danielle Rodriguez missed, the Buffs controlled the rebound and used their last timeout with 1.1 seconds remaining.

A full-court pass by Reese was fielded at the top of the key by Swan, who steered a pass to Smith for a desperation shot from the left corner. It missed and once again the Buffs were headed for OT.

SALT LAKE CITY – The Colorado women's basketball team required overtime to defeat Utah on Wednesday night in Boulder, but on Sunday afternoon no extra time was needed for the Buffaloes to record a memorable road win.

Parlaying torrid 3-point shooting in the second half and skin-tight defense all game on the Utes' Taryn Wicijowski, the Buffaloes took care of business in regulation and left the Huntsman Center with a 73-54 Pac-12 Conference victory.

CU (9-8, 2-4) won for the second time on the road this season and for the first time in Pac-12 play. It was the Buffs' largest conference road win in 12 years -- or since a 71-50 triumph at Kansas in 2003, current CU coach Linda Lappe's senior season.

"We started well and had a lot of energy," Lappe said. "Defensively, I liked our presence. They (Utah) missed shots, and a lot of them we caused by having our hands up and our length."

The Buffs hit eight of their 14 3-point field goal attempts, including going 7-for-11 in the second half. Their final shooting numbers: 44.9 percent from the field, 57.1 percent beyond the arc. But they hit 63.6 in the final 20 minutes from long range and 57.1 percent from the field overall in the second half.

Just as impressive, though, as the Buffs' marksmanship was their inside defense on Wicijowski, who nearly singlehandedly carried the Utes in their 77-72 OT loss on Wednesday in Boulder.

In that game, Wicijowski led all scorers with 29 points and all rebounders with 14. But four days later, the Buffs had her figured out, she finished with six points -- none in the second half -- and three rebounds -- none in the first half.

"Our spots may not have scored a lot for us (today), but they did a nice job defending," Lappe said. "We talked a lot about how we were going to stop Taryn Wicijowski, she obviously hurt us at our place, we wanted to do some different things on her."

Jamee Swan did a nice job. Zoe Correal did a nice job as well. Just the way that we doubled team, it was there every time, a defender could really count on that double. I think we just caused her [Wicijowski] to think. And anytime you make players think, good things happen for you defensively."

And after scoring a career-high 26 points on Wednesday night, senior Lexy Kresl again found Utah's defense to her liking. She led all scorers Sunday with 18 points, but got help from Haley Smith (11) and Swan (10).

The Buffs also went 13-for-14 from the free throw line, got 17 points off of 12 Utes turnovers and committed just nine themselves. They outrebounded the Utes 36-28, with Jen Reese grabbing a team-high seven boards.

Danielle Rodriguez led Utah with 14 points and was the only Utes player in double figures. Utah was held to 36.7 percent (18-of-49) from the field. The Utes (6-10, 0-6) dropped their sixth consecutive game and now have lost seven of their last nine games.

The Buffs led 27-24 at halftime, taking the lead on a 3-pointer by Kresl with 5 seconds before the buzzer. They were ahead for most of the half, up by as many as five points before encountering a nearly 6-minute scoring drought and committing three of their four first-half turnovers.

The Utes took advantage, going on an 8-0 run and taking a three-point lead before the Buffs righted themselves, caught up and went into intermission ahead.

At the 12:30 mark of the second half, CU opened an eight-point advantage (40-32) then went ahead by double digits (50-40) for the first time on a Kresl layup. Less than a minute later, Jasmine Sborov added a reverse layup for a 52-40 lead -- and with 8:02 to play the Buffs appeared to be reaching a rare comfort zone on the Pac-12 road.

CU increased its advantage to as many as 21 points in the final minute and a half.

PULLMAN, Wash. — Colorado women's basketball played dominant defense for 40 minutes Sunday afternoon, but its offense, turnover-prone all game, failed in the final five. The Buffs blew a late lead for the second consecutive game and fell 73-68 to the Washington State Cougars.

"This is definitely a missed opportunity, two missed opportunities," Colorado coach Linda Lappe said. "There are some definite positives but again we have to be sharper at the end of the game."

Until the end, the Buffs (9-10, 2-6) had the game in hand. They played the best defense they had all year, holding the Cougars (13-6, 4-4) to just 25 percent shooting and 18 percent from deep. Colorado itself shot 50 percent, and got a career-high 28 points from Jamee Swan.

With those numbers, the Buffs losing seemed nigh-impossible. But a combination of turnovers and Washington State's foul shooting gave the Cougars the edge. The Buffs turned the ball over a season-high 27 times and sent Washington State to the line for 39 foul shots, and there the Cougars shot 84 percent.

Nearly all of Washington State's offense came from the line. The Cougars missed nearly as many shots (52) as Colorado attempted (56). The few field goals that they did hit were costly — eight of their 18 makes came off of their 20 offensive rebounds.

"We didn't get any offensive rebounds in the last eight minutes of the game," Lappe said. "So really, it comes down to rebounding and turnovers. It's hard to win a game where you give a team 14 extra shots and they shoot 39 free throws."

CU rolled early, and its defense was stifling. The Buffs packed the paint and forced the Cougars into jump shots, and their slump never broke. Washington State's shooting numbers were ghastly — guards Lia Galdeira and Tia Presley were a combined 10-of-34, forwards Taylor Edmondson and Mariah Cooks 6-of-19. But Galdeira got 12 of her team-high 27 points at the free-throw line. Presley was perfect on her seven attempts from the stripe, Cooks was 9-of-10.

Cooks in particular hurt the Buffs late, she was a perfect 8-of-8 at the line in the second half.

Swan almost did enough on her own to give the Buffs the victory. She paced CU all game, and no Cougar could guard her one-on-one. She unleashed her full arsenal of post moves — spins, hooks, drop steps — and chipped in seven rebounds. Lexy Kresl continued her strong shooting stretch with 15 points on an efficient 5-of-8 shooting, and her eight boards led the team. But she was also responsible for seven turnovers.

The Cougars scored 25 points off of those 27 turnovers, the damage would have been much worse if not for Colorado's suffocating defense. But those were 27 possessions that the hot-shooting Buffs didn't finish with a shot, 27 possessions without Swan finishing a post-up or Jen Reese launching from midrange.

Reese didn't have her best game — her jumper was not early, but she finished with just nine points on 4-of-10 shooting. Still, Colorado led by as much as 12 in the second half and seemed poised at any minute to run away. The turnovers, though, gave the Cougars a lifeline they were more than happy to grab.

It all coalesced in one calamitous stretch with four minutes left. With Colorado nursing a 65-60 lead, Jasmine Sborov turned the ball over to Galdeira, then fouled her. It was Sborov's fifth foul, so she was gone, and Lappe vigorously argued the call with the ref, who assessed the coach a technical foul. That gave Galdeira four free throws, and she nailed them all. Two more foul shots from Louise Brown gave the Cougars a lead they wouldn't relinquish.

Washington State closed the game on a 16-3 run despite making just 1-of-7 field goals in that stretch. The Cougars finally started double-teaming Swan, and Colorado couldn't find offense from anyone else.

The Buffs have a shot at revenge in Boulder on February 13.

BOULDER — Despite another late push and rally from a second half deficit, the University of Colorado women's basketball lost 68-60 Friday night to No. 11 Arizona State.

It was the third straight close loss to the Buffs (9-11, 2-7), the third straight heartbreaker that just slipped away. "We keep playing better and better," Colorado head coach Linda Lappe said. "I liked how hard we played tonight. It was the hardest that we played all season long. We had a shot to win it. They made a few more plays down the stretch."

Lappe and her players were visibly frustrated after the game — they lost despite 18 points from Lexy Kresl, despite another double-double from Jamee Swan, despite committing only 12 turnovers.

"We did a fantastic job on the glass and a fantastic job taking care of the basketball," Lappe said. "Those were the two things we talked about a lot this week."

Still, the Buffs struggled to find good looks against Arizona State's defense, and 15 points each from the Sun Devils' Sophie Brunner and Katie Hempen were enough to push them over the top.

The Buffs couldn't do much of anything in the first half against the Sun Devils' Pac-12-leading defense, shooting just 28 percent. Arizona State (19-2, 8-1) pressed after makes and Colorado had to work hard to advance the ball against the Sun Devils' athletic guards.

Arizona State stifled the Buffs' half-court sets, too — the Sun Devils' big snuffed out Colorado's pick-and-rolls with solid hedges and timely double teams. Arizona State consistently denied the Buffs the middle of the floor.

Swan was the only Buff who shot efficiently in the first half. She continued her hot streak from last weekend, she made 2-of-2 and pulled down eight boards while the rest of the team shot 5-for-23.

Colorado stayed close because Arizona State was nearly as sloppy — the Sun Devils hit just 36 percent of their shots and committed seven turnovers.

The Buffs went to the locker room trailing by only seven points (30-23) and they started the second half hot. Swan continued to get easy looks off of offensive rebounds and Kresl heated up after scoring only five points in the first half.

But Hempen got hot after a quiet first half, too — the Sun Devils' leading scorer is a streaky shooter, and she turned up only briefly, but she nailed two deep, contested threes that each dampened Colorado's burgeoning rally.

The Buffs also struggled to contain Promise Amukamara, who repeatedly foiled her defenders with quick drives and a nasty crossover. Arizona State's lead grew to as large as 13 points, and the Sun Devils were up by 10 when Colorado lost Swan for the rest of the game with an ankle injury.

Swan skied for another offensive rebound with a little more than eight minutes remaining and rolled her left ankle when she landed. She lay in pain on the court for more than a minute and could put little weight on the ankle when she was helped off the court, she is listed as day-to-day.

"Anytime someone gets hurt you pick it up for them and play in honor of them," Kresl said. "She was in pain and we felt we needed to come together for her."

Come together they did — the Buffs went on an 18-11 run after Swan's injury and cut the Arizona State lead to three points at 61-58 with 2:35 left in the game. Colorado got a three from Brecca Thomas, an and-one from Jen Reese (who shot just 2-of-7 and scored only nine points in an otherwise quiet night), and Kresl started aggressively driving and finishing at the rim.

Just when the Buffs were in striking distance, though, the Sun Devils pulled away. Brunner hit a layup and then forward Kelsey Moos hit a rare three to put the game out of reach.

LOS ANGELES — The Colorado women's basketball team rallied from a 16-point second-half deficit and even took a pair of late one-point leads Friday night against UCLA. But the comeback was in vain, the Buffs couldn't close out the Bruins and lost 72-65 at Pauley Pavilion.

The Buffs used a 20-6 run to overtake the Bruins 61-60 on a three-point play by Jasmine Sborov for their first lead of the game with 3:12 remaining.

CU (10-12 overall, 3-8 Pac-12) led again 63-62 on a pair of Lexy Kresl free throws with 2:30 left, but UCLA (9-13, 5-6) took advantage of four late turnovers and finished with a 10-2 run to finish the Buffs.

The Buffs committed 28 turnovers, 18 of them in the first half as the Bruins led by as many as 17 points before a 7-2 run cut CU's halftime deficit to 34-22. The Buffs battled from behind all night, falling behind 11-0 in the first 4 minutes.

With their 90-84 win in Boulder on Jan. 11, the Bruins swept the Buffs after losing three games to CU last season. Those three CU wins had tied the series at 5-5, including 3-3 in Pac-12 play.

Jamee Swan led the Buffs with 17 points, with Kresl adding 13 and Sborov 11. Jen Reese, who scored a career-high 30 points in the first meeting, was held to four points Friday night. She hit two free throws with 5:10 to play and didn't make her first field goal until 47 seconds remained.

Nirra Fields scored 24 points for the Bruins. Monique Billings added 14 and Jordyn Canada 12.

The Buffs turned on themselves early, committing four turnovers in less than 5 minutes and quickly falling behind 11-0. By the first half's halfway point they had committed 10 turnovers and trailed 17-5, finally getting a put-back by Zoe Correal at the 14:32 mark and a 3-pointer by Kresl two possessions later.

But the error epidemic didn't subside. By halftime CU had committed 18 turnovers that led to 18 UCLA points and a 34-22 Bruins lead. The Buffs entered the night averaging 17 turnovers a game, so with 20 minutes remaining ball-handling and mental perfection would be needed to head off a truly embarrassing outing.

Neither team's first-half shooting was close to stellar. After opening 0-for-7, CU finished the half 10-for-29 (34 percent) while UCLA was 13-for-37 (35 percent). The Bruins also got 10 second-chance points to the Buffs' zero and finished the game with an 18-15 edge in that category.

CU shot 42 percent (23-of-55) for the game while UCLA was at 38 percent (35-of-66).

If CU was to stage a second-half comeback, it would have to start with being more careful with the basketball. The Buffs were, and they slowly began to climb back into the game.

Lauren Huggins hit three consecutive 3-pointers to start the Buffs on their comeback, cutting a 16-point Bruins lead to 8 (45-37). From there, CU kept applying the defensive pressure while Swan and Sborov supplied most of the offensive work in the Buffs' 20-6 run.

After Kresl's two free throws gave CU a 63-62 lead, a chance to pad that advantage disappeared when she turned it over. It was the first of four turnovers in five possessions, leading to the Bruins' 10-2 run to finish the night.

LOS ANGELES — The Colorado women's basketball team had a sloppy week of practice leading up to its Los Angeles road trip, and it showed for the second game in a row as the Buffs departed for the City of Angels with a 66-51 Pac-12 loss Sunday afternoon to the USC Trojans.

Colorado coach Linda Lappe summed it up succinctly: "We were uncomfortable the whole game."

Jamee Swan paced Colorado (10-13, 3-9) with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Lexy Kresl also scored 14 points but they were the only Buffs to reach double figures. Entering the game with 994 career points, Kresl's Sunday total put her over the 1,000-point mark (1,008).

Four USC players topped 10 points, led by Kaneisha Horn with 15, seven rebounds and four assists.

Colorado's season-long turnover woes surfaced again against the Trojans (13-10, 5-7) — the Buffs committed 11 turnovers in the first half and 22 for the game after they gave it up the Buffs departed for the City of Angels with a 66-51 Pac-12 loss Sunday afternoon to the USC Trojans.

Those turnovers let USC play the game on its terms. The Trojans are not a good half-court offensive team but they ran off of Colorado's giveaways and got to the paint easily in transition. USC didn't get good looks many other ways — the Trojans scored 22 points off of Buff turnovers but shot only 35 percent for the game.

Colorado's half-court defense was solid, the Buffs switched between man-to-man and zone looks, packed the paint and forced USC into jump shots. The Trojans were inconsistent from midrange and didn't hit a 3-pointer in the first half, so Colorado — despite the turnovers, despite shooting just 32 percent — hung with USC for 20 minutes.

Kresl hit two threes — one from about 25 feet and the one that put her over 1,000 points for her career — to key a 10-0 Buffs run late in the first half. Zoe Beard-Fails shot an efficient 5-of-5 from the foul line, and Swan hit a transition layup that gave Colorado a 23-21 lead going into the break.

The first 10 minutes of the second half, though, were a nightmare for the Buffs. USC's offense came alive for a few possessions and Colorado's simply disappeared. The Buffs turned it over in every conceivable way — post entry passes, stripped dribbles, inbounds plays, dribble handoffs. They committed backcourt violations and illegal screens.

Every Buff turnover led to easy opportunities for the Trojans, and they were too happy to capitalize. Alexyz Violetama, only a 29 percent 3-point shooter, knocked down USC's first two treys as the trailer in transition. She scored 10 points in the second half after going scoreless in the first and pulled down three offensive rebounds.

"We had too many turnovers, which resulted in transition points and we weren't nearly as solid, in the second half, in our half-court defense," Lappe said.

Colorado's only recourse to stop the Trojans in transition was to foul, and that got the Buffs into trouble. Haley Smith fouled out halfway into the second period, and Swan, Jasmine Sborov and Zoe Correal all had their effectiveness limited because of foul trouble.

Even when the Buffs took care of the ball, their shots didn't fall. Jen Reese made her first bucket but never scored again. Sunday was the second straight game, and sixth out of the last eight, that she was held to single digit scoring. Kresl's 14 points came on just 4-of-15 shooting. Lauren Huggins missed her only attempt of the game.

"They were flying at us, trying to make plays on the basketball, and really kept us off of our rhythm on offense," Lappe said.

USC opened the second half on a 23-6 run, and, though the Trojans didn't shoot well after that, they really didn't need to. Colorado never got hot, never got in sync and only briefly narrowed the deficit to single digits.

BOULDER – The Colorado women's basketball team dug itself cavernous first- and second-half holes on Sunday and spent 40 minutes trying to escape. Washington wouldn't allow it and cruised to a 79-67 Pac-12 Conference win at the Coors Events Center.

The Buffaloes (11-14, 4-10) fell behind 16-2 to open the game, trailed 41-28 at halftime and were down by as many as 21 points just under six minutes into the second half. They closed to within 10 with 1:40 remaining, but guard Kelsey Plum hit a 3-pointer to give the Huskies (19-7, 8-6) a 69-56 lead and effectively put the Buffs away.

CU crept to within 10 (75-65) once more on a Lexy Kresl trey in the final 23 seconds, but UW concluded the night at the free throw line and won its fourth straight against the Buffs.

"Well, we pretty much got it handed to us in that game, it pretty much wasn't a game," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "I thought we had some decent chances with eight minutes left. I felt like we were in good position down ten, we were finally scoring the basketball and finally getting a few stops. But we just couldn't really figure out a way to cut it down below ten."

Plum, the Pac-12's leading scorer (23.0 ppg), finished with 28 points, including 10-of-10 free throws. Three other Huskies also reached double figures in scoring: Chantel Oshahor with 16 and Aminah Williams and Jazmine Davis with 13 each.

CU, which shot only 35 percent (23-of-65), got 13 points and a game-best 12 rebounds from Jamee Swan while Haley Smith and Jen Reese added 10 points each. Reese also grabbed nine rebounds, while Swan recorded her seventh double-double of the season.

Lappe said the Buffs "had a lot of great looks, especially in the second half. We were executing the offense very well at the start of the second half. We had a lot of layups with second and third chances...we just couldn't convert. I'm not that upset about it, poor shooting nights are going to happen. It's a matter of whether or not you can get stops on the other end when you do have poor shooting nights."

CU played from behind – way behind – for the entire first half. In the first five minutes, they were down 16-2 as the Huskies opened by shooting 60 percent from the field. They finished at a meager 38 percent (20-of-52) but made up for it by hitting 32 of their 37 foul shots. CU was 15-of-21.

UW's lead went to 15 points (21-6) before CU shook itself awake and began the slow climb back. A 7-0 run jump-started the Buffs and helped bring them to within three points – 31-28 – but they got no closer before intermission.

The Huskies closed out the half with a 10-0 run and took a 41-28 lead to their locker room.

Plum, who hit four of her first five shots and all three of her 3-point attempts, finished the half with 17 points. None of her teammates had more than seven points, and none of the Buffs had that many. Kresl and Smith each had six as CU shot only 33 percent (10-for-30).

After expending considerable energy in their first-half comeback, the Buffs didn't need to do it again in the second. But trailing by 13 when the final 20 minutes started, they had little choice. And the hill quickly got steeper.

With Oshahor nailing back-to-back 3-pointers with her quirky set shot, the Huskies outscored the Buffs 14-6 in the second half's first 5:30 and roared ahead 55-34. CU had rallied in the first half – but not from a 21-point deficit.

By the 10-minute mark, the Buffs had cut the deficit to 58-45 on a pair of Lauren Huggins 3-pointers and two free throws by Brecca Thomas. But from there to the final buzzer, 10 points back was as close as they could come.

BOULDER – Before Friday night's game Colorado women's basketball coach Linda Lappe had beseeched her players to attack the No. 7 Oregon State Beavers with a sense of urgency, and for one half the Buffs did. For one half, they looked equal to the Pac-12's best team.

But only for one half. Oregon State erupted after the break and cruised to a 66-44 victory behind 17 points and 10 rebounds from Jamie Weisner and 14 points from Ali Gibson. Jen Reese led the Buffs with 19 points and eight rebounds, but Colorado's offense, despite only 11 turnovers, failed it for much of the night.

"We took them out of their element, but then someone else stepped up," Lappe said. "I really liked the fight of our team. I really like how hard we played and how tough we played defense, especially in the first half."

The Buffs (11-15, 4-11) played one of the best halves of defense they have all season, holding the Beavers (24-2, 14-1) to 33 percent shooting and never letting them get comfortable inside. Oregon State center Ruth Hamblin leads the Pac-12 in field goal percentage, but Jamee Swan blocked Hamblin's first shot and bothered her into a 1-of-4 shooting night.

The Beavers committed 10 first-half turnovers, including multiple travels and backcourt violations. Oregon State rarely plays so sloppily, and much of the Beavers' offense came from the five threes that they made.

"Just being able to turn them into one-on-one players," Lappe said. "I thought our help-side was very good."

Colorado's first-half offense was in little better shape, though — the Buffs shot just 38 percent, and Hamblin's rim protection deterred them from any kind of interior shot. Colorado settled for midrange jumpers early, and bricked its way to a 20-9 deficit.

But Hamblin went to the bench after committing her second foul, and the Buffs attacked. Reese made Colorado's first layup slightly more than 15 minutes into the half, then she and Swan got to the rim at will. They ignited a 17-6 run that Reese capped with a trey to give the Buffs a brief lead before the squads went to halftime deadlocked at 26.

Oregon State has devastated the Pac-12 for a reason, though, and the Beavers began to assert their dominance in the second half. They took better care of the ball — they committed only four turnovers after the break — and their offense turned into the cutting, screening, passing behemoth that carved up every foe it has thus far faced.

The driving lanes that Colorado choked off in the first half were wide open in the second, all but two of Oregon State's 24 points in the paint came in the second half. The Beavers assisted on 11 of their 17 second-half buckets, and if basketball tracked that stat like hockey does they would have had many more — they moved the ball side-to-side before finding open cutters or shooters, and shot 63 percent in the half.

"They're number one in the league for a reason and you can see why," Lappe said. "They have such good balance, they're tough and they shoot the ball well."

The Buffs simply couldn't match that for 40 minutes. Even with Hamblin fighting foul trouble, Colorado struggled to finish inside and outside and everywhere in between. The Buffs shot just 17 percent after halftime, they made just four shots in the second half, hitting just of their last 17 attempts, they didn't hit a three, and Reese went without a make.

"They changed how they were guarding on-ball screens," Lappe said. "They really forced us to take some outside shots. They stayed a lot tighter to Jen, kept somebody pretty much glued to her."

It didn't matter who Oregon State played inside, their bigs warded off every Colorado attack. The Beavers only blocked two shots in the game, but their presence and size were enough as the Buffs scored just two points in the paint in the second half.

TUCSON, Ariz. – In an up-and-down season for the Colorado women's basketball team, Jen Reese and the Buffs punched the UP button and held it for the entire second half of Friday night's game against Arizona.

With Reese scoring 14 of her game-best 20 points in the final 20 minutes, the Buffs rolled to a 66-51 win in the McKale Center, defeating the Wildcats for the 11th consecutive time.

Coach Linda Lappe, who improved to 8-0 against Arizona, said she and her team are "excited about this win. It's the second game in a row that we played well and held our opponent to fewer points in the second half than the first half, so it's a great formula for us. Our depth and our bench are allowing us to do that."

Coupled with an 84-69 win over Oregon last weekend, CU won back-to-back Pac-12 Conference games for the second time this season. The Buffs, now winners of their last five games, close out the regular season on Sunday (2 p.m., Live Stream) at No. 10 Arizona State.

At halftime Friday night, CU (13-15, 6-11) and Arizona were tied at 28. But the Buffs came out firing – and making. They shot 60 percent from the field (15-of-25) in the second half and limited the Wildcats to 30.4 percent.

But the second-half domination also came in other forms: the Buffs were nearly perfect from the free throw line (7-of-8), recorded 9 of their 17 assists, and collected 16 of their 35 rebounds. CU committed only five second-half turnovers (12 total) and finished 9-of-10 at the foul line.

In one stretch midway through the half, Reese scored eight consecutive points as the Buffs pushed from a 39-39 tie into a 49-41 lead. Reese got scoring help from Jamee Swan (15) and Haley Smith (12). Swan also led all rebounders with eight. And Lexy Kresl chipped in with five points, five assists, six rebounds; it was her ninth game with at least five assists.

"I thought Lexy had a good floor game in the second half," Lappe said. "She really created the tempo for our team; she did it in the first and second half. She understood her shot wasn't there but I thought she got to the rim a lot. I thought she was getting beat up down there but she didn't let it bother her."

Losers of five in a row and eight of nine, the Wildcats (9-19, 2-15) were led by Breanna Workman and Keyahndra Cannon with 10 each.

The Buffs started strong, hitting four of their first seven shots and taking a 9-3 lead. But the Wildcats recovered with an 8-0 run and went up 11-9 with 13:26 left before halftime.

In that span, there were three ties before the break, with CU leading by as many as five points twice before suffering a sloppy finish. The Buffs committed three of their seven first-half turnovers in the final 2:34 and had to be satisfied with the 28-28 halftime tie.

A 2-3 zone defense in the second half put the onus on Arizona's perimeter shooters – and they encountered problems. The Wildcats hit only seven of their 23 second-half attempts while CU took advantage with a Reese-inspired 10-3 run and steadily pulled away.

"I thought our zone worked pretty well; we worked on it a little bit in practice, not a lot, so you have to give our players credit for being able to execute it like they did," Lappe said. "They were talking and moving extremely well. Sometimes the toughest thing to do out of a zone is to rebound and our guards rebounded along with our post players."

CU took a 10-point advantage (54-44) on a conventional 3-point play by Swan with 5:05 to play, then extended the lead to 16 (62-46) in the final two minutes and won its second Pac-12 road game.

At the end of her eighth successful night against Arizona, Lappe credited "a great attitude by our club. I thought our starters got us started on the right foot; we were pushing in transition. The offense I was calling was really slowing the ball down, so we didn't go back to that in the second half. Instead, we were in our more up-tempo offense."

TEMPE, Ariz. – It was a season of almost there for Colorado women's basketball, and it ended, as it often had, with a tough loss that was closer than the score indicated and more painful because of it.

Sunday afternoon, that loss came at No. 10 Arizona State, it came by the score of 56-49, and it came at the hands of Katie Hempen and Promise Amukamara.

Hempen led all scorers with 15 points. She buried the Buffs with three-second half 3-pointers. Amukamara scored 13, and late in the game she forced the ball inside and ratcheted up the tempo.

Colorado (13-16, 6-12 Pac-12) got 12 points, six assists and five rebounds from Lexy Kresl, who played her final regular-season game eight miles from her hometown of Paradise Valley. No other Buff scored in double figures. They shot nearly the same percentage as the Sun Devils – 42 percent to 43 percent – but Colorado committed 19 turnovers and Arizona State just nine.

"Their defense was on point tonight," Buffs coach Linda Lappe said. "Every time our player turns around they were right there; they get by one and there would be another one and so on."

That Sun Devils' defense, second in the Pac-12 in scoring, stifled Colorado early. Arizona State's full-court press trapped whoever was the target of Colorado's inbound passes and kept the Buffs from initiating their half-court sets. Jasmine Sborov hit Colorado's first shot with a running put-back of a Jamee Swan miss, then the Buffs went five minutes without scoring.

"We let them speed us up," Kresl said. "Which hurt the flow of our offense so it was a little bit harder to get into it at times. And it's just difficult to kind of progress from there once you are already disrupted."

Colorado committed five turnovers in that stretch, and that which plagued the Buffs all season continued to do so – they threw away inbound passes and post feeds and got called for illegal screens. But Colorado's defense was equally stingy; Arizona State (26-4, 15-3) struggled from the paint and from beyond the arc, and the Sun Devils were able to turn their six offensive rebounds into only three second-chance points.

The Buffs held Arizona State four minutes without a point and used a 7-0 run to turn an 11-4 deficit into a tie game. Kresl and Lauren Huggins buried threes from NBA range, and Swan and Jen Reese got rare inside buckets. Colorado stayed level for the rest of the half and took its first lead when Huggins rattled in a trey in the final 10 seconds. But Elisha Davis raced back down the court, pulled up from the elbow, and drained a jumper at the buzzer. That put the Sun Devils up 22-21 and the Buffs never led again.

Colorado looked for its offense from the elbows early in the second half. The Buffs got their first bucket after the break when Haley Smith cut backdoor and scored off of Reese's feed. Arizona State guarded Colorado's bigs well, though – the Sun Devils forced Swan into foul trouble and limited Reese to only three shot attempts.

Amukamara pushed Arizona State ahead by pushing the tempo; she led several one-woman fast breaks, got to the rim with little trouble, and finished through contact once she was there. Her and-one over Kresl gave the Sun Devils what was then their biggest lead of the game.

Colorado looked to make another run as Kresl buried another 25-foot triple and Sborov nailed a tough turnaround jumper off of a baseline cut to narrow Arizona State's lead from 11 points to five. Then Hempen made back-to-back treys and the Buffs never threatened again.

"We didn't get anything easy tonight, that's for sure," Lappe said. "They make you work and they do that against every team. They make you work for every single shot that you get. Our offense sputtered tonight. We have a few days to get better and get back at it on Thursday."

SEATTLE – The 2015 Pac-12 Conference Women's Tournament has a Cinderella – and she looks suspiciously like a Buffalo.

Colorado stunned top-seeded and eighth-ranked Oregon State 68-65 here Friday night in the Pac-12 quarterfinals, defeating a ranked opponent for the first time in seven attempts this season and for the first time in 18 tries.

The ninth-seeded Buffs – the lowest to defeat a No. 1 or No. 2 seed in Pac-12 tourney history – trailed the Beavers 60-59 with 4:21 to play, but went on a gritty 8-0 run and held OSU (26-4) at bay down the stretch.

"Great game for our team," said CU coach Linda Lappe, whose 2013 Buffs also advanced the Pac-12 semis. "Really excited for our three seniors who have been battling all season long."

One of the trio of seniors, Lexy Kresl, led CU (15-16) with 19 points – 14 in the first half -- and was five-of-five from long range. Junior Jamee Swan contributed 18 points and 13 rebounds for her eighth double-double of the season, and senior Jen Reese added 13 points – all of them in the second half, with 10 scored consecutively during a stretch that saw OSU overtake CU and threaten to pull away.

The Buffs' third senior – Jasmine Sborov – finished with only two points, but they were vital. Her coast-to-coast layup with 1:43 left put CU up 63-60 and offered just a sliver of breathing room in the nerve-fraying final two minutes.

The Beavers, who outscored the Buffs 40-18 in the second half last month and rolled to a 66-44 in the Coors Events Center, had four players in double figures, led by Ruth Hamblin's 14. But CU limited OSU to a season-low 33.8 percent from the field (22-of-65) while the Buffs shot 43.5 percent (27-of-62). They also committed just 10 turnovers.

The Buffs opened on a blistering shooting pace but closed the half with their shooting touches iced down. Hitting their first five shots – including three treys by Kresl – they leapt to a 14-7 lead and went ahead by 10 points (30-20) on a 3-pointer by Lauren Huggins with 6:15 left until halftime.

But after shooting 67 percent in the game's first 4:30, CU had cooled to 37.5 percent by halftime. And after her torrid start – 14 points in the first 9:27 – Kresl didn't score in the half's final 10:33. CU finished the half three-of-seven from long range and the game six-of-nine from beyond the arc – and those treys were enough to keep OSU honest in its perimeter defense and help the Buffs get 24 points in the paint to the Beavers' 28.

Huggins' three points were her team's last of the first half. The Buffs got only six shots over the last six minutes of the half – and missed them all. The Beavers took advantage, launching a 13-0 run on a trey by Sydney Wiese and closing it on a three-ball by Ali Gibson to take a 33-30 halftime lead. It was OSU's first lead since 4-3, and that 13-0 run expanded to 15-0 when the Beavers scored the first two points of the second half to go up 35-30.

And by now, Reese was ready to score and Swan, who was only 8-of-21 from the field, still was making the occasional jumper and keeping Hamblin away from the basket. At the 8:32 mark, after six consecutive points from Swan, another Kresl trey and an "and-one" from Reese, CU had built a seven-point lead.

Trailing 56-49, Oregon State was in unfamiliar territory – but not too unfamiliar to rally. Over the next 4:11, the Beavers outscored the Buffs 11-3 and regained the lead, 60-59, on a three-point play by Hamblin with 4:21 remaining.

Coming out of a timeout, the Buffs got a stop but turned it over. The Beavers' next possession was fruitless. Swan hit a short jumper to put CU back in front 61-60, followed by Sborov's end-to-end for a layup and a 63-60 Buffs advantage with 1:43 left.

They went up 65-60 on a Kresl layup after a sweet feed from Reese, then 67-60 on two free throws by Haley Smith with 40.2 seconds showing. Ali Gibson's trey with just under 20 seconds left brought the Beavers to within 67-63, and after Sborov missed the front end of a one-and-one with 17.5 seconds left, a put-back by Gabriella Hanson brought OSU to 67-65 with 2.1 seconds showing.

Huggins was fouled and hit one of two free throws. Needing a 3-pointer to tie, OSU's in-bounds pass sailed out of bounds at mid-court at the buzzer and CU's biggest win of the season was complete.

SEATTLE – A night after disrupting the Pac-12 Conference Women's Tournament, the Colorado Buffaloes needed a monstrous encore to advance to the conference championship game. The Buffs never stopped battling to achieve it, but California's Brittany Boyd and Reshanda Gray and an attacking defense stopped CU short.

Cal's pair of stars and its demonic 'D' carried the No. 4 seed Bears past the Buffs 68-55 in Saturday's second semifinal.

"I'm really, really proud of our effort," CU coach Linda Lappe said. "We talked about leaving everything on the court, coming out and playing hard. I really feel like we were able to do that and when that happens you're not disappointed with the outcome."

CU led early but fell behind Cal 29-23 at halftime and never got closer than five points in the second half. The Bears' pressure defense forced most of CU's 16 turnovers, costing the Buffs 20 points.

Boyd and Gray each had double-doubles – Boyd finishing with a game-high 18 points, 10 rebounds and 7 assists, while Gray added 17 points and 10 boards.

With Boyd driving, dishing, hitting clutch jump shots and rebounding, and with Gray cleaning up inside, the Bears defeated the Buffs for the second time this season. The first was 75-59 on Jan. 5 in Berkeley, but it didn't carry the finality of Saturday night's loss for the Buffs and their three seniors – Jen Reese, Jasmine Sborov and Lexy Kresl.

Reese led CU (15-17) with 16 points, with Kresl contributing 11. The Buffs outshot the Bears from the field 41.4 percent to 38.7, but Cal outscored CU 34-24 in the paint, courtesy of Boyd getting to the rim and Gray working efficiently there, and held a 13-4 edge in fast-break points.

The Buffs started as efficiently as they did in Thursday night's stunning upset of the Beavers, hitting five of their first nine shots and racing to a 12-3 lead. The Bears, meanwhile, appeared temporarily out-of-sync offensively and missed nine of their first 10 field goal attempts.

But that didn't last. Cal began trapping just across half-court and it disrupted CU's offensive flow, causing most of the Buffs' eight first-half turnovers. That pressure also rejuvenated the Bears' offense; hitting six of their next eight shots, they went on a 12-0 run, caught the Buffs, kept on pushing the pace and kept on defending.

Although Cal played only seven players while CU used 10, the Bears' bench was more productive, outscoring the Buffs 10-3 in the first 20 minutes. But that figure increased to only 10-6 for the game.

By halftime, CU's finish had matched Cal's cold start. The Buffs hit only one of their last 10 field goal attempts, scoring only four points in the half's final 6:06, and trailed 29-23 at intermission.

CU needed an efficient second half start but didn't get it. Right away, the Buffs committed two turnovers, helping the Bears outscore them 6-2 and take their first double-figure lead (35-25). Another two CU turnovers aided in back-to-back baskets by Boyd, the second an "and-one" opportunity that she converted for an 11-point Cal lead – 40-29 – with 15:36 to play.

By the 10-minute mark the Buffs trailed 50-43, and time was growing short to make their move to reach Sunday's championship game. A Swan put-back (50-45) gave CU and its fans hope, but Gray answered with four quick points – including a three-point play – and Cal had restored its nine-point lead, 54-45, with just under eight minutes remaining.

Even down by nine, the Buffs weren't done. Baskets by Haley Smith and Kresl brought them to within 56-51, but that was it. Boyd answered with a foul-line jumper that Lappe called "probably the biggest shot of the game" when the Buffs were coming out of a timeout and needing a stop. Mercedes Jefflo added two free throws, then a trey from the left corner by Gabby Green giving the Bears a 10-point lead – 63-53 – with 1:11 to play.
