ON THE RANGE...

The 14th Annual Big 12 Conference Golf Championships will be held at Whispering Pines Golf Club in Trinity, Texas, 90 miles northeast of Houston, April 23-25, with play beginning at 7 a.m. (MDT) on day one ... For the third straight year, the championships will be four rounds (72 holes), with the 60 competitors to play 36 holes on Friday (April 23) and then 18 on Saturday and Sunday ... Prairie Dunes (Hutchinson, Kan.) hosted the first six meets (1997-2002, then in 2004); Southern Hills (Tulsa) served as the site in 2003 and 2006; and Whispering Pines was the site in 2005 and 2008 as the three courses are currently the rotating home sites (despite Colorado no doubt being home to some of the best courses in the Big 12 region, the threat of spring snow makes it risky for CU to host) ... Prairie Dunes will again host the 2011 meet ... Colorado enters the meet ranked No. 90 by both Golfweek and GolfStat in the country in the most recent rankings ... The Buffs have played the nation's 57th toughest schedule coming in (fifth hardest by Big 12 schools); CU is 77-101-1 against Division I competition, and can only qualify for the NCAA Championships with a Big 12 title ... Colorado is just 1-13-1 versus Big 12 schools in 2009-10, but most of that's come versus the four top 20-ranked southern schools (0-12-1); CU's only seen two of its northern counterparts and is 1-1 ... CU is the No. 11 seed after coming at No. 6 the last two years, and will be paired with Nebraska (No. 10) and Kansas (No. 12) on day one; the trio will begin on No. 10 at 7:50 a.m. MDT and will start round two around 1:20 p.m. off No. 1 ... Whispering Pines Golf Club boasts a 7,480-yard, par-72 layout.

LIVE SCORING: Live scoring is available at www.golfstat.com.

OFF THE TEE...

CU posted its best finish in the Big 12 meet last year at Prairie Dunes (second), ending a rough run between 2005 and 2008 where the Buffs finished 11th, 10th (tie), 11th and 10th (the Buffs did fend off finishing last, which they have done just once in a conference meet in its storied history, that coming in the second year as a member of the Big Seven in 1949). This is the fifth time that the Big 12 meet will be held at a southern site with its Bermuda grasses; CU's best finish was a tie for sixth in 2003 at Southern Hills in Tulsa; the north schools generally don't fare well, with just one top five finish the previous four occasions (Missouri, 3rd in 2005). The Buffs have improved eight spots in the standings from one year to the next two of the three times it has happened in league meet history, jumping from 11th in 1997 to third in 1998 (Missouri did the exact same between 2004 and 2005) and from 10th to second in 2009. Overall, CU has seven first division finishes, tied for the fifth most; only OSU has finished in the first division all 13 times in Big 12 meet history, followed by Texas (12), Oklahoma and Texas A&M (9) and then CU, KU and Texas Tech (all 7). CU's also has a pair of third place finishes in 1998 and 2000.

ROSTER

Colorado will be represented by one seniors, two sophomores and two freshmen (one true) in the 2010 Big 12 title meet, tied for its youngest squad ever to play in the league championship; the 2003 Buffaloes had three freshmen, one junior and one senior compete (and turned in a sixth-place finish). Both groups earned a collective 10 letters. The five players representing CU in this year's championship (ranked by position):

No.	Player	Ht.	Wt.	Class	Exp	Hometown (High School)
1.	Justin Bardgett	5-11	170	Sr.	4L	St. Louis, Mo. (Chaminade College Prep)
2.	Sebastian Heisele	6- 6	185	So.	2L	Dubai, UAE (Bradenton, Fla. Prep)
3.	Kevin Kring.....	6- 1	155	So.	2L	Springfield, Mo. (Central)
4.	Derek Fribbs.....	5-11	150	Fr.	1L	Castle Rock, Colo. (Douglas County)
5.	Jason Burstyn.....	6- 0	170	Fr.-RS	1L	Miami, Fla. (Palmetto)

FRESHMEN IN THE LEAGUE MEET Two freshmen have participated several times, often with success in the conference meet, most recently, in 2000, Kane Webber and Stephen Carroll tied for 11th as frosh, and last year, when Kevin Kring tied for 12th. The highest finish by a freshman, true or redshirt, in a league meet came in the 1979 Big Eight Championships, when Rick Cramer finished second (Steve Jones was third as a frosh the previous year). Michael Imperato was the last true CU frosh to participate in the Big 12 (2008); Shea Sena tied for 53rd in 2005 and in 2003, Edward McGlasson tied for 19th.

PLAYER SUMMARY

No current Buffalo has played Whispering Pines, so they'll get their first look during Thursday's practice round. There is a rule, no conference team or player can play a course in the year leading up to the championships. The season statistics for the CU five:

In addition, with Luke Symons redshirting following hip surgery, only Kevin Kring has played in a Big 12 Championship: he finished 12th last year at Prairie Dunes (78-71-77-70—296). That final round 70 was the best by a CU freshman in a league meet since Steve Jones shot 70 in the last round in 1978.

HEAD COACH ROY EDWARDS

Roy Edwards, is in his fourth season as head coach of the University of Colorado men's golf team, just the third full-time men's golf coach in Buffalo history. He was named to the position on July 14, 2006, following in the footsteps of the only two coaches the program had ever known over a span of six decades.

Edwards, 33, came to CU with an impressive pedigree, joining the Buffaloes from his alma mater, the University of Kansas, where he had served as the assistant for both the men's and women's programs for the previous four years (2002-06). He held the same position at Vanderbilt University for a year prior to returning to KU.

Edwards replaced the late Mark Simpson, who passed away from complications due to lung cancer in December 2005. Simpson had held the post since 1977, when he followed in the footsteps of his college head coach, Les Fowler. Fowler took over as player-coach in 1948 and remained on board until Simpson, his assistant, replaced him. Thus, Edwards is only the program's third full-time head coach since 1948.

It took less than three years for Edwards to put his stamp on the CU golf program, perhaps in no bigger way than completing the dream of his two predecessors. One of the few major golf programs in the nation without its own true home golf course and facilities, Edwards played an integral part in working with Colorado alum Steve Kerr in the latter's acquisition of Vista Ridge Golf Club in Erie in early 2009. The club officially became Colorado National Golf Club in March of 2009 and now serves as the official home for the university's men's and women's golf teams.

He also initiated the Colorado Partners program, a group that has quickly grown to 80 members who contribute financially to augment the school's golf budget, and established the Mark Simpson Colorado Golf Day which is an annual celebration and fundraiser for CU golf.

On the course, the team has steadily improved under his leadership. His third Buffalo team sported one of the nation's dynamic duos in Patrick Grady and Derek Tolan, as each won two tournaments and combined for 14 top 10 finishes. But the team was also balanced as a whole, with 32 top 20 performances posted by seven different golfers, and recorded a 74.06 stroke average, second lowest in school history (topped only by 73.77 in 2003-04). The Buffs posted 11 top 10 finishes in major tournaments, the second-most in school history that included a record-tying seven in the top five, and highlighted by a 34-stroke win in the DU-Ron Moore and three runner-up finishes in the USF Olympic Club, Western Intercollegiate and its own CU-Stevenson Ranch Invitational.

In earning a fourth straight trip to the NCAA's, in the Big 12 Championships, the Buffs posted their best conference finish in 28 years when they took second place; it tied for the largest improvement from one season to another in Big 12 history after finishing 10th in 2008 (CU moved from 11th to 3rd from 1997 to 1998 as did Missouri on one occasion). The Buffs were in the hunt for the title until the back nine of the fourth and final round, when Oklahoma State finally was able to get some distance and eventually won by 14 shots.

Edwards' first CU team had moderate success, and finished 11th in the Big 12 Championships; while that was disappointing, his team did something that neither Fowler's or Simpson's did, qualify for the NCAA Championships (though in fairness, more teams are invited today than when they coached, but it still was an impressive accomplishment). The team placed 20th in the NCAA Central Regional.

His second team, in 2007-08, became just the third in school history to win two major tournaments in the same season, as the Buffs won the Louisiana Classics and the Ohio State Kepler Intercollegiate. The Buffs finished 10th in the Big 12 meet, which moved to a 72-hole format for the first time, and was again invited to the NCAA's, placing 18th in the Central Regional. Junior Derek Tolan was one of two individuals to advance out of the regional into the finals, the first Buff to do so since 1993.

At Kansas, he was heavily involved in recruiting and the day-to-day functions for both the men's and women's teams, managed the Jayhawks' Birdie Club and was the main contact for both golf camps. A KU graduate, he returned to his alma mater in August 2002 as the assistant coach for both the men's and women's programs and further developed all the skills necessary to one day become a head coach. During his time at Kansas, he helped coach six first-team All-Big 12 players (five men, one woman) and four Academic All-Americans. He started his coaching career as a volunteer/graduate assistant in 1998, working three years in that capacity before moving on to Vanderbilt for his first full-time assistant coaching position.

He was the assistant for both the men's and women's teams at Vanderbilt from May 2001 until returning to his alma mater the following year. At Vandy, he headed the Commodore Golf Day and the Mason Rudolph Intercollegiate Golf Championships, and was involved in Commodore recruiting as well as the day-to-day practice and traveling schedules. He was a part of history as both teams experienced two of the best seasons in the programs' existence the 2001-02 academic year, and had a hand in coaching a pair of first-team All-Southeastern Conference players, including Brandt Snedeker, a first-team All-American, the 2007 PGA Tour Rookie of the Year and third place finisher in the 2008 Masters.

A three-year member of the Jayhawk golf team, he lettered as a senior under legendary and long-time coach Ross Randall and earned his bachelor's of science degree in business administration from Kansas in 2000. Simultaneously while finishing his degree, he worked as a volunteer assistant coach for the men's team. His career playing highlights include being named the PGA Midwest Section Player of the Year in 1995 and the Heart of America Four-Ball champion in 1997. As a student, he was also heavily involved on KU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and held several leadership roles on campus.

Born October 14, 1976 in Kansas City, Mo., but truly a native of Hutchinson, Kan., he was a four-year letterman in golf at Hutchinson (Kan.) High School and was an Eagle Scout. His hobbies include playing golf, cooking and traveling. He is married to the former Shelly Bonfantine, a former golfer at the University of New Mexico; they are the parents of one son, Austin Ross (born last June 3).

COACHES POLL

Oklahoma State was the choice by the 12 league coaches to win this year's championship, as the Cowboys are gunning for a fourth straight league title and eighth overall. The predicted order of finish (coaches could not vote for their own team): Oklahoma State, Texas A&M, Texas, Texas Tech, Baylor, Missouri, Kansas State, Oklahoma, Iowa State, Nebraska, Colorado (11th), Kansas.

QUOTING COACH ROY EDWARDS

On CU's Big 12 Outlook

"This year's been a struggle overall, but the team has definitely improved throughout the year and you always want to believe that your best performance is right ahead of you. Our expectation going into every tournament is to win, and that's no different this week. We had very good preparation last week at the (Texas A&M) Aggie Invitational on a very similar golf course. We've got a group of young guys, only one of whom has played in a Big 12 Championship before, but they all know there's more prestige with the conference meet and I expect a great effort out of the guys."

On CU's No. 11 Seed After Being Second In 2009

"Last year is in the rearview mirror, it was at Prairie Dunes, an entirely different golf course, and only one player this year was in on that experience. It's (the No. 11 seed) is about where we're ranked. The teams about sixth through 11th are about the same. We have the motivation that we want to go out and prove that we're better than our ranking. And the way our championship is set up with neutral sites, and rotating between the north and south, it's really unique. It's fun for a northern team to go down south and try to beat those southern teams on their home turf and their home grass."

On The Youth of The Team

"The main thing we need to do is have these guys understand what they have control over. That's being confident, preparing well and handling our course strategy right from the get-go in the practice round and competing for every shot. When we've done that the best this year, we're at our most successful."

What Would Be A Good Tournament For CU

"Only once in the history in the history of the Big 12 tournament that when it's been held in the south, has a team finished in the top five (2005, Missouri at Whispering Pines, finished third). Our goal is to be competitive and to win the title; whether that's this year or in the future remains to be seen, but that's what our expectation is."

THE SCHEDULE & SEASON AT-A-GLANCE

Colorado has played in 12 tournaments this year; four are currently ranked between the 19th and the 29th toughest out of 266 meets to date according to Golfweek. The toughest two were the Alister Mackenzie (#19) and Hawai'i-Hilo Invitational (#21). The Big 12 Championships figure to be one of the toughest three or four tournaments that Colorado will play in 2009-10. CU's best finish came in the Mackenzie, as the Buffs finished third; a tie for fourth in the Wyoming Cowboy Classic and two sixth place efforts (Oregon Duck Invitational, Barona Collegiate Cup) rank as CU's other top efforts. In five of the 12 meets, the Buffs played in formats where five scorers out of six players counted toward the team score, an extra challenge for such a young team; usually coaches are searching for that fifth player to aid and abet the top four, not for a sixth to help the top five. But the two sixth place efforts came in such a format. Colorado is 77-101-1 this year against Division I competition, so the Buffs will fall short of the winning record criteria to qualify for the NCAA Championships; the Buffs could still advance but need to win the Big 12 to do so.

THE RANKINGS

There are three men's collegiate golf rankings: one poll, conducted by the GCAA by head coaches, and two that are computer generated (Golfweek and GolfStat). But generally speaking, with a consensus four top 20 and seven top 75 teams competing, the Big 12 Championships should again be one of the fiercest golf tourneys to date on the collegiate circuit for 2009-10. A look at who ranks where in what:

BARDGETT AMONG BIG 12'S BEST

Colorado senior Justin Bardgett ranks among the Big 12 Conference's best in stroke average, as he owns the 13th overall mark at 72.60, and leads the league in rounds in the 60s with nine. Sophomores Kevin Kring and Sebastian Heisele check in at Nos. 32 and 33, respectively, for those golfers with sub-74 stroke averages; the three Buffs are tied with each other for the most rounds played this season (35). Kring's 64 in the first round of the Air Force Falcon Invitational last September is also tied for the second lowest score posted this year by Big 12 member golfers. Here's a look at some extensive conference statistics through all events prior to the Big 12 Championships:

CONFERENCE WON-LOST RECORDS

School's win-loss records now play a role in the selection for the NCAA Regionals. Colorado's mark against fellow Division I teams entering the Big 12 meet is 77-101-1, a 43.3 winning percentage; to qualify, teams must own a winning record or win their conference championship. The Buffs did play the fifth toughest slate within the conference, but entering 24 games under .500, can only advance to the postseason with a league title. The team won-loss records entering the Big 12's (includes losses to non-Division I teams, but not wins, schedule strength in parenthesis):

CU THE FIRST WITH 5/20

In the 2001 Big 12 Championships, Colorado became the first school to have all five of its participating golfers finish in the top 20. In CU's case, all five were in the top 16: Kane Webber (t-7th), Ben Portie and Matt Zions (t-13th) and Matt Call and Joe Liley (t-16th). Oklahoma placed all five in the top 18 in the 2003 meet, and Oklahoma State did the same in 2008, joining CU as the only three schools to place all five in the top 20; the Buffs still have the mark for the fewest places (16). Four players from the same school have finished in the top 20 on 10 occasions, in 1998 (Oklahoma State), 2000 (Kansas), 2001 (Oklahoma), 2003 (Texas), 2004 (CU, OU and OSU), 2005 (OSU), 2008 (OSU) and 2009 (OSU).
