Pac-12 Conference Championship Notes

ON THE RANGE...

The 54th Annual Pac-12 Conference Golf Championship will be held at Los Angeles Country Club (North Course), April 29-May 1, with play beginning at 9 a.m. (MDT) on day one ... The Pac-12 meet is different than most, as each team has six players with the top five counting toward the team score; it's the first time this season that CU will participate under this format (and just the second time in a league championship; last year was the first time, when the Buffs finished eighth) ... The championship will be four rounds (72 holes), with the 72 competitors to play 36 holes on Monday (April 29) and then 18 on Tuesday and Wednesday ... Colorado enters the meet ranked No. 60 by GolfStat and No. 68 by Golfweek in the most recent rankings ... Colorado is 11-29 versus Pac-12 schools in 2012-13, but much of that damage came in three tournaments (0-24), including the first two out of the chute this spring; CU is 6-1 against conference brethren in the last six weeks ... CU is 96-63 against Division I competition (85-34 outside of the Pac-12), clinching a better than .500 record and thus has met the first criteria for selection into the NCAA Regionals (May 16-18) ... This season marks the third time that Colorado has finished either first or second in a tournament five times in a season: in 1980-81, the Buffs won two and had three runner-up efforts as they have done this year, and in 2008-09, CU had one win and four seconds ... Flashback: in the second Big 12 championship, the Buffs placed third (1998) ... California is the defending champion: the Pac-12 meet tends to be really competitive, with 43 strokes separating the top eight teams last year (and 49 from top to bottom in the last Pac-10 meet in 2011); 43 might sound like a lot, but in a format that has five scorers over 72 holes, that works less than a 2.2 per stroke difference per player ... Opening pairings are by a random draw (sans the defending champ, which opens in the first groups on No. 1); Colorado is paired with Stanford and UCLA and will tee off on No. 1 at from 10-10:50 a.m. MDT (Round 1) and from 3-3:50 p.m. (Round 2) ... LACC boasts a 7,236-yard, par-70 layout; a unique feature of the course is that the front nine features three par-3s and two par-5s on the front nine (with the standard two and one, respectively, on the back nine for a par-70 configuration) ... Arizona will host the 2014 Pac-12 Championship at Gallery Golf Club in Marana, Ariz., next April 25-27.

OFF THE TEE...

Colorado has two wins this season, but for the first time in its history, have won meets in both the fall and spring seasons; CU's had many seasons with two tournament wins, but had always taken place in the same semester. The Buffaloes' last conference title came in 1968, winning the Big 8 title (ironically the season after Hale Irwin graduated), and won two Big 7 titles (1954, 1955); those were CU's three titles in Big 7-8-12 play from 1948-2011, along with eight second place efforts. Colorado has finished last just once in a conference meet in its storied history, in its second year in the Big Seven (1949).

THIS-N-THAT...

- In three tournaments, the Buffaloes have recorded the best team score in the final round (275, or -13, in the Simpson-CU Invitational; 292, or +4, at Cal-Irvine's Anteater Invitational; and 274, or -6, in the Wyoming Cowboy Classic).
- The team's 74.08 stroke average for the season has this year's team flirting to become just the third to have a sub-74 average for the season; the 2011-12 team had a 73.78 final average, just .01 off the record set by the 2003-04 team (73.77).
- The Buffaloes have 25 rounds in the 60s this season (and 49 subpar rounds overall), already surpassing last year's totals of 20 and 45, respectively. Seven different players have shot scores in the 60s, while eight have subpar scores.

ROSTER

Colorado will be represented by two seniors, one junior, one sophomore and two freshmen (one a redshirt) in the 2013 Pac-12 title meet; collectively they have played in seven league championship events. The six players representing CU in this year's championship (ranked by position):

No.	Player	LC	Ht.	Wt.	Class	Exp	Hometown (High School)
1	Jason Burstyn	3	6- 0	170	Sr.	4L	Miami, Fla. (Palmetto)
2	Derek Fribbs	2	6- 0	160	Sr.	4L	Castle Rock, Colo. (Douglas County)
3	Philip Juel-Berg	0	5- 8	150	Fr.	1L	Vedbaek, Denmark (HHX Knord Lyngby)
4	David Oraee	1	5-11	165	So.	2L	Greeley, Colo. (Greeley West)
5	Drew Trujillo	0	5-10	175	Fr.	1L	Montrose, Colo. (Montrose)
6	Johnny Hayes	1	5-10	165	Jr.	1L	Cape Elizabeth, Maine (Cape Elizabeth/Towson)

LC—number of league championship meets participated in: Pac-12, Big 12, CAA (Hayes).

Burstyn played in two Big 12 Championships, while Fribbs appeared in one; each has played in one Pac-12 tournament as has Oraee, and Hayes played in the Colonial Athletic Association meet as a freshman as Towson. Burstyn owns the best finish in a league title tourney by any of this year's participants, 26th in last year's Pac-12 (77-72-71-72—292) in Corvallis. The youngest squads ever to play in a league championship for the Buffaloes were in 2003 (three freshmen, one junior and one senior) and 2010 (two freshmen, two sophomores, one senior). Both groups earned a collective 10 letters. This year's sextet has earned 13 letters.

FRESHMEN IN THE LEAGUE MEET The highest finish by a freshman, true or redshirt, in a league meet came in the 1979 Big Eight Championships, when Rick Cramer finished second; Steve Jones was third as a frosh the previous year (both were true freshmen). David Oraee was the last true CU frosh to compete in a league championship (2012 Pac 12), tying for 30th. Two freshmen have participated several times, most recently in the 2010 Big 12s (Burstyn and Fribbs). The best two-frosh effort came in 2000, when Kane Webber and Stephen Carroll tied for 11th. Including this year, CU will have had at least one freshman compete in eight of its last 11 conference meets. The low round by a CU freshman in a league meet is 70, accomplished three times: Jones (1978 Big 8), Kring (2009 Big 12) and Burstyn (2010 Big 12).

HEAD COACH ROY EDWARDS

Roy Edwards is now in his seventh season as head coach of the University of Colorado men's golf team, having been named to the position on July 14, 2006, following in the footsteps of the only two coaches the program had ever known over a span of six decades.

Edwards, 36, is just the third full-time men's golf coach in Buffalo history. He came to CU with an impressive pedigree, joining the Buffaloes from his alma mater, the University of Kansas, where he had served as the assistant for both the men's and women's programs for the previous four years (2002-06). He held the same position at Vanderbilt University for a year prior to returning to KU.

Edwards replaced the late Mark Simpson, who passed away from complications due to lung cancer in December 2005. Simpson had held the post since 1977, when he followed in the footsteps of his college head coach, Les Fowler. Fowler took over as player-coach in 1948 and remained on board until Simpson, his assistant, replaced him. Thus, Edwards is only the program's third full-time head coach since 1948.

Edwards is faced with the most daunting task in CU golf history: with the Buffaloes now in the Pac-12 Conference as of July 1, 2011, the Buffaloes are a member of the most prestigious men's golf conference in the nation. As many as seven schools have regularly occupied the top 30 over the last several seasons. But he is up to the challenge and the program is positioned to join the nation's elite.

It took less than three years for Edwards to put his stamp on the CU golf program, perhaps in no bigger way than completing the dream of his two predecessors. One of the few major golf programs in the nation without its own true home golf course and facilities, Edwards played an integral part in working with alum Steve Kerr in the latter's acquisition of Vista Ridge Golf Club in Erie in early 2009. The club was renamed Colorado National Golf Club and now serves as the official home for the university's men's and women's golf teams. In 2012, construction was completed on a state-of-the-art practice facility at the course that matches any in the nation.

He also initiated the Colorado Partners program, a group that has quickly grown to 100 members who contribute financially to augment the school's golf budget, and established the Colorado Golf Day which is an annual celebration and fundraiser for CU golf.

On the course, the team has enjoyed success and endured some struggles but has continually shown promise. In 2011-12, his sixth season, the Buffs stormed out of the gate to win its first two fall tournaments, their own Mark Simpson Invitational and Air Force's Miranda Invitational; the victories propelled CU to an early No. 10 national ranking. The team successfully navigated its way through its first season in the ultra-competitive Pac-12 Conference, finishing eighth in a league championship that featured eight teams ranked in the top 30. The Buffs just missed qualifying for the NCAA championships but Derek Fribbs was selected to play as an individual.

The 2009-10 and 2010-11 teams, his fourth and fifth, respectively, had their moments but did not advance to the postseason, though Justin Bardgett qualified individually in 2010. The Buffs finished ninth and 10th in their last two appearances in the Big 12 Conference meet. The disappointments only created more resolve in the program and thus the turnaround in year six.

His third Buffalo team (2008-09) sported one of the nation's dynamic duos in Patrick Grady and Derek Tolan, as each won two tournaments and combined for 14 top 10 finishes. But the team was also balanced as a whole, with 32 top 20 performances posted by seven different golfers, and recorded a 74.06 stroke average, second lowest in school history (topped only by 73.77 in 2003-04). The Buffs posted 11 top 10 finishes in major tournaments, the second-most in school history that included a record-tying seven in the top five, and highlighted by a 34-stroke win in the DU-Ron Moore and three runner-up finishes in the USF Olympic Club, Western Intercollegiate and its own CU-Stevenson Ranch Invitational.

In earning a fourth straight trip to the NCAA's, in the Big 12 Championships, the Buffs posted their best conference finish in 28 years when they took second place; it tied for the largest improvement from one season to another in Big 12 history after finishing 10th in 2008 (CU moved from 11th to 3rd from 1997 to 1998 as did Missouri on one occasion). The Buffs were in the hunt for the title until the back nine of the fourth and final round, when Oklahoma State finally was able to get some distance and eventually won by 14 shots.

His second team ('07-08), became just the third in school history to win two major tournaments in the same season, as CU won the Louisiana Classics and the Ohio State Kepler Intercollegiate. The Buffs finished 10th in the Big 12 meet, which moved to a 72-hole format for the first time, and was again invited to the NCAA's, placing 18th in the Central Regional. Junior Derek Tolan was one of two individuals to advance out of the regional into the finals, the first Buff to do so since 1993.

Edwards' first CU team (2006-07) had moderate success, and finished 11th in the Big 12 Championships; while that was disappointing, his team did something that neither Fowler's or Simpson's did, qualify for the NCAA Championships (though in fairness, more teams are invited today than when they coached, but it still was an impressive accomplishment). The team placed 20th in the NCAA Central Regional.

At Kansas, he was heavily involved in recruiting and the day-to-day functions for both the men's and women's teams, managed the Jayhawks' Birdie Club and was the main contact for both golf camps. A KU graduate, he returned to his alma mater in August 2002 as the assistant coach for both the men's and women's programs and further developed all the skills necessary to one day become a head coach. He started his coaching career as a volunteer/graduate assistant in 1998, working three years in that capacity before moving on to Vanderbilt for his first full-time assistant coaching position.

He was the assistant for both the men's and women's teams at Vanderbilt from May 2001 until returning to his alma mater the following year. At Vandy, he headed the Commodore Golf Day and the Mason Rudolph Intercollegiate Golf Championships, and was involved in Commodore recruiting as well as the day-to-day practice and traveling schedules. He was a part of history as both teams experienced two of the best seasons in the programs' existence the 2001-02 academic year, and had a hand in coaching a pair of first-team All-Southeastern Conference players, including Brandt Snedeker, a first-team All-American, the 2007 PGA Tour Rookie of the Year and third place finisher in the 2008 Masters.

A three-year member of the Jayhawk golf team, he lettered as a senior under legendary and long-time coach Ross Randall and earned his bachelor's of science degree in business administration from Kansas in 2000. Simultaneously while finishing his degree, he worked as a volunteer assistant coach for the men's team. His career playing highlights include being named the PGA Midwest Section Player of the Year in 1995 and the Heart of America Four-Ball champion in 1997. As a student, he was also heavily involved on KU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and held several leadership roles on campus.

Born October 14, 1976 in Kansas City, Mo., but truly a native of Hutchinson, Kan., he was a four-year letterman in golf at Hutchinson (Kan.) High School and was an Eagle Scout. His hobbies include playing golf, cooking and traveling. Edwards is married to the former Shelly Bonfantine of Albuquerque, N.M., as they wed on July 7, 2007 (07-07-07); she is a former golfer at the University of New Mexico. They are the parents of two sons, Ashton Ross (4) and Luke Leo (1).

PLAYER SUMMARY

Jason Burstyn got off to a great start with two wins and has led the team in stroke average from wire-to-wire; his 71.65 average for the fall was the fourth best in school history, with his season mark of 72.15 holding the spot for fifth-best all-time at present. Philip Juel-Berg has a 73.94 average, which right now is the third-best by a freshman in school annals, and combined with Drew Trujillo (Fr.-RS) owning a 75.64, it stands to be just the second time that the Buffs have had two freshmen average under 76 for a season. QUOTING COACH ROY EDWARDS

Comments from Colorado head coach Roy Edwards:

General

"The team is very excited about getting to Los Angeles for the Pac-12 Championship. We have settled into the league over the past few years. The Los Angeles Country Club is one of the premier golf courses in the world and puts our Championship on a deserving and phenomenal stage. For us to be successful we need to stay in the moment, be confident, and worry about only what we have control over. It is a long tournament, we need to stay focused at all times to make the correct decisions, and enjoy playing and competing. The guys are for sure ready to go."

On CU's Season To Date

"Overall we have been pleased. When we have played well, we have played really, really well – beat some of the best teams in the country. Lately I feel we have become a lot more consistent. I really feel like the team has developed, grown, and improved throughout the season, which is obviously something we have been excited to see."

On CU's Second Pac-12 Championship Appearance And What The Team Learned From 2012

"We are definitely comfortable in the league from all aspects. This is the 'Conference of Champions' for a reason and men's golf is arguably the strongest sport in the league. We have shown over the past few years we can be competitive in the league. Competitors want to play against the best and we are fortunate to be able to do that throughout the season as a member of the Pac-12."

What Would Be A Good Tournament For CU

"We don't really have many result-oriented expectations. We play our best when we make great decisions, are confident, and mitigate mistakes. If we do those three things at high levels we will have a good tournament. That is fully within our control and if we only concentrate on those things within our control we will have a good tournament."

On CU's First 6-For 5 Tournament

"The Pac-12 tournament has been a 6-count 5 event since its origin so it has been in our mind for some time. I have a high level of confidence in the guys we have here and I expect us to perform at a high level. Depth is something we focus on throughout the year by playing lots of individuals in tournaments and we are fortunate to have had some guys develop."

THE SCHEDULE & SEASON AT-A-GLANCE

Colorado has played in 11 tournaments this year; four of which are currently ranked between the 10th and the 27th toughest out of 240 meets to date according to Golfweek. The toughest was the 10th-ranked Amer Ari Invitational to open the spring season, followed by the Pac-12 Preview last October (11th) and the Prestige at PGA West (12th), so the Pac-12 Championships figures to place in the top 10 with five top 12 teams competing. All meets were the usual format where four scorers out of five players counted toward the team score. Colorado is 96-63 this year against Division I competition, so the Buffs have met the initial criteria for qualifying for the NCAA Championships; now it comes down to how CU fares in the Pac-12, strength of schedule and if there are lot of unexpected conference champions that earn automatic bids into the 81-team field.

CONFERENCE TEAM COMPARISONS

There are three men's collegiate golf rankings: one poll, conducted by the GCAA by head coaches, and two that are computer generated (Golfweek, GolfStat). With a consensus five top 12 and 10 top 75 teams competing, the Pac-12 Championships should again be the fiercest league meet in the collegiate circuit for 2012-13. This is the fourth year that a school's win-loss record plays a role in the selection criteria for the NCAA Regionals. Colorado's mark against fellow Division I teams entering the Pac-12 meet is 96-63, a 60.4 winning percentage; to qualify, teams must own a winning record or win their conference championship. The team won-loss records entering the Pac-12's (schedule strength in parenthesis) as well as a look at who ranks where in what:
