NEXT UP: The Big 12 Conference Championship is on Friday, Oct. 27, at the Rim Rock Farm in Lawrence, Kan. Colorado's men have won all 10 conference titles and the women have won nine, including the last seven.

THE SCHEDULE: The women's 6k race is at 10 a.m. (CT) with the men (8k) to follow at 11. An awards ceremony will follow awarding All-Big 12 medals to the top-15 finishers in each race.

WHAT HAPPENED LAST YEAR: Colorado took three of the four Big 12 titles, just as they did in 2004. Both the men's and the women's teams won their respective races, clinching another pair of Big 12 Cross Country titles for Colorado. Christine Bolf, a senior, won the women's race by 10 seconds (20:24). Jenny Barringer was the second female to cross the finish (20:34) and was named the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year. Liza Pasciuto, nursing herself back from an injury, finished sixth overall (20:49) and was the third Buff to finish.

On the men's side, Stephen Pifer took fifth overall and was CU's top male harrier at 23:56. Bret Schoolmeester finished one spot behind Pifer (24:06). James Strang took eighth overall (24:11), Billy Nelson took ninth (24:16) and Payton Batliner rounded out the team score at 16th (24:27).

BUFFALO DOMINANCE: Colorado has been a force to be reckoned with in the Big 12. The men have won all 10 titles and the women have won nine of 10. Jorge Torres, Adam Goucher, Ron Royball and Dathan Ritzenhein have combined for seven individual titles on the men's side. Kelly Smith, Kara Grgas-Wheeler, Molly Austin, Natalie Florence, Renee Metivier and Christine Bolf also have eight title amongst themselves. A CU woman has won the last seven Big 12 individual titles.

Anthony Chiulli, Pete Janson and Daniel Kenney all earned their third selection to the Academic All-Big 12 team. Janson and Kenney each earned their third selection to the first team. Janson is a Biology major and Kenney is majoring in business. Chiulli, a management major, is a three-time member of the second team. Senior Erik Heinonen, a news editorial and anthropology major and Erin Marston, an integrated physiology major, were named to the first team for the second time in their careers at CU. Jenny Barringer, Rachel Gioscia, Jennifer Hooper, Kenyon Neuman and Caitlin Schultheiss were named to the first team for the first time in their careers. Seth DeMoor and Liza Pasciuto earned second team honors for the first time in their prospective careers.

30th ANNIVERSARY: 2006 marks the 30th anniversary of the CU women's cross country team. Over the past 30 years, CU has won two national championships and two individual national championships. The Buffs also have two runner-up team finishes and one individual runner-up. Colorado has placed in the top-five 11 times in the team championship. In the first year of competition (1976), the team finished 16th at the national championship with Pam Allen leading the team with a 16th-place finish. Last year saw the Buffs stunning Duke by taking second at the NCAA's. Only time can tell what mark this season's squad will leave in the record book.
